Wilson Backs the Garfield Order

America Feels War Pinch as Thousands of Industries Close for Five Days to Save Coal; How Various Big Centres Are Affected

Washington, Jan. 15.—America felt the pinch of war, perhaps for the first time, today with its industries idle under the fuel administration's order issued to relieve the coal shortage and release fuel for ships loaded with supplies for the American army and the Allies.

It was stated officially early today that President Wilson is not even considering interfering with the fuel restriction order, and feels that the country will be satisfied with the necessity for it.

From the flood of applications for exemptions piling up, it appeared that steel plants and woollen plants making clothes for soldiers' uniforms would receive favourable action, probably being added to the list of exempted works.

All the principal munitions plants will be permitted to work at full capacity under the fuel restriction order. As announced last night only portions of the plants making condenser tubes would have been permitted to operate.

Half Million Idle in Chicago

Chicago, Jan. 15.—More than one billion dollars in capital and some 500,000 workers are idle today in the Chicago district as a result of the conservation order.

Business men and manufacturers have apparently decided to observe the spirit as well as the letter of the order.

Local fuel administrators, deluged by thousands of inquiries, were unable to make definite interpretations of countless angles of the problem, and much confusion resulted.

Labor leaders, while deploring the order, asserted their loyalty to the government and made arrangements to raise funds for the relief of those thrown out of work. A million workers will lose $10,000,000 during the period in New York city.

WANT 25,000 MORE MEN FOR WORK IN HARD COAL MINES

Philadelphia, Jan. 15.—Approximately two million workers in Pennsylvania will be thrown out of employment during the shutdown. The loss in wages was placed at $14,000,000.

While the Pennsylvania operators expressed approval of the order, they said they would obey it "as a matter of course."

Buffalo, Jan. 15.—Twenty-five hundred industrial plants employing between 50,000 and 60,000 men were idle today.

MORE "KULTUR"

"Bigamy" Condoned in Germany—Papers Raise Cry of Alarm

Geneva, Switzerland, Jan. 15.—Several south German newspapers which have received here raise a cry of alarm over the increase of bigamy during the war in Germany. They say the many acquittals and the lenient sentences imposed indicate that the authorities are condoning the offense.

SOVIET PROPAGANDA IN GERMAN ARMY BANDED

Washington, Jan. 15.—Orders forbidding all Soviet propaganda in the German army have been issued by the German military authorities, according to a dispatch today from Switzerland. Soviet newspapers are forbidden to be sent to the soldiers.

TRADITION IN BRITISH NAVY BRUSHED ASIDE

Tyrwhitt Made Rear Admiral Over Head of Nearly Fifty Other Officers

London, Jan. 15.—Commodore Reginald Tyrwhitt has been appointed acting rear admiral. The Daily Mail, in commenting on the promotion, says it is a great change for which the new admiral is responsible. The newspaper says that Commodore Tyrwhitt was promoted over the heads of nearly fifty other officers, ignoring the seniority tradition.

Commodore Tyrwhitt has been in command of the destroyer flotilla of the first class fleet since 1913. He was in command of the destroyers in the action of the Heligoland Bight in December, 1914, and of the Dogger Bank in 1915, both of which battles the British fleet were victorious over the Germans. He was on board the British cruiser Arcturion when that vessel was sunk by striking a mine off the east coast of England early in 1916.

HAD PLANNED MASSACRE OF WHITES IN INDIA

San Francisco, Jan. 15.—Massacre of the white population of India was part of an alleged conspiracy against British rule in that country, according to testimony given yesterday at the conspiracy trial here by Pranshah Nath Muskarik, a defendant.

FERRY FIGURES DISCUSSED BY COMMISSIONERS

Also Talk Over Some Items in Kane and Ring Contract—Both Matters to Come up Again

At a meeting of the common council this morning the estimates presented by Commissioner Russell for the ferry department were considered. A discussion took place regarding the advisability of withdrawing the Lindow and using the Government Carleton.

Superintendent Waring said the Government Carleton was ready, but that her smoke-stack would have to be replaced. He said she was higher and made was easier handled on her. With regard to additional parts for the ferry mentioned in the estimates, he said that they were necessary in case of some break.

In answer to Commissioner McLellan, Mr. Waring said that the average receipts of the ferry were between $35,000 and $38,000. The $20,000 overdrift, he said, had been accumulating for some years. Commissioner Fisher wanted to know why they were figuring that the receipts would be less in 1915 than in 1914.

Mr. Waring said that in December traffic fell off more than $10,000 more than was anticipated.

With reference to an overdrift mentioned in Commissioner Russell's estimate, he said that it had not been accumulated in years. He said the estimates showed that it was $45,000 above receipts.

Commissioner Russell said that the overdrift of $20,000 from last year was $45,000 above receipts. He said that the overdrift last year, which was $26,655, $16,000 had to be taken for expenses during the previous year, and much confusion resulted.

Commissioner McLellan said the figures showed that the cost of operating the ferry above the receipts would be $20,000, which was about double previous years. This Commissioner Russell said was due to damage done by storms and the increased cost of coal.

A discussion took place regarding back bills, and Controller MacIntyre had advised for years to have them cleaned up and assessed.

Commissioner McLellan said the time is drawing near when a bridge would be built across the harbor. Several members said there was no objection to a bridge, but he did not think it advisable to consider it until the city was in a better financial condition.

Commissioner McLellan moved action on the ferry estimates be deferred. This was agreed upon by the council, and a statement was made to show the actual expenditure during 1914. The committee on the estimate, he said, suggested that at least all of the principal items be mentioned so that there would be no misunderstanding.

The items in the $16,000 should be shown.

On motion of Commissioner Russell, tenders for a new smoke-stack for the Government Carleton were opened. Only two figures were submitted, one from the Union Foundry for $500 and the other from the St. John Iron Works for $700. On motion of Commissioner Russell, seconded by Commissioner Wigmore, it was decided to accept the lower tender.

An investigation into work done at 65th and Point, and twelve days, and the bill calls for thirty-four days. John Adams, who was inspecting the work, told about the removal of 22,000 feet of used deals and the replacing of 20,750. He said that only 3,500 feet of new deal had been used and the number billed for was excessive.

Other items were also objected to and after a lengthy discussion as to who was responsible for the work and the changing of the original estimates, if any had been, the original decision to adjourn until Monday morning, when Engineer Hatfield is to present a report on the matter.

SAILORS IN COURT UNDER DEFENCE OF REALM ACT

In the police court this morning six sailors were charged under the Defence of the Realm Act with being drunk on the high seas in time of war. They were remanded to jail unless the captain agreed to bail. Magistrate Ritchie told them that they were liable to fines of $25 each, but that they would let them off for $10 each. Meanwhile they would be remanded to jail unless the captain agreed to allow them back on the ship to go on with their work. This the captain refused to do. Asked how much they got a month, his honor was told that they got $60 a month.

NEED FOR MORE MEN IS VERY URGENT, SAYS LLOYD GEORGE

Premier Says the People Must Either Go On Or Go Under; That's All There is To It

London, Jan. 15.—Premier Lloyd George, addressing the labor delegates today, said no man standing on the watch tower could deny the urgency of the need for finding more men. He said no democracy had ever long survived the failure of its adherents to be ready to die for it.

He said that he and President Wilson had no opportunity—had laid down substantially the same programme of demands for the termination of the war.

There was no man willing to make peace without complete restoration of Belgium and reparations. There had been no answer from Germany to the recent statements of the Entente Powers on war aims. Von Hindenburg and Von Ludendorff were brought back for conferences, but Foreign Minister Kuhlmann was not allowed to speak.

"Why?" asked the premier. "Because the Prussian military power is dominant. The answer to be given will be given from the cannon's mouth."

The men liable under the act in the province of New Brunswick have done exceptionally well and the military authorities have expressed themselves as much pleased. Up until today about seven deserters have been arrested, but as yet nothing has been done with them.

An officer said this morning that in some cases investigated it was found that the men not reporting were either ill or awaiting decision of appeal. Others have been attached to other units.

HON. MR. ROWELL AND THE LIBERALS

Toronto, Jan. 15.—In the approaching provincial election the Liberals of Ontario might stand together and fight for the progressive policies of Liberalism, in which it is stated, the Liberal-Unionists or Laurier-Liberals in the recent dominion election, declared Hartley Dewar, M.P., in a speech last night.

"What about Mr. Rowell? Are you going to take him back into the Liberal party?" was a question shot at Mr. Dewar.

"If Mr. Rowell can support the policy of the Liberal party, I would feel very sorry to see you refuse his support," was Mr. Dewar's reply.

ISAAC TIPPETT DEAD IN SEATTLE

George H. Tippet of Fairville was advised this morning of the death of his brother, Isaac Tippet of Seattle, Washington, which occurred recently. Mr. Tippet was a former resident of Fairville and removed to the United States about twenty years ago. He was the manager of the Sterling Hat Company in Seattle. He was about fifty years old and leaves, besides his wife and one child, four brothers—Fred and Thomas, of Boston, and George and Oscar, of Fairville; also two sisters—Mrs. George Cleveland, of Boston, and Mrs. Arthur Alexander, of Ohio.

THE GLEN FALLS LINE

The street railway has got seriously to work removing ice and snow from the Glen Falls line which has been tied up since the recent heavy storm. Twenty-five men were at work this morning and the line as far as McAvity's plant is now clear. It is hoped to have the service normal again in three or four days. Employees of the Ford factory and residents of Glen Falls who are entirely dependent upon the railway, are sincerely hoping that the track will be cleared quickly and will not have to be left to the action of the weather.

Not Hopeful As To Peace Negotiations

LENINE AND TROTSKY SAID TO BE NEAR THE PARTING OF WAYS

Stockholm, Jan. 15.—Relations between Premier Lenine and Foreign Minister Trotsky are growing more strained daily, says the Petrograd correspondent of a Helsinki newspaper. Lenine is said to be in a hot temper at the way Trotsky continuously occupies the public eye and at his foreign policy, which Lenine believes is contrary to the best interests of the Russian revolution. Trotsky formulates his own foreign policy without regard to the Russian revolution, and often without submitting questions to the premier.

Friends of Lenine, the correspondent adds, declare that he intends to submit his resignation to the congress of workers and soldiers delegates in order to force a vote of confidence or lack of confidence in the constituent assembly would meet today as reported previously.

London, Jan. 15.—News from Russia in the morning newspapers adds nothing to yesterday's report of the Russo-Roumanian relations and the former emperor's escape, nor does it make clear whether the constituent assembly would meet today as reported previously.

British Report. London, Jan. 15.—"There is nothing of interest to report," says today's official statement in the Reichstag.

French Statement. Paris, Jan. 17.—The official statement from the war office tonight follows: "Both armies were active in the region of St. Quentin and in the region of Maun de Massiges."

"Belgian communication.—On the 16th our artillery effectively counter shelled enemy batteries which were active against our organizations in the regions of Ramscapelle and Dinant. We have shelled enemy trenches and also some farms occupied by the enemy along the Yser."

"Army of the east.—There was a shelled artillery action in the Cern bend. There is nothing to report on the remainder of the front."

SEVEN ARRESTS HERE SO FAR UNDER THE MILITARY SERVICE ACT

The apprehension of an absentee or deserter under the Military Service Act of matters in regions of Russia occupied by the Central Powers diverge to such a degree that the view of the Central Powers is that in their present form they must be characterized as unacceptable. They do not possess the character of an attitude of compromise for which the Central Powers have striven, but represent a one-sided Russian demand which excludes the just basis of the opposite party being taken into consideration.

"In spite of that, the Central Powers are prepared again to give a clearly formulated expression of their opinions on pending questions, this time in a formal manner, and also to try to find out if the compromise struck by them offers any prospect of realization.

"One portion of the territories occupied by the Central Powers is dealt with in Article 1 of the German draft. This matter has been deliberated upon and requires no further discussion. The question according to which . . . (blank in the wireless despatch received by the British authority) state life should be granted was purely a temporary organization and had four stages:

"1.—The time between the conclusion of peace with Russia and the termination of Russian demobilization.

"2.—The time between the Russian peace and a general peace.

"3.—The time for the transition stage of the new peoples.

"4.—The finally definitive stage which the new states require for the complete installation of their state organization.

"It must be repeatedly pointed out that for the Central Powers, as distinct from the case of Russia, the conclusion of connection with a general peace, and that the Central Powers will be compelled to continue the war against their enemy. On the other hand the Russian government declares again to the allied (Teutonic) delegation that the new states require for the complete constitutional organizations of newly created states may be considered for the present fully competent to express the will of wide circles of the people.

"Of great importance for the question (blank in the wireless despatch) of the individuality of a state is the decision reached by the supreme court law and given at Washington in the year 1908, in which it is stated: 'That the sovereign rights of the United States of North America must be recognized as having fully and completely existed from the day of the announcement of its independence. . . . It is to say, as from the fourth of July, 1776, quite independent on its recognition of England in the treaty of the year 1783.—Proit international codification, Hague, 1907.'

"The delegation takes note of the declaration that the Russian government, from the fact that the occupied regions having belonged to the former Russian imperial empire does not draw any conclusions which would impose any political obligation upon the peoples of these territories in relation to the Russian revolution, and that the old frontiers of the former Russian empire—frontiers established by acts of force and crime against such peoples, and especially against the Polish people—have disappeared through the action of the weather.

NO SALARY AS AMBASSADOR BUT THAT AS LORD CHIEF JUSTICE WILL BE CONTINUED

London, Jan. 15.—Earl Reading, British high commissioner and special ambassador to the United States, will occupy the British embassy at Washington during his stay in America. Foreign Secretary Balfour yesterday told the House of Commons that Earl Reading would receive no salary as ambassador, but expenses of his mission will be paid. His salary as lord chief justice will continue during his stay in the United States.

BRAZIL WILL NOT MAKE PEACE WITHOUT ALLIES IS REPLY TO POPE

Washington, Jan. 15.—Reassurance of Brazil's determination not to embarrass her co-belligerents by any premature endorsement of peace plans is contained in a copy of which was made public yesterday. The reply said Brazil could not express an isolated opinion since "she has become entirely identified—feeling it her duty to be so—with the nations which are now her allies."

Brazil became a belligerent, the note said, because Germany brought the war to America and her action was not taken for material gain nor marked by any hatred of Germany.

THE WAR SITUATION.

The most careful observer is unable to analyze the European situation and forecast the outcome of movements now in progress in Central Europe. We are told that Socialist newspapers are now forbidden to be sent to German soldiers, and that there is a widening breach between the extreme militarists and those who would be content with much more moderate peace terms. It is clear that Russia and Germany are not getting along satisfactorily with their negotiations, but the internal situation in Russia is very bad and future developments very uncertain. The Allies are holding their ground on all other fronts, but are unable to make any important gains. The one thing to do, from the Allied standpoint, is to proceed as if the war would last another year or two, and make every preparation to secure supplies of every kind, as well as reinforcements for the armies. The food and fuel problems grow more serious and the question of transportation becomes more and more important as the weeks pass. Germany will still take a lot of beating, and the strain upon the Allies grows ever more heavy. The gravity of the situation must be brought more and more clearly home to the people. The Hun is still at the gate.

THE BOYS AND GIRLS.

Five boys yesterday were before the court. Five girls are there today. The increase in juvenile wrong-doing is a matter which ought to arouse the people of St. John to a lesser sense of responsibility. The fault lies first with parents who take no interest in their children and are indifferent to their companionship. Home life has ceased in many large proportion to have any attraction for young people. The craving for sensation and excitement is fostered by the experiences of the young when left largely to their own devices, and evil results follow. And where parents fail in their duty the community also fails when it does not make better provision for the healthy activity of youth under some sort of supervision. We are too selfish, too self-centred, too indifferent to the whole question of community welfare. Because this is true, there is an alarming increase in juvenile delinquency. What can we do? We should begin with a school census and a rigid enforcement of school attendance. We should have medical inspectors and school nurses, the latter visiting the children's homes. We should have continuation schools for working boys and girls. The school buildings should be made available for social welfare work. Young girls should not be permitted to parade in pairs up and down the most frequented streets at night. By the organization of community centres in all parts of the city, healthy influences should be made to reach out to every home where childhood is in danger of being robbed of its birthright.

AN AMAZING STATEMENT.

An amazing statement was made by Dr. J. E. Dube, one of the examining physicians, before Mr. Justice Coderre, in Montreal this week, in relation to the health of the young men who are now being examined for military service. According to the Montreal Star's report, he said "he was appalled at the amount of illness and disease prevailing among men of military age, and he expressed the opinion that if the government had in mind the establishment of a federal medical bureau, now was the chance to do the Canadian men a lot of good." "This war," said Dr. Dube, "has shown us doctors one thing that we feared, but which we never thought so appalling: the prevalence of disease among the young generation. It is true that the flow of our manhood has already ebbed and responded to the call of voluntary service, but the situation as we find it is still very grave, and I express the wish that in the near future the problem will be tackled with energy by the government."

Asked by his lordship to what cause he attributed most of the disease found, Dr. Dube unhesitatingly said: "To the cigarette habit."

"I never could understand," he continued, "why tobacco companies did such enormous business. I do now, however. Our young men are perverted, not so much by the excessive use of liquor as by cigarettes. I have examined scores of young men who confessed to me that they smoked from two to five packages of cigarettes every day. In a very few cases, comparatively, I found disease prevailing due to the excess of liquor, but the ravages of the cigarette habit are beyond expression."

It will doubtless be claimed by most people that Dr. Dube's charge is too sweeping, and that the proportion of young men injured to the extent he describes by the cigarette habit is really very small. He would probably find very few physicians to agree with him. Nobody will question for a moment the statement that an excessive use of cigarettes will greatly injure the health, or deny that the habit is especially harmful to boys. It is worth while to have attention directed to the matter, for there are far too many boys of ten to fifteen years addicted to the cigarette habit. It stunts their growth, undermines their health, and excessive indulgence dulls even their most perceptions. It is one of the vices of youth which should be sternly repressed by parents, teachers and companions of the young.

STICK TO THE TASK.

The Toronto Star makes some observations that are particularly well-timed. It says:—"There may be much or little in all this talk about conditions in Germany and the probability of a breakdown of military rule, but it would be a tremendous blunder for those entrusted with the efforts of any kind in Canada, United States, Britain, France, Italy, to pause, listen, and be influenced for a moment by reports of this kind from Germany into relaxing in the smallest degree the efforts they are making. The idea that the war is 'just about over', if it got abroad and ran unchecked, just about paralyze the immense preparations being made by the United States, so that by next May the Americans would not be able to do anything like what France hopes and expects of them by that time. If Germany, by exhibiting signs of distress and evidences of collapse, could fool America into slowing down her efforts, Berlin would consider this a good winter's work. In Canada we know that mischief was done by the prevalence of the idea, one, two, and even three years ago, that 'the war is nearly over, and it is too late now' to do this or that thing which ought to have been done at the start. But, in Canada, many things that were not done three years ago because it was then considered 'too late', have been done or are now being done with deliberation and thoroughness in the fourth year of the war."

The Montreal Gazette says:—"One reason for the coal shortage to Ottawa, according to Mr. W. F. O'Connor, C. C., is that some consumers have obtained a great deal more than they require to carry them through the winter. It is suggested that in such cases the surplus be taken from the cellars and sheds and sold to citizens who have none. That would be only fair in the circumstances. The situation suggests that measures will have to be taken to prevent hoarding of fuel in the future. Stricter food and fuel regulations are in store for Canadians unless the war is brought to an end before long." Why not apply this to the huge stocks in certain lines held in cold storage? It has been suggested that the government might very properly assume control of the cold storage plants. That would help.

The debate in the Quebec legislature on the question of withdrawing that province from the confederation is a waste of valuable time, and will create no serious impression in the country at large. There was once a repeal movement in Nova Scotia, but it did not have any other than a passing political existence. The people of Quebec will not be misled by the few agitators who are behind the present movement there. Canada is not to be dismembered, nor will Quebec consent to a policy of isolation.

Hon. F. B. Carvell was given a notable reception in New York, and made a marked impression by his address to the Canadian Club of that city. He is recognized as an able and fearless man, who takes his duties very seriously and is determined to perform them to the limit of his ability. We may anticipate vigorous government action if Mr. Carvell and his Liberal colleagues are able to impress their views upon the prime minister.

The people at Glen Falls and along the line between the city and that place have been greatly inconvenienced by the severe storm which stopped the street car service. They did not anticipate any such experience, for they relied on a continuous service.

There is dissatisfaction in England over the distribution of food. The workers demand to perform them to the limit of their ability. We may anticipate vigorous government action if Mr. Carvell and his Liberal colleagues are able to impress their views upon the prime minister.

The order for standard flour and standard bread in Canada will soon be issued, and will be one more reminder of the seriousness of the food situation, which has not yet impressed itself upon the minds of the people to the extent that it is necessary if we are to do our part in the war.

The Red Cross will need more supplies this year than last. It should be provided with all the funds necessary to carry on a work that means so much to the sick and wounded.

The shutting down of manufacturing plants for a few days, despite a vigorous protest from the senate and the people concerned, will at least bring home to the people of the United States a sense of the reality of war needs.

THE END OF THE WALK.

(Douglas Malloch.)

Out to the end of the sidewalk Daddy and Mother and I
Often go walking on Sunday—that's if the weather is dry—
Out past the stores and the houses, out where it is sunny and sandy—my, but I think it is fun!
Out at the end of the sidewalk daisies grow right by the road—
Not like the flowers in a garden, daisies that God must s'ow—
Burdock and milkweed and milkweed, sorrel and grasses and trees,
Sometimes a sassafras, maybe, sometimes a handful of cheese.
Out to the end of the sidewalk—that Daddy—he says "I'm a walker"—lets me sit down for awhile.
Then he says, "Well, little lady, home again—what do you say?"
This is as far as we better try our walking today!"
Out at the end of the sidewalk, you can see way to a hill—
Sometimes I'm going to climb it—when I get bigger I will.
Daddy says, "Well, when you climb it, just some new hill to be climbing, far from your mother and me."
"Out to the end of the sidewalk—let me see how far I can go—"
Sometimes, I know, you will wander further than this, anyhow.
But, while we walk on a Sunday just to the end of the sidewalk—let's go!"

Rome's Quiet Unbroken.

One of the good stories in circulation is told by Joe Tunnally, secretary to President Wilson. He likes his job, but dislikes one thing about it; that he can't tell the boys—the friendly reporters—about all that is going on. He illustrated his inability to give information once by quoting the case of Johnny.

Johnny was crying in the hall as his mother came along, hatted and coated. She asked what had happened.

"You are going away; and so is papa," Johnny sobbed.

"Why, child, shall be away two or three days, but father is not going away in Nova Scotia, but it did not have any other than a passing political existence. The people of Quebec will not be misled by the few agitators who are behind the present movement there. Canada is not to be dismembered, nor will Quebec consent to a policy of isolation."

GIRLS ARRESTED ON CHARGES OF STEALING

Detective Duncan, assisted by Policemen Hopkins and Matron Ross, has settled the matter of several petty thefts in the city, and four young girls have been arrested. It is understood that more are concerned. The mother of one of the girls is also charged with receiving stolen goods. The girls were before Magistrate Ritchie yesterday afternoon and were remanded until this afternoon. They were cared for last night at the Good Shepherd Monastery and the Children's Aid Home.

According to the police a number of thefts of money and various articles were reported to them, but nothing definite could be learned nor the responsibility placed. On Wednesday Detective Duncan was called to Henry Doherty's store in Haymarket square and from information received he was informed that two little girls had called at the store a few days previous and "tipped the till" for some $5 of ready cash. Suspicion was aroused and the girls were taken into custody also.

It was learned that against these girls thefts from the Dufferin Hotel of two rings valued at $50 each from guests are charged; various articles from the Landdowne hotel; also various pieces of clothing and linen from F. A. Dykeman's in Charlotte street; M. R. A. Ltd. and F. W. Woolworth's in King street, and various other pieces of wearing apparel that were found on the girls. Further investigation by Policemen Hopkins and Detective Duncan revealed that the girls had stolen wrist-watches in their possession, rings, various bits of jewelry, flash lights, carriages, wooden goods, silk collars and numerous other trinkets, and cloth ready to be made into clothing.

Always Had Headaches

Liver Was Torpid and Bilious Spells Brought Sick Headache—Lost Much Time, But is Now Completely Cured.

Newton, N. B., Jan. 14—Here is convincing evidence that however much you may suffer from liver trouble and consequent biliousness there is cure in the use of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills.

Overeating is the most common cause of sluggish liver action. You lose your appetite, have distressing bilious spells usually accompanied by headache and vomiting, the bowels become irregular, constipation and looseness alternating, digestion is upset and you get irritable and down-hearted.

No treatment so quickly awakens the action of the liver and bowels as Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. For this reason this medicine is wonderfully popular and has enormous sales.

Mr. Charles R. Tait, Newton (N. B.), writes: "I was nearly always troubled with headaches, and would often have to stop work for a day or two. I lost many a night's sleep every month with bilious sick headaches, and although I tried doctors' medicines and also many other patent medicines, it was without effect. When I had these headaches I would vomit, and could keep nothing on my stomach."

"I purchased a box of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills from G. M. Fairweather, Druggist of Sussex, N. B., and after taking one box I was so much relieved that I continued to take them until I was completely cured. My advice to anyone suffering from sick headaches is to try Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills and to completely cure."

Mr. A. S. Mace, J.P., endorses the above statement, and says: "This is to certify that I am personally acquainted with Charles R. Tait, and believe his statement in every way to be true and correct."

Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, one pill a dose, 25 cents a box, all dealers or Edmanston, Bates & Co., Limited, Toronto. Substitutes will only disappoint. Insist on getting what you ask for.

NEW FOREST SERVICE FOR NEW BRUNSWICK

The government of New Brunswick says conservation, is now considering the entire reorganization of the various lines of forestry and fire protection work with a view to combining them under a single head. This would mean the establishment of a genuine provincial forest service with a co-ordinated staff handling fire protection, scaling, enforcement of cutting regulations on crown lands and continuation of the forest survey and land classification. It would also mean a permanent fire-fighting staff with adequate financial support, partly derived from assessments on timber owners, as is done in other provinces. Such re-organization would make a new era in forest conservation in New Brunswick.

STANDARD FLOUR SOON

Ottawa, Jan. 17.—Canada is to have standard flour and standard bread. The date on which the new order will go into effect has not yet been fixed, but Hon. W. J. Hanna, food controller, definitely announced tonight that a date would soon be named after which Canadian mills will not be permitted to use more than 200 pounds of spring wheat or more than 275 pounds of winter wheat to produce 100 pounds of flour.

By making available a larger part of the wheat berry for human consumption and by stopping the manufacture of patent flour, a considerable saving of wheat for export to the Allied nations will be effected.

The food controller is also making arrangements for a standard loaf of bread from the standard flour. It is pointed out that the new regulations will not lessen the quantity of wheat for consumption in the dominion.

This advertisement is the ninth of a series of ten, designed to effect closer co-operation between the company and its subscribers. There are three parties to a telephone call—the person calling, the person called, and the operator who connects them. The quality of service rendered is determined by the spirit in which all three work together, rather than by the individual effort of any one or two of these three persons. We shall gladly send complete sets of the series to those desiring them.

ARE YOU READY TO TALK?

Mr. Jones wanted to talk with Mr. Thomas and asked his clerk to call him by telephone. When Mr. Thomas answered, he was told to "wait a minute." A few moments later when Jones got ready to talk he found no one on the line. Thinking the operator had cut him off, he asked his clerk to put in the call again. That happened three times; then Jones got mad and put in the call himself. Mr. Thomas answered and Mr. Jones said, "What the deuce is the matter with your telephone, Charlie? This is the fourth time I have called you." To which Mr. Thomas replied, "Oh! it was you that was calling! I did answer the telephone three times and was told each time to 'wait a minute.' I could not see any reason why I should waste my time holding the line for someone else, so I hung up. If you yourself had been on the line, ready to talk the first time I answered, you would have saved each of us a lot of time and bother." Jones was cured. When answering the telephone, it is aggravating to be told to "wait a minute," and yet hundreds of people impose in just that way on those they have occasion to call. It may be easier for the busy man to save time by asking a clerk to put in a call, but the other person should receive due consideration and is not unnecessarily inconvenienced.

BRILLIANT VICTORY IS WON BY ITALIANS

Break Pressure of Enemy on Lower Piave Near Venice — Battleground Covered With Austrian Dead

Italian Headquarters in Northern Italy, Jan. 17.—(By the Associated Press.)—The pressure which the enemy has been exerting on the lower Piave in the sector nearest Venice. This is a triangular sector originally cleared of the enemy when the whole region was inundated by operating the canals. But recently low water has permitted the enemy to renew his incursions almost to Capo Sile and the Venetian lagoons. Enemy patrols had established dugouts and posts in the lagoons at Agnusa, Zuliani, just across the river from Capo Sile, which commands the canal running to Fort Grandis and the region back of Venice. During the early days of the week the Italian navy had bombarded the dugouts and destroyed a bridge on which the enemy was attempting to cross at Agnusa Trezza. The enemy made repeated attempts to enlarge his positions, but was uniformly repulsed. Stung by the repeated repulses, the enemy brought his full forces to bear yesterday morning. They were met by chosen Italian troops from the Grenadier and Bersaglieri, who had asked that privilege in order to answer scurrilous pamphlets which had been thrown into the Italian lines.

Private Mills was twenty-nine years old and leaves his wife and one child in Ontario. He went overseas with the first Canadian contingent. Mrs. John Mitton has lost one brother, four nephews and also her stepson in the present war. Halifax, Jan. 17.—News was officially received today of the death in action of Lieutenant Arthur Greenville De Young, M. C., Royal Flying Corps, son of G. T. De Young, of Dartmouth. The despatch stated that Lieutenant De Young had been killed in action, Jan. 12. He was twenty-six years of age and enlisted here as a private in the spring of 1916.

SOME RECOVERY AFTER SAGGING TIME AT WALL STREET OPENING

New York, Jan. 18.—(Wall street)—Declines of one to three points in ship-pings, equipments and various war issues were registered in the early dealings on the stock market today. Trading continued to sag in the first hour, the government exercising a restraining influence. Continuity to expansionism, however, was not heavy selling from industrial centers. Marine preferred lost three points and U. S. Steel and related stocks one to two. High grade rails were dull and only slightly changed except U. P. and C. P. which reacted a point each. Liberty bonds were irregular. New York, Jan. 18 (noon)—Stocks continued to sag in the full first hour, but irregular improvement set in toward noon. United States Steel, Marine preferred and Mexican Petroleum rallied 1/2 to 2 points and Texas Company scored an actual gain of two points. Buying power was little more than nominal, however, traders evidently awaiting further developments in the industrial situation. The bond market was featureless. Liberty 8 1/2's sold at 98.80 to 98.84, first 4's at 97.50 to 97 and second 4's at 98.25 to 98.14.

NOT HOPEFUL AS TO PEACE NEGOTIATIONS

(Continued from page 1.) "It also takes note that therefore the principal task before the Russian government is to assure the realization of peace does not consist in any way in defending the forcible keeping of territories and duty to the Russian people. It is a Russian empire, but in guaranteeing freedom and the right of self-determination to the peoples of the territories under its control, it is not to be understood that it is to be a continuation of the war. If the fact that the occupied territories belonged to the former Russian empire by no means imposes any duty upon the population of these territories toward the Russian republic, it is obvious with further explanation on what the Russian republic intends to base its rights and duties as regards that population. "If, however, one takes the stand, as the Russian delegation has done, that the extent of territory, the political boundaries for the exercise of the right of self-determination, the transitory regime and the form of expression of the will of the people are points on which an endeavor to reach an adjustment must be made. "The assertion that the right of self-determination is an attribute of nations and not of parts of nations, is not our conception of the rights of self-determination. Parts of nations can justly conclude independence and separation. It is by no means assumed, however, that limits of occupation are to be taken as the standard for fixing the boundaries of such portions. "As to Occupied Territory. "Coward, Lithuania and Poland also constitute national units from a historical point of view. Germany and Austria-Hungary have no intention of incorporating territories now occupied by them in to their respective countries. They do not intend to compel the peoples in dispute to accept this or that form of state, but they reserve for themselves the right to determine the future of the peoples of occupied territories a free hand for the conclusion of treaties of every kind. "The withdrawal of the armies is impossible so long as the war lasts. However, in the event of military conditions permitting, the setting of a national gendarmerie may be striven for. "As regards the return of refugees to their homes, it is not of outstanding political importance, and could be entrusted to a special commission. The setting up of a referendum appears to be impracticable. In the opinion of the allied delegations it would suffice if a vote on a wide basis were taken from an elected and supplemented representative body. "It may be also pointed out that the setting up of states within the former Russian empire recognized by the government of the people's commissaries, partly to the weather and partly to the fact that dealers are dissatisfied with the price fixed by the food controller. In Bermondsey alone 50,000 rabbits have been placed in cold storage in the hope that the price will be raised. London, Jan. 18.—Increasing attention is being given by the newspapers to food trouble, and popular impatience with what is regarded widely as avoidable privations. The Times today prominently calls attention to the "persistence of the unequal distribution of food and its offering, the queue system," which, it says, is beginning to tell on the temper of people. It refers to numerous protests and to the demands for rationing which are finding an outlet in some instances in outbreaks of disorderliness. Numerous paragraphs appear in the newspapers recording demonstrations, unsatisfactory distribution queues, sufferings, shortages, prosecutions for hoarding, and allegations of profiteering.

CEASE WORK FOR DAY IN PROTEST AGAINST UNEQUAL DISTRIBUTION OF THE FOOD

Hundred Thousand Workers in Manchester, Eng., Engineering Shops so Decide—Meat Situation in London No Better

London, Jan. 18.—Popular dissatisfaction with the food distribution, which is particularly strong in the industrial districts, will be forcibly expressed at Manchester and in that neighborhood on January 20, when, according to a declaration just reached 100,000 workers in the Manchester engineering shops will cease work for a day with the purpose of protesting against the unequal distribution of food and demanding a general rationing order. The engineers are supported by the Manchester and Salford labor council, and similar demonstrations are to be held simultaneously in Salford, Altricham, Eccles and Stretford. According to the leaders of the engineers there is deep dissatisfaction and suspicion among the men, who believe that the difficulties are due to shortage of food than to unequal distribution. They cite instances of having to start work in the morning without food, owing to the inability of their wives to obtain it on the preceding day. The feeling is insistent that an immediate compulsory rationing system is necessary, applicable alike to rich and poor. London, Jan. 18.—Contrary to anticipation, the supply of meat in the Smithfield market was higher than ever, and two-thirds of the market shops have closed. Poultry agents are scarce and no rabbits have arrived in the market since Tuesday. The scarcity of rabbits is due

A Special Appeal To The Salesady And Salesman

A special appeal for generous help has already been addressed to the working man, and we feel sure that it will meet with a hearty response. We make a like appeal to the commercial clerk in the full assurance that it will not be in vain. We ask them to deny themselves something to make a special sacrifice on this occasion. We ask them to realize in its real significance what the "Red Cross" means to our soldiers, to ourselves in relation to our soldiers, to visualize the incalculable amount of good that it does, and the enormous benefit it confers on our wounded soldiers. What would the wounded soldier's lot be were it not for the tender ministrations of the noble army of doctors and nurses who labor under the sacred sign of Red Cross. What would his lot be were it not for his "crowning mercy." His lot, indeed, would be aad and dreadful one.

The Red Cross is a sign sanctified by the noblest sentiments, and ealted by the sublime self-sacrifice of those who work under it. Let not this appeal fall upon deaf ears. We ask you to give of your bounty freely and generously, for so it shall rebound to your own credit, add lustre to your patriotism, and above and beyond all, aid in alleviating the suffering of those who fall in defending your right as well as their own.

Teutonic Tricks Against Italy

THE SPECTACLED GENERAL

"A Blue-Patcher" Tribute to Sir Richard Turner, V.C., D.C.O.

We were lined up for inspection at a depot in England previous to our departure for Canada and home. Physically we were a sorry looking lot. Here and there a limp gait or if not that worn out and then with the wear and tear of the campaign. But we were about to start on our journey home and our faces showed it.

Shortly after "falling in" a war colored car ran up on our right. Out stepped a medium sized man well proportioned, wearing the decorations of a lieutenant-general, also a pair of spectacles. Without wasting a second he was going down the front rank looking over each man, never missing one in that long line, giving a kindly word here and there. I was in the second rank and directly in front of me was a man whose distinguishing mark told me he was an original of the 1st division. As the general was passing this man he stopped, looked at him more closely. "You belonged to the — battalion of my old brigade, did you not, lad?" he said. The man assented. He then asked him how long he had been in France and on being told the spectacled general placed his hand on the man's shoulder and giving him a look I will never forget he said: "It's been a long time, hasn't it, lad? God bless you."

As the spectacled general passed on down the line I noticed that the admiral's salute of the man in front of me worked up and down once or twice. "Think of it! Amongst all those hundreds he could pick a man out like that, even knowing what battalion he belonged to."

I was rather "stuck" on my own campaigning and the blue patch on my sleeve felt rather large. But it struck me considerably after that incident in front of me. I'll take my hat off any day to one of the originals of those two, three brigades. We were called to attention as the general was passing slowly down the second rank. As he came up to me he smiled my blue patch and my name and service, gave me a cheery word, a kindly look through those "double windows" and giving me (My blue patch resumed its normal size.)

We started to cheer him but he stopped us. "Thanking us, he said he did not want our cheers now but he would like to have them when the job was done and the "Bosche" defeated. We marched down a narrow street to the station, thinking we had seen the last of him, but there he was on a street corner standing stiffly to the salute as we marched past. Yes, it was Turner, "the spectacled general." The idol of us all. The man who is the driving spirit of those who go out of England to reinforce that splendid fighting machine. The man who makes us "warriors" and a new hitch on life when we think we are done for.

We little realize back home in Canada the work this man is doing or what he has done. It was he who with a handful of men withstood that awful attack of gas and Germans in May, 1916. Withstood it without budging from his line. While serving under him often have I seen him trudging right into the front line at early dawn always seeing for himself just how his men were making out, often squatting (because it was impossible to stand) in a leaky and foul smelling dugout having a word with us and a sup of tea from a canteen. Always a fighter. When there wasn't anything going on in the front line he was back at the divisional bombing school trying to kid himself into believing he was in one.

None of those "blue-patchers" who formed part of that big hollow square just before we were told that fight on the Somme in September, 1916, will ever forget the fire of his words and how he instructed us to use the bayonet. You probably remember what happened when those bayonets did get in the front line. We were sorry to lose him after that scrap, but he is doing wonderful work where he is.

Sir Richard Turner, V. C., D. S. O., K. C. B., a general who, with all the cares, worries and responsibilities of his shoulders while in the front line, found time to get down to the very bottom of the hearts of those who ever served under his command. "An Original 'Blue-patcher' and a 'Hanker'."

PATRONAGE HINDERS PROGRESS IN FORESTRY.

The dominion government was the pioneer in advanced forestry practice in Canada, but it is now being out-distanced by the provinces. The dominion forestry branch is an efficient institution manned by well-qualified technical men appointed on the merit system, but the field service by which it administers forestry on dominion lands has always been appointed under the party patronage system. Year after year the Commission of Conservation and the Canadian Forestry Association have urged upon the government that the merit system be adopted in the outside forestry service, but no change has been made. The new union government, however, has declared for the abolition of the patronage system, and we confidently look forward to an important betterment in the dominion forestry administration. The country's resources are wasted by the retention of such a system, which every one condemns. Every year, instances have come to the notice of the commission of conservation where valuable forest property has been destroyed because a ranger or some other official was appointed because he was a politician and not a competent forester.

NINE BOILS

Kept Coming on Neck One After The Other

Anyone who has ever suffered from boils knows how sick and miserable they make you feel. When you think you are about cured of one, another seems ready to take its place and prolong your wretchedness. All the poulticing and lancing you may do will not cure them and stop more coming. Boils are simply bad blood bursting out, and the bad blood must be made pure before the boils disappear. Burdock Blood Bitters is the greatest blood purifier known. It cleanses the system and removes every particle of foul material from the blood, then sends another hot comes and the cure is permanent.

Mr. Geo. Ayers, 202 Gloucester street, Ottawa, Ont., writes: "I wish to tell you what I know about your wonderful Burdock Blood Bitters. In the spring of 1917 I had nine boils come on my neck one after the other. I quickly got a bottle of B.B.B. and before it was half finished I felt a great change, and it certainly put an end to my trouble. I recommend B.B.B. to all men, for I know it to be a great remedy."

AWFUL ATTACKS OF HEART TROUBLE

EASED BY SECOND DOSE OF Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills

One of the first danger signals announcing something wrong with the heart is the irregular or violent throb. Often there is only a fluttering sensation, or an "all-gone" feeling, or again you may experience smothering sensation, gasp for breath and feel as though about to die. In such cases the action of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills in quieting the heart, restoring its normal beat and its regularity to the nerve centres, is beyond question, marvellous. Mrs. Frank Arsenau, Newcastle, N.B., writes: "I have suffered from heart trouble for the past five or six years, and as I had tried many other pills a trial, and my surprise I received from the second dose. I continued taking them until I had used six boxes, and now I feel as well as ever."

"At present my sister is taking them on nervousness, and finds great comfort by their use."

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are sold in a box at all dealers, or may be sent on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

TOY SOLDIERS LOSE FAVOR.

Change Observed in Christmas Displays in Berlin Stores.

According to a letter from Berlin to the Neue Zuercher Zeitung, quoted in the London newspapers, the shops during the Christmas holidays were as full as ever with dolls and toy soldiers. Toy soldiers and "war toys" have gone out of style in the German capital, and the conditions were represented, for instance, by dolls at work on farms in East Prussia. The candy stores were said to be doing a good trade, although a box of candy now costs as much as it would formerly have cost "to poison a whole girl's school for a week."

The dress restrictions are said to be obeyed faithfully. The women of Berlin are finding considerable relief in the fact that satin and silk can still be bought without clothes tickets.

MRS. KIESO SICK SEVEN MONTHS

Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Aurora, Ill.—"For seven long months I suffered from a female trouble, with back and sides until I became so weak I could hardly walk from chair to chair, and got so nervous I would jump at the slightest noise. I was entirely unfit to do my household work, I was giving up hope of ever being well, when my sister asked me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I took six bottles and today I am a healthy woman able to do my own household work. I wish to thank the woman who would try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and find out for yourselves how good it is."—Mrs. CARL A. KISSO, 596 North Ave., Aurora, Ill. The great number of unsolicited testimonials on file at the Pinkham Laboratory, many of which are from time to time published by permission, are proof of the value of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, in the treatment of female ills. Every ailing woman in the United States is cordially invited to write to the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential), Lynn, Mass., for special advice. It is free, will bring you health and may save your life.

USE THE WANT AD WAY

IS YOUR SKIN BROKEN OUT?

Are you troubled with blotches, pimples or blackheads? Mr. O. M. Smith, of 529 21st St., Edmonton, says: "For skin troubles there is nothing can equal Zam-Buk. My skin was so blotchy I was ashamed of it, and although I tried every remedy I could think of, it got no better until I used Zam-Buk. This herbal balm has worked wonders—my skin is now perfectly clear and smooth."

Such ailments, although apparently on the surface skin, really arise in the underlying tissues, and Zam-Buk's success in such cases is due to its wonderful power of penetration, which enables it to reach the root of the trouble. The stimulative quality in Zam-Buk rouses the sluggish cells to healthy action. This promotes a vigorous circulation which carries off all impurities and a smooth, clear skin is the result.

NOBODY TO BLAME FOR CONVOY DISASTER

Ceddes Tells Commons Navy Duty Its Best and Absolves Betsy of Error

London, Jan. 18.—In the House of Commons Sir Eric Geddes, first lord of the admiralty, made this statement concerning the attack by German warships on a convoy in the North Sea Dec. 12, in which one British and five neutral merchantmen, a British torpedo boat destroyer, and four armed trawlers were sunk. The admiralty finds that the escorting vessels did their best to protect the convoy and were fought in a proper and seamanlike manner, and that other forces at sea for the purpose of protecting took all possible steps to come to their assistance and prevent the escape of the enemy.

"It is due to Vice Admiral Sir David Beatty, commander of the grand fleet, to say that the admiralty finds the circumstances which prevented covering

MAINE PASTOR HOME FROM FRANCE, TALKS ON WAR

Rev. H. H. Crane Tells Portland Club That Unity of Purpose is Needed to Win Struggle

Rev. Henry H. Crane, pastor of the School Street Methodist church, in Gorham, Me., who has just returned from Europe, where he has been engaged in Y. M. C. A. work on leave of absence, gave the members of a Portland club his views on the war at a meeting Monday. Unity of purpose was one of the things which Mr. Crane said was needed to win the war. To show one way of not getting this he told a story of a couple of American soldiers who met a party of wounded Tommies in a way of conversation. The American presented the question and replied: "We are here to finish what you couldn't." The Tommies answer to this was to take the two Americans and throw them into the briny. "And," added the speaker in telling it, "if I'd been there I'd have helped them do it."

He praised the English soldier very highly and said that he was the finest type of fighting man of any he knew. Illustrating the democratic spirit of the king he told of a visit the British ruler paid at a Y. M. C. A. but that had been opened. The British soldiers stood at attention when His Majesty approached, but the American soldiers crowded around and began to talk with him. The Tommie looked on in astonishment but the King enjoyed it hugely. When he came to go an American Soldier in khaki proposed "three cheers for the King" which were given in true American style.

Mr. Crane spoke of the need of a spirit of internationalism which is just what we are fighting for, is the finest type of patriotism. A man can be loyal to his state, he said, "even though he puts country first and a man can be patriotic even if he puts international ideals first." "Idealism is another thing that is needed in the war," he declared. The British and French who had been three years in the trenches had begun to lose their ideals and were asking what it was all for, but when America, with its 100,000,000 of people got into the fight, this spirit was reawakened.

Mr. Crane deprecated the spirit of hate which there is some attempt to cultivate in this country. "Hate will never win the war," he declared, "and it will make us just as bad as the Ger-forces from behind reaching the spot were such as could not be prevented and that the commanders-in-chief's dispositions were the best that could have been made with the forces available."

"In a little French village which the British had retaken," said Mr. Crane "the Tommies found a plot where the graves of some German soldiers had been fenced in. The place had been left in bad shape from the bombardment and when the Tommies were marching past, the sergeant major who is the tough guy of the British army, ordered his men to halt and fix the place up. When they had done so, he told them to build him a cross beside the little fence. Then he asked that a board be placed upon it and when this was done he reached up and wrote these words: 'Forgive us our trespasses against us.'"

In conclusion Mr. Crane spoke of the expected drive against the French and British line, and said that he hoped that the situation that had recently developed in Russia would prevent Germany sending more of its troops there to the west. "But if Germany ever does send its avalanche of men against the British lines, they'll hold. Never fear about that, they'll hold."

The speaker endorsed unreservedly the work which both the Y. M. C. A. and the Knights of Columbus are doing for the soldiers.

Will Germany Yield To America's Peace Aims?

"The key to the Temple of World Peace is in the hand of President Wilson," said Maximilian Harden recently to an American correspondent in Germany, and many people throughout the world think that the key was fitted in the lock when the President restated America's war aims to Congress on January 8th.

Taken together, remarks the Chicago Tribune, the statements of war aims by Lloyd George and President Wilson are "an unseparable challenge to the Governments of the Central Powers and what perhaps is much more important to the consciences of their people." The New Yorker Staats-Zeitung says that "Germany's spokesmen have been insistent that their opponents in the war state definitely and concretely what they are fighting for. It is now the Central Powers' move and they should be equally willing to restate their war aims as unequivocally as the United States and Great Britain have stated theirs."

Throughout the length and breadth of America, President Wilson's speech has been warmly applauded and endorsed. In the capitals of the countries allied with the U. S. in its reception has been no less cordial, as shown in the leading article in THE LITERARY DIGEST for January 19th. This article covers four pages and gives the result of a searching examination of the newspaper press of the world, including Germany, upon America's war aims as outlined in the President's message. Incidentally, the war terms of America, Britain, and Russia are shown in three parallel columns, so that the reader can at once balance them.

ARFIELD ORDER HOLDS DESPITE 50 TO 19 VOTE IN THE SENATE

Washington, Jan. 17.—Fuel Administrator Garfield's drastic order restricting a use of fuel effective at midnight to- night, was promulgated a little before 1 o'clock within a few minutes after a spate had adopted a resolution asking that the order be postponed for five days.

The official vote of the senate was 50 to 19. Washington was a stinging place all day and Mr. Garfield's office a centre of activity and a target for attacks.

A supplementary statement issued in the order embraced a list of industries engaged in imperative war work which will be exempted from the order's force. It includes shipyards engaged in naval work, a few plants turning out products needed immediately by an army and navy, and portions of anti-producing tubing.

Although no formal announcement was made, the shipping board has been sure that all shippers will be exempted.

Fuel Administrator Garfield's statement in explanation of his order, follows: "The most urgent thing to be done is to send to the Allies the food and war supplies which they vitally need. War munitions, food, manufactured articles of every description, lying in Atlantic ports in thousands of tons, where literally hundreds of ships, loaded with supplies for our men and the Allies, lie at the sea because their bunkers are empty of coal.

Once the docks are cleared of the fuel which is being used for the ships, it has jammed the congested freight lines. It is worse than useless to bend our efforts to more manufacturing when we already have manufactured facilities jamming the railroad yards and tracks for long distances back into the country. No power on earth can move this freight into the warehouses if it is needed until we supply the ships with fuel.

CONVALESCENTS SHOW FINE SPIRIT AT HALIFAX

Undaunted By Big Handicaps, They Surmount All Difficulties and Sings

The indomitable spirit of the Canadian men who return from the front disabled for further military service, subject, according to the extent of their wounds for further medical treatment or vocational re-education under the Military Hospitals Commission, is glimpsed in the following story told by the V. M. C. A. officer at the Halifax receiving depot.

Concerts are held every night in the recreation room of the depot while the men are detained there, and the talented citizens of Halifax have been very generous in giving their services. For the last load to land before the big disaster there was the customary programme on the night of their arrival.

The concert was a young woman, a visitor in Halifax, accustomed to the mained back-wash of war as Halifax has seen it since the first transport of disabled pulled in port. The expectant faces before her were a stimulus she never had known before and when she stopped singing the room rang with a clamor of approval.

In the front row were two lads each of whom had lost an arm. They were boys in man's uniform with enthusiasm. They just had to applaud somehow and so they got together on it. One lad held out his one hand and the other laid his into it with resounding whacks.

The young woman sang every song she knew at that, and when after the encore a friend said, "You never sang so well before," she replied, "And I never expect to sing so well again. I'll never again have those two wonderful lads to inspire me."

"FOR THE FREEDOM OF THE WORLD" Picture at Lyric Brings Forth Rounds of Applause

The Lyric Theatre has already achieved an enviable reputation for the sterling qualities of the programmes that have been presented during the last two or three months, in fact it is a recognized fact in local theatrical and film circles that the very best efforts of the producers are finding their way to the screen of the Lyric.

Yesterday's attraction was no exception to this rule. It represented a fledgling away from any feature of its kind seen here, and thrilled those who saw it with the lesson it so vividly conveyed.

"For the Freedom of the World" is the title of the picture which tells a sensational story of a young American, enlisted in the Canadian army, was assigned to the famous American Legion and did not only his comrades but a lieutenant, but the love of a beautiful Canadian girl, who soon became his wife.

HOUSEWIVES' LEAGUE

The Story of a Milkman and The Money in the Bottle

The first annual meeting of the Housewives' League was held yesterday afternoon in the King's Daughters' Guild in Chipman Hill. The president, Mrs. J. W. V. Lawlor, was in the chair, and a good attendance was recorded. The matter before the meeting was whether they should form a New Brunswick Women's Institute, or whether they should continue to be a Housewives' League and link up with the other Housewives' Leagues in the Dominion, the head of which is in Montreal.

The same officers which were in office last year, were returned this year. They are: President, Mrs. J. W. V. Lawlor; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Richard Hooper; secretary, Miss Alice Fairweather; treasurer, Mrs. Kenneth Haley.

The Housewives' League is making a collection of war-time recipes and, general to the ladies present. They were recipes for chocolate cake made with potatoes to save the flour and fruit cake.

Mrs. Richard Hooper, the corresponding secretary, contends that at least one of the milk men does not wash his bottles and there are strong suspicions that he is not the only one. As proof of what she was saying, Mrs. Hooper told the following story of what happened to her a day or two ago.

When she went to take in her milk the other morning in the bottle in which the milkman delivers it, she found, as she emptied it out, that there was something hard in the bottom of the bottle. On investigation, this proved to be a roll of paper in which was enclosed a bill and an amount of money. The bottle had evidently contained the milk of some other family before it contained Mrs. Hooper's milk, and that family had settled their milk bill by leaving the money in the bottle.

The milkman never bothered to wash the bottle, and so the milk was poured into it for Mrs. Hooper, and was delivered to her together with the money. The League will take steps to find out whether the milkmen wash their bottles or not, and have the law compelling them to do so strictly enforced.

CHANGE FOR RECRUITS The 3rd Regiment C. G. A., at Partridge Island, is fifty men short, and is asking for men for home service. These men get the same pay and allowance as overseas soldiers. "C" but only those who have passed in class B or C, but it can also take young men over thirty, or married men of the military age.

Many men who cannot go to the front, or who failed to get through in class A, are eligible for this home service work at Partridge Island, in the C. G. A., and as the home service force gets overseas pay and allowances the service is attractive to many men. They cannot go to the front because they were below the class A standard.

Recruits for the island can leave the foot of Acadia street on the steamer Sissiboo, at 1 p.m. and 3.30 daily and to Adjutant Thompson at the island. There is a doctor there constantly to make the needed examination.

THE GLEN FALLS LINE

Manager Hooper, Assistant Manager McCormick and the directors of the New Brunswick Power Company made a personal inspection of the Glen Falls greater portion of the line lies buried under a coating of ice with a top crust of hard snow. The ordinary plows, they say, could make no impression on it; the situation calls for something entirely different. As a result of the inspection yesterday arrangements were made for the use of the road machine under the direction of Roadmaster Hafferty and his crew of men experienced in the handling of the apparatus. This was to be put to work this morning and extra teams and extra men have been engaged to get the line opened as speedily as possible.

The road scraper will be used to clear away the top crust of hard snow and then the rest of the work will have to be done by men with picks and shovels digging out the ice which encrusts the rails. This stretch of line is three and a half miles long, and it is anticipated that the work will take about two days. Officials of the company say that about nine years ago they faced similar conditions but on that occasion cars were caught fast in the ice and the work was more complicated as a result. They add that conditions made it impossible to keep all the lines open and that their efforts were concentrated to clear those sections of the line which accommodated the greater number of people.

It has been pointed out, however, that but one sweeper does not suffice to keep the line open during a heavy storm, and that prompt measures immediately following the tie-up are very necessary.

Sir Edward Carson: "I know of no end to this war that is possible without maintaining the rights of Roumania and Serbia just as much as the rights of Great Britain and her empire."

QUEBEC AND CONFEDERATION; FRANCOEUR NOTION COMES UP

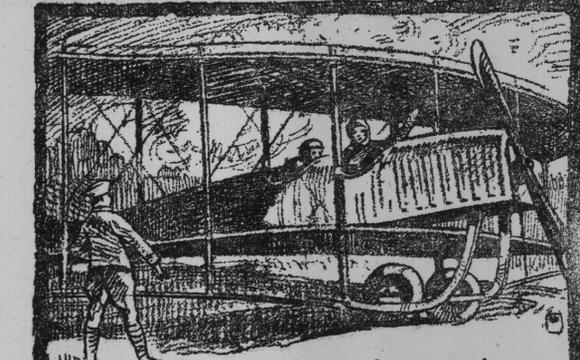

Quebec, Jan. 17.—With the galleries crowded and the house in a state of feverish curiosity, J. N. Francoeur, member for Lotbiniere, proposed his motion relating to Quebec's position in confederation in the Quebec assembly this afternoon.

Five members jumped into the fray of discussion and at 10.30 o'clock tonight the debate was adjourned by A. G. A. G. Cannon, member for Quebec Centre, who will speak on Tuesday afternoon next, which has been set for the resumption of the debate.

The speakers today were J. N. Francoeur, the proposer of the motion; Arthur Sauve, leader of the opposition; Albanese David, member for Terrebonne; Hector Laferte, member for Drummond; and T. D. Boichard, member for St. Hyacinthe.

Only the motion and second speaker in favor of the motion and it now seems plain that it has little chance of passing. It is not known how many will speak when the debate is resumed next week, but apart from Mr. Tessier, who adjourned the debate, it is stated that L. Cannon, member for Quebec Centre; Hon. Walter Mitchell, provincial treasurer, and probably a few others will address the house.

The debate will be brought to a close by Sir Lomer Gouin, and his declarations are anxiously awaited.

Salts in Hot Water Clears Pimples
Says we must make kidneys clean the blood, and pimples disappear.

Pimples, sores and boils usually result from toxins, poisons and impurities which are generated in the bowels and then absorbed into the blood through the very ducts which should absorb only nourishment to sustain the body.

It is the function of the kidneys to filter impurities from the blood and cast them out in the form of urine, but in many instances the bowels create more toxins and impurities than the kidneys can eliminate, then the blood uses the skin pores as the next best means of getting rid of these impurities which often break out all over the skin in the form of pimples.

The surest way to clear the skin of these eruptions, says a noted authority, is to get from any pharmacy about four ounces of Jad Salts and take a tablespoonful in a glass of hot water each morning before breakfast for one week. This will prevent the formation of toxins in the bowels. It also stimulates the kidneys to normal activity, thus causing them to filter the blood of impurities and clearing the skin of pimples.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia. Here you have a pleasant, effervescent drink which usually makes pimples disappear, cleanses the blood and is excellent for the kidneys as well.

AN EFFECT OF MARRIAGE

Responsibility for Wife and Children Increases Will Power.
I am inclined to believe that marriage does increase the will power, for when a man marries he at once assumes a responsibility, and if he has the right sort of stuff in him he at once makes up his mind to succeed. He wants to earn more money in order that he may give his wife the things that successful men give their wives. He eliminates time-wasting amusements and bad habits that were relics of his bachelor days.

Many bachelors achieve a fair measure of success, and then attack in one place all the rest of their lives. They lack initiative because they haven't any incentive to do bigger things. This is very true in the cases of men who have no one dependent on them. If they had a wife, or a mother or sisters, solely dependent upon them, they would exert their wills to some purpose. Lack of this they are satisfied to let well alone.—American Magazine.

made by enemy engineers, or camouflage devices. It is in attempting to pry into enemy secrets that the airman often meets his greatest thrills. Pieces of enemy military construction that arouse the suspicions of the intelligence officer must be photographed. If the construction is of any importance the Hun will have a nest of anti-aircraft guns planted and battle-planes held in readiness to drive away any British machines. Naturally it takes nerve for an airman to go out on such a mission. But it has become a point of honor with squadrons of the Royal Flying Corps to get every photograph they are ordered to get. Upon a single photograph may depend the success of a whole operation involving weeks of planning and hundreds of lives. MEN OF TORPEDOED SHIPS. The Reverend T. Rynon Davies, general secretary of the British and Foreign Sailors' Society writes concerning the relief of men of torpedoed ships that: 'As some misunderstanding,' he says, 'has arisen on the part of newspaper correspondents concerning the work of my society, which is the oldest organization for seafarers, may I state the following facts: 1.-When we claim that, among other activities, we have this year alone assisted some 17,000 victims of German piracy, the claim is in absolute accordance with the facts. If needs be, we can produce our records and supply the evidence. 2.-This claim based upon work done, last year. conveys no imputation that kindred societies are not doing work equally excellent. Indeed, our own staff have now and then co-operated heartily with other societies and hope to be permitted to do so again. 3.-Under present conditions a little overlapping is, I am afraid, inevitable. We avoid it whenever we can, but when nobody else is doing it, we step in. Need we offer any apology for doing so? 4.-A suggestion has been made that we should attend to the moral and spiritual welfare of sailors. We are doing that, but we also consider the fact that the sailor is a creature of flesh and blood. Hence, when he steps ashore, shivering and starving, we clothe him and feed him, we doctor him and nurse him back to life; then we pay his fare and send him rejoicing home. In so doing we expect that we are promoting his moral and spiritual welfare in a very practical sort of way, and, of course, we never send out claims to anybody for the services thus rendered. 5.-My society is fully recognized by the authorities and only this week we have received from the Lords of the Admiralty a letter of thanks in very handsome terms for our services to the men of H. M. S. Drake, to say nothing of many another brave ship in His Majesty's service. We are chiefly concerned about getting the work done. Never mind who gets the credit for it! No fewer than 2,717 public and high school boys worked on Ontario farms last year.'

all the many weapons used in this that strike the public mind as novel—the submarines, tanks, hand-bombs, airplanes, flame-throwing, etc.—there is really not one so new and yet so little commented upon as the use made of the camera by flying men. Three years ago the world had made no provision for aerography. Casual experiments with cameras before the war were abandoned as valueless. Today never a battle and scarcely ever a raid is undertaken without an elaborate photographic staff of the enemy's defenses. Before the war of Cambrai aeroplanes soared over and behind the enemy's lines, taking thousands of snap-pictures of his territory to be under attack. is no exaggeration to say that, rap-

WAS ATTACKED BY TEN HUNS IN AIR FOR RED CROSS
Canadian Airman, Here Yesterday, Had Thrilling Time ALONE ON SCOUTING TOUR
Ten of Enemy Rose and Lively Chase Ensued—Bullet Found Lodgment in Throat and That is Why Flight Lieutenant Reason is Home

Flight Lieutenant H. P. Reason, of Moosejaw, was a passenger on the steamer which reached here yesterday. There have been few Canadian aviators who have been so close to death as he and yet survive. When the war was on he was working in the United States and, having a knowledge of aviation work, he went to Moosejaw, where he was able to secure an appointment in the Canadian aviation corps. He crossed to England with the first contingent and from the day he arrived until he left, he said it was nothing but a state of excitement.
"One bright summer morning last year," he said, "there was not a German machine up, and very few of ours. Our colonel said I had better make a little tour. I did, and the trip I shall never forget."
"I had no sooner got over the German lines than I saw at least ten machines. I saw in a second that I was their objective, and as there was nothing that I could do much I started for home. That I arrived was only through a miracle. Just after I got under way their machines had risen and it meant the best machine would win. By this time a few bullets were coming my way and when about 400 yards over our line I was hit in the throat. By this time the German machines had turned as our men, seeing what was going on, had begun to rise. I came to earth semi-unconscious. That bullet is the cause of my being where I am today."

Second Lieutenant O. Gibbons, son of Mrs. William J. Baker, of Halifax, arrived home. He went overseas in the aviation corps, and while flying in France fell and as a result of his injuries has been returned home. He is to be employed in the flying school in Toronto.
Lieutenant E. MacDermot of Montreal was in the party. He went overseas as a sapper with the Canadian Signallers more than two years ago. For conspicuous work in France he was promoted to the rank of lieutenant. He is home as a result of his wounds.

Lieutenant A. B. Graydon of Toronto arrived home. He went overseas as a member of the Royal Field Artillery early in the spring of last year. At the battle of Vimy he was wounded by shrapnel. As the result of his wounds he has been returned.
Among the noted officers who returned was Lieut. B. W. Harmon, of Woodstock, and brother of Mrs. F. R. Hayward, Fairville. Lieut. Harmon went overseas with the 32nd Canadian Engineers as an N. C. O., and while "carrying on" as a sapper was awarded the D.C.M. Later while serving with the Canadian Field Engineers he was an M. C. He has also been awarded the military decoration of the Russian government known as the Cross of St. George. Following his brilliant and noted career in the infantry, Lieut. Harmon joined the Royal Flying Corps where, it is reported, he met with a smash-up recently and was now in a hospital in France. Following is a copy of a letter she received from the chaplain:—

LIFE SAVED BUT RIGHT LEG LOST
Pte. A. C. Boyle Was Severely Wounded in Right Arm and Both Legs—Chaplain Writes in Praise of Him
Mrs. Edward Boyle of Waasit, Sunbury county has received word that her son, Private Austin C. Boyle, who went over with the 104th Battalion, has been wounded and is now in a hospital in France. Following is a copy of a letter she received from the chaplain:—
No. C. C. S.,
B. E. F., France,
Dec. 27, 1917.

Dear Mrs. Boyle:—
Your son, Private A. C. Boyle, asked me to write and tell you that he has been admitted to this hospital, but is making good progress. He was severely wounded yesterday in the right arm and both legs, by a shell. We have been able to save his life, though at the cost of his right leg, which it was necessary to amputate.
He is splendidly brave and sends you his love, with the message that you are not to worry.
He has done his bit finely and greatly, and you have reason to be proud of such a son. He hopes to write himself later.
Yours sincerely,
H. J. GAMBLE,
United Baptist chaplain.
Mr. and Mrs. Boyle have two other sons in khaki, now overseas.

MISSION IS OPENED WITH LARGE ATTENDANCE
A mission was begun in the Mission church, Paradise Row, by Rev. Father Mayo, of the Order of the Holy Cross, West Park, N. Y., yesterday. Archdeacon Crowfoot was present and gave the authority of the bishop to the missionary to conduct the mission and also gave the mission his blessing.
Father Mayo is an exceptionally good speaker. His manner is quiet yet forceful. Yesterday afternoon he held a children's service. He took as his theme "The Nature of God." At the service held in the church auditorium last night Father Mayo spoke again on the same subject. The attendance was very large at both services.
