A DISCOVERY THAT IS BENEFITING THE WHOLE WORLD

Canadian Physician Made It

Wonderful New Substance Formed By Combining Fruit Juices

It takes Canada to do the really big things that are being done. For thousands of years, people have known that fruit was good for them without knowing exactly why.

Fruit juice is about nine-tenths water and one-tenth solid matter. And this solid matter is eight-ninths sweet and one-ninth bitter.

To get the full benefit of fruit one must eat great quantities of fresh fruit. By the discovery of this Canadian physician, the bitter or curing part of fruit juices is so combined that it is made to grow in increase in many words.

In other words, a stronger fruit juice is created. This is made into tablets which are known all over Canada under the name of "Fruit-tives."

"Fruit-tives" is the only medicine in the world that cures Constipation. JAMES PROUDFOOT, Esq., of Vankeek Hill, Ont., says: "If I were not for 'Fruit-tives' I am satisfied I could not live."

Chronic Constipation means Paralysis of the Bowels. There are two layers of muscles in the bowels which during constipation become tight and weak and cannot act.

In severe cases, people go three and even ten days without the bowels moving. N. JOURBERT, Esq., of Grand Ligne, Ont., says: "I heartily recommend 'Fruit-tives' to all who suffer with Constipation."

Bile, a liquid secreted by the liver is the purgative of the body. To purify the blood, it is necessary to get rid of the bowels of this purgative.

MR. WILLISTON, Esq., of Grand Ligne, Ont., says: "I tried 'Fruit-tives' and 'Fruit-tives' cured my chronic Constipation from which I suffered for many years."

To cure Constipation, the liver must be stimulated to pour out more bile and the weak muscles strengthened.

MR. FOX, Esq., of Newburgh, Ont., says: "Our daughter was cured of Appendicitis by 'Fruit-tives' after doctors said only an operation could save her life."

"Fruit-tives" is not merely a retailing agent but actually cures Constipation, relieves the nerves and bowels and increases the flow of blood.

MR. PARSONS, Esq., of Otterville, Ont., says: "I am eighty years of age and find 'Fruit-tives' do me more good than any other remedy."

Senior JOHN COSTIGAN of Ottawa, says: "I have been a dreadful sufferer from Constipation for over thirty years. After taking 'Fruit-tives' for a few months, I feel I am well from this horrible complaint."

"Fruit-tives" will SENATOR COSTIGAN cure you. 50c a box, 6 for $2.50, or trial size 25c. At all dealers, or from Fruit-tives Limited, Ottawa.

La MARQUISE de FONTENOY

Aide-de-Camp of Duke of Connaught Who Will Accompany His Royal Highness to Canada—A Shocking Family Story

(Copyright, 1911, by the Brentwood Company)

Captain Walter Long, who is to accompany the Duke of Connaught to Canada in the capacity of aide-de-camp, is an officer of the crack regiment of Scots Greys, and served through the South African service order for conspicuous gallantry on the battle field.

Captain Long's father was secretary for Ireland in the Balfour cabinet. He had previously been minister of agriculture and president of the local government board.

It is to him that Great Britain is indebted for the severe dog muzzling and dog quarantine laws now in force throughout the United Kingdom and Ireland, which have had the effect of completely stamping out rabies and hydrophobia.

Dog lovers, however, do not appreciate this and to them the name of Long is an object of execration. What is most objected to in the law is that portion thereof which prevents the bringing of any dog into the United Kingdom, no matter how short an absence abroad, without undergoing a six months' quarantine.

Lady Doreen is one of the sisters of the Earl of Cork. Walter Long himself is an honest, straight-riding country squire of the Tory persuasion who has a gift of hard hitting and plain speaking, rather than charm of manner, suavity or persuasiveness.

A Shocking Story. Captain Long and his father Walter Long both represent today the old Wiltshire house of Tynley Long. It is still a very rich family but much of its wealth was squandered by the fourth Earl of Mornington, whom his uncle the great Duke of Wellington used to describe as the curse of the Welleley family.

He succeeded at the age of twenty-four in winning the hand of Catherine Long, eldest sister of Sir James Tynley Long, and heires to a portion of his estates, valued at about $200,000 a year, and to a sum in cash amounting to a couple of million dollars. In fact, Miss Catherine Long at the time of her marriage in 1812 was reputed as the greatest heiress of her day.

The early years of her married life were spent at Wandstead Hall, a palace on the borders of Epping Forest, which was said to have but one equal in England, namely, Blenheim, but of which not one stone upon another is left.

For several years they lived happily, and three children were born to them. Then suddenly a change came over Lord Mornington, who developed into a fiend incarnate. How the transformation was brought about no one knew definitely, for the person most deeply concerned, the philosopher's stone and alchemist's wife, her own counsel. What is known is that night after night, when Lady Mornington, by dying, revelling went on until early in the morning at the great house and the stories of the villagers of Wandstead and Leyton are to be believed, not even the entertainments of the Hell Fire Club of Meuseham Abbey approached in wickedness what took place at Wandstead Hall.

Lady Mornington's great fortune could not stand the perpetual drain upon it. Immediately upon her death the real was obliged to leave England and re-ventured himself by selling Wandstead Hall to a Norwich merchant on the condition that every vestige of the magnificent fabric above ground, should be cleared away within twelve months.

Thereafter Lord Mornington went on from bad to worse and behaved shockingly. He was so such extent an outcast that a family council of the members of the house of Welleley, presided over by the great Duke of Wellington, decided that he was unfit to be trusted with the care of his own sons. This opinion was approved by the court and, as the instance of a victor of Waterloo, the sons were made wards in chancery.

Finally, without a penny, with which to bless himself, ostracised by all subsisting on an allowance of $90 paid to him weekly by his uncle, the first Duke of Wellington, and afterwards by the second duke, the fourth Earl of Mornington died in humble lodgings in Tiver street, in the Marple house district of London. He was succeeded in the Earldom of Mornington by his eldest son, who had long before cut him off and who died without issue in Paris in 1863, when the earldom of Mornington passed to his cousin, the second Duke of Wellington.

A Nostalgic Rich Home. Lord Leonfield, who has just married Miss Violet Rawson, has one of the most beautiful country seats in England, Petworth Park, his place in Sussex, being, however, crowded from cellar to garret with the most wonderful art treasures. It is especially identified with Burners, who in the days of the last Earl of Egremont (from whom it passed to the Lords Leonfield), may be said to have almost made his home there. The artist had his own suite of apartments at Petworth, and a very large number of his paintings, now in private hands, and in the national gallery in London, represent scenes in and around Petworth.

Not were the artist friends of this Lord Egremont treat in the least degree as proteges or inferiors but rather as distinguished guests. C. A. Leighton, a member of the Royal Academy, relates that the apartments assigned to him were those occupied by King Charles III, of Spain when he rested at Petworth on his way from Portsmouth to Windsor Castle to visit Queen Anne, and especially to recall the magnificent four-poster bed with its crimson damask gold-embroidered hangings, bedposts richly carved and decorated with white and gold, and the arms of Spain embroidered in gold on the tester.

Another artist friend of Lord Egremont, namely Benjamin Haydon, whose masterpiece "Christ's entry into Jerusalem," is now in Cincinnati, Ohio, was an eloquent lover of the peace and luxury of Petworth, where he declared, that "the very best seemed to know that there is room for their existence—that the windows are theirs."

Lord Leonfield came rather prominently in the public eye of Americans last summer, in connection with his putting on the original "Old Time" coach, the road between London and Brighton, by way of competing with Alfred G. Vanderbilt. The patronage of Lord Leonfield is Wyndham, and if he is today in possession of Petworth, it is because it was bequeathed by the third and penultimate Earl of Egremont to his natural son.

PROMINENT BUSINESS MEN FINANCE GREAT RELIGIOUS CRUSADE

JOHN L. ALEXANDER, J. PIERPONT MORGAN, FRED B. SMITH

JAMES G. CANNON, REV. CHARLES STEBBINS, CLEVELAND H. DODGE. LEADERS IN MOVEMENT TO EVANGELIZE A CONTINENT

Financed by business men of national prominence whose combined wealth runs into the hundreds of millions and who will conduct it as they would a private business affair, the United States and Canada are on the eve of a common sense religious crusade such as is not recorded in the previous history of the human race since the Reformation, and which, its promoters proclaim, will be far more reaching in its effect than the crusades of history.

The plan, originating in New York, includes a visit to more than ninety cities by Evangelistic workers who will reach the people in every walk of life. Among the prominent men in New York who are associated with the work and who have given generous financial aid to it are the following:—Cleveland H. Dodge, J. Pierpont Morgan, James H. Post, Frederick Billings, James G. Cannon, R. Fulton Cutting, Dr. D. H. McAlpin, Alfred E. Marling, Charles A. Peabody, L. E. Severance, William Sloane, Robert Brewster, James B. Coombs, Frank A. Ferris and James D. Husted.

George Wyndham, along with a large share of his fortune. The remainder he distributed among his other natural children, one of whom, Mary Wyndham, married the first Earl of Munster, son of William IV., and of Mrs. Jordan. In fact the fourth and last Earl of Egremont, when he succeeded to his uncle's honors, found the peerage almost entirely denuded of its possessions, and with but little left on which to maintain the grandeur to which he was almost entirely denied of its possessions.

This George Wyndham, eldest son of the Earl of Egremont, entered the army, served through the Crimean war, attained the rank of colonel and in 1860 was created a peer of the realm, as Lord Leonfield. His eldest surviving son, the Duke of Devonshire, succeeded to the title in 1890, marrying Lord Rosebery's sister.

Old Percy Wyndham, brother of the second Lord Leonfield, died last spring at Clonsa, a beautiful place in Wexford. He was the father of the Right Hon. George Wyndham, former secretary for Ireland, and stepfather of the Duke of Westminster, while his three daughters, whose portraits by Sargent, was described by Mrs. Edward as a picture of the "Three Graces," married respectively, Lord Elche, Charles Adams, and Lord Glenconner.

Where Was He Entertained? Lord Glenconner who is a brother of Mrs. Aquilla, wife of the present, takes his title from the name of the old farm of Glenconner, in the parish of Drogheda, in the county of Wick, Ireland. John Tennant, was wont to entertain his intimate friends, the poet Burns. Indeed by Mrs. Tennant's biography of Burns, John Tennant is frequently referred to as "old Glenconner." It was the latter's son, Charles, who bred a "covey" of bleachers, patented in 1798, a greatly improved process for the employment of liquid chloride of lime, and afterwards dry chloride of lime, founding works at St. Rollor on the north bank of the canal which connects the Forth and the Clyde, to work the patents in question. The success of the undertaking was assured from the first, as the cost of bleaching cotton cloth was reduced by 90 per cent. By degrees the St. Rollor works became one of the principal chemical concerns of the United Kingdom, and today St. Rollor and the great Thames Copper Company, owning immense copper mines in Spain, in which the stock is almost entirely owned by Lord Glenconner, by the by, is also the head of the Steel Company of Scotland, and it was in connection with its relation with the steel trust in America, that he journeyed to the United States last spring to visit the moving spirits of that organization.

THE HERPICIDE GIRL Says Everyone Can Have Beautiful Hair

I am really ashamed of some of my girl friends when I look at their hair. There is no sense in having such looking heads. It simply shows that while they may be scrupulously neat in every other way, they are careless about their hair.

Thin, scraggy wisps generally indicate dandruff and that is caused by a germ. Newton's Herpicide will kill that germ and keep the scalp as clean and healthy as can be. This permits the hair to grow naturally and luxuriantly. That terrible itching which goes with dandruff stops with almost the first application. "Substitutes are said to be 'just as good' as the genuine offered but it is better to buy the genuine original germ killer. Newton's Herpicide. There is no guesswork about it preparation. A trial is not necessary just buy a bottle and use it. The results are sure to be better than you expect.

For sale at drug stores. One dollar size bottles are guaranteed. Applications obtained at the better barber shops. Send the money in postage for sample and book to the Herpicide Co., Dept. R., Detroit, Mich. E. Clinton Brown, Special Agent, Corner Union and Waterloo Streets.

It is said that no building material is so durable as well-made bricks. The British Museum are bricks taken from the buildings in Nineveh and Babylon, which show no sign of decay or disintegration, although the ancients did not burn or bake them, but dried them in the sun.

In the police court this morning a very animated trial took place between Judge Ritchie and Chief Clark. It was so heated that His Honor threatened to send the chief into jail for seven days for contempt of court.

After a few minutes delay the chief appeared with the sheet and remarked to the judge that if there were any errors in the sheet that he was capable of attending to them.

"Get right down stairs out of this," said His Honor, "and don't come around here interfering with the business of this court. You have no more right here than any of those spectators outside the wall."

"I came up here to see about my sheet and I want to go down, said the chief. 'If you don't, said the judge, I will send you into jail for seven days. Now you can either apologize or go to jail."

"Then take him in charge, said the judge to Policeman Goshine who is acting court sergeant. He took the chief by the collar and led him away.

Articles from Pen of Associates of Dickens: London, Sept. 23—An announcement of great interest to admirers of Dickens is that the September number of Nash's Magazine, with an alert eye on the celebration of the novelist's centenary next year, the editor intends to publish a series of articles from various persons who were the intimate associates of the author of "David Copperfield."

One of Mr. Dickens' recollections concerns the procession of welcome to Queen Alexandra when she reached this country for her marriage with King Edward in 1863. The route included Fleet street and the Strand.

"On the top of one of these 'busset' stood the conductor, a man brimful of natural wit and humor, doing the 'cheerful man' absolutely to perfection. He begged the time and kept the crowd, including my father, in roars of laughter."

From the fact that "Dr. Margoli's Prescriptions" appeared as the Christmas number of "All the Year Round" in 1858, Tenyson Dickens states his firm conviction that the omnibus conductor was really the germ of the idea which became so successful under his father's treatment. There are many allusions to famous places, incidents, and people of the past, and in mentioning the Twistlock square theatricals, Mr. Dickens says: "The scenery was painted by Clarkson Stanfield, R. A., familiarly known to my father and his intimates at 'Stanby' at the sale of the furniture and effects at Gad's Hill in the autumn of 1870, the drop-scene of the Eddystone Lighthouse realized 1,000 guineas. I was much surprised when I was lecturing in Sunderland this year to a very large audience to find that the name of Stanfield was greeted with long and continued applause. The Evening Times and Star

ST. JOHN, N. B., SEPTEMBER 23, 1911. The St. John Evening Times is printed at 27 and 29 Canterbury Street every evening (Sunday excepted) by the St. John Times Printing and Publishing Co., Ltd., a company incorporated under the Joint Stock Companies Act.

THE EVENING TIMES THE DAILY TELEGRAPH

New Brunswick's Independent newspapers. These papers advocate British connection honestly in public life. Measures for the material progress and moral advancement of our great Dominion. No graft! No deals! "The Shamrock, Thistle, Rose entwine The Maple Leaf forever."

SITES FOR FACTORIES

If the city of St. John is to enjoy that industrial growth which would assist materially in making it a great city, some action should be taken by the city council to make it possible for new industries to secure satisfactory sites.

The choice here of desirable sites, which are available for manufacturing purposes, is somewhat limited. Complaint has been made by different concerns who have made inquiries that they found it very difficult to secure a suitable location.

It is becoming the custom in cities to provide what is called an industrial centre, that is, a place where factories may be established near each other in a local vicinity suited to their purpose.

The Times is of opinion that the city council would be pursuing a wise course, and one that would be approved by the citizens, if it secured from the legislature authority to expropriate sufficient lands, providing railway, or water communication, or both, to place it in a position to offer on satisfactory terms a good site for any new industry seeking establishment here.

It might be said in opposition to this course that the city should not take away the property of private individuals, but if the latter should deliberately plant themselves in the path of progress, and prevent the legitimate growth of the city, public sentiment would endorse such action as would be for the public benefit.

A London cable says: "Among the more moderate of the tariff reform morning newspapers the feeling of triumph is tempered by expressions of regret at the disappearance from political life of such a staunch Imperialist as Sir Wilfrid Laurier."

The most effective answer to the attacks of Canadian yellow journalism upon the United States is the tone of the United States press in its comment on the result of the Canadian elections.

If the city could say to manufacturers that it had an industrial centre or centres where they could locate factories, with necessary railway and water connection, it could then afford to make a strong bid for new industries.

POLITICAL MATTERS

The formation of Mr. Borden's cabinet is an undertaking which will cost him considerable thought and perhaps some supporters. Take for example the province of New Brunswick. There are already rumors that Mr. Hazen may be invited to retire from provincial politics and take a portfolio at Ottawa.

It will be very interesting to watch the progress of events at Ottawa. Mr. Borden's majority comes entirely from Ontario, Manitoba and British Columbia.

BRITISH COLUMBIA

British Columbia be disposed to listen with patience to the demands of the Maritime Provinces? Then there is the naval policy of Mr. Borden. Strictly speaking he has no naval policy. It is yet to be evolved. How will it be received by his supporters in the province of Quebec? No doubt we shall have a renewal from this side, for spectacular purposes of the hopeless agitation for an imperial preference, which the mother country will not grant.

FOR THE CHILDREN

The Times has received an account of the establishment and equipment of a playground in the town of Belmont, Mass. A large vacant area in the centre of the town was turned over to the town authorities by a citizen who is fond of children, and an entirely new idea in outdoor playgrounds is to be carried out.

One of the problems to be solved in St. John, as the Times has stated over and over again, is that of playgrounds for the little children. Mayor Frink has pledged himself to bring the matter to the attention of the city council in a practical way, and it may be hoped that before the summer of 1912 opens better provision will have been made for playgrounds than we have ever had in the past.

The responsibility of power and the joy of success cannot change the St. John Standard. It continues to make yellow journal references to persons against whom someone connected with it may have a petty spite.

An Ottawa despatch to the Standard says that the maritime provinces will lose five seats as a result of the redistribution based on the census. There is food for reflection in that statement.

We all have an eye to the ground, to learn of the approach of those prominent capitalists who were awaiting the defeat of reciprocity to rush into this city and province and make us all more prosperous and happy.

A London cable says: "Among the more moderate of the tariff reform morning newspapers the feeling of triumph is tempered by expressions of regret at the disappearance from political life of such a staunch Imperialist as Sir Wilfrid Laurier."

The most effective answer to the attacks of Canadian yellow journalism upon the United States is the tone of the United States press in its comment on the result of the Canadian elections.

APPROPRIATE

David R. Forgan, a Scottish banker, has a dry Scotch humor. CHARACTER IS A THING WORTH WHILE that will, upon painful review, find that there is cause for both rejoicing as well as for sorrowing; for our success and failures are not always wisest and right, many of them need to be reversed.

Who fails and who succeeds? It is hard to tell. I know men who in their family relations are exceedingly blessed by the attention and devotion of wife and children, who have but little of the world's goods, but who have much of human love. Have they failed in life because they have not amassed a fortune? It may not be a very popular doctrine, but I believe it to be true; yet I find that man fails who has amassed a fortune and has lost human love, while he succeeds who, having but little, has everything in the form of love, the precious love of wife and children, the esteem of friends and God.

Mr. Moneybag places his bag under his heels to make him look high; higher than you or I. Pull the bag out and down he goes. Mr. Havelittle labors from morning till night, goes home to his humble residence and lays upon his table the product of his day's toil. He looks into the face of his loving wife, listens to the sweet voices of his children and thanks God for his mercy; and having nothing, as you say, he has everything.

If I were to quote to you the names of those who are honored by all of us, you would find that failures are sometimes the great successes and successes are sometimes failures. Moses failed. He took his people to the edge of the promised land and could not enter; yet his name is enshrined in the hearts of later ages, and from Isaiah to the last of the prophets Malachi, you will not find the name of one rich man on record because of his wealth, but because of his charity, their wealth to service. If their lives were worth living it was because they served others.

Rules of Life

What are the ideal rules to guide us in life? Only a few broad general rules are needed. You have heard of the great sculptor, Michelangelo. In his home one could see a few rough sketches which suggested to him some of his masterpieces. He carved his "David," his "Night and Morning," He carved his immortal "Moses," after having previously made a rough sketch consisting of a few lines. The art of carving a life out of the material given us by God depends upon our ability to construct a beautiful moral form from a few general principles.

A similar fact may be established in regard to the matter of diet. All the simple articles of diet are all that are necessary for the maintenance of perfect health. A few simple rules of conduct are all that are necessary for the introduction into this world of the greatest of all things. There are a few things for which men strive, upon which they hinge their happiness, around which center all their aspirations and for these things they live. They become the purpose of life.

There is in medicine a process known as "diagnosis by exclusion." When a physician is confronted by a patient suffering from a disease he takes the temperature he observes the pulse, he asks a series of important questions concerning symptoms, he investigates the family history of his patient and then he makes a diagnosis. He decides the character of the sickness afflicting the sufferer and argues "It cannot be this because of such and such reasons, and therefore it must be that, or that." Proceeding thus far he again argues "It cannot be the because certain symptoms are absent. The existing symptoms therefore indicate that this alone can be the sickness from which the patient is suffering." By excluding all the impossible causes, he finally reaches the only probable cause of the trouble.

We may follow the same method in discussing the greatest thing in the world. We shall touch upon some things most cherished by men and by our disregard, by exclusion, we shall endeavor to establish that each of these things is not the greatest thing in the world, hoping, in the end, to establish what may justly be so regarded.

Canal men and ask them what they are seeking, why they strive and one will answer he toils and struggles in order to obtain fame. Fame is a good thing. It is the adoration of the lips, the clapping of hands, but fame, while men live for it, cannot be the greatest thing, because closely bound with fame, there may be moral deficiency. Man may be famous and yet guilty of many crimes. Fame is a good thing, but it is not the greatest thing in the world. Men like Alexander, Caesar, Napoleon are regarded as the great conquerors of the world, men who served the ideal glory. But can we safely recommend such an idol as a human ideal? We would sell that this idol of glory led them to their own destruction. It is only but 100 years since Napoleon was at the height of his glory and today right thinking men, while acknowledging his great military genius, cannot but condemn him as a brutal murderer and waster of human life.

The Idol of Gold

There is that other idol for which men long, the great, controlling master, money. I have nothing against money as such. I advise men to work and to get it, honestly. I wish there were more money in the world that more people had much of it, if they only knew how to use it. Money is a great instrument and you must know how to play on it. Men of high financial standing make great impressions but they make as well, great mistakes in their belief that they really can get everything for $6.00. You can buy a valley or a mountain with money but you cannot buy the power of enjoying the view with money. Men will sell you palaces and mansions for money but will not sell you happiness within.

Then, too, there are men who live for reputation. They want others to think well of them. They are swayed by no higher motive than that others should speak highly of them and for this they will often ruin their homes and families and wreck their own happiness, and after all, reputation is not what we are but what others think we are. How incorrect most often, is their mistake! How unfair is their judgment! I made it clear that in none of these much-dreaded possessions lies the greatest thing in the world.

There is only one fundamental trait in human life which stands above all qualities foul in men and this is character, for character means what a man is, while reputation is what others think a man is.

in all the splendor of costumes affected by modern society with trained gowns of silks and velvets with magnificent lace and glittering diamonds, and yet they have not the faintest idea of what it means to be a lady.

Character is not to be measured by outside show. Some are like the man from Chicago, who, when asked by a fellow traveler the name of the city to which he belonged, vainly said: "I belong to Chicago," and to whom the questioner replied: "From the way you talk I should imagine that Chicago belonged to you." There are many like that in the world who think more of the show without than the character within. But character is that which gives the true inward grace to human personality, though it may bear none of the external show of grace at all.

Bill of Character

The building of character is like the rearing of some inspiring temple in which men gather to worship the God of all. The builders dig deep foundations; they build strong walls; they install beautiful glowing windows and decorate the whole with everything that architectural ability suggests. The window is not the temple. The wall is not the temple; the door is not the temple. It is the whole building that constitutes the temple. And it is the same in the making of our life by the union of all qualifications within men, which, when symmetrically developed make our life a holy temple of character.

Let this day suggest to you as it does to me, its true definition of life. May it serve to us as a beacon light to guide us aright, for the mutual service of a united fellowship and teach that the love of God means the love of man.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

Sir Wilfrid Says Party Must Go Forward, With Head High, to Victory—His Welcome Home

Ottawa, Sept. 22—Sir Wilfrid Laurier was welcomed home like a victor tonight. To many of his townsmen he is still their hero, for 2,000 remained out of their beds and went to an outdoor depot to welcome at midnight the man who on Thursday was beaten at the polls.

"There was a moment's hush in the smoke-filled, dimly lighted hall of the St. Peter's market when the speaker had finished the few words. It was one of those moments when no one could applaud. Friends and foes alike were silent and the tall, gray-haired man, Sir Wilfrid Laurier, bowed slightly and was silent. Then came sudden handclapping and the spell was broken.

"What consolation there is for me in this is to know that the province of Quebec has remained faithful to us.

"I can say that I have nothing to reproach myself with. I regret greatly the defeat of my colleagues. The Nationalist-Tory alliance has been too strong for us. For our party, though defeated, it rests to go forward with head high, honorably, to where victory waits.

"My regret is profound in its personal reasons. I regret not only the defeat of the government but that the province will be led to the rejection of reciprocity. Our relations with the United States have always been cordial. I do not know what the effect of this will be on them. We have tried to make them most cordial. I can say in this confidence.

"I am sure that I have all done for me. I have led my party for twenty years, I believe without shame, and I think Quebec (East) has nothing to blush for. We have received a check, but we will come again to the fight."

AMUSEMENTS IN ST. JOHN; WHAT THE PLAYHOUSES OFFER.

OPERA HOUSE.

The second presentation of Madame X, by Miss Adelaide French and her company drew a large crowd to the Opera House last night and the play brought forth rounds of applause, which were well merited. In the portrayal of the principal character in the act—Madame X—Miss French sustained her reputation as an actress of exceptional ability and she was well supported by her well-balanced company.

LYRIC.

Tonight will bring to a close the engagement of The Paul Azard Trio, hand to hand balancers. It is said by the management that this is the best act of its kind ever offered in this city. Difficult feats of hand balancing and other stunts go with a swing that show long practice and perfect confidence. There is a trick with a chair that is perhaps the crowning feat of all, but it would take up too much space to explain in and anyway it has to be seen to be appreciated. So the management wish to remind all that this will be the last opportunity of seeing these people.

NICKEL TODAY AND MONDAY.

The Nickel has another good strong programme with which to wind up the week. Now that political excitement has subsided the men folk will be back in larger number and possibly glad of it too. For the school children this afternoon there is going to be a strong Indian drama, the kind that sparkles with heroic deeds and facts of heroism. The other pictures are the Lubin society play, Through Jealous Eyes, in which Arthur Johnston and Fannie Hayes, in Cambodia, scenic, and an Unexpected Gift, of heart interest.

GIVE THEM A YEAR'S TIPS

Costs New Yorkers For Care of Hats INCOME FOR HOTELS

One Gets $20,000 Annually for Tip Concession - A Strange Fisherman - Wonderful Feat in Surgery - A Week's Gossip of Gotham

(Times' Special Correspondence) New York, Sept. 22 - New York woke up the other day to learn that it pays out annually in hat tips to hotel and restaurant keepers the imposing sum of $1,000,000 a year. This is exclusive of tips to waiters, chambermaids and other supernumeraries who perform one service or another for patrons. A local statistician estimates that it costs every daily frequenter of these establishments an average of $12 a year to have his $3 derby or straw hat cared for temporarily pending the completion of his meal. As the gratuities are usually from 5 to 10 cents each time, few suspected that it attained to this amount in twelve months.

The discovery of the enormous sum paid out annually by natives and visitors for checking their hats came about through an effort of a concessionaire in one of the hotels to prevent the proprietor from ousting him from his stand. In the argument on the action, figures were produced indicating the big fortune squandered every year by the public in this way. The hotels and restaurants lease out the privilege to the highest bidder. The income of the Waldorf-Astoria from this source alone is $20,000 a year and the Astor, Plaza and St. Regis about $10,000 each. Between the hat tips and commissions on business done by the taxicab companies operating from their doors, these hotels enjoy an income in many instances as high as $80,000 a year.

Indications are already a plenty that New York has awakened to its spendthrift habits, and will henceforth be more sparing than heretofore in its tips to hat checkers. As a result of the exposure of the income from this source derived from the restaurants and hotels, a number of patrons refused to check their hats and insisted upon taking them to the cleaners. This, the hotels, in order to avoid their tips, have heretofore declined to allow. Clashes between managers and patrons were reported in several places and much similar trouble is looked for in the next couple of weeks.

A Strange Old Fisherman. Inquiry is being made by the authorities for the relative and next of kin of a picturesque old character named Alexander, who died here in the city in the latter years of his life. Alexander claimed that he had a brother in London, who was worth a fortune on more than one occasion. He wrote to his brother and received remittances from him for twenty-five years. He was fishing in a boat in Gravesend Bay and the sort of weather used to be in the trough of the sea he angled for hours alone, miles away from land. On his return his cat was distributed among the poor of the city, to whom he had given hundreds of tons of the choicest fish and wheat. The curious old man was well read and was familiar with the English and some of the Latin classics. He was particularly partial to fishing in stormy weather, especially when a blizzard was sweeping the Hook and driving ships into the harbor for protection from the wind and sea. In an old trunk found some papers which it is hoped will help locate his family connections on the other side. The geographical Union No. 6, of which the fisherman had been a member for more than thirty years, buried him.

Wonderful Surgery. What is regarded as a very rare feat in modern surgery was performed the other day at one of the local hospitals where the bone of a man killed in an accident was extracted from the bone in the leg of a woman patient. Several weeks ago the woman entered the hospital suffering from necrosis of her shin bone. She had been experiencing pain at times for ten years without knowing the cause. An X-ray examination at the hospital disclosed that the bone had been rotting away and setting up inflammation, which made its removal necessary.

About the same time that the woman entered the hospital an unknown man, injured an accident was brought there. When he died his shin bone was extracted, put in a safe solution and placed in storage. By keeping the temperature of the bone below freezing point, the surgeons preserved its life until they were ready to graft it on to the severed end of the bones in the woman's leg. This operation required but a short time and the patient is now reported as steadily improving. The bone from the leg of the dead man is knitting rapidly to one in the woman's limb. The muscles and tissue are healing, and granulations in the wound indicate new skin is forming and that nature is doing her work.

Aviation Tournament. In the matter of aerial achievement and attendance it is expected that the International Aviation Tournament, to be held here, under the auspices of the New York Aero Club, from the 28th to the 30th of this month, will eclipse in popular interest anything in its line on this side of the water. The prize on this side of the water to $40,000 and will probably reach $100,000 by the opening day. Accommodations have been provided for upwards of 25,000 spectators in the aerodrome and space for 30,000 automobiles - the largest number of horseless vehicles ever assembled at one time in a single place in this country.

Claude Graham-White and Tom Sopwith will uphold the honor for England, and Alwood, Beatty, Bescher and twenty or thirty other aviators from the Wright and Curtis schools for America. Convinced that the public wants to see something more than the customary repetition of altitude flying, rollings, spirals, etc., the committee of arrangements is devising a series of novelties for the meet, which while furnishing the essential thrill will at the same time demonstrate the utility of the aeroplane for other than purely exhibition purposes.

Of the novelties promised, interest is largely centered upon three of them. One of the plans - that of transporting mail by aeroplane from a Brooklyn sub-post office to the aerodrome, nineteen miles distant - has been sanctioned by Postmaster General Hitchcock who views the feat as an epoch making achievement. For another, K. M. Turner, a member of the club, has provided an unusual building at Jamaica, on the outskirts of the city, and offered a prize for the aerial marksmen who will be the best showing in bombing it while in flight. Officials of the department of the east on Governor's Island, as well as the local forts and the Brooklyn navy yard are keenly interested in the results of this feat which they think will be a valuable feature in determining the value of the aeroplane for other than purely exhibition purposes.

To Marry a Count. Kitty Gordon, the English actress, who some years ago married one of her benefactors, a count of Lord Decies, announces her intention to marry Count Morris Price, who, according to the post cards, has a castle and a hunting lodge in Austria. In making known her betrothal to the nobleman, she apparently forgot to stop over the fact that she has not yet obtained a divorce from hubby No. 1, from whom she has been separated for several years. Discussing this feature of her personal affairs the other day, she frankly declared that her husband was a much more handsome man than she is. "True," replied the English beauty, but you know I do not think that heretofore in his tips to hat checkers. Get After The Book Writer. R. T. Crane, the Chicago millionaire, whose book, "The Utility of Higher Schooling," is an indictment of American college life, has been elected to the Alumni Club by the college men of New York. Where the Cambridge University "reporter," who furnished the material for his book, got the statistics upon which he based the charge that 85 per cent of the undergraduates of colleges in the United States are drunkards, is a mystery. Some one must have filled the English student with knowledge as a joke, say the leading college men of this city.

Of the 85 per cent of college membership who are drunkards, fifteen per cent go irretrievably to the bad," says the book. Warden Kennedy of King Sing prison has been called in the defence of the college fraternities. Of the 1,728 jail birds in this institution it is contended that two are college bred men. Wherefore, the college men say that Crane is a muck-raker of the yellowest order and the Cambridge student from across the water just a colossal perverter of the truth.

"Our record for the year ending October," says Warden Kennedy, "shows that of 1,722 inmates, only ten were college and thirty-four more had academic or high school education. There were 295 literates and 235 could only read and write. That left 1,178 who boasted of a common school education.

"Now, in the tables showing habits of life, 23 per cent were total abstainers. Only 238 of the 1,722 prisoners convicted for all sorts of crimes from murder down to that liquor freely, that is, were heavy drinkers. Fully half this number used liquor moderately. And, again, of this total 1,722 there were 353 aliens.

"So, you see, if fifteen per cent of our students go to the bad," which means prison sooner or later, and you only find ten college men here, and of that number only two Americans, the rest being foreign born and foreign educated, is plain Mr. Crane is off on his statistics."

FABLES IN SLANG

Series of 1911 --- BY GEORGE ADE.

THE 1911 FABLE OF THE 'TREASURE' LOCKED AWAY IN THE 'STRONG BOX' (Copyright, 1911, by George Ade.) One there was a Hiring at the end of a Pay Roll who longed to get a Chunk of Money so that he could own a House and pick out his own Wall-Paper. He read an Ad in a Religious Weekly, it said to Hurry and get a Slice of the Bullion Mining Company because on July 1st the Prize would be whopped from $1 a Share to $2.75. The Guggenheim wanted it but the Directors preferred to slip it to the American People. The Property was right up against some other Property so rich that the Workmen engaged in lifting out the Precious Metal had to wear Goggles to keep from being blinded. The Man fell for it. He rushed to the Savings Bank and drew his Wad and sent it to a Man with several Chins, who had to sit at a Desk for nearly an hour each Day taking Money out of Envelopes. Precious Metal was a Seal and the Signatures of all the Officers of the Company. Anyone standing off ten Feet from this Certificate couldn't have told it from a 1915 Bond of the Pennsylvania Company. BRITISH GOLF CHAMPION AND AMERICAN EXPERT HE DEFEATED

There does not seem to be any doubt now that Harold H. Hilton, British amateur golf champion, will also capture the America title. Jerome D. Travers, upon whom the Americans placed their hope, has been eliminated from the field, the British champion defeating him, 2 up and 2 to play. The match between Hilton and Travers, which was played on the Apawamis Club links, Rye, N. Y., was a magnificent exhibition of golf and fought most stubbornly from start to finish by the American.

A gallery of four thousand followed the two champions and cheered lustily at every point in one of the most memorable matches in the annals of golf in the United States. Interesting Facts Concerning Women

Mrs. Rheta Childe Dorr writes: "The solution of our divorce problem lies in securing a better relation between men and women in every department of life. It is an anomaly in this republic that there should be any distinction on account of sex. It is absurd that women should receive lower wages than men for equal work performed on equal service given. It is unfair to deny women their share in public housekeeping. It is unjust to tax them and at the same time refuse them citizenship. American women are as well educated, as intelligent, as moral, as conscientious, and, within their opportunities, as efficient as American men. Once this is fully recognized, once the last vestige of sex prejudice and sex contempt vanishes from custom and from the statute books; once the same standard of morals is recognized in society as it is in law; once it is made at least as easy for women as for men to earn an honorable living; once marriage on absolutely equal terms is made possible - no moral or physical advantage on the side of the husband, no parsimony allowed on the part of the wife - then it will be perfectly safe to attach a divorce coupon to every marriage certificate with permission for both parties to tear it off at will."

WOMEN'S PROCESSION. (London Daily News.) There are certain prejudices of great age and of one's lusty strength which must now be dead for all who witnessed the parade on Saturday. It used to be said that women lack the masculine talent for organization. There has probably never been in this country a demonstration on so large a scale in which every arrangement worked so entirely smoothly. Many men are puzzled at the spectacle of all this lavish expenditure of the human spirit for the winning of the vote. They have had the vote themselves so long and at such little cost that they forget that their fathers shed and burned and bled for it; they even forget even that the goals of Russia are still filled, and the hangers still busy with men who demand it. It took a long time to make the Count but when he got it all straightened out and figured up, he looked her straight in the eye and said: "It comes to One Dollar and Eighty-Two Cents."

Widow to pick out a nice lucrative Position in a Hand Laundry. Two Years passed by. The Family was now living in Comfort. Down in a Bureau Drawer, with the Dance Programmes and the High School Diplomas, reposed the Stock Certificates of the Bullion Gold and Silver Mining and Development Company, Inc. The Widow had been tempted to use them on the shelves but every time she looked at the Litho of the Benevolent Female dumping the $20 Gold Pieces out of the Cornucopia, and saw the Seal, and alongside of it the majestic Signature of J. Edgerington Cuticle, and noted that the total Face Value was $80,000, she would replace the Elastic and decide to Wait. One day a soft-spoken Gentleman met her as she returned from her Daily Toil and said that a Syndicate was about to take over all the Holdings of the Bullion Gold and Silver Mining and Development Company, Inc., and would replace the Elastic and decide to Wait. With trembling Hands she unfolded the Bundle. It took a long time to make the Count but when he got it all straightened out and figured up, he looked her straight in the eye and said: "It comes to One Dollar and Eighty-Two Cents."

WOMAN'S LECTURE ON DOMINION. In the provinces, the Canadian feature of the week was the address of Miss Catherine Welland Merritt, the secretary of the Daughters of the Empire, who was invited by the Conservative association of Stoke-on-Trent to address their members on Canada. The meeting was held at Trenton Hall, the Duke of Sutherland's Staffordshire seat. Miss Merritt spoke of the early history of Canada and said that the dominion, after having such excellent governor-generals as Lord Dufferin, Lord Lansdowne and Earl Grey deeply appreciated the fact that the Duke of Connaught directly representing the Royal House would occupy that high position.

Speaking of her work as secretary of the Daughters of the Empire she outlined the aims and aspirations of the society and urged that the movement should be spread in the United Kingdom. It is interesting to note that Trenton Hall and its extensive grounds were offered as a free gift to the town of Stoke-on-Trent by the Duke of Sutherland. He proposed that a technical school should be established there; but the council decided - many think unwisely - that the expense of maintaining so large an establishment was more than the town could support.

Successful Book on Canada. W. L. Griffiths' book on the Dominion of Canada is meeting with a hearty reception in the United Kingdom and a second edition is now in the press. There are few men in London so well qualified to demonstrate the many advantages of the dominion as the secretary to Lord Strathcona and his pictures of Manitoba and the other western provinces have done a great deal to correct the misconceptions held here. Education Experts in Europe. After a visit of more than two months during which the educational centres of Europe have been visited, Professor George Bryce, a member of the Canadian Technical Commission, has sailed for Canada. The commission, which was formed for the purpose of studying British and European technical education, had, said Professor Bryce, visited the principal centres of technical education in Germany, France, Switzerland and Belgium and had gained valuable information. A long and comprehensive report will be furnished at the end of this year. Methods of technical education have particularly impressed the commission.

Lord Strathcona's Health. Lord and Lady Strathcona have spent the last few days at their Scotch estate, Glencoe, in Argyllshire. For some time Lord Strathcona's health has suffered from the excessive heat we have experienced here, and the change in temperature from 90 degrees to about 60 degrees has benefited him greatly. A BRILLIANT REPORT. (San Francisco Argonaut.)

Booth Tarkington was talking in Indianapolis about the stage. "There were two actresses in an early play of mine," he said, "both very beautiful, but the leading actress was very thin. She quarrelled one day at rehearsal with the other lady, and she ended the quarrel by saying laughingly, 'Remember, please, that I am the star.' 'Yes, I know you're the star,' the other retorted, eyeing with an amused smile the leading actress's long, slim figure, 'but you'd look better, my dear, if you were a little meteor.'

PERSONAL AND SOCIAL NEWS OF THE WEEK IN ST. JOHN

Now that the excitement attending the elections is over, it is expected that society will resume its normal course and that soon there will be issued the usual number of invitations for social functions. There has been a dearth of entertainments this week, indeed were it not for the millinery openings which took place on Tuesday and Wednesday one could easily imagine that society hollowness were still in the country. However, on these two days there was a great gathering of the smart set, at the shops where the openings were held. So quaint and picturesque are the present styles in headgear that as each creation came into view to bring to one's mind a picture of the dames who took their walks abroad in the days when Dickens wrote of the marchioness and Little Nell.

Next week St. John society folk and all lovers of animals will be interested in the dog show, which is to be held at St. Andrew's rink on the 27 and 28, under the auspices of the New Brunswick Kennel Club and which promises to be the best ever held here.

Invitations have been issued for the marriage of Miss Ema MacLaren and Mr. Donald McAvity, the event to take place at 4 o'clock in the afternoon at St. Stephen's church, on Oct. 10.

The marriage of Mr. Donald Skinner and Miss Hazel Hall will take place in German St. Baptist church on Sept. 30. Mrs. Sangroff, three children and maids, arrived from Mexico this week and are at Mrs. William Vassie's, Mecklenburg street.

Mrs. Fielding and Miss Edith Fielding were guests at Mrs. William Vassie's, Daddock street, this week. Mrs. E. H. Foster, who spent the summer at Bagdad Point, is the guest of her sister, Mrs. J. M. Robertson, Crown street, until October 1.

Miss Lydia Kimball, who has been visiting friends in Montreal, Toronto, and other Canadian cities is expected home on Wednesday.

Miss Edith Penock and the Misses Young, who spent the summer at Duck Cove, left for their home in Ottawa yesterday afternoon. Miss Young expects to visit England with her father in the near future.

At Saint's Rest on Wednesday about twelve ladies had luncheon and afterwards bridge. Among those present were Mrs. J. Douglas Hagen, Mrs. Babby, Mrs. U. H. McLeod, Mrs. Eason, Mrs. F. E. Sayre, Mrs. Walter Foster, Miss Helen Sidney Smith, Miss Mabel Sidney Smith, Mrs. Walter Harrison and family have moved into the residence in Mecklenburg street lately occupied by Mrs. W. A. Lockhart.

Mrs. W. A. Lockhart, sr., and Mr. Geo. Lockhart have taken the apartments in Duke street recently occupied by Mrs. Stacey, the latter moving to the apartments vacated by Mrs. Walter Harrison.

Miss Jennie Robertson, daughter of Mr. George Robertson, is undergoing treatment at the General Public Hospital. Her numerous friends anticipate a speedy recovery for her.

It was heard with sincere regret that the little son of Mrs. Harold Partridge had passed away quite suddenly at Rochester (N. Y.) on Sunday last. Mrs. Partridge, formerly Miss Louise Nave, of this city, has many friends in St. John who sympathize with her in her bereavement.

THREE FIRES LAST NIGHT

On the steamer Nancy Lee, Captain Macleod, under command of William Thomas & Co., for the Cuban service, fire partially destroyed the cargo last night.

SPORT NEWS OF A DAY; HOME AND ABROAD

New York, Sept. 22.—At a lengthy and lively session of the New York State Athletic Commission the license of the National Sporting Club of which Tom O'Rourke is manager, was revoked.

Paris, Sept. 21.—Jack Johnson plans to retire from the fighting game after he finishes his work in Australia.

Detroit, Sept. 21.—Continuing his unbroken string of victories, Thomas W. Murphy, Jr., won the Michigan State Grand Circuit card at the Michigan State Fair Grounds yesterday.

Only one race furnished anything like a real contest. After Moretta had taken the first heat of the 215 pace in easy fashion, Patrick Pointer, which had finished fifth in the first round, developed the staying qualities of the field and captured the next three after hard stretch.

In the Michigan Stakes, for 215 trotters, Murphy showed his rivals to make the race in each heat well into the stretch.

R. T. G. went to the front and won without contest. Gordon Todd made a genuine effort in the second heat, leading almost to the distance flag, but the graduate from a farm wagon was not to be denied.

George S. Cushing, the St. John's Producers Co., and Mr. Butler of Nova Scotia sustained the heaviest losses.

The Nancy Lee is a steamer of 1,000 tonnage and is owned in Liverpool, being under charter to the Museum line. She was ready to sail. George Brog was the stevedore in charge of the loading.

The fire men were kept busy last night as while they were fighting the fire on the steamer two other alarms were rung in.

They were called to a fire in a house in Brassey street and in connection with this fire Thomas Campbell, of Cole's Island, was placed under arrest by the police on suspicion of starting the blaze.

An Irish threat is a threat that cannot be disregarded.—"Is there any of No. 9 men down there?" called the Irish cook when he saw the men below on one of H. M. ships. "Yes, there is," came the reply. "Well, if they don't come up to peel the spuds I'll cook them raw."

HE INVITES AN INVESTIGATION OF CONSERVATIVE WORK

Col. McLean Glad to Join Mr. Hazen in Inquiry—Wholesale Bribery Carried on by Tories in Queens-Sunbury

That the wild charges made by the Conservative supporters of Luther B. Smith, the defeated Conservative in Queens-Sunbury are but to cover their own most diabolical tactics in the statements given out today by Col. H. H. McLean the victorious Liberal candidate. Replying to the extravagant charges and assertions contained in the Standard story this morning Col. McLean said to a Times reporter that he was in possession of evidence that $25,000 was brought into the combined circumstances in the effort of Smith and the Conservative party to defeat him. Description of a most bare faced kind and the grossest methods were resorted to in the manipulation of the ballots.

Col. McLean has received a letter from Sheffield, in which is recounted one instance where fourteen ballots were fixed so that they might be identified later, and also that the grossest bribery was practiced. In this place bribery was carried on to such an extent by the Conservatives that as high as $25 a vote was paid. Col. McLean also says that he has advised from all over the county that methods of a most vicious and corrupt nature were employed in order to defeat him. At Blissett, where Mr. Smith himself stood, money and whiskey, it is declared, were used in profusion and a whisky camp was established.

"I will be glad to join with Mr. Hazen in the fullest inquiry in these matters," said Col. McLean. "All we wanted was a fair, square election."

HOSPITAL CHANGES.
Appointments to the Surgical and Medical Staffs to Be Made Soon

It is understood that the change in the plan of making up the General Public Hospital staff, referred to in the Times some weeks ago, will likely be made in the near future. As before explained, the idea is to appoint several assistants to the surgical and medical staffs and to vacate certain of the jobs in the staff which should be filled by promotion from among the assistants.

The names of several of the youngest physicians of the city are heard in connection with the appointments. Taking them in the order of seniority as regards association with the hospital, there are Dr. T. H. Lumley, who was superintendent and house physician for three years including the time of the smallpox epidemic; Dr. C. H. Pratt, who was assistant surgeon for three years; Dr. E. P. Ryan, Dr. Bentley, Dr. Bishop and Dr. E. P. Ryan. The selection of the men to fill the new positions is being awaited with interest among the physicians of the city.

BRING IN REPORTS OF MUCH BIG GAME

Passengers arriving at Indiantown by the steamer during the last few days and also those reaching the city by train from other districts, report big game taken in most of the hunting territory in New Brunswick, and that this applies particularly to deer. Residents along the C. P. R. and I. C. R. suburban routes have frequently seen deer, and in some places moose, grazing near the railroad track, but as has often been remarked upon they do not do so just now, instead apparently notifying them of the approach of enemies after Sept. 15.

There are many parties of hunters in the woods. Quite a number are from the States or from Upper Canada. Douglas Clinch of this city is in the woods on the Miramichi with a sporting party composed of E. N. Brown, Dr. R. J. Held and C. D. Huyler of New York, with E. Menzies acting as guide. Several local parties of hunters are in the woods in different parts of the province after the "forest monarch" and others are making preparations to go in. It is expected that October will be the month when the moose and deer will be most generally taken.

URGES PERFECTION OF PARTY ORGANIZATION

Some Points in Review of The Liberal Party Situation After the Battle

An active Liberal looking over the field of battle after the contest of Thursday was led to make a few remarks to a Times reporter over features that led to the downfall of the Liberal government.

Among other things, he said: "If the defeat of the Liberal party here is attributed to lack of organization, it was not so much the cause as was organization being too much delayed. Too much confidence and dependence," he said, "were placed in the vigor and stamina and adherence of the party and too much was taken for granted."

He is strongly of the opinion that now, with the liberal forces in fighting trim, was the time to take a strong grip and make a thorough fighting machine of the party units in support of the Liberal policies. He would urge that the leaders in the different sections should call their forces together at once so that there should be no time lag to go by and no chance permitted for the losing of any further ground in this regard.

Speaking of conditions in the west, he asked was it a fact that Canadians in that section lived under a system of landlordism such as has cursed the countries of Europe? Were the voters there not allowed to act according to their intelligence and conviction, but were they practically driven to the polls like so many sheep to the slaughter by the tyranny of such an Clifford Sifton?

Boys' School Suits AND For Fall Weather

Understand, when we say "School Suits" we don't mean an inferior sort, or the theory that any poor sort of Suits will do for school.

Quite the contrary! School Suits should afford the maximum of wear and we correct in fit and style.

That's what Oak Hall School Suits epitomize—for they are all Oak Hall clothing and must measure up to Oak Hall standards. The term "School Suits"—at Oak Hall—merely indicates the need in most boys' wardrobes for renewed supplies after vacation wear and tear.

Saturday is a good day for outfitting the boys, they are home from school and can be brought to the store and fitted without trouble.
