

RAILROAD EXECUTIVES ARE PREPARED TO PLAY THEIR "ACE" AGAINST SHOPMEN

To Close Every Shop if Crafts-men Carry Out Their Intention to Strike.

GOVERNMENT PLANS TO ENTER DISPUTE

Will Employ Most Drastic Measures to Protect Interests of General Public.

(United Press)
Chicago, Oct. 17.—Railroad executives are prepared to play their "ace" against railroad shop organizations preparing to strike. The campaign outlined here today at a conference of the Western Executives, attended by heads of several great systems. If the 476,000 employees belonging to thirteen great unions in federated shop crafts of the American Federation of Labor, Railway Department, go on strike, the executives will close every railroad shop in the country except those absolutely essential for repair and not open them again until either the system of private management is evolved or definite open shop policy adopted. This line of action was thoroughly discussed, United News learned from one executive who attended the meeting. Among those at the conference were Samuel W. Weston, President of the Chicago and Great Western, W. B. Storey, President of Santa Fe, James E. Gorman, President Chicago Rock Island and Pacific, Hale Holden, President Chicago Burlington and Quincy, C. H. Markham, President Illinois Central, and representatives of many Western and Eastern lines.

The plan is outlined as follows: If a general strike is called, a campaign will be directed against shop crafts, and not through shops, who now have the center of the stage.

1.—Brotherhoods cannot win the strike without the support of the 13 shop craft unions while shop crafts have yet to receive assurance of the brotherhoods that they will not be continued in case they win the wage contention, while shopmen might be fighting.

2.—If shop crafts walk out with the brotherhoods all railroad shops would be closed except those absolutely essential for repairs and not opened until manned by unaffiliated boiler-makers, sheet metal workers, electricians, locomotive repairmen and helpers and all other shop crafts.

3.—Shopmen, if they strike, will be in violation of orders from Railroad Labor Board and Carriers would refuse to settle on the basis of old working rules and wages.

4.—To prevent further domination of working conditions in the shops, the general system of running railroad shops similar to that of the Erie Road at Marion, Ohio, would be evolved. It was reported today the executives had informed President B. M. Jewell, of Federated Shop Crafts, that such plans were under consideration. Jewell was silent on the question.

At the conclusion of the conference the executives issued a formal statement, tracing the developments of the controversy with the employees and concluding that the men have no reason for feeling aggrieved.

The executives declared the suggestion of public members of the Railroad Board that carries out the freight rates to an extent equal to July 1 reduction in wages and without their proposal of making a further 10 per cent reduction would be "ruinous."

"Suggestion has been made in a statement issued by public members of the Railroad Labor Board that railroads to prevent a strike should make a reduction in rates equal to reduction in wages made on July 1 and shall postpone asking for further reduction in wages and a statement issued by Chairman Emmet Fulton, 'General reduction of rates without further reduction in wages would be ruinous to many railroads. Thus far in the year 1921, railroads have earned a net return of only 8.6 per cent, and although net earnings have increased in rates without further reduction of wages, a general reduction in rates without further reduction in wages would put the railroads back in a very precarious position financially.'

AFRAID OF AUTO BANDITS SHE TOOK HER REVOLVER, SHOT FRIEND IN HEAD

Laporte, Ind., Oct. 17.—Miss Mae Lichgraf liked to go motoring with her friend, James M. Broadbeck, but she was deathly afraid of auto bandits so she has made it a practice to go riding with a revolver, cocked and ready in her lap.

Tonight Broadbeck was piloting his machine along a leafy lane when Miss Lichgraf was alarmed by a noise. She was sure it was a bandit. In her agitation she shot Broadbeck in the head. Miss Mae Lichgraf became really alarmed and was so hysterical Broadbeck had to drive seven miles to this city before he could get medical aid. He is expected to recover but he declared not sufficiently to go riding with Miss Lichgraf—not ever.

PANIC CAUSED WHEN WINDSOR HOTEL, MONTREAL, BROKE FORTH IN FLAMES FROM TOP STORY

Guests Seen Frantically Waving Towels from Upper Windows to Attract Attention—Elevators Out of Commission But Many Were Able to Reach Ground by Fire Escapes—Others Taken Out by the Firemen—Believed No Tragedies Occurred.

Special to The Standard
Montreal, Oct. 17.—Fire on the top stories of the Windsor Hotel, after most of the guests had retired for the night, caused something like a panic and brought the entire fire brigade of the City of Montreal Square to the scene. Guests were seen frantically waving towels from upper windows to attract attention, and the crowd, which gathered in the square, was fearful that they might be cut off from rescue. The elevators were reported to be out of commission. Many found their way to the fire escape, however, and from there got safely to the ground, and others were taken out by the firemen so that, as far as could be learned at an early hour this morning, there were no tragedies.

The interior of the hotel was filled with smoke so that the guests had to abandon their rooms even had they been willing to risk remaining with a possibility of the fire spreading. The telephone and telegraph services were nearly out of commission so that there was much anxiety among friends of the guests who could not get full information regarding their safety, or the progress of the fire which was reported under control shortly after midnight. The damage is said to be comparatively slight being mostly by smoke. Among the guests was a large proportion from the United States, also many visitors from the McGill University who had remained over the week end only to be thus unexpectedly turned out on the street to look for their other accommodations at short notice.

Shy Young Thing of One Hundred Rejects Advances of Youth of 103.

New York, Oct. 17.—Mrs. Francois Lavapreste, 100 years old last October 6, has decided to decline a proposal of marriage from James Lindsey, 103 old, of Baltimore.

"I am going to write to Mr. Lindsey and tell him that I am sorry, but I don't want a third," she said today. Mrs. Lavapreste explained that she is a widow, read an account of her 100th birthday celebration and immediately proposed by mail.

"I just goes to show that age has nothing to do with it," she remarked.

The letter from Mr. Lindsey said it was a pleasure to know a woman past the century mark who did her own household work.

"I am an entire old man and have all my faculties," it continued. "I am pretty well fixed in this world's goods so you need not fear but that I could support you. I see in the paper that you like the movie. I like them, too. We have a good theatre in Baltimore that we could go to."

EUROPE DUE FOR WORST CRASH IN WORLD HISTORY

Minneapolis Banker Vigorously Denounces Economic Methods of Europe.

CIVILIZATION SLOWLY DISINTEGRATING

Mob Orators Who Fanned Base Passions of Fear and Hate Now Reaping Harvest

(United Press)
New York, Oct. 17.—A vigorous denunciation of economic methods in European countries since the war, and a warning unless determined steps are taken at once to correct the evils which are leading to political and financial disintegration, Europe will suffer the worst crash in history were voiced by John F. Smellie, Minneapolis banker, who returned on the Baltic after two months' study of conditions abroad. "European civilization is slowly disintegrating," he declared. "No forces now at work are strong enough to resist, leading straight for a smash. Mob-orators who during the past seven years have used their powers to fan the base passions of envy, fear and hate are reaping a harvest. Possibly its civilization might linger or even survive if certain bold measures were undertaken under leadership of determined men." Smellie outlined measures necessary, in his opinion to end the chaos, as follows:

Necessary Measures
"In-vigorous policy to stop currency inflation.
Government receipts and expenditures must be made to balance even at the expense of curtailing many governmental enterprises. No government in Europe is meeting the conditions today. France's proposed budget for 1922, just announced, does not balance by $400,000,000. Without the correction of this element there is no hope of its being able to pay for inflation with its own paper money."
"All German indemnity payments, including interest and principal amounting approximately to four billion gold marks annually, should be suspended for at least a period of three years. This would result in incalculable benefit even to the Allies then to Germany."
"Trade relations with Russia should be resumed. Europe needs, and must have, Russian materials for economic development. Russia cannot long continue to curtail her raw materials exports to Europe from high-priced currency countries."
"Ruthless cutting down of armaments and navies. These colossal fear-insurance expenses have in themselves elements of their own destruction from the standpoint of universal necessity."
Disarmament Needed.
Europe needs disarmament far more than she needs it. The disarmament conference will never do it. It is the steps are soon undertaken to arrest further economic deterioration then the necessary measures can be undertaken, such as calling of world's economic congress to agree on a policy of fixing price parity in different countries, then to greatly encourage international trade establishing series of barter-clearing houses among nations of central Europe, whose economic and social conditions are the worst, and arranging machinery for credit facilities and guarantee on a scale sufficiently comprehensive to meet the demands.
But if vigorous statesmanship does not soon assert itself, and that of the United States should be included, Europe will sink down into the depths, her surplus population will pass off into memory and she will begin again the A. B. C. of human struggle."

Charlie Chaplin Decides To Quit Hurling Pies

Returns from England Determined to Enter the Field of Drama.

New York, Oct. 17.—Charlie Chaplin is back home again with a new idea about foreign girls. English young ladies he finds "more subtle," French "more obvious." The second idea Charlie brings back has been budding in his mind for some time. It is that he is going to desert comedy. Charlie has been hinting at this desertion for some time. But now he comes right out and says he is determined to realize his life's ambition—to do a real drama. Before he gets to that he admits he will turn out two more comedies just to turn around. "What did you see you liked best over there?" reporters asked him when the Berengaria, formerly the Emperor, came up from Sagay Hook. "Best time I had," he replied, "was the week-end with H. G. Wells and that reminds me, I'm going to give Mr. Wells' history of 'Polly' as one of my earliest productions. But it was all one wonderful time. While at the Ritz I received 63,000 personal letters. I had to employ two stenographers and although I tried to answer them all, I had to give it up to too much of a job."

THIS YOUNG FELLOW CONSIDERED TOO WILD TO HANDLE HIS MILLIONS

Chicago, Oct. 17.—Four years ago, at the age of eighty-four, Edward W. Morrison, millionaire, was adjudged "a little wild" in the Probate Court and his fortune put under the care of a conservator.

Morrison was accused of spending his fortune in a florid manner—giving it to young ladies who struck his fancy for instance.

Monday, the millionaire, now eighty-eight, reported back to Court and declared he had mended his ways and learned to control his expenditures. But the judge isn't certain about the young fellow yet. He ordered a complete investigation of his conduct of the last four years. Morrison's fortune consists of millions of dollars worth of real estate, great hotel and many other investments.

ANGLO-AMERICAN FRIENDSHIP SOLIDLY CEMENTED AT WESTMINSTER ABBEY YESTERDAY

General Pershing, in the Name of President Harding and American People, Lays Congressional Honor Medal on Tomb of Unknown Tommy—King George Sends Message to President and Says Victoria Cross to be Presented to Unknown American Soldier.

(United Press)
London, Oct. 17.—As solemn silence settled over Westminster Abbey John J. Pershing, General of the Armies of the United States, stepped forward to a spot where a shaft of sunlight met the ancient flagstones, stooped and laid the American Congressional Medal of Honor on the tomb of an unknown British Tommy, then stood erect and concluded the ceremony of America's tribute to the spirit of the British fighting man this afternoon.

Pershing stepped back two paces, fixed his eyes on the tomb, the figure of a perfect soldier, and brought up his hand in salute. For a moment he held it there then brought it down with a snap.

A moment later the General emerged from the Abbey into the midst of a vast orderly throng of Englishmen and English women assembled in Parliament Square and on both sides of Parliament street in the greatest demonstration of Anglo-American friendship and sympathy since the days when the armistice was signed.

Pershing Cheered.
The ceremony over, they cheered Pershing and the spirit betekened by that little brass medal with its blue ribbon, braced with white stars.

"And now in this holy sanctuary, in the name of the President and of the people of the United States," Pershing said in concluding his remarks at the tomb, "I place upon this warrior's tomb the Medal of Honor, conferred upon him by special act of the American Congress in commemoration of the sacrifice of our British comrade and his fellow countrymen, this slight token of our gratitude and affection toward this people."

In the main aisle, two ranks of British faced one another, one drawn from the splendid special battalion of the Coldstream Guards, one of Great Britain's best regiments. At one end of the church stood a body of American blue jackets and naval officers from the United States cruiser Olympia.

Lloyd George Replies.
Premier David Lloyd George made the reply of the British Government to General Pershing just before the General laid the Medal of Honor upon the tomb. This homage will be interpreted as a solemn pledge given to the valiant dead that these two mighty peoples, who were comrades in the great war have resolved to remain comrades to guarantee the great peace.

The message began with an expression to the President, Congress and American people, of the "warm appreciation felt throughout this country of the tribute which you are paying today."

It went on: "The gift of your Medal of Honor to your British comrade-in-arms, whose tomb in Westminster Abbey stands for all our best endeavor and our hardest sacrifice in the war, is a gesture of friendly sympathy and good will which we shall not forget."

"On Armistice Day representatives of the British Empire will join you in a ceremony held in honor of the splendid record of your own troops. I greatly wish, on that occasion, to confer on your unknown warrior our highest decoration for valor, the Victoria Cross. It has never yet been bestowed on the subject of another State, but I trust that you and the American people will accept the gift in order that the British Empire may thus most fittingly pay its tribute to the Tomb which symbolizes every deed of conspicuous valor performed by the men of your great fighting force."

Congress To Drop Probing of Ku Klux Klan

Sentiment Against Carrying the Investigation Further is Rapidly Developing.

Washington, Oct. 17.—House Rules Committee will decide within week whether it will recommend a Congressional probe into the Ku Klux Klan. It was said late Monday at the conclusion of hearings on the Klan.

Reliable information indicates there will not be any further investigation of the Klan's affairs, at least at this time. Sentiment against carrying the investigation is rapidly developing among House members, and this feeling has been communicated to the Rules Committee.

Colonel Wm. Joseph Simmons, "Imperial Wizard" of the Klan, occupied the witness stand the entire day, answering questions concerning income and expenditures of his "invaluable empire." He made sweeping denials that the Klan has been guilty of taking the law into its own hands in numerous outlaws in the South and Southwest.

Simmons admitted lawless acts may have been perpetrated by members of the Klan, but he declared that Klansman committing such acts "would lose his robe in 10 minutes if found out" by Klan officials. "Men, masquerading as Klansmen, have been guilty of many of the acts attributed to the Klan, Simmons declared.

Shocking And Fatal Shooting Accident At Sussex

Sussex, Oct. 17.—A shocking accident, which resulted in the death of Oliver Cripps of Norton, occurred this morning about ten o'clock before the hurried view of some friends near the residence of Daniel O'Donnell.

Mr. Cripps, with Edward Bagley, also of Norton, went to the home of Daniel O'Donnell, and the three arranged to go shooting. Mr. O'Donnell had no license to shoot and Mr. Bagley offered to go to the nearest vendor and procure one for him. Mr. Cripps then requested Murray O'Donnell, aged eight years, and a son of Daniel, to go in the house and bring out his father's gun, so that Cripps could look for birds while the license was being brought. The boy soon returned with the gun and standing in the doorway, he extended the gun towards Cripps, mumble first, and as the latter attempted to take it there was a report and Cripps staggered and fell. The discharge having severed his wrist, he died almost immediately.

Coroner F. W. Wallace, of Sussex, was notified and on his arrival after making an enquiry decided that an inquest was not necessary and he conveyed the body to Sussex, and it was taken to the deceased's home on the late train tonight.

Oliver Cripps was forty-five years of age and leaves a wife and five children, the youngest being eight years and the oldest sixteen. He was a blacksmith by trade and was well and favorably known throughout the community.

EXPLANATIONS MUST BE MADE TO HOUSE COMMONS

On Reassembly of Parliament Today Lloyd George Has Three Delicate Subjects to Handle.

UNEMPLOYMENT MOST DELICATE OF ALL

Probable He Will Emphasize World Importance of Washington Conference and Its Effect.

(United Press)
London, Oct. 17.—Premier Lloyd George, in his address to the House of Commons upon its re-assembling today, has three highly important and delicate explanations to make to Parliament.

The Premier must appease the Labor element and convince them that the Government has discovered certain means of alleviating the unemployment situation.

He must report on the status of the Irish question with "Satisfactory" reference to progress of the peace parley.

He must, finally, explain Great Britain's interest and attitude towards the Washington Armistice Conference, possibly giving the House his reasons for representing the British Empire in person at the American capital at a time when home affairs urgently require his attention.

Cabinet Meeting

The Cabinet met tonight for a final consideration of measures intended to relieve unemployment, but the Washington Conference, it is learned, also came up for an extended discussion. The British personnel and the Premier's belief that he should relieve domestic problems for the time being, in order to make the American trip more discussed at length in view of the opposition expected to arise in Parliament.

The Pythian Sisters, who have charge of the home-cooking and candy booth, are located in the centre of the rink and were beside the person who tries to get by without sampling their wares. The refreshment booth is located on the right of the entrance going in and they are ready to see that no one leaves the building hungry, that is provided they have the price, which is very moderate. Next to them is the ice cream booth with a most obliging corps of young ladies just waiting to serve all who come.

The Salvation Army Congress

Council Meetings Held Morning and Afternoon—Entertainment Last Evening.

Councils morning and afternoon were held by the visiting officials of the Salvation Army yesterday. The Morning Council was addressed by a Commissioner Richards, Colonel Rawlings and Colonel McMillan. Colonel McMillan read a special message to the officers in session from General Bramwell Booth. Commissioner Richards asked for a greater effort to save souls.

The afternoon meeting was dressed by Major Mary Booth who spoke along evangelistic lines urging more activity in that department.

The Charlotte Street Citadel was crowded to the doors last evening for the entertainment given by the Young People of the Army. A programme of great interest had been arranged and was heartily enjoyed by the large audience. Much credit must be given those taking part in the programme, which opened with an address by Life Saving Guard Myrtle Sparks. She welcomed the visiting officers of the Army and the audience of last evening in well chosen words. Adjutant Margrove of Halifax and Life Saving Guard Frances Burrows gave excellent readings. Dumb bell drills, fire bell drill, and club swing were other numbers, all splendidly done. The exhibition of first aid and home nursing caused much amusement although the nurses were evidently well trained.

A number of petitions rendered by the city hands under the direction of Captain Hart of Cape Breton, added much to the pleasure of those present.

Wonderful Change in Whole Family

Man, Wife and Daughter All Report Remarkable Gains in Weight.

"I gained 12 pounds, my wife gained 26 pounds and my daughter is gaining 26 by day taking Taniae. It's the biggest surprise of our lives and all our friends and neighbors are talking about it. This medicine has made a wonderful change in every one of us. Before I got Taniae, I could hardly drag one foot after the other. I had indigestion awful. In fact we were all regular dyspeptics. We all swear by Taniae now at our house. It ought to be in every home. It's the world's greatest family medicine."

The above statement was made by George L. Tesay, a well-known and highly respected machinist, living at 83 Downing St., Buffalo, N. Y.

Taniae is sold in St. John by Ross Drug Co. and F. W. Munro, and by leading druggists everywhere.

ST. JOHN'S CHURCH GIRLS' ASSOCIATION

Arrangements Made for the Season—Plans for Christmas Boxes for the Needy.

Arrangements for a supper to be held shortly were made last evening at the regular meeting of St. John's (Stone) Church Girls' Association. This supper is being held in conjunction with the Badminton Club of the Church. Plans were made also for Christmas boxes for the needy and a sum of money voted for a special appeal to aid two children.

Members were busily working on a quilt which goes in the bags sent to a Western Mission. A number of new members were welcomed last evening bringing the list up to almost fifty. Miss Edith Skinner presided.

Scheme to Provide Employment Here

Mayor Schofield Proposes Civic Wood Cutting Operation.

A scheme to provide employment for out of work this winter was proposed by Mayor Schofield at the committee meeting of the Common Council yesterday morning. Commissioner Jones presented a report on the water shortage on the West Side last week and several matters of routine business were disposed of.

Mayor Schofield presented a report on the proposed wood cutting at Musquash this winter. It was proposed to cut about 1,000 cords of wood on the Crow lands there and sell it in the city. The Council would have to finance the operation at the start, but he hoped there would be no loss. The work would give employment to about 200 men, who would be paid by the cord. Three of the wholesalers dealers in the city had offered to take the wood cut by the men. His intention was to have returned soldiers, married men with families and tax-payers given the preference.

Commissioner Jones reported that the shortage of water on the West Side last week was caused by the failure of the New Brunswick courts and the Lock Joint Pipe Co. to close the valve at the junction of the 34-inch and the new main at Manchester's Corner, and it would not happen again. The service had been interrupted for about six hours.

Replying to Commissioner Frink, the Mayor said that the matter of the extension of Douglas avenue to the bridge, including the proposed overhead crossing, was in the hands of the city recorder, who was to have made a formal application to the Board of Railway Commissioners for the establishment of the level crossing. He remarked that the matter of the height of the C. P. R. bridge was now

BLUENOSE OF LUNENBURG WINNER OF ELIMINATION SERIES

In Twenty Knot Gale Over Pitching Sea She Proved Beyond Doubt Right to Represent Canada in International Series Next Saturday Against the Defender Elsie of Gloucester.

Special to The Standard. Halifax, N. S., Oct. 15.—Fighting a twenty knot gale over a pitching sea, the Bluenose today proved beyond any reasonable doubt her right to represent the Canadian Fishing Fleet in the International Cup Series next Saturday.

Starting with a minute between her and the leader, and four racers on her bow, the Bluenose, in one hour and fifty three minutes, was leading the fleet, and on the best from the outer automatic buoy then all, setting a good away from the finish the tangle that even the steamer Lady Laurier found too swift.

The Bluenose rounded the inner automatic buoy at 1 o'clock, (unofficial time). The Bluenose finished the inner automatic buoy at 1 o'clock, (unofficial time). Bluenose wins by 16 minutes.

The Bluenose today won the second race of the Canadian elimination series in a decision settling beyond all doubt her superiority at windward work over the best of her rivals in the Nova Scotia fleet.

The Bluenose passed the southeast automatic in the following order, (official time): Bluenose—12:26.24; Delawana—12:38.55; Corkum—12:41; Independence—12:41; Alcala—12:45.25; Cook—12:51.30.

MR. MEIGHEN'S CREED.

"More than any other country, Canada needs a protective system. She is a young country mostly undeveloped. She lies alongside a great big country tremendously developed. The United States has every advantage that Canada has and tremendous advantages besides. It surely follows to the mind of every reasonable man that to abandon the protective system in Canada would be simply to invite the absorption of Canadian industry in the far vaster industries of the United States. The principles of the protection of Canadian industry have been proclaimed by practically every statesman who has shouldered the responsibility of government in Canada. They are sound and they are right and the vast mass of the people of Canada know that they are sound and right."

—From Premier Meighen's Portage Speech.

MR. KING'S "CHART."

At his meeting on Saturday night Mackenzie King openly stated that he did not intend to discard the platform drawn up at his party's Convention, but he also said that as far as the tariff is concerned he regarded it only as a chart, which indicates the general course to be followed. This statement is fully in line with the record of the Liberal party on the tariff question. Out of office in the nineties they denounced protection and advocated its destruction root and branch—they would not be satisfied until the last vestige of protection was removed. In office for fifteen years they maintained protection and unctuously claimed they knew how to get better results out of it than their opponents. There is a sorry record of straddling the fence and of political hypocrisy, of blowing hot and blowing cold, of pandering to each and every discordant and divergent element, of trying to be all things to all men. To get into office appears to be the sole motive—principles be hanged. The times are too serious and the conditions of the country too grave to trifle, as Mr. King and his friends are doing, with the destinies of this country. At this, perhaps the most critical point in our history, these men must be stopped in their course of saying one thing here, and another there. They must be pinned down to the platform of their party, which is their only mandate. It is on that platform they stand before the country, and it is by that platform they will be judged by the people, and not by the vote-catching utterances of Mr. King or any of his associates. We refuse to accept Mr. Fielding's cynical statement that the platform was made "to get in on." That platform is a declaration of Liberal principles and faith, which (quoting its exact language) "the Liberal Party pledges itself to implement by legislation."

Even supposing Mr. King regards this platform only as a chart, if he follows its principles at all, he will strike at the very root of the fiscal system of the country, and go a very long distance along the free trade road. There could not possibly be a substantial reduction of the general Tariff with British Preferential rates one-half the substantially reduced general Tariff rates, and with the lengthy list of additions to the free list, included in the platform without utter destruction to the ideas and principles of moderate protection to Canadian industry. The carrying out of the Liberal platform does not admit of any consideration at all being given to Canadian industry. It is a radical, revolutionary platform, with protection either to the Canadian manufacturer or to the Canadian workman left out.

The only practical difference between the Liberal platform and the Farmer platform is that the Farmer proposes to give us what would practically amount almost to complete free trade with the world in five years, whereas the Liberals do not go farther than 50 per cent preferential tariff in favor of England, which would mean very, very low duties applying so far as prices are concerned to most lines of goods whether imported from England or the United States.

We would emphasize, however, that the immediate effect of that Liberal platform if put in operation would be to increase imports from the United States, which would displace the labor of Canadian workmen and thereby increasing the price of all commodities in Canada. Two of the greatest problems facing Canada today are to find additional employment for the people and to restore the leader, and to this platform he is faithful, and upon it he is now appealing to the people. At the Convention which chose Mr. King as leader a platform was also propounded, which bound themselves to adhere to, but they have cast it aside, and Mr. King expresses his intention of being bound by it only in so far as it serves his party's interests. The one is honestly adhering to his professed principles; the other is not. Which should be trusted?

One Quebec Opposition politician, Lucien Cannon, is making his main campaign on the conscription issue, charging Premier Meighen with being the author of the Military Service Act. Another one, Mr. Archambault, declared recently that he believed that in London Premier Meighen pledged Canada to go to war against France. Britain fought her on the Silesian issue. Tactics of this type by members of the King Opposition will not make King supporters in Ontario feel comfortable.

General regret will be expressed at the unexpected demise last night of Mr. J. A. Tilton, the more so that it occurred while away from home. Few men were better known in business circles in the city, and none ever had a more honorable record than he. Both in his public and in his private life he was a citizen of the best class and his death will leave a lamentable gap.

EFFACING MR. KING.

Mr. Mackenzie King last week paid a farewell visit to his adopted home in Prince Edward Island before coming back to Ontario to lead a forlorn hope in North York. It is interesting to note that Mr. King did not make up his mind to die facing fearful odds till he reached Montreal on his way. Once there the men who control his political destiny apparently lost no time in convincing him that he owed it to his country to offer himself as a sacrifice on the altar of the Liberal Party.

Probably they were right. Mr. King doubtless could best serve Canada by effacing himself from the political map. But it is not rather mean of the Quebec Liberals who first dragged the boy leader from obscurity to be the first to suggest the means whereby he could return whence he came?

WAR SERVICES

The Globe is good enough to quote some remarks of ours and attempts to read into them a reference to Hon. Mackenzie King's no-war record. Our contemporary points out that according to the Parliamentary Guide Mr. Meighen is only a few weeks older than Mr. King, and adds that "it is not recalled that the elder statesman set his younger companion in Canadian politics the example of conspicuous and notable military service overseas."

Quite so. To go back to the Parliamentary Guide, we find that Mr. Meighen is married and has three young children. That during the whole period of the war he was serving his country as a member of the Government and devoting his energies to that capacity towards carrying the war to a successful conclusion. On the other hand, we find from the Guide that Mr. King is a bachelor, and therefore has no ties of wife and children to trouble him and that during the war period he was engaged upon the investigation of industrial relations under the auspices of the Rockefeller Foundation, and also in compiling a work upon "Industry and Humanity" (published 1918). All quite interesting no doubt but of little practical value from a war standpoint.

Anything more, dear friend?

WHAT OTHERS SAY

Farmers For Protection.
 The remarkable enthusiasm shown by farmers attending the liberal-conservative nominating convention in the rural ridings shows that the Progressive movement has not succeeded in misdirecting the great body of Ontario farmers. Throughout Central and Western Ontario, farmer speakers at Government conventions have been attending to putting before their fellow-agriculturists the need of sticking up for Protection. Sympathy for a movement that professes to be a special benefactor of the agriculturist interests is natural among farmers. Those who do not reason deeply, or see through the outcropping of the movement might easily be led into thinking that the Progressive political party represents their aspirations. But if they will take the trouble to analyze the Wood-Creer programme, distinctive interests, bound up in Ontario, are not at all identical with the desires of the Progressive leaders. The farmers of Ontario are and ought to be a Provincial and not a Federal body. Their best markets are largely in Ontario. Whatever reduces this Province to a lower industrial or general productive plane hurts all residents in it. Those with property are hurt most, because they are most vulnerable. Ontario farmers want Protection, to maintain the stability of this Province, to keep reliable home markets for themselves. If any of them support the Creer-Wood organization, it is because they do not understand or take seriously the Western apostles of Free Trade-Mail and Empire.

 BY LES PAPE

Yesterday I found a old medicine bottle with the label on it saying Pepsin in big red letters, me thinking, G. wouldn't you feel funny if he got gargled and then looked at the bottle and saw this label on it.

Being a ideal, and I took the label off the bottle and smeared some paste on it and stuck it on the outside of popo gargle bottle in the medicine chest, and this morning before breakfast I heard pop making gargle noises, and I quick ran in the bath room to watch him, and he was gargling and still holding the gargle bottle in his hand, me saying, G. pop, you gargle musical.

Whop pop started to choke and some of the gargle blow out and pop swallowed and dident, and he kopp on chooking a while and then he sed, You musent say anything to make me 'tuff we in gargelling that nothing to do, dont do that agen, you made me swallo some of that stuff.

Which jest then he looked at the bottle and saw the poison thing on it, saying, Grate heeewens, I've got the rong bottle, I've swallowed poison, I've swallowed poison.

No you havent, pop, no you havent, you ony think you have, I sed.

Wat do you know about it, I feel queer already, im going to call up the doctor, wat the dooce is his number, every minut counts in a case like this, sed pop. And he started to run out of the bath room like somebody in a fearsa hurry, saying, I feel mitey funny. Me quick grabbing his leg and saying, No you dont, pop, you dont feel funny, you ony think you do.

Potter Looking For Perfect Wife

Has Not Found Her Yet, But Still Preserves Illusion, He Says.

Boston, Oct. 17.—Bonck White, now conducting a small pottery shop in Malden, declared today that he was in hopes that "Some Boston girl might make him the perfect wife." He declared himself to be undaunted by his previous matrimonial adventures.

He said he is "in pursuit of a congenial mate," who will work with her hands and her brain for their mutual happiness.

"I want my wife to work in the garden and on the work bench," he said.

"I want her to raise her food and cook it, to make her own clothes, to get back into the simple, primitive days. No mechanical labor for my wife, if I know it. No vacuum cleaners or washing machines. These things spring from a perverted civilization. I want my wife to be a crafts woman as well as an intellectual equal."

"I want my wife to put as much skill and intelligence into the wielding of a broom and the whisk of a duster as an artist puts into his canvases. I want her to simplify, beautify and ennoble her home."

"Perhaps this ideal wife of mine doesn't exist. I haven't found her yet among modern women, but I still preserve the illusion."

"I am glad to turn my back on New York. There's nothing there but jazz and futile cat parties and women running around out of their proper environment, which is their home."

SERVICE.
 There is no path but service! None may climb
 By easier ascent to life's destiny.
 The way that leaves the mist-bound plains of time
 For the clear hills of vast eternity,
 Runs ever steeply upward. Height
 by height,
 The road lies ever upward to the light.
 And lo! this strange adventure doth appear.
 That he, who most of loving labor spends
 To help his fellows, finds his own path bear.
 Not the less steeply; but, on him depends
 New strength to walk the pathway up and on
 To the great, cloudless hills of God, and dawn.

No path but service! Where the Master trod,
 We, too, must tread. His love hath marked the trail.
 Nor aims, nor greed can pave the way to God,
 Nor wealth can purchase rights within the veil.
 He, only crowned with life eternal, lives,
 Who, to his fellowmen God's service gives.
 —Robert Dorman.

ROTARIANS HEAR ADDRESS ON PRESENT DAY EXCHANGE

Local Banker in Interesting Talk at Yesterday's Luncheon Explained the Working of the Exchange System—He Feels That in Time International Exchange Will Revert to Pre-War Levels.

Rotarians at their weekly luncheon yesterday heard a short but very interesting discourse by Rotarian Guy of the Bank of Montreal on the subject of exchange, which was most aptly summarized by the speaker, P. J. McAvity, who was in the chair and C. W. McKee gave a short talk on the 8th principle of Rotary "Ethics", and some other routine business was put through.

Mr. Guy pointed out that "Exchange" is the term applied to the various methods of making payment between business men in different communities, or more strictly, it is actual debt owing by a man in one community to another in a different community. When these communities are in the same country, this debt is known as a "local exchange".

At the present time much of the high rate of discount on Canadian money is due to the fact that Canadian currency is depreciated. There is a large amount of gold and silver held as collateral to cover the Dominion note issue.

Previous to the outbreak of war in 1914, European exchange was a comparatively unknown factor in the business life of Canada. It is true that a considerable amount of business was done through the exchange of gold.

Thousands See Officers Elected "The Old Nest" At Annual Meeting

Imperial's Great Family Picture Made Powerful Impression Yesterday.

Imperial theatre was packed to utmost capacity all day yesterday to see the much-heralded and indeed very lovely Rupert Hughes, Goldwyn-made picture "The Old Nest," a visualization of the average Canadian and American home, not only of our childhood but of the present day youth.

"The Old Nest" is a visualization of the average Canadian and American home, not only of our childhood but of the present day youth. It seemed as if everybody was charmed with the eight reel drama of life; indeed a person not pleased with it could never have had the joy of a real home, a good mother or the benign influence of a godly household.

"The great cry has gone up from the public to the theatres for worthwhile pictures. 'The Old Nest' will answer that cry. We congratulate Rupert Hughes most heartily, and extend the greeting to Mr. Barker and to the Goldwyn company.

FOR WOMEN

Mrs. Solomon Says--

By HELEN ROWLAND

The Day After His Divorce Any Man is as Easily Caught as a Lost Pet Kitten.

MY DAUGHTER in the Love Chase, the Big Game is shy and elusive, but the Easy Marks are plentiful.

Lo, the hunter that seeketh adventure, pursueth the wild boar; but he that hunteth for PROFIT preferreth to snare the fox, the rabbit, and the lowly muskrat.

Likewise, a foolish damsel delighteth to hunt the Wild Young Bachelor; but a wise damsel saureth her powder for oasler prey.

Verily, an Eligible Bachelor is as a park squirrel, which cometh near and eateth out of thine hand; but when thou seekest to hold him, fleeth and flieth and cannot be caught.

But the heart of a Yearling WIDOWER is softer than quick-bunch butter and more tender than a movie-star's vanity, and there is NO light left in him.

The Woman-Charmers of thirty is shyer and more wily than trout in a popular stream; but a man in his Indian Summer is bolder than a top goldfish, and warmer than a prima donna's temper.

Yes, though he knoweth that the bait be artificial, yet will he swallow it, joyously, look and all.

Slender Adams is sure of foot and more fleet than the mountain goat, and wandering is his delight; but the Fat Man will gladly stay PUT beside any damsel who petteth him and maketh him comfortable.

A man with mother and sisters-possesseth an armed guard and no doubts about women; but an Orphan, with no woman to protect him, is easily dazzled and utterly defenceless.

He that dwelleth in a Bachelor Flat hath all the comforts of Home, and none of its burdens and afflictions; and why shall he unite himself from many women in order to tether himself to ONE? But he that liveth in a Boarding House dreameth of love-bachelor and home cooking.

As a pet terrier, he cometh bringing his own muzzle and begging to be put upon a leash.

He that hath been single and womanless for many years preferreth freedom and his OWN ways to feminine coddling; he hath learned to put the studs in his shirt, and to find his own shoes. But the day after his DIVORCE any man is as easily caught as a lost pet kitten.

He that dwelleth always in the city findeth many diversions; friends and clubs and "private affairs" and other men's wives, to feed and to flatter him.

But a Naval Officer and a Traveling Salesman yearn with all their hearts for a street and a house-number and a WIFE to call their own.

Why, then, shall a damsel waste her days in the pursuit of the wild, the shy and the skittish, which may be trapped or winged-but never TAMED?

For, the world is full of Gentle Game that sigh for captivity. And the only good husband is a WILLING husband.

Seah.

New Hair Remover in Demand, Say Druggists

Since the virtues of pholacine as a hair remover became generally known, druggists in this country have been having a really extraordinary demand for this remarkable product. The fact that it actually removes the roots—before one's very eyes—as well as the surface hairs, is of course mainly responsible for the large and increasing sale. The new method is not to be compared at all with the usual depilatory, electrical or other processes. It is entirely safe, non-irritating, non-painful, odorless and instantaneous! A stick of pholacine, used in accordance with the simple instructions which accompany it, is certain to satisfy and delight the user.

GIRLS ARE TAUGHT HOME ECONOMICS

New York, Oct. 17.—On the assumption that most girl pupils some day will marry and make their homes in small city apartments, public schools here are being equipped to teach them how to keep homes economically and efficiently under these conditions. Part of the equipment of the department of science, of each of the new standard school buildings opened this year is a model filling the space of an ordinary schoolroom and containing a kitchen, living room, dining room, hall, bed room and bath. Adjoining the model flat is a large cooking room and three small kitchens, separated by railings, the one on flat providing for the instruction of 40 pupils at once.

Strength

Strength of muscle does not indicate strength of nerves. On this account many people who look healthy enough suffer from nervous troubles and cannot understand what is ailing them. Sleeplessness and irritability are among the early symptoms. Indigestion and tired feelings soon follow. Read this letter from an Ontario man: Mr. W. L. Gregory, Charles St. E., Ingersoll, Ont., writes: "I had been troubled for quite a while with indigestion. At times there would be a tingling of the nerves of my stomach, and I also found it difficult to get a good night's sleep. I am a mailer, and owing to the nature of my work my system became run-down. I took a treatment of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and found great benefit from this medicine. It did me a great deal of good. I have not been bothered at all with indigestion since, and can sleep much better. I have recommended Dr. Chase's Nerve Food to many of my friends, as I think it is the best thing you-down and needing a tonic." Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, 50¢ a box, all dealers, or Edmondson, Bates & Co., Limited, Toronto.

ACTIVITIES OF WOMEN.

Women are more religious than men. Women are now admitted to the law in Louisiana. In Scotland women outnumber the men by 185,000. Mary Pickford carries a life insurance for $1,000,000. Henna is the popular color of hair of the ladies in Turkey. Mississippi leads the Country with 18,366 female farmers. Java women are being taught Occidental theories of equality with men. Fashion in beauty this year will have the expression of "Madonna's" face. One hundred of the preachers connected with the Disciples of Christ are women. The richest women in the world, per capita, are the squaws of the Ojaga Indian nation. Special fairs are used in China for the three seasons, Spring, Summer and Autumn. Federal reports show that women are losing ground in competition with men in the industrial job. More than 500,000 women and girls are enrolled in the Nation's army of out-workers. Mrs. Catherine Nelson of Jersey City earns as high as $30 a day working as a bridge worker. The ocean liner Olympic carries a woman barber, and she claims to be the first seagoing barber. In Rhode Island four women are employed as managers of farms and are registered as farm tenants. Nearly 300 women farmers operate 23,233 acres in the state, while the men operate 308,308 acres. In Los Angeles, Cal., 68,337 females, 10 years ago or more, are engaged in gainful occupations. The recent census taken in England is expected to show a surplus of two million women in the British Isles. Twenty thousand women in New York City live under the constant suspicion and espionage of private detectives.

ROYAL BIOGRAPHIES MAY BE WRITTEN

No Satisfactory Life of Queen Victoria Exists — Sidney Lee May Write One. A chief speculation of the moment is whether Sir Sidney Lee's biography of King Edward will be ready this year—and if not this year, when? Sir Sidney Lee wrote an arresting memoir of King Edward in the "Dictionary of National Biography." It attracted much attention, including that of King George who is understood to have been struck by its quality. The suggestion then was made to Sir Sidney Lee that he should undertake a fuller King Edward biography and be given access to all information.

CLARA BARTON, THE RED CROSS FOUNDER

Monument Erected to Her at Worcester, Mass.—No Man Her Equal. The little town of North Oxford, Mass., which is some twelve miles from Worcester, has recently been consecrating a shrine to the memory of one of the greatest heroines America has ever produced. I refer to Clara Barton, the founder of the American Red Cross, who carried for herself the title of "The Angel of the Battlefield."

SECRET OF SUCCESS.

The woman who always has trouble with her servants is prone early to be the woman who hasn't learned the delicate art of paying compliments, says the Toronto Telegram. The business man who frequently loses a well-trained stenographer right in the middle of his busiest season is the man who hasn't learned the knack of letting his employees know when he is pleased with their work. The club woman who has the reputation of being conceded may not, as a matter of fact, be much of an egotist, but who never gives other women the satisfaction of letting them know that she admires their methods as well as her own. And you may be sure that the teacher who gets the least out of her pupils is the teacher who has not learned that it is just as necessary to compliment her children when they do well as to scold them when they do badly. It is a knack worth acquiring—that knack of making the little pleasant speeches—and it often does much toward producing success. Tea and wine tasters do not smoke, as it might affect their palates.

PERCY AND FERDIE Such Is Life Behind the Bars

Daily Fashion Hint Black Lingerie Is Not Gloomy

Necessary for Black Dresses Much Underwear is Gorgeously Trimmed.

One might get the impression that black for lingerie had a gloomy significance but there is no significance of mourning attached to wearing or making lingerie of black silk. The vogue for the black gown, in gowns, suits or crepe de chine, is responsible for the black lingerie craze, and when one considers that frequently these gowns are all but transparent, thought and care have been given to black undergarments to be worn with the black dress. When the modish styles were so popular, having one's undergarments of black and under things, and many of the chemises were designed to include the combination of color, and frequently a combination of materials.

Landlord Dies in Lime House Fire

Proprietor of Jackman Resort Perishes in Effort to Save His Wife. Skowhegan, Oct. 17.—The famous lime house on the Canadian border, 15 miles from Jackman, was burned at 8 o'clock this morning, the proprietor, Amedee Racour, losing his life trying to rescue his wife. The fire was started from the explosion of kerosene used by mistake in the stove. The lime house was widely known for the bar in the Canada end of the building at which liquor was dispensed while the United States and was supposed to be conducted on prohibition principles. The original owner of the building is said to have been George Bartley, father of Nelson Bartley, proprietor of Moose River House at Jackman for whose murder John A. Burke was tried and acquitted last year, the lime house figuring in some of the testimony in the murder trial. A later owner was Thomas Bartley.

50,000 WOMEN IN U. S. HOLD GOOD PUBLIC JOBS

Act as Mayors, Judges, Inspectors and Are on Boards and Commissions.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 17.—Fifty thousand women are engaged in public administrative affairs throughout the United States as officials of the governments of States, counties, cities and the nation, according to data in possession of Federal officials. Women are acting as mayors, judges, inspectors, members of school boards and serving on boards and commissions in almost every section of the country. Many hold high administrative offices. Thousands are filling elective offices. All occupy positions of trust and responsibility, in which they exercise command over at least 10,000 other persons. It is estimated. In addition a far larger number of women are rated as employees in the public service as clerks, stenographers and office assistants. Within a few years women, it is predicted, will occupy almost one-third of the important appointive posts of the Federal Government, of which there are thousands. In the Department of Justice women now have a hold on the class of positions obtained through Presidential appointment.

Comb Sage Tea In Hair To Darken It

It's Grandmother's Recipe to Keep Her Locks Dark, Glossy, Beautiful.

The old-time mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur for darkening gray, streaked and faded hair is grandmother's recipe, and folks are again using it to keep their hair a good, even color, which is quite important, as we very popularly know when a youthful appearance is of the greatest advantage. Nowadays, though, we don't use the troublesome task of gathering up sage and the messy mixing at home. All drug stores sell the ready-to-use product, improved by the addition of other ingredients, called "Wrest's Sage and Sulphur Compound." It is very popular because nobody can discover it has been applied. Simply moisten the comb or a soft brush with it, and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by moving the gray hair disappears, but what delights the ladies with Wyls's Sage and Sulphur Compound is that, beside beautifully darkening the hair, it keeps the hair from falling out. A few applications, it also produces that soft lustre and appearance of abundance which is so attractive.

Women at Arms Conference.

Accompanying delegates to the arms conference at Washington in November will be many women, who will act as expert advisers to the delegates. Women acted largely in this capacity at the Versailles peace conference. Premier Lloyd George was one delegate at Paris who was ably assisted in his work by women. In the secretariat of the League of Nations women hold a position of honor. County Judge, having been elected to the bench for a four year term. As judges women until very recently generally have confined their activities to the juvenile courts. Although many States still have made no provision for women as members of juries, in a large number of districts the names of women are being put into the jury wheel in a given proportion to men. The woman member of the jury is no longer a novelty west of the Mississippi.

NEW BLOUSES.

Chief of the newest blouse forms introduced is the doublet. Certain types of blouses, have been christened doublets—an attractive name, adding new interest to an old subject. With this, or with other types of waists, there are stunning separate skirts in smart wools such as Rodier weaves in Paris for the delight of the world. There are several new Rodier fabrics, one of which is known as poplitea. This comes in striped designs, one of which is shown in Pekin blue with a wide stripe of black and narrow pin stripes of white on either side of the black. The way of the fabric is followed by the white line making a line that is interestingly irregular. A model of this material is pleated in medium width box pleats. A black and tan stripe of the same material made in straight spots, cut into small pockets topped with flaps and with a pearl button. Plaids that are said to cover the entire range of Scotch clans are shown in pleated models of the knit variety to conform to the origin of the design of the material itself. These are meeting with favorite interest in spite of their lack of novelty.

Much Speculation Over Placing of C. P. R. Stocks

There Seems to be No Chance of Securing it for Montreal Market.

Special to The Standard. Montreal, Oct. 17.—The report published in New York to the effect that Canadian investors are planning to go back a portion of the market for C. P. R. shares once held by the Montreal market has no foundation in fact. No one would expect the Montreal market to have any shares more than the members of the Montreal Stock Exchange, but for the present it simply cannot be done.

In order to get back a speculative or floating interest in the stock it would be necessary to buy it in New York. There could be no objection to this at present other than a sentimental one, it is claimed. The other day a local buyer placed an order for the purchase of some of the stock here, and it was bid for on the local exchange. As none of the local brokerage houses are carrying the stock here it had to be brought here from New York.

STANDARD OIL GIVES WORK MANY JOBS

Jobs for Men at Jersey Elizabeth and Bayonne Fineries in New York

New York, Oct. 17.—The Standard Oil Company of New Jersey announced last night in an effort to work for all of its employees either idle or working on a part-time basis that it would spend at least $2,000,000 at its three refineries in Bayonne, Elizabeth and Jersey City. This will affect about 10,000 most of whom have been working for several weeks. The Standard Oil Company is the second in the nation to announce such a plan. This week, the United States Corporation has announced that it will spend $10,000,000 in plant extension and general purposes.

The Standard Oil Company announced also that the 10 p.m. bonus which has been paid to employees as a result of the high oil price will be removed with the approval of the workers. The second bonus of this kind was abandoned last February in consideration of the consent of the employees was secured last week at a meeting of the public of Labor, an organization which both the company and the workers in the New Jersey plants had agreed to.

In return for the acceptance of employees of this cut, the company would make over to increase employment. After a discussion on the part of the men a request was made that the wage rate be left undisturbed in place of the proposed cut. The men should send the 10 per cent bonus which appeared to be approved by the narrow margin at the September figures, thus the payroll total 9 per cent. The goal was submitted to the company and the company while the men in session and work came back if the men preferred this arrangement the company would concede the bonus for the narrow margin at the September figures, thus the payroll total 9 per cent. ### STANDARD OIL GIVES WORK TO MANY JOBLESS

Jobs for Men at Jersey City, Elizabeth and Bayonne Refineries in New York.

New York, Oct. 17.—The Standard Oil Company of New Jersey announced last night that in an effort to provide work for all of its employees that are either idle or working on a part time schedule it would spend at once more than $2,000,000 at its three refineries in Bayonne, Elizabeth and Jersey City. This will affect about 19,000 men, almost half of whom have been without work for several weeks. The Standard Oil Company is the second largest corporation to announce such a program this week. The United States Steel Corporation having stated last Tuesday that it would spend about $10,000,000 in plant extension for same general purpose.

The Standard Oil Company announced also that 10 per cent bonus which has been paid to employees as a result of the high cost of living will be removed with the consent and approval of the workers. This is the second bonus of this sort to be removed by the company, the first having been abandoned last February. The consent of the employees was obtained last week at a meeting of the Republic of Labor, an organization in which both the company and the workers in the New Jersey plants have representatives.

"In consideration of this reduction," said a statement issued by the company yesterday at the office of Walter C. Taggart, president, "this company will endeavor to create as much additional work as possible in order to increase the hours of employment for men now working only part time or laid off entirely. By moving ahead plans for repairs and construction, in some cases as much as a year, the management is confident that it can increase the number of hours of work at its three New Jersey refineries by 25 per cent, so that even with the reduction in hourly pay the men will receive a considerable increase in their total wages. A survey of the needs of the several plants indicates a probable expenditure of $2,000,000 at the three New Jersey refineries, which will be authorized now, that it can be done on more favorable terms as a result of the action of the employees."

Meetings at which the dropping of the bonus was decided upon were held by the employees of the Eagle Works at Jersey City, the Bayway Refinery at Elizabeth and the Bayonne plant at Bayonne.

In return for the acceptance by the employees of this cut, the company's statement said, "it was promised that the company would make every effort to increase employment. After a spirited discussion on the part of the workers a request was made that the basic wage rate be left undisturbed and that in place of the proposed cut the company should and the 10 per cent bonus payment, which appeared to be endangered by the narrow margin shown by the September figures, thus reducing the payroll about 9 per cent. This proposal was submitted to the directors of the company while the meeting was in session and word came back that if the men preferred this arrangement the company would concede the point.

Subsequent meetings at Bayonne and the Eagle Works resulted in an endorsement of the Bayway alternative plan. As a result, the cost of living bonus will not be paid after October 15, but a large part of the force which is now working four days a week will eventually get five days' work. The lowest hourly rate now paid at the refineries without the bonus is 57 1/2 cents for common labor."

Arms Expert Aids Murder Defense

Winchester Inspector Says Fire Set Off Revolver Shells in Shuttle Trial.

Middleton, Conn., Oct. 17.—Amos Dickerman, general inspector in the employ of the Winchester Repeating Arms Company, New Haven, was the star witness for the defense today in the trial of Emil Schutte, stockbroker of Shelleville, who is charged with the murder of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Ball and their son. Judge C. B. Carlson, chief counsel for the defense, placed Dickerman on the stand in an effort to establish the theory that the three members of the Ball family were burned to death and the gunshots heard that night were the result of a fire within the shack.

Schutte's own sons, testifying for the prosecution, have already claimed that on the night of the alleged murder the accused awakened one of his sons and caused him to go with him to the Ball shack. Schutte, it was claimed, then set fire to it and killed the three members of the Ball family as they ran out.

Dickerman, after examining the exhibits of the State, which included a shotgun, revolver, bullet, and a backshot, expressed the opinion that the shells found in a revolver near the body of Joseph Ball were set off by fire. One bullet, he said, had passed through the barrel, four others through the magazine. Much the same attitude has been shown by the two young sons of the accused, who are daily in attendance after having testified against their father.

The exhibition of what are the alleged remains of the Ball family seemed to have no effect upon the accused. While the skull and several bones were examined he tilted his chair and looked on nonchalantly. Much the same attitude has been shown by the two young sons of the accused, who are daily in attendance after having testified against their father.

"New Age" Becomes Quite Angry

Demands That American Bluff be Called in the Matter of Debt.

London, Oct. 14.—The Socialist weekly, the New Age, makes the following contribution to the discussion regarding the question of the British debt to the United States:

"Congress is very reluctant to sanction even the funding of the Allied debts, still less will it hear of any proposal for remitting them. What mass of make-believe lies behind all these questions of international debts? Under our insane economic system no nation could afford to receive payment in full of its debt within any reasonable time limit. We may be found insisting on a low figure for Germany's reparation to us, and Germany pressing on us for a larger sum. At any rate, it is a pity that our government does not hasten to call America's bluff in the matter of our debt. Our war experience proves that we could produce 1,000 millions worth of goods in eighteen months, in addition to providing for the ordinary needs of our people. We are tired of pointing out the absurdity of asking where the money is to come from. One might answer, where all the money always comes from.

"But, to treat the question more seriously, if we have, as it is proved we have, the necessary real credit, that is, if we are technically able to deliver the goods, that real credit is potential money. Let our government boldly offer to pay the whole debt in any kind of goods America may prefer within eighteen months. It would mean, of course, a great rise in prices unless these were regulated; but even so, it would employ the unemployed. As, however, it would also destroy America's industries, we should not have to make good our offer. Still, we should have knocked out of Washington's hands the big stick which it now holds over us."

It is said that proletarian men were more skilled in trephining than our present-day surgeons.

MOSCOW SHOPS DOING ACTIVE BUSINESS NOW

Places Dead Month Ago Now Besieged by Thousands of People.

Moscow, Oct. 17.—So fast are things moving in Russia nowadays that Moscow looks quite different after my fortnight's absence. Actually, it seems as though the number of shops opened is early doubled. Doubtless this is an exaggeration, but, just the same, on one of the leading business streets of old Moscow there are now rows of shops, lighted, well-stocked and doing an active trade, whereas a fortnight ago there were only two or three open out of every five.

One thing is certain, the people have money to spend. As an instance, a few days ago there was opened on the "Russian Fifth Avenue" the first big departmental store. Hours before the opening there were thousands of people waiting and the counters were cleared in a very short time. Where the goods come from is a mystery, but certain that, owing to the famine, the price of bread could not fail to increase—especially as the real value of the Soviet ruble is dropping owing to the large issue of new paper money—it happened that bread is cheaper in the stores today than a fortnight ago.

As the confidence of the trading class is growing, the quality and variety of goods in the stores improve. When I left Moscow, only a fortnight ago, the open markets which carried on more or less during the past three years despite occasional police raids, were the best place to buy anything. Now the stores have put the market of the map as far as prices are concerned, and the reduced aristocrats who used to stand miserably for hours on the chilly sidewalk to sell one woolen or fur coat, are now selling their wares at anything really valuable—are going round to the stores with silks and furs to be sold on a ten or fifteen per cent commission.

In all this it is difficult to see just where the foreign concessionaires come in. Suppose a foreigner opens a boot factory. He is forced to take Soviet money for goods, and its value is not only fluctuating here, but on the exchange markets of the rest of the world as well. So, no matter what his paper profits may be, the ultimate net profit is uncertain. The answer seems to be that he must at the same time undertake a permissible form of exploitation here, for instance, copper or lumber, both of which are allowed to be exported and are readily saleable abroad. Then he could pay expenses by extracting and treating the copper ore with the Soviet money received in payment for boots and sell the copper abroad at the normal world price. This would avoid the exchange difficulty and ought to ensure profit.

Hon. Dr. Normand Explains Why He Went To Ottawa

In Interest of French-Canadians and to Aid Three Rivers Unemployed.

Three Rivers, Que., October 15.—Hon. Dr. Normand, in opening his electoral campaign for the county and district of Three Rivers at the City Hall here this evening, scored a decisive triumph. When he told his fellow citizens, whose mayor he is, that it is not true, as his opponents had charged, that he had become a minister merely for the pride of bearing the title of honorific, but that he valued far more greatly his record of twenty-five years as their physician, they cheered him to the echo.

When, in his quiet, matter-of-fact way, he told his people that the Prime Minister of Canada would be in Three Rivers, and those who asserted he was an enter of French-Canadians and Catholics were invited to come to the meeting and show their proofs, he was given another ovation.

Dr. Normand is not of the ordinary type of French-Canadian orator. His words are simple, he is always calm, sure of himself. It is true, of course, he was talking to people among whom he has lived and who know him and respect him, and with whom he is sure of his welcome, but he gives that impression that no matter where he may speak, no against what Liberal orator, he will be effective. He thinks at no issue, but goes to every score spot himself.

There was one unusual incident. Dr. Normand used the same

Defence of Empire. Dr. Normand went on to show that in the matter of contributing to the defence of the Empire, Laurier and the Liberals had been in accord with the Government. Laurier by his naval policy had been for the principle of aiding the Empire, but he and the Conservatives differed as to the manner. Amidst deathlike silence Dr. Normand read extracts from speeches made by Laurier in 1914, 1915 and 1918, urging that the utmost efforts be made by Canada in the war. He referred to the Barrette amendment to kill the Conscription Bill, and for which only nine French-Canadian Conservatives had voted, whereas Laurier and all the French-Canadian Liberals had voted against the amendment. Dr. Normand recalled that the Liberals had joined the Conservatives to form the Union Government with which to enact conscription.

"I am bringing these facts out to show the people that there is no reason why prejudice and hatred should be raised over the conscription issue in this election," said Hon. Dr. Normand.

Sealed Tenders will be received by H. E. Wainwright, Common Clerk, addressed to him, until noon of Friday the 23rd day of October inst., for the purchase of the following debentures, viz:—

A FALSE ALARM. The alarm in the Bank of Nova Scotia building, in Prince William street, attracted the attention of the few who were still on the street, when it began sounding at about 12.30 this morning. Two newspaper men investigated in hopes of a big story, but found that one of the bank clerks had made a mistake in setting the time-clock and hence the alarm.

Unlawful Assembly Facilities Ready For Winter Traffic

Case Was Resumed. Evidence of Chief of Police Heard in Police Court—Adjourned to Next Monday.

The city is being well represented in the case against the twelve members of the Trades and Labor Council who are charged with acting with others and holding an unlawful assembly, calculated to disturb the peace on the night of September 25 last. Yesterday, the case, which had been adjourned over from Friday, was resumed. His Worship the Mayor's place in the witness box was filled by the Chief of Police. He was the only witness to call the roll of his ordering out a special squad of police on the night of the parade. The case was then further adjourned until Monday next at two o'clock, notwithstanding a vehement protest raised by H. A. Powell, K. C., who with J. A. Barry represented the defendants in the case. H. McLean J. P., appeared for the N. B. Power Company.

Chief of Police John D. Smith, Chief of Police stated that on the afternoon of the parade he received a phone message from a man who said he was Percy Thomson. Mr. Thomson asked the chief if he was aware that a labor parade was to be held that night, and if the necessary protection would be furnished his company. The chief said he replied that it would be, as it had been the night previously. As to the parade, the chief said he had made no personal observations of it. He was in his office when it formed up on King street East, but it was then too dark for him to recognize any of the men who were taking part in it. During the course of his progress through the city he said he remained in his office. He had taken men on duty that night, the beats were patrolled as usual, and from ten to fourteen men were stationed at the power station in Hill street.

No Information. To Mr. Powell, the chief said he had gone to Mr. Campbell's Office in Cliff street the Sunday previous to the parade. He did not see Mr. Campbell there, but spoke to one of his aides, and asked if a parade was to be held the following night. The aide answered that he was running the 'Bus Company and not parades, and the chief could not ascertain whether a parade was to be held or not. The chief said he had received no requests to have the Riot Act read on the night of the parade.

Asked for Adjournment. Mr. McLean here stated that he was unable to proceed with the case owing to the fact that one of his witnesses was sick, and that he had been unable to secure the original letter of Mr. Campbell's which had appeared in the Standard, but which the paper refused to turn over. Mr. Powell then stated that the case should be closed at once in fairness to his clients who were all working men and on whom each adjournment with its consequent attendance at court next sitting, worked a considerable hardship. He alleged that Mr. McLean could have taken the necessary steps to secure the desired evidence had he so desired.

Shown Consideration. Magistrate Ritchie said he did not show the men consideration in his attention. Although twelve were named in the indictment, only eleven had shown up. He had not asked for their recognizance on adjourning the case, and now there were but nine men in court. He thought Mr. McLean should not be abused for being unable to get witnesses to appear, when the chief of police had only come to testify after the court sergeant had been sent after him. Not only the chief of police, but the inspector, and the city policemen who were on duty that night, had not come forward to testify.

The chief replied that both Inspector Cupples and Officer Lindsay were absent on their holidays and the case was stood over till Monday at two o'clock, when Mr. McLean was ordered to have the necessary evidence ready.

Young Girls Are Travelling Alone

Travellers' Aid Report to Y. W. C. A. That Many Are Sent Back to Families.

An unusual number of young girls are travelling alone it is stated by the Travellers Aid who reported this at the regular meeting of the Y. W. C. A. held yesterday afternoon at the Re-creational Centre. The girls are between the ages of eleven and seventeen and in some cases have been sent back to their families. Two invalids have been cared for this month, in addition to a number of very aged people looked after. Miss Hoyt and her assistant are busy every day and have found hundreds of ways in which they could be of service to women journeying alone.

Mrs. McAvity, president, led the devotional service which opened the meeting. The Physical Department brought in a report telling of overcrowded classes for the gymnasium. The industrial clubs are growing faster than the Directors can find leaders to take charge of them and an appeal is being made for volunteers to come forward and assist in this important phase of the Y. W. C. A. programme. The Cafeteria has been busy with transients. There is, at present, room in the King Street Home for a few permanent girls. The Directors are soon starting out on their Fall Campaign to bring before the business men of the city the wide spread activities of the Y. W. C. A. and its need for support. It has been decided to change the date of the regular meeting from the third Monday to the third Tuesday in each month.

She approached a gentleman near St. Martins and suggested that he buy one from her and possibly win the fine Chevrolet car. He said he had not the cash but offered to trade a young pig for the ticket and the ticket vendor took him up. A lottery was arranged in the village and the sum of $12.50 realized. The winner in the lottery did not want the pig and it was sold for $2, making a total of $14.50 received for one ticket.
