ENORMOUS PROFITS OF A NEW YORK BANK

First National Has Coined Money Stockholders Have Been Handed 226 Per Cent. in Four Years

Made a Present of $9,500,000 and $10,000,000 on Two Different Occasions— President Baker Before the Congressional Committee, Tells a Wonderful Story of Money Making.

Washington, Jan. 9.—Enormous profits by the First National Bank of New York were related tonight by George F. Baker, chairman of the board of directors of the bank, a witness before the House Money Trust Committee. Mr. Baker furnished the committee with records showing that since its organization in 1863 with a capitalization of $500,000 the bank had made profits amounting to more than $90,000,000.

In the four years since 1908, Mr. Baker said, the committee, the bank had paid dividends of 226 per cent. or more than twice the total capitalization, which is now $10,000,000. When the capital was increased to that amount in 1901, a special dividend of $9,500,000 was declared. Mr. Baker said to enable the stockholders to take up the additional investment of $10,000,000 in 1908 in order to provide $10,000,000 of cash for the organization of the First Security Company to take over the business of the bank. Mr. Baker said a special dividend of $10,000,000 was declared. This was in addition to the regular yearly dividends. Samuel Ustrinsky, chairman of the committee, from the figures supplied by Mr. Baker, calculated that since he assumed the presidency of the First National Bank in 1872 that institution has paid dividends of $8,850 per cent. on its original capitalization.

Mr. Baker flatly opposed the suggestion made by Mr. Ustrinsky that National Banks be required to make public their assets in order that depositors and stockholders might know the nature of security held by the banks. The witness declared that he saw no possible good that could come of such a provision.

TERRIBLE FLOOD CONDITIONS AT WHEELING, W. VA.

Town Practically Isolated— Railway Service Tied Up and Big Industries Closed.

Wheeling, W. Va., Jan. 9.—The Ohio River reached a stage slightly under forty feet tonight, and this city is in the midst of its most disastrous flood, with the exception of the visitations of 1864 and 1907.

Tonight the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad brought in its last passenger train from the east. The train ploughed through eight inches of water for a quarter of a mile before reaching the station. Buildings, trolley lines and steamboats are all out of commission and the city is practically isolated from the outside world.

In some sections of the city the natural gas supply is cut off and much suffering caused. A majority of the iron and steel mills have been forced to suspend by the high water and upwards of 10,000 men are idle.

ADRIANOPLE REPORTED IN DESPERATE STRAITS

People Are Facing a Famine

Bulgarians Satisfied the Ba- leagured Town Will Fall Into Their Hands in a Short Time—Allies Will Not Re- sume Peace Negotiations Till Turks Agree to Their First Demands.

London, Jan. 9.—Official news received by the Bulgarian delegation describes the situation at Adrianople as desperate. Several soldiers, who deserted and succeeded in reaching the headquarters of the allies, say that the town is in the last gasp. Provisions are so scarce that the military authorities have requisitioned all the food possessed even by private individuals and are making only one distribution, comprising a half ration, daily.

The conditions have been rendered graver by the great number of sick, who overflow the hospitals, where the attendance is inadequate. Thus the death rate is very high. The Bulgarians have allowed medicine and Red Cross workers to enter under the escort of a Bulgarian detachment.

The commander of the fortress has declared that he would rather see all die of starvation than surrender the town. The Bulgarians believe that even independently of any action the town may take, the question of Adrianople will soon be solved.

BONAR LAW WILLING TO SWALLOW PRINCIPLES

Report That Unionist Leader Has Acceded to His Party's Demand and Will Drop His Scheme to Tax Food—Belief Prevalent That His Leadership is Short.

Special to The Telegraph
Montreal, Jan. 9.—A special London cable to the witness says:

We are not yet out of the crisis caused by the Unionist split. My prediction that Bonar Law would be deposed from the leadership has not yet been fulfilled, simply because, after making the most emphatic protestations against any compromise whatever on the question of the food taxes, he has saved his face by provisionally surrendering tariff reform.

That Law has provisionally undertaken to surrender the food taxes, and that he will not even be imposed until a second election has been fought on such duties.

CANADA'S TRADE OVER A BILLION

DUCHESS OF CONNAUGHT IS SLIGHTLY BETTER

Her Condition is Regarded as Serious, But an Operation May Not Be Necessary.

Montreal, Jan. 9.—Two bulletins respecting the condition of the Duchess of Connaught, at present a patient in the Royal Victoria Hospital, were issued tonight, the last one given out at a late hour was more reassuring and indicated that after a restless day her royal highness had found relief in sleep.

The Duke of Connaught and the Princess Patricia called several times at the hospital and visited the distinguished patient, who occupies a private suite in Ward "L," where Miss Pelly, lady-in-waiting, and two trained nurses are in constant attendance.

There was little change in the patient's condition throughout the day, and while it is regarded as serious, there is nothing yet to indicate that it will be necessary to resort to an operation. Shortly after 10 o'clock tonight Arthur F. Sladen, C. M. G., private secretary to the Duke of Connaught, stated that the condition of her royal highness was regarded as generally satisfactory. The turn of events during the last two or three days, he admitted, would probably be of importance.

At 11.30 tonight the last bulletin was issued. It read:

"Her royal highness is fairly comfortable. Strength well maintained; now sleeping."

Enormous Increase Again Last Year

Business of the Country Has Trebled in Thir- teen Years

Imports Show Wonderful Gains But Exports Do Not Keep Pace with them—Marked Falling Off in Shipments of Meats and Live Stock.

Special to The Telegraph
Ottawa, Jan. 9.—Canada's total trade for the twelve months of the past year passed the billion-dollar mark by a little more than $5,800,000.

Final or detailed figures will not be available for some weeks yet, but the returns received so far by the trade and commerce and customs departments show that the billion dollar mark has been well passed.

As compared with the dominion trade for 1901 this represents a gain of nearly $185,000,000, or 23 per cent.

Imports for the past twelve months totalled approximately $654,000,000, while exports amounted to nearly $859,000,000.

The gain in imports was nearly $100,000,000, while exports increased by nearly $100,000,000.

Only one country in the world rivals Canada in the percentage of trade growth during the past year, namely, Argentina. By the end of the fiscal year it is expected that Argentina will have reached a total of $1,000,000,000.

The dominion's trade has doubled within the past six years and trebled within the past thirteen years.

The principal gains in exports during the past year have been in agriculture, mines, and manufactures. The increase in exports of agriculture has been over $25,000,000; in mines over $12,000,000, and in manufactures over $7,000,000.

Exports of the forest and of animals and their products have shown a falling off of several millions.

THE COMMODORE'S RENUNCIATION. In the editorial column of the Chatham News we find what we take to be an announcement—and it is a harsh and rebuking one—of the determination of Commodore Stewart to decline, and to keep on declining, any senatorship that the Conservative party, of which he has long been a distinguished ornament, may be disposed to thrust upon him.

THE LOVE OF NATURE. It is related of the poet Burns that once while he was admiring a beautiful sunrise on one of the mountains of Scotland, he suddenly noticed the smoke rising from the cottages of some peasants huts at the foot, and exclaimed that the beauty and poetry of the scene all depended upon this—presence of human life.

has taken Mr. Balfour only a few months to move by degrees from the extreme end of the front opposition bench far up to his old place opposite the box, where he now presides daily with the old air of permanency.

In the present plight of his party it is doubtful if he will consent to return to office. The outlook for the opposition was not very brilliant when he left the office, but it is less brilliant now. It is true that the party has been "essentially" organized since that time.

This honest speaker has failed to fill the place of political genius, and the prospects of the party have gone down at a rate that may easily be calculated. A correspondent in the Times says that Conservatism has become a "Perhaps Party" in reference to the perpetual balancing and re-balancing between the Protectionists and the Free-Trade.

To do Mr. Law justice, he is only responsible for a part of the impasse in which the party finds itself. The protectionist heresy must take the blame for most of it. The Nation says: "We have now had nine years of tariff reform as a Conservative policy."

gratitude on learning of the honor in store for him, replied in a high and scornful key: "And what should I make w' blason and belt."

"For I make Honor w' muckle mouth, As I make Shame w' mickle feet, To sing w' the priests at the market-cross, Or run w' the dogs in the naked street."

The Chatham World, as one might say, conies upon or withholds from men of the time the reputation or the power which makes them into senatorial timber. To proceed, however, it was agreed between the king and True Thomas that the monarch should descend from his home of pride, and that True Thomas should play to him, after which experience, if the king still had the nerve, he might confer the proffered knighthood upon the player.

By that time the king's sense of proportion was by way of being restored. Under similar circumstances the Prime Minister would realize the supreme folly of supposing for a moment that any act of his could add honor or esteem to the Sage of the North Shore. And True Thomas lost no time in rubbing the lesson in.

RUSSELL JACK IN AUSTRIA'S FINE CAPITAL. St. John Man on His Travels. Writes for Telegraph Readers. GLITTERING SHOPS BUT—ALL DREAD WAR.

Where Wealth and Beauty Congregate to Enjoy Coffee and Where Madame Occasionally Puffs a Cigarette—Some Fake Pictures of War Scenes, and a Few Hints from the London Times.

By Dr. Russell Jack. Vienna, Dec. 15—Vienna has been called the second Paris, and it certainly serves the title for its liveliness, its display of wealth, the fondness of its people for art and particularly for music.

NOTE AND COMMENT. The London Times defends Mr. Borden's naval policy, but it has the grace to say in the course of its defence: "It is for Canada, as we have said, to decide."

THE OTHER SIDE OF THE PICTURE. Behind all this brilliant display of wealth lurks the demon of apprehension. The best that the shops contain is piled in the windows. Behind this show of luxuries and troubled minds, there are rumors in the street that the owners of one of the largest and newest of the brilliantly-lit shops are in financial difficulties.

AGRICULTURE
Potato Scab, Its Cause, and the Remedy—Should Not Be Confused With the Potato Canker—Conditions of Soil.

Potato scab should not be confused with the potato canker or wart disease, sometimes called the black scab. This latter disease is established in Newfoundland but is not found in Canada so far as we are aware.

The roughened, scabby, pitted surface of potato tubers affected with scab is too well known to require description. It is probable that no other potato disease has wider distribution. In addition to being insistent throughout this country, it occurs in various parts of Europe, South Africa and New Zealand. In all probability it occurs wherever potatoes are grown.

Many practical growers throughout the country are of the opinion that lime, which is the cause of the disease, causes the disease. The nature of the fertilizer used, the alkalinity or acidity of the soil may also influence the amount of scab, but such agencies are incapable of producing life.

When the soil once becomes infected there are two possible sources of infection to future crops, viz., the seed and the soil itself. It follows that had some soil given scabby potatoes even when clean seed was used.

Scab thrives best on an alkaline soil. Dr. Wheeler, who has made an extensive study of the disease, summarizes its conditions as follows: The materials which favor the scab and which are at times applied to land are: Stable manure, wood ashes, lime, magnesia and soda ash.

As has been pointed out potato scab does not occur on an alkaline soil. Unfortunately

St. John Man Praises the Cleanliness of Austria's Capital

Vienna, Dec. 16.—One of the most interesting features of moving picture films in Paris has just about completed a series of views showing the advance of the French army under Napoleon to Moscow, and its retreat after the burning of that historic city.

To make the work as complete as possible, the makers have had to take the greatest pains to make the proposed imitations, while the Russian army have been hired with the German permission to execute military manoeuvres even on King street. The extension ladder is put up in short joints of about twenty feet each in length, each section being lightly constructed, and attached by a strong but light looking steel truss on either side.

People Kept Well Informed About Manitoba, Saskatchewan, Alberta and British Columbia, But Have No Good Way of Learning of New Brunswick—Why She is Here.

Wednesday, Jan. 8. Mrs. George Hamer Jackson, of Reynolds's Newspaper, London, was in the city yesterday and was registered at the Victoria Hotel. To a Telegraph reporter she said that this was her second visit to Canada, and was in connection with a colonization scheme that was being floated by Reynolds's Newspaper, which might eventually result in the movement towards Canada of a good many hundred old country people.

The scheme was, of course, confined to the readers of Reynolds, she said, and was being worked in collaboration with the government of British Columbia, which was arranging for a grant of ground there. On this trip she had brought with her nine immigrants and these would be placed on an experimental farm in that province which would be run on a co-operative basis. Should this prove successful, the work will be continued, and from present prospects it looked as if it would develop substantial dimensions, as the government had received the plans with every show of favor.

PRESIDENT SAM COMPERS ATTACKS ORGANIZED CAPITAL

London, Mr. Jackson said, "as you know, has a population of 9,000,000. At least 3,000,000 of these are not wanted, and are anxious indeed to better their conditions. But they do not know how to get about it, and it is the mission of my paper to put before them details of this country, which they can make a decent living, and are not made to live in poverty, and which is so much nearer Australia, sweeping the old country with its immigration propositions, and doing everything in its power to attract immigrants."

Changes in Vienna

Vienna, the past few years many of the old buildings, palaces, many of them, in what was formerly the walled portions of Vienna, have been pulled down to widen the streets and make room for more lofty, monumental buildings of steel and concrete. Many a spot dear to the antiquarian or the medical student, or those who hunt the art galleries, has already disappeared. The old streets, which are those of Paris, with street each with a trailer, with motor cars, and hundreds of thousands of pedestrians—everything in life and stir and bustle. So the old order changes and a new order takes its place. Some of the medical men of St. John who walked the hospitals of Vienna but a few months ago would now find it greatly altered.

President Sam Compers of the American Federation of Labor, who recently delivered a bitter attack on the United States government and Judge Anderson for convicting and sentencing the dynamiters of the Structural Iron Workers Union, Compers said that the consciousness of organized capital made men dynamiters.

Strong Desire to Emigrate

In a recent article in Reynolds the advantages of emigration were outlined and passages offered to Reynolds's readers. In reply to that article 2,000 letters were received, and 600 taken under consideration, showing in some little way the desire of old country people to emigrate to this country.

THE NEW HOUSE KEEPING PROBLEM OF PAID DOMESTICS

SHALL DOMESTICS HAVE UNIONS?

Several of those who approve of the girl club idea, as promising to do away at least in part with the domestic worker's loneliness, say that while they approve of the plan they think it would be difficult to arrange for girls whose wages are as high as those of the men.

It is certainly true that a girl cannot depend on having regular nights off during the week, then women employers will have to make up their minds to a continued scarcity of domestic help, at abnormally high wages, incompetent help, and other disabilities which exist in occupations considered unsatisfactory by workers.

Domestic work is developing in character from other work, but not to such an extent as the average woman seems to think it. Let us consider how the work of a domestic is arranged. It is a 24-hour-a-day job, with the nurse on duty from 7 to 7, with time for meals and two hours off. These two hours are sometimes broken in on. But at most times the nurse is entirely off duty. Night work is taken by a night nurse. Nurses in private practice go on and off duty, have time for meals and time to go out for a walk. If they take night work, then another nurse or one of the family is on duty in the day. It is true that there are households where a nurse is expected to be on duty both night and day. This is the principal reason why nurses dislike private practice. For the same reason nurses in private practice frequently become physical wrecks.

May Be Difficult.

To rearrange the work of a household so that the domestic worker can have fixed hours will certainly be difficult. But if women employers mean to let conditions stay as they are in household work because that is better than the conditions in the factory, they have no right to complain about the scarcity of domestic help, nor can they justify their fault because many of the girls are incompetent.

If the girls' club to provide friendship and wholesome entertainment for the domestic worker is unsatisfactory, let us see what is being done in the line of improving the status of the domestic worker in other countries.

The Domestic Workers' Union of Great Britain was organized by seven domestics over two years ago. It has a membership of several hundred in London, Oxford and Glasgow. The Domestic Workers' Union maintains an employment agency that is through this employment agency that the union makes an effort to improve conditions of domestic work.

What does the employment bureau promise domestics who secure a situation through its efforts?

The above office is anxious to assure on the one hand better conditions for the workers and on the other reliable and efficient workers for the employers.

The Minimum Wage?

We make the following among other stipulations in the contract for domestics: A minimum wage; sufficient food and decent sleeping accommodation to be provided; minimum hours of leisure out of the house; fortnight's holiday per year on full pay; a true and fair written character to be given on leaving a place so cleaning outside of upstairs windows, etc.

We earnestly appeal to all domestics to whom these conditions and others may be made to show their appreciation of them by rendering willing and efficient service in return.

The employment bureau makes the following stipulations affecting employers. A minimum wage of five shillings per week; sufficient food and decent sleeping accommodation; minimum hours of leisure out of house, one half day per week, and every alternate Sunday from 8 till 10.30 p. m.; domestic to be allowed to have a day off the year on full pay; a true written character when the domestic leaves her employment; use of bath room to be allowed; domestic to be allowed to have sleeping accommodation before concluding engagement; no female domestic to be required to clean outside of upstairs windows.

After reading this every Canadian woman will say how well off the domestic worker is in Canada. What we ought to say is: When will domestic workers organize in Canada, if they do organize, what will they ask for?

Kindness.

A woman once in domestic service, married and caring for a large family, writes from the country to say she does not agree that girls do not want kindness but would prefer more of a business arrangement with their women employers. She says also that she has never forgotten how a woman who had once employed her came to see her at the back door of another place in which she worked as a domestic. That call was probably of the true spirit of kindness. She wanted to be sure that the girl was happy and in a good home. One would not expect anything of the work-giving the impression that kindness should not exist between the woman employer and her domestic helper. Getting down to the foundation on which the relation between employer and helper is based, kindness and kindness are the two essential qualities. The girl can be as kind to her employer as the employer is to the girl. Women have expressed much kindness to the girl who will not do her work properly who is inconsiderate and whose temper disturbs the tranquility of the home. Many women employers are models of kindness to their domestics. But there is one man who expects the girl to pay her back for her kindness. She gives her a discarded dress and asks the girl to give back for her kindness. But there is one man who expects a theatre, or pays her fare for a car ride. In return the girl is to relinquish her Sunday evening. This is not kindness. It is a partnership. The girl has no right to complain about the scarcity of domestic help, nor can they justify their fault because many of the girls are incompetent.

DUCHESS OF CONNAUGHT SERIOUSLY ILL AGAIN

Rushed to Montreal Hospital

Return of Attack of Peritonitis Necessitates Her Royal Highness' Quick Removal From Ottawa on a Special Train Last Night

Ottawa, Jan. 8.—The Duchess of Connaught, who is again seriously ill from peritonitis, was taken to the Royal Victoria Hospital, Montreal, this evening by special train, leaving the capital at 5 o'clock.

The attack, which is similar to that of May last, when she was ill for some weeks in the same hospital, developed last evening. Major Worthington, the physician in residence to the royal household, summoned Dr. Garrow, the Montreal specialist, in consultation on Monday evening. At that time her royal highness's condition gave ground for no immediate anxiety.

Dr. Garrow returned to Montreal, but early this morning her condition grew serious. There was a further development with an increase in the abdominal pain and other bad symptoms. Dr. Garrow and Dr. Chipman, of Montreal, were summoned and came to Ottawa, promptly by special train. After a consultation in a room with Major Worthington, the Montreal specialist advised the removal of her royal highness to the Royal Victoria Hospital for special treatment. This was done by special train at 5 o'clock.

Her royal highness was placed in a bed on board the government general's car and the three physicians were in attendance on her as she left Ottawa. The Duke of Connaught, the Princess Patricia, Colonel Lawler and the aides and other members of the royal household also went to Montreal.

Premier Borden met the royal party at the station before the train pulled out. His royal highness was to have been present at a dinner to be given at the Château Laurier tonight by Col. Lawler, but the function was, of course, called off this afternoon.

Has Peritonitis.

Ottawa, Jan. 8.—The Duchess of Connaught is suffering from another attack of peritonitis, the same illness with which she was stricken last year. She has been transferred from Montreal House to the Royal Victoria Hospital at Montreal by a special train.

The announcement of her illness caused considerable interest throughout the city, when made public this afternoon. Since Sunday the Duchess of Connaught has been ill, and Dr. Garrow, the eminent Montreal specialist, was called the first of the week to Government House.

The illness of the duchess has caused a general suspension of the social functions of the city. Her condition is being given by Col. Lawler, military attaché, to his royal highness, at the Château Laurier tonight, was called off. The Saturday afternoon skating parties at Government House will be discontinued, and a number of other engagements arranged for the week will be cancelled.

Stood the Journey Well.

Montreal, Jan. 8.—Her Royal Highness the Duchess of Connaught has stood the journey from Ottawa very well and is now resting as comfortably as could be expected.

UNIONISTS LOOKING FOR ANOTHER LEADER

Bonar Law Likely to Step Down, and There is Talk of Trying to Get Lord Rosebery to Accept the Job—Many Want Balfour to Return to the Helm.

London, Jan. 8.—The Montreal Witness prints the following special cable from London:

"My statement that the Lancashire meeting of Unionists will decide the fall of Bonar Law as leader of the Unionists is today confirmed, for the general voice of the Unionist press expresses the sentiment that Bonar Law is no longer fit to lead the party."

The rank and file of the Unionists would welcome Mr. Balfour back as the leader, but the Daily News says the situation is developing along lines which may be found in the British Isles, and restoring unity in the party.

A memorial was drafted and addressed to Andrew Bonar Law, leader of the opposition in the house of commons, advocating the policy of abandoning the food taxes at the next general elections.

London, Jan. 9.—(Special)—An accident that nearly resulted in the death of Fireman David McPhee, took place yesterday evening in the engine room of the Canada Electric Power Company's power house at St. Andrew's. The engine was being repaired. The man's leg was broken badly and a leg and shoulder dislocated. Dr. Shattford, of Moncton, was summoned to the assistance of the injured man. His displacement was taken to the Highland View Hospital, Amherst, this evening by the Maritime Express.

Woodman's Point Entertainment.

Westfield, N. B., Jan. 7.—The Christ of England Sunday school had their Christmas treat at Woodman's Point, on Thursday evening. A short programme of music and recitations was given by the children. The first prize for regular attendance and general good proficiency in lessons during the past year was won by Eva Robertson. After games, for both the parents and the children, recitations and songs were given. The evening was leaving a bag of candy and nuts was given them. Everyone thoroughly enjoyed themselves. The children who took part in the programme were: Mary Eccles, Charlie Cowan, Eva Robertson, Annie Eccles, John Turner, Levia Robertson, Grace Turner, Jennie Eccles and Angus App.

"Conductor," exclaimed an irate woman who carried many bundles, as she paused on the platform of the crowded tram car. "I thought I told you that I wanted to get off at Pelham Avenue!"

"But, madam—"

"Don't you say a word! I know all about being late to remember where everybody gets off. I've heard that all before!"

"But, madam—"

"You've broken off your engagement with Miss Smart's," asked the inquisitive friend.

"His victim shook his head.

"No," he replied; "I didn't break it off. Oh, then she broke it off!"

"No," answered the young man, enjoying his friend's growing wonder.

"But it is broken off, isn't it?" persisted the curious one.

"Oh, yes," explained the young man gently. "She told me what her dressmaker's yearly bill was, and I told her what my second was when our engagement was dissolved."—Answers.

BRITISH SHIP-BUILDERS REJOICE AT BIG BUSINESS

Plants Working Night and Day Constructing Battleships for Britain and Others.

New York, Jan. 8.—A London cable says: The present year will see a new record in British warship building. The naval dockyards and great shipbuilding firms have already twelve battleships and battle cruisers in hand for the navy, apart from vessels nearly completed. In addition there are six battleships or battle cruisers building in England for foreign powers.

It is ten new British ships are ordered this year, as is expected, there will be twenty-eight armored ships of the largest size building in this country, with a displacement of more than 500,000 tons. The completion of this enormous fleet with speed will demand most careful organization. It is feared that there must be serious delays in construction. Already the recent British programmes are heavily in arrears.

The difficulty which confronts both dockyards and private firms is to obtain the skilled labor required for ship construction. There is an insufficiency of workers at the dockyards, where day and night shifts, as well as overtime, are being worked. All indications suggest that the admiralty will have to revise its calculation that the largest battleship can be built in two years.

Shipowners are rejoicing in prosperous times, and there is every likelihood that the flourishing conditions in the English shipping industry will continue.

ESTIMATE LOSS TO FRUIT CROPS AT $25,000,000

Three Days' Freeze in California Ends With Disastrous Results—Prices of Oranges Jump.

Los Angeles, Jan. 8.—Twenty-five million dollars was the amount fixed today by consensus of opinion regarding the loss sustained by citrus fruit growers in the three days' freeze ended this morning. This figure is not official.

Earl G. Izbell, assistant general manager of the California Fruit Growers Exchange, said that accurate estimates of damage could not be made for several days, but $25,000,000 is regarded as a conservative estimate. Other estimates run as high as $40,000,000.

Oranges advanced fifty cents a box on the Los Angeles wholesale market today. This was a direct result of the freeze. Grape fruit, which also suffered heavily during the last three days, went up twenty-five cents a box.

TRAGIC END TO ELOPEMENT OF BRITISH COUPLE

Englishman Kills the Woman Who Fleed to Winnipeg With Him and Fired Three Bullets Into Himself.

Winnipeg, Jan. 8.—A few moments after they walked arm in arm into the private consulting room of Dr. Fletcher, in the Somerset block on Portage avenue at 8.15 this morning, Walter Eves, an Englishman, twenty-eight years old, placed the muzzle of a revolver at the forehead of Mrs. Alfred Hancock and fired a bullet into her brain, killing her instantly. He then turned the weapon upon himself and will die from the effects of three bullets he fired into his body.

Eves had fled to Winnipeg several years, while the woman has been here some months. Nothing is known of her husband. It is believed the couple were lovers and jealousy may account for the crime.

Eves came to Canada six years ago. About a year ago he took a trip to England and when he returned he brought Mrs. Hancock, believed to be a widow. They lived together as man and wife for some time, but a short time ago they separated and he returned to his old boarding house on Carlton street.

The married woman is described as perhaps the most strikingly handsome woman in Winnipeg. She was about thirty years old.

Likely to Recover.

Winnipeg, Jan. 8.—Walter Eves, who this morning shot and killed Mrs. Hancock, is likely to survive the injuries he inflicted upon himself after the murder. Tonight he shows great improvement at the hospital.

The man is a son of the late A. Eves, who kept the White Hart Hotel at Brighton, England, for many years, and his victim was a native of Ashley, Kent. The pair met at a dance in England and though they were married they eloped to Canada, arriving together last March, since which time they have led a quarrelsome life.

The man placed his property so that in case of his death his real estate in England would not benefit.

SCOTT ACT ENFORCED FOR REVENUE IN CHATHAM

Chatham, Jan. 8.—Quite a breeze was caused at a town council meeting last evening when Alderman Neale said he had received no notice of a meeting of the public committee at which it was decided to give the liquor license more money, such as during the remainder of the council's term.

Alderman Snowball said the meeting was a customary one held after a meeting of the council. He said he had not attended the meeting because he had heard all that went on.

Alderman Neale said the Alderman Snowball agreed to enforce the Scott Act for revenue only and Alderman Snowball denied this, saying he was merely carrying out the wishes of the board.
