SHOOTING AFFRAY NEAR GRAND FALLS

Felix Francoeur Shot and Killed—
Joseph Grenier Charged With the Crime

Grand Falls, Sept. 12.—Felix Francoeur, aged 52, engaged in sawing lumber, was shot through the breast and instantly killed this afternoon. It is charged, by Joseph Grenier, a farmer, about 75 years of age. The shooting took place in the Drummond road about half a mile from Grand Falls, just in front of the home of Napoleon Michaud, and he and others in the house witnessed the tragedy.

It is said that Francoeur and Grenier had been unfriendly for some time as a result of a dispute over some lumber. They met in the road and a quarrel took place. As a result, Francoeur struck Grenier with his fist and the latter immediately whipped out a revolver from beneath his coat and fired pointblank at Francoeur. The latter lurched forward and fell dead. Grenier then replaced the weapon and walked away, presumably going toward his home, about six miles from town.

News of the shooting was brought to Grand Falls and the town was greatly excited. James Tibbitts, of Andover, sheriff of the county, was communicated with and a warrant was immediately issued on his instructions for the arrest of Grenier.

Late in the afternoon Constable Jeremiah Sullivan set out for the St. John river road to apprehend Grenier, but up to a late hour tonight he had not returned.

George Ryan, coroner, has empaneled a jury and an inquest will begin this morning.

Francoeur, known also as "Hart," an English rendering of his name, leaves his wife and one daughter.

Grenier has a wife and family. His home is located some distance in the woods and difficulty was anticipated in reaching it tonight, while there is no absolute assurance that he went there.

Grand Falls, Sept. 13.—Joseph Grenier, the seventy year old farmer, for whom search was being made following the shooting of Felix Francoeur, near Grand Falls on Thursday afternoon, was apprehended this afternoon soon after three o'clock, by a party consisting of Constable Jeremiah Sullivan, Alan McLoughlin, sub-district liquor inspector, Charles Paradis, a returned soldier, and Walter V. Powers, a volunteer searcher.

The search party went to Grenier's house this afternoon and not finding him there started to search the woods back of the house. Powers and McLoughlin went up on a small knoll to look over the adjacent country and Grenier, hiding in the grass and under brush nearby, then called out: "Is that you, Powers? Are you looking for me? I know you and will go along with you."

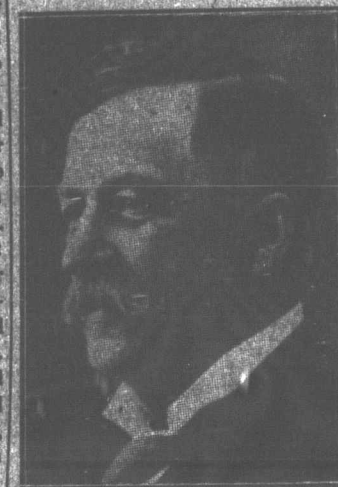

The old man had been hiding in the wet bush with no protection other than a short light raincoat and had had nothing to eat since early in the morning. He was very cold and fast approaching a stage of physical exhaustion and seemed glad to be taken into custody. The party took him to his home, fed and reclothed him before bringing him to Grand Falls where he was lodged in the county jail. Other than his remarks to Powers, as quoted, Grenier made no statement of importance.

The preliminary hearing will be held at Grand Falls at 10 o'clock Saturday morning before Magistrate Kelly.

Grand Falls, Sept. 13.—The preliminary hearing in the case of Joseph Grenier, who is under arrest on the charge of murdering Felix Francoeur, was commenced today. No evidence was taken, and the hearing was postponed until Tuesday morning, when Alex Stratton, who was employed as a clerk by Mr. Francoeur, will appear as a witness for the crown.

Joseph Grenier is at present in the town jail here awaiting the result of the preliminary hearing. It is reported here that when he was arrested, several hundred dollars were found in his pockets.

HON. J. F. TWEEDDALE

Shaw-Campbell

A quiet wedding took place at the home of Albion and Mrs. Shaw on September 5 at eleven o'clock when the Rev. C. N. Barton performed the ceremony, uniting in marriage their young son, Arthur, and Miss Emma DeWitt. The bride wore a dress of albes blue silk and carried a bouquet of white sweet peas and maiden hair fern. Immediately after the ceremony dinner was served, after which Mr. and Mrs. Campbell left in their car for their future home. Many friends will wish them every happiness.

HON. J. F. TWEEDDALE MAKES ABLE SPEECH

At Opening of Fredericton's Big Exhibition

On Saturday evening the big Fredericton fair was opened, and the chief speaker was Hon. J. F. Tweeddale, Minister of Agriculture, who said:

I am pleased to be here tonight, at this the opening of your Exhibition, and, as this is recognized as the Provincial Exhibition this year, it is disappointing that it has not been honored at its Opening with an address from His Honor, the Lieutenant Governor and the Premier, and appropriate that the Minister presiding over the Provincial Department of Agriculture be present.

When we realize the fact that the agricultural products of Canada, according to statistics, have a greater monied value than have the combined products of our three other great natural resources, our Forests, Fisheries and Mines, the importance of Agriculture will be appreciated.

It seems to have been the decree of Divine Providence, in proving the metal and minerals of the mines, the forest growths and the beaming millions of the fishes of the sea, together with the products of the soil, for the use of man,—that man must work and toil before he can avail himself of their benefits, so necessary for his comfort; in fact, for the sustenance of his life.—We can see that this was a wise provision, as it compels energy, industry, the exercise of our physical, as well as mental and inventive powers, giving development to both mind and body, that elevates the human family to a higher standard of civilization than would obtain were these things to be gotten without exertion. But the products of the soil, which go more directly to the sustenance of life, differ from the products of our other natural resources,—the minerals and metals, our forest growth, the food obtained from the oceans, already exist; but the products of the soil are creative. The wheat and other grains, the corn, vegetables, cultivated fruits, do not exist; they are only produced by intelligent cultivation, brought about by bringing into action the chemical qualities of the soil that create vegetable life, which cause a multiplied reproduction, the success of which is dependent upon climatic conditions, a well regulated supply of heat, light and moisture,—elements altogether in the control of a benign Providence.

These facts, at once make us realize also how much more directly we are dependent on the farmer for our existence than those engaged in the other industrial life of the country.

It is not long since farming was looked upon as a menial occupation, but it is now being recognized as a business the success of which requires close and constant application, as well as a knowledge gained by experience of how to cultivate the soil and manage the work. And, by reason of the world's demands and requirements for more food stuffs, the old saying is more than ever true,—that he who makes two blades of grass grow where only one grew before, is a public benefactor.

We have just emerged from the most destructive war known to civilization, to which Canada has contributed, both in blood and treasure, according to population, equally, if not greater than any of the Allied Forces. The valor of our troops has materially con-

POLITICAL PLATFORM OF THE UNITED FARMERS of N. B.

- No. 1 Whereas a call to the United Farmers of the different local branches for the putting up of independent candidates to represent the different constituencies both in the Federal and Local houses and that the response has been practically unanimous in its favor, therefore we the officers and directors of the United Farmers authorize the organizing director of each county to call a convention for the purpose of selecting candidates for both Federal and Local houses.
- No. 2 Since it is absolutely necessary to have campaign funds for legitimate purposes, we would therefore authorize each county to raise and control such funds with the provision that it shall be itemized and audited and forwarded to the Sec'y of the Central Association and the source from which it is derived.
- No. 4 That we are entirely opposed to any form of bribery and corruption in elections.
- No. 4 That wilderness and un-improved land be taxed in proportion to the tax on improved land at the same rate and on the same basis.
- No. 5 That the registering of Mortgages be changed so that the amount actually due on mortgages can be ascertained at the registry office every year, such mortgage to be exempted on amount of mortgage still unpaid, and the holder of the mortgage be assessed on the amount and the taxes paid in the district wherein the land lies.
- No. 6 That we propose an act to be passed by our local legislature compelling any trunk telephone to give proper connections with Local or Farmers line for a reasonable toll.
- No. 7 That before any increase in telephone rates should be made, a full investigation be made before the proper authorities open to all parties interested, showing such increase to be justifiable.
- No. 8 That any man 18 years old be allowed to homestead 100 acres of land and a returned soldier 200 acres with the privilege of buying 100 acres additional in the Province of New Brunswick.
- No. 9 That we will work for an Abattoir, an establishment of a cold storage plant and stock yard in the Maritime Provinces.
- No. 10 That the Provincial and Federal representatives pledge themselves to resign on being presented with a petition signed by 60 per cent of the members of the U.F. of N.B. asking them to do so.
- No. 11 That we are in favor of total prohibition of the manufacture and the sale of liquor as a beverage and that plebiscite vote be taken at any time.
- No. 12 That we are in favor of general improvement of the roads of N. B. rather than the building of a speedway for autos in the province, and that we use auto taxes for Highway purposes only.
- No. 13 That we have a uniform system of breaking winter roads and that the workers receive pay for doing it.
- No. 14 We should aim to have a government of the day to appoint a Farmer as Minister of Agriculture.
- No. 15 That the Sec'y of Agriculture be a Farmer, a Farmer's son, a native of N. B. and a graduate of the college of Agriculture.
- No. 16 Whereas the United Farmers represent the Farmers more than any other organization, we would ask that the United Farmers be consulted on the general policy of the Agriculture.
- No. 17 That we recommend a rural delivery mail service be established in every country district.
- No. 18 That we adopt the Platform of the Canadian Council of Agriculture with the addition of clause G. to section 4 which reads as follows:
- That firms holding charters for the development of the natural resources of the province. That these charters be cancelled unless the work be carried out within a reasonable time.
- And the Exception of Section 6 which reads as follows:
- Public ownership and control of railway, water and aerial transportation, telephone, telegraph and express systems all projects in the development of national power and of the coal mining industry.

PAINFUL RHEUMATISM

May be Eriven Out of the System
by Enriching the Blood

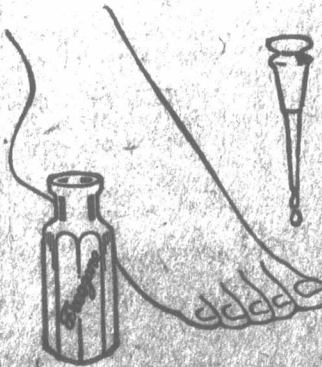

In the days of our fathers and grandfathers rheumatism was thought to be the unavoidable penalty of middle life and old age. Almost every elderly person had rheumatism, as well as many young people. Medical science did not understand the trouble—did not know that it was rooted in the blood. It was thought that rheumatism was the mere effect of exposure to cold and damp, and it was treated with liniments and hot applications, which sometimes gave temporary relief, but did not cure the trouble. In those days there were thousands of rheumatic cripples. Now, medical science understands that rheumatism is a disease of the blood, and that with good, rich, red blood any man or woman of any age can defy rheumatism can be cured by killing the poison in the blood which causes it. There are many elderly people who have never felt a twinge of rheumatism, and many who have conquered it by simply keeping their blood rich and pure. The blood making, blood enriching qualities of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills is becoming every year more widely known, and it is the more general use of these pills that has robbed rheumatism of its terrors. At the first sign of poor blood, which is shown by loss of appetite, palpitations, dull skin and dim eyes, protect yourself against the further ravages of disease by taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. They have cured thousands of people—if you give them a fair trial they will not disappoint you.

You can get these pills through any dealer in medicine or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

LIFT OFF CORNS!

Apply few drops then lift sore, touchy corns off with fingers

Don't hurt a lift. Drop a little Frezome on an itching corn, instantly that corn stops burning, then you lift it right out. Yes, magic! A tiny bottle of Frezome costs but a few cents at any drug store, but is sufficient to remove every hard corn, callus, or corn between the toes, and without soreness or irritation. Frezome is the sensational discovery of a Cincinnati genius. It is wonderful.

COULDN'T TAKE OFF HER RINGS

Hands Were Swollen From Rheumatism—Tanlac Relieves Trouble

"I had almost lost the use of my limbs from rheumatism and my hands were so swollen I couldn't take off my rings, but since I took Tanlac I have nearly forgotten I ever had rheumatism at all," said Mrs. Mary O'Neill, who resides at 16 Starr Street, Halifax, Canada.

"I could talk all day and not even get started telling how I suffered with rheumatism and indigestion for the past four years," she continued. "I would want to eat and try to, but it didn't do me any good, for gas would form in my stomach and press up against my heart and put me in misery for hours at a time. Many a time I have had to stop work about the house on account of dizziness and shortness of breath. I would just have to lie down and get quiet until my breathing would get easier. Then heartburn and a blinding headache would set in and when I would get up and start across the room, I would have to catch myself to keep from falling in the floor. I was weak and felt too worn out and tired all the time to be anything my natural self and all the medicine I took didn't make me feel any better. Then rheumatism set in and the pains would seem to start in my shoulders and joints and go through my whole body. My joints would swell so that I could hardly move for the stiffness and pain. At night I would lay awake in misery and often wouldn't get any rest at all. Most of the pain would be in my left side, and I couldn't have slept on my left side nor wouldn't have tried for a thousand dollars.

"I took the advice of a young man who is boarding at my house and tried Tanlac, and I am mighty glad I did. Tanlac is a wonderful medicine for it has not only relieved my stomach trouble entirely, but the rheumatism is also a thing of the past. I can get around the house and go just anywhere I want to, like I had never had rheumatism at all. My appetite has come back like old times and I can eat and enjoy just the biggest kind of a meal and never have a minutes trouble. The heartburn disappeared when I got relief from the indigestion and I can sleep all night long and wake in the morning feeling fine. My fingers have gone down to their natural size and neither myself nor anybody else could tell I ever had rheumatism. I'll certainly tell anybody that I see what Tanlac has done for me, and will be glad to recommend it in every way possible for I am thankful for the relief it has brought me." Tanlac is sold in Hartland by Estey & Curtis Co., in Bristol by Dr. G. W. Somerville, in Centreville by Stevens Bros., and in Woodstock by E. W. Malt.

OUR SOLDIER'S GRAVE

Dear Editor: After reading the letter in the Daily Telegraph about decorating and beautifying the Graves of our Soldiers in France and Flanders I feel I have a message for our people here who have loved ones that have paid the price that has made us a free people to enjoy our lives as British people under our own laws and customs and family ways. I was in France six months after the Armistice was signed, I visited the battlefields where we had fought the Hun in 1917 and was in Belgium and a few weeks in England, and I want to tell the parents, wives, sisters, and people that the graves of your loved ones in France, Belgium and the British Isles are being well cared for. In England I have visited several of our war cemeteries and always found graves well attended to, beautiful flowers growing, graves mounded up, and neat with the regulation cross, with name and number plainly printed. At Folkeston and Seaford as well as in most of places in England the soldiers cemeteries are in or attached to the civilian cemetery and on certain days the school children are marched to the Soldiers graves by their teachers or some public person and they march two by two, each carrying ferns, bouquets etc., which go to decorating the graves of your own dear ones who have all honour over there. Patriotic readings and suitable songs are sung, followed by prayers and this is repeated quite often.

The sorrowing mothers who have boys of their own buried in France where they cannot go themselves take a few graves of our Canadian boys and visit them regularly with bouquets and also care for and cultivate flowers on the graves. Twice on Sabbath days I have gone to the resting place of our dead in England and each time found a large number of people there visiting and beautifying our Canadian graves. In France and Flanders great care has been taken to have each grave well made and they lie in regular rows all under care of our own British people. The French are very sympathetic and it is one of the most prominent traits of the French people to lavish attention on the graves of their dead. It was no new sight in France to see the graves of

Perth Locals

On Friday morning, Mrs. Cronk, one of our oldest and most highly respected residents, passed away at the home of her son Edward, with whom she lived. She had been in her usual health and death came very suddenly. She had suffered for many years with rheumatism, but bore all her pain very patiently, never complaining. Her husband died several years ago, also a number of children. Two children survive, namely, Mrs. Cecelia Armstrong and Edward Cronk. The funeral took place on Saturday afternoon from her late home to the Larlee Creek Baptist church, and in spite of a busy day quite a large number of friends gathered to pay their last tribute to the deceased who had won the hearts of young and old by her gentle, uncomplaining manner. Rev. A. H. Sisson and Rev. A. Hatfield officiated. Mrs. Mins Armstrong, Mrs. R. J. McCrea, B. J. McCrea, C. W. Lewis and M. H. Craig sang some appropriate hymns with Mrs. A. G. Ganter as organist. Many beautiful floral offerings adorned the casket. The bearers of the pall were, C. W. Lewis, George McLaughlin, J. P. Armstrong and Wetmore Davidson. The remains were laid to rest in the family lot adjoining the church. The deceased leaves besides her two children to mourn, several grandchildren and great grandchildren beside many other relatives and friends.

TEETHING TROUBLES

Baby's teething time is a time of worry for most mothers. Baby's little gums become swollen and tender; his bowels get out of order and constipation, colic or even diarrhoea sets in. To make the teething period easy Baby's Own Tablets should be given the little one. They sweeten the stomach; regulate the bowels and keep baby good natured. Concerning them Mrs. Marcel D. LeClanc, Memramook, West, N.B., writes: "I have used Baby's Own Tablets for the past six years and have found them indispensable. To my mind nothing can equal them in allaying the fever accompanying teething. I would not be without them and can strongly recommend them to other mothers."

The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Don't be Dyspeptic

The dyspeptic has thought only of the stomach when the real source of trouble is in the Liver, Kidneys and Bowels. Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills thoroughly cleanse and purify the digestive and excretory system and in this way put the organs of digestion into splendid working condition. A little patient urging on of these organs when sluggish will restore the habit of healthful digestion.

Burnt Land Brook

Mrs. Wm. L. Johnson returned from her visit to Fredericton and vicinity last week.

John S. Jenkins accompanied his son Vernon to Fredericton last week, returning on Wednesday. Vernon is attending business college.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Drillen, Brewer, Maine, arrived here a week ago by auto and are visiting with Mrs. Drillen's parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Jenkins. They expect to motor to Halifax next week, Mrs. Jenkins and Mrs. Lockhart accompanying them.

Mrs. Wm. E. Everett was taken sick at Fort Fairfield last week. Her son George brought her home on Sunday. She had something like a stroke. There is no improvement at this writing.

H. W. Wood, post-office inspector, passed through the place last Wednesday.

Mrs. Wm. L. Johnson entertained the sewing circle this week. There was small attendance.

A Builder of Health

Nothing can be of greater assistance in building up the system than Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, for this food-cure forms new, rich blood, and nourishes and restores the feeble, wasted nerve cells. Gradually and naturally the body and mind regain vigor and energy, and you feel again the joy of living which comes only to people in good health.

COBBLESTONES.

Used for Paving of Streets. Also for Missiles.

What could be more commonplace than a cobblestone? And yet, as is often the case with familiar objects, it has its points of interest of it? It is not a manufactured product, and nature, at the start, does not make rocks in any such form.

It was rounded and smoothed by water—a big pebble rolled for thousands of years perhaps in a stream, so that all of its angles have been worn away.

Necessarily, it is of very hard material; otherwise it would have been broken up and reduced to tiny fragments. And therefore it makes a most serviceable material for the paving of streets.

Not very many years ago the principal streets in every city were paved with cobbles. They were an up-to-date improvement, doing away with the mud which in thoroughfares had previously threatened to engulf vehicles and foot-passengers in wet weather.

They made rather rough going, of course. Nowadays a cobbled street is avoided whenever possible by vehicles. Traffic over cobblestones in a big city made a veritable roar of noise from early morn to late at night.

Cobbles came in time to be replaced by "Belgian blocks"—rectangular blocks of cut stone so planted as to afford a smooth surface. This was deemed an improvement quite wonderful. But Belgian blocks soon loose their smoothness. Not so with asphalt, if kept in repair. Much of our comfort at the present day we owe to asphalt.

Another disadvantage of cobbles was that a mob, by tearing up a street could always provide itself with effective ammunition against police or militia. A cobblestone, well thrown, is a deadly projectile, and it fits the hand excellently. With barricades hastily improvised and an unlimited supply of cobbles, the mobs of the Commune in Paris, and on other historic occasions, were able to defy organized soldiery.

Here is an advantage of the asphalt street. It cannot be torn up offhand; and, if it could, it would furnish no missiles.

HARTLAND, N. B., SEPT. 18, 1919

CARLETON-VICTORIA

Thomas Caldwell, who has been nominated as a farmer candidate in Carleton-Victoria, seems to be going strong, and at this distance looks like a sure winner. B. Frank Smith, M.P.P., is very anxious to go to Ottawa as a Unionist, but as the water is rather chilly these dull September days, he hesitates to take the plunge. Mr. Smith thinks that he might stand some show in a three-cornered contest, and in an effort to bring about a situation of that kind he has employed a graft newspaper to hand out bouquets to George W. Upham, ex-M.P.P., with the hope that he might be persuaded to enter the field a Liberal candidate. It is a nice little game, but a very old one, and altogether too transparent to deceive anybody. The Liberals of Carleton-Victoria owe nothing to B. Frank Smith and they have no intention of assisting him to secure a seat in Parliament.—Fredericton Mail.

WHY NOT?

It is rather singular that up to the present moment nobody, not even the Fredericton graft organ, has urged the claims of Hon. H. F. McLeod, M. P. for York-Sunbury, for the vacant portfolio in the Federal cabinet caused by the resignation of Hon. F. B. Carvell. Mr. McLeod has been in public life for eleven years, and before going to Ottawa was a member of the provincial cabinet. In addition to his long service to the Conservative party, he has to his credit four years of overseas service, which ought to count for something. Mr. McLeod is still on the shady side of fifty, and with a cabinet vacancy existing at Ottawa, there are many people who would like to know why his name is only mentioned in connection with a county court judgeship which is not vacant.—Fredericton Mail.

tributed to the victory that has sustained the principles of liberty, justice, freedom, democracy and the constitution under which we live and are governed.

The Canadian Soldiers have assisted in sustaining British Institutions and brought honor and glory to themselves and Canada. We see reactionary movements rising up in all of the countries overseas, as well as with our neighbors to the South of us where life and property are being destroyed and it is splendid utterance coming from our returned soldiers' organizations in Canada, that they will not tolerate Bolshevism in this country.

The great problem now confronting us is, to settle this spirit of unrest. To restore matters to normal conditions will tax the greatest minds of the age. Commissions are being appointed, both in Canada and the United States, to reduce the high cost of living, a procedure well taken to prevent excessive profits. Along with this, we will next have the great problem of the liquidation of the tremendous war debt that Canada has assumed in the prosecution and as a consequence of the war.

Both of these great problems are answered by the same remedy and that is, Production. We read in the public press and hear theories enunciated by public men as a remedy for those two great problems. But this should be the slogan of all governments, Imperial, Federal, Provincial, Municipal and Civic, as well as every loyal citizen.—Production, Production, Production.

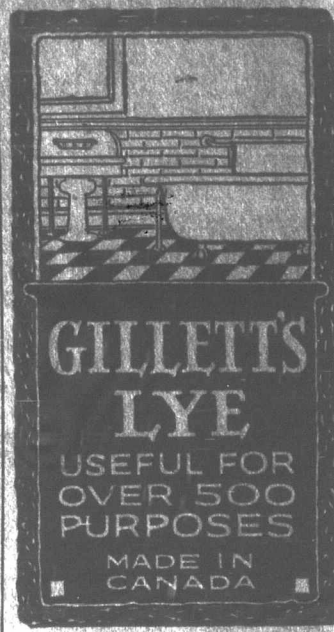

I don't think I am pessimistic when I say that, at the present time, while money is plentiful, we are living in a period of false prosperity. Money is plentiful and we are glad it is so, and we can't afford to stop until we are tired over this period of unrest. We cannot stop; we must carry on. The industrial life of the country must be kept going, even at a loss; but the money in circulation is largely from our country's borrowings, being expended in the legitimate expenses of the war, and our apparent prosperity is of a kind to a man who has mortgaged his farm, ceases work and spends the proceeds freely, living in the enjoyment of all the luxuries that money will buy; his obligation will some day have to be met.

The most positive evidence of our position is seen in the fact that our money is discounted in the United States. The balance of trade is against us.

I had a fear that the Americans would put an embargo against our potatoes going into their market, but a survey of the potato production in the United States has satisfied them that, on account of failure in the large potato-growing States, their supply will not be equal to their requirements, and, in view of the high cost of living, it would not be wise to shut out our potatoes. The large amount of money coming from the United States for our potatoes will assist in restoring the balance of trade.

Coming down to the activities of the Dept. of Agriculture:

In 1918, when it was not known how long the war would continue, word was passed from the Imperial to the Federal, and along to the Provincial Governments, that, by reason of the scarcity of shipping, the long voyage to the Argentine, together with the submarine dangers, the scarcity of the food supply, presented a serious aspect to the fighting forces at the front, as well as for the sustenance of the civil population overseas; as fast as bottoms could be obtained the wheat was shipped from the elevators of Canada and the United States, which greatly reduced the quantities in the elevators of both countries.

As a result of a conference held at Ottawa of all the Provinces, the Department put on a campaign for Increased Production; we were assisted in the work by the Municipalities, favored by Divine Providence and raised a million bushels of wheat in New Brunswick.

In order to encourage the continuance of wheat production, I recommended an increase of the amount of bonus to be paid to encourage wheat mills from $1000 for a 35 bbl. mill to $2000 for a 50 bbl. mill. This increase was granted and six new mills will have been erected by next year, which will thoroughly equip the Province with modern flour mills.

To relieve the high cost of wool and meat, a campaign to place sheep on every hillside was started, and the first line of credit given to farmers by the Government was provided, to assist these farmers to finance new flocks. As a result, this Province is carrying 10,000 more sheep to-day than it did three years ago, and we want to see this increase continue until our export will be not ear loads but train-loads, as they are profitable stock and increase, with proper care, rapidly.

We have also made marked improvements in our dairy products. Three years ago local dealers would not buy New Brunswick cheese, except from one or two factories. To-day, with proper supervision, we have brought the standard up to that of Ontario product and our dealers are giving prices for New Brunswick cheese equal to that obtained for the product of other provinces.

Our fruit crop this year is more abundant than for a number of years past.

The Honey crop, a sample of which will be seen in our Department Exhibit, has been increased over a hundred per cent under the skilful and scientific management of our staff.

I announced at the Opening of the Woodstock Exhibition what I believe to be a very important policy of the Government, to be inaugurated, and want to repeat it here:

The farmers of this Province are paying out enormous monies for the purchase of Fertilizer, necessary for the potato industry. We propose to utilize our natural resources, purchase and put in operation three or four Limestone Grinding Plants on the lime deposits in different parts of the Province, which will, to a great extent, substitute and relieve the large expenditure now being made for commercial fertilizer. Last year I had an expert procure sample of soil in the different counties and find an acidity, that will be able to give to the farmers for actual cost, saving, in many localities the present cost of transportation, which lime amounts to nearly as much as the original cost.

Last year a large delegation of your citizens waited on the Government, requesting a grant to your Exhibition, and at the time I suppose placed the responsibility of refusal upon me; but I am sure in looking back you will feel that I was justified as there was then an uncertainty as to how the war would terminate and we were busy with our Production Movement.

Your Exhibition has through the efficient management of your staff, together with the business methods of your Secretary, already established a reputation as one of the best Provincial Exhibitions, especially from the standpoint of an Agricultural Show. St. Stephen has put on a particularly good agricultural show; weather conditions have been against both Woodstock and St. Stephen; and Chatham, coming after yours, will, no doubt, have a splendid exhibit, as the stock will go from here, there, to compete for their prizes.

You are starting under very favorable prospects of the best of weather, and I am sure the success of this first after the war Provincial Exhibition will be the best ever, from every point of view, and the thing we are most proud of is the war is over and the Union Jack is flying at your mast-head.

I now declare this Exhibition formally open to the Public.

On Sunday evening at the close of the service in the Methodist church Miss Barnett was given an address and a purse of money by her many friends and well-wishers in the congregation.

There have been several rare fine days during the past week and farmers have been making the best of them. Much grain and potatoes have been housed. Grain is more or less damaged by the long wet spell and potatoes are beginning to show some signs of rot. On Monday potatoes were bringing $3, but the price has gradually eased down to $2.75.

P. C. Barter and his family suffered a rude shock on Saturday evening when their nest house on Hillcrest performed the amazing stunt of falling down cellar. The cellar was recently dug and the house was resting on temporary supports. Recent heavy rains caused a cave-in with the aforementioned result. No one was injured, but the building was considerably damaged. It has since been jacked up and made secure.

On Saturday evening Sheriff Foster received a message asking him to overhaul a band of gipsies thought to be approaching Hartland. The complaint was Sidney Giberson of Bristol, who claimed he had been fleeced of $15. The gipsies, consisting of a number of adult men and women and about a dozen children of assorted sizes, were met a short distance north of town. They were travelling in very nice cars—a Hudson Super-Six and a Buick bearing Ontario tags. Before Police Magistrate Kelly they agreed to make restitution and to get out of the country by noon of the next day.

G. W. V. A. Memorial for Deceased Soldiers

Hartland Branch of G. W. Veterans had an interesting meeting on the evening of Sept. 4. Eight new members were added.

A resolution was unanimously passed to set aside a day each year as a memorial day in honor of the dear comrades who paid the full sacrifice for us all during the war. The Sunday nearest Peace Day, June 28, of each year was the day chosen, and on this day all Veterans who can will meet together at the church chosen by the executive committee.

The matter of a Memorial of some description for our comrades who went west in the war from this part of the country was discussed and it was decided to begin at once to enlist public sympathy and attention. Pres. E. A. Britton was authorized to make our plans known and to interview our citizens in the matter and to look into the different plans as to whether it would be a monument or a tablet or a suitable hall. Our secretary was instructed to write up a short article for the local paper. Let us work together and let us do something at once an honour and a credit to Hartland and its loyal citizens; an honour to ourselves and a fitting tribute in memory of our noble dead, who died that we might live, and live in our own way of liberty and good fellowship, as the Anglo-Saxon people live. The men and boys died that our children could grow up as Canadian and British children and not hear the harsh commands of a foreign officer as a task master over them.

We, the returned men, now Great War Veterans, will do all we can to perpetuate the memory of our Comrades, for well do we know how to appreciate them. We were there and we can understand; and if our comrades lie in Flanders Fields and in historic France, or in our dear motherland, their memorial with each Hero's name deeply engraved will be here in Hartland for our and your children, and our and your children's children to see. They will not forget who it was who died for a dear deep principle during 1914-19.

We solicit the help of all the people who were bereft in this cruel war and we extend a helping hand to all who will aid in this Patriotic work to place a fitting memorial for those of whom we are so proud.

Election Card

To the Electors of the Federal Constituency of Carleton-Victoria:

Having been nominated by a Convention of the UNITED FARMERS OF NEW BRUNSWICK, which was held in Woodstock on September 2nd, to contest the coming Bye-Election, in the above Constituency to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of the Dominion Minister of Public Works, and as the Election is to be held on October 27th and the time being so short, it will be impossible for me to personally call on all the Electors in the two Counties; I, therefore, take this opportunity to state to you what the aims of the UNITED FARMERS are.

They are, in brief, as follows: THE UNITED FARMERS are strictly independent of both the old Political Parties, and their representatives will be perfectly free to support any measure that is for the best interests of the Farmers of Canada, and just as free to oppose any measure that they feel is not in the interests of the Farmers.

And Canada, being an Agricultural Country, we believe that any legislation that is beneficial to Agriculture is indirectly beneficial to every citizen of Canada.

THE UNITED FARMERS also stand for PURITY in elections, as they believe that the lack of this is the starting point of all the Political Craft and Corruption which is so much in evidence in Canada to-day.

We would therefore appeal to every loyal citizen of Canada to support the FARMERS PARTY, and to the Electors of Carleton-Victoria to support me as the UNITED FARMERS' candidate in the coming Bye-Election.

More Restitution.
Frenchmen are evidently determined that the righting of the wrong of 1871 shall be full and complete. A recent despatch from Paris tells of how Henri Galli and "over 200 deputies" have put their names to the following motion: "The Chamber counts upon the Government to demand at the Peace Conference the restitution to France of the flags delivered up to Germany by the capitulation of Metz." No fewer than 41 flags of the army of Metz, declares one authority, have been, for 48 years, hanging as trophies in the garison church at Potsdam. Not one of these flags was captured on the battlefield. They were treacherously surrendered by Marshal Bazaine. No doubt the 200 deputies and many other Frenchmen recall Gambetta's grim threat of many years ago: "The army will recover the flags so odiously abandoned."

No Good.
The fact that the soil of many parts of Belgium is riddled with shells, exploded and unexploded, is one of the grim facts of the war which will do the world no harm to realize; whilst the fact that the existence of the unexploded shell constitutes a danger, unless it is provided against, there is no use gainsaying. It is, however, to be regretted that the Belgian authorities have lighted upon the idea of terrifying the people, and especially the children, into caution by means of the gruesome posters which are to-day steadily plastering the walls of Belgian towns and villages. The world has had enough, and more than enough, of such methods, Belgium most of all. There are no good, and the sooner there is a final end to them the better for all concerned.

In American shipyards labor represents 70 per cent of the cost of a vessel's construction.

A New Volcano.
A Russian wireless telegram recently stated that Mt. Elbrus, which has been clad with ice from time immemorial, had been discharging smoke for some days. It added that ice blocks which have existed above the snow line for thousands of years were being carried to the foot of the mountain in numerous torrents. Mt. Elbrus is the loftiest peak in the Caucasus mountains and in Europe. It is 18,526 feet high.

SAYS LEMON JUICE WILL REMOVE FRECKLES

Girl! Make this cheap beauty lotion to clear and whiten your skin.

Squeeze the juice of two lemons into a bottle containing three ounces of orchard white, shake well, and you have a quarter pint of the best freckle and tan lotion, and complexion beautifier, at very, very small cost.
Your grocer has the lemons and any drug store or toilet counter will supply three ounces of orchard white for a few cents. Massage this sweetly fragrant lotion into the face, neck, arms and hands each day and see how freckles and blemishes disappear and how clear, soft and white the skin becomes. Yes! it is harmless.

All for Sadie

By NEWTON A. FURBER

The Lloyd School of Scientific Beautification boasted imposing, two-color letter-heads, bearing the picture of the 12-story Range building and that of a handsome lady in evening dress, labeled "Mrs. Josephine Lloyd, president."

The school, in reality, consisted of one Harry Lloyd Rugglesford, one rebuilt typewriter, one peroxidized six-week stenographer, one second-hand roll-top desk, and a small dingy room on the top floor of the Range building. The pictured building, on the stationery was, therefore, a case of metonymy, and that of the shoulder show a gentle fake.

His course of instruction was by correspondence. It comprised 12 lessons. The fee was $20-in-advance-you-pay-but-see-results-guaranteed.

He advertised in newspapers and western magazines whose advertising managers were not yet overwhelmed by advertising reform.

When the beauty doctor's follow-up system was slow in convincing the village belles that they should be scientifically beautified, he made haste to hold forth the lure of a special rate of $15.42—$12.36—$9.18—$7.20—$3.05.

He jumped his hands and figures by the quality of the stationery upon which mademoiselle had propounded her inquiries. As a judge of human nature—I mean feminine nature, for there is a difference by the stationery route, Harry Lloyd Rugglesford was an adept.

The twelve printed lessons cost him fourteen cents. Advertising he figured at fifteen cents an inquiry. Office rent was seven dollars a month. The depreciation of the rebuilt and of the P. B. stenographer were small. Overhead expenses were less. Hence his sound judgment allowed him not infrequently to descend to the one dollar and seventy-seven cents mark.

Forgive me, reader, for this lagging start and the array of dull statistics. I apologize also to the editor, the typewriter man and the proof reader. Anon will I endeavor to redeem myself.

Do you crave romance, love, osculation? A dab of pathos, a shift of scene, a few surprises! A villain, brief paragraphs, lively conversation? Oh very well. Perhaps I can accommodate you.

'Twas June.
How's that for a telescoped paragraph?
H. Lloyd Rugglesford swung jauntily off the trolley car, walked at the man on the corner decorated with the sign, "Please Help the Blind," received an answering wink, paused at the florist's, purchased a 50-cent bunch of violets, and was elevated to the twelfth floor of the Range building.

The doctor of beauty entered the beauty school with a satisfied air. Sadie, the stenographer, was pounding out form letter No. 7. That same epistle was calculated to plunge the fair recipient into the seventh inferno of despair because she had not yet purchased a money order and essayed the route of scientific beautification.

Form letter No. 7 was a masterpiece of selling talk on the scientific elimination of pimples, freckles, moles, blotches, birthmarks, hair on the face, ingrown fingernails and the like.

"Hullo, Sadie," said the beauty doctor. "I believe you said you liked violets. I've brought you a few."
He handed her his offering with a truly Elizabethan bow.

"Ever so much, Harry," she said, gaily, raising the bouquet to her pretty retronous nose. "I haven't saw as well a bunch as this all spring. You're there with the keen eye for nifty flowers, all right. Them roses the other day was too dear for anything."

pot of steaming Young Hysan, he held a fair young creature, with red cheeks, eyes like violets, retreating nose, and hair of dainty, drug-store flaxen hue.

You guessed it, reader. It was Sadie.

For weeks had this wonderful picture hung in Harry's mind. For weeks had he argued the question of marriage pro and con. At times he had been on the point of laying bare his soul and begging Sadie to go with him to the courthouse and clergy, and thus make him the happiest beauty doctor on earth.

Yet, always, before he could seize her fair hand and begin his matrimonial canvass, a still small voice had warned him that before he hitched his chariot to a marriage license he must needs address Satan in the terms of the Biblical command, eschew his unbridled and dangerous calling, and cast about him for a more genteel and desirable vocation.

He knew that already a post-office inspector was camping on his trail, and he knew not the day nor the hour when a cruel and untimely governmental jolt would relegate the institution of scientific beautification into the discard. Incessantly had the sinister vision of the post-office inspector been haunting him, fitting into his dream by night, harassing his thoughts by day.

What—marry Sadie while standing thus upon the thin ice of his professional life? No, it wouldn't be right to commit such a reckless act.

He had therefore cast about him for a buyer upon whose shoulders to unload the institution of latter-day learning. And yesterday he had found a man who had offered him a thousand dollars for the gay enterprise, forever to have and to hold. He had accepted the offer, and closed the deal with impatient dispatch.

And now he had resolved to turn his youthful energies into the real-estate business, place a "best investment" upon Sadie's finger, and become a desirable citizen beyond the pale of post-office inspectors and kindred worries of his hitherto dangerous pursuits.

Little wonder that Harry's thoughts were thronged with fashions, fapjacks, frying pans and fluffy kimono instead with the unregenerate details of a business taboo!

Harry pulled himself together, wheeled his chair about with a suddenness that startled Sadie, and said: "Sadie, I've been wanting to tell you something for a good many weeks."

"What's on your mind, kiddo?" asked the girl coyly.

"Well," pursued the beauty doctor, "I've come to the conclusion that this correspondence school graft isn't exactly the stout for an ambitious young chap like me. I've been cleaning up quite a bit of velvet in it, but the fact is it's not precisely on the level. You know that, Sadie."

"It ain't the sort of business that a man would like to have his wife, for instance, tell the neighbors her husband was in. It ain't what he'd like to leave to his son when it came to an aerial in the direction of the sweet by-and-by."

"Worse than that, there's been a post-office inspector hanging round here for a couple of weeks trying to get a line on the institution. I've stopped him and swapped conversation with him a number of times myself. He's one of those smooth guys, and never tipped it off that he was interested in the school at all."

"But I've caught him wandering round here sniffling too often to make me feel comfortable. His snooping round here is getting on my nerves. Sadie, and I've decided to sell and get out from under before they let something drop on me."

"My successor takes charge tomorrow. I'm going to take a whirl at the real-estate business, Sadie. What do you think of that?" he added triumphantly, with a conscious blush of pride.

"Oh, get out," said Sadie. "Are you on the level?"

"On the dead level, Sadie. And listen," he continued, drawing his chair closer to hers. "I'm doing it all for you, kiddo."

"It will be hard for me, awfully hard, to break into anything like the real-estate business after being in this correspondence work so long, and I've a hunch I'll have a hard time getting to like the new business, but I'm doing it for you, so that I can be on the level and decent and look folks in the face from now on."

NOW RAISES 600 CHICKENS

After Being Relieved of Organic Trouble by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Oregon, Ill.—"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for an organic trouble which pulled me down until I could not put my foot to the floor and could scarcely do my work, and as I live on a small farm and raise six hundred chickens every year it made it very hard for me."

"I saw the Compound advertised in my paper, and tried it. It has restored my health so I can do all my work and I am so grateful that I am recommending it to my friends."—Mrs. D. M. ALTERS, R. R. 4, Oregon, Ill.

Only women who have suffered the tortures of such troubles and have dragged along from day to day can realize the relief which this famous root and herb remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, brought to Mrs. Alters.

Women everywhere in Mrs. Alters' condition should realize that such a recommendation, and if there are any complications write Lydia E. Pinkham's Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass., for advice. The result of their 30 years experience is at your service.

The System is Poisoned

By Failure of the Liver and Kidneys to Purify the Blood Relief Obtained by Use of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills.

Too much eating of heavy, highly-seasoned foods and too little outdoor exercise are the most frequent causes. The liver is open, becomes torpid and inactive, the bowels are constipated, the kidneys are overworked in an effort to get rid of the accumulated poisons and become down, headache, backache, aching limbs sound a warning note, and when this is not heeded the natural development is rheumatism, lumbago, and painful and fatal forms of kidney disease.

To best overcome this condition Dr. Chase worked out in his private practice a prescription which has come to be known as Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, because of their combined action on the filtering organs. No treatment has ever proven so successful in awakening the action of the kidneys, liver and bowels, and thereby cleansing the system of all impurities. For this reason Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills have a world-wide reputation as the most thorough remedy for rheumatism, lumbago, chronic indigestion and constipation.

Mrs. Alex. Gordon, Walkerton, Ont., writes: "A few years ago I suffered from kidney and liver trouble, with pains in my back. I had heard of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills being good for this, so I commenced taking them. I had only taken a couple of boxes when the trouble was all removed."

Mrs. M. Nickall, 124 Milton street, Sarnia, writes: "I have found Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills an excellent remedy. I suffered considerably with kidney trouble and backache, but after I had taken five boxes of the Kidney-Liver Pills they gave me relief. Since then, which was about five years ago, I keep them on hand, and use them whenever I feel the need of them."

Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, one pill a dose, 33 cents a box, all dealers, or Edmundson, Bates & Co., Limited, Toronto. Sample box free if you mention this paper and enclose 3c. stamp to pay postage.

PILES

Do not suffer another day with itching, bleeding, smarting, and pain. Piles. No surgical operation required. Dr. Chase's Ointment will relieve you at once and will certainly cure you. "I'm awfully sorry, Harry," she said, "awfully sorry. But you know that post-office inspector you saw round here? Well, he ain't been investigating the school at all. He's been round here to see me— And—well—him and I was married yesterday at noon."

F. S.—Somehow, the moral of my story has become slightly twisted. It is either: "He who hesitates is lost," or "Act in haste and repent at leisure." You may take your choice.

Austria Headed Road Movement.
Curiously enough, the question of removal of snow from main highways which is now being agitated was first undertaken nationally by Austria in 1877, at which time a law was passed compelling municipalities to remove snow from state roads in order to keep them open for travel.

A well-painted Roof adds Distinction to the House

THE roof crowns the house—it may "make" or "mar" the whole structure. In shingle-roofed houses, shingle-stain plays a most important part in rounding out the harmonious appearance of the home exterior. We advise the use of either as a stain in which the shingles are dipped before being put on—or as a stain for application to the completed roof.

B-H Anchor Shingle Stain is made by the makers of B-H Roofing Paint and has been a Great White Lead. Like these other famous products of a famous paint house, B-H Anchor Shingle Stain is "first choice" among people who know and appreciate good paint.

We have it in many beautiful shades—a shade for every desirable color scheme. The harmoniousness of this stain describes it as "TOP quality for the home." All the ingredients are completely endorsed by chemists. We know it covers all other similar products.

A Modern Wizard

By OTTILIA FRANCES PFEIFFER

(Copyright, Western Newspaper Union.)

Morris Drake lived by his wit and was a man of speedy impressions. He had in him a streak of the inventive, and one success in that line, although a small one, had made him a dreamer and a speculator. At a time when the water of the town he lived in, supplied by a river, became muddy and unsanitary, Morris devised a filter from which he derived quite a handsome amount.

After that for two years he failed to strike anything tangible, and one full summer morning, looking for something to turn up, left a little village, tramped a good ten miles, came within sight of the spires and steeples of a small city, and turned into the yard of a rickety house, where a well invited. Just beyond the rude habitation were the ruins of a large factory building. A great mound of refuse stood high near by.

Morris quivered his throat and sat down on the doorstep of the kitchen of the house to rest. He had no idea that the house was inhabited.

"Hello!" he exclaimed, as sounds from within reached his hearing. "Some one is crying, and it's a woman."

Low, but intense sobbing echoed from beyond the door. Morris was very human and sympathetic. He pushed open the door, which stood slightly ajar. He looked into the kitchen. Seated on a rickety chair he made out a swaying figure. It was that of a girl not more than eighteen, who seemed immersed in poignant, uncontrollable grief. Morris impulsively started toward her. She looked up as she heard his footsteps, shrank a trifle and arose to her feet.

"Don't be frightened," spoke Morris abruptly. "I don't belong here, and didn't know that anybody did. I heard you crying. Are you in trouble, little woman?"

She scanned his face in a certain hesitating way.

By bits she told of her troubles, encouraged by an attentive listener. The friendly nods and earnest face of Morris seemed to give her courage. She was Alice Wayne and had lived with her father in the old house until a year previous, having no mother. Mr. Wayne owned the bleak, untillable land around the wreck of a house, and had leased it for 25 years as a building site for a factory putting out a long list of commodities requiring zinc in their manufacture. The amount paid was small and not sufficient to support them. Alice had gone to the city to learn the millinery trade to help support her father. Her father had died, the factory had been destroyed by fire. Without a friend in the world, she had returned to find the future facing her without cheer or promise.

"I don't know what to do," she told Morris. "The land here and the little house is mine, but somebody has made free to take most of its furniture away. The lawyer says the land is absolutely worthless. All the same this seems like home to me. If some one could advise me what to do!"

Morris regarded the sad-faced, confiding girl with infinite pity and interest. Their mutual loneliness appealed to him powerfully. He was a glowing token of interest as he asked her this and that about the town and its possibilities for work. He pricked up his ears as she casually referred to the great mound. It represented an accumulation of zinc scraps from the factory of more than three years.

"I want to look over that big heap," he told her, and went out, did so, returned, and regarding Alice Wayne with speculative eye, and too with a certain latent excitement of manner.

"I suppose everything on the land here goes with it—that rubbish heap included?" he asked.

"Why, yes," she replied, "the lawyer told me so. But what a strange question!"

"Is it?" smiled Morris with a chuckle. "Little woman, we are two lonely souls. Suppose you make me your business agent? I have made a great discovery. If you will place full confidence in me, and follow my directions, I may work a great thing out of this barren outfit. Have you any money?"

"Very little, indeed," sighed Alice. "Very well, I have fifty dollars. I am going to divide it with you. Then you go to the town and stay in some respectable boarding house, while I work out my plan. Oh, don't hesitate! You shall pay back the advance and a good percentage for my services."

Morris Drake had, indeed, made a discovery, or rather he had formulated a plan for turning zinc into gold! The war had increased the consumption of zinc to a point where tin had to be used as a substitute. Scrap zinc had risen to 37 cents a pound, being employed for eyelets and minor utilities, and, with so much sort coal being used, ground zinc scraps were used to burn out sooty chimneys.

There were tons and tons of the old refuse, and Morris found a speculator to finance his plan. He came to Alice radiant one day to announce that there was money enough already paid down to make her comfortable for life.

"Little woman, you are a real heiress, and I am a man of business once again," he said. "What say you to a life partnership?" And what could Alice do but "Yes" for she had loved him from the day they so strangely

Garage for Sale

F. Hagerman & Son offer for sale their garage business, including, stock-in-trade, good will, etc. The building is 35x70. The top floor is used as a public hall and moving picture house, known as The Star Theatre. The centre floor can accommodate 20 cars for storage, or can be used for battery work and tire repairing. The ground floor, which is of cement, is used as a garage, and is no doubt the best available business location in New Brunswick.

We fitted up for the Battery Business with everything except the lead burning outfit. For charging batteries we have a 900 watt generator and can easily care for 200 to 400 batteries this coming winter.

Our Garage Car is a Gray-Dort Special and has covered 3000 miles. It has been recently cleaned and fitted with new tires all round.

We are located on the corner of Main and Court streets, in the new and prosperous Town of Hartland which is located in the centre of Carleton county which is undoubtedly one of the finest agricultural districts in the maritime provinces.

In the meantime we are here to do business until we sell out. Best reasons given for selling.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL ITEMS

A very good representation of Centreville citizens availed themselves of the opportunity to register attendance at the Woodstock fair last week despite the unfavorable weather. All were much impressed with the fair in general and the great work that the association had accomplished in the erection of their plant. The island, admirably fitted by nature for just such a purpose, is beautiful without adornment. To this the management have added a beautiful and commodious modern exhibition building, a race track, unsurpassed in the maritime provinces or Maine, a large roomy grandstand with other detached buildings necessary for fair purposes. And all this in one brief season. With additional zest and enterprise during the next year, this event will give a dire black eye to our near American institutions of long standing. The only thing of evil about the whole affair is the dangerous approach from the bridge. Faulty brakes on autos ascending or descending may mean a bad mix-up some day. This could easily be corrected by the substitution of a sort of pontoon bridge from the Woodstock side where the river runs very narrow and shallow. The plant, by the way, presents a particularly fetching effect at night when the lights are turned on and looks like a miniature of Luna Park.

The villagers were much shocked on Monday evening the 8th inst. to learn of the death of John R. Conroy. Deceased was born here 31 years ago and had spent nearly all his life here. He leaves to mourn, his wife, formerly Miss Hattie Wilson of Mars Hill, Me., and two children, Burton, aged six years, and Eanis, aged two years. The funeral was held on Wednesday from his late home and at the Baptist church at Tracey Mills, with Rev. W. J. Hurlow officiating, clergyman. Interment was made in the family lot in the cemetery adjoining the church.

Mr. and Mrs. F. K. P. MacKenzie spent a day last week with their son Frank in Presque Isle.

The Misses Mona and Thelma Scott are visiting their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Wiggin.

George Beckwith of Houlton spent the week-end with his uncle, Rex Beckwith.

Miss Pauline Balloch spent last week with friends in Woodstock.

L. H. Baldwin, teacher of the Superior School here received a cheque last week from F. A. Good, Frederickton, Secretary of the N. B. Branch of the Strathcona Trust as first prize awarded for Physical training in the school on the recommendation of the inspector. These prizes are awarded from the income of a Trust Fund of half a million dollars left for this purpose by the late Lord Strathcona, and are given to school showing the greatest proficiency in the schedule of physical training laid down for schools.

S. W. Niles and W. G. Bishop spent Monday and Tuesday hunting on the Tobique.

Mrs. Amos Giberson of Bath spent last week with her daughter Mrs. J. A. Gilland.

Mr. and Mrs. C. N. Sullivan and daughter Muriel returned on Friday from a two weeks vacation in Ontario.

A. O. Giberson spent Thursday in Woodstock.

The United Farmer's held a well attended meeting in their hall on Saturday evening, addressed by T. W. Caldwell, the Farmer's candidate and others.

Everyone is planning on taking at least one of the days off this coming week to attend the Centreville Fair. A good list of entries have been received and the management will do their utmost to give each and everyone a good time.

There is a commandment which reads "Thou shalt not steal." It does not seem to hold good with every body. Next time the young ladies and gentlemen from the other side of the river wish for a feed of apples it would be a real kindness if they would come to the door and ask for them. We are all willing to give them all they can eat, but we do object to having the trees shaken and apples trampled to pieces, besides the unearthly noises that disturbed the residents. We know their names and can publish them if they wish us to. People have found their poultry yards are being robbed as well as their orchards. Perhaps if a certain camp on the brook was destroyed more chickens would come to maturity. It is not as if the parents of these boys and girls were unable to buy these things for them.
