Town Put to Death

Under Direct Orders of Russian Authorities.

Some 5,000 Thrown Into a River-Esti mated That 50,000 Native Christians Have Been Butchered.

London, Sept. 21.-Authentic accounts have been received here, says the Moscow correspondent of the Standard, of a horrible massacre at Blagovestchensk, which was undoubtedly carried out under direct orders from the Russian authorities, and which then let loose the tide of slaughter through Amur. The entire Chinese population of 5,000 souls was escorted out of town to a point five miles up the Amur, and then, being led in batches of a few hundreds to the river bank, was ordered to cross over to the Chinese side. No boats were provided and the river is a mile wide. The Chinese were flung alive into the stream and were stabbed or shot at the least resistance, while Russian volunteers, who lined the bank, clubbed or shot any who attempted to land. Not one escaped alive. The river bank for miles was strewn with corpses. 50,000 CHRISTIANS BUTCHERED. Shanghai, Sept. 18. - Mr. Goodnew, the American consul, estimated today that between forty and fifty thousand native Christians have been murdered for refusing to recant. Washington, Sept. 30 .- The war department has received the following dispatch: "Taku (no date), Pekin, Sept. 17.-Following accepted here as reliable: Two daughters of Atwater and 26 others murdered at Tayuan, July 9. Clapp and wife, four others, murdered Taiku, July 31. Atwater, wife, two children, six others murdered by their escort near Pen Chow Fu, Aug. 15. All in Shan Si province. Same message reports six persons, Dixon and wife, Occurren and wife, single gentleman and single lady, as having escaped into the mountains from a mis-N EAST Sion thirty miles north of Takuan.

his presence attracted little attention. EXTERMINATION OF BOXERS. London, Sept. 20.—The Chinese min-ister here, Sir Chin Chen Lo Feng Luh, has received an imperial edict, which orders the Boxers to be exterminated, and says the missionaries at Pao Ting Fu are to be escorted by the troops of the acting viceroy and delivered to the commanders of the allied forces at Chang Sing Tien and Lu Kon Chiao.

RUSSIA'S ATTITUDE. London, Friday, Sept. 21, 4 a.m.-Such Pekin dispatches as appear this morning tend to confirm the suspicions regarding the attitude of Russia already expressed by Dr. Morrison, correspondent of the Times at the Chinese capital. The Daily News prints a telegram almost identical with the advices to the Daily Express from Pekin, but adding that in the opinion of the correspondent the Russians only desire to induce the other powers to withdraw. The Morning Post's Pekin representative, wiring Sept. 13, expresses the same opinion. He declares that M. De Giers will not go unless the other ministers go also.

BRITAIN'S STAND.

It was explained today at the British foreign office that "it was found inexpedient for the powers to accept the Russian withdrawal proposal," they had reliable information that "the Boxers were ready to reoccupy Pekin as soon as the allies retired.' BOXER STRONGHOLDS TAKEN. London, Sept. 20 .- The secretary of state for India has received the following dispatch from Gen. Dorward a command of the British troops at Tien Tsin, dated Wednesday, Sept. 12: "Occupied the headquarters of the loxers at Tel Li, 25 miles from Tien isin, Sept. 10. The enemy fled to eng Fang. LOOT FROM TIEN TSIN.

San Francisco, Sept. 20.—Revenue officers have brought down from the Mare Island navy yard on a govern-ment tug 154 cases of rare Oriental this country on the hospital ship Solace. The articles seized would net a small fortune. The duty is nearly 60 per cent. On this account most of the stuff, which includes loot from Tien Tsin, probably will be abandoned to the government. ANOTHER IMPERIAL DECREE. New York, Sept. 21 .- An imperial decree has been received here, the Pekin correspondent of the Herald cables in announcing the arrival of the emperor and empress dowager at Tai Yuen Fu. The decree also commands the governor of Shan Si province to raise money to build a palace at Hsian Fu, as the new intended capital.

In Philadelphia and Reading Miners' Wages.

The Company Increases Their Pay 10 Per Cent.

Situation Anticipated - Reports From Other Points. New York, Sept. 21.-The Philadelphia and Reading Coal Company has decided to raise the wages of its employes 10 per cent. It is understood from advices received from Philadelphia that the advance will begin immediately-from this morning, in fact. The effect of it upon the strike situation will be far reaching. It is believed now that when the increase of wages is made known, all the company's miners will return to work, and the five mines now closed will resume. What this will mean in the matter of coal supply is apparent from the capacity of the Philadelphia and Read ing mines which it is estimated can easily supply 50 per cent of the coal necessary for the requirements of east-

THE SLIDING SCALE. In making the 10 per cent advance in wages the officials of the Reading Company do not take the ground that it is a submission to the demands of the workers. The employes of this company are paid on what is known as the sliding scale. THE HAZELTON REGION.

Hazleton, Pa., Sept. 21.-There were no developments in the strike situation hereacouts this morning. The whole Hazleton region was reported extremely quiet. The strikers reported at headquarters success in persuading a considerable number of workmen from going into the mines. Several onine superintendents report. ed an increasing number of men at work. PRESIDENT MITCHELL MISSING. President Mitchell, of the United Mine Workers', is still among the missing. If he has gone to New York to confer with the large operators on a question of a settlement of the strike, it is not possible to learn that such is the case here. All his lieutenants deny knowledge of his whereabouts.

PROTECTING CLAUSE. New York, Sept. 21 .- Grove D. Curtis, of the firm of Curtis & Blaisdell, one of the largest retailing coal firms in the country, said yesterday that 95 per cent of the firms who made contracts with large consumers were protected by a clause invariably insisted upon that all agreements should be void in case of a strike. The other 5 per cent, Mr. Curtis added, would probably be upheld by the courts in pleading "usages of the trade."

MANY MINES IDLE. Wilkesbarre, Pa., Sept. 21.-There is very little change in the strike situation in the Wyoming Valley this morning. The colliery of the West End Coal Company at Mercanaqua suffered another reduction in its force today, but the mines are still in operation. All the other mines in the district

Philadelphia, Sept. 20 .- According to advices from Hazleton the strikers are gaining ground in that region, although the operators dispute this, and insist that more men are at work today than there were yesterday.

Hazleton, Pa., Sept. 20.—Reports received at strike headquarters and elsewhere from various parts of the Hazleton region this morning brought nothing but good news to the striking anthracite coal miners.

New Ontario.

[Monetary Times.] Remarkable testimony to the character of "New Ontario" as an agricultural district is borne by the exhibit of field products under the charge of Mr. Robt. Burriss. Ontario government agent at Port Arthur. This enormous western end-too long considered the fag end-of the province, is adaptable for dairying, stock-raising and mixed farming to a degree which this exhibit Extending from Nipissing to the Rainy River Valley, north of Lake Superior, 140 million acres are embraced. This is the territory, if we remember rightly, into which the provincial government is now sending ten exploration parties, for which the legislature made a grant last session. The specimens we now notice are all or nearly all from the Thunder Bay district, one of six, and they are sufficiently instructive. There are said to be 148 varieties of native grasses identified. These grow with surprising rapidity by reason of the long days of that region, where it is light from 4 a.m. till 8 p.m. Millet planted on July 1 is cut before end of August: cucumbers and pumpkins and celery attain great growth; a head of cabbage brought by express 1,000 miles, weighs 30 pounds, unripe as it is, but would weigh 45, Mr. Burriss says, if ripe. From whatever point of view regarded it was simply unparalleled in numbers, it was overwhelming, and yet Sir Wilfrid, who was in excellent form, held the attention of the vast array for over one hour, even while discussing a question of almost academic character, such as preferential trade. We have reduced the deficits which existed in the postoffice department. In 1896, when my friend Mr. Mulock, postmaster-general, assumed the direction of that department, there was a deficit of $800,000 to meet. AN INSPIRING SCENE. These disjointed facts convey hardly any idea of the stupendous proportions of the demonstration. When Sir Wilfrid arrived at 9:30 it was absolutely impossible to get near the ordinary entrance to the platform, and after a desperate struggle he and his friends forced their way along the front for a few yards, and were then dragged up over the footlights amidst frantic cheers. The premier had to stand for several minutes acknowledging his almost too cordial reception.

We have a few friends left," cried Mr. Tarte, when he reached the platform, nearly exhausted, in tow of a couple of stalwart policemen. ON THE PLATFORM.

avidence of an Incontrovertible lature.

Cancer nas so long bees considered in incurable disease that people will hardly believe that there is really a Yet abundant evidence can be produced to prove that in some of the very worst cases of cancer, our Vegetable Cancer Cure removed permanently every trace of the disease. One case we might cite is that of a lady who suffered from cancer of the breast, endured the tortures of the plaster, which only aggravated her trouble, and who was cured completely by our remedy, Another instance—that of a gentleman who had cancer of the tongue. It was removed by the knife, but soon came back again. Our remedy cured him eight years ago, and he has never had any recurrence of the disease since. If you desire the names and full particulars of these cases, you will find them in our new book, "Cancer: Its Cause and Cure," which you may have on receipt of 2 stamps. Stott & Jury, Bowmenville. Sir Wilfrid received the most extraordinary enthusiasm when he rose to address the sea of heads in front of him. An organized effort at disturb-Square. When they had all assembled there they marched to the Windsor Hotel, where they were joined by the Liberal students of Laval University and of McGill, headed by the band some time, but then the disturbers were run out and comparative quiet of the 65th Rifles. In the meantime the east end clubs had met in their halls and proceeded to the corner of St. Lawrence and St. Catharines streets, where they opened their ranks and waited the arrival of Sir Wilfrid and his colleagues. I wish I could thank you for these sentiments expressed in the address. I find it impossible to express myself as I should desire. Gentlemen, just as the demonstration of this evening surpassed the demonstration of four years ago, the victory that followed that demonstration is to be greatly eclipsed by the victories we are about to achieve

SIR CHARLES NOT A PROPHET. 'You have lately had a visit from CONTINUAL WAVE OF ENTHUSI- my friend Sir Charles Tupper and his acolytes. Sir Charles Tupper is a most and Sir Wilfrid had not left the Wind-sor when the head of the procession that of Sir Charles Tupper. I have started for Sohmer Park, over two the greatest admiration for my friend miles away. The carriages, 196 in Sir Charles. I admire his green old number, reached from the postoffice to lage, I admire the ardor with which the Windsor Hotel, a distance of over he endeavors to inspire his partisans a mile. At the park, as early as 6:30, with courage. I admire his unfailing the people began to gather to get a confidence. I am amused at his violent front seat. At 7 o'clock there were utterances, his diatribes, and his angry 3,000 already standing. When the pro- expressions, but I cannot admire him ression began to arrive there were al- as a prophet. He has a mania for utready 5,000 on the floor and another tering prophecies, but experience shows in the mark to say that there were 12,000 people in the immense auditorium, of old. They are simply a new edition, and thousands were unable to get revised, enlarged, but not corrected, of his predictions of four years ago Then he was going to sweep everything and to crush everything; but you know what the result was. He was defeated all along the line, and, though I do not pretend to have the gift of prophecy, I believe that he is to be beaten now the same way. Gentlemen, I do not come here to make predictionsbut let me tell you this: in reply to all the boasting of Sir Charles Tupper, I have only one thing to say, and that is that I am as certain of the approaching victory as I am certain of my own existence. If the partisans of Sir Charles Tupper have any money to wager upon the result of the election. I tell you, my friends, there is money

SIR WILFRID SURE OF THE RE-

SULT. "What does this constant repetition of Sir Charles Tupper and his partisans mean? It means that they are simply appealing to the lowest instincts of the electorate; it is an appeal to those who wish to profit pecuniarily by the result. These appeals of Sir Charles Tupper on the ground, that he is certain of victory, are simply appeals to cupidity; that is to say, appeals to those who have neither conscience nor conviction, but who wish to be on the winning side; and yet I do not fear to predict that the Liberal party will be a thousand times more victorious than it was in 1896.

THE FEATURE OF THE HOUR "The most striking feature of the present political situation is the immense progress that has taken place in the last ave years under the Liberal Government. It is the impetus that has been given to business, and the wonderful activity that has been displayed in every form of commercial enterprise. It is the prosperity that has reigned throughout the country. That prosperity is admitted by our enemies, the Bleus of the Province of Quebec and the Tories of the Province of Ontario and of the Maritime Provinces, by Conservatives of all colors and shades of colors. That prosperity they admit; they cannot deny it. But they go far, They do not deny the prosperity, that would be useless, but they say you should refuse us your support because that prosperity is the work of Provi-

mouth of a Conservative, especially at election times, when these gentlemen are in the habit of trusting so little to Providence; but I do not deny their assertion. We owe much to Providence, and I hope we are not wanting in gratitude, and I bless Providence that it has been on our side. After all, Providence has used us as its instruments to distribute its most precious gifts among the meonle of Consider. gifts among the people of Canada. But is that a reason for the people of Canada to withdraw their confidence from us? Providence has treated us like spoiled children, as Sir Charles Tupper has complained in one of his speeches. Is that a reason for the people of Canada to do less for us than Providence desires? If Providence loves us, should the people hate us? Our opponents say, perhaps, that my reasoning is false, that Providence does not love us, because Providence chastises those whom it loves, and as they are the people whom it chastens, they must be the people whom Providence loves; but on that point again I have to quarrel with them. Providence loves and chastises them. Very well, I will join Providence and will once join Providence, and will once more co-operate with Providence in inflicting upon them the chastisement they well deserve. Nevertheless, gentlemen, have we, with all our hearts, thanked Providence for what it has done? Providence for what it has done? We can also recite what it has done? We can also recite what the government have done for the country. The Conservative press and the Conservative leaders say everywhere that we have been doing nothing. WHAT HAS BEEN DONE? "Well, here is a little of what we have done. First of all, we faced the school question, which our enemies attempted to settle without being able to do so. We settled that question, and I will speak more fully upon it later. We reformed the tariff and by doing so were formed the tariff, and by doing so were the postal tariff by one-third, and at the end of one year had nearly established an equilibrium, and I venture to predict that in another year he will have completely succeedin establishing an equilibrium between receipts and expenditures. We opened up the great mining country, which is known as Kootenay, by having the railway, known as the Crow's Nest Pass Railway, construct-ed. Getting the work done by the Canadian Pacific Company, we made with that corporation an arrangement by which the tariff of freight rates was reduced from ten to thirty per cent, which had the effect of giving to consumers of that region the means of saving at least $600,000 in a year. We have prolonged the Intercolonial to Montreal, and by doing so we have put an end to the eral of deficits and inaugurated an era of surpluses. This year the surplus will be over half a million. We have completed the construction of canals for the purpose of ernment has made Montreal recognized as the national port of Canada

REFORMS STILL TO BE MADE. "That is something of what we have done, though our friends, the enemy, say we have done nothing. But there are certain reforms which we have not yet been able to effect. We have no been able to make arrangements for the administration of justice in the district of Montreal suitably to the needs of the citizens of that district. According to a law passed two years ago in the Legislature of Quebec, it was decided that the city of Montreal, where there is more judicial business than in the rest of the country, three more judges were needed. Last session, when we introduced a bill to appoint these three judges, that bill was rejected by the Senate of Canada, which placed its wisdom before the wisdom of both houses of the Legislature of Quebec. Now they say we have not kept our engagements. That is the sum of all the reproaches they address to us. We have not kept our en-gagements! What ar abourd reproach, unless it is followed by the assertion that the engagements we have falled to keep are ones we have not given.

AS TO FREE TRADE. "We have not given the free trade we promised, they say. First of all, we never promised it, and five years ago I declared that I was a free trader in principle, but that free trade was impossible under existing circumstances, and that fifty years might pass before that idea could be realized. And yet the Conservatives say I have not given the country free trade yet, and re-school for a certain time every day. proach me with the fact. That re- My friend, who also is well known to proach might come from the free traders, and no free trader hopes for free trade from the Conservative party. THE SCHOOL QUESTION.

intend to say something about the school question. The Conserva-tives wish to revive that question, or rather they are endeavoring to use it among the electors of the Province of Quebec for the purpose of stirring up dissension. In no province outside this will you hear a single word about it. They say we have not settled the I at once recognized, as I have admitted on the floor of the House, that the settlement we made was not as complete as I should have desired, not perfect, but perfectibleessentially perfectible. In 1896 the question had been agitated for six years. It was the cause of exciting violent party passions. It had been dragged along for six years, from the Supreme Court of Manitoba to the Su-preme Court of Canada; from the Supreme Court of Canada to the Privy Council; from the Privy Council back to the parliament; from parliament again it was referred to the Supreme Court of Canada, and by the Supreme Court of Canada again referred to the Privy Council. The Privy Council rendered a decision which called upon the parliament of Manitoba to restore the minority their rights, of which that minority had been deprived. On the failure of the parliament of Manitoba to act, the question came before the Conservative government at Ot-

After having dragged the questions from parliament to parliament and from tribunal to tribunal so long, it introduced what it called a remedial law, and what was that remedial law? To what did it give remedy? It gave remedy to nothing. It was a mockery and a snare, because, according to its provisions, it should contain these three things? No, it contained two, distinct organization and exemption from taxation, but no provision at all for a grant of a legitimate share of the public lands. What would become of the school system under which taxpayers could have no right to a legitimate share in the public funds? We at-tempted to settle the question in a different manner. We said to the Government of Manitoba: 'It is you who have done the wrong; it is for you to re-pair it as you have done it.' We appealed to their sentiments of Christianity and of justice to give redress to that minority, who are British subjects like themselves. We obtained enormous concessions. We obtained a concession that wherever there were ten French children in a school district French be taught in that school. would We obtained that where there were Catholic children in a district religious instruction would be given in the school for a certain time every day. all here, Mr. Joseph Gedeon Horace Bergeron, spoke in the Monument National about this half-hour of religious instruction which we procured for the Catholics of Manitoba. He found that it was not enough.

"I understand that half an hour of religious instruction for Mr. Bergeron would not be much. I do not wish to say that he does not need it; but half an hour of religious instruction for a man like Mr. Bergeron would not be much, because his rigid virtue is well known. When Mr. Bergeron comes to the Monument National to speak on the school question, and when he says that half an hour's instruction in religion is not enough, we can say to ourselves if it is not enough for Mr. Bergeron, for ordinary mortals it ought to be enough to enable them to learn the duties one should fulfil and virtues that should be practised in the world. In any event, if it was not acceptable to Mr. Bergeron, it was accepted by the Catholics of Manitoba, with the exception of the group in the city of Winnipeg. The proof is that in 1890, when the school law was possed which abolished separate schools, there were 60 schools in which the Catholic religion is taught. In 1896 of those 60 only 35 remained. Now the settlement is accepted in every district where there are Catholic and Protestant groups, and today there are 120 schools where religion is taught. That is the result. Groups of our people in Manitoba were growing up in total ignorance, and today, instead of that state of things, you have 120 schools where the children are being educated, and are, above all, receiving instruction in religion, and not only that, but they learn to speak and read and write in the language of their ancestors. Mr. Bergeron says half an hour is not much. Let me tell

"But if the thing is not satisfactory and acceptable there is a constitutional method of proceeding, and that is to raise the question on the floor of the House of Commons. Has Mr. gergeron done that? Never; empatically never. He gives a reason for this in his speech at the Monument National Here it is: He says that the federal parliament has no longer any responsibility in the matter. What language for the leader of a party! Have Mr Bergeron and his friends any responsibility in connection with the tariff? No. Then why do they make motions to amend the duties? Have Mr. Bergeron and his friends any responsibility in questions of finance? According to Mr. Bergeron's reasoning, they have not. Then why do they discuss financial questions on the floor of the house? Have Mr. Bergeron and his friends any responsibility for the railway policy of the country? If not, why do they criti-cise the administration."

THE GOVERNMENT'S ACHIEVE-

MENTS. Sir Wilfrid next referred to the efforts of the government to develop the transportation routes of the country, and especially to the success of the extension of the Intercolonial to Montreal. Another matter which was of great im-pertance to the working people of Montreal was the attention which the government had given to the protec-tion of laborers. In the face of all these reforms how could the Conservatives ask. What has the government done? It was written in letters of gold that the government had made the country more prosperous than ever before. There was just one other question to which Sir Wilfrid referred, and that was the South African war. strongly defended the action of the government in sending a contingent there, as a duty which they owed to England, whose protection they enjoyed, and in an eloquent peroration recalled the patriotic efforts of Lafon-taine to form a better understanding between the two races in this country.

FOOTBALL. SARNIA HERE ON THE 29TH. On Saturday, the 29th inst., the Rugby game in London will be started for this season. On that day the London intermediate team is scheduled to meet Sarnia, and the junior team will run up against the Hamilton juniors in the first round of the championship series. ably coached by Blondie Gilmour and Frank Reid. Frank Hobbs, the crack quarter-back, is at home through illness, but will be on hand by the end of the week, although it is unlikely that he will be able to get into the game for some time. There are just seven more practices before the season opens, and every player is requested to be on hand sharp on time. BOTH GOOD MEN. Club visited St. Thomas Wednesday, and played a match with the St. Toronto Telegram: True to his love for sport, Chip (Frank) Reid, of London, has come out once more, and will grace the gridiron for the Forest City. To Chip belongs a great deal of credit in getting the boys out this fall, and there is no person more enthusiastic as a pigskin chaser in London-on-Thames than the aforesaid Chip. Besides him there are a number of other players who represented London last winter on the ice, who are going to get out this fall, including Ashplant, Peel and, in fact, many other good me. There is a man in London who should be induced to get out again this fall, and that is Jack Gilmour,

THE PLOT AT JOHANNESBURG

Lord Roberts' Official Report on the Affair.

The Commander-in-Chief To Be Suc coeded by Lord Kitchener-Names of Invalids Who Sailed for Canada on Thursday-350 Will See the War

London, Sept. 20 .- The war office has issued a report from Lord Roberts on' the subject of the Johannesburg plot to overthrow the garrison and murder the British officers and of the deportation of foreigners. After reiterating the known facts of the plot, the British commander-in-chief in South Africa were he to get a little hot air shot his his would consent to get in the game. "Blondine" has a good head on his shoulders, and he uses it to good effect when in tight places.

A NUMBER WILL SEE IT OUT. Ottawa, Sept. 21.-A cablegram from Lieut.-Col. Biggar, deputy assistant adjutant-general in South Africa, states that 500 of the first contingent will return to Canada immediately, the remainder having elected to stay till the end of the war. This means that about 350 of Canadian infantry will be left behind. It is likely that they will be drafted into some English regiment for the remainder of their period of service.

The mounted troops from Canada will continue in South Africa until their year is up, which will be in January or February, by which time it is expected that the country will have been pacified. The 500 returning men will be under

A LIFE SAVED.—Mr. James Bryson, Cameron, states: "I was confined to with inflammation of the lungs, and was given up by the physicians. A neighbor advised me to try Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil, stating that his wife had used it for a throat trouble with the best results. Acting on his advice, I procured the medicine, and less than a half bottle cured me; I certainly believe it saved my life. It was with reluctance that I consented to a trial, as I was reduced to such a state that I doubted the power of any remedy to do me any good."

Immigration.

The strength of a country is in the men and women that inhabit it, that till its fields, manage its business, and are ready to fight its battles. We have country that is large, and whose resources have only begun to be developed, and what we need is more population-not more idle men and women to loaf about the streets of our few cities, but more strong fearless men to go out into new districts and do again what was done by the sturdy pioneers of the last two generations. We do not wish our land to be a refuge for criminals or a refuse heap for the diseased and degraded from other lands, nor can we afford to take care of the paupers of Europe. These statements will be accepted by all without distinction of party, but the matter is a complex and delicate one. It is easy to make general statements, but difficult to apply them. For instance, we do not want to have great solid blocks of foreigners planted here and there over the Dominion, speaking a foreign tongue and in some cases cherishing anti-British sentiment. But under the circumstances this is not an easy thing to avoid. It would be a cruel thing for men to be placed dotted here and there in a large line and with near to speak the tongue of their home and childhood. If the matter is carefully handled and these people are sympathetically treated, they will no doubt make good citizens. Men who have undertaken this long journey in order to be free, peaceful and industrious are not likely, as a rule, to abuse our hospitality. As Christian country and a home of freedom, we must keep our hearts open to those who are seeking freedom and are willing to work to make themselves a home. If they do well for themselves, they will do well for the land of their poor people. Those who in the early ed by lawyers in immense good many days crossed the ocean to seek freedom of worship were often people who at home were in comfortable circumstances, but the great mass of immigrants have been poor. If a pauper is to be taken to mean a man who has very little capital at his disposal, many who landed on these shores were paupers, and many of them have now reached positions of comfort and influence. A Toronto minister once said in his sermon that if he had been "a duke" it is not likely that he would have come here. No, the men who have large estates and comfortable positions in the old land do not usually emigrate. They have every reason and every attraction to keep them at home. The strength of Britain is that she has been able to keep so many of those who do emigrate under her own flag. But we must acknowledge that she has received strength from other sources. People from many lands seeking refuge in her colonies have contributed real strength. While there are a great many things about this question of immigration that will bear much discussion, we must, in connection with it, beware of a narrow selfishness and a foolish fastidiousness that overlooks so many of the real facts.

Police Magistrate Denison and Lawyers' Fees.

Col. Denison, police magistrate of Toronto, is reported to have spoken as follows in a recent case in which a lawyer collected $511 for a client, and retained for his services all except

"Nowadays it is next to impossible to get anything out of a suit at court fter the lawyers have finished with it. Hundreds and thousands of cases have arisen within the past few years in which there has been little or nothing left for clients when the charges for lawyers' services have been paid. This thing will come to an end some day. people will rise in their might and break down the system which permits such enormous charges. All the business now transacted by lawyers could be done just as well by the state. The fees collected are outrageous. Why can't civil business be done as cheaply as the criminal business? In this court we try to get along without making eny charges for costs if we can help it, and when there are costs they are very small. Even when the lawyers have got through with a case it is by no means settled. In one court two judges will take one side and one will take the other. In the court of appeal the judgment will, perhaps, be rewersed and three judges will support the minority mamber of the court below, while two will agree with the first judgment. Then it goes to the Supreme Court, and the same thing will happen over again, with the positions An agitation for the blotting out of this system will be commenced. before long. The people will not tol-erate this forever. When some competent person takes up the question seriously and follows it to the end, reforms of a very drastic nature are bound to

We know nothing of the case which was before Col. Denison, nor is there any need to know. It is with his general remarks we have to deal. Are they just towards either the legal profession or the judges? We think not. With the exception, perhaps, of the medical profession, no class of men do more medicine, get Hood's.

for nothing than lawyers, and are more heavily handicapped. It is not just to deal out general denunciation because of an isolated Lawyers are, in fact, tax gatherers. They pay in cash or law stamps annually thousands of dollars, which go to the Government, and which they By the Foundering of Steamer must collect in some way from their clients. Not all that lawyers receive as costs is profit. Then again, throughout the country, there are many unlicensed conveyancers with whom they have to compete. It may be true, as has been claimed, that the lawyer's best friend is the man who draws his own will, but the fact remains that the field is open in a large class of legal

Col. Denison says the judges do not agree, and concludes: "When some competent person takes up the question seriously and follows it to the end, reforms of a very drastic nature are bound to come." The judges are supposed to be competent persons. They are supposed to be the best men in the legal profession, and have spent their lives trying to become competent. The fact is, that in many cases, probably the majority of cases, you could give judgment either way, and give such good reasons for your judgment that no reasonable person could charge you with dishonesty. It is therefore no wonder that judges differ. So long as they do the best they can the object is accomplished.

To administer justice without fault would require a very "competent person." This is plain. But the vast majority of disputes are settled without resort to litigation at all, or during the progress of the litigation, by the parties themselves, or with the aid of the lawyers, applying the principles laid down by the judges as best they can to the difficulties before them. The spirit of settlement is increasing in the legal profession. The other day there was not a single civil case for trial at the Chatham assizes. This no doubt means that the settlements were effected in several cases to the advantage of the litigants, and loss to the lawyers engaged. But no good lawyer ever stands in the way of an amicable settlement.

Much can be said on both sides. Robert Burns said: "It's een the lawyer's cheapest fee to taste the barrel." This put the litigants in the mood for settlement, and when there is a readiness to give and take it is not often that settlements fail to be effected. Col. Denison's denunciations are not merited, if we look at all that is accomplished. He may find individual cases worthy of denunciation, but in A very large number of those who the end the fact that judges differ rebuilt up the neighboring republic were suits in good, and the work performtimes outweighing the few individual instances in which fault may be fairly

The scheme is based on the reservoir plan, by the construction of which, added to numerous dikes, it is said that the Mississippi floods can be done away with, and in the flood time sufficient water can be stored in these reservoirs to provide an unfailing flow of water in the summer time, when the river as a rule becomes low. The estimated cost of the improvement is as follows: Flood protection expended, $50,000,000; completion of same, $20,000,000; cost of annual maintenance, $2,000,000; annual amount to be spent in dredging, $250,000; reser-

The drainage trustees are deeply interested in the plan, as they realize that the deep waterway between the great lakes and the Gulf of Mexico will in all probability never be undertaken by the federal government until ed was perfected by the doctor in his some practical method has been devised to establish a deep channel in the lower Mississippi, and so control the flow during floods.

Mr. Arthur J. Balfour, government leader in the House of Commons, in the course of his manifesto to the electors of East Lothian and Rosshire, says that the Boers base a hope that the war in South Africa may be fruitless to the victors on the possible advent of the Home Rulers to power. The manifesto of Mr. Joseph Chamberlain, issued to his constituents, says: "Our opponents assert that we deliberately provoked a war for which we had made no preparation. The first statement is untrue and the second is greatly exaggerated. The war was forced on us by a sudden invesion. while the negotiations, conducted with the greatest moderation on our part, were proceeding. Mr. Chamberlain then reviews the causes of the wer briefly, and the "immense and succesful exertion of the war office" at considerable length. In conclusion, he declares that to return the Unionists to power would mean to conserve the fruits of victory, which otherwise would be thrown away.

JUSTIN MCCARTHY RETIRES. London, Sept. 21 .- Justin McCarthy, the novelist and historian, who has been a member of parliament for North Longford since 1892, and who was formerly chairman of the Irish parliamentary party, announces his retire-ment from parliamentary life on account of failing health.

The Irishmen of Boston will give aid to the Irish parliamentary party in the general elections in Great Britain, forming, as a means to that end, a branch of the United Irish League, the organization adopted by the National convention in Dublin in June, and will take whatever other action may be necessary for the raising of funds.

ness About the Stomach and Pains in the Shoulders and Back -Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills Act Promptly and Directly on the

By a careful consideration of the following symptoms you can decide for Chicago, Sept. 21 .- The advisability of yourself if your liver is torpid or ingan connected with the digestive system, and as a filterer of bile from the blood is to a very large extent responsible for the health of the whole body. A sense of fullness and oppression about the stomach, a pale, sallow complexion and pain in the shoulders and back are among the first indications of a disordered liver.

Then there comes indigestion, wind on the stomach, headache, coated tongue, a bitter taste in the mouth, depression of spirits and despondency. The bowels become irregular, and constipation and looseness alternate. The bile left in the blood by an inactive-liver poisons the blood and causes liver spots, blotches and pimples. So great is the influence of the liver over the health of other organs that physicians have called the liver the governor or controller of the body. The prescription from which Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills are preparimmense practice, and has proven the greatest liver regulator ever discovered. It acts directly and promptly on the liver, making it active and vigorous as a filtering organ. At the same time it regulates and tones up the kidneys and bowels and sets the whole filtering and excretory system in healthy working order.

Notwithstanding the fame of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills throughout this continent, you will never fully realize and appreciate their value until you have actually used them, and only then can you fully understand why have such an enormous sale. In these days of experimenting with all sorts of new, untried remedies, appliances and treatments, it is a com-fort and pleasure to know that you can turn to this prescription of Dr. A. W. you that the army you have just reviewed is solid, well trained, well equipped and ripe for success, and one on whose valor the country can absolutely rely." President Loubet again endeavored to undo the efforts of certain Nationalists to set the army against the government. Replying to Gen. Andre he bestowed the highest praise on the army, saying it had proved that France might have implicit confidence in it. Then, raising his voice, the president said, significantly: "Its respect for the institutions and laws of the country demonstrates highly how vain are the attempts made to separate it from the democracy. The solicitude of the chiefs for the troops and the confidence of the troops in their chiefs assure the army's strength, and are guarantees that the honor and interests of France are well guarded and that the maintenance of

LABOR CONGRESS

Proposal to Run Mr. Ralph Smith in the West-Closer Relations With the British Unions Discussed in Detroit.

Ottawa, Sept. 20 .- The report of the executive committee for Ontario commended the action of the Ontario Legislature for establishing a labor bureau and the Ontario Government for appointing Mr. Robert Glockling as secretary. The reports of the executive committees of Quebec and Manitoba were also adopted.

Mr. D. A. Carey, Toronto, Canadian delegate to the American Federation of Labor convention in Detroit last fall, reported that one of the most important matters before the convention was that of closer connection with the trades unions of Great Britain. Mr. Carey said that all he met were in total ignorance of the workings of the Canadian unions, and the progress the latter have made in improving the condition of the workers of this country. "Both the English delegates made earnest appeals to me to bring a closer affiliation between the two countries, so that the workers of Great Britain America and Canada might become thoroughly united." Mr. Carey suggested that in the future the executive of the congress place themselves in communication with the British Trades Congress, by an exchange of proceedings of deliberations, until the time comes when the iraternal representa-tives of Canada and those of the United States shall work in harmony with their comrades in Great Britain.

Mr. W. D. Mahon, fraternal delegate from the United States, speaking on Mr. Carey's report, recommended that the congress take the necessary steps to obtain representation in the various governing bodies. This course, Mr.Ma-hon said, was almost a necessity to INDEPENDENT LABOR CANDI-DATES.

Delegate Appleton, of Winnipeg, moved a resolution to the effect that President Ralph Smith, M.P.P., should contest a seat in British Columbia for the Federal House, and asking the trades councils of British Columbia to help seek his election. KIDNEY TROUBLE FOR THREE YEARS.

A Young Lady of Middlesex Co. Tells How She Was Cured at Last by Doan's Kidney Pills.

A great deal of suffering that women are called upon to endure is the result of kidney trouble.
When the back, the head and the limbs ache, when there is tiredness and weariness, dizziness and dimness of vision, in all probability the kidneys are out of order and poisons are being absorbed in the system that these organs should carry off. The most effective remedy to correct the kidneys so that they will remove all poisons from the blood is Doan's Kidney Pills. Just read what Miss Gertie F. Steele, Belton P. AERONAUT KILLED

L. J. Kahler Thrown From His Balloon at St. Joseph, Mich.

St. Joseph, Mich., Sept. 21.-Professor L. J. Kahler, the daring young balloonist, who has been making daily excursions at the street carnival here this week, was hurled from his balloon in the presence of 5,000 people yesterday, and dashed head first to the pavement. He had been at the balloon business for two years. The accident was due to the parting of the ropes when they came in contact with the live wires that feed the street rallway trolley. The balloon went up rapidly while young Kahler and the parachute swung around the trolley. In the fall the young man's skull was broken, and he died late last night. Kahler is the fourth brother who has met death through falling from a balloon.

MICHIGAN PRESBYTERIANS

May Withe aw From Christian Endes or siety-The Creed Question

Jackson, Mich., Sept. 21.-The Lansing presbytery defeated a proposition to revise the creed. The discussion was warm and the antis carried their point by but four votes. Adjournment was taken until Oct. 6 at Lansing. Detroit, Sept. 21.—The most important question coming up at the annual convention of the Michigan Presbyter-ian Synod in Grand Rapids, Oct. 9, is the proposed plan of withdrawing from the Christian Endeavor Society and establishing a young people's society in connection with the Prebyterian Church that will serve the same purpose as the Epworth League, attached to the Methodist Church. It is claimed that the Christian Endeavor Society, being non-sectarian, has a tendency to alienate young people from their church. Something will also have to be done about home missions, the help received from the general mission board having steadily decreased until last year it was $8,000 less than the amount expended.

B.B.B. Cures Ringworm.

"I had ringworm on my head for nearly a year.

"I consulted three doctors but derived little or no benefit from their treatment.

"I then commenced to use Burdock Blood Bitters.

"Besides taking it internally I washed the affected parts with it and when the bottle was finished I was completely cured." Elsie Slaght, Teeterville, Ont. Burdock Blood Bitters cures sores, nicers, boils, pimples, eczema and all skin eruptions of the most chronic type. It makes the blood rich and pure, drives all foul material from the system and builds up the tissues of the body.

GALVESTON SITUATION IMPROV-

ING. Galveston, Texas, Sept. 21 .- The conditions at Galveston continue to rapidly improve. The number of patients in the various hospitals is much smaller than would have been expected considering the number of dead. number of people leaving the city is decreasing, and there is no longer any necessity for sick and injured to go elsewhere for medical attention.

FOR THE OVERWORKED,-What are the causes of despondency and melancholy? A disordered liver is one cause and a prime one. A disordered liver means a disordered stomach, and a disordered stomach means disturbance of the nervous system. This brings the whole body into subjection and the victim feels sick all over. Parmelee's Vegetable Pills are a recognized remedy in this state and relief will

HE SMOKED THEM HIMSELF. Edison is fond of smoking, but he becomes so absorbed in work that even forgets that he has a cigar in his mouth, relates the Chicago Tribune. When he had an office in Fifth avenue, New York, the desk in which he kept a box of cigars was always open, and as the boys came and went at all hours his cigars disappeared with mysterious rapidity. Finally he asked a friend who was in the tobacco business if he could not do something to discourage this disappearance.
"Why, yes," said the friend, "I'll make up some cigars for you. I'll put Hoffman house labels on the outside, but I'll fill them up with horsehair and hard rubber."

"Well, said Mr. Edison, in relating the story, "that fellow went to California and didn't return for three months. I forgot about him mean-time, but when he got back I said to him, look here, I thought you were going to fix me up some fake cigars.' "Why, I did," he said in surprise."
"You did? When?" Why, don't you remember-a flat box with a green label; the cigars in bundle form, tied with yellow ribbon?" "Do you know," said Edison innocently, "I smoked them all myself!" Steamship Arrivals. At From

HE THANKS HEAVEN

That He Used Dodd's Kidney Pills Which Saved His Life.

Bowmanville, Sept. 17.-Marvelous indeed is the case of Mr. A. W. Gibbons, miller, of this town.

Here is his story, as he himself tells it: "I couldn't eat, nor sleep; had terrible pains in my back and stomach. "Doctors said I had Bright's disease. But they couldn't cure me.
"Thank heaven, whether it was Bright's disease or anything else, Dodd's Kidney Pills soon cured it.

THE STRIKERS

y Additions of 5,000 to 10,000 in Their Ranks-Twenty-four Reading Collieries in Queration.

Philadelphia, Sept. 2.—General Suprintendent Luther, of Pottsville, tolay telegraphed President Harris, of he Philadelphia and Reading Coal and ron Company, that ten more of the 34 working collieries of the company were ffected by the strike this morning. From 5,000 to 10,000 men have joined he strikers. This action on the part of the mine workers was the result of a meeting held last night at Shenandoah. Twenty-four collieries of the Reading Company are still working. The collieries closed today are bunched in the Mahanoy Valley.

WATCHMAN SHOT. Shamokin, Pa., Sept. 21.—Evan Davis, watchman at Hickory Ridge colliey, was shot early this morning by an unknown person as he was patrolling the olliery, the bullet inflicting a serious, if not fatal, wound. The colliery is in an isolated place, and Davis was compelled to crawl a mile on his hands and knees for aid. The strike situation is unchanged ere. Everything is quiet, and the collieries still remain closed down. The men are encouraged by the large number of Schuylkill county miners going on strike this morning.

OPERATORS CONSENT TO A CON-FERENCE.

Philadelphia, Sept. 21.-Archbishop Ryan today confirmed the report that President R. M. Olyphant, of the Delaware and Hudson Company, and President W. H. Truesdale, of the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Company, had consented to confer with him on the mine workers strike. He said the time and place of the conference would be determined some time today.

Regarding a visit last night of the Rev. Father Phillips, of St. Gabriel's Roman Catholic Church at Hazleton, Archbishop Ryan said that he now felt more encouraged over the prospect for a peaceful outcome of the difficulties between the operators and the strikers.

A DENIAL. Philadelphia, Sept. 21.-A denial was made today by General Manager Henderson that the Philadelphia and Reading Coal and Iron Company has increased its wages to the mine employes 19 per cent. Said Mr. Henderson: 'The men are making really about 20 per cent more money, but there is no change in the rate of wages. The men are working longer hours and consequently are making more money."

Amusements.

Our theatergoers will remember with a great deal of interest the production of Charles Coghlan's adaptation from the French of Dumas of "The Royal Box." The news that it is to play an engagement at the London Opera House on Saturday, Sept. 22, matinee and night, is good news. Those who would take the trouble would find that never in the history of the stage has a drama been so universally praised by the critics as was "The Royal Box." It bore success in every feature - dialogue, situation, costuming and stagesetting, all gave evidence of its having been planned by a master mind for such Charles Coghlan undoubtedly was. Mr. Andrew Robson, a young Canadian actor, plays the part, the critics and the public believing that in his powerful acting they see that of Coghlan himself. The result of Mr. Coghlan's death naturally forced Mr. Robson permanently into the part, and he will have undoubted success here, as he has in all the other cities in which he has been seen in the role of Clarence the actor.

SO ANXIOUS TO MEET HIM.

Her Appeal Touched the Heart of the Railway Station Gateman. A few minutes before the afternoon train from New York got into the Pennsylvania station the other day a beautiful young creature wafted herself over to the man stationed at the exit gate and proceeded to hypnotize him. "Will you please let me through?" she said appealingly.

"Can't do it, miss. It's against the rules," said the man at the gate. "But I do so want to meet him when he gets off," said the beauteous young thing, looking into the man's face searchingly with her imploring violet eyes. "And he will be so disappointed if I am not right at the car to meet him when the train gets in." The man at the gate looked and hesi-

"Please," said the lovely young creature, rustling her silk skirts nervously and seeming to hang on the gateman's "Well, maybe I can take a chance," said the gateman, and he pulled the gate open and admitted her. "S'pose she's only been married a little while," reflected the gateman, "and her husband's coming back after being away the first time since they were spliced, and she wants to hand him out the big hug before he's more'n lauded from the car steps. Well, I guess we all have it that bad, once in our lives anyhow," and he looked thoughtfully down the siding where the radiant young creature stood, impatiently tapping her foot. The train pulled in a couple of minutes after. The young woman ran alongside the baggage car and the baggagemaster handed her out a miserable little specimen of a stuck up, hideous muzzled pug dog, which she took in her arms and loaded down with caresses.

As she passed out of the exit gate with the pug in her arms she bestowed a bewitching smile upon the gateman. "And I was come-on enough to pas" her through and to weave pipe trance about the reason why she wanted to g through," said the gateman disgusted to the station cop. "Say, I don't belong here. FAST SPEED IN A FOG.

Strain on the Nerves of Engineers of Express Trains. A railroad engineer, referring to a published story of the strain upon the nerves of pilots of Long Island sound steamers in dense fogs, said to a reporter: "I just wish you would say for the engineers: They don't have a very easy time in such weather.'

And then he went on to tell how on foggy nights the engineers of the fast trains, and, for that matter, the slow ones, endured a strain that would sicken many a man. They sit on the hard little perch provided for them, rushing along, often at a pace of 50 miles an hour or more. Under them the huge mass of iron and steel trembles and throbs, as nervous as a woman and twice as skittish.

It is impossible to see ten feet ahead of the engine, and the signal lights, be they red or white, are only visible as they are passed by. A misplaced switch would mean a disaster horrible to contemplate. These men know all this, and still they are obliged to sit there with a hand on the throttle, ready at any minute to shut off steam and stop the enormous bulk of plunging metal.

"I have been running on fast trains now for ten years," said the engineer in winding up his story, "and every time I get on my engine to take my train I say to myself that it will be for the last time, but somehow I always come again. It is not the danger which attracts me, for I know too well the results of a slip or a mistake, but somehow or other I cannot give it up. When I get old, I will be put to running some freight train and then will probably die in a smashup, after having taken one of the fastest trains in the country over 125 miles of track day in and day out. Still, I cannot give it ap."

And that is the tale that all of them tell. They all say that it is not the danger which fascinates them, but they cling to the life which wears a man out in a comparatively few years and ages him before his time.

An Element Instead of a Virtue. Sincerity is no single virtue to be classed with others and ranked above and below them. It is rather an element running through character and life, as the sap runs through the tree, giving life and vigor to every branch and a tender beauty to every leaf and blossom. Let us cherish it as the deepest principle of our hearts and the most vital element of our lives.

A FATEFUL...

CHAPTER XLIV.

Mr. Forest's statement was received with some surprise, but his request for a private interview was granted, and withdrew with the directors to another room, where he was closeted with them for a long while.

When he returned his face was white and agitated, and there were traces of tears upon his cheeks, while his companions appeared to be moved and softened also.

Whatever arguments he had used in Arthur's behalf, it was plain to be seen that they had been effectual, and that the gentlemen had consented to drop everything just where it was.

"Arthur," Mr. Forest said, addressing his nephew, "these gentiemen whom you have so wronged have at last consented to stay their proceedings and allow you to go free."

He was interrupted by a groan, while Arthur sank back in his chair, over-come by the reaction.

"But upon one condition," his uncle continued, "that you leave the country never to return. I have given bonds and a pledge that you shall leave within three days. If you do not I forfeit a large amount and you will be liable to arrest. But that will give you ample time to settle everything; and now we will return to our lodgings, where I shall have something further of importance to say to you."

"Is this true?" Arthur Aspinwall asked, in a hollow voice, lifting his haggard face and glancing incredulously about him.

Every eye he met was full of pity; not one in the room appeared to re-gard him with anything of malace or vindictiveness.

"Yes, it is true," replied his uncle. The young man struggled to his feet. For one moment he stood irresolute, then he said, hoarsely: "I confess I did not expect this-I know I do not deserve it: while as for you," turning his blood-shot eyes upon Louis, "you turning have taken the most effectual revenge you could have conceived. believe you when you told me that you would use your influence for me. supposed what you have done would be called 'coals of fire.' They are to me, and they will burn as long as I thank you, gentlemen," added, turning to the directors, your clemency. I wish I might in some way show my appreciation of this unmerited favor, Uncle Albert, I

Mr. Forest spoke a few words in a low tone to Mr. Houghton, then, taking his nephew by the arm, he led him from the room, for he was grop-ing his way as if he had been sud-denly stricken with blindness. Outside the building they found waiting the carriage that had brought Arthur there. Entering this they were driven rapidly back to Mr. Forest's lodgings.

Louis and his friends remained at the office some little while longer, during which it was arranged that a notice should appear in the Paris papers as soon as Arthur should have left the city, stating some of the particulars the robbery and Louis' imprisonment, and that the real rogue, finding himself upon the verge of arrest, had made a confession, restored the money and then left for parts unknown. Louis' innocence would be established, he would be restored to his former position of honor and trust, and the affair, after the usual nine days of wonder, would gradually be forgotten. This matter being settled, Louis arranged for the release of his father; then, thanking the directors for their kindness, he and his friends withdrew.

When they were seated in the carriage, Mr. Houghton informed them that Mr. Forest had requested them to drive directly to his rooms as soon as they were at liberty, as he had something of vital importance upon which he wished to confer with them. Arrived at his lodgings, Mr. Forest himself met them at the door and conducted them at once to his rooms.

Arthur was nowhere visible, but they own chamber, preparing, no doubt, for his departure.

Mr. Forest invited his guests to be seated, saying that he had an important revelation which he wished to make before his nephew left, and he had decided to go immediately, leaving him to settle his bills and some other little business.

He then stepped to the door and called Arthur. He came in, looking pale and dejected, and sank into the nearest seat. Mr. Forest then went to a traveling bag that stood upon the table, and, taking something from it, walked directly to Louis. He was very much agitated; his hands shook, his lips twitched, and everyone regarded him with astonish-Then came the startling question: "My son, can you ever be persuaded to give to me the name of 'father'?"

His voice shook like a very old man's as he put the query.

"Mr. Forest! Son! I do not understand you!" Louis cried, starting to his feet, and starting at the man as if he thought him income.

he thought him insane.
"I do not wonder," he returned, apologetically. "I am a sorry blunderer; I did not mean to blurt it out in any such way; but you are my son, never-

"How can that be?" Louis asked, very pale and trembling visibly. "My father, Louis Murray, is at this moment lying a prisoner here in the city."

"Louis Murray is not your father," asserted Mr. Forest, a ring of impati-"But he proved it—he produced a certificate of marriage with my mother.

Everything he said went to show that he was my father." Louis objected, but growing more and more excited. "That was all a deception, my boy, a plot, evidently to further purposes of his own. In the first place, the man's name is not Murray at all; he only took that name because a Louis Murray and an Annie Burgess had been married on the date corresponding with that engraven upon your mother's wedding ring. His real name is John Hicks."

Louis looked bewildered.
"Sit down," continued Mr. Forest,
"and let me tell you all about 4t. I have done a good deal of traveling and hard work during the last few weeks. I have been to America—" "To America!" exclaimed the Houghtons, astonished. I was almost convinced before I left that Louis was my son. I had seen the ring he wears, and—there were other proofs of which I will speak later. As I said, Y went to America. I found Mr. Allen, your lawyer friend, and learned your whole story, and after telling him mine and my suspicions, he bent all his energies to aid me in finding the proofs I desired. I found Mary Jones, too, and felt more than convinced, after talking with her, that the delicate woman who died in her house was my wife. "But all doubts regarding your con-nection with the man Murray were removed when we found his accomplice, Black, and he betrayed the whole plot to us. Murray, or Hicks, had played him false, getting possession of a sum of money belonging to them both, and disappearing very mysteriously—that probably when he came here to

"Black was so sore over it that he was willing to tell us everything. He said that there was a gang of them leagued together in the gambling business; they had spotted you—thought you an unusually smart and promising fellow, and laid the plot to get you into their power and make you useful in their business. Hicks had found out some things regarding your history, worming a good deal out of Mary Jones, and overheard a conversation between you and Farmer Brown in Mr. Allen's office one day, and then hunted the city register over for some one named Annie, who had been married the same date as your mother. The rest was easy enough-to forge a certificate, and, with the facts they had gathered, together with what they invented, claim you as Murray's son.

Octo, 10 was fixed as the date for the shooting, the programme to include eight matches, 200 yards, 500 yards and 600 vards, an aggregate and a nursery match, and three extra series matches, at 200 yards (standing), 200 yards (kneeling), and 500 yards (any position). A number of prizes for tyros will also be added to each match. Tyros will not be called upon to pay any membership fee. -Last night, in the Askin Street Methodist Church, an entertainment. under the auspices of the Mission Circle, was provided by Mr. T. G. Mitcheltree, the blind organist of the Church of St. John the Evangelist, and Miss Jessica Hambly, of Boston. Mr. Mit-cheltree astonished the audience by his magnificent handling of both pipe organ and piano. For an encore on one occasion he played "Soldiers of the Queen," with his own variations, and his concluding number was an original selection. Miss Hambly is a young elocutionist of very considerable talent, and found much favor with the audience for her clever work. -The Irish Benevolent Society held a largely attended meeting last evening in their hall in the Duffield block. Mr. John Forrestal, the president, oc-cupied the chair. Secretary Stevely submitted the report of the annual picnic, showing that after all expenses had been paid a handsome balance remained for the Christmas relief fund. The official figures showed that the attendance from every point was larger this year than at any previous picnic. The president and officers were warmly congratulated by the members upon the gratifying success of the gathering. Votes of thanks were passed to Mayor Rumball and other gentlemen who had contributed special prizes. The date of the annual meeting and election of officers was fixed for the second week in November.

BIG ADVANCE IN PRICE OF COAL

Local Dealers Decide to Raise It to $7 Per Ton.

A meeting of local coal merchants was held last night, at which is was decided to advance the price of coal from $6 per ton to $7. This is understood to be a nominal figure. The merchants will sell off stocks sparingly. They as yet have no definite knowledge when the next carload of coal will come their way, and they do not in-tend to be sold out. Only one ton of coal will be sold to a purchaser at one

Mr. John Hunt, of Hunt Bros., coal merchants, returned yesterday from Buffalo, where he went to demand fulfillment of his contract for 100 tons with which to supply the city schools, but was unsuccessful. He was told by agents of some of the big coal companies that the duration of the strike would not likely be short. Dealers in many American cities had raised the price of coal to a high figure simply to stop panic, which was likely year-old boy serving 60 days in jail for to arise from the strike, and prevent vagrancy, has sent him money to re- consumers from buying more than they required for immediate use.

Marriage of a Popular Young Londoner to a Michigan Lady.

The following account of Rev. Arthur Woodburne's wedding appears in the Armada (Mich.) Graphic of Sept.

Our village has been the scene this week of a society event which was of more than usual interest because of the fact that one of the contracting parties, Miss Maud Lincoln, the most of whose life has been spent in our midst, is a universal favorite with our people, and because she is a spend a term of years engaged in missionary work in far away India. Dr. Woodburne, the groom, was practicing his profession at Caro, Mich., when he became acquainted with Miss Lincoln. who was for five years principal of the high school at that place, where she has an extensive acquaintance

The marriage of Miss M. Maud Lincoln, of this village, and Arthur W. Woodburne, M.D., of London, Ont., occurred at the Congregational Church on Wednesday evening, Sept. 12, Rev. H. VanOmmeren officiation church was tastefully decorated with palms, evergreens and cut flowers. The wedding march from "Lohengrin" was played by Mrs. F. E. Lathrop, as the bridal party entered, and throughout the entire ceremony, with fine effect. The bride was dressed in white organdie, trimmed with lace, and carried a bouquet of white roses. The groom wore a conventional black suit of cutaway style. Dr. Walter Clark, of London, Ont., acted as groomsman, and Mabel C. Lincoln, sister of the bride, as bridesmaid. The latter wore blue silk dimity, trimmed with white lace, and bore a bouquet of pink carnations. The beautiful Episcopal marriage service was used, and the charming bride was given away by her father, Dr. C. H. Lincoln.

A reception at the home of the bride's parents, Dr. and Mrs. C. H. Lincoln, immediately followed the ceremony at the church, and was a most brilliant affair. The parlor, library and diningroom were decorated with potted plants and cut flowers. A danty collation was served to the numerous guests. Among the latter from out of town were Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Woodburne, father and mother of the groom; Mr. C. W. A. Woodburne, brother, and wife, and Miss Lila Woodburne, sister, all of London, Ont.; Addison L. Lincoln, brother of the bride, of De-
