The Western Ontario Liberal Leaders State Satisfaction With Cabinet List.

LOOK FOR PROSPERITY

Express View That New Government Will Insure Canadian Advancement.

From opinions gathered Thursday morning it appears that Western Ontario will be extremely well pleased if the tentative cabinet list of Premier-elect Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, published in the Wednesday evening edition of The London Advertiser, is adopted.

Prominent Liberals of the district, including a number of successful candidates in the recent elections, were sure that the cabinet proposed would give Canada a good strong government and bring prosperity to the country.

"It is a mighty strong government," declared Duncan C. Ross, Liberal candidate in West Middlesex in the December elections. "I think it would give Canada good rule for the next five years.

"I am quite well satisfied with it," opined Dr. O. J. Sinclair, Liberal M.P.-elect for North Oxford. "I think it is a mighty good cabinet."

Looks for Prosperity.

"Splendid!" exclaimed M. G. Dean, Liberal candidate in the contest in South Oxford. "That's fine for Murdock. I think that cabinet would bring prosperity back to Canada."

W. G. Raymond, Liberal M.P.-elect for Brantford, remarked: "Sounds very good. Hon. Charles Murphy is a good man. Mr. King has had a very difficult task."

Major Duncan Ross, defeated Liberal candidate in East Middlesex, stated: "I think Ontario has been treated exceptionally fair. It is a strong cabinet. James Murdock certainly deserves a place in it."

Dr. J. P. Rankin, Liberal M. P.-elect for North Perth, was of the opinion that King knew what he was doing. He believed some changes would be made in the tentative list. He would like to see A. R. McMaster of Brome, Quebec, in the list.

Wants Graham Included.

William Forrester, M.P.-elect for South Perth, was satisfied with the list with one exception, and that was the omission of the name of Hon. Geo. P. Graham. He thought that Graham had sufficient experience to hold his former post of minister of railways, and it was believed at noon today that Mr. Graham will obtain a portfolio.

"I don't think there is any objection to the list," commented Judge C. W. Colter, Liberal standard-bearer in East Elgin in the December fight. "They are all good men."

"The cabinet selection is distributed as it ought to be," declared George M. Reid, of this city, one of London's most prominent Liberals. "It is distributed according to the Liberal power, and shows conclusively that they know what they are doing at Ottawa. I think the representation is very well scattered according to the power obtained at the election."

SIR BERTRAM HAYES TO CAPTAIN NEW MAJESTIC

New York, Dec. 29.—Capt. Sir Bertram Hayes of the liner Olympic, who holds a long line of honors for notable service in war and peace, yesterday was made commodore of the White Star fleet. He will assume command next May of the 56,000-ton Majestic, the world's largest ship, on her maiden trip in the New York-Southampton service.

Capt. Hayes received the first of his decorations, the Transport medal, inaugurated by King Edward VII., in recognition of his services in carrying troops during the Boer war. In the recent war as captain of the Olympic he transported 200,000 troops and sank a German submarine, for which he received the distinguished service order. In 1917, the Order of Commander of St. Michael and St. George was bestowed on him for his service, and three years later he was made knight commander of this order.

Capt. Hayes served during the war in the royal naval reserve, from which, in 1921, he was retired with the rank of commodore.

EXPECTS THAT REUNION WILL BE POSTPONED

Officer of Association Declares Railway Rates May Prevent Gathering.

FARES MUST BE LOWERED

Edwin Smith Considers Time Too Short To Send Out Invitations.

It is unlikely that London will have on Old Boys' reunion in 1922, though for some time it has been hoped that it would be possible to do so.

The last reunion was held in August, 1914, the first month of the war.

The matter of holding a reunion during the coming year has been on tap for some six months back. At that time the executive of the association took the matter up with the Canadian Passenger Association. The first matter to be disposed of, before it could be decided whether a reunion would be held or not, was the matter of reduced rates on all railways.

The last advice received from the railroad heads was on the first of the present month. Nothing definite was set forth and it was hoped that further advices would be forthcoming. These have not come to date.

"The railways seem reluctant to grant reduced fares at the present time," said Edwin Smith, one of the officers of the association, "and that is the important thing. Until such notice is received the matter will be held in abeyance."

Mr. Smith was somewhat doubtful as to the possibility of a reunion in 1922, even if reduced rates were granted now by the railways. He said that the notice would be pretty short to get the organization under way and to get word to all the Old Boys scattered all over the map.

Col. H. Abbott, who died recently, was the president of the Old Boys' Association, and J. H. Saunders, first vice-president, will be acting until another meeting is held.

TORONTO BANDITS RAID LAUNDRIES

Four Men Assault Chinese Proprietors and Secure $26.

Toronto, Dec. 29.—The raiding of Chinese laundries by gunmen still continues. Last night four gunmen who are thought by the police to be an organized gang, raided two laundries and after assaulting the proprietors emptied the cash drawers and made their getaway.

At 10 o'clock last night Charlie Chong of 838 King street west was bound and gagged by four men and about $21 stolen. The men entered Chong's store quietly and then proceeded to gag him with a muffler hanging over Chong's overcoat, to prevent any outcry. After tying the Chinaman's hands and feet with a stout cord they took $15 from the cash drawer and searching Chong's overcoat, secured another $7.

About 9:30, evidently the same four men entered the laundry of Lee Long at 139 Argyle street, and after hitting Long in the face with clenched fists, managed to make off with $5. Long told the police that two of the four men pointed revolvers at him, and that he was struck several times in the face when he declared that the $5 was all he possessed.

The police are furnished with a description of the robbers, but they are not sure whether the gang is traveling in a motor car or not.

Peace, vice-president of the former institution, and E. C. Pratt, general manager of the latter bank. Both Mr. Peace and Mr. Pratt denied there was any foundation in the rumors.

FRED F. HARPER LONDON LAWYER DIES SUDDENLY

Member of Firm of Gibbons, Harper & Braden Stricken by Heart Failure.

WAS IN HIS 61ST YEAR

The city of London has suffered a severe loss in the sudden death of Fred F. Harper, 483 Colborne street, a prominent member of the legal firm of Gibbons, Harper & Braden of this city and well-known throughout the province as a lawyer of outstanding ability.

Mr. Harper, whose death occurred at 4 o'clock this morning, was taken ill suddenly at his office yesterday noon.

He was in his 61st year, and death was caused by heart trouble, from which Mr. Harper had been suffering for many years.

He is survived by his widow, formerly Miss Kathleen Hutchinson, daughter of the late Chas. Hutchinson, K.C., for many years crown attorney; by three children—Rodney, Virginia and William; by two sisters, Miss Edith Harper and Miss Emily Harper of this city, and by one brother, John of Chicago.

Mr. Harper was a son of the late W. F. Harper, former manager of the Merchants Bank, London, and entered the firm, of which he was a member at the time of his death, when but a young man. At that time the firm was known as Gibbons & McNabb. Growing up with the firm, the promising young student early attained a place as partner, and the firm became known as Gibbons, McNabb, Mulkern & Harper. When death removed Mr. McNabb and Mr. Mulkern, the firm took the name of Gibbons & Harper, the senior partner of the firm being the late Sir George Gibbons.

When George Gibbons, jun., was taken into the firm as a member, the name became Gibbons, Harper & Gibbons, and on the death of George Gibbons, jun., it was changed to Gibbons, Harper & Braden. The removal of Mr. Harper from the firm breaks the last link of the old firm.

Mr. Harper was a Liberal and an attendant at St. Peter's Cathedral. He was of a retiring nature, and did not enter public life in any way.

BELIEVE GHANDI MIRACLE WORKER

Indian Villagers Call Nationalist Leader by Title Mahatma.

London, England, Dec. 29.—The popular belief in India that Mohandas Karamchand Ghandi, the Nationalist leader who is styled "Mahatma," possesses supernatural powers is growing, writes the Bombay correspondent of the Westminster Gazette.

"Mahatma" means "wonder worker," and was the title given Ghandi months ago, when there could be found in out-of-the-way Indian villages people who believed that he could stop bullets, replace severed limbs, heal disease and the like. Ghandi at that time assured his followers that he could not work miracles and was therefore not "Mahatma."

Within the past few weeks, however, the ignorant villagers' belief in his powers has revived through the appearance on the leaves of certain trees of a cotton-like material. They declared that Ghandi was making cotton grow in this way, so as to defeat the object of the government, which is buying up the entire cotton crop for export. The non-co-operators have been trying to persuade all Indians to use no cotton cloth save that of native spinning and weaving.

SEEK GOVERNMENT AID FOR JOBLESS

Deputations From Ontario Cities Wait On Provincial Cabinet.

Toronto, Dec. 29.—Premier Drury and other members of the Ontario government this afternoon received delegations from Hamilton, Peterboro and other Ontario cities in regard to the provision of adequate relief for the unemployed.

It was pointed out by various spokesmen for the deputations that the problems arising from the lack of employment in many places in Ontario had reached a critical stage. With the temporary Christmas relief at an end and outside work in most cases tied up for the winter, some general scheme of municipal relief with the assistance of the provincial government as immediately necessary, it was urged by the delegation.

Some of the speakers proposed the pressing of municipal improvements with the increased cost owing to bad weather, to be borne by the Ontario government. The guaranteeing by the province of municipal bonds for various works was also suggested.

It is understood that the Ontario government is seized of the urgency of the situation and will endeavor to formulate a scheme of co-operation with the municipalities for the relief of their unemployed.

CHARGE OF CARELESS COUNTING NOT PROVED

Hamilton, Dec. 28.—When C. F. T. Woodley, Farmer-Labor candidate in Wentworth, applied for a recount, he charged that the ballots at division eight, West Flamboro, had been counted carelessly. They were scrutinized today, and the deputy returning officer's count sustained. Over 100 of the 170 divisions have been gone over without change in the result of a material nature.

In well-informed circles at noon today, however, it was admitted that the slate published by The London Advertiser this morning was "approximately correct," although the allocation of several of the portfolios will be in doubt until a few minutes before 3 o'clock.

OTTAWA, Dec. 28.—After a day of conferences between Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, premier-elect, and his chief followers, official announcement of the Liberal cabinet again goes over.

"The cabinet will not be sworn in today," Mr. King definitely stated this evening.

"Will it be sworn in tomorrow?" he was asked.

"I cannot say, yet," Mr. King replied.

Yesterday, following a meeting of the Meighen cabinet, writs were issued for a by-election in Grenville County, Ontario. Mr. King today referred to it as a "high handed and unwarranted course."

"One thing is certain," declared Mr. King, "the Canadian public will not fail to recognize, nor Canadian political history to record, that Mr. Meighen's last act as prime minister, like his first, was one of usurpation.

"If it be true, as the press reports indicate, that Mr. Meighen, in order to provide himself with a seat in the House of Commons, has appointed A. C. Casselman, the member-elect for Grenville, to a position in the department of soldiers' civil re-establishment, thereby creating a vacancy in the House of Commons, and has caused writs to be issued for a by-election in that constituency on Jan. 26, I can only say that such a violation of constitutional procedure can scarcely fail to bring the severest censure upon Mr. Meighen, a censure which the party he leads must also share if it countenances such an act.

"I resent very strongly the statement which appears in an inspired dispatch in certain newspapers to the effect that there is reason to believe that what has been done was not without my knowledge. I had no intimation whatever that any act of the kind was contemplated, let alone perpetrated. If I had, I should never have countenanced it for a moment."

Mr. King declined to make and state-

CRIME WAVE HITS NEW YORK CITY

Five Killed and Four Seriously Wounded in Five Days' Hold-Ups.

New York, Dec. 29.—Five killed and four seriously wounded was the toll of the last five days robberies in New York City, which today set police and district attorney's office hard to work to prove their oft-repeated assertion that there has been no crime wave this year. Today, however, the bandits were up and at work again bright and early.

Of the dead two were holdup men—the others intended victims of robberies, as follows:

Dec. 23—Cigar store robbed. The man killed was a robber who jumped his bail twice last year.

Dec. 23—Rental office robbed. The man killed was a robber out on bail after conviction for grand larceny.

Dec. 23—Soft drink saloon robbed. The man killed was the proprietor.

Dec. 24—Jeweler's apartment robbery. The man killed was the jeweler.

Dec. 28—Street holdup, Brooklyn. The man killed was a salesman.

Of the badly injured two were policemen, one a robber who later was captured, and the fourth the wife of the murdered jeweler.

Three young men just missed securing $2,000 when they held up an Automat restaurant at Forty-First street and Broadway early today. The money had hardly been placed in a safe by the cashier of the place when two young fellows entered and commanded everyone present to hold up their hands. They scooped up what money they could find in the cashier's till—about $16—and then backed out, joining a partner on the sidewalk, and jumped into a waiting taxicab. A policeman who saw the men dart out of the restaurant gave chase in another taxicab and exchanged several shots with the bandits, but he could not overtake them.

INTRODUCES HIMSELF AS JOHN THE BAPTIST

Victoria, B. C., Dec. 29.—Dennis Kelley, claiming to be John the Baptist, resurrected, visited the city hall yesterday and asked for a meal ticket.

"I am being persecuted by secret societies and religious organizations, yet I am saving the British Empire," Kelly told the aldermen. He added that he was an expert varnishmaker, but he had been hounded out of every city in Canada.

"They treated me brutally in the States," said Kelly. "President Harding chased me out of the White House!"

"I alone know the truth. There has been no one like me before. There shall be no one like me again," he said.

And the aldermen believed him.

CAPTURED WITH 8,000 GALLONS OF ALCOHOL

Boston, Dec. 29.—The schooner Golden West, with 8,000 gallons of alcohol aboard, was towed into the lower harbor today by the coastguard cutter Acushnet. The cutter picked the schooner up off the coast, but sent no word ashore as to the circumstances.

PLAN SPECIAL CLASSES AT 'U' FOR WORKMEN

Secretary of London Labor Party Announces Negotiations Will Proceed.

DIFFICULTY ANTICIPATED

Question of Fees and Selection of Teachers To Be Considered.

While the move toward the establishment of workers extension classes has been somewhat hampered by the intervention of the election activities, William M. Stewart, secretary of the London Labor Party, announced to The Advertiser on Thursday that negotiations in this respect will be reopened early in January.

He explained that the scheme had been allowed to lapse the past few weeks, but had not been entirely lost sight of. There are, he says, certain details of the proposed course that call for the earnest consideration by the members of the educational committee of the labor party and a special committee of Western University representatives.

The latter group includes Dean Fox and Col. Brown.

Should special classes at the Western University for workingmen of all trades and occupations become an actual reality, London will then become the third city in the Dominion to be included in the Workers' Educational Association, Montreal and Toronto being the only other cities to date who enjoy this advance along educational lines.

Certain difficulties, however, are anticipated before the scheme is consummated. There are one or two affairs that yet have to be settled definitely to the full satisfaction of both parties. The question of fees is one, while the other is one that may involve considerable discussion. This is the right on the part of the workers to object to any professor whom they may not consider conducive to their best interests.

The workers maintain that they have every right under the constitution of the association to advocate such changes.

AUTO ORNAMENT LEADS TO ARREST

Montreal, Dec. 29.—The graceful figure of a diving girl as a decoration on the hood of an automobile led today to the arrest in Hull, Que., of Joseph Senecal and George Baker, both wanted by the coroner's court here in connection with the death of Joseph Paquette of Montebello on Dec. 1. Paquette was found dying on the roadside in the west end of the city on that day. He had been drugged and robbed by confidence men.

Evidence was furnished at the inquest that a machine which had been seen near the scene of the tragedy had carried the diving girl figure as a decoration, and it was on this clue that the arrest was effected. The men arrested are being held as material witnesses, and will appear at the coroner's court next Wednesday.

MONTREAL FREEMASONS RALLY FOR ANNUAL FETE

Montreal, Dec. 28.—Montreal Freemasons rallied in force last night for the annual festival of St. John the Evangelist, patron saint of the order, and the biggest and most widely celebrated function of recent years was the result. In all the speeches made emphasis was laid on the fact that so far as the Province of Quebec is concerned, Freemasonry is gathering strength by the addition of recruits in ever-increasing numbers.

Practically every hotel in the city was requisitioned, and the overflow was taken care of by restaurants and lodge rooms, both in the city and suburbs. The banquet was largely attended.

EGYPTIAN DOCTORS TO BOYCOTT BRITISHERS

London, Dec. 29.—A dispatch to the Daily Mail from Cairo says that at a meeting of Egyptian doctors held Tuesday, a resolution was passed calling for a boycott of the British and the fostering of the idea among all classes of the people that the boycott is a sacred national duty.

The doctors also decided to withdraw their deposits from British banks and to recommend that Egyptians generally follow their example. The dispatch adds that the military authorities, having ordered the banks not to pay without special permission certain persons, including Said Zagloul Pasha and other banished Egyptians, any money they had in the banks, the Egyptians have become alarmed and are beginning to withdraw their deposits.

LABOR MEMBERS WILL DECIDE RADICALS STAND

Toronto, Dec. 28.—Early in January the members of the Labor group in the Provincial Legislature and the provincial executive of the Independent Labor Party are to meet in conference to decide the attitude they will take on the hydro-radial question in view of the stand adopted by Premier Drury.

Explorers Utilize Airplanes To Discover New Lakes In Rockies

OTTAWA, Dec. 29.—Canadian Press.—Several hitherto unknown lakes and river valleys have been discovered in Jasper Park, Canadian Rockies, through the use of government airplanes. This work was undertaken by the High River air station, Alberta, and three experimental flights were carried out over the region for the purpose of exploration and reconnaissance. The Canadian Air Board report states that a flight was made on each of three successive days with gratifying success, and the possibilities of the use of aircraft for exploration in mountain regions and in the administration and general maintenance of the park systems were proved without a doubt.

At the conclusion of the operation, Col. Maynard Rogers, park superintendent, who was taken as observer on each of the three flights, expressed himself as highly pleased with the results obtained, and with the rapidity with which it was possible to reach any part of the park, as compared with making a similar trip by trail. In the seven hours of flying over the park he claims he traveled a greater distance and inspected more country than he could possibly have done by trail in six weeks or two months of hard traveling. Col. Rogers also expressed the opinion that sufficient flying had been done to demonstrate the absolute necessity of having machines stationed at Jasper Park to continue this exploration and general reconnaissance, as well as for the purpose of forest fire protection.

With the aid of the plane the unknown lakes and rivers were accurately located, and valuable information was secured as to the possibility of breaking new trails through the district.

Complete reconnaissances were made of mountain peaks, valleys and mountain passes. Information was also secured as to the extent of timber in the park, and communication was kept up with construction gangs working several days foot journey from the nearest telephone.

FRENCH STAND TENDS TO UNIFY ANGLO-SAXONS

Drives British and American Delegates Into Closer Mutual Understanding.

SEE SUBMARINE MENACE

All Recognize Danger to the United Kingdom in Neighboring Underwater Fleet.

Washington, D. C., Dec. 29.—(Canadian Press.)—The reaction from the refusal of the French Government to enter into an agreement for any restriction upon naval armaments except in the matter of capital ships has been the drawing closer together of the British Empire and United States delegations. No one believes that France is going to embark upon a huge scheme of naval construction, but the British delegation has already given notice that Great Britain must have a free hand in building submarines for herself and all kinds of anti-submarine craft. It was said in effect that Great Britain could not overlook the menace of a submarine fleet only twenty miles from the shores of England.

All through the conference the British Empire and United States delegations have worked harmoniously together. The various proposals presented by Secretary Hughes have been cordially supported by the British Empire delegation and their course had no little influence on both Italy and Japan. Except for France, the reduction in naval armaments would have been notable. Even as it is, the agreement as to capital ships, in the opinion of Sir Auckland Geddes, the British ambassador to Washington, makes a landmark in history. Even from an economic standpoint it is observed that the accomplishments of the conference are not inconsiderable. A great deal of money may be wasted in the construction of auxiliary craft, but a great deal of money at the same time will be saved by restricting competitive construction of capital ships.

Not Likely to Happen.

While in theory France and the other nations may embark upon a tremendous scheme of submarine construction nothing of the kind is considered as likely to happen. The British, of course, will meet any submarine construction with anti-submarine craft, but the nucleus of an effective antisubmarine force can be readily mobilized because the fishing fleets in the waters of the British Isles are largely fleets of steel construction and controlled by steam.

At the United States state department today emphasis was laid upon the achievement of the conference in arriving at a ratio in respect to capital ships. The reservation by France respecting replacement is not considered serious, indeed, a similar suggestion was thrown out some weeks ago by the British delegation.

Agreement Anticipated.

An agreement will no doubt be reached by which the scrapping of obsolete ships and new construction by way of replacement will begin in 1927.

The restriction upon the tonnage of armored cruisers and naval plane carriers is merely to guard against capital ships being built under some other name. The limitation of 10,000 tons for cruisers, and 27,000 tons for naval plane carriers is quite satisfactory to the British delegation. The limiting of guns on capital ships to 16-inch calibre and guns upon other vessels to eight-inch simply recognizes and makes permanent what is in fact already the maximum calibre for such vessels.

It is confidently expected that an agreement will be reached at today's meeting upon which a draft treaty can be predicated for submission to a plenary session of the conference this week.

It was said at the state department this morning that the Root resolutions practically prohibiting the use of submarines for preying upon commerce and making their abuse piracy, would probably be accepted by the five powers at today's meeting of the committee, as all the powers represented at yesterday's session declared themselves in sympathy with the principles thereto announced.

Restrict Submarine Use.

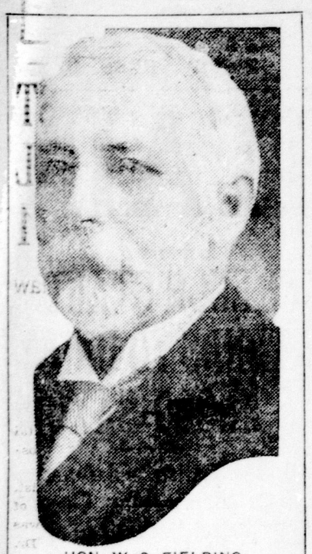

For this much credit is due to Mr. Balfour of the British Empire delegation. Both Mr. Balfour and Lord Lee by their arguments in favor of the abolition of submarines, forced the French delegation into declaration that they only desired to use the submarine for purely defensive purposes, and had no intention of using it for the destruction of non-combatants and peaceful merchant marine.

The plain-spoken exchange between Mr. Balfour and M. Sarraut, heading the French delegation, over the possibilities of a future war between France and the British Empire, following presentation of the French program in submarines and auxiliary ships yesterday was the subject of animated discussion everywhere in conference circles today. The statement of the British delegation head, that he would reserve full expression on the submarine issue until it "comes up before a public conference," made it appear certain that more would be heard of it before adjournment of the conference.

Will Confer at Peking.

When the naval question is out of the way little will remain for the conference to work on except the Chinese and Far Eastern question. These will be dealt with in a broad way by a treaty in which all the powers represented at the Washington conference, including China, will join. As already intimated the report of the sub-committee, whose chief members are Sir Robert Borden and Senator Underwood, if finally adopted by the conference, will necessitate the calling of another conference at Peking to work out in detail the plan for dealing with the Chinese tariff and allied questions.

Joint installation of the officers of the nine Masonic blue lodges of this city for 1922 was carried out in the auditorium of the Masonic Temple on Wednesday night before an audience of more than 800 Masons of this city and district. The occasion, which is a banner event in local Masonic circles every year, was marked by the presence of Most Wor. Bro. W. D. McPherson, K.C., of Toronto, past grand master of the Grand Lodge of Canada in Ontario, and Rt. Wor. Bro. W. C. Moore of Belmont, London district deputy.

In view of the fact that the blue room of the Masonic Temple would not accommodate members of the craft in attendance at the installation ceremonies, the auditorium of the building was prepared for the purpose, and even this spacious temporary lodge room was filled to capacity.

The nine worshipful masters, who will direct the destinies of the nine Masonic blue lodges of London during the ensuing year were installed in office by Wor. Bro. Nelson P. Walsh, assisted by a staff of past masters selected from the city lodges. The exercises commenced at 6:30 p.m., and were concluded several hours later, when subordinate officers of each lodge were vested with their respective insignia of office.

Honor Baby Lodge.

When the masters were installed, officers of Acacia Lodge, No. 580, the baby Masonic organization of London, were accorded the honor of being designated to conduct the affairs of the installation lodge. E. N. Fremlin, worshipful master-elect of Acacia Lodge, presided over this meeting.

The installation lodge was opened by the officers of St. John's Lodge, No. 20, this being the senior blue lodge in London. The charge to the newly-installed masters was delivered by Rt. Wor. Bro. Lorston A. Boss of this city, immediate past district grand master for London, and the general charge was delivered by Rt. Wor. Bro. Dr. C. H. Ziegler of this city.

Other officers assisting Wor. Bro. Nelson P. Walsh in his duties of installing officer, were: Rt. Wor. Bro. Richard Booth, director of ceremonies; Wor. Bro. A. C. Nobbs, senior warden; Wor. Bro. Samuel Sampson, junior warden; Wor. Bro. J. Birnie Smith, senior deacon; Rt. Wor. Bro. Lorston A. Boss, chaplain; Wor. Bro. John Moran, senior steward; Wor. Bro. James A. Elgie, junior steward; W. J. G. Stewart, secretary, and Rt. Wor. Brethren Thomas Rowe, William Line, Thomas Coleridge and Thomas Dixon.

Coincident with the installation ceremonies was the address of the evening, delivered by Most Wor. Bro. W. D. McPherson, K.C., Toronto, past grand master of the Masonic Grand Lodge of Canada in Ontario, and former attorney-general of Ontario. In his opening remarks, the speaker outlined the phenomenal growth of the Masonic Craft in Ontario during the past few years, with a present membership of approximately 80,000.

He declared that the installation ceremonies conducted here Wednesday evening were unique in Masonic circles of Ontario, and the first joint installation of such a nature that he had attended in all his Masonic career. The distinguished visitor commented on the fact that youth is well represented in the Masonic order at the present time, more than ever in its history.

Urges Community Work.

This feature, he declared, should augur well for the craft, provided that every member took upon himself the full responsibilities of living up to his Masonic pledges for the welfare of the world in general. He pointed out that the activities of a Mason are not limited to the lodgeroom, but that they should be extended to the community, with Masons doing their share in making the world better for mankind.

The speaker characterized his address as one with a background of Masonry, and declared that one of the fundamentals of a better Canada is a standardized system of education, and an open Bible for all. In his opinion, there is no reason why London, Toronto, Kingston and other centres of the province should not develop community leaders to vie with those of other parts of Canada in placing the Dominion in its proper sphere.

In presenting this idea he impressed upon his audience the important position held by London as the centre of Western Ontario. He concluded by congratulating the newly-installed officers of the nine city lodges and wishing them every success during 1922. That London district should be favored by the selection of one of its past masters for the post of grand master of the Masonic Lodge of Canada in Ontario was also the declaration of Most Wor. Bro. McPherson, who voiced the hope that this honor would come here in the near future.

During the evening, Ruthven McDonald of Toronto, and a former London district boy, entertained with several solos, his work forcing him to respond to several encores.

DENIES LABORING ON SABBATH DAY

Proprietor of Local Poolroom Appears in Police Court.

Constables Tomlin and McMaster heard some hammering going on in the poolroom of Ben Williams, corner Horton and Clarence street last Sunday afternoon, and Mr. Williams appeared in court Thursday to answer to a charge of breaking the Lord's Day act.

Tomlin stated that he saw Williams fixing a pool table when he looked through the window, and after being admitted by Williams, the latter declared that, although it was Sunday, he didn't think that he was doing any great harm.

Williams denied the conversation with Tomlin, and stated that repairs to the table had been made on Saturday night between 10 and 11:30 o'clock. He had just gone into the room to see how the table looked. The noise heard by the constables came from the side door, where his wife was fixing the door. He certainly wasn't guilty of any offence, he declared.

Judgment was reserved till next Thursday by Deputy Magistrate P. H. Bartlett.

NEW MINISTERS SWORN INTO OFFICE

ment further in regard to his cabinet negotiations. But the impression prevails that the long travail at Ottawa is soon to end.

The new cabinet, unless contingencies now unforeseen occur, it is believed, will be sworn in tomorrow, probably late in the afternoon.

Its composition has been definitely settled and all that remains to be done is the harmonious allocation of a few portfolios.

According to information obtained from thoroughly reliable sources the Meighen government will resign office tomorrow and soon thereafter Mr. King will submit to the governor-general a cabinet of sixteen or seventeen ministers, drawn from the various province approximately as follows:

Nova Scotia, W. S. Fielding, D. D. McKenzie.

New Brunswick, A. B. Copp.

Quebec, Sir Lomer Gouin, Ernest Lapointe, Dr. Beland, J. A. Robb, R. Lemieux or Jacques Bureau.

Ontario, W. L. Mackenzie King, Charles Murphy, George P. Graham or W. C. Kennedy and James Murdock.

Manitoba, E. J. McMurray.

Saskatchewan, W. M. Motherwell.

British Columbia, Dr. J. H. King.

No provision is made for the representation of Alberta, but if arrangements now being attempted can be completed, Mr. Frank Oliver may enter the cabinet at the last minute by way of the Senate. The prospects of his entrance are not rosy, however.

Cabinet Is Reduced.

It will be noted that Mr. King has carried out his laudable intention of reducing the size of the cabinet to reasonable dimensions. The departments of immigration and soldiers' civil re-establishment will certainly disappear and probably others.

The same authoritative source gives the following forecast of the destination of most of the portfolios:

Mr. King himself will be premier and minister of external affairs, and Mr. Fielding will go back to the finance department. It is not anticipated that he will be able to endure the strain of that arduous office for any long period and meanwhile Mr. Walter Mitchell, who will not enter the cabinet at present, will be in training as his successor.

Sir Lomer Gouin has determined to claim the department of justice, which Mr. Lapointe had earmarked for himself. The member for Quebec east will content himself with the department of marine, while Dr. Beland will probably be minister of militia. It happens that neither Mr. Lemieux nor Mr. Bureau are anxious for cabinet office, but the presence of one or other is needed.

Mr. Lemieux has been given the refusal of the high commissionership in London, and if he does not care to accept it can join the cabinet as minister of public works, it is believed. As the dignity and duties of the London office have many attractions for a person of his temperament, however, he may take it and in that event Mr. Bureau will join the cabinet, possibly as minister of public works. J. A. Robb will take the department of customs, and A. B. Copp will be secretary of state.

The Ontario Portfolios.

There is some uncertainty about the portfolios which will fall to the Ontario ministers. Mr. G. P. Graham thinks he should be restored to the department of railways and canals, but it is more probable that in the end it will be given to W. C. Kennedy.

It is almost certain that Mr. King has decided to introduce two Irish Catholic ministers from Ontario. Mr. Charles Murphy will then probably become postmaster-general.

Mr. King is making efforts to clear the path for the entrance of Mr. James Murdock to the House of Commons, and his appointment as minister of labor, and if these succeed he will be sworn in tomorrow.

Minister of Agriculture.

Mr. Motherwell, of course, will be minister of agriculture, and in the absence of any other possible aspirant, Mr. E. J. McMurray of Winnipeg will become minister of the interior. Few politicians can ever have enjoyed Mr. McMurray's luck. The combination of a narrow victory in a four-cornered fight and the defeat of all the other candidates of his party in his province have wafted him at his first venture into politics from obscurity into the cabinet.

The one real surprise of the ministry will be the selection of Dr. J. H. King of Cranbrook, who will resign his portfolio in the British Columbia government and take over from Mr. Beattie, the newly-elected Liberal member for the East Kootenay seat, to win the post of minister of trade and commerce.

There remains the veteran D. D. McKenzie, who, if Mr. McMurray prefers the postmaster-generalship, may become president of the privy council. His appointment is said to be more of an honorary character than anything else, and the understanding is that within a few months he will retire to the bench, and be succeeded by Mr. A. K. Maclean.

There may be some errors in the latter part of this forecast, and alterations may take place before the oaths of office are actually administered, but its main tenor is substantially correct. With the exception of Mr. McMurray and Dr. King, the new ministers all figured in every estimate hazard about the probable composition of a cabinet drawn solely from the Liberal party, and when Mr. Hud retreated to the West the inclusion Mr. McMurray was almost inevitable.

Mr. King's ministry has obvious weaknesses and serious gaps, but contains a substantial body of political experience and administrative capacity.

REV. THOS. ROY ACCEPTS CALL TO BROCKTON

Asks Talbot Street Baptist Church To Accept Resignation in January.

FEARS DECISION FINAL

Business Meeting Called For Wednesday Evening May Be Futile.

Following a largely-attended mid-week prayer service last night, Rev. Thomas S. Roy, pastor of Talbot Street Baptist Church, announced his acceptance of a call to the First Baptist Church of Brockton, Mass., and asked that his resignation be accepted, to take effect at the end of January.

Rev. Roy was approached early in December by the Brockton people, who have been most persistent in pressing their claims, the call from the United States church being unanimous and hearty in every respect.

It was impossible to turn the Wednesday evening prayer service into a business session to deal with the matter, so the chances are that such a meeting will be called for next Wednesday evening, although The Advertiser understands that Mr. Roy's decision is final, and word to that effect has been sent to the church at Brockton.

Came to City in 1919.

Rev. Mr. Roy came to London from West Newton, Mass., in October of 1919. Since coming to London his ministry has been a successful one, and apart from his church work he has made a place for himself in the affections of the men of London. As a member of the Kiwanis Club, and of Tuscan Lodge, A. F. & A. M., he has entered largely into the social life of the community.

Born at Newcastle, N.B., he graduated from Acadia in 1911, and for two years held a pastorate at Digby, N. S. From there he went to Newton, completing a course at the Theological Institute, at the same time doing pastoral work at Fitchburg, near Boston.

Was in West Newton.

Following his graduation, Mr. Roy accepted a call to Lincoln Park Baptist Church, West Newton, remaining there four years, this being prior to his acceptance of the call to Talbot Street, London.

The church to which he is going is an important appointment, while the building itself is one of the finest examples of church architecture in the New England States.

While regretting his decision, London friends are pleased to notice the recognition accorded Mr. Roy's ability and worth as a preacher and citizen. His sermons have always been logical, well-reasoned and forceful, and he has been outspoken in espousing the cause he champions.

Returns To U. S.

REV. THOMAS S. ROY.

POPULAR pastor of Talbot Street Church, who has accepted call to Brockton, Mass.

CITY INSPECTOR PIPER MARRIES IN SAGINAW

There has been much speculation around the city hall for some time over the fact that A. M. Piper, building inspector, has been building a new home for himself on William street, north. Light has now been shed on the matter on the return of the inspector to his office on Thursday morning after spending Christmas out of town. Blushingly he admitted that in the interval he had taken upon himself a wife.

Mr. Piper was married on Tuesday afternoon in Saginaw, Michigan, to Mrs. Mary Axford, the ceremony being performed by Rev. Mr. Stalner of the First Methodist Church, Saginaw.

Mr. and Mrs. Piper returned to the city yesterday. They will reside on Talbot street until their new home is completed.

SCHOOL BOARD EXPECTS HEAVY BUILDING YEAR

New Constructions Required in West London and Dakin Street Sections.

SITES TO BE SECURED

At the last regular meeting of No. 2 the building committee of the board of education on Thursday afternoon, all outstanding items will be disposed of, and the way cleared for the last regular meeting of the board itself on Friday afternoon at 4:30.

The trustees anticipate a somewhat extensive building program for 1922. A school on Dakin street, to relieve school congestion in the southeastern section of the city, is now practically assured. Although certain negotiations relating to the site have yet to be consummated, it is fully believed that no further difficulties will develop and that early next year will witness the actual commencement of this much-needed building.

It is not improbable also that the board, either at its last regular session or in its subsequent report will recommend to the incoming board that early consideration be given to the situation in West London. That a school replace the Empress avenue building is the only logical move is the contention of the majority of the present trustees, but the inaccessibility of funds rendered the undertaking an utter impossibility during the past year.

ISSUES NEW BOOK ON TOWN PLANNING

Horace L. Seymour Prepares Compilation of Acts to Date.

A compilation dealing with the legislation of town planning has just been published by Horace L. Seymour, C. E., member of the Town Planning Institute of Canada, and Ontario land surveyor.

It is pointed out in the publication that legislation concerning town planning was scattered through the various provincial acts or amendments to acts, and that most municipalities were not familiar with their town planning powers.

The booklet quotes the different sections of the various acts as they refer to the matter of town planning and should interest all those concerned besides saving them considerable trouble looking for information connected with the scheme.

The information contained in the book is a digest of town planning legislation for the province of Ontario, as in force 1921, and includes amendments enacted at the spring session 1921 of the Provincial Parliament.

The title of the book is "A Compilation of Town Planning Legislation," Province of Ontario, and a copy has been placed with the Chamber of Commerce.

29 Londoner's Register For Manufacture of Home Brew

"Polly, put the kettle on, and let's have some tea," ran the rhyme in days of long ago. Witness the twentieth century version: "Bring out the family wash boiler, we are about to brew."

Twenty-nine home brewers have reported to the inland revenue officials, as the law requires, that they have ventured to concoct beer for their own consumption, though it is a matter of great wonder to the officials how they muster the nerve to consume it, if the ingredients they name in it are correct.

Those who brew for their own consumption must tell the utensils used, to detect if stills are being utilized for the production of spirits. In almost each case the amateurs have picked the wash boiler as the ideal cauldron in which to mix and boil the strong waters.

Monday is wash day, and "suds" are the order of the day; Tuesday will be brew day and "suds" will again be the order of the day, perhaps in twenty-nine instances.

The first registrations came in November, when publicity was given to the law, and since that time the list has been added to until it has grown to consist of twenty-nine names.

The only serious drawback to the wash boiler method lies in the fact that there is a tang of copper, and a shirt washed afterwards has a decided smell of brew, so that the wearer may gather too great a following; his movements no doubt being shadowed wherever he goes.

The law reads, Section 199 of the inland revenue act:

"Utensils used by any person solely for the purpose of brewing beer for the use of himself and his family and not for sale, are exempt from the provisions of this act (inland revenue act), provided due notice of the possession thereof and of his intention of using them for the above-mentioned service is given to the nearest collector of customs or to the department at Ottawa, and brew so brewed shall not be liable to any duty under the act nor shall any license be required for his own or his family's use."

MUST APPROVE OF RELIEF WORK

Ontario Government Notifies City Must Receive Its Sanction.

The Ontario government would like to have the city take up some other works that will afford relief to the unemployment situation. This was communicated to the city officials and resulted in the conference which is being held at Toronto today. City Engineer H. A. Brazier, with Aldermen Drake and Boss, were named by Mayor Little to go from Niagara to Toronto to confer with the Drury cabinet on the matter Thursday afternoon.

Some time ago the government informed the city that it would pay one-third the excess cost of unemployment work, but would first have to approve of the work and plans. When this notice arrived, the city had unemployment work well under way, as the demand for some measure for relief was so pressing the city could not wait.

The city engineer was then sent to Toronto to see if the work under way would not be approved. His only answer up to the time of leaving the city was a receipt of another copy of the original order-in-council.

It may be that the government does not want to approve of the sewer work which the city has undertaken, and hence the conference.

TO ADVISE LOCAL LABOR OF POSITION

Chamber of Commerce Representative Will Air Views On Immigration.

The question of sending a delegate from the Chamber of Commerce to the trades and labor council to properly explain the position of the chamber to the labor council in regard to the misunderstanding existing between them concerning the retention of the immigration officer for London will be discussed by the chamber as soon as that body meets after the new year.

It is thought that by sending a representative, who will explain fully the action of the chamber, that the labor council will readily see the advisability of keeping an immigration official in the city.

It is the sincere wish of the chamber to work in perfect harmony with all the labor organizations of the city, and an effort will be made shortly to bring about a perfect understanding regarding the question at issue.

CITY MISSION HAS SUCCESSFUL YEAR

Extends Work Under Direction of Evangelist A. Lewis.

The annual report of the City Mission, under the direction of A. Lewis, shows that the mission has had a very successful year in its welfare activities. The mission has been reaching out into a wider field throughout the year, and its endeavors now embrace many new interests.

The work of the mission is now being carried on by A. Lewis, who states he was converted seven years ago, and has been at the head of the mission for the past three years. The work during that time has been carried on most successfully.

This mission is interested in furthering the interests of the Jews in the Far East, and is also interested in work among the lepers.

During the past year 355 services have been held, at which there have been many professed conversions. There have also been held 52 Sunday school services and 10 gospel truck meetings in country villages. Many Bibles and tracts have been distributed, the sick visited at the hospitals, and the poor fed and clothed.

The report shows that while the welfare work of the mission is flourishing the year is being closed with a financial deficit. During the year the mission took in $1,525.60 in subscriptions and offerings, the expenditure for the year being $1,656.50.

Of this amount $480 was spent in rent for the mission; $300 in rent for the evangelist's home; $70 in fuel; $18.50 for light; $18 for water, and $770 for evangelist's living expenses and distribution of food to those in need.

LAMBETH RESIDENT HURT IN ACCIDENT

Wm. Giles, a resident of Lambeth, was injured shortly after 2 o'clock Thursday afternoon, when the motor car in which he was riding was struck by a street car at the corner of Waterloo and Horton streets. Mr. Giles was rushed to Victoria Hospital, where he is being attended to by Dr. Roy Routledge.

CHARGES HUSBAND WITH BEING INSANE

Mrs. Lake Claims Husband Threatened To Kill Them All.

"He threatened to kill us, and said he would do away with all of us before the new year," said Mrs. Lake in the witness box at police court Thursday morning, in giving evidence against her husband, William Lake, whom she charges with being insane.

"He threatens us, drunk or sober," continued Mrs. Lake, "and he seems to be getting worse all the time. We are all afraid of him. He jumped over the dinner table yesterday and smashed all the dishes, and then stood and laughed at us. He has often run through the house with an axe."

"The whole trouble is that I am feeding too many," broke in Lake. "I am not crazy, your worship, but she is. Her mother is in the asylum. She told me I couldn't eat unless I worked, and I was off two days owing to Christmas, so I told her, 'If I can't eat, you can't, either,' and I tipped the table over. That was all there was to it."

"My mother was never in an asylum," denied Mrs. Lake. "She died in St. Louis."

"Never mind," said Deputy Magistrate Bartlett. "I will adjourn this case for one week, and Mr. Lake will be looked after in the meantime."

CELEBRATE THEIR GOLDEN WEDDING

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Amos, McGillivray Township, Were Married On Christmas Day, 1871.

Surrounded by fifty or more children, grandchildren, relatives and friends, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph H. Amos, of McGillivray Township, celebrated their golden wedding on Christmas Monday, having been married in Lucan on Dec. 25, 1871, by Rev. George Sexsmith.

Rev. David Rogers of St. Thomas, the earliest pastor following Mr. Sexsmith's ministry, was present, and a part of the marriage ceremony used and a new gold ring placed on the finger of the bride by the groom of fifty years ago.

A continued happy and long life was the wish of the guests as they clasped the hands of the aged couple, who are still in good health.

Mr. Rogers read an address to the couple on benalf of the guests, and two grandchildren made a presentation of gold. The gifts included a gold watch and chain for each, pieces of gold jewelry, a number of gold coins, checks, a Bible, in handsome gold binding, and many other tokens of love and goodwill.

Supper was served in the dining-room, where a color scheme of gold and white was carried out with white bells, yellow crysanthemums, brass candlesticks with yellow candles, etc. The wedding cake, decorated with gold leaves and beads, and topped with yellow narcissi, and agiow with 50 burning candles, rested on a walnut table 50 years old.

During supper a marconigram was received from Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Lazenby, of York, England, cousins of the bride, and a telegram from Mr. and Mrs. Geo. W. Vaux and son, of New York, U. S. A., bearing congratulations and good wishes.

A toast to the bridal couple, proposed by Wm. T. Amos, a brother of the groom, brought to a close the happy hour at the table.

In the drawing-room following supper, five of the grandchildren received the rite of baptism. An interesting fact was that the groom wore the same coat worn at the wedding of 50 years ago, also that the following four persons were present who witnessed the original marriage ceremony: Mrs. Geo. Lee, Wm. T. Amos, John J. Amos and Joseph Sholdice.

Nine Children were born to Mr. and Mrs. Amos, six of whom survive: William T., of London (who was prevented by illness in his family from being present); J. Linwood and R. Alvin, of Ailsa Craig; Mary B., at home; Dr. J. Elmer, of Brantford, and J. Ernest, of Ailsa Craig. There are also 20 grandchildren.

CLAIMS HEART ATTACK CAUSE OF ACCIDENT

Truck Chauffeur Denies the Charge of Driving Vehicle While Intoxicated.

STRUCK RICHMOND CAR

Deputy Magistrate Bartlett Reserves Judgment in Keenly Argued Case.

According to the evidence of the defence, the man who tried to carelessly brush a Richmond car off the track with a small motor truck on the evening of Dec. 23, between Victoria street and Sherwood avenue, had had a "heart spell," and didn't know what he was doing, although it was admitted that he had "put away" three small drinks of whiskey a short time before.

W. R. Meredith, counsel for the defence, submitted that the charge of driving a motor while in an intoxicated condition should be dismissed, while Chief Birrell insisted that the man had been drunk and pressed for a conviction. Judgment was reserved by Deputy Magistrate P. H. Bartlett till Tuesday next.

Motorman Tells Story.

The first witness, J. E. Timms, street railway motorman, told of seeing a motor car approaching from the north on the car track. He rang his gong, but the motor kept right on. Finaly he stopped the car and stepped back out of the vestibule before the crash. The street car was not damaged. The conductor and four passengers helped to lift the motor car off the track. He knew the driver of the motor, and thought he looked pretty sleepy. He would not say that he was drunk, although he staggered when he got out in the air.

"He got in the car again and we took him out," stated witness.

The constable o the beat heard the crash and immediately investigated.

"The man got out of the car and couldn't stand. He said he had been drinking, and asked me not to do anything, as he would lose his job," he said.

Cross-examined by Mr. Meredith, the constable stated that he didn't know that his prisoner was sick.

Constable Mackie, who arrived with the patrol, declared the man was drunk and couldn't walk. He could smell liquor on him.

Physician Testifies.

The prisoner , on being caed to the box by Mr. Meredith, said that he had taken three drinks of whiskey that night from a man whom he had picked up on the road. He had been suffering from heart trouble and had been treated by a local doctor. He drove a friend to his home on Victoria street, and after leaving had suffered from a heart attack. He did not remember driving the car off Victoria street on to Richmond. He hadn't taken enough whiskey to make him drunk.

The doctor on being called to the stand declared that the man's heart muscles had been affected by influenza, which had caused a good deal of heart pain and heart cramp. Under the circumstances as described, he might have been rendered unconscious for a short time.

"Any of us woud have had difficuty in telling whether it was heart cramp or intoxication." said the doctor.

NEW AUTOMOBILE TO INVADE FIELD

"Jewett Motors" Will Make Popular Priced Light Car.

That the Paige-Detroit Motor Car Company, under a new incorporation, known as the "Jewett Motors," will shortly place on the market a new six-cylinder car of light weight, and at a popular price, is the latest automobile development to be made known to the people of London and district, through the medium of Wilfred Hodgins of the local firm of Hodgins & Fergusson.

The Jewett Motors is a Michigan corporation, and as the entire stick is owned by the Paige Company, the new enterprise is actually a subsidiary of the latter organization. The new car will therefore hav at its commond the full financial strength of the Paige Company.

Designed by the engineering staff of the latter concern, the Jewett car is held to be a perfect type of a light, low-priced automobile as will be most likely to suit the needs of the average person at the present period. The ecutive of the new company give assurance also that the Jewett will be manuiacured by Paige personnel.

Inquiries Are Numerous.

The present Paige distributing organization empowered with full control of the disposition of the Jewett have already accomplished considerable preliminary work and recent announcements have resulted in numerous inquiries from hundreds of dealers, asking for further information. As a consequence it will be necessary to extenr the staff and scope of organizers.

Paige dealers will not discontinue their sale of Paige cars. While they will handle the new Jewett, they will continue to sell the present Paige models, 6-66 and 6-44, which, they say, have proved so successful. It is explained that the Jewett will tend to round out a more complete line of suitable machines rather than hamper the sale of the Paige.

With known financial strength and an established manufacturing and selling organization, the Jewett springs into being fully grown, with immediate possibilities for volume business. It s expected that the new enterprise will be a distinct factor in the improvement of business conditions.

While its price has not yet been announced, it is assured that the new car will be in the popular-priced field.

Profit by Experience.

"In designing the new car, we had the experience of all the other makers in the popular-priced field before us, and were able to profit thereby," said Mr. H. M. Jewett in commenting on the new car. "Careful study and thorough tests of existing sixes and fours in the low-price field convinced us that the six was the most efficient and satisfactory, and in the long run the most economical automobile. We were also able to design a really modern car with many marked improvements."

Aldermen, New and Old, Enjoy Little Jaunt To Niagara Falls

THE trip to the opening of the Chippewa Canal at Niagara Falls, taken by many members of the old and new council, is perhaps the first jaunt at the city's expense that has been open to the aldermen of the city in some considerable time.

It used to be that aldermanic jaunts at the taxpayers' expense were the usual thing, but these were so frowned upon that they became quite rare.

A feature of the Niagara trip is the fact that it may be the last for many of those who took it in, as they are quitting the city's service. On the other hand some of those who got in for the trip have yet to take their seats in the council chamber, so that their entry into municipal life might be termed auspicious, a jaunt at the ratepayers' expense.

STILL AWAITS CHECKS FROM F. B. LAVENDER

Housing Commission Has Not Yet Received Payments Agent Received.

MAY ASK RESIGNATION

Chairman J. W. Cunliffe and Commissioner D. J. Talant of the housing commission are out "with blood in the eye" after J. B. Lavender, who has been acting as agent for the commission in the selling and renting of houses built by the commission.

Tuesday morning a meeting of the commission was hastily convened to consider certain alleged irreguarities in the handling of monies paid Mr. Lavender by different parties. The case in point proved to be one in which some money had been paid and later a second amount. Mr. Lavender said he held part of it as commission, as this was the way the real estate men would do in deals they put through.

The commission claimed that this was not in accordance with the commission's ruling, which was to the effect that all money should be paid the treasurer and the latter would pay out the commission.

Mr. Lavender then promised the commission that he would turn over to the treasurer that day a marked check for $300. Thursday morning the commissioners learned that the check had not reached the treasurer.

In investigating this the two commissioners also learned that a man named Quigley, who purchased a Pine Lawn house, said that he had paid over $100. This has not reached the treasurer. G. N. Weekes, the solicitor of the commission, has the application of Quigley, and it sets out that $100 has been paid, but does not say to whom.

The outcome may be that Lavender may be asked to resign his position.

It is understood that as soon as the other commissioners are communicated with steps will be taken to secure the money from Mr. Lavender.

The Casselman Case.

SELDOM has a premier, in the hour of his triumph, been called upon to speak with such severity as Hon. Mackenzie King has addressed to Hon. Arthur Meighen at the very hour when he is preparing to hand over the reins of office to other.

The provocation is this:

A. C. Casselman, member-elect for Grenville, is given a position in the civil service after the Meighen government has been defeated, in order that a vacancy could be made for Meighen to have a seat in the house.

It is the rankest kind of patronage, and the smallest sort of politics.

The legality of the transaction is quite open to question.

What a spectacle.

The man who has been premier of Canada bribing an elected representative with an easy job to get out of the road and make a seat safe for him in a Conservative riding.

The comments of the premier-elect, who is always careful in the choice of words, shows his feelings:

"If it is true, as the press reports of this morning indicate, that Mr. Meighen, in order to provide himself with a seat in the House of Commons, has appointed Mr. A. C. Casselmen, the member-elect for Grenville, to a position in the department of Soldiers' Civil Re-establishment, thereby creating a vacancy in the House of Commons, and has caused writs to be issued for a by-election in that constituency on Jan. 26, I can only say at the moment that such a violation of constitutional procedure can scarcely fail to bring the severest censure upon Mr. Meighen, a censure which the party he leads must also share if he countenances such an act."

The premier-elect also makes short work of the inspired dispatches that he was cognizant of the trickery, and indeed a party to it.

On this point he says:

"I had no intimation whatever that any act of the kind was contemplated, let alone perpetrated. If I had I should never have countenanced it for a moment."

The whole episode, unless something turns up unexpectedly to show that the facts have been misrepresented, leaves the defeated premier and apparent leader of the Conservatives in a very poor and shabby light.

The Double Election.

WHY is it necessary for a man to be elected to Parliament, and then, if he is chosen for cabinet rank, go back to the country for re-election?

Of course, it is British law, and we have followed it. Recently there has been more or less criticism of the method, the claim being made that it was old-fashioned and useless. There is a tendency today to consider that a measure or idea that has a bit of age back of it is useless for this country.

One writer, defending the double election idea, claims that a person might be elected to parliament, "but in electing him the people simply voted for him principally because he belonged to a certain political organization. In other words, he was in the field, and rather than see the party of which he was a supporter weak in the legislature they gave him a vote. Support was not given to him as a man or a leader, but more as an aid to voting in the house, and in this way keeping perhaps a party in power. Voting for such a person as head of a department of the government or as a responsible minister of the crown, when perhaps the true significance of responsible or representative government never entered the head of such an individual, is strictly another question. In other words, voting for a man as a mere member of an assembly and voting for him as a leader of a government are two vitally different things. This being ... is ... for the people to still ... right and power of accepting or rejecting such a person at the polls."

The assumption in the above is both right and wrong. Take, for instance, the first citizen of the country, Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King. The voters of North York knew that he was appealing to them in a capacity greater than that of simply a Liberal candidate. He was leader of the Liberal party, and, if successful at the polls, would be either leader of the opposition or premier of the country. It will be necessary for Mr. King to go back to North York—for what? In this particular case it is apparently so that a small group of small politicians in the Conservative camp can try and take a fall out of him when he comes up for re-election.

Take the case of W. C. Kennedy of Windsor. The voters there showed their entire confidence in him at the election on December 6. Is it to be presumed, because he may now have cabinet rank, that they have changed their minds, and want no more of him?

It is very doubtful if the voters would hold back approval of a candidate on the second vote because in the interval between that and the first vote he had been given cabinet rank. In the great majority of cases local pride would be stimulated by the promotion to the point of even a more pronounced indorsation than that given in the initial appeal.

No doubt there are some very good reasons for the continued existence of the law as it stands, but it must also be admitted that it creates situations where the only purpose served is giving vent to defeated and disgruntled groups to bring their meanness to the surface.

Liberal Gathering.

LIBERALS in Goderich had a social time recently, following the election. The evening took the form of an entertainment and get-together event combined, while plans for future organization activities were also discussed.

The Goderich people are on the right track. Right now, in the hour of victory, is the time to look to the future. It is the time to bring all factions of Liberals together. It is the time to plan constructive work for the future. It is the time to get the old debating club idea working again, and in this way make and train the platform men for the next contest.

There is no better way to study Canadian politics, and at the same time Canadian history.

Imagine, for instance, two topics for debate:

(1) Resolved, that Sir John A. Macdonald was as great a man following the Pacific Scandal as he was before it, or

(2) Resolved, that Sir Wilfrid Laurier struck a truer note of Canadianism in London than Hon. Arthur Meighen.

There are very few of our readers who could debate on either of these matters off-hand. Both would require research and study, and therein would be their use.

The fact that women are taking a keen interest in politics widens the scope that can be covered at such gatherings in the way of entertainment of various sorts, and also permits of an intelligent discussion of woman's interest in public affairs.

Goderich Liberals have set a good example to their neighbors.

LITTLE 'TISERS

The one big objection to election speeches is that people are apt to remember them afterward.

Several Methodist conferences have decided that women shall not preach. Yes, and it's only a few years since we were sure she wouldn't have the vote.

Most of the ladies by now have been down and changed size 5 for 7. If you are bound on giving footwear at Christmas make it doubly acceptable to the ladies by sending it two sizes small.

Despite all the talk and uncertainty of the Merchants Bank affair there has been an increasingly good market for Canadian securities, which speaks volumes for the financial condition of Canada.

Conditions do not improve in Egypt, and the British have a real problem facing them there. The Milner report on conditions in Egypt, and the recommendations for future relations there has not been acted upon, and in its place no definite policy seems to have been adopted. The anti-British element in Egypt, closely allied with Turkey before the war, has lost no time in making capital of the situation.

A coroner's jury was called together in Toronto to see if any one were to blame for the death of a man who was killed by a train, after going under the crossing gates. He was in a hurry to get to work and shoved along under the gates. The result was that he was struck and killed. There is that queer instinct in many people that makes them rush over a crossing, no matter if they are in any great haste or not. If a railway company places gates at a crossing and operates them faithfully they are doing all that can be expected to protect human life.

READ YOUR CHARACTER

[By Digby Phillips.]

NO. 73—SNUB NOSES.

Some people consider snub noses pretty. Some don't.

But in either case the chances are that they are not thinking of or referring to the real, honest-to-goodness snub nose, but rather of what passes for it in our careless speech.

So far as the real snub nose is concerned, not even a mother could contend that it was a mark of beauty in her adult boy or girl. The real snub nose is considerably more snubbed than the one we ordinarily designate as snub.

It indicates an elemental nature, both temperamentally and mentally. It does not, as a rule, go with marked mental attainments. Its possessors are not likely to have studious tastes, but when faced with study they take it, as they do most everything else, in a very literal sense.

Simplicity, straightforwardness and naivete are the keynotes of their characters, and you will do well if you do not rely upon them too implicitly for results in any task that requires imagination or foresight.

For the rest, they may be active or passive, intuitive or thoughtful, irritable or amiable, whimsical or steady, as may be indicated by the many other characteristics by which, in combination with their snub noses, you should form your opinion of things.

WAYS TO KEEP WELL

To Avoid Insomnia

BY DR. R. H. BISHOP.

THERE is no known universal remedy for sleeplessness.

A healthy child never has insomnia. His sleep may be disturbed, but that is due to errors of diet or emotional causes.

Insomnia usually arises from such causes as worry, grief, overwork and business cares. They should have been dismissed at the bedroom door. The mind carrying these matters to bed turns each worry over and over until exhaustion brings respite or daylight comes.

Some say that if you relax and lie passive you will thereby dismiss restlessness and sleeplessness, but that doesn't always work. It requires a mental effort and may end in increased wakefulness and disturbance.

A prolonged warm bath often helps to lure drowsiness and sleep.

Sometimes reading an amusing book or drinking a glass of warm milk will do the trick.

Counting 100 forward and backward, repeating the multiplication table or saying some phrases an indefinite number of times are possibilities that may be tried.

Some people have found that words suggestive of sleep repeated over and over in slow succession will often invoke sleep.

25 YEARS AGO TODAY

Here We Have Items of Local and District Interest, As Recorded in The Advertiser of 1896.

THURSDAY, DEC. 29, 1896.

Mr. Ed... of London arrived home from England on Sunday morning.

Geo. Lamb Taylor, barrister, has been appointed to be police magistrate for the town of Bothwell.

Almon B. Atwater, superintendent of the G. T. R., formerly of Woodstock, is to become very shortly the general superintendent of the Central Vermont Railroad, which is controlled by the G. T. R.

Mr. W. C. Sheppard, Bothwell, is spending the holidays here.

Sergeant of Instruction F. E. Davies of Wolseley Barracks returned this morning from a short visit to Toronto and Niagara.

The annual Christmas entertainment in connection with St. James Presbyterian Church was held last night and was numerously attended. Each child brought something in the way of provisions, which will be distributed among the poor and sent to the homes. A donation of money was received for the Hospital for Sick Children at Toronto. During the evening Miss Hastings' class of boys presented her with a large photograph, handsomely framed. Those taking part in the program were: Ella Flowers, Willie Scott, Alex. Grover, Bella Channey, Jennie Murray, Jennie Pender, Miss Maggie Scott, ... B. Anderson, Rhoda Scott, Leonard Douglas, Jennie Brown and Hazel Douglas. The choruses by the little girls and the harmonica chorus given by Willie Craine, Harry Ruse and Richard Slater, were the features of the evening.

The military ball given Monday night at Wolseley Barracks by Lieut.-Col. Smith and officers of the Royal Regiment of Canadian Infantry was one of the most successful affairs of this kind held in London for a long time. The decorations were perfect as to general design and arrangement of colors and reflect great credit upon Lieuts. Betty and Sippi, who superintended the beautifying of the ballroom, and Capts. Cartwright and Sherman, who attended to the adorning of the stairway. Mesdames Vidal and Hemming and the Misses Smith each furnished a reception room upstairs. THE JEST.

PROHIBITION AND THE PRESS.

A southern editorial writer believes that violation of the prohibition laws is no more fitting a subject for jests than is the crime of burglary, and that newspapers are partly responsible for the difficulty in enforcing these laws. He says:

"Those who aspire to see the prohibition laws enforced will hold the daily newspapers, and especially the makers of comic strips, responsible for a great deal of the trouble that exists at present.

"It is difficult to pick up a great daily newspaper in which, upon some page, you will not find some 'jest' or some picture which has for its motif a thrust at the prohibition laws. The spirit underlying a great number of the comics is the delight to be obtained from the surreptitious manufacture and consumption of alcoholic liquors."

ONE TRAP, ONE MOUSE.

The young housewife, looking very pretty and workmanlike in big green coveralls, was cleaning out the pantry cupboard.

"Dickey," she called to her young husband, "I want you to bring me a mouse trap home tomorrow."

"But, angel," cried the young man, "I brought you one home yesterday."

"I know, pet," called back the young bride. "But that one has a mouse in it."

A Job For Every Man Prosperity For All.

Mr. Farmer

IN June 1920 you were receiving $2.50 per bushel for wheat. In October 1921 you received $1.00 per bushel. During the same period oats declined from $1.40 to 40c. per bushel, hogs from $19 per hundred weight to $10, cattle from $15 to $6.50 per hundred weight.

Dairy products have declined about one-fifth.

On the whole the average value of your products, including apples, dairy produce, fodder, grain, hides, honey, live-stock, vegetables, and wool, if represented by 100 in June 1920, had shrunk to 61 by October 1921.

You have felt that other commodities, and labor, have not been similarly reduced.

Under these circumstances you have been inclined to shorten production and curtail operations.

When the call came for "greater production," you responded in a spirit of patriotism. You produced food to the utmost of your ability.

Today the financier, builder, manufacturer, wholesaler, retailer and worker, are being asked to join in a general plan of co-operation having as its object the creation of employment for a large number of persons. This is being done in the belief that a return to normal conditions can best be accomplished through normal channels.

Knowing that this concerted effort is being made, will you make every effort to plan your operations so that next year's production may be kept to normal or possibly increased?

Will you make improvements on your farm this winter if you find it practical to do so?

Your co-operation will be a big factor in helping Ontario lead the way to

"A Job for Every Man Prosperity for All!"

Buy! — Build! — Work!

Plan of Co-operation.

The Provincial Advisory Committee on Unemployment considered the industrial situation and endorses the following statement of proposals:—

1.—That Manufacturers should be asked to take a price for goods on hand equal to the cost of replacement having regard to decreased cost of raw material and of labor used in manufacture.

2.—That Wholesalers should be asked to sell goods on hand at replacement prices.

3.—That Retailers should be asked to sell at replacement prices.

4.—Knowing that the costs of building at the present time have been considerably reduced, those desiring to build should be encouraged to ask for new tenders on their proposed work; and that building contractors and builders' supply people should make a special effort to reduce prices to a minimum in order to restore this important key industry.

5.—That Banks and financial institutions should be prepared to co-operate to the utmost with all productive enterprise by allowing all reasonable credits and by decreasing rates as rapidly as conditions may allow.

6.—That Farmers should be asked to maintain reasonable production, and in the event of a proportionate reduction being reached in other lines, should be prepared to make needed improvements and betterments.

7.—That Labor shall be asked to take willingly a reduction in wages proportionate to progressive decrease in cost of living, in so far as such a reduction has not already taken place.

The above statement has been submitted to and endorsed by the following interests—manufacturers, wholesalers, retailers, building industries, agriculture, financial interests and the veterans.

KNIGHTS' FIRST BALL PROVES A GREAT SUCCESS

St. Peter's Hall Transformed Into a Veritable Fairy Palace For Occasion.

WILL BE ANNUAL EVENT

The first annual ball given by the local council of the Knights of Columbus Wednesday evening in St. Peter's Hall was a brilliant affair. The hall was transformed into a fairyland, with tiny lights and colored serpentine festoons strung from the corners of the hall and caught in the center with a large Christmas bell. The walls were banked with cedar boughs, and Christmas trees were arranged in front of the platform, on which were rose-shaded floor lamps, which cast a pretty glow on the animated scene. The large lights were shaded by the Christmas colors, red and green. The balcony decorations were also carried out in these colors. Large K. of C. shields were hung at both ends of the hall, surrounded by cedar boughs. The basement was used for a supper-room, the many guests sitting down to tables effectively decorated with palms and ferns.

The music was excellent, and the dancing continued well into the small hours. One of the most popular dances was the balloon dance, when colored balloons were set free from the balcony and floated among the dancers.

Those lending their patronage for the dance were: Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Callaghan, the latter wearing a handsome gown of black sequin over charmeuse and a jet bandeau with an osprey; Lieut.-Col. Claude Brown and Mrs Brown; Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Killingsworth, Mrs. Killingsworth gowned in black satin, with a sequin overdress, the bodice heavily beaded, and a corsage of Richmond roses; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Forristal, the latter wearing a gown of black sequin; Mr. and Mrs. E. Ryan, Mr. and Mrs. E. Hesson, Mr. and Mrs. John Givens, Mr. and Mrs. M. P. McDonagh and Mr. Frank Smith. Among the guests noticed were: Miss Eleanor McPhillips, Angela McPhillips, Mr. Philip Pocock, L. Pocock, Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Nelles, Mr. and Mrs. Philip Pocock, Marie Warburton, Misses Meadon, Dr. and Mrs. Sweeney, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Nolan, Miss Woolson, San Francisco; Miss Helen Pitt, Miss Butler of St. Thomas, Miss Pye, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Forristal, Miss Brennan, Miss Gertrude Laughlin, Dr. and Mrs. Tillmann, Dr. Duffey, Misses Corkin, Mr. and Mrs. R. Kitchen, Mrs. McKillop, Mr. and Mrs. J. Leech, Mr. Rainbaca, Mr. C. Smith, Mr. Vincent Laughlin, Mr. Albert Murphy, Mr. H. Egnan, Mr. and Mrs. Philip Cook, Mr. Vincent Callaghan, Mr. Jack Donohue, Miss D. Dwyer, Mr. Ridley of Toronto, Miss Ashwell, Mr. T. Ranahan, Miss Kinney, Miss Corcoran, Mr. Arthur Somers, Mr. Mel Brock of Ridley College, Miss J. McDonald, Mr. Pococke, Mr. and Mrs. McLaughlin, Mr. Nolan of Toronto, Mr. Fish, Mr. J. Garrott, Miss Riley, Mr. Doyle, Mr. Nopper, Misses Christopher, Miss Helen Coughlan, Mr. and Mrs. John Forristal. The committee in charge of the dance, and who were responsible for its success were: Messrs. Edward Dignan, Fred Waud, Roy Kenny, Ed. Slattery, Wilfred Henry, F. Norbert Corcoran, E. Killingsworth and Joseph Hevey.

THIRTY-FIVE CENTS HER TURKEY COST

That's Sunny Alberta Price, Not London.

A former London girl, now in a home of her own in Southern Alberta, who describes herself as a "devoted reader of The Advertiser," has written the editor of the women's department this past week, inclosing a clipping from a Calgary paper. Were it not for the name of the paper and date line, the inclosure might have been a butcher's shop advertisement from the files of The Advertiser of a dozen years or more ago——in spots. And this isn't any reflection on the up-to-dateness of style of setting the advertisement. It is a comment on the prices, as compared with "good old Ontario," the land of plenty.

The correspondent says: "We may have our droughts and our high winds to blow out the crops, and our hard times out here, but at least the Christmas turkey stays down below the clouds. To be sure, our small town isn't a metropolis like Calgary or Edmonton, or London, but we have our compensations. We have bought our choice Christmas turkey for 35 cents a pound. We pay 45 cents for choice butter, and 55 cents for strictly fresh eggs. It appalls me to think of Aunt Marla blithely stepping around the London market with nary a shiver of anxiety apparently, among frail eggs 80, 85, 90 cents and even $1 a dozen. And turkeys at 60 cents and 65 cents. It is unthinkable to an exile from the old home town, like myself, as I look back upon the Saturday market in London, and the well-stocked farms of Western Ontario!

"Even the people of Calgary haven't anything to complain about when they pay such prices as the inclosed."

Here are some extracts from the advertisement of the Calgary butcher's shop:

Choice young turkey, per lb. 45c; good young turkey, 40c; fair young turkey, 35c (could honesty go farther?); choice spring chicken, 27c; choice fowl, 22c; choice blade roast beef, 12½c; choice pot roast beef, 10c; choice shoulder roast pork, 16c; choice leg roast pork, 23c; choice pork sausage, 2 lbs. for 35c; choice shoulder mutton, 12c; pure lard, 3-lb. pails, 55c; selected carton eggs, per dozen, 60c.

A "butcherteria, in Calgary (cash-and-carry-help-yourself), at the same time was offering choice milk-fed turkeys for 40 cents and 43 cents a pound, states the correspondent, and choice veal roasts at 10 cents a pound.

While in town to address the Girl Guides of London next week, Miss Winnifred Head of Havergal College, Toronto, will be the guest of the provincial commissioner, Mrs. F. P. Betts, Wednesday afternoon, Jan. 4. Mrs. Betts is asking several people interested in guide work to meet Miss Head at the tea hour. The charming English girl has two great enthusiasms—art, of which she is a teacher in Havergal College; the Girl Guide movement to which practically all her spare time is devoted.

A Hamilton correspondent writes:

"Gateside House," the beautiful home of Col. and Mrs. William Hendrie, was the scene of a brilliant social event on Tuesday evening, when their daughter, Miss Mary, was introduced into society. The rooms were most artistically decorated with the season's colors, and large bouquets, gifts to the debutante. Miss Hendrie was charming in a gown of crepe with overdress of silver tulle. Miss Mary McLaren, beautifully gowned in pale pink canton crepe, and Miss Douglas Glassco, in white taffeta, entered with her. Many guests were present from Toronto and Montreal. Mr. Adam Smith, a nephew of Col. and Mrs. Hendrie, was present from London.

"A jolly house party of young people, guests at "Gateside House," for the coming-out dance and the many other festivities that are crowding the social calendar this week in Hamilton, include Miss Rachel Allen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Allen of Montreal. Miss Laura MacDougall, Montreal; Miss Wyser, Prescott; Messrs. Panton, Winnipeg; Woollcombe, Ottawa, and Adam Smith, London. Sir John and Lady Hendrie entertained in honor of the house party and other young people attending the dance at a buffet luncheon on Wednesday, attended by one hundred or more."

A bright social affair of Christmas week for the not-outs was the dance given Wednesday evening at the Institute of Musical Art by Mrs. W. B. Richardson, in honor of her daughter, Miss Kathleen Richardson. Mrs. Richardson received the young guests in a gown of black jet, and Miss Kathleen looked sweet in a dainty frock of orchid panne velvet, with French flowers. The hall was decorated with Christmas decorations and the platform was banked with palms, behind which Lombardo's Orchestra played excellent dance music. A buffet supper was served downstairs, from a table centered with a large basket filled with lovely plants. The young guests numbered over one hundred and included: Misses Sterling, Westland, Agnes Duffield, Helen Boughner, Virginia Harper, Corinne Blackburn, Gweno Williams, Helen Percival, Elaine Stevely, Marian Tanton, Margaret Brown, Catharine Cleghorn, Katharine Beltz, Anne Macbeth, Marian Beattie, Audrey Farncombe, Ruth Granger, Eleanor Robinson, Jean Wyatt, Gwen Ferguson, Connie Givins, Norma Ferguson, Mary Mori, Genieve Le Breste, Beryl Jewell, Edith Anderson, Gwen and Doris Auden, Alberta Cahill, Dorothea Kitchen, Sterling Kitchen, Lillian Kerrigan and Messrs. Why not try a barnyard-ostrich plume this season? They're the newest thing—and they're attractive. And very inexpensive.

You see, a barnyard-ostrich is a hen—or a rooster, if you prefer.

Society women saw them. They liked them. They wore them.

WHIRL OF GAIETY CLOSES OLD YEAR

After That, Deluge of Serious Business.

Not for many a year has there been so much gaiety at the Christmas season in London as during the present week, with the first week of the New Year booked to overflowing with parties of every description.

Chief interest centres in the entertainments for the school girls and boys, the "not outs," and the young men of college age who are home for the holidays. More than one hostess of a house party has lamented her inability to "work-in" a luncheon, tea or dinner dance, evening party or even a supper dance in honor of her young guests owing to the crowding of such events upon the heels of one another.

Friday evening, Dec. 30 will see the climax of festivities for the year-end. With New Year's eve falling on Saturday, it is not quite in order in an orthodox community to "dance the old year out and the new year in," hence the hands of the clock will be shoved forward twenty-four hours in many cases to achieve the desired effect on Friday night.

December Brides.

Apart from the general entertaining the Christmas season has been marked by an unusual number of "interesting nuptial events" in the parlance of the society editor.

In setting the day, is it possible the fair brides have had in mind the old superstitions of the months?

"When December's snows fall fast, Marry and true love will last."

and

"Married in days of December cheer,
Life will shine brighter from year to year."

With so much entertaining and being entertained, the more serious business of life, in the way of club activities, has been relegated to the background for a breathing space, while mothers, big sisters, aunts and cousins do their part in keeping the ball of festivities rolling.

After the new year is safely on its way, however, a veritable deluge of activities is predicted in women's organizations. Annual meetings of nationally organized societies already are poking their heads over the horizon, suggesting planning, nominating and other details in connection with preparation for these.

Early in the New Year the executive of the Local Council of Women will meet to arrange for a meeting of the council and preliminary business in connection with the annual meeting in March.

Preliminary business this year will involve the sending out of nomination blanks to all the affiliated societies, carrying out the National Council's idea that every federated organization as a whole should have a voice in choosing the officers of the council, which, in reality, is a committee of the federation.

"With the broadening of the interests of the National Council, to include practically all that vitally affects the welfare of the citizenship, it is supremely important that we should be most careful in selecting our officers in our local councils and that we should have the opinion of the members of all our affiliated organizations," said Mrs. E. B. Smith, president of the London Local Council, to The Advertiser, with reference to the plan of sending out nomination blanks. The slips will go out in January, to give affiliated societies an opportunity of making their nominations and returning them in ample time before the council annual meeting in March.

Business is already being shaped up for the annual meeting of the Young Women's Christian Association early in February. A long agenda awaits the Municipal Chapter I. O. D. E. to be dealt with at the January meeting, the second Wednesday of the month, including plans in connection with the Ontario Provincial Chapter in Brantford, Jan. 26 and 27.

WITH THE BRIDES

BALDWIN—CURRIE.

A quiet wedding took place Monday, Dec. 26, at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. J. Currie, Durham, when her younger daughter, Jessie, became the bride of Mr. Alfred Baldwin of Buffalo.

TAYLOR—ANDERSON.

A pretty wedding took place Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Anderson, Princess avenue, when their only daughter, Sarah Gertrude, was married to William Yale Taylor, son of Mrs. Taylor of Oakville, Rev. D. C. MacGregor officiating. The bride, who was given away by her father, looked lovely in her wedding gown of brown kitten's ear crepe, and wearing a corsage of Ophelia roses and violets. As she entered the drawing-room, which was artistically arranged with palms and roses, the wedding march was played by the London Harpers. After the ceremony a reception was held, at which only the immediate relatives were present. Mr. and Mrs. Taylor left on a honeymoon which will be spent in Buffalo, and upon their return they will reside in Oakville. The bride traveled in a frock of navy tricotine, a seal coat and a smart black hat.

SMITH—WARDROPE.

A pretty winter wedding took place Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock, when Jean Alexander, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Wardrope, was married to William Elroy Smith, son of Mr. G. E. Smith of Esterhazy, Sask., Rev. D. C. MacGregor officiating. The bride, who was given away by her father, wore a smart suit of brown broadcloth, a brown hat with touches of burnt orange, a corsage of Sunset roses and the groom's gift, a silver barpin. Miss Mary Louise Wardrope, sister of the bride, was bridesmaid and wore a lovely gown of blue charmeuse, with a large black lace hat, and a corsage of Sunset roses and orchids. Mr. Bert Smith of Toronto was the best man.

The "Wedding March" was played by Mrs. H. B. R. Craig, cousin of the bride, and during the signing of the register, Miss Bessie Argo sang "Because."

The wedding took place at the home of the bride's parents, Elmwood avenue, the house being artistically decorated with palms and flowers, and smilax and red roses were used effectively. After the ceremony a reception was held, a buffet luncheon being served from a table lovely with flowers. Among the out-of-town guests were Mr. Bob Clements of Toronto, Mrs. Davidson of Galt, Mrs. McAllister and Miss Marian McAlister of Guelph.

Mr. and Mrs. Smith left for Esterhazy, Sask., where they will reside.

RITCHIE—GOODISON.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Goodison, Cedar Springs, was the scene of a very pretty wedding on Monday, Dec. 26, when their youngest daughter, Ruby Irene, was united in marriage to Jack A. Ritchie, whose parents live in St. John, N.B.

The bride, who was beautifully gowned in navy canton crepe embroidered in henna, entered the room to the strains of the Wedding March played by Miss Ella Foster of Detroit, and was given away by her father.

The marriage ceremony was performed under an arch of evergreen, poinsettia and holly in the presence of about thirty guests. After the wedding dinner the happy couple left via M. C. R. for Buffalo and points east. The bride traveled in a smart nigger brown velour suit with hat to match.

The happy young couple were the recipients of many beautiful gifts, among these a handsome reading lamp presented by the manager and staff of the Canadian Bank of Commerce of Blenheim, with which the groom is associated.

SISTER MARY'S KITCHEN

COOKING POTATOES

PERHAPS there are to be so many small people at the New Year dinner that plum pudding is too rich a dessert.

Ice cream is as easily digested as any dessert, but just plain ice cream seems rather ordinary for the New Year dinner. A sauce adds much to vanilla ice cream, while a frozen pudding or mousse is quite as elaborate a dessert as is necessary.

There are delicious unfrozen puddings that will be relished by big people as well as little.

Chocolate Sauce.

One and one-half cups milk, 1 cup of sugar, 1½ squares bitter chocolate, 1 tablespoon butter, 1 teaspoon vanilla.

Grate chocolate. Put sugar and milk in saucepan and bring to boiling point. Take out enough of this boiling mixture to melt chocolate and make of the consistency to pour easily.

Add to sugar and milk and boil five minutes. Add butter and boil three minutes. Remove from fire and add vanilla. Pour hot over vanilla cream. This can be made and kept hot over hot water for an hour.

Frozen New Year Pudding.

Two cups milk, 1½ cups cream, 3 eggs, 1 cup sugar, 5 tablespoons flour, two-thirds cup powdered sugar, 1 tablespoon vanilla, 2 drops almond essence, ½ cup candied cherries, ½ cup candied pineapple, 1 cup nuts.

Put milk in a smooth saucepan to scald. Mix flour and 1 cup sugar and add to eggs well beaten. Beat this mixture well and add scalding milk.

Cook over hot water till mixture thickens. Let cool and beat in cream and powdered sugar and flavoring. Add fruit and nuts cut in small pieces, turn into mold and pack in ice and salt. Let stand without turning for three or four hours.

Scrape the edges of the mixture from the sides of the mold four times during the freezing and stir with a wooden spatula to keep the fruit from settling.

New Year Delight.

Five eggs, 1 cup granulated sugar, 2 tablespoons gelatine, 1½ cups grape juice, 1 cup chopped almonds, ¼ pound candied cherries, macaroons, whipped cream.

Separate whites from yolks of eggs. Put yolks into a bowl and beat well with sugar. Dissolve gelatine in 1 cup cold water. Heat grape juice to the boiling point and add to yolk mixture. Heat again. Beat whites of eggs till stiff and dry. Beat in gelatine and almonds. The almonds should be chopped through the coarse knife of the food chopper.

Pour hot yolks over white mixture and mix. Pour into a deep pan lined with macaroons sprinkled with a few cherries. Let set and serve topped with whipped cream and the rest of the cherries. This pudding needs no cake to accompany it.

Marshmallow Dessert.

One pint whipping cream, ½ pound marshmallows, 12 macaroons, 1 cup of chopped nuts, ½ cup preserved cherries, ¾ cup powdered sugar.

Whip cream till stiff. Add marshmallows cut in small pieces, macaroons rolled fine, nuts, cherries and sugar. Mix well and put in a mold to chill. Let stand three or four hours and serve in glasses.

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS.

UP IN THE TREE

[By Olive Roberts Barton.]

"Why, it looks like that thing the man worked the elevator with," declared Nancy.

"Please, Green Shoes," said Nick excitedly, "take us up to the little playhouse at the top of the old apple tree!"

Instantly, the Twins were lifted off the cool, green, grassy ground, and carried straight to the queer little house that had mystified them so long. Right in through the mysterious doorway that had held so much delight and terror.

"Oh, oh, or!" cried Nancy looking around in dismay. "It's empty!"

"Of course!" grunted Nick in his masculine manner. "What else did you expect?"

But secretly he was disappointed, too! Just why, he didn't know, but then, you know, there was the Cave of the Forty Thieves, and besides hadn't Aladdin found his wonderful in an old well!

"What did you expect?" he repeated.

"Well," said Nancy, "I really didn't expect anything only—only—you see mother told me a story of Wendy who went to housekeeping in the tree tops and did spring housecleaning for Peter Pan and I hoped—"

"Here's something," Nick interrupted her suddenly. "What do you s'pose it's for?"

He had discovered an old iron handle and now wiggled it back and forth. A brake off an old farm wagon is what it was, fastened at one end to the floor, but Nick didn't know that.

"Why, it looks like that thing the man worked the elevator with," declared Nancy, "in the big store in town where mother took us for hats."

"So it does," answered Nick, pulling it this way and that.

Nancy listened. "I hear something a-buzzing," she said.

"It's the bees," said Nick. "They're after the honey in the blossoms."

But Nancy was looking out of the window. "Oh, oh! We're moving!" she cried. "We're going up. Look, Nick, quick!"

"Why," said Nick, "it must be an elevator after all!" I wonder where we're going"!

MUNRO WILL PICK HIS TEAM TONIGHT

Last Workout For Manhattans At Westminster This Evening.

Manhattan juniors will go on the ice again tonight at Westminster rink and have their last workout before their opening game with Glencoe Friday night. The Red and Whites have been practicing at their rink every night this week, and Coach Tommy Munro has rounded his players into pretty fair shape, and obtained a good idea of their all-round ability.

Coach Munro will pick his team from the following players: Tuphone, Lamond, Wilson, Milne, Voug, Talbot, Sessions, McGough, Graham, Needham, Taylor, Davies, Evans, Bruce, Ince and Heddon.

These youngsters will appear at the rink tonight, and the team for Glencoe will be picked at the close of the practice.

Special arrangements are being made by the Manhattans for the initial game. They will take G. T. R. train No. 16, leaving London at 7 o'clock. Officials of the railroad will put a special coach on for the team and fans, as it is expected about 100 will accompany the team.

President Broughton of the Manhattans announced last night that he succeeded in getting 100 seats reserved for the London followers.

POSTPONE SARNIA-PT. HURON CONFAB

Majority of Mint Clubs' Directors Failed To Show Up.

SARNIA, Dec. 28.—As the result of the lack of attendance on the part of Sarnia and Port Huron directors of the Sarnia-Port Huron Mint League Club at the scheduled annual meeting, it was announced tonight that the proposed session will be held at a fair date when the manager for the team will be selected and changes made in the directorate of the Border club.

Interviewed tonight, W. H. Watkins, president of the club, announced that he was preparing to resign his office owing to the pressure of other business.

The directors of the local team are planning to place the same team in the field for the 1922 season as they had during the recent season. Seventeen players are already under contract and plans are now under way to give tryouts to a number of others.

Opposition has been made for the manager's berth, and besides Catcher Bill Kelly, Wally Watson and ex-manager Wall, of the Kalamazoo Central League Club are now seeking the position.

At the meeting it was shown that Sarnia fans turned out better than the American fans did and plans are now under way to have a drive aunched for the payment of stock subscribed that has not yet been paid up.

WANT MORE FACTS ON SCOTTISH TOUR

MONTREAL, Dec. 28.—President Mitchell of the Province of Quebec Football Association, in acknowledging today to Secretary Roy of the Dominion Football Association, receipt of the latter's statement of the Scottish team's tour, asks further information regarding an expenditure of $22,600 paid to the "party" in this country and the United States, and presumes that these sums were paid to the Scottish team. In that case, he points out that it was understood that the visiting players were to receive only their traveling expenses on the trip.

Mr. Mitchell also proposed that the D. F. A. accounts be handed over to a chartered accountant to be straightened out before the annual meeting of the association.

OLYMPIC STADIUM TO BE BUILT JUST OUTSIDE PARIS

PARIS, Dec. 28.—The stadium where the 1924 Olympic games are to be held will probably be built in the Parc des Princess, just outside of Paris, between the gate of Auteil and the Gate Molitor, if the recommendations of the commission of experts are approved by the city council, which is to meet for this purpose.

The commission, which was appointed by the city council to study sites for the Olympiad, suggests a great stadium along the lines of the Antwerp structure, where the 1920 Olympic games were held, but larger. The experts have practically eliminated the Pershing stadium.

British-American Yacht Trophy Races To Be Held in September

U. S. Committee Awaits Approval From Britain of Final Conditions For Next Summer's Sea Events.

NEW YORK, Dec. 27.—British yachtsmen have challenged the Seawanhaka-Corinthian Yacht Club for a match for the British American cup. The challenge has been accepted, and the series of races will be sailed next September. Yachtsmen, members of other clubs than the Seawanhaka-Corinthian are to be invited to build and take part in the eliminating trials to be sailed in August. Already several yachtsmen have signified their intention of building, and, with the Grebe and Montauk, which are to be brought back from Cowes, a fleet of at least a dozen yachts will furnish some fine sport next summer.

Last year a team of four American-built yachts sailed against a team of four British-built yachts in a series of races off the Isle of Wight. The yachts were built to conform to the requirements of the British six-meter class, according to the international rule of measurement. The races were keen and closely contested. The British won. The trophy was a cup subscribed to by yachtsmen of both nations, and named the British-American cup. It is to be in competition for ten years, according to the agreement, and races are to be sailed alternately in the two countries.

The Seawanhaka-Corinthian Yacht club, which has always stood for the best in amateur yachting, suggested the match, and the Royal Yacht Squadron and the Royal Thames, London, and Victoria Yacht Club represented the British.

The first match was under British rules, and it was hoped that the return match would be under American rules of measurement in either the R or S class, and while the American yachtsmen were abroad last summer efforts were made to induce the British to come here with an American type of yacht. Unfortunately, the conditions in England just now are not such as to warrant the yachtsmen building to American rules, and the British suggested that the return match should be with six-meter yachts.

The cup committee of the Seawanhaka-Corinthian Yacht Club, after a full discussion, recommended to the club that the British challenge for a match with six-metre yachts should be accepted, and this the club did, in order to promote the good feeling engendered by last year's match, and to enable existing boats to compete.

After the challenge had been accepted the British suggested that all details of the arrangement for the races should be left in the hands of the Seawanhaka-Corinthian Yacht Club. The cup committee has submitted these conditions to the British committee, and is expecting a cable or letter at any time from the challengers.

BOWLING

The Terrible Tizer Demons duplicated their feat of a couple of weeks ago yesterday afternoon, when they again dropped two out of three games to the Press gang's bowling team. As in the previous game, the Demons started out to win and grabbed the first game, but fell down woefully in the last two spasms.

AURA LEES DEFEAT PADDLERS 15 TO 2

Toronto, Dec. 28.—Aura Lee defeated Parkdale, 15 to 2, in the opening match of the O. H. A. junior season at the arena tonight. It was an utter rout for the paddlers, who were outskated and outplayed during the entire game except for a few minutes in the first period. It was not a great exhibition of hockey, being too one-sided for that, but at times Aura Lee flashed some fine stick-handling and combination.

The best that Parkdale had was their gameness, the green and white clad boys giving everything they had during the entire sixty minutes. They were badly beaten, but not disgraced.

"BUSHER" TO TRY FOR CARP'S TITLE

Will Get Chance At Frenchman Early Next Year.

London, Dec. 28.—George Cook, heavyweight champion of Australia, is the fortunate one to get the first crack at Georges Carpentier since Dempsey worked on him. Already the British are figuring how soon they can get Dempsey over to show himself with the Australian if he knocks out Georges.

Cook is anything but an easy mark for any of the heavies outside of the biz champion. He is 23 years old, weighs 187 pounds, and stands 5 feet 10½ inches. With the exception of reach, where he has only 75 inches against Dempsey's 78 and Carpentier's 77, he is within an inch of the champion all the way around.

Cook is what they call in Australia "a boy from the bush." He was born at a place called Dubbo, New South Wales, and earned his first money driving the Dubbo mail coach. He has been boxing professionally for three years, during which he engaged in sixteen contests, eight of which were with three opponents, three with Jimmy Clabby, three with Albert Lloyd, and two with Fritz Holland.

TORONTO FIVE TO PLAY LOCAL "Y"

Arrangements were completed last night by Dave Allen, physical director of the Y. M. C. A., to have the Toronto Central "Y" intermediate O. B. A. team play the local five the night of Jan. 28. The Toronto team expects to play in Detroit the following night.

Three games are scheduled for the "Y" this evening. The first starts at 7:15 between the Y. M. C. A. junior O. B. A. team and a picked team from the City League. Shamrocks, girl champions of Ontario, and the L. C. I. girls meet in the second, and the Elks and Red Sox in the last.

SARNIA AFTER SHORTSHIP RACES FOR NEXT SUMMER

SARNIA, Dec. 28.—As a result of the announcement made at Saginaw that Port Huron would unlikely secure a program of short ship trotting and pacing races next season, a number of Sarnia horsemen are endeavoring to have the program transferred to this city.

Members of the local club feel certain that if the shortship events scheduled for Port Huron were run off in this city they would be a decided success.

MONTREAL, Dec. 28.—Billy Moorehouse announced that Eugene Brosseau, Canadian middleweight ex-champion, will positively make his reappearance in the ring during the week of Jan. 15.

ALERTS CUT SQUAD TO TWENTY-ONE

Team For Drumbo Game Will Be Picked Tonight.

Alert juniors will hold another practice at the Lyle street rink tonight, starting at 10 o'clock. The squad has been cut down to 21 now so those that turn out will get a much better chance to show their speed. The ones that show they have the ability will be picked for the opening game with Drumbo next Monday night.

The form of practice that was used to such good advantage by the intermediates Tuesday evening will be worked on the juniors tonight. Coaches Arthurs and Lougheed will likely choose teams as well as put them against one another.

Those who are asked to appear tonight are: Crittle, Baker, Wilcox, Powell, Clift, Tucker, Chapman, J. McKay, Stewart, Grainger, Reeves, Ryan, Milligan, Dalgleish, Whistow, Smith, Wood, Pugh, Woodcock, Westman and Totten.

It was announced last night that Grainger's wrist had not been broken as badly as was first thought. He will be out tonight along with the others. Powell, the Lucan boy, notified the Alert Club that he would come in from his home town tonight for the workout.

RICKARD MAY HAVE SOME OPPOSITION

Two Promoters Out To Get All of Tex's Trade.

NEW YORK, Dec. 28.—Pet weapons are being shined up again for some more skirmishes in the war of the New York boxing tongs.

The recent activities of the band out to get Tex Rickard stopped when the major domo of Madison Square Garden couldn't be "got."

Jack Curley, Billy Gibson and the other leaders of the "boxers' union" had all the inclinations to fight Rickard, but they couldn't find a place.

Rickard, with his key to Madison Square Garden, had the town sewed up as far as big boxing was concerned. If the union wouldn't work for Rickard they couldn't work at all, because the big money was confined to the garden.

Then came the decision from Albany lifting the ban on the use of state armories for boxing and wrestling. Expecting such a move, Curley and Gibson had lines on the biggest armories in town, several with larger seating capacity than the garden.

With the well-known chuckle of the man who laughs last, Rickard's rivals let out their battle cry: "Get off the stage, Tex, you've held it long enough."

Now comes Rickard right back at them.

"I'll go to court for an injunction if necessary. I don't believe the move is legal," Rickard said today.

Backing him in opposing opening of the armories are Senator James J. Walker, sponsor of the boxing law, and William Muldoon, chairman of the state boxing commission—both "powers up state."

Rickard contends that it is unfair competiton for competing promoters to dodge the taxes paid by possessors of permanent quarters.

"Just a few weeks ago I handed over $45,000 as a half of my annual taxes on the garden," he said. "Every morning when I open the garden it costs me $250 just to look over the place."

ROACH SAVES GAME FOR ST. PATRICKS

HAMILTON, Dec. 28.—John Ross Roach is the greatest goal-keeper Canada ever produced. He showed that in the game here tonight, between St. Patricks and Hamilton in the National Hockey League. The Tigers shot at him from all angles and from short and long range, but on only three occasions did they manage to score. The Saints staged a rally in the last period and won a game that appeared to be hopelessly lost to them, by a score of 4 to 3.

On the night's play the victory was not deserved, as throughout the first period the play was in Toronto territory, but the good work of Roach kept the score down, 1 to 0. In the second period the Tigers again had the better of the play, staging several sensational rushes, which came to an abrupt ending when they encountered Roach. Hamilton scored twice in this period and Toronto once, sending the locals into the last period with a two-goal lead, which the visitors overcame seven minutes after the play opened, and went to the front five minutes later. Toronto had much the better of the play in the last period, except in the dying moments, when they threw their whole team back on the defence, when the Tigers were forced to take the aggressive.

VOTE FOR SALE OF BEER IN CHICAGO

City Council Takes Action On Report of Increased Drunkenness.

Chicago, Dec. 29.—The annual report of the municipal courts of Chicago submitted today by Clerk James A. Kearns showed drunkenness increased here the past year, 51,300 persons being arraigned for intoxication in 1921, as against 12,305 in 1920. The report followed the action by the city council yesterday in voting 52 to 6 for a resolution demanding that congress and the state legislature authorize the manufacture, sale and distribution of "wholesome beers and light wines."

Alderman A. J. Ceremak, old-time leader of the "wets," introduced the resolution, which declared among other things that the prohibition act had failed to prohibit, and failed to meet with the approval of the general public throughout the country.

"You could put every sheriff, policeman and the state militia, and you could not stop the sale of liquor in Chicago," he declared.

"The people will not stand the spending of $11,000,000 a year to pay Chicago policemen to go out and play the spotter, the slugger and the detective for the government.

"Mr. Mayor, you may expect a lot of trouble from me and my friends from now on if you continue to use the money of Chicago taxpayers to send policemen smelling for beer among reputable citizens."

PRICE OF SUGAR HITS LOW LEVEL

NEW YORK, Dec. 28.—Raw sugar today plunged to the lowest level in fifteen years and within a quarter of a cent of the lowest ever reported. The price for Cubas, cost and freight, was 1¾c a pound.

Refined sugars shared the break in raws and were quoted at $4.90 for fine granulated. This was the first time in many years that it sold for less than 5c a pound.

During the war, with sugar under control, there was little variation, but in 1920, when this control was withdrawn, raws sold for more than 23c in May and June and granulated passed the 25c mark. These prices naturally attracted sugar from all parts of the world, eventually demoralizing the market and leaving Cuba with huge supplies of unsold sugar on hand.

Efforts were made to market this sugar in an orderly manner through the Cuban sugar finance commission, but with little success, because of big offerings at lower prices from other sources. Therefore, the commission is to be dissolved and after Jan. 1, Cuba becomes a free and open market, with private competition, which, the trade believes, may bring still lower quotations.

The Lithuanian communication expresses regret and asks that Lithuania be allowed to elucidate her views at the next meeting of the council

ARREST WOMAN WHO COMPLAINS

Police Take In Mary Duncan When She Telephones For Patrol.

Mary Duncan, who has been appearing quite frequently in police court of late, played the leading role in a touching little drama entitled "The Biter Bit," down on Clarence street, on Wednesday afternoon.

According to the evidence of Chief Birrell in police court, Mary hied herself down to a certain house where, it is alleged, she had been in the habit of getting the odd drop of "whuskey." Unfortunately for Mary, she had been indulging before her arrival, and she was so mad when she was refused a bottle that she hustled away and telephoned for the patrol to arrest the occupants of the house on a charge of having sold her liquor on previous occasions.

The patrol arrived, and here's where the title of the play comes in, Mary was arrested instead of the occupants of the house, and furthermore she will spend the next ten days in jail for being on a public street in an intoxicated condition.

"There is no use arguing," said Mary, in a weary voice, when asked by the court if she had anything to say.

"The usual fine," said Mr. Bartlett. "You are appearing here pretty often. You better not come here again or something more serious will happen to you."

BUILDING OF NEW LIBRARY DELAYED

Opening of Southeast Branch Relieves Central Shelf Space.

Te new branch of the public library opened two weeks ago in the Bourne Block, at the corner of Hamilton road and Rectory street, will be open four afternoons and three evenings of each week, Wednesday, Friday and Saturday from 2:30 to 6, and at night from 7 to 9:30.

Between 1,400 and 1,500 books have been placed in the library, and these will be added to continually, said Librarian Fred Landon.

This is the third branch of the library in the city, the east branch being opened in 1916 and the south branch in 1919.

Nothing has developed regarding the matter of a new library, said Mr. Landon. While the library was simply crammed with books and space grew less every day, the situation stood where it had been since before the war. In 1914, the war had postponed the efforts of those who were working for a new library. During the war the price of building rose so high that the CarnegieCorporation upon whom a large grant depended, suspended the issuing of grants to libraries and has not resumed.

No action has been taken by the library board, and it is doubtful if any steps will be taken for some time. The present library is twenty-five years old, said the librarian.

PRINCE UNLOCKS INDIA MEMORIAL

CALCUTTA, Dec. 28.—Amid scenes of great splendor and in the presence of enthusiastic crowds the Prince of Wales today opened the Victorian Memorial, dedicated to the Queen-Empress Victoria, whose memory is held in the highest esteem throughout India.

The building is in the form of a vast marble palace and is of rare architectural beauty. Fifteen years were required to erect it.

The building comprises a museum commemorated to India's glory. It contains portraits of the old emperors of Delhi and of famous men who labored for India during the Victorian era.

The ceremony today was carried out in full state. The Prince of Wales drove from government house with an escort of guns and cavalry.

PAYS BIG PRICE FOR "WARM" BED

PARRY SOUND, Dec. 28.—Hungry and cold and out of a job, Stephen Zowisluk, a Galician, decided to smash a few windows in order to earn a term in a nice warm jail for the winter. That was his explanation to the court today of his assault on store fronts with an iron bar in the early hours of last Wednesday morning, when twenty-one plate glass panes fell before his trusty weapon.

Police Magistrate George Moore sentenced Zowisluk to four years in the penitentiary on each of ten charges, the sentences to run consecutively, making a total of forty years.

Dr. Limbert, the jail surgeon, says the man is sane and entirely responsible for his acts although of a low type of mentality. He is said to have been afflicted with a religious mania a few years ago and also to have become depressed recently as a result of information from Austria that his family had all been killed in the great war.

Magistrate Moore said he would make the sentence a stiff one in order to warn other seekers for winter quarters to go easy on the destruction of property.

Boston, Dec. 29.—A proposal from Paris that Johnny Wilson, middleweight champion, engage in one or two boxing bouts there in June or July next year, has been received by Wilson's manager, he announced today. He said he replied that Wilson would accept if financial arrangements were satisfactory.

He expressed a desire that a match be obtained with Georges Carpentier.

AUSTRALIA LOOKS TO WIRELESS ERA

Proposed Direct Service To London Arouses Great Interest.

Sydney, New South Wales, Dec. 28.—Wireless possibilities are being kept before the reading public of Australia, and the pending decision of the Commonwealth as to its wireless future—whether to adopt a system of imperial relay stations or to sanction the plan of a private company for a direct service to Australia from London and America—makes all wireless news of interest. When President Harding's world message rode out to Australia at a rate of about 186,000 miles a second, it illustrated the advantage which wireless has over cables.

Messages are being received at experimental stations in Australia in one-eighteenth of a second from New York and one-fifteenth of a second from London, and in about the same time from Paris. The usefulness of wireless telephony is impressing itself every day on those Australians interested in removing this continent's isolation. It is estimated that the cost of wireless messages will be a third less than the cost of ordinary cable messages.

VICTORIA MUSEUM GETS CHIEN WARE

Valuable Chinese Pottery Is Contributed to Loan Court.

London, England, Dec. 28.—A few friends of the Victoria and Albert Museum have contributed over fifty specimens of chien ware to the Loan Court. The ware is the most sought after by collectors of fine pottery. It has a dark body and mottled brown glaze and was produced under the Sung dynasty (960-1279) in the Fu-chien Province; hence the name "chien" ware, and therefore not to be confused with the emperors of that name. Many tea bowls are in the collection. They are usually known from their glaze color as "hare's fur," or "partridge cups," while the markings on some varieties suggest tortoise-shell or oil spots. They were much used in the ceremonies of Japan. The Japanese call them "temmoku" bowls, from the name of a mountain in China near the original site of the potteries. Similar vases with lighter body were made in Ho-nan Province. The majority of the pots shown at South Kensington are ascribed to the Sung dynasty, but one vase with ornament is probably Tang (618-906).

COURT WILL SIFT JUDGE'S DECISION

TORONTO, Dec. 28.—A point of court procedure has been decided by the first appellate court in the quashing of a reserved case submitted by Judge Snider of Hamilton.

Edward Taylor and Louis LaChappelle were charged with murder before a grand jury as the result of an assault on Harry Byrnes. No bill was brought in against Taylor, and a true bill against LaChappelle.

When the crown subsequently laid a charge of assault against Taylor, his honor, Judge Snider, withdrew the case from the jury, traversed it and submitted the reserved case on the ground that no bill had been returned against Taylor on a major charge.

The decision has an important bearing on motor drivers in that where death results the crown will be at liberty to decide under the circumstances the nature of the charge to be laid and thus be able to obtain more convictions.

NATIONALISTS CONFER ALL POWERS ON GHANDI

Ahmedabad, British India, Dec. 29.—The resolution adopted by the special committee of the Indian Nationalist Congress yesterday favoring continuation of Mahatma Ghandi's policy of non-violence includes a clause declaring Ghandi the sole executive authority of the movement with full powers over the congress and its organization. It provides, however, that neither Ghandi nor any of his successors to the leadership be authorized, in case they are arrested, to conclude peace with the government without previous sanction of the congress.

Organization throughout the country of public meetings, which are forbidden by law, is urged, and all Indians are expected to join the Khalifat volunteers, and to submit quietly to arrest.

Corn—Dec., 48½c; May, 54⅝c.

Oats—Dec., 34⅛c; May, 38⅞c.

Chicago, Dec. 29.—Although wheat showed weakness at the opening today, the market soon rallied and in some cases scored gains. Bearish aspects of the government report as to the 1921 crop appeared to be responsible for the initial drop. The sueceeding upturns were ascribed to buying based on chances that the government figures today on the 1922 crop would prove bullish. Strength in the corn market tended also to encourage buying of wheat. Opening quotations varied from ⅜c to 1½c lower, but the reaction was complete within an hour.

Russian relief purchases, together with the reduction of the government crop estimate, had a bullish influence on corn. After opening unchanged to ⅛c higher, the market advanced moderately all around.

Oats sympathized with corn, starting ¼c off to ¼c up, and later hardening for all deliveries.

Use Your January Investment Funds To Secure An Increased Income

The steady rise in the prices of Victory, Provincial and Municipal Bonds indicates the beginning of better business conditions.

With higher Bond prices and a corresponding reduction in income returns, the investing public naturally turns to sound Industrial Preference Stocks with their substantial dividend rates.

In this connection the 8% Cumulative Preference Stock of English Electric Company of Canada, Limited, carrying with it a bonus of 40% Common Stock, offers an unusually good investment for your surplus funds.

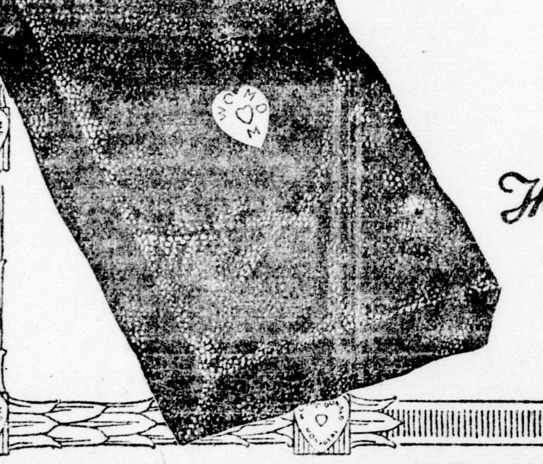

No industry forms a sounder basis for an industrial investment than the electrical manufacturing industry.

We unreservedly recommend this offering as one of the soundest investments ever placed before the Canadian public.

Gas, Indigestion, Stomach Misery —"Diapepsin"

"Pape's Diapepsin" "really does" put bad stomachs in order—"really does" overcome indigestion, dyspepsia, gas, heartburn and sourness in five minutes—that—just that—makes Pape's Diapepsin the largest selling stomach regulator in the world. If what you eat ferments into stubborn lumps, you belch gas and eructate sour, undigested food and acid; head is dizzy and aches, remember the moment "Pape's Diapepsin" comes in contact with the stomach all such distress vanishes. It's truly astonishing—almost marvelous—and the joy is its harmlessness. A large sixty-cent case of Pape's Diapepsin is worth its weight in gold to men and women who can't get their stomachs regulated. It belongs in your home—should always be kept handy in case of a sick, sour, upset stomach during the day or at night. It's the most efficient antacid and stomach regulator in the world.

HAVE LARGEST PLANT IN WORLD ON COMPLETION

Canadian Niagara Electrical Development To Reach Million Horsepower.

WILL COST $80,000,000

Chippewa Plant Considered a Marvelous Scientific Achievement by Experts.

BUFFALO, Dec. 28.—Completion of the 12½ mile Chippawa Queenston Channel by the Ontario Hydro Commission brings power development at Niagara Falls to the threshold of 1,000,000 horsepower, equivalent in steam generated electricity to a coal consumption of more than 10,000,000 tons a year. The mighty cataract, long one of the wonder sights of the world, has become the world's greatest center of hydro-electrical power.

Dredges which have been cutting through earth and rock north from Chippawa and south from Queenston for 3½ years in a wide swing about the falls were removed this month. They have taken out 13,200,000 cubic yards of earth and 4,182,000 cubic yards of rock, a total slightly more than the French had removed from Culebra Cut at the time the Panama route was taken over by the United States. The maximum depth of the Chippawa ditch is 145 feet, and at one point the engineers were confronted with a rock cut 85 feet in depth. They also had to change the course of Chippawa Creek. Its natural course was southerly into the Niagara, while the completed canal will flow northerly.

The Chippawa-Queenston canal cost about $65,000,000. An additional $15,000,000 will be required to complete installation of the 10-unit generating machinery.

Output World's Largest.

The output of the super-power plant will be 650,000 horse-power. There are now three plants operating on the Canadian side of the river, with a total output of 450,000 horsepower, so that if all of them are continued in operation, Canada's Niagara production alone will be over 1,000,000 horsepower mark.

Existing and projected development on the American side has a potential production of 420,000 horsepower from upper river diversion. The Niagara Falls Power Company, in control there, has other hydro-electric and steam plants, giving it a total marketable output of 610,000 horsepower, but from Niagara River alone the production is 420,000 horsepower.

The reaching and passing of the million horsepower mark has been accomplished in approximately a quarter of a century, for it was in 1895 that the wheels of the first industrial plant at Niagara Falls were turned by hydro-electrical energy. The first turbines on the Canadian side were installed ten years later.

Power development on the Canadian side has been under government control, while on the American side it has been largely in the hands of one corporation. Canada's power has been scattered over a wide field, serving many municipalties within a radius of 250 miles with current for light, heat and power. The policy on the American side has been to concentrate users of power at or near Niagara Falls. Buffalo and cities as far east as Syracuse get sufficient power from Niagara Falls to run street cars and for a few industries. But the bulk of power is used within a short distance of the generating plants.

Guelph Alderman Addresses Gathering Supporting Industrial Bylaw.

[Special to London Advertiser.]

SARNIA, Dec. 28.—Lauding city manager form of government, and declaring that it was the form of civic administration for the Imperial City, Alderman J. E. Carter of Guelph this afternoon addressed the members of the Sarnia Chamber of Commerce at luncheon on this issue.

Speaking of industrial sites and the Sarnia bylaw to raise $50,000 for this purpose, the speaker stated that if he was a resident of the Imperial City he would support the plebiscite, and in conclusion stated that the city which provides for the expansion and location of industries is doing its bit to pay the national debt.

PLANS TO HELP OUT OF WORK MEN

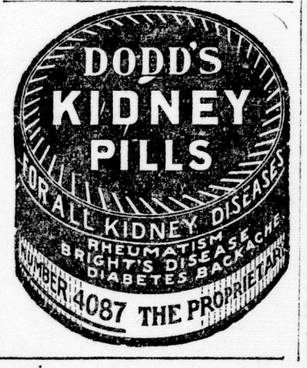

Chatham Industrial Advisory Committee Decides To Reduce School Fees.

CHATHAM, Dec. 28.—The industrial advisory committee of the board of education held a special meeting last night and decided to admit to the classes of the industrial school any man who is out of work for the purpose of helping him to qualify for better paid trades, such as carpenter, machinists, etc. Such tuition fees as are ordinarily prescribed for entrance into the school and for special classes are revoked, thus assisting in every possible manner those men who cannot afford to pay the fees.

Special reference is being made to the machine shop classes for which the machine shop in the industrial school is most adapted. For the purpose of assisting the ordinary pupils in their work, together with any laborers who wish to step out, a new special lathe, ordered some time ago, will be installed in the machine shop, and an additional power unit will also be placed to take care of the extra power required.

LOSES LIFE WHEN CAUGHT IN GEARS

HAMILTON, Dec. 28.—Thomas Davidson, aged 55, met a horrible death this afternoon at the plant of the Steel Company of Canada. He was carried in the gears of a steam pump used to cool the slag, almost stripped naked and his life beaten out. No one saw the accident. He worked alone in the pump house and was last seen alive about 3 o'clock. His dead body was found about 4:30. Coroner McIlwraith will hold an inquest.

BECK ATTAINS GOAL AT "BIG DITCH" OPENING

Scores Personal Triumph As Chippawa Power Canal Becomes Reality.

DRURY RELEASES GATES

Hopes Project Will Surmount Province's Financial Difficulties Soon.

[BY WILLIAM SHARMAN.]

NIAGARA Falls, Ont., Dec. 28.—There is one man in the Province of Ontario, who, after years fraught with anxiety and stubborn resistance, was destined to witness a personal triumph today.

That man is Sir Adam Beck of London.

Heralded the world over as the greatest single power development engineering achievement viewed by human eye, the Chippawa-Queenston power canal, proportionally a more daring project than even the famous Panama canal undertaking, was officially recognized at 2:40 this afternoon by the government as being in a state of completion, when E. C. Drury, premier of the Ontario Legislature, together with Miss Marion Beck of London, opened the gate that set in motion the massive turbines and converted into electrical energy the countless tons of water then rushing through from the Upper Niagara.

So then is dispelled for all time to come that sinister doubt of actual power shortage for our homes and factories that has menaced Western Ontario for many a month.

Incidentally has been fulfilled the pledge of a year since by the hydro-electric commission that this very great event would transpire before another spring had been ticked off the calendar.

Await Rate Cut Soon.

But little time will now elapse, experts assure us, before London and other municipalities, within the hydro cheap power zone, will draw electricity for home and industrial plant from this inexhaustible source of supply.

One of the first accomplishments of the new waterway will be to render Canadian industry independent of electricity produced at points outside the Dominion as all existing American contracts are subject to cancellation the moment Chippawa power can be utilized.

The people of Ontario now possess power resources on their own side of the Niagara that will be adequate for years to come for all demands for any part of the province that can be reached economically by power transmitted from Niagara.

The Wednesday ceremony marking the actual turning on of the power in the big Chippawa plant at the edge of the turbulent Niagara and directly below the heights of Queenston was witnessed by more than 1,500 representative citizens of Toronto, London, Hamilton and other Western Ontario municipalities.

London Visitors Arrive.

The arrival of the London, Middlesex County and St. Thomas delegation at noon completed the party. A special train chartered by the hydro-electric power commission conveyed the interested visitors to the power plant beyond the falls. Brief stops were accomplished at various points en route to allow inspection.

Directly the guests of the commission arrived the impressive ceremony was duly enacted.

Mounting the steps leading to the mammoth generator, Sir Adam Beck, chairman of the hydro-electric power commission, and termed by many "the father of the hydro movement," delivered the first address of the afternoon, welcoming the visitors to the canal.

"I have a great and honorable duty to perform," said Sir Adam, "and I am too thrilled and too full of pride over what is about to happen to make a speech today.

"This is a historic section of the province. Up yonder a hundred years ago the armies of our people demonstrated what the British race could do. Today in this period of peace and good will to all with a world's peace conference now in session our people are demonstrating one of the great natural assets for the use of the common people, for all time to come.

"We have gone through terrible periods of anxiety aggravated by the terrible conflict in Europe, but my heart goes out today in thankfulness to know that our troubles and worries are at an end.

Lauds Engineering.

"We have placed heavy responsibilities on our engineers, and they have responded magnificently. They are Canadian, they are our own boys, graduates of our own universities. Today they are freed of all responsibility and criticism, and I want to say that never once did they shirk that responsibility.

Introduced by Sir Adam Beck, Hon. E. C. Drury spoke briefly.

"I opened this gate," Ontario's premier declared, "in the hope and belief that this development will serve the people in a way they have never been served before. The Ontario government, with all of its financial difficulties, has never failed to support this project, and I have faith and hope that the Chippawa canal will, in a few months, be in a position to take care of several financial obligations incurred."

Upon the conclusion of the premier's remarks, the premier and Miss Marion Beck, only daughter of Sir Adam, released the gates and the power was on.

Directly the ceremonies were completed refreshments were served on the third and fourth floors, with subsequent addresses by many of the prominent visitors.

Raps Misrepresentation.

In the opening remarks of his second address, Premier Drury intimated that it was a splendid opportunity to straighten out some of the misrepresentations relating to the Ontario government and the hydro-electric power commission.

He made it quite plain that the latter was still under the control of and subject to the will of his government and emphasized his contention that there would ensue, while he was at the head of affairs, no repetition of the so-called clean-up deal of a year ago, when certain action was taken that had to be subsequently ratified by the Legislature.

Turning to the Chippawa development the premier questioned the statements that his government had been against all public owned enterprises and asked his hearers to regard the attitude of the house during the last two sessions.

"Can you point to one instance," he questioned, "where despite great financial difficulties we have said to the hydro commission, go slow or there will be no money forthcoming?

"For the past two years," he continued, "I have done my utmost to see the work completed as soon as possible. I believe that was only sound business. And I pursued that end, despite violent objection of the financial experts of the opposition."

Premier Drury was insistent in his belief, however, that the blessings of hydro electric or any other municipally-owned concern should not be limited to any one group of municipalities.

"That would be a direst violation," he asserted, "of our very first principle, that the natural resources belong to all the people."

Denies Minister Talk.

"There has been considerable discussion as to whether we should keep the hydro-electric commission or turn the task over to a minister of power. Well, I cannot define the policies of the future, but I do know that to date this issue has never been discussed by the government. I can see weaknesses in common, but all this talk lately has been simply bosh. Sir Adam and I have differed in certain respects, but as far as establishing a minister of power, it has never been broached.

"The province has a tremendous stake in Chippawa. There has been $63,000,000 invested. Last year's estimates have been exceeded. There is no need to hide the fact that the house was alarmed, and there is no need to conceal the fact that the government contemplated asking for an explanation.

"Public ownership has certain disabilities, and if we are to lead the way in this form of enterprise we must move with great caution and exercise every economy.

"I do say this, however, that the Drury government does not intend to abrogate its interest in the Chippawa or other developments, or does it desire to forego its responsibility to such, but will do its utmost that these are maintained for the benefit of all.

"We have been assailed as enemies of public ownership and friends of the C. P. R. I say, however, that no government in Ontario has been so free from corporation control as the present."

Sifts Radial Plans.

Taking up the hydro radial proposal at some length, Premier Drury outlined the growth of this movement from its inception, and reiterated the official pronouncement made by himself at Glencoe in August last, when he said if the municipalities vote on a hydro radial scheme and desire to proceed with the same they can do so unhampered by the government, but must be ready to assume all financial liability and responsibility.

"That was, is and will be our stand," asserted the premier, "four square and clean cut."

Mr. Drury then review the work of the special commission appointed to pass opinion upon the entire scheme and repeated his charge that municipalities are always bad debtors.

"You can never collect from them," he said.

In conclusion the premier referred again to the Chippawa enterprise.

"I believe," he said, "that this project is being entered into with every assurance of success, and that power can and will be made at prices that will be within the reach of all, and I want to tell you here that every public owned undertaking that is shown to be a safe, sound, wise move will have the reasonable support of my government."

Lauds Beck's Plan.

Introducing Willoughby Ellis of Hamilton, president of the hydro-electric municipality union, Sir Adam Beck paid a glowing tribute to the wonderful spirit of co-operation exhibited by the hydro municipalities which was mainly responsible, he explained, for every dollar that was spent or liability assumed.

"These men stood as a body," he said, "ever ready to support whatever was held to be in the interest of the people, and today the hydro-electric power commission stands in its proud position as trustee able to say that after all 11 years of operation we have never had one complaint from our 350 municipalities."

While explaining that he was not seeking an issue with the premier, President Ellis said that some people were saying today what had been said years ago about hydro. "It will not pay, but it will pay," he said, "and handsomely.

"You have been put to a great expense, but from this day on the turning point has been reached, and you will commence to earn."

The speaker paid a warm tribute to Sir Adam Beck.

At this point following an address by Mayor C. A. McGuire of Toronto, Sir Adam Beck was presented with a loving cup from the Ontario Municipal Electrical Association. The presentation was made by George Wright of Toronto, a member of Toronto transportation committee, with Mayor Wilson of Windsor representing the western municipalities, and Mayor Elliott of Kingston representing the eastern municipalities.

"Miss Lulu Bett" Is One of Best Films of Year

BY JAMES W. DEAN.

NEW YORK, Dec. 28.—Make space near the top of your list of the best photoplays of the year for "Miss Lulu Bett."

Crown William DeMille, the director, with laurel or anything which signifies reward for work well done.

"Miss Lulu Bett" gained for Zona Gale the Pulitzer prize for writing the best play of the 1921 season. Her book version, though different, was universally praised. She said the photoplay improved on both those forms. This writer is disposed to agree with her.

I can think of no performance in a similar character comparable to the work done by Lois Wilson as Miss Lulu. She must have been at heart the dowdy, dish-washing slavey, living in a state of repression outside the studio as well as in it during the period of production, to have given the part such realism.

In the stage version Lulu finally blossomed into a beautiful creature, come into a heritage of charm and style. But no such resplendent butterfly bursts forth from the film chrysalis. And that's the way it is in life—household drudges seldom become Cinderellas.

Up to the very last Miss Wilson wore an ill-fitting, drab hat that bespoke the pathetic, mediocre character that was Lulu's.

The other changes in the play were the casting of Neil Cornish as a handsome school teacher instead of a humble music shopkeeper, and a flare of temper on the part of Miss Lulu when she broke dishes, slapped Dwight Deacon and left the house. I liked that change. It made Lulu seem human, capable of spirit. Otherwise it would be difficult to picture her capable of falling in love.

Theodore Roberts brings new honors unto himself through his portrayal of Dwight Deacon, the justice-of-the-peace-dentist brother-in-law, who kept Lulu in domestic subjugation. He fell a bit short of the part in that he endowed himself with humor and such a character as Dwight Deacon, who thinks himself witty, has no sense of humor.

Grandma Bett, as sketched by Ethel Wales, is a great character, but hardly the equal of the stage character. That is because the lines of the stage play, especially the remarks about marriage, are lost.

Some of the characters in "Miss Lulu Bett," William DeMille's master film version of Zona Gale's play.

Development of the romantic side of the plot robbed some of the other characters of the opportunity to expand. This film proves the screen is not quite elastic enough to compensate for the loss of clever lines in some plays unless it be generously interlarded with subtitles.

However, the film version of "Miss Lulu Bett" in its entirety is better than the stage version because it develops its action and characters to a greater nicety.

Probably no two pictures offer greater contrast in handling than "Miss Lulu Bett" and "Fool's Paradise." William DeMille directed the first and his probably more famous brother, Cecil, the second. Each picture is characteristic of its director.

Cecil DeMille strives for fantasy, gorgeous sets and costumes and spectacular effects. Consequently shoddy is often woven into the beautiful cloth he weaves.

William DeMille strives for realism and story worth. His pictures lack the flare and the "noisy" effect of Cecil DeMille's.

The great work William DeMille has done in "Miss Lulu Bett" was presaged by the work he did with "What Every Woman Knows." He is the logical director for any picture which is to be made with strict adherence to book stories and characters.

UNABLE TO SOLVE BURGLARY MATTER

Tillsonburg People Aroused As Another Robbery Occurs.

[Special to London Advertiser.]

TILLSONBURG, Dec. 28.—Opening his grocery store on the market square this morning Mr. Roy Teall discovered that the premises had been burglarized during the night. A quantity of money and goods were taken.

The citizens of the town are aroused because similar cases having occurred lately with no arrests being made. A couple of weeks ago John Vanloon's barber shop was thoroughly ransacked. Murton's candy shop was broken into and Pillon's honey house was robbed, as well as several cases of petty thieving. There has been a great deal of dissatisfaction with the police protection afforded during the past few months, and there is no doubt but that some changes will be made during the first of the year.

Barrister William Brown, well-known lawyer of this town, is mentioned today as an aspirant to succeed Judge Ermatinger, who recently passed away in St. Thomas, and as a consequence the regular sittings of the division court had to be postponed this morning.

Mr. Brown has a very wide practice in Western Ontario, and is recognized as a very capable successor to the late judge. Other names mentioned for the honor are Barrister Duncan Ross and J. C. Elliott, K.C., of Middlesex. It is fully expected the successor will be named in the next few days.

SEEK TO SOLVE PROBLEM OF A WORLD SPEECH

Scientists in Conference Appoint Committee To Investigate Matter of Language

TORONTO, Dec. 28.—A problem that has vexed the world since the days of the Tower of Babel will probably come a step nearer solution as the result of the deliberations here of the American Association for the Advancement of Science.

On Friday next a special committee, headed by Dr. Frederick G. Cottrell of the National Research Council, Washington, will present its views upon the need for a universal auxiliary language which will facilitate intercourse between the various nations of the world.

The committee will not definitely place its approval upon any of the existing langauges, but it is learned that it has practically decided that the classical and modern languages are impracticable.

In the first class, such a language as Latin would be too difficult and involved to serve the end desired.

In the second, too great an advantage would be conferred upon any nation whose language was chosen as the international means of communication. The jealousies which such action would conjure up might be judged from the fact that the League of Nations had to abandon French and English as the joint official language, for its conferences, since the smaller nations protested against the exclusive use of them.

Esperanto Favored.

Accordingly, the only option that remain is for one of the invented or artificial languages to be adopted. Of these Esperanto, Volapuk and Ido are the chief, with the first named in greatest favor, since it already is spoken by ten times as many people as either Ido or Volapuk.

But, if Esperanto is chosen as the official language, it probably will be only a de facto recognition. The committee wants to make a searching study into the fundamental principles involved in any such new languages.

On the scientific side, this would necessitate an investigation by Phepicists into the relative ease of pronouning various sounds. The psychologists would also co-operate by discovering which forms of grammar, which idioms and root-words could be acquired most naturally. The aid by the linguists and philologists would also be sought in building up a national vocabulary.

Thus, the Esperanto finally adopted might be widely different from that now in use today.

The one thing, however, which the committee regard as essential, is that whatever choice might be made should receive unanimous and authoritative international sanction.

CLAIMS BRITAIN HAS GONE LIMIT IN IRISH PEACE

Lloyd George Declares Free State Offer Must Bring Ratification.

DAIL ACCEPTANCE LOOMS

Reports From Sinn Fein Circles Show Indorsation Probable.

LONDON, Dec. 28.—In flatly announcing tonight that the terms of the Irish peace treaty, on which the Dail Eireann will resume debate next Tuesday, embody the absolute limit to which Great Britain is prepared to go, Premier Lloyd George said:

"No British government could go further than we have gone. No British statesman could consider any proposal involving Ireland being out of the empire.

"The treaty places Ireland on an equality with the other states of the empire, and gives Ireland the same claim to membership in the League of Nations, and every right that Canada has in law, fact and constitutional practice; and not merely rejection, but alteration even, of the treaty would render it null and void. This would indeed be deplorable in the interests of both countries.

"The British government has gone to its utmost limit in the treaty, and to reopen the discussion, which was closed only after the most exhaustive consideration of every point, would be a fruitless proceeding, and is impossible.

"A committee, consisting of British ministers presided over by the colonial secretary, has been set up to deal with the evacuation of the British forces, the settling of amnesty, and the making of all necessary arrangements on the British side, and transferring full executive responsibility to an Irish provisional government. The work of this committee which had been in continuous session up to Christmas and had proposed to sit through the Christmas holidays, is now unavoidably held up pending approval of the treaty, but on approval it would be carried through with the utmost dispatch.

"It is the intention of the British government to hand over without delay their responsibilities to a provisional government, which will function during the period of transition required for setting up the Irish free state administration."

HOLD SPECIAL MEETINGS.

DUBLIN, Dec. 28.—Special meetings continue to be held to consider the Irish treaty. The Cavan urban council has adopted a resolution, setting forth high appreciation of the terms of the treaty and, while recognizing the great services rendered by the members of the Dail Eireann opposing the treaty, declaring:

"We unanimously request them for the sake of our dear country to bury their differences, and to stand with Griffith and McKeown for ratification."

A meeting of the Tyrone County Council has been called for the purpose of considering a resolution in favor of ratification, while Nationalists and Sinn Feiners in Omagh last night passed a resolution demanding that the Dail Eireann arrange that the representatives of the counties of Tyrone and Fermanagh should be allowed to voice their views.

Exhaustive inquiries in Dublin have failed to confirm the report that a compromise had been reached by the Dail leaders insuring ratification of the treaty. So far as can be ascertained the position has not changed since adjournment of the Dail.

CLUBS INDORSE PEACE.

BELFAST, Dec. 28.—A convention of Sinn Fein clubs of North Donegal, held in Buncrana, has adopted a resolution by unanimous vote, expressing satisfaction with the Irish peace agreement as "embodying the essential of Ireland's freedom and safeguarding Ireland's honor." Reports submitted before the vote showed that each district in the constituency favored ratification of the pact.

The resolution called upon the six Dail Eireann members representing the district, not only to vote for the treaty, but to use their influence to bring about ratification. Failure to do this, the resolution said, would be regarded as betrayal of the best interests of the country, and gross contempt for the opinions of their constituents.

Donegal, although the most northerly of Irish counties, is under southern parliament, being one of the three counties excluded from Ulster under the government of Ireland bill of 1920.

CARLISLE TO BE INDUCTED FRIDAY

MONTREAL, Dec. 28.—The induction of the Venerable Archdeacon Arthur Carlisle, at present of Windsor, Ont., as rector of Christ Church Cathedral, and his installation as dean of Montreal, will take place in the Cathedral here on Friday next. The service will be held under the direction of the bishop of Montreal, and it will be conducted according to the new prayer book of the Canadian Church, this being the first time it will have been used in the Cathedral.

ELECTED BY ACCLAMATION.

KITCHENER, Ont., Dec. 28.—(By Canadian Press.)—The following separate school trustees were elected by acclamation here today: Martin Murawski, Rev. A. L. Zinger, George Sehl, David Knipfel and E. K. Wey.

RE-ELECT WHOLE HESPELER COUNCIL

Ratepayers Recognize Good Work of Civic Fathers in 1921.

[Special to London Advertiser.]

GALT, Dec. 28.—As evidence of appreciation of the good work done in 1921, the electors of Hespeler have returned its 1921 council to power in a body, as follows:

Mayor—D. N. Panabaker.

Reeve—G. A. Gruetzner.

Aldermen—Alex. Baird, Eli Beer, Herb Ott, Gus Hether, Gordon Kribs and Ira Smith.

Jas. V. Jardine was elected by acclamation to the hydro commission, O. Zyrd retiring.

Plan Hydro Exhibit.

Galt Public Utilities Commission has decided to hold an electrical exhibition in the new arena in May next. It is expected that about this time the fine new utilities building will be completed.

Local veterans urge the continuance of the local branch of the Soldiers' Aid Commission, and will request the council to again give it financial assistance.

The executive of the local G. W. V. A. has decided to open the basement of the memorial hall to the unemployed of the city from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. daily. It will give the men out of work a place to gather, with protection from the cold.

Reeve. By Acclaim.

N. O. Hipel was the only man to go into Preston's 1922 council by acclamation, getting the reeveship without a contest, and incidentally he is the youngest man to ever occupy that chair in Preston.

The candidates for the other offices are: Mayoralty, H. J. Schultz and F. O. Pelz; reeve, N. O. Hipel, acclamation; deputy reeve, Thos. Campbell, J. Grieve; aldermen, A. Galles, J. Dopp, O. Kummer, A. Leach, James Leslie, Larrie Marshall, A. J. Russell, Thomas Hepburn, C. E. Hurlbut and A. R. Burnhardt were elected school trustees, and Fred Fischer and P. R. Hilborn were returned without a fight to the light and water commission.

Mayor S. E. Chariton headed a delegation of Galt supporters who went to Niagara Falls today for the official opening by Sir Adam Beck of the new Chippawa-Queenston Power Plant.

PLAN TO REVISE LIQUOR PROGRAM

EDMONTON, Alta., Dec. 28.—Conferences with Premier-elect W. L. Mackenzie King, on liquor legislation looking toward closer working arrangements between the Dominion and provinces on matters which vitally affect both, with Attorney-General Raney, of Ontario, with respect to bringing about uniformity in company legislation and with Premier T. C. Norris, of Manitoba, on questions which affect the two provinces, constitute the program which Attorney-General Brownlee has set himself for the next three weeks.

Mr. Brownlee leaves on Friday for his old home at Brigden, Lambton County, Ontario.

After renewing acquaintances at his former home, Mr. Brownlee purposes conferring with Mr. Raney, Hon. Mackenzie King and Premier Norris.

The following were nominated: Reeve, J. D. Campbell, present reeve, and Arch. McGugan.

Deputy reeve, Wm. Chapman and Arch. McGugan.

Councillors, A. Leckie, H. D. Steele, J. E. Campbell and W. R. Campbell.
