

CITY LOST $2,600 IN SALE OF REGISTRY OFFICE

Ferguson Changes His Mind—Admits Liquor Vote Oct. 23

WHY WERE TENDERS JUGGLED AROUND IN OFFICE SALE?

Public Utilities Commission Made Two Bids of $10,100 and $8,000 For Old Registry Building—But Sale Was Made to Private Citizen For $7,500—Explanation Wanted.

ACCEPTANCE OF LOWER BID COST CITY $2,600

Why did the finance committee of the city council turn down a $10,100 bid of the public utilities commission for the old registry office and recommend later the acceptance of an offer of $7,500 from a private individual?

What profit is apparent to the powers that have the say-so in matters of city finance when a matter of $2,600 is allowed to slip through their fingers for all time?

Is it a vision of a three-story office building that will increase property values around the corner of Carling and Talbot streets that have forced this action?

If so, is there genuine guarantee that such a building will be erected immediately and the property not held for speculation?

Explanation Lacking.
Explanation of the move of the finance committee is lacking. The public utilities commission is at loss to know just why their offers were never considered.

Neither was reply ever given to correspondence of the utilities department.

It all started last January, E. V. Buchanan, general manager of the public utilities commission told The Advertiser today. "The commission heard that the old registry office was to be vacated in the course of a month or six weeks. The commission found it necessary to erect a sub-station in the vicinity of Carling and Talbot street. The registry office site was considered very suitable."

"And what was done about it?" he was asked.

"We wrote to the city clerk, pointing out our plans, and asking that the council state terms upon which the commission would be allowed to occupy the property. The letter was sent on Jan. 31, and we asked for an early reply, as the commission met next on Feb. 7."

"Did you get an answer to these requests?"

"No, we never heard from the city clerk."

"What did the commission do then?"

Wrote Again.
"Following our first meeting in March, we wrote the city clerk again. The city had advertised the registry office property for sale, and we tendered our best price for its purchase. For the land and buildings we quoted a price of $10,100. This was to be paid in $1,000 cash on the transaction and the balance in nine yearly installments of $1,000 each, together with interest of five per cent each year."

"We wrote the city clerk on March 17. We had no answer to this communication, or any official announcement that it had ever been considered."

"Later we heard that a much lower tender had been sent in and was being considered. That was in April, and on the 22nd we wrote Mr. Baker, asking that our check for $1,000, which had covered our tender for the registry office, be returned, as we wished to withdraw our original tender."

Another Tender.
"No reply to any of this correspondence was made, the general manager of the P. U. stated. It was decided that another tender be put in later, as the city appeared to be in no hurry to dispose of the property. The assessed value of the building and land was $8,000 and it was for this figure that the second bid was made. Mr. Buchanan showed The Advertiser a copy of a letter sent on May 16 to Mayor Wenige and the city council which ran as follows:

"As there seems to be some misunderstanding on your part as to whether the public utilities commission could make use of the old registry office as a sub-station or not, we beg to advise you we are still desirous of obtaining this building and are willing to pay $8,000 for land and building as it now stands, payments to be made $1,000 cash and the balance in seven equal installments with interest at 5 per cent.

"As to the payment of taxes by the commission, I am instructed to refer you to the city clerk for information. Please See Page 4, Column 3.

SHE LIVED WHILE TWO MEN DIED.
Fifteen-year-old Margaret Murchison's feat of surviving through 72 hours' terrible ordeal in an open canoe on Lake Simcoe, while her two male companions died, raises the interesting question of relative endurance and fortitude possessed by women and men. The Advertiser has received the letter appearing below, which supports the theory that women are more enduring than men. Opinions from other readers, illustrated by personal experience, will be welcomed.

Have Women More Pluck Than Big-Muscled Men?

Margaret Murchison and Ada Blackjack are cited as proof of women's greater endurance—what is your opinion?

Have women greater endurance than men?
Can the weaker sex endure hardships with more pluck than the lords of creation?
Was Kipling Right?

The Advertiser has received the following interesting letter, raising these points, and the editor will be glad to receive further opinions on the subject:

"Dear Sir—I have been very much interested in reading about 15-year-old Margaret Murchison of Barrie, who clung to life through 72 hours of desperate peril in Lake Simcoe, while the two men with her died."

"The story of Ada Blackjack, sole survivor of the Wrangel Island tragedy, who lived through terrible hardships which killed all the men of the party, is a similar case."

"Together they support a theory that I have long believed, I believe that women are capable of greater endurance and fortitude than men, and that they can stand pain with greater courage."

"Endurance does not seem to be a matter of physical strength, but of an inner spirit, and women have more of that spirit than men."

"I, B. R."

The Advertiser invites its readers to give their opinions, illustrated by stories of great endurance of which they have personal knowledge.

What is the greatest example of pluck you have encountered?
Was it a woman or a man?

High Constable Wharton Has Clue to Driver of Second Car.
High Constable Wharton, who has been investigating the automobile accident on the Pipe Line road, near Hall's store, Wednesday night, in which Alex. Febezy was rendered unconscious, reports that he has a clue to the driver of the other car which did not stop, and expects to make an arrest within a day or two. Febezy, who is 19 years of age, was driving along the Pipe Line when another car shot out of a laneway directly in his path. The young man swerved to the far side of the road, avoiding hitting the car, and his own machine toppled into the ditch, pinning him underneath.

Argentine Airman, Just Starting, Says He Can Outrace Other Planes.

Associated Press Despatch.
Tokyo, July 18.—A Stuart MacLaren, the British aviator on a flight around the world, who has been missing since he left Lake Toshiyama, Jorofu Islands, for Paramashiru, Kurile Islands, early Wednesday morning, has been found.

MacLaren and his companions were found in a bay on the southwest shore of Urrupu Island, from which the aviators started Wednesday morning.

The news was received in a wireless message from a steamer off Urrupu Island, picked up by the Japanese destroyer Isokase this morning. The Isokase is proceeding to Urrupu Island.

The British community and Japanese authorities, especially of the air force, took a deep breath of relief today when the news filtered down by wireless from the Kurile Islands, today picked up by a wireless report from a commercial steamer that the party had landed on Urrupu Island, near the starting point of their trip, no word had been received from them. Nor has word as yet been received concerning the reason for their landing at that point. Two Japanese destroyers spent almost two days searching for them.

While in many quarters it was asserted there was little reason to fear for the fliers' safety, as the weather has been good, nevertheless, definite information that they were alive and well was very welcome to many here.

ARGENTINE ENTERS RACE.

"On-Again, Off-Again, Ferguson!"

Liquor Plebiscite on October 23 Receives Written Confirmation From the Premier After Various Contortions.

Premier Ferguson has wobbled back again—or perhaps some one has pushed him. He now admits that October 23 is the date of the liquor plebiscite in Ontario.

Yesterday Mr. Ferguson said that this date was "a pure guess." During the day he apparently encountered trouble among his friends and before he went to bed he gave a written statement confirming the announcement. The statement appears on page 7, column 4, of this edition.

Mr. Ferguson has entertained the public with an "On-again, off-again, Finnegan" performance during the last few days. Last week he said he would make an announcement on July 16. Then he said he was "only joking."

The announcement came on the night of July 16. Mr. Ferguson said it was "a guess" and that he had "nothing to say." A few hours later he contradicted himself, and admitted that the announcement is correct.

LONDON METHODISTS WILL STAND BY O.T.A.
Bishop Williams, on Other Hand, Declares Law Should Be Removed.

OPINIONS VARY
Rev. H. J. Uren Fails To See Any Reason For Coming Plebiscite.

Methodists of London, in the opinion of their head, stand ready to renew their fight to retain the O. T. A. Bishop Williams, on the other hand, voices his approval of the coming plebiscite, and declares that the temperance law should be removed from the provincial statutes.

The head of the salvation Army in London and Dr. Clegg, superintendent of Victoria Hospital, present new angles to the question for consideration.

Rev. H. J. Uren, president of London Methodist Conference, an organization which in its various districts has repeatedly gone on record as upholding the principles of the Ontario temperance act, stated this morning:

"It has all along been the general expression of our church, by letter, by outspoken opinion, and by resolution, that a plebiscite was unnecessary. But since it has come, there will be a united effort on the part of everyone to protect what we have gained in this province for temperance legislation. Sufficient time has been given us to complete our organization, and the temperance force, when the time comes, will make a good showing. I am not able to state upon what my opinion is based, but I believe that there is need for a plebiscite, but from his pre-election reference, it would appear that he is simply keeping a trust with those who urged a plebiscite for the province."

TEMPERANCE FORCES READY FOR PLEBISCITE
Rev. J. Bailey of the Dominion Alliance Promises a Big Campaign Before Vote.

Special to The Advertiser.
Toronto, July 18.—"Seeing that the government has decided to take the vote, I am well satisfied with the day set," said Rev. J. Bailey of the Dominion Alliance, in an interview with The Advertiser today in connection with the coming O. T. A. plebiscite on Oct. 23.

"That time of the year is the best suitable for a vote. I hope the ballot will be fair and clear."

"Are you going to put on a big campaign?" The Advertiser asked.

"We surely will," was the reply. "Many of our committee are out of the city at present, but they will meet very shortly. Prohibitionists should be quite willing to face a plebiscite," said Dr. Andrew S. Grant, "if prohibitionists are afraid of a referendum then they are not true to their own position."

Dr. Grant wanted it understood that he was speaking for no committee, but merely in a personal sense. "There was a time when we were very earnest about asking for a referendum on the matter of prohibition," he said. "We got that referendum, and we got prohibition. Now, when another section of the people is asking for a plebiscite, I don't see how we can really object. Of course, there is an economic objection, and then, too, Ontario has so often declared itself in favor of prohibition, but nevertheless, the question ought to go to the people on its merits."

BELCOURT UNCERTAIN OF STATUS AT PARLEY

Canadian Delegate Has Not Been Asked To Serve On Any Committee.

VERY EMBARRASSED
Senator Belcourt Thought That All Arrangements Had Been Made.

By HENRY SOMERVILLE.
Special Cable to The Advertiser.
Copyright.

London, July 18.—The Advertiser interviewed Senator Belcourt, Canada's conference representative, yesterday, who deprecated all statements to the effect that there was any hitch with the British government over his status at the inter-allied conference.

Senator Belcourt's view of the situation was that the British government had sufficient time to advise all matters of procedure connected with Dominion representation. Those matters, he said, were being adjusted.

While scrupulous to avoid any reflection on the British government, Senator Belcourt admitted that his question was very surprising and embarrassing to him.

He arrived in London on Wednesday morning, thinking that all arrangements had been made between Whitehall and Ottawa, but found that he could not enter the conference because the question had not been settled.

He has had no conversation with Mr. Macdonald, but he had no information as to how he shall serve on the conference. He has not been appointed to any of the committees, which have already started their labors.

The Canadian Press statement quoted by Hon. Arthur Meighen in Ottawa, but found that he could not enter the conference because the question had not been settled.

When the correspondents were recalled by the government official who acts as press secretary, one of them asked what were the arrangements for the Dominion's representation at the conference. The official replied that the matter was still unsettled, but he thought that the announcement would be safe that day or the next.

The correspondent then observed: "I suppose the high commission is already in London will act for the Dominion and are waiting for final advice from the government."

The official replied: "Yes, I expect they are waiting for final advice."

This dialogue is probably the basis of the statement that the British government was awaiting information from Canada. It would be more correct to say that the British government representatives have shown great unwillingness to say anything whatever about the matter except that it was being considered and that early decisions would be made. It is fairly clear that the other dominions were more easily satisfied than Canada.

WILL COST $420

New equipment at London South Collegiate Institute this fall will include 35 desks and chairs for the new rooms, which will be used in the adjoining public school. The matter was brought up at the meeting of the collegiate committee of the board of education last night. Principal A. E. Miller stated that the new desks and chairs would cost $420, something over $300 now being on deposit for such expense.

The matter of adjusting upkeep of the two rooms in Victoria public school for use as collegiate classrooms was discussed, and it will be arranged between Inspector Greer and the committee chairman. The meeting suggested that $520 per year for each room be the collegiate committee's share of the upkeep.

The committee will recommend to the board that the salaries of R. J. Blake, B.A., of the London East staff, and of Miss Dorothy McCann, B.A., of the Central staff, be adjusted. These two teachers received degrees in arts at the University of Western

Premier Thinks Election Move Is Unnecessary

Canadian Press Despatch. Ottawa, July 17.—"I don't see any necessity for a general election, but I could not bind the government in that matter," said the prime minister in the House today in answer to a question by W. C. Good (Progressive, Brant), who asked if the transferable vote would come up early next session and if there would be a general election in the meantime.

"The government does not contemplate bringing in any further legislation this session," said the premier, answering a question as to whether or not the amendment to the bankruptcy act, recommended by the banking and commerce committee would be before the House this session.

Ontario convocation. This automatically raises their classification, and the committee will recommend that they be given advantage of salary increase commencing in September.

Principal Miller reported briefly on the registration of students. The plan had not been completely carried out, no check having been made on entrance examination results or any returns from the county received. This would be done in a few days' time, he said. Record-breaking attendances at the secondary schools were expected by Mr. Miller.

Sons of Temperance Allowed To Also Use Tobacco.

Canadian Press Despatch. Toronto, July 17.—Members of the Sons of Temperance will not be required to forego tea and coffee and tobacco, a possibility that loomed up with the presentation of a resolution at the national division meeting, but the delegates tonight voted against the motion. As the resolution involved a change in the constitution, it was referred to the constitution committee, which decided unanimously against the proposal, and this decision was upheld by the general meeting.

PICTURE DEPICTS COST OF DIVORCE

Miss Cora Brennan Heads Feature Vaudeville Bill At Loew's.

COMEDY REAL

The high cost of divorce, to the divorcees, to their children, and to their country, financially and morally, is the subject treated by Rupert Hughes' film story "Reno," that opened at Loew's yesterday.

A few enlightening facts on the divorce question are set forth. Comparative figures show that 150,000 couples are divorced annually in the United States. The number is six times that of France and Germany, 100 times that of England. There are 48 states with as many different divorce laws. One may be single in one state, married in another, and a bigamist in a third state.

The question is asked: "What is to be done about it?" Then the audience sees Helen Chadwick, George Walsh, Carmel Meyers and Lew Cody step into the picture and demonstrate the complications arising out of the divorce courts in the United States.

Plenty of Thrills. There is a moral in the figures. There is plenty of action. Some of the scenes depict those reckless pursuits and hairbreadth escapes that give rise to thrills.

For those who revel in beautiful scenery, there are some pleasant glimpses of the surf at Atlantic City and some beautiful pictures of Yellowstone National Park, with close-ups of the famous geysers. The photography is excellent.

Helen Chadwick and Carmel Meyers, contrasting types of beauty show to advantage.

Headed to advantage in a popular repertoire of violin numbers, Miss Cora Brennan, London musician, was accorded a warm response from a well-filled house. Miss Brennan, accompanied on the piano by Miss Marion Millar, pleased many admirers and proved a revelation to newcomers. The act went over well and was a feature of the bill.

Juggler Good. Something refreshingly novel was witnessed in the Howard Nichols juggler act. One particularly bright novelty of the juggler's stunts was a type of "mesmerized" hoop juggling. Ordinary bicycle hoops were made to "walk" round the stage in a startling manner, wobbling gracefully from side to side and turning to come to a stop at a desired point.

Mason and Cole in a speedy bit of team play featured dancing and bright patter, special drops adding color to the act.

A Lloyd Hamilton comedy gathered more laughs than many a two-reel laugh promoting vehicle in weeks. The photography was worthy of a feature length production and the increasingly popular comedian of the silver sheet was seen at his best in a drill humor. The Advertiser's Fun Shop strip was entertaining and it included an animated verse from "The Modern Mother Goose."

STOCK CO. BILLED FOR MAJESTIC REOPENING

Snappy Musical Revue First Attraction At Theatre Next Monday.

The Majestic Theatre will reopen next Monday, and will have as its first attraction the "Atta Girl" company in a snappy musical revue. This company is one of the best vaudeville and musical companies on the road, and has just come from a run throughout Michigan.

The managers of the show claim that they have the right actors picked for the parts they are most adapted to, and if this is true then the show must be a winner, as this is the essential part in any offering. As it is announced as a good, clean, wholesome show that will appeal to every member of the family.

The high light is Fred Webster who never fails to provoke a laugh, although better men than he have failed to get across in London. He is given capable assistance by Sam Cully and Morris Perry, both of whom are reputed to be stars by themselves. There are other members of the company who are world beaters in their various roles, and if they are as good as the critics claim them to be then they will win with seeing.

The production has a five-piece jazz band that adds pepper to the program and these performers have not failed to be encored wherever they have played.

The feature of the ballet is the perfect 26 chorus, which "measures up to the name given them." They have received considerable praise from critics, who say they keep as straight a line dancing as some of the choruses in the large musical revues.

There are several toe dancers scheduled to appear, and from all advance notices they will be knock-outs.

FRENCH SIMPLIFIED BY NEW TEXT BOOK

Three Western Teachers Preparing Composition For High Schools.

VOCABULARY SHORT

A new French composition for high school students is at present under preparation by Professor E. A. Meras, Mrs. Meras and Dr. Lewis P. Shaanks of the University of Western Ontario.

The new book will have a vocabulary limited to 1,200 words. This is a new departure in language text books that will probably receive much favorable comment from students, who in the past have had to thumb the vocabularies at the back of the book to fill in the missing words in an exercise.

Professor Meras stated today that the purpose of the book is to simplify the study of French. The small gone over by the student that he will know it when the course is complete. The authors feel that it is much better to know a small vocabulary well than to have a meagre knowledge of a larger one.

The new book is nearing completion. The exercises will be completed by the end of the month. There will be revision of this work some time but it is expected that the book will be in the hands of the publishers by November.

A feature of the lessons will be days in the life of a high school boy. The different lessons include talks on the habits of the high school boy and picnics. In this way the authors feel that the drudgery of study will be eliminated.

There will be 40 lessons in the book. Thirty new words will be given with each lesson, and it has been seen that the words in the first lesson repeat often. The words are given by a series of practical sentences, as well as questions asked. There will be a complete verb review.

ADVERTISING AIDS CANADA'S GROWTH

Beatty Pokes Fun at Small Boy's Extraordinary Consumption of Ice Cream. Associated Press Despatch. London, July 17.—How advertising has helped to build up the Dominion of Canada was told by E. W. Beatty, K.C., president of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company in an address today at the convention of the Associated Advertising Clubs of the World.

President Beatty admitted that the advertising which Canada obtained was not always such as Canadians desired. Rudyard Kipling's poem, "Our Lady of the Snows," had given a great many people the impression that Canada was entirely surrounded by the Arctic regions, but British visitors to the Dominion were finding hard snow, particularly in the north, rather than the extraordinary amount of ice cream consumed by Canadians.

One small boy, particularly in a week would consume at least ten times as much ice cream as any two distinguished British statesmen would consume in a year.

Canada's snow and hard winters, Mr. Beatty continued, were among the Dominion's greatest assets in advertising. It is upon the part played by advertising in the building up of Canada since the days of French dominion when the Jesuit missionaries acted as advertisers.

Chief Aitken's Men Find Only Rubbish Burning. C. A. Whiteman, 477 Waterloo street, was burning some rubbish in his backyard last night and all was well. Suddenly he heard the clang of a bell and stepped out to the front to see if it was the fire department. Sure enough it was the city fire fighters, and no mistaking. They were coming to put out a fire which had jumped off the apparatus and made a dash for Whiteman's back yard. Then someone asked them what it was all about and they replied that an alarm had been turned in for a fire in the neighborhood. Mr. Whiteman informed them that the only fire around there was the rubbish burning in his backyard, and he did not want that put out until all had been burnt up.

what the government bases their action with regard to a plebiscite than that everyone you meet is asking for it," he said.

Brigadier McAmmond.

Asked if in his opinion the time was ripe for placing before the electors of the province another opportunity in expressing themselves, Brigadier McAmmond, divisional headquarters of the Salvation Army, stated that if public opinion had demanded it they should have it. He was not in a position to say whether public opinion did want to vote on the subject at the present time.

"If Ontario were to decide on some modified form of liquor distribution, which system would, in your opinion, be the best?" the officer was asked. Brigadier McAmmond replied: "The bar is a curse. Personally, and for the army, I say that we do not want the bar, nor liquor. As far as government control is concerned, we do not believe that the government should traffic in liquor, for the same reason that we believe that private individuals should not do it, because they are selling to the weaker brother who cannot resist. My personal contact with men in the social work of the army is the foundation for my belief. We all realize that the O. T. A. is inefficient," he added.

Dr. G. G. Clegg.

Dr. G. G. Clegg, superintendent of Victoria Hospital, when interviewed this morning concerning the forthcoming plebiscite, said:

"I do not anticipate a government control of beer, but the government should have full control over the selling of stronger liquors. The government control has made most of the people whiskey drinkers, because it is much easier to carry whiskey than to take beer on a trip. But if people knew that they could get a drink of beer any place it would cut out the whiskey drinking to a large extent. The time of the year most suitable for voting on this issue is October, as most of the city residents would be home and the farmers would be all through their harvesting and consequently everyone would have a chance to vote."

Canadian Press Despatch. Ottawa, July 18.—The eight-hour day amendment was ruled out of order in the House of Commons today, and the matter was dropped.

Canadian Press Despatch. Ottawa, July 18.—The question of establishing a Dominion eight-hour-day came before the House of Commons when it resumed this morning. The subject was brought up by D. M. Kennedy (Progressive, Edmonton West), who moved the adoption of the final report of the committee on industrial and international relations, which recommended a reference to the supreme court to secure an advisory judgment on the jurisdiction of the Dominion parliament and of the provincial legislature on this matter.

An amendment to this report was at once put forward by J. S. Woodsworth (Labor, center Winnipeg), who moved that the report should be referred back to the committee. Mr. Woodsworth reminded the House that the eight-hour-day had for many years been the object of persistent efforts on the part of organized labor. Moreover, the principle of the establishment of good working conditions had been recognized in the treaty of Versailles, while the subsequent conference at Washington had adopted the principle of the eight-hour-day on industrial undertakings.

Five Years Old. It would appear, said Mr. Woodsworth, that the government was anxious to further the eight-hour-day in Canada. By the report, referring the matter to the supreme court, the question was just where it was five years ago, and meanwhile many workers were employed eleven and thirteen hours a day. Canada would be receding in her duty unless action was taken. No new legislation would be required.

Hon. James Murdoch, minister of labor, said that the provinces would probably be in agreement on the encroachment of their rights. He was not sure that such a move would be consistent with a proper partnership between the provinces and the federal government.

Hon. Hugh Guthrie (Conservative, Wellington) supported the Woodsworth amendment, and stated that its provisions would be beneficial to the people of his constituency. He believed that the question was one for parliament to decide. Mr. Woodsworth (Progressive, Dufferin) opposed the amendment. There was tendency on the part of organized labor, he said, to get labor into a condition where they would not have to give a fair day's work for a fair day's pay.

Meighen Speaks. Right Hon. Arthur Meighen said that the question of the merits of the eight-hour-day was not before parliament. This had been recognized by the Geneva convention, in which Canada was a party. It was, therefore, necessary that the government should show this country's loyalty to the Geneva convention by striving earnestly toward the goal. Mr. Woodsworth withdrew his amendment, and E. J. Garland (Progressive, St. John's) moved in amendment that the report be referred back to the committee with instructions to bring in a recommendation providing that the eight-hour-day should be ordered for government workers.

The eight-hour-day was still under discussion when the House rose for luncheon.

Polypontes won by two lengths, with three lengths separating Papyrus and St. Germans. The betting was: Polypontes, 7 to 1 against; Papyrus, 10 to 1, and St. Germans, 13 to 8 against.

SEEKS PAYMENT FOR LIQUOR TUG

Northern Fish Company Hears Former Property Is Now Rum Ship.

Canadian Press Despatch. Toronto, July 18.—In October, 1921, the Northern Fish Company sold the fishing tug "Gordon Brown" to William Fox, and is now somewhat anxious about securing payment. The price fixed was $3,000, of which $500 was paid down. Since then only $125 has been paid, and it is declared that, including interest, there is due the company $3,650.

The former owners of the tug are informed that the vessel is being used in the storage and transportation of liquor in and about Kingsville down in Essex county. According to an affidavit filed before Mr. Justice Wright, the vendors were informed that on July 9 last there was a seizure of liquor and that the tug was being hoisted in for the purpose of making it a permanent storage place. The fear that disturbs the vendors of the boat is that she may be seized and confiscated before they have been paid.

Motion for speed judgment, the only way that suggested itself to clear the situation, was brought before Justice Wright at Osgeoode Hall and was enlarged for one week.

BOYS DROWNED IN LAKE ERIE Companion Reaches Shore After Two-Hour Swim From Leaky Canoe.

Canadian Press Despatch. Ridgeway, Ont., July 18.—Daniel Sweeney, 15 years old, and Jerry Buckley, 17, of Buffalo, were drowned from a canoe in Lake Erie two miles off Point Abino, last evening.

Crat Grezory, aged 14, swimmer, was two hours reaching land, and says that he was about to give up when his feet touched the sand. The three boys started from the Crystal Beach wharf at 4 o'clock. When off Point Abino they continued to ship water and could not bail fast enough. They discarded their clothing and the sail, and as the craft sank to its gunwales it was agreed that Grezory should swim for help, leaving Sweeney, the best swimmer with Buckley, who knew only one stroke.

A rowboat was taken to the aid of the two lads, but when the rescuers arrived they found only the canoe.

WHY ARE TENDERS JUGGLED AROUND?

mind you that the commission pays taxes on land and also all local improvements. The building is assessed for only $600, and so the loss of taxes on the building is trivial. Furthermore, should the commission be unable to secure the site, a site in the immediate vicinity will be used for a sub-station and the city will be in the same position with regard to this site as on any other site.

Yours truly, PUBLIC UTILITIES COMMISSION, E. V. Buchanan, General Manager.

Not Acknowledged.

"And neither was this letter acknowledged by the city," Mr. Buchanan added. "We knew nothing of the council's action until we read in Tuesday's Advertiser the action of the finance committee in accepting a $7,500 bid from a private individual."

"Why was the registry office building so particularly desirable?" he was asked.

"Our cables run right by the doors. A six foot extension would link up the building with the street cable."

"Would the surrounding property be affected by making the building a sub-station?"

"I don't think so. The appearance of the building would remain the same, as good as many of the other buildings in the adjacent area. Our advantage in having the building would be that no changes to speak of would be necessary while it will be a better home for the city than it now stands. We can get property for $4,000 and build a $6,000 sub-station, but none of this would be necessary if we had the 'registry' building."

Question.

"How about taxes? Why the argument of the finance committee that the utilities commission wouldn't pay taxes whereas taxes from a new office building would result in considerable revenue?"

"I think that's answered in our last letter. No matter where we build the tax question would be the same. We haven't a title to the main building at the corner of Wellington and Dundas streets, though we paid for it."

Mr. Buchanan pointed to a half-dozen vacant offices in the city, to as many more suitable sites for office buildings downtown. If there was any real need for construction of a new building, there was plenty of room for expansion and the city would reap the benefit just the same.

"We are now considering several other properties close to the registry office and are investigating possibilities," Mr. Buchanan said finally.

The meantime a recommendation is going to the city council, whereby a matter of an immediate loss to the city of just $2,600 is apparent. And no guarantee that improvements will be placed on the property by the supposed purchaser immediately as on the minutes of the finance committee.

Associated Press Despatch. TASCHEREAU ASKS CONNECTION KEPT

Quebec Premier Appeals to France To Continue Relations With Vatican.

Canadian Press Despatch. Quebec, July 18.—Speaking at a banquet here last night, the Quebec premier, M. Taschereau, asked the French government to keep the connection with the Vatican.

"I do not wish," said the premier, "to scrutinize under the motives inspiring you or the reasons which bring you to act in this manner. That is your own affair. But the four million Frenchmen residing on this continent are sad and distressed. For nearly two centuries we have been separated from you. We are just as deeply attached to you as when the last French soldier left us. But believe me, if there still exists a French Canada, it is because we have remained faithful to the religion which your missionaries taught us. Please do not let the Frenchmen of this continent break the chains to which descendants attribute their survival here as a French race."

The trip included a visit through the whole plant, the cream department. About an hour and a half was spent in the refrigerating rooms, the packing plant, and the cream department.

Inspector Bolton, accompanied by Chief Wilson of Strathroy, raided Robinson's home here last night and found a still, a boiler, a crude still and forty gallons of corn and wheat mash. Two one gallon jugs showed traces of moonshine. License Inspector Bolton stated.

Robinson was out of town attending races and did not return home until 1 o'clock in the morning, when he was "welcomed" by the officers and locked up in the jail.

M'LEOD THREATENED BY BIG FOREST FIRE

San Francisco Situation Rapidly Gets Worse During the Night.

San Francisco, Cal., July 18.—The forest fire situation, regarded as improved throughout the west yesterday afternoon, rapidly got worse last night. The western two had fires in California, and one in Montana. The California fires were new.

One of them, in the Siskiyou country, was said to be threatening the town McLeod, and an appeal was sent to nearby towns for aid in fighting it.

The fire on the Kanikuk national forest in Montana jumped the Pend O'Reille River and forced the 200 men fighting it to beat a hasty retreat late yesterday.

The part of buyers and small dealers there is much speculation as to the probable drop. All are agreed on one point, however, and that is that cheaper gas would be decidedly welcome here.

Campbell Clan Gathers At Springbank Park For Annual Reunion

250 Members of Old Scotch Family Spend Eventful Day.

SEVERAL SPEAKERS

Ancestors Moved From Scotland To Canada in Early '40.

Three hundred and fifty people, all members of the Campbell Clan, assembled at Springbank Park yesterday afternoon to hold their annual reunion. This is the first year the picnic has been at Springbank Park, and everyone was loud in their praise for the splendid ground available. The last reunion was held at Valley Grove.

The members of this clan are the direct descendants of three brothers who moved to Canada in the early '40's. Two brothers, Humphrey and Alexander, came to this section of the country in 1833 and settled at Ekfrid over in 1835. Robert Campbell came and Dunwich in 1842. Robert Campbell, a former mayor of London, was a member.

The oldest member on the grounds was Mrs. Christie, Mount Brydges, 95 years of age. The assemblage gathered from all over Ontario and from distant points in the U. S. There were people there from Forest, Warwick, Elfron, Rosetown and Big Rapids, Michigan, Pasadena, California, Govan, Saskatchewan, Toronto and Detroit.

There were number of speakers at the dinner table who proved very interesting to the listeners. They were: John Arthur Carroll of Brampton, Mac Campbell, John Campbell, James Campbell, Robert Campbell of Melbourne (a brother of Russel Campbell, who was shot in the Melbourne bank robbery), Allan Carroll of Iona Station, W. R. Pollard, Robert Campbell, Donald McPherson of Pasadena, and Peter Campbell, reeve of Forest. There were several recitals given by the younger members of the clan and one poem, called the "Campbell Clan," was written by Robert D. Campbell of Vermillion, Alberta. This was read at the gathering.

"The Campbell Clan." Far back in old Scotia there dwelt a great clan, 'neath the Duke of Argyll they were loyal to a man, Who fought and who died for justice and truth, Who lived to fight evil and fought it, forsooth. But at last when in Scotland the times became hard, When oatmeal was chaff and butter was lard, Decided John Campbell, with family and wife, To emigrate westward and enter the strife.

Results of the races: Three-legged race—J. and H. Huet with John Pollard and Murray McArthur. Baseball-throwing contest—Helen Richards, Flora Alexander, Mrs. J. McKellar. Peanut race, women—Mrs. A. Campbell, Margaret Lockwood, Helen Richards.

Young men's race—Harold Crowe, Humphrey Campbell, Jim Huet with wife.

CITY GAS COMPANY. The annual picnic of the City Gas Company was held at Springbank Park yesterday afternoon in the oval of the Springbank scenic railway, and nearly every employee of the organization was present to enjoy the splendid program that had been arranged for the day. Special cars conveyed the picnicers to the grounds, and everyone complained about the slowness of the cars, although they went as fast as usual to the park. "Bill" Duffield was a leading light of the afternoon, kept everybody in the best of spirits, making them all join in the fun. For the youngest and oldest of the sports were planned, and the program was run off in a machine-like manner.

Race results: Girls, 16 years—E. Fullerton, A. Kelly, L. Cole. Boys, 16 years—A. Jolly, G. Calcutt, E. Parker. Young women—E. Hill, J. McKewen, M. Bryan. Young men—G. Smith, H. Perkins, B. Morris.

STEAMER ARRIVALS. Greenock, July 15.—Orduna, New York. London, July 17.—Bothwell, Montreal.

FIFTY THOUSAND WOMEN would comprise a vast army, yet that is the number who responded to a questionnaire recently sent out by the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. of Cobourg, Ont. Ninety-eight out of every 100 letters from these women contained positive assurances that they have been benefited or returned to health by taking this old-fashioned root and herb medicine. This is most remarkable evidence of its power over the ills of women.

There is a 98 per cent chance out of 100 that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will overcome such ailments for you, why should you continue to suffer?—Advt.

Dog Saves Boy When Attacked By Blow Adder

Special to The Advertiser.

Aylmer, July 17.—The frantic barking of a collie dog probably saved the life of Arthur Porter, eight-year-old son of Charles Porter, Glencolin. Arthur went to sleep beneath a tree in the yard. The farm dog and chum of Arthur's was evidently keeping a watchful eye over the sleeping boy. For Mrs. Porter was attracted by the frantic barking of the dog. She saw a large snake crawling toward the child, and immediately she called for help. Mr. Porter came quickly, and with a club, killed the snake, which was curled up and ready to strike. It was a blowing adder, and was some three feet in length.

MINISTER SORRY BEER IS DEFEATED

A. P. McNab, Acting Premier of Saskatchewan, Regrets Rejection of Clause.

Canadian Press Despatch. Saskatchewan, Sask., July 17.—"In the interest of true temperance, I deeply regret that clause 'B,' providing for licensed sale of beer, was rejected at the polls on Wednesday," said Hon. A. P. McNab, minister of public works and acting premier of Saskatchewan today.

"A favorable vote on this question would have materially assisted the provincial government in putting down home brewing and bootlegging, which are to my mind the two greatest evils connected with the liquor traffic. They constitute the worst curse with which the people are faced at the present time, and I am exceedingly sorry the people did not place, in the hands of the government, power to stamp out the moonshiners and illicit booze peddlers."

MAJORITY NOW 26,500. Canadian Press Despatch. Regina, Sask., July 17.—The majority against the continuation of prohibition in Saskatchewan passed the 26th mark this afternoon and the 26th mark has been reached. On the basis of today's returns, all of them from rural points and most of them coming from the majority, some people were predicting that the final returns will show a majority against prohibition of between 35,000 and 40,000. This evening 1,818 polls had reported, and from 963 there was no information. These 1,818 polls had given a total vote against prohibition of 22,822 and for prohibition of 55,462, a majority of 32,640.

The statement at Saskatoon of Hon. A. P. McNab, acting premier, that he was disappointed at the failure of the beer clause, is causing considerable comment and the possibility is freely discussed of the government recommending some measure by which municipalities desirous of securing it could have a system of strictly-regulated licensed premises. The government, as has been pointed out, is not bound to any definite line of action through the plebiscite, and it is expected to seek enlightenment from provinces which have experience in the matter with which it now must deal.

SENATE DISAPPROVES TRADE AGREEMENT

Confirmation of Proposed Trading Between Canada and Finland Deferred.

Canadian Press Despatch. Ottawa, July 17.—The Senate tonight refused approval of the proposed trade agreement between Canada and Finland, and this will have to await the next session of Parliament.

The confirmation of the proposed arrangement was deferred when the bill was in committee, and Senator Webster moved that the committee rise, which was carried by 33 to 5. Under the rules of the Senate, the discussion cannot be revived this session.

It appears that Great Britain has entered into a trade arrangement with Finland, which Canada can take advantage of, but must have the authority of Parliament to do so, and it was this authority that was sought in the bill before the Senate.

Senator Dandurand, government leader, in further explanation, said it was learned that the United States was negotiating a trade agreement with Finland.

REPORT ON HOME BANK BEFORE HOUSE TODAY

Ottawa, July 17.—The report of the banking and commerce committee of the House of Commons, presenting the "moral claim" of the Home Bank depositors upon the government of Canada for reimbursement of their losses, will come before the House of Commons as the first order of the day on Friday, according to Premier King, in answer to a question by R. J. Woods (Progressive, Durand), in the house today. The prime minister said the government was endeavoring to facilitate the preparation of parliament by the end of the week.

RESERVES FINDING ON SHIP COLLISION

Commissioner Will Open the Inquiry on Modjeska Accident Tomorrow.

Canadian Press Despatch. Toronto, July 17.—With argument by Frank Webb, counsel for Capt. James Henderson of the steamer Modjeska and by Francis King for the Canada Steamships, Limited, the investigation conducted by Wreck Commissioner Demers into the collision between the steamers Modjeska and Toronto, in Toronto harbor on the morning of July 5, came to a close at the city hall this afternoon.

The commissioner reserved his finding, and tomorrow morning will open an inquiry into the accident of July 7, when the Modjeska struck the breakwater near Sunnyside.

Although several officers of both vessels were called as witnesses today, little was added to the sum of evidence already adduced. Questions centered largely upon the signals sounded by the Modjeska, and the relative position of the two boats.

In his argument, Mr. Webb asked for complete exoneration of his client from responsibility for the accident. Capt. Henderson had the right-of-way, he contended, and had done everything possible to avoid a collision.

Commissioner Demers questioned whether Capt. Henderson was still entitled to a clear right-of-way, after the Toronto failed to respond to his first signal.

Mr. Webb did not believe the collision would have occurred had Capt. Booth been at the bridge of the Toronto instead of his mate, Mr. Webb asked for a finding also, that Capt. Booth had acted under instructions.

Mr. King, in summing up for the company, made no attempt to apportion the blame, commenting on the fact that both captains had splendid records, and that the accident was unfortunate.

TIGHTEN CAMPAIGN AGAINST LIQUOR

Provincial Police Department Will Be Strengthened For New Drive.

Canadian Press Despatch. Toronto, July 17.—It is reported that as a result of a conference held this week at the Parliament Buildings the Ontario government has decided to intensify the campaign against the illicit sale of liquor.

The provincial police department, it is said, will be strengthened by the addition of several new men.

The conference, which was held in the attorney-general's office, was attended by James Hales, K.C., chairman of the board of license commissioners; W. S. Dingman, vice-chairman; John A. Aycars, chief inspector; and Alfred Cuddy, deputy commissioner of the Ontario provincial police, and some new plans for enforcing the O. T. A. were decided upon.

As a result of the conference, Frank E. Elliott, chief enforcement officer of the provincial police, had a long interview with Staff Inspector McKinney of the Toronto morality department, regarding a new campaign.

W. F. NICKLE PROTESTS B. N. A. AMENDMENT

Attorney-General Claims Resolution May Be Encroachment On Provinces.

Canadian Press Despatch. Ottawa, July 17.—The resolution asking the British government to amend the British North America act to confer extra-territorial powers on the Parliament of Canada, created a considerable discussion in the Senate today. A letter was read from Hon. W. F. Nickle, attorney-general of Ontario, in which he protested that this legislation "might be interpreted as forming a basis of encroachment upon matters of provincial jurisdiction given to the provinces by the British North America act."

The resolution was amended to prevent encroachment on the powers of the provinces.

BOMBARDIER ADMITS KILLING OF COMRADE NEAR HALIFAX

Canadian Press Despatch.
Halifax, N.S., July 17.—"I went there to get him. I did not care whether I killed him or not. I did not take rifle and ammunition down for nothing."
So declared Bombardier George Coleman of the Royal Canadian Artillery, who shot and killed his comrade, Acting-Lance Bombardier W. F. Groves, at Connaught Battery, near here, about 9 o'clock this morning, following a quarrel which the two men had yesterday.
Groves, who was shot in the abdomen while engaged in opening the battery gate for the column's admission to the fort, was rushed to Camp Hill Hospital, where he died shortly after 1 o'clock this afternoon. Coleman, who has been placed under arrest, made a statement to the police this afternoon in which he admitted the shooting, and declared it was intentional.
Coleman is unmarried and is thirty-three years of age. He was born near St. John, N.B. Groves was an Englishman, married, and 41 years of age.

CIVIL SERVICE ORDER IS PASSED IN COUNCIL

Commission Required To Proceed With Reorganization of Departments.
Canadian Press Despatch.
Ottawa, July 17.—Passing of an order-in-council requiring the civil service commission to proceed with the reorganization of government departments not hitherto reorganized; requirement that deputy ministers must co-operate with the commission; regulations for making the service compact by reducing positions and personnel to the minimum consistent with efficiency; strict scrutiny of estimates and expenditure by an officer under the minister of finance clothed with the proper authority; consolidation of such services as the engineering, purchasing and accounting—these were the main recommendations of the report of the Senate committee inquiring into the efficiency of the civil service.
The feature of the report was that it upheld the civil service commission; advocated the widest use of its powers; and censured deputy ministers for failure to co-operate with the commission.

ALLIED PREMIERS HIGHLY PLEASED

One-Third of Program Before Conference Is Already Covered.
PERFECT SCHEME
Associated Press Despatch.
London, July 17.—The experts' plan for a reparations deal, intended to be devoid of sentiment and political nationalistic feeling, is going through the most critical period of its progress under the scrutiny of the inter-allied conference at work in the committee rooms in Downing street. Tonight in which several hours' debate, in which several progressive members criticized the Senate bitterly for throwing out some of the proposed branch lines on the National Railways.
Right Hon. Arthur Meighen brought up the purchase of the Scribner Hotel, and hoped that the government would take advantage of the first opportunity to sell it. W. D. Euler (Liberal, North Waterloo) as chairman in the special committee on Canadian National Railway and shipping, reviewed the work of that committee. He expressed an increased confidence in Sir Henry Thornton. The country should assist him in every possible way and hold him responsible for the welfare of the system. The system was constantly improving, and a large measure of the service which had been the object of the purchasers of the Canadian National Railways was now secured.
Mr. Euler believed the C. N. R. should receive a larger proportion of the mail business. The government should consider some scheme for the recapitalization of the system, as would be done with a privately-owned line. Endeavors should be made to eliminate much of the duplication. Mr. Euler found nothing very reprehensible in the purchase of the Scribner Hotel. He thought it was a good building, and worth the money. So long as it was a suitable home for the Canadian National, Canada should keep it. When it ceased to be that, Canada should sell it. As for capital expenditure, everything which improved the earning power of the National road was, in his opinion, justified.

C. N. R. ESTIMATES ADOPTED IN HOUSE

House Passes Vote For $56,000,000 To Cover Bond Issues.
SENATE CRITICIZED
Canadian Press Despatch.
Ottawa, July 17.—A vote of $56,000,000 to the Canadian National Railways and another of $900,000 to the Canadian Government Merchant Marine to cover the year's bond commitments and deficits, were passed by the House of Commons just before midnight, after several hours' debate, in which several progressive members criticized the Senate bitterly for throwing out some of the proposed branch lines on the National Railways.
Right Hon. Arthur Meighen brought up the purchase of the Scribner Hotel, and hoped that the government would take advantage of the first opportunity to sell it. W. D. There were five in the car, three young ladies living in Port Stanley and Mr. and Mrs. Martin-Cooke. Mrs. Martin-Cooke was taken to Amasa Wood Hospital where her injuries were found to be serious, while the rest, with the exception of one young lady who suffered a fractured arm, were unhurt. ## PERFECT ORGANIZATION

One important phase of the conference work that of perfecting the organization to be set up in each country for handling the payments to Germany under the new scheme was completed today, and a draft of the proposals embodying the agreement is ready for the approval of a plenary session of the conference, which probably will be held Saturday. Thus, a third of the work of each of the preparatory committees has been completed within 36 hours of the opening of the conference. Premier MacDonald's former optimism to the delegates. But the most optimistic of the envoys who have gathered in London to attempt to put an end to the reparations wrangles of the past six years do not suggest that it is the most important of the most difficult third of what is to be done before the experts' plan is effective.
It is pointed out that making plans for receiving and distributing reparations was the easiest part of the real work around which the allied plenipotentiaries must steer a careful course. It is the two sub-committees of the reparations committee, one and two. The first is dealing with the problem of creating confidence for an international loan for Germany and the question of diminishing the authority of the reparations commission, thereby endangering Premier Herriot's position as spokesman for the French government at the London meeting.
Discuss Penalties.
Another problem before this committee is what penalties to inflict if Germany willfully defaults under the Dawes schedule.
Premier MacDonald gave a luncheon today to United States Ambassador Kellogg, Premier Herriot and Theunis and Prof. De Stefan, the Italian finance minister, at the Athenaeum Club, the famous haunt of writers, statesmen and scientists, and tonight the British government entertained the delegates at a dinner at Lancaster House.

OWES LIFE TO QUICK ACTION OF DOCTOR

Ran Three Blocks To Apply Stomach Pump to Mrs. May Johnston.

NOW RECOVERING

Mrs. May Johnston, who has been on remand at the county jail on three charges of theft, and who swallowed an ounce of carbolic acid Wednesday afternoon shortly after 3 o'clock in the women's quarters at the jail, owes her life to the prompt action of Jail Physician Dr. James D. Wilson, who ran from his office on Carling street to the jail, a distance of three blocks, in record time to apply a stomach pump.

Dr. Wilson stated today that Mrs. Johnston's mouth and lins had been severely burned, but that pains in her stomach were subsiding. "I ran as fast as I could," said the doctor today, "and I pumped out her stomach five times. A few minutes later and it might have been too late. As it is she will be able to appear in court next week."

Although the whole affair is shrouded in the greatest secrecy at the jail it was learned from an authoritative source that the carbolic was placed away in a little cupboard, the key being in the possession of Mrs. Johnston. She was in despair at the charges hanging over her, decided to end her life.

The young woman's screams attracted the attention of authorities and a telephone message was sent for Dr. Wilson immediately.

Mrs. Johnston was arrested a week ago on a charge of vagrancy, which was later changed, after investigations by the detective department, to that of theft. Three charges have already been laid by merchants who have missed dresses from their establishments since last March and April, and it is likely that more will follow before Mrs. Johnston comes before the court next Thursday.

SENTENCE DOUBLE EACH TIME TO WEAN DRUNK FROM LIQUOR

Novel System Introduced To Show Police Court Regular "the Light."

PROGRAM GIVEN

Magistrate Promises Twenty-Eight-Day Sentence on Next Appearance.

A new system in sentencing drunks has been started in police court by Deputy Police Magistrate Gladman, which will certainly not meet with general favor by police court "regulars."

"One man who is a good fellow, but who can't seem to resist a glass of alcoholic fluid, made his stentch apt in jail by Magistrate Graydon. Today he was sent down for 14 days and if he appears again he will be "doubled" once more and sent down for 28 days, the court only had one more appearance in court again today.

"I wasn't guilty the last time, but I am now," he stated sadly. "Give me one more chance and if I come back again, give me two years," he requested.

"Do you know how many times you have been in jail this year?" asked Mr. Gladman.

"Don't mention it," pleaded the prisoner, gazing at the reporters. "I just got out of jail and saw a write-up in the papers. I didn't deserve it."

"You've promised before, and you're no sooner out than you are back in again," declared the court. "We are trying to protect you against yourself. One of these days you'll snuff out, and it is no good for you. Where did you get the liquor?"

"I got it from a fellow on a truck. I don't know his name. It knocked me out and I had one drink. If you can't stay sober in jail, you will stay sober in jail," declared the court after mapping out the unfortunate imbibor.

SQUIRE DEMANDS SEAT ON COURT HOUSE BENCH

Declares He Will Take Question Up With Attorney-General.

Squire W. H. Chittick, J.P., who for many years has been a familiar figure around the court house, showed up once more this morning, and demanded that he sit on the bench in place of Magistrate Hawkshaw during the trial of John Prudum, charged with theft.

The squire maintained that he issued the warrant for the man's arrest last October, and that he was, therefore, entitled to try the case. The squire informed all and sundry in no uncertain voice that the "officials at the jail" had not heard the end of it, and department in charge of the man, Attorney Albert M. Judd to demand a ruling.

Apparently the squire got no satisfaction from the crown attorney as he declared he would take the matter before the attorney-general.

According to the municipal act, a justice of the peace, such as Squire Chittick, may sit on any case involving the infringement of a municipal bylaw or he can issue warrants and be paid $2 for each warrant he issues.

REBELS MAKING GAINS IN BRAZIL

Warfare Will Be Long Drawn Out Unless Political Compromise Reached.

Associated Press Despatch. Buenos Aires, July 18.—Trustworthy information received here from Brazil early today indicates that the rebels are getting the upper hand in the fighting around Sao Paulo. It is stated that the federal government has proposed to initiate decisive operations, but "the military chiefs do not entertain hopes of definite results."

Unless a political compromise is reached, the Brazilian warfare which has now been waged for nearly two weeks between the Sao Paulo revolutionists and the federal troops promises to be long drawn out.

It is pointed out that the rebels have at their command the resources of the wealthiest city in the country, where large manufactures are centered, including arms and munition factories, which are now kept working day and night. The de facto government in power is said to have the support of practically the entire population of more than 500,000 and to be functioning in an orderly manner.

TO MEET IN HAMILTON

Canadian Press Despatch. Toronto, July 17.—Hamilton was selected as the next meeting place of the Masonic Grand Lodge of Ontario at today's session here.

LIQUOR VOTE DATE NOW CONFIRMED

Premier Changes Mind and Issues Written Statement On Plebiscite.

METHOD CONSIDERED

Yesterday Premier Ferguson refused to confirm the announcement published in the morning that the vote on the liquor question would be taken on October 23. Last night, however, he gave out an official statement, which follows.

Canadian Press Despatch. Toronto, July 17.—Premier Ferguson of Ontario gave out a written statement tonight announcing that the plebiscite on the liquor question will be taken in the province on Thursday, October 23. This date conforms to the forecast published in the morning papers today.

The exact questions to be submitted to the people will not be made public until September in order to give the government time to further consider the question and to prepare a clear and concise issue. The premier's statement follows:

"The policy of the government with respect to this question was clearly stated before the general election of June, 1923, and has frequently been repeated since. It was brought this law into being. It is for the people to say whether they desire to continue or alter it."

"It has already been intimated that the government refrained from making any statement regarding the plebiscite while the elections were pending so that the question might not be the subject of party political controversy. Since the last contest the matter has been receiving most careful consideration."

"It is undeniable that there is a demand from a large number of people who hold divergent views that they be given opportunity to pronounce upon this subject. It is the desire of the government to secure the opinion of the people of the province in this all-important matter. We have therefore decided to ask the electors to give expression to their views on Thursday, October 23."

"This date has been selected so that the fullest possible expression of opinion may be secured. Farming operations will be well advanced, and fair will be past. Holiday seekers will have returned home."

"Having decided upon the date of voting, it is the people's duty to be promptly informed of our decision. The exact form of the questions to be submitted to the electors will be announced early in the next week, allowing the fullest opportunity for a thorough discussion, consideration and decision before the time of voting."

"It is the intention of the government that the questions will be so framed that there will be no possibility of perplexity as to their meaning, or uncertainty as to the conclusions to be drawn from the vote."

RANEY ATTACKS

Canadian Press Despatch. Toronto, July 17.—"There is no justification for the expenditure of half a million dollars on the taking of the third vote of the people within five years, except the payment of a political debt by Premier Ferguson," said W. E. Forster, former attorney-general, when informed tonight of the government decision to hold the plebiscite in October.

"One would have thought that Premier Ferguson would not have known definitely what the sentiment of the province was in the matter of a popular vote until he knew what the questions were that he proposes to ask the electors to answer," he added.

Mr. Raney said he would make a more extended statement tomorrow after he has had an opportunity of reading Mr. Ferguson's announcement.

League Is Pleaded

Cyril D. Boyce, secretary of the moderation league, stated that the government's "suicide" suits us fine. At first he feared that the government's resolve to withhold until September publication of the question to be submitted to the people to confuse organization for the contest, but on second thought, he expressed the opinion that there would be plenty of time to set the issue clearly before the people.

"We will show what organization is this time," he said. "There was, he continued, the nucleus of an anti-prohibition organization in each of the 1,172 towns, cities and villages of Ontario at the present time."

MRS. RALPH SMITH DEFEATS M'GRAE

MacKenzie Constituency Shifts From Conservative to Liberal on Absentee Vote.

Canadian Press Despatch. Vancouver, July 18.—Although not complete, the count of absentee votes for the six Vancouver constituencies already shows that Mrs. Mary Ellen Smith, Liberal, has been elected instead of Gen. McRae, provincial party leader who was sixth in the list in election-day count.

Late last night Mrs. Smith had gained 250 votes against 108 for Gen. McRae, thus definitely wiping out the latter's majority of 18.

MacKenzie constituency shifted from the Conservative to the Liberal column on the completion of the absentee vote.

Formal application was made by Michael Manson, Conservative candidate, and it is expected this will require a week or more.

Michael Manson, Conservative candidate in MacKenzie, defeated by seven votes in the absentee count, declared that he would appeal on the ground that the decisions against him in regard to the spoiled ballots, have been inequitable; that 134 of his ballots were rejected as spoiled, as against 30 rejected ballots for D. G. McKay, Liberal.

If Mrs. Smith is successful, the standing of the parties will be: Liberals, 24; Conservatives, 15; Labor, 3; Independents, 2; Provincial, 3.

JULIA HOYT FROM THE RACES WRITES OF GAY PARIS SCENES

Not Gowns But Horses the Chief Interest at Chantilly.

SMART DINING PLACES

Young Men To Replace the Companions Who Do Not Dance.

By JULIA HOYT.

I went to the first race meet at Chantilly, at which is run one of the big races of the season, called the Prix de Diane. In the old days, this meet was supposedly the most fashionable meeting of the season, until the Grand Prix de Diane used to go to the meet of the Prix de Diane to find out what the smart women were going to wear that summer.

Chantilly was an amusing sight, but, strange to say, not at all from the point of view of Fashion. I did not see more than three smart costumes there. It is true that the day was rather cold and threatening, which may have been one reason for it. But the huge crowd of people (and there seemed to be hundreds of thousands of them) evidently were interested not in gowns but in racing.

More fascinating than the races, I think, are the dining places of Paris. Of these the Chateau Madrid is unique. It stands just outside the entrance to the Bois and it is the smartest place to dine in Paris.

You come in by the chateau, turn a corner, and on your right is a pavilion entirely open on one side, and entirely mirrors on the other. This is only used if it rains. On your left, under the trees, are all the tables, and in the center of the center is a dancing platform. Lights are strung through the trees, and in the center are five large lights, who ever arranged them in a genius of they are the most becoming lights imaginable. Almost without exception the women look beautiful under them. At the far end they have a sort of arrangement of lights in the trees that produce the most extraordinary and fantastic effect; and an unbelievably lively effect when seen reflected in the mirrors of the pavilion.

People dine very late in Paris, almost never before 9 o'clock, and sometimes as late as ten. There are usually two orchestras, one that plays tangos and waltzes, and the other to play fox trots. During dinner and until about 11 o'clock, the orchestras play soft music, but no dance music. In my opinion this is a custom that should be followed. No one loves to dance more than I do, but I don't particularly enjoy it between the fish and meat, nor do I enjoy trying to hear or make myself heard over saxophones, drums, etc. played as loudly as possible. I am still old-fashioned enough to think conversation and soft—very soft—music is the best dining accompaniment.

How I wish we could have such places—and of course in Paris the Madrid is only one of them. All the discomforts of a restaurant are gone in these places. Delicious fresh air, the clatter of dishes and noise of voices almost unnoticeable, no bugs, mosquitoes or flies; it is like eating in fairyland.

The most fashionable early supper place is the Jardine de la Source, where the most becoming lights are dancing. I have been there only three or four times, and avoid it as much as possible. Packed to the doors, no room to dance, very little room to sit, and absolutely no air to breathe, to me it merely means a most uncomfortable evening. But these are the conditions that seem to appeal to many people. If you want to discover who has just arrived from the other side, go to the Jardine de la Source, and you will see them. It is the only place in Paris run in an American way. For instance, there are no ladies sitting and dancing together; no danceur de la maison (dancer of the house). He is an institution in every other place. He is a man employed by the restaurant to dance with all the clients who may want to. Some places have as many as two or three. Quite often one sees an older man, or one who does not dance, sitting at the table while the lady is dancing with the house dancer. It is considered correct for everyone, lady or gentleman, to have a partner.

GARDEN PARTY HELD AT ST. DAVID'S CHURCH

Co-operation of Parish Organizations Results in $116 Proceeds Opening Night.

Side shows, candy booths and flower stalls were among numerous other attractions at the annual garden party held on the grounds of St. David's Church last evening under the auspices of the Ladies' Guild in co-operation with other organizations of the parish. Each branch made its contribution by way of amusement or attractive wares to an entertaining affair, the whole set forth under a glittering canopy of many-colored lights, and carried out to the accompaniment of excellent music by the G. W. V. A. Band, who contributed their services gratis for the occasion. The sum of $116 realized on the opening night was considered great encouragement for a repetition of the garden party, which takes place tonight.

The evening commenced with a prettily-executed Maypole dance for which the children of the parish had been trained by Miss Edythe Wynne-Price and Mrs. Mess. Moving pictures were a first-rate attraction, operated by Mr. Buglar and Mr. Lowe. Side shows about the grounds, for which special admission tickets were sold, were conducted by the various organizations contributing to the successful affair. The Ladies' Guild ran a tearoom, very well patronized, under the direction of Mrs. Perry, Mrs. Ashford, Mrs. Slade and Mrs. Clays. A booth for the sale of home-made cooking and dry work was under the direction of Mrs. Jones, Mrs. Bishop and Mrs. Day. The Guild side show, called "The Hidden Treasure," was under the supervision of Mrs. Tandy.

The A. Y. P. A. ran a refreshment booth in charge of W. Green, Miss W. Hodgson and Miss V. Bergeron. Their side show, "The Bridal Room," under the direction of Miss Gingle, an orange tree also did a rousing trade under the auspices of the young people.

One of the most popular features of the occasion was the not-dog start, run for the Guild by Mrs. Green and Mrs. James. The cool evening resulted in unprejudiced business for this particular stall.

The G. F. S. made their contribution by way of a sale of fancy cooking, which was well patronized, and flowers and candy also found ready purchasers at their booth. Their side show, called "The Spanish Tragedy," was a clever playlet enacted by Molly Duddridge, Kathleen Adams and Isabel Pugh.

The Test of True Love Dorothy Dix Defines Some of the Sure Signs—Mascu-line Gender

When a Man Begins to Roll Up His Sleeves and Work for a Girl; When a Fireside Looks Better Than a Cabaret; When He Doesn't Want Her to Do and Say a Million Things He Encourages Others Girls to Do—Then He's in Love for Keeps.

A young man who has had many heart attacks, each of which he believed at the time to be fatal, but which proved to be only a mild case of chills and thrills that was cured by the next pretty face he encountered, asks whether there is any way to distinguish near-love from real love, and tells when Cupid has dealt him a mortal blow.

Alas, son, I know not. No woman has ever yet been able to assay a man's love vows, and determine what seems pure gold and what dross in them. Still less can she tell beforehand whether she is a passing fancy or a grand passion. Even matrimony does not solve the problem, for the majority of wives are messy things and alimony is being asked more and more for whether their husbands regard them as lady loves or useful kitchen utensils.

Even men themselves appear to be unable to determine whether they are in love for keeps, or just for fun, as is witnessed by the fact that thousands of men diagnose their sentimental symptoms wrongly, and even go to the extent of applying the drastic remedy of marriage to what they believe to be lovelessness, only to find out what they thought to be an undying affection was merely what our Christian Science friends call "an error of mortal mind," and that they did not have it after all.

Whether there is no acid test that a man can apply to his emotions to find out whether they are the real, genuine, blown-in-the-bottle kind of love that will grow fat and stale, and become unpalatable in a day, I do not know. But, at any rate, a man is wise to try to get a line on his own heart before he takes the journey to the altar with any lady, for divorcees are messy things and alimony is being asked more and more for whether our nerves than having to live with a life partner for whom you have lost your taste.

Speaking by and large, and not by the cord, I should say that the first sign of real love that a man can detect in his system is the desire to work for some girl. If she speeds him up, he is in love with her. If she slows him down, he is not. Love makes him roll up his sleeves and get his teeth and go at his job with more energy and pep than he ever did before; if, when he thinks of her at night, he gets up and sets his alarm clock for ten minutes earlier, then it is love.

For when a man really loves a woman, he doesn't take it out in moaning around and writing sonnets to her eyebrows. He gets out and bustles so as to bring that vine-wreathed cottage nearer, and more grandly than ever. It is the magic pathway that leads to Her, and he is trying to find a short cut to it.

The next symptom of real love is when a man becomes obsessed by the desire to pay a woman's bills, when he actually looks forward with pleasure to doing without the things he wants in order to give her food and clothes.

As long as a man shudders at the thought of the high cost of living, and gets cold feet every time he passes a millinery store, he is safe. But when he begins to figure out that two can live as cheaply as one, and every time he sees a display of bungalow aprons he wants to go in and buy the whole lot, he had better watch his step, for he is on his way to the Marriage License Bureau.

Then there is the settling down test. True love rejuvenates the old, but it ages the young. The minute a man really falls in love he wants to quit playing and begin the serious business of life. He feels suddenly old and sober and responsible. A fireside looks better to him than a cabaret, and a quiet talk than jazzing.

Therefore, if a girl is just a playfellow, if he thinks of her only in terms of gay parties, and believes that they are predestined mates because they are such good dance partners, he does well to distrust his affection for her, no matter how much she may fascinate him. That sort of love doesn't last. You either have to settle down, or settle up, when you get married. And those who have to settle up pay a price that bankrupts them.

Another test of real love is a man's attitude toward a girl. Men have two standards of conduct for women—a very liberal one for the women they care nothing about, and a very rigid one for the women they love.

As long as you think it all right for a girl to go on wild parties, and drink out of men's flasks, and skylark with the boys, and say and do risky things, you don't love her, even if you do like her tremendously and get a good pal, and think that matrimony wouldn't be such a pill with a good sport wife like that.

When you find the One Girl you will want her to wear enough clothes to cover her decently, and you will want her to be gentle and ladylike and sweet and pure and innocent. You don't want her to do a million things that you encourage other girls to do.

For you will be thinking of her as your wife, with your name and honor in her hands, and you will want her to measure up to the standard that the late Mr. Caesar set up for good wives.

The final test of love is when you don't care a rap whether a girl is pretty or homely or stylish or dowdy or brilliant or ordinary, or whether she comes up to your ideals or breaks them into smithereens, but you know she just looks good to you. You don't know why you have picked her out, but you have. She's it. There is just something about her that has got you, and when you are with her you are peaceful and happy and satisfied, and you know beyond all peradventure that she is your woman.

And that's the love that lasts.

Magic Power Attributed to Opals.

All Precious stones have legends attached to them and some of the ancient superstitions still persist. The Greeks had faith in the power of the opal to secure for its wearer universal good will.

THE STORY: The wolf pack, routed after a day's fighting on a northland, starts its new game. After many days moose are found and they make up for famine. The she-wolf, which has the manner of an old red dog, and old One-Eye, are leaders of the pack; they go away by themselves as spring arrives. In a cave on the banks of the Mackenzie the cub is born. One is a gray cub, Old One-Eye forges for meat but famine comes on. One by one the brothers and sisters of the gray cub die of starvation but he, stronger, survives and begins to learn of the outdoors. He instinctively takes the trail of meat and learns that live things are good to eat, but that not all live things may be attacked with impunity.

INSTALLMENT 11. SURVIVING THE FAMINES. The cub's development was rapid. He rested for two days, and then ventured forth from the cave again. It was on this adventure that he found the young weasel whose mother he had helped eat, and he saw to it that the young weasel went the way of its mother. But on this trip he did not get lost. When he grew tired, he found his way back to the cave and slept. And every day thereafter found him out ranging a wider area.

He began to get an accurate measurement of his strength and his weakness, and to know when to be bold and when to be cautious. He found it expedient to be silent, and to the time, except for the rare moments, when, assured of his own impetuosity, he abandoned himself to petty rages and lusts.

But there were times when even a moose-bird failed to affect him, and those were times when he felt himself to be in danger from some other prowling meat hunter. He never forgot the hawk, and its moving shadow always sent him crouching into the nearest thicket. It is no longer sprawled and straddled, and already he has learned to crawl on his hands and knees, and he has learned to slink and to furtive, apparently without exertion, yet sliding along with a swiftness that was as deceptive as it was imperceptible.

In the matter of meat, his luck had been all in the beginning. The seven ptarmigan, which he had seen in the weasel represented the sum of his killings. His desire to kill strengthened with the days, and he cherished hungry ambitions for the squirrel that chattered so volubly and always informed all wild creatures that the wolf cub was approaching. But on this day, when the air, squirrels could climb trees, and the cub could only try to crawl unobserved upon the squirrel when it was on the ground.

The cub entertained a great respect for his mother. She could get meat and never failed to bring him his share. Further, she was unafraid of things. It did not occur to him that this fearlessness was founded upon experience and knowledge. Its effect on him was that of an impressive power. His mother, representing power; and as he grew older he felt this power in the sharper adroitness of her paw, while the approving nudge of her nose gave place to the slash of her fangs. For this, weight of his body he clogged the action of the leg and thereby saved his mind. He was filled with surprise. The stir of the life was in him, the play of his muscles, was an unending rapture. To run down meat was to experience thrills and elations. His rages and battles were pleasures. Terror itself, and the mystery of the unknown, lent to his living.

WOMEN AND THE HOME

And there were easements and satisfactions. To have a full stomach, to doze lazily in the sunshine—such things were remuneration in full for his arduous and toils, while his arduous and toils were in themselves expressions of life, and life is always happy when it is expressing itself. So the cub had no quarrel with his hostile environment. He was very much alive, very happy, and very proud of himself.

Tomorrow: The Makers of Fire. In response to an appeal for books for the newly-formed library at Victoria Hospital made by members of the Auxiliary Board of Women of Victoria Hospital, many volumes have been gathered together for use in the wards. In addition to books, subscriptions to twenty magazines, and a generous supply of magazines are received from the book exchange, in Carling street.

The patients have received great enjoyment from these books and magazines, which help to pass the long weary hours, and under the direction of the members of the Auxiliary Board of Women of Victoria Hospital, the books are distributed daily through the hospital. But more books are needed, and the women are still appealing for donations. Mrs. H. A. Winnett, William street, convener of this department, gifts of flowers from the lovely city gardens would also be most welcome, and will be called for by the convener, Mrs. T. C. Benson, Wellington street, if she is notified.

POLITICS AND POEMS COMBINE AT LUNCHEON IN FRENCH HOME

Julia Hoyt Is a Guest of the Famous French Writer and Wife.

Treatment of Room Gives an Impression of Space and Quiet.

I lunched yesterday with Mr. and Mrs. Henry Bernstein in their beautiful apartment in the Latin quarter on the other side of the river. To meet Mr. Bernstein was quite an event for me, not only because he is one of the few great writers in France today, but because he is the author of "Judith," which I played for a week in Baltimore last winter, and am to play in New York next week. He went about in it with the butler ushered me through the large entrance hall and opened the door into the sitting-room. I was received by Mrs. Bernstein, who had a chance to look around the sitting-room while chatting to her.

The room was very interesting, and to me extremely charming. This room and Mr. Bernstein's sitting-room (off it) are treated in the same style. The large room is square and the first thing that strikes one on entering is a feeling of space and quiet. The walls are of a plain material that gives an impression of gold, although they are not so vividly colored as the woodwork is of a severe gray. All the doors open in the center, but instead of having two handles, each pair has a very large round knob. The room is furnished with one inconspicuous handle. It is extremely effective.

The rug and furniture are black. In fact, the only pieces of color are found in a small Chinese rug at one end of the room, and a very beautiful painting of a little boy in a bright red coat, and a picture of a woman in a yellow dress. A black vase filled with enormous white peonies, some chairs, some smaller paintings, and a Chinese screen in dull gold and brown furnish the rest of the room. It is quite lovely; it gives an impression of restfulness and almost severity without coldness. Suddenly the hostess entered. He is a man in whom vitality, both physical and mental is the most striking characteristic. Above the average in height, with a prominent nose, he immediately dominated the whole room with his powerful personality. He greeted me charmingly, as Frenchmen do, and he was very friendly to my surprise, apparently forgot my existence for quite a while. A famous French decorator and architect had brought some little models of sets for Bernstein's new play, and it was in these that the author had become absorbed so quickly. Yet such a man can do so much in a moment. In a few moments the door again opened, and a friend of the Bernsteins, a statesman, came in, and we went to lunch.

During lunch I listened, mystified but interested, to their discussion of politics. French politics are probably the most difficult in the world to understand, and I make no pretense at succeeding. But after lunch the conversation turned to the subject of authors and discussion as to who was the greatest poet of France. Mr. Bernstein then became so enthusiastic to visit the merits of Beaudelaire that he began to quote him, and finally got a book of his poems and read to us. It was delightful, and I could but think of the lack of self-consciousness which is so common in the French. I am quite sure that in America or England no extremely well-known author would quite naturally, without having been asked, suddenly pick up a book of poems and read them with feeling and expression to a stranger. Moreover, you can imagine most Canadian politicians being asked to discuss poets, and their works? They are an interesting people—the French.

FOUR BANDS IN TATTOO IN PARK AT STRATHROY. Despite Rain Large Crowd Is Present For Pleasing Event. Special to The Advertiser. Strathroy, July 17.—In spite of the threatening weather which prevailed yesterday afternoon and evening, fully 2,000 people thronged Alexander Park last evening for the band tattoo put on by the four bands of Strathroy, Petrolia, Forest and Bridgen. In addition to the band music and the exceptionally good display of fireworks, a program was presented, with Mayor Wright as chairman. Community singing, conducted by Mr. Wright, was given by Messrs. Allum, Haldane, Best and Stevenson, folk dancing by Misses Stewart, Statham and the Tour sisters, and two military tableaux were features.

A heavy shower interrupted the program, to the discomfort of the crowd, which had to scurry for shelter. However, the boys, with delightful humor, played in the midst of the rain, making a decided hit with the rain dodgers by rendering while the down-pour raged. The wet also curtailed the fireworks exhibition slightly, as the expert in charge was unable to discharge some of the planned features.

We Have Too Much Government.

John F. Sinclair has concluded his series of eleven articles on "Canada in the Making," which have appeared daily on this page. In his final article he draws a number of conclusions. He is a student of world conditions of sufficient standing to cause his deductions to be seriously considered.

Mr. Sinclair considers two things, Canada's debt and her ability to carry or discharge it. Growing out of these comes the verdict that the Dominion should cut expenses, not only at Ottawa, but at every point where there is a body that has the power to levy taxation. The list includes the federal parliament, provincial legislatures, councils of cities, towns, villages, townships and counties. All these bodies possess powers to tax the people, and they exercise these powers. It is estimated that the combined taxation of these bodies amounts to $90 per capita each year, or for a family of five $450.

But the case of Ottawa is the one under review just now. The net debt of Canada in 1914 was $235,000,000; in 1923 it was $2,450,000,000. Today out of every dollar the government spends 57 cents is for a war debt; there was nothing paid off during the war.

Mr. Sinclair believes that Canada has too great a governmental machine for the number of people in the country to pay the bills, and in that view we are inclined to concur.

Canada has a cabinet composed of the premier and eighteen cabinet ministers, four of them without portfolio. A cabinet minister in charge of a department receives $14,000 per year and certain allowances. The number should be reduced, probably to nine or ten.

The House of Commons has a membership of 235 members, and the number will be increased to 245. In salaries alone that means almost a million dollars. The more members there, the greater the service required to look after them. Instead of adding to the membership of Commons, Mr. Sinclair believes better results would be achieved by cutting the representation in half. He holds that its fitness would not be impaired by such an operation, and that it would be just as representative of public opinion as it is today.

Turning to the Senate, he finds 96 members there at $4,000 a year, and concludes that the number is too great. He would have the representation there, leaving 48 in the upper chamber. When they are at it, why not reduce it to 32, one-third of the present number? All these things would lead back to changes in the British North America Act, but that is no reason why they should not be attempted. If today we find that the country has too cumbersome and expensive a system of government there is no reason why it should be continued simply because the British North America Act provides for it.

In addition to the large organization at Ottawa the provinces maintain nine distinct legislatures with 543 members. They are distributed as follows:

Ontario ..... 111
Quebec ..... 109
Nova Scotia ..... 42
New Brunswick ..... 48
Manitoba ..... 55
British Columbia ..... 47
Prince Edward Island ..... 20
Alberta ..... 58
Saskatchewan ..... 63

In all, counting Commons, Senate and legislatures, 894, or one for approximately each 10,000 people. Prince Edward Island has one legislative representative for every 2,954 people.

If any business institution felt that it had built up too great an organization to do the work required it would be quick to curtail; it would be considered poor business tactics not to do so. Canada and the provinces in it are facing a similar problem.

Mr. Sinclair can see no reason why the civil service at Ottawa should work six and a half hours per day. His suggestion of an eight-hour day requires no argument.

His concluding plea is that Canadians, no matter in which of the many governing bodies the spendthrift disease manifests itself, must learn to do without things until they dispose of a good part of their debt. That advice is wholesome, so wholesome that it should hardly be necessary to urge its adoption.

The time is ripe for careful thought on the whole business of cutting down our machinery of national and provincial government to a size we can afford to carry. At present we are working on a basis that automatically increases the load without giving a return in keeping with the increased outlay.

A Problem In Himself.

We have referred to this individual before. He has been working on a farm for three months. He got a farmer to take him on in April because there was no place he could find a job in the city.

On Saturday he turned up again—had left the farm because the harvest was on and the work was getting pretty hard and dangerously regular.

After tramping around the city for a week and getting one day's work cleaning out a basement, he was solicited by a few friends for funds to buy a meal, and his next step was going to the market to see if some farmer would be easy enough to give him a job.

He was certain that having would be over, and he figured it was the hardest part of the year's work.

The farmer who gets him lands a prize package. He admits he prefers good farm meals to what he can get in the city. But no place suits him. By actual count he has been on 11 different farms around here in the last 18 months.

A man of this type is a problem. He has been chased out of half a dozen places in town for soliciting funds. He is not weak, is never sick, but he will not work steadily, and is certain that he has never been paid enough for his peculiar and very doubtful abilities.

If the farmer who got him on Saturday could hold back his pay for three months, and make him sweat good big, honest drops of sweat, he might make a man of him. All other methods have failed dismally.

Where Is Charles Matthews?

What is being done in the case of Charles Matthews?

Is it possible that he can walk the streets of U. S. cities—if he is in United States—without being apprehended?

Is the provincial police department making as much effort to find him as it did to make certain that Peter Smith should be on hand when wanted?

Charles Matthews is much wanted at Toronto by the people of Ontario. That desire may not be equally shared by members of the government.

He was given an excellent head start of almost three months before the attorney-general issued a warrant for his arrest.

The people of Ontario are far from satisfied with the manner in which either the attorney-general's department or the provincial police have handled the Charles Matthews case.

The Nonsense of Bobby Leach.

Bobby Leach says he is going over Niagara Falls in a rubber ball. The authorities have done their best to stop him. They will not allow him to have his rubber ball shoved off the bank into the rapids above the falls.

But Bobby is a determined chap, and he says he has hired an aeroplane to drop him out in the rapids above the falls, so the authorities can twiddle their thumbs as far as he is concerned.

Bobby Leach wants to do something unusual—that is very apparent.

Wonder if he ever heard of a pitchfork and a field of hay, or of a hoe and a patch of corn, or of a three-legged milk stool and a row of cows. We have all these things in this part of the country, and the chances are that the determined Bobby could run into the same combination of things quite close to his own home.

And what if he does succeed in going over the falls in a rubber ball? If they succeed in fishing him out of the river, what will he be accomplished, or what better off will the community be?

But if he took the business end of a pitchfork, or the proper end of a hoe, he might have something to show for his day's work.

He seems more bent on doing a fool thing that he wants to do than on doing one of a dozen other things that should be done.

Thieves Get One Out of Fifteen.

The district attorney of New York classes stealing as one of the chief industries of the state. He doesn't exactly classify it that way, but he cannot mean anything else.

Nor is the stealing of the sort that takes place in hold-ups or other forms of violent robbery. It is made up of a year's commercial frauds of $150,000,000; three times as much through fraudulent insurance claims, and a thousand million through worthless securities.

Out of every $15 earned in honest salaries, it is estimated that the swindlers get $1.

Note and Comment.

Folks generally decide whether they'll call on their new neighbors after they see the furniture van unload.

The chief kitchen sport has changed from pulling the bulls off strawberries to shooting the stones out of cherries.

Ottawa young man heads the list at shooting at Bilsley. With a definite aim like that he should never enter politics.

Twenty years ago this week it was so hot that London city council adjourned after a short session. The thermometer must have been going at about 150.

Wheat at Winnipeg is quoted at $1.35. Which is just another way of rubbing it into the farmer who sold out at 70 cents because all his creditors were yelling at him to pay up.

New York committee spent $300,000 entertaining delegates to the Democratic convention. Reports read as though the entertainment were provided by the delegates.

Some of the Doukhobors who were in the British Columbia forest fires escaped, but their clothing was burned. But judging by some of their nude performances such a thing is not in the mishap column.

Ontario temperance forces, looking at the Saskatchewan results, can make sure of one thing—if they wish to succeed in the plebiscite they must vote. When the noise and the oratory have ceased there is nothing left but the papers in the ballot box.

Arthur W. Cutten, who made a million and a half in grain speculation, warns others to keep out of the game. It may seem odd to see a man who has picked off such a pile putting up a danger sign on the road, but it's a pretty fair piece of advice just the same.

London "Y" is losing too much good talent to the St. Thomas organization. R. P. Liddle left London a few weeks ago to become secretary, and now Gordon Butler, assistant physical director at London, and one of the most popular and efficient leaders in his work, goes to St. Thomas as physical director. St. Thomas knows how to pick the good ones.

Dr. Frank Crane

Thinkers and Politicians.

A little book by Henri Barbusse called "The Knife Between the Teeth," is a plea for international communism.

As an argument it is not convincing. In fact, it is not an argument so much as an impassioned appeal.

But in the first part of the book he says some things in regard to the duty of intellectuals in politics which are striking. Very often what a man says, by the way, is much more interesting and convincing than the gist of his preaching.

He tells us that most people, with the intellectuals at their head, affect to despise politics. They regard politics as a field particularly full of offensive vulgarities.

In the present time and under the present conditions, where the struggle between right and wrong is waging, he considers that this attitude is vicious, that it is "a sign of aristocratic myopia, or rather, a pretext easily explainable but little excusable, to remain comfortably hidden from the rough and tumble of life amidst clouds and phantasies."

The tricks, the pettiness, the sordidness, the dull and narrow passions of politics are but acute, and to build upon them the generalization that politics is an essential evil is an "infantile sophism unworthy of intelligence."

He proceeds then to give us some very burning words of exhortation and of warning, in a passage that is almost classic.

"If the living world is to achieve a better order, if it is to remain where it is, the matter must be effected by political measures, and all words and ideas are of no avail. To act politically is to pass from dreams to things, from the abstract to the concrete."

"Politics is the effective working out of social thought; politics is life."

"If we admit any sort of connection between theory and practice, we must take our part in political life."

"To leave the men of practical politics alone in their efforts, even if we do so with an amiable neutrality, and to say that we will have no dealings with those men, this is to abandon the cause of humanity."

How Is Mrs. Blink?

Poor Mrs. Blink. I've known of her for thirty years gone past this June, and in them thirty years what's gone she never once has changed her tune. There's something 'always allin' her, to keep her talkin' sort of blue, if heebie jeebies hits the town she's got the heebie jeebies too.

And when folks ask of Mr. Blink just how the missus feels today, why half the time poor Blink he stops, not knowin' just what things to say.

For if old Blink he happened to say that Mrs. Blink was feelin' fine, and it got back to Mrs. B. there'd be one awful heated time.

No doubt she'd bust in two and weep, she'd tie a quilt around her head, and say the brute was wishin' hard that she was passed away and dead.

"I'llow as how she's mighty smart in thinkin' up new things to say, when folks comes to her but and says, 'Why, how is Mrs. Blink today?'"

For sometimes her appendix aches, she thinks she'll die from that pain, she's certain that she'll have the doc saw sections out from off her frame.

Another day it is her spine, it makes her creep and kind of shiver, and on the next day of the week there's something slipped down near her liver.

If anybody in the town has took a cold and shuffled off, why Mrs. Blink as quite as scart she's got a sort of graveyard cough, and she can feel that cold goin' down, she's got pneumonia on her lung, she knows because she feels disease a-creepin' in along her tongue.

And when them folks about the place who's got rheumatisms in their knees, whene'er the wind it shifts about and settles in an eastern breeze, why Mrs. Blink she's got it too, she hobbles 'round upon two sticks, you'd swear as how she'd just escaped from underneath a load of bricks.

But with these allin' goin' along she always works her eatin' gears, why she ain't missed a single meal in all these thirty allin' years.

But old man Blink he never knows when he turns home at close of day, just what new ailment's struck his wife, and he don't know just what to say; for if he asks her when he's home just how her liver's workin' now, the chances are that it's her spine and she kicks up one awful row.

So poor old Blink, the patient soul, there's not his like in north or south, he's learnin' that it pays him best to let her all and close his mouth.

New Surgical Fad

(From the Sloux City Journal)

Style change constantly, for which humanity will be thankful. For sometimes one extreme is far more satisfactory than another. Costumes, manners, methods and habits all yield to that law of mutability. Even ailments of the human system are not exempt. For example, a brand new style in surgical operations is about to be offered to the suffering world. Henceforth, perhaps, if the prediction is borne out, a great many persons are going to lose their spleens.

Appendicitis, fashionable for years, is going out of style. The appendix is now de trop in polite circles, the spleen having crowded it out of the central position. An operation for removal of the spleen is much more distinctive than one for elimination of the appendix. The appendicitis operation has become entirely too common, especially for the ultra fashionable.

CANADIANS INVADE LONDON

(By Mail from Henry Somerville)

London, July 5.—There has never been such a Dominion Day and Dominion week in London as this year.

Every high commissioner has been accustomed to expect Dominion Day to cost him half his salary by the afternoon reception at the Ritz, to which every Canadian is invited, and the evening dinner at the Cecil. Six hundred guests at the Ritz has been the highest number for many years, but this year it was 1,370. It was an extraordinary spectacle to see ambassadors, cabinet ministers, agents-general and all sorts and conditions of men lined up in a long queue to get their hats from the Ritz cloak-room. It must have been good business for the Ritz, for one hour that the charge per guest is seven shillings and sixpence. The refreshments served are leafy strawberries and cream, leafy coffee, tea, and cakes. The refreshments are abundant and good if one can only get to them, but it requires a very determined person to get through such a crowd as was there.

Entertaining the Editors.

At the dinner at the Cecil in the evening there were six hundred guests, a great many others crowded in the balconies round the room to hear the speeches after the meal. The Prince of Wales was the great attraction. Amongst those in the abstract were many of the 170 editors of Canadian weekly papers who are now touring this country. These editors must be the hardest of men if their health can withstand the hospitality they have received. In the flying visit to Belgium and France they were entertained by a cardinal, a king and a president. They reached London on Sunday last, Monday morning they were shown round the Houses of Parliament, for luncheon they were entertained by Lord Riddell at Prince's Restaurant, as soon as that was over they rushed to Kensington Palace, where they were received by Princess Marie Louise. Tuesday was Dominion Day, when they were invited to the Ritz for the afternoon reception after they had had luncheon at the Criterion as guests of the Empire Press Union. Wednesday was a whirl of sight-seeing at Wembley. Thursday was a reception by the United Empire Circle at the Lyceum Club. Tomorrow there is a garden party at Buckingham Palace. Sunday the editors start early in motor cars for Richmond, they will then go to the country home of Major Astor, the owner of the Times, and at 11 o'clock at night they will go to a reception by Lord Burnham of the Daily Telegraph office. The next day they will be meeting Lloyd George at a dinner given by Lord Beaverbrook. This is not a full program of each day's proceedings, but it gives some idea of the round of engagements.

Rupert Davies of Renfrew, chairman of the party, says their British hosts are doing everything for them to make them feel at home, and to which every Canadian is invited, and the evening dinner at the Cecil. OUR LESSON FOR TODAY.

By Wallace M. Baylis.

"By crackie, boy, you're getting fat!"
When we tell the thin men that
They laugh, then state with joy unfeigned.

How many ounces they have gained,
"By ginger, man, you're getting thin!"
That always makes the fat men grin,
And instantly much talk is loosed
To tell the pounds they have reduced.

But listen, children! Keep in mind
That talk like this must be confined
To men alone, for women folks
Regard such stuff as uncouth jokes.
A woman's never thin, you see,
She's slender, sylphlike, willow;
Nor is a woman ever fat,
She's merely plump, and that is that.

The Tube Holds the Air

Goodyear Heavy Tourist Tubes Hold Air More Surely

THE tires on your car only give you and the car the protection they should when they are properly filled with air.

More—they'll only give you the mileage they should when they are properly filled with air.

Yet it's the tube which holds the air.

So the value of your tires, the cost of your tires, depends largely on good tubes.

Goodyear Heavy Tourist Tubes were developed to protect the long mileage built into Goodyear Tires.

They are laminated. Instead of being made from one sheet of thick rubber, where imperfections would be hard to find, they are built up of many sheets of the thinnest, purest rubber. The tiniest sliver or air-hole can be detected and that sheet rejected.

This is the reason Goodyear Heavy Tourist Tubes hold air more surely. They really cost no more than ordinary tubes, because they last much longer. In addition, they protect tires costing many times the price of any tube.

Why risk a valuable casing to save a little on tubes? See the Goodyear Selected Dealer and let him show you how Goodyear Heavy Tourist Tubes are built.

MORAL CLAIM FOR AID IN BANK CASE IS GIVEN UNANIMOUS APPROVAL

Commons Foregoes Debate and Immediately Adopts Motion Admitting Claim of Home Bank Depositors On Country—Cheers and Sighs of Relief Greet Decision.

POLICY OF GOVERNMENT STILL UNKNOWN

Spontaneous Decision On Part of House Denies Ministry An Opportunity of Making Statement Concerning Its Attitude—Motion Is Introduced by Thomas Vren.

ACTION IS BASED ON COMMITTEE REPORT

Canadian Press Despatch. Ottawa, July 17.—The long-anticipated debate upon the claim of the Home Bank depositors for reimbursement took place in the House of Commons tonight, and lasted less than two minutes. In fact, in the usual sense of that word, there was no debate. Nevertheless the House of Commons committed itself to the proposition that the depositors of the Home Bank have a moral claim in equity for compensation by the country on account of any loss they may suffer by reason of the failure of the Home Bank.

The subject was called up by Premier King as soon as the House resumed its evening sitting. Thomas Vren, chairman of the banking committee of the House of Commons, moved a compact resolution that the House concur in the report of the committee. The essence of the report of the committee was the sentence quoted above.

Motion Carried. As soon as the Speaker had put Mr. Vren's motion to the House he followed it by saying "Carried," with the rising inflection of the interrogative.

There were answering cries from the House of "Carried" with an affirmative inflection, but no negatives made themselves heard. Mr. Vren kept his seat. There was a pause and a hush of waiting in the chamber.

"Isn't there to be a debate on this question?" asked W. F. MacLean (Conservative, South York). The only answer was again the cry "Carried."

The Speaker confirmed the verdict of the House and declared the motion carried. The debate was over. There was a burst of desk-hammering and laughter from all parts of the chamber, and with a sigh of relief the members turned to the discussion of the routine estimates of the privy council office.

The debate on the Home Bank was over, and no statement of government policy had been made.

It is still possible for the government to bring down a supplementary estimate to provide a contribution for the Home Bank depositors. The attitude of Hon. J. A. Robb, acting minister of finance, before the banking committee, however, was that the government should have more complete reports of the results of the liquidation proceedings before announcing its policy.

GOVERNMENT EXPLAINS LEASE ON INDIANS' LAND

Hon. Chas. Stewart Declares Case Had Been Fully Investigated.

Canadian Press Despatch. Ottawa, July 17.—That the federal government leased grazing lands on the Penguin Indian reserve in Alberta against the will of the Indians, was charged in the House this afternoon by G. G. Coote (Progressive, MacLeod).

He said that the government had leased 22,000 acres of land to a private individual at 6c per acre per annum for a period of ten years, and that the Indians had complained this lease for their own purposes.

Hon. Charles Stewart, minister of Indian affairs, replied that the case was investigated before the lease was granted, and that the government's policy was to lease the lands leased to the Indians would be terminated.

Orchards, Fields of Grain and Buildings Are Completely Demolished.

HORSES KILLED

Windstorm Cuts Swath Three Miles Long and Half Mile Wide.

Special to The Advertiser. Dresden, July 17.—Several barns and other buildings were destroyed, one team of horses killed, orchards and fields of grain seriously damaged by a terrific windstorm, which cut a swath three miles long and about a half mile wide through part of Dawn Township last night. The storm was really a cyclone accompanied by rain and lightning.

On the farm of Charles Stephens, lot 20, concession 1, the barn was wrecked, a team of horses killed, the house damaged, the orchard practically levelled and the field crops blown flat.

His neighbor, William Austin, had a barn levelled, his garage was lifted bodily from the foundation and thrown into the barnyard, while the auto remained undamaged. A barn across the road lost a roof and suffered other damage.

The wind took a sudden jolt and did no more damage until it hit the 8th concession, where the barn and six of John Munro went down in a heap.

There are many reports of shingles being torn from roofs, and of much other damage through the district swept by the storm.

Dresden did not have much trouble although the wind was high, and the 11th concession, where a house was struck by lightning and the chimney blown to bits. The storm was worse north of town, and came from the northwest.

CANADA ALLOWED REPRESENTATION

Dominion Wins Battle For Full Recognition At London Conference.

Canadian Press Despatch. Ottawa, July 17.—Canada has secured her point at the inter-allied conference.

Senator Belcourt will attend the conference as a member of the British Empire delegation with full powers from the king to represent Canada and to sign on behalf of Canada.

The system of representation to be followed will be similar to that adopted at the Paris peace conference, with three delegates, one of whom will be representative of the dominions. There may be some minor differences from the method followed at Paris. In this regard the Dominion government is not insisting on technicalities. But the broad general principle of dominion representation, it is intimated, has been accepted.

The Dominion government has been advised by Right Hon. J. H. Thomas, secretary of state for the colonies, of a meeting of high commissioners in London today, at which Senator Belcourt was present.

At this conference Mr. Thomas outlined the procedure which the British government desired should be followed by the dominions being directly represented at the conference. This proposal by Mr. Thomas followed the panel system approved by the Canadian government.

Premier King has replied, intimating that the Canadian government is prepared to accept.

Senator Belcourt will therefore attend all meetings of the British Empire delegation and, as Canadian representative, will attend the main conference from time to time, according to arrangements made under the panel system.

PREMIER PROTESTS. Ottawa, July 17.—Premier King's complaint this morning on lack of official advice from the British government on Canadian representation at the inter-allied conference has so far passed without any further comment, so far as the House of Commons is concerned.

Hon. Arthur Meighen, opposition leader, read a press despatch, "to draw the attention of this house and the British government to the fact that at this moment we are receiving information with respect to what is being done in London as to the representation of Canada at the inter-allied conference from a press despatch given to the house through the lips of the leader of the opposition, while no communication has reached the prime minister."

Mr. King's protest was received in silence.

EDGAR SMITH MET DEATH LIKE HERO

Margaret Murchison Tells How He Begged Her To Save Herself.

Canadian Press Despatch. Toronto, July 17.—Edgar Smith, one of the two victims of last week's inflated canoeing party from Big Bay Point, died yesterday in a hospital.

Edgar, manager of the Elmville branch of the Bank of Toronto, died of exhaustion, brought on partially by his efforts to save Wilbert Hoskin, one of his two companions.

Three times, 18-year-old Margaret Murchison, sole survivor of the trip pulled Smith, her brother-in-law, back from the waves which were sapping his strength.

"Don't bother about me, look for yourself," Smith pleaded with the girl—his wife's younger sister—on each occasion, according to the story told by Miss Murchison to Ernest Wilkinson, to whose cottage the girl found her in Harry Grant, who is her brother-in-law shortly after her arrival at their cottage.

"There is no chance in Miss Murchison's condition today," was the report given by Dr. W. A. Hart, of Barrie. "Margaret had not been given any solid food yet, only liquids. She is getting on nicely, but it will be some time before she will be allowed to see anyone but the members of her own family. We do not want to bring on a nervous breakdown by recalling what she has gone through."

OLYMPIC COMPETITORS ASK BETTER FACILITIES

Associated Press Despatch. Paris, July 17.—Julian S. Myrick, president of the Davis cup committee of the United States Lawn Tennis Association, has today a protest against the lack of arrangement for the comfort of the competitors and spectators of the Olympic tennis competition. They played under protest yesterday afternoon, while the French officials began to look about for things which would please them.

VARSITY SECOND TO VALE'S CREW

Beresford of England Beats Gilmore of U. S. in Single Sculls.

Associated Press Despatch. Argenteuil, France, July 17.—Rowing with power and precision, Yale's varsity crew raced to triumph in the eight-oared Olympic final today and clinched the international rowing championship for the United States.

Fall speed across the finish line three and a half lengths ahead of the gallant Canadian crew, while Italy and Great Britain were third and fourth, thoroughly conquered under the terrific pace set by the victors.

Despite the Yale victory, the rowing prestige of the United States suffered a stunning setback when W. E. Gilmore, of the Pennsylvania Barge Club, the top-heavy favorite, was decisively beaten by Jack Beresford, Jun., Great Britain, for the single sculls crown.

Despite intermittent showers and a brisk head wind, Gilmore undoubtedly presented several course records from being broken, all seven of the final events today witnessed stirring competition that thrilled a crowd of probably 25,000, which filled the bleachers opposite the finish line and spread along both banks of the fine and picturesque course.

A Surprise.
Gilmore's defeat by Beresford, who had a two length margin at the finish, came unexpectedly for the United States oarsman had beaten his British rival badly in the Olympic final yesterday in order to qualify for today's final. Gilmore started poorly today, trailing Beresford as well as Schneider of Switzerland and Bull of Australia. Gilmore started to second place behind the Britisher at the half way post.

This effort, however, seemed to sap his strength, for he was unable to match Beresford's steady, powerful stroke over the last five hundred meters, and finished last, tied with the British star pulling away.

When the final score was posted for the rowing events the United States had thirty-three points to thirty-two for Switzerland, and twenty for Great Britain. These three countries shared first place laurels with two victories apiece while the championship of the day went to Holland.

Vancouver Do Well.
Pulling upon even terms at the three-quarter mark, after being half a length behind England, at the 1,000-meter mark the Vancouver Boat Club crew beaten by Great Britain by a length and a half this afternoon for first place in the finals of the four-oared, without coxswain, boat race. Switzerland finished third and France fourth. The time, 7 minutes and 3.5 seconds, comparatively slow owing to the mild up-stream wind and current which prevailed.

At the 1,000 metres the English boat led the Canadians by half a length, with France, the Netherlands and Switzerland five lengths in the rear. Increasing its pace, Canada pulled up abreast with England at the 1,500 metres. Switzerland moving into third place, with France bringing up the rear. England responded to the Canadian challenge at the three-quarter mark and pulling a stroke ahead of the English boat took the lead, passing the finishing mark a length and a half ahead of the Vancouver four, who put up a plucky exhibition. Switzerland and France were well beaten.

CANUCK BOWLERS WIN.
Associated Press Despatch. London, July 17.—France won the Canadian bowlers today beat a representative Port Rush team by 88 to 75. The Canadians also beat the Hill yesterday by a score of 124 to 117.

FRANCE WINS WATER POLO.
Associated Press Despatch. France, July 17.—France won the Olympic water polo championship today defeating Belgium in the final, 5 to 0.

Golf AS CHAMPIONS PLAY IT.

TO GET A GOOD DRIVE YOU MUST HAVE PERFECT TIMING

How can a man get a good, sound, smashing drive? Answered by BOB CRUICKSHANK, runner up in National Open championship, 1923, and the man who, in 1921, defeated Hutchinson, Sarazen and Barnes in an invitation tournament at St. Joseph, Mo. Runner up in Pittsburg tournament for professional golfers, 1922, being defeated only by Sarazen.

Making a good drive is the greatest pleasure a man has. Very few, however, can hit a ball well with the greater part of their strength, and yet control the swing. Professionals and first-class amateurs can do it, because they have a greater sense of accuracy and proper timing. The only way to get a smashing drive consistently is to time the shot perfectly. Today there are thousands of golfers who could increase their length if they could time their swings better.

Strength and "pep" are all right, but if no use when used at the wrong time. Balance, of course, is another thing which counts greatly, and to have proper timing one must have perfect balance at the top of the backswing. Most professionals can swing the club back almost any old way and do the same coming down, and yet hit a fine ball. This is due, of course, to their wonderful timing and balance powers and that is the only way a real smashing drive can be developed.

Pan Drieds Side With Woodstock

Allege McIntyre, Ingersoll Twirler, Not Eligible.

Special to The Advertiser. Tillsburg, July 17.—The majority of local baseball fans and players stand behind the Woodstock team their refusal to play Ingersoll in a scheduled O. B. A. game at the Oxford-Elgin series with McIntyre in the box for Ingersoll. He pitched two games for Springfield, both of which were thrown out, the majority of the Springfield team causing their suspension by the league executive. Officials allege that McIntyre is a rank outsider and a game pitcher throughout this district at baseball tournaments not sanctioned by the O. B. A. executive. It is believed here that the game will be ordered delayed minus the services of McIntyre, and that then if Ingersoll refuses to finish the schedule they will be penalized the same as the Springfield outfit.

TRADING UPWARD ON WALL STREET

Two Score Stocks Attain New Peak Prices Before Noon Today.

Associated Press Despatch. New York, July 18.—The upward movement assumed by the stock market today was not unexpected, despite rather free selling of Bethlehem and Crucible Steel. ... The ability of pools to mark up stocks in opposition to the bear movement found reflection in a much stronger market in the afternoon.

World's Silver

NO INCREASE IN OUTPUT. I am of the opinion that the total production of silver in the world for 1924 will not vary much from the total output of last year. ... The U. S. Department of Commerce reports for the first six months of this year show exports of silver as totaling $42,928,341, as compared with $27,879,413 for the corresponding period of last year.

One reason for these facts is that England, which previously controlled the silver market, and was the biggest importer and exporter of silver, so far this year has not been able to satisfy its demand, while, on the other hand, the United States, which so far this year has been more aggressive in dealing with the Far East, which so far this year has been a materially heavier consumer of silver than in 1923.

CALGARY MARKSMAN WELL UP AT BISLEY. Sergt. T. Anger Scores 96 in First Stage of King's Prize Shoot. Associated Press Despatch. Paris, July 17.—Olympic boxing events today added to the honors already achieved by Canadian athletes in that department of athletics. Harry Henning and Leslie Black, both of Toronto, were given decisions over their opponents in the middleweight contests. Henning boxed Jensen of Norway and Black fought Leskowitz of the United States. In the lightweight division Ben Rochwell of New York won the decision over Graham of Canada in a closely-contested bout, in which the Canadian revealed an excellent left, clever in-fighting and a great deal of courage. Rochwell, with a longer reach and smashing rights, more than held his own. The crowd showed disagreement with the verdict. The disqualification of the Italian welterweight, Oldini, for the alleged holding of Doug Lewis of Canada was the signal for noisy protests. The crowd threatened the judges, affirming that the two men were locked in a clinch, and the police had to protect the judges when they left the ring. In the light-heavyweight class, Tom Kirby, United States, won from J. Welter of Luxembourg on points. At the night session George Mulholland, United States, defeated Belanger of Canada on points in a well-fought bout in the light-heavyweight class. Special to The Advertiser. Col. Mackay of the Oxford Rifles presided.

Henning, Black Both Win Bouts. Lewis Wins When Italian Is Disqualified. Associated Press Despatch. Paris, July 17.—Olympic boxing events today added to the honors already achieved by Canadian athletes in that department of athletics. Harry Henning and Leslie Black, both of Toronto, were given decisions over their opponents in the middleweight contests. Henning boxed Jensen of Norway and Black fought Leskowitz of the United States. In the lightweight division Ben Rochwell of New York won the decision over Graham of Canada in a closely-contested bout, in which the Canadian revealed an excellent left, clever in-fighting and a great deal of courage. Rochwell, with a longer reach and smashing rights, more than held his own. The crowd showed disagreement with the verdict. The disqualification of the Italian welterweight, Oldini, for the alleged holding of Doug Lewis of Canada was the signal for noisy protests. The crowd threatened the judges, affirming that the two men were locked in a clinch, and the police had to protect the judges when they left the ring. In the light-heavyweight class, Tom Kirby, United States, won from J. Welter of Luxembourg on points. At the night session George Mulholland, United States, defeated Belanger of Canada on points in a well-fought bout in the light-heavyweight class.

PROHIBITION STILL IN FORCE IN REGINA

Saskatchewan Government Will Not Define Liquor Control Bill.

NO LET-UP YET

Canadian Press Despatch. Regina, July 17.—Predictions that scattered outlying polls would increase the majority which yesterday Saskatchewan gave against prohibition were on their way to verification this morning when the subdivisions reporting in the early hours added 358 to the ponderous total and brought it above the 25,000 mark to 25,672. They were from several constituencies.

Moderationists, who expected to find today that as a result of the vote the bonds of prohibition would be loosened, found disappointment. Members of the government declined unanimously to suggest the form which Saskatchewan's liquor control bill would take, but they emphasized the point that the temperance act still was law and would be enforced.

There will be no legal purchase of intoxicating liquors for beverage purposes in this province for some months yet. The legislature will not meet before October or November, but it is said to be probable that by that time the government will have considered the degree of success attending the operation of government-controlled liquor systems in other provinces, and will be prepared to make a recommendation to the legislature of a system for Saskatchewan.

There is considerable speculation over the situation as affecting the proposed sale of beer in licensed premises.

The suggestion is heard today that the government might consider the advisability of recommending a local option clause to dispose of the beer question, in view of the very considerable support which the proposition received, even though it was in the minority.

BIG ENGLISH PICNIC PROGRAM OUTLINED

Numerous Features Scheduled For Monster Outing At Port Stanley.

Arrangements have been completed on an elaborate scale for the monster English picnic to be held at Port Stanley on Saturday July 26, under the auspices of the Sons of England and St. George's Society. It is expected that between 6,000 and 7,000 people in charge of London and points throughout Western Ontario will be in attendance.

Fred Chappell, general chairman in charge of the picnic program, reports that he has received word from George Davenport, Montreal, and David J. Froctor, Toronto, supreme president and secretary, respectively, of the Sons of England order in Canada, that they will attend the picnic, in itself quite a compliment to the city of London.

A bare outline of the attractions listed for the program, afternoon and evening, is as follows: Sports and novelty events on the hill at 2:30; waiting contest in the Casino at 4:30; cricket match between London and St. Thomas at 4; water sports at 6; relay scheduled game of football between St. Andrew's and United Vets at St. Thomas at 6:30.

The baby show will commence at 3 p.m. There will be a grand championship prize donated by the London and Port Stanley Railway Company and as well a cup for babies, boys and girls, born in England and under two years of age.

A prominent London citizen has offered a special prize for the largest family on the grounds during the day. This event is open to all whether members of the Sons of England order or not.

There will be a grand community dance of old-time folk dancing on the green of the heights in the evening. This feature of the program has been carefully worked out by the committee in charge of the picnic. The grounds will be beautifully illuminated for the occasion by a profusion of Japanese lanterns and colored lights.

The G. W. V. A. band will be on hand throughout the afternoon and evening to keep things moving in the musical line.

ORANGE SOFTBALLERS DEFEAT COUNTY NINE

Snappy 19-10 Engagement a Springbank Won by Pro Patria Team.

The Pro Patria Orange Lodge ball club thought that another 12th of July had come round last night, when the team celebrated by taking the heavy-hitting aggregation from the county buildings into camp by a score of 19-10 in a snappy struggle at Springbank.

The Orangemen have been playing together all summer, led by the one and only Ike Hodgins, while the county gang have been in the ring but a few weeks and have confined their endeavors to batting flies over the jail wall. This may account in some degree for the walloping, but at the same time it might be pointed out that the Pro Patrias were dishing up a line of play, both defensive and offensive, that would be hard to equal by even the cops.

Jack Chantler was the big nose for the winners, holding the heavy-hitting county team pretty well in hand. Jack also poled out several circuit clouts and had little "Jawny" Pethick, of Crumlin fame, peeping for home like one of the nugs "pinched" by the Humane Society, after chasing several of his long swats.

The county bunch did not warm up until the fifth inning, when the boys commenced to poke the leather in great style. With a little more practice the county team will be equal to the Orangemen," according to Official Announcer Pethick.

The teams lined up as follows: County: Official—D. Graham, 2b; B. Dawson, cf; F. Last, if; J. Stuart and B. Kirkpatrick, 1b; F. Hall, c; C. C. Henry, 2b; J. Graham, ss; J. Pethick, cf, and J. McLarty, p. Pro Patrias—Garrett, if; Stewart, 3b; Craig, if; Holmes, cf; W. Hodgins, ss; J. Chantler, c; F. Chantler, p; I. Hodgins, 1b; A. Hodgins, cf. Elite Hall umpired to the satisfaction of both teams.

Swatfest Game In Mfrs. League

C.N.R.A.A.A. Team Defeats Rival Employees.

C. N. R. A. A. took a heavy-hitting, lead-crashing game from their fellow employees on the Transportation end by a 15-9 score last night in the Manufacturers League. Nine errors behind fairly tight pitching provided part of the reason for the breathless base-running. Balkwell allowed seven hits and walked five, a distinct reversal of form over his last appearance. The box score:

The BREATH of the AVENUE
WHEN THE COSTUME GOES WITHOUT A COAT

The Dress and Accessories Are Especially Important.

Now that summer in New York has overtaken July, New York women are wearing coats in the cool of the morning and evening, but in the middle of the day they leave their wraps at home. The dress, from high noon until tea time, is the most conspicuous part of the costume. The Avenue sees now all of the dresses that have been so popular in the shops—sheer silks and many sheer cottons, dark dresses and light dresses.

The printed dress has come into prominence. This printed frock in summer silks means to be that graceful compromise between town and country, between cool and comfort and correct formality. And besides the fact that the printed dress is good form and good fashion now, it has practical advantages, too. It may give the effect of a light color and yet be a frock that resists the summer dust. And it can vary its color plan by changing the color scheme of its accessories.

The cotton dress in sheer summer fabrics, proves that the cotton frock can also be as suitable on the Avenue as it is at the summer resorts. The hand-drawn work that distinguishes so many of this season's frocks has added dignity to the cotton dress. And New York women, by wearing formal accessories, the formal hat and gloves, shoes and stockings, scarfs and jewelry, have made the sheer cotton dress their own for formal town wear.

Today I saw

Every fashionable baby should have her mother visit our Infants' Shop right away! For when our representatives were in Paris, selecting gowns and gloves and garters for fashion-right mothers, they didn't forget the requirements of the important youngest generation.

The first fruits of their search have already arrived, and today I saw the dainty new dresses and gettrudes which Paris has sent us.

They are made of the finest French mull, and they may be simply trimmed with a narrow little entre deux, or they may be more elaborately embroidered in delicate wreaths and sprays and flowers, dots and streamers and drawnwork squares.

The very most expensive of them all are only four dollars, and there are beautifully made little dresses for a dollar and a quarter, while the gettrudes are priced as low as a dollar.

For the baby who is planning to entertain her mother's friends at an informal tea, there's an adorable little dress with groups of pin tucks on each shoulder, drawnwork squares in the front of the yoke, floral sprays, a scalloped edge, and embroidered slashes on the tiny cuffs.

The baby who wears this dress practically assures the success of any affair she attends!
