MR. GAMEY IS BACK.

WILL APPEAR BEFORE THE COMMISSION.

Toronto, April 22.—Mr. Gamey returned from Buffalo yesterday afternoon, and the investigation will continue this morning. It was at the earnest solicitation of his political friends that he came back, and among those who accompanied him were Mr. W. J. Hanna, M.P.P., and Mr. William Masson, his Owen Sound lawyer. Mr. A. W. Wright, the Conservative organizer, remained in Buffalo on some other political business.

A despatch from London says:—A writ was filed here today with R. K. Cowan, in which Frank Joseph Sullivan sets forth that he thereby sues John Ross Robertson, proprietor of the Toronto Telegram, claiming damages for an alleged libelous article. The writ is issued by J. M. McEvoy of this city, who is at present in Toronto acting for the defence in the Gamey investigation. Unstated damages are claimed, but the writ does not contain the article which it is alleged libels Mr. Sullivan. It is one of the recent references to the Gamey trial.

The article referred to stated that Frank Sullivan had admitted receiving half of the $3,000 from Mr. Gamey.

Mr. J. M. McEvoy and Mr. Frank Sullivan returned last evening from Rochester with Mrs. Sullivan and her father, Mr. Wilson, who were called as witnesses by the prosecution.

The following telegram from Mr. Gamey was received at the Globe office at noon yesterday from Buffalo:—"You have no authority to state that I contradicted my counsel. I did not tell them or anyone else where I was going. Please contradict your misleading statement. R. K. Gamey."

Mr. Blake stated on Tuesday morning that Mr. Gamey's absence was "unaccounted for," and that he could give the commissioners no information about it. Mr. Gamey's telegram evidently refers to a headline over the following portion of the interview in Buffalo, the accuracy of which he does not dispute:—"Did your lawyers know you were away?"

"Why, certainly, they knew all about it."

"Well, Mr. Blake said in court that he did not know anything about your absence."

"I guess that is right. Mr. Blake did not know, but the others did." Mr. Gamey, it appears, wrote a letter to one of his counsel after he had arrived in Buffalo, and when he gave the interview may have been under the impression that the letter had been received. Inquiring here last night elicited the information that the letter had been delayed in delivery.

LET THEM COME ON.

Poolroom's Challenge to the Crown Authorities.

Toronto, April 23.—The members of the Toronto Junction Recreation Club, which is more generally known as the pool room at Toronto Junction, are so well convinced that they are not violating either the betting or gaming clauses of the code that they have agreed that a test case should be made against them in the courts. The members declare that the charges of illegal acts made recently in the press and from the pulpits are untrue, and they are prepared to facilitate the prosecution in any way possible.

Rev. T. E. E. Shore headed a deputation to the Parliament buildings on Wednesday. He called to see Premier Ross and Hon. J. M. Gibson, Attorney-General, to have the Toronto Junction Recreation Club proceeded against. The Premier and his colleagues had been called to Government House, so that the appointment had to be postponed.

MEETS FRIENDS

E. C. Gammage, the Queen street grocer, is in receipt of a letter from his son Charles, who is in Winnipeg. Charlie stated that he had already met 30 or 40 ex-Chathamites and seems pretty much at home.

Among those mentioned as having seen were Herbert Rankin, a former Chatham St. Clair street boy; Bob Smith, a former Planet reporter; and Miss Cameron, formerly of W. H. Harper's office. He has secured a position with a wholesale firm and likes the place very well.

ALFRED DREYFUS' APPEAL.

TO HAVE CASE REOPENED AND INVESTIGATED.

His Letter Couched in Dramatic Language—Believed the Appeal Will Cause Tremendous Agitation in France.

Paris, April 23.—Alfred Dreyfus has submitted to Minister of War Andre a lengthy letter, in which he earnestly asks for a reopening of his case by means of an investigation by the Minister, as the supreme head of military justice. The letter, which is dated Paris, April 21, confirms the report that Dreyfus has been living quietly here for some time past. It promises to cause a tremendous agitation among the various elements of the political groups for and against Dreyfus. The first part of the letter is a calm, earnest plea that the court which condemned him at Rennes was improperly influenced, first by the annotated document ascribed to Emperor William, and second by the false testimony of one of the witnesses, Czeruski. After arguing on the extent to which these contributed to his condemnation, Dreyfus recalls in graphic terms the long series of horrors to which he had been subjected.

The letter throughout is couched in a highly dramatic style, which is likely to make it one of the notable papers of the case. It refers to Esterhazy as "one who stands before the entire world as the culprit."

One of the leading passages, showing the rhetorical style, is as follows:—"I will not recall, Mr. Minister, what I have endured since 1894. Picture to yourself the horrors of a soldier whose whole life was devoted to duty, to work, to loyalty, and to profound devotion for his country, and who in an instant is stripped of his good name and despoiled of the love of himself and his children. For five years this soldier is subjected to horrible sufferings. They seek to crush him physically, to annihilate him morally. He is absolutely innocent of all crime, and struggles in vain to penetrate the mystery, proclaiming his innocence and struggling with all the force of his mind and body for that supreme pleasure of vindicating his good name and character."

"In constant thought of ultimate legal revision, I have reassembled little by little all the divergent elements of testimony contributing to my conviction. I have scorned calumnies and falsehoods. I have remained silent, with the firm conviction that justice surely would have its day of triumph. The vim of criminal tactics and violation of the law twice committed against me, I now address myself to the supreme chief of military justice, and, supporting myself by new facts which have been elicited, and by the existence of the pretended bordereau annotated by Emperor William, I beg to ask that you institute an inquiry, first upon the uses made of this false document at Rennes, and the consequences it produced on those rendering judgment; secondly, upon the false and fraudulent testimony of Czeruski at Rennes."

A RANCHER'S DEATH.

John Christie's Body Found on the Road Near Calgary.

Winnipeg, April 23.—The body of John Christie, a rancher, was found about nine miles from Calgary, and about the same distance from his own home Tuesday. His horse and buggy were beside him. At the inquest it was concluded that the man had fallen from his rig, which had jolted in a rut, had been stunned and suffocated in a pool of water in which he had fallen. His brother died about a hundred yards from where deceased died, and under conditions almost identical. The Christies came originally from Ottawa.

Special to The Planet.
Toronto, April 23.—John Lee, M. P. P. for East Kent, had his pocket picked in the crush at the Government House yesterday. He was relieved of some $19 in cash.

How the theft was perpetrated is a mystery and there is no clue as to the identity of the thief.

Mr. Lee declines to discuss his unpleasant experience. He does not regard it in the light of a "joke."

SULTAN STEPS DOWN.

His Brother is Now Ruler of Morocco.

Madrid, April 23.—A special despatch from Melilla, Morocco, says Muley Mohammed, the Sultan's brother, has been proclaimed Emperor at Fez.

Advices from Ceuta, Morocco, say the Kabyle tribesmen besieging the port of Tetuan have sent an ultimatum to the Pasha in command of the Sultan's forces, demanding the dismissal of the Sultan's tax collectors and saying that otherwise they will attack Tetuan. The Pasha refused the demand of the Kabyles, and appealed to all men capable of bearing arms to assist in the defence of the town.

Tanger, Morocco, April 23.—Muley Amrani, an uncle of the Sultan, arrived here to-day from Melilla with the customs officials and all the Government customs property. Melilla has been abandoned by the Government.

Tanger, Morocco, April 23.—Tribesmen have attacked and pillaged Mequinez. Thirty-seven inhabitants of the town and thirteen tribesmen were killed in the fighting.

A MANIAC'S DEED.

Chopped His Wife to Pieces and Then Killed Himself.

Cumberland, Wis., April 22.—In a fit of jealous rage last night, John Heymsler, living south of here, shot and killed his wife, and then set fire to his barn. Heymsler fled, but was surrounded by a posse in the woods near Clayton. After holding the posse at bay for more than an hour, he killed himself. The couple had several children.

Shot His Own Head Off.

St. John, N.B., April 22.—John Fraser, a farmer of Black River, accidentally blew the top of his head off with a shotgun this morning. He went upstairs in his house to get his gun to start out shooting wild geese, and shortly after the report of the weapon attracted his household. His sister found him dead, the charge having entered his forehead. He was aged 40 years, unmarried and in good circumstances. Dr. Gilmore of St. John conducted an inquest, the verdict being accidental death.

The Kentucky Assassins.

Frankfort, Ky., April 22.—In the Howard trial to-day H. B. Matthews, former Assistant Secretary of State, said he had been offered immunity by the prosecution when Powers was on trial if he would testify that he led the assassins into and out of the Secretary of State's office.

FEAR LOOKJAW

Mrs. James Hamilton, of Jeanette's Creek, was brought into the city and placed in the Public General Hospital yesterday, threatened with symptoms of lockjaw.

A short time ago Mrs. Hamilton, unfortunately ran a nail into the sole of her foot and had been laid up for a few days, but was presumably getting better, when her jaw began to stiffen.

The city physician who had been called thought it best to have his patient in the city, where every precaution could be taken and assistance rendered.

Mrs. Hamilton is well known in Chatham and her many friends will be sorry to hear of her threatened serious trouble.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Stone and Mrs. Alf. Stone, of this city, were in Highgate yesterday attending the wedding of Mr. Stone's sister, Miss Mattie, and Mr. McLachlan, both of Highgate. The wedding, which was a small, quiet, family affair, was conducted by Rev. Mr. Russell. The young couple will reside in Highgate. Miss Stone is one of the most popular young ladies, and Mr. McLachlan is a rising railroad man and very highly thought of in the community. Their many friends wish them much happiness and prosperity in their future married life.

ATTRIBUTES OF PIRATES.

Harsh Criticism of the Morgan Commerce Ships.

London, April 23.—During the discussion of the Board of Trade estimates in the House of Commons Thomas Gibson Bowles, Conservative, complained of the length of time between the inception and the execution of the agreement between the Government and the International Mercantile Marine Company, and also of the lack of information supplied by the Government, and blamed the Board of Trade for allowing the British vessels purchased by the International Mercantile Marine Company to remain under the British flag. In Mr. Bowles' opinion they were not entitled to fly any flag. In some respects they had the attributes of pirates. Under the Union Jack they had all advantages which they did not have under any other flag.

Gerald Balfour, President of the Board of Trade, replying, said he hoped the Government would be in a position to execute the agreement in a few days, when an opportunity would be given for its full discussion. Premier Balfour said the law officers of the Crown had been consulted with reference to the right of these vessels to fly the British flag, and they had expressed the opinion that they had the right until the agreement was completed.

Later Premier Balfour announced that the Irish land bill will be taken up May 4 or May 5.

RECEIVED COMMISSIONS.

Rev. Mr. Barr Does Not Deny the Statement.

Saskatoon, April 23.—The Barr settlers formulated charges against their leader at a largely attended meeting here. Mr. Barr admitted receiving certain commissions on steamship tickets and on the larger purchases for the colony, but denied that he had solicited commissions from the merchants of Saskatoon. He made an address defining his financial position in connection with the colony, and said that his books were open for inspection by any body of responsible men. It was announced that Immigration Agent Speers would take charge of all the settlers who are without funds. Thirty of these started railway work this morning. The start of the trek to the location of the colony was again delayed.

PROTECTION FOR THE PRESS.

The Toronto Mail and Empire asks that greater protection be given the press, and that it be made harder to bring an action for libel against a paper. The Mail suggests that the law be amended so that a police magistrate or junior judge would investigate so-called libellous statements before an action proper could be begun against a paper. Thus actions for which there is no ground, but which are brought against a paper in a spirit of malice, and which in all cases cost the paper interested much money to defend, would be nipped in the bud. The man who had just claim for complaint and who had been really libelled, would lose nothing by the procedure suggested, but his case would be strengthened by the investigation on every count. The only people to suffer would be the enterprising lawyers, who are always ready to enter a suit against a paper for the sake of what money is in it. No matter whether a paper be right or wrong nowadays, an action may be brought against it, and the paper, in order to defend itself, is compelled to put up heavy costs. In England it is proposed to remedy the law on lines similar to those suggested by the Mail and Empire, and it would certainly not be out of place to introduce such an amendment in this country.

We looked in vain for our copy of the Hamilton Spectator this morning. We do trust that the alarmist yarn which were circulated about Mr. Gamey yesterday did not put our good and zealous Tory friend, the Spec. man, temporarily out of business.

Come to think of it, was it any worse for "Honorable" J. R. Stratton to try to get that Globe reporter to alter the statement of another man after it had been signed by him than for "Honorable" G. W. Ross to sign his name to another man's poetry?

Strange are the comments that one hears on the Gamey-Stratton case. This conversation took place Friday:

Conservative—What about the fellows who gave it to him?

Liberal—That hasn't been proved yet.—Guelph Herald.

The editorial unfortunate who writes the tirades for the Banner worked himself into a great state of excitement last night shouting names at Messrs. Gamey and Whitney. It is a pity to see such a waste of energy from one with so little to spare. The little fellow would have shown greater discretion had he withheld his wild gesticulations and invectives and published the despatch that Mr. Gamey was returning to Toronto, which he diligently suppressed.

CHARLES CLARK, Agent for Hugh Clark, Esq.

The above is an abstract of the statement delivered to me by Charles Clark, Esq., agent for Hugh Clark, Esq., as required under the provisions of the Ontario election act.—WALTER M. DACK, Returning Officer for Center Bruce, Walkerton, April 11, 1903.

For an election in which the Government and its machine were routed, horse, foot and artillery, by one man, that bill of expense is not extravagant. We wonder how much it cost the Government and the pulpwood men and the Niagara power grafters to get so beautifully beaten at the same election?—Hamilton Spectator.

PRAISES SCHOOL

"I was over to the Central school yesterday morning," remarked County Clerk Gosnell, "and I saw the children marching into the building when school was called. My, it was a grand sight. The children marched in just like soldiers and they kept time to the music of the piano. It's well worth anybody's while to go to the Central school and see the children dismissed.

"And the Kindergarten, why I could have remained there half the day. Miss Green deserves great credit for the way in which she takes charge of those children. The Central school kindergarten is ahead of anything I have seen in a very long while. I was delighted with the

GIVEN UP TO DIE

Spring fever is a name often given to a stagnant stomach. When you have walked too much your legs ache and you know it is time to rest them. When your arms ache you know it is time to rest them. Use your stomach in the same way. When it is tired rest it. The stomach supplies the body with heat. Its work is doubled during the cold weather. With the coming of spring it is tired and worn. It needs to be rested and toned up. It needs Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets. They rest the stomach by doing its work. They digest the food themselves. They thus bring the stomach to its normal state of activity and health, and that means renewed energy in all parts of the body. Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets are a natural remedy and sure reliever of all stomach ailments. Those who have used them are enthusiastic in their praises. Take Mrs. John F. Sillars, of Western Bay, Newfoundland, for example. She writes: "I have been cured of Dyspepsia by Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets. For seven years I suffered. I could not eat without suffering intense agony but had been given up to die before using them. I tried doctors but they gave me no permanent relief. Then I started to use Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets. From the first they gave me relief, and after the use of five boxes I was well and strong."

The house and lot, comprising of three and a half acres with all modern conveniences, will be offered for sale at two o'clock if not disposed of before. This is one of the most important sales which I have had for some time, as the furniture and effects are of the best, consisting of oak, cherry, mahogany and walnut and all of a substantial make. This sale should command the attention of the public and will, no doubt, be well attended rain or shine, as the house is large and can easily accommodate a large crowd. The sale will begin sharp at ten a. m. and lunch will be served at twelve o'clock. Should time not permit for sale of the books on the 28th, then they will be sold on Thursday evening the 30th inst. in one of the stores in the Garner House Block. This library is conceded to be one of the best collections of books in the city. Remember the day and date of the sale, Tuesday, April 28th, at ten o'clock a. m. sharp. FRED F. QUINN, Proprietor. A SPLENDID LECTURE.

The lecture at the Grand Opera Opera House last evening by Chas. H. Hamilton on "London and the Coronation" was one of the most interesting lectures heard here in a long time. Mr. Hamilton has a wonderfully clear speaking voice and it is a pleasure to hear it. He was thoroughly conversant with his subject and the illustrations added interest to the lecture. His descriptions were particularly true in detail and his account of the Coronation was very vivid and interesting. Mr. Hamilton's lecture can be commended for being instructive without being dry and uninteresting. The views were capital.

FAIR GRADUATES

The graduating exercises of the nurses of St. Joseph's Hospital were held Monday evening. The affair was a strictly private one, the only ones being present outside the hospital staff being Father Solanus, secretary to the Papal delegate, who made the presentation, and Dr. J. L. Bray, chairman of the hospital staff. Miss Wing and Miss Berhorst, who have now been at the hospital for a number of years, were each given a medal as evidence of the appreciation of their services by the hospital staff. In presenting these medals both Dr. Bray and Father Solanus stated that Miss Berhorst was without exception the best nurse they have ever met. They also spoke very highly of Miss Wing. Miss Berhorst, who is the head nurse in the hospital, has been in the service eight years and Miss Wing has been a member of the hospital staff for six years. The graduates were Miss Hogan and Miss Connolly, and to these diplomas were presented. Father Solanus made a very fitting and complimentary address to each of these graduates, speaking very highly of their past services and hoping that they would continue their work with equal efficiency. The staff was treated to a banquet by the Mother Superior at the conclusion of the presentation.

POSITION OF HONOR

Dr. J. L. Bray has received a letter from J. S. Robertson, secretary of the National Sanitarium Association of Toronto, notifying him of his appointment as consulting physician of the Association as a representative of the city of Chatham. It was unanimously decided at a meeting of the Board of this Association that the doctor be asked to accept this position. Whenever they have consulting physicians it is the custom to refer applicants for admission to either of their institutions, in that locality, to one of the physicians in the district. The doctor will accept.

THIEF LOCATED

The man, from whom Paul Rose was arraigned on the charge of stealing a suit of clothes, went under the name of Ed. Williams, when here. He worked for G. J. Marshall, up the river, Harwich Tp., and used to play football with the boys. His real name is Edward Biddle and his home is at Bloomfield, Prince Edward Co. Biddle is now in Kingston Penitentiary, where he has been sentenced for three years. Rose is accused of stealing the suit of clothes from the boarding house where Biddle left his things when he departed. Mr. Marshall, on receipt of a letter from Biddle, sent all his things to Bloomfield, with the exception of the suit of clothes, which he could not find.

Sickness steals more savings than the burglar. Slowly, coin by coin, the money that has been so hard earned is paid out for drugs and doctors. Sickness is the worst enemy of the working man, and the common cause of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. It cures diseases of heart, liver, lungs, kidneys, etc., when these diseases are caused by the diseased condition of the stomach and its allied organs.

The use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery will stop the stealing of the savings by sickness. It cures diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. It cures diseases of heart, liver, lungs, kidneys, etc., when these diseases are caused by the diseased condition of the stomach and its allied organs. About ten years ago I began to have trouble with my stomach, writes Wm. Connolly, of 333 Walnut street, Leamington, Ohio. I got so bad I had to lay off quite often two and three days in a week, my stomach would bloat, and I would belch up gas, and was in awful distress at such times. I have employed and been treated by the best doctors in the city but got no help whatever. By some means I got hold of a bottle of your "Pellets," and I thought they might be of some use to me. I took them as directed and am very happy to state that they commenced to get better from the start and have not lost a day this summer on account of stomach trouble. I had better than I have for ten years. Accept no substitute for "Golden Medical Discovery." Nothing else is "just as good."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets regulate the bowels.

A GAME CHICKEN

A city ex-alderman, who lives in South Chatham, tells a good story on himself in reference to a little experience he had with a game rooster. He found the cock and a hen in a car of milling machinery brought to Chatham and took the pair of chickens home. The rooster took kindly to his new abode but he objected to any other roosters living in the same neighborhood and set out on a tour of extermination. Having prepared the two roosters that lived next door for their funeral, he was a little battered, but not so much so as to stop him tackling the rooster in the next yard. The ex-alderman's rooster was game you know. He returned from this last fray very much done up and bleeding. Unable to climb the fence back home, the ex-councillor picked his pet up and carried it into the barn. The game was so exhausted and covered with blood that the owner thought the bird had fought his last fight. At night the ex-alderman went out to see if the rooster was dead, but the feathered fighter no sooner saw his own shadow on the wall of the barn, thrown by the lantern, than recognizing, as he thought, a rival, he started to fight the shadow. His wounds and cuts were forgotten and he was ready to fight, but you know that chicken was game all the time. He looked disappointed when he collided with the wall. This is the end of the story.

Paine's Celery Compound

Has Proved a Blessing to Thousands of Our School Teachers who were Victims of Neuralgia, Sleeplessness and Nerve Troubles.

Neuralgia, sleeplessness, nervousness, dyspepsia and general rundown condition make life a weary burden for thousands of our school teachers. When nerves are in this condition, tired and digestion in a disordered condition, there is irritability, bad temper, impatience and often great despondency. Under such circumstances, the important work of teaching can never be done. Paine's Celery Compound is doing a grand work for half-sick, weary and rundown school teachers in every part of Canada. Thousands engaged in the work of educating the young are kept well from year to year by the strength-giving virtues of Paine's Celery Compound. It is the one great medicine for all classes of society. It maintains its popularity and reputation because it makes sick people well. Mr. L. A. Belyea, a well known school teacher of Hampstead, N. B., says: "I was taken with a severe attack of neuralgia in the head and shoulders, and gave up the idea of ever being cured. Have taken medicine prescribed by different physicians, but all to no avail. I was induced to try a bottle of Paine's Celery Compound. Before I had taken the half of it I began to feel better. I have taken three bottles of this glorious medicine, and to-day I can say that it is the first time in eleven years that I have felt none of those piercing pains to which I had once been a victim. If any one discredits this statement, let them write me, and I will be glad to inform them of what has cured me of neuralgia and a shattered nervous system."

A blessing must be shared before it will be repeated. God's gifts, bless as they are received; they bless twice as they are imparted. Minard's Liniment Cures Garget in Cows.

STINGING REPRIMAND
At the opening of court Wednesday at London four grand jurors who failed to answer to their names last Monday appeared on a summons issued by the sheriff and received a stinging reprimand.

His Lordship, Mr. Justice Meredith, pointed out that their absence themselves was a failure to discharge a solemn duty required of them by law, and that no private interests could possibly be accepted as an excuse for their non-attendance. Their absence had the effect of depriving those who stood indicted of the full measure of justice to which they were entitled. At the same time the delay occasioned by their absence imposed an additional burden on the ratepayer, and they had no right to so tax the community to suit their own convenience.

In connection with this matter his Lordship made an important ruling, holding that in cases where the juror summoned plead exemption, they are still bound to attend under the summons, and their plea for exemption must be made in court.

The delinquents were not punished, but his Lordship intimated that for their failure to obey the mandate of the court he had the power to impose a heavy fine.

Sheriff Gemmill thinks that it would save some people a lot of trouble in this county if they would bear in mind Mr. Justice Meredith's remarks, when next they are summoned as jurors at the assizes.

CHARLES KING FOUND GUILTY
Shooting of Willie Freeman in Aldboro' Township.
St. Thomas, April 23.—"Guilty of manslaughter, with a recommendation to mercy," was the verdict returned yesterday by the jury in the case against Charles King of murdering Willie Freeman. The hearing of the evidence occupied all day, and the case was given to the jury at 5.30 p.m.

The accused, Charles William King, 26 years of age, was born in the Whitechapel district of London, and came to this country eight years ago, being an inmate of the Fagan Home of Toronto. Six years ago he was taken from that institution by Mr. D. B. Freeman, farmer, Aldborough, for whom he worked for his board and clothing. Besides Mr. and Mrs. Freeman in the family was a sixteen-year-old adopted son, James William Freeman. The latter was the favorite of the family, and King became jealous of him.

On the 9th of December, 1902, King, while Willie Freeman was seated on a wooden horse at work in the lot of the barn, crept up the stairs, and with a shotgun fired and hit him in the side of the head, killing him almost instantly. King then went to the Freeman house and reported that Willie was shot, and King before going to the house had left the gun beside the injured boy, who died shortly after assistance arrived. A King's first story was that he was pointing the gun at Willie and did not know it was loaded, and that the shooting was accidental. However, afterwards he confessed to Detective J. W. Murray and members of the family that he had shot Willie, and was sorry for it. He also confessed that he had intended to kill Mr. Freeman. Mr. Justice Street at the trial to-day refused to admit the confession of the accused, and the hearing of the case was therefore greatly shortened. Mr. L. F. Heyd, C. of Toronto, conducted the case for the Crown, and W. L. McLaws acted for the prisoner. Sentence was not imposed to-night. A motion was made for a reserved case because of the excluding of the evidence as to the confession.

St. Thomas, Ont., April 23.—Mr. Justice Street this morning sentenced Charles King, committed yesterday, to manslaughter of Willie Freeman to one year in common jail.

SULLIVAN'S STORY
He Springs a Remarkable Tale on the Commission—Says Gamey and He Proposed Deal.
Toronto, April 23.—Frank Sullivan, in the witness box, told of deals that he proposed going into with Gamey, particularly the McGregor Island deal. He had offered Gamey $5,000 to endorse the application for the timber, and Thomas Mihan, of St. Catharines, was to put up the balance. George McCormack and Dr. Beattie Nesbitt were also after Gamey to get him to endorse the application, which is still before the department.

Just before the court adjourned the witness told a remarkable story of an interview he had with Gamey the day before the meeting of the Legislature. Gamey told him then that he was having so much trouble with his constituents that he would have to get up a story to satisfy them and he intimated that Stratton gave him $2,000 in September and $1,000 at the time of the Globe interview and that he had shared the money with Sullivan. Gamey was not in the court to-day, and it is reported that his physician had ordered him to take a rest.

DANGER IN PHOSPHORUS.
Its Use Prohibited For Manufacturing in Germany.
Berlin, April 23.—Interior Secretary Von Posadowsky-Wehner, speaking in the Reichstag during the discussion of the second reading of the bill forbidding the use of white or yellow phosphorus in match-making after January 1, 1908, said that to reject the scientific proof of the ruinous effect of phosphorus vapors on the human system was "to refuse to see the sun on a bright day." Phosphorus, he claimed, not only caused necrosis, sometimes three or four years after, but was hereditarily transmitted, so that whole families were afflicted. The opponents of the measure sought delay, expressing doubts regarding the value of the patent processes acquired by the Government and offered to the match manufacturers, an which was tested during the Reichstag recess by a commission, which reported favorably on it. The House eventually passed the law.

DEATH IN THE MINE.
Sixty-five Men Killed at Kinshu, Japan.
Vancouver, April 23.—News was received in the mails from Japan of a disastrous colliery accident, on April 2, in which 65 lives were lost as the result of a fire at the Otu colliery, Kinshu. Soon after the shift descended cries of fire were heard, and the miners started to ascend. One of the officials, who was thoroughly familiar with the passages in the mine, rushed in and succeeded in rescuing over a dozen men. Sixty-five miners who were near the main entrance when the explosion occurred endeavored to get out of the mine, but the main shaft, which they thought would be the safest, was blocked. They were overpowered by the flames before they could reach the 300 feet section.

WEDDED IN GALT

The home of Mrs. Amelia West, Queen street, was the scene of a happy nuptial event at four o'clock this afternoon, when her second daughter, Clara Amelia, was united in the holy bonds of wedlock to Albert Groombridge, of Chatham. The ceremony, which was performed by the Rev. Mr. Duthie, was witnessed by only the intimate friends of the contracting parties, and, though quiet, was very pretty. The only attendant of the bride, who was given away by Mr. S. Beaumont, of Georgetown, an old friend of the family, was little Gladys Werlich, of Preston, who made a charming maid of honor, in white muslin. The wedding march was rendered by Mrs. Porritt, on the piano. The bride's dress was of myrtle green broadcloth, trimmed with applique and white satin, with a bodice of crushed strawberry silk, also trimmed with applique and white satin. A black chiffon picture hat and a bouquet of bridal roses completed her toilet. Following the ceremony came the usual congratulations, after which a dainty wedding repast was served. Mr. and Mrs. Groombridge, who were the recipients of many handsome presents, left on the 9:30 train for Chatham, followed by the best wishes of many friends.—Galt Reporter.

Charles Harradine, Esq., and His Daughter Florence Completely Cured of Painful Rheumatism.

The People Are Impressed With the Wonderful Power of This Remedy to Cure Rheumatism—It Demonstrates Its Value Quickly and Cures to Stay Cured

"To relieve suffering and scatter health is my greatest happiness."—MUNYON.

I do not care at what stage of the disease your rheumatism may be—if it is far advanced and chronic, or if it is only a few months' standing, my Rheumatic Specific will cure it quickly and for all time. It neutralizes the acid in the blood, eradicates the poison from the system, and cures the malady permanently. The interest that has been taken in my Rheumatism Cure by the people of Canada is solely and entirely due to the fact that it cures rheumatism. If it were otherwise, I would expect the sale of my remedies to be prohibited by law.—Munyon.

WHAT THE FATHER SAYS.

"I have had rheumatism in my hand and arm for several years, and suffered great pain. At times my hand would get quite numb, and I would have no feeling in it. Then it would stiffen up and I could not shut it. After I had taken Munyon's Rheumatism Cure a short time I noticed great improvement. I am now completely cured, and have no more rheumatic pains." Mr. Charles Harradine, 288 Parliament street, Toronto, Dec. 22nd, 1902.

WHAT THE DAUGHTER SAYS.

CURE SICK HEADACHE.

The Range Soapstone. If the soapstone in your coal range has become broken, instead of buying new get some common blue clay, soften with water and then stir in coal ashes until of a consistency that will spread like mortar. Apply with a wide bladed knife or trowel. Fill in the broken places smoothly and evenly and dry over night and you will have a hard surface and one that will wear. I have used this in my range for twenty-five years with good success.—Good House-keeping.

Among a Host of Competitors It Stands Supreme.

Malt Breakfast Food, the original and standard Malted Food, stands supreme among a host of competitors in delicacy of flavor and nutritive properties. Malt Breakfast Food is the most easily digested of all cereal foods. This special advantage should commend it to dyspeptics and those suffering from weak digestion. Malt Breakfast Food is prescribed by over ten thousand medical men for the little ones after weaning; it is the ideal form of nutrition for all growing children. No other grain food has ever given such general satisfaction in the homes of Canada. Order a package from your Grocer.

Lamp Cleaning.

A teaspoonful of soda added to a quart of hot soapuds will effectually clean the dirtiest lamp. Dry quickly after washing. Lamps to be made safe must be clean, dry and filled to within an inch of the top. Never attempt to light a lamp until the space in the reservoir often becomes filled with an explosive gas.

Useful Kitchen Knife.

A thin, flexible steel knife is one of the most useful of kitchen utensils. This can be used for many purposes, for loosening cakes from the tin, for icing cakes, scraping dishes or cutting delicate cakes and puddings whose lightness would be quite ruined by using a heavy, dull knife.

Old Stockings.

Old woolen stockings may be cut into squares and, with a covering of cretonne or stuff, will form useful for holders. The legs of two stockings opened out and joined together will answer the purpose of a house flannel.

LIVED BY BORROWING.

As a man who lived for many years, and very comfortably too, by practising the gentle art of borrowing, I may claim to know something of the subject; and as, by one of fortune's capricious turns of her wheel, I am placed in a position where it is no longer necessary to borrow in order to live, there cannot be any harm in divulging the secrets of my profession—of which, by the way, I have the grace to be a little ashamed now.

Perhaps I need not explain how I came to be reduced to such an expedient as borrowing without any intention of repaying. Let it suffice to say that I am a member of what is known as a "good old family," with a high-sounding name; that it became necessary for me to make a living somehow; and that, like my immediate ancestors, to whom I owed my impetuous position, I suffered from a constitutional aversion to work of any kind.

Fortunately I started my career in an excellent position for practising my profession. I was a member of a good club, fairly well known in West End circles, and had a large number of flourishing acquaintances to whom a £10 note more or less made no appreciable difference. I was astute enough, too, to keep my financial condition to myself, and was credited with a capacity for "outrunning the constable," and being occasionally "hard up," but nothing more.

If my friends had known how penniless I was they would, no doubt, have given me a wide berth; but I took good care that they didn't. Another matter I paid scrupulous attention to—I always dressed well, as it is important above everything else that a professional borrower should have a prosperous appearance; for while a man with a frayed or out-of-date coat would find it difficult to borrow half a crown, the immaculate and fashionably attired man may accept a loan of a £10 note as if he were conferring a favor.

Another useful art, which I learned from a professional borrower should have a prosperous appearance; for while a man with a frayed or out-of-date coat would find it difficult to borrow half a crown, the immaculate and fashionably attired man may accept a loan of a £10 note as if he were conferring a favor. Another useful art, which I learned from a professional borrower should have a prosperous appearance; for while a man with a frayed or out-of-date coat would find it difficult to borrow half a crown, the immaculate and fashionably attired man may accept a loan of a £10 note as if he were conferring a favor.

I found it a useful thing to distribute my patronage, and as I counted my acquaintances by the hundred, this was quite easy; so that I could make an excellent living without being very much in any man's debt. I also found it a good policy to begin by borrowing small sums and promptly paying them back, thus disarming any suspicion of my absolute honesty. It pays excellently to return a few borrowed sovereigns or fivers if you can thus pave the way to a £50 loan which escapes your memory.

My first substantial loan—and it may be taken any type of man—I worked in this way. I was sitting disconsolately in the club smoking room one day, when old "Moneybags," a man I had always been very civil to, entered. "Hallo, Fitz-Adelbert," he said, "what's the matter now?" "Oh, nothing," I said, resignedly, "only I'm badly in want of a tanner, and I'm blessed if I know where it's to come from, as I don't get my allowance for another month." "Oh, if that's all," the dear old boy answered, "we can soon put that right. No, not a word, he continued, as he placed two £5 notes in my reluctant hand.

At one time or another I have had a couple of hundred pounds out of "Moneybags," and I must say to his credit, he has never reminded me of my obligation; and when, trusting to this amiable trait, I have offered to repay part of my indebtedness, he has always ridiculed the suggestion with "Don't speak of it, there's no hurry."

But, alas! there are few like him, or borrowing would soon become the most popular and paying of all professions. If a man directly pressed for payment, I always repaid him by borrowing from someone else, and thus I was able to keep on amiable terms all round, and with one or two exceptions I never borrowed more than £50 from any one man, taking care, of course, to widen my circle of acquaintances by joining another club, or in other social ways, as occasion suggested.

Naturally, to succeed at this game a man must be a bit of an actor; and I flatter myself that in nine cases out of ten the money was paid over without the lender having any suspicion that I was fishing for a loan. It can all be done so delicately and artistically by suggestion. Of course, my social position gave me my opportunities.—Til-Bits.

Simply One Pupil.

At a sitting of an Australian-Parliament one day a certain eccentric and elderly member named Taylor insisted on making a speech on education. The oration consisted of a hyperbolic eulogy of the various schools in the hon. member's constituency. An opponent interjected some jocos expression of doubt. "Why, sir," said the irritated Taylor, turning upon him, "this very moment I have a school in my eye."

"No, simply one pupil, Mr. Taylor!" retorted the other, and the orator's eloquence was drowned in the roars of laughter that followed. —A. Little Tit.

BLOOD POISON

On account of its terrible effects, blood disease is called the king of all diseases. It may be either hereditary or contracted, so while it may not be a crime to have the disease, it is a crime to permit it to remain in the system. It may manifest itself in the form of Scrofula, Eczema, rheumatic pains, stiff or swollen joints, itchingness of the skin, eruptions or blotches, ulcers in the mouth or on the tongue, sore throat, falling out of hair, indigestion, stomach, and a general depression of the system. If you have any of these symptoms don't neglect yourself. You have no time to lose. Beware of "old" for treatment—beware of mineral poisons—beware of Quack and Patric. OUR NEW METHOD OF TREATMENT is guaranteed to cure this disease, never to return. Blank Books will protect you. Our treatment is not injurious in any way, but reaches the very root of the disease and eliminates all poison from the system. The symptoms of disease gradually disappear. The blood becomes pure and enriched, the whole system is cleansed and purified, and the patient feels prepared anew for the duties and the pleasures of life. CURES GUARANTEED OR NO PAY. 25 Years in Practice. 350,000 Cured.

TWO MIRANDAS
By Clinton Dangerfield
Copyright, 1932, by the S. S. McClure Company

When Herbert Moxon climbed out of the wagon in front of the farmhouse gate, he looked forward with all a city boy's delight to a whole month in the country.

That he had never seen his aunt or uncle before did not trouble him in the least. He had been brought up in a wholesome belief in the kindness of human nature in general and showed it so frankly that people invariably turned their best side toward this sunny faced lad of ten.

His uncle came hurrying down the box-trimmed path to meet him.

"I'm glad to see ye, real glad," he declared warmly. "I'd 'a' come myself instead of sendin' Lucas, but I've had the rheumatism considerable lately."

The boy paused a second at the doorstep to remark on the beauty of two full leaved and fruited apple trees which grew almost at the threshold, one on each side. But to his surprise his uncle scowled slightly and hurried him into the house.

Only the cheery voice of the fire welcomed him. Herbert turned questioning to his uncle.

"Aunt? Is she well?"

Jonas Alwyn showed a momentary confusion before the boy's clear glance. Then he said hastily:

"Well—oh, yes; but she ain't to home just now—won't be for several days."

Time sped swiftly. There was so much to see and to do! True, his uncle's disposition varied from extreme cheerfulness to fits of moody abstraction. He proved to be so skillful a cook that he filled his nephew with wonder.

"I'll bet aunt's pancakes don't beat yours," he remarked one morning, his mouth full of light cakes and sirup making the compliment a trifle indistinct.

Jonas started, then pushed away his coffee as though something had affected his appetite.

"They're a sight better," he said so gloomily that Herbert laughed outright.

"I didn't think you'd be sensitive on the subject, uncle. When she comes, I'll tell her what you said. Have you heard from her lately?"

"Not to say lately."

"Mother thought she was here when you wrote," went on Herbert.

His uncle rose excitedly.

"Ye don't mean it," he declared vehemently. "No; ye don't mean it, 'cause ye don't know nawthin' about it. But she ain't set foot in the house for eight year come next November."

Herbert rose, pale in his turn.

"I'm sorry," he faltered. "I never knew—mother doesn't know—that anything had—gone wrong."

"Everything's gone wrong," said his uncle miserably. Suddenly he clutched his nephew and hurried him to the door, then down in the pathway, where he faced him about before the two fruit trees.

"This one," said his uncle, waving his right hand much as if he were introducing a duchess, "is Miranda Sweet, and the other," a wave to the left and a frown, "is Miranda Sour."

Herbert smothered a desire to laugh.

"Oh! Named after my aunt?"

"Jest so! Them two are seedlin's, an' I planted 'em the spring that they come true the names I give 'em! As ter her goin'—that was a misunderstanding. She's got prop'ty of her own, about ez much ez I own, an' she's livin' on it ten miles away. I ain't—"

He choked a little—"I ain't seen her since that spring mornin' when she an' me had it out in the kitchen. I watched her bunnit go round the turn, an'—an' I ain't heard a word of her 'cept what the neighbors let drop."

"Since she's only ten miles away," said Herbert with all the straightforward confidence of youth, "I should go to her and tell her it was just a misunderstanding."

"That's jest what I can't do," returned his uncle with extreme moodiness. "Every time I start, an' I've started more'n onct, suthin pulls me back. I do b'lieve it's Miranda Sour."

"Miranda Sour?"

"When she went away, I named them two seedlin's fer her—Miranda Sweet," his voice faltered, "to 'mind me of how purty she looked the day she an' me stood up before the preacher. She was the pink cheekedest and softest eyed gal in the hull village then."

"I named that tree Miranda Sour," the old man went on doggedly, "to 'mind me how set an' contrary your aunt kin be when she's a inclination that a-way! That tree has got all of Miranda's aggravatinest ways—the very way them leaves dirt at ye is jest perfectly like the fling Miranda could give them skirts of hers when she was swishin' past ye an' wouldn't listen to reason."

"I wish a worm would gnaw you. I wish a hurricane would blow you down."

"No sich luck," said Jonas in tones which expressed a certain mournful pride in his forecasting. "No sich luck. She'll keep on a-growin', an' Miranda an' me will keep on gittin' fuder an' fuder apart."

Herbert looked round furtively, then sidled up to his uncle.

"Cut her down," he whispered, one eye on Miranda Sour to see if she overheard.

"Cut her down?" exclaimed Jonas angrily. "Cut down an apple tree ez cost me all that trouble! By gum, I'll do nawthin' of the kind! It's all yer aunt's fault that them trees is there, an' there they kin stay fer me."

Preoccupied himself, Jonas never detected the purpose throbbing in Herbert's whole being nor even observed the guilty glance that his nephew stole at him when the boy asked with assumed calm if he might go fishing instead of accompanying Jonas to mill.

"Jest as ye like," said his uncle, somewhat surprised. "Ain't no good fishin' round here, but I s'pose throwin' the line in the water'll satisfy ye."

Herbert waited until his uncle had been gone a full half hour; then he flew round to the wood pile and seized the ax, his heart throbbing to suffocation. He hurried back to the front yard, glancing right and left. There was no one in sight. He looked at Miranda Sour, the representative of "the ungodly." Yes, it was no fancy. Her leaves rustled an insolent challenge. He sprang to her side and sunk his ax deeply in her new smooth bark.

After that the blows fell fast and furiously. In less than fifteen minutes she lay quivering and sighing at the feet of Miranda Sweet.

With desperate strength he dragged the fallen one round to the back yard, sometimes in cold terror over his deed, sometimes with the same exultation that Achilles felt in driving round the walls of Troy. The funeral pyre of the day was hot and the limbs full of sap, but at a few blackened pieces not to be distinguished as parts of an apple tree. Then a tired but determined boy put old Dobbin in the ancient buggy and drove up the road at a rate that threatened an immediate smashup.

It was 6 o'clock when Jonas returned. He was dusty, tired and hungry. Then as he opened the gate he rubbed his eyes—it could only be a vision.

But certainly the vision had warm arms. They clasped him round the neck, and a face still good to look on was upturned to his own, and the old, beloved voice cried out:

"Kiss me, Jonas—right here, right now!"

"Miranda!" he gasped, and then brokenly, "Thank God, oh, thank God!"

"Yes, thank him," faltered Miranda, tears falling now. "And his instrument was that blessed boy! Oh, Jonas, he told me how you missed me an' how you kept that beautiful apple tree in front of the door to remember me by!"

Hot shame and fear flooded Jonas. He glanced at the house and felt like rubbing his eyes again, for of Miranda Sour not even a stump was left, while in sweet and placid humility, comforted with many apples and tremulous with hints of years of happiness, Miranda Sweet shaded the doorway lovingly.

TIMIDITY AND TALENT.

A Lack of Courage is the Death of a Great Deal of Ability.

A great deal of talent is lost to the world for the want of a little courage. Every day sends to their graves a number of obscure men who have only remained obscure because their timidity has prevented them from making a first effort and who, if they could have been induced to begin, would in all probability have gone great lengths in the career of fame. The fact is that to do anything in this world worth doing we must not stand shivering on the brink, and thinking of the cold and danger, but jump in and scramble through as well as we can. It will not do to be perpetually calculating risks and adjusting nice chances. It did very well before the flood, when a man could consult his friends upon an intended scheme for a hundred and fifty years and then live to see its success for six or seven centuries afterward. But at present a man waits and doubts and hesitates and consults his brother and his uncle and his first cousins and particular friends till one fine day he finds that he is sixty-five years of age; that he has lost so much time in consulting first cousins and particular friends that he has no time left to follow their advice.—Sydney Smith on "Courage in the Use of Talent."

Danger in Nightmares.

"I believe that dreams sometimes kill," said a prominent specialist on nervous diseases the other day. "Of course I don't know that they are fatal, but I have every reason to think so. I had a woman patient whom I was treating for a number of complications, including a weak heart. She could not bear any excitement and I often warned against exposing herself to sudden fright. She complained of having nightmares and said she often woke up in a state of terrible fright so weak that she could not call for help. One morning she was found dead in bed with an expression of abject terror on her face. I have no doubt that she died from fright produced by a nightmare."

"Persons subject to nightmare who have weak hearts should avoid sleeping on the back. They should lie on the right side and have the right arm extended so they will wake up if they turn over. Most nightmares are the result of sleeping on the back or the left side, where the heart is so compressed that it has little room for free action."

Don't imagine that all your neighbors need reforming.

Americans are known as a dyspeptic people. The extent of this disease may be inferred from the multitude of so-called "medicines" offered as a remedy. They are often in tablet form and have no value except as palliatives of the immediate effects of dyspepsia. The man who used them may feel better but is surely getting worse. They do not touch the real cause of the disease. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is a medicine specially prepared to cure diseases of the stomach and organs of digestion and nutrition. It is not made to give temporary relief but to effect permanent cure. In ninety-eight cases out of every hundred it cures perfectly and permanently.

It has cost Dr. Pierce $25,000 to give away in the last year the copies of his People's Common Sense Medical Adviser, which have been applied for. This book of 1008 pages is sent free on receipt of 31 one-cent stamps to pay expense of mailing and customs. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

HONORED IN DEATH.

REMAINS OF SIR OLIVER MOWAT LAID AT REST.

Statesmen, Senators, Members of Parliament, Representatives of the Bench, the Bar, the Church, the Press, and Thousands of the Citizens of Ontario and Leading Men From Sister Provinces Followed the Casket.

Toronto, April 23.—The funeral of the late Sir Oliver Mowat yesterday afternoon was a surpassing popular tribute of reverence and sympathy. The doors of Government House were opened for the funeral service at twenty minutes before two. At once a long line of visitors streamed through the gates. They were directed in single file before the casket, which still remained uncovered. The walls were banked on the south side with the many floral tributes, which lent a heavy incense to the atmosphere. The family and relatives were grouped at the head of the bier. The north side of the casket was decorated with 2 o'clock Major Maude entered, carrying the magnificent wreath of lilies of the valley which he was commissioned by Lord and Lady Minto to personally place by the remains of their distinguished departed friend. Sir Wilfrid Laurier and the members of his Cabinet who were present, Lieutenant-Governor Jette of Quebec, and Premier Ross and all the members of his Government arrived shortly before 2 o'clock, and paid a momentary visit to the drawing-room. The honorary pall-bearers and the pall-bearers also assembled. Meantime those who had arrived waited in the spacious corridor and on the grand stairway. The many paintings which decorated the walls were draped in crepe, interspersed with white. The blinds were drawn, and a subdued light fell from the electric bulbs.

At 2:10 the officiating clergymen entered, and Rev. Alfred Gandier opened the service with prayer.

Rev. Principal Caven paid a touching tribute to the memory of the deceased. The procession from the drawing-room to the bier was then formed, the honorary pall-bearers filing out in pairs as follows:—Hon. Geo. W. Ross and Hon. J. M. Gibson, Sir John Boyd and Chief Justice Moss, Sir Wilfrid Laurier and Hon. R. W. Scott, Sir William Mulock and Senator Cox. The casket followed, then came the mourners, the Cabinet, and other distinguished friends. A stream of carriages wheeled up to the door in turn, carrying away their occupants to their assigned places in the procession.

The scene on the streets at that moment, which was not yet 3 o'clock, was most impressive. Standing in the line above all else was the brilliant troop of Royal Canadian Dragoons, in their white helmets and scarlet tunics, set against a background of dark clothing and the wall of St. Andrew's Church. The streets were filled with direction for several blocks were filled with mourners and citizens on foot. Col. Grasset, the marshal, galloped thither and thither, and almost instantly the procession commenced to move.

The bands played "The Dead March," in Saul, the carriage and the people of Grasset, the marshal, galloped thither and thither, and almost instantly the procession commenced to move. The bands varied their airs to other airs, simple and unadorned even as flowers, was carried forward. The closed stores, the draped windows, the half-masted flags, were all evidences of popular sympathy. The procession took about forty minutes to pass a given point, and reached Mount Pleasant at 4:30, having occupied an hour and a half in completing the journey by way of King and Yonge streets.

At the grave the same solemnity and simplicity which marked the services at Government House was observed. Rev. Alfred Gandier read a portion of Scripture and led in prayer. The people joined in repeating the Lord's prayer, and then the benediction closed the services. The six members of the Calthness Society who acted as pall-bearers lowered the coffin into the grave.

The family burying-ground is located in plot W, and Sir Oliver is buried north of and close beside the grave in which his wife was laid ten years ago. It was a plain grave, completely lined with evergreens.

The chief mourners were:—Sons—Mr. Fred Mowat, Sheriff of Toronto, and Mr. Arthur Mowat. Sons-in-law—C. R. W. Biggar, K.C., and Thomas Mowat, K.C. Grandsons—A. M. Mowat, Master George Mowat, J. L. Biggar and F. C. Biggar. Nephews—H. M. Mowat, K.C., J. McDonald Mowat of Kingston, George L. Mowat, McGill Mowat, Joseph F. Mowat, Geo. L. B. Fraser, K.C., of Ottawa, Norman Fraser of Kingston, J. Mowat Duff of Guelph, Surgeon Lieut.-Col. Duff of Kingston. Other relatives—Mr. Justice Maclean, Andrew Drummond, J. H. Ewart, J. S. Ewart, Frank Ewart, Joseph A. Steel, Jos. Henderson, Ernest Henderson, E. R. Greig, R. J. Maclean, Neil McLean and A. F. Maclean.

The honorary pall-bearers were Sir Wilfrid Laurier, Hon. Geo. W. Ross, Hon. J. M. Gibson, Chief Justice Moss, Chancellor Boyd, Sir Wm. Mulock, Hon. R. W. Scott and Senator George A. Cox.

At the request of the family, six members of the Toronto Calthness Association took the position of bearers. They were: Messrs. D. Rose, sen., Past President; Wm. Banks, sen. President; Daniel Rose, Vice-President; Donald Inrig, Treasurer; D. A. Rose, jun., and Gilbert L. Sutherland.

The condition of Mr. Justice Lount, who has been ill for some time, is causing grave anxiety to his family. There has been no satisfactory rally since his return from Bermuda a few weeks ago.

BASEBALL

Of Miller's two innings pitching on Monday the Toronto Globe says:—"Miller, the left hander from Chatham, replaced McNeil in the eighth and gave three bases on balls in the two innings he pitched and struck out three men. His arm was sore and he did not attempt to let out. Miller showed fine form and the indications are that he will be given a regular place on the staff."

The opening of the American league took place yesterday, Detroit, as usual, started the season by winning the first game. Score, Detroit, 4; Cleveland 2. The attendance at the game was phenomenal, the official record showed 16,482 had seen the game.

Sam Crawford, the former Chatham Canadian Leaguer figured in no small way in the success. The Detroit Tribune says:—"The great finish that won the game came in the eighth. Crawford, the ex-Cincinnati star, waited and got four balls, a costly gift, as it afterwards appeared. Carr was the second out. To Eberfield who followed at the plate went out the confidence of the crowd."

"Oh, Kid, hit it past" implored the multitude, and the little shortstop made good. Just outside the range of the mighty Lajoie, the Kid sent the ball like a rocket. Flick grabbed it and threw fast to head Crawford, but the latter was safe at third before the throw arrived, dodging erratically along the ground. Bradley, however, failed to get to the ball and it passed him.

In a flash Crawford started for home, his great bulk charging to the plate with the speed of an express train. The deciding run was scored, the tumult of the thousands from bleachers and stand broke loose in a medley of "Hot time" and tumultuous cheers.
