Potato Improvement and Seed Selection.

Address Given by Superintendent Blair at the N. B. Potato Growers' Convention at Woodstock, N. B.

This subject opens up a very broad and many sided question. I do not propose to deal with the question of improvement of the potato through the development of new varieties. I fancy the object at the present time is to set forth methods whereby we may grow up to their full vigor. I think there is sufficient evidence entirely trustworthy to convince us that there is no decline in a variety due to old age.

Without doubt a variety will deteriorate under certain climatic or soil conditions, or owing to a disease which prevents normal development, but because such is the case is not evidence that the variety has "run-out," it only proves that the variety has been surrounded by conditions unsuitable for it to retain its former vigor.

The question therefore is not so much the introduction of new varieties—although the introduction of disease resistant varieties is important—as it is the keeping of present good varieties up to a certain standard of excellency, particularly as to vigor.

Some of our growers of the Garnet Chili potato say that the variety has "run-out" and that they wish they could get a variety that would yield like the old Garnet Chili. On talking to other growers I found that they considered the present Garnet Chili equal to the first introduced stock of this variety. This variety, owing to the fact that true seed could be secured from different growers—which is not the case with many of our white varieties—offered a good opportunity for some experimental work to find out whether there was a difference in the stock grown by different men. We were also interested in the work because the Garnet Chili shipped from Nova Scotia to Bermuda had in some cases given very inferior yields and we wished if possible to find out the cause.

This variety was secured from eight different growers and planted in rows alongside each other under similar conditions. The results at harvest time were as indicated in the table below

Garnet Chili Potatoes from Different Growers.

Number of Grower	Marketable Bushels	Unmarketable bushels	Total bushels
1	220	20	240
2	94	26	120
3	212	14	226
4	186	20	206
5	26	10	36
6	32	14	46
7	176	34	210
8	52	22	74

You will see that the lowest yield was 36 bushels per acre and the row adjoining yielded 206 bushels. It seems reasonable for the man who was growing Chili potatoes from seed lot No. 5 to think this variety had "run out," and also for the man who was planting lot No. 1 to consider the variety was as vigorous as ever. Seed from these plots will be again planted to see whether they can be brought up to a uniform yield.

Now the question is what has brought about this change in various seed lots. There is no doubt but that seed selection has played an important part, but it can truthfully be said no hill selection had been practiced, and if it is the case that hill selection only is of value we will have to consider that selection has not been a factor in bringing about results here shown. In the case of grower No. 3 I know he has been careful to plant only uniformly good, medium size, tubers of this variety, and he has always taken his seed stock from the best dug areas.

At planting time when placed together there was a noticeable difference in the different lots but they would all be considered good seed stock. The difference here shown would not, I think, have been so marked had the soil in which they were grown been free from the disease called Rhizoctonia, commonly known as "Rosette" or "Little Potato." The soil at the Kentville Station even on the newly broken areas apparently has this disease in it. Our soil is decidedly acid, a condition suitable for holding potato scab in check, but one decidedly favorable for Rhizoctonia. Sandy soil are apparently most suitable for the development of this disease and there is no doubt but that the disease is more prevalent in some soils than others.

The growth started slow on plots 5 and 8 and in many cases the sprouts were not able to get above the ground before being killed by this fungus. An examination of the tubers revealed the fungus destroying the sprouts soon after they started, and below this diseased area new sprouts would start which would meet a similar fate. In many cases the sprouts would succeed in reaching the surface before being attacked as indicated by discolored areas along the stem below the surface of the ground which would ultimately kill the stalk or materially reduce the power of the plant to function properly. I have here several specimens of this disease in the various stages as produced in our greenhouse which you can examine. These specimens I think clearly indicate the condition that existed on the poor plots. The strong growing plots such as No. 1 and 3 were very free from injury and this seemed to be due to the power of the growing sprout to resist the disease because of having the vitality to force the growth so rapidly that the fungus could not break down the tissue. The buds were strong, grew rapidly, and where the stems were injured they seemed to outgrow the injury somewhat unless it happened that the stalks were entirely girdled. Had these potatoes been plant-

GinPills FOR THE KIDNEYS Why Demanded

"Gin Pills did for my husband and me what no other remedy could. I have advised two other parties to use them, one of them being my mother who has been a great sufferer for upwards of 20 years, and one box cured her, so as to enable her to sleep on her left side, something she could not do for many a year. The doctors told her they could not cure her, but could relieve her by an operation for a floating kidney, but on account of her age they did not think it advisable for her to go. Upon my advice she tried Gin Pills which cured her and for which she is ever ready to speak in terms of praise."

ed on a soil entirely free from this disease and had the seed been treated to kill any of the disease carrying bodies on the tubers I am sure that the results would have been much more uniform, but under the conditions that existed, and conditions that are liable to obtain on 50 per cent of our farms, the only hope for success apparently is seed stock of high vitality.

Now you ask what has brought about this low vitality to start with? Suppose for instance that the plot yielding 240 bushels per acre had been grown for years on soil practically free from this disease is it not reasonable to suppose its vitality would be stronger than that year had been subjected to even a moderate attack of this disease. This disease certainly hinders normal development hence a weakened plant must result. If therefore such a disease gradually weakens a plant it is reasonable to suppose that a drought, intense heat or excessive moisture will bring about similar results. It seems to me we are bound to have a fluctuating variation in the vitality of tubers owing to environmental conditions, and any condition which is likely to give most normal development from the time the set is planted to the maturity of the crop will give the strongest vitality. On the other hand my observation leads me to believe that a check during the early life of the plant—about the time of tuber formation—has a greater effect on the vitality of the tuber than a check during its later development.

It might be of interest for me to mention my experience at Macdonald College where we grew about 20 acres of potatoes for use at the College. I found it impossible to secure a profitable crop without importing New Brunswick seed each year. The summers were hot, and very dry, which condition it seems brings about a tuber development lacking in vitality. The tubers planted alongside imported seed it would not produce a crop by one-third as good, and the second year was about worthless. Thus a potato tuber may be so weakened in vitality in one season as to be worthless for profitable crop production under certain soil conditions. The Macdonald College soil is a favorable one for Rhizoctonia, and in the fall at digging time the tubers were covered with the black spots indicating the presence of this disease.

Here again there were conditions that were successfully combated only by using seed from sections where tubers of high vitality were produced! The soil was so impregnated with the disease that treating the tubers was of no value. The low vitality in the tubers grown from imported seed was without doubt largely due to the heat and absence of moisture rather than Rhizoctonia, although this was a factor as well, but the crop from these tubers the following year was a failure primarily because the sprouts of the tubers were not sufficiently vigorous to resist the rhizoctonia fungus.

No amount of selection work—and we did such work for four years—ever gave us results that compared at all favorably with imported stock, and this leads me to believe that in very many cases potato growers must depend upon stock from sections where climatic and soil conditions are entirely favorable for the crop.

Potato Improvement.

I mention this disease for the purpose of pointing out what factors may combine to reduce yield and to indicate the importance of high vitality in resisting certain unfavorable conditions. I do not do so for the purpose of placing this disease before you as the only one which may cause a distance loss in the lessening of vitality. This disease may not be a factor at all with many of you, but it certainly is a disease that is not receiving the attention it should at the hands of our plant disease investigators.

Disease is not the only factor that may bring about lessened vitality. In fact, as already pointed out the lack of vitality may be due to heat, drought, or excessive moisture, and these are influenced by climatic conditions, kind of soil and method of soil management.

Unfavorable conditions during growth must necessarily weaken the vitality of the potato and the wise grower is the man who selects from his best fields where normal growth has been made, or if his neighbor has produced better crops makes his selection from his field.

To illustrate we will assume that the number 1 this table represents individual farms where would you go for seed stock? You certainly would go either farm No. 1, 3, 4, or 7. Here then is where I think potato improvement should start. What is the good sense in farmers No. 5, 6, 8 and 2 doing hill selection work when they could go to farmers No. 1, 3, 4 or 7 and get probably better seed stock than they could get by selection from their field in probably five years and in the meantime be growing poorer crops while working up their production. My experience at Macdonald College shows quite conclusively that selection work under such conditions is an absolute waste of time, and that tubers from any unselected lot of potatoes from sections where this crop has better climatic conditions for their development proved superior by over one-half to the best selected stock we could produce.

Potatoes grown in New Brunswick are as a general rule of strong vitality, but even here it is quite possible you will find a vast difference in the vigor of the same variety in different farms. Would it not be possible for farmers to organize in certain sections for the purpose of growing under the same conditions seed from the different farms in the section? If this is done and the seed of strongest vitality determined it would serve as a basis for future effective selection work and put the grower on the inside track of causes leading to low vitality in his seed stock. My experience leads me to believe that there is as much difference between the same variety from different farms if grown under similar conditions as there is between varieties grown under similar conditions. We should therefore before starting selection work round up the groups of strongest vitality and use these for selection work.

I am in favor of the hill selection with good stock to start with but it seems to me it will be better for all concerned to place hill selection work in the hands of certain ones rather than for each to attempt to do the work for himself. I am convinced that there is more difference in the product from different fields than there will be from selected and unselected hills in the same field. I can see no good reason why the individuals of a community should not co-operate to the extent of using for seed stock the best potatoes in that community and after the best stock of the community is determined stock from different communities could be compared. If I know that my seed stock is 10 per cent lower in vitality than my neighbors I certainly am likely to get my seed stock from my neighbor. Furthermore if we hope to build up a seed potato trade, which I have always maintained this Province is eminently suited for, we must adopt some such system rather than that every one in the community should grow indiscriminately whatever may in his opinion suit him best without considering the community interest as a whole.

By selection from the strongest and best yielding hills at digging time we are reasonably sure of improving the stock.

This enables us to reject plants which for one reason or another has not done as well as others. This involves some extra work which must be done by hand, and while it is not necessary that large amounts be selected, as this is to serve only as foundation stock from which to grow the general stock for planting, it is necessary that great care be taken to select hills of uniform tubers true to type of strong vitality, and productive.

SPRING BLOOD IS WATERY BLOOD

How to Get New Health and New Strength at This Season

Spring ailments are not imaginary. Even the most robust find the winter months most trying to their health. Confinement indoors, often in overheated and nearly always badly ventilated rooms—in the home, the office, the shop and the school—taxes the vitality of even the strongest. The blood becomes thin and watery and is clogged with impurities. Some people have headaches and a feeling of languor. Others are low-spirited and nervous. Still others are troubled with disfiguring pimples and skin eruptions; while some get up in the morning feeling just as tired as when they went to bed. These are all spring symptoms that the blood is out of order and that a medicine is needed. Many people take purgative medicines in the spring. This is a serious mistake. You cannot cure yourself with a medicine that gallops through your system and leaves you weaker still. This is all that a purgative does. What you need to give you health and strength in the spring is a tonic medicine that will enrich the blood and soothe the jangled nerves. And the one always reliable tonic and blood purifier is Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. These Pills not only banish spring weakness but guard you against the more serious ailments that follow, such as anaemia, nervous debility, indigestion, rheumatism and other diseases due to bad blood. In proof of this Mrs. D. E. Hughes, Hazenmore, Sask., says:

"About a year ago I was badly run down, my nerves were all unstrung, and I could not go up stairs without stopping to rest. As I was a long ways from a doctor I determined to take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and in the course of a few weeks I felt like a new person. As an all round restorative I can heartily recommend this medicine."

If you are ailing this spring you cannot afford, in your own interest, to overlook so valuable a medicine as Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Sold by all medicine dealers or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

A Big Porto Rico Shareholder

A great deal of the stock and bonds of the Porto Rico Railways company is held in Nova Scotia, and the fact that the earnings are showing signs of improvement is particularly pleasing to investors in this province. It is said that the largest holder of the common shares, with perhaps one exception in Toronto, is a capitalist in the town of Wolfville, a gentleman who has become a millionaire by his operation in the export of produce from this Province. He has never found it necessary to have his headquarters in a large city, but has amassed his wealth in this small town in the centre of Nova Scotia's fruit region. He is a director in one of the largest industrial enterprises of Nova Scotia, and is also prominent in the work of the Presbyterian church, work in which he manifests a deep interest.—Financial Post.

CO-OPERATION IN VALLEY BOARDS OF TRADE

On Tuesday evening last the members of the Kentville Board of Trade were at home to a representative number of delegates from the following Boards of Trade, Wolfville, Canning, Middleton, Bridgetown, Annapolis, Berwick, Digby. Invitations were also sent to Windsor, Hantsport and Yarmouth but no one represented those Boards.

At seven o'clock dinner was served by the ladies of the W. C. T. U. in Oddfellows Hall to the twenty visiting representatives and over fifty members of the Kentville Board. It was an excellent repast and served in a dainty manner. President W. S. Blair of Kentville Board was chairman and after the toast "The King," addresses or papers were delivered as follows:

Address of Welcome—Mayor Pelton, extending to the delegates a most hearty welcome and the "freedom of the Town. Immigration—Mr. A. S. Barnstead, Halifax.

Transportation and Tourist Business—George E. Graham, Manager of the D. A. Ry., Kentville.

Agriculture—Superintendent Blair, of the Experimental Farm.

All the addresses were of unusual interest and of special business importance. They will be presented more fully in a subsequent issue. Resolutions bearing on the subjects, were carried.

An informal discussion took place in which many participated expressing the value of and necessity for co-operation of the Boards of Trade between Windsor and Yarmouth in order to effectually deal with matters of importance to this whole section. The meeting passed a resolution unanimously approving of a project of union or co-operation and the delegates were to report to their respective boards and report to President Blair. Later it is proposed to hold a meeting of delegates of the different Boards and arrange for a central organization.

Excellent music was furnished by some members of the Band and male quartette.

This is a move which will find the approval of all in uniting our whole Valley regions in a common aim to increase production of the land and factories and promote suitable immigration and the tourist business.

RECENT WAR CABLES

The most recent news by telegraph give every encouragement to the Allies. The great drive against Verdun still goes on but the Germans are loosing rather than gaining ground. The British have won a victory on the Tigris which will likely relieve General Townshend in a few days.

The Russians are still rolling on against the Austrians in Besarabia and against the Turks in Asia Minor.

Sea Fight in Cattagat, at Least 1 Enemy Ship Crippled

Copenhagen, April 4, via London, April 5—A naval engagement of some kind took place Monday in the Cattagat, according to despatches received here from Kullen, Sweden.

About noon, the despatches say, a terrific cannonade was heard from the sea, and two hours later a German torpedo boat, badly damaged, was towed past Helsingborg

MILITARY NOTES

Dr. Churchill of Lockeport is acting medical officer for the 219th Battalion.

The 219th Detachment, N. S. H. here are training on the Exhibition Grounds, and are making splendid progress in their drill.

Private Walter Brown has been appointed from the Kentville Detachment of the 219th to attend the Physical Training and Bayonet Instruction Class beginning April 10th. Private Brown leaves for Halifax Saturday.

Theakston is acting editor-in-chief, and Pte. W. N. Mills is provisional business manager. The acting associate editors are Pte. George McDonald and Pte. Boyd, formerly of the Ottawa Free Press.—Sydney Record.

85th Battalion, N. S. H., to Proceed Overseas at an Early Date

Halifax, April 5—Recent despatches from Ottawa state that the 85th Battalion, Nova Scotia Highlanders, is to proceed overseas at an early date. While this will be a disappointment to many recruits in the three new Highland battalions recently recruited in this Province who entertained the hope that they would be brigaded with the popular "85th," the members of this battalion are elated over the prospects of being so early moved nearer the scene of action, and hope soon to take their place in the great battle line of England and her Allies. The famous Band of the 85th will put on a play on Monday evening, April 17th and Tuesday afternoon of the 18th in the Academy of Music, Halifax. It will be an interesting farewell for our gallant Highlanders.

To keep little ones well the howles must be kept regular and the stomach sweet. Nineteenths of childhood ailments are caused by derangements of these organs. Baby's Own Tablets never fail to regulate the stomach and bowles—that is why thousands of mothers would give no other medicine to their little ones. Concerning them Mrs. Chas. A. Turner, Marie Joseph, N. S., writes: "We have been using Baby's Own Tablets off and on for the past year and a half and have found nothing to equal them." The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

You CAN

cure that old sore or ulcer from which you have been suffering for so long, if you will only use an ointment that is capable of reaching the seat of the trouble. Zam-Buk can do this because of its unusual penetrating power. Also, Zam-Buk is a strong germicide—germs cannot live where Zam-Buk is applied, so that the germs are destroyed not only on the surface, but in all the diseased, underlying tissue. Then healing commences; new tissue replacing the old and diseased, until the sore is thoroughly and permanently cured.

The case of Miss Frances Daudin, of Somerset, Man., verifies the above statement. She writes: "I suffered for over twenty years with an ulcer on my leg, and all the remedies tried during that time proved ineffective. Several doctors treated me, but I got no benefit. Finally I tried Zam-Buk, and I am thankful to say that after perseverance with this ointment I am now completely cured."

Zam-Buk is also splendid for eczema, abscesses, boils, pimples, ringworm, piles, blood-poisoning, cuts, burns, and all skin injuries and diseases. Best balm for baby's sores. All drugists, 50c. box, 3 for $1.25. or from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto.

Russians armies are making steady gains from the Germans to the Dvinsk region. In four days fighting the Russians took over 1,400 prisoners and captured 18 machine guns, 26 field mortars, 10 trench mortars, two mine-throwers, a howitzer, and carloads of grenades, bombs and shells.

Canning to Have a New Store

Mr. L. M. Ward, of Canning, has made plans and arrangements for the opening up of a new store in Canning. Mr. Ward is a man well known all through Cornwallis having been a salesman for about twenty-four years, and sixteen of those years has been spent in the dry goods business. This certainly has given him a full measure of experience in all branches of the dry goods business and a knowledge of what the people of the vicinity require. He has been very prominent in all work for the betterment and advancement of Canning, especially as a member of the Band, an official of the Baptist Church and other societies and organizations, and is well known for his efficiency and integrity.

Mr. Ward has engaged the store in the Covert Block and will open in about two weeks, the date to be announced in our paper. He will carry a full stock of Dry Goods as well as a well selected stock of Gents Furnishings, Boots and Shoes. The public will understand that Mr. Ward is taking the right step in opening business for himself and will give him a liberal patronage. I o & a

Last Class of Unmarried Men Called.

London, March 29—The last class of unmarried men, those who have reached the age of nineteen since their attestation, appeared in large numbers at recruiting offices today to join the colors.

There is now only one proclamation out in connection with enlistments. It calls on the first eight groups of the married men to present themselves on April 7. This is the proclamation which has caused so much dissatisfaction throughout the country, it being felt that all single men who are evading in various ways, should be called up before the married men are compelled to serve.

REDS, THE MOST POPULAR BREED.

Nearly every show report which comes to our attention contains a sentence something like this: "Rhode Island Reds were the largest class in the show." Isn't it remarkable how the Reds are forging ahead, all on their own merits, and now they are overtaking, yes, surpassing, even such old and popular breeds as the Barred Rocks? At Madison Square Garden Show, the largest show in America, the Single Comb Reds were the largest class in the show, and we believe that we are safe in saying that the Reds this season won more championship prizes than any other breed.—Ex.

ELDERLY WOMEN SAFEGUARDED

Tell Others How They Were Carried Safely Through Change of Life.

Durand, Wis.—"I am the mother of fourteen children and I owe my life to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. When I was 45 and had the Change of Life, a friend recommended it and it gave me such relief from my bad feelings that I took several bottles. I am now well and healthy and recommend your Compound to other ladies."
—Mrs. MARY RIDGWAY, Durand, Wis.

A Massachusetts Woman Writes: Blackstone, Mass.—"My troubles were from my age, and I felt awfully sick for three years. I had hot flashes often and frequently suffered from pains. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and now am well."
—Mrs. PIERRE COURNOYER, Box 239, Blackstone, Mass.

Such warning symptoms as sense of suffocation, hot flashes, headaches, back-aches, dizziness, palpitation of the heart, spots before the eyes, irregularities, constipation, variable appetite, weakness and dizziness, should be heeded by middle-aged women. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has carried many women safely through this crisis.

Friends of Dr. Beland, M.
