

THE ACADIAN.

WOLFVILLE, P. S., OCT. 18, 1895.

A Fruit Growers' Exhibition.

We understand it is the intention of the N. S. Fruit Growers' Association to hold an exhibition of fruit in connection with their annual meeting in this town in January, 1896. A suitable prize-list will be offered and a good show of fruit will no doubt be made. This is somewhat in line with the suggestion made by the Acadian last winter, with the difference that it was then suggested that the exhibition be held earlier in the season, when a much better display would be possible. Years ago the Fruit Growers' Association exhibitions were held annually and were highly interesting and profitable. We would expect that this association, which is year by year becoming more popular and influential, should again take the matter in hand. Of late years the exhibitions held have partaken too much of the character of money-making enterprises, in which the chief aim has apparently been to advance the business interests of a few individuals and give a limited number of favoured ones an opportunity of gathering in a generous amount of cash. While this state of affairs obtains the general public cannot be expected to evince a great amount of interest in the success of the undertaking. When the next exhibition is held let it be "a fair field and no favor," and its object solely to advance the common interest of our horticulturist and gardeners. Sufficient prizes only should be given to pay for the actual expenses the exhibitor is put to, and no one should be induced to take part with the hope of making money. We believe a more intelligent discussion of the matter on the part of those interested would be profitable, and freely offer the use of our columns for the purpose. Don't the backward gentlemen.

The Credit System.

There is food for thought in the following taken from an exchange:-

Why do mechanics encourage the credit system? You answer that you don't. Yes, but you do. If the system were not encouraged by the merchants it would not be in existence today. Did you ever stop to think that the mercantile community of the country are the only body of men that tolerate the credit system? Let's see you buy postage stamps, note, money orders, etc., on credit; but, and see what you will be told. Go to the theatre and you pay money. Express companies demand cash, and railroad tickets are cash on delivery to the purchaser. Why should not the merchants demand and receive cash? Simply because he encourages the credit system. It may be impossible to completely eradicate the system, but strict limitations on credit is a step on the right road and its evolution will gradually lead to a cash system of doing business. It is with a trial and should be begun at once. It would quickly spread like measles in a country school, and when it does it will solve the great problem for all times. When stirred down it would be found that the credit system is the root of all evil and responsible for more evil that effect the financial and business world than all other agencies combined. Not only this, but it fosters extravagance and the purchase of goods which can be easily sold elsewhere.

The St. John board of trade has been discussing the cold storage question. We presume that St. John would be a suitable place for this business, and eventually might carry on an enormous traffic in goods requiring special treatment but the men who should be interested are apathetic or hostile. When Auntie and the Cape Breton delegates debate fruits in perfect condition, there is no reason in the world why Nova Scotia cannot do likewise. It is demonstrated beyond peradventure that we can raise as fine plums as can be raised anywhere. Our graveyards cannot be excelled, our pears are now becoming favorites, and our fish trials in peaches have proved eminently successful; all these can be shipped at a profit with the aid of cold storage, but not otherwise. Then poultry and mutton, etc., could be sent across at a good profit, if proper facilities are provided. Why not provide for a trade which promises so much? It will be provided sometime in the near future, valuable time is being lost and the country suffers accordingly. Atlantic Weekly.

Major Armstrong, of the militia department, came from St. John last Monday and gave authority for the expending of about $500 in retaining and preserving some portions of old Fort Anne, or what is commonly called the Annapolis Garrison Grounds. This expenditure is largely under the control of the town, the town engineer, Mr. Hebble, having been recommended by Mr. Milne, M. P., as a proper party with whom the department could consult as to what should be done. A party of laborers are now at work on the east port and black hole. Spectator.

The anniversary of the death of Chas. Stewart Parrish, the Irish leader, was observed in Dublin on the 5th inst. in the customary manner. A large number of citizens dressed and marched in procession to Glasnevin cemetery, where Mr. Parrish is buried, and stood wreaths upon his grave. The procession was two miles long.

Avonport.

One of our most energetic girls has decided to change her name and residence this week. We feel sorry to lose her, but know what is our loss is another's gain.

On the evening of the 10th inst. the B. V. P. U. held a reception in the vestry of the church, which had been tastefully decorated for the occasion and assumed a really cheerful and homelike appearance. A business meeting was held at 7.30 and officers for the ensuing six months were elected. Shortly after 8 o'clock the president and vice-president received the guests, who were then left in charge of the social committee. Quiet games and refreshments followed in order. When the hour for departing came all seemed sorry that the evening was so short. They unanimously declared it the pleasantest and most successful reception ever held by the Union.

We had the pleasure of entertaining a convention of the W. M. A. S. recently. The evening meeting drew a large number of outsiders who were well pleased with the programme, which consisted of two excellent papers written and read by Miss Ida Leckhart, L. A. C., and Mrs. DeWitt, Windsor, and addresses by Rev. H. D. MacQuarrie and their president, Mrs. Na'dar, a solo by Mrs. Florence Stand, Windsor, and music by the choir.

The schooner Dee Egan has been at the wharf loading potatoes for Havana. Capt. Bairdhouse and his wife have many friends in Avonport who were delighted to see them.

The schooner Elvira's left the wharf last week for Liverpool, after being loaded with wheat from Mr. Robert Shaw's wharf.

Miss Maguire, of St. Martin's, N. B., who has been visiting her aunt, Mrs. A. A. Reid, left for her home on Monday, 17th inst.

Miss Annie Walton and Bessie Ward, of Kentville, are guests of Mrs. A. Porphy.

Mr. Henry Davis, St. Martin's, N. B., is present a student at Acadia College, spent Sunday with friends in this place.

Y. M. C. A. Reception at Acadia.

On Friday night, Oct. 11th, the Y. M. C. A. of Acadia University gave a reception to students, new and old, in College Hall.

After we had sung a number of College songs with all our might, Mr. C. W. Jackson, the president, took the chair and spoke some earnest words of welcome. We appreciated them because we know they came right from the heart. The address of welcome, by Dr. Kirkwood, was vigorous, free and full of inspiration; just as kind and cordial as welcome to the pleasures and duties here in Acadia as any one could wish for.

New the chairman of the several committees each gave a short address, stating their duties and the support that each expected from the common body of students.

At the close of these remarks our pastor, Mr. Trotter, gave us a talk, as brief and full as possible, and yet thrilling with friendship in every well chosen sentence.

We have just begun a grand year's work at Acadia, and are looking to our loving Father for His blessing. Hope all ambitious workers and prayers will ask God especially to bless us in our Wednesday night and Sunday morning prayer meetings. We "Ninetyminers" have special privileges for development either spiritual, mental, or weak, jolly fish things that even shouting will not kill. Please ask our Leader to keep us continually awake in the fact that the atmosphere of the night, to whom we owe a debt which nothing but a life can pay. -Melrose and Vidor.

There is to be a grand international exhibition at the double city, Buda Pest, next year to celebrate the one thousandth anniversary of the Hungarian State. It is a fact established by history that Prince Arpad who arrived with his ancient hordes at the banks, at the end of the ninth century succeeded in uniting the petty principalities of the country in one powerful state. For ten centuries through all its vicissitudes the state has retained the same foundations which its founder marked its boundaries and has retained the imprint of the race of Arpad.

According to the exchange, an Aroostook farmer is said to have started for the mill the other day with 20 barrels of potatoes. When told that they could not be taken he dumped the whole lot hereabout into the ditch and went home, remarking that he needed the horses for something else. This year is at present going the rounds of the daily press but readers are not obliged to believe any more of it than they care to.

The Edinburgh Review says editorially: "Many a day, and a few years have of late been more than busy with demons of fire in their denunciations of what they call 'godless schools.'" The same no doubt's statements will be made next year as they go round, but doctrinal teaching will never find a place in our schools as long as they are called 'godless schools'."

A Famous Shoe.

A striking instance of the tendency of the times toward speciality is afforded by the success which has attended the introduction of "The Slater Shoe for Men." Every pair has the maker's name and price branded on the sole so as to insure their being sold at the figures intended by the manufacturers. It is generally understood that when a dealer buys shoes they are his shoes, to sell such prices as he pleases, but it is not so with the Slater Shoe, the makers of which usually sell to only one firm in each town or city, and create the demand for their shoe by liberal advertising, so that the dealer has but to supply the goods when asked for them. It is only a few months since these shoes were put upon the market at $3.00, $4.00 and $5.00 per pair, yet their merits are already known from the Atlantic to the Pacific, and quite recently a large and very handsome retail store was opened on King Street, Toronto, by Miss Gilmere Erskine, especially for the sale of these shoes. There were some unique features in the opening too—an orchestra, programs on silk, and a practical illustration of Slater Shoe construction. The Toronto papers took an unusual interest in forwarding the enterprise and were exceptionally profuse in editorial comment as, of course, they should be, so that the dealer has not only demonstrated beyond a doubt that Canada can now make as good footwear as any other country in the world.

A SKEPTIC CONVINCED.

He Had no Faith in any Advertised Medicine. Attacked With a Bad Cold, His Trouble Was Threatened With Locomotor Ataxia—Then Dr. Williams' Pink Pills Cured After Other Medicines Had Failed.

Found Mr. Trask in His Office. 'Yes,' he said, 'there can be no possible doubt of the efficacy of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills in my case, and I will be pleased if the publication of the facts help some other sufferer back to health. I caught cold, was careless and caught more cold. The first thing I knew I was seriously ill. I could not walk. All strength seemed to have left my legs and the weakness increased. From being obliged to remain in the house I became obliged to remain in bed, but still supposed it was a very bad cold. I came so helpless I could not move in bed without help. I had good attendance and the best of care and nursing, but as week succeeded week I seemed to grow worse instead of better, till I was worn to a mere shadow and began to give very little hope of recovery. A hint that I was threatened with something called locomotor ataxia reminded a friend that my case seemed similar to some of those described in the Times, which had been cured by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and this first drew attention to them as a possible aid to me. I admit that I was sceptical—very sceptical—there are so many medicines being advertised just now, and I was never a believer in them. With Dr. Williams' Pink Pills were purchased and I took them, as I suppose I would have taken anything else simply as the routine of a sick room. The first box seemed to show little effect, and by the time I had got through with the third box there could be no doubt my condition showed a marked improvement, and I was correspondingly encouraged. The pills were continued and I became rapidly better, so that I was able to sit up and go about the house and occasionally go out if the weather was fine. Day by day I grew stronger, and to make a long story short, I feel I am to-day in as good health as ever I was in my life, and I can hardly realize I am the same man who suffered for six months, a helpless, dependent being, who never expected to be on his feet again. While I have no desire for publicity, I am quite willing these facts should be made known for the benefit of others, and am ready at any time to bear hearty testimony to the genuine worth of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. They restored me to health when I never expected to be about again.'

A Canadian Product Finds Favor in the Land of Confucius.

Vancouver, (Special) Oct. 14—A passenger by the last vessel from China stated the other day that among other Canadian products which are fast coming into favor in the Chinese treaty ports, is the Canadian specific remedy for kidney diseases of all kinds known as Dodd's Kidney Pills. The medicine was first introduced by Canadians and the increase in its use both by Europeans and natives is attributed first to the accounts of its success in the Canadian and American newspapers many of which are received in Shanghai and other ports, and later to its established efficacy in curing all kinds of kidney diseases which are very prevalent in the country.

Maritime W. C. T. U. Convention. The following is a condensed account of the recent convention at Yarmouth as presented in the report of the delegates which was read at the last regular meeting of the W. C. T. U. in this town.

The thirteenth convention of the Maritime W. C. T. U. convened at Yarmouth on Sept. 19th. The first meeting was held on Friday evening in Boston Marine Hall, which was crowded to its utmost capacity. It was a meeting of welcome to the delegates, and has already been reported in a previous issue of the ACADIAN. The business sessions opened on Friday morning at half-past nine. Mrs. Rose, Vice-Pres. for N. S., presided in the absence of the President, Mrs. Archibald who is now in England. There were present five officers, seven superintendents and forty-seven delegates.

After devotional exercises, a greeting by cablegram was read from Mrs. Archibald, and another by letter from Mrs. Turnbull—Vice-Pres. for N. B., who is now in California. The treasurer's report was read showing the receipts of the year as $850.00, and leaving a balance on hand of $263.18. The session closed with a bible reading by Miss Hooper of Fredericton. In the afternoon the report of the corresponding secretary was presented, which occupied an hour in the reading, and gave much information, in detail, as to the work being done by the local unions in the Maritime Provinces. In accordance with a motion given last year, the following resolution was moved by Mrs. Whitton, of Halifax, and seconded by Mrs. Atkinson, of Moncton; 'Believing that the best interests of our constantly increasing work would be better served by the dissolution of the Maritime W. C. T. U. and the establishment of provincial unions in N. S., N. B., and P. E. I., Resolved: That we do at this time take immediate action to bring about a separation, and that full time be allowed for discussion on this important question. After an earnest discussion of some length, on division the resolution was lost 27 to 23. At the close of the session the delegates were taken by the people in the town on a most delightful drive through Yarmouth and its suburbs. The public meeting of Friday evening has already been noticed in a previous number of this paper.

Saturday morning was devoted to the hearing of reports from superintendents of departments, after which a notice was given of motion to reconsider the question of the dissolution of the Maritime Convention.

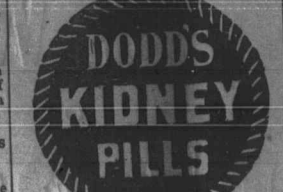

At the following session this resolution called forth a most spirited discussion, but it was voted down. Election of officers for the ensuing year was now in order, but after several ballots for president, no one was found willing to accept such arduous duties as this position involved, and a motion was made that in view of the peculiar situation the question of dissolution be again discussed. This motion was carried. It was then voted that the Maritime union be dissolved, and organizations of provincial unions be established, for a test period of three years. The meeting was then addressed by Miss Hooper, a missionary who had spent twelve years in India. She spoke of 'Child Widows of India,' and eloquently portrayed scenes that had come under her own eyes, and moved the hearts of her hearers in behalf of their sisters in India. Miss Hooper is interested in raising an endowment fund for establishing in India a home for Hindoo widows. She said, 'I am sure the Lord will give me the $10,000 I have asked for. It is a work an angel might covet to rescue one Hindoo widow—of whom there are 25,000 in India.' A contribution of $10.00 was taken on behalf of Miss Hooper's work.

On Saturday evening a public meeting was held under the auspices of the Young Woman's Christian Temperance Union of Yarmouth. A large Y of lawn, among other floral decorations and lanterns. At this meeting Mrs. MacDonald of Halifax, read a paper for girls, urging upon them more earnest thinking, broader views of life, and greater care in the use of language. This was followed by a parliamentary drill. At the close of the meeting each delegate was presented with a souvenir from the Y. This was a photograph of different parts of interest in the landscape of Yarmouth and its vicinity. (Continued next week.)
