Home Made Bread,

THE BREAD MY DADDY LIKES.

Daddy is evidently not one of those back number lords of creation who believes that woman's place is in the home—and only there. His taste in a wife is an up-to-date woman who will prove herself a real companion. He knows that if she is a slave to her kitchen she can't enjoy the poise or have the interest in world affairs that a little extra leisure would make possible; and so he is pleased to eat MRS. STEWART'S HOME MADE BREAD—the loaf with the home made

The smiling, well-nourished kiddie doesn't look as ough suffering because mother is progressive enough to buy good bread made by a bread specialist, instead of wearing out her life in the kitchen.

CHAPTER XXVII. BARRIERS BETWEEN.

The prompt way in which she answers proves that she was thinking of that young gentleman. "No." she says. "He is to be at the castle. I wrote and asked him to meet me there. What is this?

"That is the old moat," he replied "I had it drained and turfed. This is the drawbridge we are going over,' he added, as the horses' hoofs clattered over a wooden pavement, "and see, the heads of the besiegers. The old castle has stood many a siege."

As he spoke, they entered the courtyard, which seemed to Jeanne to be filled with servants, mostly Germans, but all wearing a foreign version of the Ferndale livery. At the moment of the carriage pulling up at the entrance to what used to be the state apartment a bugle sounded melodiously, and a flag, emblazoned with the Ferndale coat-of-arms, ran up the flagstaff and floated to the breeze. The next moment the carriage steps were let down. and Jeanne sprang out into the arms of a tall young gentleman who was Severe Blizzard.

RAILWAY AGAIN BLOCKED.

The blizzard which prevailed during the greater part of yesterday was one of the worst storms experienced here during the winter. On the higher levels the drifts attained in some places, a height of nearly twenty feet and people coming from work had to spend hours shovelling themselves in. Very fcw people were to be found on the streets last night and all places of entertainment were practically deserted. The railway line is again snowed up and last night not a single train was running.

HOME RULE, APRIL 5. LONDON, Feb. 21.

The Privy Council has decided that the Home Rule Act for Ireland shall go into effect on April 5th. The first step under the Act is to be the issuance of writs for elections to the new Parliaments, which probably take place three weeks afterwards. The Belfast Parliament will assemble in June. Present prospects seem be that few candidates will come forward for the Southern Parliament, and it seems doubtful whether this

Turning now to the other state of the work, we are pleased to be able to congratulate the Society upon a record in the matter of new on a record in the matter of new or a record in the matter o

Assembling in accordance with the time honoured custom on the morning of St. Patrick's Day, the members proceeded from the Hall to St. Patrick's Church, accompanied by the bands of the Church Lads Brigade and the Catholic Cadet Corps, and attended High Mass. The panegyric on the Saint of the day was preached by the Rev. Father Connor, one of the visiting Mission Priests, and, as was anticipated, was a most eloquent and fervid discourse. After Mass the members called at the Deanery, where in the unavoidable absence through illness of our respected Patron, His Grace and the clergy, and as year of our respected Patron, His Grace and the clergy, and as year happy and much appreciated address in reply was made by the learned Monsignor whose congratulatory remarks were supported by the Rector of St. Patrick's Rev. Fr. Renouf, whose elevation, since to the Bishopric of St. George's, has been a matter of pleasure to all. From the training by the response of the schools overhead the various department has proved an extraordinary success. It was created originally of the purpose of making the rooms more through illness of not present and at the more realize the obligation but rather seem to have the effect of making upon us of "carry on." In this connection it is especially gratifying to observe that the great majority of our new members are ex-pupils of our new members are Renouf, whose elevation, since to the Bishopric of St. George's, has been a matter of pleasure to all. From the Deanery the Society proceeded to Government House, where, in response to the respects tendered by the support of that in proportion is now at a figure that it will be observed that our substitution of our friends was much appreciated. The usual billiard dinner was also held and was in line with the successful efforts in that direction for some years. The box coat is loose, unbelted, and has fringe, and buttons of bone. Spring models are characterized by the long waist and wide hipgirdle. Long bright-colored chiffon scarfs are worn as sashes with dark dresses. Tomato, henna, gold and cornflower blue are popular spring colors. The mandaria jacket with flaring sleeves is a favored spring style.

Labor and Capital Agree on One Thing

While strikes are going on all over the world, it is a relief to find one point on which Labor and Capital agree. This is a matter which may not have much to do with the wealth of nations, but it has a material influence on their health-and that is the efficacy of Buckley's Bronchitis Mixture for coughs, colds, bronchitis, hoarseness and other throat and chest affections. Just as there is "ne royal road to health," so this wonderful remedy, which has brought relief to thousands, is easily within the reach of the laboring man as well as the millionaire. Rich or poor, old or young, once you have tried it, you realize that nothing else can equal it. Don't go on suffering. Get a bottle to-day. You buy it on the understanding, your money refunded if it does not give you quick relief.
Take no substitute. 75c. a bottle. Sold in St. John's by any of the following druggists: T. McMURDO Ltd., M. CONNORS, AVALON JG CO., E. J. and November. Maturity March 1941. This company is the largest manufacturer of newsprint in Canada. Net earnings available for interest on this new issue of $3,000,000 averaged for past five years $1,229,472, or five times the necessary amount. For the year ending June 30, 1920, the net earnings were ten times sufficient to meet the interest on the new issue after all other interest provided for. The management is efficiently or-ganized and has proven itself progressive and successful. In riew of the property's excellent condition, the large assets and its proven earning power, we recommend these Bonds as a sound investment. Price 99 and interest. Yield 8.1 per cent.
