Such praiseof an increase over even the unusually large worthy efforts on the part of English statesrevenue of last year. If anything can prove men to mitigate if they cannot remove the the vitality of a nation, it is the increasing great evils of poverty in one class, and capacity to bear taxation. England has gone improvidence in another, cannot but meet on steadily for a number of years adding to with general approbation. The only misher revenue, without any additional imposts, fortune is that they have come so late in the from a million to a million and a quarter day. every twelve months. This was looked upon as the normal progress of the country; but the last year ending March 31st, has eclipsed all former years, and makes it really the annus memorabilis. "In spite of," says the Times, " a reduction amounting to more than £1,300,000 last year, the Customs for the year ending yesterday amount to £22,572,- Bishop of Natal could convey any legal ju-000, against £23,232,000 for the year before. The excise, which is a still better test of the general well being of the people, has risen from £18,207,000 to £19,558,000, and thus by itself puts an increased sum of £1,351,-000 into the national purse. Stamps are buoyant; taxes also show an increase. The property tax yields wonderfully, and it is a sign of the advancing wealth of the country that whereas the estimate used to be a million sterling for every penny of the tax, a sixpenny tax now produces £7,958,000. When it is remembered that the whole mass of the cognize the authority of Parliament over the laboring classes, the artizans, and even the very small tradesmen are free from this impost, and that it only affects a comparatively small section of the community, the sum of nearly eight millions produced by a tax of ion." Dr. Colenso is bishop in the abstract, sixpence in the pound is certainly an astonishing result. Another and still more gratifying proof of the progress of the country, is ty. If a clergyman lives a disgraceful life, afforded by the returns of the Post Office, which has risen in a single year from £3,810,000, to £4,100,000. The total result of the year is that there is a decrease of £660,000 on the Customs, caused by the diminution in the sugar duties; an increase of £1,351,000 on the excise, a decrease of £1,126,000 from the lowering of the of British Columbia is about to establish a property tax, an increase of £290,000 on the branch in the city of Portland, under the national prosperity and enlightenment. There is something in all this astonishing for what is generally termed an "old" country. The vast progress of the United States is what must in the very nature of things be expected. An immense territory with unlimited arable land calling upon the able bodied poverty of the old World to develop its latent wealth-what other condition could we look for than rapid advancement? The case of England is, however, widely different. With a small territory and overcrowded by a struggling population, many of whom live from hand to mouth, or eat the bread of charity, her position might easily be presumed to be precarious in the extreme. Yet we find as great a vitality in her commercial and financial condition and as great an elasticity in her capacity to bear national burthens as can be found in the great American Republic. With this increased prosperity of the country if is gratifying to find that the condition of the poorer classes is not entirely overlooked. The cham charities of the pact with all their degrading influences are be-

The disgraceful condition of the poorer class ses, in what is known in England as the parishes, has been taken in hand by the House of Commons. Mr. Villiers introduoed a bill to make the settled poor charges able to the union instead of the parish, the result of which will be to make the land owners pay more attention to the condition of those who are necessitated to work for them. "The landed proprietor in England," says the Spectator, " is as much bound to house his laborers well as a railway comthe laws of nature are set at defiance. We shall not at present make the latter an application to our own condition but endeavor to show the vast strides which the mother country is making in material prosperity. > COLONIAL BISHOPS-The London Spectator of March 25th gives a summary of the judgment of the Privy Council, drawn up by Lord Kingsdown, on Bishop Colenso's case, as follows: The decision is to the effect that neither the patent of the metropolitan Bishop of Capetown nor the patent of the risdiction, because both colonies had received representative institutions at the time of the grant of these patents, and the mere prerogative of the Crown would not extend to establish any new ecclesiastical court in colonies so situated. In a Crown colony proper the Queen's patent might effect this. but not in one where that prerogative has already been given away or limited by free colonial institutions. The judgment absolu-tely puts an end to the dream of some ecclesiastical parties that the Queen is head of the Church in a different sense from that in which she is head of the State, and that to recognize the Queen's authority is not to re-Church. It affirms in the strongest way that her ecclesisstical authority and her secular authority are alike limited by the Legislature. The Bishops of Capetown and Natal are therefore the "baseless fabrics of a visand Dr. Gray is a metropolitan in the abstract, but no clergyman in the diocese of either is in any way subject to their authorior even sacrifices to idols, no one can punish him but the societies who pay his income— by withdrawing it. If the two episcopal abstractions resigned together their ineffectual patents, they would only throw off a titular authority which it is scarcely manly to attempt to keep.

STEAMER FOR THE KOOTENAY ROUTE .--We understand that Captain Mouatt, of the Enterprise, will proceed up country this week to superintend the construction of the new steamer on Kamloops and Shuswap lakes, in preparation for the expected travel over that route in the fall by the returning miners from Kootenay. It is fortunate for the country that the enterprise of the Hudson Bay Company in this matter will in some measure atone for the tardiness of the British Columbian Government. Had a road even of the most primitive kind been pushed through this spring, the greater part of the travel, which has been enriching Portland and the Columbia River towns, would have been diverted into our own channels. Even as it is, while the route via Portland is up to the present date completely blockaded by snow, the route via the Shuswap has been quite practicable for some time. There can be no doubt that the natural outlet for the Kootenay district is by way of Fraser River. and it only requires a judicious expenditure in opening up wagon roads to turn the whole of the traffic through our own territories.

It creates a great deal of dissatisfaction and grumbling to make changes. To remove a man is very easy, but when I go to fill his place there are 20 applicants, and of these I must make 19 enemies."

L., (ex-Army Medical Staff,) the recipe of which was confided solely to J. T. Davenport, 23 Great Russell street, Bloomsbury square, London (Pharmaceutical Chemist). The medical testimony of civil, hospital, military and naval practitioners pronounces it invaluable. It relieves pain of any kind, soothes the restlessness of fever, and imparts the most retreshing sleep, without producing or caving any of the unpleasant effects of oplum.

From W. Vesalius Pettigrew, M.D., Hon. F.R.C.S., England, formerly, Lecturer, upon Anatomy and Physiology at St. George's School of Medicine: "I have used it in Consumption, Asthma, Diarrhosa and other diseases, and am most perfectly satisfied with the results."

The Infallible Remedy

Holloway's Ointment.

Contracted or Stiff Joints.

All the medicines in the London dispensaries would barely benefit, much less cure, any chronic cases of contracted or stiff joints; whereas if this invaluable continent be effectually rubbed into such parts twice a day, the effects will be immense. Paralytic patients even can derive advantages from this fine remedy when other means fail.

Scorbutic Humours.—Scald Head and Skin

the blood, and in most cases the liver and stomach are the organs at fault. The Pilts will speedily restore these to a healthy action; while the Ointment of well rubbed in at least twice a day, will soon oure any case of skin disease. Soldiers, sallots, and miners, use this famous Ointment in all parts of the world.

Disorders of the Kidneys, Stone and Grave In any of the above complaints more benefit may be derived in twenty-four hours by adopting the following simple means than is frequently brough about in six months by any other treatment. In bad eases if the Ointment be rubbed into the small of the back over the region of the kidneys, it will quickly penetrate, and, in most instances, give immediate relief. Six or eight of the Pills should be taken nightly according to circumstances. Diptheria, Sore Throats, &c.

These maladies are of so serious and dangerous a nature that the Ointment would not be recommended unless the Proprietor was sure of its effect. It will cure when every other means have failed, if applied immediately, and not delayed until the patient is beyond recovery. It is a sovereign remedy for sore throat. Settled Conglis or wheering will be promptly removed by rubbing in this unguent. Mothers should rub it into the chest of heir infants whenever there is any hoarseness, ightness, or other affection of breathing.

Bad Legs, Bad Breasts -- Old Wounds, Sores edf seergorg and Olders, odt ni ba

It is surprising hew quickly a sore, ulcer, or wound, deprives the body of strength, and unfits it for the duties of life; but it is no less wonderful to watch the effect of Holloway's Healing Ointment, when it is used according to the printed directions, and assisted by appropriate doses of the Pills. The pain, inflammation, and other morbid manifestations, soon disappear from the affected part and health and strength return.—This treatment creates sound flesh, and therefore makes its cures complete.

Gout and Rheumatism.

Will be cared with the greatest certainty if large quantities of the Cintment be well worked into the complaining parts. This treatment must be perseveringly followed for some time and duly assisted by powerful doses of Holloway's Pills. The essence of these diseases lies in the blood, which has floating through each vessel the paingiving poison which vitiates and inflames every tissue t comes in contact with, and produces the hot, excited elastic enlargement about the joints so characteristic of gouly and rheumatic maladies.

TOLL SOME STOP CHURCH RESERVE. The House went into Committee on the Church Reserve question, Dr. Powell in the The Chairman read the despatch of His Excellency the Governor, stating that the deed of the property had then made over to the Church of Rogland, in May, 1864.

Mr. DeCosmos had only a few words to say on this question, unless a discussion arose. He did not consider the reasons given by His Excellency were good and sufficient to prevent him from taking the desired steps in regard to the reserve. He should have inquired into the history of the reserve, and the right of the people to it as a public park, before thus throwing over the matter. This preparty had been open to the public for years, and we now tound it being out up into lots, fenced in, and the people thus deprived of the best reserve for public purposes in the city. There could be no doubt that such was not the original intention in regard to the Church Reserve, as was shown in the evidence of the Surveyor General before the Crown Lands Committee. It was also plain that it was never intended for a glebel as the greater part of it was naked rock. In the

The light was done by the Grown, he feared to the same property with the suffered to it, and the land the same property with the same property with the same property with the same property with the same parties and the same property ded to it was a particular to the lease of the colony and now they wished to rob the property with the colony and he thought i

Mr. DeCosmos looked on that very thing as the most iniquitous part of the whole is ked with his own. He believed a great wrong was in the present instance perpetrated by both the Church and the Home Government. I Mesers Tolmie, Franklin, Burnaby, and Cochiane here left the House, amid much laughter. He considered it also as likely to be mischisvous in its effect on the religious interests of the colony (Hear, hear.) It raised up at once invidious distinctions, and tended to pave the way for those jealousies which were so detrimental to the best interests of religion in many portions of the mother country. LOCAL INTELLIGENCE.

Saturday, May 27. MR. JAMES CARSWELL, Member of Parliament for Sooke District and a member of the firm of Hibben & Carswell, Booksellers and Stationers of Yates street, has been missing since Wednesday afternoon under circumstances that have given rise to serious apprehensions for his safety. Mr. Carswell, it appears, proceeded by the steamer Enterprise to Sooke Harbor on the Queen's birthday with Mrs. Carswell and some friends, and having expressed his intention of visiting the residence of his constituents, the Muirs; on business, he landed at Thompson's Landing and was observed to ascend the bank and proceed towards the road which passes at a considerable distance from the wharf and leads direct to Muirs. Mr. Robert George here met him and directed him to the road. It was showery at the time owing to which circumstance Mrs.
Carswell did not accompany her husband.
At aix o'clock the Enterprise blew her last whistle and started back to Victoria, but Mr. Carswell did not return as he promised to do and the steamer left without him. Some of the excursionists had been to Muirs' and returned by the same trail which Mr. Carswell should have taken, but they did not see him nor had he been to Muirs' and up to the time of writing nothing has been heard of the missing man. On the following morning a messenger was despatched to ascertain if Mr. Carswell had reached Muirs' but they had not seen or heard any. thing of him, and a search was thereupon instituted but nothing elicited. Yesterday morning some friends left this city to cause a closer search to be made. Mr. Carswell took no refreshments of any kind or weapons with him. He is very short-sightweapons with him. He is very short-sighted and it is feared may have wandered from the track and been unable to retrace his steps: There is a trail known as Foucault's trail branching off through to the North Forks of Leech River, and it is just possible that Mr. Carswell may have taken it by mistake. Under any circumstances the facts are sufficient to cause considerable anxiety to his friends, who have offered a reward of $250 for the recovery of Mr. Carswell, and have had posters printed to be sent out early this morning to Leech river, in the hope that a number of the miners who are at present unable to work there, may be induced to go in search of the missing gentleman. Messrs. DeCosmos, Elliott, Huskinson, Bell, Fell, and a number of other gentlemen met last night to devise means for prosecuting a rigorous search. It was determined to proof the Indians to traverse the entire neighborhood. A message was sent to Governor Kennedy asking that the Sir James Douglas be placed at their disposal, to which His Excellency readily acceded, and instructions having been sent to Captain Clarke, arrangements were made for starting at three o'clock this morning. Further intelligence will be anxiously looked for.

charged with attempting to set fire to the premises of Mr. Aime, on Fisguard street, near Government street, appeared before the Police Magistrate yesterday. Mr. Aime stated that he went to his premises at about twelve o'clock on the night of the 24th, and saw a man hurriedly pass out. Witness turned a lantern on him and recognized the prisoner, who was frequently hanging around the premises. On going inside he found a bottle lying on the floor wrapped up in paper with some turpentine in it, and a quantity of turpentine thrown all over a wooden partition penetrating to the other side. Witness gave information to Sergeant Wilmer, who sub-sequently arrested the prisoner, and on searching his premises found a piece of news-paper corresponding with that in which the bottle was wrapped. On cross-examination by Mr. Bishop it was shown that there was a female in the case to whom the accused laid claim. Prisoner had previously entered the complainant's premises in search of the female and had used threats of violence to female and had used threats of violence to complainant. Sergeant Wilmer and officer Thompson gave their evidence, the latter stated that he was told by Sergeant Wilmer to watch on the night in question for a man named Hilliard, and on the prisoner coming up hurriedly witness asked him his name, and he said Livermore. Inspector Welch asked for a remand until Monday, to indi s enable him to prove the purchase of the tur-pentine and for further testimony. Mr. Bishop contended that there was no case, as there was no evidence of an attempt to set fire and no matches were found, this was a charge of arson. Mr. Pemberton replied that the charge was a very proper one, and a very serious one in a place where there were so many wooden houses, a jury would have to deal with the evidence, the prisoner was remanded till Monday.

MECHANICS' INSTITUTE -This institution, which began so favorably last winter, and which has hitherto been in so flourishing a enT_condition, begins now to feel, in common yoo a with everything else in Victoria, the influence of the dull times, and is now rather languishing for want of sufficient support. The list and will prove a great accommodation to them. During the coming season, Mr. Original seaso among our professional men, merchants, traders, mechanics and others, who are not

WATER TRAVEL IN BRITISH COLUMBIA.-We understand that Capt, Mouat, the wellknown commander of the Enterprise, will International Hotel, occupied as a carpenleave shortly for Kamloops with a view to ter's shop, was discovered to be on fire. The establishing water communication between alarm bells were quickly rung, and the diffes Lake Kamloops and the north arm of the Great Shuswap Laket It is believed at present that a steamer could ply from Savanas ferry at the lower end of Kamloops up the Thompson River through the lesser Shuswap Lake to the bead of the north arm of the Great Shuswap Lake, a distance of about 140 miles, and from the latter point a portage of 45 miles will enable travellers to connect with White's steamboat running on the Columbia from Fort Shepperd up to the canon at the foot of the Great Bend in which neighborhood gold has been found. It will ikewise materially lessen the travelling distance to Kootenay. The company are at present awaiting the return of Mr. McKay, who is engaged in surveying the proposed telegraph line from Tete Jeune Cache to Williams Creek, as that gentleman is well acquainted with the waters above Kamloops. It is believed however that there is no material impediment to the navigation of the distance above described. In the meantime the material for the construction of a steam-boat is awaiting Capt. Mouat's arrival.

LIEUT. VERNEY, R. N.-This gentleman being about to return to England, yesterday resigned his position on the committee of management of the Mechanics' Institute. Lieut. Verney was one of the originators of the Institute last winter, and has ever since been one of its most active and useful supporters. His departure will be a great loss to the Institute, and will indeed be much telt by the community generally, as he was always among the foremost in every good work. The committee expressed their regret at the withdrawal of so valuable a member, and unanimously voted him a letter of thanks for his services. We understand that Lieut. Verney leaves for home by the first steamer

THE TELEGRAPH. - Some workmen belonging to the Collins Telegraph Co. proceeded yesterday by the Enterprise to New Westminster, in charge of Major Pope, one of the engineers of the line. RACES .- The remaining part of the race programme for the 24th was completed on Saturday afternoon, the race for the Victoria purse, open to all horses that never won a public race, coming off on the Beacon Hill course at 3 o'clock. Six horses were entered, viz., Mr. William's sorrel gelding, Governor; Mr. Shirpser's bay mare, Lucy ; Mr. Roper's chestnut mare, Yorkshire Lass; Mr. Bow-man's Express horse, Charlie; Mr. Tooley's horse, Pet; and Mr. Hutchinson's bay horse. The first heat was won by "Lucy," Mr. Hutchinson's horse being second. The next two heats were won by "Governor," who shot ahead at the half-mile post and won the race easily. He was ridden by Fitzpatrick. The time made was very good, the first heat being run in one minute thirty-eight seconds. The race, owing to the num-ber of horses starting, and the belief that it would be a bona fide contest attracted much CHINAMEN FOR KOOTENAY- The newly arrived Celestials are making for the Columbia river and Kootenay in large numbers. A gentleman who came down on Saturday informs us that bundreds of them are to be seen patiently wending their way, heavily laden, in that direction. They go via Ni-comin, and seem to have no hesitation as to the proper course; doubtless some among them have been over the route before. The Chinamen on the Fraser are said to have taken out a very large quantity of gold this year, owing to the unusually low stage of the river.

Assay OFFICE IN CARIBOO .- The Bank of British Columbia have nearly completed their assay office at Cameronton, Williams creek. They have also enlarged their premises, having taken the whole of the building of which they formerly occupied only a part.

The bank is not to be removed to Barkerville, as reported by a contemporary, but will remain at Cameronton. The assay office is regarded most favorably by the miners,

THE DAVENPORTS ECLIPSED .- On Monday evening, a seance was formed at Mr. Sothern's house, the Cedars, Kensington, for the purpose of exhibiting the rope-tying powers and manifestations of "unknown force" which the distinguished comedian and Mr. Addison, the medium in spite of himself, are able to display. Among the company present were the Marchioness of Downshire, Lady Anna Duff, the Earl of Fife, Lord Hillsborough, Viscount Combermere, Lord Edwin Hill Trevor, Lord Arthur Hill, Colonel Napier Stuart, Mr. Tom Taylor, &c. In addition to all the ordinary manifestations of the Davenports, Mr. Addison and Mr. So-thern were handcuffed and tied up in sacks, and succeeded easily in freeing themselves, Mr. Addison then had his wrists handcuffed and fastened to a ring screwed in the structure. The doors were closed, and on their being re-opened in two minutes he was seen fastened as before, but with his coat off. The same gentleman was, for lack of any more convenient chest, locked up in a corn bin, which was corded outside. In two minutes ne was a free man. THE EMPRESS EUGENIE.-The Corresdance de Rome contradicts in the following terms the Owl's assertion that the Empress Eugenie had written to all the female sovereigns of Europe, without distinction of faith, respecting the restoration of the Holy Places; "This intelligence is inexact, as we learn from other sources, but it suffices to show the confusion which prevails in people's minds. The Empress Eugenie is profoundly attached to a faith, and that faith, as the Pope said some days ago, 'is exclusive, and admits neither of compromise nor of transaction. There is only one Christianity, and all anti-Catholic sects are mere degenerations incapable of uniting or concurring with the trnth to found or restore anything whatever in a suitable manner.

THE NATIONAL GALLERY .- It is understood that the Government plan for enlarging the National Gallery will be presented to Parliament after the recess. This plan in-cludes the purchase of St. Martin's Workhouse, the absorption of the open court and street behind the present edifice, and the use of a certain portion of the barrack-yard. The yard is not to be diminished, as the new galleries will be erected on iron columns, offering the soldiers a covered way for their recreations and amusements. The new Government plan involves the removal of the Royal Academecians from Trafalgar Square. It is proposed to offer them a site behind Piccadilly, north of Burlington-house.

THE GOLD MINING BILL

The amendment sent down yesterday by the Council to the House on the Gold Mining Bill, in reference to the registration and recording fees, is one we are glad to see the House refused to acknowledge. When the bill passed the Upper House and came down to the Assembly it contained a clause which showed an unusual amount of greed for Crown perquisites. Not content with giving the license receipts to the Crown fund it threw in the recording and registration fees and all penalties that might accrue under the Act—the meaning of which was simply that the colony should pay for an official, the whole of whose labors would be given to the Crown. The Assembly had already voted $1,700 for a Gold Commissioner, whose functions would also be magisterial; and they voted the sum with a kind of grudge; for they felt that the money should in strict equity come out of the fund of the Crown Lands. However, in order that the mining interests should not suffer for want of a Commission they voted the whole amount. When the Gold Bill came before the House the members in protecting colonial interests, refused to sanction any other Crown receipt than that of the license, and thus endeavored, by making the remaining fees and penalties colonial revenue, to reimburse the country for the $1,700 expenditure on the Magisterial

Gold Commissioner. This it seems is not palatable to the Council, and so we have the amendment returned, and altered so as to enable the Crown to pocket all the money collected, but the insignificant amount likely to be obtained from "penalties." This amount the Upper House generously waives, an act which resembles very much that magnanimous transaction alluded to by one of the members yesterday of taking out the

We cannot say, of course, what the Council will do in the matter-whether they will accept the amendment of the House and allow the bill at once to become law; or whether in their excessive loyalty they will shipwreck their own measure by insisting on the recording and registration fees being paid into the Crown fund. Of one thing they may be certain-the House will not go back on its position. If the bill becomes law it will only be by the insertion of the Assembly's decision on this point. Looking at the matter in an impartial light we cannot see how the Council can do other than accept the views of the Lower House. All the people's representatives require is that the money voted for the Commissioner shall be in whole or in part paid back to the general revenue by fees. If the Council and the Executive believe that the fees in question really belong to the Crown, and we do not dispute the correctness of such a position, let them make the Crown responsible for the Gold Commissioner's salary. But so long as the Executive insists on this officer being paid out of the colonial funds, in accordance with certain prohibitory injunctions of Mr. Cardwell in reference to the crown revenue, it must be content to relinquish a certain portion of the Crown receipts. It may be that the fees in question will, the present year, pay the Gold Commissioner: but the probabilities are against the supposition. If a thousand dollars are collected in this way the country will have reason to be satisfied. Whether, however, this be so or not, the Gold Mining.

Bill is too important a measure at the present juncture to be delayed, and we would, therefore, advise the Council to accept the Assembly's amendment, and push through the bill at once. If through any obstinacy in adhering to the principles laid down in the original clause, the bill is not passed, the responsibility will rest with the Upper House, and both the Crown and the colony may be deprived of results that would compensate either over and over again for the loss of the fees of registration. The measure itself is not one in all respects desirable, or applicable to the condition of our mines, but any law is better than no law, and there are many portions of the bill too necessary for the working and development of the diggings to be kept dormant at the present juncture. If there was no other principle in the bill but that which gives the miners a board to regulate their own affairs it would be worth all the necessary legislative trouble. In a few days the general mining operations at Sooke will commence, and difficulties, in the absence of any definite law or regulations, will in the natural course of events arise. Dissatisfaction will be engendered, work retarded, and the best interests of Leech a moment is therefore to be lost in placing the mines under special law for their better development, and for the protection of the individual; and we hope to see the Council take this urgent view of the matter by accepting the Assembly's amendment, and passing the bill without further delay.

VICTORIA HARBOR DUES ACT. This bill was read a second time and sent to committee, Mr. Dennes in the chair.

The bill, which provides that for every invoice of $100 or less, there shall be a landing permit of $1 50, and for every additional $100 in value, a permit of 50 cts; also for every invoice of potatoes an additional charge of $5; and for every invoice of turnips, carrots, cabbages, and other roots or vegetables, $2 50. was passed and reported to the

Dr. Helmcken suid it was really a matter over which they had very little control; they could only recommend this course to the Government. The Governor and Colonial Secretary looked chiefly to this source for their salaries, and that would affect the course to be pursued.

The motion was agreed to nem. con., and the committee rose and reported progress.

We feel obliged to those of our members who have had their eyes open to this evil, and have attempted, but without success, to bring about some change for the better.

This bill came back from the Legislative Council with an amendment making the fees for recording and registering payable to the Crown, instead of the general revenue, as passed by the House. Mr. M'Clure considered that as they had voted the Gold Commissioner's salary the fees should go into the general revenue, and the House refused to agree to the amendment, and sent the bill back to the Council back to the Council.

House adjourned till Monday, when the Pilot Act, Agricultural Lands Question, and Incorporation Bill will be taken up.

It sounds strange in our ears the new docrine of increase in the tariff being devised or the purpose of reducing our cost of living. As soon as the news of its being put in force reached us, the dealers bought up all the flour they could lay their hands on, and doubled the price at once by raising it from 36 cents to 75 cents and $1 per pound. Tuesday, May 30, 1865 MR. COBDEN AND HIS EULO-

The most important topic in our English files is the death of Mr. Cobden, noticed by us some time ago on the receipt of the melancholy announcement by telegram. A large number of the papers went into mourning, and a strain of eulogy burst forth from organs of every shade. In France the feeling of sorrow seems to have been almost as intense as that evinced in England; and it is said that one of the most touching and eloquent articles written on the great man's death appeared in the organ of the French Government the Moniteur, which came out in mourning. Lord Palmerston and Mr. Distacli delivered sulogies in the House of Commons, and Mr. Bright got up to speak but his emotion paralysed his utterance and he was content to say of his departed Central Pacific Railroad Company of Calihe was content to say manliest and gene fornia.

Lord Palmerston dealt in unusual panegyric, describing Mr. Cobden as a statesman who had rendered "inestimable and enduring benefits to the country. But great as were his talents, great as was his industry, and eminent as was his success, the disinterested. ness of his mind more than equalled all these." The Premier then went on to show how he had offered Mr. Cobden a seat in the Cabinet, which was refused on the ground of political differences. Subsequently he had rank of baronetcy and that of Privy Councilfor on the great apostle of free trade; "but," flags and fixed half hour guns. says Lord Palmersten, "the same disinterested spirit which actuated all his conduct, Begots Congress.

The revolution in Peru has progressed but deepest regret that we have lost one of proudest ornaments, and that the country has been deprived of one of her most useful servants."

Mr. Disraeli was more eloquent than the Premier-more vigorous and fervid in his manner, and more terse, and touching in his language. Cobden was in his eyes, despite the antagonism of their respective parties, the noblest specimen of the great middle class which England has yet produced. . . . It happened," says Mr. Disraeli, " that before Mr. Cobden quitted us, there came to him one of let a pertion of their road from Vera Cruz to the greatest opportunities ever offered to a public man, and it may be justly said that by the transaction of high affairs, he obtained the consideration of the two leading countries of the world. THE AMNESTY PROCLAMATION, NEW YORK, May 18 .- The Tribune's dispatch says: The President's forthcoming amnesty proclamation is already in type. The proof sheets have been under consideration for several days by the Cabinet. It is understood it will profer the oath of allegiance to all who have served in the rebel armies up to a certain grade. When accepted, this is to constitute a full discharge and pardon. It is also stated that the full scope and limitations of Grant and Sherman's terms of amnesty are to be deferred to, while those offi. cers who should have been guilty of the horrible cruelties perpetrated upon our prisoners will be tried and if convicted punished. The publication of the document is momentarily expected.

It is further understood that President Johnson's forthcoming proclamation will be in reality a withdrawal of the unconditional amnesty which President Lincoln proffered. and the substitution of an offer of amnest on certain special conditions to repentant rebels below the rank of Brigadier General. The terms of pardon are made much more definite and the amnesty is narrow in its scope. It is added that all rebels who been in the civil service of the Jeff. Davis' Government, either at home or abroad are to be added to the classes exempted from the new amnesty.

Secretary Stanton is understood to differ very decidedly from the President and some of his colleagues in regard to the proper course to be pursued in restoring the rabel-lious States to their status in the Union. The question of negro suffrage is the great stumbling block in the way of harmony. There is reason to believe that the President is disinclined to take the responsibility of extending the suffrage to colored citizens until he has had an opportunity of ascertaining the sentiment of Congress on the subject.

THE QUEEN'S BIRTHDAY.

The forty-sixth anniversary of Her Majesty's Birthday has passed, and the inhabitants The aboriginal native came out in more than usual brilliancy. The highly colored costume of the klootchman was more vivid in its hue and more expansive in its proportions; and the garments of the males seemed to be more than ever variegated, embracing in their range the seedy swallow tail of a by-gone age and the naval coat that might have done service with Nelson at Trafalgar. Although the Indian population was increased by hundreds. and comprised members of nine different tribes, the utmost quietude prevailed. All humor and order which have become pesuliarly characteristic of Victoria holidays. The day might have been finer and the amusements might have been more varied and attractive, but the people could not have shown a greater desire to do honor to the

With all the staidness and matter-of-fact peculiarity of the Englishman, there is some thing in the celebration of the Queen's Birthday that appeals strongly to his imagination and to his pride. The strains of the national anthem that float in the air in London are echoed in Newfoundland and vibrate in the atmosphere of Vancouver Island. Over the continent of Australia and across the Indian archipelago—at Bombay and at the Cape of Good Hope—they linger on a million lips. Under the cinnamon tree of the torrid zone, and along the ice-bound coast of Labradorin every latitude and every clime the anthem bursts from jubilant representatives of the British race. It is on such eccasion as these we are brought to contemplate the magnitude and grandeur of the British Empire, and to realise the beauty as well as correctness of the expression that on its extensive territory the sun never sets. We see the truth of the the sun never sets. We see the truth of the septiment that the roll-call of the morning drum follows the sun in his daily round, and calls the British race to duty throughout the entire world. There is something in such thoughts that is almost ennobling—something to make every Englishman proud of his nationality. No other country can make so the sun never sets. We see the truth of the great a hoast. Russia can shout for the Czar from St. Petersburg to Sitka; but vast as is her territory it has not the universal character of the British Empire : no transmarine possessions, no distant colonies. In ancient or modern times no power has so stretched itself over the face of the earth. was his dominion it was small in comparison to that vast territory and that teeming population which bow beneath the benignant sceptre of Queen Victoria. As part and parcel of this mighty empire, we may well feel proud of our national position; but we must recollect that with increased power comes increased responsibility, and that the Englishman to day is a very different person from the Englishman in the time of Columbus. He is now a vital element in the Government of the country and to his wisdom and energy or rather the wisdom and energy of Englishmen in the aggregate, is left the destiny of the nation. The monarchical power of the olden time is gone, never to return, and Queen Victoria rules to-day more in a social than in a political capacity. Fortunate is it that such is the case; for she has been thus enabled to concentrate her energies in purifying the Eng-

Even the newly-arrived Chinaman laid side his sea-weed operations for the day, and sauntered forth to witness and criticise in his voluble and unrestrained manner what was to be seen. STEILACOOM!

The Infallible Remedy.

Holloway's Ointment.

Contracted or Stiff Joints.

Scorbutic humors arise from an impure state of the blood, and in most cases the liver and stomach are the organs at fault. The Pills will appendily restore these to a healthy action; while the Ointment, if well rubbed in at least twice a day, will soon cure any case of akin disease. Soldiers, sallors, and miners, use this famous Ointment in all parts of the world. Disorders of the Kidneys, Stone and Grave

In any of the above complaints more benefit may be derived in twenty-four hours by adopting the following simple means than is frequently brough about in six months by any other treatment. In bad cases if the Ointment be rubbed into the small of the back over the region of the kidneys, it will quickly penetrate, and, in most instances, give immediate relief. Six or eight of the Pills should be taken nightly according to circumstances.

Diptheria, Sore Throats, &c. These maladies are of so serious and dangerous These maladies are of so serious and dangerous a nature that the Ointment would not be recommended unless the Proprietor was sure of its effect. It will cure when every other means have failed, if applied immediately, and not delayed until the patient is beyond recovery. It is a sovereign remedy for sore throat. Settled Coughs or wheezing will be promptly removed by rubbing in this unguent. Mothers should rub it into the chest of heir infants whenever there is any hoarseness, ightness, or other affection of breathing. Bad Legs, Bad Breasts .- Old Wounds, Sores and Ulcers. It is surprising hew quickly a sore, ulcer, or wound, deprives the body of strength, and unfits it for the duties of life; but, it is no less wonderful to watch the effect of Holloway's Healing Ointment, when it is used according to the printed directions, and assisted by appropriate doses of the Pills. The pain, inflammation, and other morbid manifestations, soon disappear from the affected part and health and strength return.—This treatment creates sound flesh, and therefore makes its cures somplete.

and Rhoumatism. Will be cured with the greatest certainty if large quantities of the Ointment be well worked into the complaining parts. This treatment must be perseveringly followed for some time and duly assisted by powerful desse of Helloway's Pills. The essence of these diseases lies in the blood, which has floating through each vessel the painglying poison which vitiates and inflames every tissue teomes in contact with, and produces the hot, swellen, elastic enlargement about the joints so characteristic of gouty and rheumatic maladies.

Both the Ointment and Pills should be used in the
