A KNIGHTLY FIELD DAY,

SIR JOHN, SIR CHARLES AND SIR

Manitoba Schools, and for the Pay-ment of a County Judge in B. C.

LEONARD TO THE FORE.

Special Despatch to The World.
OTTAWA, Jan. 29.—In the house of commons to-day Sir John Macdonald intro duced an act to provide for the introduction among Indian communities of a system of self-government. He explained as civilized as their white neighborhood, and it was desirable that they should be allowed the same measure of self government. The bill simply provides for the election of a council of six, from whom a reeve shall be elected with power to levy and collect taxes from the bands for local improvements.

On motion of Sir John Macdonald the house resolved to go into committee of the whole on Friday to consider a resolution for giving effect to an agreement entered into between the government of Canada

Sir John Macdonald laid on the table the annual report of Indian affairs. Sir Leonard Tilley moved the house into mittee on a resolution granting assist ance to Manitoba in aid of public schools He explained that three years ago par liament agreed to advance $10, 000 a year for three years to assist Manitoba in educational work. The first and second payments were made, but the third was not. In view of the neces sity for the development of educational in-terests in Manitoba, parliament proposed to advance $30,000 in addition to the $10, 000 already owed, school lands to be taken in security. Owing to the sparseness of the population, Sir Leonard said it was difficult to carry on the school system. Mr. Blake asked if the sale of land was not delayed in consequence of a difficulty arising from squatters settling on the land. Sir John Macdonald said the dominion land act provides for sale by public auction, and no other way, and it was the intention of the government to amend the act so that by no possible means could any claim be set up by parties to land as against the rights of the country. Sir John moved the house into commit stee of the whole to make provision for the salary of the judge of the county court of Cariboo, B.C., the salary to be $2400 per year. He explained that formerly there were pensioned off and power was taken last session to appoint five county court judges. During the visit last summer of Sir Alex. Campbell an arrangement was made by which only one additional judge

Sir Charles Tupper laid on the table correspondence in reference to the Canadian Pacific railway called for last session. Mr. Blake moved for copies of all ordersin-council, memorials and representations on the subject of the bounty on manufact tures of iron. He reminded Sir Leonard that he had received a deputation from Toronto asking a bounty for manufacturing down all the correspondence speedily. Re-ferring to the deputation he said the gentlemen were anxious to establish iron works in Toronto. They made statements showing what it would cost to manufacture a ton of iron. He told them their calcula-pare a statement and submit it, but they had not done so. Mr. Blake moved for copies of all applications for sales or leases and all correspon dence or reports touching, and also a statement of all sales or leases made of, coal lands in the Northwest not covered by re turns already ordered; also a statement in detail of any sums paid to the Hon. John O'Connor since the period covered by the address of last session with dates and particulars. He remarked that a salary equal to $8000 a year was paid Mr. O'Connor.

who might just as well be in the adminis patches or correspondence concerning, or of any regulations or orders of the United States' government under which Nova Scotia coal imported into United States ports is permitted to be used for ocean steamship purposes without the payment of duty; also a statement shewing the number of seizures made at each port of entry in the dominion during the last fiscal year. Mr. Mulock moved for a return of all regulations now in force under provisions of the fisheries act prohibiting fishing in waters situate in the province of Ontario. He remarked that he had learned there was an order-in-council in existence prohibiting fishing in any water in Ontario without a license or lease from the department of the marine and fisheries, and that under the order certain conviction to work at once and prepare their case in writing for submission as soon as possible.

charitable Irishmen to relieve Irish immigrants out of work has assumed enormous dimensions. They established a soup kitchen at 221 Hope street, and the numbers relieved with good wholesome food since its inception is astonishing. The following is the number of people supplied on each day, and if this thing keeps increasing at the same ratio until spring there will be a crowd equal to the population of a small town flocking up to Hope street for soup: Jan. 8, 85; Jan. 9, 129; Jan. 10, 158; Jan. 11, 180; Jan. 12, 204; Jan. 13, 250; Jan. 14, 387; Jan. 15, 395; Jan. 16, 364; Jan. 17, 342; Jan. 18, 460; Jan. 19, 528, Jan. 20, 555; Jan. 21, 584; Jan. 25, 6615; Jan. 26, 639; Jan. 27, 640; Jan. 28, 631.

The meeting yesterday was to inquire into this extraordinary increase, and the gentlemen present learned, that the soup kitchen, which had been established solely for Irish immigrants, had been relieving wretch was turned away. More than this, other charitable societies had been sending their poor to the Hope street kitchen for aid. It was supposed at first that it would cost about $40 a week to run the kitchen, but in the short space of three weeks it has cost the modest sum of $432, while the contributions have been $266.04. Mayor Boswell was at the meeting and promised to contribute his share of the expense and will visit the kitchen with Mr. Nicholas Murphy to-day and have a bowl of soup.

The present law regulating the assessment of personal property and income was roundly abused. yards, 2444; refuse burned, 1535; no water in use, 512.

Complete accuracy is not vouched for, but the above is a very fair statement of the sanitary condition of the city. Dr. Canniff arges the construction of sewers on all streets not already drained, and recommends that all wells in the built up portions of the city be closed up. He condemns the use of privy vanits in thickly populated districts, and states that until the people were educated to appreciate the importance of cleanliness of house and premises it will be found necessary to have frequent and regular inspection of privies and yards: There are many evils in connection with factories and industrial establishments, especially those where articles of food are handled, which should receive early attention. The want of provision for ordinary comforts—conveniencies for employes, common decency in behalf of females, safety against fire, ventilation and proper plumoing in public buildings; many of the hotels, the workshops and the various places of learning—call for prompt and adequate treatment. The work of the inspectors has created an earnest desire on the part of many citizens to give proper heed to this most important matter, but there are a large number who believe that this demand for sanitary reform is uncalled for.

Why is it called a free library, father?
Because everybody is compelled to subscribe.
What was the origin of it?
Ex-Ald. Hallam's vanity.
What good is it, father?
To increase the taxes and circulate sensational novels.
What are sensational novels?
Tales where shop-girls marry lords.
What is the use of reading them?
They make people discontented and negliment. rent.

Has the library any other purpose?
Yes, my son, it provides some good fat berths.
Do the subscribers manage it?
Nominally they do, but really they do not.
Who does, then?
Some people who pay very little towards it.
Is it very popular?
Wait until the tax bills come in.
How are the public benefitted by it?
Ask the trustees, my son.

WEDNESDAY MORNING, JAN. 30, 1884. The Grand Trunk Makes an Offer

It is reported at Ottawa that the Grand Trunk authorities, in the event of the gov. Canadian Pacific railway, would offer to take the road over and complete and run it upon terms much more advantageous to the country, and without asking the government for one cent advance or guarante

If this report proves to be true, it will probably create as great a sensation and cause as much controversy as the offer of the Howland syndicate did when the Stephen syndicate first received its charter and concessions. That the offer if really made, will be accepted is very improbable. In the first place, it is unlikely that the government will resume possession of the Canadian Pacific railway at this stage of the game, and in the second it is understood that it has already been definitely resolved to advance the syndicate $20,000,000 in dominion bonds.

The New York Times is considered the best paper published in the United States.

Just now it is running a series of letters from Washington dealing with national perils. The letter of Monday states that the most apparent and alarming danger threatening republican institutions is the use of money in politics and to promote or defeat legislation affecting private or corporate interests:

The evil is not of recent origin. Neither The evil is not of recent origin. Neither is it the habitat of certain sections. There is not a state in the union whose legislation has not been affected by the potential agency of money. There is not a legislative body in the United States to-day that cannot be influenced by money considerations. The employment of money in every election, whether township, county, municipal state or articologously. in every election, whether township, county, municipal, state or national, is universally admitted and generally justified. All parties, regular and irally justified. All parties, regular and irregular, no matter whether their watchword is "To the victors belong the spoils," or "Reform is necessary," alike levy their contributions, collect their campaign fund, and make their disbursements. All collections and disbursements are not for corrupt purposes. But even in securing the means required for these unobjectionable and laudable objects, individuals and parties very often assume direct or indirect obligagations evil in their tendencies and corrupting in their influences.

Now the greatest sinners in this whole sale purchasing of legislation are the corporations. All corporations confer benefits on society, but at the same time they live off the people. The natural tendency of their management is to exact from the community the last farthing that can be safely taken for services performed. The same is true of combinations of producers and manufacturers. Combination, and not competition, has become the life of trade in that country. The greed of capitalists, their anxiety to realize the largest possible profits in the shortest space of time, has induced a vicious and shortsighted policy in the management of cor porate and associated interests. Whenever a law is proposed that affects their interests they at once make up a fund to buy up the legislature that is to deal with

The Times points out that presidential candidates are bought by subscriptions to their election funds from the great cor. the York county council nipped the scheme porations; and that justice even is not administered by officials being bought off by great interests as in the trial of the star route ring. The distillers are now forming an immense corruption fund to carry certain legislation that they desire. And so it goes on. As the Times puts it, there are radical defects in the organization of society in the United States, and these are two: first, the organization which allows them, to make sure that the poisoner has half a dozen men in less than a score of years to accumulate hundreds of millions in their hands; and the second, the corrupt in meddling with the royal food it would and corrupting use of money in politics. Is there any lesson for Canada in these facts?

Lynch law is a blot upon our neighbor's justice. It is an interference with the proper course of the law so serious that it uld be punished as rigorously and as severely as murder itself. At no time is lynching justifiable. If the courts fail to do that which is right it is for the legislature to provide a remedy and not for private individuals. Of late years lynching across the border has become times when the western country was settled principally by the rough and ready miner, when adventurers overran it and when districts were not duly organized, there was some excuse for Justice Lynch presiding, but to-day there is none. The worst of it is that the illegal process is not even confined to sparsely populated sections, but is often put into times when the western country of it. A case occurred research at Curay, Sel., when a men and his wite were hanged by the mob for deing's little girl to death. It turns out the child was never done to death, and that the object of the lynchers was merely to murder the couple for the sake of robbery. There is now talk of more-lynching, but surely the authorities, who have been so long supine, will at lastexert their staength and see that the murderers have justice.

Our sympathies are entirely with the promoters of the Montreal carnival. We are confident that their enterprise will receive the reward that it merita, and most devortly wish that a little of their spirit would display itself in this rather too conservative and old-fashioned city. We think, however, that the minister of millitia took the proper course in denying the carnival management the second conditions of the canding the request they did. In the management showed very doubtful taste to the second control of the canding the carnival management showed very doubtful taste in making the request they did. In the second carnival was also my complete the country who will not represent the second and so the leading making the request they did. In the second carnival was considered the country who will not represent the second the first place a little thought would have considered the country who will not represent the second taken by the section taken by the saltimore and of the leading our nalists at both sides of politics. Those men did not make the line there will be few of the fifty million people of the country who will not represent a conservative organ of the present day and of the leading wither for the leading country and the second country who will not represent the second country and the second country and the second country and the second countr if the Baltimore and Ohio carries to a successful issue its present proposition. One given without establishing a most awkward and embarrassing precedent, and in the next they must know that the prospect of having to sleep under a military blanket could scarcely add to the attractions of the carnival. Application, it is now said, will be made to the Hudson Bay company, who have 10,000 blankets in store. The Hudson Proposition and Ohio carries to a successful issue its present proposition. One of the most grinding monopolies in the whole world is the Western Union telegraph company. And yet, after the manner of all tyrants, to the strong it is truculent and to the weak oppressive. If Jay Gould has o'er-toppled himself, some good will have been derived from the recent in the flesh to my knowledge. The pictures given of him in Grip are the nearest approach to any knowledge. And there his "phiziog," as depricted by the talented cartoonist, never failed to call up a thrill of disgust, reminding one as it did of the head and face of the miserable Guiteau. In the scurrility of his language, in his abusive ravings, in his miserable self-conceit, in his frequent unnecessary reference to what he have 10,000 blankets in store. The Hud- stock panics. son Bay company have a right to do what they like with their own, but the government have no license to loan public property for private purposes.

Repeated attention has been calle in The World to the indications that the worst of the commercial that the worst of the commercial depression has been passed and that the outlook is improving. Daily reports strengthen these signs. From across the border comes the news of a general resumption of operations in the iron and steel industries. Cotton appears almost alone to remain stagnant, but in Canada stocks even of that staple are being rapidly reduced, and if the American factories do not flood the market with under-priced goods doubtless from this out it too will share in the general improvement. The trouble with cotton, however, is that all over North America factories

The present dullness will have a tendency to check this too great development and to make capitalists hesitate before putting money into cotton mills. Thus a few months of quietness must result in things righting themselves. But the encouraging reports are not confined to the other side Our own wholesale merchants say that during the past week matters have taken almost a surprising turn for the better. Orders for spring goods are coming in well and remittances are at least fair.

As a specimen brick of the kind of stuff sent to Canadian journals through associing received last night:

A secret society has been formed in Pennsylvania town, the members of which are sworn not to buy French goods until the embargo is taken off American pork. This may be very patriotic, but it is also very silty. Even supposing such societies should become popular, it is doubtful if dealers would allow their patriotism to transcend the interests of their pockets, and all they would have to do to effect a sale and to appease the wrath of their irascible countrymen, would be to call the French rose by another name.

Several members of the York county council are anxious to urge the attorney general to have school trustees elected by ballot after the manner of township councillors. The present mode of electing trustees in the country acts very well and no expense whatever attends it.

The Street railway company want to extend their system out to Brockton but in the bud yesterday. The farmers say they have too many wagon wheels wrenched off in the city to wish to introduce the wagon wrecking monster into the

No trouble is ever taken to find out the leaders in this tyrannous enfercing of mob law, but the coroner and jury merely decide the victim was killed by parties and that is the last in the country. nearly every large town or city in the kingdom. There is room for it to spread to Toronto and Canada generally.

In the case of the Tonquin question least, "no news" cannot be called "good news." There has been a prolonged interruption in the intelligence; but the channels of communication being again opened do not hold out any fresh hope of a peaceful settlement. On the contrary, the situation is even more warlike than ever. While the French are pushing up the Red river and also to the northeast, towards Bacninh, they are being sadly harrassed in the rear. Nam-dinh, one of the first places in the delta to be occupied by them, has been exposed to a determined attack, as has also an outpost in Hanoi, the base of their operations. The attackers are described as "pirates;" but, if we may believe the French reports, the delta has nothing else but pirates for inhabitants. Still more serious is the attitude of the Chinese, who are vigorous in the fortifying of towns and the organization of armies.

W. H. Higgins and the Editor of the Mail. To the Editor of the Whitby Chronicle. SIR: The editor of the Mail has, I find thought proper to make me the subject of some bitter personal attacks during my absence in the old country. But the popular beefeater is a myth. There are still yeomen

How the discovery was made it is at present impossible to say, but it is to be hoped it was without the sacrifice of even the

His friends and enemies, if he still has nemies, must alike admit that he was a very remarkable man. Whatever he did was more or less successful. His poetry has been severely criticised. His novels were assailed as pinchbeck, first by superfine persons then by the majority of those whose opinion on literary subjects is respected. Thackeray caricatured him mercilessly, and with consuminate dexterity. A Bon Gaultier Ballad depicted him as "howling melancholy homage to the moon." Mr. Tennyson described him as a "bandbox," and as "the padded man that wears the stays," and asked him, in verse that deserves to live:

Warden Davis took the chair, and after routine a letter was read from Robert Roddy, city clerk, fixing this afternoon at 2 o'clock for the meeting of the joint committees on the court house matter.

A petition was read from many rate-payers asking that a new concession line be opened up from Queen street, Sunnyside, to the Humber, on the north side of the railway, so as to avoid the crossing so dangerous to life and property.

Mr. Turner gave notice that all toll

Mr. Turner gave notice that all toll gates on the county roads be abolished as soon as the debt on the same be paid. Mr. Porter gave notice to move for a committee to negotiate with the several road companies of the county to find out on what terms they will remove their toll gates or on what terms they will sell.

Dr. McConnell moved that the council state the terms on which they will permit the Toronto street railway company to extend its line from the foot of Dufferin street to the village of Brockton. The motion was lost by an overwhelming majority.

Dr. McConnell introduced a by-law to confirm a by-law of Brockton in regard to the opening up of a new street in that village. The by-law went through all its readings and was adopted.

The warden, Mr. Richardson, reeve of Scarboro, and Maxim Jones, reeve of Whitchurch, were appointed commissioners on county property for the current year.

resolve itself into committee of the whole at 11 o'clock to-day to receive members of the city council to confer with them as to choosing a sight for a new court house.

Mr. Yuill, seconded by Mr. Vanzant, moved that the committee instructed to wait on the attorney general in re the reduction in the number of members in the county councils be also instructed to urge on him the necessity of having all school trustees elected by ballot annually. The motion was withdrawn.

At the evening session W. H. Doel of Riverside addressed the council in favor of the incorporation of that village. He strongly opposed the annexation of the village with Toronto. He charged that the city in that case would only make make Riverside her nuisance ground. The city would swallow them up and they would be helpless. He strongly urged the county council to pass a bylaw to incorporate them as a separate and independent corporation. He was followed by Dr. Spiers, who opposed incorporation and denied that the city had ever made a cesspool of Riverside. P. McDonald and J. W. Potter spoke in favor of incorporation while E. A. McDonald, W. Barrett and Capt. Hood urged the council to have none of it. The council then had a desultory debate on the matter, the upshot of which was that the matter got the hoist till the June session.

From a feeling that the lynching was justified comes the belief that the outrage was the a feeling that the lynching was justified comes the belief that the outrage was the result of a murderous plot by a few men for mercenary motives. At first it was thought that the best men in Ouray took part in the lynching. It now transpires that only the lowest element participated. It is said that the aid of Judge Lynch will again be invoked to settle the matter. The most of the lynchers seem to be known. No sooner had the out of the insolvency of Cooke, who lately got into trouble at Gravenhurst. It is claimed that a few days before Cooke went into insolvency he made over to his father-in-law. Thos. Langton, notes to the value of $2300 without value received, and Langton admits receiving the notes prior to the assignment being made, but alleges that they are held by him for monies lent to Cooke.

When the vigilantes broke into the room of the lynchers fact was not at first known, but it has leaked out from one of the lynchers. When the vigilantes broke into the room in which the prisoners were confined, Mrs. Cuddigan was in bed. They dragged her into the street. She had on nothing but a night-dress and her stockings. They pulled the stockings from her feet and made her walk barefooted over the snow and ice, just to see how she would like the treatment which she had forced upon little Mary Matthews. They led her thus over the ice and snow for a distance of nearly half a mile, then, when they strung her half a mile, then, when they strung her up, her person was exhibited to the gaze of the lynchers, and she was subjected to the vilest and most nameless wrongs.

Exactly a hundred years ago the beautial Miss Prentice lived in this square, and ere Nelson saw her and became so deserately enamored that it was found necesary to take him on shipboard by main force. If he had married this Canadian beauty and left the British naval service, the record of Trafalgar might have been very different, and Napoleon, lord of the sea, might have possessed himself of all Europe. Near this historic square, where the hero heart was made to suffer, even royal blood has been shed. When King William IV was a young man, bearing the blood has been shed. When King William IV. was a young man, bearing the title of duke of Clarence and the rank of a subaltern of the fleet, his ship was sent out to Quebec, and the prince, rambling about on the shore became so bewitched with a fair Canadian girl that he followed her home. But her father was a man of spirit, and resented the insult so keenly, that he gave the young officer a sound horsewhipping. The very stones commemorate the remarkable incidents of this locality. A certain M. Phillibert, who had suffered wrong from Bigot, the French intendant, had an effigy of a dog French intendant, had an effigy of a dog carved on a large block of stone (which is now in the facade of the postoffice), and under it a rhymed lampoon directed against the corrupt official. This block was inserted in the front of his house; but soon ofterwards the daring citizen was slain by afterwards the daring citizen was slain by an officer of the garrison.
