Russians Claim Partial Success in Gigantic Struggle on Vistula.

Canadian Press Despatch. LONDON, Nov. 20, 9.30 p.m.-Two big battles, either or both of which may have decisive results, are being fought in Poland, and a third conflict of almost as great importante is proressing in East Prussia. Of the three battles, that which now at its height between the Vistula and Warthe rivers, and in which the Russians tonight claim partial success is exciting the greatest interest. The Germans, it is believed, have brought up by their line of strategic railways in Posen and Silesia at least half a milion men in an effort to break the Russian line at this point. Weather conditions, the frozen ground and the situation of the battlefield, favor a really decisive battle to a degree which has not existed on any other field of the present war.

Gains in East Prussia.

The other battle in Poland is taklin on the east. The strongest fortifications are approaching completion, guns of the heaviest calibre have been mounted, large quantities of supplies have been accumulated, and a great bridge has been newly erected at the confluence of the Rivers Warthe and Oder, where are fortified positions of great strength.

Military patrols prevent the examination of the progress of the work. There is now almost a complete absence of infantry attacks in the conflict in the western arena, and the artillery fighting is of much less violence. All that region about laixmude thru which the Yser canal passes is inundated and the only serious fighting appears to be taking place at present to the south of Ypres, where cannonading of considerable intensity is in propersist.

The greatest loser by Richardson's transactions is the Dominion Sugar Company of Wallaceburg, whose ardson's transactions is the Dominion Sugar Company of Wallaceburg, whose agent he was. Richardson had received 868 bags and 250 boxes of sugar, the proceeds from which he admits having appropriated to his own use, involving a sum of upwards of $5000. Smaller amounts from his real estate clients were also appropriated to his own use. On charges of forgery Richardson was discharged, but sentence on the other counts has been deferred for eight days. Since his preliminary hearing in October. Richardson has been out on $10,000 bail in four sureties, which was furnished by his friends. This sudden termination of his business affairs was a great surprise to the city, as Richa great surprise to the city, as Rich-ardson has enjoyed the greatest confi-dence of all classes of citizens, being prominent in church and social circles.

To the Ratepayers of North Toronto

Notwithstanding the fact that a large deputation of ratepayers waited on the city council on Monday last, the 16th instant, requesting that they withhold the rescinding of the Yonge street widening bylaw for a space of three weeks in order to give our association an opportunity of going into this question further with the possibility of making arrangements with the Yonge street property owners in regard to payment owing to the financial stringency which exists at the present time, the city council "in their wisdom" have repealed the bylaw. It is quite evident, if the ratepayers of the north section of the city expect to receive their just dues, that they will have to take a decided stand at once. Now that the elections are coming on, we will have our present representatives who intend to seek re-election and also would-be aldermen attending our Saturday night meetings to solicit our vote and influence. This being the case, it seems to me that a golden opportunity is at the present time knocking at our door, and I would like to see every rate. payer assume his responsibility by attending our meetings.

The regular meeting of the association will be held tonight (Saturday) in the town hall, Eglinton, at the hour of eight o'clock, and every ratepayer is requested to be present. At this meeting, the association will be asked to suggest a plan of action to be adopted forthwith. Let us get together, and I feel that with the united efforts of all the ratepayers residing within the boundaries of the old Town of North Toronto, we can make our votes count on the 1st of January next.

At no particular place does it bring home the fighting spirit of the war, but it deals with Red Cross Society work and the horrors and sacrifices which come after the struggle. The author has put a lot of work into the play, but in some cases he has falled to take advantage of situations, which stage mechanics could have made realistic. However, the play appeals to the emotional public and its martial and patriotic spirit makes it specially effective at this time.

The Belgian Nurse," a three-act drama by Canadian author J. P. Buschien, opened at Massey Hall last inght before a large audience. There is nothing extraordinary about the play, but the pathos and human interest grips of the woundering. At no particular place does it bring home the fighting spirit of the war, but it deals with Red Cross Society work and the last act, the end the announcement of the fall in the end the announcement of the fall of Berlin sweeps the cares from the soldier's mind and he becomes the human and loving husband as before.

Bugene Frazier as Kane, a wounded Canadian soldier, and Louise Corbin as martial and patriotic spirit makes it specially effective at this time.

The idea is very good. The pretty nurse is shown first on the battle field and her care for the wounded soldier lays the foundation of a love affair. The second act is laid in Montreal. The wounded soldier returns minus an arm and discovers the Belgian nurse who attended him. In the last act, the war lure has again begun to grip the soldier and make him restless for the grim strife. The change makes itself apparent in his activities and the play but it some cases the strong and lean cut. Campbell Duncan appears in a dual role. The substance sticks, so enhances the beauty of the face as fine eyebrows and long, curling, dark lashes. Clipping the lashes to make them grow longer and stronger was long ago abandoned as worse than useless, and smart women of today will risk no such use a perfectly harmless but very rare and elicate substance known to druggists as mennaline. Curling Hair in Damp Weather.

Damp weather has no terrors for the woman who has adopted the silmerine method of keeping her hair in curl. The effect is more lasting than where the hot waving iron is used, and yet the hair is done up. Besides, the hair has the experance of being more naturally wavy and curling, and the application is really beneficial. Most any druggist can supply the liquid silmerine, and a couple of gunces will be sufficient. A small quantity should be sufficient. By DR. LEONARD KEENE HIRSHBERG.

HERE is a cu rious, well nigh general, misunder standing, at least among non-medical persons with regard to the words "acute" and "chronic." Yet the term "chronic" comes from chronos, "Old Father Time," as in chronometer. It means of some duration. A chronic malady endures, while an acute one is sharp, short and decisive, one way or the other. As applied to bronchitis, chronic hardly means as long and perpetual a distemper as gout or curvature of the spine. Ra ther is it a series of assaults of the inflamed, congest ed pipes which lead to the lungs, and known to anatom ists as "bronchi" or bronchial tubes. If bacteria, poor ventilation, lack of fresh and pure DE HIRSHBERG air, and the other irritants which cause an acute infection or bronchitis remain nearby, it is conceivable that many spells of acute bronchitis will ultimately become fused into the chronic variety.

Talking It Over. W HERE are you going?" I said to my wife as she turned abruptly my wife as she turned abruptly toward the hotel elevator. "I-I'm simply so nervous," she said, back to the table."

I halted in dismay.
"Mary," I exclaimed, "do you mean to say that simply because we were frols enough to get up and join an ex-hibition dance, without realizing it you're going to curtail dinner. It seems rather difficult tonight for me even to gratify normal pangs of hunger.", any minute,"

"Well, for heaven's sake," I implored, "don't gry here in the hotel corridor. We'll get upstairs if you must."

Now the whole truth is that Mary was on such a nervous mettle after going thru a dance intended to be solely an exhibition dance by paid profes-sionals that she had lost her head and dreaded to go back to the table, the cynosure of all eyes even if those eyes were frankly admiring and all hands had been applauding. But. wo-manlike, she must needs attribute her nervous agitation to my bark at being dragged into a decidedly spectacular position.

We proceeded upstairs, and Mary, tet her cry. I know of no more helpless feeling than that engendered by a woman's unreasoning tears. I couldn't for the life of me make out why my wife was crying. Whether it was because we had made a mistake and butted into an exhibition dance thru which we had swing most creditably or had ted into an exhibition dance thru which we had swung most creditably, or because the dining room had burst into a roar of applause as Mary appeared or because the professional maxixers had been inclined to resent our intrusion 2.30? "Peter," she quavered, "that's one of the most aggravating things you do— to stand perfectly quiet without say-ing a word! /If you'd only say some-thing! Sometimes when you stand that way without a single word I get so nervous I could scream!"

"What shall I say?" I enquired.
"Shall I tell you I'm sorry you were so eager to dance that you dragged me on to a floor reserved for a professional exhibition?"

But Mary was crying wildly again, and I crossed to the bed.

"Mary." I said contritely. "I'm a brute. I admit it. I'm awfully sorry you feel so badly, but I don't see why. We did butt into an exhibition dance, but you danced better than the chiffon girl, and the dining room knew it. That was why they gave you such an uproar of applause. And that's why the two professional dancers rather glared when you appeared. Likely they thought you were some rival professional who'd butted in merely to take away some of the dazzle of the dance."

Mary sat up and wiped her eyes.

"They certainly did applaud when we came off the floor," she admitted. "But I was so nervous Peter, and I we came off the floor," she admitted.

"But I was so nervous Peter, and I was so afraid you'd do something wrong that I thought for a while I'd faint. Truly I did."

"Well," I soothed, "we were both on our mettle, and we came thru all right. That's all we need think of now. Now powder your nose like a dear girl and come on back to the dining room. I'm as hungry as a bear. What with fool waiters and exhibition dances my dinner seems about doomed." Mary powdered her nose and we finished our dinner in peace.

SATURDAY MORNING, NOV. 21.

The New Brunswick Situation We would be sorry to do any injustice to Premier Flemming of New Brunswick, but it appears from the report of a royal commission of his own selection that he has been guilty of grave improprieties, to say the least. A large sum of money was extorted from the holders of timber for human sorrow and misery. limits with the knowledge and approval of the prime minister. It is was criminal no matter with whom it originated or by whom it was adopted. It is true that the enemies of Mr. Flemming charged that he must have been seeking to enrich himself personally, because he could have required no campaign fund immediately lieve that party zeal, not personal expenses of the appeal, so that prompted the extertion. Nor do we think that Mr. Flemming will better his position in the least by the somewhat remarkable challenge he is said to have issued to Mr. F. B. Carvell, the Liberal member of parliament for Carleton, N.B. The press despatches say:

From a legal standpoint, however, it

The proposal seems as unconvincing and unsatisfactory as the old "trial by battle," at common law, which permitted the man accused of murder to prove his innocence by clubbing to death the nearest relative of the deceased. If there is to be an appeal from the hidges to the electorate, that appeal should be passed upon by all the people of New Brunswick. It could not be settled by a khaki campaign in Carleten County, in which the senate, the dreadnoughts and many other subjects might overlap or exclude the real issue of Mr. Flemming's guilt or innocence from the minds of the people.

We will therefore have a system entirely paid for by one government and exclusively operated by another government, yet owned by a private corporation, which made a fortune on construction and will get all the net profits of operation in perpetuity. The bald charge that Mr. Flemming "shock down" one of the contractors of this road for $2000, the fully sustained by the finding of the commission, is so repulsive that we refrain from commenting upon it until we have seen a fuller version of the commission's report and have read the statement just issued by the prime

We hope there is no foundation for the report that Mr. Flemming will insist upon remaining as the first servant of the crown in New Brunswick and the actual head of the state until the meeting of the legislature, composed almost entirely of his own supporters. > The Fire Commissionership No one supposed that when the reorganization of the fire department was proposed the net result of the whole movement was to leave things exactly as they were, with the exception of raising the salaries of those chiefly responsible for the condition complained about.

When the board of control nomin ates Chief Thompson for the position of fire commissioner, unless it is merely with the object of paying a compliment at the close of his career o a man who has done splendid work in his time, the controllers must be aware that they are going directly in the face of every responsible and

What was wanted in the reorganiz ation of the department was an entirely new order of things, new men new methods, a new point of view It is impossible to teach old dogs new tricks, and unless the nomination is to be taken in a complimentary sense to Chief Thompson the board of control will learn that they have entirely failed to interpret the wishes of the citizens.

PETROGRAD, Nov. 20, via London.—From reports received here of the naval engagement off Sebastopol between Russian and Turkish warships it is apparent that the former German cruisers Goeben and Breslau, which now filly the Turkish flag, were bound for Yalta with the intention to bombard the summer residence of Emperor Nicholas at Livadia, just outside Yalta.

The Breslau took no part in the fighting, standing a long way off dur-

In the Central Y. M. C. A. Five-pin Bowling League, the Woodgreens took three straight from the lowly Dormitories, winning the first game by four-teen pins, and the second by six. However, the last game was a runaway for the winners, when their heavy artillery opened fire to the tune of 165, 173 and 136, aided by the somewhat steady sharp-shooting of Fiddler and Philpott. The Triangle team was not up to its standard. However, Captain Carrick, together with Dowler and Sam Jones, managed to take the odd game from the Carltons, thanks to Stone's generosity and Dowlers good shooting in the last frame of the last game. The Eatons also took the publication of the quartxamination results, Rev. Nearly Half a Million Dollars is Sum Now Involved.

Canadian Press Despatch.

MONTREAL, Nov. 20.—The alleged utterances of Ald. Vandelac, and their subsequent publication in the columns of a local journal, form the basis of another suit entered by the Salada Tea Co.—or by Peter Charles Larkin, who is doing business under this name and style. Mr. Larkin, after having sued Ald. Vandelac and La Presse for $100,000 each, has now entered suit against Le Canada for $250,000. The basis of suit in all cases is the allegation that, subsequent to the outbreak of the war, the Government of Canada forced the plaintiff to reduce the price of his tea.

This allegation is said to have been made by Ald. Vandelac in the course of a public meeting, held at the St. Jean Canadian Press Despatch.

The Banks and the British War Loan

The Canadian banks have given substantially to the Canadian Patriotic Fund, and now they have decided to take up among them a million of funds of the new British war loan, and a cable of a subscription of that amount has already been forwarded to Lendon. The banks will have to take lower interest on the mency, but they will be giving a splendid testimonial to the unity of the empire and to the loyalty of Canada. The banks in the other dominions will likely take a similar course.

Mining Exchange Open Today.

Following the decision made last Monday by the members of the Standard Stock Exchange a regular session will be held this morning. This is the first Saturday session since the closing last July.

IMPERIAL BANK RUMORS. The street gossip is still busy with the changes in the Imperial Bank consequent on the death of Colone Wilkle. Senator Jastray, the wice-president, is frequently mentioned a the new president; and, as stated The World already, Mr. E. Hay, as sistant general manager, is spoken of as the new general manager. A prominent bank manager stated yester day that he would not be surprised if Mr. W. Moffatt, the present chief inspector, became general manager with the consent of Mr. Hay; and another man of intimate knowledge says that one of the things suggested was that Mr. Peleg Howland, who is at present a director and who is in every way qualified, may become not only president, but general manager as well, with increased duties assign-ed to Mr. Hay and Mr. Moffatt.

THE BANKS AND THE WEST. The weakest spot financially in Canada is in the west, and the government at Ottawa under the ministe of finance has had communication with the banks in regard to strengthening any company or corporation that may be in need of ready money. One loan company of Vancouver was taken care of by a pool raised among all the banks to the extent of half a million, plus an advance already made by a leading bank. This will see the company over its stringency and the banks at the same time be sure of getting their money back. One or two others may have to be taken care of in the same way. A local bank in the west will either have to be asthe west will either have to be as-sisted or liquidated. Inasmuch as all Corn ruled lower thruout the sesbank notes are legat tender by the sion, influenced by weather adapted recent war legislation at Ottawa, and as this bank is believed to have encugh of its own notes on hand to repay depositors, it could do so and leave the bank note redemention fund to eventually take care of them. The government and the banks may, however, agree to have one of their number but out the bank and liquidate at accounts, with a proportionate asits accounts, with a proportionate assessment on themselves of any loss that might ultimately be entailed, as MORE SHEEP AND was the case of the Ontario Bank when it was taken over by the Bank of Montreal. But the important thing is that the minister of finance and the banks Market Returns for Week The Canadian Bank the situation from any possible panic. Canadian Press Despatch.

CHICAGO, Nov. 20.—Noticeable lessening of export buying tended to-day to weaken wheat. The market closed heavy 3-8c to 1-2c net decline.
Corn finished 1-8c to 1-4c down, oats ranging from a setback of be to a rise of 71-2c.

It was current gossip that notwithstanding European bids for wheat continued numerous, holders here were not anxious to sell until a larger stock had been accumulated in Chicago. Country offerings were small both in winter and spring wheat sections, and the primary receipts during five days this week were shown to have been 1,900,000 bushels less than for the corresponding days last week, althe larger than a year ago. Dealers also were made cautious by the first pressure from the Argentine crop, Buenos Ayres being reported as having offered at Liverpool to undersell canada.
