BIG OCEAN LINER PILED ON ROCKS

Elder Dempster Steamer Jebba a Total Loss Near Prawle Point England-- Passengers Were All Saved -- The Seuvic Disaster.

LONDON, March 18--Almost within sight of the wrecked White Star steamer Seuvic, the Elder Dempster line steamer Jebba, from Calabar, Lagos, and other West African ports, for Plymouth and Liverpool, ran on the rocks under the cliffs near Prawle point early this morning. Her 70 passengers, many of whom were soldiers invalided home from the West Coast of Africa, and her crew were safely taken ashore by the breeches-buoy. Heavy seas are breaking over the steamer, rendering the life-boats which are standing by the vessel, useless. The Jebba will prove a total loss.

LONDON, March 18--Details received this morning of the disaster to the White Star steamer Seuvic, homeward bound from Sydney, N. S. W., via Capetown, with nearly 800 passengers and crew on board, show that she struck the Brandis rocks close under the Lizard lighthouse, at about 10.30 last night, and will probably be a total wreck. Life boats and tugs from the Lizard and Falmouth soon reached the scene and together with the Seuvic's own boats, commenced landing the passengers. The women and children were first sent ashore. There were no fewer than 100 children on board, many of them being babies in arms, whom the local fishermen and their wives lifted out of the boats and carried through the surf to the nearby cottages.

Steamers, some of which are described as being large, are ashore near Rye, Dun- goneson, Dover and Cuckmere. The vessel ashore of Cuckmere is the British steamer Newcastle from Novorossiysk. Black Sea. Her position is serious.

THAW CASE TO JURY MONDAY

Expected That Evidence and Arguments of Counsel Will Be Finished This Week.

NEW YORK, March 18--When the Thaw trial opened today the question of admitting the Hummel affidavit was taken up. The outlook is that this sensational document will be admitted, read and spread on the record. This work, it is expected, will be concluded at the morning session, and will probably complete the state's rebuttal.

Both District Attorney Jerome and the Thaw lawyers seemed to be agreed yesterday, unless something unexpected presented itself, Mr. Delmas would begin calling his witnesses in rebuttal this afternoon. Evelyn Thaw will probably be the first witness called by him. Her testimony will be a contradiction of that given by Hummel regarding the affidavit. Whether Dr. Britton D. Evans, Charles Wagner, the defence's experts, will be called again, the Thaw lawyers did not seem sure yesterday, although it is their intention to call Dr. Gramme Hammond and Dr. Smith E. Jelliffe, and possibly three or four other alienists.

The jury's lawyers expect that the case will go to the jury by Monday night next. Further examination and cross-examination of witnesses, the believe, will take three days. Mr. Delmas will want a full day for his summing up and Mr. Jerome the same amount of time. In that case Justice Fitzgerald will probably adjourn the court until the following Monday morning. His charge is very likely to take up a whole session at least.

W. J. BRYAN'S EULOGY OF THE TRADES UNIONS IN AMERICA

Speaking at Chicago, He Says That Trades Unions Have Done More Good For the United States Than Any Other Force in the Country.

CHICAGO, March 18--Wm. J. Bryan, at the closing conference yesterday, in connection with the industrial exhibit, expressed the opinion that trades unions have done more good for this country than any other force in the country. Although he disclaimed any scientific knowledge of the question, Mr. Bryan's remarks were received with satisfaction by the audience of union men from the Federation of Labor, who attended the meeting.

"The unions have made some mistakes, but they have accomplished more good than any other force in this country. He paid a tribute especially to the organizations of women in this connection.

"When we consider that through trades unions, wages have been increased, hours shortened, and comfort afforded the working men in greater measure," he said, "I think we have a right to say the benefits resulting from these unions cannot be over-estimated. Perhaps no other force

MINISTERS' MEETINGS

Baptist and Methodist Clergymen Held Weekly Meetings This Morning.

The United Baptist ministers met this morning, Rev. A. B. Cobos presiding. Those present were Revs. E. C. Jenkins, P. J. Stackhouse, A. J. Prosser, W. Camp, Gibson Swin, W. W. McMaster, J. Harry King, and Dr. Manning.

The reports of the various churches were received and the resignation of Rev. P. J. Stackhouse, from the pastorate of the Tabernacle Baptist church, was announced. His resignation will take effect the first Sunday in May, after which he will proceed to Campbellton, where he will occupy the pulpit of the United Baptist church, in succession to Rev. B. H. Noble, who will become pastor of Victoria street United Baptist church, next end, where he will succeed the present incumbent, Rev. Gibson Swin, who will take up his residence in the north end and do supply work during the summer months.

Rev. Swin has been in poor health for some little time. Rev. Mr. Stackhouse has been spending a week in Westchester, N. S., where he has been assisting Rev. Mr. Keirstead in a series of special meetings, as a result of which thirty persons professed conversion. Rev. Mr. Jenkins reported one baptism yesterday morning.

Rev. A. J. Prosser reported that he was enjoying his work as pastor of Port Maitland, N. S., where he has a large congregation, an excellent church and comfortable parsonage.

The W. C. Camp read an interesting paper in which he reviewed Dr. Dale's work on the "Attainment." The Methodist ministers met this morning in regular session, Rev. Neil McLaughlin presiding. Those present were Revs. Dr. Chown, Dr. Spragg, T. J. Dienstadt, and Jas. H. D. Mars and G. M. Young of St. Stephens. The reports of the different churches were received and Rev. Dr. Chown spoke at some length on various questions pertaining to his office as secretary of the temperance and moral reform department of the Methodist church in Canada.

CAME AFTER MANY DAYS

Sergt. Baxter and Ex-Policeman White Receive Their Reward for Capturing Francis and Phelps.

Two men were made happy today by the receipt of substantial cheques. They were Sergeant George Baxter, of the police force, and ex-policeman William White. Assistant Post Office Inspector W. C. Whittaker this morning presented each of the men with a substantial cheque, which he had received from the U. S. post office department at Washington, through the department at Ottawa, as a reward for their services in capturing the two desperadoes, Minot St. Clair Francis, alias Jack Ashton and William Phelps, on January 18th, 1906.

It will be remembered that Francis and Phelps were the men who broke into the post office at Red Beach, Maine on January 16, last year and shot the postmaster there. They were also supposed to have been implicated in the robbery of the post office at Canterbury.

The officers here received word that they were supposed to have come this way and were asked to keep a look-out for them. About half an hour later Sergt. Baxter and Officer White arrested them after some little trouble, near Market Square.

The officers were highly commended for the prompt and efficient manner in which they accomplished the arrest. Though the reward has been a long time in coming, it will be very acceptable to the two men.

THE TIMES NEW REPORTER

EASTER PROBLEM SOLVED. Mr. Peter Binks spent some time this morning in front of a window where there was a very artistic display of Easter Millinery.

"I thank you," said Mr. Binks fervently. "Your suggestion is admirable. And, after all, my egg will be as real as the flowers on Mrs. Binks's Easter hat. You have solved the problem."

A few good calculators were wanted at the board of trade rooms this evening, to count the number of different opinions expressed on the subject of civic administration. As each man present is expected to have several, the enumeration will be no easy task, and may take considerable time. It may not be possible to tabulate the result for some days.

Mr. Hiram Hornbeam's green necktie was a conspicuous feature in the country market this morning, but the man who tried to blame him about the price of eggs did not discover any green in Hiram's optic.

The sun is quite busy today, opening the gutters. We are greatly indebted to the sun. But for the fact that it works it might be placed on the navy-roll.

The Viper of Milan. A ROMANCE OF LOMBARDY. BY MARJORIE BOWEN.

(Continued.) The soldier laughed with a grimace. It was the freedom of one whose services are valuable enough, even when well paid, to permit him to bear himself with small respect to his employers. For the mercenaries were a power; the transfer of their services could ruin states and lose towns, and even Visconti had to pay them well and concede license to their leaders; for upon them, to a great extent, his sovereignty rested, and Alberic da Saluzzo could take more liberties than any. He was a famous captain, noted for his skill in wars and turbulence in peace, a man with no country and no honor, endowed with dauntless courage and endurance, of vast rapacity and of all the cruelty his age allowed. Making no way for Tisio, and motioning curtly to his men, he strode up the stairs, a stalwart figure, over dressed in splendid armor, and swung into the ante-chamber of the Visconti's audience-room. It was deserted. Alberic, astonished, passed on the threshold, looking around in amazement for the crowd—courtiers, servants, seekers, soldiers—wont to fill it. Opposite was the closed door of the Visconti's room, but even Alberic dare not knock there unannounced. He was looking—was he to seek enlightenment, when a dark form he had passed unnoticed in the distant shadows of the great room rose, and he recognized, as it advanced, the secretary's stooping figure. "What has happened here?" demanded the soldier. "Is there need to ask?" answered Giannotto. "The Duke has had the room cleared. He will see no one." Alberic half-laughed, and shrugged his shoulders. "The madness is on him at Count von Schulmbourg's escape. Is that it?" he asked. "But art even thou excluded?" he continued in surprise, for Giannotto was the one man who could come and go unannounced, indeed, the one man who knew Visconti's secrets. The secretary smiled, the slow smile that men's lips learned in the Visconti palace. "It is best for the Duke to be alone, and for me that he should be," he said. "The news that Count Conrad has occupied bath called him; it came at a bad moment, too, following on those parchments twice found within the grounds"—he paused. "Thou wert sent to find the writer, or the one who put them there; art thou successful?" Alberic shook his head. "I return as I went. Beyond finding that doorway forced in the wall, messenger, there is no token whatsoever of how the Count escaped. But after so long a fat messenger," Alberic showed his teeth, "it is not likely that it was alone." "The one who aided him is the one who inscribed those parchments." "I would seem so," answered Alberic. "We have searched anew among the huts from which we drove Count Conrad's German dogs on the threshold of the latest there was this." He drew out of his breast a parchment, a long narrow strip, screwed across in irregular writing, and handed it to Giannotto. "What does it say?" he asked. Giannotto glanced at it hastily, his eyes on the Duke's door.

doors' hast thou come too to dare me with thy folly?" His eyes blazed, his hands worked. Tisio, dazed and affrighted, let fall Graziosa's bracelet. The page stooped to recover it. "What hast thou there?" cried Visconti with sudden change of tone; and the page, quivering for his life, handed the bracelet on bent knee. Visconti studied it one second, then, with a sound of fury that sent the boy crouching back against the wall, control let him. His eyes lighted on Tisio, and in maniacal fury he seized him by the shoulder and shook him as though he were a rag. "How camest thou by this?" he yelled. "How came this bracelet in the Visconti palace? Answer me!" Tisio whimpered, but had no reply, till, with a shout, Visconti flung him from him with such force that, save for Valentine, he would have fallen; then he turned upon the page who knelt by trembling. "Answer me!" he cried furiously. "Answer! Where got the fool this?" He held the bracelet out. And the sight of those torn ruffles around his long white hands made the boy's face pale as death. "Indeed, my lord," he gasped, "a girl, whom my lord Tisio—met by the western gate." "Give it him!" shrieked Visconti. "Ah, the three of thee shall pay dearly for this ruffing with me!" My lord "he took," he said, and he swept to give it." "She went to give it," said Visconti slowly. There was a pause. When he spoke again, his tone was calmer. "Then he shall be slain for taking it," he said, flashing a look on Tisio, who, huddled in the chair, moaned with distress as he leaned against the wall. (To be continued.)

Loss of Appetite

Is common when the blood needs purifying and enriching, for then the blood fails to give the digestive organs the stimulus necessary for the proper performance of their functions. Hood's Sarsaparilla is pre-eminently the medicine to take. It makes the blood pure and rich, and strengthens all the digestive organs.

"I have used Hood's Sarsaparilla as a tonic, and it has done me good. My brother-in-law used it for cholera on his face and was perfectly cured. He has not been troubled since." HAROLD PARKER, Peterborough, Ont.

NEW WARSHIP FOR BRITAIN

Much Secrecy Over the Latest Fighting Machine.

London, March 16.—By special order of the admiralty the greatest secrecy is being maintained concerning the details of the construction of the largest cruiser in the world. The cost of the indomitable is approximately $8,750,000. While ostensibly a cruiser, her actual status has not been definitely set forth, and it is believed she approaches nearer to a battleship in armor and armament. Sir William Pearce, chairman of the Fairfield Company, the builders of the other warship, presided at a luncheon after the launching. He said he was not permitted to give any information regarding the cruiser, and that she must remain a mystery until the official trials, or until the admiralty saw fit to take the public into its confidence. Rear Admiral Boscawen, who spoke at the luncheon said he was confident that the indomitable, if occasion arises, would carve out for herself a record that would live in the annals of naval history. The two sister ships will be launched within a fortnight.

BECOMING AND PICTUREQUE To tilt it off the face and the front hair very prettily, and a mixture of roses and foliage looking as though simply dropped by accident on the hat. A thick bow and many long ends of black velvet ribbon float from the back of the chaparral, the rose trimming, too, falling over the brim in longer trails to the shoulders and making a mode that, while it is new on this side of the water, has been received with much consideration in the fashionable winter-cities that centre social and fashionable life along the Mediterranean coast.

Five Years

Have Been Spent Perfecting Ligozone. Will You Try It--Free?

Even when Ligozone was new the results were astounding. It seemed almost incredible that anything could do, in difficult cases, what this product did. But five years of experience, with millions of users, have done a great deal to perfect it. The product has been studied by many physicians and chemists, including some of the world's highest authorities. As a result, better standards have been evolved and adopted. Millions know from experience that the old product did. Will you learn now the power of the new?

What Ligozone Is.

Ligozone is a tonic-germicide, the virtues of which are derived solely from oxide gases. No alcohol, no narcotic, no thing but gas enters its composition. The process of making requires large apparatus, and consumes 14 days' time. The object is to combine the gases with a liquid so that they may be carried to the system. The result is a germicide so certain that we publish with every bottle an offer of $1,000 to a disease germ that Ligozone cannot kill. It destroys them because germs are of vegetable origin. But to the body Ligozone is exhilarating, vitalizing, purifying. That is its main distinction. Common germicides are poisons when taken internally. They are impossible, for they destroy the tissues as well as the germs. That is why medicine proves so helpless.

POPE PRAISES AMERICAN STAND IN FRENCH CRISIS

Rome, March 17.—Pope Pius today received in private audience the Right Rev. Thomas O'Gorman, Bishop of Sioux Falls, South Dakota, which is in the archdiocese of St. Paul. During the conversation Pope Pius said that Archbishop Ireland's discourse last December on "Church and State in France" was a strong presentation of the Franco-Vatican conflict. "Although I know it caused some displeasure," his holiness said, "Archbishop Ireland was correct as to the remote causes of the conflict when he said that the French clergy and leading Catholics failed by not following the advice of my illustrious predecessor." Pope Pius generally praised the American episcopate for its stand on the question between France and the church. He spoke in the strongest way concerning the expulsion from the France of Monsignor Montagnini, secretary of the papal nunciature.

The Pope spoke of the church in the Philippines, and compared the attitude of the United States there with that of France, saying that the action of the United States was the way governments should settle mixed political and religious questions. His holiness asked Monsignor O'Gorman about President Roosevelt and expressed pleasure to hear that he was satisfied with the solution of the Philippine question. He also requested Mr. O'Gorman to present his regards to President Roosevelt. The bishop asked Pope Pius to receive Mrs. Douglas Robinson during her visit to the city. The Pontiff answered: "Naturally I shall be delighted. All doors shall be open to her. You must accompany her."

DR. TROTTER IS ILL

Halifax, N. S., March 17.—Dr. Trotter, former president of Acadia College, who is now pastor of a church in Toledo, Ohio, is seriously ill. He has for some years been a sufferer and it was thought from sciatica. Three weeks ago he went to a hospital and it was found that he had peritonitis of the thigh bone and it developed that the hip and thigh bone are inflamed. He is ordered neither to sit nor stand for long periods. He still retains his pastorate.

CHIEF JUSTICE RESIGNS

Sir Robert L. Weatherbee Retires From Nova Scotia Bench

Ottawa, March 17.—Sir Robert L. Weatherbee, chief justice of Nova Scotia, has sent his resignation to the minister of justice. It was received yesterday and takes effect on Tuesday. Sir Robert is over seventy years of age and resigns with the allowance which the statute gives him. Although the question of a successor has not yet been discussed, the opinion expressed here is that Justice Arthur Drysdale will succeed Sir Robert in the chief justiceship and that W. E. Roscoe, of Kentville, will succeed Justice Drysdale on the supreme court bench.

CIVIC AFFAIRS

There is always room for an active public interest in civic affairs. In this city there is need of drastic measures of reform in the conduct of civic affairs. Such measures will not be taken until the citizens generally unite to bring forward and elect to the council their ablest men. Mere meetings to protest against this or that particular measure excite but little attention and no lasting interest. There is to be a meeting tomorrow evening, apparently to discuss one or two civic measures now before the legislature. This is not the right way to bring about reform. Nothing could be more absurd than for the people of a city to choose a city council and then appeal against its acts to the legislature of the province. While such a course might be deemed necessary in regard to some measure with even a very able council at the head of affairs, it would be very exceptional; and always it would convey to the outside public the impression that there was a city which did not know its own mind.

The remedy for the civic ills of St. John lies deeper than the realm of protest. It lies in constructive action, promoted by the best minds of the city, and resulting in the election of a board of aldermen whose policy in every department would produce satisfactory results. If tomorrow night's meeting heads in this direction it may be fruitful of much good, whatever system of civic elections may for the time prevail. A council composed of such men would provide the right kind of system, and we should not have the annual spectacle of warring factions at Fredericton.

BRYAN ON RAILROADS

Mr. William J. Bryan agrees with President Roosevelt that reform in the methods of railroad managers, and greater publicity in connection with their affairs, should not be blocked by protest or panic. It is a hopeful sign when democratic leader joins republican leader in assuring the people that they have nothing to lose but much to gain by a course which, while it may overthrow the one-man power in railway finance, will in the end make for better service and more secure investment. Mr. Bryan, in an interview last week, said:

"The most interesting phase of the situation just now is the refusal of the people to lend money freely to railroads. Railroad managers say this is due to hostile legislation, but this is a mistake. There has been no hostile legislation of sufficient severity to impair the real value of railroad securities. If railroads have been honestly conducted upon honest capitalization.

"If the investing public is alarmed it is because railroad managers in a vain effort to terrorize legislatures have carried matters too far. If any other answer is needed for a hesitancy on the part of investors, the investigations furnish it, for inquiries have shown to what extent railroad stocks have been watered. "But what is the alternative? Must the government refuse to investigate rotten management for fear mismanaged railroads will no longer be able to get the public into buying inflated securities? The sooner the railroads are put on an honest basis the more secure will the investing public feel."

THE MONEY MADNESS

To the ordinary reader the story of a panic on Wall street is interesting, but to the man on the floor it is a terribly serious matter, especially if he is on the wrong side of the market and sees his fortune melting away. Millions were lost in last week's remarkable decline, and the scene on the floor is thus vividly described by the New York Commercial. "At the worst of the collapse in the afternoon there were no buyers at all; at least it seemed that way. It was 'sell, sell, sell.' Brokers tore around the floor of the exchange with the perspiration pouring down their excited faces. They were in a frenzy, shouting at the tops of their voices as they threw overboard by the thousands of shares. Fortunes were being swept away in the maelstrom, and fortunes were being gathered in by a few of the biggest bears. The ticker was merciless as it sung out the story of the awful slaughter at the exchange. It was a song without words—a song of figures only, but it told the story eloquently to the traders, who with blanched faces stood over the tape. They had looked on, powerless to stem the tide which was washing their money away."

THE CLERGY IN FRANCE

There seems to be no doubt, says an exchange, that the attitude of the French Government towards the Vatican has reduced many of the poorer French priests to a position of extreme apostolic simplicity. The Bishop of Digne, in a letter acknowledging the receipt of some subscriptions for the benefit of his distressed clergy, writes: "I occupy on the second floor a modest lodging belonging to an official. I have no valet, only an old maid-servant who does all the work. I travel second class and I live on my savings. My priests are astonished in their poverty and admire self-denial. . . . You should see their presbyteries. Ten francs (82 cent) is paid by many of them, and not by special favor. Numbers of them have been obliged to remove as the roofs fell in or let in the rain. . . . The few for masses is at the lowest figure and is not always paid. . . . Some of my priests earn their living by mending watches or manufacturing beehives. Others till the soil, knit jerseys, or follow agricultural pursuits. All that is not very noble or worthy of the sacerdotal calling; but how can it be prohibited? Necessity knows no law, and poverty is a plea."

STILL SEEKING KNOWLEDGE

Curiosity and unrest are still characteristic of the inhabitants of the Garden of Eden. This we infer from the New Glasgow Chronicle, which says: "The people of the Garden of Eden complain that they don't get their mails regularly and locate the blame on the carrier. Will the inspector of post offices please look into the matter? Out in the country people look for their mails, as it is often the only visit for the day; but to look in vain for the expected letter or the welcome newspaper is disheartening." Universal sympathy will be extended to the modern Eve, who no doubt wants to learn about the millinery fashions for Easter, and whether fruit is to be one of the trimmings this season. The modern Adam is, perhaps, indifferent on this score, but doubtless he does want to read the latest story written by the snake-editor of his favorite weekly. Unquestionably the post office inspector should improve the Garden of Eden mail service.

The incongruity of expert testimony, says the Boston Post, is fully illustrated in the Thaw trial in New York. Mr. Delmas produced a handful of illustrious scientists and alienists to solemnly swear that the killing of Stanford White was done by an insane person. District Attorney Jerome brings forward half a dozen equally eminent specialists in the same line to swear with equal solemnity that the man who did the dastardly deed was sane, knew what he was doing and was conscious of the consequence of his act. "Whip shall decide when doctors disagree?" The patient twelve in the jury box, who have listened to all these conflicting judgments, must bear the burden. Will they toss up a cent?

Irish affairs will be the topic of discussion in the British parliament soon after Easter, when a bill providing a degree of home rule will be introduced. The Crimes' Act will also be repealed. The outlook for Ireland is brighter than it has been for many years. Mr. John Dillon, in a speech yesterday, declared that in the political victory of the Boers in South Africa the Irish party's policy had been vindicated, and Mr. John Redmond might yet be premier of Ireland as Botha is of the Transvaal.

The departure of Rev. P. J. Stackhouse from St. John will deprive the city of the services of a very earnest worker in the realm of practical Christianity and social reform. Mr. Stackhouse takes his work very seriously, and has never spared himself; and the earnest congregation he has drawn together and the aid he has given to all good causes are in evidence to prove the value of his services to the community.

The Canadian Club is fortunate in securing an address from Mr. J. E. Willison of Toronto, who will speak at a club luncheon this week. He is an able speaker as well as a brilliant writer, and the members of the club in this city should not fail to embrace the opportunity of hearing him.

The theft of a mule is said to have been the chief cause of the present war between Nicaragua and Honduras. The rival nations were evidently as stubborn as a mule, and apparently quite as stupid.

It is announced this week that Mr. John D. Rockefeller will give away $50,000,000. It was last week the advance in oil was announced.

WHAT ONLOOKER HEARS

(Onlooker in New Freeman) One suggestion is that Surveyor General Sweeney, who was formerly a resident of St. John, will remove to the city, and take the place of Mr. Lantulum on the Liberal ticket. In other quarters it is said that Mr. Sweeney is to receive a tire from politics and will either succeed Judge Wells of the Westmorland County Court or receive another appointment equally attractive. In that event rumor has it that Mr. Lantulum will enter the cabinet without office and that some Northshore man will be made surveyor general. Speculation does not end here, however. Onlooker hears that if Mr. Sweeney retires, Solicitor General Jones will take the vacant Surveyor-Generalship, and that the appointment of Mr. D. Mullin as Solicitor General will be put forward by his friends. In the meantime the newspapers will, with less precision than that of Onlooker or with more limited access than he has to sources of inspired information, mention Mr. George Robertson and Mr. D. J. Jurdy as the cabinet possibilities.

DANGEROUS CAPITALISTS

They Are One of the Greatest Menaces in the United States. (New York Evening Post.) Whether or not this week's extraordinary break in prices forebodes trouble elsewhere; whether the much-discussed "Standard Oil clique" is purposely-smashing the market which it built up last August, or is tumbling into the pit which its enemies have dug—the conclusion which will express itself deeply on reflective minds is that certain of our large capitalists are a dangerous nuisance in the community. It has often been necessary to point out in this column, that the disreputable conditions prevailing in American finance in 1899 and 1900, the halcyon days of the Drews and Fisks and Goulds, have been largely reproduced on a wider and more dangerous scale.

Rev. E. C. Jenkins delivered a temperance lecture in union Hall yesterday afternoon. George Cromwell presided. In the course of his lecture Rev. Mr. Jenkins said: "Abolish the saloons and in ten years the tax rate will be $1 instead of $2 and in twenty-five years the national debt would be liquidated." He referred to liquor sellers as "capitalists in human souls." "They get a man's money, a man's brains, a man's soul, the broken heart of his wife and the poverty of his children and are they satisfied?"

SONGS OF THE VALLEYS

Songs of the valleys, sweet valleys, over the hills and meadows, sweet valleys, over the hills come like the song of the myrtle that sings in the voice of the sea. Songs of the valley, I hear them, from valleys of violet and dream. They come like a ripple of music, breezeborne on the breath of the stream!

Songs of the valleys, forever, their echoes swept by many fold: They sing of the birds and the blossoms, the meadows blushing, the clover and wind or quiet, green blossoms of clover and wind over waving wheat. And poppies, vast acres of poppies, in the valleys down under our feet!

Songs of the valleys, sweet valleys, far back in the infant years: They echo the songs of life's laughter, they echo the sighs of its tears; Ah, beautiful, beautiful valleys, I never shall till I lie down where the blooms of their beauty swing down through the dream of my breast! —Baltimore Sun.

KNEW WHAT HE WAS. The university professor looked superciliously at the plain citizen. "My friend," he asked, "are you not a neophyte in political science?" "No, I ain't," replied the plain citizen. "I'm a Republican."

THE ONLY ONES. "I notice, major," said the inquisitive man, "that you always take your whiskey straight. Don't you Kentuckians ever mix water in your liquor?" "Some Kentuckians do, sub," replied Major Blugrass.

"Indeed?" "Yes, sub; but they sell it."

WAS STOCKING UP. "What are your opinions on that question?" "My dear sir," answered Senator Sorgbun, "this is no time to ask a man his opinions, the chief use of planning for congress is to give great men a chance to get out among their constituents and stock up with opinions."

SOME STORIES ABOUT SNAKES

Which Prove Conclusively That We Will Have An Early Spring. Count on an early spring and summer. This is not from the scribes, nor is it a statement deduced from foolish actions on the part of a groundhog, or the condition of a gooseneck. The only real way to know about spring is to watch for the snake stories. This news, from Mount Vernon, Ill., for instance, is gratifying and self-explanatory: Charley Bumpus was looking over his winter wheat in his last forty yesterday when he saw a black snake five feet long. While Charley is not much on snakes, he got after this one and killed it. . . . Some of those who think they can tell what next season's crops are going to be say it is a sure sign of an early spring. If that isn't enough, it is only necessary to go over these:

MUSKOGON, Mich.—Ed. Dunscomb, who lives on Winter Creek, seven and a half miles north by west of this city, was out on his 220 yesterday looking over his winter wheat when he came suddenly upon a copperhead nine feet long. Ed does not make a specialty of snakes, but he reached after this one, caught it by the tail, and dashed its head against a gate post, killing it almost instantly. Those who ought to know declare that the appearance of copperheads of this length at this season betokens an unusually early spring.

INDEPENDENCE, Mo.—Toke Crabtree, eldest son of Elias Crabtree, one of the earliest settlers of Jackson County, and a young man who has always stood high in the community, was strolling over his 640 recently-kind of planning for a spring ploughing, when he stepped into a nest of rattlesnakes. Some of them escaped, but he succeeded in capturing two beautiful specimens, measuring fourteen and fifteen feet respectively. They are mottled in a charming manner, and the longer of the two was found to have more than twenty-five rattles. Toke is not very much on snakes, but he is now hunting for the remainder of the family and feels confident that he will get them. Ed settlers say that when rattlesnakes are found unfrozen at this season of the year we may look out for an unusually early spring.

HAMMOND, Ind.—Alek Huggins, who resides three miles southeast of Butler's crossing, was walking over his farm yesterday planning how he could spare another forty acres for the United Steel Company, when suddenly he was bumped into by a hoopsnake that came sailing down Wilson's hill and evidently with such momentum that it could not check itself. Alek was thrown off his feet, but, recovering himself, he captured the hoop-snake before it had a chance to recover itself. The strange part of the story is that almost immediately after being set upright it broke up into small lengths and scattered in all directions. Old settlers down this way say that the appearance of the combination hoop and joint snake at this season of the year invariably presages an early spring.

Have You Got It? THE LOOSE LEAF SYSTEM

General stores, dry and grocery merchants cannot afford to ignore the value of a simple and efficient system of book-keeping. No business man should attempt to run his business without what has come to be known as the loose leaf or continuous ledger system. The man who has not yet introduced this system into his business should do it today. It will be the cheapest investment he ever made. No matter if you look after your own books or employ bookkeepers it will cut down expenses and save time. In this way the system pays itself over and over again. More general storekeepers have failed through lack of system than from any other cause—Dry Goods Record.

MERITED ENDORSEMENT.

Vin Mariani has been eulogized by the literature, rendered into exquisite verse by poets of eminence, sung about in glorious hosannas by the world's greatest musical composers; it has been painted, sculptured, engraved, illuminated, beset with jewels, decorated and made the veritable embodiment of all that is classic and beautiful.

And all this, too, by artists of such renown as to be above suspicion of other influence than an impromptu obeisance in recognition of unusual merit. It has been praised by kings, princes and potentates of high degree, and even been blessed by the Pope.

More than the praises of princes, greater than blessings, embellishments and sentimental honors, is the unqualified endorsement of more than eight thousand practicing physicians, each of whom found

Strange Animal Found on the Frontier of Aseam--Only a Few Specimens of Which Exist in Museum of Natural History.

There is nothing deceptive or misleading about the takin, says the London Sphere, excepting its name, and after all this is only the name given to it, without intention to offend, by the natives of the Mishmi Hills on the northern frontier of Assam, whence the first specimen was obtained by Brian Hodgson forty years ago from native hunters. It occurs also in the mountainous regions of Western China, where a pale colored variety of the species was discovered by Pere David, and in Tibet. It is known to naturalists by the name budorcas (bull antelope), its full title being budorcas taxicolor. There are two mounted specimens of the takin in the London Natural History Museum—one received as long ago as 1831 and the other (a yellow variety) only last year. There are four other skins of the takin in our collection. We have no specimens of Pere David's variety from the Chinese Province of Szechuen; these are in the Paris Museum.

PULPIT REFERENCES TO THE LATE DR. A. A. STOCKTON

Many Clergymen Pay Tribute to His Worth--Funeral Will Be Held Tomorrow Afternoon.

The funeral of Dr. Stockton will take place Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock in the Centenary church and the following gentlemen will act as pall-bearers: Judge Barker, Judge McLeod, Dr. Silas Alward, J. Douglas Hazen, Dr. J. W. Daniel and Senator Ellis.

Four Strong Men Gone. Rev. George M. Young, of Sackville, preached in Queen square church at both the morning and evening services yesterday. During his evening sermon he made feeling reference to the loss the province had sustained in the recent deaths of Hon. A. G. Blair, Lt. Governor Snowball, J. L. Black, of Sackville, and Dr. Stockton, of this city, all of whom, he said, had been trained in Methodist homes and had each in his sphere labored earnestly to promote the best interests of their fellow men.

Rev. W. O. Raymond Speaks. Rev. Dr. Raymond in the course of an excellent sermon in St. Mary's church last evening, paid eloquent tributes to the memories of the Venerable Archdeacon Neales and Dr. A. A. Stockton. Referring to the former, the reverend gentleman said that Archdeacon Neales had been a particularly dear friend to him. The speaker had been one of his parishioners in early life, and it was under his guidance, and directed largely by his example, that he had decided to enter the sacred ministry. He spoke in glowing terms of the life of the deceased son in Zion church yesterday Dr. Wilson made a feeling reference to Dr. Stockton's worth as a citizen, scholar, lawyer and Christian.

Rev. A. B. Cohoe's Tribute. In the course of his sermon yesterday morning Rev. A. B. Cohoe paid a tribute to the worth of the late Dr. Stockton, M. P. He was seeking to impress upon his hearers the danger of making what others say or think the rule of personal conduct, and disregarding the voice of conscience. Recently a public man, accepting a position, had expressed the hope that he might perform his duties to the satisfaction of his friends. Better, said the preacher, to have expressed the hope that his duties would be performed in strict accordance with what he knew to be right, whether in all cases it pleased his friends or not. A danger in public life was that too much might be done to please the people, and not enough to satisfy the demands of conscience. The late Dr. Stockton pursued the course he believed to be right, and for his fidelity men honored his memory.

Dr. Allison Speaks. Sackville, N. B., March 17--(Special)--The news of Dr. Stockton's death came as a great shock to his relatives and numerous friends in Sackville. In university circles his loss is much deplored. Interviewed today, the president, Dr. Allison, who was on the staff during the whole of Dr. Stockton's undergraduate course, referred to the sad event as involving a sense of personal loss. In the brilliant career just closed he found a notable fulfillment of the boy giving promise of the man. Young Stockton was a type of what he would wish all college

ANOTHER GIFT FROM OIL KING

John D. Rockefeller to Give $50,000,000 to City of New York--Now Watch the Price of Oil Jump.

New York, March 17--The Herald will tomorrow say that according to a member of John D. Rockefeller Jr.'s bible class and who is also a personal friend of John D. Rockefeller and in a position to know of his affairs, the latter proposes soon to make a princely gift to the city of New York. It will amount to at least $50,000,000. It will be partly charitable and partly educational.

The News--No Pure Drug Cough Cure Laws would be needed, if all Cough Cures were like Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure is--and has been for 20 years. The National Law now requires that if any poison enter into a cough mixture, it must be printed on the label or package.

For this reason mothers, and others, should insist on having Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. No poison-marks on Dr. Shoop's labels--and none in the medicine, else it must be by law on the label. And it's not only safe, but it is said to be by those that know it best, a truly remarkable cough remedy. Take no chance, particularly with your children. Insist on having Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. Compare carefully the Dr. Shoop package with others and see. No poison marks there! You can always be on the safe side by demanding Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. Simply refuse to accept any other. Sold by Druggists.

His Lordship Coadjutor Bishop Richardson administered the rite of confirmation to eighteen candidates in St. John's (Stone) church, yesterday morning and in St. James' church, yesterday afternoon. St. James' class was one of the largest in the history of the parish. During this week confirmation services will be held in the Church of the Good Shepherd, Fairville, this evening, in St. Luke's on Wednesday in St. Paul's on Thursday and in St. Jude's, Carleton, on Friday. The confirmation service in St. George's church, Carleton, which was to have been held on Tuesday, has been postponed until Thursday in next week owing to the funeral of Ven. Thomas Neales, archdeacon of Fredericton, which will take place in Woodstock and at which Bishop Richardson will officiate.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. McCaffrey and the children of Fredericton, came to the city Saturday.

Three new elders were ordained in St. John's Presbyterian church at yesterday morning's service. They were Murdoch Morrison, Samuel Cunningham and Ewan J. McAfee. Rev. Dr. Fotheringham gave an interesting address in which he explained that elders are ordained to help the minister to maintain discipline in the congregation.

"ALLIE" ELLIS DEAD

Well Known St. John Man Succumbs to Pleuro-pneumonia in New York.

Thomas Alfred Ellis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Ellis, of this city, died in New York on Saturday afternoon. His friends here will be sorry to hear of his death; among them he was familiarly known as Allie. He left this city about two years ago and became connected with a brokerage firm in New York. Two days before the end he was taken sick with pleuro-pneumonia, which was the cause of death. Besides his father and mother, he is survived by two brothers--William E. Ellis and Clifford D. Ellis, both residing in New York, and three sisters--Mrs. C. H. Peters, Mrs. Frank A. Godsoe and Mrs. Fred C. Godsoe, all of this city. The body will be brought here on the Boston express today, accompanied by his brothers. It will be taken to the home of his brother-in-law, C. H. Peters, 91 Leinster street, and the funeral will take place Tuesday afternoon.

REV. DR. CHOWN IN CITY PULPITS

Well Known Methodist Divine Preached Two Eloquent Sermons Yesterday.

Rev. Dr. Chown, general secretary of the Temperance and Moral Reform Department of the Methodist church in Canada, spoke to large congregations in two city churches yesterday. In Exmouth street church in the morning, he spoke on the "Evils of Selfishness," and in the evening in Centenary church he took as his text St. John x: 10: "I have come that ye might have life, and have it more abundantly." In the course of his address Dr. Chown then dealt with a number of the evils that his department were combating. He referred to the social question, the strong drink habit, and to undue political partisanship. He spoke strongly on what he called money madness, or the race for wealth, and read a paragraph from a recent issue of the Wall Street Journal and referred to the recent panic in which, he said, millions of dollars were lost. Speaking of the competition in trade, he took occasion to make a strong plea against child labor and said that wealthy men who were crying out for the suppression of the liquor traffic were themselves sucking their money from the throats of the poor.

Dr. Chown is a speaker of power and eloquence and his sermon yesterday will be long remembered. Tonight in the Queen square Methodist church he will address a mass meeting of the Epworth Leagues of the city.

BRONCHITIS CAN BE CURED

Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup Will Do It.

Bronchitis is generally the result of a cold caused by inclement weather or exposure to wet, and is a very dangerous inflammatory affection of the bronchial tubes.

The symptoms are tightness across the chest, sharp pains and difficulty in breathing, and a secretion of thick phlegm, at first white, but later of a greenish or yellowish color.

Neglected Bronchitis is one of the most general causes of consumption, so cure it as soon by the use of

Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup

Mrs. S. Fidler, Linton, N.B., writes: "I feel it my duty to let you know of my experience with Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup."

My little girl was very low with Bronchitis and our doctor did all in his power for her, but could only give her relief for a short time. My husband saw your medicine advertised, and immediately procured three bottles. I never saw anything give so much relief in so short a time. It stopped the annoying cough at night and also in a few perfectly cured. I am so glad I can now express my gratitude for what Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup has done for us."

NEW YORK WOMEN WILL FOLLOW SUFFRAGETTES

Women in Gotham Preparing for a Battle Along New Lines—Dignified Plan to be Abandoned and it Will be Straight Fight Now.

NEW YORK, March 16.—Whether the example of the English suffragettes, who stormed the house of parliament and, as a result, have to go to jail, may be the method to kindle a feminine revolution in the United States is the question now disturbing the minds of the leaders of the movement for the enfranchisement of women here.

All are agreed that the differing political conditions of the two countries must necessitate some change in the tactics of the women desiring the vote in this country. The water, but opinions are divided as to the need of violence in the pressing home of their demands.

Since the agitation of the suffragettes has become pronounced, it is well known that American sympathizers have been approached for the organization of a similar endeavor here, and that tried and proved lieutenants of the British would-be voters have been tirelessly preaching the doctrine of the capture of the ballot by assault.

A mass meeting to further the cause has been projected, and it is now definitely certain that another year will see a marked difference in the measures employed by the suffragettes in New York city.

LATE LOCALS

Chief Kerr of the fire department received from Ald. Thos. Bullock this morning the sum of $25 as a donation to the Firemen's Relief Association.

Three well filled immigrant trains passed through the city this morning on route west. The first one arrived at 2 o'clock, the second at 4 and the last one at 10:30 o'clock.

While taking bills from the depot to the I. C. R. sheds, this morning, Michael Driscoll took a weak turn and falling had his head cut rather badly. He was taken to his home on Smythe street.

The many friends of Harbor Master Ferris were pleased to see him about the streets again today. He is feeling much better and expects to be all right in a day or two.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas arrived on the Boston train today from a wedding trip, and are visiting friends in Fairville. Mrs. Thomas was formerly Miss E. A. Baxter of Norton. They will leave shortly for Calgary, where they will make their future home.

Indiantown was the scene of much drunkenness, Saturday night, and that usually quiet and peaceful part of the city was greatly disturbed by the noisy imbibers. Crowds of those celebrating congregated about the ferry house and not a few of them were injured by coming in contact with the ice and pebbles on the street.

The mayor was asked this morning if anything was being done in the matter of the harbor commission getting at work. He said he was awaiting word from Hon. Mr. Fisher, deputy minister of public works, but it appeared nothing was being done. He may write to Sir Wilfrid Laurier and ask him to look into the matter, if some action is not taken very soon.

A number of business men met Saturday afternoon and arranged for a public meeting to be held in the board of trade rooms tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock to discuss civic matters. The principal matters will be the new elections bill and the permanent street paving bill. The mayor and aldermen and a number of other citizens have been invited to speak. Another meeting may be held on Wednesday evening.

EXTENSION OF STREET RAILWAY

Matter of Street Cars Running Over Suspension Bridge Will Be Arranged This Week.

The question of the street cars running over the suspension bridge will probably be discussed this week. Col. McLean, vice-president of the St. John Railway Company, said this morning that Premier Pugsley had arranged for a conference to be held in Fredericton this week to discuss the matter. Col. McLean said he had asked that if the bridge was strengthened provision should be made for the street cars to run across.

Asked if there was a possibility of the lines being extended through Rockwood Park this year he replied that the company had all the work they could do this year to complete the west side tracks. Everything is now in readiness, he said, to lay the rails down Rodney wharf, as soon as the ferry boats are moved. The piling is all ready and the rails are likewise on hand. Work on the new car shed at the west side is going along as rapidly as possible.

THE KNOCKER

The penny-wise and pound-foolish policy has been well exemplified in the new sanitary conveniences in the country market.

For years the people who frequent the market had endured a disgraceful state of affairs, so far as sanitary arrangements were concerned, and a lot of money was spent from time to time in useless efforts to repair the irreparable.

At last it was decided to construct a place that would be clean, well ventilated, supplied with proper sanitary fittings, and so located as not to be an offence to the eyes, nostrils and stomachs of the people. Such a structure, of bricks, with tiling inside, and all the necessary fittings, was designed, and after very long delays was

J. S. WILLISON WILL SPEAK

Will Address the Canadian Club of St. John This Week.

A meeting of the executive of the Canadian Club will be held in the Times building this afternoon at 5.15 o'clock. The next club luncheon will be held the last of this week, possibly on Saturday, and the speaker will be J. S. Willison, the editor of the Toronto News. Mr. Willison goes to Halifax, to address the first luncheon of the newly formed Canadian Club in that city, and will come to St. John on his way home. He will address the Canadian Club of Montreal on Monday next.

SERMON ON ST. PATRICK

Ireland's Patron Saint the Subject of Rev. Fr. O'Keefe's Discourse in the Cathedral.

The feast of St. Patrick, the patron saint of Ireland, was today celebrated in the Roman Catholic churches. Solemn high mass was celebrated at the cathedral and the sermon on St. Patrick was preached by Rev. Father O'Keefe, and a collection was taken for the Roman Catholic orphanage.

Father O'Keefe took as his text St. Paul's words: "I have fought a good fight, I have kept the faith." In the course of his sermon the preacher referred to the sufferings of St. Paul, in spite of which at the close of his life he was able to speak the words of the text. He then reviewed the life of St. Patrick, telling of his birth in France, his faith and his teaching among the people of Ireland, and passed on to a description of the faith of the Irish people and their churches and monasteries; and then made a comparison of their trials and sufferings to show the value of keeping the faith for which they were so willing to suffer. He next referred to the Irish people as they were in the first periods of their faith, and concluded by narrating a legend of a woman who, in the days of King Malachy, passed through the island without being molested by its inhabitants.

SAY IT IS UNJUST

St. Paul, Minn., March 12, 1907. Editor Evening Times, St. John, N. B. Sir—Your issue of the 21st inst. is before me. I observe on page five an article taken from the Winnipeg Free Press. This article is very unfair, unjust and misleading.

The facts are that we were not parties to the suit and had no knowledge of the complaint. We are informed that the reason the defendants made a complaint to us was for fear that we might block the plot which they had formed and be able to prove the identity of the scoundrel which we shall most certainly do when the next note is brought into suit.

The conspiracy appears to have been to procure exactly the evidence that was procured, granting us no opportunity to prove its falsehood, and then have justified themselves by a finding which they could have published in all the papers throughout the country. They hoped they could injure us to such a great extent through the publication of their malicious charges, having the cloak of respectability with justice. Mother's name is attached, so that we would be glad to call off the holders of the notes and pay them ourselves. We are not built of that kind of stuff. We may be unable to get any evidence before the Supreme Court in the case now pending, but we shall certainly establish the truth and identity of the scoundrel sold at Swan Lake, when the next suit is prosecuted.

A SERIOUS RUNAWAY

A rather serious runaway occurred this morning shortly after eleven o'clock in front of the depot on Mill street. E. A. Belyes, of Westfield, and wife, were driving along when their sleigh collided with electric car No. 32. The horse took fright and throwing the occupants out of the sleigh, ran down through the I. C. R. yard, where it was captured.

Mr. and Mrs. Belyes were slightly injured by the accident, and the former claims that the car ran into his sleigh while he was crowded near the track by other teams. He states that he intends to bring action against the street railway.

HAVE AT THEE, VILLAIN!

(Eastern Chronicle) The irresponsible and ignorant purveyor of misrepresentation whom the Tory party have hired to assist the "leader," "the editor-in-chief," in slinging mud each week, has, through the Standard, given an splendid illustration of the act he attempts to describe,—"putting his foot in it." We may as well squelch the individual effectively.

Yesterday was the feast of St. Patrick, Ireland's patron saint, but as it was Passion Sunday, in the Catholic churches the celebration was deferred until today. Father O'Donovan preached a very eloquent sermon yesterday on St. Patrick and Ireland's patron saint was also the theme of Rev. W. W. McMaster in the Germain street Baptist church last night.
