Good Things Coming to Theatres of St. John

HOW BEVERLEY BAYNE GOT INTO THE MOVIES

Beverley Bayne is one of the most beautiful as well as one of the most accomplished of screen stars. Born in Minneapolis, she went to Chicago when a child and attended the Hyde Park High School. Five years ago, with several girl companions, she visited a motion picture studio in Chicago. It was a sightseeing trip pure and simple. A director there was struck by her appearance. "Let me try you before the camera," he urged.

"What shall I do?" asked Miss Bayne. "Act," he said. "Act—what?" she asked. "Anything," he replied. "Really," she replied, "I cannot act. I might try to dance—like this—or I might be Ophelia speaking—thus—to Hamlet when he has finished his soliloquy, but I never would make an actress."

"That will do," laughed the director. "My cameraman has been 'shooting' you while you were giving your illustrations. If you care to go into motion pictures, get the consent of your parents and visit me tomorrow," she said. The trial film was satisfactory and in the first picture in which she appeared she was featured. Thereafter she became a star. With Mr. Bushman she has appeared in such notable features as "Pennington's Choice," "A Million a Minute," "The Wall Between," "Man and His Soul" and "In the Diplomatic Service."

In the new Metro serial, which starts at the Imperial July 6, Miss Bayne's role of Beverly Clarke is one that calls for great emotional acting and she responds with intense power to the demands made on her.

Her British society Triangle war drama "The Dark Room" was shown at the Imperial, created a deep impression yesterday. Dorothy Dalton in the role of the unfaithful wife who eventually became entangled in a German plot, proved herself a star of the first magnitude. The story is a thumping recruiting boost, showing English lads enlisting, the trenches in France, German submarines, etc. The first Arbuckle comedy "The Butcher's Boy," created a future of laughter at every show.

KEEPING UP FAMILY RECORD It is learned that Miss Christina O'Leary, daughter of Richard O'Leary of Richibucto, won the governor-general's medal at Mount St. Vincent Convent School closing exercises on June 21. She is the second of O'Leary's daughters to win this coveted honor.

IRISH ENVOYS BEGIN THEIR CONFERENCES T. P. O'Connor and Richard Hazleton Discuss Home Rule With New England Leaders

A series of conferences with prominent Irishmen by which T. P. O'Connor, M. P., and his colleagues, Richard Hazleton, hope to be able to carry back to the Irish convention the correct sentiment of the United States regarding the Home Rule was stated at the Hotel Knickerbocker, New York, upon the arrival of T. B. Fitzgerald and Michael J. Jordan, of Boston, respectively treasurer and secretary of the United Irish League of America.

Fitzgerald and Jordan, who were empowered to speak for the league in the New England States, were in conference with the Irish delegates for nearly three hours. At the end of the meeting Mr. Hazleton declined to tell what the message of the Bostonians' report had been, saying that it was Mr. O'Connor's desire that nothing be published concerning the progress of the mission for a few days.

Mr. O'Connor's first day in New York in seven years was divided thus: One hour for luncheon with a friend; the rest of the time in standing with feet planted far apart in his room wringing the hands of the hundreds of friends who called to wish him well.

"The Germans seem to be very anxious for peace," he said, replying to a question as to when the war would end, "as the terms they offer just now, just as the terms they offered before, are not taken a stand similar to the one taken by the burglar, who, when brought before a judge admitted his guilt, but wanted to keep the jewelry. The German Powers want a "scot-free" peace, a peace they know cannot and will not be granted to them."

Mr. O'Connor said that he would try to consolidate all Irishmen in support of the Allies. He divided the sentiment in Ireland into three classes: pro-Irish, pro-English and the so-called pro-Germans, the last being, in Mr. O'Connor's opinion, a sentiment formed not on love of Germany, but rather on an instinctive pacifism. It is the intention of the commissioners to employ their time by paying visits to as many as possible of the principal cities staying several days in each place and receiving reports from the local leaders.

"I have come here," he said, "to lay before the men of my race and the friends of Ireland of all races the realities and the issues in Ireland. In the United States remains the most potent factor in working out the liberation of Ireland and of all the nationalities in the world."

"The commissioners will go to Washington where Mr. O'Connor will see the president. His call at the White House, however, will not be in any sense an official one, Mr. O'Connor going there merely to pay his respects.

CANADIANS AGAIN WIN CLOSE TO LENS

Capture German Front Line Protecting Suburb—Nova Scotians in the Fighting

(By Stewart Lyon, Canadian Press correspondent in France.) Canadian Army Headquarters, June 29 A further phase of the long struggle for the recovery of Lens was reached early this (Thursday) morning, when the enemy's front line protecting Avion, storming waves which went forward under the protection of a concentration of artillery fire on the part of Avion immediately behind the German line. The assaulting troops were composed of men from British Columbia, Manitoba, Central Ontario and Nova Scotia. The Canadians have been greatly heartened by the successes gained during the last few days at relatively small cost, and this morning's advance, which involved the crossing of open ground, sloping up to Avion and the village of Leuvelte, near the Souches River, met with opposition of a serious nature at only one point.

MOTHER'S PENSIONS. To the Editor of the Times-Star:—Sir:—The management of a charitable society recently were considering the sad case of a widowed mother and her two children—a son of eighteen and a daughter of sixteen. The son was for their mother and daughter an inmate of a house of sin. The conclusion reached was that nothing could be done, as both were already so far gone that anything short of a miracle would fail to redeem them.

Eight years before when the boy was ten and the girl eight, the mother's widow was put into the same society for help. After investigation, it was discovered that the woman was able to earn a living for her children, if she went out to some form of service. Accordingly her application was rejected, and she secured work to keep her children from the street. But when she was asked why she let the children go to ruin morally her answer cut the consciences of the members of the managing board to the quick: "What could you expect? I had to leave them every day while I went to work. How could I take care of them?"

Considering only the bald financial phase of the question, it would have been much cheaper to support the household, and leave her at home to care for and train the children, rather than the expense of dealing with her as a notorious character, perhaps, for the full length of their lives. He is hard-hearted indeed, who, when the mother's anguish is put into the scales, does not feel the terrible mistake of making her forfeit the children's souls in her effort to save their bodies.

A mother's pension for all women crowded into such a dilemma is a timely measure of social obligation to be put into effect. Starr J. Murphy, counsel for the Rockefeller Foundation, said: "No woman can at one and the same time mother a family of children and be a bread-winner for them."

He Has Yet To See It Through

End of War Not in Sight For "Mr. Britling"

What Britain May Expect

Hon Winston Churchill, in Review of War Conditions, Finds Little Indication of Early Peace

A year ago the brilliant writer, H. G. Wells, whose extraordinary prescience led him in pre-war days to forecast in a series of instructive and profoundly suggestive works the coming, the character, and even many of the methods of Armageddon, took up his pen and wrote a new book under the title of "Mr. Britling Sees It Through," says Hon. Winston Churchill. He there described the sentiments, the emotions, the experiences, the shortcomings, the misunderstandings which attended Britain's entry into the struggle and its sudden outbreak upon the world, and he carried his story forward to a stage where all the principal characters were disposed of in one way or another. His conclusion has been killed in action. The young American friend has married his daughter and is fighting with the Canadians; the old aunt has been blown to pieces by a Zeppelin. The German student recalled to his country's colors has perished in the Carpathians, and Mr. Britling, finding forgiveness in his own sorrow, has exchanged letters with the German parents.

The War Goes On

Everything, in fact, is disposed of in one way or another except the war; the war goes on. Mr. Britling has not "seen it through" yet. Whatever his present mood may be—of resolution in the quarrel, of high hope in the future of mankind, of forgiveness for personal injuries, of dogged endurance, or dull insensibility or rebellious resentment against the powers that be—the war is still going on. Mr. Britling still has to see it through, and it may well be that experiences more moving, more tragic, more self-shattering than any through which he has yet passed are to fall to his lot before the final chapters are closed. Hopes are excited in credulous minds that the message of the Russian revolution leaping across the oceans, and the opinion of the world and the example of the Russian democracy, will by a single spontaneous effort from themselves break the cruel and terrible machine which galls them and forces them to gall mankind.

The German Point of View

Sanguine dreamers, moving nimbly in the attenuated ether of ideas, can almost see the German nation, market at last its own house, decreeing the liberation of imprisoned nationalities, directing the reparation of the ravaged regions, breaking the sword that threatens them and us alike, and confidently taking their own great place among the free nations of the world. But the soaring flight of such ideas is abruptly checked by contact with reality. What reasons have we to suppose that the mass of the German people have any such hopes? If they have it will manifest itself in an effective form? They see themselves fighting a world of enemies. They began the war blithely in the belief that they would conquer a supreme domination for themselves and for their race forever. They believe today that although the war has been a disaster to them and its sufferings and perils are immeasurably greater than any they had expected, still, thanks to their military institutions, to their Germanic strength, to their power to extricate themselves from this terrific adventure without defeat or penalty, they are the most powerful elements among them still hope to add large conquered regions to the German Empire and to open up through the Balkans and Turkey avenues of future aggrandizement in the East.

The End Not in Sight

Why should we suppose in these circumstances that the German people should repudiate and overthrow those with their own eyes are at this moment holding the devastation of the war from German soil, which have been their idol through years of peace and are their most stout bulwark today? The history of other great quarrels should correct sanguine anticipations of an early and complete peace. Certainly they should forbid us to base our actions upon any such hopeful view. Long after Napoleon's war had waned, after the Russian campaign of 1812, after the Leipzig campaign of 1813, the French armies continued mechanically to obey his orders, and hopeless prospects with the utmost tenacity. The important battle of Toulon was actually fought after Paris had capitulated.

The hopes of the American Confederates were shattered irretrievably on the battlefield of Gettysburg, but two years later the bloodiest fighting of the war still lay before the Northern troops and the army of Virginia continued to strike rebounding blows long after all hope and faith when nothing remained but a solitary resistance for its own sake. Sea Power Over All. Once again, continues Mr. Churchill in the New York Sun, as at the beginning of the great war, sea power will decide the fortunes of the world. Once again, though threatened as it never was before, the Royal Navy will do its duty and achieve its purpose. It will be by those qualities of discipline, efficiency and devotion which have never been found wanting, but in that mental energy and intellectual passion which, freed from conventional limitations, heralds the birth of rare enterprises and the rise of great captives. Sure of this, Mr. Britling will not waver. He will look back to the true and pure and disinterested feelings with which he began this war. He will make sure that he seeks nothing which divorces him from contact with those feelings; he will make sure that he accepts nothing that does not fully satisfy those feelings. The Right Hon. Sir Frederick G. Bantury Bart, M. P., has been appointed chairman of the Great Northern Railway Company in succession to the late Lord Allerton.

BOYS' SUITS, TOO, AT SEMI-READY SALE

"High School" Suits for Boys and Younger Men

Over 300 Suits for Boys Included in the Great Summer Sale at the Semi-ready Store.

In the West the "High School Clothes" for boys were tailored in answer to a demand from parents for "something better" in clothes for boys. Two years ago the Semi-ready Company started their manufacture, and it was planned to introduce them here early this season, but the goods were late coming from England. "I am going to sell these suits at a low price, for the double purpose of making them known and getting rid of late goods. They arrived just as I had made my plans for the early summer sale of men's suits," said the manager of the store.

The Semi-ready Sale starts today, with men's suits, beautifully tailored as low as $10; and with substantial discounts on over a thousand garments for men.

Boys' Knicker Suits will be sold as low as $7. These are as well tailored as men's suits and are made from the same cloth. High School suits will stand up on the roughest kind of wear, and will always look neat and fine. They far outclass the common variety of ready-made clothes considered good enough for boys.

"Wegeseung" is the name chosen for the Y. M. C. A. summer camp this year. It is an Indian word and means a wigwam situated in a place where one would like to stay. A. M. Gregg left this morning for the ideal spot chosen for the camp, accompanied by F. A. Willet and George F. Skinner.

The work of excavating in front of the Provincial Hospital, Lancaster, for the almost completed and the subcontractor will be started soon. The old boiler house is now twenty odd years old and is being replaced by an up-to-date equipment which will cost between $20,000 and $25,000.

At a meeting of the Boy Scout masters and the directors of the Fernhill cemetery with the superintendent last evening it was decided that the scouts will commence work in the cemetery on July 10. The boys will line up at the head of King street and go to the scene of their labors in street cars. They will be in full uniform and will work in groups under patrol leaders.

In the case of the King vs. William Riley, in the circuit court yesterday before Justice McKewen and a jury, a verdict of not guilty was entered and the prisoner was discharged. The defendant was charged with stealing a gold ring from a woman in whose house he had been a boarder. The evidence for the crown was given in the morning, and the case for the defence in the afternoon. J. M. Trueman was for the crown, and H. W. Robertson for the defence.

THE AMERICANS.

The arrival of two contingents of Americans in France marks a new phase of the great war. These will be quickly followed by others until presently there will be enough to take over a section of the front line and give the Germans a sample of the fighting mettle of the nation they have affected to despise.

Further support. The constant complaint in Canada for nearly three years has been that there is no equality of service. The present conscription bill alone will not remove the cause of that complaint. If the government is still to be champion of privilege and friend of the profiteer, it will deserve nothing but defeat.

MONEY AND CONSCRIPTION

Discussing the financial problems which confronts the Canadian people, the Ottawa correspondent of the Toronto Star says: "Some statisticians go so far as to say that Canada is only paying off one-sixth of her war expenditure as she goes, as compared with one-quarter in Britain."

MR. F. B. CARVELL.

Mr. F. B. Carvell made perhaps the greatest speech of his life in parliament yesterday. Compelled by his convictions to differ from his leader, he said so with profound regret, but with unflinching courage. He does not take back one word of his criticism or denunciation of the Borden administration, and holds himself free to continue that criticism whenever occasion demands; but in the matter now before the house he will support the government measure.

NO HALF-MEASURES

Every argument that Dr. Michael Clark, or any other man, Liberal or Conservative, can present in favor of conscription of men applies with equal force to conscription of everything. It is either true or it is not true that the fate of Canada and of democracy hangs in the balance. If it be true, then the mere conscription of men is a half measure, and the government which proposes that measure alone should be driven from power.

TELEGRAPH PRINTER OF MANY YEARS AGO

Levi Jackson in City on a Visit—Went to Work on Telegraph on First Day of Confederation

The Charlottetown Examiner has the following to say about Levi Jackson, a former resident of Charlottetown, and at one time a printer with that paper. Mr. Jackson at present lives in Lynn, Mass. He was, many years ago, a printer on the St. John Telegraph going to work on the first day of Confederation. He is well known about the city and is at present visiting several of his mother's relatives here.

At the time he left here he went to Upper Canada, thence by way of Niagara to Lynn, Mass., where he became interested in a side branch of the shoe business. As there is a lock-out in the shoe trade in Lynn at present, and all departments are shut down, he happened to think of his old home, and immediately proposed to his wife, who was Miss Susan Stiggins, that she should visit the old home.

His wife exclaimed "this is so sudden" and made all kinds of excuses. She had to come alone.

Of course he thinks there is no place so handsome, cozy and compact as his old home, and says he can comfortably and richly furnished parlor where you can reach everything with equal facility, and with ease and pleasure all the way—no hills, no sharp curves, no unsightly bridges, no dead walls mar the beauty of the landscape, and the width of the straight and well kept streets, which are appealing to a person from Boston, becomes less pretentious when they are seen a few times and a clear scope is no longer needed to see across them.

Mr. Jackson remembers all the old timers, and is at home with the young growth of the last two generations. He is known on the street by nearly all whom he meets and is booked to call at many of the houses of friends and acquaintances and is royally entertained by all. The absence of strawberries and other fruit in the market seems to disappoint him. But this is made up for by the presence of fish, fowl, fresh meats and potatoes, not to mention lobster and other shell fish which are abundant on the tables of his hosts. He will with each other in their efforts to make him forget that he came from a land of cold storage and canned goods.

He looks forward soon to see the time when the good things of life will grow spontaneously, and the weeds will have to be cultivated when "the desert shall blossom as the rose and the wilderness and the solitary place shall be glad, the crooked be made straight, and all flesh shall see the salvation of the Lord."

BY MEANS OF THE AIR

(Bangor Commercial)

It is becoming increasingly evident that the Allies are planning to gain by means of aeroplanes advantages similar to those achieved by Germany beneath the water. The United States aviator now in the air, is an amazing picture of what may be accomplished by the establishment of great and definite lines of aeroplanes advantage in this manner and her great strategists destroyed. Certain zones could be established and the civilians warned away from these. Kiel, he states, could be destroyed and the armed cities. All this is predicated upon complete control of the air.

England, France and Italy have been fighting with Germany and Austria for air supremacy with the Allies having a bit the best of it but important as has been the work of the aeroplane it has thus far been devoted chiefly to scout ing and to raids of small squadrons. Now it is said that the plans of the Allies and the United States contemplate the construction of a fleet of many thousands of aeroplanes of which the next year is 10,000. Germany, with her lessened resources could not respond in kind, it seems certain, and the French air man is confident that great raids that could not be successfully resisted, would be sufficient to bring the war to an end.

To some this may seem rather a rosy dream but in view of the extraordinary advances that have been made in aeroplanes since the beginning of the war it cannot be declared that

BY AUTHORITY PROCLAMATION

JOSIAH WOOD. His Honor the Lieutenant Governor directs the publication of the following for general information:

Whereas, the 1st of July is the centennial of the confederation of the Canadian provinces;

And, whereas, a joint committee of the Senate and House of Commons is appointed to consider and report on the proper celebration of the occasion; And, whereas, the said committee has recommended that, as the day, falling that the churches and the Sabbath schools of all denominations should incorporate into their exercises the recollection of the facts and lessons embodied in our national birth and fifty years progress, and have requested that clergymen and Sabbath school superintendents give to the celebration the hearty and intelligent co-operation; And, whereas, Monday the 2nd day of July, has been fixed by proclamation for the celebration of Dominion Day, and the committee have recommended that the celebration on that day be as general as possible, without expensive and elaborate display, as befits war time and carried out on the broadest social and democratic lines, a plain sincere and patriotic demonstration, a tribute to the founders of our Dominion and the institutions and ideals of our common country;

We do most earnestly request that the cities and municipalities of the province, clubs and patriotic associations, co-operate with the citizens generally in commemorating the day and the occasion, along the lines suggested in the report.

In view of the terrible war in which we are engaged the occasion should be one for serious thought and full recognition of the grave dangers to which Canada and the Empire are exposed, and the obligations that rest upon us all as citizens. We especially request that clergymen of all denominations throughout the province, Sunday school superintendents and teachers, in the religious services of Sunday, the 1st of July, do honor to the memory of the noble and brave men who have made the supreme sacrifice for their country, as well as to those who are still facing danger and death upon the battlefield, and that religious exercises of the day be characterized with a spirit of loyalty, unselfish service, and earnest prayer for the success of the sacred cause for which we are fighting.

And we further request that on Monday the 2nd of July all municipalities, city officers co-operate with the various patriotic localities, and that as citizens by a display of flags and suitable decorations at their homes at places of business, give hearty support and maintenance to this movement, that this semi-centennial celebration of confederation may testify to our appreciation and grateful acknowledgement of the many blessings and great prosperity our province has enjoyed, and the eternal unity and patriotism of the Canadian people.

ROBERT MURRAY Provincial Secretary-Treasurer

To Teachers and School Officers: In accordance with the proclamation of His Honor the Lieutenant Governor teachers and school officers are requested at the school closings for the present term, to have special reference made in as far as practicable, to the fifty Anniversary of Confederation and historic incidents connected therewith.

HEADACHES relieved in a few minutes by MATHIEU'S NERVE POWDERS

ANNUAL MEETING OF CENTENARY CHURCH

The total amount raised by Centenary church for last year amounted to $12,500. This was made known at the annual meeting. As Sunday will be the last day for the Rev. W. H. Barracough as pastor, a resolution of appreciation for the work accomplished by him, within the four years of his service in the city, and regret on account of his departure was unanimously passed.

During the four years of Mr. Barracough's pastorate the membership of the church has increased from 427 to 549. One hundred and eleven have been received into the church on profession of faith and eighty-nine by letter of transfer. Thirty-five of the members have passed away, and seventy-three removed. This leaves a net increase of ninety-two.

The receipts for missions have increased $600 in the four years, and now total $2,372. Several societies have been organized. The Epworth League, Centenary Brotherhood, Ladies' Aid and the Red Cross Circle were organized, and all are actively engaged.

The following were elected representatives of the quarterly official board of the church: Mrs. Frank Skinner, Miss A. G. Hea, F. H. White, Chief Justice McKeown, W. E. Brittain, M. D. Austin, W. C. Jordan and P. W. Snider.

The resolution moved by Chief Justice McKeown, seconded by J. H. White and which received the unanimous support of the members, was as follows: "That this meeting of members of Centenary Methodist church desires to express its deep appreciation of the zeal and industry of the Rev. W. H. Barracough, B.A., who during the last four years has given to this church the fullest measure of service as its pastor, and whose work has been characterized by untiring industry and devotion on his part and has been productive of great and lasting benefit to those under his care to whom four years ago he was an entire stranger; and it further desires to convey to him and to Mrs. Barracough its keenest regret at their enforced departure and to wish for them a continuation of such harmonious and helpful relationship in every succeeding pastorate. "And this meeting requests that the above resolution be placed upon the official records of the church."

Asks Hotel Men To Co-operate

Aid Requested in the Conservation of Food

The European Plan

Secretary of Main Food Production Committee Offers Suggestions for Economizing in Serving of Meals—Urges that Servants be Instructed (Bangor Commercial.) Augusta, June 28.—E. L. Newdick of Sanford, secretary of the committee on food production and conservation, in a letter sent out on Monday to the hotel proprietors of the state, asks their cooperation to assist in the campaign for food conservation along the strictest lines of economy.

Secretary Newdick makes the following suggestions at the request of the committee:

"Such facts as we are able to obtain show that practically all the hotels in the state have been conducted in the American plan. In order to secure a consensus of opinion of hotel proprietors, and to discuss possibilities of changes with the idea of economy, a conference was held June 7, to which all hotel men in Maine were invited. It was revealed at this conference that already several large hotels in Maine had adopted the European plan service in place of the American plan, with very satisfactory results, that the inauguration of the European plan meant absolute conservation of food, which seems to be necessary in the face of the present emergency; therefore, we urge you to adopt the European plan of service. "Facts brought out at the conference and statistics from unquestionable authority, also showed that if persons in the American plan have to write out their orders they will not order in such quantities as when the order is given orally. Statistics at hand prove that the serving of 2,000,000 meals under the checking method resulted in saving 15 per cent of the food used in comparison with the oral order system. "With little competition, you can readily understand that 15 per cent of the cost of your material used last year would mean considerable saving of food. If it is found to be absolutely impracticable to adopt the European plan, highly recommended to German submarine commanders of the sailings of allied and neutral vessels. They were arrested in Christiania. These captains, it was charged, obtained all the information possible about the departure of shipping and given information to German submarines with the German submarine commanders by secret signals. Wireless could not have been used, as the messages would have been picked up by the allied warships on patrol duty. When a submarine commander returned to his base in Germany and reported that he had sunk one of the steamships mentioned in the information supplied by the Norwegian captains, the intelligence department at Kiel paid the sum of $80 to the informer. The people in Christiania, where the two captains had been locked up for

ROBERT WARWICK IN BIG PART AT GEM

"The Man Who Forgot" a Powerful Prohibition Play--"Battle of Bucco Hill" a Rich Fun-maker

"The Man Who Forgot," shown at the Gem last night in its new programme, is a feature film that thrills and entertains from the first reel to the last of the last reel. It has excitement, intense interest, a charming and thoroughly delightful love story and tells a tale of exceptional merit. Beginning with a scene in China the action ranges to Washington and thence to the streets of the United States and then something to think about in this Brady-made World picture, "The Man Who Forgot," with Robert Warwick in the star role and Gerda Holmes and Doris Kenyon as the principal actresses. The hero is a rejuvenated dipsomaniac whose inspirational eloquence on the prohibition sub- ject stirs the American nation to its depths. The play has several quite extraordinary "mob" scenes.

National prohibition is a matter of Washington and the prohibition societies of Washington that they turned out by thousands when they were asked to assist in one of the scenes. The members of these societies are seen parading to the Capitol to aid a national prohibition bill, which is being urged by the hero of this drama. The members of the society were delighted to give their services for the picture and their appearance in the drama is effective indeed. But this film is throughout equally effective scenes and alto- gether it is a striking and very success- ful production. The pictures of the United States Congress in session are very interesting.

Mr. Warwick has a difficult role to enact. The part calls for a wonderful display of dramatic ability and he plays with force and power. As well known he is an eminent English actor. Gem patrons have seen him before and wel- come him again in this very striking play.

The Gem's Own Comedy Company offered "The Battle of Bucco Hill" for the entertainment of its growing list of friends and it succeeded well in providing a half hour of fun and jollity. A tuneful chorus opens the play and the curtain rises on a war scene, officers, Red Cross nurses, tent, etc. Miss Randolph sings a solo nicely and Hughie Conley and Miss Lytton are heard to advantage in a duet with a bit of dancing following. The comedy starts with the appearance of Dick Baird and Harry McHenry as handsmen. They have a very funny "musical" turn and then things start to move swiftly. The enemy approaches and it becomes the duty of these two gallant non-descripts to save the day. Then the fun waxes furious and the house is in an uproar of merriment until the curtain falls.

The Gem will continue this programme until including Friday night, with an entire change on Saturday afternoon.

Dever, catcher; Han- sen and Doyle, pitchers; McAnulty, 1st base; McMurray, 2nd base; Mooney, 3rd base; Lembit, short stop; Hegarty, right field; Howard, centre field; O'Connor, left field. In addition to the team several friends are expected to take the trip and act as "royal root- ers." If present plans materialize the team will leave on Sunday at noon and will return home on Tuesday morning. Weather conditions are doubtful they will not leave until Monday morning.

LEUT. J. T. DOWNEY WAS ONLY SLIGHTLY WOUNDED Writes of Recent Big Raid on Enemy Trenches--An Encouraging Letter

The following letter has come to Mrs. John Downey of Torryburn from her son, Lieut. J. T. Downey, Dear Mother and Sister:

No doubt you have read about the "big raid" we have pulled off on the Hun trenches, and of the prisoners and machine guns, etc., which we captured. Yes, it was a successful raid. I managed to capture ten guns in my trenches, which I took with my platoon, and was successful in getting off with a slight wound in the back of the neck, being hit by a piece of a shell; luckily it wasn't a direct hit, just a graze, and not very deep. I am now in a hospital, where I expect to be for about a month; just admitted this morning. I am feeling fine, and more or less pleased to get a rest, as we worked hard in preparation for the raid. Don't imagine my wound is bad enough to take me to shoot or to fight, wherever we met them in the trenches. They simply threw up their hands and begged us not to shoot or bayonet them; in most cases we didn't.

We didn't have very many casualties. Those we did have were mostly walking out cases, as was my own. In stretcher cases, we used the Hun prisoners to carry them out, and believe me, it didn't take very long. They seemed to be very nice fellows and more or less glad to be in our hands. I tried to get some good souvenirs, but they hadn't anything worth taking; I took one fellow's medal ribbon. You might pass the word along to my friends as you meet them, etc. So long for the present, BROTHER JIM.

F. B. Carvell Appeals For United Efforts to Win War

Speech Made Deep Impression—Greeted With Cheers from Both Sides of House—Will Vote for Principle of Conscription

Ottawa, June 27—A dual appeal—an appeal for war winning and for national unity—couched in serious words and delivered with impressive earnestness, made today's sitting of parliament memorable. It came from F. B. Carvell, of Carleton (N. B.)

Mr. Carvell declared for the principle of the military service bill, and opposed the referendum. His position was taken with characteristic thoroughness. He had no apologies for his past arraignments of the government's partizan and dishonest administration.

Quite in line with Mr. Carvell's patriotic utterance of the afternoon was the speech of Sir Herbert Ames, of the Conservative side of the house. Although he holds pronounced imperialistic views, Sir Herbert professed respect for the opponents of conscription at this time and said the arguments presented in the house in opposition to the bill had been marked by "logic, reason and sincerity."

When the house of commons met this afternoon Alphonse Verreuil, Labor member, appeared loaded down with a series of anti-conscription petitions in rolls. He presented these, which were piled on the table of the house, with the remark that they were from 12,000 of his constituents of Maisonneuve.

support in anything that was necessary in order that Canada should do her duty in the conduct of the war. I have taken that attitude both privately and publicly ever since that time and I still take the same attitude.

The prime minister, who is charged with the responsibility of conducting the affairs of this country at the present time, came back from the seat of the empire a month or six weeks ago and he made the statement that they needed more men at the front and he also stated, it is said, without consultation with his friends—and I know without consultation with my friends—that he would get those men to be introduced by a bill for compulsory service.

Mr. Carvell said he did not believe that recruiting in Canada had been a failure. He said that the government had been exercising to an extent which even members of the government must be heartily sorry for. However, the prime minister said that he had a more forcible measure of obtaining men, and when the premier took that view the speaker had not the nerve to say that he was wrong.

After expressing considerable sympathy with the position in which Sir Wilfrid Laurier placed, Mr. Carvell said he knew that certain English-speaking Canadians in 1910 and 1911 spent hundreds of thousands of dollars on a broadcast throughout Quebec the doctrine that they owed nothing to England and that the whole policy of Laurier and his party was to introduce conscription in the province of Quebec.

He admitted, he said, that this was a moribund parliament and he rather agreed that all had made a mistake in extending the life of parliament a year ago. It was done unanimously, however, and they believed they were working for the good of the country.

been proposed a year ago I would not have voted for it. I am glad that up to the present time it has not been necessary to attempt to take away from any man in Canada the freedom which is bestowed upon him by the constitution.

United States Troops Have Reached France. Washington, June 27—The advance guard of the mighty army of the United States is preparing to send against Germany in its French soil tonight. In defiance of the German submarines, thousands of seasoned regulars and marines, trained fighting men with the tan of long service on the Mexican border, or in Haiti or in Santo Domingo, still on their faces, have been hastened overseas to fight beside the French, the British, the Belgian, the Russian, the Portuguese and the Italian troops on the western front.

Enthusiasm rose to fever pitch when it was learned that the transports and convoys had successfully passed the submarine zone. The port was speedily beflagged in honor of the occasion. All the troops now arrived were transferred today to a camp not distant to this point, where Major-General William L. Sibert is installed. Thence they probably will go soon to a point near the front.

CZECH REGIMENTS DEERTED AUSTRIA

Retiring Austrian Minister Reveals Extent of Bohemian Disaffection

Now Fighting For Russia - Czech Prisoners of War Also Said to Have Volunteered For Service Against Austria

Amsterdam, June 28.—Three Czech regiments have deserted to the Russians, according to a statement made to a committee of deputies from southern Austria by F. von Georgi, minister of defence in the retiring Austrian cabinet, as published in the Lokai-Anzeiger and the abblatt of Berlin. The statement was made during a discussion of the demand of the Czech deputies for the release of Deputy Kiofay, who was sentenced to death on a charge of attempting to reconcile Russia and Bohemia. The sentence of Herr Kiofay, a member of the Bohemian parliament, was cancelled by Emperor Charles, but he is still held in prison.

Herr von Georgi said Czech legions had been formed all the armies of Austria's enemies, and that of all the Czechs of military age who were in Russia when the war broke out only three had returned to Austria. He also said that Herr Pavlu, formerly director of the Bohemian newspaper Narodni Listy of Prague, had boasted publicly in Russia that when an ensign in the Austrian army he had deserted to the Russians after his companions had killed Austrian outposts.

Herr von Georgi's statements are said to have made a great sensation. The Czech deputies, angered by them, charged that they had been made in a vengeful spirit on account of the fact that the ministry had been forced to resign.

Copenhagen, June 28.—The disclosures of the retiring Austrian Minister of Defence, F. von Georgi, before a Reichstag committee that three Bohemian regiments had gone over to the enemy in a body, and his statement that Czech prisoners of war had volunteered for service against their own country, constitute a considerable number of the anti-Austrian demonstrations of the Bohemian troops, who through long continued conflicts with the Germans for dominance in Bohemia have felt in a way more closely allied with the Russians than with Germany's vassal state, Austria.

It is a fact freely admitted in Austria-Hungary, although the newspapers have endeavored to suppress it, that the Bohemian Bodyguard Regiment was permanently disbanded at that time and its colors sent to the arsenal in Vienna.

It was at about this period that the correspondent saw a native letter from a Bohemian prisoner in Serbia advising his comrades not to desert into Serbia, as the conditions of residence there were too unpleasant.

WOULD ABANDON GLOVES

A lady correspondent writes to the Times:—"A few days ago I read an account of the American ladies wearing no gloves during the summer. They say it is more comfortable and also a saving, thus allowing more of their means to be given to the comforts of the poor fellows in the hospitals and trenches. I have spoken to several ladies on the subject, and they are most willing to follow the leader, so to speak. Now, if you will make an appeal to St. John ladies, it might be the means of comforting many a boy 'somewhere in France.'"

ST. VITUS DANCE

Even the Most Severe Cases Can be Cured by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills

Is your child fidgety, restless, or irritable? Are the hands shaky or the arms jerky? Does the face twitch? Do the legs tremble or drag? These are signs of St. Vitus Dance, a nervous disease which is confined chiefly to young children, but which often affects highly-strung women, and sometimes men. St. Vitus Dance is caused by disordered nerves, due to poor blood, and is always cured by the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills which fill the veins with new, rich red blood, strengthening the nerves, and thus drawing out the disease. Here is proof: Mrs. John A. Cumming, Lower Caledonia, N. S., says: "When my daughter Myrtle was about three years of age she became afflicted with St. Vitus Dance. The trouble ultimately became so bad that she could not hold anything in her hands, and had to be fed like a child. She could not even walk across the floor without help. She was treated for some time by a physician, but did not show any improvement. One day a neighbor said she had read of a case of St. Vitus Dance cured by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and we decided to give this medicine a trial. By the time the third box was used there was some improvement in her condition, and we continued giving her the pills for about a month longer when she was entirely cured, and has not since had the least return of the trouble. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills can be obtained from any dealer in medicine or by mail at 20 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont."

PARTISANSHIP MUST GIVE WAY

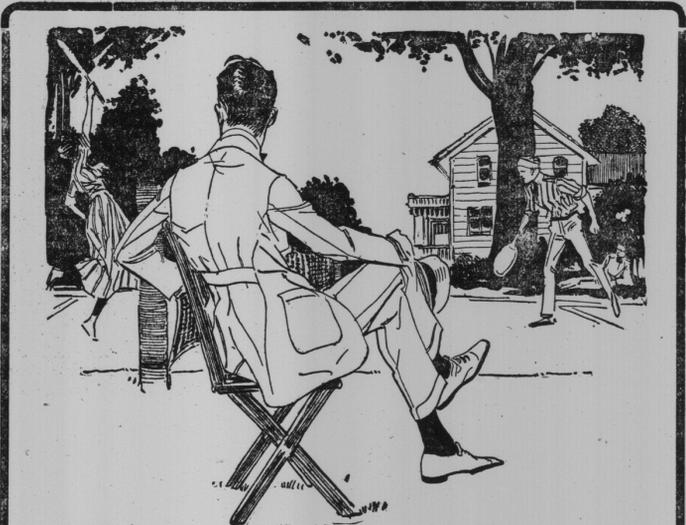

The Chief Liberal Journal of the West Demounces "Orgy of Partisanship"

(Winnipeg Free Press)
The political situation confronting the Canadian people represents the climax of partisanship. Beneath the outward forms and symbols of Canadian democracy is little of its spirit. There has been the old-fashioned phrase, "the free and independent electors." The people have shrank themselves. They have accepted party to the status of principle. The forms and conventions of democracy exist; but the spirit has in great measure departed.

For years Canada has indulged in an orgy of partisanship. Politics, in the small and large, have sought the sweets of office, the benefits of patronage and pull, rather than the national good. Constituencies have bartered their birthrights for a public building or an appropriation for roads. All sections of the people are equally to blame. Those who have not actually benefited have connived; or have allowed themselves to sink into disgust and indifference where they should have been shamed and indignant. Democracy has been degraded to serve the ends of self-interest in all classes of the community.

Self-government has become a mere opportunity for self-seeking. The wages of unfaithfulness is political impotence. Canada today is reaping what she has sown. People and politicians have lost the power to reach the heights of self-sacrifice and disinterested endeavor demanded by the emergency confronting the country. Those who have not actually benefited are decimated. It is the duty of a decadent electorate. It is the duty of a decadent electorate. It is the duty of a decadent electorate. It is the duty of a decadent electorate.

Will the lesson bring a revolution in Canada? Or will the people miss their opportunity? The occasion shows the necessity of a revolution in methods and in motives. The opportunity offers for a re-statement of principles, a re-

THE LATE JAMES W. BIGELOW

The death of J. W. Bigelow at his home in Wolfville on Thursday evening, June 21, was the passing of a man who for many years filled a large place in the life of the community. He was born in Canso a little more than eighty-three years ago, the oldest son of the late W. J. Bigelow. The earlier years of his life were spent in that town. When very young he showed such an aptitude for business that his father took him into a partnership under the firm name of W. J. Bigelow & Son. In 1857 he was united in marriage with Sarah Payzant, the only daughter of the late James Payzant, of Wolfville, to whom six children were born. Mrs. Bigelow, finding the rigors of the Canso climate too severe, persuaded her husband to retire from business in Canso and move to Wolfville, where they have resided since 1869. As a resident of his life were spent in that town. He was a member of the Fruit Growers' Association, and represented that body at the World's Fair, both in Chicago and Buffalo, being in charge of

The wedding will take place at St. Edward's R. C. church, Chelmsford, on June 28.
The Nova Scotia fruit exhibit and also at the provincial exhibition in Halifax for ten years.
Mr. Bigelow was largely instrumental in the establishment of the School of Horticulture and did much to insure its success.
As mayor in 1899-07, he greatly assisted in ridding the town of the public sale of intoxicating liquors. Indeed, any object having for its aim the improvement of the town found in him a wise counsellor and a generous helper. Acadia College and its sister institution, Acadia Seminary was built, he gave both time and money for its erection and the excellent service which he rendered as chairman of the building committee at that time was fully appreciated by the Acadia board of governors. He was a Baptist in sentiment and conviction, a Liberal of the old school in politics, and a gentleman of a generous and gracious spirit. He was a splendid host and nothing gave him greater pleasure than to see his friends surrounding his ample board.
He has lived his life and done his bit in the world's work in his own way, and has gone to his reward. He leaves to mourn their loss his wife, now well advanced in years, two daughters, Mrs. D. G. Whidden, of Wolfville, and Mrs. E. Edgar Whidden, of Antigonish, eighteen grandchildren, one brother, A. W. Bigelow, of Canso, and two sisters, Mrs. P. M. Kempton and Mrs. J. W. Manning, of Wolfville. Four of his grandchildren have enlisted for overseas service and are either in England or "somewhere in France."

If Tener Resigns Barrow May Head National League

International League President Spoken of as Probable Leader in Major Organization

New York, June 25.—John K. Tener, president of the National League, is quoted as saying that he will not be a candidate for re-election in December. Since the reputation of quotations has suddenly sprung into fashion in baseball, it is perhaps well to accept this particular quote with a grain of salt until Mr. Tener has a chance to think it over; but if he is sincere in his announcement, speculation as to his successor is not out of place. Of all the baseball men in the country today but one man comes to mind as possessing potentialities that might make for a real successful president of the old league. That man is Edward Barrow, now president of the International League and one of the ablest executives the game has ever known. When he pulled his organization through the Federal League turmoil Barrow accomplished a remarkable feat. He seems to be an extraordinary baseball business man, with extraordinary baseball business connections. He has been constantly associated with the game as player, manager, man-he has defied about everyone in authority in the big leagues in defense of his organization and he will probably continue to defy 'em if they pick on the International in any way. Next to Ban Johnson, Ed Barrow is probably the best executive in the country. Other men might be just as capable if they had the opportunity to show it, but Barrow has had his opportunity and made good. If Tener really retires from the leadership of the National League, and the National League as a corporation wants the best available man in baseball to look after its affairs it might do well to hire Barrow—that is, if he is indeed available.

MATHEWSON IS SUCCEEDING AS LEADER OF REDS

Cincinnati, June 25.—Since the first of June the Cincinnati Reds, under Christy Mathewson, have been going about as well as any club in the National League. President Hornsby is very much pleased at the way "Big Six" is handling the team and he said so when he was in New York early this week.

"Mathewson as a big league manager is a success," said Hornsby. "He has developed team work and harmony. He also has picked up two good young players in King and Regan. The Cincinnati club is drawing well at home, and Matty is entitled to the credit. We are looking for new players and as soon as we obtain what we need I feel sure that Matty will have one of the best ball clubs in the National League. We made a wise move when we secured him from the Giants."

Mathewson was always admired as a man as well as for his skill as a pitcher. There never was a more popular ball player and everyone is pleased that he is making such a success of his new job.

SAYS SOTHORON HAS EARMARKS OF GREAT PITCHER

St. Louis, June 25.—"Sothorn is going to surprise a lot of folks before the year is out, because I believe he is going to be the champion pitcher of the American League," declared Jones in a fit of joy over the accomplishment of victory.

"To my mind he is the nearest thing to Walsh I have seen since Ed dropped out. For his age he is a remarkable pitcher. That right arm of his is as strong as a piece of steel. He is a cool-headed chap, which is saying a great deal for a pitcher. He has good control of the spitter and he doesn't waste many. Give him a few months of active work and you can take it from me that he will attain the great heights once held by big Ed. He has it in him to make good. He's a natural born player. Did you see the way he fields his position? Isn't it a treat to the eye? Nothing vexes him in action. They can kick and josh him all they want, he comes back for more.

"I wish I had another pitcher like this boy—you know what I mean, a recruit, and develop him. He has added great strength to my pitching staff. He has saved the day for the Browns. I hope to see him reach the top rung in the ladder because it will give him greater confidence as he goes along."

MCDONALD WILLING TO MEET ROBINSON

Gloucester Bay Gazette—"Say, you can put it in the paper if you like that I'll fight this George Robinson any time after I get through with the Zulu Kid, whom I am to meet in Halifax on Dominion Day."

Roddie McDonald delayed a five-mile run on the road yesterday afternoon long enough to drop into the Gazette office and say this. Roddie is training now for his bout in Halifax with the crack Brooklyn boxer on Dominion Day, and looks to be in great shape, the only extra weight noticeable on the "Beast" being a blond Charlie Chaplin moustache that he has developed lately.

Though his name suggests darkest Africa, the Zulu Kid is not a "smoker" by any means, his forefathers having seen the light of day in Sunny Italy. He is a very tough fighter, and will give Roddie a battle all the way. As there will be excursion rates to Halifax for the holiday, it is likely that many sports from here and Sydney will see the bout.

Bored Him. Eight-year-old Jack was a handsome youngster. Naturally all the ladies who saw him wanted to kiss him, but Jack was not old enough to appreciate his privileges. One afternoon several friends of his mother called, and they all kissed him. Later on he went to the pictures, and instead of his pet cowboy scenes the films were of a sentimental description, cap the climax his mother said to him Young Jack returned home pretty well tired of the whole tribe of women. To "Give mother a kiss, dear." Jack looked appealing towards his father and said—"Dad, for goodness sake, kiss this woman!"

REVISION OF CAB HIRE RATES IS APPROVED

Councilmen Confer With Council Committee—Fifty Cents Instead of Thirty—Tenders Opened—Sidewalks Opening Rates To be Reduced

A general revision of the rates for cab hire in the city was approved by the committee of the common council at a meeting this morning. The rate of thirty cents for each passenger in central sections will be abolished and the rate for practically the entire city will be fifty cents. For calls after midnight a minimum rate of $3 is established for the use of a cab, for one or up to four passengers. Ferrage is added to the West Side rates.

Tenders for excavation for water main renewals were opened and referred to a sub-committee.

Commissioner Fisher reported the passage of an act giving the city control over sidewalk openings and announced that he would recommend reductions in the rates for such openings as were fixed by the present by-law.

Mayor Hayes presided and Commissioners Wigmore, Fisher and McLellan were present.

The Cab Rates.

R. T. Worden, David Watson and Harry Short were in attendance in the interests of the livery stable men. After a general discussion of the matter of the rates, it was agreed that the coach rates before midnight be:

For each passenger to or from any point in the main part of the city, bounded by Haymarket Square, Mount Pleasant, as far as the ice house, and the North End to Newman Brook in one direction and the Suspension Bridge in the other, fifty cents.

From any point in the city to the One Mile House or Kane's Corner, seventy-five cents.

To the tuberculosis hospital, East St. John, not more than $2.

Between eastern and western sides of the harbor $2 for one to four passengers, plus ferry tolls.

To or from points outside of the specified area, as may be agreed upon.

After midnight the rates to be, for one to four passengers, on the specified area on the eastern side of the harbor and to and from the western side of the harbor, $3.

These rates were recommended to the common council.

Tenders for excavation and backfill for 2,600 lineal feet of trenches for water main renewals were opened. The tenders were for the total earth cut, ten cubic yards rock cut, twenty cubic yards earth cut below grades and five cubic yards of rock cut below grade and the prices per yard quoted for each class of work, respectively, were as follows:

Louis Corey 70c., $6., 75c., $6.
Kane & Ring, 90c., $5., $1.10, $7.
R. N. Tobias, 72c., $4.40, 95c., $2.50.
W. & J. Kane, 84c., $2., 40c., $2.
Tobias & Moses, 72c., $8.75, $1.25, $4.
Michael George, 79c., $4.50, $1.25, $4.50

The tenders were referred to the mayor and commissioner of water and sewerage, who will report to the council.

Sidewalk Openings.

Commissioner Fisher reported that an act vesting the fee simple of all streets, which have been or may be laid out, in the city and giving the city the control over all openings in streets and sidewalks, had been passed by the legislature. This removes any doubt regarding the city's authority in the matter.

The commissioner will submit a recommendation for changes in the by-law which fixes the annual charges for such openings, providing for a general reduction. One change will be the adoption of different rates in different parts of the city. The present rate is $5 for any opening and proposed rate is $1 for openings up to eighteen inches and $2 for openings over eighteen inches and $3 for a square foot of additional space taken by the surface opening. The present rate for underground space is twenty-five cents a square foot; the rate recommended is ten or fifteen cents, according to locality. The matter will be taken up at the next meeting of the council.

LETTERS FROM TWO SONS

Word From William and Kenneth Finlay, the Former Wounded

Mrs. R. J. Finlay has received a letter from her son, Private William, a member of a local infantry unit, who was recently wounded in the leg, and is at present in Doncaster military hospital, England. He writes that his leg is coming along fine and that he is able to be taken out in a chair. The nurses, he says, use the wounded boys fine and all that is possible for them to do is done. He wished to be remembered to all his old friends in St. John. Another son, Gunner Kenneth, who is at present in France, writes that he has come through the heavy fighting of the weather is fine at time of writing, and that they have had little rain lately. He is of the opinion that the war will last at least another winter. He says that very few of the old boys, that is boys that were over with the original battery, are now in the strength, most of them have either been wounded or transferred. From day to day, he writes, he meets St. John boys and he finds them all looking well.

These boys are sons of Robert J. Finlay, pressman of "The Evening Times."

ARSON CASE BEFORE GRAND JURY TODAY

In the supreme court this morning, Chief Justice McKewen presiding, the case of Hughes and O'Brien, two plumbers, charged with setting fire to property of Mr. Crawford, Loch Lomond road, was given to the grand jury. At noon the jury still had the case under consideration.

The case of Warren vs. Norton Griffith Co., Limited, is being continued today before His Honor Judge Crockett in chambers.

FAIRVILLE MAN COMES HOME FROM STATES TO JOIN THE KILTIES

After living for twenty years in the United States, William Ewart, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Ingalls, and brother of Mrs. Samuel T. Cogle, of Main street, Fairville, has returned to the land of his birth in order to join a Canadian battalion and do service for his king and country. He has joined the Kilties and will leave for Fredericton this evening.

Last evening friends met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Cogle to honor the man who answered the call of right and duty from such a distance. Most of them had known him in days gone by and a very pleasant evening was spent. Games and music were enjoyed and on behalf of those present Mr. Cogle in a neat address presented to him a handsome wrist watch. Though taken completely by surprise he replied suitably, thanking the donors for their kindness all the more appreciated after so many years of absence. Luncheon was served by the hostess and after singing the national anthem the gathering dispersed.

His enlistment after traveling from the states purposely to do so, has won the admiration of interest among friends and acquaintances in the neighborhood where he formerly resided. His name goes on Lancaster's honor roll as that of another who sacrificed much to don khaki in defense of his native land, and his stirring example might well be followed by others much nearer the recruiting station and who have been deaf to the call for men for three years.

BURIED TODAY.

The funeral of Miss Juanita O. Currie took place this afternoon from her parents' residence, 56 Waterloo street. Services were conducted by Rev. D. J. MacPherson. Interment was made in Fernhill.

TRAIN DELAYED.

The Boston train was two hours and thirty minutes late today in arriving in the city. The cause of the delay was due to heavy traffic on the American side of the border.
