

The Chronicle.

Published every Friday afternoon, by Lewis W. Denyer & Co. at their Office in Mr. D. McWhin's building, Prince William Street.

Table with 2 columns: Date and Price. Rows include Saturday, Sunday, Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday.

Public Entertainments.

Bank of New-Brunswick - Robert F. Harvey, Esq. President - Discount Days - Tuesday and Friday.

Commercial Bank.

Bank of New-Brunswick - Robert F. Harvey, Esq. President - Discount Days - Tuesday and Friday.

Bank of British North America.

Bank of British North America - (Saint John Branch) - R. H. Linton, Esq. Manager.

Bank of Montreal.

Bank of Montreal - J. J. Bédard, Esq. President - Office hours from 10 to 3 o'clock.

attached to the soil by any tie of family or possession - and who is prepared to emigrate to the United States of America upon the first symptoms of a depression in the trade, or upon the first suggestion of export; the exception of the native inhabitants, though highly honourable to them, is not sufficiently important to affect the general principle.

The medical gentleman was, however, without being permitted to deny the charge, or to offer evidence in his defence, guilty having committed a breach of privilege, and was instantly committed by the assembly, to prison, and kept in close custody for four days.

Had your majesty's petitioners, and other orderly citizens, been permitted to present their petitions, and to be heard by your majesty, the power of enacting laws in this colony, would have been more wisely administered.

On the occasion of the election of members to serve in the first House of Assembly, the system of oppression and intimidation, which has lately been in full exercise here, had not been organised, and several competent gentlemen had been returned.

Some of the most active propagators of those principles which have lately been so generally adopted, are the members of the present House of Assembly.

Had your majesty's petitioners, and other orderly citizens, been permitted to present their petitions, and to be heard by your majesty, the power of enacting laws in this colony, would have been more wisely administered.

At the present time, the power of enacting laws in this colony, is vested in a few hands, who are not only unaccountable to your majesty, but who are also unaccountable to the people.

Had your majesty's petitioners, and other orderly citizens, been permitted to present their petitions, and to be heard by your majesty, the power of enacting laws in this colony, would have been more wisely administered.

On the occasion of the election of members to serve in the first House of Assembly, the system of oppression and intimidation, which has lately been in full exercise here, had not been organised, and several competent gentlemen had been returned.

Some of the most active propagators of those principles which have lately been so generally adopted, are the members of the present House of Assembly.

Had your majesty's petitioners, and other orderly citizens, been permitted to present their petitions, and to be heard by your majesty, the power of enacting laws in this colony, would have been more wisely administered.

At the present time, the power of enacting laws in this colony, is vested in a few hands, who are not only unaccountable to your majesty, but who are also unaccountable to the people.

Had your majesty's petitioners, and other orderly citizens, been permitted to present their petitions, and to be heard by your majesty, the power of enacting laws in this colony, would have been more wisely administered.

On the occasion of the election of members to serve in the first House of Assembly, the system of oppression and intimidation, which has lately been in full exercise here, had not been organised, and several competent gentlemen had been returned.

Some of the most active propagators of those principles which have lately been so generally adopted, are the members of the present House of Assembly.

Had your majesty's petitioners, and other orderly citizens, been permitted to present their petitions, and to be heard by your majesty, the power of enacting laws in this colony, would have been more wisely administered.

At the present time, the power of enacting laws in this colony, is vested in a few hands, who are not only unaccountable to your majesty, but who are also unaccountable to the people.

Had your majesty's petitioners, and other orderly citizens, been permitted to present their petitions, and to be heard by your majesty, the power of enacting laws in this colony, would have been more wisely administered.

On the occasion of the election of members to serve in the first House of Assembly, the system of oppression and intimidation, which has lately been in full exercise here, had not been organised, and several competent gentlemen had been returned.

Some of the most active propagators of those principles which have lately been so generally adopted, are the members of the present House of Assembly.

Had your majesty's petitioners, and other orderly citizens, been permitted to present their petitions, and to be heard by your majesty, the power of enacting laws in this colony, would have been more wisely administered.

At the present time, the power of enacting laws in this colony, is vested in a few hands, who are not only unaccountable to your majesty, but who are also unaccountable to the people.

Had your majesty's petitioners, and other orderly citizens, been permitted to present their petitions, and to be heard by your majesty, the power of enacting laws in this colony, would have been more wisely administered.

On the occasion of the election of members to serve in the first House of Assembly, the system of oppression and intimidation, which has lately been in full exercise here, had not been organised, and several competent gentlemen had been returned.

Some of the most active propagators of those principles which have lately been so generally adopted, are the members of the present House of Assembly.

Had your majesty's petitioners, and other orderly citizens, been permitted to present their petitions, and to be heard by your majesty, the power of enacting laws in this colony, would have been more wisely administered.

Lieutenant Robert Robertson, vice Barlow, permitted to retire with the rank of Major, 20th March.

Captain Boyd of the 11th Regiment, who arrived yesterday, reports the arrival of Colonel Gove and his staff at the Madawaska.

The whole are in high spirits and appear to have gained vigor from the rapid marches and counter-marches to which they have been this winter exposed.—Royal Gazette.

Yesterday, His Excellency the Lieutenant Governor communicated to the House of Assembly, in answer to the Address of the 10th instant, several important official documents relating to the Boundary question.

His Excellency the Lieutenant Governor communicated to the House of Assembly, in answer to the Address of the 10th instant, several important official documents relating to the Boundary question.

His Excellency the Lieutenant Governor communicated to the House of Assembly, in answer to the Address of the 10th instant, several important official documents relating to the Boundary question.

His Excellency the Lieutenant Governor communicated to the House of Assembly, in answer to the Address of the 10th instant, several important official documents relating to the Boundary question.

His Excellency the Lieutenant Governor communicated to the House of Assembly, in answer to the Address of the 10th instant, several important official documents relating to the Boundary question.

His Excellency the Lieutenant Governor communicated to the House of Assembly, in answer to the Address of the 10th instant, several important official documents relating to the Boundary question.

His Excellency the Lieutenant Governor communicated to the House of Assembly, in answer to the Address of the 10th instant, several important official documents relating to the Boundary question.

His Excellency the Lieutenant Governor communicated to the House of Assembly, in answer to the Address of the 10th instant, several important official documents relating to the Boundary question.

His Excellency the Lieutenant Governor communicated to the House of Assembly, in answer to the Address of the 10th instant, several important official documents relating to the Boundary question.

His Excellency the Lieutenant Governor communicated to the House of Assembly, in answer to the Address of the 10th instant, several important official documents relating to the Boundary question.

His Excellency the Lieutenant Governor communicated to the House of Assembly, in answer to the Address of the 10th instant, several important official documents relating to the Boundary question.

His Excellency the Lieutenant Governor communicated to the House of Assembly, in answer to the Address of the 10th instant, several important official documents relating to the Boundary question.

His Excellency the Lieutenant Governor communicated to the House of Assembly, in answer to the Address of the 10th instant, several important official documents relating to the Boundary question.

His Excellency the Lieutenant Governor communicated to the House of Assembly, in answer to the Address of the 10th instant, several important official documents relating to the Boundary question.

His Excellency the Lieutenant Governor communicated to the House of Assembly, in answer to the Address of the 10th instant, several important official documents relating to the Boundary question.

His Excellency the Lieutenant Governor communicated to the House of Assembly, in answer to the Address of the 10th instant, several important official documents relating to the Boundary question.

His Excellency the Lieutenant Governor communicated to the House of Assembly, in answer to the Address of the 10th instant, several important official documents relating to the Boundary question.

His Excellency the Lieutenant Governor communicated to the House of Assembly, in answer to the Address of the 10th instant, several important official documents relating to the Boundary question.

His Excellency the Lieutenant Governor communicated to the House of Assembly, in answer to the Address of the 10th instant, several important official documents relating to the Boundary question.

His Excellency the Lieutenant Governor communicated to the House of Assembly, in answer to the Address of the 10th instant, several important official documents relating to the Boundary question.

His Excellency the Lieutenant Governor communicated to the House of Assembly, in answer to the Address of the 10th instant, several important official documents relating to the Boundary question.

in any way open and debatable; but I deem this necessary for making, if I enable us to preserve peace honorably between the two countries.

The question of present jurisdiction is, after all, from its nature, subordinate and provisional; it will come to be any question at all, as soon as the Boundary question is determined. Surely it would be a lamentable act of impudence, if, while the two Governments are gravely and in a friendly spirit negotiating the question of the Disputed Boundary, the Nations should rush to war in order to decide the inferior point of which shall in the mean time exercise temporary jurisdiction within the disputed territory.

The duplicate of the enclosed memorandum is forwarded to the Governor of Maine, who I have no doubt will refer the recommendation to the President, who will comply with the terms proposed, if Your Excellency shall be willing equally to accede to them.

I have the honor to be, with great respect and consideration, Your Excellency's most obedient and humble Servant.

H. S. FOX, His Excellency Major General, Sir John Harvey.

Government House, Fredericton, N. B., March 26, 1839.

Sir—Your Excellency's letter of the 27th inst., with an enclosure, was this day delivered to me by Mr. Scott, a special Messenger.

Yielding to circumstances, which I admit with Your Excellency to constitute a sufficient justification for a departure from the strict letter of the instructions from Her Majesty's Government, under which it made my duty to set in reference to the Territory in dispute between Great Britain and the United States at the north West Frontier of this Province, and I will add, to the anxious desire which I have always felt, that matters of obviously secondary and important character should be treated with the greatest consideration, should not be allowed to involve this Province in border collision with the State of Maine, which might lead to a National War, I do not shrink from the responsibility imposed upon me by those instructions of deferring all offensive measures so far as the occupation by the Militia of the State of Maine of a certain portion of the Disputed Territory, for a period which may be sufficient to enable me or Your Excellency to receive the decision of Her Majesty's Government upon the subject. My measures shall accordingly be confined to the protection of the communication between the Province and Lower Canada, through the Valley of the Saint John, and of Her Majesty's Territory of the Madawaska settlement.

I cannot conclude this dispatch without tendering to Your Excellency my thanks for the many and often which you have made with regard to the responsibility of a deviation on my part from the strict letter of the instructions which I have in strict accordance with the whole tenor of the correspondence which I have had the honor and the pleasure of holding with Your Excellency upon this subject, during the short period of my administration of the Government of this Province, and I beg you to believe, and I know that Your Excellency will not doubt, that I sincerely participate in the sentiments embodied in the paragraph immediately succeeding that conveying this tender.

I have the honor to be, With the highest respect, &c. &c. H. S. FOX, His Excellency's Right Hon. H. S. FOX, Esq.

Government House, Fredericton, N. B., March 26, 1839.

Major General Sir John Harvey, presents his compliments to Governor Fairfield, and with reference to a communication which he has just received from Her Majesty's Minister at Washington, transmitting a memorandum under the joint signatures of Mr. Forsyth, secretary of state, and Mr. Fox, secretary of war, in relation to the Disputed Territory, to Governor Fairfield and himself respectively, begs to say, that he will be happy to enter into such amicable communication with His Excellency upon the subject, as may be conducive to the attainment of the very desirable and important object thereby proposed to be effected.

Sir John Harvey has ordered Mr. Fox's communication by expressing his entire readiness to concur in any arrangement, so far as may be dependent upon him.

The Eastern Mail arrived last night at 11 o'clock. The Portland troops arrived at 11 o'clock on Wednesday night, and were quartered in the Town House, they were expected to arrive in August to the next day, when there would be a thousand men there.

A bill had been reported in the Maine Legislature to incorporate the County of Restock, the shire town to be Houlton.

The August Journal of Thursday eve, it is expected that the Governor would send a Message to the Legislature as soon as he should ascertain what measures were adopted by Congress.

The drafted militia from Oxford County, about 500, were at Augusta, where it was expected they would remain a few days.

Basson, Mr. March 6. Fitzherbert, at whose house our Land Agent and others were taken prisoners by the trespasser, and by whose residence they were seized, has been arrested, and is now on his way to Bangor as prisoner. It seems that after his guests had retired, he sent information to the trespassers, who were stationed some 5 or 6 miles off, and they then upon proceeded to his house, and with his assistance secured them as captives.

The troops have been today parading the streets, and the most of the day has been occupied in drilling. In the morning, the whole of the troops marched in a column through the city, and made a very good appearance.

Very large quantities of provisions are daily arriving and sent off to the camp.

The U. S. ship of war Concord has been ordered to sea forthwith. Her destination is supposed to be on the Eastern station, to prevent any depredation from British ships upon the coast of Maine.

Lately from the Arctostook.—The men who were sent by Mr. Jarvis a few days since to arrest the plunderers on Fish river, succeeded in taking five men, eight, and a horse, and have returned to the camp of the Land Agent.—Bangor Herald.

Our city again to day wears a warlike aspect. All is bustle and confusion. Expresses are arriving and departing, baggage waggon and soldiers coming and going.

J. P. T. Dumont, Esq. arrived in this city this morning, at 3 o'clock, from Augusta. We presume his business is connected with the Boundary, but nothing has yet transpired. He left about 12 o'clock for Houlton.

Gen. Dashiell has arrived here from the Kennebec, and a large portion of his troops also arrived here about 12 o'clock today. They are a fine looking set of men, and are in the best of spirits. They quarter here to night, and will take up their line of march to-morrow morning for Houlton.

We understand the Steamer Bangor has been chartered, and is to proceed forthwith to Portland to convey the troops of that division to this city.

From Houlton.—By the Express which arrived last night at 11 o'clock, we have accounts from Houlton to March 29. Capt. McLaughlin was then having an interview with Major General Hodson, but of what character is not known. We believe the express brought dispatches from Gen. Hodson to Gov. Fairfield. Three companies of our troops had gone up to the mouth of the Arctostook—the remainder were at Houlton. The Brig. Force which was at the Tobique settlement, had left for the Grand Falls. All was apparently quiet in the Province, except some military trainings.

By the Steamer Bangor, we have ordered the Steamer Bangor, (now lying in that port) to be immediately put in perfect order for business, that if application be made for her by the authorities of the State of Maine, or the General Government, for the transportation of supplies or troops to the State of Maine, her services may be obtained, and that she will be ready on the 27th inst.

New York, March 6.—In the consideration of this matter of jurisdiction we find Sir John Harvey and Mr. Fox pressing the same argument of explicit agreement; and this is denied by Gov. Fairfield in his letter, by the President of the United States in his message, and by the Committee of the Senate in their resolutions. Who is right will be ascertained in due time; but the meanwhile it may be shown that at least there was an arrangement between the two Governments. The following extract from the speech of Mr. Lincoln, in Congress, on Tuesday last, will go far to establish this much:—

"In 1823 this British land agent, MacLaughlin, procured the same claims as he did now; and Mr. Lincoln in his message to Congress, would show that his claims were then as much a ground of complaint and remonstrance on the part of Massachusetts."

The extent of these pretensions might be gathered from the representations made by Mr. MacLaughlin to the British Government, and from the disjunct territories, in a communication addressed to Sir Archibald Campbell, under date of the 20th of September, 1823; from which Mr. L. read the following extract:—

"Since I have had the honor of the appointment of Warden of the territory, I have endeavored, as much as possible, to prevent trespasses being made by the cutting of pine timber, &c., and which, I am happy to say, has been generally effected, as it is well known to your Excellency, that the land standing adjacent to the line, from Mr. L.'s fall to the Great Falls, which would otherwise have been removed."

The subject to which I must now beg the honor to call the attention of your Excellency, is that of an infringement of the understanding between the Government of Great Britain and the Government of the State of Maine of a certain portion of the Disputed Territory, for a period which may be sufficient to enable me or Your Excellency to receive the decision of Her Majesty's Government upon the subject.

It is unnecessary, and probably might be considered improper on my part, to commemorate the conduct of these agents; but Your Excellency must be well aware of the trouble it occasions in the performance of my duty; and certainly there does appear something, beyond the ordinary course of the land agents of these States should attempt to counter the wishes—say, I may almost say, the instructions of the British Government, if such has been attempted to prevent collision between them.

This representation had been made (said Mr. L.) the occasion of a demand, by Mr. McLane, of an explanation from the Government of Massachusetts, of the exercise of a right of supervision over the property of Great Britain, in the conduct of the settlement of the question of boundary, by the land agents of the States of Massachusetts and Maine, whose agents were in possession of the territory in question, and who were engaged in cutting pine timber on the territory in my charge, by paying them a duty of two shillings and six pence per cord, but have entered into contracts for opening two roads to intersect, one fifty miles from the line with the St. John, and other 20 miles, both of which are to be completed this fall or early in the next season.

It is unnecessary, and probably might be considered improper on my part, to commemorate the conduct of these agents; but Your Excellency must be well aware of the trouble it occasions in the performance of my duty; and certainly there does appear something, beyond the ordinary course of the land agents of these States should attempt to counter the wishes—say, I may almost say, the instructions of the British Government, if such has been attempted to prevent collision between them.

This representation had been made (said Mr. L.) the occasion of a demand, by Mr. McLane, of an explanation from the Government of Massachusetts, of the exercise of a right of supervision over the property of Great Britain, in the conduct of the settlement of the question of boundary, by the land agents of the States of Massachusetts and Maine, whose agents were in possession of the territory in question, and who were engaged in cutting pine timber on the territory in my charge, by paying them a duty of two shillings and six pence per cord, but have entered into contracts for opening two roads to intersect, one fifty miles from the line with the St. John, and other 20 miles, both of which are to be completed this fall or early in the next season.

It is unnecessary, and probably might be considered improper on my part, to commemorate the conduct of these agents; but Your Excellency must be well aware of the trouble it occasions in the performance of my duty; and certainly there does appear something, beyond the ordinary course of the land agents of these States should attempt to counter the wishes—say, I may almost say, the instructions of the British Government, if such has been attempted to prevent collision between them.

This representation had been made (said Mr. L.) the occasion of a demand, by Mr. McLane, of an explanation from the Government of Massachusetts, of the exercise of a right of supervision over the property of Great Britain, in the conduct of the settlement of the question of boundary, by the land agents of the States of Massachusetts and Maine, whose agents were in possession of the territory in question, and who were engaged in cutting pine timber on the territory in my charge, by paying them a duty of two shillings and six pence per cord, but have entered into contracts for opening two roads to intersect, one fifty miles from the line with the St. John, and other 20 miles, both of which are to be completed this fall or early in the next season.

It is unnecessary, and probably might be considered improper on my part, to commemorate the conduct of these agents; but Your Excellency must be well aware of the trouble it occasions in the performance of my duty; and certainly there does appear something, beyond the ordinary course of the land agents of these States should attempt to counter the wishes—say, I may almost say, the instructions of the British Government, if such has been attempted to prevent collision between them.

This representation had been made (said Mr. L.) the occasion of a demand, by Mr. McLane, of an explanation from the Government of Massachusetts, of the exercise of a right of supervision over the property of Great Britain, in the conduct of the settlement of the question of boundary, by the land agents of the States of Massachusetts and Maine, whose agents were in possession of the territory in question, and who were engaged in cutting pine timber on the territory in my charge, by paying them a duty of two shillings and six pence per cord, but have entered into contracts for opening two roads to intersect, one fifty miles from the line with the St. John, and other 20 miles, both of which are to be completed this fall or early in the next season.

It is unnecessary, and probably might be considered improper on my part, to commemorate the conduct of these agents; but Your Excellency must be well aware of the trouble it occasions in the performance of my duty; and certainly there does appear something, beyond the ordinary course of the land agents of these States should attempt to counter the wishes—say, I may almost say, the instructions of the British Government, if such has been attempted to prevent collision between them.

This representation had been made (said Mr. L.) the occasion of a demand, by Mr. McLane, of an explanation from the Government of Massachusetts, of the exercise of a right of supervision over the property of Great Britain, in the conduct of the settlement of the question of boundary, by the land agents of the States of Massachusetts and Maine, whose agents were in possession of the territory in question, and who were engaged in cutting pine timber on the territory in my charge, by paying them a duty of two shillings and six pence per cord, but have entered into contracts for opening two roads to intersect, one fifty miles from the line with the St. John, and other 20 miles, both of which are to be completed this fall or early in the next season.

It is unnecessary, and probably might be considered improper on my part, to commemorate the conduct of these agents; but Your Excellency must be well aware of the trouble it occasions in the performance of my duty; and certainly there does appear something, beyond the ordinary course of the land agents of these States should attempt to counter the wishes—say, I may almost say, the instructions of the British Government, if such has been attempted to prevent collision between them.

This representation had been made (said Mr. L.) the occasion of a demand, by Mr. McLane, of an explanation from the Government of Massachusetts, of the exercise of a right of supervision over the property of Great Britain, in the conduct of the settlement of the question of boundary, by the land agents of the States of Massachusetts and Maine, whose agents were in possession of the territory in question, and who were engaged in cutting pine timber on the territory in my charge, by paying them a duty of two shillings and six pence per cord, but have entered into contracts for opening two roads to intersect, one fifty miles from the line with the St. John, and other 20 miles, both of which are to be completed this fall or early in the next season.

It is unnecessary, and probably might be considered improper on my part, to commemorate the conduct of these agents; but Your Excellency must be well aware of the trouble it occasions in the performance of my duty; and certainly there does appear something, beyond the ordinary course of the land agents of these States should attempt to counter the wishes—say, I may almost say, the instructions of the British Government, if such has been attempted to prevent collision between them.

This representation had been made (said Mr. L.) the occasion of a demand, by Mr. McLane, of an explanation from the Government of Massachusetts, of the exercise of a right of supervision over the property of Great Britain, in the conduct of the settlement of the question of boundary, by the land agents of the States of Massachusetts and Maine, whose agents were in possession of the territory in question, and who were engaged in cutting pine timber on the territory in my charge, by paying them a duty of two shillings and six pence per cord, but have entered into contracts for opening two roads to intersect, one fifty miles from the line with the St. John, and other 20 miles, both of which are to be completed this fall or early in the next season.

It is unnecessary, and probably might be considered improper on my part, to commemorate the conduct of these agents; but Your Excellency must be well aware of the trouble it occasions in the performance of my duty; and certainly there does appear something, beyond the ordinary course of the land agents of these States should attempt to counter the wishes—say, I may almost say, the instructions of the British Government, if such has been attempted to prevent collision between them.

This representation had been made (said Mr. L.) the occasion of a demand, by Mr. McLane, of an explanation from the Government of Massachusetts, of the exercise of a right of supervision over the property of Great Britain, in the conduct of the settlement of the question of boundary, by the land agents of the States of Massachusetts and Maine, whose agents were in possession of the territory in question, and who were engaged in cutting pine timber on the territory in my charge, by paying them a duty of two shillings and six pence per cord, but have entered into contracts for opening two roads to intersect, one fifty miles from the line with the St. John, and other 20 miles, both of which are to be completed this fall or early in the next season.

It is unnecessary, and probably might be considered improper on my part, to commemorate the conduct of these agents; but Your Excellency must be well aware of the trouble it occasions in the performance of my duty; and certainly there does appear something, beyond the ordinary course of the land agents of these States should attempt to counter the wishes—say, I may almost say, the instructions of the British Government, if such has been attempted to prevent collision between them.

This representation had been made (said Mr. L.) the occasion of a demand, by Mr. McLane, of an explanation from the Government of Massachusetts, of the exercise of a right of supervision over the property of Great Britain, in the conduct of the settlement of the question of boundary, by the land agents of the States of Massachusetts and Maine, whose agents were in possession of the territory in question, and who were engaged in cutting pine timber on the territory in my charge, by paying them a duty of two shillings and six pence per cord, but have entered into contracts for opening two roads to intersect, one fifty miles from the line with the St. John, and other 20 miles, both of which are to be completed this fall or early in the next season.

It is unnecessary, and probably might be considered improper on my part, to commemorate the conduct of these agents; but Your Excellency must be well aware of the trouble it occasions in the performance of my duty; and certainly there does appear something, beyond the ordinary course of the land agents of these States should attempt to counter the wishes—say, I may almost say, the instructions of the British Government, if such has been attempted to prevent collision between them.

This representation had been made (said Mr. L.) the occasion of a demand, by Mr. McLane, of an explanation from the Government of Massachusetts, of the exercise of a right of supervision over the property of Great Britain, in the conduct of the settlement of the question of boundary, by the land agents of the States of Massachusetts and Maine, whose agents were in possession of the territory in question, and who were engaged in cutting pine timber on the territory in my charge, by paying them a duty of two shillings and six pence per cord, but have entered into contracts for opening two roads to intersect, one fifty miles from the line with the St. John, and other 20 miles, both of which are to be completed this fall or early in the next season.

It is unnecessary, and probably might be considered improper on my part, to commemorate the conduct of these agents; but Your Excellency must be well aware of the trouble it occasions in the performance of my duty; and certainly there does appear something, beyond the ordinary course of the land agents of these States should attempt to counter the wishes—say, I may almost say, the instructions of the British Government, if such has been attempted to prevent collision between them.

Mr. Thomas Keane, of the Parish of Sussex, King's County, to Miss Elizabeth M. Beth, of the City of St. John.

At Sussex Vale, on the 26th ult. by the Rev. H. N. Arnold, Mr. Thomas Pierce, of Norton, to Margaret, fourth daughter of Mr. John Blair, of the former place.

At the same place, by the same, to Miss Mary Ann Denton, of the Parish of Sussex.

At Westbury last, after a short but severe illness, Caldwell Fullerton, aged 23 years, leaving a wife and four small children to lament their loss.

At Westbury morning, Georgina E. youngest daughter of Mr. James Boston.

At Westbury, on Monday last, of consumption, Miss Elizabeth, 6th daughter of Doctor Levi Weston, of St. Stephen, in the 7th year of her age; leaving the third daughter Doctor Weston has lost by consumption within two years.

At the Necropolis, after a tedious illness, which she bore with Christian patience and resignation, Mrs. Elizabeth Weston, 6th daughter of Doctor Levi Weston, leaving a husband and six children to lament their loss.

At the Necropolis, on 21st inst. Mrs. Margaret Townley, 6th daughter of Doctor Levi Weston, leaving a husband and six children to lament their loss.

At the Necropolis, on 21st inst. Mrs. Margaret Townley, 6th daughter of Doctor Levi Weston, leaving a husband and six children to lament their loss.

At the Necropolis, on 21st inst. Mrs. Margaret Townley, 6th daughter of Doctor Levi Weston, leaving a husband and six children to lament their loss.

At the Necropolis, on 21st inst. Mrs. Margaret Townley, 6th daughter of Doctor Levi Weston, leaving a husband and six children to lament their loss.

At the Necropolis, on 21st inst. Mrs. Margaret Townley, 6th daughter of Doctor Levi Weston, leaving a husband and six children to lament their loss.

At the Necropolis, on 21st inst. Mrs. Margaret Townley, 6th daughter of Doctor Levi Weston, leaving a husband and six children to lament their loss.

At the Necropolis, on 21st inst. Mrs. Margaret Townley, 6th daughter of Doctor Levi Weston, leaving a husband and six children to lament their loss.

At the Necropolis, on 21st inst. Mrs. Margaret Townley, 6th daughter of Doctor Levi Weston, leaving a husband and six children to lament their loss.

At the Necropolis, on 21st inst. Mrs. Margaret Townley, 6th daughter of Doctor Levi Weston, leaving a husband and six children to lament their loss.

At the Necropolis, on 21st inst. Mrs. Margaret Townley, 6th daughter of Doctor Levi Weston, leaving a husband and six children to lament their loss.

At the Necropolis, on 21st inst. Mrs. Margaret Townley, 6th daughter of Doctor Levi Weston, leaving a husband and six children to lament their loss.

At the Necropolis, on 21st inst. Mrs. Margaret Townley, 6th daughter of Doctor Levi Weston, leaving a husband and six children to lament their loss.

At the Necropolis, on 21st inst. Mrs. Margaret Townley, 6th daughter of Doctor Levi Weston, leaving a husband and six children to lament their loss.

At the Necropolis, on 21st inst. Mrs. Margaret Townley, 6th daughter of Doctor Levi Weston, leaving a husband and six children to lament their loss.

At the Necropolis, on 21st inst. Mrs. Margaret Townley, 6th daughter of Doctor Levi Weston, leaving a husband and six children to lament their loss.

At the Necropolis, on 21st inst. Mrs. Margaret Townley, 6th daughter of Doctor Levi Weston, leaving a husband and six children to lament their loss.

At the Necropolis, on 21st inst. Mrs. Margaret Townley, 6th daughter of Doctor Levi Weston, leaving a husband and six children to lament their loss.

At the Necropolis, on 21st inst. Mrs. Margaret Townley, 6th daughter of Doctor Levi Weston, leaving a husband and six children to lament their loss.

At the Necropolis, on 21st inst. Mrs. Margaret Townley, 6th daughter of Doctor Levi Weston, leaving a husband and six children to lament their loss.

At the Necropolis, on 21st inst. Mrs. Margaret Townley, 6th daughter of Doctor Levi Weston, leaving a husband and six children to lament their loss.

On Tuesday, the 26th inst. the subscribers will offer for sale at the Warehouse of John Robertson, Esq. a large and valuable assortment of British and East India Goods—

40 CHESTS Congo TEA; 50 half chests ditto; 100 packages Gunpowder, Hyson and Souchong TEAS; 25 chests (E. I. Company) fine Bales do. 100 chests Bales do. 20 Hides Bright sugar, 10 bags Prunes, 20 Gross Wine Bottles, in perfect order; 20 do. Velvet, Wines and Beer Casks; 10 Hides, Raw & Tanned Lined OIL, 10,000 lbs 7/4, 8/4, 12/4, 14/4, 15/4, 16/4, 17/4, 18/4, 19/4, 20/4, 21/4, 22/4, 23/4, 24/4, 25/4, 26/4, 27/4, 28/4, 29/4, 30/4, 31/4, 32/4, 33/4, 34/4, 35/4, 36/4, 37/4, 38/4, 39/4, 40/4, 41/4, 42/4, 43/4, 44/4, 45/4, 46/4, 47/4, 48/4, 49/4, 50/4, 51/4, 52/4, 53/4, 54/4, 55/4, 56/4, 57/4, 58/4, 59/4, 60/4, 61/4, 62/4, 63/4, 64/4, 65/4, 66/4, 67/4, 68/4, 69/4, 70/4, 71/4, 72/4, 73/4, 74/4, 75/4, 76/4, 77/4, 78/4, 79/4, 80/4, 81/4, 82/4, 83/4, 84/4, 85/4, 86/4, 87/4, 88/4, 89/4, 90/4, 91/4, 92/4, 93/4, 94/4, 95/4, 96/4, 97/4, 98/4, 99/4, 100/4.

At the Necropolis, on 21st inst. Mrs. Margaret Townley, 6th daughter of Doctor Levi Weston, leaving a husband and six children to lament their loss.

At the Necropolis, on 21st inst. Mrs. Margaret Townley, 6th daughter of Doctor Levi Weston, leaving a husband and six children to lament their loss.

At the Necropolis, on 21st inst. Mrs. Margaret Townley, 6th daughter of Doctor Levi Weston, leaving a husband and six children to lament their loss.

At the Necropolis, on 21st inst. Mrs. Margaret Townley, 6th daughter of Doctor Levi Weston, leaving a husband and six children to lament their loss.

At the Necropolis, on 21st inst. Mrs. Margaret Townley, 6th daughter of Doctor Levi Weston, leaving a husband and six children to lament their loss.

At the Necropolis, on 21st inst. Mrs. Margaret Townley, 6th daughter of Doctor Levi Weston, leaving a husband and six children to lament their loss.

At the Necropolis, on 21st inst. Mrs. Margaret Townley, 6th daughter of Doctor Levi Weston, leaving a husband and six children to lament their loss.

At the Necropolis, on 21st inst. Mrs. Margaret Townley, 6th daughter of Doctor Levi Weston, leaving a husband and six children to lament their loss.

At the Necropolis, on 21st inst. Mrs. Margaret Townley, 6th daughter of Doctor Levi Weston, leaving a husband and six children to lament their loss.

At the Necropolis, on 21st inst. Mrs. Margaret Townley, 6th daughter of Doctor Levi Weston, leaving a husband and six children to lament their loss.

At the Necropolis, on 21st inst. Mrs. Margaret Townley, 6th daughter of Doctor Levi Weston, leaving a husband and six children to lament their loss.

At the Necropolis, on 21st inst. Mrs. Margaret Townley, 6th daughter of Doctor Levi Weston, leaving a husband and six children to lament their loss.

At the Necropolis, on 21st inst. Mrs. Margaret Townley, 6th daughter of Doctor Levi Weston, leaving a husband and six children to lament their loss.

At the Necropolis, on 21st inst. Mrs. Margaret Townley, 6th daughter of Doctor Levi Weston, leaving a husband and six children to lament their loss.

At the Necropolis, on 21st inst. Mrs. Margaret Townley, 6th daughter of Doctor Levi Weston, leaving a husband and six children to lament their loss.

At the Necropolis, on 21st inst. Mrs. Margaret Townley, 6th daughter of Doctor Levi Weston, leaving a husband and six children to lament their loss.

At the Necropolis, on 21st inst. Mrs. Margaret Townley, 6th daughter of Doctor Levi Weston, leaving a husband and six children to lament their loss.

At the Necropolis, on 21st inst. Mrs. Margaret Townley, 6th daughter of Doctor Levi Weston, leaving a husband and six children to lament their loss.

At the Necropolis, on 21st inst. Mrs. Margaret Townley, 6th daughter of Doctor Levi Weston, leaving a husband and six children to lament their loss.

At the Necropolis, on 21st inst. Mrs. Margaret Townley, 6th daughter of Doctor Levi Weston, leaving a husband and six children to lament their loss.

At the Necropolis, on 21st inst. Mrs. Margaret Townley, 6th daughter of Doctor Levi Weston, leaving a husband and six children to lament their loss.

At the Necropolis, on 21st inst. Mrs. Margaret Townley, 6th daughter of Doctor Levi Weston, leaving a husband and six children to lament their loss.

At the Necropolis, on 21st inst. Mrs. Margaret Townley, 6th daughter of Doctor Levi Weston, leaving a husband and six children to lament their loss.

