THE STORY

YOU will meet "Pop" Grout, father of a typical American family and head of Grout's department store in a small town. He is a lovable character fond of his wife and children, too busy paying their bills to see that they are growing apart from him and seeking grand manners while he remains a simple home loving man.

His daughter Mab falls in love with one of his clerks, Seth Smith, and the rest of the snobbish family is dead set against the match. All except dear old Pop, who remembers that his society-loving wife once wore gingham. He sighs for those days when they were poorer—and happier.

The demands of his family almost bankrupt Pop Grout. He doesn't get much attention from the children but he plops on loyally, wearily, eager to give them what they desire. His shabby clothes are a contrast to their finery. They criticize his econo- mies.

And then their fine bubble bursts. Pop breaks down under the strain. Their hearts smite them for their injustice to this good man. They keep vigil at his bedside. All the old family affection comes flooding back to their hearts. And Pop, a hero in his fashion, fights back to health and saves his store so that his children may lack nothing. And the clerk Smith proves his mettle and the old folks see another flowering of romance in the family homestead.

TO INVESTIGATE POTATO AND GRAIN MARKET

Efforts of T. W. Caldwell and Pius Michaud Prove Effective in Parliament

The Dominion parliament will appoint a commissioner to investigate the possibilities for marketing potatoes and grain in Cuba and the West Indies and T. W. Caldwell, M. P. for Carleton-Victoria, and Pius Michaud, the energetic member for Madawaska-Restigouche, have been persistent and successful in an effort to insure the interests of the potato growers being looked after, as well as the grain-growers.

The original motion in part is thus: "Therefore be it Resolved:

"That in the opinion of this House, it is desirable that this government should create a commission for the purpose of making enquiry into the grain trade, whose findings might serve as a basis for improvement of present legislation relative thereto or for the creation in the immediate future of some permanent solution of the grain marketing problem."

Mr. Caldwell arose in his place and spoke at some length saying in part: "While the United States market was open to us our shipping problem was a fairly simple one; we just shipped by the railroad. But since that market has been closed to us by the American emergency tariff, Cuba has been practically the only outlet for any quantity of our potatoes. I urged upon the government last spring, apart from the providing of these facilities at St. John, the importance of giving us a regular service of the Government Merchant Marine between St. John and Cuba. I would make that representation even stronger now, because my worst fears have been realized with regard to transportation from St. John to that island. In order to ship potatoes from St. John to Cuba our shippers must charter a vessel and load it with potatoes. If they do not all the space with potatoes they must pay for it anyway. This puts the export business in potatoes into the hands of a few of the largest shippers of New Brunswick. The smaller shippers are practically shut out because they cannot charter and load a vessel at each trip.

"There is another condition to be contended with in Cuba; and while we have no control over the actual trade in Cuba I believe that regular sailings from St. John would enable us to overcome the difficulty from this end. "I should like to have an assurance from the Minister of Agriculture (Mr. Motherwell), that when the proposed committee begins its deliberations, or when the commission, if the government decide to appoint one, is constituted, I may have leave to submit this matter for consideration. I thought this an opportune time to bring to the attention of the government the fact that there are other important exports in Canada besides grain, in the handling of which they are great abuses." Mr. Caldwell was followed by Mr. Michaud, who said: "Mr. Speaker I do not wish to make any lengthy remarks on this subject, for I do not know very much about the mixing of grain, although I am the son of a farmer. But I would like to ask the hon. member for Qu'Appelle (Mr. Miller) if he would add to his resolution after the word grain and potatoes. I do not believe he will refuse to grant that request. The reason why I ask him to do that is this: our American friends are coming over in New Brunswick for potatoes. It seems that we are growing the best potatoes in Canada, and our difficulty just as it is with the grain growers—is the necessity for an improved system of marketing our potato seed. I would ask my hon. friend therefore, to include these words in his motion."

John Miller, mover of the motion, said: "I do not think it is necessary for me to spend very much time in closing the debate. There seems to be a unanimity of opinion in regard to the necessity for an investigation. The last speaker asked that the words 'and potatoes' be added to the resolution. Personally I have not a very strong objection to the addition of those words who are appointed to investigate the grain trade would naturally be men who are posted in that trade, and I was wondering whether they would have the necessary insight into and knowledge of the problems which my hon. friend has in mind. I was wondering whether that matter could not be brought before the special committee. If that, however, is not satisfactory to my hon. friend, and if it is thought by the House that it would be best to have the two subjects investigated by the same commission, I would offer no objection to the addition of the words suggested. "I am willing to insert the words 'and potatoes' before the word 'trade' and also before the word 'marketing' in the last paragraph."

Motion as amended agreed to.

WHAT ABOUT FATHER?

Does the Head of the Family Have a Fair Chance for Happiness?

Does Father have a fair chance in this striving, thriving democracy of ours?

The praises of Mother have been told in song and story for untold ages—even Son and daughter, in various stages of development, have had their delighted chroniclers, but most writers have overlooked the nominal head of the family. Father has been used merely as a background for wife, son or daughter. And it must be confessed that that is what he is in perhaps the majority of instances in America.

Father is the breadwinner—"a good thing" to be plucked and used in various ways by the members of his family—always striving to make more money to give his wife and children a better home, better clothes, more delicate food, a summer holiday in the mountains or at the sea.

Just because he is the background for his family, he has been neglected by novelists, dramatists and motion picture writers. But now comes in the person of Rupert Hughes, Goldwyn author and director, a celebrant of the virtues of the Father of the average American family. His latest motion picture, "Remembrance" is devoted to chronicling the life and struggles of "Pop" Grout, and his little business in a middling American town.

"Remembrance" is coming to the Neighborhood Theatre for two days, Thursday and Friday, March 8 and 9 and at Centreville March 10. Every father will want to see it; and every wife, mother, son and daughter should see it. Father should round up his entire family and take them to see this super-photoplay. It will give them a new respect for Father and a new understanding and sympathy with the daily problems and perplexities which confront him.

Mr. Hughes has done in "Remembrance" for Father what he did in "The Old Nest" for Mother. The two photoplays will long be linked together in the memories of those who have seen them. Taken together they form an epic of American family life. "Remembrance" has all the homely fascinatingly human details which sets Rupert Hughes's Goldwyn photoplays apart from all others; it has humor and pathos, dramatic action and suspense.

Mr. Hughes directed the production and was given a high-powered cast to work with. Claude Cillingwater, star of "Three Wise Fools," enacts the role of "Pop" Grout so convincingly that he seems the typical American father; Kate Lester, Cullen Landis, Patsy Ruth Miller, Richard Tucker, Dana Todd, Nell Craig, Esther Ralston, Max Davidson, William Carroll, Arthur Trimble, Lucille Richsen and Helen Hayward complete the cast.

BARACAS HAVE DEBATE BETWEEN THEMSELVES

The affirmatives were the winners in a very interesting debate last Tuesday evening, which was held in the vestry of the Baptist church. The affair was held under the auspices of the Baracca class and was largely attended.

The subject, "Resolved: that life in the country is more favorable to human development than life in the city" was fully discussed by the leaders and members of the different teams.

In the absence of the President of the society, Mrs. S. S. Miller acted as chairman. Before the debate was started several musical numbers were rendered, including a solo by Ald. Warren White and a duet.

M. L. Hayward, B. C. L., was leader of the affirmative and was supported by F. A. Alton, Ralph Robinson, Fred Allen, and Ben. Irving.

Warren White led the negative side and was supported by Harvey Reid, Gage Montgomery, Willie Taylor, Sterling King, Gordon Luskey, Ed Lackey, Raleigh Britton and Walter Nodden.

The judges of the debate were Rev.

E. B. McLatchey, Rev. W. P. Haigh and Edmund Stratton.

The leaders of the different teams presented their arguments in an able manner, showing the advantages and disadvantages of both city and country life.

The judges, after going into the matter fully, decided that the affirmatives were winners by 1 1/2 points.

K. OF P. ENTERTAIN AT MOCK TRIAL

The members of Brighton Lodge, No. 51, Knights of Pythias, celebrated the anniversary of the founding of the order Monday evening by holding a "Mock Trial." A large number of invited guests were present and a most enjoyable time was spent.

The accused, Francis Appleby, was charged with crimes, among them being a charge of "stealing the collection from a Holy Roller Convention held at Hawkeshaw, N. B., amounting to 40 cents and pinching and abusing a member of the convention, also gaining admittance through a forged certificate."

E. W. Laskey acted as judge and Rev. W. P. Haigh was clerk of court. After the court had convened, considerable trouble arose in selecting a jury. A large number were called, but were challenged by both the attorneys for the prosecution and defence. Finally the following were selected: H. N. Boyer, Fred Allen, Vernon Nodden, Peter Violette, H. T. Nixon, Dr. Belyea.

The prisoner was then brought to the docket and the charge read to him and a plea of "not guilty" was put in. After the prosecuting attorney, M. L. Hayward, had announced his case, evidence was brought forth by the crown. W. E. Thornton, G. W. Foster and Weldon Ward gave their testimony and set up a strong case for the crown.

G. W. Montgomery acted as attorney for the defence and tried to set up an alibi for his client, bringing forth witnesses, proving that the prisoner was not in Hawkeshaw on the day in which he was charged with stealing the collection. After the evidence was submitted by both lawyers; they then addressed the jury. Mr. Montgomery presented his case to the jury in an able manner, and his twenty minute address was greatly appreciated by his listeners. M. L. Hayward also spoke, at some length, breaking down the arguments of the defence and both were heartily applauded at the finish of their remarks.

The judge then addressed the jury, after which they retired with the evidence and shortly after, brought in a verdict of "Guilty." The judge then sentenced the accused to 30 minutes solitary confinement in the Pigeon Coop at the Local Jail.

Refreshments were served and during the interval Rev. W. P. Haigh gave a short address, outlining the aim and objects of the Knights and extended a hearty welcome to all invited guests.

AT THE U. S. CHURCH

At the U. S. church on Sunday evening a large congregation was present. The young people of the church had charge of the music and a choir of forty rendered very acceptable music. A solo by Elizabeth Hayward was very beautiful. Miss Hayward has a voice that, for her age, is wonderful. Rev. E. B. McLatchey preached a powerful sermon on "Reveries." Mr. McLatchey who has been with this church since Jan. 1, has made many friends and the church as a whole regret that his stay is about over, as his work, especially with the young people has been very successful.

Subject of his sermon for Feb. 25, will be, "If a man die will he live again?" This will be his last sermon and those who have already heard him on other subjects, realize that this one should be very interesting. The large auditorium was nearly filled last Sunday night. Come and help fill it Sunday evening.

POWER AT GRAND FALLS DEBATED

Question is Taken up by Hartland Town Council—Resolution is Passed

A special meeting of the Hartland town council was held in the town chambers Friday evening to discuss the Grand Falls power proposition. As a result the following resolution was passed.

Moved by Alderman H. H. Hatfield, seconded by alderman C. W. McQuarrie, that the following resolution be adopted by the Hartland Town Council:

WHEREAS the International Paper Company and its predecessors entitle have held the water power at Grand Fall in this Province since 1894, without developing the same for the benefit of the province.

AND WHEREAS the time for developing the same has been extended from time to time on condition that the said Company expend certain sums of money in development work, none of which conditions have been fulfilled.

AND WHEREAS the last extension for two years was granted in 1921 on condition that the Company should expend $150,000 in development work which has not been done.

AND WHEREAS those opposing said extensions at said time, including representatives from this town, were given to understand that no further extensions would be granted under any circumstances.

BE IT THEREFORE RESOLVED that this council strongly protest against any further extension being granted, and that the government be requested to carry out the understanding at the time of said extensions and to repossess said water powers for the benefit of the province.

BE IT THEREFORE RESOLVED that in the event of said water power being developed and electricity being distributed therefrom, the citizens and industries of the town will use 700,000 k.w.h. per year.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that a copy of this resolution be forwarded to the Provincial Government, the local members of Carleton county, also to the Board of Trade, Grand Falls, N. B.

NON FRANK CARVELL'S OPINION

Toronto, Feb. 15—"I think the time has come," said Hon. Frank B. Carvell, Chairman of the Dominion Board of Railway Commissioners, in session here today, "when this board must treat the national railways as a railway company. We can't listen to the claim every time that the government has not got the money. We don't intend to be unreasonable but if it is shown hereafter that the construction of a public work is necessary we will not hesitate to give an order."

THE GRAND FALLS HYDRO QUESTION

Things We Should Like to Know

(Edmundston Observer)

If it is true that President Dodge has been writing personal letters to those who have been appointed by public bodies to interview the Provincial Government in connection with the Grand Falls development question?

What he hopes to accomplish by the same, if he has done it?

Does he think he knows more about us, and our needs, and our problems living in New York city, than we do here in our own country?

If he hasn't often laughed at the easy way in which he put it over last time, and if he realizes that he will have it perhaps a little more difficult this time?

If he has ever heard of the story of "The Dog in the Manger" and if he does not think that perhaps his policy in the Grand Falls question is not a good illustration of the same?

If he has ever heard of "Putting the Cart Before the Horse" and if his argument in expecting industrial concerns to contract with him for power before the Falls are developed, is not also a good illustration of that?

Why he did not advertise last year and why does he always do his advertising just before the rights expire?

If we have not just as much brain in New Brunswick as they have in New York?

If he is as interested in keeping the taxes down in New York State as he is in keeping them down in New Brunswick?

How much money the International has expended in purchasing land around Grand Falls?

How much profit they expect to get on the same, in the event of the Government developing the Falls and desiring to purchase from them?

If his interest in keeping down taxes will be as manifest then as now?

If there is no chance of profitably developing Grand Falls, why he should be interested enough to read the comment of newspapers, and why he should write letters to delegates who are going to Fredrickton to interview the government regarding this question?

Whether he is not more interested in the International Paper Co., than in the whole Dominion of Canada?

What he has up his sleeve anyway?

If it is to the interests of Canada under the best circumstances to let foreigners acquire valuable rights in the province or the Dominion?

If he thinks that our industrial leaders, our Municipal and Town Governments are fools enough to purchase power from the International just before the International's right run out?

Whether the newspaper advertising was not more of a smoke screen than a genuine desire to find out the facts of the case?

If he does not belong to the class of American who believes in "Jollyin' 'Em"?

CRUISING IN THE WEST INDIES.

(1)—Empress of Britain at St. Pierre, of Martinique, the scene of the volcanic eruption in 1902, when 30,000 people lost their lives. The path shown was once a busy street. (2)—Headquarter Palace of Cuban Republic, Havana. (3)—Statue of Empress Josephine, first wife of Napoleon, on Martinique Island, West Indies. (4)—Morro Castle, Santiago, Cuba.

SINCE ocean liners have been made as comfortable as the best city hotels, cruising has become very attractive to those seeking a rest. The luxury of the ship, the fresh sea breezes, the trips ashore at the places visited, the making of new acquaintances, the experiences gained only by travel make an ocean cruise an incomparable delight.

In former winters many Canadians and Americans escaped from the severity of the home winter by taking sea cruises. Cruises to the West Indies are very popular, not only on account of the mildness of the climate and the beauty of the scenery, but because of the romantic history attached to these places. In the seventeenth century the West Indies were the headquarters of large numbers of British pirates who preyed on Spanish trading ships. These pirates were in a large way responsible for destroying the commerce of Spain. A few of the interesting sights of the West Indies are banana plantations, mahogany groves, sponge fishing fleets, and woods of coconut palm trees.

Two cruises to the West Indies, and islands of the Spanish Main, Panama and Venezuela, will be made by the Empress of Britain this winter. The many special features that contributed last winter to the success of these Canadian Pacific cruises have been retained and new ones added.

The Empress of Britain is selected by the Canadian Pacific for the cruises to the West Indies by reason of her great popularity as a luxurious ocean liner of the most modern and comfortable type and size, being of 22,200 tons displacement. The Empress of Britain is also the only steamship making cruises to the West Indies burning fuel-oil. This outstanding feature appeals to passengers who have travelled in the Tropics as coasting or shifting coal at the various ports is eliminated and passengers are assured of spotless promenade and open spaces, with no noise, dirt or cinders.

The Empress of Britain is devoted entirely to the purpose of the cruises, and no cargo is carried. In addition to the comforts to be found usually at only the best hotels ashore, the food and service are of Canadian Pacific standard. The passenger accommodation is most attractive, and not more than two persons are booked in a room unless it is desired to accommodate a family party. Those who desire to travel alone will find a good proportion of single cabins. Other attractions include a gymnasium, swimming pool, verandah cafes and large decks for games and dancing. An augmented professional orchestra is carried for concerts and dancing.

The itinerary of the first cruise, starting from New York on January 20th, includes the following ports of call: Havana, Cuba; Port Antonio, Jamaica; Kingston, Jamaica; Colon, Panama; La Guayra, Venezuela; Port of Spain, Trinidad; La Brea Point, Trinidad; Bridgetown, Barbados; Fort de France, Martinique; St. Pierre, Martinique; San Juan, Porto Rico; Nassau, Bahamas; returning to New York, covering a distance of over six thousand miles during the 27 days of the cruise. The second cruise will start from New York on February 20th, and will be similar in most details to the schedule of the first cruise. Hamilton, Bermuda, being substituted as the final port of call.

There are excursions ashore at the various ports, conducted by representatives of the Canadian Pacific, allowing unusual opportunities for visiting every possible point of interest during each cruise. Two days will be spent ashore at Havana and two days in Jamaica, including trips to many nearby points. An additional day is provided this year at Panama and a journey will be made from Colon through the Culebra Cut to Pedro Miguel, Panama City and Balboa. In Venezuela the trip includes one of the most fascinating rides in the world, from the port of La Guayra to Caracas, the capital, 3,000 feet above the Caribbean Sea. Port Antonio, one of the prettiest spots in Jamaica, has been included in the itinerary this year.

Frank Fairley is home again from Fredericton.

Mrs. (Dr.) M. E. Commins left on Wednesday last for Montreal where she will be met by her daughter, Mrs. C. P. Furlong of Halleybury, Ont. Mrs. Furlong has had a very trying experience since leaving Bath, her old home town, as she went through one of the most devastating conflagrations in the history of northern Ontario. The forest fire which completely wiped out that town, along with many other towns last Autumn.

Many of our boys and girls upon growing up seek homes in the land of the south of us, but ever without exception memories of the old home town and the music of the Monquart draws them back like a huge magnet. Emory Shaw of Haverhill, Mass. is again renewing his boyhood acquaintances and is being given a hearty greeting by them.

Robert J. Ryan has returned from the Miramichi.

Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Sherwood are reported to be confined to their home by illness.

Mrs. Mathew Gallagher has returned home from St. John.

On Wednesday night the ladies of St. Joseph church sewing guild met at the home of Miss K. E. Bohan.

The last dance of the season before the advent of Lent was held in the Club Hall on Tuesday evening. Mr. and Mrs. John T. Commins entertained the following friends: Mrs. J. Burke, Mrs. Chas. Bohan, Misses Frances Maloney, Bernice Fulton, Rose Lanahan, Gertrude Keahan, Mildred Kilpatrick, Eileen Bohan, and Genevieve Bohan, Helen Corcoran; Messrs Grover Springer, Arnold Wilson, Grover Kilpatrick, George Estabrooks, Thos. Bohan, Charles Bohan, Reg Britton and Arthur Semple, East Florenceville.

Miss Birmingham, music teacher, Hartland, was in town last Tuesday and Wednesday. Miss Birmingham has quite a large class here who are loud in their praises concerning their teacher.

The Women's Institute held their monthly meeting at the home of their secretary, Mrs. Leo Kearney, last Friday evening.

James Keenan an old and highly respected resident of Johnville lies critically ill at his home. He is the father of M. G. Keenan, merchant of this place.

James Jones, Lower Main St., is quite ill. His many friends hope that he may soon recover.

Lumber operations throughout this section are about finished, according to numerous ones, who have broke up camps and returned home. A large number returned during the past week, chiefly from the Miramichi district. Millions of feet have been cut. The bulk of this will have to be transported to the mills and manufactured, either for local consumption or for export. Before this is done, hundreds of thousands of dollars will have been put into circulation throughout the county.

The great benefits derived from this important industry at this crucial period will never be fully realized. It will be a veritable life saver to this province and protective measures should be exerted to the fullest extent to protect this, one of our most important industries. Fire is the worst scavenger that we have to deal with. The present local government by judicious legislation and progressive advertising by the ample use of well placed placards warning and exhorting campers, and others against allowing fires to spread, have doubtless done much to preserve this great provincial asset. We heartily commend them on their efforts.

How about hydro? Do the people of this town want it? We'll say they do! They're aching for cheap power and the benefits to be derived from such. According to Dr. Coue, the noted French scientist, who has recently landed on American shores, reiteration will work wonders. If by its use it supplies us, with "Grand Falls Power," we'll be willing to fall in line and be strong expounders of his theory for many years to come. We believe it is the only way. Keep boosting the idea before the public and the members of the government. If the latter remain immune, refuse to catch the spirit of the great idea—well, there's always another government to step into office—and may they also not forget that the bridge connecting Bath and Wicklow will be on the move, long ere moving day, May 1 arrives.

The former project is not being called for by the people of any section in particular, but by the majority of the electors of New Brunswick. The latter has for years past, been called for by the people and Kent. A bill has already been passed, authorizing its construction. Soundings have been taken, but there, progress in this direction ceased. Numerous delegations have interviewed the government in this regard. Electors of the parishes of Kent and Wicklow! what are your views going to be on these projects at the next election? Why not send a final delegation to Fredericton to ascertain what the government really intends to do regarding the construction of this bridge? And finally what are you going to do about it? Hon. Mr. Premier and Minister of Public Works?

FOOLING OVER GRAND FALLS

The people of New Brunswick are quite justly wrought up, it seems to us, on account of the fact that even yet no real steps appear to have been taken by the International Paper Company of New York, which controls the Grand Falls water power, to develop what might easily be a mighty industrial agent. The International Paper Company has repeatedly made promises to begin real development work and then does not do so. Two years ago it begged for two years more time, agreeing to spend in that period, $1,500,000 in development work, but the two years have gone by with no work done. We should think the New Brunswick government would get tired of being humbugged and hoodooed in this way, and would take the control of this splendid water privilege from a concern that thus acts the dog in the manger—refusing to develop anything itself and of course keeping any other concern from doing so. It seems to us as if the New Brunswick people would by this time be sufficiently aroused to ask any company that has any rights over this water power to get around and develop it, to assist New Brunswick people and industries. It would appear to an impartial outsider, looking on the matter from an unpromising and fooling and refusing to do anything in this vitally important matter had gone about far enough to suit the people that this gigantic water power, if developed, would mightily serve.—Fort Fairfield Review.

A SHORTAGE OF 30,000,000 POUNDS

The Tea Business, like nearly everything else, has been having its hard times since the War. Unfavorable tea growing weather, labor troubles on the plantations, and the unsettled political atmosphere generally, have so seriously reduced this year's crop, that the world is now faced with a shortage of over 30,000,000 lbs., or more than two years' supply for the whole Dominion of Canada.

The inevitable result, has been steadily increasing prices, until today, tea is bringing higher prices than ever before in the history of the industry. In Canada, the Salada Tea Company, our largest Tea Concern, has been forced by this condition, to recently increase the price of all their blends, in order to maintain their standard of quality.

GLAD SHE DID AS DOCTOR TOLD HER

Took Tanlac On Physicians Advice And It Put Her In Fine Condition States Mrs. Coles

"Tanic is certainly an ideal medicine," recently said Mrs. Beale Coles, highly esteemed resident of 1551 Lorne St., Regina, Sask.

"I was in such a badly run-down condition that I just felt miserable all the time. My appetite had failed me to such an extent that I was losing weight steadily. My nerves were awfully unstrung; many, many times I couldn't get even an hour's sleep all night long, and I never felt like doing my housework at all."

"I was badly in need of something to build me up, and when a physician advised me to take Tanlac, I lost no time getting a bottle. Now I really don't feel like the same person, the medicine has done me such a world of good. My nerves have steadied down, I am sleeping like a child, eating heartily, have gained several pounds, and am feeling just fine. Knowing what a wonderful medicine Tanlac is, I can sincerely recommend it to anyone."

Tanic is for sale by all good druggists. Over 35-million bottles sold.

WHAT ARE CAPONS?

Capons are cockerels which by a delicate operation have been unsexed in order to increase their growth and to improve the quality of their flesh.

The capon grows two or three pounds larger than his brother, that has not been treated; the comb and wattles do not develop; he never learns to crow; the head remains small and feminine; his flesh is tender and juicy and does not become tough, even when he is kept over until the February or March market.

It is equal, and some say superior, to turkey. They make fine pets and some breeders, who have poor brooding facilities, are using them for mothers. They will take care of from 30 to 50 chicks much better than a hen.

STABILITY OF CANADA'S RAILROADS DEPENDS ON FREEDOM OF MANAGEMENT

President of Canadian Pacific Points Out How Canada May Avoid Costly Mistakes

IN a special article written for the Annual Financial number of the "Montreal Gazette," E. W. Beatty, K.C., President of the Canadian Pacific Railway, makes a plea for the keeping free of Canada's railroad management from legislative and political restriction. The subject is of unusual interest at this time, and Mr. Beatty points out that Canada has something to learn in this respect from the somewhat unhappy experience of the United States. The article is as follows:—

Canada has sometimes been upbraided with being less quick to adopt new ideas than her neighbor, the United States. While this more conservative attitude may have its drawbacks, it sometimes has its advantages, as it enables us to study the progress of experiments conducted under similar conditions to those pertaining to this country without being ourselves involved in the penalties of failure. A case in point was the United States Government control of railroads during the war. Those who anticipated a new Jerusalem from the experiment have either confessed their disillusionment or have diverted their enthusiasm to other visionary schemes.

The extent to which the American railway is still crippled by the recent experiment has not been thoroughly recognized, and the almost equal danger of government over-regulation has been overlooked. This official interference still interferes with the stability of the railroads, with the result that the capital required for necessary maintenance and equipment is lacking, and the vigorous programme of extension and development which might have been expected after the war is not yet announced. With a shortage of 180,000 freight cars and 2,000 locomotives, the American railroads have failed satisfactorily to handle the harvest or to distribute the much needed coal. For this they are not themselves to blame. As Secretary Hoover has frankly admitted, the American railroads are suffering from long-continued financial starvation, and points out that the loss to the United States during each period of severe car shortage is at least a billion dollars, most of the loss falling upon the farmers.

In the United States, the farmer has been clamoring for reduction of freight rates, but of what advantage will those lower rates be to that farmer if they still further deprive the railroads of the credit required to buy the equipment for transporting the harvest to market? Lower rates can only mean more unmarketed corn.

In case anyone may think this picture overdrawn, let me quote from

E. W. BEATTY, K.C., President, Canadian Pacific Railway.

editorials in the Wall Street Journal of December 9th:—

"The theory that you can tax railroads poor, compel them to pay the highest wages and conduct transportation at a loss will not work in America or anywhere else."

"The Interstate Commerce Act, approved February 4, 1887, has been continually amended, each amendment bringing with it more and more restraint, and leaving to railroad managers less and less initiative."

"Coincident with these amendments came state legislation creating the public utilities commissions, designed to do in a small way what the Interstate Commerce Commission was doing in a large way. Always there was growing the ever-swelling stream of legislation of a restrictive character, some fanatical, some political and utterly selfish, but all tending to increase the cost of operation and lessen the initiative of the management."

"The railroad problem is today more political than economic. Government interference has dried up the sources from which railroad management built its colossal structure. Investment capital is always shy of political control. With control of their expenditures in their own hands, subject only to economic laws, the railroad business ought to be permitted to readjust itself as other business must go and is doing."

"You must not think you can continue the policy of private ownership and at the same time regulate every railroad method and operation and still expect them to continue to show enterprise and initiative. Too much protection and too much regulation are disastrous."

The record of the recent shopmen's strike in the United States showed that wage-fixing by government does not avert strikes. Indeed, it is generally admitted that the strike was due in no small measure to the workers' resentment at having their wages cut by government authority. The matter could have been amicably arranged if negotiations had been left to the railroad officials and the employees.

The moral of all this is, of course, that Canada would be wise to profit by her neighbor's experience, and avoid the mistake of constant appeals for government interference in order to adjust railway matters which may be in dispute. For government interference, however well intentioned it may be in the beginning, inevitably results in paralysis and inertia. A round-table conference between the parties interested is much more likely to remedy the trouble. In the case of immigration we have seen how war regulations introduced for a specific purpose have hampered the movement of desirable settlers to this country owing to the slowness of the official mind to adapt itself to new circumstances. Increase of government regulation means increase of the number of officials and increased taxation, and heaven knows we have taxation enough as it is! What the business of this country needs is freedom of initiative and prospect of a reasonable return for enterprise, always with due regard to the general welfare.

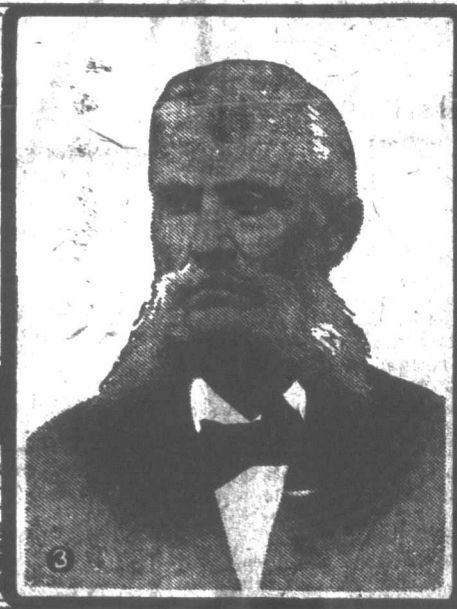

It cannot be too strongly emphasized that Canada's most pressing needs are capital and men. Without the latter its potentialities cannot be realized and the burden of taxation lessened, and without the former, its industrial expansion cannot be achieved. Our energies should be directed to exploiting the advantages and the wealth of this country in those quarters where wealth is available and whose holders believe that under Canada's laws and constitutional system their investments will be given the encouragement and protection which they deserve. The wealth of this country lies in the ground for the most part and must be taken out of it by the joint labors of men and money.

Excursions by the government into the field of private enterprise cannot be supported except on grounds of national peril, or to save economic disaster, but scarcely less important is the necessity for broad policies of non-interference in business by regulatory and restrictive legislation which has a tendency to tie the hands and cripple the initiative of those entrusted with the legitimate development of the commerce and industries of the nation. Provisionally, we can see no indication of such an attitude in Canada, and that is as it should be. It is the spirit of the pioneer which initiated this country's development, and it is that spirit translated to our modern and complex commercial life which will contribute most to its future prosper-

MAJOR ROGERS AND HIS TIME

(1) Major Rogers lived in this house in Waterville, Minnesota. He also died here.

(2) Watch presented to Major Rogers, of Rogers Pass fame, about 1885.

(3) Major A. B. Rogers, who discovered the Rogers Pass, the first feasible route through the Rockies to the Pacific Coast.

ONE of the most difficult tasks in the construction of the Canadian Pacific Railway was to discover a way through the Rocky Mountains. A number of explorers had made attempts to find a way, but it remained for Major A. B. Rogers to discover the most feasible route, the route that was chosen, and is now known as Rogers Pass.

Major Rogers was a true type of railway pathfinder. The reputation he had made in the United States as a locating engineer and his advanced ideas on railway construction attracted the attention of the Canadian Pacific Railway officials, who engaged him to take charge of the mountain section from Savona's Ferry in B.C. to Moose Jaw. He saw at once the problems that confronted him in finding a straighter road through the Selkirk than (as was suggested) to follow the great bend northward of the Columbia River, a distance of over two hundred miles. He found the near way by following the South fork of the Illecillewaet River to the present site of the Glacier House, where he climbed a mountain and gazed upon the summit of the pass that now bears his name. Major Rogers seems to have been a man of few words. His reports contain little beyond the technicalities of his undertakings, otherwise a description of the magnificent spectacle displayed by the Rogers Pass and its surroundings, when seen for the first time by a white man, would be well worth the reading.

This was in 1881. The following year the exploration was completed by ascending the Beaver River Valley, to Bear Creek, a tributary stream, then up that stream through the rugged defile between Mrs. MacDonald and Tupper to the summit of the pass, and over the same to the Illecillewaet Valley. The surveys of the main line between Calgary, at the Eastern base of the foothills of the Rockies, to which point they had been carried from the East, and the summit of the main range were completed in 1883. Three years later daily trains were passing to and fro between Montreal and Port Moody, at that time the Pacific terminus of the railway; and so they passed for thirty-one years over this section, until the opening of the Connaught Tunnel under Mount Macdonald, it was no longer needed.

It was on November 7th, 1885, that the last spike in the construction of the Canadian Pacific Railway across Canada was driven at Craigellachie, British Columbia. This opened up a new era for Canada. In recognition of the valuable work done by Major Rogers the directors of the Canadian Pacific presented him with a cheque for $5,000 and a watch thus inscribed: "Presented to Maj. A. B. Rogers by the Directors of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company as a token of their indebtedness to him for the discovery of a pass for the railway through the Selkirk Mountains, and of their appreciation of his services as Engineer-in-Chief of the location of the Mountain section of the railway."

Evidently Major Rogers was of a more practical than financial temperament, for he carried the cheque in his pocket for several years, and he only cashed it when his friends of the Canadian Pacific insisted that he should do so.

At the time of his death in 1889, Major Rogers left his watch to his brother, L. Z. Rogers, of Waterville, Minnesota, who in turn left it to his only grandson, George Rogers Glotter. Young Glotter was killed in France on October 3rd, 1918. The watch is now in a safety deposit box at a Waterville bank. There are, at present, two nephews of Major Rogers living, both of whom accompanied him on all of his explorations in the mountains, and were with him when he discovered Rogers Pass. They are Mr. Albert L. Rogers and Mr. John G. Rogers, 1108 5th Avenue, Seattle, Wash.

The nieces of Major Rogers, and particularly Mrs. C. A. Gray, have taken a great deal of interest in the activities of their uncle, and are in possession of a great many of his original letters, newspaper clippings, including letters to him from both Sir William Van Horne and Lord Shaftesbury.

A serious fire occurred on the St. Basil road on Monday night when Theophile Therrien's house was totally destroyed by fire. Notwithstanding that the house is a mile from the town limits the fire department was on to their job in record time, but were unable to save the building. At the time of the fire Mr. Therrien was away from home. The extreme cold weather hampered the fire department in their work, but the coherency with which they got to the scene of the fire shows that the reorganized fire department is wide awake and effective. The house and furniture were destroyed at an estimated loss running well over $3000, which it is believed is covered by insurance.

A social evening was spent at the home of the Rev. N. and Mrs. Franchetti on Saturday night in honor of Miss Allie Miller, who has accepted a position in Presque Isle. Games, cards, and dancing were enjoyed during the evening by the large number of guests present, after which dainty refreshments were served. The occasion was also the birthday of Miss Lillian Miller, who cut the large cake made in her honor. Miss Allie Miller, who for some time has been a valued employee at the Fraser Companies offices here has resigned her position, and left Edmundston on Tuesday to take up her work with a firm at Presque Isle.

Mrs. Babin and Miss Emily Babin held a very enjoyable bridge on Thursday last. There was keen competition for first place, but at the end it was found that the first prize was won by Mrs. J. M. The most important function held in Edmundston for a very long time was the confetti and moon dance given by Dr. and Mrs. LaPorte for their daughter, Miss Jeanne LaPorte on Saturday last. About fifty guests were invited. Masques were taken off at 11 p. m. and the merry party broke up about 3.30 a. m. ### Appreciates Pullman Service

The Pullman sleeping car that the Bangor & Aroostook put on in January to leave Bangor every Monday morning has served the public so fine and has been so well patronized that it will run during the month of February also. The observation cars, or parlor cars that the Bangor & Aroostook has been running for some time are greatly appreciated by the public also, the service they give being of a fine quality, out of all proportion to the amount of passenger traffic enjoyed by a railroad through a new and sparsely settled country. One thing the Bangor & Aroostook has always done that the public appreciates is to maintain a passenger service of an extremely high quality considering the amount of passenger traffic.—Fort Fairfield Review.

HELP FOR YOUNG WOMEN

Mrs. Holmberg Tells How
Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Helped Her

Viking, Alta.—"From the time I was 15 years old I would get such sick feelings in the lower part of my abdomen, followed by cramps and vomiting. This kept me from my work (I help my parents on the farm) as I usually had to go to bed for the rest of the day. Or at times I would have to walk the floor. I suffered in this way until a friend induced me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I have had very satisfactory results so far and am recommending the Vegetable Compound to my friends. I surely am glad I tried it for I feel like a different person now that I don't have these troubles."

Letters like this establish the merits of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. They tell of the relief from such pains and ailments after taking it.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs, contains no narcotic or harmful drugs, and today holds the record of being the most successful remedy for female ills in this country, and thousands of voluntary testimonials prove this fact.

If you doubt that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will help you, write to the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Cobourg, Ontario, for Mrs. Pinkham's private text-book and learn more about it.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL ITEMS

"Skirts" on Tuesday evening was the funniest picture ever shown at the local theatre and contained as many laughs to the foot as it would be possible to crowd into a film. The picture centred around circus tents and a bathing suit emporium and included a violent love affair between two circus hands, the falling into a fortune by the male members of the duo, preempting of his credentials by the villain, his subsequent imposition as the heir, and his downfall. These scenes all furnished a wonderful vehicle for the comedy of the inevitable Bon Turpin, a graduate from Mack Senneker's school. The seventh episode "Bride 13," sub plot "Tongues of Flame," was as thrilling as its predecessors. On Saturday evening "Experience" which enjoyed a record run on the legitimate stage before being filmed, proved a very high class picture indeed and deserved much more press notice than it received before being shown. The play was a striking allegory on life, with the three principal parts youth, ambition, and experience, being personified by Richard Barthelmess, E. J. Ratcliffe, and John Miller respectively. Dozens of other virtues and vices of human existence were most aptly portrayed by well chosen character actors. A Burton Holmes Travelogue completed the bill.

The manager of the Centreville Theatre, G. F. Burpee, will issue a free pass to the big picture "Remembrance" on March 10 to every dad who is the proud possessor of five or more children.

Stevens Bros. within two weeks will be giving as a special premium at their Centreville store, to every purchaser of 50 cents worth or more of Rexall goods, a pair of twin gold fish, all properly housed in a blown glass bowl and with all the playthings a pair of twins should possess. These gold fish are in no way connected with the recent El Dorado discovered adjacent to town, but are special imported stock, spawned in the garden lakes belonging to the late Hawaiian queen, Liliokalani at Honolulu. Watch the Centreville Observer for the dates and come and get gold fish enough for dinner.

Old Man Grippe blew into town a couple of weeks ago and has been making merry havoc here, being a respecter neither of persons or ages. Fortunately his doses are light and only result in a two or three day illness.

A. A. H. Morrison was in Woodstock on Saturday.

The young and eager aspirants after intellectual attainments in our public school are progressing nicely under the efficient management of our teacher, Alta M. Anderson of Good Corner. We could well imitate some of the interest manifested by Hartland citizens in the comfort and welfare of our children who are attending school and if some of the interest manifested in the sporting life was diverted into channels of educational and character building enterprises, this old world would not long remain in such a chaotic condition.

Mrs. John Porter is spending the winter at Charles Tracy's, Lakeville.

Mrs. William Baker is the guest of Mrs. Jane Nelson.

Mrs. Isaac Nelson was called to Charleston on Tuesday on account of sickness at the home of her son, W. C. Nelson.

MRS. JOHN ROWLAND

Madeline, the young wife of John Rowland of Brookville, Carleton county was laid to rest on Wednesday, Feb. 14 in the pretty cemetery of the R. C. C. at Williamstown. Father Hayes spoke in a very impressive manner, taking as his text, "Dust thou art dust, thou must return." Miss Hilda Wilson sang with deep feeling, the beautiful hymns, "Lead kindly light" and "Nearer my God to thee." The funeral was largely attended and the sympathy of all goes out to the bereaved family.
