Chatham vs. Dover. -- A drainage case between the two municipalities. The engineer fixed the proportions in which the cost should be paid. The referee altered the proportions, but the Court of Appeal holds he had no power to do this, and restored the proportions fixed by the engineer.

CONDEMNED BY HOLY WRIT

Pointed Sermon for Laurier's Benefit--His "Foreigner" Utterance.

The Dundonald Matter Again Discussed in Parliament--Withholding Documents.

Ottawa, June 29.--There was a recrudescence of the Dundonald-Fisher incident in the House to-day.

WITHHOLDING DOCUMENTS.

Mr. Haggart, on the motion to go into supply, offered a resolution, expressing regret that the Government had seen fit to withhold from Parliament documents of a public character to which Parliament was entitled for the proper consideration of matters to which such documents related.

Mr. Haggart instanced first the Blair memorandum, which was withheld on the plea that it was confidential. One of the ministers who differed from his colleagues, prepared a statement of his views and presented it to them.

When a minister gave up his position, Mr. Haggart contended, Parliament was entitled to all papers relating to the matter. Another document, which had been kept back, was the original offer of the Grand Trunk with regard to the construction of a transcontinental railway.

This paper showed on its face that it was proposed to the Government to consider certain propositions made by the Grand Trunk Railway. While the Government had this paper, the Premier solemnly assured that every document relating to the matter had been brought down "without any equivocation at all."

The production of the paper certainly astonished the House after the Premier had denied that anything of the kind was in existence. Then there was the report of Lord Dundonald's report which had been suppressed. The latter addressed to the Minister of Militia, enclosing the report was marked "private" but not so the report itself. It was held that this report should be considered secret and confidential in the interests of the nation.

But the commander-in-chief, three years the best judge of what was required to be done in this case, Lord Fisher, requested that the report be made public. Mr. Fisher's request was granted by the House.

SCOTTISH HERO STANDS TO GUNS

Lord Dundonald Reiterates His Charge of Mutilation of Reports by Minister.

Denies That His Military Reform Would Be as Costly as Borden Stated It.

Ottawa, June 29.--Lord Dundonald has handed out another lengthy statement replying to the Minister of Militia's speech in the House of Commons, in which he takes issue with the minister as to the charges that the scheme for militia reform would have cost hundreds of thousands of dollars, and place it at $25,000 to $30,000.

He repeats that Sir Frederick Borden mutilated his report, and denies that he had direct intercourse with the minister, the last time met being in March, when the mutilated report was returned.

Lord Dundonald also denies that Col. Roy was overlooked, as alleged by the minister.

Lord Dundonald will speak at Renfrew on Friday night at a Scottish gathering. He will be presented with an address, and will doubtless make allusions to recent differences in reply, as the address is said to contain allusions to the trouble with the Government.

Ottawa, June 29.--Lord Dundonald was interviewed to-night in regard to Sir F. Borden's speech of last Thursday evening. The general was very moderate in his reply to the minister, but dealt with several points in Sir Frederick's address most effectively. Speaking of the minister's statement that he had paid a newspaper reporter to report his speech at the Montreal banquet, the general emphatically denied that he had anything whatever to do with the business of a reporter at the banquet. Asked as to the truth of the minister's statement that he went to Montreal to induce Col. Smart to write a letter condemning Fisher, the general said he went to Montreal on that particular day to open the Montreal Military Institute. There he met Col. Whitley and Col. Smart by accident, and learned of fuller details of Mr. Fisher's preference. Then was that he asked Col. Smart to write a letter condemning Fisher, the general said he went to Montreal on that particular day to open the Montreal Military Institute. There he met Col. Whitley and Col. WHAT HUGH CLARK SAYS.

Major Hugh Clark, M. L. A., is a military man, and in an article in the Kinradeen Review on the Dundonald episode he says something new from a military standpoint. He says:

"Let every defense put up by the Dominion Government be accepted as true, and its action in the Dundonald matter was discourteous to the general and harmful to the militia."

"Even if the man proposed by Sidney Fisher was a better man than the man proposed by the general, what right had Sidney Fisher to say who should be selected? Who has a better right to make a mistake in the selection of an officer than the G. O. C.? The Minister of Militia ought to have the last word in matters of expenditure on the militia, but the G. O. C. ought to have no jurisdiction at all if he has not the selection and promotion of militia officers."

"Let it be admitted that the general was altogether to blame and Sidney Fisher innocent. What think you of the indecent haste with which Dundonald was dismissed? Dundonald can stand that; he is a wealthy man and he knows as well as anyone else that dismissal from the Canadian service will not prejudice him in Britain. Gen. Hutton was practically dismissed from Canada, but he was given a better post in Australia at more than twice the salary we pay the G. O. C. in Canada, and when the war in Africa broke out he was given a very important command. He was a first class soldier and military administrator, but he could not get on with the Dominion Government. He was succeeded by a gentleman who got on famously. His term was extended. His administration was featureless. His work was superficial. He was absolutely harmless. He was succeeded by Lord Dundonald and only a few can remember his name. He did nothing for the militia and accordingly he got on well with the department."

"If the department were determined to penalize Lord Dundonald for daring to criticize a member of the Government, why could they not wait for a week or two, when it could be done with less harm to the militia? The soldiers were then in camp learning the new Dundonald drill. He was dismissed, and chaos in camp was the result. They do things like this in Russia and other countries where rulers become autocratic and forget the dust from which they grew."

TRUE TO HIS CREED.

The Hamilton Herald, Independent Liberal, says:

In his long manifesto on the war, contributed to the London Times, Count Tolstoi is consistent with the principle which he has so often preached, the principle of non-resistance. Among eminent living men he is about the only one who has the courage to give a literal interpretation to the acting of the Sermon on the Mount and to insist upon its practical application in national affairs as well as in the life of the individual. He denounces the czar, the Russian government and the Greek church for their tyranny and aggressiveness; but he also blames Japan for "forcibly resisting the unprovoked aggression of Russia."

Tolstoi is an idealist, and his non-resistance principles are of course impracticable. The result of their general adoption in national and international affairs would be the supremacy of the worst, the survival of those powers least fitted to carry on the work of civilization. Under such conditions there would probably be another long period of eclipse like that of the dark ages. Even such a peace-at-any-price man as the Quaker statesman, John Bright, had common-sense enough to save him from such idealistic nonsense as Tolstoi's, and he stoutly maintained the necessity of having the British fleet kept up to a high standard of efficiency and strength."

But, foolish as Tolstoi's notions may seem, they are more worthy of respect than are the attitude and utterances of the Canadian journals which, with a view of discrediting Lord Dundonald, are busily engaged in denouncing what they are pleased to call the "spirit of militarism" in Canada. The dismissed G. O. C. had made a report which contained certain recommendations for the reorganization of the militia and for putting the defenses of the country in a more satisfactory condition. It is to be supposed that the carrying out of these plans would cost some money. The report was submitted two years ago, but no word of protest was made by any government organ against them. Now that Dundonald is dismissed, the attempt is made to discredit and disgrace him by representing him as attempting to force upon Canada the military system of Europe—to bring Canada "within the vortex of European militarism," to use Sir Wilfrid Laurier's picturesque phrase.

No additional money, we are told, should be spent on national defence. Let all we have to spare be spent on the construction of railways and canals, on immigration, and on the development of the country's agricultural and other resources; and the defence of the country can be safely ignored. If this is sensible, then Tolstoi's non-resistance doctrine is practicable and worthy of acceptance. Why not disband the militia altogether? According to the anti-militarist advocates, the money spent on national defence is money wasted; and if that is so it is hardly less foolish to waste two or three millions a year than it would be to waste four or five millions.

But this sudden cry against "militarism" is not merely foolish; it is also hypocritical. These same anti-militarists who denounce Dundonald's scheme of militia organization because it would entail additional expenditure extol Sir Frederick Borden as the best minister of militia that Canada ever had, and, in proof of his devotion to the interests of the militia, point proudly to the fact that since he assumed office the annual expenditure in the militia department has been doubled.

Tolstoi may be a visionary crank; but the old man is at least sincere in his anti-militarism and far more worthy of respect than the political anti-militarists of this country.

THE GLOBE'S UNTRUTH.

In its eagerness to defend the government and condemn Lord Dundonald the Toronto Globe is becoming quite reckless in its assertions, points out the Hamilton Spectator. In a recent attack upon the hero of Lady Smith the Globe said:

"It was quite apparent from a debate which took place in parliament last year that several members of the opposition had been favored with intimations of what the report—that is, the suppressed report of Lord Dundonald—contained."

From these sources it leaked out that Lord Dundonald advised an expenditure on armaments and armories that aggregated a sum which was variously estimated at from $35,000,000 to $40,000,000.

Great fortresses were to be built along our borders. If his lordship had had his way to make, the United States would have repaid with fortresses five times as formidable as that within a few years the borders of these two powerful nations of the western hemisphere would have been fortified. It is not surprising that the neighbors in the time of Louis and when that appeared in the Toronto Mail invited the Globe to point out the pages of Hamilton which "it leaked out" that Lord Dundonald advised an expenditure on armaments and armories that aggregated a sum which was variously estimated at from $35,000,000 to $40,000,000.

The Globe paid no attention to the request. The Mail repeats the charge for information but the Globe is in vain. The Globe has no such statement in Hamilton. Globe has always been a party by suppressing the truth or by twisting the truth. It is very severely, but it is not fair to say that it has been able to straight declaration directed to the actual facts.

The bad example set by the Lower Grit journals in this case will have an effect on the Lower Grit journals.

HICKS THE WEATHER MAN

Predictions for July Will be Read With Much Interest.

Sustained Summer Heat With a Minimum of Storm and Rain is Due for July

This month begins in the last stage of a storm period central on June 29th. Storms and perturbations of this period will be well on their way toward the Atlantic by the 1st and 2nd, with fair and cooler weather following from the west.

A reactionary storm period is central from the 4th to the 6th. As the moon is on the celestial equator on the 4th, we may reasonably calculate on a decided rise in temperature, ending in thunder and rain storms during these reactionary days.

The accompanying storm diagram shows that a Mars equatorial period covers almost the entire month of July, being central on the 28th and running into August. By reading the chapter on "each planet's peculiar influence," beginning on page 152 of our 1904 Almanac, it will be seen that the Mars disturbance tends greatly to prolong the kind of weather prevailing at its beginning. This being the case, we may know, with a degree of certainty, the general character and tendency of the weather through July and August, by the character of the weather prevailing during the two first storm periods in July. If the general tendency is to excessive heat and light rains from the 4th to 6th, and from the 9th to 14th, it will be safe to count on a predominance of such weather nearly or quite up to September. We fear there are good reasons to expect such results. Upon the other hand, should cooler weather and general rains and storms be the rule at these periods, much of the same kind of weather will characterize all the storm periods for the following six to eight weeks. The sneering, "lofty" criticism that "any boy can predict the weather" in July and August," breaks down in the minds of sensible people, who know that, while this is true in a measure, the temperatures and rainfall are extremely different, one year with another, in these months.

About the 11th to 14th, the central dates of the second July storm period, no one should be surprised by a wave of excessive warm weather, culminating in many threatening storms and violent downpours.

Cloudbursts are probable here, but we do not believe in efficient rains will occur during this period.

We shall be greatly interested to hear of the results of the event of the season will without doubt be the cheap excursion to New York, which will be run by the New York Central & Hudson River Railroad from Suspension Bridge and Buffalo on July 14th. Tickets will be good for return passage for 15 days and the fare is only $10.25 for the round trip.

Tickets will also be good for a trip on the palatial steamers on the Hudson River between Albany and New York.

the perturbing force of this planet added to the other causes mentioned above. Kindly read explanation of the Mercury influence, along with that of Mars. See page 154 of our 1904 Almanac.

If by any means heavy and general rains should have fallen at previous July periods—a result we can hardly not look for—the same may be counted on at this last period. If violent, tornado storms have been common during July up to this period—a thing we do not foresee—in all reasonable probability they will recur in added force about this time. Our decided opinion is, that sustained summer heat, with a minimum of storm and rain followed by seismic phenomena, will characterize this closing period in July—Irish R. Hicks. THE POSTMASTER GROWS EMPHATIC

Believes Dodd's Kidney Pills the Right Medicine For Kidney Trouble.

T. H. Belyea, Postmaster of Lower Windsor, N. B., Endorses an Opinion Popular in all parts of Canada.

Lower Windsor, Carlton Co., N. B., June 27.—(Special).—T. H. Belyea, postmaster here, has come out with an emphatic statement that is heartily endorsed by the great majority of people of this district.

"I believe," says the postmaster "that Dodd's Kidney Pills are the right medicine for Kidney Trouble and will do all that is claimed for them."

"I had been bothered with Kidney Trouble for years and tried several kinds of plasters and other medicines but did not get much lasting benefit. Then I tried Dodd's Kidney Pills and would say they seem to have made a complete cure as I feel as well as ever I did."

There are numerous people prepared to make statements like that of Postmaster Belyea, but the case of Kidney Disease that Dodd's Kidney Pills will not cure has yet to be reported.

FLORAL BELL

Unique and Exquisite Design which Canopied the Central School Kindergarten's Charming Flower Festival.

"For originality and taste commend me to Miss Green," a parent was heard to remark when immersing from the entertaining and impressive closing exercises of the Central school morning kindergarten yesterday afternoon.

The remark was most appropriate to the occasion. Not only in the floral embellishments—and these were beautiful, indeed—but in all the splendid work of the 84 little tots in all their songs and games.

The spacious kindergarten room on the first floor of the school was literally packed with parents, friends of the little folks and those interested in the kindergarten work. The first thing to meet the eye was the immense floral bell in the centre of the room. This was Miss Green's handiwork, assisted by the young lady students, Misses Lily Walker, Vera Watson, Alison McLean and Mary Shackleton. The piano and walls were daintily hung with different flowers and foliage, while the picture of the founder of the kindergarten, Frederick Froebel, was surrounded by a wreath.

The little tables were arranged round with baskets of flowers made by the children for their parents on each. The whole made a beautiful effect.

The tots then marched in two by two and stood by their chairs singing a song of greeting to the visitors. A prayer song, "There cometh a Dove," was sung and the program began.

The songs which followed were all prettily sung and were thoroughly enjoyed by all the visitors. The songs were "The Loving Mother," "Good Mother Home," "Easter Song," "April Song," "May Song," "The Bird Band," "Brooklet," "The Sand." The children then presented their parents with the baskets of flowers.

Many games were then indulged in, the children choosing which game they wanted. First they all skipped in singing "O Come to the Woods." Skip tag was the first, then "the birds are back again," then bird nest making, in my little garden bed, butter fly, bean bag, race and song. The merry-go-round came next caused much fun. The seasons' was a very pretty game, little Miss Margaret Rispen made a beautiful Mother Nature, while the months were represented by twelve other little tots. Each season wore a different kind of veil, the spring was green, the summer red, the autumn yellow and the winter white.

A goodbye song and God Save the King closed a delightful afternoon's enjoyment.

Much credit is due Miss Green and the matron staff of students for the amount of work of the little ones.

Judge Bell spent the day at Erie Beach.

Alex. Baird, of Leamington, was a Chatham visitor yesterday.

Miss Sadie Drake, of the Crown Attorney's office, is spending the day in Detroit.

M. Wilson, K. C., is in Toronto, where he will be engaged till the ninth of July.

Miss Agnes O'Reilly, Colborne St., leaves to-day on a week's visit with friends in London.

Miss Grace Ogle, New York, is expected in this city to-day. She will be the guest of Miss Nellie Lambert.

The three Watterworth Bros., of Glenora, paid their fines to-day and were released from jail where they have spent a week.

John Byrne was brought into the jail yesterday from Blenheim. He was committed by Squire Greenwood on a charge of vagrancy.

Drainage Referee J. B. Rankin, K. C., in his decision in the drainage suit of Hewson vs. Hesketh township has awarded $150 damages and county court costs to the plaintiff.

FLORAL BELL

Unique and Exquisite Design which Canopied the Central School Kindergarten's Charming Flower Festival.

"For originality and taste commend me to Miss Green," a parent was heard to remark when immersing from the entertaining and impressive closing exercises of the Central school morning kindergarten yesterday afternoon.

The remark was most appropriate to the occasion. Not only in the floral embellishments—and these were beautiful, indeed—but in all the splendid work of the 84 little tots in all their songs and games.

The spacious kindergarten room on the first floor of the school was literally packed with parents, friends of the little folks and those interested in the kindergarten work. The first thing to meet the eye was the immense floral bell in the centre of the room. This was Miss Green's handiwork, assisted by the young lady students, Misses Lily Walker, Vera Watson, Alison McLean and Mary Shackleton. The piano and walls were daintily hung with different flowers and foliage, while the picture of the founder of the kindergarten, Frederick Froebel, was surrounded by a wreath.

The little tables were arranged round with baskets of flowers made by the children for their parents on each. The whole made a beautiful effect.

The tots then marched in two by two and stood by their chairs singing a song of greeting to the visitors. A prayer song, "There cometh a Dove," was sung and the program began.

The songs which followed were all prettily sung and were thoroughly enjoyed by all the visitors. The songs were "The Loving Mother," "Good Mother Home," "Easter Song," "April Song," "May Song," "The Bird Band," "Brooklet," "The Sand." The children then presented their parents with the baskets of flowers.

Many games were then indulged in, the children choosing which game they wanted. First they all skipped in singing "O Come to the Woods." Skip tag was the first, then "the birds are back again," then bird nest making, in my little garden bed, butter fly, bean bag, race and song. The merry-go-round came next caused much fun. The seasons' was a very pretty game, little Miss Margaret Rispen made a beautiful Mother Nature, while the months were represented by twelve other little tots. Each season wore a different kind of veil, the spring was green, the summer red, the autumn yellow and the winter white.

A goodbye song and God Save the King closed a delightful afternoon's enjoyment.

Much credit is due Miss Green and the matron staff of students for the amount of work of the little ones.
