...SUMMER NEEDS...

Hot weather goods are what our customers are demanding--the kind that makes life comfortable and worth living--no need for going about in this sweltering weather burdened down with heavy clothing when for so little money you can keep your temperature at normal.

India Linens at 17c.

We've had a big sale of this special number--it's just the thing for shirt waists and dresses. We bought a big lot to get it at the price--you'll find it great value, and at the rate it is selling it will soon be gone.

Children's Straw Sailors 19c.

The kind you always pay 25c. for. They come in plain white with navy blue band and streamer, fancy navy and white straw as well as plain navy. A good sun hat--the serviceable kind.

Golf Jackets $2.

A new shipment just to hand, the latest styles. They come in shades of plain cream, navy and cardinal, and are just the thing for boating. See them.

White Embroidered Wash Belts 15c.

Another big shipment of this very popular line has just come to hand. No better testimony to its value is needed than the rapidity with which they sell. Everybody buys them on sight.

Ladies' Black Parasols 69c.

Special purchase, bought much below the regular price--in fact many of them were sold before we got a chance to advertise them. They are full size, an excellent cloth and very good handles--you'd say worth $1.00. We are also showing special values at $1, $1.25 and $1.50, all worth more money.

Ladies' Wash Collars 15c.

Another shipment of this very popular line. They are going out rapidly too--a neat, good fitting style, with tab, silk embroidered. Your choice of a big variety of styles at this low figure.

White Hosiery

We are showing a large assortment of both ladies' and children's white cotton hose, in both plain and lace styles at the popular prices. They are scarce goods, but our assortment is complete.

White Shirtwaist Sale

In both long and short sleeved styles, at all the popular prices from 75c. to $1.50. Our values this season are the ones that please. Visit this department on 2nd floor.

WORSE THAN THAT.

So you went to New York on pleasure bent, eh? Did you get bent? Worse than bent. I got broke.

DID THE WIRE TAPPERS OPERATE IN CHATHAM?

It is Said That the Wire Tapping in Connection With Forwarding of the Windsor Race Results Was Done Within a Few Miles of This City

The newspapers all over Canada and the United States were full of sensational news, which came as a sudden surprise to the sportsmen of the country yesterday. The news in the Mail and Empire, which covered nearly a column on the front page, was headed, "Wire Tappers Make Big Haul; Fake Reports of Windsor Races Set; Many Pool Rooms are Hit; Paid off on One Event, but Trace was Discovered Before Attempt to Cash Second was Made."

A despatch from New York reads: "A genuine wire tapping game that was probably far-reaching while it lasted was worked on the telegraph connection, with the Windsor track, in Canada, this afternoon. The tappers were successful in getting through to the pool rooms the country over a false description of the second race, whereby those in on the swindle were able to clean up on a horse at odds of 7 to 1, while, as a matter of fact, this horse ran second to an almost prohibitive favorite. The game was cribbed after a fake finish for the third race had been wired, and again a horse at the juicy odds of 6 to 1 was named as the winner. The pool rooms had paid off on this race. The company that leases the wire and sends the results of the races had got on to the fact that their wire had been tapped, and they sent hurried messages to their different centrals to not pay off on the third race and to hold back what bets they could on the second.

It will no doubt be a source of surprise to Chathamites to learn that there are the very best grounds for supposing that the wire tapping above referred to, which was the cause of such great losses in New York, Cleveland and Chicago especially, was done within a few miles of this city.

A couple of young men, strangers, recently arrived in this city and put up at the Rankin House. They called on Fred H. Brisco, who sells electric batteries and bargained for 75 batteries for certain experiments they said they wanted to try in the country. The other day they got a rig at Jameson's livery stable, drove out into the country with their batteries and returned, not long afterwards. They returned the batteries to Mr. Brisco, saying they had not used them, and Mr. Brisco bought them back again at half-price. Shortly afterwards the two men disappeared, and the next day the reports of wire tapping came out and several things upside down in the sporting world. This is the story circulated in the city to-day. It is said that the two young strangers were operators and that they easily tapped on the wire, received the real result of the Windsor race themselves and then forwarded on the report, which would favor themselves and their men who were doing the betting in the above named pool rooms.

A VERY RICH CLAIM

Reports From a New Claim Held by Chatham and Thamesville Men Spell Success

The new find of silver in the Cobalt district, which was announced in the Toronto papers a short time ago under the caption of "Dushels of Silver," is proving one of the richest strikes in the silver districts. Messrs. Aitken & King and a party of Chathamites have obtained a half interest in a large claim situated in the heart of the new district, the other half interest being held by Thamesville men. From the reports and samples sent to Chatham and Thamesville from the claim it seems likely that this new field will prove one of the finest in Cobalt and, although work on the ground has been almost completely stopped through the pest of black flies, sufficient silver has been obtained to show that the great expectations of the miners will be more than realized.

A sample from the claim belonging to the local men, which was submitted to the best assayer in Canada, showed an excellent percentage of the valuable metal, and even better results will be obtained when operations are in full swing. The Planet called on Chas. Aitken yesterday morning and was shown a letter from Dave King in which it was stated that the original working claim of the partners was growing more valuable every day and that the new find was even richer than the first reports had given it to be. Mr. King, in this letter, remarks on the plague of black flies which has driven nearly all the prospectors off their claims into the towns and work, as a consequence is almost at a standstill. The flies will leave the district in a short time, however, and the development of the new claim will be continued at full speed.

There were also present Mrs. Clark's mother and sister--Mrs. Wheatley and Mrs. Marshall, of Sarina. Mrs. Cameron and family will remain here until August, when they will go to Winnipeg, where Mr. Cameron removed from Montreal a short time ago.

"AN EMIGRANT MECHANIC"

Under the above caption the Toronto Sunday World publishes the following sketch on a well known Chathamite. A double column photograph of the venerable author accompanies the sketch:

Across a narrow area-way from the composing room of The Brantford Expositor, twenty years or more ago, a white-haired tinsmith hammered and soldered and sang. Sometimes he whistled—he was never still in his workshop—and the louder he sang or whistled the faster and noisier fell the blows upon his sheet of tin. He was as merry as a lark. His very soul was in his song. Truly, his music was simple. I never heard him sing an operatic aria, nor whistle a bit of a topical song in rag-time; and yet none of those who worked within the sound of his voice or his "pipes" were other than tolerant, at least, of the gladness which bubbled up from the old tinsmith's very soul.

His working days are over. He is spending, in serenity, at his daughter's home in Blatham, the sunset of a well-spent life, and if his volume of rhyme has little claim to classification as poetry, it must be accepted as an unusual adventure into the field of literature, since he had the perseverance and the strength of purpose to produce such a story of his life and to publish it in book form.

Thomas Cowherd was born in England, and emigrated to Canada when he was eighteen years old. His early Canadian career was uneventful, but he records its incidents faithfully, and even Niagara Falls—a subject to which no poet has ever done full justice—electrified his muse:

Niagara! I hail thy magnificent wonders,
The work of my Father—the Maker of All!
His voice 'tis I hear, in thy earth-shaking thunders,
As "Deep unto Deep" every moment "doth call!"
Waters rushing, always pushing
Over the ledge of crumbling rocks:
Ever leaping, never sleeping,
Sound His praise in ceaseless shocks.

It is not the intention here to review "The Emigrant Mechanic." The book was published in 1884, and contemporary newspapers probably dealt with it on its merits. The object is, rather, to recall the incident of its production, for few men of unutilized literary or poetic fancy would have set themselves the herculean task of a biography in rhyme. Mr. Cowherd is now in his 91st year. Time will not place his first-born literary effort among the classics; but the achievement in itself must be viewed with commendation on account of the obvious labor involved.

BE FAIR TO YOUR FACE.

When You Wash It Do It Properly and Thoroughly.

To decide upon a good soap is the paramount issue. The pure white imported castile (if you are so fortunate as to get the real thing) is usually satisfactory. At night make a good, live lather, not a half dead one, and wash the face thoroughly, using a complexion brush, which will freshen the tissues and keep the muscles strong. Do not give your face a half hearted cleaning. Be thorough. Scrub well and scrub long and when you have finished scrubbing rinse thoroughly with tepid water. When water is hard, add a little borax. When rinsing is over, dry your face with gentle pats. When you look in the mirror you will see a beaming face as bright as a new whistle. Apply a good cream, rubbing it in for ten minutes. Next morning your skin face will be considerably more pleasant to wear.

In a large city, where the atmosphere is full of soot and dust, the complexion needs particular attention. The grime is absolutely greasy, and to bathe the face with clear water is merely to rub the soot into the pores. Sometimes a soap can be used, and the face will still remain dirty, for there must be a good, live cleansing soda to take away the accumulations. The beauty of a complexion brush is that it makes the face bath thorough.

Take a pair of grimy, dirty hands and try to wash them in a splash, "no count" way, and what is the result? Streaks! And soiled nails. And black ridged knuckles. Put your hands in warm water, take a nailbrush and a bar of soap, and the results will be different. Keep this in mind when you wash your face. Blackheads are nothing more or less than pores that are unclean. The skin has been neglected at one time or other, and the pores have become clogged with poisonous waste matter.—Exchange.

FOR THE DINING ROOM.

Simple and Pretty Decoration in a Sweet Potato Vine.

Few housewives know that a pretty tendrill similar to that of the smilax, but which with care will grow to a length of thirteen or fourteen feet, can be grown from a sweet potato, decorating the dining room. Select a sound, regular shaped sweet potato and hang it by a hairpin, or bent wire thrust through the upper end of the potato in a glass fruit jar. Be sure to leave plenty of room all around the potato, so that it will not touch the sides or bottom of the jar if possible. Pour on fresh water until the potato is about half covered and set the jar in the sunshine. After a few days the potato will begin to send forth little roots, and patient waiting will be rewarded within a week or so longer by the upshoot of one or two of these into tendrils and the budding of green leaves upon them. Once started the vine grows rapidly and can be trained about the room on pins stuck in the wall. If trained about a mirror the reflection of the green leaves makes a pretty effect. Do not change the water on the potato, but from time to time add water to make up for evaporation.

Delicious Potato Salad. A delicious potato salad: Chop very fine indeed half a small onion and half a green pepper pod. Cut six boiled potatoes into cubes less than half an inch in diameter. Mix the onion, pepper and potato together with five or six tablespoonfuls of oil. Add a teaspoonful of salt and a little paprika. Add vinegar in whatever proportion is liked. Rub the salad bowl with a split clove of garlic; put in the salad, shaping it firmly into a mound. Cover with a smooth mayonnaise. With lines of capers or sliced olives divide the mound into six sections. Fill in these sections with finely chopped hard boiled eggs, using both whites and yolks, and with chopped boiled beets. Decorate the sections in contrasting colors. Set a tuft of lettuce hearts in the top and decorate the edges with tiny gherkins cut in the thinnest of slices and spread out fan fashion.

Getting Ready for Children's Day

THE WOMAN WHO SEWS ALONE

Ready to lead the procession

There is no service of the year more beautiful than that annual Sunday in June dedicated to the children; when the little ones of the congregation and Sunday-school all over the land are gathered into our churches for exercises of their very own.

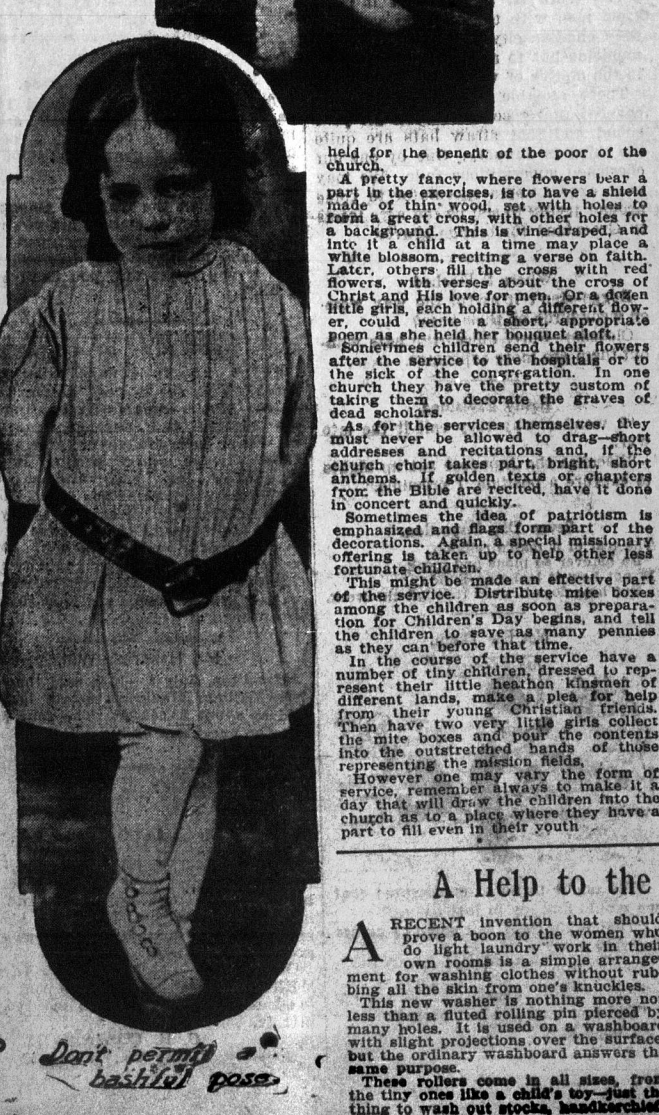

Whence or how it came, this habit of observing Children's Day, we know not; suffice it to say there is scarcely a denomination today but holds it one of the greatest occasions of the church year.

From early times certain ministers have devoted special days to the children of their flock. Then after Sunday-schools became general the little people grew into still greater prominence on anniversary occasions; but it has only been in the last twenty-five years that Children's Day has become one of the regular features of church work. The Methodists were probably the first denomination to give such a day the sanction of their General Conference. In 1883 the Presbyterians appointed the second Sunday in June as a festival day for the children. Since then its observance has become almost universal.

It is none too soon to begin preparations for this happy event. Teachers and church officers should aim to make it a really golden day in the lives of the children—a day the memory of which will linger through life. Everything should be bright and sunny, to impress the joyfulness of religion upon plastic minds. This should be the main idea in arranging a programme. Music, recitations and addresses should not have a hint of gloom or depression, and there should be flowers, flowers everywhere. It was a happy thought to have Children's Day in the "Month of Roses," with its wealth of bloom to add beauty to the service.

The courtesy which precedes her piece.

Don't permit a bashful pose.

Choosing a Suitable Trousseau

SELECTING a trousseau is always a weighty matter, but at no season is it so necessary to give it serious consideration as by the June bride.

Life for a young woman who is to be married in the autumn is always more or less cut and dried; she usually lives in the conventional manner of the city or town in which fate places her, and her requirements as to clothing will be governed more or less by its social demands.

In summer it is quite otherwise; one may live in a half dozen different ways, and a trousseau should be selected accordingly.

For instance, if a girl is to spend her summer in a seashore or mountain resort, or in the suburbs of a big city, where there is apt to be much gaiety, she will need a variety of gowns for all occasions—dresses, linens, more elaborate costumes for afternoon wear, and at least two evening gowns. She should also have a big supply of lingerie waists—for laundresses are proverbially disappointing—and three or four thin white dresses made to taste.

IF SHE IS GOING TO BOUGH.

Hats for all occasions, a couple of loose coats for driving and to throw on in the evening over décolleté gowns, shoes and slippers galore, with stockings to match, ribbons, parasols, gloves long and short—there is no end to the requirements of the bride who expects to keep up her social duties.

But how foolish for the young woman who is to rough it this summer to supply herself with any such extensive outfit. If she feels dignified requires a handsome trousseau, let her put the money aside and buy her trills and furbles in the fall, only choosing for the present such things as are really necessary.

As becoming more and more the custom for the newly married to get out into the woods and hills in the summer, a few dainty white gowns for hunting, sailing, fishing and tramping. Or, if but a short time can be spent on the honeymoon, a farmhouse or bungalow is often rented in the heart of the country, and the young husband turns countryman.

What folly would many gowns be under such conditions—even though the bride-to-be can simply afford them. Instead, let her get plenty of simple shirtwaist suits, shorter than those worn in town. If laundering does not present a problem, most of these may be white—though several dark ones are indispensable.

A corduroy skirt and jacket of the lightest weight should also be provided. It can be worn all summer on tramps or fishing excursions and is much better than the heavy, warm, woolen material. A stormcoat, sweater and rubber boots are likewise needed.

FOR DRESSY CLOTHES

A few dainty white gowns for evening—even in the country one should not rough it all the time—a handsome suit or two, somewhere where the bride absolutely must pay calls, and possibly one fairly pretentious house gown, with another for any stray dinner or dance, that may turn up, are all that are necessary. Indeed, one "dressy" dress may be made to do double duty by means of two waists.

Shoes must be of the sensible kind. High ones with low heels and thick soles should by all means be included; and wear for evening wear, one should be chary of stirring up the porch on country roads with high-heeled pumps.

Turban hats will be sufficient, and one to shade the face from the hot sun.

The satisfaction of such a trousseau is increased in summer, when the bride is not bothered with the care of an extensive outfit—she has just the clothes she needs and no more; while in the fall, that uncomfutable season when clothes, even bridal clothes, feel heavy, she can purchase new ones that will keep her well covered all winter instead of wearing out her trousseau, as is the lot of many June brides.

A Help to the Home Laundress

A recent invention that should prove a boon to the women who do light laundry work in their own rooms is a simple arrangement for washing clothes without rubbing them on the skin from one's knuckles.

This new washer is nothing more nor less than a fitted rolling pin pierced by many holes. It is used on a washboard with slight projections over the surface, and the ordinary washboard answers the same purpose.

These rollers come in all sizes, from the tiny ones like a child's toy—just the thing to wash out socks, handkerchiefs

THE woman who sews alone has a hard time of it when it comes to fitting shoulder seams or adjusting a belt or hanging a skirt properly. These parts of home dressmaking seem, by rights, to need an extra person, some one who can change the set of a pin and then stand off and get a good look at the result; or who can raise her arms without an ominous sound of ripping telling the tale of the under-arm seam's giving way under the strain, or a sudden shower of pins betraying the melancholy fact that part of your work must be done over again.

Though not new, waist and skirt forms of papier mache and wires are simply indispensable, especially in this season of princess gowns, when long-continued fittings are necessary.

These forms are much improved from the crude shapeless ones first introduced. Now they are adjustable not in one place, but in many.

A separate waist form can be adjusted in four places—at neck, bust, waist and hips—and comes in four different sizes.

More convenient yet, because wider in its range of usefulness, is a combination waist and skirt form, adjustable in so many ways and to such various shapes that it might almost be dubbed a family friend.

By separate adjustments for bust, neck and under arm the bust may be enlarged without changing the waist; the back adapted to the broad shoulders of the athletic maiden or the stoop of the student; the front lengthened and the arm increased or shortened, all without change to any other part.

Quite the newest feature of these forms is the possibility of changing the skirt wires for short or trained dresses and widening them below the knees, so the circular skirts now so popular can be easily hung.

Of course, they cannot be expected to take the place of the human model; they never have and doubtless never will do that—even when padded out with tissue paper (as is frequently necessary) to supply deficiencies—but they save much weariness to the woman to be fitted, even if she can afford to have her clothes made, while for the girl who does her own sewing her task is eased fourfold.

When fitting shoulder and under arm seams, pins or beads the seams upon the right side. Or, if you are making a blouse or waist by a new pattern, pin the front and back in place by sticking pins through material and all well into the form, and smooth the lines into place, pinning the seams with the greatest care.

Then take from the form, haste where your pins were, turn wrong side out and try it on the form again.

If it is all right (and it should be), switch the width of a seam away from the bastings—between bastings and raw edge, of course; trim the seam, and turn to make a French seam, letting your second row of stitching come where the basting threads did.

To fit a collar, put the blouse on the form, and gather what fulness there may be in front into place, distributing it so that it is eased into the band, instead of making a pucker at the side or front.

For getting the skirt turned up evenly by all the way round comes a little contrivance which holds a bit of chalk and which can be regulated to mark any distance from the ground.

And by the way, unless there's a noticeable difference in the size of your belt is a little more trouble, but for certain sorts of blouses or waists is enough better to warrant the extra bother.

One of the greatest difficulties for the woman who makes her own clothes is to properly trim or drape a sleeve on herself.

Either she has meant turning or twisting, pressing some unwilling friend into service as a model, or else badly hung sleeves. Now, however, a sleeve form has been invented that does away with such difficulties and makes trimming an easy matter.

These forms are sometimes of wire, adjustable to different sizes and lengths of arms, but most often made of gray Jersey cloth, with the added advantage of coming in "right" and "lefts."

An iron stand is made so that the arm can be detached at will. All sizes of arms are made to fit the same stand. They can be held on it in four different positions.

Remember the Boy Graduate

SOMEHOW one does not associate boys and graduating presents. Yet why not? The boy never lived that did not like a gift; and many a mother, sister, or sweetheart would be only too glad to gratify his instinct if only they knew what to give.

It's so difficult to choose things for a boy, you say? Well, perhaps it is, when you consider variety; but there are certain stock articles that every son of Adam, be he taking a Ph. D. or a simple high school diploma, would be pleased to receive.

Remember, in choosing a watch, whether gold, silver or nickel, that the open-faced type is more convenient and more popular. Cases are plain, with large monograms.

If your boy owns a watch, get him a new job for it. There are many from which to select. Probably the first choice, as in best taste, would be one of black ribbon with gold mountings and a seal on the end, on which may be engraved monogram or crest.

A good-looking job of this type has a gold seal in the shape of an inverted ed pagoda, in the end of which is set a bloodstone carved with a monogram.

Fobs of gold links or those of gold and platinum service as a model, or even a simple fob, has been invented that does away with such difficulties and makes trimming an easy matter.

These forms are sometimes of wire, adjustable to different sizes and lengths of arms, but most often made of gray Jersey cloth, with the added advantage of coming in "right" and "lefts."

An iron stand is made so that the arm can be detached at will. All sizes of arms are made to fit the same stand. They can be held on it in four different positions.

Plain gold lockets with a monogram are liked even by men who scorn jewelry in other forms.

No one can go amiss in selecting a scarpin. Very popular at present are those set with fancy stones—aquamarine, amethyst, tourmaline, garnet, peridot, and the greenish yellow shrysoz.

Then there are military brushes in ebony, silver or even with the fine wooden back. Extra luxurious are those in tortoiseshell or ivory.

WHERE CREDIT BELONGS.

A short time ago it was announced in the columns of our esteemed local contemporary that A. B. McCoig, M. P., was dabbling in Dominion political affairs and was endeavoring to secure a dock for Tecumseh Park. The banner was evidently successfully loaded up by the McCoig faction and misled into making a fruitless attempt to convey the impression that Mr. McCoig, failing utterly in the Provincial House, had at last got something for this constituency from the Government at Ottawa. It is too bad for both the Banner and McCoig that they were unable to muzzle the London Free Press in this matter, and the result is that that widely-read journal came out yesterday morning with an editorial comment which completely knocks the bottom out of the Banner's story and restores the credit to the man who rightly deserves it.

The Banner evidently saw the editorial, for last evening they gave vent to a most extraordinary howl and once more their little hammer is playing harmlessly on the head of Mr. Clements. It is noticed, however, that the Banner is still mum on the subject of Mr. McCoig's duty in the Ontario House. They have not as yet found one instance where Mr. McCoig has done anything for his constituency.

The following is the comment from the Free Press, which has revealed the local Liberal organ's ignorance to the electors of Kent:—
"The member for West Kent, Mr. Clements, presented strong reasons in urging the construction of wharves at Tecumseh Park and at Roadou, together with a life-saving equipment there.

The Minister of Public Works, however, is much bothered with wharf questions, and can give but very little heed to the lake service. It is hard to get even "cold justice" on pure merit, so many are the calls for "generous treatment" elsewhere, and on other grounds, the Disraeli "wharf" in Quebec, to wit, which was built across a meadow.
"Why the Government should have spent over $20,000 in making a wharf at St. Joseph on Lake Huron, where no harbor is possible, and refuse to do anything of the kind on Lake Erie, where nature favors, and great need exists, is difficult to discover.
"Mr. Clements deserves credit for so strongly advocating the claims of the points in question, and something will have to be done."

WEDDING CHARIVARI.

The recovery of the young man, Joseph Hussey, who was shot at the charivari at Kingsbridge, is now regarded as assured, and the charges against the young men who were arrested will be merely that of unlawfully wounding.

Altogether eleven arrests were made and the accused came up for trial. Matthew McCreight, who, it is said, fired the shots that so nearly resulted in Hussey's death, was remanded and the ten other young men were allowed out on bail.

This case merely affords another example of the unparliamentary folly of this offensive and oftentimes dangerous practice of wedding charivaris. It appears, according to a press report, that there was some ill-feeling on the part of a considerable number of people around Kingsbridge because they had not been invited to the wedding, which was quite a large affair. When the crowd gathered around the Dalton house at midnight two or three of them had guns. Hussey, the unfortunate victim of the affray, came out of the house and fired a gun with the object of scaring the intruders away, and as he turned to re-enter the house someone in the crowd fired on him with terrible effect. Hussey belongs to a well-known family of Ashfield township, and is a brother of Rev. Father Joseph Hussey, of Ridgeway. Whatever may be the issue in this case, it is to be hoped that every young man and older one will be warned of the folly of participating in a charivari.

ANTI-USURY BILL.

The Anti-Usury Bill as passed by the House of Commons limits to twelve per cent. the rate of interest chargeable on loans not exceeding $500. After judgment has been obtained in Court on such a debt the interest must be cut down to five per cent. The measure should afford protection to an unfortunate class of borrowers who have heretofore been robbed right and left by the money sharks, comments the Toronto News. No Act of Parliament would wholly abolish the evil, but the new legislation puts a lever in the borrower's hands. If the lender is charging him more than twelve per cent., all he has to do is to go to Court and have the rate reduced to five per cent. This danger constantly suspended over the usurer's head may incline him to keep within the legal limit.

There is probably no place in the Dominion where more interest has been taken in this bill than has been exhibited in Chatham. There is, also, probably, no other city where more convincing proof of its great necessity has been brought forth. Cases have been pointed out in this journal where rates of interest as high as eighty per cent. have been charged poor, needy, innocent and ignorant borrowers. That such a practice has been allowed to flourish in this country for so long a time is a mystery, and the Government has certainly not been too hasty in taking action.

It is hoped that at some future time it may be considered possible to place even stronger restrictions upon the raids of the merciless money shark.

THE AYERST APPOINTMENT.

The Liberal press, points out the Ottawa Citizen, with a few notable exceptions, has seized on the appointment of a Thamesville, Ont., man to enforce local option where adopted in Ontario, as a good chance to cry "Spools." The Renfrew Mercury takes another and sensible view of the issue. It says: "The appointment of John A. Ayerst, of Thamesville, by the Ontario Government as a special officer to assist the local inspectors in the enforcement of law in local option communities is one that we believe will be generally approved; and in temperance circles we should fancy would take of the edge off the feeling of disappointment over the 60 per cent. vote necessary to carry local option. At all events it is one new office for creating which the Mercury will not find fault with the Whitney Government. To thoroughly enforce this law and get all the good or bad there is in it out of it, is of more value to permanent progress in restrictive legislation than to carry local option in the first place by a bare majority.

THE HOUSE FAMINE.

Toronto is at present experiencing a house famine—houses which are within the reach of the average workman and which rent for between $10 and $12 a month. The effect of this famine upon Toronto may well be watched by the citizens of Chatham, and precautions should be taken to guard against such a state of affairs becoming the lot of the Maple City.
It might be well to not only read but consider the following comment from the Toronto News:
"Statistics show that this city has not manifested even the natural and normal growth and development along these lines.
"For this no reason has been suggested other than the seemingly hopeless absence of permanent and proper accommodation for the working men. With only some 2,000 houses at even moderate rentals the city is unable to look after the present requirements.
"Within the past six months one of the thriving young cities of Western Ontario by an overwhelming majority voted a loan of $75,000, repayable in installments, to a large concern engaged in the manufacture of steel products, and employing regularly 540 adult and well-paid hands. The factory accepted the proposition and is now building.
"Was one of the many that Toronto lost?
"Mr. We would, of course, have preferred Toronto," was the observation of one of its directors recently, and would have been glad to locate in the Queen City without a loan, but our employees had to be considered. The workmen couldn't afford to remain with us and pay the house rentals Toronto asks.
"Is other words, this city's house family lost for her what a smaller and more accommodating rival was willing to advance $75,000 to receive. A tour of the Province would likely reveal the fact that this was not an isolated case. There are scores of others."

AULD LANG SYNE FROM PLANET FILES OF HALF A CENTURY AGO

On Wednesday last the Duik'n Temperance Bill provisions in regard to the restrictions on the sale of intoxicating liquors were to be voted upon by the electors in the Township of Harwich, but as not a single vote was recorded either for or against the by-law, the whole thing ended in a farce.

On Wednesday morning a fire broke out in the rear of Mr. Dan Doosen's residence in Harwich and before the engines arrived from Chatham and extinguished the flames damage amounting to over $400 was done.
The oil excitement in Bothwell is increased on account of new finds. Several large American concerns are developing the field and the country is dotted with derricks belonging to them and the Canadian speculators.

A bona-fide company has been formed in Detroit with sufficient capital to enable them to test the newly discovered salt and oil fields in Essex.
News has been received in Chatham of the death of Edwin Larwill, ex-M. P. for Kent, at Port Wayne, Indiana.

Great dismay is prevalent among the oil speculators in the county consequent upon the Crown's withdrawal of Dawn, Zone, Eniskillen, Ekfrid, Mave and Euphemia from sale. These Crown lands were to be sold at a public auction.

A telegram from Quebec, dated March 29, states that the Hon. J. A. McDonald had a very narrow escape from drowning while crossing the ice on a sleigh to catch a train at Port Levi. The sleigh broke through the ice and the honorable gentleman was only extricated with considerable difficulty.

A young girl named Scott, 15 years of age, died in this town under very curious circumstances. On Thursday afternoon last, the 30th ultimo, the girl began to bleed at the nose and a physician was called who prescribed for her. On Thursday night the barn belonging to Joseph Moodie in Howard was burned to the ground, the damage done amounting to nearly $500.

A RAILWAY BOARD Free to You, My Sister

Names of Those Who Will Compose the Commission.
The Ontario Railway and Municipal Board, provided for under an Act passed at the last session of the Legislature, is composed of Mr. James Letch, K.C., of Cornwall, chairman; Mr. Andrew Ingram, of St. Thomas, M.P. for East Elgin, and Mr. H. N. Kitchin, of Hamilton. The Secretary is Mr. Henry C. Small, barrister, of Carleton Place.

The salary of the Chairman is $6,000 per annum, of the other two members $4,000, and of the Secretary $2,000. The members hold office during the pleasure of the Government and must give their whole time to the work. They cannot directly or indirectly hold railway stock or have any interest in any device or article, etc., used by railways, or any stock in utilities subject to the Act.

MR. JAMES LETCH, K.C. (Chairman Ontario Railway Board).
act. They must not act as officers or directors of any public utility or of any company that has power to invest any portion of its funds in the securities of railway companies or public utility companies. The board has very wide powers in regard to railways—which are, of course, principally electric railroads—under Provincial jurisdiction.
Mr. James Letch, K.C., the Chairman, is fifty-six years of age, a native of South Branch, Stormont. Educated at the Williamstown and Cornwall grammar schools, he was called to the Bar in 1876. He has since practised in Cornwall, being created a Q.C. by the Earl of Derby in 1889. Mr. Letch was a prominent figure for many years in Cornwall municipal politics, graduating from there to an unsuccessful contest in Stormont for the Legislature in 1886 and 1896, and in Stormont and Gengarry for the House of Commons in 1896 upon the death of Dr. Bergin.
Mr. Andrew B. Ingram, M.P. for East Elgin, was born at Strathroy, Wentworth county, in 1851. Formerly a railway engineer, he has had considerable experience in commercial and real estate business. From 1886 to 1890 he represented West Elgin in the Legislature. In 1891 he was elected to the Commons for the constituency he now represents.
Henry Norman Kitchin was born March 6th, 1849, at Sorel, Quebec. Mr. Kitchin was educated at the Model School, Sorel, and Bishop's College, Lennoxville. In 1868 he entered the employment of Messrs. Kerr, Brown & Mackenzie, remaining with that firm until the formation of the firm of T. B. Kerr & Co., when he became their head clerk, and upon the liquidation of that firm on the death of T. C. Kerr, in November, 1878, he became head book-keeper for W. C. Gillard & Co., wholesale grocers. In 1885 he became a partner of the firm. Mr. Kitchin was President of Hamilton Board of Trade in 1892 and 1893.

Mr. Henry C. Small, Secretary of the board, was born in Toronto about 24 years ago, was educated at Upper Canada College and the Law School here, and has been practising law for about thirteen years. He served in South Africa with the first Canadian contingent.

The truth is, and we get it fresh from men with town lots to sell, that the Canadian city does not take off its medicine hat to any place in the land in the matter of weather.

These amiable gentlemen have discovered that roses bloom all the year round and that straw hats are quite the thing in January. One by one our cherished superstitions fade. We may next expect some speculator to come around trying to sell us ten acre tracts in Greenland for orange groves.

Where It Pinched. Boggs—Isn't awful the way women wear birds on their hats? Closest—Sure, unless the hats without them are more expensive.

Easily Explained. "I wonder why they call it the late war?" "Because the Japanese sat up nights to capture a position, I presume."

Seven Day Inspection. The test of a man's religion, Be he ever so pious and meek, Is not how it looks on Sunday, But how does it wear through the week.

Not For Them. "YOU GET ANY?" "NOT GET ANY?"

Cruel. "Did you read my last poem?" "I hope so."

SUCCESSFUL HORSEMAN.

Never allows his horse to suffer pain. He always uses Nervine, which is noted for curing stiffness, rheumatism, swellings, and strains. Nervine is just as good inside as outside. For cramps, colic, and internal pain it's a perfect marvel. In the good racing stables Nervine is always used—because it makes better horses and smaller veterinary bills. Twenty-five cents buys a large bottle, of Nervine, try it.

M. P.'s and Their Drinks. Discussing the drinks of M. P.'s. The Glasgow Herald states that as a drink between meals whiskey and soda holds its own. Brandy and soda has quite gone out of fashion, but instead some members have strange concoctions, such as whiskey and ginger ale, barley water and gin, and Angostura bitters and soda. The favorite temperance drinks are lemonsquash, ginger beer, ginger ale, lemonade, barley water, and coffee. At late sittings, clear soup, which is served hot in the Lobby buffet, is in constant request.

THAT PALE, TIRED GIRL. She is in society, in business, at home, everywhere you see her, but always worn and fatigued. She has not heard of Ferrozone or she would be perfectly well. How quickly it strengthens—what an appetite it gives! What a glow it brings to pale cheeks. The nutriment contained in Ferrozone puts strength into anybody. Laughing eyes, rosy lips, and bright, quick movements, all tell of the vitality Ferrozone produces. Thousands of attractive, happy women use Ferrozone—by not you! Points on the National Game. "If you want to make a hit, you must strike out for yourself, my son." "You're mixed in your baseball talk, pa. If you strike out, you can't make a hit."

THIS MEDICINE IS BREATHED. That's why it is sure to cure catarrh. You see it goes direct to the source of the disease—its healing vapor repairs the damage caused by catarrhal inflammation. "Catarrh-zone" always cures because it goes into those tiny cells and passages that ordinary remedies can't reach, goes where the disease actually is. Impossible for Catarrh-zone to fail as any doctor will tell you. Don't be misled into thinking there is anything as good as Catarrh-zone—use it and you'll soon say good-bye to catarrh.

INTERNATIONAL BIBLE LESSON FOR TO-MORROW.

The Duty — or Grace — of Forgiveness.—Matt. 18, 21-35. Read also Matt. 5, 38-48.

Golden Text—"Forgive us our debts as we forgive our debtors."

Peter questions our Lord about the forgiveness of an offending brother; would not seven offenses forgiven be enough, perhaps, to allow him to retaliate on the 8th offense?

Note, it was the treatment of an offending brother of the same family, church, or nationality, but not forgiveness for an alien, heretic or an enemy.

Law demands an eye for an eye and a tooth for a tooth to square accounts, but Jesus taught—Matt 5— resist not him that is evil; if he smites thee on thy right cheek turn thy left for the next blow; if thy coat must go to pay thy debt let thy cloak—overcoat—go also, sooner than thy debts be unpaid; if the law of the land tax thy team to drive a government official one mile, give him a lift two; if a man needs help give it, and don't refuse an honest man a loan.

This lesson is a good one throughout and should be carefully studied by the teachers, so that they may be enabled to portray its real beauties to the scholars.

PE-RU-NA KEEPS THE FAMILY IN THE BEST OF HEALTH.

This is Only One of a Million of Homes in Which Pe-ru-na Has Been a Blessing. Read This Family's Glowing Testimony.

MRS. H. J. CAMPBELL

Mr. Henry S. Campbell, 1737 S. Williams St., Denver, Col., State Deputy of Modern Woodmen, Montana, and Delegate of Builders Trades Council, writes: "Peruna has been a blessing in our home. My wife was in poor health for several years and nothing but Peruna helped her. She gradually recovered her health and became the mother of a boy which blessed our home. We call Gerald our Peruna boy. He is in the finest of health and his mother has never enjoyed such excellent health. I have personally found Peruna of great value to me while traveling. Getting irregular meals and often poorly prepared food ruined my stomach, but Peruna toned up my digestive organs and brought fine health to me. "We are never without Peruna in our home and know by experience that it keeps us all in the best of health."

A recent letter received from Mr. and Mrs. Campbell is, as follows: "We still use Peruna and in addition to our son, Gerald, who is a fat and sauzy lad of 28 months, we have another son, still larger for his age. He is now ten months old and is always healthy. "His mother says Peruna has surely made both of our children as healthy as they are, helped, of course by Colorado's healthy air. "A bottle of Peruna is at all times a welcome visitor to our home."

A multitude of families have discovered that Peruna is their standby. In all the catarrhal ailments which are likely to beset the various members of the family, Peruna is the remedy that brings quick relief.

No matter whether it be a catarrhal condition of the head or lungs, or a derangement of the stomach and bowels, Peruna is the remedy.

WOMAN ARTIST'S IDEA.

Original Interpretation of the Arms of Venus of Milo and What They Held Originally.

After more than eighty years' discussion as to the true interpretation of the pose of the armless Venus of Milo a member of the matchless goddess' own sex seems to have discovered her real meaning and reason for existence. The discoverer is Miss Francesca Paloma Del Mar, an artist of New York City.

This lady's interpretation of the Venus is that her goddessship is no Venus at all, but none less than the Divine Mother of the ancient religions, in this statue Demeter of the Greeks, mother of all the living, even Mater Deorum, Mother of the Gods.

Miss Del Mar declares the pose of the so called Venus shows that she must have been holding a somewhat heavy weight upon her left arm and supporting it by her shoulder when she had her picture taken. No human figure would assume such a posture

FRANCESCA PALOMA DEL MAR.

Miss Del Mar has made a painting, heroic size, of her ideal restoration of the statue, with a child in its arms, holding the infant in the manner described. She says that in securing women models to stand for her in this attitude she had not the slightest difficulty in placing them as they naturally fall in to the pose of their own accord while holding a child upon the left arm and against the left shoulder.

It will be observed that, as Miss Del Mar has restored the statue in her painting, it resembles a picture of Madonna and Holy Child, even to the nimbus around the head of each. This is precisely the artist's idea. The Divine Mother and Holy Child are a conception evolved by paganism ages before the Christian era. The fathers of the Christian church adopted the tender and beautiful emblem among the symbols of the new faith. The nimbus or radiance around the heads of divinities was also employed as far back as heathen deities have been represented. The wall paintings of ruined Pompeii show pagan gods and goddesses with the halo, and Pompeii was destroyed in the year 79. Upon the mutilated heads of many ancient statues are still the fastenings of the destroyed nimbus.

Demeter, goddess of motherhood, one of the twelve deities of Olympus, was worshipped as the fertilizing and nourishing principle of nature. She was represented in painting and sculpture as a beautiful, nobly formed woman, yet "blooming with eternal youth." Her face is dignified, but always gentle, a different face from any of the various bristled of Venus, except indeed it be the Milo which is under discussion. It is a fact that when the mutilated Venus of Milo was found there were near it remains of the sculptured body and limbs of an infant.

Francesca Del Mar's art reputation was made in Europe, where she has frequently exhibited in Paris and London galleries under the name of Frank Paloma, thus conveying the impression that she was a man. She did this in order that her work might receive just consideration and be judged fairly.

Miss Del Mar, Spanish by parentage, studied art in Europe for thirteen years, chiefly in London, Paris and Holland. She worked and studied during the thirteen years as only one does who is in earnest.

Interesting even as her great picture is the artist herself who painted it. She is a small, slender, very graceful woman of the Spanish type, dark, with soft, bright eyes and a sweet, cultivated voice. She is an expert fencer.

Cotton Spinners Strike. Montreal, July 6.—The cotton mill at Magog is closed again. After a meeting the men Wednesday to the number of 400 walked out. The strikers demand an increase of 20 per cent. in wages, recognition of the union, and that all agreements signed be null. The company considers these demands excessive and will resist them.

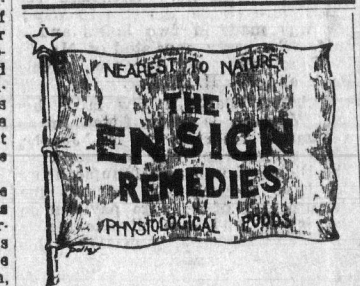

A Wonderful Record.

As made up by improved and exact processes Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a most efficient remedy for regulating all the womanly functions, correcting displacements, as prolapsus, anæmia and retroversion, overcoming painful periods, toning up the nerves and bringing about a perfect state of health. It cures the backache, periodical headaches, the dragging-down distress in the pelvic region, the pain and tenderness over lower abdomen, which dries up the pelvic catarrhal drain, so disagreeable and weakening, and overcomes every form of weakness incident to the organs distinctly feminine.

"Favorite Prescription" is the only medicine for women, the makers of which are not afraid to print their formula on the bottle wrapper, thus taking their patrons into their full confidence. It is the only medicine for women, every ingredient of which has the strongest possible endorsement of the most eminent medical practitioners and writers of our day, recommending it for the diseases for which "Favorite Prescription" is used. It is the only put-up medicine for women, sold through druggists, which does not contain a large percentage of alcohol, so harmful in the long run, especially to delicate women, as more genuine cures to its credit than all other medicines for women combined, having saved thousands of sufferers from the operating table and the surgeon's knife. It has restored delicate, weak women to strong and vigorous health and virility, making motherhood possible, where there was barrenness before, thereby brightening and making happy many thousands of homes by the advent of little ones to strengthen the marital bonds and add sunshine where gloom and despondency had reigned before.

Write to Dr. E. V. Pierce. He will send you good, fatherly, professional advice, in a plain, sealed envelope, absolutely free. Address him at Buffalo, N. Y. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets do not gripe. They effectually cleanse the system of accumulated impurities. The People's Common Sense Medical Adviser, by Dr. Pierce, 1008 pages, is sent free on receipt of stamps to pay expense of customs and mailing only. Send 31 one-cent stamps for the book in paper covers, or 50 stamps for the cloth-bound volume. Address as above.

BOARD IS WRATHY A GREAT TRIBUTE

School Trustees of Wallaceburg Object to Mr. Park's Removal by County Council

John Northwood Pays One to the Late Wm. McGeorge—He Knew Him Well

At a recent meeting the Wallaceburg Public School Board raised strong objections to the action of the Kent County Council in gerrymandering that section of the West Kent electorate into East Kent. A resolution, passed unanimously, concluded with the following:

"That we are unanimous in this matter as a Board, that we will take whatever steps, legal or otherwise, that will prevent us from being gerrymandered into East Kent by a by-law of the County Council, without any notification from them, of the proposed change."

The reasons why the people of Wallaceburg resent this action may therefore be summed up as follows:

1. It transfers the result of the work of years to a gentleman who did not do the work.

2. It would be a grave injustice to our teachers to be compelled to travel such a distance as would be required under the new by-law to attend all the teachers' meetings and conventions.

3. It is only right to say that such an important educational point as Wallaceburg should have been consulted before such an extreme step was taken.

I. Wallaceburg is and has been well satisfied with the work of Inspector Park and objects to his being withdrawn and its being placed under a stranger.

AN ANNOYING PRACTICE

Much objection is made by a great many citizens to the habit of young lads, who speed along at furious rates with express wagons on the sidewalks in the busy part of the evening.

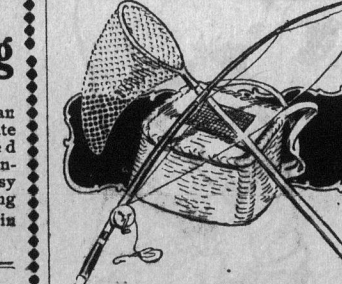

The practice is a very annoying one, and dangerous as well. One evening during the week a feeble old lady narrowly escaped being violently thrown to the ground by a youngster who was brazenly taking up the greater part of the sidewalk with his wagon. The practice is almost as dangerous as bicycle riding on the sidewalk.

The following letter to The Planet, from John Northwood, referring to the late Wm. McGeorge, is self-explanatory.

To the Editor of The Planet:
Another of our good men has left us—Mr. McGeorge, Surveyor, of Chatham. I want to tell you a couple of good incidents that I heard which happened in his life. Twenty or twenty-five years ago I was in Detroit. A gentleman whom I became acquainted with, finding that I came from Chatham, asked me if I was acquainted with Mr. McGeorge, Surveyor of Chatham. I told him I knew him very well. He said that he was one of the best and most religious men he ever knew. When the Canada Southern Railway Co. were building through Canada he said he was working on the road along with Mr. McGeorge. There were 100 men in the gang. They had one tent for their dining-room, another one for sleeping in. The lights had to be out and all in bed by nine o'clock. He said that every night Mr. McGeorge knelt down and said his prayers before this noisy, cursing 100 men, who made all kinds of fun of him, but nothing bothered him and at last they let him alone. He said Mr. McGeorge was one of the steadiest and best workers he ever knew.

Another story I want to tell of him. Last spring the Conservative Government of Ontario appointed Mr. McGeorge to re-survey Walpole Island. It was going to be a good, well-paying job. A red hot Tory from Chatham was in Toronto and asked him how in the world they gave this position to such a strong Reformer man as Mr. McGeorge, of Chatham. He thought it was a terrible shame, as there were so many Conservatives who would have liked to have had the job. The Minister told him that he was compelled to engage Mr. McGeorge, and when asked the reason replied, "because I had to get an honest man to do the work, and we found by all our enquiries that no other honest man could be found in America."

Yours,
JOHN NORTHWOOD,

MARTYRDOM DESCRIBED Kingston Man Tells How He Suffered and How he Was Released

FOR YEARS A MARTYR, is how Chas. H. Powell of 105 Raglan Street, Kingston, begins his story. "A martyr to chronic constipation, but now I am free from it and all through the use of Dr. Leonard's Anti-Pill!"

CHAS. H. POWELL Many who are now suffering from this complaint will be glad to learn from Mr. Powell's story that there is hope for the most stubborn case.

He continues: "I was induced to try Anti-Pill by reading the testimony of some one who had been cured of constipation by it. I had suffered for eighteen years and had taken tons of stuff recommended as cures but which made me worse rather than better. Doctors told me there was no cure for me."

Dr. Leonard's Anti-Pill is for sale by all Druggists and by The Wilson-Fyle Co., Limited, Niagara Falls, Ont.

Mr. Powell will vary every word of these statements.

OLD LETTER FROM DICKENS: Which Started Agitation That Eventually Brought About Abolition of Public Executions.

Charles Dickens was so horrified by the revolting spectacles seen among the enormous crowd, gathered to witness the hanging of fellow human beings, that he wrote a powerful letter, which was published by The Dispatch, protesting against public executions.

Mr. Editor—I was a witness of the execution at Horsemaner lane. I went there with the intention of observing the crowd gathered to behold it, and I had excellent opportunities of doing so at intervals all through the night, and continuously from daybreak until after the spectacle was over.

I believe that a slight so inconceivably awful as the wickedness and levity of the immense crowd collected at that execution could be imagined by no man, and could be presented in no heathen land under the sun.

When the sun rose brightly—as it did—it glided thousands upon thousands of upturned faces, so inexpressibly odious in their brutal mirth or callousness that a man had cause to feel ashamed of the shape he wore, and to shrink from himself as fashioned in the image of the Devil.

But the Bigwig family broke out into violent family quarrels concerning what it was lawful to teach to this man's children. Some of the family insisted on such a thing being primary and indispensable above all other things.

SUNSHINE FURNACE

Where Does Your Heat Go To?

The science of furnace-building is the utilization of all the heat units.

The "Sunshine" furnace utilizes all the heat and sends none up the chimney.

You can't put your hand over the chimney when some furnaces are in use, because so much heat goes up the chimney. Your hand would be burned. That is heat wasted, time wasted, because it takes so much more firing up when a large part of your heat is lost.

The "Sunshine" furnace is built to extract all the heat units from the fuel and distribute them through the house. It does not waste heat like common furnaces.

Write for our free booklet telling all about the "SUNSHINE" furnace.

A NATION'S LIFE CANCER

U. S. FOUNDATIONS ARE MENACED BY DOMESTIC FOES.

MUNICIPAL CORRUPTION RIFE

Rev. Dr. Talmage Preaches His Fourth of July Sermon and Patriotically Attempts to Induce the People to Scotch the Evils in the Body Politic

Entered according to Act of Parliament of Canada, in the year 1906, by Frederick River, Toronto, at the Dept. of Agriculture, Ottawa.

Los Angeles, Cal., July 1.—In this sermon the preacher makes a powerful appeal for an independence which shall result in the redemption of our cities from official corruption.

This is the Sunday preceding the national holiday. This is the hour when thousands of patriotic sermons are being preached over this land, most of them in eulogistic strain.

The cancer which is gnawing and eating toward the vitals of our nation's body is even more fatal in its results than the dangers which are threatening him from without.

Most great statesmen are as loath to enter an international controversy as is the present head of the German empire.

Some years ago the young emperor was looking at the Versailles pictures depicting Napoleon's invasion of Russia.

He looked at the pictures and said, "Vereschagin, your pictures are an excellent corrective of war's aspects."

He looked a little longer and again said, "Vereschagin, the statesman who would needlessly plunge his country into an international strife is a fool."

Emperor William shudders at the thought of war. The great statesman, both trans and cis Atlantic, have the same dread.

The one to a great extent does not represent personalities, but principles, while on the other hand, civic politics does not represent principles as much as personalities.

Major McKinley of Ohio is the candidate upon the national ticket for President of the United States.

He is the logical representative of his party, upon the sole issue that he was the author of the famous McKinley bill, which established high tariff.

Now, if Mr. McKinley is elected to the Presidency he can do absolutely nothing to forward his ideas of protection unless he has a Congress behind him which will pass protection laws.

Thus all over the country the Republicans of the different congressional districts assemble and pick out men who believe in protection to support the future President in his policy.

Now, on the other hand, the government of a city has nothing to do with the tariff laws or with the advocacy of a free silver bill.

It has to do with the public schools, and with the water supply, and with the lighting of our streets, and with our street railway system, and with the control of our police and fire departments.

Any man who is a strong, honest, upright, intelligent, business man can run any city government as well as he can a Republican or a Democrat.

He is a Republican or a Democrat, or an adherent to any of the other mass political bosses of a city inevitably hold the municipal governments in their grasp by mixing up national issues with civic affairs.

They nominate their candidates. Then they come to the voters and say: "Now, be consistent. If you are going to vote for a Republican President, vote for a Republican mayor and a Republican councilman."

insisting on the mayor and council being of the dominant political party.

Do you believe this is political heresy? Then read the following words of Theodore Roosevelt, President of the United States.

Mr. Roosevelt declares that most of the municipal corruption of this country is directly due to harnessing up national and civic issues in the same yoke.

Let me read to you his own strong, powerful, intense words: "The worst evils that affect our local governments arise from and are the inevitable results of the mixing up of city affairs with party politics of the nation and state."

The lines upon which national parties divide have no necessary connection with the business of the city.

Such connections open the way to countless schemes of public plunder and civic corruption."

What says Secretary William Taft in a late letter which he wrote to a prominent Republican club of Cincinnati which had elected him an honorary member?

"The conduct of municipal affairs has no rational relation to the conduct of national affairs, and while it does not seem possible to eliminate from municipal elections the system of nominating party tickets, there ought certainly to be cultivated a much wider spirit of independence at municipal elections in the scratching of improper candidates selected by party than is likely to be ever exercised with reference to state and national elections."

But in order to solve the civic problem aright we must do more than separate national politics from municipal affairs. We must in our city politics have the right kind of leaders.

What must prevail upon the most respected citizens of the different cities to offer themselves as candidates for the different municipal offices.

The kind of men who are willing to accept the gubernatorial and congressional and presidential offices are the same kind who should be willing to be elected to the mayorship or to the aldermanic chairs in our city governments.

"Oh," but you say, "our prominent men in professional and business life cannot afford to take the humble positions of a city government."

The financial returns are so inadequate that they do not feel called upon to neglect their stores or offices for such petty emoluments.

Non-sense, my friend, non-sense! The question of financial returns should have nothing to do with our offering the city positions to our most prominent citizens.

We should look upon our city governments the same as they do in England or Scotland or Australia or New Zealand.

There the people, no matter how wealthy or prominent they may be, feel it an honor to be called an alderman of Glasgow, or Edinburgh, or London, or Melbourne, or Sydney.

Why, some of these men could have been making their thousands of dollars at home if they had not enlisted in the United States Army.

Yet some of those soldiers are now in the same place as we have here six cities of refuge, but all our cities shall be cities of refuge, wherein purity and truth and honor shall love to dwell, and where Christ's altars shall be the shrines at which municipal officials and inhabitants shall bow the knee and worship.

God bless and speed the consummation of our beloved cities' emancipation from sin.

The Judge and the Lawyer. In an altercation between counsel and the judge, the judge, after several attempts at conciliation, remarked, "Well, I have done all I can to promote peace, but the result reminds me very much of the table of the old man and the ass."

The counsel, with visible irritation in his countenance, wished to know which of those entities applied to him. "Neither in particular," was the reply; "but, considering our respective ages, you cannot object to my saying that I am the old man."

But we must not simply look at our municipal candidates when we attempt to rescue our cities from their present political corruption.

We must also weigh carefully in the balance the men by whom these candidates are being selected.

There is not one municipal candidate in ten thousand who we can honestly and justly call a man of honor and integrity.

Most of them are men who are in the political world the water never rises higher than its source.

When a man is nominated by a convention for a city office, he is, as a rule, no better and no worse than the man who wanted to elect him to that office.

Therefore if you would find out the kind of municipal candidates who are running all you have to do is to go among the men who want that candidate elected.

In other words, you can nearly always judge a man politically by the company he keeps.

This statement naturally brings me to the last and perhaps the most important heading of all the discussion.

If you refuse to vote for a man who is a candidate for municipal office and whom the bad men want, then comes the practical question: Are you and I, as Christians and good church members, ready to do our part in city politics and lead our personal aid to the good men of our cities who are trying to nominate and elect good city attorneys and good school boards and good police commissioners and good heads of our fire departments and honest heads of our fire departments and honest heads of our fire departments?

It is nonsense for ministers to sit back in their ecclesiastical robes and say, "It is not our business to touch city politics."

When a moral issue is at stake it is the business of the churches and the business of all church members to go to the primaries and help nominate the men who ought to be nominated and help elect those honest men after they have been placed in nomination.

SIR HECTOR LANGEVIN

PASSING OF ANOTHER OF THE FATHERS OF CONFEDERATION.

Only Two Still Survive Now—Sir Hector Was Long Leader of Conservative Party of Quebec, and Long Held a Portfolio—Minister of Public Works in Cabinets of Sir John Macdonald and Premier Abbott.

Sir Hector Louis Langevin, P.C., C.B., K.C.M.G., K.C., LL.D., whose death was recently announced, was descended from one of the oldest of French-Canadian families, renowned in the church and in the State throughout the history of both French and British regimes.

In his own career he was true to the traditions of his race and family, and took a place in the life of his country not unworthy of his name and lineage.

Few Canadians have occupied a more prominent position in public affairs, and none have done more to soften the asperities of racial and religious differences.

Mr. Langevin was born Aug. 25, 1826, in the City of Quebec, the son of Jean Langevin, assistant Civil Secretary under the Earl of Gosford and Lord Sydenham, Governor-General of Canada.

His mother was Sophie Scholastique La Force, daughter of Major Pierre La Force, an officer of distinction in the American War of 1812, whose grandfather was acting commodore of the British fleet on Lake Ontario during the American Revolution War.

He was educated at the Quebec Seminary and began the study of law in 1846 in the offices of the late Hon. A. N. Morin, in Montreal, on whose retirement from practice he entered the offices of the late Sir George Edouard Cartier. In 1850 he was called to the bar of Lower Canada.

He displayed decided literary tastes and was strongly interested in public affairs, and even when a student contributed frequently to the press at the age of twenty-one he accepted the editorship of Les Melanges Religieux, Montreal, where he made his mark.

Subsequently he edited the Journal of Agriculture, and 1857 he became editor of the Courrier du Canada for a short time. He was a great reader and a well-informed man.

His Marriage. In 1854 he married Justine, eldest daughter of Lieut.-Col. Charles H. Tegu, J.P. Two years later he was chosen representative of Palace Ward in the Quebec City Council, and subsequently became chairman of the Waterworks Committee. In the following year he was elected Mayor of Quebec, a position which he filled for four successive years.

In 1857, besides being honored with the chief magistracy of his native city, he was also elected member of Parliament for the county of Dorchester. He very naturally was found supporting the Administration, one of the leaders of which was the gentleman at whose hands he received his political, as well as his legal, training.

The old Ministry was recalled to power and a readjustment took place. On the 30th of March, 1864, Mr. Langevin became a Queen's Counsel, and on the same day entered the Tache-Macdonald Administration as Solicitor-General-East. Two years later he became Postmaster-General, which office he retained till Confederation the following year.

In the Confederation movement he took a prominent part. He was a delegate to Charlottetown, and later a member of the Quebec Conference. He was also one of those who went to England to aid the Home Office in perfecting the Confederation scheme.

During Sir George Cartier's absence in England in 1873, Mr. Langevin acted as leader of the French-Canadian Conservative party, and upon the death of his chief he became the permanent leader. In 1873, on the downfall of Sir John Macdonald's Administration, he resigned office.

At the general elections in 1878 he was an unsuccessful candidate for Rimouski, but Mr. William Macdougall, the member for Three Rivers, made way for him, and he was chosen for the vacated constituency by acclamation.

In the next Conservative Government he became Postmaster-General till 1879, when he became again Minister of Public Works, and retained the position till his retirement from public life. Regarding his brilliant parts and the service he had rendered his country and the French-Canadian people the Queen conferred upon him the knighthood of the Order of St. Michael and St. George.

Mr. Langevin took no active part in political life after 1881, the year of what was known as the Langevin-McGreevy scandal. His friends assert that through loyalty to his party and his leader he took upon himself far more than his share of responsibility for those unhappy revelations.

He continued to sit in the House of Commons till 1896, but only addressed the House two or three times during that period. In 1896 he retired from public life, and since that time lived quietly at his home in Quebec.

Naturally, Gunner—Yes, he is a champion golf player, and so is the girl he is going to marry. Not only that, the minister who will perform the ceremony is very fond of the game.

Guy—Ah, I suppose he will be pleased to link them together. Dressmakers' bills are the root of many divorce suits.

The more friends a man has the more money he lends.

VANISHED TREASURES.

Masterpieces of Art That Are Lost to the World.
The "Venus de Milo," which has been in the Louvre for many years, is, as all the world knows, an imperfect piece of sculpture, though it is the greatest treasure of its kind the world has ever seen. A great reward would be given the man who could find the missing parts. About 1878 the most important of them—the right arm—came to light in London and was proved by experts to be genuine. The owner, however, refused to part with it and concealed it for fear it would be stolen. Unfortunately he died without revealing its hiding place, so it is as much lost as ever.

Another treasure which has vanished in as strange a way is the Marcella vase of the Dresden collection. This is the only piece missing from the famous Dresden Marcella collection, the value of which is said to be $75,000. It bears the cross arrows and the lion's head. Not long ago the vase was said to be in England, but that it is may, the person who rediscovers this treasure may command any price in reason for it.

THE STAGE KISS. It tests the Genius of the Actor and the Actress.
The stage kiss is important. There is nothing which so tests the genius of an actor and an actress as the ability under just such circumstances to produce the illusion of love. On the stage it is necessary for them to forget their own personalities, to smother their own feelings, one for the other, and in the place of the warped though genuine kiss we see at the railroad station and the steamship wharf present to our eyes by the magic of their acting a highly artificial production.

Indigestion. The following cure for indigestion is recommended by the eminent Dr. Bond in the London Lancet, a medical journal of world wide repute.

Earthquake Gowns. In 1750 there was a great earthquake in England, and Horace Walpole records that "several women have made 'earthquake gowns'—that is, warm gowns to sit out of doors all night."

Mended It. "I have never given you credit for knowing very much, madam," said a big bachelor, "but—"

Knew She Was Pretty. Little (to visitor)—Don't you think that I look just like my mamma? Mother—Hush, child! Don't be vain!

A Little oil rubbed on the stub end of a pen will prevent its rusting in the handle.

Hot Weather HEADACHES

Tablets, powders, drugs, of any kind will NOT cure headaches. Simply because they never reach the CAUSE of the headache.

What causes headaches? Poisoned blood, always. If the bowels are constipated—If the kidneys are weak—If the millions of pores of the skin are not active—There are bound to be headaches.

Fruit-a-Tives

cure headaches because they cure the cause of headaches. They do not drug the nerves. They go to the root of the trouble, invigorate and strengthen the liver and increase the flow of bile into the bowels, which cure constipation. Act directly on the kidneys, heal all kidney irritation. Act on the skin, stimulate and open the pores.

BE A GOOD LISTENER. A Charm Which Women Would Do Well to Cultivate.
The wise woman is a good listener as well as a good conversationalist. It is much more of an art to draw out the best thoughts of other people than it is to converse well oneself. One often meets intelligent persons who never enter a room full of people without monopolizing the conversation. Their faculty for needless chatter is unlimited, and their conversation is liberally interspersed with the pronoun I.

AWFUL PSORIASIS 35 YEARS. Terrible Scaly Humour in Patches All Over the Body—Skin Cracked and Bleeding—Itching Unbearable—Cured by Cuticura in Thirty Days at Small Expense.

ANOTHER WONDERFUL CURE BY CUTICURA. "I was afflicted with psoriasis for thirty-five years. It was in patches all over my body. I used three cakes of Soap, six boxes of Cuticura Ointment, and two bottles of Cuticura Resolvent. I bathed with the Soap, applied the Ointment once a day, and took the Resolvent as directed. In thirty days I was completely cured, and I think permanently, as it was about five years ago."

Just Quit Worrying. Nobody knows what produces earthquakes, although it is often claimed that they do. The earth quakes somewhere every day. Nobody knows when the earth came or when it will go, where it came from, how it came or how it happened to be here.

Dull Times. "Just set it for 6 o'clock," said the young lawyer, who was purchasing an alarm clock. "I'll never want to change it."

Wife—You were talking in your sleep again last night, dear. Why do you persist in doing it? Husband—Good gracious, Maria, a man ought to be allowed to talk sometimes, oughtn't he?—Bohemian.

THE LUNACY OF LOVE.

Bulwer Lytton's Letters to His Own "Adored Poodle."
To Miss Louise Devey, the former friend and the executrix of Lady Lytton, had been confided a packet of 298 letters, representing the correspondence of Bulwer Lytton with Miss Wheeler in the days of their early courtship. Miss Devey published these with a preface, stating that she took this action in order to vindicate the memory of her dead friend. In what manner the letters could be regarded as a vindication it is difficult to see, though they serve as a remarkable contribution to the literature of epistolary love-making. The extravagant absurdity of some of them is almost beyond belief, and two passages may be quoted as illustrative of many others.

THE HOME DOCTOR. Ingrowing toe nails should be scraped thin in the center of the nail and then cut there and at the corners. Persons who have irritability of the heart should not drink hot water. Hot water will cause palpitation in such cases.

Many a Woman is Taking Headache Powders who ought to be taking Bu-Ju. The kidneys are making the headache. They are not doing their work properly—not purifying the blood—not ridding the system of poisons. These impurities stagnate the blood—irritate the nerves—and bring the headache that so many women suffer with.

POINTED PARAGRAPHS.

Experience is a great teacher. So is a real estate boom. The more a man knows the less he admits to knowing. All of us can't be in the same boat. If we were, we'd sink it. Let the other fellow have his way as long as he only wants to talk. Elections and marriages are just alike. There is nothing the candidate will not promise beforehand. If you are going to give both barrels, do it like a man—give them to the victim's face and not behind his back. Nothing makes a man quite so ill natured as to be expected to be grateful for something that does not please him.

Chickens in the Rain. On a rainy morning a good deal of wisdom may be learned from the chickens. If it is to be a soggy, rainy, drizzly day all day, the chickens will get out and stand about in the rain with an utterly indifferent manner. They look just as human beings feel, and they keep it up all day. But if the rain is to continue but a few hours the chickens will stay under shelter. They cannot be kept out. They hurry under cover when disturbed and stay there till the fair weather comes, which it does presently. And then they go out and enjoy the sunshine. The chickens know.

Quaint Customs in Abyssinia. Quaint customs prevail in parts of Abyssinia. When a fether is getting on in years the son bids him climb into a tree and jump down from the branches. If the old man staggers on landing the son spears him on the spot—his usefulness is over. One tribe had a custom of sewing chance visitors up in green hides and leaving them to be killed by the contraction of the skins. With another the only orthodox way of dealing with strangers was to tie them in a bundle and roll them over a precipice.—London Mail.

CHAPTER OF DROWNINGS

Many People in Ontario Found Watery Graves Yesterday

BARRISTER McCAMON KILLED. Prominent Belleville Citizen Found Dead at Foot of Stairs. Belleville, July 7.—At 4 o'clock yesterday morning, Police Sergeant Hayes found the dead body of W. J. McCamon, one of Belleville's prominent lawyers, lying at the foot of a back stairs of the Robert Block, with his neck broken and face cut. He had been dead some time, as the body was cold.

Train Wrecks Depot. Niagara Falls, July 7.—A big freight wreck occurred about 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon at Niagara Falls Station. A heavy freight was coming at a good rate of speed from Buffalo and when crossing Third street just east of the depot train shed, the third car on the train mounted the rail at a frog and with seven other cars following plunged into the train shed that was filled with passengers waiting for different trains.

Crowds of Passengers Have a Very Close Call. Niagara Falls, July 7.—A big freight wreck occurred about 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon at Niagara Falls Station. A heavy freight was coming at a good rate of speed from Buffalo and when crossing Third street just east of the depot train shed, the third car on the train mounted the rail at a frog and with seven other cars following plunged into the train shed that was filled with passengers waiting for different trains.

Had not Mr. Weber, city fire commissioner, who was on Third street at the time, promptly cried out a timely warning to the crowd of passengers someone would certainly have met instant death, as the derailed cars plunged in all directions through the shed.

The waiting passengers ran in all directions to places of safety from the tumbling cars, that pulled the long train shed roof and supports down almost on the heads of the waiting passengers. Some of the derailed cars crashed into the northwest wing of the station proper, demolishing the stone wall of the conductors' room.

The hundred or more passengers and train crew escaped without a scratch. It grew for several days in industry by despatches recording injuries believed to be fatal.

ALMOST HOPELESS

The Condition of Thousands of Pale, Anemic Girls.

"Almost hopeless is the best way to describe the condition I was in about a year ago," says Miss Mamie Mannett, of Athol, N. S. "My health had been gradually giving way until I reached a condition where I was sinking into chronic invalidism. I was as white as a sheet, my blood apparently having turned to water. I had no appetite, suffered from headaches and dizziness, who'st exertion would leave me breathless, and it appeared that I was going into a decline. I had seen Dr. Williams' Pink Pills highly recommended by the newspapers, and I decided to give them a trial. It was a fortunate day for me when I came to this decision, as the pills have not only restored my health, but have actually made me stronger than ever before. I now have a good appetite, a good color, and new energy, and I am satisfied that I owe all this to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, which I cheerfully recommend to other pale, feeble, anemic girls."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills quickly cured Miss Mannett, simply because they make the new, rich, red blood which enables the system to throw off disease, and brings robust health and cheerfulness to pale anemic sufferers. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills cure bloodlessness just as surely as they cure hunger, and the new blood which the pills makes braces the nerves and tones and strengthens every organ and every part of the body. That is why these pills strike straight at the root of such common diseases as headaches, dizziness and backaches, kidney trouble, indigestion, neuralgia, rheumatism, St. Vitus dance, paralysis, and the troubles from which women and growing girls suffer in silence. It has been proved in thousands of cases that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills cure after doctors and all other medicines have failed. But you must get the genuine pills with the full name, "Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People" on the wrapper around each box. All medicine dealers sell these pills or you can get them by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 by addressing The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

CITY LOSES GOOD CITIZEN

Continued from Page 1. The Queen City schools invariably lead to, is an indication that his presence in Chatham has had its purpose.

Notwithstanding his onerous duties at the Collegiate, Mr. Jewitt has found time to make himself a valuable acquisition to the various social and other organizations of the city. In Masonic work he has taken a leading part, being I. P. M. of Wellington Lodge, No. 46, and at present a member of the Masonic Board of Control and also of the Finance Committee.

In military affairs Mr. Jewitt has proved himself a capable and at the same time a popular officer of the 21st Regiment, having been Lieutenant of No. 3 Company for several years.

The various literary organizations of the city have enjoyed the benefits of his culture and his geniality. At the Collegiate Mr. Jewitt was for some time a zealous president of the Literary Society, while in 1900 he occupied a similar position in the Macaulay Club. His efforts in debate have always marked by careful thought and measure, though his dictation and it is safe to say that the members of the latter venerable society will unite in expressing regret at his departure.

That Mr. Jewitt has not been in any sense narrow in his citizenship is attested also by his interest in the taken in many sports. As president of the Collegiate Institute Athletic Society he encouraged the students in every way, and, in his year, the County Football trophy was won by the school. He has been a well-known member of the Curling and Bowling Clubs. In bowling Mr. Jewitt has been particularly successful.

London, July 7.—The alleged Anarchist arrested at Altona, Prussia, is named August Rosenberg, and he is credited with having designs on the life of Emperor William.

New York, July 7.—A despatch from Seattle on July 3 reported that the police of that city had found a plant for making bombs and infernal machines in Rosenberg's house. Rosenberg left Seattle for Hamburg, Germany, on May 1.

REVISION OF THE BUDGET

St. Petersburg, July 7.—During the debate in the lower House of Parliament yesterday, on the Bialystok report, an orthodox priest, Father Arandasiel, member from the Don Province, fiercely denounced the policy of the Government.

The debate on the Bialystok report was adjourned until Monday to permit the consideration of the Ministry's bill appropriating $25,000,000 for famine relief, which developed the sensation of the day.

Parliament's Right. Prof. Hertzstein, chairman of the committee which reported the bill, revealed the important fact that M. Kovvovoff, the Finance Minister who had appeared before the committee, made no effort to conceal the desperate financial straits of the Government. The Finance Minister said it was necessary to make a fresh loan to cover the famine relief.

Prof. Hertzstein said this was exactly where the committee took issue with the Ministry. Parliament, he added, was in favor of a famine relief measure, and would give more money if necessary, but it would never agree to a new loan, for which in reality there was no necessity. The budget was filled with extravagant items and money could be found by revising the budget.

This method, the committee proposed, should be coupled with the provision that the right to make such revision belonged to Parliament and not to the Ministry.

The Lower House of Parliament finally appropriated $7,500,000 to be dispensed by the administration for famine relief. This was epochal as the first recognition of the Cabinet by Parliament, and the first step in joint work.

Prepared for Armed Uprising. In accordance with the decision of the peasant-workmen's congress at Helsingfors, commissaries have been dispatched throughout Russia to instruct the peasant and proletariat organizations to continue their preparations for an armed uprising, but to await the signal from St. Petersburg.

Rioting occurred yesterday among the employes of the Government printing offices, where the plates for the paper currency are engraved and printed. The men left their work and went into the court-yard of the building, singing the "Marseillaise".

Cossacks Killed. Berlin, July 7.—A despatch to The Lokal Anzeiger, from Kattowitz, Prussian Silesia, says that at 2:15 p. m. yesterday twenty-five Cossacks surrounded a lime kiln at Mischow, in the province of Kielce, Russian Poland, on information that it was being used for the manufacture of bombs.

Police in Dread Resign. Warsaw, July 7.—The reign of crime and terrorism is so great here that the police have decided to resign. The Governor-General, when apprised of the decision of the police to resign, threatened to arrest and punish those who failed to appear for duty.

Batum, July 7.—The mutiny of troops here has ended. The ringleaders escaped, whereupon their followers yielded, and are confined in the fortress.

THE WORLD IS SMALL.

Tab On Anarchist Who Meant to Take Kaiser's Life. Altona, Prussia, July 7.—An alleged Anarchist, named Rosenberg, who is reported to have left Seattle, Wash., for Germany recently, was arrested here yesterday.

London, July 7.—The alleged Anarchist arrested at Altona, Prussia, is named August Rosenberg, and he is credited with having designs on the life of Emperor William.

New York, July 7.—A despatch from Seattle on July 3 reported that the police of that city had found a plant for making bombs and infernal machines in Rosenberg's house. Rosenberg left Seattle for Hamburg, Germany, on May 1.

Great Empire Convention. London, July 7.—(C. A. P.)—With a couple of receptions the program of the Chambers of Commerce of the empire begins to-day. Altogether 250 representatives of the colonies are now here, Canada sending the largest quota.

Taught the Jap Army. Berlin, July 7.—Major-General Meckel, formerly professor of military tactics in Japan, died yesterday. He went to Japan in 1885, stayed there three years, reorganized the Japanese army and wrote a book on tactics. Field Marshal Oyama, after the battle of Mukden, telegraphed to Gen. Meckel, ascribing his success to Meckel's instructions.

The Buchanan Centenary. St. Andrew's, Scotland, July 7.—Yesterday at the University of St. Andrew's the quarter centenary of George Buchanan, Scottish scholar, historian and poet, is being celebrated. To-day there will be a garden party, at which further tributes will be offered to the memory of the great apostle of liberty and typical Scotsman.
