BRITISH SUCCESS IS REPORTED IN MESOPOTAMIA

Troops of John Bull Win Out in a Stiff Engagement and are Pursuing the Turks.

London, Jan. 17.—Despatches from the Far East show that British and Russian forces are meeting with considerable success in campaigns against strong enemy forces in Mesopotamia, Persia and the Caucasus. While these campaigns are being fought at points rather widely separated, it is obvious that the Allies are working on a comprehensive plan, with the idea of finally establishing an Anglo-Russian line from the Persian Gulf to the Caspian Sea. A feature of the Caucasus fighting is that the Russian official statement gives the first official intimation that Germans are fighting with the Turks in Persia.

BERLIN ADMITS THE RUSSIANS HAVE FORCED A WITHDRAWAL OF TURKISH OUTPOSTS.

Berlin, Jan. 17.—(By wireless to Bayville)—The Russian forces in the Caucasus have forced the Turks to withdraw their advanced posts several miles at some points, according to the Turkish official statement today, received here from Constantinople.

THE PRINCE Will Return to the Front When King George Improves.

New York, Jan. 17.—A cable from London to The New York Tribune this morning says: "I am informed that the report that the Prince of Wales will not return to the front because the heir to the throne has relentlessly exposed himself to the enemy, is unfounded, but it is true that during the king's convalescence he may be retained here for the public duties usually performed by his father. He will later rejoin the army in France, where his bravery and simplicity have made him the idol of all ranks, as soon as the king has completely recovered from his recent accident."

TROOPS GUARD A Plant in the States While Workmen Resume Work.

Westfield, Mass., Jan. 17.—Guarded by more than 100 State police, the plant, Springfield local police, the two plants of the H. B. Smith Company, which has been tied up by a strike of 300 laborers and 600 machinists, resumed operations this morning. It was estimated that 500 of the company's 1,100 employees returned to work. There was no violence of any kind reported. The men were asked to ignore the strikers' pickets and to pay attention only to those sent direct from this office.

VERY FINE ADDRESSES GIVEN BY N. W. ROWELL, K. C., M. P. P., AND MAJOR WILLIAMS AT RALLY

Leader of the Opposition in the Ontario House Was Heard to Excellent Advantage—Major Williams Also Addressed the Gathering in Effective Style.

The Grand Opera House last evening was completely filled a quarter of an hour before the curtain went up. But the people who flocked to hear the recruiting speeches were mostly women, old men and soldiers. It is plainly evident that some new forms of recruiting will have to be inaugurated, for only four recruits were secured last night from that large audience, and two of the best, most eloquent and learned speakers in Ontario made appeals.

THE SONS Of a Millionaire Arrested For Plotting His Alleged Murder.

Chicago, Jan. 17.—Irving and Herbert Uptide, 23 and 19 years old respectively, taken into custody last night after the police had obtained evidence of an alleged plot to murder their father, Furman D. Uptide, millionaire commission man and their mother, are still held in jail to-day at Oak Park, a suburb. Chief of Police Lee, of Oak Park, said the younger son is being held merely as a corroborative witness, but he refused to tell what charge, if any, had been lodged against Irving. According to the police, a stenographic report of the conversation between the two young men in the Uptide garage, gave details of an alleged plot to kill Mr. and Mrs. Uptide, because the police say, the son feared his father would change his will, and leave their portion of his estate, to other members of the family.

THE TURKS HAVE MET WITH A SECOND DEFEAT IN MESOPOTAMIA

London, Jan. 17, 3-23 p.m.—An announcement was made in the House of Commons to-day that the Turkish forces in Mesopotamia have fallen back to within six miles of Kut-el-Amara. The announcement was made by J. Austen Chamberlain, secretary for India, who said the Turks had retreated as the result of another British victory. The Turkish positions at Waddi, he said, were carried on Saturday by the British.

HUN FORCES MAKE AN ADVANCE ON ALLIED POSITIONS DEFENDING SALONIKI

London, Jan. 17, 3-23 p.m.—A news agency despatch from Rome to-day says: "The advance of the Teutonic, Turkish and Bulgarian armies on the French and British positions defending Salonika, is announced by the newspapers of Athens and Saloniki. 'The enemy forces,' says the 'Corriere Della Sera' 'consist of 250,000 Bulgarians between Giveli and Dairan, connecting at the Serb-Grecian frontier with two railway divisions leading into Saloniki. Forty thousand men, most of them Germans, are moving to Monastir, where there is another railroad leading to Saloniki. 'On the Grecian Macedonian boundary fronting Bulgaria near Xanthi, there are 18,000 Turks and 30,000 Bulgarians. Despatches from Monastir report intolerable conditions there; the population is starving and the Bulgarian irregulars are ravaging the surrounding country.'"

CAPTAIN VON PAPEN USED SOME VERY STRONG LANGUAGE

When He Found He Had to Give up His Papers—British Newspaper Comment on the Case.

London, Jan. 17.—The morning newspapers to-day comment extensively on both Germany's note to Great Britain, concerning the Baralong incident, and the papers seized from Captain Von Papen, the former German military attaché at Washington. The Baralong note is generally characterized as a piece of legal pettifoggery which will not likely get much support in the United States.

RELIGION IS STIRRING FRANCE

Samuel N. Watson Gives Reason for Splendid Confidence of the People.

(Special Dispatch.) PARIS, Jan. 15.—During the morning service at the Church of the Holy Trinity, No. 10, rue d'Alma, Paris, the pastor, the Rev. Samuel N. Watson, described the mental cause of the absolute assurance of the French people that the war will be a victory for French arms. Watson said he had been asked a stranger in Paris some idea of the underlying motive of that confidence which even the casual can sense about him in the people. He explained it thus—"It is the pure and Christian teaching and aspirations of its childhood which is moving to-day. It is everywhere. I have talked with peasants in the fields, with old women keeping the shop while their men were at the front and their daughters working in the trenches, with soldiers from the country villages, with the towns and cities, and their force the conclusion—France is in this struggle by a superb force which has laid hold of the spiritual, vibrating in the air to-day. It is vibrating in the soul, and it gives them faith and on to the 'Rock that is higher.' You cannot mistake the meaning of this communion with God. On the other day, a peasant on a farm, with a basket of lettuce on his back, came into a church in a little village, a great-fell of shifting shadows, with dim light in the distance. I watched him by himself at the feet of an old man of Ave. For a while he held his face in his hands, and when he had done so, he turned to God, and in that is the heart of this people's faith. It matters not; it is the human soul in touch. Ages have been trained to it; and still the same childlike simplicity lives faith in it. As Joan of Arc to the angels in the trees in Avranches, so they talk to God and to his friend. People have had about it religious outward symbolism which has had the religious life of other people, but a spirit within them. It has told them the meaning of it, and it is nothing for them to be so." Watson said he had been asked a stranger in Paris some idea of the underlying motive of that confidence which even the casual can sense about him in the people. ATIONS HAVE EYE ON CHINA

Many Making Overtures and Promises in Event of Victory. Says the Paris Figaro.

(Special Dispatch.) PARIS, Jan. 15. —The Germans, in pressing their neutral, have not overlooked the assertion of the Paris Figaro, that the Germans are making offers of China to the Allies. In the guise of despatches to the Chinese press, it is made that in case of a German victory would profit much and would be advantageous for that to espouse Germany's cause. "The Wolf Agency," says the Figaro, "is doing through China placards in which foretell, in the form of despatches, an ultimate German victory and the conditions which Germany will offer to the Allies. One of the newspapers at Peking sent the promises and they are translated as follows:—Twenty years Russia will give over to Germany the Trans-Siberian railroad and have to pay the military indemnity. Belgium will use the port of Vladivostok and have liberty of travel and trade both at the ports and in the interior of Russia. France and her possessions will be ceded to Germany. Poland will have to promise to raise ships and build no ships for twenty years. Italy will free at once her vessels and up by the English and establish in England. The English must pay money for American vessels which will be sent to the Italian Union under the supervision of Germany. Italy the Japanese government will be German hands. Germany will take over the army and navy and control the Japanese a year later. The Figaro adds a single line of it, "where you have the honor is mentioned by the Kaiser."

The Situation. The news from Mesopotamia affords a bright spot in connection with much which is not so satisfactory in other directions of the war.

In the other departments of hostilities matters remain comparatively quiet, although an advance upon Saloniki is chronicled.

How and Where Khaki is Made.

Without fear of contradiction it can be claimed that the people in the West Riding of Yorkshire know all there is to know about khaki or any other kind of cloth.

In the recent Balkan War the Bulgarian troops were for the most part clothed in gray khaki uniforms of homespun material.

Khaki uniforms worn by British troops to-day are made—or, at least, are supposed to be made—from the wool of sheep which feed on the North and South Downs.

When the sheep have been shorn the fleeces are sent off to the wool markets, and thence to the big Yorkshire factories. They are sorted, scoured and combed in the "wool-combing sheds" of the West Riding.

After dyeing the "tops" are taken to a huge copper vat with perforated sides, which is revolved at high speed until nearly all the superfluous moisture is withdrawn from the "tops."

All the different colors being now spun together, the yarn is the true khaki shade, and is now ready for the loom. Naturally weaving is another industry of great importance in the West Riding.

The 85th Anniversary of First Baptist Church is Fittingly Observed

Rev. Dr. Farmer, During His Evening Address, Makes a Very Telling Reference to the War.

The 85th anniversary of the First Baptist church was fittingly observed yesterday, Dr. J. H. Farmer, Toronto, brother of the former pastor, was the special preacher for the day and delighted all with his spiritual, scholarly and eloquent messages.

His theme in the morning was "The Church the Body of Christ." This formed the basis for a masterly discourse upon the dignity, duty and destiny of the church.

ANOTHER MURDER

Is Reported From the Province of Quebec To-day. The Third to Occur in One Section in the Last Three Weeks.

East Bolton, Q., Jan. 17.—Another murder, the third in the body of this section of the eastern townships, in the past few weeks and one of exceptional brutality, was enacted in the township of East Bolton early Sunday morning, when George Rakenreed, a German laborer, wielding an axe and a razor, killed the twenty-year-old daughter of Naomi Tennyson, the woman with whom he lived, dangerously injured the woman and slashed his own throat.

High Constable Boisvert, of Sweetsburg, when notified of the murder, immediately set out for the scene of the terrible crime. He arrived at the house almost simultaneously with Dr. Bourne, of Magog.

Dr. Farmer followed with an address on "Looking Forward." He said he was a recruiting officer looking for volunteers for Christ and the church for the mission field.

THE ROUMANIANS

Captured Many Germans in Their Retreat Across the Stripa.

London, Jan. 17.—A Petrograd despatch to the Times says: According to prisoners, the Austro-German retreat to the west bank of the Stripa was terrible. They had erected on the front only two wooden bridges across which they might transport their artillery.

The Russian war office in despatches received on Sunday declares that the situation is unchanged on the Russian western front, the Austrians report that the Russians have resumed their offensive in eastern Galicia and Bessarabia, and after desperate fighting the Russians have suffered heavy losses.

The Russians, it is claimed, attacked in columns twelve to fourteen lines deep, and made four to six attacks at some places, with disastrous results to themselves, leaving 1,000 dead in front of one brigade and losing 240 prisoners.

"The Austro-Hungarians" have maintained all their positions," says the report, "and the Russians have not gained one inch of territory. Vienna territorialists have repulsed superior Russian forces on the Karaim."

"Since the beginning of the battle the Austro-Hungarian forces of Generals Pflanzer, Baltin and Bothmer have taken 5,100 Russians, including thirty officers."
