"Tell Him I Loathe Him."

CHAPTER IV.

WHAT A SWEET REVENGE!

THE two weeks for which Erle Devereux had been asked to Beaufort Park had almost expired, but St. John Beaufort was insisting upon an extension. It was before giving his answer to the second invitation that the young man sought Lilford Loyd-Mostyn out upon the lawn, where he was smoking a cigar.

'You!' exclaimed his friend, looking up from where he had thrown himself on the long grass at full length. 'I thought you were riding with the Duchess.'

'It was too warm, and we returned.'

'Then share my berth and have a smoke. It is delightfully cool.'

Devereux took the cigar that was offered and mechanically threw himself beside Loyd-Mostyn upon the grass. His brow was contracted by a frown that was unusual to it, and after a moment of silence Loyd-Mostyn exclaimed:

'What's the matter, old fellow? You look as black as a thunderclap.'

'I have had an invitation from Mr. Beaufort to extend my visit,' answered Devereux, puffing at his cigar viciously.

'And is that so terrible a disaster?' laughed Lilford.

'Yes, I don't know what excuse I shall give for not doing so.'

'For not doing so? I thought you were very happy here.'

'I have been too happy.'

'Then why do you want to go?'

'Why?—the word almost a groan. 'I can scarcely believe it possible that you don't know why. I have been mad to remain as long as I have, but it must come to an end now. You have been the best friend I ever had in my life, Lilford, and yet I am afraid that through my own infernal imbecility you have brought upon me the greatest trouble that I have ever known in all my accursed existence.'

EVENING TELEGRAM FASHION PLATES.

The Home Dressmaker should keep a Catalogue Scrap Book of our Pattern Cuts. These will be found very useful to refer to from time to time.

8640. A Simple Graceful Over Skirt or Tunic.

Draperies seem to have taken as firm a hold on American women as the popular panel fronts. This model may be effectively worn over a skirt of contrasting material. The Tunic could be of satin when worn with a chiffon or tailored cloth skirt, or of the same material as the skirt. The pattern is cut in 5 sizes: 22, 24, 26, 28, 30 inches waist measure. It requires 3 1/2 yards of 36 inch material for the 24 inch size. A pattern of this illustration mailed to any address on receipt of 10c. in silver or stamps.

will not accept her money, which I am sure your quixotism would never allow you to do. If I did not know the circumstances of the case, and were not practically her guardian, I grant you that it would be different; but there is absolutely no reason for you to do as your heart dictates. If there ever should come a time after you are married when you will be forced to tell her the truth, why, that will be time enough. She will love you so well then that she would not care if you were a horse thief!

He concluded his speech with a short laugh, glancing up at the flushed face of the young man.

The handsome eyes were fixed upon some distant object with an expression so yearning that Loyd-Mostyn's gaze followed.

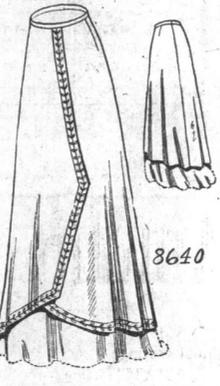

He saw Virginia Beaufort in the centre of her rose garden, a large sun hat shading her face, clipping the dew leaves from her flowers.

Loyd Mostyn arose and placed his hand upon Devereux's shoulder. He controlled his excitement by an effort, and spoke calmly, though he was far from feeling it.

'Now is your opportunity, old man,' he exclaimed slowly. 'All that I have said to you is true. She is the same as my sister, and there is

8757. A Good Model for Misses or Small Women Misses Costumes

The simplicity of this design is a good point in its favor. The collar trimming on the waist may be omitted and the sleeve may be finished in loose cap effect. The skirt may be plaited or gathered. The pattern is cut in 3 sizes: 14, 16, 18 years. It requires 4 yards of 44 inch material for the 16 year size. A pattern of this illustration mailed to any address on receipt of 10c. in silver or stamps.

The Evening Chit-Chat

By DUKE CAMERON

I want to take exception to a very old proverb—Half a loaf is better than none. In one application that is true, of course, but in another sense I think it is wrong. For although in getting half a loaf is certainly better than none, in spending I think it is more often worse than none. That is, if you are going into a venture of any sort, it doesn't pay to go in a half-loaf style. On a paper on which I once worked the management decided to feature a certain big festival. "Feature," let me explain to the uninitiated, means "give a lot of space to."

"We will send all our special writers and cartoonists to this affair," said the editors, "and have them write and draw a lot of stuff that will interest and flatter these people. Then we will advertise on the grounds what splendid accounts we are giving of the such-and-such Convention, and that will make all those people buy our paper, and we shall get our money back in advertising."

All of which would have been very splendid if they had only done it in a whole-loaf style. But they didn't. Somewhere in the process the management evidently lost its courage about spending all that money, and instead of advertising the paper's intention to devote so much space to its reports of the convention in a wholesale way that would have brought results, the management stuck to a few posters so small and obscure that no one who wasn't looking for them could have found them and let it go at that. Result — Because they lost their nerve and spent so little in their attempt to attract attention, they failed utterly, and the money they did spend accomplished absolutely nothing, and was completely thrown away. If they had spent three times as much they would undoubtedly have had a hundred times the results. Half-a-loafism is the worst kind of economy. Isn't it better to spend more than you really can afford and get it back twice over in results, than to spend half as much and then lose it all? Big money often gets big money. Small money often gets lost. The man who puts all he can afford, and then some, into a venture, burns his bridges behind him and therefore goes ahead with a desperation and determination that are almost sure to bring success. He mustn't lose and therefore he doesn't! All of which, although I have put it in terms of money because that was the easiest way to express it, is meant to apply just as much to the whole-hearted use of other things—time, and energy, and self, for instance. If you are about to start any venture, whether it be getting up an entertainment, winning a man's love, or going into business for yourself, remember that half a loaf is better than none applies to getting, not to spending, and go about it in a whole-loafed way, or not at all.

A Clean Man

Outside cleanliness is less than half the battle. A man may scrub himself a dozen times a day, and still be unclean. Good health means cleanliness not only outside, but inside. It means a clean stomach, clean bowels, clean blood, a clean liver, and new, clean, healthy tissues. The man who is clean in this way will look it and act it. He will work with energy and think clean, clear, healthy thoughts. He will never be troubled with liver, lung, stomach or blood disorders. Dyspepsia and indigestion originate in unclean stomachs. Blood diseases are found where there is unclean blood. Consumption and bronchitis mean unclean lungs.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery prevents these diseases. It makes a man's insides clean and healthy. It cleans the digestive organs, makes pure, clean blood, and cleans, healthy flesh. It restores tone to the nervous system, and cures nervous exhaustion and prostration. It contains no alcohol or habit-forming drugs. Constipation is the most unclean uncleanness. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure it. They never gripe. Easy to take as candy.

Household Notes.

- When mullage is too thick dilute with vinegar.
- Potatoes, to cook thoroughly, must be baked in a slow oven.
- Grated cheese and minced pepper, sprinkled on an omelet, will improve it.
- To remove odor from a knife used in peeling onions, run it through a raw potato.
- A dainty dessert is slices of ice cream dipped in melted chocolate just before serving.
- Pencil marks on white paint may often be removed by rubbing them with fresh bread crumbs.
- Liquid soap has supplanted the cake kind in many homes, because it is tidier and more refreshing.
- An egg that is shiny may be suspected; one that is rough on the surface generally is fresh.
- To prevent fat from spluttering when trying doughnuts or croquettes, sprinkle a little flour in it.
- Meats should be kept as cold as possible, but should not be kept touching the ice in the refrigerator.
- Two pairs of shoes, worn alternately, day by day, will last as long as three pairs, worn one after another.
- When boiling fresh potatoes, their insipid taste may be avoided by putting a sprig of mint in the water.
- Skin darkened by sun and wind may be much improved by the application of a bread and milk poultice.
- Pepper shells are especially adapted because of their colour and the flavor they impart, to be holders for cold slaw.
- To keep desserts from slipping on the ice, when they are set upon it to cool, place a newspaper under the dish.
- When ice cream is served in cantaloupe, it adds an attractive touch to sprinkle a few maraschino cherries on top.
- Very pretty curtains for living rooms or dining rooms may be made of Madras. It washes well and is durable.
- A rubber face brush is excellent to refresh one after a day of fatigue; and a jar of powdered pumice is another essential.
- To test a ham run a steel skewer deep into it. If it comes out free from unpleasant odor, the meat may be depended on.
- A soft flannel cloth dipped into warm soap suds and then into whiting will quickly remove all grease and dirt from oil paint.
- After washing windows or mirrors, dampen a cloth with alcohol and rub them vigorously, if you would have a brilliant polish.
- Camphorated chalk is one of the best things for cleaning and renovating white shoes. Mix in milk and apply with a soft cloth.
- The ice box should always be kept

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

as full of ice as it will hold, otherwise there will be a waste of ice and danger of the refrigerator getting too warm.

Rhubarb will require less sugar to sweeten if a pinch of sugar is added while it is cooking. It is better if it is not peeled until the skin is tough.

To fry green tomatoes, slice them, sprinkle with a few drops of olive oil, dip in crumbs to which salt has been added, and saute in butter until tender.

If furniture has grown dull and streaked, try rubbing in with a mixture of equal parts of kerosene and turpentine. It is better than the prepared polishes.

A tiny bit of kerosene added to the water in which clothes are washed, not only adds materially in ridding them of dirt, but assists in the whitening process.

Store With No Clerks.

Washington Farmers Try Experiment In Honesty.
Spokane, Wash., Sept. 17.—A consumers' company has been formed by the Farmers' Educational and Co-operative Union at Medical Lake. The union has bought a general store, fully stocked with groceries and provisions and farm implements, and supplied each of its one hundred members with a key to the establishment, the doors of which are not open to the general public. There are no clerks, cashiers and storekeepers, no goods are displayed in the windows, neither are here and hand bills and catchy advertisements to tempt the housewife. The store is an experiment to reduce the cost of living. Officers of the organization believe with Tolstoy that it is as natural for normal man to be honest as it is for a babe to breathe, and it is proposed to demonstrate the truth of the theory by giving each member access to the stock of unguarded provisions.

Army of Spies at Work In Great Britain.

London, Sept. 17.—Behind the excitement caused by the recent arrest of spies in Germany and England there is an interesting story. Extensive work of this nature is carried on in all European countries by officers of the rival armies and navies. It is well known to the English press, but it has not been published, that the two Englishmen laid by the eels at Borkum by the German authorities are officers of social prominence on the active list of the British navy. The Admiralty solemnly affirms that the two are "under leave of absence to study the language abroad." The idea that they are sent on a mission of espionage is indignantly repudiated. Their influential relatives brought pressure on the British authorities on after their arrest to take retaliatory action. The reply was that it would be easy to arrest forty German spies at work in England but that it was not considered expedient. Strong influence was brought to bear and the authorities finally agreed to take the hostages, and so Lieut. Helm was released at Portsmouth, and he was admitted this week for trial on a felony charge. According to the records of the German War Department he too was in leave, for the purpose of studying English in England. As a matter of fact hundreds of German officers have gained by similar methods almost as full knowledge of all British fortifications as the English occupants themselves possess. It has never heretofore been thought worth while to interfere with them. The British authorities have not undertaken to get similar information in regard to German defences to anything like the same extent, but they have been making efforts recently to inspect the extensive construction on the islands off the German coast, and that country resents it. There are a variety of opinions as to what the result will be. There is no doubt that if the British officers in custody in Germany are severely treated similar treatment will be extended to Lieut. Helm and perhaps others of his kidney who can be easily captured. It is more probable that both countries will go through the farce of condemning the prisoners and then after a short delay both sides will extend royal clemency.

Girl Wins the Jubilee Scholarship.

For the first time in the history of the Jubilee Scholarship, which was first offered shortly after Queen Victoria's Jubilee in 1887, a female candidate has won the Scholarship by coming first on the list of local matriculants of London University. The young lady is Miss Rose Carmichael, daughter of Mr. James Carmichael. The news was received this morning by Mr. Andrew Wilson, Registrar of the Council of Higher Education. The scholastic career of Miss Carmichael has been brilliant. Under Mr. Wilson at the Presbyterian School she won an Open Scholarship in the Preliminary Grade of the C.H.E.; under Mr. Garrook an Open Scholarship in the Intermediate Grade, and this year passed the Associate Grade in the Honours Division, winning the prize in French and Latin. Her success in Latin was all the more noteworthy, as she has studied Latin only one year. Among the local candidates who passed the June Matriculation examination of the London University she stands alone in the First Division.

Curious Discrimination

We direct the attention of the Postmaster General to the delivery in the P. O. boxes of the East End Post Office of the Western Star and the Twillingate Sun. For some time past we have been unable to get these journals until after we have gone to press on Thursdays. For example, yesterday we obtained the whole of our Canadian papers before we went to press. After that time we did not examine our box until this morning. Then we found two newspapers there, both local, one the Western Star and the other the Twillingate Sun. Even if this had occurred but once it would have been remarkable to find that out of a large number of newspapers in the same mail, coming from Montreal, Halifax, Sydney and other Canadian and American cities, Bay of Islands and Twillingate, the journals from these local towns, should be distributed last. If this had occurred but once it would be a matter for note. But this discrimination has occurred frequently during the past few months. Before that time such a discrimination was not practised. We do not believe it is done intentionally. But the discrimination as a fact exists.

How it has come about is for the P. M. G. to learn by enquiry. We are convinced that the two ladies in charge at the East End Post Office are in no way to blame. We have always found them courteous, attentive, industrious and most obliging. This discrimination is of some interest to the newspapers concerned and to their readers in the city. We know that among some officials a feeling exists that delay in the delivery of newspapers does not matter. That is not the feeling of newspaper men, nor of their subscribers. We have no doubt that the P. M. G. will look into this complaint and see that fair play is given to local newspapers.

Fire at Blackhead.

A fire broke out at the house of Mr. Edward Fitzgerald, Blackhead, at 1.30 this morning and burned down his house and the dwelling of Mr. Christopher, adjoining. Sparks from the fire pitched on the roof of Gus Healey's house nearby and burnt the back out of it before the fire was put out. Also sparks from this pitched on Jos. Healey's barn, which was full of hay, but the fire was conquered before it did much damage to the barn. If the wind had been a few points further off the whole village would have been destroyed. The occupants of Fitzgerald's and Christopher's houses escaped in their night clothes and saved absolutely nothing. The fire originated in this way: Mr. Fitzgerald's eldest daughter had occasion to come down stairs at 1.25 a.m. She took a lighted lamp with her and in passing through the hall tripped and fell. The lamp exploded and some of the burning oil that spilled all around fell into the chimney of another lighted lamp that stood on a table in the room on the same floor. In an instant the whole place was enveloped in flames. The girl shrieked out an alarm and awakened all the inmates, who had no time to put on their nightclothes and gave the alarm to the Christophers, next door, whose house was already on fire. There is no insurance on the houses, and deep sympathy is felt for the Messrs. Fitzgerald and Christopher.

Tinsmiths' Employers Meet.

All the employers of tinsmiths in the city and the proprietors of the shops, met last night in Mr. Tasker Cook's office and debated the matter of the demand made by their employees for a 52c. rate of wages per week. After thoroughly debating the matter in all its bearings it was unanimously decided not to accede to the demand of the employees. The outcome of course will be a deadlock. If the demand of the men was acceded to they claim that they could not expect the people of St. John's to pay the enhanced prices for goods which should be levied if the wages were increased. The men say to-day that they are perfectly satisfied and that they have funds enough in the union to help them remain on strike for a lengthy period.

The Benedict Here.

The S. S. Benedict arrived here at noon to-day, from Montreal, Charlottetown and Sydney. She left the former port Thursday week at noon and arrived at Charlottetown, Sunday morning, leaving Monday night for Sydney, experiencing considerable fog on the run. She left Sydney at 4 p.m. Wednesday and had a gale yesterday but otherwise had excellent weather from Montreal to port. She has a cargo equal to 20,000 barrels, 117 sheep, 39 head of cattle and 1 horse. One in steerage came from Sydney in the ship which leaves here for Montreal Monday night.

GREEK COPPERSMITH ARRIVES—A Greek coppersmith named Joseph Stephens, with his wife, mother and 4 children, arrived by the Florizel. Speaking to a Telegram reporter he said he had $4,000 and he thought he would remain for the winter, and that if he did not secure work from some local concern he would open up a business for himself at his trade.

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 29.
Kneeling in the midst of a bon-fire, which she had made of pages of religious books and magazines, and saturated with coal-oil by her own hands, Malme McCarthy, 18 years old, slowly burned to death in the rear of her home yesterday, while she prayed the girl's action was not a sudden aspiration. She had apparently awaited until an unguarded moment to destroy herself. The bible, magazines and papers, which made the bon-fire, were taken from a table in the living room where she had been sewing.

LONDON, Sept. 29.
Sir Thomas Vasey Strong to-day was elected Lord Mayor of London without opposition. Sir Thomas is a pronounced temperance advocate and enjoys the distinction of being the first teetotaler Mayor of the City of London. He was born in 1857 and in 1900 married Lillie, the eldest daughter of the late Jas. Hortnell. Sir Thomas was educated privately. In business he has been successful, as the head of a paper supply firm. He was knighted while occupying the office of the Sheriff of the City of London. He is a director of the United Kingdom Temperance and General Provident Institution and a commander of the order of Isabella the Catholic of Spain, and of the order of Our Lady of Villa Vicosa of Portugal. The Mayor will figure prominently in the entertainments and ceremonies connected with the coronation of King George.

When the days begin to get colder, and first frost come at night, and the wind and rains are chilly, it is well to fortify your children against the long cold fall. To do that you can give them nothing better than Malt Extract and Cod Liver Oil. This combination is flesh-forming and muscle-making, and keeps the body heat up by the liberal amounts of carbohydrates it contains. It will not upset the digestive organs, either; the malt extract, one of the best digestants known, takes care of that. In a word, McMurdo's Malt Extract and Cod Liver Oil, is a perfect digestive food. Large bottle price 90c.—ad

Won't Abide by Award

Special to the Evening Telegram.
BOGOTA, Colombia, Sept. 29.
The Venezuelan Minister, who was said to have received a notice of recall recently, has received word to remain here, pending further instructions. The delicate situation, which arose, is believed to have been due to the refusal of the Columbian Government to rectify the frontier, in accordance with the Spanish Award. Venezuela is said to be anxious to obtain the San Faustine territory in Columbia adjoining the Maracabo region of Venezuela. This Colombia refused to cede. Public feeling over the dispute is rather bitter and the local press calls upon the Government to withdraw its legation at Caracas immediately.

Almeda Here.
The tug Ingraham arrived here from Battau at 1 a.m. today with the damaged tanker Almeda in tow. The tug and tow left Battau on Sunday morning last and had fine weather until Wednesday morning, when it blew a gale with heavy rain and sea and she sheltered in Cat Harbor. Leaving there yesterday morning she had a good breeze in her teeth, but came along all right. After being fishing all day the vessel was running into Battau on Saturday night when she mistimed and struck on a rock at the entrance of the harbor under full sail and ran three feet over the shoal ground. She struck bow on and as it blew hard that night and next day (Sunday) with a high sea, she pounded heavily and it was feared for a time that she would be beaten in pieces, which she certainly would had the storm increased. She had 200 qts. of fish in the hold and the banker, Cavalier with Capt. Young and Capt. Dinan's vessel came to her aid and started taking out the fish with the help of the vessel's own crew and transferred it to skiffs near, which brought it ashore, while the remainder was placed in the hold of the Torpedo,

Capt. Cooke. The vessel was floated off Sunday evening by means of kedge anchors which were put out and she was then towed into Battau and beached Tuesday to ascertain the extent of the damage. It was found that 15 feet of the rudder post was torn off, some of the planks badly stove, the rudder was badly smashed, the wheel gear wrecked and she leaked at the rate of four "spells" an hour. The rudder was "trapped" up with chain and the wheel put in order, so that she could be steered on the run to port, while heavy pieces of leather was placed over the holes in the hull and served to get the vessel to sea.

The crew kept the pumps going all the way to port. The 700 qts. of fish was restowed in the hold before she left. The vessel leaves here this evening for Barin, having given up the voyage, and will get permanent repairs there.

Sergt. Byrne arrested a young man at 1 1/2 o'clock today and took him to the lock up. He was examined as to his whereabouts the past ten days, and as his answers were satisfactory he was allowed to go. The police have invited several young men into the station lately hoping to get some information about the recent larcenies.

BANKER'S GOOD WORK.
The Almeda had 700 qts. of fish on board off Battau, Labrador, when she went ashore. Cod was fairly plentiful then, and as the Almeda had two pans of fresh squid, equal to 40,000, on board, she would have loaded up and the captain would have beaten all records, as his aggregate voyage would have been over 4,000 qts. for the season. She has now to her credit 3,500 qts. for 9 dorles. The Cavalier, when the Almeda left, had about 500 qts. and she will easily secure for the season 2,400 qts. for 7 dorles. Roses and Young's vessels have 300 and 400 qts. respectively.

Littledale Prize Day.

Glowing Tribute by His Excellency the Governor.
One is forcibly reminded at this season of the year—the season that gives birth to the sere and yellow leaf—that one must, like the majestic forest, the smiling meadow, the picturesque vale, bow down before the merciless throne of time, and like unto all nature, and nature's glory, sink once again into the womb of the earth, whence we came. But, even as such clouds fling their ghastly shadows over the mind, there flashes forth at times as the clouds are severed, a bright and comforting and sweet ray of sunshine that shatters and expels, if but for a time only, the gloom which like an uncanny mist hovers over the soul, and waits one into a brighter and happier world. Such a ray of happiness flashed across the hearts of those who yesterday had the good fortune to be present at Littledale. Even apart from the finished and beautiful acting and singing of the bright young pupils, their very appearance—a perfect picture of happiness, innocence and loveliness—made one feel happier.

It is impossible where all acquitted themselves so magnificently to make special mention of individuals, but the Misses Gotherpe, Mansfield, Jackman Barnes, O'Brien and Rogerson did particularly well, all being graceful, earnest, thorough and finished in their rendering. As usual Miss Jackman sang very beautifully and called forth a high tribute from His Excellency the Governor. After the operetta was concluded the prize list was read, and the prizes distributed by His Grace the Archbishop. Many beautiful gold medals were amongst the prizes, and appended will be found a list giving the names of the donors and prize-winners. The distribution of prizes over, His Excellency, in a very neat and fluent speech, paid a striking tribute to the good Sisters for their painstaking efforts, and highly complimented them on the splendid success achieved by their young charges. Addressing the pupils His Excellency bestowed well merited praise and congratulated them cordially on their magnificent showing.

His Grace also spoke in his usual kind and gentle way, thanking His Excellency and Lady Williams and suite for their extreme kindness in being present, notwithstanding their many and important duties. He paid well deserved tributes to the children for their grand work, not only of that day, but of the entire year, making mention of their splendid showing in the recent examinations in connection with the C. H. E., and thanked them, most heartily for all the kind things they had said of him in the beautiful address which, together with a very appropriate gift they had, at the opening of the evening's enjoyment, presented to him as a souvenir of his Feast Day.

In addition to His Excellency the Governor, and His Grace the Archbishop, the Premier, Sir Edward Morris and Lady Morris, Mayor Ellis, and the Colonial Secretary, the Hon. I. Watson, were also present.

The following clergymen were also present:—The Very Rev. Dean Borrer, Rev. Frs. Tierney, O'Brien, Lynch (Northern Bay), McDermott, Ashley, Sheehan, Pippy, O'Callaghan, Gough, McCarthy and Greene; and the Rev. Bros. Kennedy, Culhane and Ennis. To Littledale, the unfiring Sisters and pupils, and to the painstaking Mr. Hutton is due all credit, and they have every reason to be justly proud and pleased with themselves.

CHICAGO, Ill., Sept. 29. Miles McLeod, the farmer boy from Albany, Mo., who aspires to wrest the heavyweight championship from Jack Johnson, boxed two rounds with Joe Choyinski yesterday. After the bout Choyinski declared McLeod to be one of the most promising novices he had ever seen, and said that with proper handling McLeod would be able to give any of the heavyweights a stiff argument. According to Choyinski, McLeod has a left hand which is phenomenal, and as soon as he is taught how to use it, he would develop into one of the best two handed fighters in the game.

LONDON, Sept. 29. As had been anticipated the Bank of England raised its discount rate to 4 per cent to-day. The advance was due chiefly to the large outflow of money to Egypt and Turkey. The prospective Indian demand, and the fact that the weekly arrivals are being steadily absorbed by the Continent. The recent advance in the German bank rate and yesterday's smart raise in market discounts hastened the bank's decision.

Special to Evening Telegram.
PARIS, Sept. 29. The French aviator cranks are tuning up for the International meet at Belmont Park, N. Y., and the thoroughness of their preparation betrayed a determination to bring back to France, the International Trophy which Glenn Curtis won at Rheims a year ago. At that time Curtis covered 1242 miles in 15 minutes, 50.3-5 seconds, establishing a world's record. In the last 12 months there has been a marked progress in aeroplane construction and operation and the Frenchmen expect to show the world a thing or two in October. The French team selected to compete for the aerial blue ribbon is made up of Alfred LeBlanc, Hubert Latham and Leon Morane. Each is putting the finishing touches on a special monoplane which he will use. To-day LeBlanc brought out his new machine. It is a Bleriot equipped with 50 horsepower revolving Gnome Motors. The figures were concealed, but it is understood that the racer developed extraordinary air speed. Hubert Latham has been practising with his new 100 horse-power flier and is said to have attained the speed of something like 70 miles an hour without working his motor to its full capacity. LeBlanc is well known in America, where he piloted the Isle De France at St. Louis in 1907. Last month he won the prize of $20,000 for circular flight of a little less than 500 miles which was made in accordance with the requirements of the contest in six stages on set dates.

Bowring's Mammoth Sealing Steamer.

The new Red Cross Liner, General, to which the Telegram alluded a couple of days ago, will be the limit in huge sealing ships of the type of the Florizel and the Venture. C. Connel & Co., Glasgow, are rushing her to completion, and she will be ready for delivery to the owners early in January. She will prosecute the seal fishery from this port, and will be commanded by the Commodore of the fleet, Capt. Abraham Keen. She is being built on lines similar to the Florizel, but will be a larger vessel, and will embody features which the Florizel does not possess. Her length is 335 feet; beam, 48 feet; depth, 31 feet; and her tonnage will be about 2,700. Mr. McGettigan, Supt. Engineer of Bowring Bros., will likely soon proceed to Glasgow to see to the putting in of pounds and the setting up of strengthening beams, and generally looking after the work of putting her in trim for the prosecution of next spring's sealing voyage. She will have accommodation for about 200 saloon and a large number of steerage passengers, and will be fitted with wireless telegraphy, and will have every modern improvement. She will steam, it is said, 14 knots an hour, and will run with the Florizel on the New York-Halifax-St. John's route.

Swiped The Leather.

Yesterday afternoon a fireman, of the West End, who often appears in court, walked into Mr. John Keen's shoe store and after awhile being there managed to steal a pair of uppers of boots worth three dollars. He also had a pair of boots which he hid with the uppers under his coat, and as he left the store he dropped these but got away with the uppers. The apprentice saw him drop the boots, and when Mr. Keen—who was absent—returned he informed him of what had occurred. Officers McGrath and Whalen were told of the matter and arrested the man, who was trying to sell the uppers, on Duckworth Street. The man was not long ago evicted from his house, the owner of which he assaulted and who will prosecute him. His wife will also appear in court against him, as she charges that he will not support herself and family.

Bazaar Closed.

The Grand Bazaar at the C. L. B. Armoury in aid of the Church Ship Fund closed last night with an enjoyable concert. The C. L. B. Band played some very fine selections, and the vocal solos were given by Messrs. Seymour, Burrows, Blackall, McCarty, Mrs. Job and Miss Strang. The receipts for the three evenings amount to about $5,000. The attendance last evening was even larger than on the two previous occasions. The goods at the stalls and tables were completely cleared out. What few odds and ends were left soon went off under the baton of the auctioneer. The ladies who worked so hard to make the sale a success deserve to be congratulated on the result of their efforts.

Fruit Sociable.

A fine programme was rendered at the C. A. A. Fruit Sociable last evening, which was fairly well attended by the friends of the C. A. A. Songs were given by Miss Vincent, Miss Godden and Miss Russell, and recitations by Miss Skinner, Miss Parsons and R. Hearder. The programme was nicely varied by a mandolin execution from Mr. McKinn, and a piano selection from Mr. R. Kendall. The Misses Bowden gave a vocal duet in a pleasing manner. The guessing competition in which five ladies and five gentlemen took part, was won by the ladies. Fruit and candy were served during the interval. The National Anthem brought the sociable to a close.

THE LABRADOR FAILURE

THE BAIT PROBLEM and DRIED SQUID.

Editor Evening Telegram:
Dear Sir—In pursuance of the idea that dried squid would go some distance towards solving the bait problem, I paid a visit to Mr. John Clouston and found that he had been drying squid for food purposes in his drier. The article produced seems to me of very superior quality. I asked Mr. Clouston to have a thorough test made of dried squid as bait by the fishermen in the neighbourhood. This has been done and the unanimous report is that it is just as good as fresh squid. This seems to me a most valuable discovery. Bait can be secured this fall for next year or the year after next, for I understand that a well dried squid will keep indefinitely in a dry place. My friend of the "Evening Herald" says that this bait is too expensive, and that it can be sold for 5 cents a pound, and is therefore more valuable than the codfish. Quite so, if all that can be caught can be sold, and if all that is dried is good enough for food purposes. But I am of opinion that the market for food purposes is limited, and also that dried squid might be excellent for bait which would be valueless for food purposes; and instead of this bait being expensive, I say it costs nothing—nothing except the labour in catching, cleaning, and drying. The squid are generally right in the harbours and bays, and old men and boys, in any sort of boat, can jig them a few hundred yards from their doors. No expensive apparatus is required and no time wasted. It should be the first duty of every Labrador crew on their arrival here to provide their bait for next year; and when the men go to their merchant for supplies in the spring, the first question should be asked them is: "How much dried squid have you provided for bait?" Upon the answer should depend the supplies. The outcry against traps is becoming universal. A merchant said to me that he would willingly destroy his whole 200 if they were prohibited. I see no reason for running to the opposite extreme. Traps are a valuable adjunct to the fishery, but when relied on entirely, periodical failures must result. I believe, myself, that trawls are the best method of taking codfish, producing a larger sized fish, in more regular supply so that the cure can be better attended to, and also better for the fishermen, giving them regular work and steadier returns. The objection to trawls for the Labrador has been the bait supply, but it is too much to say that, with ordinary forethought and a little industry this difficulty can be overcome. Yours truly, W. G. GOSLING.

Plunged in Darkness.

The fuse having burned out in the main light on the gallery leading to Harvey & Co's. pier, all the electric lights on the premises went out at 8.30 last night, plunging the whole premises in darkness. The electrical department of the R. N. Co. were telephoned and men had repairs effected in about 20 minutes. While the lights were out torches were availed of and work went on with a swing until the electrical illumination was restored.

Billed for Taxes.

The Telegram's exclusive article on the Perry episode has impelled many to look up the receipts for bills paid to the Council and to compare them with bills which were recently furnished. One man, a prominent police officer, on receiving his account for the current half year recently, found that the amount of "arrears" embodied in the bill he had paid, and looking over his file found the receipt with the name of one of the Council's clerks signed to it. It is possible that a mistake has been made and that by an omission the sum paid was not credited at the time. He intends having the matter looked into shortly.

Personal Notes.

Dr. Scully is expected to arrive in town by Saturday's train.
Mr. C. P. Crowley left by the express yesterday to resume his medical studies at McGill College.

you habitually drink, it does not necessarily follow that these bacteria contaminate the water or make it unwholesome. Before you condemn the water you should find out what particular microbes inhabit it, and it may be that the little creatures with the tremendous names, will prove to be perfectly harmless, or perhaps even beneficial, beings.

This little bit of very elementary science is necessary to be borne in mind when we come to examine the report which Professor Starkey and Professor Winslow make upon the samples of the Windsor Lake water which were submitted to them for analysis. There is another small point which also should be remembered. A bacteriologist in examining a specimen of water does not simply endeavour to count the individuals of any species of bacteria he finds there. His process is to raise in a proper medium colonies of bacteria developed from the individuals which are found inhabiting the water. Therefore, when Professor Starkey speaks of so many colonies of a particular bacillus, he means that so many individuals of that species were found in a certain quantity of the water, and that from each of these individuals he succeeded in raising a family by transplanting it into a preparation of broth or gelatine or what-not, and there allowing it to reproduce itself at will.

With this exordium, then, I proceed to enquire what is the meaning of the analysis of this water which the two learned professors have made. It will perhaps surprise some of my critics to discover that I do not take the least exception to a single fact which the professors allege, that I do not quarrel with a single conclusion that either of them comes to, for their conclusions were entirely warranted by the facts as they were known to them. But it is equally true that the very facts which the professors found to exist are wholly consistent with the opinions I have been expressing, particularly in the light of facts which were not brought to the attention of the analysts at the time the examination of the water was made. If either of these gentlemen had had the advantage of seeing the condition of affairs on the spot I have no hesitation in saying that his recommendations would have been very much on the lines I have been laying down in these letters, and in doing so he would not have had to vary from a single opinion he has expressed to the Council upon any matter of fact upon which he had the opportunity of being well informed.

Municipal Matters.

Mainly About Microbes.

Editor Evening Telegram:

Dear Sir.—When the Council, in answer to my specific enquiries concerning the history of all steps taken by that body in relation to the alleged pollution of Windsor Lake, decided on publishing the reports of the analysts, I decided that this was probably all the information I should be able to extract from that source. I regretted this determination of a municipal corporation to conceal from its constituents a mass of information which it was highly important to the city to know, and I regretted it less for my own sake than for the Council's. The policy of secrecy will not be very effective to stifle my criticisms, for I have been at some pains to fortify myself with a great deal of varied information on the subject, and the facts I have accumulated are ample

I anticipate, to justify all the contentions which I have been endeavouring to urge upon public attention. Full disclosure, when so much has been discovered, would have done the Council much less damage than its attempt to burke enquiry must do, and if by reason of its injudicious reticence is has now to bear some censure which a frank admission of the facts of the case would have spared it, it must not blame me, whom am compelled to work upon such material as my own exertions, unassisted by any aid which the Council might have lent me, have gathered together. But when the reports of Professors Starkey and Winslow were for the second time laid before the public I felt that though I had a sufficiency of material to warrant the conclusions I had enunciated in these letters, there still was a good deal of technical and scientific matter in these reports which ought to be passed upon by a person of scientific attainments. I therefore decided to look for such assistance, and to procure the best that was readily available to me. There is, I understand, only one medical man practising in Newfoundland who holds the Diploma of Public Health, Dr. J. Sinclair Tait, and to him I determined to appeal. I had no previous knowledge of the opinions on this matter which Dr. Tait held, and it is therefore all the more gratifying to me to be able to state that the conclusions as to the character and the source of the alleged pollution of the Lake which I have published in these columns have been approved by that gentleman to an extent which I could hardly have hoped for. I wish now to express to Dr. Tait my great obligation to him for the readiness with which he has answered my enquiries, for the suggestions he had made to me, and for the hints as to the improvement of our sanitary arrangements within the town which he has communicated to me, and which I hope to enlarge upon when I have finished with the subject which now engages my attention.

Before I enter upon a more particular discussion of the character of the alleged pollution of our water supply, it may be as well to make a few general observations upon a subject which is perfectly understood by only a few specialists and is very generally misunderstood by the mass of the public. It is, of course, quite generally known that most clear water contains a large number of exceedingly minute living organisms, but the nature of these organisms is not at all so well known. It is not true that water, to be perfectly pure and wholesome, must be wholly free from these organisms, for there are large families of them which abound in pure water and have no injurious effect whatever upon the human beings who imbibe them with their drink. There are other families, however, whose action upon the human frame is most injurious, for their operation upon our systems produces a number of diseases, some of which are comparatively mild, but many of which are dangerous to health and fatal to life itself. But there is still another series of families whose functions are entirely beneficial to the human family, for they are the deadly enemies of the maleficent microbes and wage war to extermination upon them. It is by their operation that the septic tanks which are now so largely in use where there is danger of infection of a water supply by reason of the presence in it of colonies of disease-creating microbes, &c. When you see, then, the names of a number of bacteria published as being present in specimens of the water which

Wedding Bells.

A very pretty wedding took place at Woody Point, on Thursday, Sept. 15th, at 3 p.m., the contracting parties being Mr. John Sams, son of John Sams, of Gad's Harbour, and Miss Minnie J. Rumbolt, daughter of Joseph Rumbolt, of Port Saunders. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Father O'Rourke. Mr. Michael Ryan performed the duties of best man. The bride was dressed in white silk, and wore in her hair a bridal wreath. After the ceremony was over the bridal party left in two boats for Gad's Harbour. The presents were many and costly and testified to the esteem that these were held. Tea was served at 5 o'clock. The wedding was kept up in Mr. J. Sams' house, and dancing was indulged in till the "wee sma" hours of the morning. May they spend many years of wedded bliss.

Electric Lights in Woman's Lung.

Toledo, Ohio, Sept. 21.—By means of minute electric lamps, which made it possible to see down a woman's throat and clear into the lower lobe of the right lung and to insert through the trachea extensible forceps, a Toledo physician to-day removed a fragment of a tooth from the right lung of Mrs. G. Cole, of Vanwert, and doubtless saved her life.

While under the influence of anaesthetics last February, Mrs. Cole had several teeth extracted. Shortly after she began to fall in health and her symptoms pointed, apparently, to tuberculosis. An X-ray examination proved that a portion of a tooth as large as one's little finger nail had slipped down into the lung. Dr. Thomas Hubbard, assisted by Drs. Charles W. Moots and C. E. Price, performed the operation at St. Vincent's Hospital. Mrs. Cole is expected to make a rapid recovery.

Had Eczema In Both Legs

Remarkable cure of Chronic Eczema by use of DR. CHASE'S OINTMENT. You could scarcely imagine a more severe test of this ointment than the cure of Mrs. Clark recorded here. For twenty years she suffered all the tortures of this terrible disease and tried in vain the prescriptions of doctor and the cures commonly recommended. Mr. Fred W. Clark, Petworth, Ont. writes:—"My mother had Eczema in both legs for about 20 years and suffered from the dreadful itching, stinging sensations which can never be described. She doctored and tried everything for it but got no relief until she used Dr. Chase's Ointment which was recommended to her by a friend. She found that this brought relief and by continuing its use has been cured of Eczema. I do not think any one could have this horrible disease any worse than she did and can recommend Dr. Chase's Ointment as a thorough cure for Eczema." Dr. Chase's Ointment, 60 cents a box, at all dealers or Edmondson, Bates & Co., Toronto. Dr. Chase's Remedies sent free.

An American Engraver's Opinion Of Our Stamps.

Editor Evening Telegram: Dear Sir.—By to-day's mail I received a letter from a friend of mine in the States, who besides being an expert engraver and designer is also a stamp collector of the "advanced" type; a man who makes a study of his stamps and whose opinion is worth having. It would be rather amusing to compare his criticism with the criticisms (?) that appeared in the Government organs. Here is what he says:—

"Thanks for the Newfoundland set of stamps, and I believe you want my opinion of them. Well, as you are not responsible for them, a little criticism won't affect you personally. "In their haste to be first with the new King on a stamp the authorities of your Colony have launched the most abominable piece of cheap lithography ever a British Colony has been guilty of. Newfoundland! She who has given us the most beautiful, artistic, classic stamp of any British Colony! How she can stoop to such "punk" is beyond my comprehension. But I believe this is how it came about:—

"The prime object was, of course, to be first with King George, on a stamp, and lithography offered the one and only "rush" process to do it; and they've surely done it. I wonder what the King thinks of the compliment (?)". "About the biggest joke is the 6c. stamp. The artist must have been a bit 'beduddled' as to the spelling of the word colonization whether with an 'S' or an 'Z'. So he creates a hybrid Latin letter. If it isn't an 'S', what is it? And if it isn't a 'Z', why isn't it?" "He's got you 'going and coming'. Look at it and guess how he intended spelling it."

His Injury Serious.

The accident which occurred to Hon. E. R. Bowring while on the Cape Shore shooting, last week, is more serious than at first imagined. Two of the tendons of the right leg are burst, and it is now enclosed in a plaster of Paris mould. Dr. Rendell is attending Mr. Bowring who will be unable to use the limb for some time to come.
