CURRENT TRADE CONDITIONS.

ONTARIO.

The weather of the past week has been very favorable to lumber activity and we think there has been a slight improvement in the demand. Conservatism still characterizes the action of buyers, however, and there is not likely to be any decided change in the near future. Dealers are not loaded with stock and must continue to buy more or less for requirements. This is about all that is expected during the next two months. The crops are making satisfactory progress and business conditions generally are good.

Late reports regarding square and waney timber confirm the opinion advanced that the outlook is not very encouraging. From what we can learn there appears to be an overproduction, which has come at a time when the consumption is declining. Manufacturers who sold their timber in advance were particularly fortunate, as there has been a decline of fully five cents per cubic foot in the price of waney and a proportionate decline in square timber. The salvation of the market would seem to depend upon a curtailment of operations on the part of manufacturers. If this policy is pursued it should be possible to maintain prices at the present reduced basis, but if operations are continued with little regard to demand, the result will doubtless be a further decline in value. The wisdom of the former course should be apparent to all operators when it is remembered that the cost of getting out timber has increased during the past few years quite in proportion to the advance in price.

QUEBEC AND NEW BRUNSWICK.

Spruce lumber prices have not suffered a further decline, although the market is still very unsettled. Manufacturers generally will curtail sawing operations as far as possible. There is a very good demand for American specifications. Most of the log drives are nearing the boom, and it is estimated that 34,000,000 feet will be hung up on the St. John river, including 6,000,000 feet on the Aroostook. The amount already in the Douglas and Mitchell booms is about 145,000,000 feet.

Extra cedar shingles are freely offered at $3.30 for Boston delivery. Clears at $2.75 and second Clears at $2.25.

UNITED STATES.

Compared with one year ago the movement of lumber throughout the United States shows a falling off, not marked, but sufficient to prevent any recovery in prices from the decline which has taken place during the past six months. The curtailment in demand has resulted largely from a decreased consumption by the railroads, as building operations are normally active. Many persons are looking for a revival in business after the presidential nominations are over next week, as there is a strong feeling that the business interests of the country are not likely to suffer through a change in the fiscal policy. One of the encouraging signs from a lumber standpoint is an increasing demand for stock from the Eastern States. This is reported by the Lake Superior manufacturers, who are holding prices firmly on the ground that the amount of lumber to be produced this year will be no more than equal to the demand. There is especial firmness in No. 3 and 4 boards. The old stock of No. 4 boards has been entirely cleaned out, and there is a very light supply of No. 3. The decline in the price of Norway flooring has resulted in a heavier movement of that lumber. The weakest grade in nine is shop common, for which inquiries are very light.

Weakness is more pronounced in hardwoods than in pine. Business has been disappointing and stocks have accumulated to a greater extent than was believed possible two months ago. The country demand is lacking. The northern hardwoods, such as birch, basswood, elm, and maple, have declined about $1 per thousand feet, but are steady at the lower prices. Basswood has shown some improvement during the past week, but is still a slow seller, while birch is moving in larger volume.

GREAT BRITAIN.

There has really been no improvement in the British lumber market since last writing. The opinion is expressed that this season is likely to witness heavy consignments, in which case buyers would have no difficulty in being able to purchase anything they may require in reasonable quantities. The fear of such shipments is working against the market and shippers are, if anything, showing greater anxiety to close contracts, with a further shading of prices in some instances. At the recent public sales prices showed further weakness. Concerning spruce deals the Timber Trades Journal says: "The low c.i.f. offers that are reported in respect to spruce deals must be accepted in a qualified sense, and do not bear a full significance unless the specifications are taken into account. From what we can gather the market for 3 x 9 inch deals has not varied much from the position it stood in two or three months ago. Some depression has been experienced, and where shippers pressed sales they have had to make concessions. If what we hear is correct, there has been some slight improvement in the export trade during the past week or two, and from this holders are looking forward to a more active inquiry."

STOCKS AND PRICES.

The first of the season's log drives down the Moria river has begun to arrive at Belleville, Ont. It totals 25,000 pieces.

D. E. Sprague's log drive has started down the Red river for Winnipeg. It contains 6,000,000 feet. Mr. Sprague will also get 6,000,000 feet of logs from Rainy Lake by train.

Robert Aitken, who has been superintending driving operations on the Aroostook river in New Brunswick, has been successful in getting out all his old logs, about 9,000,000 feet.

It is estimated that 30,000,000 feet of saw logs will come down the Sturgeon river this season. J. R. Booth will drive 12,000,000 feet, Gordon Bros. 8,000,000 feet, the Victoria Harbor Lumber Company 8,000,000 feet, Cockburn & Son 2,000,000 feet, and the Nipissing Lumber Company less than a million feet.

QUEBEC TIMBER LIMIT SALE.

THE OTTAWA VALLEY.

(Correspondence of the CANADA LUMBERMAN)

OTTAWA, June 24th, 1904.—Comparatively little lumber is being shipped from the Ottawa district mills these days, either by rail or water. The English market is receiving but small shipments and nothing is going to the United States outside New York and district. About a score of lumber barges were here with coal this week, but only a very few could get lumber as a return cargo to the States.

High water in the Ottawa has interfered with the movement of lumber by barge. However, as the river is dropping to its normal level, the shippers are finding it possible again to work at the docks. Most trouble was experienced at Calumet and Rockland. At the latter point part of the yards was flooded and the tracks will need repairing.

It is likely that the high water will have the effect of reducing the season's lumber cut. The L'Original mills have only been running about half time and the Parley mill at Calumet and the Edwards Company's mill at Rockland were also interfered with by the high water.

Inquiry shows that Ottawa lumber prices are stationary, holding to the figures that have ruled all spring. Dullness is about the word that describes the lumber trade hereabouts at present.

The English market is quiet, so quiet in fact that considerable square timber that was cut for summer sale in the Old Country will be left on the limits until next season. Discussing the square timber end of the business, a leading operator said that present prices are not within eight to ten cents a foot as good as the prices at which sales were made last fall. Fraser & Company and Brennan & Company are two firms that have decided to hold over their square timber on account of the slump in prices.

From present indications, and for the above reasons, there will be a big decline in the production of square timber next season.

It was persistently rumored recently that Mr. Thomas Mackie, M.P., had sold his sawly purchased limits along with others at an advance of $100,000 on the price he paid at the December sale in Toronto. However, Mr. Mackie is purchasing horses and making other arrangements to work the limits himself, so that the talk of sale is groundless.

The high water in the Ottawa river caused a break in the Les Joachim dam above Pembroke lately. About 300,000 logs and pieces of pulpwood were liberated, and it was feared at first that great damage and delay would be caused by the distribution of the logs. However, the logs were all collected by the steamers of the Upper Ottawa Improvement Company within a few days. The company was favored in the work by natural conditions, a strong east wind holding the logs in place. The companies interested were J. R. Booth, W. C. Edwards Company, Hawkesbury Lumber Company, M. Lachlan Bros. and E. B. Eddy Company.

Reports show that all the log drives are coming along in fine shape and the firms will have to report but few logs as "hung up".
