COUNTER THRUST EXPECTED

Situation is Satisfactory to the Allies, Say Official Reports, Which Give Hint of Flanking Movement Against the Enemy—Two-Thirds of German Reserves Thrown Into Fight, While British Reserves Have Not Been Called on—American Troops Are Now in the Big Fight.

BARRIER OF ALLIED ARMIES BREAKS EACH GERMAN EFFORT

Official Message From Paris Shows That the Enemy, Though Suffering Huge Losses, Has Failed to Obtain His Objectives and That Situation Is Satisfactory.

WASHINGTON, March 26.—France's confidence that the great German offensive is wasting its strength against the allied line is expressed in an official despatch received here today from Paris. The message quotes at length from today's Petit Journal to show that the Germans, though suffering tremendous losses in massed advances, have failed to obtain their objectives, and that the present situation is satisfactory to the allies.

Following is the despatch: "The French press continues to view with calm confidence the developments of the gigantic battle which has been going on for five days. This confidence is based upon all the experiences of this war. Each time that the Germans have attempted a movement against the troops in the west, the effort, after a certain amount of success, always of a temporary character, has ended in being broken against the barrier of the allied armies. The great example before all minds is that of the Marne, where Germany had every advantage on her side, thanks to her preparation, to the superiority of her man-power and her heavy artillery and her hidden attack across violated Belgium; but she was defeated. Today she is fighting against the powerful Franco-British armies accustomed to war and well supplied with the firm and calm conviction of French opinion; the expression of which is seen this morning in the press.

firmly by the reports of our aviators. A terrified German said that more than half of his regiment had been killed and he could not understand how he had escaped.

Objectives Not Reached.
"The military critic of The Journal makes the observation that the German command is far from having attained his objective. He writes: 'The operations, the plan of limited objectives. He announces the success of the first phase of the battle with a haste which does not precisely indicate an overwhelming confidence in the future. If we must take the Germans at their word we have then the right to affirm that at the end of four days they have not reached the objectives which according to their own plans, had been assigned them for the first day. In reality the line in front of which they have stopped would, if conquered, have been the first great result of the action.'

"The Petit Journal also gave a resumé of the military situation as follows: 'The Germans have in front of them an adversary whose tenacity is well known and who has at his disposal every means and every resource to continue the struggle victoriously. On the other hand, one must not forget that the Germans for the reason of their advance and in spite of the arrival of reserves will find it necessary to pause and bring up their heavy artillery to the new line of combat. The English can then count upon a certain delay to prepare for the new attack which they will have to meet. To support them the French are on their right, south of Tergnier, ready for any advance. Thus then in spite of the English withdrawal and for reason of the sanguinary losses sustained by the enemy the situation is not of a nature to disturb in any way our confidence in the issue of the battle which has but commenced and whose development in the near future we can await without inquietude.'

MUCH HAVOC DONE BY AIRCRAFT WORK

British Aviators Extensively Bomb Dense Masses of German Troops.

London, March 26.—An official statement of the aerial operations says tonight: "On Monday our airplanes were employed almost entirely in bombing the enemy's troops and transport massed in the areas behind the battlefront and in attacking them with machine gun fire from low heights. Twenty-two tons of bombs were dropped in this work and over 100,000 rounds were fired from the machine guns.

"All our pilots reported that the ground targets offered by the enemy were of a surprising description. They were able to drop their bombs with accuracy and fire with effect right into the centre of infantry battalions in close formation and into columns of cavalry and transport.

"A certain amount of fighting in the air took place, but it was less intense than on the previous day. Thirteen hostile airplanes were brought down and ten were driven down out of control. Eight of our machines were missing. The majority of our casualties were caused to the low flying machines by fire from the ground.

"During the night our night flying airplanes continued to bomb and attack with machine gun fire the enemy's troops in his forward areas and the transport on the roads leading to the front."

TERRIFIC ASSAULT IS MET DOGGEDLY AND GALLANTLY

Allies Are in Better Condition to Contest German Advance Than They Have Been Since the Beginning of the Offensive.

AFTER six days of terrific fighting, the German offensive in France is beginning to show signs of losing its momentum. The progress of the enemy has materially slackened and the form of the dent made in the allied line west of Cambrai has begun to resemble the familiar wedge-like salient, instead of the broad, straightforward movement of an offensive which carries all before it.

At its apex this wedge has gone beyond Albert, to the south of that place, and is to the westward of the old allied line as it stood a year ago when Von Hindenburg began his "strategic retreat." From this point the line runs off to the northeast at a gentle angle, back until it reaches the Oise River. In spite of tremendous exertions and terrific losses, the German efforts to widen the tip of this salient were defeated on Tuesday. The British lines have stood firm to the north and have forced the Germans to turn southward toward the point of least resistance.

Official statements issued at London confirm the report from Berlin that American forces are engaged in the struggle. They are reported as "righting shoulder to shoulder" with the French and British in the region of Roye, on the southern side of the salient driven into the allied front.

Ready to Strike Back.
With the slackening of the German pace there come indications that the allies are ready to strike back somewhere along the front. Just where this blow will be launched was not known until it is struck, but it may be expected that its impact will be terrific. It is known that the allied war council at Versailles created a great strategic reserve of men to be used in just the contingency which confronts the armies which have borne the brunt of the fighting since last Thursday morning. This force probably will be launched when and where it is believed it will break the force of the German onslaught, and send the enemy reeling back over the desert from which the British have slowly withdrawn.

Sector is Valueless.
Each succeeding day reveals the plan of the allied lines west of Cambrai, a certain which could not be defended by Von Hindenburg a year ago. Each official report shows that this sector is valueless from a military standpoint, and that the Germans have paid a terrible price for their advance to the lines established by the allies during the first two years of warfare. It is officially reported that seventy German divisions, or 840,000 men, have taken part in the fighting, and that troops have been moved from every part of the western battlefront to reinforce the armies which have been forcing the British to fall back. Observers at the front say that the German losses have been frightful, and that the enemy has lost from ten to twenty per cent. of his men, by the most conservative estimates.

The situation, as it stands, seems to be a repetition of the dash of General von Kluck on Paris, in 1914, when the German artillery and transport could not keep up with the infantry and the French were able to turn back the invaders at the Marne. Reports from various sectors in the past two days have indicated that the German infantry, relying on its mass attacks, has fought without the customary assistance of artillery. To bring up heavy guns requires time, and the German advance will steadily become more painful and costly.

While the German line of communications has been growing longer, the British have constantly moved nearer their base of supplies. It is probable that the line where stern battle will be given is not far away from the present position of the allied armies.

were meeting the onslaught doggedly and gallantly, and a sanguinary struggle was in progress this afternoon.

Further north the enemy also developed a fresh offensive movement, to the south of Suzanne, which lies a little northeast of Bray-sur-Somme. But the Germans were pushing with less strength here than in the southern theatre, possibly for strategic reasons.

These two sectors were the scene of most important operations today, although the fighting was in progress along the whole great battle front. In the northern sector, about Achiet-Le-Grand, Logesat Wood and Nothelard, where such desperate fighting was waged yesterday, the Germans had not renewed their attacks in strength at a late hour this forenoon.

The allies today were probably in better condition to contest the German advance than they had been since the beginning of the offensive.

Defence of Nesle.
The capture of Nesle yesterday by the enemy was achieved after heavy fighting over a considerable front. The Germans advanced in strength both north and south of the town and by pressing the defending lines back in these places formed a salient from which the allies were forced to withdraw, leaving Nesle in the hands of the enemy. Heavy fighting today in this section was forecast by the appearance of new masses of troops which the Germans brought up, ready for another push.

The fighting on Sunday and Monday in the neighborhood of Ervillers was most bitter. Throughout Sunday night and the early hours of Monday the Germans kept pressing against the stubbornly contesting British, who fought with such desperation against overwhelming odds that they repelled the onrushing infantry. After a breathing spell in the early morning the Germans again made a heavy assault between Ervillers and Gommecourt and were caught in the British artillery barrages and crushed.

Fresh Troops to Relief.
A little later the enemy advanced once more and stormed the position with such ferocity that it was feared Ervillers must go. Fresh British troops were sent up and carried out an immediate counter-attack, relieving the situation.

The enemy, finding the road barred thru this place, began hammering hard below Gommecourt, in the region of Sapiignies. The British line south of this place had already swung back to the west, and finally it became apparent that it would be liable to withdraw from Ervillers, Gommecourt and Sapiignies and straighten out the front. This was done during the night, the withdrawal being effected in good order.

New Attacks Are Launched In Chaulnes' Neighborhood

Battle Continues on Whole Front South of the Somme River—American Troops Now Fighting With French and British.

LONDON, March 26.—The battle continues on the whole front south of the Somme River, Field Marshal Haig reports from the war zone in France tonight. The Germans have also launched new attacks around Chaulnes.

The statement says: "North of the Somme local fighting has taken place at different points. Much movement of hostile troops and transport has been observed in the battle area and these have been engaged by our artillery and airplanes.

"South of the Somme the hostile attacks reported this morning have been pressed vigorously with fresh German divisions against Noyon and Roye.

"This afternoon new hostile attacks commenced in the neighborhood of Chaulnes and between Chaulnes and the Somme, to the north of it. The battle is continuing on the whole front south of the Somme.

"In the past six days of constant fighting our troops on all parts of the battle front have shown the utmost courage. In addition to those British divisions which have already been mentioned, exceptional gallantry was shown also by the following: The Eighth, Eighteenth, Thirty-first, Forty-first, Sixty-first, Sixty-third and Sixty-sixth divisions."

The war office tonight announced that the Germans took Roye at 10.30 o'clock this morning.

The statement says: "The enemy made no further attacks during the night of March 25-26 on our front north of the Somme. During the afternoon there have been local engagements on this part of the battle front, in which the enemy has been repulsed, but he has attempted no serious attack.

"The line north of the Somme now runs: Bray, Albert, Beaumont-Hamel, Puisieux, Aysies, Boiry, Henin, Wancourt, just west of Monchy to the Scarpe, and then along our original front.

"The Germans have been attacking heavily south of the Somme this morning and took Roye at 10.30 a.m.

"The line there appears to run from Mericourt on the Somme, thru Rosteres, west of Roye and west of Noyon. Fresh German divisions have been identified in this area, including two guard and two Brandenburg divisions.

"On this part of the battlefield the British, French and American troops are fighting shoulder to shoulder and French reinforcements are rapidly coming up. The enemy has been checked west of Roye and Noyon."

Reserves Are Afloat.
The London evening papers take consolation in the fact that the Germans thus far have failed to break the British line or force a wedge between the British and French armies and in the news from France that the gaps have been filled with local reserves, while the strategic reserves remain intact for their own special purpose.

The Standard says: "After five days of fighting the British line has gone back almost to the limits of the Somme battlefield. But, tho it is elastic, it is not brittle; it is bent, but not broken."

The Globe says: "The Germans have failed to thrust so deeply into the British line as to make a reunion of the fissure impossible and to defeat the separated masses in detail. And with every hour the German chances grow less."

Turning Point Is Near Allied Reserves Ready

Reports From British Front Hint at Preparedness for Powerful Counter Thrust From Flanking Position Held by the French.

WASHINGTON, March 26.—An air of expectancy was apparent tonight among American and other military officials here, who are following most closely the developments of the battle in France. They appeared to feel that a turning point in the terrific struggle was close at hand. Press reports from the British front hinted at the same feeling there.

Attention centres here now on the French front, rather than on the progress made by the Germans against the British lines. As the battle proceeds, officers here are becoming certain the defenders are carrying out a definite plan, of which the British withdrawal is a part, but which will prove soon to be coupled with a powerful counter thrust. The most probable place for the launching of such a movement, it was thought, was from the flanking position the French held tenaciously tonight along the left bank of the Oise.

Today's official British reports, while admitting further German advances in the capture of Roye, indicated a decided slowing up of the direct progress of the drive against the British front. The official statements indicated that the Germans saw danger in the exposure of their left flank to the threat of the French line on the River Oise. Evacuation of Noyon gave the French a river line to hold against the Germans on a front that paralleled the Oise of ammunition and supply trains to the more advanced German forces in the region of Roye. Bitter assaults against this French line were made thru the day without avail. Meanwhile the evacuation of Roye by the British served to extend still further the German supply lines, against which a French assault might be launched.

BRITISH ARMY INSPIRED BY CANADIAN MESSAGE

Sir Douglas Haig Cables Gratitude to Duke of Devonshire.

Ottawa, March 26.—The Duke of Devonshire has received the following message from the British commander in reply to a message sent by the governor-general on behalf of the Canadian people: "The inspiring message of comradeship and confidence which you have been good enough to send me on behalf of the Canadian people is encouraging to all ranks of the British army in France. I beg you to convey to your advisers our grateful thanks for your message and the expression of our determination to do all that men can do to uphold the honor and safety of the empire. In the great battle which is now raging."
(Signed) "Douglas Haig."

ENEMY RESERVES ARE DRAWN UPON HEAVILY

Nearly Two-Thirds of Strategic Army Thrown Into Fierce and Continued Attack.

London, March 27.—Telegraphing late on Tuesday the correspondent of The Daily Mail at British headquarters in France says that nearly two-thirds of the entire strategic reserve of the German army has now been thrown into the fierce and vigorously continued attack.

"This German reserve," he adds, "consisted of eighty-five divisions, totaling 1,275,000 men, out of a total number now reaching not far short of 200 divisions, or possibly 3,000,000 men, which they have upon the western front. After the first day 33 of these divisions were put into the battle. On the third day another 21 are known to have taken part. Since then they must have drawn upon the reserves for a few more divisions.

"It is therefore clear that we have been struggling with the whole available strength of the German army, and the marvel is that our soldiers have held out so obstinately and steadily against odds so heavily against them."

Sanguinary Struggle In Progress at Roye.

WITH THE BRITISH ARMY IN FRANCE, March 26.—The Germans today followed up their progress of yesterday at Nesle, on the southern battle front, by launching a terrific assault against the British along a line running roughly between Hattencourt and the region of Roye. The British, co-operating with their French allies,

Heavy Gas Shelling Marks Operations of Americans

With the American Army in France, March 26.—The American artillery continues heavily to shell towns held by the Germans, and German batteries in the Toul sector, with gas. The Germans themselves have reciprocated in kind, but the doses of gas sent against them by the Americans have been twice as large as they have received. The Town of Ribecourt, north of Xivray, one of the targets of the Americans, has been abandoned, so far as American patrols which reconnoitred near the town, are able to determine.

The American artillery also is keeping up a stream of other shells on enemy positions in this region. St. Baumont, northeast of Ribecourt, has been heavily shelled with high explosive projectiles, while German first line trenches repeatedly have been hit and leveled, and enemy dugouts and snipers' posts completely silenced.

MANAGER

MAYOR ORDERS T.S.R. TO COURT FOR SMOKY STREET CAR STOVES

Complaints of Indignant Citizens Lead to Action Against Company.

SOFT COAL IS USED

"Disgraceful; Fumes Unhealthy," Remarks of Medical Health Officer.

The Toronto Railway Company will be summoned to appear in the afternoon police court on a charge of violating the smoke nuisance by-law, Mayor Church stated last night. This action is the result of a number of complaints lodged at the city hall by indignant citizens who have been subjected to the noxious fumes of the smoke from the soft coal used by the company in its street car stoves.

The reason given by the company for using soft coal on its cars is the shortage of anthracite coal. It is not quite correct to say that it is soft coal that the company has been using; coal dust from a more appropriate wood, in the opinion of those who have had their clothes blackened, their eyes reddened, and their throats filled with the smoke that has poured out of the top of the little stoves since the soft coal engine was initiated. Numerous complaints have been made about the matter. One official of the department of health informed a reporter for the World that he had been nearly suffocated coming down town on a Queen street car, and had been forced to leave the car six blocks before he reached his destination, so dense were the fumes. Sometimes the smoke does not come directly from the stove, but passes under and then enters thru the open ventilators.

"Disgraceful," Says M.O.H. Standing in the window of his office on the third floor of the city hall yesterday, Dr. G. J. O. Hastings, medical officer of health, watched a string of the cars go by, belching forth smoke like Grand Trunk engines. "It is disgraceful," he remarked to the reporter. "It reminds one of the days when Toronto was a little town with horse cars. It certainly is anything but healthy for the citizens."

"It is useless to appeal to the railway board, the only relief from this latest outrage," said the mayor. "The railway board is useless, but we are going to try our own courts. We will start for violation of the smoke nuisance by-law."

"The railway made $2,500,000 profits last year, and yet can not afford hard coal for its street cars," caustically remarked the mayor.

"We have had no difficulty getting the proper kind of coal for our city cars," said George Powell, deputy city engineer. "We stocked up early in the season with the right kind of coal."

There is a possibility, tho, that the city will not be able to prosecute under its Toronto Railway Company under its by-law. The Ontario Railway and Municipal Board is a higher body than Magistrate Cohen's commission of justice, and if the railway asks to have the case heard before the body, it is possible that the city may have to acquiesce.

VACATION CHANGE WOULD BE COSTLY

Considerable Expense Would Be Necessary Anyway With Central Technical School.

Eight thousand people attended the patriotic banquet at the Central Technical School, which was raised last night, and $14,000 was raised. The foregoing pleasing announcement was made by Principal McKay at the industrial education committee meeting yesterday.

S. W. Collins was granted leave of absence without salary for overseas service until Sept. 1, to work under the direction of the national council of the Y. M. C. A.

In a report against changing the time for vacations as a fuel emergency measure Principal McKay reported that there would be considerable expense in relation to the care of the vast heating and water system, also that during the month of January 1,612 students, including returned soldiers and aviator mechanics, attended day classes, and 4,238 students, mainly adults, attended evening classes, 361 of these being in the branch schools.

The amount of fuel consumed during the month of January was 358 tons of bituminous and anthracite screenings of very poor quality. This fuel cost, on the average, $1.85 a ton, a total of $2,810.30.

It was decided to designate W. B. Ferguson second assistant principal of evening classes.

It is understood, however, that the accused will not be put in jail, but instead, be immediately sent to England and France for military service with the Canadian expeditionary force.

MUST INOCULATE HOGS.

Daniel Chisholm, property commissioner, has written to Ottawa for further details in connection with the feeding of garbage to hogs. The veterinary-general has notified him that garbage may be fed to hogs under certain conditions, but was not very clear as to what those conditions were. It is thought, however, that garbage may be fed raw and unsterilized to hogs, provided the latter are inoculated against disease.

Battle Prospects.

According to our expectations on Monday morning the great battle between the Scarpe and Somme Rivers goes as favorably for the allied arms as could have been anticipated.

Can German renew her advance? Can Britain make such a counter-attack as will smash the German forces? Will the situation settle down once more into trench warfare...

We do not believe the Germans can organize a new advance. Their diminished divisions are "all in," to use our sporting slang. The German soldier, when fresh, can drive ahead in mass formation, but after he has been driven for several days and nothing comes of it, except prospects for further unlimited driving...

method of treatment. For example, in last evening's despatches it was stated that German agents were busy circulating alarmist reports among the civil population around the battle front in France. When they are caught, the report says, they are "dealt with summarily."...

When it comes to those who are "in our midst," an entirely different policy is pursued. A man who makes bombs and places them on a ship so that it will blow up in mid-ocean is to be fined. Conspirators and plotters of all kinds, undoubtedly as bad as any at the front, are frequently doing far more harm, causing fires and explosions with deadly results, blocking the preparation and transmission of supplies by means of labor agitations and strikes...

Why shoot an American and prosecute a German? Ask the United States newspaper. These problems of discrimination are among the profoundest problems of civilization. In Canada they come up in many forms. No one can say, for example, why one part of the nation has to bear a burden far beyond its proper proportion...

THE WORLD'S STRANGEST TALES OF ROMANCE AND ADVENTURE

By George Barton

How Bismarck Provoked the Franco-Prussian War by Altering a Telegram.

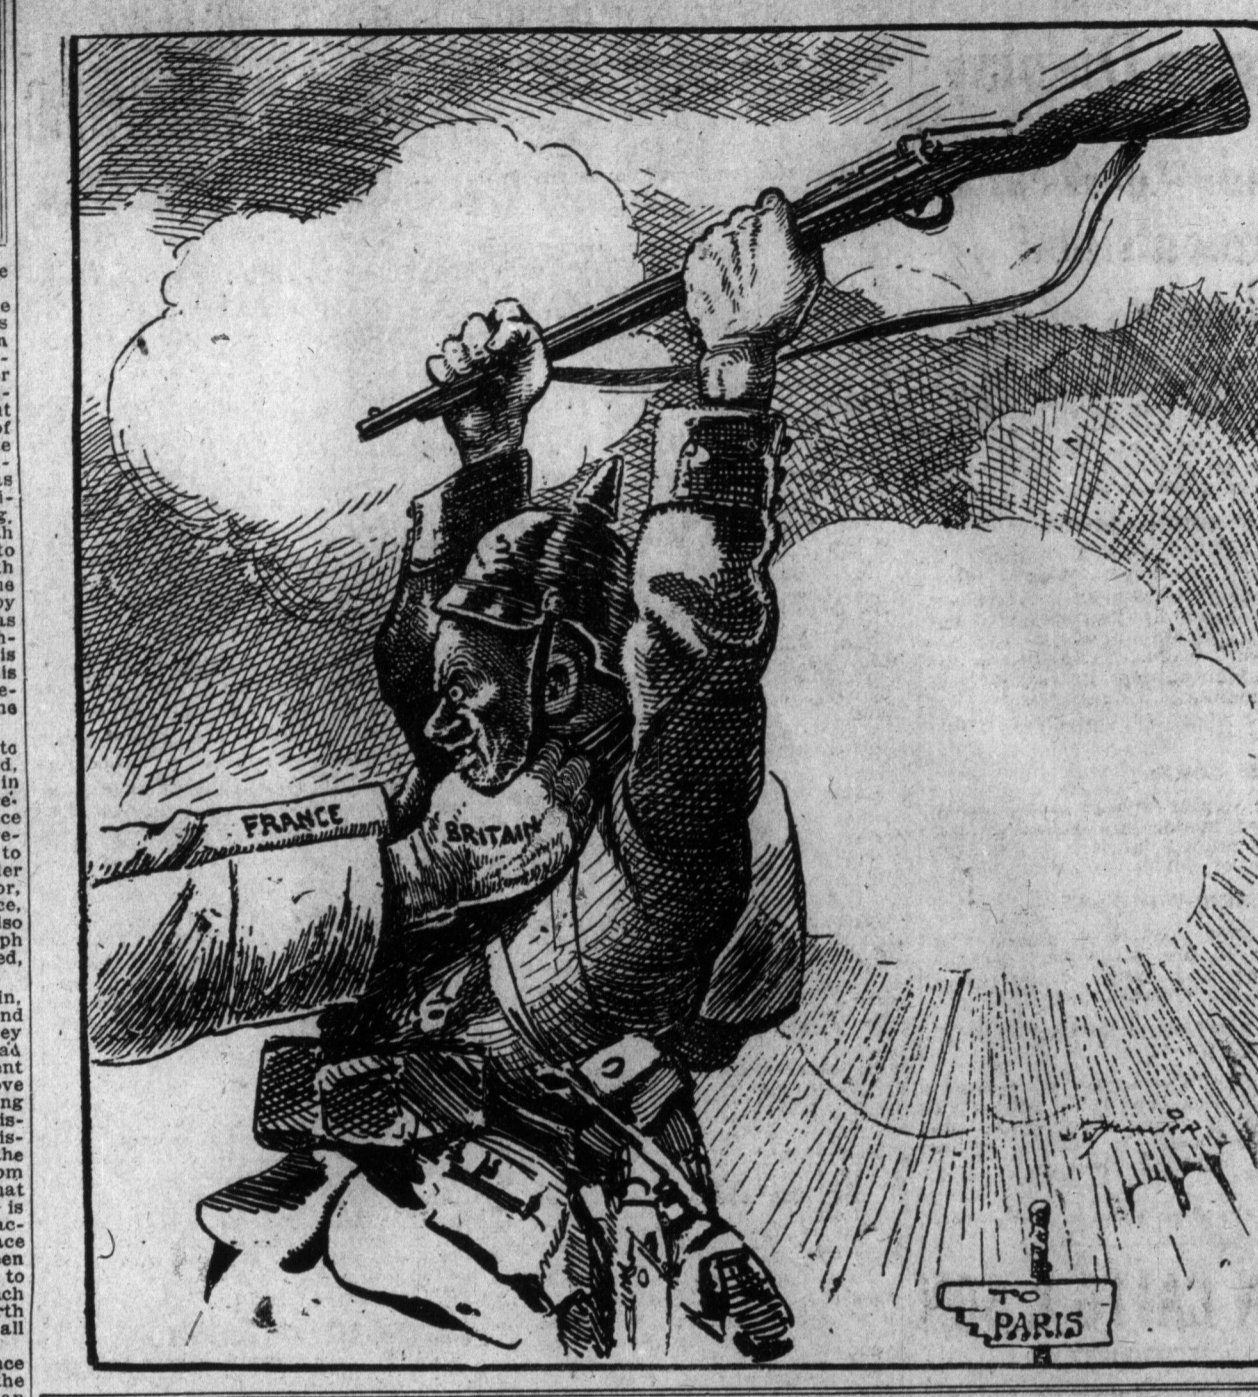

How many persons know that Bismarck, destined to be unscrupulously provoked the Franco-Prussian war by altering a telegram from his "imperial master," the King of Prussia? It all came about thru an attempt to fill the throne of Spain. When Isabella of Spain was dethroned, General Prim, who was in charge of that country, looked about him for a successor to the throne. His eye lighted upon Leopold, hereditary Prince of Hohenzollern, and three years before had been appointed King of Rumania with the approval of Napoleon III.

WAR AND THE FARMER

(By J. D. Whelpley)

Every nation at war and able to do so is now bringing men home from the army to work the land. The farmer who regained his old place in the estimation of the people, a place somewhat obscured in recent years by the high tide of industrialism. In the first rush of men into the army, the farmer was neglected. Almost the only occupations held sacred in the eyes of the public were those of the soldier and the sailor. The farmer was first regarded as a man of leisure, and then as a man of idleness. The farmer who had been the backbone of the nation was now regarded as a man of idleness.

Signor Torretti's First Hour. Sexton asked if I had any plans for the afternoon. "No," I ungraciously replied. "Suppose then, we start planning the dinner. I feel none too well, myself, today. We might go into the library and make up the menu, or decide upon the decorations. I should love to," then I noticed that she looked rather white-gray, rather—and had big circles under her eyes. "That is, if you feel able," I added.

OPINIONS MIXED ON DAYLIGHT SAVING

Bill Receives Second Reading After a Lively and Protracted Debate.

FARMERS ARE DOUBTFUL

Member for South York Points Out That It Is Not a Success It Can Be Repealed.

Ottawa, March 26.—The Union government tonight achieved a remarkable victory when the house, without division, passed the second reading of Sir George Foster's daylight saving bill. The debate upon the second reading occupied five hours, and was participated in by a large number of members on both sides of the house.

Mr. McCoig argued that if we were to have reciprocity in time with the United States we should also have reciprocity in seeds and implements. Steps should be taken to see that farmers were not left by the heels in the proposed legislation.

Mr. McCoig argued that if we were to have reciprocity in time with the United States we should also have reciprocity in seeds and implements. Steps should be taken to see that farmers were not left by the heels in the proposed legislation.

Mr. F. H. Keefer, of Port Arthur, was strongly in favor of the passage of the bill. He expressed his opinion that day-light saving was a measure of success. He felt that it would tend to a decided increase in production.

Mr. Verrie, speaking for organized labor, urged that the bill be passed. He said that the bill would be a great benefit to the workers of the country.

After a few weeks in 1916 in Great Britain it was decided to introduce it again in the summer of 1917. At that time it proved so satisfactory that it was adopted again this year, and the time for its application was extended.

secondly, on account of the situation in regard to the United States, it would conduce to smooth working if the two nations acted on a parity.

Some opposition had been raised in rural Ontario but Sir George urged, after the experience of ten or twelve great countries, covering three or four years, what held good there should hold good in Canada.

Mr. McCoig argued that if we were to have reciprocity in time with the United States we should also have reciprocity in seeds and implements. Steps should be taken to see that farmers were not left by the heels in the proposed legislation.

Worth the Experiment. W. F. Maclean (South York) said he had been told in his youth, and still believed, that "early to bed and early to rise made a man healthy, wealthy and wise."

Mr. Maclean pointed out that we were entering upon an era of reconstruction, it would apply to production and also to transportation, and we would have to work hand in hand with the United States.

CANADA'S PROBLEM OF FUEL DISCUSSED

Society of Engineers Holds Its First Annual Meeting.

USES FOR PEAT

Sir William Hearst Extends Welcome to Visitors.

The Canadian fuel situation was thoroughly gone into at the first annual meeting of the Canadian Society of Engineers yesterday at the Physics Building, University of Toronto, in an interesting address on the Peats of Canada by E. F. Hearst, department of mines, Ottawa. The fuel outlook was neither a discouraging nor gloomy one if proper exploitation and economic use be assured, but twenty-five million tons of peat would be required to meet the needs of the country. The situation was difficult because Canada drew fifty-five per cent. of her coal needs from the United States, and also 91 per cent. of her oil products. The United States might eventually find it necessary to retain her output for home use, and then Canada would be hard pressed to find a substitute. Mr. Hearst pointed out that the central provinces of Canada had 12,000 square miles of peat bogs, and thus 16,000,000 tons of peat fuel. The Canadian had this great quantity of peat, but no use had been made of it, as in the European countries.

SMELLS' CASE BEFORE NON-JURY ASSIZES

W. A. Harris & Co. were the defendants in a case that opened in the non-jury assizes of Justice Falconbridge yesterday, when the Danforth Glebe Estate and several property owners in the vicinity were suing for an injunction restraining the defendants from continuing business, and in the event of a nuisance remaining, for the payment of $200 each, and those plaintiffs whose property is in the county are claiming $200 each, and those plaintiffs who are in the city are claiming $100 each. The case was heard by Justice Falconbridge, who found in favor of the plaintiffs. The case was heard by Justice Falconbridge, who found in favor of the plaintiffs. FACE DOUBLE CHARGE.

Peculiar Case To Come Before Police Court This Morning.

Wanted on the double charge of theft and fraud, Peter Derman, 163 Chestnut street, and his brother, John Derman, 69 Chestnut street, were arrested last night by 25,000 cars. By the cutting off of extra trains a traveling distance of twelve miles had been saved, and the result was that the railway saved 600,000 tons of coal less than under the ordinary schedule. Trains which were late were not allowed to increase speed to make up time, because this would have increased the amount of fuel required for the trip. W. N. Neal read an interesting paper showing that twenty-five million tons, or one-fifth the entire freight carried in Canada, was made up of coal. This was represented by the capacity of 1,000 engines, or 25,000 cars. WILLIAM COLLIER PLAYS TO PACKED HOUSE

Return Visit of "Nothing But the Truth" Shows Hold It Has on Toronto People.

"Nothing But the Truth" returned for a second engagement this season to the Royal Alexandra last night headed by William Collier, one of Toronto's own particular favorites. The piece which has proved a riot of fun—and one of the few farces owing its success entirely to humorous situations free from anything in the crude form—is again presented by an exceptional cast who get the best that is in their numerous clever and entertaining roles. The play is particularly well balanced; every member of the cast gets a chance to score—from the star to the dainty little housemaid who carries the drinks to the nerve-racked hero. Nothing but the truth sounds easy enough, carefully pronounced, but when backed by a $10,000 bet, it assumes unanticipated proportions. E. M. Ralston (Ralph Holmes) makes a bet with Robert Bennett, a member of his firm (William Collier), that he can't resist prevaricating for twenty-four hours. Richard Donnelly (Charles Watson), a member of the firm (William Collier), that he can't resist prevaricating for twenty-four hours. Richard Donnelly (Charles Watson), a member of the firm (William Collier), that he can't resist prevaricating for twenty-four hours.

The $10,000 that Bob puts up is a fund handed over to him by his sweetheart and employer's daughter to be invested and doubled in five days. Naturally the stakes are too great on both sides to permit any trilling, so Ralston, to make sure of his victim, invites him to spend the day at his summer home, where he will be under strict supervision, and the scrutiny of Gwendolyn (Betty Wales), whom he hopes to make his bride. It takes three bright acts—every minute sparkling—to unwind the tangle, make the invested and doubled in five days. BABY'S BODY FOUND WHEN SNOW MELTED

Little Girl Was Searched for Last Fall When She Disappeared.

Parry Sound, March 26.—A great deal of excitement was occasioned here last October by the straying away of a little two and a half-year old girl named Iris Jones, and despite the most careful and persistent search and the bringing of a bloodhound from Galt, the offering of rewards, and probably thousands of men and boys searching almost every foot of ground for miles around, no trace of the child could be found. Yesterday the body was accidentally discovered lying on a patch of grass in the open air, within less than a mile of her home, and near enough to the Canada Chemical Co.'s factory to have made her cries heard. She slipped away from her playmates, carrying her doll and teddy bear, and these were seen from under the snow within a few feet of where she was found. There is suspicion of foul play, as it is said that she was seen in the place where the body was found. An inquest is being held, and a post-mortem examination.

Recipes By Toronto Women

Chestnut Dressing—Steam one-half pound of shelled chestnuts for 30 minutes, then pour them to a paste. Add 2 teaspoonful chopped onion, 1-4 teaspoonful white pepper, 1 teaspoon salt and 1-4 teaspoon dry mustard. Mix well and add 4 table-spoons olive oil, and 2 teaspoonful vinegar. This dressing should not be allowed to stand, but should be served fresh. For roast lamb or lamb chops a salad dressing made of 1-2 cup of well seasoned mayonnaise, 1-4 cup of fresh peas, and 1-4 cup of chopped pimientos is very good. The way macaroni is cooked determines the kind of salad dressing to be used on the accompanying salad. If the macaroni is cooked with cheese, this is good.

"Never Fail Corn Bread"—This comes from Indiana and it is remarked in connection with it that "one beauty of it is that the ingredients are always available in every home and you do not have to wait for the usual sour milk, in order to have corn bread on short notice." The ingredients are: 1 cup of corn meal, 1/2 cup of flour, 2 teaspoonful of sugar, salt to taste, 1 egg, 3 table-spoons of baking powder, lard the size of an egg (melted), 1 cup of cold water. This housekeeper mixes all her dry ingredients together, and then adds the melted shortenings and water.

POTATO STUFFING OR MOCK DUCK. Two cups mashed potato, one egg (beaten), one small onion finely minced, one table-spoonful butter, one-half table-spoonful celery salt, one table-spoonful salt, pepper. Mix the ingredients and spread the stuffing over ground beef cut from the lower part of its round and flattened into an oblong shape. Fold it together, turn it into a baking dish, brush the top with fat and bake it for from forty to fifty minutes.

ASTERS FOR ALL

Some of the Best Varieties and How to Grow Them

By GEORGE W. KERR.

Asters will adapt themselves to practically any soil, provided it be properly prepared, but best results are obtained where grown in a rich loam, which is not too heavy and retentive, and where the temperature is cool.

This adaptability to conform to most positions in which they are placed has naturally brought the aster much prominence, with the result that, if we except the sweet pea, it is the most popular of all annual flowers.

In the old-fashioned garden this flower went under the name of Queen Margaret. It may be of Chinese origin, as it was originally introduced from China as long ago as 1731, the original form being single-flowered.

Of all annual flowers, it gives a greater return than any other in massiveness of individual plants, and in the variety and immensity of individual flowers.

When planting out, give each plant ample space to allow for its full development, for, if crowded, the plants will be stunted and the flowers small.

Regularly between the plants and water, keeping the soil moist, but not soggy. Be sure that the top soil is always loose; never allow it to become hard and packed, as this will prevent the free admission of air into the soil and immediately check the growth of the plants.

To prevent the growth of the tarantula bug, which I firmly believe to be the primary cause of the yellowing and wilting of the plants, add one teaspoonful of kerosene emulsion, adding one teaspoonful of water to each gallon of kerosene emulsion.

There are perhaps hundreds of names for aster varieties to be found in the horticultural literature, but all these are not distinct from one another, and in many cases there are differences do exist they are so trifling that they are hardly worth considering.

Growers and specialists have introduced many varieties under their own names and they may more or less parallel the introductions of other growers. Of course there are a number of distinct types and well-recognized varieties in those types that are standard.

The following are all placed in order of their period of flowering: The earliest to bloom is the Queen of the Market, which produces quite large flowers. Plants are of spreading habit, averaging fifteen to eighteen inches in height, according to soil and location.

Following this type in season come Lavender Gem and the earlier Comet types which grow to about the same height as Queen of the Market. The Daybreak type follows and is excellent for bedding purposes, the habit is so compact and they bloom so freely.

There are quite a number of distinct varieties and colors in the Daybreak section. The New Early Flowering Royal Aster fills the gap between the Daybreak and the later-flowering types.

The latest-flowering of all asters are the American Beauty type, which is in full flower when the late-flowering varieties are practically past. The flowers are very large and full, and in color resemble the American Beauty rose.

Never give water indiscriminately, as it may be the cause of a poor stand; later when the seedlings are up it may induce damping off. Give water only when the soil requires it, always using a fine rose on the watering can, as this

At three and a half she had colic and intestinal indigestion, and the doctor at one time gave her up, but finally the vomiting stopped and she carried this little speck every few months, some fever at first till medicine acted, then no fever, but very flushed cheeks, vomiting up water as fast as she swallowed it, but begging constantly for more water, no chance to get medicine to stay down.

Safe Home Treatment For Objectionable Hairs (Boudoir Secrets) The electric needle is not required for the removal of hair or fuzz, for with the use of plain delatone flowers, plants are quickly banished. A paste is made with water and a little of the powder then spread over the hairy surface for about two minutes it is rubbed off and the skin washed. This simple treatment not only removes the hair, but leaves the skin from from blemish. Be sure you get genuine delatone.

THE KEWPIE KORNER By ROSE O'NEILL

Beginning to bloom a few days later than the Queen, we have the King aster, a distinct type, with long, raking petals which unfold so much as to be quill-like in form. The plants average two feet in height and are of branching habit. The type which has made America famous as so popular are the late-flowering varieties. They are known under several names, including 'Sample's' and 'Carleton's Branching'. The blooms are borne on long stems. The latest-flowering of all asters are the American Beauty type, which is in full flower when the late-flowering varieties are practically past. The flowers are very large and full, and in color resemble the American Beauty rose.

How to Grow Thin in the Middle. Some people just want to grow thin, while others want to grow thin in the middle. It is the easiest thing in the world to grow thin if you want to. It is not so easy to reduce only the abdomen and hips, for instance. But it can be done if you mean business. The more we learn—and we are learning more nearly every day—the more convinced we feel that a determined woman can have anything and do anything she likes in the world.

Why do so many women become flabby and corpulent about the waist and hips? Lack of proper exercise has a lot to do with it—and corsets something. A corset is a splint, isn't it? A splint is a support which is employed as a substitute for muscles, in order to give the muscles rest. Put a muscle at rest indefinitely, and it undergoes fatty degeneration, and fat is deposited in the cells, between the cells, and all over the muscle. So the way to grow thin in the middle is to leave off the corset and exercise. Anyway, leave off the corset for a little while every day, while you take your reducing exercise.

The Melting Pot. 1. Stand erect, arms extended straight out from shoulders to either side. Squat at the same time raise arms straight above the head. Right up again, arms returning to first position. Repeat this from five to thirty times, as you become accustomed to the exercise.

PUPILS PRESENT BOND TO WESTON HOSPITAL. Dawson Street School Has Also Raised $185 to Buy Wool for Socks for the Soldiers. "Killing two birds with one stone" is an old expression that never had a better application than it did yesterday at Dawson Street School. Last fall the pupils of the school joined in the great Victory Loan drive and purchased a $500 bond; yesterday they presented the bond to the Queen Mary Hospital for Consumptives at Weston. The presentation was made at the High School of Commerce, a block away from the school. Two little girls, Alice Bell and Audrey Simpson, who won prizes offered by Dr. James L. Hughes for an essay describing a visit to the hospital, made the presentation. Dr. Hughes, W. O. McTaggart, trustee for Ward Five, Dr. Dobbin, superintendent of the hospital, each gave a short address to the pupils. In addition to purchasing the Victory Bond the school has subscribed $185 to buy wool for socks for the soldiers.

Perfect in Tone. A piano may be beautiful in finish, artistic in design and well constructed, but unless the tone meets the demands of the true musician and artist the appearance of the instrument counts for little.
