ONE CENT
MACKINNON MADE GOVERNOR OF PRINCE EDWARD ISLAND

Cabinet on Saturday Afternoon Appoints a Successor to the Hon. P. A. McIntyre.

Ottawa, Oct. 2.—(Special.)—Still another member of the late house leaves his constituency and is called to another thing, just on the eve of an election. D. A. MacKinnon, who represented Queen's, P.E.I., in the last house, has been appointed lieutenant-governor of P.E.I., succeeding the Hon. P. A. McIntyre, whose term has just expired. The appointment was made on Saturday afternoon at the regular cabinet meeting.

MacKinnon was not often heard in the house, but as a committee man he was valuable to his party. His intimate knowledge of P.E.I. stood him in good stead whenever the grants for harbours, etc., for the County, being presented, drew the attention of the hon. members. He is a most likeable man, who on his first meeting in the house, was introduced to the hon. members by Donald Alexander MacKinnon, the son of William MacKinnon and his wife Katherine MacKinnon, both of Scotch descent, and was born at Ullg, Belfast, P.E.I., on Feb. 21, 1863. Educated at Ullg Grammar School and Prince of Wales College, Dalhousie, he took the degree of LL.B. at University Law School, Halifax, and was admitted to the practice of law in 1887, becoming a Q.C. in 1890.

MacKinnon was elected in 1893 to the Prince Edward Island Legislative Assembly and sat for Murray Harbor district, King's County, being re-elected on March 20, 1901, when he was again returned by a majority of 10. The new lieutenant-governor is a Liberal in politics and a Presbyterian, and was married in 1892 to Adelaide Bell, nee Louise O'Brien, daughter of Dr. He was for a time chairman of Georgetown school trustees.

REV. DR. WEEKS RESIGNS TO GO TO SPRINGFIELD.
Announcement Comes as Surprise to Congregation of Walmer Road Baptist Church.

Rev. Dr. Weeks, pastor of the Walmer Road Baptist Church, has resigned his charge to accept a pastorate in Springfield, Mass. The announcement came as a surprise to all but the deacons of the church when Mayor Trickett, at the closing of the service yesterday morning, had a meeting of the congregation to be held after the service in the evening.

At the meeting last night it was decided to accept the resignation of Dr. Weeks, and on motion of Bro. Poddy, seconded by Bro. Hall, a resolution expressing the regret of the congregation was passed unanimously. It was also decided that two months' salary should be paid to the retiring pastor.

The resignation will take effect almost at once, his name has yet been suggested of a suitable man to take the pulpit.

Dr. Weeks has been pastor of the Walmer Road Church for the past nine years, during which time the congregation has increased from 50 to 100 members, approximately speaking. The members of the church are estimated to be about 100, and will be greatly missed in church circles.

He was formerly pastor of the Brockville Church, and had been in charge of that church for several years.

KUROPATKIN TO MEET JAPS

NAVAL BATTLE FOUGHT AT PORT ARTHUR

Japs Complete Changing Gauge of Railway From Dalny to Newchwang, Resulting in Greatly Facilitating Keeping Up Lines of Communication.

POSITION OF THE ARMIES.

The intimation from St. Petersburg, that Kuropatkin is planning to go out and meet the Japanese forces is significant, and, if true, will change the whole face of the campaign. Despatches to London papers declare a naval battle has been fought off Port Arthur. Efforts by the Russians to retake positions commanding the water supply of Port Arthur have resulted in hard fighting, the losses on both sides being reported to have been heavy. The Japanese are reported to have been successful in retaining the contested ground. It is said that heavy guns newly mounted on the Russian warships in the harbor of Port Arthur, which may now be forced to go out and face the fleet of Admiral Togo. There is a report that a Japanese sunboat was sunk by coming in contact with a mine south of the Liaoting Peninsula; the report adds that a portion of the crew were rescued. The Japanese have completed the changing of the gauge of the railway from Dalny to Newchwang and its equipment is nearly finished; this will be of great assistance to the armies in Manchuria. The Russian admiralty has decided to despatch the Baltic squadron in the direction of the far east. Events are expected, however, whether the message shall proceed to their destination or return to Russian ports and await reinforcements.

Baltic Fleet Off Again

But May Be False Alarm

However, Czar Visits Reval on Tuesday to Say Farewell and Admiralty Arrives at Another Irrevocable Decision.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 2.—Announcement is made that the Emperor Nicholas will visit Reval on Tuesday, to bid farewell to the Baltic squadron. After months of preparation and several false starts, it is believed that the Russian fleet is about to depart on its long journey.

A division in the admiralty has existed through the period of preparation regarding the advisability of sending out the squadron; but with the decision to double the size of the Manchurian army and press the war with vigor, the logic of those who for months have insisted that every available ship should be despatched to the far east, has finally prevailed. The argument that no coasting ship could be sent to sea is warded from them, could not be overcome, and the decision has been taken to despatch the Baltic fleet, even if the Port Arthur squadron should be annihilated before its arrival there.

It is realized that the squadron, which on paper is about equal in fighting strength to that of the Japanese fleet, will be much better able to counter the foe now than next spring, when the Japanese ships have had time to refit.

While hopes are still entertained that Port Arthur may be able to hold out until the appearance of the Baltic fleet, the question of the Baltic fleet, which does not enter greatly into the calculations of the admiralty, is only being expected to be a means to inflict as much damage as possible on the Japanese fleet. Such ships as escape are expected to make their way to Vladivostok.

Russians Grow Desperate

Thru Loss of Water Supply

FIGHTS OF SEPT. 28 AND 29.
St. Petersburg, Oct. 2, 6 p.m.—Severe fighting, the Russians being the aggressors, occurred on Sept. 28 and 29, on the coast near Liaoting promontory, near Plesien Bay, according to a report by Chinese who left Port Arthur on Sept. 28. The Russians already apparently are attempting to capture the heavy guns which have been mounted in the vicinity. The Russians are in considerable force, and they made several attacks on the British artillery with their machine guns and developing a lasting imperial sentiment.

Three junks, with 200 coolies, arrived at Chedao today. They were forced to carry the wounded away to the sea. They also were afraid that eventually they would have no food, although rice is plentiful now, according to their statements. They further say that the Russians had heavily during the attacks of Sept. 19 and Sept. 25, but the Japanese loss was much heavier.

The Russian ships were silent during the battle, and only their steamships were turned into merchant ships. Several of the Chinese were killed, and the number of the dead was so numerous that they were unable to bury anything. It is estimated that the number which fell in attacking and defending the supplementary fort near Mt. Moutan was 1,000.

Since the battle both sides continue to shell at intervals daily. The Russians make many attempts to break through the Japanese trenches. Small positions frequently change hands. The Chinese say they were ordered to shoot the dead by stealth at night, for the reason that the Japanese would fire on them.

Because her little playmate threw a lighted match at her, Baby Florence Dill of 3 Drummond-place lies at St. Michael's Hospital, suffering from burns that may cost her life.

A little girl came to the front door of her home, and as she was about to enter, she saw a lighted match thrown at her. She was struck in the face, and the match ignited her hair, which was blowing in the wind. She was taken to the hospital, where she is now lying.

Her mother, hearing the child's cries, rushed to the door and, seizing a rug, wrapped it tightly around the baby. The flames were extinguished, but not before severe burns had been inflicted.

She was first taken to the Hospital for Sick Children, but there it was found she was also suffering from spinal meningitis, and she was later removed to St. Michael's.

FEDERAL AND PROVINCIAL POLITICS

A long time ago some Liberals led, we think, by Edward Blake, laid down the rule that there should be a complete separation between federal and provincial politics.

However, the idea of a complete separation of provincial and federal politics has turned out to be impracticable. In theory it is all very well to say that a man might support Liberals in one sphere and Conservatives in the other.

It is true that for quite a number of years the Conservative party was in power in the Dominion, and the Liberal party in power in Ontario.

It is somewhat interesting. The Dominion election will be held in a month, and at the same time there is something like a crisis in provincial affairs.

Probably there is more bitterness provincial than Dominion politics, owing to the closeness of recent contests, and to the devices which the government has been obliged to use to maintain itself in power.

When it became necessary to cover up the emergency ration scandal the government promptly reached for Benjamin Russell. Again when a parliamentary committee was set to work to enquire into the West Huron and Brockville by-elections Mr. Russell was called to aid in the work of suppressing and distorting evidence.

Whether it was a scandal to be hushed up, a particularly weak measure to be held up to scorn and ridicule, Benjamin Russell was always on hand. That for these services a man should be rewarded with a place on the supreme court of one of the provinces is a poor tribute to the dignity of the judiciary and a sad proof of the complacency of the standard of political morality at Ottawa.

It is calculated to make an old-fashioned Liberal's eyes bulge out of his head to see a Liberal journal claiming that a railway will be a good thing because it will cost a lot of money. The farmers, mechanics and manufacturers who will receive it from each 30 miles it is estimated that these articles will cost $85,000. While the farmer will reap this, there will be something else for the mechanic and the manufacturer who will supply powder, shovels, picks, and other tools for construction.

THE GLOBE AND DUNDONALD

On Thursday last The Globe renewed its attack on Lord Dundonald by printing a clause 13 of a proposed army bill, which specified the period of service in the active militia and in which Lord Dundonald inserted the words "conspicuous" and altered "active militia" to "army."

The charge was, on the face of it, absurd, since the clause referred exclusively to the active militia, whose enlistment by the act is either voluntary or by ballot and had as much to do with the ordinary citizen as it had with the natives of Timbuctoo.

This fact being irrefragably pointed out, The Globe offered an exclusive evidence of its charge that Lord Dundonald had made it obligatory on every citizen to serve in the "army" in time of peace, a recommendation made by him, that "all male youths in Canada, not less than one hundred drills of an hour each under such regulations as may be made."

As the Globe is fond of asking questions, we too, may ask it to show how Lord Dundonald's alteration on clause 13 introduced the militia or "army" into the bill, and how it is defined as "consisting of all the male 18 years and upwards," and therefore boys under that age were not and never intended to be "soldiers" in the "army," as The Globe puts it.

On the question of the compulsory drilling of boys, The World, as a "reasonable and reasonable" journal, quite admits that there is a difference of opinion. It is undoubtedly, however, that many who strongly oppose conscription and abhor militarism yet approve of every youth acquiring some knowledge of the elements of military drill, and of fitting himself to take his place in the ranks should his country make the call.

But whether or not the drill of boys be right or wrong, it does not lie in The Globe's mouth to exalt the Liberal government at the expense of Lord Dundonald. The government's Militia Act of this year contains a provision that "ALL THE MALE INHABITANTS OF CANADA OF THE AGE OF TWELVE YEARS AND UPWARDS, AND UNDER EIGHTEEN, NOT DISQUALIFIED BY BODILY OR MENTAL INFIRMITY, AND BEING BRITISH SUBJECTS, SHALL BE LIABLE TO DRILL AND TRAINING AS CADETS, IN THE MANNER PRESCRIBED."

There is nothing therefore to prevent Sir Frederick Borden from prescribing one hundred drills per annum instead of one hundred in five years as Lord Dundonald proposed. And if Lord Dundonald's suggestion would have introduced conscription into Canada, what does the act of the Laurier government do? Does it not just come to this, that what Sir Frederick Borden is a patriotic and commendable provision in Lord Dundonald becomes a dangerous and diabolical device.

These recommendations of Lord Dundonald are no new thing. They were no doubt considered by Sir Frederick Borden, since many were adopted in whole or in part in the new Militia Act. Why did this faithful guardian of Canada stand on the pains of conscription, say nothing about Lord Dundonald's nefarious schemes when these were most dangerous? The simple truth is that The Globe dreads the damage done to the government by its high-handed treatment of the distinguished soldier who placed his duty to Canada above personal interest and resented the attempt to make him the tool of a corrupt party system.

The elevation of Benjamin Russell to the bench, and T. O. Davis to the senate are the climax of a long series of appointments which stand to the discredit of the Laurier government. Sir Russell has placed himself at the disposal of the government for whatever line of service party expediency demanded. Where the fumes were strongest the late member for Hanis was always to be found.

When it became necessary to cover up the emergency ration scandal the government promptly reached for Benjamin Russell. Again when a parliamentary committee was set to work to enquire into the West Huron and Brockville by-elections Mr. Russell was called to aid in the work of suppressing and distorting evidence.

Whether it was a scandal to be hushed up, a particularly weak measure to be held up to scorn and ridicule, Benjamin Russell was always on hand. That for these services a man should be rewarded with a place on the supreme court of one of the provinces is a poor tribute to the dignity of the judiciary and a sad proof of the complacency of the standard of political morality at Ottawa.

WAR IN THE FAR EAST MUST GO ON

Possible Mediation by Italy Would be Ineffective—Czar Recognizes Japan as a Great Power and Will Fight to the Death.

New York, Oct. 3.—The Sun's London correspondent cables: There has been practically no authentic news from the far east in the past week. The latest information remains the same, that the attack of Port Arthur was a disaster and fiercer, but is still unsuccessful, while Field Marshal Oyama is still preparing an enveloping movement for Gen. Kuropatkin, who is still strengthening Mukden and preparing to retreat to Tieling.

The audience have devoted much speculation to the reason for the sudden visit of Signor Giolitti, the Italian premier, to Chancellor von Buelow at Homburg. It is obvious that the Italian statesman would not quit Rome when his duties were very aversive, and the general strike which has just ended, unless he had been summoned.

There has been a general tendency on the continent to ascribe the meeting to a project for some interest of the great powers in the far east. It is presumed to be the likelihood explained in this correspondence of the Italian mediation may be safely considered as strong as ever, indeed they have been fortified by the change announced in St. Petersburg, the appointment of Gen. Gripenberg to command a second Manchurian army of 100,000 men, which will be ready to take the offensive in the spring is an event of the highest significance.

Preparations for Future. Military belief in St. Petersburg is that the Russian army is not yet ready for having for its object the slighting of Gen. Kuropatkin. This is probably, however, only part of the truth. The spectator, dealing with the czar's letter appointing Gen. Gripenberg, suggests a wider view. It is not dealing with the present but is preparing for the future. He has rid himself completely, and in publishing his letter rids his subjects of the delusion that Japan is a small presumptuous power, which will go on conquering and being conquered.

Some Timely Helps. One of the jewels in the rich setting of the Dominion government's campaign cry is "Living wages to workmen in public works." Of late we have had many instances of the government's repudiation of the workingmen's demand for the interest of the workers in their work, directly or indirectly, in its employ.

The reformation began in Ottawa about a month ago, when the government then gave out the glad tidings that Hon. Charles Hyman, in response to the heroic efforts of Speaker Borden, had increased the wages of the mechanical staff employed in the department of public works. Mr. Hyman's letter, as it appeared in the columns of the Ottawa Free Press, speaks for itself:

"Office of department of public works, Ottawa, Oct. 2, 1904. 'Dear Mr. Speaker, I have had full consideration of the question of increased pay for the mechanical staff employed in this department and have to-day authorized an increase for the masons and bricklayers from $2.50 a day to $2.80 a day; for the carpenters and painters to $3.00 a day; for the electricians to $2.25, and laborers who now get $1.50, the sum of $1.75 per day. 'You have certainly been very insistent in this matter and have lost no opportunity of pressing it upon the attention of the department. 'Yours very truly, 'George A. Cox, Minister.'"

It was a happy thought that led Mr. Hyman to take this method of announcing to the mechanical staff the good luck which had befallen them. The efforts of Speaker Borden, Mr. Why did this faithful guardian of Canada stand on the pains of conscription, say nothing about Lord Dundonald's nefarious schemes when these were most dangerous? The simple truth is that The Globe dreads the damage done to the government by its high-handed treatment of the distinguished soldier who placed his duty to Canada above personal interest and resented the attempt to make him the tool of a corrupt party system.

D.; George A. Cox, ex-M.P.; K. W. McKay, county clerk; E. A. Horton, M.P.; and John Farley, K. C., M.P. RUSSIANS REPORT PROGRESS

DECLARE CAPS ARE CHECKED

General Sakharoff Says No Advance of Importance Had Occurred Up to Sept. 30.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 2.—A despatch from Gen. Sakharoff received by the general staff late last night, brings the record of events up to Sept. 30. It shows that the Japanese advance on the eastern side in the region of Rensaijapa has been checked. This movement still appears to be an outpost affair, not accompanied with serious fighting, no advance of the Japanese force having occurred up to date mentioned.

The operations to the west of Mukden have extended 26 miles down the Han River, where the Japanese were temporarily driven out from Tachantan and if supply boats were burned. It is possible that this said to be identical with that one reported by the Associated Press from Mukden, in the latter it is stated to have occurred upon the Liao River. In any case, the operations to the west of Mukden have been successful in approaching nearer than 20 miles to the line of the Han River.

The forthcoming changes in the naval command, announced by the Associated Press, have become the subject of widespread discussion. The need is generally admitted, by whether Emperor Nicholas will give immediate effect to the reorganization, a universal feeling is that the Imperial Russian navy is in a state of general demoralization.

Love Barred in Church. London, Oct. 2.—The Dean of Norwich last Sunday devoted his sermon to a protest against the prevailing habit of young people using the cathedral during holy days as a place to carry on love-making and flirtations. Seventy stewards and one deacon were now being enrolled for the purpose of preventing flirting in the nave. Any young people who were found to be committing a wilful flirtation they are positively barred from the sacred building.

Fear Fool Play. Sandwich, Oct. 2.—Thomas Laframbois, a well-known butcher of this place, started from his shop last Tuesday afternoon to deliver a sermon to one of his customers. He has not been seen or heard of since. His wife and friends are unable to get any trace of him. It is not known that Laframbois had any money on him, but his wife and friends fear that he has met with foul play.

The Canadian Club. Members of the club are advised to assemble early at McConkey's this evening. Supper will be served promptly at 8:30 o'clock. The Rt. Hon. James Bryce, M.P., His Honor the Lieut.-Governor, Mayor Urquhart, Prof. Goldwin Smith and President London will be the guests of the club. Mr. Bryce will address the club.

FOUND DYING IN GUELPH.

Hard Lot of a Young Man Without Home or Money. Guelph, Oct. 2.—Almost famished and with nothing but an old coat to protect him from the cold, a young lad who gives the name of George Bradley, was found by the old stable at the rear of the power house Friday evening about 6 o'clock. For four days the poor fellow was without food, but his condition was so serious that he was taken to the Guelph Hospital, where every attention is being given him. Bradley is about 30 years of age and claims that his parents are dead. He says that he left Winnipeg some weeks ago for Bradford, where he had a uncle. He repaired umbrellas along the way to make sufficient money to keep him in food. He reached Guelph about last Sunday, his money ran out and for the next four or five days he had lain in the old stable at the rear of the power house, where, no doubt, he would have died if assistance had not arrived. The relief of poor will assist him in making Bradford.
