ANTRACITE COAL STRIKE IS TREATED LIGHTLY

NEITHER MINERS NOR OPERATORS SEE CALAMITY

Opposing Forces Deadlocked Over Maintenance Question 158,000 INVOLVED

Lewis' Call to Strike Will Mean Closing of 828 Pits

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 28.—A hard coal suspension September 1, involving 158,000 men and 828 mines, and shutting off the favorite fuel of thousands of households, was called last night by John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers of America.

Instructions as to retention in the mines, of an emergency force to man pumps to prevent flooding, and to keep up the workings during the shut-down were held in abeyance pending a further meeting with the mine owners here today.

MAINTENANCE MATTER A meeting yesterday was deadlocked on adjournment, with miners insisting that full shifts of these so-called maintenance men be employed, and with operators insisting upon the right to cut down where practicable. Any agreement reached today, on the question will be broadcast throughout the anthracite region by the union heads in the form of a supplemental suspension order.

Meanwhile the miners' scale committee which signed the announced agreement to bring about, if possible, a general agreement which would provide a plan for the anthracite mine workers.

REGARDED LIGHTLY The September suspension is not regarded as a calamity by either personal talk; providing it is a short one. Miners attribute the operators' ability to keep up under the present conditions, already occurring from the stimulated demand for their "steam sites" of coal at enhanced prices. Operators, on the other hand, say the angles and mine roads, among the miners hearing the call of September 1, is only 26 per cent of the normal output, and that the suspension will be in effect for a year, as much as the office worker, it was said.

SUSPENSION ORDER The suspension order said in part: "The present agreement between the anthracite operators and mine workers expires August 31, 1925. Your committee charged with the responsibility of making a new contract has been unable to arrive at any understanding affecting wages or conditions of employment to be effective after August 31. Therefore, our membership in Districts Numbers 1, 7 and 9 is advised that, no contract being in effect, a suspension of mining will automatically take place at midnight Monday, August 31, 1925."

MAINTENANCE "Concerning the question of maintenance men remaining at work during the suspension, we advise that proper instructions will be issued to our membership as soon as an agreement covering this subject can be consummated with the representatives of the anthracite operators.

"Please hold yourselves in readiness to put our policy with respect to maintenance work into effect as soon as possible after receipt of its contents."

FIRE SITUATION IN ONTARIO SERIOUS Rain is Badly Needed in Soo and Muskoka Districts—Damage Heavy.

SAULT STE MARIE, Ont., Aug. 28.—Unless rain comes to the aid of the firefighters soon, a serious condition will prevail in this district. A fire near the Soo, at Gros Cap, burning since Sunday, is being closely watched. Some 10 fires are reported from the Blind River section, and about 100 men are employed in fighting them. Some of the fires are serious ones.

BRACEBRIDGE, Ont., Aug. 28.—Rain is badly needed in Muskoka to prevent serious bush fires that have broken out in Medora and Monck townships. Settlers and tourists are fighting bravely in the affected sections in preventing the spread of fire to the house.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Aug. 28.—M. M. Boykin, 26, wound up a night's lark, shortly after midnight, by opening fire with a shotgun through a window into a crowded dance hall at the edge of the city. He fired all but three of a box of cartridges, wounding five dancers, all men. Two are expected to die.

Boykin was arrested soon afterwards, when police overtook him in a car, where he had fallen asleep embracing the smoking shotgun.

CANADA-AUSTRALIA TREATY IS HELD UP

Question of Percentage of British Labor Used is Difficultly.

OTTAWA, Aug. 28.—The adoption of the 75 per cent. regulation mentioned by the Australian government, caused an impediment in the negotiations between Canada and Australia, over a trade treaty. The treaty had been concluded and passed the commonwealth parliament of Australia. A new treaty was drafted subsequently, and after submission to the Canadian parliament passed towards the end of the last session, but it has still to be ratified by the Commonwealth parliament before it can become effective.

SOME EXCEPTIONS. The seventy-five per cent. regulation is very intricate, and contains important exceptions. Under one exception, it is stated, Canadian automobile chassis, when the new treaty becomes effective, will be entitled to the British preferential tariff in Australia, (i.e. Canadian) labor, and materials.

Secrets of King and Cabinet Revealed In Memoirs; Writer Criticized For Indiscretions

By H. BAILEY British United Press.

LONDON, Aug. 28.—Sir Albert Howard, an American attaché in Cairo for 25 years, has caused something of a sensation here by the publication of a book of memoirs in which he reveals the closest secrets of the King and cabinet, and is being criticized widely for his gross indiscretions today. He states on one occasion Winston Churchill wanted a battleship named Oliver Cromwell and that the King flatly refused the request although Churchill argued with him at great length to win his point. He tells also how strong the King disliked the Lloyd George land programme of 1919.

U. S. IRRITATION London Not Surprised That U. S. Will Retain Present Attitude

PARIS, Aug. 28.—Finance Minister Callaux and Foreign Minister Briand have failed to agree concerning the composition of the French debt mission to Washington, and the council of ministers today again postponed final decision on the matter.

M. Callaux is practically certain to go to Washington, with an expert on the subject, the remainder of the mission following a few days later. It is expected that the Finance Minister will remain in the United States until only a few days, the delegates taking up the work where he leaves it.

U. S. INVITATION LONDON, Aug. 28.—Dispatches reporting surprise and irritation in the United States over the news of the Anglo-French provisional debt arrangement, are featured in big type in the morning newspapers.

No surprise is expressed here at the declaration that the United States government will adhere to its attitude on foreign debts, as already indicated, but anxiety is evidenced in some of the comment over the reported suspicion in the United States that Chancellor of the Exchequer Churchill and Finance Minister Callaux, schemed to put moral pressure on the United States, in the interest of their respective countries. The newspapers print disavowals of any intention on the part of Great Britain to take any action that might bring her into conflict with the United States.

LAW IS CRITICIZED New South Wales Premier Will Oppose Working of Deportation Law

DURBAN, South Africa, Aug. 28.—The unofficial strike of the overseas sailors, which is affecting South Africa as well as Australia, has assumed serious proportions here. The crew of the Balmoral Castle has refused to work, and in consequence the sailing of the vessel has been postponed indefinitely.

The strike of the seamen has occurred at a critical period because the South African ports are congested with steamers waiting to carry away the unprecedented crop of maize.

AUSTRALIA HOPEFUL SYDNEY, Australia, Aug. 28.—There was no development of the shipping trouble here yesterday, and in ministerial circles and political circles, generally, confidence was expressed that the strike of seamen overseas would result in Australian waters, because of a reduction in wages, would soon end.

POLICEMAN 25 YEARS. MONCTON, Aug. 27.—Arthur McLeod, of Hartford, Conn., was a visitor to the police station today. He is visiting his sister, Mrs. William Davies, Highfield street, and intends to pay a visit to his old home, Fenoboda, before returning to Hartford. For twenty-five years he was a member of the Hartford police force.

"TWO YEARS AGO I was so run down that on coming home from work I frequently collapsed with fatigue. Often I was too tired to eat my supper. Fleischmann's Yeast seemed my last resort. After taking it for two weeks three times daily I noticed that constipation ceased and that my appetite had come back. I began to eat heartily, enjoying my food. I continued to eat Yeast for four months. Weakness and nervousness became a thing of the past. My cheeks filled out and I looked ten years younger, and now my face blooms with a healthy color."

"MY DIGESTION was completely out of order; continued cathartics were necessary to relieve the oppression. Mornings I felt drowsy and found my mental faculties dull. For over two months I took Fleischmann's Yeast faithfully every day, morning and evening. Today my stomach troubles are entirely gone; I find more energy for work and the headaches have disappeared; my puritanism have complimented me on my healthy complexion—all due in my estimation to Fleischmann's Yeast." The Rev. Constantine Dask, Vulcan, Mich.

And What About You...?

"I AM AN AMATEUR TRACK ATHLETE, a quarter-mile. During the winter of 1923 my physical condition became poor. After practice I felt 'fagged'; I could not concentrate upon studies. Face broke out in a mass of pimples—then came boils—constipation became chronic. I 'slowed up' badly in competition. I was about to abandon track when family doctor advised yeast. 'Slow but sure,' he stated. For three months I faithfully carried out his instructions, three cakes a day. At the end of this time skin was cleared, no longer troubled with boils, constipation eliminated. Vitality restored, I felt mentally awake. I was able to compete in hard races without complete exhaustion."

Depressed by intestinal disorders, skin and stomach troubles, lowered vitality, they found relief in one simple fresh food. Nor a "cure-all," not a medicine in any sense—Fleischmann's Yeast is simply a remarkable fresh food.

"THIS FAMOUS FOOD tones up the entire system—banishes constipation, skin troubles, stomach disorders. Start eating it today!"

And What About You...?

"A NUMBER OF YEARS AGO at this most lovely time of year I became infected with a most unlovely case of boils—one after another. When I had become almost a nervous wreck as the result of a long series of lancing, I determined to go to a hospital in Chicago to consult a physician under whose care I had once been. At the end of a week, when no new boils had appeared, the doctor asked me with a twinkle in his eye if I knew the ingredient of the pellets which were given me. I confessed ignorance—and was amazed when he said, 'Fleischmann's Yeast.'"

DEFENDING CANADA.

Lord Beaverbrook's London Express does not spend all of its time lauding a Governor-General for Canada, or in defeating the British Government, or re-organizing the Empire. It has just entered the lists against those London financial journals which have been harshly criticizing Canada, and are misrepresenting it extensively, because of its treatment of the holders of the Junior Securities of the Grand Trunk.

The Express, in taking up the cudgels for Canada, expresses its views in rather vigorous language, asserting that in a limited circle there has been a deliberate campaign to discredit the movement and to open to more than suspicion. The critics are told by the Express that the Canadian Government, in the matter of the Grand Trunk, had due regard for all the principles, and that if the railway had not been taken over the shareholders would be to-day in an infinitely worse position than they are.

The situation of the Grand Trunk Railway was described by the arbitrator last week. Years of mismanagement had left it entirely unable to meet its obligations. The government had not stepped in when they did and the railway was allowed to go into the hands of a receiver millions of pounds would have been lost by investors in addition to what has actually been written down by the arbitrator.

Yet the Canadian government's action has produced an effort to discredit Canadian securities. It looks as if the money market so determined as almost to assume the quality of blackmail. These attempts to doubt the credit of the Dominion find their origin in the London money market, she can secure funds more cheaply in New York. Thus the attempted boycott here has no ill effect on Canadian credit and, like the tactics, simply serves to create bad feeling between the two countries.

The plain speaking on the part of the Express should have some effect in moderating the transports of the London group which has been hitting darkly that Canada is to be made to suffer in some way because it acted in accordance with the judgment of the arbitrator, who were appointed with the consent of representatives of the stockholders. Since the question of railway unification or amalgamation has become a topic of increasing discussion in this country, some of the London writers have been proceeding on the assumption that in its settlement the government might think it wise to make a compassionate allowance to holders of the Grand Trunk Junior stocks. Nothing is more improbable and the Express is presenting only the facts when it says that Canadian action in this matter was final and that no revision can be brought about by threatening Canadians with consequences of which they stand in no fear.

Reflections upon the character of Gladstone have elicited protests from political friends and foes alike in Britain. In the ranks of the defenders of the great Liberal statesman's good name is to be found Lady Gwendoline Cecil, daughter of Lord Salisbury, who was three times Prime Minister, and who for many years was Gladstone's political rival. Lady Gwendoline says that "in all matters of political conduct and policy" her father and Gladstone "were essentially antagonistic, but for Gladstone's character in private life, Lord Salisbury always had the highest possible respect."

It is recalled that Lord Salisbury in a memorial speech delivered in the House of Lords at the time of Gladstone's death paid a wonderful tribute to his character. "He will leave behind him," said Lord Salisbury, "the memory of a great Christian statesman. Set up necessarily on high—the sight of his character, his motives, and his intentions would strike all the world. They will have left a deep and most salutary influence. . . . And he will be long remembered not so much for the causes in which he was engaged or the political projects which he favored, but as a great example, to which history hardly furnishes a parallel, of a great Christian man."

The Halifax Herald points out that the Dominion estimates for immigration and colonization for the current year total a little over $3,000,000, and that supplementary estimates brought the amount up to more than $4,400,000. It is not alone the current year's expenditure, but that of many years the Herald invites its readers to consider, along with the fact that while the Maritime Provinces pay their share they get practically no results at all. Hon. Mr. Meighen, in one of his recent speeches, alleged that $1,000,000 was spent on immigration in one year. Whatever the amount, these provinces pay their share, but the immigrants pass them by. This is one of the questions under consideration by committees of the three provinces, provided for at the recent Montreal conference, and when our case is fully prepared the Maritimes will speak as a unit, and we may hope more effectively than ever in regard not only to immigration, but other matters of vital importance to the welfare of this part of the Dominion.

If the growth of population were as rapid in the Maritime Provinces as in other parts of Canada prospects for a well-founded development of the Dominion would be greatly improved. The Toronto Globe, in examining the census figures, says that in spite of small gain in population between 1911 and 1921, the increase for that decade, despite the drain of the war, was at the rate of 21.95 per cent, compared with 14.9 per cent. for the United States. "Canada," it says, "has now reached a size at which the natural increase, apart from immigration, means the addition of nearly 200,000 yearly. Except for the twenty years from 1880 to 1900, the Dominion has grown as fast as any country in the world, and faster than most of them. The so-called exodus which politicians have tried to capitalize is a well-known phenomenon, and passed its peak in 1923. It looks as if the Canadian West, which gave the Dominion such a start in the first decade of the century, is entering on another period of development that will react beneficially on the whole Dominion."

Odds and Ends

"You never know what you'll find among the odds and ends."—From "Notes by a Wayfarer."

Eighteen years old
By HARVEY O. HIGGINS
(Editorial Staff, The Border Cities Star)

Eighteen years ago this summer, on Brown's Island, in Dorset, England, a group of boys lined up and were christened "Boy Scouts." The person by whom this title was bestowed was Baden-Powell, at that time one of Britain's greatest military leaders. Since those 18 summers have rolled by, changes unnumbered of by that illustrious warrior during the simple ceremony have taken place. The tiny group has grown into a world-wide organization, its ranks containing some of the most prominent leaders in world affairs.

Many people who have not yet fully approved of the Boy Scout movement are perhaps prejudiced by the thought that because it was founded by a great soldier, the organization must necessarily be militaristic. Such a conception is entirely erroneous, for Boy Scouts are not "soldiers in the making." Peace scouting for character and citizenship, can rightly be called the platform of this great organization.

Today the Boy Scout movement is endorsed by associations far and wide. It is endorsed not only by the church, but by all organizations having a point of contact with the welfare work of the Scout movement can, if anything, be termed a religious one, because nearly all of its leaders are religious men.

And what will be accomplished by it itself is a question sometimes heard from those not in accord with the programme. A thousand questions could be asked by those who are skeptical, but answers in rebuttal could be given. Scouting brings the boy into contact with practically every walk of life, although naturally he does not enter upon them until later years. Immediately a boy becomes a Scout, he becomes ambitious, and in many instances Scouting reveals to the boy his life's reaction. The difficult lad develops initiative and self-confidence; the selfish boy learns thoughtfulness for others, and the other confident, self-assertive boy adjusts himself to others' rights.

The ideal explanation of the movement is perhaps found in an official statement issued recently: "Scouting is character-forming, recreational education carried on to a large extent in the great healthy school of the Out-of-Doors. It develops the spirit and habit of resourcefulness and of cheerfully facing difficulties. These were qualities of the Canadian pioneers, and embodied in their descendants, have given us a large number of the great names of Canada's history."

The Sea.
I'm on the Sea! I'm on the Sea!
I am, where I would, ever be:
With the blue above, and the blue below;
And since whenever 'er I go;
If a storm should come and awake the deep,
What matter? I shall ride and sleep.
I never was on the dull tame shore,
But I loved the great Sea more and more,
And backwards flew to her billow's breast,
Like a bird that seeks its mother's nest;
And a mother she was, and is to me,
For I was born on the open Sea!

JOHNSTON LODGE ENTERTAINS WELL

At the meeting of Johnston Lodge, L.O.B.A., last night in Orange Hall, Germantown street, with Mrs. C. W. Change in Tactics.
He—"Mary?"
She—"Yes."
He—"This is Jack. May I call tonight?"
She—"Sure. Where will we go?"
He—"Well, I wish we could stay at home for I'm busted."
She—"You've got the wrong number. This isn't Mary."

He Knew.
The inspector was taking a class in reading. On coming to the word "responsibility," he stopped and asked the meaning of it. No one seemed ready to answer. At last one little boy held up his hand.

"Well," said the inspector, "what does responsibility mean?"
"Well, sir, I have two buttons at the back of my trousers, and if one came off all the responsibility would be on the other one."

HURLED OFF CYCLE
A boy had a narrow escape from injury yesterday afternoon while riding a bicycle down Main street at a fair rate of speed. At the junction of the Long Wharf and Main street, the front wheel of the bicycle was caught in a street car track. So abrupt was the halt that the lad was thrown some distance across the street and the bicycle fell in front of an approaching sloop. The driver of the sloop brought his horse to a quick stop and the wheel was saved from damage. The boy picked himself up and went his way little the worse for the fall.

Letters to The Editor
Respect the Anthem.
Saint John, N. B.
To the Editor of The Times-Star:
Sir—Why is it that the majority of the people of Saint John—(Saint John, the Loyalist city)—are so very irresponsible to our National Anthem?

When it is played at the conclusion of some theatre programme or any other similar affair, I am not overstating it in the least when I say that seventy-five per cent. or more of the audience or crowd make a mad rush for the exits and the majority of this percentage are men.

I chanced to be passing a band concert being given in King Square when they were playing their concluding number, and as the National Anthem was being played an observer could easily have counted the few who did not ignore it and the still fewer men who removed their hats. It might very well not have been played and I could not help but think that some of us show no more respect than a non-British subject would show.

What are things coming to? Who can blame this generation if our mothers and fathers have no objection to our conduct in this respect.

Citizens of Saint John and subjects of the King, wake up! Catch and retain the old spirit of loyalty and patriotism which was and may still be ours.

I remain,

Eye defects show up in actual eye pain just now and again. If the Eyes are made right, the rest is simple. The scholar that doesn't take well to studying and tends to slip up changes right over in most every case. Laziness and stupidity are rare, more rare than you imagine. Eye tests of School Children bear this out.

It does not mean a money strain to start your child at school the right way. $1 down and $1 weekly gets the proper Glasses straight off.

CANADA MAY SEEK TRADE IN LATIN-AMERICA

H. J. Logan Points Out Importance of Big Commerce With South

TO BOOST BUSINESS $25,000,000 A YEAR

M. P. Declares West Indies Agreement Will Be Great Aid to Country

OTTAWA, Aug. 27.—Intimation that Canada may open negotiation with a view to entering into trade treaties with the Central American and South American Republics, as well as Cuba, was made here today by H. J. Logan, M. P., who visited the West Indies last autumn as the Dominion's representative, resulting in the signing of a new trade agreement between Canada and the islands about two months ago.

TO OPEN DOOR FOR TRADE

"The Canada-West Indies agreement," he declared, "will open the door for greater trade with the South, and I have no doubt will be followed soon by negotiations for better trade arrangements with the Central American and South American Republics in addition to Cuba."

"The importance of trade with the South is shown by the fact that the exports and imports of the United States last year with the Caribbean countries, amounted to over one billion dollars.

CHANCE NEGLECTED

"We, in the Maritimes, have been trying for fifty years to combat geography and rail freight rates, while we have neglected to take advantage of our geographical position for export trade with water."

"I estimate that under the agreement with the West Indies the trade with Canada will increase by $25,000,000."

The agreement calls for improved steamship service, both passengers and freight, between the Dominion and the West Indies, and also for tariff concessions which involve numerous additions to the free list.

PYTHIANS NUMBER 400 AT CEREMONY

Decoration of Graves of Departed Members Carried Out in Impressive Manner.

The march of the Knights of Pythias through the city streets yesterday on their way to decorate the graves of departed members in Fernhill cemetery was greatly impressive. At the cemetery the ceremonies were carried out with solemnity and dignity. More than 400 marched in the parade, which left the Pythian Castle shortly after 2 o'clock, headed by Grand Chancellor Capt. J. A. Mowry, Past Grand Chancellor Bayard Stillwell, and Deputy Grand Chancellor C. T. Green, who carried large floral wreaths and pillows arranged to represent the Pythian emblem. These floral pieces were placed upon the soldiers' memorial in King square and the procession halted at that spot for a brief period while this tribute was being paid to the comrades who made the supreme sacrifice. The parade was led by Mounted Police Officer Harry Bettie. Following him was St. Mary's band. Next in order were members of the uniform rank, a detachment of Knights, Saint John Auxiliaries Band, another detachment of Knights and members of Adia Temple, D. O. K. K., the latter wearing their fees. At the cemetery bouquets were placed on each grave, in the form of a cross and the rest of the flowers were placed on the naval and military plots.

OPEN AIR SERVICE

The open air service followed. St. Mary's band played the accompaniment for the hymns. After the hymn "Unto the Hills Around" had been sung, E. E. Thomas read the scripture portion 13th chapter of I Chronicles. Following the hymn "Safe in the Arms of Jesus" Rev. J. J. Pinkerton, of Fairville, gave the address in memory of the dead knights. B. L. Sheppard extended thanks to all who had assisted in the decoration day arrangements. Rev. Mr. Torkeoff, of Vermont, offered prayer and after the benediction had been pronounced by Mr. Pinkerton the National Anthem was sung and the ceremony closed.

Curwood Praised Captains of Liners

VINEYARD HAVEN, Mass., Aug. 28.—In these days of infant green liquor, when a man with "the real stuff" is almost boss of his block, a two-quart bottle of century-old whiskey might conceivably entitle its possessor to a seat in Congress. James West of Vineyard Haven recently came upon a rare old chest which, it developed, once served as a "bum-boatman's portable bar." In the chest were six old-fashioned two-quart square bottles, all but one of which were empty. A money tin was found near the front of the chest, on the inside, as well as several old horn cups. Investigation revealed the name of David Smith, burnt on the inside of the cover. Smith, according to a Vineyard Haven history, received a liquor license in 1803, which carried with it permission to operate a bum-boatman's bar. The bum-boats formerly plied in the harbor among incoming vessels, selling merchandise as well as whatever is in that two-quart bottle.

Feigns Heart Attack And Foils Hold-Up

NEW YORK, Aug. 28.—Dramatic acting by the manager of a chain grocery store foiled a hold-up by two robbers, who later executed another successful in Newark. The man who played actor was John B. Netschert, manager of an Atlantic and Pacific grocery. Shortly before 8 o'clock he and John Passara, a clerk, were in the store when one of the robbers entered. At the command of "Throw 'em up!" Passara obeyed, but Netschert hesitated. The bandit poked his pistol against the manager's ribs. As Netschert felt the weapon he pretended the excellent had brought on an attack of heart trouble. Holding his hand over his heart he shouted, "Oh my heart! Oh my heart!" At the same time he began to stumble around the store until he reached a rear door. He then ran out in search of a policeman.

TESTIMONIES:

I was totally blind in my right eye. On the evening of Aug. 11th, was anointed and prayed for and my sight was perfectly restored. All Glory to His Name!

THOMAS W. DIXON,
304 Waterloo St., City.

The Lord has removed, through faith in Jesus' Name, a cataract which had grown over my eye. He has also healed me of serious internal troubles which have wrecked my health since 1914. Truly, I have found Jesus Christ to be the same yesterday, today and forever.

MRS. YEOMANS,
48 Clarence St., City.

Praise Jesus for His goodness to me! I was totally deaf in left ear and my sense of smell was gone as a result of catarrh. The Lord heard the clock tick in an adjoining room and sense of smell is fully restored. I give God all the glory. But, best of all, He has saved my sin sick soul. I mean to live for Him.

MRS. JOSEPH S. BARLOW,
175 Corner Erin and Haymarket Square, City.

As a result of whooping cough I was left with a serious throat trouble which caused me to cough night and day. For months have not known a good night's rest. Have been unable to sing for six months. Found no cure in medicines. The Lord has done the work. Has also healed my daughter, Jennie, of deafness. "Bless the Lord, O my soul, and forget not all His benefits."

MRS. J. W. PIKE,
52 Forest Street, City.

I was lame. My leg was drawn up as a result of the cords being knotted. My feet were curled up. I was operated upon eight times, receiving some benefit, but was by no means cured. Was still suffering agony. Thank Jesus, when I was prayed for He lengthened out the cord, straightened out my feet, and now I am able to walk like other people. Also I had a lump in my side which pained me constantly. Doctors told me it could not be removed except by an operation. It has wholly disappeared. I am so happy in Jesus. He is everything to me.

MRS. E. CRAWFORD,
128 Prince Edward St., City.

I had a serious stomach trouble, also a large lump under my arm. In answer to the simple prayer of faith, the Lord completely healed me. After receiving my own healing I had faith that if I could get my mother in from the country the Lord would touch her also. So I sent for her and she came. She was so lame and crippled from rheumatism that my two brothers carried her up the stairs to the Mission. But, thank God, after being prayed for, she walked down and went to my home on the street car. Both she and I are praising and thanking God for our deliverance.

ONE ARREST LEADS TO SECOND CAPTURE

R. Beecraft Taken on Interference Charge After James Budd is Arrested.

Two cases, one arising out of the other, were disposed of this morning by Magistrate Henderson, when he fined James Budd $8 or two months in jail for being drunk in North street, and $32 or four months for violently resisting the police, and imposed a penalty of $10 on Robert Beecraft for interfering with the police while they were arresting Budd. Budd, it was said, had been ejected a few minutes before from 72 Smythe street at the request of Florence Phillips for creating a disturbance. He pleaded guilty to being drunk, declared that he did not remember resisting the police.

Beecraft denied interfering with the police. Policeman McCavour said this man had taken several bottles of beer from Budd and had tried to strike him with one of the bottles.

Sergeant Scott said that he visited a beer shop in Mill street yesterday afternoon, with Policeman McCavour, and found Beecraft hiding there. He declared that the defendant admitted then that he had taken several bottles of beer from Budd to save him from having them on him when arrested. He said he belonged to Ontario.

HAVE FIRE FIGHT IN MIDDLE OF STREET

Department Men Cope With Outbreak Among Empty Sacks on Sloven.

The firemen had a novel kind of outbreak to combat this morning about 11 o'clock when they responded to a call from Box 27 at the corner of German and Duke streets. There they found a double team of horses, A. E. McInerney laden with empty potato sacks which were burning briskly and clouding the atmosphere with thick smoke. Roy Porter of Prince Edward street was the driver and Walton Ewart of St. David street was with him. They had loaded the sacks at the American laundry in Charlotte street where they had been put through the customary steaming process and were being transported to No. 13 baggage shed.

Noticing the heat as they drove along German street, a glance at their load showed the sacks alight at the tail of the sloven. When the firemen arrived they staged a bit of spectacular performance with the middle of the street scene. Water was played on the burning sacks and when some control was had the men threw the burning potato holders to the street where they were strewn about and drenched. The men on the team said they had not been among and did not know how the fire started.

Confusion resulting from the removal of old Irish records from the Four Courts at Dublin, Ireland, when the building was wrecked in the Irish rebellion, has considerably hampered the search being prosecuted by Lieut. He was advised to proceed to London to prosecute the search there.
