STEAMER SUNK; 32 LIVES LOST

Irma Was Sent Down By The Diamante

QUICKLY TO BOTTOM

Northern Luzon in the Philippines is Swept by Tornado—Bubonic, Cholera and Smallpox in China Causing Many Deaths

New York, July 15.—Thirty-two passengers and several members of the crew of the steamer Irma were drowned or crushed to death when the vessel was sunk by the Diamante, according to a dispatch from Port Limon, Costa Rica, published today.

The fact that most of the passengers were below on account of the heavy weather, seems to account for the heavy loss of life, as the steamer sank so quickly that there was little chance for those under decks to escape.

Manila, July 15.—Northern Luzon has been swept by a typhoon, and the observers believe that the storm was the worst in years. Details on account of the lack of communication, have not yet been received.

Burnside, Ky., July 15.—Constable W. A. Neath and A. J. Beatty were shot to death in the court house last night.

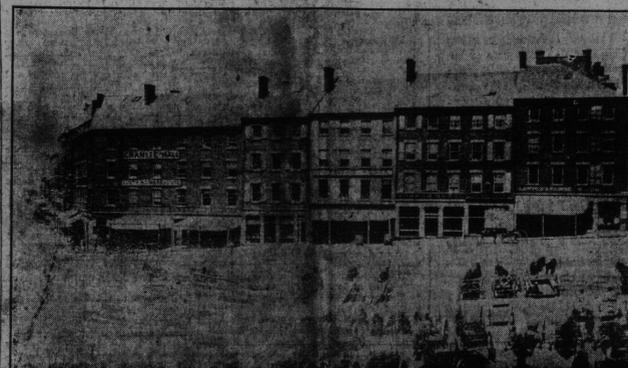

London, July 15.—(Canadian Press)—The dowager Duchess of Devonshire, who was taken suddenly ill at the Sandown Park race meeting yesterday, as a result of the excessive heat, died early this morning at Esher Place, the residence of Sir Edgar Vincent, where she expired without having regained consciousness.

Buffalo, July 15.—(Canadian Press)—Train number 5 on the Erie Railroad from New York to Buffalo, is in the ditch at Portage. Four persons are reported killed, including Engineer William Oliver of Buffalo and his fireman. Other names are not yet obtained.

Having attracted considerable attention at Sussex Camp, which they attended for the first time, the members of the 28th New Brunswick Dragoons dispersed to their homes today, thoroughly pleased with the success of their drill and staid with the praise bestowed upon them by inspecting officers for the excellent showing which they made.

New male citizens and six new female citizens were added to the population of the city during the last week, according to Registrar J. B. Jones. There also two marriages registered.

MARKET SQUARE BEFORE THE FIRE; AN INTERESTING OLD TIME VIEW

A recent picture in the olden days series which the Times has been publishing, showed one of the buildings in Market Square. Today is presented one taking in several of the business places there in the early sixties.

The portion of the square from the corner of Chipman's Hill to the corner of Dock street is shown in the picture. The signboards on the buildings have each a little story to tell. In the building now occupied by J. M. Robinson & Sons, was a large drug store conducted by Mr. Smith, father of the late A. Chipman Smith, who had done a good business at this stand.

Expected Property Would Be Bid In For Farnsworth & Jardine of Liverpool (Special to Times) Fredericton, N. B., July 15.—The property of the Alexander Gibson Railway and Manufacturing Company, consisting of mills and dwelling houses at Marysville and extensive timber lands on the New Brunswick, is to be sold under order of the equity court at 12 o'clock today.

Police Court Today In the police court this morning James Gray, arrested on charge of being drunk, profane and also resisting the police, was fined $100 and costs.

Wife Wants to Be Governor; Husband Seeking a Divorce La Crosse, Wis., July 15.—Assertion that his wife has refused to keep house for him on the ground that she intends to run for governor when women have the ballot in Wisconsin is the husband's defence to a suit for divorce begun here by Mrs. Princes W. Olsen.

Thieves Miss $4,000 Violin New York, July 15.—Thieves who forced an entrance into the office of H. Goldrey Turner, a manager of concert artists, in the Knickerbocker Theatre building, got away with two cameras, valued at $150, $5 worth of stamps and a case of drawing instruments, instead of a $4,000 Guarnerius violin, which the police think was the object of their visit.

THE TIMES' NEW REPORTER. Now if they were going to be an unparalleled demonstration it'd naturally be at Cross Creek. I don't know just where it is, but it must be quite a place. Big 'er Fredrick, I s'pose. Mr. Crockett spoke, an' when he got through they nominated a man to run for county councillor next year. It was a grand getherin' an' they had a lovely time. Mr. Crockett talked almost a hull page 'o' the Standard, an' the way he saved the country was a caution to snakes. He's a terror—Ozy is I kin jist see them steamers comin' into

Thirty Thousand Dollars to One Firm—Sale of Jewels to Pay Off Some of Her Husband's Debts

New York, July 15.—Mrs. Frances L. Wallace, wife of Allen Wallace, great-grand Commodore Vanderbilt, has obtained permission from Supreme Court Justice Govegan to sell many of her husband's jewels to pay some of the debts that have piled up against his estate.

The elder Wallace had a deep seated enmity for his daughter-in-law, Allen's wife, who wrote into his will a clause which carefully excluded Mrs. Wallace from ever obtaining any share of the $700,000 trust fund in case she survived her husband.

The jewels include eight diamond brooches, three diamond pins, one rose diamond head, one pearl scarf pin, one sapphire and emerald ring, bow knot diamond brooch, diamond locket, gold necklace and a ruby and diamond heart.

THE LUMBER MARKET

In the course of an interview given to a morning paper, Hon. J. K. Fleming in discussing the conditions in the American market is quoted as follows: "The American market is dull, but I have not heard of any slump in prices, such as was reported in one of the evening papers."

St. John, under reciprocity, with kangaroos from Australia, an Mowrie from New Zealand, an' Kafira from South Africa, pig' petaters from Russia, a cattle from the Argentine, an' butter from Switzerland, an' lakrs from India—devorin' the land an' turnin' us all out o' doors. An' then the way he showed up Laurier as the enemy of Canada. I tell you, when the news from Cross Creek is telegraphed all over the country the'll be livin' times for somebody. I wouldn't like to be in Laurier's shoes, even if they did give 'em a big time when 'e come back from London. I s'pose Ozy'll fix 'em all right."

The Anglo-Japanese Alliance Reviewed In London

WILL MAKE FOR PEACE

Times Sees Answer to Those Who Attack England's Party System—Chronicle Sees Cause For Nothing But Congratulations

London, July 15.—The editorial views of the London morning papers on the modified Anglo-Japanese alliance are colored by their attitude towards the Anglo-American arbitration project. The Morning Post opposes the latter, subjects the revised treaty to severe criticism. It says, in regard to the fourth article of the revised treaty, that when a third power proposes to enter either the alliance, its first step would be to make an arbitration treaty with the other ally.

The Chronicle, on the other hand, sees cause for nothing but congratulations. It regards article four as the happiest possible laudatory because it shows that Japan sees no reason for contemplating anything but the maintenance of friendly relations with the United States, and further because it proves that Great Britain over-comes dominion except the Japanese alliance as best for the common interests of the empire.

The other papers, while expressing doubts on the advisability of the prolongation of the alliance, which has never been popular, all agree in congratulating the government on the removal of the special danger of Great Britain becoming involved in a quarrel with the United States, and heartily welcome the new treaty as paving the way to the conclusion of an Anglo-American arbitration treaty.

The Times, in an editorial, is confident that though some chauvinists may regard the new treaty with Japan with disfavor, the great mass of people in the British Empire and the United States and Japan will rejoice that the great bulk of peace in the Far East has been confirmed, strengthened and extended.

Not often, says the Times, does the signature of any treaty bring assurance of peace to so large a part of civilized mankind as rendered all-embraced by the new treaty. "Looking at the facts," continues the paper, "that the policy of an alliance with Japan was begun by Roosevelt, continued by Laurier and consummated by Grey, the day has gone by when foreign statesmen can contend that England's party system has rendered alliance with Japan impracticable and impossible. We welcome the treaty as a condition of Anglo-American arbitration, and because it is the work of responsible statesmen of the empire."

Although it had not been expected that the revision would be so speedily arranged, the changes made coincide with public expectations and the greatest satisfaction is felt that the distant possibility of Great Britain being drawn into a conflict between Japan and the United States no longer exists.

JAPAN AND CANADA

Sir Edward Grey is the recipient of hearty congratulations on the successful and prompt negotiation of the new treaty, which is regarded as likely to facilitate the extension of the arbitration movement to other countries. The foreign office publishes the notes exchanged between Great Britain and Japan prolonging for four years article five of the Anglo-Japanese commercial treaty of 1904. In these notes it is agreed to continue the most favored nation treatment between Japan and Canada as regards customs duties and other matters.

WOMEN SEEK PLACES IN LEGISLATURE AND SENATE

Spokane, Wash., July 15.—Spokane's delegation of ten representatives and five senators in the state legislature of 1913 will include two women. The plans outlined by officers of the Women's Non-Partisan Political League and the Political Equality League of Washington are successful. The candidates probably will be Mrs. A. P. Fassett, president of the first national organization, and Mrs. May Arterwright of Washington at the last election. Mrs. Fassett announces that members of the organization have studied the Great Britain and Japan was made here today, and the text of the treaty made public. It provides for a term of ten years from date, thus adding six years to the existence of the alliance which, according to the treaty of 1902, was to expire in 1915.

Unhappy Condition of New Zealand Before Land Was Taxed into Use

The Hon. R. J. Seddon thus describes the condition to which things had come. "We had soup kitchens, shelter sheds, empty houses, men out of work, women and children wanting bread. This was how we found New Zealand in 1890. It was to be a country where the few were to be wealthy and the many were to be degraded and poverty stricken."

A BOOM AND ITS PENALTY

Vancouver Finding Out That Sadder Words Are "It Used to Be"—A Really Boomerang

(Ottawa Evening Journal) Vancouver is finding out that the saddest words are not "It might have been." This expression suggests doubt, conjecture, a possibility that nothing may have happened. The saddest of words, however, is "It used to be." All of which is applicable to what the blunt westerner would say in a second language.

The Evening Chit-Chat

By BETH CAMERON

"MAN never is, but always to be."—Pope. "Some of us are always putting off our enjoyment. AFTER A WHILE we expect to take a rest, visit a friend or read a book, but that time never comes. All life is spent in meaning to overtake it, and enjoy it. Meanwhile we toil, drudge and grow old, passing by with unseeing eyes the happiness we might get out of every day."

It seems to me the first line of that quotation might well read "most of the time" instead of "some of the time."

For how rare is the person who doesn't go through life that way. "Somebody we must get a chance to look up that old school friend who is living in the next town, we say."

Somebody we must get a chance to look up that old school friend who is living in the next town, we say. "Somebody we must get a chance to look up that old school friend who is living in the next town, we say."

Now is the time to take that rest, visit that friend, see that picture, hear that music, do that thing, do that thing, do that thing.

How dare we leave these happinesses to somebody. Why "Somebody" is a long way beyond tomorrow and tomorrow—who knows that tomorrow shall ever be? The favorite saying of one of the wisest men I ever knew was "There is no such thing as tomorrow."

Let us lay hold of the happinesses of today. Do we not go through life blindly thinking that some fair tomorrow will bring us the gift we missed today? "Knostrud beer, they are not happy, today they shall never be happy."

La MARQUISE DE FONTENOY

Millions Come, But Too Late For Murder Investigator Honor For Physician To King George—The Sovereign And The Costermongers

(Copyright, 1911, by the Brentwood Company) Last spring Countess Patrick O'Brien de Lacy, a conspicuous figure of St. Petersburg court society and of the Moscow aristocracy, being descended from one of those Irish and Scotch well born soldier families who were induced by Peter the Great to enter his service 200 years ago, was sentenced to penal servitude for life in the most remote corner of North Siberia, for having seduced his confederate, Dr. Petekobko, to poison, by means of cholera and typhoid germs, certain relatives in the expectation of inheriting fortunes that would otherwise have gone to their credit.

His wife's only brother, Major Count Vassil Boutoulin, was one of the victims of an attempt to murder O'Brien de Lacy's father-in-law, old General Count Boutoulin, which did not kill him, but rendered him an invalid.

O'Brien de Lacy endeavored to stay the prosecution by having all the scandal of his father-in-law's life, but without avail, and when he was convicted and given by the courts the extreme penalty of life in Siberia, that is, penal servitude for life, his wife, who had persisted against all evidence in believing in the innocence of the husband, was left with a devotedly attached, but her reason, disappeared, and has never been seen since.

General Boutoulin had a widow and childless sister, Mme. de Lasari, who was the object of an attempt upon her life by Dr. Petekobko, at the instance of Count O'Brien de Lacy. She recovered, but the object of her experience, that she did not consider herself safe any longer in St. Petersburg, convinced that every one who knew her money, and took up her residence in Paris where she made every effort to conceal her identity and to live in the most quiet and unobtrusive manner.

She died suddenly two weeks ago in Paris, of heart disease, and now her fortune, amounting to $100,000, goes, as her will directs, to her only child, a girl, who is now in the hands of the French authorities. She died quite suddenly two weeks ago in Paris, of heart disease, and now her fortune, amounting to $100,000, goes, as her will directs, to her only child, a girl, who is now in the hands of the French authorities.

Would Be Wealthy

At the time when O'Brien de Lacy conceived the idea of murdering and instigating his execution, he was overwhelmed with debts and was impatient for money. Had he been a little longer in St. Petersburg, he would have been placed beyond the reach of any further pecuniary difficulties.

Many people are convinced that the missing countess is dead. But since it is necessary to establish her demise before the estate can be settled, the search for her will be renewed, and will extend to this side of the Atlantic, for it is considered just possible that she may, after recovering her reason, have sought refuge and complete oblivion from the terrible past in America.

Honor For Physician

Unique among the honors conferred by King George on the occasion of his coronation, was that bestowed by him upon one of his favorite physicians, who had likewise been the principal physician of his father, and of his grandmother, Queen Victoria, namely, Sir James Reid. According to an official announcement by the Marquis of Salisbury, George V. has by warrant conferred the order of the Bath upon Sir James Reid.

Kindly Act of King and Queen

By degrees, a number of little pieces of kindly thought and consideration on the part of King George and Queen Mary are becoming known and contributing to still further increase the growing sympathy with which they are being regarded by the masses. It seems that both of them have a warm corner in their hearts for that very picturesque class of London street traders known as costermongers, and with the view of showing them some token of regard, invited the presidents and secretaries of the Whitechapel and Spitalfields Costermongers' Unions to visit the coronation procession from seats specially set apart for them in the stand reserved for the order of the Bath.

Family Cured of Eczema

By Cuticura Remedies

"The Cuticura treatment has absolutely cured me and my family of eczema which I, my wife and two-year-old child had for eight months. It started with small pimples on the head of my child which gradually broke out in sores, and it was not long before I and my wife got the same. Our hands were one mass of sores, we could not sleep and the itching was terrible. We suffered for eight months. We tried different kinds of ointments and medicines but it did us no good and soon it began to break out on our bodies until a friend who had had the same trouble told me about Cuticura of which I used two ointments. Sore, Cuticura Ointment and Cuticura Remedies, and I was surprised. After the first few days our heads began to heal and in two months we were absolutely cured of this terrible disease."

(Signed) Eugene Potovsky, 551 Ralph St., Brooklyn, N.Y.

Facts About Motherhood

The experience of Motherhood is a trying one to most women and marks distinctly an epoch in their lives. Not only does a woman in a hundred cases of pregnancy or delivery experience some of the most trying and painful moments of her life, but she is often called upon to care for a child, with all the evidence of shattered nerves and broken health, resulting from an unprepared condition, women persist in going blindly to the trial. It isn't as though the experience came upon them unawares. They have ample time in which to prepare, but they, for the most part, trust to chance and pay the penalty.

In many homes one childless there are now children because of the fact that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound makes women normal, healthy, and strong.

Any woman who would like special advice in regard to this matter is cordially invited to write to Mrs. Pinkham at Lynn, Mass. Her letter will be held in strict confidence.

OUR WHITE RIBBON. (Clara Clendinning, Winnipeg, Manitoba) Only a knot of ribbon, a tiny bow of white, But it stands for God and heaven and everything that's right. It stands for home and country, and all that's good and true, And they who gladly wear it, the Master's work will do; It rests on hearts, determined, whatever comes or goes. To purify our Nation and fight our deadly foes; It urges on to victory, knows not the word "defeat." Entreat those who wear it, their God in prayer to meet. We prize thee, knot of ribbon, we love thee, bow of white, That stands for home and country and everything that's right.

SMUGGLING CASE TO BE CONTESTED

Fashionable Dressmakers of New York Will Fight

MATTER OF MONUMENTS

One of Washington in London, One of Gladstone in Capital of States—Nat Goodwin's Memoirs—Making Business Harder For The Crook

(Times Special Correspondent)

New York, July 14.—Insisting that the government has been ill advised in its prosecution of the firm for undervaluing importations of gowns and lingerie sold to its wealthy patrons here "Lucille, Ltd.", the fashionable English dressmaking establishment of which Lady Duff-Gordon is alleged to be the head, has given notice to the authorities that it intends fighting the case brought against it.

Several weeks ago the customs house officials made a raid on the establishment on the strength of statements issued to have been made to them confidentially by a former employee of the concern, who charged that importations made by the corporation had been given a fictitious value in order to escape the excessive duties imposed on supplies of the character handled by it. The manager and several other officials of the corporation were arrested, preliminary to an exhaustive inquiry into the charges, which are said to cover an extensive period.

Lady Duff-Gordon, who arrived in the city from England the day the raid was made on Lucille, denied that the firm had been engaged in any systematic plan of evading the government out of its customs duties so far as she was aware. She also asserted that she had no part in the direct management of the New York concern, which she said was operating under an agreement by which she allowed them to use her name. When the examination in the case was called the other day, the manager of the corporation pleaded guilty to the charge and indicated his intention of contesting the government's claim.

Suggestion as to Statues

W. T. Stead's suggestion at the Fourth of July celebration held in London last week under the auspices of American veterans of the Civil War, now resident in the city of George Washington in the English capital on the completion of the agreement pending between the two countries, has been met with a counter proposal to rear a statue of William Howard Taft or some other distinguished and progressive son of British heritage.

In the past, statues of bronze and stone have been erected in the public parks of New York to foreigners who have achieved "big things in the world of art and literature but today they are practically all Germans and Frenchmen. No attempt has ever been made to perpetuate the fame of a British citizen in this city and until now no suggestion to do so has ever commanded public attention. Objections were highly repeated in New York and it is the successful negotiation of the new peace treaty, sponsored by President Taft and Premier Asquith, is to be celebrated on the other side by the memorial to Washington, it will be likely that the movement to reciprocate the friendly sentiment by a similar courtesy on this side will assume concrete shape.

Goodwin's Memoirs

Although intending it as a joke on Maxine Elliot, his former wife, the memoirs of Nat Goodwin, the comedian, in which he discusses her predilection for entertaining noblemen during their summer vacation in England a few years ago, the riot to think the joke is very much on the actor. The statement of Goodwin that while strolling with his butler through the grounds of the English estate he leased for the occasion, he passed an open window and overheard one of his guests, Lord (name not mentioned)—making love to the glorious Maxine and quizzing her for lack of taste in marrying "such an insignificant, vulgar little fellow," has got New York on its case.

When he says that his wife used him for a stepping stone to histrionic fame and prestige, New York quite agrees with him. For that has been the history of each of his four wives. Goodwin, who is probably the most finished comedian on the American stage has always had a faculty of making money, which he has been ever ready to lavish on the women, who held his fancy for the moment. Unfortunately for him all of his wives have appreciated this and while their obituary has been in the papers, each in turn, particularly Maxine Elliot and Edna Goodrich, her successor in his affections, have conspired to help him spend his money with a free hand.

New Way to Outwit the Crook

With the world-wide spread of crimes of cunning and craft, K. M. Turner, an inventor of this city, who has been a close student of Lombroso for many years, declares that society must protect itself in the future by enlisting the aid of science in their detection. The strong popular

50 Million Corns Removed

Think of that. A little plaster, with a dot of soft B & B wax, has removed already fifty million corns. And very few are now removed in any other way. The plaster is applied in a jiffy. It is harmless, painless, comfortable. The pain all stops the second you apply it. Within two days the corn comes out. Now millions of people suffer from corns. As soon as they feel one they put on Blue-jay and the pain ends instantly. In 48 hours the corn is gone. It is really to nurse corns, pain then, prevent them from coming back. Blue-jay plaster ends the trouble entirely. It costs but a few cents.

ment against the continued employment of "the third degree" and other harsh means of extorting confessions of guilt from suspects has of late disarmed the authorities of most American cities of one of their most formidable weapons in firing responsibility for crimes and unscrupulous criminals.

The conviction of Rodney J. Diegle, sergeant-at-arms of the Ohio State Senate on a charge of acting as a go-between for real legislators willing to sell their votes for a money consideration, Mr. Turner believes, foreshadows a complete change in police methods both here and abroad. Diegle was convicted on evidence obtained by means of a dictograph, a highly sensitized telephone, concealed beneath a lounge in a hotel room in which the barter in votes took place. A court stenographer stationed in an adjoining room with a receiver of the instrument to his ear, transcribed the conversation between the sergeant-at-arms, legislators and detectives and supplied the corroboration necessary to convict.

The instrument is now installed in police headquarters in this city, and some interesting developments are looked for there, as a result of its future use. By equipping cells with it, Turner says it will be possible to have a correct record kept of the confessions of prisoners, that will be of immense advantage to the police in working up their cases. Two persons suspected of complicity in the same crime, when placed in a single cell will be sure to discuss their case and frame up their defence.

there, in the firm belief that what they say is not overheard.

Now that public attention is being focused on the marital troubles of his sister, Ethel Barrymore, the actress, and Russell Graveland, her husband, Jack Barrymore is feeling much relieved these days. For several weeks he has been the subject of much unpleasant publicity as a result of the quarrel between Mr. and Mrs. Sydney Harris, the divorced parents of his young wife, who married him against the wishes of her father. Harris attributes most of the differences with his wife to her fondness for actors as a class and her apparent determination that their daughter, sent by the father to a Paris convent to be cured of her fancy for Barrymore, should marry him.

The objection of the elder Harris for Barrymore was in large measure due to the association of his name several years ago with that of Evelyn Nesbit Thaw, wife of the slayer of Stanford White and sister-in-law of the former Lady Yarnmouth (Alice Thaw). The rift in the matrimonial life of the Colts has been predicted practically ever since their marriage two years ago. Colt is a son of the head of the rubber trust, and has been turning up money for several years. When soon after the birth of their baby, Mrs. Colt returned to the stage, she suspected that the former star had not found marriage as congenial as she had hoped because a settled condition among her getting goods past the customs lines by means of double bottomed and so-called "sleeper" trunks, there has been a noticeable increase of the foreign mails coming here.

An investigation into the character of the mail, recently instituted, indicates that an extensive and apparently organized system of smuggling is being employed to defraud the government by means of the parcel post, as well as through the ordinary mail. Valuable lace, jewels and trinkets are being brought in through this channel.

some of the packages being represented as non-dutiable goods and others grossly undervalued. In the hope of checking the new practice, by which it is estimated the government has been deprived of large revenues, the collector has given orders for a closer scrutiny of all mail matter coming to this port.

Through the untimely death of former Mayor Smith Ely, the Rev. Dr. J. H. H. Jowett, a noted English divine, now pastor of the fashionable Fifth Avenue Presbyterian Church in this city, will lose the $100,000 he was promised in the spring for the elaboration of the charity work of the congregation. Dating back to the days of Dr. John Hall's pastorate, the church has engaged in extensive charities among the poor of the city. Impressed with the good that had been done in this field, Mr. Ely offered to give the church $100,000 if it would raise an additional $400,000 and

HEARTY FAREWELL AT LIVERPOOL

Scene as Canadians Sailed For Home

CONNAUGHT'S SPEECH

Address at The Imperial Institute Won Most Favorable Comment—Nova Scotia's Agent General—Manitoba's Premier Had Talk With King George

(Times Special Correspondent)

London, July 4.—When Sir Wilfrid Laurier and his party left London for Liverpool en route to Canada, the occasion was marked by a scene of much Canadian interest. Among those who had gathered to bid the coronation guests farewell were Lord Strathcona, accompanied by his daughter, the Hon. Mrs. Howard; W. L. Orfitoff, secretary to the high commissioner's office, G. Meli Brown, European manager of the C. P. R. (who travelled with the distinguished party to Liverpool and Lady Borden, who is staying in England to look after her son-in-law, Captain L. B. Mason of the visiting Canadian contingent, who met with a rather serious accident during the royal procession, and Col. Sam Hughes, who was also present.

Previous to the departure of the ordinary boat train, two special trains were dispatched with the Canadian troops on board. To your correspondent Major Sharples said before leaving, "We all have enjoyed our stay in England thoroughly; the hospitality has been unbounded, and we take with us to Canada pleasant recollections of the kindness showered upon us. It has been an interesting, instructive and enjoyable time for the whole of the contingent."

Lord Chief Justice, who commanded the overseas troops during the coronation period, witnessed the departure of the Canadian contingent, and as the train drew out, the band of the Scots Guards regiments, one of the most popular regiments in London, played "Auld Lang Syne." It was a stirring scene.

Date of Connaught's Speech

One of the events of the week has been the speech of the Duke of Connaught at the Dominion Day dinner. It astonished the English journalists who listened to it quite as much as the Canadian visitors, and was the topic of conversation which surrounded that of the chilliness of the atmosphere among three or four thousand guests at the uncomfortably crowded reception in the grounds of the Imperial Institute afterwards.

In delivery, as in matter in its intimate allusions to the family life of royalty, as in the affectionate nature of his reference to Canadians, the speech was in perfect taste. One of the guests, a provincial gentleman, remarked: "That is a speech I would have been impossible, from any point of view, for any member of any other royal family to have made anywhere."

So great was the crush to reach the dock rooms, even as late as 11 p. m. that the writer saw several give up the attempt to get in, while many others left almost immediately that they realized just what the congestion was. The Imperial Institute is not structurally adapted to such a function anyway, while on Friday night there was nothing to show the visitors which way to go to spread themselves out, so that the staircases became blocked. Moreover, it was a chilly evening and those who did find their way to the gardens did not care to stop there.

Probably the royal guests were the main nets that drew all Canada in London to the reception, but as a matter of fact comparatively few presentations were made to the future governor-general and his lady, a fact which probably caused disappointment to many who hoped to bow to royalty.

In the upper Canadian gallery a special exhibition of pictures by the late Henry Sandham, B. C. A. was on view.

Entertained Nova Scotians

J. Howard, agent-general for Nova Scotia, and Mrs. Howard, entertained a party of guests on Thursday last on the occasion of the royal procession to the Guild Hall, which passed Mr. Howard's residence in Pall Mall. Among the guests were Hon. J. W. Armstrong of the legislative council in the Nova Scotia government; M. J. Armstrong of Burma, India, who has just returned after a long spell of missionary work in the east; Rev. Dr. Sedgwick, an eminent Nova Scotia divine; Frederick Campbell, a brother of Rev. P. Campbell of City Temple fame, and who was appointed recently by the Dominion government as emigration agent in the territories of Nova Scotia, Dr. and Mrs. Harris, and Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Jenks, and C. Keith Morris.

Had Talk With King

Now that the great festivities are over opportunities are being formed for closer intimacies and more practical work. That agricultural show at Norwich was a revelation to me, and I would not have missed it for all the functions I have been at, said a western M. P. to the writer. The premier of Manitoba and the minister of agriculture of Ontario were other who got some practical hints out of their Norwich visit. The former, by the way had a long conversation with King George at Norwich, and was I hear, much struck with his wonderful memory. A good memory for faces as well as for events one of the assets of King Edward, who also had the rare faculty of putting the right name and title to the face he remembered.

NICKEL
Nickel matinees today are expected to draw bumper houses and this cozy theatre is so delightfully cool that all may enjoy the splendid programme and entirely forget the warm weather outside. The kiddies will be pleased with the pictures; in the Spring Round-Up, the work of the cowboys and the rush of the cattle will interest them. They will also laugh heartily at The Inheritance, the story of a poor German florist who learns that he is one of the heirs of an estate in Australia. A friendly reporter writes him up and he gets all kinds of credit for the strength of the publicity, but unfortunately he finds that he is really worth but thirty cents. Another funny comedy is Ed Her Right. A superb dramatic picture is The Attonement, the story of a millionaire who thought that money was everything and his greed cost him the life of his child. Charming Gertrude Dudley in splendid voice and the pretty numbers she will sing today should be highly appreciated. Harry Dudley will as-

SPORT NEWS OF A DAY, HOME AND ABROAD

Sporting Notes
A. Rudolph, of New York, and George Keffel, a Syrian, boxed ten rounds in the Davidge theatre in Moncton last night. The bout was very tame, and was poorly attended.
Michael Thomas, an Abegweit Indian, won the Patriot annual ten mile race in Charlottetown yesterday. His time was 62 minutes and 34 seconds.

Local Notes
Woodstock, 12; Marathons 5. This was the result of an exhibition game on the Marathons grounds yesterday afternoon. The Greeks had a new pitcher named Upan in the box, and to say that the Woodstock boys took kindly to his abjects would be putting it mildly. No less than six runs were scored off his delivery in the first inning, and he was immediately replaced by Nesbit. Morris and Urquhart pitched for the winners. The game was called by rain at 10:30.

The Big Leagues
National league yesterday--Boston 7, St. Louis 5; Cincinnati 4, Philadelphia 5; Chicago-Brooklyn, and Pittsburgh New York games off on account of rain.

The Ring
A Past Bout.
In the first of a double windup at the Twentieth Century A. C., New York, on Wednesday night, Young Wagner had the better of Young Britt, of Baltimore, after ten rounds of sensational milling. These clever bantams were last and willing, and from the first bell to the final gong there was something doing all the time.

The Turf
Local Races
The St. John Driving Club will hold races at Moosepath Trotting Park on August 3, 4 and 5. This was decided at a meeting of the executive last night.

THE EVIDENCE
When the ants are in the pickles, and the flies are in the pie, when the daddy-long-legs tickles, and the gnat gets in your eye; when the fuzzy caterpillars tumble in the ferns, and then you know you're at a picnic and it's ninety in the shade.
Gentry, Me., is boasting of three unusual families. In the family of Monroe Hopkins of that town there are nineteen children, the eldest of them 35 years old and none of them twins. The father is 50 years old and the mother 45. In the family of Mrs. Eliza Manion there are five generations, the combined ages of the five being nearly 300 years. In the family of Mrs. Eliza Kier are six sons, who are of the same height and who weigh exactly the same.

DOMINION CABINET APPROVES AGREEMENT ON VALLEY RAILWAY

Ottawa, July 14--Your correspondent learned this evening that the agreement reached a short time ago between the Minister of Public Works and Acting Premier Fleming and his colleagues as to the standard for construction of the St. John Valley Railway, namely, the portion between St. John and Fredericton, to be of the same grade as the national Transcontinental, and the Grand portion between Fredericton and Grand Falls to have no grade exceeding one per cent per mile; the rails to be of the national Transcontinental standard of eighty pounds per yard, was discussed in council today and approved of.

THE COTTON MARKET

E. & C. Randolph's cotton market letter from New York to J. M. Robinson & Sons says: "We must still make allowance for the nervousness of the world's trade following two inadequate crops. Possibly it will require no very great decline from the present level to find a price at which this nervousness will begin to assert itself in lessened aggressiveness on the short side and support sufficient to form another point of resistance from which itself may occur followed by another period of irregularity, pending a fresh view of the crop outlook, but in this matter the market will naturally be governed by daily weather reports, and it would seem that the buyer must rely upon a crop scare during August."

WILL LIVE IN CALGARY

Miss Emily M. White Will Become Mrs. Roy Mosher at Caledon Ceremony This Afternoon

The home of Mr. and Mrs. John Giggie, Ludlow street, West End, will be the scene of a very pretty wedding this afternoon at 4 o'clock, when Miss Emily Marie White, of Whitehead, N. B., will be united in marriage to Roy Mosher, of Calgary, Alberta. Mr. and Mrs. Mosher will perform the ceremony in the presence of a few of the intimate friends of the bride and groom.

The bride will be attired in a white satin dress with white beaded net overdress, and will be attended by Miss Emily Marie White, of Whitehead, N. B., who will carry a bouquet of white roses. After the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Mosher will leave on the Boston boat for a trip to Boston and New York, after which they will go to Calgary, where they will reside, and where Mr. Mosher is engaged in the real estate business.

The bride's going away dress will be of black tulle with black net trimmed with black ostrich tips. Many handsome presents were received by both the bride and groom from many friends in this city and elsewhere. The groom's present to the bride was a handsome pearl necklace.

VISITING PRIESTS

(New Freeman)

Rev. Charles A. Finnigan of Grotton, Mass., and Rev. J. M. Woods, S. J., of Woodstock, Md., were the guests of the Rev. A. J. O'Neil, Silver Falls, during the week. Father Woods gave a retreat to the priests of the diocese two years ago and is now returning from similar work in P. E. I.

Rev. W. Condon, C. S. C., professor of St. Laurent College, Montreal, was a visitor to the city on Friday. Father Condon will spend some time in Moncton.

Rev. P. LeCourtois, Superior of the Holy Heart Seminary, Halifax, was the guest of the Good Shepherd on Friday. Father LeCourtois was the preacher at the retreat this week of the priests of the diocese of Chatham. He was accompanied by Rev. Father Finsault.

The priests of the diocese of St. John will leave in Monday for the college, where they will commence their retreat on Monday evening. All the priests will attend with the exception of the few that it will be absolutely necessary to leave at home to attend sick calls and other work. Father O'Brien will remain in charge of the palace and Father Donohue will be in charge at Fredericton and the vicinity.

MARITIME BOARD OF TRADE

The secretary of the Maritime Board of Trade has sent out a circular to the boards of trade asking for subjects for discussion at the meeting at Moncton on August 16 and following days. As a rule much aptness is shown by the affiliated boards with respect to this matter. The circular states that, as this is the yearly parliament of the leading business men of the three provinces, a prompt and active interest should be taken in the subjects to be debated and that a little of the energy of the western grain-growers infused into our boards of trade would be good—the western man is intensely in earnest and impresses people with the fact.

Moncton is central and the Intercolonial train service very complete so the attendance ought to be large.

FIRE LOSS ADJUSTMENT

C. E. L. Jarvis who has been adjusting the fire loss at Elmstead, N. S., gives the adjustment of I. B. Schaffner & Co's stock of the building was in New York but as far as could be ascertained the building, which was a total loss, was insured for $2,800.

In connection with the adjustment of the loss in the Christ Church Cathedral, Fredericton, Mr. Jarvis said that until the plans of the church could be obtained nothing could be done. These are locked up in the vault in the cathedral and they would have to await the return of Bishop Richardson to get them.

TALK WITH NEW SECRETARY ON PLANS IN MIND

Fish, Forest and Game Protection Association Work to Be Prosecuted With Even More Vigor—An Information Bureau

With a new charter giving it greater power, anticipated financial aid from the provincial government, and a large and active membership, the New Brunswick Fish, Forest and Game Protective Association is looking forward to a banner year. The newly appointed secretary Wilbur W. Gerow, who is showing a deep personal interest in the association has taken hold of the work with enthusiasm. He is making a thorough canvass of the members getting them to renew subscriptions, and endeavoring to get their assistance and any suggestions they may have to offer for the general welfare of the association and the advancement of its work.

He has been explaining what has already been accomplished, including the recent incorporation and will be pleased to give a copy of the new charter. New by-laws are being drawn up and copies will be mailed to members when completed and printed. The new secretary is desirous that members interest their sportsmen friends in the work that they may become members and thereby make the body more powerful. With larger and more representative membership measures will be more readily gotten through the legislature for the better protection of forest, fish and game.

Mr. Gerow is desirous that members keep an eye on conditions in the associations interest, and as the violation of the game laws, with a view to having offenders prosecuted. He would also be glad to have any information that will be of general use to be kept on file. With the increased power given by the charter the association is empowered to appoint its own wardens and they will have the same powers as those appointed by the government. Under the arrangement the association will retain half of the fines collected from convictions and these amounts will go towards the extra expense incurred. The association will also work in conjunction with the proper authorities to get the better enforcement of the law and the secretary will get in touch immediately with government officials with this view.

In the matter of dumping sawdust in streams a complaint has been registered on the session against Michael Walsh, fore-dumping sawdust in the south branch of the South West Miramichi. They will also get in touch with the Game Association to get information regarding fishing and hunting, hotel accommodation, etc., and an information bureau may be established.

HAD TO BE HELPED OUT OF THE DITCHES

Massachusetts Auto Tourists Have Nice Experiences on the Hazen Government Roads in New Brunswick

Two gentlemen who motored from Wellfleet, Mass., to North Sydney, told the North Sydney Herald of their experience on the New Brunswick roads. They made good time between St. John and Sussex, but here is what they said of the run from St. Stephen to St. John.

"The trip from St. Stephen to St. John, in long stretches, was made over nearly impassible roads of mud and rocks. On two occasions the car skidded into the ditches up to her hubs. The travelers were fortunate in both instances in having men happen along to help extricate them, one of the rescuers being a driver of a lumber wagon, who used his load to good advantage."

ON THE HOMEWARD VOYAGE

A letter received by Mrs. William J. Davis, of 169 Waterloo street, from her husband, Capt. Davis, describes the recent voyage of the Boreas, Calcutta from San Francisco to Yokohama, Japan. The trip across the Pacific took fifty-nine days, and a rough weather was encountered. There were no winds strong enough, during the entire trip to necessitate the taking in of the sails.

The vessel belongs to the fleet of the Standard Oil Company and the cargo was destined for the Yokohama branch. There was no call made on the trip to the east, but the Hawaii Islands were sighted on the right hand, making the task to wrestle with the head winds of the southern limit of 18 degrees north latitude was tedious.

After remaining at the Japanese emporium for ten days to discharge her cargo and take in supplies of provisions and water, the Calcutta cleared for the return trip to San Francisco on June 28. A water ballast was also taken aboard.

After arriving at port, Captain Davis will make an immediate trip across the continent to this city. He will probably arrive here during the first week of August. Captain Davis is accompanied by Harry D. Breen, of this city.

Mrs. Davis is not unacquainted with the dangers, and the delights of the life upon the deep. She has often accompanied her husband on lengthy voyages to different parts of the world. On one occasion Captain and Mrs. Davis made the trip around the globe by the water route.
