CAMPAIGN NOTES.

Mr. Hazen Outlines the Opposition Policy.

What the Beacon Says About Charlotte County—Notes Here and There.

Mr. Hazen is not worrying about Sunbury. He says that in every part of the county men are supporting him and Mr. Glasier who at the last election opposed them.

Mr. Blair's statement about Mr. Tweedie's part in the last federal election in Northumberland has aroused strong antagonism among liberals in that county, and they will support the opposition.

Parker Glasier, Lewis H. Bliss and Henry Mitchell addressed a rousing opposition meeting at Fredericton Junction last evening.

An enthusiastic organization meeting of the coalition party was held at St. Stephen last evening, at which rousing speeches were made by Hon. Geo. F. Hill, Go. J. Clarke, W. H. C. Grimmer and others.

H. F. McLeod has accepted the nomination tendered him on Saturday by the opposition convention of York county.

Messrs. Anderson and Agar are meeting with a splendid reception in the county and will poll a very large vote. The situation in the county is all that the opponents of the government could wish.

THE CARLETON MEETING. The opposition party held an enthusiastic meeting in the City hall, Carleton, last evening.

Mr. Hazen showed up the hollowness of the cry to divide on federal lines, which the Globe and so many old time liberals repudiate, pointed out the record of Mr. Tweedie with regard to the winter port, dealt with the steel bridge question, the notorious immigration handbook, the fisheries question and other matters, in the most effective manner.

During his speech Mr. Hazen announced his policy as leader of the opposition in definite and emphatic form. He declared his desire for a secret ballot, for the reduction of the present taxation, and an equitable basis for the appointment of an auditor general who shall hold office unless dismissed by a three-fourth or four-fifth vote of the whole house, and not be open to dismissal at the whim of the government.

A correspondent writing from York county says: "I am a resident of York county, and I have to say that I do hope Mr. Hazen shall be successful. It looks evident that the opposition will carry Charlotte. In York, our strongest encampment of success lies in the fact that the Gleaner is supporting the government. He (the editor) has always proven to be a 'lion'."

RUSH THE WORK. How is work progressing at the various ward headquarters of the opposition? Have steps been taken to bring everybody in and get them interested in the routine work to be done? Are the young men, the popular men, the men who know everybody, at the helm? There is only another week to do the work.

THE STRIFE IN CHARLOTTE. (St. Andrews' Beacon, Liberal) The strife over the election in this county is narrowing itself down to a struggle for supremacy between the old leaders of the liberal party and a section of the younger element of that party. No matter which way it goes it must prove damaging to liberal interests.

gether, if it is submitted to a vote of the people we believe that with the powerful influence Mr. Hill's friends can exert his course will be upheld. The result of such a vote must be to open still wider the breach between the two wings of the party.

QUESTION FOR LIBERALS. Perhaps it has never occurred to thinking liberals that Mr. Blair is taking a course in this contest that may drive out of the party, permanently, men who were liberals long before he espoused the cause.

HAZEN WILL WIN. (Moncton Times) An upper province commercial man who was in town yesterday said that after visiting nearly every section of the province and talking with business men from a disinterested standpoint, he had come to the conclusion that the government would be defeated.

IS IT MURDER?

The Body of a Young Child Found This Morning.

Frozen in the Mud Just Above Suspension Bridge on Fairville Side.

The white, frozen body of a naked baby was found this morning not far from the Suspension bridge, buried almost out of sight in the ice and flint-like mud.

The find was made between ten and eleven o'clock. William Morrison, an employe of Cushing's pulp mill, was working on the logs in the pond in the west eddy, just around the point above the bridges.

The body was found in the sunlight just above where the water laps at high tide mark. Jumping ashore he was horrified to see the legs of an infant, frozen and protruding from a mass of solidly frozen mud and water.

As quickly as possible he dug the little body from its grave and carried it to a place where the concealed dirt could be washed away. Beneath was a baby boy, apparently of only a few days old, perfectly formed, well preserved, entirely naked with no signs of violence upon the body anywhere.

Mr. Morrison at once conveyed the knowledge of his discovery to Constable Geo. Moore of Fairville, who later wrapped the body up and carried the pitiful little burden out to Coroner Robinson's, who will make arrangements for holding an inquest.

A SNOWFLAKE. A snowflake, like a hailstone, is formed on a particle of dust in the upper atmosphere. It begins its career at the top of a cloud, many miles above the earth and passes in its downward course through many atmospheric strata, differing in their temperature and the quantity of moisture they contain.

GUTTA PERCHA. The multiplication of companies for the growth of rubber trees in Mexico has turned attention to the gutta percha tree of Brazil. It was only recently that the Brazilians found out the value of the balata tree as a producer of the gum that makes gutta percha.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Feb. 19.—The steamer Goldsboro, Philadelphia to New York, collided with a four-masted schooner off the Little Egg Harbor Life Saving Station today. The schooner sank in a few minutes. It is thought the Goldsboro rescued the crew.

IT WAS HORRIBLE.

Train Crashed Into Trolley car at Great Speed.

Eight or Nine Children Killed and Fifteen Injured, Some Fatally Hurt.

NEWARK, N. J., Feb. 19.—Running at almost full speed a train on the Delaware, Lackawana, and Western R. R. crashed into a trolley car loaded with pupils on their way to the high school this morning.

Eight or nine children were killed. At least fifteen were injured, some probably fatally. The accident occurred at the Clifton avenue crossing, long noted as a dangerous spot.

The trolley car was one of the special vehicles which the North Jersey Street Railway Co. runs between eight and nine o'clock, five mornings in the week for the special accommodation of high school pupils.

The scene of the accident resembled a shambly. Dead and injured children lay everywhere. The engineer was dazed at the sight and it was almost necessary to drag him from the engine.

ST. JOHN STAR. ST. JOHN, N. B., FEBRUARY 19, 1903. THE REAL ISSUE.

Each day brings home to the government party in this city more forcibly the weakness of their cause and candidates. Had a provincial liberal convention been called, and a straight fight on federal lines decreed for every constituency, there would be some reason for such a division in St. John, and for Mr. Blair to take a deep interest in the contest.

As the Star pointed out a few days ago, the provincial government has to deal with matters which affect the people more closely than does dominion legislation. It is the local legislation that looks after the roads and bridges, the schools, the timber lands and other public lands, the game and fish preserves and other things the affairs of which should be wisely and honestly administered.

The opposition ticket in St. John is a particularly strong one from every point of view. Mr. Shaw is a man of experience in the legislature, and a man of business training and experience. Mr. Wilson has been a member of the St. John city council, and has a personal knowledge of civic affairs, besides being a successful business man and an employer of labor.

Since it is the federal government that is to give more aid to the dry dock, and since Mr. Blair thinks that the government may favorably consider this and other matters affecting St. John, why drag in the dock as an issue in a provincial campaign? Would Mr. Hazen not be as favorable toward that project as Mr. Tweedie, who once sneered at the idea of St. John becoming a winter port? What has federal aid to a dry dock got to do with good or bad legislation at Fredericton?

St. John, Charlotte, Carleton, Northumberland, Westmorland—keep your eye on them. They're practically safe for the opposition. And there are others. The tide is setting stronger daily against the government. The persistence of the appeal on federal issues has set people thinking who were perhaps not giving much attention to politics. And when they do think, and study the government plan of campaign, they are convinced that it is time for a change. They would prefer a government that could stand alone on the merits of its own deeds.

Those who oppose the Tweedie government declare that it has not been economical or even ordinarily careful in its administration of public affairs. It is held that members of the government have charged too much for their own services, have given too much money to favorite contractors for work that was not well done, and have been altogether too free in granting privileges and franchises to companies whose only object was the spoliation of the province for their personal profit. To these charges the government has made no satisfactory reply.

The St. Andrews' Beacon, liberal, makes this reply to the Telegraph's charge that the Charlotte county proposed compromise was disgraceful:—"The stuffing of the voters' list in Kings county, which the virtuous editor of the Telegraph may have some recollection of, was black as midnight as compared with the compact entered into in this county."

Attempts will be made to split the vote of those who are opposed to the government. All sorts of sectional and personal appeals will be made. If any man is opposed to the government his duty is plain. Vote the whole opposition ticket. Those who are not for the opposition are against it, and their appeals should not be heeded for a moment. Vote the ticket. It is time for a change.

The Gazette says the opposition press and speakers do not deal with the issues of the campaign. That is just what the opposition desires—to deal with the real issues. But Mr. Blair and the government party are trying with all their power to bring in an issue entirely foreign to the situation. They are trying to win on a foul. But they will be declared out, just the same, on Feb. 28th.

A good many people would like to know where Mr. Tweedie is "at" in the Charlotte embroglio. Both sides are claiming his sympathy.—St. Andrews' Beacon.

Read on another page what the St. Andrews' Beacon says about the situation in Charlotte. It shows clearly that the government party is hopelessly divided.

A PRESENTATION. Queen's Preceptory R. B. K. Recognize Services of C. W. Stockton as Preceptor.

The home of Chas. W. Stockton, 214 Brussels street, was the scene of a pleasant event last evening. Mr. Stockton has for some years been the able preceptor of Queen's Preceptory, No. 62, Royal Black Knights, and recently retired, becoming past preceptor. The members of the preceptory, wishing to show their appreciation of the interest taken and attention given during the past year to the preceptory, presented to him a comfortable Morris chair.

C. N. Skinner made the presentation in eloquent terms and Mr. Stockton received the gift with well spoken words of appreciation. They followed a round of toasts. Mr. Skinner was named toast master on motion of Deputy Preceptor Philip Palmer, P. D. G. M. of New Brunswick; the toast of the Grand Lodge of New Brunswick was responded to by Douglas McCann, P. G. M., and followed by J. H. Harvey, P. C. M., and James A. Robinson, W. M. of No. 1; the ladies were spoken for by Wm. Grant. Then the recorder of the city of St. John was toasted and a vote of thanks for the able way in which Mr. Skinner had performed his duties was passed on motion of Mr. Palmer, seconded by Mr. Harvey. Mr. Skinner's response was an able address. The hospitality of Mr. and Mrs. Stockton was very much enjoyed by all.

WEDDING BELLS. Francis A. Lawton, of Beaver Lake road, and Miss Phoebe Almira Wood, daughter of Mr. W. Wood, of 215 St. John street, were united in marriage last evening by Rev. T. J. Deinstadt. The ceremony was performed at the residence of Alex. Adams, Gilbert's Lane. The young couple were attended by Miss Jennie Washburn and Walter A. Adams, as bridesmaid and groomsmen.

THE BLACK ART Turns Two One Dollar Bills Into Three With the Aid of a Magic Box. An Expose of Green Goods in Fredericton—the Two Faustus, the District Attorney Does a Few Sleight of Hand Tricks.

(Brooklyn Eagle, 16th.) For a few minutes in the criminal term of the county court this morning before Judge Aspinall and a jury, District Attorney Clarke acted as a thoroughly up-to-date prestatidigitator. He mystified twelve jurymen, who looked with astonishment as he made two one dollar bills into three, the third being as good a bill as the other two. He then did what is not usually done by the magician: he asked the jury, "The case in which all of this mystery was accomplished was the prosecution of Samuel Faust and Henry Faust, under an indictment charging them with being green goods operators. The trial of the two men began this morning with Mr. Clarke as magician-in-chief and the complainant, Zeidel Schammes, as his assistant. Police Captain Maude and his detectives also gave valuable assistance in the demonstration by their testimony.

Therefor resolved, that we hereby place on record our deep sense of the loss that the work of education has sustained by his death; and Further resolved, that we extend to his widow and family our heartfelt sympathy in their sore bereavement. Whereas, the teachers of St. John, have heard with deepest regret of the sudden death at Johannesburg, South Africa, of Eldon Mullin, M. A., late principal of the New Brunswick Normal School;

IN MEMORY OF Late Eldon Mullin of Fredericton. At the request of the public school teachers of the city, a memorial service was held yesterday afternoon in St. John's church, in connection with the deceased in South Africa of the late Eldon Mullin.

The Rev. John de Soyres, who officiated, read the beautiful introductory sentences of the Church of England burial service, after which Ellerton's well-known hymn, Now the Laborer's Task is O'er, was sung by the choir, who also chanted Psalm xc. The lesson chosen was I, Thessalonians, IV, 13 to v. 11, after reading which the rector delivered a brief address from the lectern. He referred to the uniformity of type in all Christian services for the dead, the same hymns, passages of Scripture, and the same prayers in object if not in verbal form being used. The occasion was to commemorate the passing to rest of one who had done good service in the noble teaching profession, who had made the Provincial Normal School a credit to the province, and in the outcome of a new and distinguished career had received his call. The teacher's work was among the noblest given to man, and our Canadian teachers had their share also in building up that cohesion of the Empire which was the aim of statesmanship. It was beautiful to see the "finish the course," and gently pass to rest; but the worker dying at his post, and in his work, had also his reward. "So much to do, so little done," was the exclamation of Cecil Rhodes, and that cry was echoed by those who in their own path had striven honestly, eagerly, to work while it was day, and to whom rest might have come, but the entrance into a purer light. The hymn, O God, Our Help in Ages Past, was then sung, and after the reading of collects from the funeral service, and the benediction, the service closed by the impressive playing by Mr. Fox of the Dead March, the congregation standing till its conclusion.

Branch 134, C. M. B. A., entertained their lady friends and the members of Carleton and Fairville branches at a social in the York Theatre assembly rooms last evening. There was a large number present and the occasion was a thoroughly pleasant one. Early in the evening a well arranged programme was rendered, in which the following assisted in a musical and

There was a large audience in the Trinity church school room last evening, when a lecture on Uganda was given by Miss Etches.
