Police Claim to Have Strong Evidence That Outbreaks Part of Sinn Fein Plot.

CONSTABLES ON DUTY TARGETS FOR BULLETS

One Civilian Was Shot Dead, Police Escape, But Five Arrests Have Been Made.

Liverpool, Nov. 23.—Fifteen warehouses in Liverpool and Bootle suburb principally cotton warehouses were set on fire last night. Two of the cotton warehouses were burned out. Gasoline cans and paraffine were found about the premises. It was stated in police quarters there was strong evidence that the fires were the work of Sinn Feiners. Some shooting occurred after the outbreak of the flames. Constables on the scene were fired at and bullets passed through the clothing of some of them, but none was injured. One civilian was shot dead. Five men were placed under arrest in connection with the incendiary outbreak.

Fires in Cork Too.

Cork, Nov. 23.—In addition incendiary fires Saturday night an extensive block of buildings in St. Patrick's street was completely destroyed by the fire involving damage estimated at $100,000. The buildings destroyed included the Black Thorne House which has been twice previously bombed and partially wrecked. The fire started in this structure on the present occasion and eventually involved the grocery store and the boot store on either side. The fire broke out at one o'clock this morning and burned fiercely until daybreak. (Continued on page 2)

RESTRICTIONS OFF VICTORY BOND TRADING

Over $270,000,000 in Bonds Placed With Permanent Investors in Year.

Toronto, Nov. 23.—Trading in Victory Bonds will henceforth be open and the Victory issues will be immediately listed for trading on the Canadian stock exchanges. This announcement was made by Sir Henry Drayton, Minister of Finance, who arrived in Toronto Saturday on his way from Hamilton to London to continue the tariff commission hearings. Sir Henry's statement is as follows: The control of the Victory Bonds has been exercised by the Stabilization Committee of the Victory Loan, which was made in proper performance of the promise made during the different Victory loan campaigns.

Control At An End.

The committee's work has been very efficient. Many subscriptions were made in the national interest and by persons whose circumstances did not permit them to hold their bonds. The price of the bonds had not been subject to violent fluctuations, but stabilization of price has been effective. The committee's work has been very efficient. NO ORDERS FOR SHIP BUILDERS

Canadian Vickers May Be Forced to Close Yards Entirely Next April.

Montreal, Nov. 23.—The "Canadian Leader," 2346 net tonnage, the twelfth ship built for the Canadian Government Mercantile Marine, and the sixth this season, by the Canadian Vickers, Limited, was successfully launched from the yards of the company, Saturday afternoon. The launching ceremony was performed by Mrs. W. G. Gillham, managing director of Vickers Limited, stated that his firm had launched over 50,000 tons of shipping during the current year.

Gloom in Industry

But, over forty per cent of the Canadian shipyards had sung their swan song, he said, and unless government aid were forthcoming the same fate confronted the Vickers Company. "The sorry fact is," said Mr. Gillham, "that we have no orders for next year. We have two boats now on the stocks which we hope to launch next April and if there are no further orders by that time these yards will be forced to close."

In each case the apportionments are announced represent contributions to plans of development worked out by the institutions concerned, which involve substantial sums from other sources.

FOUR THUGS STOLE DIAMONDS VALUED AT OVER $60,000

New York Street Was Crowded When Daring Theft Was Committed at Noon.

New York, Nov. 23.—Two tin boxes containing diamonds worth $60,000 were the loot of four daylight hold-up men, who Saturday attacked David Saylor, messenger for a jewelry store at 49th street and 7th avenue, where he had removed the jewels from a safety deposit vault. Saylor was set upon as he stepped from the bank door to the sidewalk, which at that time was bustling with activity. Crowds gasped in wonderment while the messenger struggled momentarily against the heavy odds. Then the four thugs broke away and escaped in an automobile which waited for them around the corner.

TUNNEL ON GUARD WHEN SHOPS FIRED

Whole Sky of Liverpool Lighted up by Burning Shops and Yards.

FIVE MEN IN EACH FIREBUG GANG

Oil Soaked Rags Used to Start Blaze in Many Places at Once.

London, Nov. 23.—Owing to the inflammable nature of the contents of the warehouses which were burned here, the flames quickly gained a strong hold, and by one o'clock in the morning the whole sky was lit up. The local fire brigades were unable to cope with the situation and were obliged to call brigades from other sources. The police commanded all telephone wires and took all steps to prevent further outbreaks by concentrating policemen along the line of docks.

Fired on Police

Three youths, watching the suspicious movements of two men at the cotton warehouse in Parliament street warned the police, who challenged the suspects, who then bolted and fired upon the police, who pursued them. The policemen were unhurt, but a bullet pierced the heart of a youth, Daniel Ward, who was among those who had warned the police and he fell dead.

"The fires, in some instances, were quickly quenched. Others, in stockpiles of rags soaked in paraffin and kerosene, burned fiercely until all the locks on the warehouses had been cut with bolt-cutters. Many empty petrol cans were found on the scene. Each fire started at more than one place. In the case of one timber yard there were three separate outbreaks.

Sentry at Fires

It appears that for each building marked for destruction there were allotted gangs numbering from four to five men, one of them stood sentry while the others cut the locks and applied the inflammable. "Many fires were suppressed in their early stages, and in these cases there was clear evidence of incendiarism in the finding of rags, cans and bolt-cutters left behind. The most destructive fires were in two large cotton warehouses, which were completely destroyed. It is impossible to estimate the total damage, but it is known it will run into hundreds of thousands of pounds.

DOUGHTY DENIES ALL KNOWLEDGE OF MISSING MAN

Admits He Was With Small Two Hours Before He Disappeared.

CLAIMS HE GAVE BONDS TO WIFE

Chicago Police Declare Minneapolis Woman is Involved in Magnate's Disappearance.

Toronto, Nov. 23.—John Doughty, in charge of Toronto detectives, did not reach Toronto today, the earliest date the party could have arrived. It was announced here this evening that Detective Mitchell, with his charge, had stopped at Windsor and would leave there tonight, arriving tomorrow morning.

Denies Bond Theft.

Doughty, in the few minutes he was in this city, changed his previous stories somewhat, according to the police. He denied that he stole any bonds from Mr. Small's safety deposit vault after the millionaire had disappeared. He said he took the bonds out of the vault and gave them to Mrs. Small. Previously, he had been quoted as saying that there were $100,000 of bonds in Chicago and that he would find them there. The police also said they had received information that a woman now in Minneapolis was implicated in the disappearance of Mr. Small. He said he was with Mr. Small two hours before the theatrical magnate disappeared, but that he could prove an alibi for that length of time. "I'm going back to Canada voluntarily and will prove my innocence," he said.

MEIGHEN SAYS DIRECTORS RUN C. N. RAILROADS

Directors Declare Hanna Order "Was a Matter for Their Purview Only."

ACTION NOT TAKEN AT CABINET'S ORDER

Government Had Nothing to Do With the Inauguration of Dismissal Regulation.

Ottawa, Nov. 23.—The Prime Minister has written to Colonel MacNeill, Dominion Secretary of the G. W. V. A., regarding the so-called order of D. B. Hanna, director of the Canadian National Railways, forbidding employees to hold office. Hon. Mr. Meighen was asked to question in view of a strongly worded resolution passed by the Manitoba command of the G. W. V. A., protesting against the dismissal of H. Moore, M. L. A., because at the time of his nomination he was unaware of any order. The Premier reiterates that it is a matter for the directors of the National Railways, and not the Government. He says: "I have your letter of the 20th instant. The action taken by the directors of the Canadian National Railways was in no sense taken at the instance of or by any information from the Government. The directors took the view that this was a matter within their purview only, as directors."

MAY TIE UP CAPE BRETON COAL TRADE

Grave Danger That Strike May Spread to All Rails and Mines in the Island.

IMPORTANT MEETING COMING TOMORROW

More Railway Men Are Asking That They Receive the McAdoo Schedule.

Sydney, N. S., Nov. 23.—Whether the strike of the railroaders in the Dominion Coal Company's plant here is to spread to the Sydney and Louisburg Railway and tie up practically the whole coal and bunkering business of Cape Breton, is the important issue that will largely be determined by a conference of Sydney and Louisburg officials and employees scheduled for tomorrow. The Sydney and Louisburg men are asking the management of the railway, a subsidiary of the Dominion Steel Corporation, to put into force on that line the terms of the Chicago award, lately enforced on the C. N. R. and Grand Trunk. Lauchlin Currie, superintendent of the Sydney and Louisburg Railway, says there will be no strike on his road.

Sir George Foster and Hon. N. W. Rowell Fight Sharply Proposed Measure.

Geneva, Nov. 23.—The question whether countries shall be allowed to control and restrict at will of their natural resources is the subject of a sharp conflict in a committee of the assembly. The contest arose over a resolution by Gustave Ador, Swiss, setting up a permanent economic and financial commission, one of the duties of which would be to examine measures for preventing monopolies in raw materials and the means of controlling their distribution. The resolution is based on article 23 of the covenant, which assigns all states suitable treatment. It is supported chiefly by Italy, Switzerland and other countries not rich in raw materials.

OTHER PRISON CAMPS MAY BE PREPARED

Cardinal Logue Denounces Murder of British Officers But Censures Militia.

Dublin, Nov. 23.—Arthur Griffith, head of the Sinn Fein and E. J. Duggan, Sinn Fein member of parliament, have been taken to Mountjoy Prison. It has not yet been decided whether they will be among those selected for the Ballykinlar internment camp. Interment in this camp, according to authorities would be a "concession," as heretofore such prison have been held merely as "common criminals."

Start the Internments.

What is described as the first of many internment camps for the Irish Republican Army, it is authoritatively stated will be brought into operation shortly. It is situated at Ballykinlar, in Beadrum Bay, County Down, and is capable of accommodating 1,000 prisoners. It is asserted that prisoners will be liable to be interned without trial and that membership in the Irish Republican Army will be sufficient reason for internment. Other camps are in the course of preparation in various parts of the county.

Cardinal Attacks Soldiers.

Dublin, Nov. 23.—Cardinal Logue, the primate of Ireland, in a pastoral letter read today in all churches in the Archdiocese denounces the murders in Ireland and declares that if a balance was struck between last Sunday's assassination of officers and the shooting by the policemen in Crooks Park, he believes "it should be given against the forces of the Crown." START HEARING TO QUASH DIVORCE OF MARY PICKFORD

Minden, Nev., Nov. 23.—Arguments began in the district court here yesterday to quash the suit the state filed to set aside the divorce granted Mary Pickford from Owen Moore. Miss Pickford has married Douglas Fairbanks since her divorce was granted March 2, and the state's petition was referred to as "Glady's M. Moore, known as Glady's M. Fairbanks."

The proceedings of the day did not go into the merits of the controversy as raised by the state, namely, that Mary Pickford's divorce decree was secured as a result of fraud and through collusion between herself and Owen Moore.

Strong Sermon To Scotchmen

St. Andrew's Society Attend Services at St. David's Church—Eloquent Address

To the stirring martial airs from the bagpipes, a hundred or more members of St. Andrew's Society paraded to St. David's Church, Sunday morning, where they listened to an eloquent sermon delivered by their chaplain, Rev. J. A. MacKinnon. Special music, appropriate to the occasion, was rendered by the church choir, and melodies dear to the Scotchman were played by the organist. Every seat in the large auditorium was occupied, special space being reserved for the members of St. Andrew's Society.

The officers of the Society this year are: President, Alex. McMillan; first vice-president, S. R. Jack; second vice-president, C. B. Allan; chaplain, Rev. J. A. MacKinnon; historian, Alex. Wilson; treasurer, John White; secretary, J. B. McPherson; marshals, C. W. Bell, Wm. Burrill; committee of charity, F. F. Burpee, A. R. Melrose, Frank N. Robertson.

The sermon is published herewith. John 8:33. "We are Abraham's offspring. We have never been slaves to any man. . . . We are Abraham's children, said Jesus, then do as Abraham did."

At such a time as this when Scotland's star is in the ascendant one is tempted to dwell on the glories of Scottish history. But that we shall leave for another occasion. Today we are met as children of the All Father who has made of one flesh all nations and we would be unworthy of our worthy sires were we to back in the light of the Past and not focus our attention on the Present and its clamant duties.

National Responsibility
Our National Responsibility is the consequence of our matchless history. As Froude, in his "Science and History" says "we measure responsibility not by the things done, but by the opportunities which people have had of knowing better or worse."

As Scotchmen we take this text and apply its truth to ourselves. "We are Scotland's offspring. We have never been slaves to anybody." Immediately the King of Kings replies. "If you're Scotland's children, then do as Scotchmen did."

We shall find our national responsibility today hard by the springs of our national greatness. These springs are not peculiar to Scotland, but there are those found at the fountains of the world, the flow abundant. Let this recall them by means of three great national pictures.

The loveliest Scottish picture is the Scottish home, "the ingle nook." Let Burns describe it. John Howard Payne, dying in a foreign land, pours out his soul in that song that can never die, "Home, Sweet Home," but it is Burns who paints the picture that will never fade from the Scotchman's heart—"The Cotter's Saturday Night."

The family scattered at the work of the week assemble, "each tells the unces that he sees or hears," and then:
"The cheerfu' supper done, wi' serious face
They round the ingle form a circle wide;
The sire turns o'er w' patriarchal grace,
The big Ha' Bible, ance his father's pride:
His bonnet reverently is laid aside,
His hant' haddens wearing thin and bare;
There strains that once did sweet in Zion glide,
He wails a portion with judicious care;
And "Let us worship God" he says,
With solemn air."

The home is Scotland's heart. From it the pulsating streams of virtue have gone out unto the ends of the earth. Enterprise or duty may call a citizen far from his ain country; but neither time nor distance can break

AS A WOMAN THINKETH

By HELEN ROWLAND
(Copyright, 1920, by The Wheeler Syndicate, Inc.)

"I strove with none; for none was worth my strife.
"Nature I loved—and, next to nature, you.
"I warmed both hands before the fire of Life,
"The end is near—and I am ready to depart."
—Walter Savage Landor.

Whenever I read that little quatrain,
I curl right up at the edges, and shiver.
At the thought of what I may be missing!
The thought of what all of us—you and I and the men in the street
—are missing!
Why! Some of us are not even warming ONE hand before the fire of life—not even a finger-tip!

We WANT to, of course—but we are all too busy!
Too busy grabbing with both hands, for THINGS—the things we think we need to make us happy:
For money, houses, automobiles, furs, fashions, food, club privileges, prestige, new friendships, new sensations—
Tributes to lay on the altars of other people's gods.
While our own poor little "gods," the things we really love and long for, stand tarried and forgotten in the dim niches of our consciousness.

"Some day," I sigh, "when I've got the time and the money—
"Some day," you say, "when the house is paid for, and we've got ten into the "right set," and John is rich or famous—
I must have a new dinner-gown, because my neighbor's little brass idol is the Paris fashion, and I can't let her laugh at me.
I may be an Epicurean.
But I must live like a stoic, and diet like a monk!
Why? In order to look like a crane!
I must lay my idol of food on the altar of another woman's idol of fashion.

I may be a Bohemian, at heart, in love with color and gaiety and free camaraderie.
But I must rush around to foolish teas and formal dinner parties, and torment myself to talk to dull, stupid people.
Why?
Oh, because, we're all in the squirrel cage, and we can't STOP going round.
We haven't the courage to "live dangerously"—to take the things we want and let the rest alone.
To take love, marriage, comfort, play, work, or pleasure WHEN we want it, and when it holds out its hand to us—
To choose our own few little altars.
Home and children, or poetry and gardening, or philosophy and golf, and STICK to them!

We are all, forever, worshipping at other people's altars!
"Some day," some day, perhaps, when we GET enough—enough THINGS—
We will stop it all, and put out BOTH hands.
And then, discover that the Fire of Life has gone out!
That the spark within us—or the spark-plug—has burnt out, and the battery gone dead!
Oh, we are clever, we are brilliant—we civilized men and women, aren't we?
We have discovered and developed ALL the ARTS.
Except that single, little one, which every savage knows by heart,
The fine art of LIVING!
Only the savage can look up at the sun with clear, calm eyes and say,
"I know my God and have worshipped Him well!
"I have warmed BOTH hands before the Fire of Life!"

the spell of the home, He loves it with an eternal love. There the priesthood of parenthood is pre-eminently recognized. There age is respected, indeed revered.

"From scenes like these old Scotia's grandeur springs,
That makes her loved at home, revered abroad."
This picture is stamped upon our memories. Is it familiar to our children? Is it safeguarded by our influence? What of The Canada Saturday Night? Is it the big Ha' Bible, or the big, cheap, magazine which features the wreckage of home? "If you're Scotland's children then do as Scotchmen did."

Beauty of Scotland
Poets and artists vie with each other to depict the beauty of Scottish scenery—her banks and braes, her glowing glens, her mist clad hills, her peaceful lochs. But finer far is the matchless landscape of her intellect. In the centre of that picture we find the parish school hard by the kirk. Today it is a familiar picture, but centuries before England awoke to the need of educating the masses, John Knox had established the parish school in Scotland. To this school the poorest crofter had access. Sydney Smith suggested, in humor, but in fact, as a motto for the Edinburgh Review: "We cultivate literature on a little oatmeal." They did it. As St. Andrew, at the feeding of the five thousand, was the first to discover the "lad of parts" and to place the intellectual ladder at his feet.

Have we discovered that the nation's wealth is in her children? "Your phenomenal success," said Mr. Lloyd George in the House of Commons a year ago, "is due to your wise estimate of the value of education." Have we that same wise estimate that marks the homeland? Should not the wave of juvenile crime and alien radicalism that is overspreading our land make us take stock of the kind of education our youths are receiving? While it is practical and inspirational should it not be intensely moral and spiritual? What of the children of our soldier dead? Are they to go handicapped into the struggle of life because their fathers gave their lives at their country's call? Does not the country owe these children the best that they will take?

We love to recall the glory of Scotland's intellectual history, her willing, unselfish sacrifice for the things of the intellect, but if we are Scotland's children we will do as Scotchmen did.
The next picture would require a Rembrandt to paint. Like the Highland tartan it is dark with tragedy, bright with the crimson thread of honor and over all the divine light of Liberty. It is a picture of brave men and heroic women. In the foremost ranks are men of gigantic mould like Wallace and Bruce and the unknown defenders of the Roman wars. There are divine seers like Knox whose message, epitomized by Carlyle, was: "Let men know that they are men, created by God, responsible to God, born slaves neither of their fellow men nor of their appetites, but men." Or, as Froude puts it, "It was the voice of Knox who taught the peasant of the Lothians that he was a free man equal in the sight of God to the proudest peer in the realm." The vital streets are there too, singing their vital message into the hearts of the humblest—a man's a man. And then a procession whom no man can number. "Forever they went forth and forever they fell," for wherever the banners of Britain flew, from Culloden to yesterday, the richest blood of Scotland poured out without stint. In the last great war, according to the London Daily Mail, Scotland came out at the head of the list with 15 per cent, Wales 14, England 12-13 and Ireland

4 per cent. No less than 74,000 men were sent over to the Gordon Highlanders to take the place of those who fell in that Regiment.
And for what did these men lay down their lives? Was life not sweet to them? Did they not love their "hone shelting in the Hebrides," their wee hut-and-ben in the village, their palace, their castle? For their King? No, though none sang more heartily, "God Save the King." For Empire? No, though none did more to maintain it. Not for commerce, for who can measure it or reckon up its cost? It was for an Idea, the Idea of Liberty. It was that they heard a voice which perching insistently down through the centuries proclaiming Liberty to the captives, of a love that will lay down life itself for a brother.

Liberty at Cost of Sacrifice
This Liberty is maintained only as it was obtained—by sacrifice. Have we forgotten so soon the price that Canada paid for that which we so richly enjoy? Fifty thousand of Canada's best, our heroes thrilled as the gallant lads filled our churches on their way to war. Fifty thousand who risked their ain home no more, 50,000! Do we realize what it means? Fill up the church, every pew, nave, transept and gallery every Sunday morning, through the golden days of Autumn, through the storms of winter, when nature wakens to new life in the springtime, and when poppies blow: From scattered graves they cry:
"To you from falling hands we throw
The torch—the yours to hold it high."
In this our national responsibility is clear. First to the war weakened, men who returned wrecks of their perfect manhood, men who leaders of men now threaten with want, too weak to work, too proud to beg. Do we so soon forget? Must duty condemn to penury?
Again that stream, must go on unimpeded to the ends of the earth. Neither nation nor individual can turn to self alone. Scotland's sacrifice was for humanity. As representatives of a country that has suffered most much will be required. Today we lay a wreath on the graves of our noble dead, but what hollow mockery, what idle mummery, if that be all, if the world is not to be "made better for the kiddies." What treachery if we turn again to that ruthless competitor whose smoke screen is "business is business," obscuring the cross of sacrifice, to a system that crowds the weak to the wall, that battens on the methods of the jungle, that forgets that "a man's a man." Our fathers and brothers sacrificed for Liberty. They freed its life giving stream. Let us maintain its flow till all the world shares it, "if you are Scotland's children then do as Scotchmen did."
"England expects every man to do his duty," signalled Nelson at Trafalgar, and the Scot's comment was "Scotland duns need to be tek." If we are true to the blood, then that will be true of us. We will not be slow to discharge Our National Responsibility. The springs of Liberty will be kept free. The Home will be safeguarded, education encouraged and the manhood of all men maintained.
"We are Abraham's offspring. We have never been slaves to any man. If you are Abraham's children, said Jesus, then do as Abraham did."

Intermediate Game

In the intermediate game, victory again rested with the Y. M. C. A., their B. C. squad taking the game from the Portland basketball club by a score of 15 to 11. U.S. Navy Eleven Defeated The Army

Annual Battle Played on New York Polo Grounds—Score Seven to Nothing.

New York, Nov. 28.—The United States Navy football eleven Saturday afternoon won the annual battle with the Army at the Polo Grounds by a score of 7 to 0. The game was very heavy and the weather was threatening and cold throughout the contest. The Navy made a touchdown early in the fourth period by a steady advance of forty yards after recovering a poor punt of the Army's. Three plays at the end of the third period gave the Navy a first down on the Army's 25 yard line as the fourth period opened. Then three plays resulted in a touchdown Kobler scoring on a double pass. King kicked the goal. The Navy after receiving the kick off then marched down the field but lost the ball fourteen yards from the Army's goal. The Army never had a chance in the second half but approached the Navy's goal on three occasions to try for field goals. By their victory yesterday the Navy eleven has won the fourth annual battle at eleven games can since the annual games were inaugurated.

CLEVER WOMAN BOXER WHO KNOWS HOW TO HIT AND GET AWAY.

JOHNNY DUNDEE IN SPARRING EXHIBITION WITH MRS. HARRY BURNS, CHAMPION WOMAN BOXER OF THE WEST

Boxing is now at the crest of its popularity, but it has still to reach that stage of development which gives women as exponents of the many art of self-defence. Saturday afternoon, Mrs. Harry Burns, woman champion of the coast, Mrs. Harry Burns, the picture was taken while she was making a trip around the country. Mrs. Burns was taught how to box by her husband, who is the country's champion bag puncher. She has engaged several contests and has won them all by her marked cleverness. Dundee was surprised to find that a woman could possess so much skill in a sport designed essentially for the sterner sex. It will be noticed that Dundee wears a glove designed to protect his wrists and forearms from injury, though he hardly needed it in this particular instance.

OLD COUNTRY CLUB EXECUTIVE MEETING

Delegates Appointed to Meet Steamers—Will Induce Immigrants to Remain Here.

At the executive meeting of the Old Country Club delegates were appointed to meet the first boat this season bringing immigrants to this port, the C. P. O. S. Melita. Speaking on the matter a member of the club says: "The idea of meeting the vessels is not only to give assistance to immigrants, but to persuade them to locate in this province whenever possible and help make a bigger St. John, a better settled province, a more contented and loyal Dominion."

Owing to the gorkled lectures given and pictures shown by agents and betweens on the other side, many people are induced to go out west who know nothing of what prospecting with the result that they lose their capital and become failures. Many of these people understand poultry raising and would have made good."

This province is eminently suitable for poultry and sheep raising, and thousands of people from Lancashire and North Wales are coming out this season. Better that they should locate here rather than go out west. The employers of labor in the city and province, the agents who have to dispose of, and others who are ready to help in this work, can communicate their needs, or forward their lists to the secretary, F. G. Thomas.

The Provincial office in London is closed temporarily, help from the work and paid more heed to inquiries.

POLITICAL PIRATES ARE WARRING IN CITY OF CANTON

Big Scramble for Spoils of Office Follows Ousting of Kwangai Men.

Hongkong, Nov. 28.—A dramatic political coup has just been consummated in Canton, the capital of South China, which in the opinion of leading Chinese, will still further delay the promised union of the country. Having its roots in the "Canton for the Cantonese" movement, it has caused a smash-up of the southern coalition and the concentration into the hands of the Cantonese of the power previously held in joint manner by themselves and prominent officials from the adjoining province of Kwangai. The prime fact is that a Kwangai man, General Wang, who has been military governor of Kwangai, has been compelled to surrender office and to depart from Canton with a retinue of Admiral Tang Kwangai, who for a big financial consideration, has promised to return to his own province, taking with him the bulk of the treasury. For some time there had been apprehensions among the Cantonese at the growing influence of Kwangai officials to lay aside such illusory ideas, as one morning when an envoy from the well-known southern leaders, Dr. Wu Tingfang, Dr. Sun Yat-sen and Tang Shaoyi, who had been laying their plans in Shanghai, arrived with a big sum of money with which they induced two Cantonese generals, Li Fook-lem and Ngai Bong-ping, to make a secret departure from Canton with their troops and to take up strategic positions in order to prevent further Kwangai troops from coming into the province. At the same time, these two generals delivered an ultimatum to the Kwangai leader who was occupying the post of military governor of Canton, bringing him the public he informed of the coup by means of pamphlets dropped from the air by aviators. Mok held on as long as he dared, but eventually he saw that the game was up and made way for the Cantonese nominee. He had been clearly told that if he didn't yield, something might happen to him. And that "something" in Canton has a close relationship to bomb throwing. May strengthen move for Republic. This new turn may mean much. It should open the way for a return to Canton of Cantonese extremists who many months ago left the south because affairs were not developing to their liking, there may be a strengthening of the movement for the creation of a separate republic in the south. But if the moderate elements come out on top, there is a possibility of eventual reconciliation with the north, though people are naturally querying whether Canton, which objects even to rule by its southern neighbors with whom it has previous stood united against the north, will ever agree to control by Pekin.

LENINE OFFERS MANY REFORMS TO NAVY

Desertions Bring Realization That Different Methods Must be Adopted.

By "POLONIUS." (Copyright, 1920, by Great Atlantic.) Copenhagen, Nov. 28.—From Heilingsborg in Finland comes the report that the officers and men of the navy have broken with the Bolsheviks, and are deserting wholesale. Realizing their danger, the chief executive committee at Moscow, has just issued a proclamation to the navy, admitting that very grave errors have been committed in the past, and promising far-reaching reforms and a cessation of the present economic and political conditions. The deserters will return to their ships.

LEAGUE DIVIDES ON QUESTION OF RAW MATERIALS

World Pool Proposal Has Become Bitter Issue of the Geneva Assembly.

By CARL W. ACKERMAN. (Copyright, 1920, by Public Ledger.) Geneva, Nov. 28.—The question of raw materials gives promise of developing into the bitterest issue before the league assembly. Already broached by a group of belligerent powers, the question has created a state of nervousness among the representatives of raw material less than much insistence on an altruistic interpretation of the present economic relations between states should cause a reaction among the rich nations and so impair the usefulness of the league in its immediate and necessary task of preventing war.

God's Use of Satan Subject of Sermon

Interesting Discourse Preached by Rev. O. P. Brown in Brussels Street Church.

God's Use of Satan furnished the text of a sermon preached by the Rev. O. P. Brown in the Brussels street church yesterday. The speaker said that he had no recollection of ever hearing a sermon preached on this important subject, nor had he ever read a book dealing with it. "Take good care of the hens, they will give you a living, and the high price of coal doesn't worry."

Another man watching eggs go at the dollar a dozen price remarked to his neighbor: "Say, Bro, isn't it queer what a desire one has for scrambled eggs when eggs are selling at a dollar a dozen. Wish I owned a city garage so I could afford to buy an egg."

God's Use of Satan was used for the spreading of the Gospel, for by persecuting the church, the Gospels were everywhere dispersed by preaching. God's use of Satan was to punish the world. So it was that Satan today by punishing the nations, is testing the people of God and chastising disobedient Christians. Everybody uses "Wet Sulphur Compound" as a remedy for itching, but it is not a remedy for use, it is a cure. You simply dampen a brush with it and draw the hair, taking one away at a time; by moving the brush, it becomes softer and appears glossy and smooth.

Experience Testimonial: "Jimmy, give me a remedy for itching, I have been using 'Wet Sulphur Compound' for years, and it has cured me."

LOCAL MILLIONAIRES BOOMING

Back to the Farm Movement—Hen Fruit $1 Dozen

Local millionaires are booming the back to the farm movement. They went to the market Saturday and paid one dollar a dozen for eggs brought in by the farmers. They were surprised to find that the price had also passed the board of censors. That's something worth while.

EGGS ARE NEARLY TEN CENTS EACH

The farmers at the market Saturday could say a "dollar" dozen, just as they have always been used to in the slightest degree. But, as some people say a farmer hasn't any conscience, he always been used to it. The business man is worried today. The upheaval in the business world helps him on the anxious seat. The farmer is always a year ahead of the city. The city is always a year behind the farmer. The city is always a year behind the farmer. The city is always a year behind the farmer.

Hamilton Joins National League

Ontario City Will be Represented in Professional Hockey This Winter.

Toronto, Nov. 28.—Hamilton was admitted to the National Hockey League at the annual meeting held in the Prince George Hotel, Saturday afternoon, and Percy Thomson, president of the league, was elected director of the league. It was also announced that St. Patrick's, of Toronto would secure ice for the season, if not here in Toronto at either Hamilton or Montreal. It is Hamilton that the ambitious city will be represented in professional hockey by two teams.

New York, Nov. 28.—While entering the grandstand before the Army and Navy game Saturday, Mrs. Mary Wilcox, wife of Colonel Cornelius De Witt Wilcox, professor of modern languages at West Point, was taken ill and died before reaching her box.

Pool and Billiards

Four more pool tables have been installed at the Y.M.C.C., so that five pool and two billiard tables have now been placed at the disposal of the institute's members. The click of the bill is quite in evidence nowadays and the additions are being taken full advantage of. An interesting series of pool and billiard tournaments are contemplated for the near future.

New York, Nov. 28.—Because of a rule not generally known to six day bicycle race enthusiasts, Joe Kopsky and Tom Bello were deprived of victory in the long grind that ended at midnight last night at the 32nd Regiment Armory. They gained a full lap in the last ten minutes of the contest, but because the sprinters were in progress the time they won, it was not officially recognized. The first money and chief laurels went to Ray Eaton and Harry Kaiser, who had accumulated 836 points, during the week. Alfred Goebel, arm, Fred Hill were second with 700 points; Jake Magin and Eddie Madden, third with 612; Kopsky and Bello, fourth with 525; Peter Drobach and Fred Weber, fifth with 316; Alex. The farmers at the market Saturday could say a "dollar" dozen, just as they have always been used to in the slightest degree. But, as some people say a farmer hasn't any conscience, he always been used to it. The business man is worried today. The upheaval in the business world helps him on the anxious seat. The farmer is always a year ahead of the city. The city is always a year behind the farmer. The city is always a year behind the farmer. The city is always a year behind the farmer.

Local Millionaires Booming

Local millionaires are booming the back to the farm movement. They went to the market Saturday and paid one dollar a dozen for eggs brought in by the farmers. They were surprised to find that the price had also passed the board of censors. That's something worth while.

TEMPERANCE LEADERS IN CONVENTION

Kent-Northumberland Sons of Temperance Hold 52nd Quarterly Session at Notre Dame.

MANY RESOLUTIONS ARE ADOPTED

Resolutions Ask Government for Referendum on Importation of Liquors.

Special to The Standard. Sunny Brae, Nov. 28.—The fifty-second quarterly session of Kent-Northumberland District Division, Sons of Temperance (organized at Newcastle) commenced at 10 o'clock this morning at the home of Mrs. W. P. Rev. A. A. MacLeod in the chair.

The following delegates were present: McKee's Mills—Mr. and Mrs. Harry Biggs, Everett Biggs, Miss Margaret Wilbur, Miss Annie Wilbur, Miss George Wilbur, Gladstone—Rev. and Mrs. A. A. MacLeod.

Newcastle—Grand Scribe T. A. Clarke, Newcastle; District Scribe H. H. Stuart, Sunny Brae; McLeod Division, Notre Dame—Wm. Colborne, Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Taylor, Arthur Johnston, Mrs. James Colburn, Victor from Miramichi Division: Dorothy Colborne, Edna Colborne, Nell Colborne, Curtis Colborne, Neil Colborne, Hazel Crawford, Mildred Crawford, Winifred Crawford, Billie Ferguson, Percy Falconer, Wallace Falconer, Mrs. George Johnston, Mrs. Dorothy Johnston, Bessie Johnston, Mrs. Arthur Johnston, Margaret Johnston, Harold Johnston, J. R. Johnston, and P. Legere, and Ruth Falconer.

The Resolutions. The Resolutions Committee reported as follows: That the people of the Province have decisively voted against the prohibition of liquor, and we respectfully urge upon the Provincial Government and the leaders and members of all the other parties the necessity of using their utmost endeavor to uphold the Provincial legislation and his deputies in the efficient discharge of their difficult duties.

We would further urge upon the different political parties their duty to see that the successor to Chief Inspector Rev. W. D. Wilson is a thoroughly capable officer in perfect sympathy with the temperance cause. We would further request the Provincial Government to immediately put into operation the legislation of 1915 which empowers the Government upon an Order-in-Council to provide for Government ownership and operation of the traffic in alcohol and alcoholic compounds for purposes allowed by the prohibitory law.

We also hope that the newly-elected Legislature will at its first session take steps to have taken at the earliest possible moment the Dominion plebiscite in New Brunswick on the question of prohibiting the importation of liquor for beverage purposes, and the prohibition of its importation for any other purpose through any but Government channels.

The Committee on the State of the Order, whose report was adopted, found the Scribe's statistics correct, and recommended the visitation of all Divisions by District or Grand Officers, and the appointment by Grand Officers of a regular organizer. It was voted to divide the district into two districts for greater efficiency, and to invite upper Westmorland County to join with Kent County District.

MRS. J. A. JORDAN REMEMBERS RIVER GLADE SANITARIUM

About $80,000 is Left in Institution by Will Made in California.

Newcastle, N. B., Nov. 28.—By the will of Mrs. J. A. Jordan, widow of James C. Jordan, of San Francisco, the Jordan Memorial Sanitarium at River Glade, N. B., is left more than $80,000.

According to the law of the state of California any bequest to a charitable institution outside of the United States must be contained in a will dated at least thirty days before the death of the one making the will, otherwise it is void. Mrs. Jordan's will, in which New Brunswick is so much interested, was made only twenty-six days before her death, and as it stands the bequest to the Jordan Memorial Sanitarium rests solely upon the good will of the other residuary legatees, Marion Jordan, Beulah Smith and Helen Jordan Baker, daughters of the late James C. Jordan. It is understood that they are favorably disposed towards carrying out the wishes of the will, irrespective of the date.

If things work out this way, Jordan sanitarium will be a beneficiary to the extent of one-third the residuary estate, which is reckoned at about a quarter of a million. Acadia University receives $5,000, and the income from an investment of $8,000 to pay the salary of the Baptist minister at the Glade.

Albert County Beneficiaries

There are many relatives in Albert and Westmorland counties, also other parts of maritime provinces, who are beneficiaries. The following is a list of local legatees: Gilford Steeves, of Hillsboro, Albert county, $5,000. His seven children, each $5,000. Avarad Steeves, of Hillsboro, $5,000. Mrs. William Steeves, Hillsboro, $5,000. J. Riley Stiles, Coverdale, $1,000. Jeannette A. Stiles, Middlesex, Albert county, $1,000. Mrs. Mildred Stiles, $5,000. Jeannie Milton, daughter of John Milton, Coverdale, $1,000. Avarad H. Kinney, of New York, $5,000. Mrs. H. H. Saunders, Paradise, N. S., $5,000. Mrs. Minnie K. O'Brien, Salsbury, $5,000. Mrs. Atkinson, $1,000. Governing Board of Acadia University, $6,000. C. W. Robinson, in trust toward salary of minister of Glade's church, $5,000. Assinda Stewart, Albert county, $5,000. Mrs. Rachael Bishop, Harvey, N. B., $5,000. William Stewart, Harvey, $5,000. The residue is to be divided equally among Helen Jordan Baker, Marion Jordan Beulah Smith and the Jordan Memorial Sanitarium. The executors are Frank P. Deering, San Francisco, and Clifford W. Robinson as to the estate in the Canada outside of Canada, and Clifford W. Robinson as to the estate in the United States.

OBITUARY.

John B. Hawkhurst, Newcastle Creek, Nov. 28.—John B. Hawkhurst, seventy-eight years old, a life-long resident of this community, died Friday afternoon at his home, Newcastle Creek, after an illness of only a few days. Having always been active in the social and religious life of the community, he will be greatly missed by his large circle of friends. Most especially will his passing be regretted in Baptist Church here, of which he was a faithful and energetic worker, having been a deacon for over sixteen years, and also president of Sunday school. Mr. Hawkhurst is survived by his wife, four sons and one daughter. The sons are: Lawrence, Plaster Rock; Herbert, at home; Edwin, New Zion; Frank, Cambridge, Mass. The daughter is Mrs. W. H. Crawford, New London, Conn., all of whom were present at a bedside during the last moments.

D. J. Gallagher. The many friends of Daniel J. Gallagher were grieved on learning of his death which occurred Saturday morning at his home, 29 Duke street. In his death the city loses one of its most respected citizens, an accomplished musician and a gentleman who had a wide circle of staunch friends. The most of his life he was associated with the City Cornet Band and cornet solos rendered by him at numerous public concerts at all times proved a feature number on the programmes. Being of an exceptional genial disposition he endeared himself into the hearts of all who had the pleasure of his acquaintance. He was inspector of gas marine buoys under the Department of Marine and Fisheries, and for many years carried out his duties in a most capable manner. Although his health had been poor during the past three months, his death was not expected and proved a shock to his relatives and friends. He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Margaret Gallagher, two daughters, Mrs. T. U. Mowry and Miss Nora, and one son Leo J., of this city, also one sister, Mrs. Kate O'Neill, of New York. The funeral will take place this morning from the Cathedral with requiem mass.

SUB CHASER IS NOW AFTER THE WHISKEY RUNNERS

United States' Vessel in Lake Superior is Making it Interesting for Runners.

Duluth, Minn., Nov. 28.—Operations of whiskey smugglers who have been reported as running rum into the United States from Canada via the water route are believed to have been curtailed by the presence in Lake Superior of one of Uncle Sam's war vessels. Although the ship—a submarine chaser—was assigned to Lake Superior principally to assist the coast guard in safeguarding the lives of other ships in giving help to other ships in distress, collector of customs here, she has been asked by customs authorities to keep a lookout for violators of the United States customs laws. The vessel carries no guns according to Mr. Linderberg.

Last summer the chaser caught a band of whiskey runners on Isle Royale, taking a small motor boat carrying 30 cases of Canadian made liquor and arresting three men who will be tried at the January term of federal court, according to Linderberg's report. The only seizure by the vessel reported to customs officials here, he said, was the capture, however, along with unverified reports that the vessel's first duty is to stop illegal liquor traffic between Canada and the United States. It is believed to have had the effect of making whiskey runners less ambitious.

Works Along Coast. The vessel is not confining its operations to any particular part of the international waters, according to the coast guard officer here, but ranges from Duluth as far as Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., where she reports to Lieut. Commander P. H. Oberlin. Just before the vessel's arrival last year the small craft rendered valuable service in its line of duty, assisting in rescuing the crew of the steamer E. Resmer, which stranded near Grand Marais, Mich. The crew of the chaser working in conjunction with the coast guard, battled the storm for five perilous hours in removing the crew from the stranded steamer.

The sub chaser spent the winter at White Fish Point and made her appearance at Duluth last spring. From time to time the boat reappeared here, and recently was reported at Ashland. The coast guard office here refuses to give out details of her movements. Captain Benjamin Truitt, in command of the ship, is said to have detected that his vessel is engaged in running down whiskey smugglers.

BEAR SCARES LADIES. Holtville, N. B., Nov. 28.—Two young ladies report having had a bad scare one night recently. They were walking along the road shortly after dark, with the intention of calling on a friend. One of them, happening to turn around, perceived what she took to be a large black bear. Mr. Bruin, however, proved out to be not very dangerous and quietly walked away into the woods.
