A HOUSE BURNED

A disastrous fire broke out on Wednesday morning at the home of Verne Cameron, which resulted in several thousand dollars damage. The house is located on Victoria street, on the road which leads into that newer section of the town at the C. F. R. end of Victoria street. Mr. Cameron who was working up until twelve o'clock, then came home and got himself a cup of coffee, lighting the oil stove for that purpose, going to bed shortly after one o'clock.

The only possible solution that he has for the cause of the fire is, that he forgot to turn out the light from the stove. At two o'clock Mr. and Mrs. Cameron were awakened and found the house a mass of flames. Fortunately two of the children were visiting and Mr. and Mrs. Cameron and the one child home with difficulty got clear of the house. As they were sleeping down stairs this was made possible, which would not have been the case if they had been sleeping upstairs as they usually do.

The house was owned by Aaron Lawson and was a frame two story structure. It is believed that the loss of the house was covered by insurance. The contents of the house valued at more than $5,000, was insured for $15,000 and so Mr. Cameron's loss is quite heavy. A few pieces of furniture were saved.

NEARLY FATAL

On Wednesday afternoon a serious accident occurred near Edmundston. While a crew of laborers were engaged in removing the old bridge at the foot of what is popularly known as the Indian Hill, the bridge collapsed, caught one of the men, Clavette by name and pinned him under from the waist down. After considerable difficulty, he was extricated and Dr. LaPorte hastily summoned. Mr. Clavette was removed to St. Basil hospital, where he was found to be suffering from a badly fractured thigh, as well as from the shock naturally resulting from the accident. While the accident was a serious one, the patient is expected to recover.

THE CALL OF THE NORTH

Jack Holt, besides appearing in his first Paramount star picture, had also the honor of breaking virgin soil for location scenes at Mammoth Mountain, California, fifty miles north of Bishop. The picture is "The Call of the North" and a reproduction of a Hudson Bay Trading was constructed in the heart of the mountains on the shores of one of the many beautiful lakes which abound.

The mountains form a background of eternal snows and are lofty. The country is almost primitive, though a hotel is located where the company made its headquarters. Many Indians were employed as extras, while two specially trained Indian actors, Chief Lighthouse and Big Tree, the latter a full blooded Seneca, took part in some of the scenes.

Madge Bellamy has the feminine lead and Noah Beery, former Paramount character favorite, Francis McDonald, Jack Herbert and others are seen in good roles. The picture will be shown at the Star Theatre on Saturday, July 15.

Joseph Henabery was the director. Two weeks were spent on location. "The Call of the North" is from the George Broadhurst play of the same name and Stewart Edward White's novel, "Confessions of a Hunter". It is described as a thrilling, gripping and dramatic story of the Far North, with an intensive love interest.

BAIRDVILLE NOTES

CALDWELL GIVES BAXTER A HIT

Caldwell Speech Gal. 1.
This Interesting Clash in Parliament
Will Interest Observer Readers
Because of Its Local Bearing

It was a Monday night—June 26—and in the last stages of a prolonged session. No doubt all parties concerned were feeling more or less peevish. But our Tom Caldwell was bound to have his say and he said it with characteristic vigor. The question concerned the election in Carleton-Victoria last December, when, it will be recalled, there was a subdivision of polls, made unknown to the Progressive candidate, and for which he claims to have been made fully acquainted with at a late date, and that for which he received proper lists only after a threat of injunction.

The following discussion is taken in full from the pages of Hansard:

On the Orders of the Day:

Mr. CALDWELL: Mr. speaker, before proceeding to the Orders of the Day I wish to refer to some remarks made by the hon. member for St. John and Albert (Mr. Baxter) on Saturday in which he misquoted what I said in the House on June 12—

Some hon. MEMBERS: Order.

Mr. CALDWELL:—and then proceeded to read a document—

Some hon. MEMBERS: Order.

Mr. CALDWELL:—and then proceeded to read a document in which doubt was cast upon my veracity.

Mr. SPEAKER: Order. The hon. gentleman is entitled to put a question and make a personal explanation before the Orders of the Day are called, but he must avoid attacking any other hon. member. He may state the facts which perturb his mind and then let the House judge of the matter; but he must not attack any other gentleman. I understand the hon. member wishes to make a personal explanation. He may proceed to that explanation without, however, attacking another hon. member.

Mr. CALDWELL: I had no intention of attacking anybody. I simply wanted to clear up a statement made by the hon. member from St. John on Saturday as a question of privilege. In that connection I want to read the statement the hon. member attributed to me and then read what I actually said, leaving the House to judge as to whether the hon. member quoted me correctly. He was speaking of a statement I made in the House on June 12; it was with regard to an amendment I moved to the Dominion Elections Act on that day. The hon. member was referring to a statement I made about a returning officer in my riding during the recent elections, and this is what he said:

"He was charged—"

"That is the returning officer, he meant—"

"He was charged with having made electoral subdivisions which were not warranted by law. I said—"

Now I wish to quote what I actually did say:

"Last fall, I learned quite accidentally one evening, just two weeks prior to the election, that five new polls had been established in my riding."

That is the only reference I made to the establishing of the new polls. I did not say they were established illegally as I knew better. While I am not a lawyer possibly I know the Elections Act quite as well as my hon. friend from St. John, due to the fact that I was in this House when it was passed. I opposed some of the provisions of that act very strenuously and was convinced last fall that I was justified in doing so.

Mr. SPEAKER: I think the hon. gentleman has stated his case fully.

Mr. CALDWELL: Mr. Speaker, I—

Mr. SPEAKER: Order. Bourinot says in speaking of personal questions brought up when Orders of the Day are called, that it is the usage in both Houses of the Canadian Parliament to make personal explanations and ask questions of the Government. They make them in reference to an inaccurate report of their speeches in the official report, or in newspapers, but they must not engage in discussion or further explanation. The hon. gentleman has stated that he has been misquoted. He has read what he said in the House and what the hon. member for St. John had said. Now the House must judge of the incident, which is closed and no further argument can be allowed.

Mr. CALDWELL: May I be allowed to quote further from the hon. gentleman's speech to show that he made a misstatement later on in his remarks.

Mr. SPEAKER: Order. Orders of the Day.

Mr. CALDWELL: Have I not a right, Mr. Speaker, to quote further from the hon. gentleman's speech to correct another misstatement?

Mr. SPEAKER: I do not think it is really necessary. The hon. member has presented his case from his point of view. He has given a quotation of his own statement, and has also quoted a statement by the hon. member from St. John. Now the incident is closed.

Mr. CALDWELL: But I am rising

STOMACH ULCER AND GALL STONES

After Suffering 25 Years, Completely
Relieved by "FRUIT-A-LIVES"

MR. EDWARDS

MAPLEHURST FARM, HILLHURST, P.Q.

"I am in my 78th year. About 25 years ago, I began to have trouble with my Stomach. One doctor said I had Cancer; another said, Ulcer of the Stomach; another, Gallstones; others, Ulcers of the Liver and Inflammation of the Gall Bladder.

Three years ago, I consulted one of the best specialists in Montreal. He said I must go to the hospital, have an Ulcer cut out of my stomach and gall stones removed. I was then 74 years old. I said "NO."

Then, I began to take "Fruit-a-lives."

I found they helped me a lot, and I still take them occasionally, and I am so much better that my old friends often ask me what I have done to myself to look so well. I am gaining in weight and enjoying life very much."

to a question of privilege.

Mr. SPEAKER: Order.

Mr. CALDWELL: I have only explained one incident. The hon. member for St. John also charged that I had stated a falsehood in the House.

Mr. STEVENS: I rise to point of order.

Mr. SPEAKER: Is the hon. member speaking to a point of order?

Mr. STEVENS: My point of order is this: I bring to your attention the fact that when the hon. member for St. John first attempted to make his statement he was ruled out of order by you, Sir, and I think quite properly. On the second occasion that he made his statement he was again ruled out of order, after proceeding for some short space, by the Chairman of the Committee of the House. Consequently he had not the opportunity of finishing his statement. Therefore, I submit to you, Sir, that it would be highly unfair to have another hon. gentleman debate further the hon. member's statement which was not completed.

Mr. CALDWELL: May I speak to the point of order? I submit that it is quite a different thing to rule an hon. member out of order when he is replying to an attack by another hon. member and seeking to establish the fact that he was misquoted, and falsely accused of making a false statement in this House.

Some hon. MEMBERS: Order.

Mr. CALDWELL: I will leave the House to judge if I am not taking the right course.

Mr. BAXTER: The hon. gentleman has already misquoted me. I was careful to say that I was quoting from a letter signed by the gentleman he had attacked in the House. I made no statement about the hon. member himself because I have no personal knowledge of the circumstances.

Mr. SPEAKER: No hon. member can use the expression "false" or "falsely" in speaking of another hon. member. It is not parliamentary language and I would therefore ask the hon. member from Carleton, N.

B., to withdraw the expression.

Mr. CALDWELL: Mr. Speaker, I gladly withdraw the expression. It is misinterpreted in any way I desire to state, however, that I did not accuse the hon. member himself of making a false statement. I said he read a document "which falsely accused me of making a false statement in this House."

Mr. SPEAKER: I have given my ruling and I am now in the hands of the House. I rule that the incident is now closed. It has been fully explained by all parties.

Mr. CALDWELL: Before you leave the Chair, Mr. Speaker, I would like to continue the discussion which was proceeding when I was ruled out of order recently. I had stated that the hon. member from St. John and Albert (Mr. Baxter) quoted a statement I made on the 12th of June. I read what he said and I read what I said myself, and I am willing to leave the House to judge of the matter. In regard to the making of the list, I want to quote what the hon. member said. During the reading of this document he interjected this remark:

"There comes a very distinct issue of veracity between the hon. member and the returning officer. I know nothing of the circumstances. I do not know anything personally of the circumstances now, except as I have heard the statement made in the House and as I have, in my possession, a statement differing very widely in practically all respects, of the returning officer."

He has qualified that again by saying—

"I cannot of course vouch for a single statement I am reading."

I am not in the same position as the hon. member for St. John. I am not going to make a statement I cannot vouch for in this case. I did not make a statement on the 12th June that I could not vouch for and could not prove in any court of law and I do not propose to make a statement now which I cannot vouch for. I was quoting what I did say on that occasion with regard to preparing the list and will leave the House to judge whether the returning officer's statement differed from mine. I was speaking of the necessity for the polls created in my riding. I said—

"I went to the returning officer to inquire if it was a fact that those new polls had been established, because I had no notice of the enumerators, and he said that it was."

He asked him if he had his enumerators or registrars appointed for the polls and who they were. He said: "No, I said I do not propose to appoint any. I asked him how he proposed to get a list of those polls and to furnish it to the candidates on Monday day. He said that he did not propose to have a list for each polling division. He was subdividing one polling division into four. He said that he was going to have them all prepared as one list and listed as he said. We agreed to provide a copy of each poll for the deputy returning officer on election day, but no lists will be prepared for the candidates."

I want to quote from the document the hon. member read on Saturday night and I will leave the House to judge. The hon. member for St. John read from the document prepared by the returning officer as follows:

"He further says that he did not at that time want to appoint new registrars who would be unfamiliar with the duties, and that he proposed to allow the existing registrars to make up his list for the entire division in the usual way and then subdivide it geographically for the use of the deputy returning officer in the separate polling stations on election day."

That is identical with the statement I made on the 12th June. I wish to deal very briefly with this, because I do not wish to impose on the good nature of the House at this hour of the night and at this stage of the session, but I think it is due to myself that I should clear up this matter. This is so clear from the statement as read by the hon. member from what is supposed to be a document sent to him by the returning officer for my riding.

"He says that the hon. member's further statement that the hon. member threatened him with an injunction is quite surprising. At no time during the election did either candidate threaten him in any way, and so far as he was aware, the conduct of the election from the returning officer's standpoint was satisfactory to all parties concerned. He says that it was surprising to learn that the hon. member had to put an injunction on the election."

At this point I rose to a point of order and I said—

Mr. CALDWELL: "I rise to a question of privilege. I never said that I had to put on an injunction; but I had to threaten to do so, and I can prove this by the attorney whom I employed."

I wish to read a telegram from an attorney whom I employed on that occasion. I wired him on Saturday night to verify the threatened injunction and this is the telegram which I received from my attorney. This gentleman is well known to the members of the House from the maritime provinces and his veracity would not be impugned. His name is W. F. Jones, barrister, of Woodstock, N. B.: Woodstock, N. B., June 25, 1922.

Thomas W. Caldwell, M. P., House of Commons, Ottawa, Ont.

Last Dominion election you instructed me to apply for injunction against returning officer unless lists of new polls established by him were furnished without further delay. I telephoned returning officer that I would take legal action if lists not supplied. He referred me to Hayward his solicitor who undertook to furnish same.

W. F. Jones.

Now, in that statement read by the hon. member Saturday night and in his comments he stated the returning officer had submitted these things to the Chief Electoral Officer and had his sanction to do this. The returning officer also showed me these letters from the Chief Electoral Officer to his office, which showed that he had spent more time in corresponding with the Chief Electoral Officer to get authority to evade the Election Act than it would have taken to have made the lists because he had had several interchanges of letters with the Chief Electoral Officer, and he read them to me in his office. I said, "I do not care what the Chief Electoral Officer told you to do about the law. He has authority to instruct you to establish a new polling division. You must make the list according to law, and I want to quote what the law says about appointing officers and making lists." I was not finding fault because he did not appoint new registrars. Some inconvenience, but I was particular that we should have the lists and have them according to law. I want to read what the law says about appointing registrars and making lists. Page 23 of the Dominion Elections Act, section 32, rule 1, reads:

"Rule (1) Immediately after the receipt of the writ the returning officer shall appoint by writing in Form No. 5 one person only to be registrar of voters for each rural division. Whenever a competent person can be secured who is a resident within the limits of the polling division such person shall be appointed and only in case of necessity shall a registrar be selected from an outside polling division."

PURITY HEATHIZED

is the kind you should specify. Heathization is science's newest discovery in food sanitation. It is the method of making ice cream which drives out the air and replaces it with a pure, clean, germless atmosphere, infinitely purer than air.

Air, you know is never pure. It is often laden with all kinds of impurities. So mixing air with pure ice cream, sugar, fruits, and flavoring used in making ice cream makes the finest product impure. Insist on Purity.

NEWSPAPERMEN HAVE A ROUGH DRIVE

John A. Fisher, editor and proprietor of The Pictorial Advocate was among the newspapermen who recently visited Hartland. Of his trip he says: "The St. John is a river of many scenic beauties. It unfolds panorama after panorama. Leaving St. John we ran beside it for a number of miles and went back to it again before reaching Woodstock. At Woodstock we took automobiles and drove thirteen miles along the St. John to Hartland. This drive afforded a fine sample of river scenery, the banks rising from the river bed and containing rich farm land with here and there woodland to offer variety. Truth to tell, however, we had to take our scenery on the fly, for that was the wildest drive since the days of John Gilpin. Each and every auto load asserted emphatically that their driver was the original speed demon and that they only touched the very highest spots of the road. We do not know what the grand idea was but it was to show what discomfort there is in going at a forty-mile clip over rough road it was admirably successful.

At Hartland we were given a great welcome. The mayor was there to make a speech and, better still, a ladies' organization was right on the job with a luncheon of salads and other good things. Hartland is a rather pretty village of 1280 in the centre of a prosperous farming country. The important fact that lingers in our memory, in truth about the only thing in the mayor's eloquent address that we really took in, is that within a minute's walk from the centre of the town there is a salmon pool where fishermen congregate daily and where a 26 pounder was landed last year with fly and line. Some day we are going back to Hartland and catch the mate to that 26 pounder.

LAVIGNE RELEASED BY FREDERICTON

Jimmie Lavigne, who came here with the reputation of being the home run king of the Upper St. John Valley in 1921, was released by the Fredericton Baseball Club yesterday and left last evening for his home at Hartland.

While an earnest worker Lavigne fell down badly on his fielding at third base, his weakness on handling bunts being especially noticeable, and he also failed to bat up to expectations. His batting average for the games he played with Fredericton was .266 while his fielding fell off to .734—Gleaner.

Liver Pains

Pains under the shoulder blades tell of liver derangements. Other indications are yellow complexion, indigestion, constipation, biliousness and bilious headaches.

The quickest way to arouse the liver to healthful action is by use of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. Continued use will insure lasting relief, correct the whole digestive system and purify the blood.

Mrs. Wm. Barten, Hanover, Ont., writes:

"For some time I suffered from liver trouble. There was a hard, beating-down feeling in my back which I could not get rid of. Some one advised me to try Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. I did so, and found them wonderful. The dragging feeling in my back disappeared and I felt much lighter generally. I have great confidence in Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and always keep them on hand for general use."

East Florenceville

Mr. and Mrs. Mike McLaughlin and niece, Miss Fern Goodine of Limestone, were here by auto Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Archie Goodine of Maple View were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Goodine on Sunday.

Miss Mae Swasey was the guest of Miss Mary McNally of Aroostook Jet, Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Coleman Grant, Mr. and Mrs. Hartley Grant, Mrs. Herbert Goodine, Mrs. Roy Brayal and Mrs. Barney Baker attended the Oddfellows picnic in Aroostook Jet. on June 29.

Miss Fern Grant spent the weekend with Miss Freda Hanscom.

TILLEY TOPICS

Mrs. John Duncan and family of Millinocket are visiting the former's brother, Oliver LaFrance.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Shorey of Four Falls were Sunday visitors of Mr. and Mrs. John Hanscom.

Among those who attended the "Oddfellows" dance in Aroostook Jet, Friday evening were, Miss Ruby Hanscom, Miss Ella LaFrance, Miss Lena O'Connor, Miss Mae Swasey, Mr. and Mrs. William Hanscom, sr., Mäzner DeMerchant and Edward Leach. Tilley Orchestra furnished music.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Curry are visiting the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Williams in Maple View.

GRAHAM-BURPEE

A very pretty wedding was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Graham at Tapley Mills when their only daughter Stella E. was united in marriage to Robert Ambrose Burpee of Jacksonville. Miss Muriel Adams of Woodstock was bridesmaid, while the groom was supported by Stanley Graham, brother of the bride. Little Thelma Allen was flower girl, dressed in white silk. Mandelsohn's wedding march was beautifully rendered by Miss Helen McKibbin of Woodstock. The ceremony was performed by Rev. H. Y. Bragdon under an arch of maple leaves and wild flowers, in the presence of about 70 guests. The single ring service was used.

The bride was becomingly attired in a dress of white satin with bead trimmings, and veil caught up with orange blossoms, and carried a shower bouquet of white roses and carnations, with travelling suit of navy blue tricot and hat to match. Bridesmaid was dressed in pink organdie, large white hat and carried bouquet of pink roses and carnations.

Several guests were from Maine including Mr. and Mrs. Fred G. London of Hodgdon, Messrs. Allen and George and Mrs. A. L. Bragg of Staceyville, Mr. and Mrs. Boardman Dunphy and daughter of Island Falls.

The bride was the recipient of many useful and valuable presents consisting of silver, cut glass, china, pyrex, linen and number of substantial cheques.

The happy couple after a sumptuous meal was served, left by car for their new home in Jacksonville, where some three hundred people were waiting, giving them a very warm and noisy reception. Their many friends wish them a happy and prosperous voyage through life.

HAYDEN-GE

A very pretty wedding was celebrated at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gee of Summerfield when their daughter Nellie Margaret was united in marriage to Alvin Reid Hayden of Knoxford on Wednesday, June 28. The ceremony was performed by Rev. D. R. Chown, B. A. of Florenceville in the presence of the immediate relatives of the contracting parties.

The wedding march was beautifully rendered by Miss Hazel Green of Summerfield.

The bride looked charming, being becomingly attired in white silk and bridal veil and carried a beautiful bouquet. Little Miss Audrey Gee, niece of the bride, acted as flower girl. After the ceremony the guests sat down to a sumptuous wedding repast.

The numerous and costly gifts bespoke the high esteem in which the young couple are held. Mr. and Mrs. Gee will reside at Knoxford.

KATHLEEN EVORA LUNN

Much regret was felt by the people of Summerfield and the surrounding country upon hearing of the sudden and unexpected death of Kathleen Evora Lunn, eldest daughter of the late Coleman and Mrs. Lunn. During the past winter she was laid aside with serious illness necessitating the performance of two operations. She, however, after many weeks of severe suffering, which she patiently endured, rallied and regaining her strength, she seemed to be in the enjoyment of excellent health, as evidenced by her cheerfulness and activity. On Thursday she was suddenly taken ill and notwithstanding all the medical skill and careful nursing could do for her she passed away on Monday, June 26, after but a few days' illness.

Kathleen was a bright little girl of nine years and her early demise has left a profound impression upon all who knew her. The funeral services were conducted by Rev. D. R. Chown and were largely attended. Interment was made in the cemetery beside the remains of her father who but a few months before passed away. She leaves to mourn, beside her widowed mother, five brothers and two sisters, for whom much sympathy is felt in this another hour of sorrow and sore bereavement.

Railway News

Guelph. — Realizing that some effort should be made to preserve the old C. P. R. station building, the first house built in Guelph, which is located on a piece of ground at the foot of Woolwich Street, and which is fast going to ruin, the civic improvement committee of Guelph decided to make a move towards having improvements carried out to preserve the building.

Galt.—General Manager G. W. Kirkwood of the Lake Erie & Northern and Grand River Railways has announced that early in July work would be started on the new Union Depot on Main street. The plans have been finally approved and tenders have been called for. The building, which will be of rug brick construction, one storey in height, but later it is intended to add another storey, to accommodate the general offices now located in Scott's Block.

Moose Jaw.—The roof is now on the Dominion Express Company's new building, west of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company office building, and the work is being rushed with great speed. As soon as the Express Company building is in shape to be occupied, the old building will be removed and the work of installing the new tracks will be commenced.

In front of the new depot the concrete roadway is laid in squares of ten feet. The city electricians have completed the installation of the two electric light standards at the outer edges of the sidewalks on both sides of the roadway.

Galt.—After 40 years of continuous and faithful service as an employee of the C. P. R., Alex. McKean, city ticket agent here for the past 15 years, joined the list of the superannuated and his place was taken by John Campbell, for many years a permanent resident of Galt, at one time depot and freight agent, but for the past several years travelling passenger agent.

Mr. McKean commenced his railway career in freight and was agent at High Bluff, Manitoba, for a couple of years and for 17 years successfully conducted a mercantile business in Mount Forest, handling railway, steamship, telegraph and express services. It was from Mount Forest that he came to Galt in 1906.

Vancouver. — Vancouver's first transcontinental railway train entered the city thirty-five years ago, when prophecies were made which have now reached full realization. In the address of welcome to Henry Abbott, who was then superintendent of the Pacific Division of the C. P. R., Mayor M. A. Macdonald drew a word-picture of Vancouver in the future which is now a fact.

Vancouver's first train was drawn by an old wood-burning type engine and included a baggage, colonist sleeper and pullman and drawing-room cars of the latest type at that date. The engine was draped in evergreens and bore placards bearing inscriptions "From Ocean to Ocean" and many mottoes declaring the achievements of the men who undertook the construction of the C. P. R.

P. Barnhardt was conductor and P. Richter, engineer. The celebration of the arrival of the train was carried on far into the night, the city band ascending officials of the C. P. R. and a torchlight procession being staged through the city.

Woodstock, Ontario.—In the death of Charles Garden, C.B., which occurred at the residence of Col. F. H. J. Dobbie recently, there passed away the last male member in his generation, of a family associated with the history and progress of Woodstock, for well-nigh, if not quite, a century. Mr. Garden was connected with the building of the C. P. R. through the Rockies. He was one of the advance guard of the exploration party. The route of his party was via the N. P. R. to Bismark, Dakota, up the Missouri to Benton and thence by track to Calgary and up the Bow. Only one party came over the Rockies' summit. Mr. Garden was transit man and the party consisted of fifteen men. They came through the Vermillion, south of Kickinghorse and made their way to what is now called "Golden." They built "The Cache" which has ever since remained, with of course, extensive restorations and is now known as Modie's House. In 1887, Mr. Garden worked on C. P. R. construction near Lake Superior on White River, Pennsylvania.

DARTMOUTH CITIZEN SAYS HE SUFFERED FOR YEARS FROM INDIGESTION BUT WAS FINALLY RESTORED COMPLETELY BY TAKING TANLAC.

In telling how Tanlac helped me I feel I am only doing my public duty," declared Peter Nielsen, highly respected citizen of Dartmouth, N. S. "For nearly fifteen years I was troubled with indigestion. My Food would form gas that caused me sharp pains across my chest and almost cut off my breath. My kidneys also were out of order. I had a pain in the small of my back and if I stooped over I could hardly straighten up again.

"Of late years my chief trouble was rheumatism. Some times I could not use my arms and shoulders. Then it seemed to settle in my legs. I got so bad I could not walk to business.

"Finally I decided to try Tanlac and today I am a well man. My rheumatism is gone and I am able to walk back and forth to work. My indigestion has been overcome and I feel just fine. I think Tanlac is a wonderful medicine."

Tanlac is sold by all good druggists.

Harbor, and it was at this time that the first through C. P. R. train went to Vancouver. He was later engaged on construction on the Deloraine branch to the Coal Mines for the C. P. R. He had charge of location and construction on Souris Branch and was for some years in office work in Winnipeg. In 1897 he was located on the location of the Crow's Nest branch, locating the loop and tunnel at Michael Creek.

Quebec.—Probably the most fragile and interesting consignment yet given into the keeping of the Dominion Express Company is one which will come shortly on a Canadian Pacific Steamships freighter from London.

Two tiny baby kangaroos are to be passengers on the ship and will brave the North Atlantic on their long journey from the London Zoo to Toronto, which is their ultimate destination.

The tiny passengers are coming over with the compliments of the London Zoo authorities who were indebted to Toronto last season for the addition of two very young Canadian beavers to their collection. The kangaroos will be accompanied by a special attendant, who will strive to do his best for the little tots and land them in good condition.

Port Arthur. — The International Union of Hungry Hoboes, in so far as its membership affects Port Arthur and Port William will suffer a depletion in its ranks this summer. At Navilus the first station east of Port Arthur, there are located a couple of plain clothes policemen who are gathering the 'bobs into the long arms of the law. One day the officers brought seven knights of the road into Port Arthur. Hunting was good during next day, too, when a party of nine arrived on Number One to keep the others company. In Port Arthur Police Court each was fined $20 or one month in prison. They were taken to the jail. When a 'bo drops off a freight at Port Arthur, he is least expecting to meet a guardian of the law. That is why it is stated the Canadian Pacific Railway has put constables there to gather in the members of the ride-for-nothing clan.

Vancouver.—The Canadian Pacific Railway has inaugurated its new "Empress Special" train service between this city and Chicago. Little more than an hour after the "Empress of Asia" arrived the special train pulled out for the east, carrying about fifty passengers, who took advantage of the new service. The schedule of the train calls for the delivery of the passengers in Chicago in seventy-two hours and those who are going to the Atlantic will be able to catch their boats there for the Old Country in quicker time than ever before. The equipment of the special consisted of two standard sleepers, an observation, and a baggage car. Extra equipment was also attached to the Imperial Limited to accommodate the large number of passengers who crossed the continent by the All-Canadian route.

Toronto.—D. C. Coleman, vice-president of the western lines, Canadian Pacific Railway, and just back from a tour to the coast, speaks optimistically of conditions in British Columbia.

"General business in the west is improving," he continued. "There is a return of confidence since the seeding has been done, and the result has been, not a marked, but a very steady improvement."

"British Columbia is rapidly forging ahead. Although the domestic market for timber is not up to normal, the increase in export to foreign countries is encouraging. The mining industry is going full blast. Smelters are in operation everywhere in the mining districts, despite the low price of copper. More than seven million bushels of wheat were shipped from Victoria during the past year. Three-fifths of this went to Great Britain, and the balance was shipped to the Orient."

Montreal.—The new C.P.R. steamship "Empress of Australia" sailed on her first voyage from Greenock, Scotland, where she was built, for Vancouver via the Panama Canal, on Friday, June 16. She is a twin-screw steamship of 21,400 gross tons, 590 feet in length, 75.2 feet in breadth, and 41.5 feet in depth. She was ordered before the War broke out and was in the builders' hands when hostilities commenced. Since the conclusion of the War she has been converted into an oil-burner. Her equipment and standard are similar to the equipment and standard of the "Empress of Scotland." She is scheduled to arrive at Vancouver about July 10, and will leave on her first regular voyage to the Orient on July 27. Capt. Samuel Robinson, R.N.R., former commander of the "Empress of Russia," has been given command of the new vessel.

Mr. W. N. Tilley has been appointed a Director of the Canadian Pacific Railway to fill the vacancy created by the death of Sir John Eaton. Mr. Tilley has been actively engaged in railway legal work since 1914. He is going to London, England, immediately to appear before the Privy Council as one of the Counsel for the Canadian Government in the Grand Trunk Award Case. Mr. Tilley was born in Bowmanville, Ontario, in 1868, and called to the Bar in 1894.

SASKATCHEWAN WOMAN RECOVERS

Found Health by Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Melval, Saskatchewan.—"I saw Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound advertised for women's troubles and when a friend recommended it to me I tried it and it has done me so much good in the two years in which I have been taking it that I find I am a different woman since then. I recommend your Vegetable Compound as much as I can and you may use my letter as a testimonial."

—Mrs. Wm. J. Thomas, Melval, Saskatchewan.

These letters recommending Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound ought to convince women of the great worth of this medicine in the treatment of ailments to which they are often subject.

Mrs. Thomas writes that she is a different woman now. If you are suffering from troubles women often have, or feel all run down, without any ambition or energy for your regular work, take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It is a natural restorative and should help you as it has Mrs. Thomas and many, many other women.

This medicine has been helping sick women nearly fifty years—surely a long record of service.

FAMOUS BREEDS OF CATTLE

Brief Outline History of Our Best Known Stock Prepared Especially for Observer Readers

Thinking it may be of some interest to your many readers, especially in an agricultural district like the counties of Carleton, Madawaska and Victoria. I send you a few notes on the original native places of the different breeds of cattle that we have in Canada.

First, I will mention the Shorthorn, so called. This well known breed of beef cattle were first known in the Tees district of Durham County, England. The breed was improved by the Collins Bros. of that place—date date 1749 to 1820—and Booth and Gates of Yorkshire, Scotland, they became known as Shorthorns and today such herds as possessed by Dutchee of Colling in Aberdeen are samples of what scientific breeding of cattle can do. The Shorthorn is very easily adapted to conditions of climate, soil and management. It is more noted for beef-making than for milk producing, although efforts are being made to restore milking qualities to certain strains of pedigreed blood. The color of these are red, roan and white. We will next speak of the Aberdeen Angus, a polled black breed. They belong originally to Aberdeenshire, Scotland, but now many fine herds are to be found in England, Ireland, Canada and United States. They are a splendid beef breed and when crossed with Shorthorns are unrivalled as beef cattle. They are not noted for milking qualities, but their milk is very much richer than the Shorthorns. A pure bred bull of this breed was sold lately in Scotland for 400 guineas. Next we have the Hereford cattle from the county of that name in England. They are very well known in Canada and need no description. They are both good for milk and beef. Then we have the Galloway from the west and south of Scotland. They are also hornless with a thicker hide and shaggier hair than the Aberdeen Angus. They are normally black. They yield superior quality of beef and are fairly good milkers. Next is the West Highland or Kyle, a very hardy and picturesque breed, supposed to have been the original cattle of Great Britain. They are small in size; they have long shaggy hair and in color varying from white to dun. They are now only to be seen in English parks and other reserves. The wild nature is still very pronounced in them.

The next on my list is the Kerry, a breed of small black cattle belonging to the south and west of Ireland. They can subsist on scanty and rough food and are good milkers.

Next come the Canadian cattle, so called. They are black in color, with a narrow brown strip down the back and a light ring around the muzzle. They are descended from cattle brought to Canada by French settlers about 300 years ago; and are related to the Guernsey. Owners of herds of this breed claim they are the most profitable of any cattle in Canada.

I will now speak of the dairy cattle although they are all so well known that I shall only mention their original habitat. The Brown Swiss from Switzerland, the Dutch belted and Holstein from Holland, the Ayrshires from Scotland, the Devon from England and various breeds of Durhams also from England. The Jersey and Guernsey from the Channel Islands. The government of the Channel Islands are very strict in regulations regarding the breeding of these cattle and if on examination they find any sign of tubercular or other diseases on a farm they simply slaughter the whole herd and also all other animals on that farm, even at a certain rate for all. The term Alderney is obsolete now as it is the same practically as the Guernsey. On the Channel Islands every animal is listed and a record is kept of any that may be for sale, giving the amount of milk and butter fat, age and weight of the cow. Any intending purchaser can thereby look over this list and so buy just the animal that suits him. I may here mention that the Channel Islands are the most densely populated of any part of Europe and every nook of land is tilled to the limit.

have now only left the Shetland cow from the Shetland Islands, a very small animal, and is to be ranked among dairy cattle. I presume most of your readers have seen a Shetland pony that will give you some idea of the size of a Shetland cow. They are black and white. Some of them weigh only 250 lbs. but are said to give more milk for their size than any known breed.

I will now close my few rambling remarks and hoping it may be of some interest to some of your numerous readers. I am, yours sincerely,
W. H. ROSS

Mrs. Margaret Bunting and her daughter, Miss Effie Bunting of Kirkland were pleasant callers at The Observer office on Thursday. Miss Bunting is a linotype operator on Houlton Daily News and enjoyed making an inspection of The Observer plant.

Beautiful clear weather, not too hot, has characterized the week so far, and is working miracles with the crops. Many farmers have haying operations in full swing and the crop is going to be a good one. Some fields of potatoes present a fine stand, while others are not so good.

At the residence of the officiating minister on June 23, a quiet wedding was solemnized when Miss Beattie Goodwin of Hartland became the bride of Leo Hayward of Connell. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. M. Mallory at Middle Simonds.

A week or so ago two railway "speeders" running in opposite directions between Hartland and Woodstock collided in the darkness. Both machines were badly broken and Fred Portas of the bridge and building department suffered a broken leg, while Trackmaster Lister was severely bruised and shaken up. Both were taken to the hospital.

Archibald Fraser who was injured in an automobile accident some days ago, left last evening for Montreal to undergo treatment at the Royal Victoria Hospital. An X-ray taken at the Fraser Memorial Hospital revealed a broken shoulder blade and as it was giving much pain he decided to go to Montreal for treatment. He was accompanied by his son, Donald Fraser—Gleaner.

On Sunday Mr. and Mrs. George Stevens, accompanied by Miss Mattie Rideout, were here from Houlton and returning took as their guests, Misses Margaret and Marion Stevens. They were among a party of three cars which went north from Houlton on the state road and to Grand Falls, returning by the river road. They reported the roads of Maine worse than those of New Brunswick.

Frederick G. Foster of Middle Simonds has been elected president of the First National Bank of Houlton, Wash. His election was generally expected in financial circles. He has been first vice-president for two years. In 1911 he organized the F. G. Foster Co. and took over the Northwestern Lumber Company, establishing a mercantile institution which is known as one of the strongest organizations in the northwest. He is a brother of High Sheriff, Albion Foster. He went west in 1886.

So far there has not been a single baseball game this year at Hartland except between junior teams. Last week the "regular" team went to Bristol to play but rain prevented. The following day Bristol came here and again rain prevented. On Monday a Hartland team under the management of Gilbert Hatfield and consisting of four players from Houlton, one from Perth and two from Madawaska, the remainder from Hartland went to Fredericton to play the regular team at Fredericton. The first game was lost in a score of 13-5. Yesterday's game resulted in a 7-7 tie.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL ITEMS

J. F. Huettis of St. Stephen was here during the week.

There were six births last week and the death of one baby a few hours old.

Miss G. Barbe has accepted an appointment with Fraser companies as stenographer.

Miss Alice Miller is on her vacation visiting friends and relatives in the southern part of the province.

Interesting and a very complete report of the annual school meeting is unavoidably held over to next issue.

Mr. and Mrs. S. I. Wagner and the two Misses Wagner are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Wagner of this town.

Miss Elsie McFadden was the guest of her brother, Jack McFadden at the Madawaska Inn over the week-end.

These are holiday times in the Observer Printing Plant and, short-handed, the papers are got out under difficulties.

Frank Haight and H. Underwood, both of New Glasgow, have joined Reid's Orchestra, the former a Saxophone player and the other a pianist.

It is understood that the Convention of the Union of New Brunswick Municipalities will be held in Edmundston at the time of the International Bridge opening, September 4th.

C. F. Higgins who has been with the Fraser Companies for some years as an engineer, has left the employ of the company and has gone to Portland, Maine.

T. J. Scott of the Royal Bank was out automobile riding last Sunday afternoon and trying to remove a tire jammed the forefinger of his left hand so badly that it was almost severed.

Mrs. Harold Alcorn and little son Douglas who spent the week-end here with Mrs. J. W. Hall left on Tuesday for Campbellton to spend a few days with Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Henderson.

Miss V. Baker has resigned her position as stenographer with the Fraser Companies. Dame Rumor has it that Miss-Baker is to accept a more responsible position in the future and make a life job of it.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hall and son, Ronald of Woodstock have been visiting Mrs. Hall's mother, Mrs. E. Miller. The trip from Woodstock was made by auto and they left Wednesday morning on their return trip.

Mrs. B. A. Lynott was at home to a few of her friends on Tuesday afternoon. Baptist church Sunday morning. Mr. Robert, Mrs. Thaddeus Hebert, Mrs. Ambrose Sullivan, Mrs. Fred Dayton and Mrs. J. M. Stevens.

Mr. and Mrs. E. P. McKay and Mr. and Mrs. Angus McLean of Bathurst were in town on Monday and Tuesday on their way by motor through Northern New Brunswick and Maine. They were the guests whilst here of Mrs. E. F. Babin.

Angus McLean head of the great lumber company at Bathurst was a visitor in town over the week-end. This is the first time Mr. McLean was ever in Edmundston. He seemed much impressed with the industries, and the go-ahead-ness of every one here.

It is believed by local police authorities that perhaps there is some chance of getting the stolen car, yesterday word was received from York Beach, Me., that an automobile was being held there and the authorities are in touch with one another.

We are hearing good reports from the patients in various hospitals: Mrs. Murdoch will be back soon, Alec Brecher is coming along fine, Alec Stevens is coming up to expectations, Mr. Duncan is expected home this week. We ought to have a hospital.

A friend of St. Paul's church has written to the minister asking if the Kirk session would accept for the church a pulpit gown and cassock. Needless to say the Kirk session very gratefully wrote saying that the gift would be appreciated by the congregation.

The car stolen from the garage of Pat Fournier a couple of weeks ago was traced as far as Houlton, but not any farther. It is too bad that the culprits were not apprehended. The loss of the McCaskey system is a heavy one, and does not benefit the robbers. If there is honour amongst thieves they might manifest it by sending back the books and accounts.

The governor of Maine has notified the Madawaska authorities that he is coming here August 1 to open the bridge. Martin Theriault the manager of the celebration committee, immediately telegraphed and asked that the visit be postponed to the date which has been set—Sept. 4.

At the church of the Immaculate Conception by the Rev. Father Conway, on Tuesday morning, Antoine St. Onge son of Mr. and Mrs. Denis St. Onge was united in marriage to the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Raymond. This young couple, both residents of Edmundston, have the best wishes of a host of friends and received a large number of beautiful and costly gifts.

Wallace Matheson and Sandy MacAlary of Esouart were in town on Sunday.

Ted Miller is spending his vacation at Kilburn the guest of his sister, Mrs. Ray Porter.

Miss Annie P. Bedell has returned from her vacation most of which was spent in Montreal.

Mrs. Lawson who is in the Woodstock hospital is doing splendidly and is expected home soon.

Pat Cyr of the Fraser Company is on his vacation. His place is being filled temporarily by Willie Dunbar.

Miss M. Moss of the Fraser Companies staff left for her vacation on Thursday of last week, spending it at Stanley.

Mrs. (Dr.) Lockhart is visiting her mother in Ontario. Mrs. Lockhart left on Friday of last week and intended going on the boat from Quebec to Toronto.

David Moscovitz and his mother arrived by car from Montreal on Wednesday accompanied by Reuben Vender. Mrs. Moscovitz will not return for the next few weeks.

W. H. Ross of St. John was here over the week-end. Mr. Ross comes here several times a year to promote harmony. After he leaves there is more music in Edmundston than ever before.

ADVERTISING

Why do so many well-written advertisements fail to profit? They were not used to the full by the advertiser himself. Often, an advertisement, standing alone and without any follow-up, will do wonders; but it is too much to expect an advertisement to carry the whole burden of salesmanship.

Too often, a firm makes up its mind to spend $5,000 on a big bang of an advertisement. It does so. There is a sudden loud noise and then—dead silence. Nothing much has happened. And ever afterwards that firm says "Advertising is a failure."

This is not fair to advertising, nor to advertising agencies. The firm itself was to blame, not for principle of publicity.

Many firms make this mistake for the simple reason that it is easier to spend than to plan.

They use their advertisement as a rocket, not as a lighthouse.

If you want advertising to do its best for you, you must treat it fairly. You must prepare for the advertising and you must complete the job—and make the most of it.

Every full-page advertisement should have at least two quarter-page follow-ups, on the two succeeding days. Many people need to be told a fact two or three times, before they act on it.

After all, advertising is only sowing the seed. After the soil and the sun and the rain have done their best, there is still the harvesting. You must reap and stack and bag and sell. Also, you must chase the birds off.—Herbert N. Casson, in Forbes Magazine, (N. Y.)

MRS. EVANS ILL

Mrs. David Evans who was taken sick last week with erysipelas, developed some symptoms which could not be very readily accounted for, and on Wednesday morning was taken to Fredericton hospital, Mr. Evans Mrs. Jameson of Prince William a sister of Mrs. Evans who has been visiting her during her sickness accompanying her. We trust that Mrs. Evans will soon be restored to health again.

A telegram just received by the editor from David Evans reads: "Fredericton, July 13; Fannie very well; expect operation ten-thirty this morning, will wire this evening, D. P. Evans."

A telegram was received this morning from Mr. Evans that the operation was successfully performed yesterday morning.

SCHOOL HOUSES

(Charlton Observer)

It is said up and down the river that Hartland runs strong on conversions. The latest proposal is to convert a dilapidated blacksmith shop into a school house wherein to train the young idea how to think along ideal and progressive lines.

East, Florenceville, Florenceville and Perth have new school houses of concrete and brick and tomorrow the pupils of today will be proud to point to the seat of their early mental training. Edmundston has fairly under way a magnificent school building which when equipped will cost fully $150,000. Bristol is building a fine structure to inspire its children with a thirst for learning. The people of all these towns are justly proud of their enterprise and know that they have issued debentures that will bring returns that cannot be reckoned in dollars and cents.

BRING THEIR OWN WELCOME

Robin and Dandelion Loved by Children Throughout the World, and Eagerly Looked For.

Someone has said that the dandelion is pre-eminently the children's flower, for it grows all over the world and is known and loved by the little ones of every nation. The robin holds the same place in the affection of the children of this country, his arrival in the spring being eagerly looked for by them. And yet a charming woman asked recently while listening to a song sparrow and a white throat, "Does a robin sing, too?" Think of all she has lost—at dawn, at twilight and in the summer showers! Poor city dweller.

And that reminds me of an incident in a railroad yard in Michigan. A pair of robins built their nest in a freight car, and just as the brood was hatched the order came to send the car on to Chicago. The yardmen, after consultation, telegraphed the situation to headquarters, and the order came instantly back to sidetrack the car till the babies were able to leave the nest. The men at both ends of the line were country boys, without doubt.

Our own particular robins are back in full feather, fat, red and saucy as ever. We miss the one who always hopped instead of running, on account of some injury in his youth, and who was here every summer for four years. —Chicago Daily News.

ECUADOR HAS FEW SCHOOLS

Colleges in South American Country Out of All Proportion to Primary Institutions.

If the proportion of whites in the population of a country is to be taken as an indication of its intellectual status, then one might fairly expect only a very moderate intellectual achievement from Ecuador. One of the smallest of Andean countries, with its few mountain towns linked with the rest of the world practically not otherwise than through its one important seaport, its entire population is only about 1 1/2 million, and of this number all are Indians and blacks excepting the four hundred thousand of mixed origin and a mere one hundred thousand whites.

At best, the twelve hundred primary schools, with a nominal attendance of eighty thousand, do not begin to account for all the children of school age, and the thirty or forty secondary schools have to do with no more than forty-five hundred pupils, all told.

Like all Andean countries, however Ecuador gives preference to all who assume to follow a professional career, and for higher instruction she counts the three universities of Quito, Guayaquil and Cuenca, with six provincial schools of trades and professions.

Officers Copy d'Annunzio.

Gabriele d'Annunzio's biographer has set the fashion for the officers of his little army in Fiume, many of whom have shaved their craniums and are endeavoring to grow miniature Van-dyke beards as copies of the poet's adornment.

The Fiume aviators have adopted the craze with greater zeal than other branches and call themselves "Iron Heads." Youthful officers in their teens and early twenties have shaved their heads and are wearing little pointed beards in an effort to look as much like the poet as they can.

Mixed uniforms of French horizon blue and Italian gray green are worn by d'Annunzio's men with great pride.

Increase in Japan's Coal Output.

Shipping and Engineering notes with interest that the output of coal in Japan during the first 11 months of 1919 was put at 25,825,000 tons, showing an increase of 2,740,000 tons, or about 10 per cent, as compared with the corresponding period of the previous year, in spite of the pessimistic reports made from time to time of the gradual exhaustion of the mines. This was attributed to the revival of old mines and the increase in the number of new mines, owing to the profitable prices obtaining, although the output in Kyushu, which constitutes 60 per cent of the total output, did not materially change.

Making a Hit.

I had an engagement one evening with a young woman friend, with whom I was endeavoring to make a big hit, writes a correspondent. We went to the theater; I walked up to the box office and asked for two tickets. Thinking I had them, my companion walked in ahead. I put my hand into my pocket, and, holy smoke, I had forgotten to take any money with me! I turned red and white, but that was nothing compared to how I felt when the usher gently broke the news and escorted my girl to a door marked "exit." Did I make a hit? I've got the chills yet.

Identifying the Nickel.

James evidently had a buffalo nickel of the first vintage, for he was having trouble with central. In reply to his "I did drop a nickel," central demanded, "Well, what kind of a nickel are you trying to use?" "I dunno what kind it is," he replied, "but it's got a little bull on it."

Appearances.

"Rafferty," said Mr. Dolan, "I hear overalls are to become fashionable." "I hope not," they'll put cuffs on the bottoms, make 'em narrow waist, with belts in the back, and completely ruin their appearance."

that either the member for St. John or the returning officer in my riding would like to stand within the bounds of that riding and say there were not men fit to be registrars in any of those polling subdivisions. I know the people in those subdivisions very well and I do think I know a crook in one of those new subdivisions. It is just possible that was the reason there was no registrar appointed in that division. I wish to read rule (3) with regard to preparing lists and furnishing them to the candidate. Rule (3) of section 2 provides:

"Each registrar shall complete, date at his place of residence and certify as in form No. 18 to this act such copies of the voters' lists on the 15th day before the polling day and not other. It appears to be all right looking at it from two of the most public and conspicuous places within such polling division and another he shall retain for revision. He shall on that day fixed for the nomination of candidates deliver or send by registered mail to each of the candidates a copy of such lists."

must be made fifteen days prior to an election and not otherwise, the returning officer, according to the statement read in the House by the hon. member for St. John and Albert, admitted that he did not propose to make these separate lists before election day or that he did not intend to have any for the candidates, but that he proposed to have one for the deputy returning officer on election day. There is a good deal more that I would like to have said, had it been earlier in the day or earlier in the session; but I want to repeat what I said at the beginning. I have not made a statement in connection with this that I cannot prove either in this House or outside of it. In fact, I think I am safe in saying that since I have been a member I have never made in this House a statement that I could not prove. Should it occur to the hon. member for St. John and Albert to wish me to prove the truth of some of the statements that I have made during this session, I shall be only too pleased to accommodate him.

Mr. J. B. M. BAXTER (St. John City and Counties of St. John and Albert): Mr. Speaker, I am sorry to detain the House at any length on such an unimportant matter. Had I been permitted to read in full, as I endeavoured to do, the letter which I received from the man who had been attacked by hon. friend (Mr. Caldwell), that would probably have ended the incident. As I read the whole letter with the exception of the last paragraph, I am not going to bother the House with the rest of it. The hon. member challenges me to a number of things, and all I wish to remark is simply this. I will not discuss the case further. I assured the House already that I interfered only because I was applied to by a man who claimed that he had been unjustly referred to by the hon. member and who wanted to have his case put before the House. The hon. member has admitted that he had read the correspondence with the Chief Electoral Officer. He was not, however, frank enough to tell the House that he had read it, and it is clear now that whatever this returning officer did, whether it may seem to be irregular or not, was sanctioned by the Chief Electoral Officer. I will not go into the matter further. The only other observation that I wish to make is that the hon. member has given us his measure tonight. He has absolutely accused me, in plain and direct terms, of having falsely represented him. When he attempted to prove that, he read, not from my own statement, but from my quotation from the letter from the returning officer, language that I made it clear I was not responsible for except as the vehicle to convey it to the House. When the hon. member used that language with regard to me, that I had spoken falsely—

Mr. CALDWELL: I rise to a question of privilege. I did not state that the hon. member had made a false statement. I stated that he read a document which falsely accused me. I reiterate that.

Mr. BAXTER: I adhere to my original statement of the matter, and my final comment on it is that the hon. member has shown respect neither for the amenities of personal contact, nor for the dignity of this House, in not withdrawing the statement that he made in regard to the matter. There is no question—the ears of hon. members are sharp enough to hear it—it was said, and it would have been resented in a much more violent way by myself had it been made outside the walls of this Chamber.

Mr. CALDWELL: With regard to the statement that the returning officer was instructed to do certain things and that he was justified in doing what he did, I want to say that he did not do what the Chief Electoral Officer instructed him to do, but proceeded to furnish me with the lists after I had threatened to get an injunction.

With regard to the last statement of the hon. member for St. John and Albert I can take up his offer outside whenever he wants to.

Mr. SPEAKER: I will ask the Sergeant-at-Arms to see that no disorder takes place in the lobby.

GIRL'S STATEMENT WILL HELP HARTLAND

It brings out poisonous matter you never thought was in your system. Hartland Drug Co., Ltd.

BASE BALL

(Intended for last week)
The management of the Baseball Club will soon call a meeting to make definite plans for the summer. It is expected that the Driving Club will make arrangements whereby the Athletic Association will use the race track for the games. In talking with Bert Curran, who has been the morning spirit and is one of the officials of the Baseball Club, a representative of the Observer was told that the Driving Club was taking up the question of their track being used, with the Woodstock Driving Club, to find out what arrangements the Woodstock Club makes with the Woodstock (Baseball) Club. It is likely that the same arrangements which holds in Woodstock will be adopted here. In the meantime summer is hastening on its way and it is imperative that whatever is done be done quickly. The baseballers are anxious to play and the public is just as anxious to see them play. And at the first game all Edmondston will root for the home team.

A BUSINESS COUPE OF STEEL

Dodge Brothers offer to the business public of America an entirely new principle in Coupe body construction. From framework to window mouldings the body is built of steel. It is the first all-steel closed car ever marketed. This design anticipates every possible requirement of commercial travel. It insures unusual quietness—unusual grace—unusual stamina. It has made it possible to give the Coupe that same lustrous baked-on enamel finish for which Dodge Brothers open cars have long been famous.

The upholstery is of genuine leather—leather that will wash and wear. The seat is wide and comfortable. Carrying compartments are accessible and spacious. The car is equipped with a heater, dome light, window levers, windshield cleaner, cord tires, Yale door locks, and every other appointment necessary to the owner's comfort and protection.

Built inside and out to withstand the wear and tear of everyday use, it retains the same lightness and beauty of line which you are accustomed to look for in Dodge Brothers cars.

It is the Business Coupe which business people the world over have been expecting—from Dodge Brothers.

LUMBERING ON THE ST. JOHN RIVER, PAST AND PRESENT

By J. Fraser Gregory, President of Murray and Gregory Ltd.

As the drives get further down river more logs are found stranded along the shores and logs of other operators mixed with theirs, and horses are put to work hauling them into the water again, commonly called sacking. As every crew is working independently, the marks on the logs are watched carefully by the men and boss to see that only the logs belonging to themselves are handled.

Often one crew would overtake another on their way, when an effort might be made by the crew catching up to drive through, or possibly the crews might join forces and bring the two drives along together, the expenses being shared by the operators in what they might consider a fair proportion.

At Grand Falls all the boats and equipment had to be transferred from the upper to the lower basin. It was perhaps the first chance the men had to get rum since they had gone into the woods in the fall, and there were many sharks about ready to take their money. No wonder there were many wild times at the Falls when the drives were coming out. Every boss was thankful when he got his crew started below the Falls and away from further temptation.

Day after day the drive continued, the water always getting lower, the days hotter, and the sack heavier—men getting footsore or worn out and obliged to quit, when they would fasten a couple of logs together into a catamaran and on it float down the river, navigating it as best they could to Fredericton or their homes. Between the first and middle of June the drive would get into the boom, a weary party, a mere remnant of the crew that had broken the landings but triumphant, for they had not hung up.

At Fredericton the bars and lumbermen's boarding-house keepers stood ready to fleece them, and many of them were soon parted from their hard earned money. The first boom was situated where the Glazier boom is to day at what was then called the "Short Ferry". In the earliest times there were no booms, but boats manned by expert river men watched the river day and night from Cliffs Point above Fredericton to Short Ferry below, and towed into safety any spar or timber that might be floating down. An Act to incorporate the Fredericton Boom Co. was passed on the 13th of April, 1844, in the seventh year of Queen Victoria's reign. The incorporators were—John Glazier, Stephen Glazier, James Taylor, William J. Bedell, Jacob McKean, Isaac Kilburn, Duncan Glazier and Spafford Barker. The objects as expressed were: picking up, securing and rafting timber, logs, masts, spars, and other lumber. The capital of the Company was $3,000. There was a double liability clause in the charter and the rate fixed for rafting logs in the charter was two shilling and six pence per thousand. As first constructed there were no jam piers in the boom, but small sunken piers with chains and buoys attached to which the log boom was fastened.

This style of boom continued until 1863 when the first jam piers were built, the old method not having proved secure with the increased quantity of lumber.

The second boom to be built was the Sterling, then the Gill, and last of all in 1868 the Douglas boom above Fredericton. There were no sheer booms. Ordinary chain boom was used to sheer the logs as far as possible, the open gaps being watched by boats.

A few years before the incorporation of the Boom Co., the Glasiers undertook the securing and booming of the lumber on the river, but they got into financial difficulties and just previous to the formation of the company it was being done by John and Isaac Burpee.

Before following the lumber further, I will describe the method of logging and stream driving as conducted to day with the improvements we have over our predecessors.

In 1876 Levi H. Pond, an American from Michigan, came to Fredericton to demonstrate to the lumber a sheer boom that he recently invented, and that was being used in his native State, with the expectation of selling his rights. The purpose of the boom is to direct the run of logs in a river so as to always keep them in the channel, and to prevent them piling up on bars, heads of islands, rocks, etc., also to direct their flow into booms; and adjustable, so that the river can be quickly opened to allow the passage of all kind of craft and promptly closed again.

The lumbermen of the day realized that if he could do all he said his invention was most valuable and would be the means of saving much money and time in stream driving and the securing of the lumber. A trial boom was built and experimented within the river and proved every claim that was made for it. Immediately a company was formed to build and operate sheer booms on the river paying the inventor a royalty on every thousand of lumber that ran past them. The Fredericton Boom Co. agreed to pay the inventor a royalty for their use and this company continued until the patents expired. Mr. Pond made his home on the river until his death, a few years ago, and was continuously a contractor in connection with driving or the operation of his booms. This is in short the history of Pond's Patent Shear Boom, the best invention ever produced to assist in stream driving, and now used in every country. It is hard to describe this boom so that you will understand it, but I will try.

First let me say that the principle is exactly the same as that whereby a sailing vessel tacks or beats to windward. Instead of the wind, we have the water of the stream constantly flowing in one direction; instead of the sail, we have the rudders of the boom adjustable as the sails of the boat. We call them fins. Now the object of the boom is to direct the course of the logs in the stream. To accomplish this we have extended out from the shore, in a slanting position down river, a boom along which logs can slide as they strike it, flowing promiscuously down the stream, to the end of it, thus being carried across the river to clear an obstruction such as a rock or an island. How to keep the outer end of the boom in the desired position in the river without the aid of anchors or lines is the trick. To do it a string of logs is made the ends lapping over each other shingle fashion, so that a surface without obstruction is presented to the floating logs, the first boom log is made fast to the shore by a chain the string logs are toggled with chains and on the down river side at each toggle a half log or deal is hitched in at one end. This is called the fin, and by setting the whole number at the same angle to each boom log holding it in place by a stout spar each acts as a sail in the water and each does its share toward shoving the outer end of the boom up river as desired. The boom resembles a lot of letters "A", strung together by one side.

CENTREVILLE

Pictures last week were of a high class order with Corlaine Griffith in "A Broadway Bubble", on Wednesday and Tom Mix in "Three Gold Coins" on Saturday evening with a good Mutt and Jeff comedy as an added feature. This week gives us on Wednesday "Doubling for Romeo" one of Will Rogers' good ones and on Saturday Neal Hart in "Hell's Oasis", a filmpay adapted from the "Fighting Parson".

The annual school meeting was held on Monday with a fair representation of rate payers present. Dr. H. W. Peppers was elected as trustee in the place of L. Burton Clark, retiring. The sum of $3000 was voted for current expenses for the ensuing year and the trustees authorized to have the school building painted.

George Burpee was in Woodstock on Wednesday.

Mrs. B. R. Field and Miss Rayworth Field have returned from St. John.

Mrs. Glimmer Brown of St. John is visiting her sister, Mrs. F. M. Brown.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Estabrooks of Mars Hill were in town on Tuesday.

The Bath base ball nine met defeat on the local diamond by the Centreville team on Thursday evening.

The local officers of the Carleton Light Infantry returned from the summer camp at Sussex on Thursday.

Sam's Synopators of Houlton who had advertised a dance here in the Opera House for Friday evening failed to show up until a late hour in the evening. Result—no Synopation.

A few of the local bloods attended the races in Houlton on Wednesday of last week.

Miss Rovene Downey has returned from Campbellton and is spending her vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Amos Downey.

Many of the thrifty housewives of the vicinity were busy last week bargain-driving with a trio of young men who were here buying up hooked rugs of ancient vintage, the more fantastic the flowered pattern the better some could, after being cleaned and touched up, be put on the market for antiques—certainly they would wear out.

The play, "Aaron Slick from Pumbkin Creek" will be repeated here on the 13th.

Mr. and Mrs. D. F. Cliff and family of Mars Hill, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Cliff.

Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Bradstreet of Bridgewater were in town on Monday.

Mrs. John Humble and son, Archie, are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Gibson.

The members of the local Orange order joined the brothers of Florenceville lodge in a walk-out and service on Sunday last. At East Florenceville they were addressed by Rev. I. W. Williamson.

Miss Pertis Reid is spending her vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Reid.

Mr. and Mrs. G. F. Burpee entertained a party of friends from the capital city on Sunday.

Miss Kathleen Burt of Fort Fairfield spent Sunday with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Burt.

A. C. Gibson was detained in the house by illness the first part of the week.

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Carr and Mrs. Barron of Woodstock were the guests on Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Bruce.

Dr. Murray and Miss Campbell of Presque Isle spent the week-end with Mrs. B. W. Campbell.

Fred Corcoran of Calais, a veteran of the American Civil War was calling on friends here on Friday.

BRISTOL BREVITIES

A Memorial service was held in the Primitive Baptist church Sunday afternoon for the late Mrs. Herman Holmes.

The funeral of William Wallace was held in the U. Baptist church Friday, at 2 o'clock by Rev. I. W. Williamson. Mr. Wallace who lived in Berlin, N. H. was just here by auto with a party of friends and left for home on Friday, his death occurring the following Monday, very suddenly with heart trouble. The remains were laid to rest beside that of his wife, formerly (Miss Myrtle Briggs) who died just a year ago.

Mr. Wallace was only 39 years old and had a host of friends in Bristol, his boyhood home. Left to mourn are his father and two brothers, who live near Perth and one sister, Mrs. Alva Phillips of Bristol.

Mrs. Charles Miles of Moniac is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Morehouse.

Mrs. C. M. Shaw and children of Bath spent the past week here visiting relatives.

Mrs. John Shaw, Miss Kathleen McEachern, E. R. Corey and Roy McCluskey attended the S. S. convention at Jacksonville, last week.

Miss Inez Dyer of Bristol and Henry Lewis of Bath were united in marriage last Wednesday in Woodstock by Rev. L. E. Ackland at the United Baptist parsonage.

Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Street spent the week-end at Upper Kent.

Coldstream Notes

James Bridges spent last week in Woodstock, writing the Normal entrance examinations.

Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Burt and family of Lynn, Mass., are spending their vacation here the guests of Mrs. H. J. Shaw.

Mr. and Mrs. Theo Shaw of Woodstock spent the week-end in this place.

Quite a large number attended the revival meetings at Windsor, on Sunday.

THE ROADS

(Carleton Observer)

H. W. Crain, Supt. of bridges for Carleton county, called at the Observer office yesterday and announced that through traffic between Hartland and Woodstock by the east river route is suspended for the season so far as motor cars are concerned. This is occasioned by the loss of Acker Creek bridge in the recent big freshet. The road is open from Woodstock to Acker Creek—but cars can not cross on the temporary structure that has been built for teams and passengers afoot. The new bridge will be built at the earliest possible time, but it must be remembered that bridge damages have extended all over the province and it will cost a huge fortune to rebuild them. There are two fair roads between Hartland and Woodstock—one via Jacksonville and the other by way of the west river road. The latter is the better. Either road from Hartland to Florenceville is in wretched state, but the distance is only eleven miles of agony to passengers and destruction of rolling stock. This road is a disgrace to those in charge of it. The Observer favors the Foster government as far as its conscience permits, elastic as its conscience may be it cannot be stretched to condone this evil.
