SUSSEX WON

In Hockey Match on Friday Evening.

SCORE 7 TO 2.

The Best Exhibition of Hockey Ever Witnessed
Here.

Over 500 people assembled in the rink on Friday evening to witness the hockey match between the Sussex Septette and the Campbellton team. The visitors were late in arriving, the local express being about three hours behind time. After partaking of a lunch at the Royal the boys were quickly upon the ice, the game starting about 9:30. The Sussex team is certainly by far the strongest team that have ever visited Campbellton, and their playing was of the kind that makes it easy to take defeat, being wholly free from that roughness and trickiness that characterizes most games, while their combination playing was exceptionally good. Their forwards were not so extraordinarily fast but always alert to take advantage of a weak point in their opponent's defence. Their playing was singularly free from those individual rushes which rarely accomplish anything. Their cool, calculating method of handling the puck won the game. The defence was strong and it was an almost impossible task to land the rubber in their net. In face of this the locals did remarkably well in keeping down the score when it is considered that they only get two night's practice a week. Campbellton's forwards showed up fairly well, while Brown played up to his usual standard. Jellett at goal was called upon to stop a good many swift ones and his work kept down the score considerably.

The game throughout was clean and smooth, only one man being sent to the side. The score at half time stood 3 to 1 and at conclusion of play 7 to 2 in favor of the visitors.

After the game the teams gathered in the centre of the ice and cheered each other lustily, the Sussex team calling for three cheers and a tiger for the referee, Mr. Hitchings, which were heartily given.

The visitors were entertained at a supper in the dining hall of the rink and an enjoyable time spent. The Sussex team left on the local the next day for Chatham where they played against the team of that town, defeating them by the score of three to two.

Large Electric Plant

Near Campbellton.

To Be Erected By Electro Manganese
Company This Summer.

(Special to Events)

Montreal, March 2.—A press report from New York states that a strong combination of United States capitalists connected with the Electro-Manganese Company are about to erect a large electric power plant near Campbellton, N. B. As a guarantee of good faith they have deposited $50,000 with New Brunswick Government. Among United States capitalists are Barton & Kingman of New York and Frederick Sayles of Providence R. I. The scheme includes running of electric railway and transmission of electric power to St. John, N. B., also manufacture of ferro manganese, pulp, paper and lumber at Grand Falls, where water power is to be obtained for production of electric current. It is stated that about four million dollars will be spent and work development will be started early this summer.

[It is rumored that the site chosen for the proposed plant is the old Moffat property on lower Water St., but we cannot vouch for its correctness. Contractor Malcolm, we learned by telephone, is absent in Montreal, and we are unable to obtain further particulars.]

At all events, the fact that a large plant of this kind is to be erected near Campbellton will mean much to the town. We presume that power will be sold for local manufacturing and other industrial purposes, and would no doubt give a great impetus to trade generally. We hope to be able to say more about this project in our next issue.]

MURRAY CHOSEN

To Be Gov't. Standard Bearer in Northumberland.

NO OPPOSITION.

Defeats Hon. John Burchill
in Convention By Five Votes.

The supporters in this country of the local government have chosen Mr. Robert Murray of Chatham as their standard bearer in the forthcoming by-election. The convention in the Masonic Hall, Chatham, on Friday evening was a large and enthusiastic one. Two names were submitted for the nomination, viz: Mr. Robt Murray and the Hon. John Burchill. The former won by five votes.

After the meeting had been called to order, Mayor Murdoch, of Chatham was selected as Chairman and stated the object of the convention. A resolution setting forth the manner of representatives on the nominating committee was passed and the committee appointed, who then retired.

William Kerr was selected as Chairman and scrutineers were appointed after which the nominations were proceeded with. Hon. John P. Burchill and Mr. Robert Murray were nominated and the count of the first ballot resulted as follows:—Murray, 23; Burchill, 18. The committee then returned to the convention and Chairman Kerr announced the result. Premier Tweedie suggested that the meeting ratify the choice and this was done.

Mr. Murray, on being called on, spoke very briefly. He promised to give loyal support to the Government.

BRIDGE INSPECTED

The Upsalquitch Bridge
Pronounced Satisfactory

BY DOMINION INSPECTOR

One of the Finest Structures
To Be Found Anywhere in the Provinces

Mr. Johnson, Inspector of Bridges for the Dominion Government was here last week, and on Friday together with contractor Malcolm and some others drove out to the Upsalquitch bridge on the line of the International railway. The day was an ideal one for the drive, almost springlike in warmth and brightness and Mr. Johnson expressed himself as being delighted with the climate.

The bridge which was only recently completed, spans the Upsalquitch river at a distance of about 20 miles along the line of railway from town and is constructed of steel. Mr. Johnson said that the structure was one of the best bridges of its kind in the provinces and contractor Malcolm is justly proud of the success he has achieved thus far in his undertaking.

With the opening of spring we understand that work on the new road will be pushed with greater speed than ever, when all the men available will be put to work.

SIFTON RESIGNS

From Laurier's Cabinet as Protest Against Autonomy Bill

Ottawa, March 1.—Hon. Clifford Sifton, Minister of the Interior, has tendered his resignation from the cabinet of Sir Wilfrid Laurier. Hon. Mr. Sifton resigns as a protest against the educational clause which is found in the bills for the creation of the new provinces of Alberta and Saskatchewan. The view taken by Mr. Sifton is that by this clause there is established a dual system of schools for the new provinces and he holds it goes far beyond the system at present established for the Northwest territories under the territories act. He is opposed to any extension. He further claims that the new act seeks to divert a considerable portion of the fund which will be produced by the sale of the school lands the Dominion Lands act set apart two square miles out of every township, or thirty-six square miles, for the endowment of public schools. It is understood Mr. Sifton declines to give his support to an act which will permit the diversion of this fund from the control of the provincial legislatures. The resignation will be announced this afternoon. It is not known what action the government will take.

ELECTRIC POWER
To Operate New Road from Campbellton
THE CAPITALISTS
Details of the Big Project in Development of Grand Falls Water Power

The project for development of the Grand Falls water power, says the Telegraph, looms even larger than indicated by Hon Mr. Tweedie.
It includes not only the manufacture of ferro-manganese at the falls but also operation of the International railroad by electricity and the transmission of electric power down the St John River valley to be utilized for lighting and manufacturing as far as St John.
The International railroad is that now being built by Thomas Malcolm from Campbellton to Edmonton.
The whole project, here briefly outlined, it is calculated will involve $3,000,000 to $4,000,000 outlay and as a guarantee of good faith the capitalists interested have deposited $50,000 with the receiver general of the province. Those financially interested are the United States capitalists who comprise the Electro-Manganese Company and they include Barton E. Kingman, of New York, and Frederick Sayles, of Providence (R. I.)
The capitalists have been investigating the water power at Grand Falls and conditions in general in relation to the projects they had in mind and are greatly pleased to find that all has proved so satisfactory and they are depositing $50,000 as a forfeit in case they do not proceed with their work.

The Telegraph learns that the experts who have been carefully examining the falls have reported that the minimum horse power is 40,000, but during a large portion of the year there is many times that amount. The company proposes to expend a very large sum, estimated at $3,000,000 to $4,000,000 in development of the water power and providing the necessary electric plant etc.
It is understood the gentlemen back of this important enterprise propose to utilize the electricity for the manufacture of ferro-manganese from bog ores which have been found in enormous quantities in several counties of the province.
When the matter was before the legislature the premier explained that by taking the authority to lease the water power, the government would be able to deal with the subject in the interests of the province in a much more effective

Mrs. Bishop's Success.

It's easy to make bad bread even though you use the very best flour.
The whole secret of good bread is not merely good flour. The way it's made is most important.
This is why some people do not get such good results as others in their bread baking.
It is to quite an extent a question of method.
Mrs. F. B. Bishop, of Lawrencetown, N. S., made a batch of bread with "Royal Household" Flour. She made it according to directions and the bread was good.
She made a second, a third and many other batches, and a few days ago she wrote us that she found "Royal Household" Flour the best flour she had ever used.
This lady got good results because way than if a company were given the power by the legislature which might result in tying up the water powers as had been done by previous legislation. The result is looked on as showing the wisdom of the act of the government in this particular.

The possibilities of the development of this enormous water power are very great. Not only will there be sufficient electric energy produced for manufacture of the ferro-manganese but also for operating proposed pulp and paper mills and saw mills, while it is altogether in the range of possibility that the trains of the International Railway, now under construction from Campbellton to the St John River will be operated by electricity developed at Grand Falls. It is learned that negotiations to this end are already in progress.
The electricity can also be conveyed down the valley of the St John and utilized for lighting and manufacturing even as far as this city. It has been demonstrated that electricity developed by water power on a large scale can be used at so low a rate within distance of 100 or 200 miles as to put steam produced by coal entirely out of the business.

It is also suggested in this connection that there are good water powers near St John which have not been utilized to supply lighting and power in the city. The water powers at Musquash, Mispec and Black River could, it is held, be utilized to enormous advantage and if an intelligent effort were made in this direction that much cheaper electricity both for lighting and motive power would be had here. While the quantity of water might not be as great as might be advisable, it is to a large extent made up, those who have looked into the matter say, by the great head which could be obtained on these rivers, it has been found that both at Musquash and Mispec it would be possible to obtain heads of water of 60 to 150 feet. What could be had at Black River is not just known but there are preceptious banks there and probably an equally good head could be secured, and with the transmission of electricity from these powers to the city a great advantage to the people is calculated.
At the Grand Falls work, it is understood to be the American capitalists intentions to begin the work of development this year.

EDUCATION IN QUEBEC
To Be Generously Assisted by Sir William McDonald of Montreal

(Quebec Telegraph)
Sir William McDonald, Montreal's multi-millionaire and generous philanthropist, who has already given millions of dollars towards the higher branches of education, including $3,000,000 to the McGill College University of Montreal, intends to extend his generosity in a more general way and assist elementary education in the Province of Quebec. This very important welcome news was communicated on Friday afternoon to the Protestant Committee of Public Instruction, by Prof Robertson, formerly Dairy Commissioner at Ottawa, but now in the employ of the Montreal millionaire philanthropist.

When the Protestant Committee met yesterday afternoon it was said that Prof Robertson, would come before them, and deliver a very important message from Sir William McDonald, who was at the present constructing a large agricultural college on the Bedford property at St Anne's near Montreal which he recently purchased together with other properties, comprising 526 acres of land for the object.
Prof Robertson was the bearer of a confidential message from Sir William McDonald, consequently the press representative were not admitted. It was later learned however, that Sir William with a desire to assist Protestant elementary education in Province of Quebec, sent Prof Robertson to the Protestant Committee to unfold his scheme and request the assurance and assistance of the committee to carry out his proposition. The amount of money involved in the scheme was not mentioned but the terms of the proposition are so thorough, and wide in their scope, that the sum of money required to carry out the plan will be quite large. The proposition was received with the greatest enthusiasm by the members of the committee, whose applause could be distinctly heard in the corridors of the Educational Department.

After the adjournment of the meeting the members emerged from the council room in a very happy frame of mind, and although they admitted that Sir William had made a very handsome proposition in the interest of education and that they had named a committee to confer with him on the subject, they could not give out the substance of the generous offer saying that up to the present the matter was only a proposition, but later when the subject was discussed with Sir William and gotten into practical shape, the public would be taken into confidence.

Relating to New Brunswick Sunday School Association

About a year ago it began to be announced to the Sunday school people and the general public that something new was to be had in our Province. Much interest in this was immediately aroused, and great advantage was experienced as and since this new thing, thus announced, became a reality.
So satisfactory in all respects was the "Provincial S. S. Tour" of last year that its repetition, with certain important variations, has been decided upon. This, we venture to believe, will be hailed with delight by all S. S. workers and also by the Christian public throughout the Province. It is to be expected and is fair to say that the experience acquired by the preparation for, and the execution of, last year's "Tour," will contribute much towards securing better results from that of this year.

Preparations have already been carried to an advanced stage, and every attention is being given, on the part of the Committee in charge, to have all details perfected some considerable time before the date fixed for the opening of the "Tour." The dates by which the "Tour" will be limited are about as those of last year. The territory to be covered is, of course, the same

We have used "Sunlight Soap," and we want to tell you that it is the best soap made, that's why we are writing. We found out that the Sunlight way is the best way to wash with "Sunlight Soap." At first we used to wash with Sunlight Soap in the old way as we did with common soap, but after we washed according to directions printed on the package, we would never wash the old way again. We first soap the articles, leave them to soak and then rub out lightly on the wash board. Not much to do and it makes the clothes white as snow.

the entire Province; but the route will be somewhat different. Of all particulars there will be due notice given.

The "Tour Party" will probably be entirely new, though it is possible there may be in it the genial personage of one of the two New York Musicians of last year's "Party."

The chief speaker and worker from abroad will be the Rev Geo. O. Bachman, of Pennsylvania, who has had extended experience in the various departments of modern Sunday School Methods, and is highly recommended by men of repute whom we know—such men as Mr. Marion Lawrance and Prof Hamill.

Negotiations are in progress with Messrs Tullar and Merideth to furnish the leaders of the music for the "Tour." If neither of those Gospel singers, who endeared themselves to all with whom they came in contact last year, can come to us again so soon, they will send two men of their choice which we accept as good and sufficient guaranty that the Song Service of the "Tour" will be efficiently conducted.

The new Field Secretary—Rev. J. B. Ganong B. A., who is proving himself well qualified for the duties of his office—will be the Conductor of the "Party," and will take important parts on the pro.

Looking at what we already have in possession, and adding to it what we are aiming at and are very hopeful of securing, the Executive Committee take pleasure in stating that, with considerable confidence, they can encourage the Sunday School workers of New Brunswick to expect a rich treat in and blessed results from the Provincial Tour of 1905—New Brunswick S. S. Association Executive Committee.

Physicians and Professional nurses recommend it.

H.B.K. BRAND

BIG SHIRT

Made big enough for a big man to wear in with comfort.

Has more material in it than any other brand of shirt in Canada.

Made on the H.B.K. scale it requires 30 1/2 to 42 yards per dozen, whereas common shirts have only 32 to 33 yards.

That's the reason why the H.B.K. "Big" Shirt never chafes the armpits, is never tight at the neck or wristbands, is always loose, full and comfortable and wears well.

Each shirt bears a tiny book that tells the whole history of the "Big" Shirt, and also contains a notarial declaration that the H.B.K. "Big" Shirt contains 30 1/2 to 42 yards of material per dozen.

UPPER CHARLO

Not seeing anything from the pen of your Upper Charlo correspondent for some time please pardon the liberty I take in sending you a few notes.

In the first place I notice that a number of our young folk meet occasionally for the purpose of tripping the light fantastic notwithstanding the stormy weather and bad roads.

I see that J. S. Bassett, Esq. has returned after a few days absence on business pertaining to his office, as Liquor Licence Inspector.

Mrs. John Hogan and her sister Mrs. M. Shannon have returned after visiting friends in Miramichi.

Mrs. Thomas Hodgins of Bellefleur was the guest of her mother Mrs. James Craig, sr. for a couple of days last week.

Mrs. E. Henderson and her sister Miss Bella Miller of Campbellton spent a day with friends here recently.

Miss Lizzie Alexander of Sanford Me., is spending a few weeks at her old home here, all were much pleased to see her back again, as she is a general favourite with old and young.

Rumor says that when next she visits Restigouche it will not be as Miss Alexander.

Miss Nellie Craig after a few weeks absence in Campbellton on professional business is home again.

Miss Annie B. Craig who has been absent for the last four weeks on professional business is expected home this week.

A very pleasant evening was spent at the home of Mr. William Craig on Wednesday the 19th inst., it being the 10th anniversary of his mother's birth.

Among those present were her three daughters and three of her sons and their wives, also some of her grand and great grand children, and a few of her intimate friends. Letters of congratulation were read from her three sons in the far west, also from her daughter Mrs. Allen Miller and clump bellton who through illness was unable to be present.

The old lady physically is fairly well and quite clear in intellect; she was very thankful to be spared to see so many of her own family and friends around her, after partaking of a sumptuous repast the party led by the old lady, repaired to the parlour where vocal and instrumental music were indulged in till 11 p. m. when she expressed the hope that they would be spared to see her celebrate another anniversary.

PORT DANIEL.

What has become of our old correspondent? Surely there's enough important events happening that should be recorded and put aside in a snug corner to be read in after years.

Mrs. Edward Bourget is visiting here for a few days.

Messrs Sutton and Keays were in this vicinity Friday and Saturday.

Messrs H. Baker and Connelly passed through here on Friday enroute to New Carlisle.

Mr. and Mrs. P. S. Martin passed through here on their way to Gaspe.

Miss E. Mahan and Mr. Wm Mahan of Red Head passed through enroute to Carleton Place. The former is taking the B. C. R. the following day.

Impoverished Soil

Impoverished soil, like impoverished blood, needs a proper fertilizer. A chemist by analyzing the soil can tell you what fertilizer to use for different products.

If your blood is impoverished your doctor will tell you what you need to fertilize it and give it the rich, red corpuscles that are lacking in it. It may be you need a tonic, but more likely you need a concentrated fat food, and fat is the element lacking in your system.

There is no fat food that is so easily digested and assimilated as

of Cod Liver Oil

It will nourish and strengthen the body when milk and cream fail to do it. Scott's Emulsion is always the same; always palatable and always beneficial where the body is wasting from any cause, either in children or adults.

We will send you a sample free.

Be sure that this picture is in the form of a label on the wrapper of every bottle of Emulsion you buy.

BARACHOIS.

The many folks who have been enjoying skating on the M. M. A. rink will be sorry to learn that the recent snow storm has made it impossible, but efforts are being made to have it opened again about March 1st, when the directors purpose holding a Masquerade Carnival for the close of the season.

We regret to state that Mr. J. Hnnt of Malbay is dangerously ill.

A Bazaar was held at Malbay on the 22nd inst for the benefit of the Parsonage. A large crowd assembled in the Church Hall where the energetic ladies of the congregation had prepared refreshments, also a supper table of which many partook. The ladies fancy table was well made up, and the ladies in charge were very well pleased with the results. Many were present from Percé, Corner of the beach, Point St. Peter and many from Barachois, including Dr. W. W. Ware, accompanied by Misses Rex and Edith Tapp.

15 Bryner of Boston was the guest of Thos J. Morin.

We regret to hear that Mr. Thos Tapp is laid up for a few days, having sustained injuries while at work in the woods.

We understand that Mr. Gabriel Myles has purchased a merry go round and will tour the coast next season, and will also take in the largest cities in the Provinces of Quebec and New Brunswick. Mr. Myles being very popular will no doubt make a success of the business.

The euchar party which took place on Thursday last at Fir Cottage was a decided success. The first prize was won by Miss McCarty and Charley Tapp.

Mr. L. P. Tapp, representing Thomas Organ Co., is up the coast at present.

OSLERIAN DOGMA.

The Montreal Herald makes some pertinent observations on Dr. Osler's now famous remarks. It says:-

That respectable element of the community who are over sixty have made a prompt and vigorous, but futile, protest against the criticisms passed upon their estate by Dr. Osler. They have raked up the names of all the old men of the world's history, from Homer and Julius Caesar to Bismarck and Sir William Kingdon, but without convincing the majority that the doctor was essentially in error. There remains the time-honored veneration for the grey hairs of the aged, and a modicum of wholesome dread of the bald pate, but when it comes to creative accomplishment, which is what Dr. Osler thinks best worth while, it is the young fellows who count and who always have counted. It doesn't matter where you look, the superlatives are almost invariably clothed in less than forty years, and any one who allows himself to be cajoled by the wise look of the ancients into thinking he can safely pass the fortieth mile post with nothing done for fame is mortally certain to end his days with no greater consolation than the knowledge that he is, by dint of unavoidable experience, some little wiser than the school boy.

Aristotle, the sage, could teach Alexander, but Alexander, a strapping, could conquer the world. Napoleon, at twenty-seven, drove the greybeards of Europe before him as though they were cattle. Pitt, at twenty-three, took the government of England out of the feeble hands of men who would gladly have instructed him in the elements of statecraft. Brock, at forty-two, saved Canada from the assaults of its enemies and the vacillating wisdom of its own superiors in age and office. The Gladstone of later days was but the survival of that mighty gladiator who produced the budget of 1853. Beaconsfield was but the cold afterglow of Disraeli of the days of Vivian Gray and the attacks on Peel in 1846. Golden was in his thirties, when without rank or station, he overturned the authority of the British landowner. Parnell had the two great British parties at his mercy when he was thirty-five.

In our own politics of to-day, everybody who counts for anything made his mark in the thirties. Laurier, Cartwright, Fielding, Sifton, they were all at the big game before or shortly after they passed the thirty mark.

"Old men for the council, young men for the wars," was an early version of the dogma Osler enunciates. To-day the whole world (that counts) is at war of some kind, and it is the young men who are doing the work.

The old men, it is true, have possession. They are proud of it, entitled to it, and possession is nine points. But there have been, and are, times when possession is nine points too many. They boast that the Duke of Wellington and Palmerston, while old, were in control. They forget that both were obstacles to progress. The Duke, however, got out of the way of the chariot. In Palmerston's case it could not roll on until he had been removed, and then it sped with a vengeance.

And these old men, if you talk to them, what are they? Mere survivors of their thirties. What was good enough for the days of their real activity they think just what is needed for the world to-day. Thirty years hence the men who are in their thirties to-day will be in possession of most of the strongholds, ordaining in their turn, that the world they control shall fix its eyes where theirs will be fixed, on what they now see and approve.

There is no use their fighting against eternal laws. Facts go against them. Thanks to the creative energies of the young there is enough in the world to offset the necessity of chloroforming them, or disposing of them in the cruder fashion in vogue for long ages. Everybody likes them and everybody is glad to make it easy and comfortable for them. But creative energy is not theirs, in the mean, and there is no use their pretending it is.

There are signs of spring.

The school question or any other question cannot affect the prosperity of Canada's North West.

Sam Hughes' warning that the people of the North West will rebel because of the educational clause in the autonomy bill recalls the shades of Louis Kiel.

Laurier seems to be able to get along without Blair and Tarte, so it's not likely that Sifton would be greatly missed.

It is to be hoped that Premier Tweedie has an able henchman in Robert Murray of Chatham.

The weather man lost a lot of friends down Nova Scotia way this winter.

Fancy! There are people in Nova Scotia who are unable to get the latest news from St. Petersburg or Moscow.

With Blair and Gourley out of business Ottawa is a pretty tame town these days.

It's not likely Nova Scotia will have a moving day before May 1st.

"How are the roads?" is a question which has been worked over time this winter.

There's more truth than poetry in this winter.

March came in like a lamb—dear little thing.

ENJOYABLE PARTY

One of the most enjoyable parties of the season was given last Monday evening at the Lansdowne by Mrs. T. Milton Doherty, assisted by Miss Florine Doherty. Mrs. Doherty received in black voile with sequin and lace garniture, while Miss Florine wore a very pretty gown of white silk organdie with white ribbons. The guests included—

Miss Richards in a white silk gown, Miss Shives, a pretty pale blue crepe de chene, with lace yoke; Misses Patterson, white silk with lace trimmings; Miss McGorman, pink silk; Miss Henderson, a pretty champagne colored crepe de chene; Miss Maud Henderson, turquoise blue colienne, with point lace; Miss Fair, cream crepe de chene with lace garniture; Miss DeBoo, white silk; Miss Cameron, heliotrope silk, lace garniture; Miss Carter, white gown with pink trimmings; Miss Stewart, silk organdie, trimmed with black velvet; Mrs. (Dr) Doherty, black lousene silk; Miss Wright, black silk with champagne color, silk lace yoke; Miss Wilson, pink silk.

Some of the gentlemen present were—
Dr. Price, Messrs Miles, Roop, and Graham, Drs. Martin and Sproul, Messrs Percy, St. Clair and Irby Jellet, Dr. Doherty, Messrs McCarvill, Napier, Brown, Barberie Gillis, Flannigan, Wilkinson and Cook.

The ball room was prettily decorated in red, white and blue. The drawing room where tables were arranged for cards, looked very nice with potted plants, etc. At twelve o'clock a very dainty repast was served, to which all did ample justice.

OBITUARY.

By the death of Mrs. Hannah Miller, relict of the late W. J. Miller Newcastle has lost one of its most estimable ladies. Mrs. Miller had been troubled with rheumatism for over fifteen years. Not until the middle of January, however, was Mrs. Miller confined to her room. But from that time until her death, which occurred Thursday evening at 7:15 the malady became worse and she suffered intensely. The funeral cortege on Sunday afternoon was one of the largest ever seen in Newcastle. A burial service was conducted by Rev. T. H. Cuthbert in St. Andrews Episcopal Church at 4:15 after which interment took place in St. Andrews Cemetery. The pall-bearers were Messrs J. D. Creaghan, Jas. Troy, Jas. A. Rundle, Wm. Wright, John Harriman and J. G. Leighton. Mrs. Miller was a staunch member of the English Church. Deceased was the daughter of the late Matthew Mitchell and was born in Napan 61 years ago. She married Mr. Miller in 1840 and after forty years ago and leaves six sons and two daughters. The daughters are Mrs. L. B. McMurdo and Mrs. Heber Sprout and the sons are S. B., H. S., S. W., Chas. P. (Vancouver) E. V. and C. C. Two sisters and three brothers also survive her among whom are Mrs. J. E. Miller, Campbellton, and James and Geo. Mitchell of the Miramichi.—Advocate.

Nathaniel Comely, Sr., quietly passed away at the residence of his son here on Sunday in the 83rd year of his age. The funeral took place on Tuesday, the Rev. A. F. Carr, D. D., officiating. The remains were interred in the Kempt Road cemetery.

The deceased was born in England and came to this country when he was but six months old. After the death of his parents when he was nine years old he was sent to the Orphan's home at Quebec and at the age of 16 years he was adopted by the late Daniel Busted of Kempt Road.

He Deserved Pity
His suffering from Sciatica was so great, but that he to Nervine he was cured. "I suffered for three years from sciatica," writes E. S. Jenkins of Portland, "and no man ever suffered more. I spent a small fortune on different remedies but the only one with real merit was Nervine. I used a few bottles of Nervine and I was perfectly cured. I can recommend Nervine as a sure cure for sciatica; it's excellent also for rheumatism and neuralgia." Try Nervine, 25c. at all druggists.

NOTICE

Notice is hereby given that applications will be made at the next session of the Legislature of the Province of New Brunswick for the passage of an Act to incorporate a certain portion of the Parish of Bathurst, in the County of Gloucester, for the purpose of lighting the streets thereof by electricity.

The district to be incorporated will include the Town of Bathurst, the Village of Bathurst and around the Basin so-called to the southern line of the property occupied by Les Gauthier. The act asked for will include a clause stipulating that the incorporation will only take effect after a favourable vote has been given by the ratepayers of the district above mentioned.

Did it Ever Occur to You that it is throwing money away to let your electric lamps burn down until they get red or burn out?

Do you know that those old lamps you have been burning continuously for two or three years are using more current than you are getting the benefit of and only giving a fraction of their original candle-power? Simply because you cannot see with your naked eye the gradual drop in candle power you think it is economy to continue using them, but get a dozen of BUCKEYE LAMPS and see how much smaller your light bill and how much brighter your rooms will be.

Monday's Transcript

The Transcript says—The shortage of food supplies and the lack of other necessities of life in parts of Nova Scotia and Cape Breton may be more readily understood when it is known that the Intercolonial have standing in sidings at points along the line over 2000 loaded cars waiting to be moved. Over 1000 of these cars are between Moncton and Ste Flavie, of these it may be said that go per cent are for Nova Scotia and Cape Breton points. During a period of two weeks the Intercolonial has only been able to send to Cape Breton 135 cars and of these there were a number that were empty. The continued snow blockade has rendered the efforts of the management useless in their endeavor to get these cars through to destination. Seven locomotives have been sent east by the northern division to assist in breaking out the road and to relieve the congested state of the line. The operating staff are all putting forth every effort to relieve the situation and Mr J. E. Price, the general superintendent, has personally during the past fortnight kept close to the controlling keyboard

"Two years ago during a political campaign, I caught cold after being overheated, which irritated my throat and I was finally compelled to stop, as I could not speak aloud. In my extremity a friend advised me to use Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. I took two doses that afternoon and could not believe my senses when I found the next morning the inflammation had largely subsided. I took several doses that day, kept right on talking through the campaign, and I thank this medicine that I won my seat in the Council." This remedy is for sale by all druggists.

ARE YOUR KIDNEYS SICK?

Let your morning urine stand for 24 hours in a glass or vessel, and then if it is milky or cloudy, or contains a reddish brick-dust sediment, or if particles or germs float about in it, your kidneys are diseased. If the kidneys are well they filter just so much blood, but if they are sick or weak from any cause, they leave the poison in the blood, and this poison affects the entire system.

It is natural to pass urine three times a day, but many who regard themselves as healthy are obliged to pass water six to ten times daily and are obliged to get up frequently during the night. They have sick kidneys and bladder and don't know it. Smith's Buchu Lithia Pills cure Rheumatism and all Kidney and Bladder diseases, and make new, rich blood.

We will send you a generous sample post paid free, together with our large book on the above mentioned diseases. Address, W. F. Smith Co., 185 St. James Street, Montreal, Canada.

The Gentleman From Indiana

By BOOTH TARKINGTON

Copyright, 1899, by Doubleday & McClure Co.
Copyright, 1902, by McClure, Phillips & Co.

The editor of the Herald kept steadily at his work, and as time went on the bitterness his predecessor's attitude had left in him passed away. But his loneliness and a sense of defeat grew and deepened. When the vistas of the world had opened to his first youth he had not thought to spend his life in such a place as Plattville, but he found himself doing it, and it was no great happiness to him that the Hon. Kedge Hallaway of Anso, whom the Herald's opposition to McCune had sent to Washington, came to depend on his influence for re-nomination, nor did the realization that the editor of the Carlow County Herald had come to be McCune's successor as political dictator produce a perceptibly enervating effect upon the young man. The years drifted very slowly, and to him it seemed that they went by while he stood far aside and could not even see them move. He did not consider the life he led an exciting one, the other citizens of Carlow did. He undertook a war against the White Caps, denizens of Six Crossroads, seven miles west of Plattville. The natives were much more afraid of the White Caps than he was. They knew more about them and understood them better than he did.

There was no thought of the people of the Crossroads in his mind as he sat on the make fence staring at the little smoky shadow dance on the white road in the June sunshine. On the contrary, he was occupied with the realization that there had been a man in his class at college whose addition needed no restraint, his promise was so great—in the strong belief of the university, a belief he could not help knowing—and that seven years to a day from his commencement this man was sitting on a fence in Indiana.

Dowa the pike a buggy came creaking toward him, gray with dust, old and frayed like the fat, shaggy mare that drew it, her unchecked, despondent head lowering before her, while her incongruous tail waved incessantly, like the banner of a storming party. The editor did not hear the flop of the mare's hoofs nor the sound of the wheels, so deep was his reverie, all the while he was nearly opposite him. The red faced and perspiring driver drew rein, and the journalist looked up and waved a long white hand to him in greeting.

"Howdy do, Mr. Harkless?" called the man in the buggy. "Soakin' in the weather?" He spoke in shouts, though neither was hard of hearing.

"Yes, just soakin'," answered Harkless. "It's such a spysy day. How is Mr. Bowlder?"

"I'm givin' good satisfaction, thank you, and all at home. She's in town."

"Give Mrs. Bowlder my regards," said the journalist, comprehending the symbolism. "How is Hartley?"

The farmer's honest face shaded over for a second. "He's been steady ever since the night you brought him home, six weeks straight. I'm kind of bothered about tomorrow—he wants to come in for show day, and seems if I hadn't have called to say no. I reckon he'll have to take his chance—and us too. Seems more like we'd have to let him, long as we got him not to come in last night for Kedge Hallaway's lecture at the courthouse. Say, how'd that lecture strike you? You give Kedge a mighty fine send-off to the audience in your introduction, but I noticed you spoke of him as a 'thinker,' without sayin' his lungs. Once settled there Bronchitis and Consumption may follow."

Harkless sighed. "Oh, he's the best we've got, Bowlder."

"I presume so, but"—Mr. Bowlder broke off suddenly as his eyes opened in surprise, and he exclaimed: "Law, I'd never expected to see you settin' here today! Why ain't you out at Judge Briscoe's?" This speech seemed to be intended with some humor, for Bowlder accompanied it with the loud laughter of sylvan timidity risking a joke.

Only a Trifling Cold
Has been the Lullaby Song of Many a Victim to their Last Long Sleep.
A cough should be loosened as speedily as possible, and all irritation allayed before it settles in the lungs. I didn't know you was a cautious man as that! Of course I know Kedge is honest."

Harkless sighed. "Oh, he's the best we've got, Bowlder."

DR. WOOD'S NORWAY PINE SYRUP
is just the remedy you require. The virtues of the Norway Pine and Wild Cherry Barks, with other standard pectoral Herbs and Balsams, are skillfully combined to produce a reliable, safe and effectual remedy for all forms of Coughs and Colds.

Mr. N. D. Macdonald, Whycoomagh, N.S., writes: "I think my duty to let people know what great good Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup did for me. I had a bad cold, which settled in my chest, and I could get nothing to cure it till I tried Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup. The first bottle helped me wonderfully, and the third one cured me."
Price 25 cents per bottle.

"Why? What's going on at the Judge's?"

"Goin' on! Didn't you see that strange lady at the lecture with Minnie Briscoe and the judge and old Fiske?"

"I'm afraid not, Bowlder."

"They couldn't talk about anything else at the postoffice this mornin' and at Tom Martin's. She come yesterday on the afternoon accommodation. You ought to know all about it because when Minnie and her father went to the depot they had old Fiske with 'em, and when the buckboard come through town he was settin' on the back seat with her. That's what stirred me up. Nobody could figure it out any way, and nobody got much of a good look at her except Judd Bennett. He said she had kind of a new look to her. That's all any of 'em could get out of Judd. He was in a sort of a dreamy state. But Mildy Up-ton—You know Mildy? She works out at Briscoe's—"

"Yes, I know Mildy."

"She come in to the postoffice with the news this lady's name was Sherwood and she lives at Rouen. Miss Tibbs says that wasn't no news—you could tell she was a city lady with both your eyes shut. But Mildy says Fiske was goin' to stay for supper, and he come to the lecture with 'em and drove off with 'em afterwards. Sol Tibbs says he reckoned it was because Fiske was the only man in Carlow that Briscoe thought had read enough books to be smart enough to talk to her, but Miss Selby says if that was so they'd have got you instead, and so they had to all just about give it up. Of course everybody got a good look at her at the lecture—they set on the platform right behind you and Hallaway, and she did look smart. What got me, though, was the way she wore a kind of a little dagger stuck straight through her head."

Seemed a good deal of a secret, just to make sure your hat was on right. You never see her at all."

"I'm afraid not," answered Harkless absently. "Miss Briscoe stopped me on the way out and told me she had a visitor."

"Young man," said Bowlder, "you better go out there right away." He raised the reins and clicked to the gray mare. "Well, she'll be mad I ain't in town for her long ago. Ride in with me."

"No, thank you. I'll walk in for the sake of my appetite of a secret, just to make sure your hat was on right. You never see her at all."

"Wouldn't encourage it too much, livin' at the Palace hotel," observed Bowlder. "Sorry you won't ride." He gathered the loose ends of the reins in his hands, heaved far over the dashboard and struck the mare a hearty thwack. The tattered banner of tail jerked indignantly, but she consented to move on a good deal of a secret, just to make sure your hat was on right. You never see her at all."

"No, not yet," Harkless laughed. "Reckon the boys 'druther you stayed in town after dark." The other called back. "Well, come out and see us if you get any spare time from the Judge's." He laughed loudly again in farewell, and the editor waved his hand as Bowlder finally turned his attention forward to the mare. When the flop, flop of her hoofs had died out, Harkless realized that the day was silent no longer; it was verging into evening.

He dropped from the fence and turned his face toward town and supper. He felt the life and light about him, heard the clatter of the blackbirds above him, heard the homing bees hum by, saw the vista of white road and level landscape framed on two sides by the branches of the grove, a vista of infinitely stretching fields of green, lined here and there with woodlands and flat to the horizon line, the village lying in their lap. No roll of meadow, no rise of pasture land, relieved their serenity nor shouldered up from them to be called a hill.

A farm bell rang in the distance, a tinkling coming small and mellow from far away, and at the loneliness of that sound he heaved a long, mournful sigh. The next instant he broke into laughter, for another bell rang over the fields, the courthouse bell in the square. The first four strokes were given with mechanical regularity, the pride of the custodian who operated the bell being to produce the effect of a clockwork bell, such as he had once heard in the courthouse at Rouen, but the fifth and sixth strokes were halting achievements, as, after 4 o'clock he often lost count in the strain of the effort for precise imitation. There was a pause after the sixth; then a dubious and reluctant stroke, seven; a longer pause, followed by a final ring with desperate decision—eight! Harkless looked at his watch. It was twenty minutes of 6.

As he crossed the courthouse yard to the Palace hotel on his way to supper he stopped to exchange a word with the bell ringer, who, seated on the steps, was mopping his brow with an air of hard earned satisfaction.

"Good evening, Schofield," he said.

"You came in strong on the last stroke tonight."

"What we need here," responded the bell ringer, "is more public spirited men. I ain't kickin' on you, Mr. Harkless—no, sir; but we want more men like they got in Rouen. We want men that'll git Main street paved with block or cobble; men that'll put in factories; men that'll act—not set round like that old fool Martin and laugh and pollywaggle along and make fun of public spirit, day in, day out. I reckon I do my best for the city."

"Oh, nobody minds old Tom Martin," observed Harkless. "It's only half the time he means anything by what he says."

"That's just what I hate about him," returned the bell ringer in a tone of high complaint. "You can't never tell which half it is. Look at him now!" The gentleman, who was standing over in front of the hotel talking to a row of coatless loungers, who sat with their chairs tilted back against the props of the wooden awnings that projected over the sidewalks. Their faces were turned toward the courthouse, and even those lost in meditation whittling had looked up to laugh. Mr. Martin, one of his hands thrust in a pocket of his alpaca coat and the other softly caressing his wiry, gray chin beard, his rusty silk hat tilted forward till the brim almost rested on the bridge of his nose, was addressing them in a one key voice, the melancholy whine of which, though not the words, penetrated to the courthouse steps.

As Mr. Martin's eye fell upon the editor, who, having bade the bell ringer good night, was approaching the hotel, he left his languid companions and crossed the street to meet him. "It was only ornate" on bow round the city ought to be of Schofield's," he said mournfully to his stout hands; "but he looks kind of put out with me." He looked him in the face of the young man and detained him for a moment as the supper gong sounded from within the hotel. "Call on the judge to-night," he asked.

"No, why?"

"I reckon you didn't see that lady with Minnie last night."

"Well, I guess you better go out there, young man. She might not stay here long."

mer; a dim face sneering from a broken window—Six Crossroads was for bidding and forlorn enough by day. The thought of what might issue from it by night was unpleasant, and the legends of the Crossroads, together with an unshapen threat easily fancied in the atmosphere of the place, made Miss Sherwood shiver as though a cold draft had crossed her.

"It is so sinister!" she exclaimed. "And so unspeakably mean! This is where they live, the people that hate him, is it? The White Caps?"

"They call themselves that," replied Briscoe. "Usually White Caps are a vigilance committee in a region where the law isn't enforced. These fellows aren't that kind. They got together to wipe out grudges, and sometimes didn't need any grudge—just made their raids for pure devilment. There's a feud between us and them that goes back into pioneer days, and only a few of us old folks know much about it."

"And he was the first to try to stop them?"

"Well, you see, our folks are pretty long suffering," said Briscoe apologetically. "We'd sort of got used to the meanness of the Crossroads. It took a stranger to stir things up, and you did. He sent eight of them to the penitentiary, some for twenty years."

As they passed the saloon a man stepped into the doorway and looked at his meager, yellow face. He was tall, lean, hard, powerfully built. He eyed the strangers with affected languor and then, when they had gone by, broke into sudden loud laughter.

"That was Bob Skillet, the worst of the lot," said the judge. "Harkless sent his son and one brother to prison, and it nearly broke his heart that he couldn't swear to Bob."

When they were beyond the village and in the open road again Miss Sherwood took a deep breath. "I think I breathe more freely. That was a hideous laugh he sent after us."

The judge glanced at his guest's face and chuckled. "I guess we don't frighten you much," he said. "Young lady, I don't believe you'd be afraid of many things, would you? You don't look like it. Besides, the Crossroads ain't Plattville, and the White Caps have been too scared to do anything more than creep out at night. The Herald for the last two years—ever since it went for them. They're laying for Harkless partly for revenge and partly because they don't do anything until he's out of the way."

The girl gave a low cry with a sharp intake of breath. "Ah, one grows tired of this everlasting Annapolis patience! Why don't the Plattville people do something before they—"

"It's just as I say," Briscoe answered. "Our folks are sort of used to them. I expect we do about all we can. The boys look after him nights, but the main trouble is that we can't make him understand he ought to be more afraid of them. If he'd lived here his life would be. If they get him there'll be trouble of an illegal nature."

He broke off suddenly and nodded to a little old man in a buckboard turning off from the road into a farm lane which led up to a trim cottage with a honeysuckle vine by the door. "That's Mrs. Wimby's husband," said the judge in an undertone.

CHAPTER II.

THE BRISCOE buckboard rattled along the clastic country road, the reins striding a sharp pace as they turned eastward on the pile toward home.

"They'll make the eight miles in three-quarters of an hour," said Judge Briscoe proudly. He turned from his daughter at his side to Miss Sherwood, who sat with Mr. Fiske behind them, and pointed ahead with his whip. "Just beyond that bend we pass through Six Crossroads."

Miss Sherwood leaned forward eagerly. "What did you mean last night after the lecture," she said to Fiske, "when you asked Mr. Martin who was to be with Mr. Harkless?"

"Who was watching him," he answered. "Watching him? I don't understand."

"Yes, they have shot at him from the woods at night."

"But who watches him?"

"The young men of the town. He has a habit of taking long walks after dark, and he is heedless of all remonstrance, so the young men have organized a guard for him, and every evening one of them follows him until he goes to the office to work for the night. It is a different young man each night, and the watcher follows at a distance, so that he does not suspect."

"But how many people know of this arrangement?"

"Nearly every one in the county except the Crossroads people, though it is not improbable that they have discovered it."

"And has no one told him?"

"No; he would not allow it to continue. He will not even arm himself."

"They follow and watch him night after night, and every one knows. And no one tells him? Oh, I must say," cried the girl, "I think these are good people!"

The buckboard turned the bend in the road, and they entered a squallid settlement built raggedly about a blacksmith shop and a saloon. "I'd hate to have a breakdown here," Briscoe remarked quietly.

Half a dozen shanties clustered near the forge, a few roofs scattered through the shiftlessly cultivated fields, four or five barns propped by fence rails, some sheds with gaping apertures through which the light glanced from side to side, a squad of thin razorback hogs, now and then worried by gaunt bantams, and some abused looking bees groping about disconsolately in the mud, a broken topped buggy with a twisted wheel, tottering into the mud of the middle of the road (there was always abundant mud here in the driest season).

mer; a dim face sneering from a broken window—Six Crossroads was for bidding and forlorn enough by day. The thought of what might issue from it by night was unpleasant, and the legends of the Crossroads, together with an unshapen threat easily fancied in the atmosphere of the place, made Miss Sherwood shiver as though a cold draft had crossed her.

"It is so sinister!" she exclaimed. "And so unspeakably mean! This is where they live, the people that hate him, is it? The White Caps?"

"They call themselves that," replied Briscoe. "Usually White Caps are a vigilance committee in a region where the law isn't enforced. These fellows aren't that kind. They got together to wipe out grudges, and sometimes didn't need any grudge—just made their raids for pure devilment. There's a feud between us and them that goes back into pioneer days, and only a few of us old folks know much about it."

"And he was the first to try to stop them?"

"Well, you see, our folks are pretty long suffering," said Briscoe apologetically. "We'd sort of got used to the meanness of the Crossroads. It took a stranger to stir things up, and you did. He sent eight of them to the penitentiary, some for twenty years."

As they passed the saloon a man stepped into the doorway and looked at his meager, yellow face. He was tall, lean, hard, powerfully built. He eyed the strangers with affected languor and then, when they had gone by, broke into sudden loud laughter.

"That was Bob Skillet, the worst of the lot," said the judge. "Harkless sent his son and one brother to prison, and it nearly broke his heart that he couldn't swear to Bob."

When they were beyond the village and in the open road again Miss Sherwood took a deep breath. "I think I breathe more freely. That was a hideous laugh he sent after us."

The judge glanced at his guest's face and chuckled. "I guess we don't frighten you much," he said. "Young lady, I don't believe you'd be afraid of many things, would you? You don't look like it. Besides, the Crossroads ain't Plattville, and the White Caps have been too scared to do anything more than creep out at night. The Herald for the last two years—ever since it went for them. They're laying for Harkless partly for revenge and partly because they don't do anything until he's out of the way."

The girl gave a low cry with a sharp intake of breath. "Ah, one grows tired of this everlasting Annapolis patience! Why don't the Plattville people do something before they—"

"It's just as I say," Briscoe answered. "Our folks are sort of used to them. I expect we do about all we can. The boys look after him nights, but the main trouble is that we can't make him understand he ought to be more afraid of them. If he'd lived here his life would be. If they get him there'll be trouble of an illegal nature."

He broke off suddenly and nodded to a little old man in a buckboard turning off from the road into a farm lane which led up to a trim cottage with a honeysuckle vine by the door. "That's Mrs. Wimby's husband," said the judge in an undertone.

CHAPTER II.

THE BRISCOE buckboard rattled along the clastic country road, the reins striding a sharp pace as they turned eastward on the pile toward home.

"They'll make the eight miles in three-quarters of an hour," said Judge Briscoe proudly. He turned from his daughter at his side to Miss Sherwood, who sat with Mr. Fiske behind them, and pointed ahead with his whip. "Just beyond that bend we pass through Six Crossroads."

I. C. R. EMPLOYEES ASSOCIATION

Semi-Annual Session Held Wednesday at Moncton

Moncton, N. B., Feb. 23.—The regular semi-annual meeting of the I. C. R. Employers' Relief & Insurance Association was held yesterday in the general offices at Moncton.

Owing to the recent heavy snow storms the attendance of representatives from the different districts was not as large as usual. There were, however, representatives present from Halifax, Truro, Moncton, St. John, Newcastle, Campbellton, River du Loup and Levis.

The business transacted was largely of a routine nature. Claims of total disability, allowance from the following named persons were considered and approved for payment:

Amedee Pelletier, River du Loup district $1,000
James Certram, St. John district 500
C. P. Wheaton, Moncton district 250
Samuel English, Moncton district 250
John Larouche, River du Loup district 500
Geo. Cameron, Levis district 250

$2,750

Claims for total disability allowance from a number of other members were also submitted, but were laid over until a future meeting.

An appeal against the election of the secretary of the Sydney district was read and discussed. The meeting decided that as the matter was purely a local one, affecting the members on the Cape Breton district, that it would be better for them to settle the dispute among themselves.

The report of the committee which met the board of the Moncton Hospital was received and concurred in.

The proposed pension scheme was also taken up and discussed many of the representatives present expressing themselves as highly pleased at the prospect of the scheme being adopted and put in operation at an early date.

Dr. Yonston of Truro, was appointed provincial medical examiner, for the province of Nova Scotia, in the place of Dr. John Stewart, of Halifax, who recently resigned that position.

A number of other questions were taken up and discussed, including the appointment of a doctor at Halifax to attend members of the temporary employees' accident fund, a comparative statement showing the amount paid for medical fees by the I. C. R. Employees' Relief & Insurance Association and by other similar organizations, etc., a report regarding special and hospital treatment, cases of Messrs J. R. Hayward and Andrew Cook.

The meeting was adjourned in due time, enabling the delegates to return to their respective homes last evening.

MESSRS. C. C. RICHARDS & CO.
Gentlemen,—My daughter, 13 years old, was thrown from a sleigh and injured her elbow so badly it remained stiff and very painful for three years. Four bottles of MINARD'S LINIMENT completely cured her and she has not been troubled for two years.

Yours truly,
J. B. LIVESQUE.

ACCIDENT NEAR SYDNEY

Engines Thrown From the Track. One Fireman Killed

Sydney, N. S., Feb. 21.—Gordon Somers, a fireman, was instantly killed and two others of the train crew injured this morning when a snow plow and two locomotives were thrown off the track at Tracadie, N. S. The engines and plows were badly wrecked. Auxiliary crews have been sent out, but owing to the road being blocked with snow and ice it will be some time before the line can be cleared. In the meantime provisions, such as beef, butter, eggs, etc., are running very low in adjoining towns. The markets are bare of fresh meat and the city's supply is exhausted. Sydney has been out of since Thursday last and there is no immediate prospect of the railway lines being opened. The mails for Halifax were despatched today via steamer from Louisbourg. This is the first instance of the necessity of adopting such a course since the inauguration of the railway service.

We Offer $1,000

For a Disease Germ That Liquezone Can't Kill.

On every bottle of Liquezone we offer $1,000 for a disease germ that it cannot kill. We do this to assure you that Liquezone does kill germs. And it is the only way known to kill germs in the body without killing the tissues, too. Any drug that kills germs is a poison, and it cannot be taken internally. Medicine is almost helpless in any germ disease. It is this fact which gives Liquezone its worth to humanity; a worth so great that, after testing the product for two years, through physicians and hospitals, we paid $100,000 for the American rights. And we have spent over one million dollars, in one year, to buy the first bottle and give it free to each sick one who would try it.

Acts Like Oxygen.

Liquezone is not made by compounding drugs, nor is there any alcohol in it. Its virtues are derived solely from gas—largely oxygen gas—by a process requiring immense apparatus and 14 days' time. This process has, for more than 20 years, been the constant subject of scientific and chemical research.

The result is a liquid that does what oxygen does. It is a nerve food and blood food—the most helpful thing in the world to you. Its effects are exhilarating, vitalizing, purifying. Yet it is an absolutely certain germicide. The reason is that germs are vegetables;

THE WILLARD MEMORIAL

Ceremony of Acceptance of Statue in United States Senate.

Washington, Feb. 18.—A special feature of the day in the Senate yesterday was the acceptance of the statue of Francis E. Willard, the distinguished temperance advocate, which has been placed in Statuary Hall, in the National Capitol, by the State of Illinois. The statue of Miss Willard is the first of a woman to find a place in the hall, and the members of her sex showed their appreciation of the compliment by turning out in large numbers to listen to the eulogistic addresses.

Senators Cullom and Hopkins, of Illinois; Beveridge, of Indiana; Jolliver, of Iowa, and representatives Ford and Bontelle, of Illinois, and Littlefield, of Maine, delivered the addresses.

The school children of Washington were given a chance to visit Statuary Hall. Each child placed a flower at the base of the statue, and received from Miss Gordon a medal commemorating the event, and bearing a miniature reproduction of the statue. On the evening of Feb. 17 the W. C. T. U. held a national commemorative meeting in Washington.

The statue represents Miss Willard standing, her right arm extended, the hand resting upon a reading desk; the left arm is at her side, with a few pages of manuscript in the hand. She is about to address an audience, and the familiar pose of the head, the strong, spiritual face, are lifelike. Augustus Saint Gaudens, the former instructor of Miss Mears, speaks of it as "showing a way that it seems to me only a woman could do, the union of strength with feminine gentleness—a quality most tender and elusive, but which Miss Mears has certainly infused in her work." The pedestal is of Vermont marble, and bears the following inscription:

"Ah! It is women who have given the costliest hostage to fortune. Out into the battle of life they have sent their best beloved, with fearful odds against them. Oh, by the dangers they have dared, by the hours of patient watching over beds where helpless children lay, by the incense of ten thousand prayers wafted from their gentle lips to heaven, I charge you give them power to protect along life's treacherous highway those whom they have so loved!—Frances E. Willard."

OBITUARY.

A very sad death occurred at Gloucester on Monday evening, Feb. 13th, when 17-year-old daughter of Mr and Mrs Chas. Boudreau, died at her own home here. She had not been feeling well for some time but did not complain much and kept going about. Three weeks previous to her death she took her bed in spite of all that could be done. She sank rapidly every day. She bore her sickness with patience and seemed to be happy through it all. Her death was a shock to all.

If it's the Kidneys, "Sun" Kidney Pills will cure you

"A man with weak kidneys is a weak man. The least exertion—the slightest departure from a rigid diet—a cold—aggravates the kidneys and puts the sufferer in a bed of pain."

"I contracted Kidney Trouble about 20 years ago. Since then, when I overexerted myself or got a cold, I would be a constant sufferer from pains in back and hips and soreness across the loins. I was extremely weak, very nervous, and had no appetite. I scarcely got a full night's sleep, and if I tried to work an hour a day, would suffer severe pain. I tried every remedy recommended for Kidney Trouble but none relieved me. At last I was persuaded to use "Sun" Kidney Pills, and bought three boxes. Before I had finished the second box, I slept well, the pains grew less, and now after taking eight boxes, I think I am as well as a man as I could reasonably hope to be at my age."

This is no uncommon case, or uncommon cure, with "Sun" Kidney Pills. The excruciating pain—the weakness—the lost vigor and vitality—are all due to kidney trouble. "Sun" Kidney Pills go to the seat of the trouble—make the kidneys well and strong. They relieve the pain—protect these vital organs from taking cold—clear the urine—stop the frequent desire to urinate—enable one to sleep through the night without arising three or four times, as many sufferers from kidney trouble do.

Save yourself from Diabetes and Bright's Disease. Win back health and strength with "Sun" Kidney Pills.

If it's the Kidneys, "Sun" Kidney Pills will cure you

"A man with weak kidneys is a weak man. The least exertion—the slightest departure from a rigid diet—a cold—aggravates the kidneys and puts the sufferer in a bed of pain."

"I contracted Kidney Trouble about 20 years ago. Since then, when I overexerted myself or got a cold, I would be a constant sufferer from pains in back and hips and soreness across the loins. I was extremely weak, very nervous, and had no appetite. I scarcely got a full night's sleep, and if I tried to work an hour a day, would suffer severe pain. I tried every remedy recommended for Kidney Trouble but none relieved me. At last I was persuaded to use "Sun" Kidney Pills, and bought three boxes. Before I had finished the second box, I slept well, the pains grew less, and now after taking eight boxes, I think I am as well as a man as I could reasonably hope to be at my age."

This is no uncommon case, or uncommon cure, with "Sun" Kidney Pills. The excruciating pain—the weakness—the lost vigor and vitality—are all due to kidney trouble. "Sun" Kidney Pills go to the seat of the trouble—make the kidneys well and strong. They relieve the pain—protect these vital organs from taking cold—clear the urine—stop the frequent desire to urinate—enable one to sleep through the night without arising three or four times, as many sufferers from kidney trouble do.

Save yourself from Diabetes and Bright's Disease. Win back health and strength with "Sun" Kidney Pills.

Altogether there were about fifty costumes so it was considered a success when we consider the undoubted appearance of the weather that day. There were over three hundred spectators on the ice that evening.

Sunday School Workers' Summer School.

At the last meeting of the Presbytery of Miramichi it was decided to hold the next annual Sabbath School workers' summer school for the Province of New Brunswick from the 10th to the 14th of July at Newcastle. The committee have secured the services of the Rev. Dr. Falconer, Principal of Fine Hill College, Halifax, to deliver a series of lectures on the New Testament, while Rev. Jas. Robertson is to give a course of lectures on the Old Testament. Their courses are to be supplemented by a series of lectures on Juvenile Psychology and the principles of teaching by one of the University professors. It is expected that the railway companies will grant reduced rates and the natural beauty of the Miramichi combined with the cordial hospitality already promised to students from a distance by all the Protestant churches in Newcastle will ensure a large attendance at the school. It is expected that the School workers of all Protestant denominations will avail themselves of the opportunity to profit by this system of instruction.

Champion Liniment for Rheumatism

Chas. Drake, a mail carrier at Chapinville, Coun., says: "Chamberlain's Pain Balm is the champion of all liniments. The past year I was troubled a great deal with rheumatism in my shoulder. After trying several cures the storekeeper here recommended this remedy and it completely cured me." There is no use of any one suffering from that painful ailment when this liniment can be obtained for a small sum. One application gives prompt relief and its continued use for a short time will produce a permanent cure. For sale by all druggists.

MINING DISASTER

Over One Hundred Men Buried Alive.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Feb. 20.—Meagre reports reached here tonight of a terrible disaster in the Virginia mines, which are located about 18 miles from Birmingham. One hundred and five men are entombed in the mine, and it is expected that all are dead. Relief trains carrying physicians and laborers have been sent to the scene of the disaster from both Birmingham and Bessemer.

Reports at 10 o'clock tonight state that every effort is being made to reach the men, but that they can not possibly succeed before tomorrow morning.

The mines belong to the Alabama Steel and Wire Co. and are leased by Reid and Company. Both white and colored miners are employed, and only recently union miners went to work. The mines are considered models of their kind. The slopes are well located and there never has been any trouble from gas heretofore. It is stated that the accident was caused by a cave-in, due to the giving way of the timbers.

DAINTINESS.

The Quality That Develops the Great Charm in Women.

If any woman in the world were allowed three wishes she would name chances to one demand beauty, wealth and cleverness. In this order are the good things of life valued by a woman. She would rather have a pretty face than anything else in the world. Next to that she wants the money wherewith to dress up to that pretty face, and, finally, for no reason in particular, she would like a little brains thrown in, just enough, to make her clever at repartee and able to say nice things when they are needed and able to understand learned things when they are said.

Yet no amount of money in the world, no beautiful face, no cleverness, can make up for a lack of daintiness. Daintiness is the quality which in a man's eyes distinguishes a woman from the other sex and from all others of her own sex. It is the quality which gives her charm of manner, of voice and of appearance.

The most beautiful face in the world is not attractive to a man if it is surrounded by a mass of frizzled hair and wears a coarse expression. The cleverest speech that ever fell from a woman's lips would not interest a masculine listener or rouse his admiration if it were full of coarse phrases. No gown that was laid in color, bold in cut or untidy about the edges ever charmed a man, no matter if it were worth its weight in gold.

Daintiness is not something to be relegated to our maiden aunts. It is not to be confounded with primness and rosemary. It is the secret of feminine charm. The moment a woman loses her daintiness she loses her identity. She is no longer a woman, and, not being a man, she is a nonentity.—New York Press.

SOILED CARPETS.

How They May Be Cleaned and Their Colors Brightened.

Carpets which have grown dirty, have lost their color and have become dull and old looking can be nicely renovated in the following manner: Cut up into very small pieces about an ounce of soap and make it into a lather with a pint of boiling water; then add another quart of water and an ounce of borax.

Put this mixture on the range and bring it to a boil; then remove it, and when it is quite cool add an ounce of alcohol, one of ammonia and half an ounce of glycerin. Do not a small portion of the carpet at a time, and renovate it by wetting a clean dannel cloth in the above mixture and rubbing in vigorously until the spots are removed and the color brought back. Another way to bring the colors out may be used, and it may be accomplished in the ordinary sweeping if salt or dried tea leaves or a mixture of both be thickly sprinkled on the carpet an hour before the sweeping is begun. Use a good, stiff broom when sweeping, and the whole appearance of the carpet will be marvellously improved.

TOILET TIPS.

Pure almond oil will not hurt the most delicate skin. Salt water acts as a tonic on the skin. Gently spatted on the face, it will help make the cuticle firm.

When massaging to plump the arms and throat, use cocoa butter. It is better and cheaper than cold cream.

Rose water, eight ounces, and tincture of benzoin, two drams, make one of the best skin tonics and whiteners.

Almond meal cleanses the face and leaves it in a smooth condition. Mix a small quantity with rose water and massage the whole face with this, afterward rinsing off with tepid water.

Hair can be curled constantly on the iron without injury, providing the iron is not too hot. If the hair is well curled immediately after shampooing the curl will remain in longer, the ordinary head of hair retaining it for a week.
