LOCAL HOSPITAL ON HONOR ROLL

Hotel Dies Placed Among Most Progressive Institutions in U. S. and Canada.

The Hotel Dies Hospital Campbellton, has taken its place among the most progressive institutions of the United States and Canada according to word received to day from the executive secretary of the National Hospital Committee, Chicago, who recently made public the names of hospitals which participated in the first observance of National Hospital Day. The Hotel Dies Hospital was in class on this roll of honor, along with Hospitals of National reputation. Plans for 1922 celebration of National Hospital Day, May 12th, 1922, will be worked out but it is likely that there will be "open house" at the hospital and a cordial invitation to every one to call and see what the institution is doing for the sick and unfortunate. Place on the National Hospital Honor Roll was accorded only those hospitals which took part in the pioneer celebration last year when the idea of having a special day to tell the people about hospitals was conceived.

RUNAWAY.
Mr. Joseph Capogreco's horse ran away on Andrew Street Tuesday afternoon and Mr. Capogreco was thrown out receiving a severe shaking up. Another occupant of the carriage, a child, was also thrown out. The horse was running at a gallop when it was run away before any damage was done.

THE NATIONAL HOSPITAL DAY

May 12th Endorsed by Hon. William Pugsley, Lt. Gov. of New Brunswick.

Having accepted the chairmanship for National Hospital Day, May 12th, I will co-operate with the National Hospital Day Committee, Chicago, in the second annual observance of National Hospital Day in the Province of New Brunswick.

The National Hospital Day movement is for the purpose of acquainting the public with the importance of hospitals and hospital service and the West being the first Commissioner to be highly endorsed by Hon. William Pugsley, Lieutenant Governor of N.B., and many other leaders in public life. We hope that all the hospitals of New Brunswick will co-operate with the thousands of other institutions throughout North America in a uniform program on May 12th.

In most cases the hospitals will hold "Open House" and arrange exhibitions to give the people some idea of how really important is the service rendered by the hospitals. It is expected that 4,000 hospitals will arrange a program for National Hospital Day and that one million people will visit their local hospitals then. Hospitals are necessities in the community and as all other necessities must be well known to the public must support them morally and financially.

Following is the answer of the Lt. Governor to my letter asking for his kind endorsement:
"I have much pleasure in extending to the National Hospital Day movement my most hearty endorsement, recognizing as I do the great benefit which the establishment of hospitals confers upon the public and the desirability of giving to them all possible encouragement and support."

I am yours very sincerely,
(Sgd.) WILLIAM PUGSLEY, Lt. Governor.
On May 12th the hospitals throughout the Province will have special programs of interest to the people and the nursing staffs are going to be "At Home" for the visitors. Please remember the date, and go and pay a special visit to those who spend their lives with the sick.

Those interested in the movement can have from me any information they wish.
L. G. PINAULT, M. D., Prov. Chair. Nat. Hosp. Day.

A hearty invitation is extended to all to attend.

TEA SHORTAGE MEANS HIGHER PRICES

During the war tea reached a very high level of cost largely owing to shortage of shipping. In 1919 and 1920, greatly increased production and unlimited shipping resulted in enormous quantities of tea reaching every market in the world, and a consequent fall in cost ensued. So serious did the situation become in India, Ceylon and Java that the various growers agreed to decrease their output during 1921 by 20%. This agreement was kept and the world is now faced by a shortage of tea, which has resulted in the market climbing week by week for the last eighteen months until it has now reached a level fully 15 cents a pound over that of October 1920.

RESTIGOUCHE OPEN FOR NAVIGATION

River Now Clear of Ice And Small Ferry Boat Making Trips.

The Restigouche river is now clear of ice and ready for navigation. While pedestrians were crossing up to Tuesday, the ice was very bad, and open water was visible up to Oak Bay on Monday. Early Tuesday morning the ice ran out from the government wharf and during the night the river ice moved out. The high tides and high west wind drove the ice from the shore.

The small ferry boat started running yesterday and is running fairly regular now.

THREE CHILDREN BURNED TO DEATH

Mother Dying And Father In Hospital With Both Legs Broken.

Truro, N. S., April 17.—Her three children were burned to death and Mrs. T. Harrington is dying, following a fire here this morning which destroyed the Harrington home. Mr. Harrington is in the hospital with both legs broken.

The fire resulted from a gasoline explosion, when Mr. Harrington, a painter, was lighting an acetylene lamp. He jumped from a window breaking his legs. Mrs. Harrington was taken to a hospital presumably extending God's kingdom. On Tuesday evening another splendid congregation listened to Mr. Swetnam speak on the subject of Christ and his disciples entering into the garden of Gethsemane and the position in which he placed his followers. The speaker dealt with his subject in a very able manner. At the close a good offering was taken. During the service Mr. Swetnam sang a solo, "The old rugged cross," very impressively and an evangelistic after meeting followed in which many took part.

BAD FIRE AT NEW MILLS, N. B.

Hoegg's Lobster Factory, And Warehouse, With Contents Destroyed.

The D. W. Hoegg & Co. of New Mills met with a very heavy loss Tuesday of last week when their lobster factory, cookhouse and warehouse, with a large number of lobster traps, motor boat, salmon nets and general equipment were destroyed by fire.

The loss is very heavy and unfortunately the insurance carried does not nearly cover the loss.

Mr. Goodman the manager is hard at work getting things in shape to continue the business for this season.

SERVICES AT BAPTIST CHURCH

Rev. J. A. Swetnam Conducting Evangelistic Services Every Night.

On Monday evening, April 17th, a good congregation greeted the Rev. J. A. Swetnam of St. John, who is now assisting Rev. W. Camp in special services. Mr. Swetnam delivered a very forcible address on the subject "Do we need a revival?" The address made a great impression upon those present and as a result a splendid offering was taken. On Tuesday evening another splendid congregation listened to Mr. Swetnam speak on the subject of Christ and his disciples entering into the garden of Gethsemane and the position in which he placed his followers. The speaker dealt with his subject in a very able manner. At the close a good offering was taken. During the service Mr. Swetnam sang a solo, "The old rugged cross," very impressively and an evangelistic after meeting followed in which many took part.

Mr. Swetnam is a young man of pleasing personality, a good singer and an able speaker of the old time religion. Mr. Swetnam will be in town for two weeks and all should take the opportunity of hearing him deliver the gospel message and sing the gospel songs.

EDITOR'S MAIL

Editor Graphic,
Apr. 15, 1922

Dear Sir—

As you were accommodating enough to allow a correspondent space in a recent issue of your paper to mention the people of this district, I will therefore ask your indulgence in granting me the same privilege to refute those accusations in case some people, not knowing your correspondent, might think them true.

If he has a grudge at H. Fair for prosecuting his son for violating the game law of this province as it was Mr. Fair's duty to do, why does he not confine his remarks to him alone, instead of throwing insults to the residents of Eccuminac who have nothing to do with the subject in question.

Since he knows so much about what is taking place on the Indian Reserve, why does he not inform the game warden when he finds out any one who is unlawfully killing game? Is he afraid by so doing he will offend some friends on the Mission? As far as Mr. Fair is concerned, he is quite capable to speak for himself in his thought, it worth while, which apparently he does not. But in passing I may say that although I do not hold the same political views as Mr. Fair, I think I am safe in saying that he has the respect of at least 90% of the people of both parties from Cross Point to Fleurant Point, and if your correspondent can get 25 per cent of the people of either county to publicly declare that he is worthy to shine H. Fair's shoes, I will buy him a goose for both his next Xmas and New Year's dinner if he is not able to raise the money himself and thus relieve the necessity of going out in a frail craft at night, go out at night with a light to defy the laws of the land.

But then there is another reason why the wild geese, and the correspondent should be ruthlessly slaughtered for horror of horrors are they not destroying Uncle Sam's rice crops, hoo, hoo, pow, wow. I say to this pessimist, cheap and to go away your tears. Oh ye of little faith. There is no danger of your rice supply being exhausted for even if the crop is destroyed in the Republic at the south of us, don't you know there is another vast republic on the continent of Asia that is famous for its rice growing propensity and if the dreaded thing should happen and your supply should be cut off here, I am sure the good people of Campbellton would take up a subscription in order to get rid of you, and pay your way out to the land of plenty, where you could spend your remaining days in pleasure among the rest of the rice eaters and I don't doubt that Mr. Fair will loan you the money to buy the necessary chopsticks.

It is hard to understand what your correspondent means by blaming Mr. Day and some others for the unknown fate of the lamented George Sargeant, it merely proves the truth of the old proverb that evil doers are evil thinkers. No one but a man with a deceased mind would ever think of attributing the blame to anyone because Mr. Sargeant was always well liked and well used by the people of Eccuminac.

Mr. Pike has said that George Sargeant told him last Autumn that he considered Mr. Day a perfect gentleman, which is a name I never heard applied to his accuser. The only instance I have of a citizen of Campbellton losing his life through the fault of another was away back on the 21st of Sept. 1911 when Campbellton's long tongued taster was the direct or indirect cause of a most splendid citizen being foully done to death.

You correspondent says Mr. Day is a good judge of whiskey. Well, I don't know if this is true or not as I do not know the gentleman, but if the stories I have heard are true and I were going into the liquor business and wanted a judge to aid me in buying my supply being as I am not a drinking man myself and Mr. Day and his accuser both applied for the job, I would certainly give the latter the preference.

He says the Eccuminac people are poverty stricken, well I can assure him that if he ever has to mortgage his property in order to raise money to pay a fine for headlighting he will find several people in Eccuminac who could advance him the money if they wished to and probably would, providing it was a first mortgage and he was willing to pay interest enough and what is more they earned their money by hard work and industry.

He says the people down here are too lazy and cowardly to go goose hunting with a light. But the truth is, the people of Eccuminac are not defying constituted authority. And notion next autumn to violate the law to keep away from these waters or he may find to his sorrow that the boys down here are neither too cowardly or lazy to get in a canoe and chase him down and then take him by the ear and lead him up before Mr. Fair to deal with him as he sees fit.

Well now Mr. Editor as I consider I have sufficiently answered your correspondent I will close by expressing my regret that I found it necessary to use such harsh language, but I merely fought him with his own weapons. For as Billy Sunday says: "You can't fight a skunk with cologne water." Now I hope Mr. Editor you will give this letter the same publicity as you gave the letter I am endeavoring to answer as you have a lot of subscribers down here who recently resent the unwarranted insult to this district.

Thanking you for space in your paper, I remain
Yours truly,
FRED GAUDIN.

CURIOSITY.

Sensation-mongering is something that should be discouraged in childhood. This does not mean that imagination should be checked in the child. Imagination is a highly desirable quality and its development is undoubtedly an asset to any child in after life, no matter what vocation he may choose. It must be remembered, however, that the child mind is constantly open to suggestions, both good and evil. The adult, with the desire and the necessary will-power, may close his mind to many of these undesirable suggestions; but not so the child. Curiosity dominates his waking hours, pushing all prudence into the background and supplying the impetus for his eternal quest for sensation and excitement whether of a wholesome or unwholesome nature.

In this respect many of us are quite childish. Many people merely regard curiosity as the impetus which make a neighbor anxious to find out where you spend your evenings, whether your cellar is wet or dry and whether the lady you escorted to the races was your own wife or someone else's. This they call "natural" curiosity. Perhaps it is. Apparently it is "Natural" enough to some people. Nevertheless, it is merely vulgar, unbridled inquisitiveness. In other words, curiosity running wild. Its owners are still in the pinfeather stage as far as real education is concerned. They have not yet learned to mind their own business.

But curiosity in the first place is a God-given instinct. What it requires is to be directed into the proper paths, for it is an instinct which may be productive of either intellectual growth or mental degeneracy, according to the direction it is allowed to take. Therefore it is important that the curiosity of the innocent child mind should be directed towards useful and worthy things. Moreover, children should be carefully taught to discriminate between good and evil suggestions and between healthy and unwholesome aids to the interest and excitement they desire. By striving to direct the curiosity of boys and girls under their care, into useful and worth-while channels, parents and teachers will be doing much to combat the mischievous and sensation-mongering tendency which appears in every normal child of both sexes.

Many parents never give this matter a thought. Why? Mostly because they have never realized its importance. Nevertheless, if more attention was given to this part of the child's training, meddling gossipers and backbiting scandal-mongers would not be so numerous twenty years hence. For the above-mentioned crop of "talkers" is merely a harvest from curiosity sown without discrimination. Through proper education at the proper time, the instinct of curiosity and the love of excitement and sensation, inherent in all human beings, may be diverted from contact with the vulgar or harmful and directed to a worthy and useful goal.

BORROWED MONEY.

There was a time when our governments and city corporations could borrow money for amount half what the costs of interest now amount to. That cheapness of money was unfortunately too freely taken advantage of, with the result that a very much larger proportion of public revenue than is proper is now eaten up in interest charges. The St. John (N. B.) Globe wisely remarks that: "The St. John city financial reports presented to citizens this week, like the provincial reports given to the Legislature a few days earlier, disclose that each government is compelled to set aside approximately one-third of its revenue to pay interest charges. Not too strongly not too frequently can this fact be impressed. The demand in each case is heavier than sound business prudence justifies. Neither the City of St. John nor the Province of New Brunswick can afford to let this interest account consume a larger portion of the available revenue. In fact the credit of the two governments compels that the tightest kind of checks be put on interest-bearing expenditures, or the day will come when the sale of securities will be influenced. The matter is one of interest to every citizen and of particular importance to the taxpayer."

cular interest to those who have large financial stakes in the country and therefore stand to bear the heaviest share of the taxation levies which are the only means of paying such debts. It is high time that men of position in the city and province took stock of prevailing conditions and organized themselves to help resist the pressure which comes from many sources to influence capital expenditures. Boards of Trade and all the forces standing for sound business in public affairs should without thought of politics give both civic and provincial rules to understand that these debt burdens are already too heavy. A healthy public opinion is the demand of the moment."
