ASHPLANT SEES MAYOR 'AT SEA' IN CIVIC SWAMP

Deplores Suggestion That Court Action Be Taken To Force Mayor To Do His Duty.

CITES MORAL OBLIGATION

Reiterates Demand Illegally Tax-Exempted Annex Property Share City Burdens.

Expressing as his unqualified belief that Mayor Cameron Wilson "has lost his foothold and is floundering about in a civic swamp," Alderman Henry E. Ashplant acknowledged Thursday morning that upon more than one occasion the city's chief magistrate and himself have failed absolutely to qualify in the same class for membership in the Ananias club.

Alderman Ashplant referred specifically to a denial recently published in The Advertiser by Mayor Wilson, that he had obstructed, as charged by the former, the collection of the annexed school tax levy.

"The facts are on record, Ald. Ashplant continued, "and speak for themselves. As chief executive at the city hall, it is the duty of the mayor to respect the law and recognize his moral obligation to the city ratepayers, and see that illegally-exempted property in the annex is made to come across with its legal obligation to pay the school tax and relief to the over-loaded downtown taxpayer."

Mayor Wilson has signally failed and fallen down on this job. I repeat, without reservation, that as chief executive at the city hall, he has obstructed, in the collection of this annex school tax.

Admits Legality. "Mayor Wilson admits, in his published statement, that the city council can legally collect school taxes from the $1,500,000 totally-exempted property in the annex. His worship admits that nothing in the agreement grants this exemption, and yet this chief executive at the city hall has a lot of 'piffle' to put on record about 'moral obligation' to keep an agreement which does not exist.

"What about his moral obligation? Turn to Page 9, Column 5.

Cut Price of Gasoline Five Cents a Gallon

THE motoring fraternity will, no doubt, greet with approval and great satisfaction the announcement that that most precious of all fluids, gasoline, has been reduced in price five cents a gallon. This reduction, taking effect Wednesday, brings the price down to 34 cents a gallon.

Coinciding with the cut in the price of motor fuel, comes the glad tidings that the price of tires has also been cut.

HOLLAND BIDS FOR TOUSISTS

Dutch Take Advantage of Presence of Correspondents at Hague.

Press Thinks Third Conference at Washington Possible.

The Hague, June 22.—Dutch officialdom in general is showing little disposition to follow their foreign minister's conference slogan upholding "a wise and well followed publicity," and Holland is taking advantage of the presence here of scores of foreign newspapermen, in hopes that charms of the Netherlands may be spread to the outside world, especially the United States so that America's thousands who are now pouring into their itineraries. Municipal and town councils are extending countless invitations to the correspondents.

There are two dominating notes in the comment of the Dutch press on The Hague conference both speculative. The first reflects the view that another conference will have to follow, perhaps at Washington, if The Hague meeting proves fruitful and constructive. The second emphasizes the youthfulness of the majority of the delegates here.

"Who knows," remarks one editor, "perhaps these persistent, optimistic youngsters who realize that history moves along pretty fast, will find the key to the Russian puzzle. Any way, give them a chance."

REPORTS BIG REAL ESTATE LEASE.

Reliable information, furnished The Advertiser Thursday afternoon, states that the property at the southwest corner of Dundas and Richmond streets, now occupied by the C. P. R. ticket office and Sanders' Photo Studio, has been leased to McNea Brothers, of John McNea & Sons, who purpose erecting a modern office and store building on the site.

This property is a portion of the McDonagh estate, which is being handled by executors in Toronto. A persistent rumor states that the property has been purchased by the McNea brothers, but information obtained at the office of John McNea & Sons Thursday afternoon, declared that a long lease held on the property precludes the possibility of a sale.

None of the McNea brothers could be located to obtain details of proposed plans Thursday afternoon, but it was definitely stated reliable authority that this property has been leased by them.

MUNCEY INDIANS RELATE TALES OF PERSECUTION

Declare Provincial Officers and Mounted Police Guilty of Injustice.

LIQUID CONFISCATED

A. G. Chisholm, Counsel For Indians, Has Matter Under Consideration.

Tales of injustice, persecution by provincial officers and Northwest Mounted Policemen of certain treaty Indians residing upon the Muncey reservation in West Middlesex reached the city Thursday morning. County constables, who were compelled to visit the reservation on business Wednesday bring back with them charges related to them by Indians with whom they came in contact there and who were emphatic in their contention that in several instances within the past few weeks they have been unfairly dealt with by police officials with respect to the enactment of the law, more particularly the Ontario temperance act.

So impressed were the county authorities with the testimony of these Indians that they explained the matter to The Advertiser Thursday, expressing the opinion that if these charges bore any semblance to the truth untold publicity should be given the affair.

Confiscate Liquid.

One specific charge is that but a few days ago officers from St. Thomas raided a dwelling on the reservation and confiscated a quantity of liquid in a barrel, brought the supposed owner into court and fined him $50 and $20 costs without allowing the prisoner the right to wait until the alleged beverage had been analyzed.

When acquainted of this charge Thursday morning, A. G. Chisholm, K.C., counsel for the Indians, explained that he had been in receipt of many personal complaints within the past few days.

Shoot at Youth.

"It appears that they have been chasing one of the Indians, a youth, as a matter of fact, for a considerable time past. They have, I understand, shot at him on more than one occasion, once a bullet hitting just past his head. The bullet was later recovered from a tree, I believe."

"I am told, further, that the boy's mother went to these officials and asked what charge there was against him, and if there was actually one that he would surrender. She says that they said they didn't have a charge against him, and I have written to them, warning them to desist."

Flays Raney-Drury's Stand On Horse Race Gambling

SENATE WOULD PROTECT GAMES OF CHANCE.

OTTAWA, June 22.—The Senate resumed discussion yesterday on amendments to the criminal code.

Senator Dandurand, in advocating the return of certain fines to municipalities in Ontario, said the attorney-general of Ontario dissented from this course, but that the government in doing so believed it was doing only justice to the municipalities.

This view was supported by Senator Loughheed, who said the trend of the local governments was to monopolize all sources of revenue at the expense of the municipalities.

On the clause relating to games of chance, Senator Fowler said it was the duty of the senate to protect innocent amusement from fanaticism, and claimed that the more moral legislation there is on the statute, the more was broken.

Senator Bennett said much of the gambling in Ontario was due to the "religious spasms of Raney-Drury and Company." They had had an opportunity to put out of business the greatest form of gambling—horse racing—but had been content to raise revenue from this source.

He did not see why an innocent card game on a train should be a

Princess Scorns Heart Advice Of Europe's Diplomats

ROME, June 22.—A royal triangle! A triangle with one of Europe's most beautiful princesses at its apex, and two heirs to thrones at the other angles.

While a Balkan king at any time may break openly into the regal scramble for a heart and change the triangle into a quadrangle!

That situation has been brought about because Princess Yolanda, eldest daughter of the Italian reigning king, has a mind of her own.

Revolutionary Yolanda, a girl in her early twenties, says she's going to pick her husband without diplomatic aid. She's defying all the counsellors of her royal parents.

Diplomats Amazed.

They're aghast—in the past their decisions in matrimonial matters have been accepted without question.

They decreed Yolanda should wed Duke Henry of Brabant, eldest son of the Belgian royal couple and heir to the Belgian throne. The betrothal is all but announced.

But Yolanda is said to be anxious to wed the Prince of Wales, regardless of his wishes in the affair.

And it's said here that the princess plans to go to London incognito to greet Britain's heir now that he's back from his Oriental trip.

Meanwhile as Yolanda packs her bags for London—

And the royal counsellors run around in circles and declare girls of the past were never like this—

And Duke Henry is wondering whether he'll have a bride or not—

King Boris of Bulgaria is keeping a watchful eye on the whole affair. This impoverished Balkan king sued for Yolanda's hand and got some encouragement—from the diplomats. Boris, who sadly needs the support of one of the greater powers, wonders just what his status at Rome is.

Renew Search For Suitable Location to Replace Present Temple.

In search of a site for a new Masonic Temple, to replace the present building on Queen's avenue, which is regarded as inadequate for the several Masonic organizations who make it their headquarters, members of the Masonic Hall building committee of London expressed keen disappointment Thursday when they learned that the McDonagh property on Dufferin avenue had been sold to the London Life Insurance Company.

This property was regarded by the committee as ideal for a new Masonic Temple, and prospects for purchasing it were excellent until the sale to the insurance company spoiled the committee plans. Undaunted by this setback, the committee is casting about for another site, but have not located a suitable one.

FIVE MEN SAIL.

New York, June 22.—Five men will sail today for an island off Nova Scotia in search of a legendary $500,000 hoard. Edward Browne, of New York, who heads the searchers, said a resident of California told him that during a war between South American countries many years ago the national treasure of one of the participants was put on a ship to save it from capture.

The vessel escaped, and on reaching the Canadian coast the treasure was buried. Browne said the Californian convinced him that he held the secret of the treasure, and decided to lead the search.

The Argonauts probably hope to locate the treasure trove of ten million pounds sterling alleged to be buried on Oak Island in Mason Bay, N. S. Earlier legends connected with the search for this treasure are said to have inspired Edgar Allan Poe's famous story, "The Gold Bug."

FIELD MARSHAL WILSON SLAIN ON ETON SQUARE IN LONDON

Military Adviser to Ulster Government Struck by Three Bullets As He Steps From Motor Car in Front of Home; Two Assaultants Held by Police.

London, June 22.—Field Marshal Sir Henry Hughes Wilson was shot and killed in front of his house on Eton Square, London, this afternoon.

Two assailants of the victim have been arrested. The field marshal delivered a speech at the Liverpool street station, in the city, this morning in connection with the unveiling of a war memorial. Apparently he had just returned home when the tragedy occurred.

Large reports state that Sir Henry was not killed outright, but that his wounds proved fatal within a few minutes.

A policeman who was near the shooting was wounded.

A few months ago Field Marshal Wilson accepted an appointment as military adviser to the Ulster government and made frequent visits to Ulster. He spent most of his time in London, however, attending the House of Commons.

The Central News account of the tragedy says he was stepping from his car a few minutes after two men suddenly appeared and opened fire on him with revolvers. He was struck by three bullets, the account adds, and died almost immediately.

Sir Henry Hughes Wilson was formerly chief of the imperial general staff of the British army. He retired from this post early in the present year and stood for the imperial parliament as Unionist candidate for North Down, Ireland. He was elected member for this Ulster district on February 21, and shortly afterward was appointed by Premier Craig as Ulster's agent for the restoration of order.

The field marshal went to Belfast from England early in March with plans for restoring order, which he submitted to Premier Lloyd George.

While the choice of Field Marshal Wilson as organizer of pacification measures was favorably received in Ulster, it had a contrary reception in Southern Ireland. The former British chief of staff was regarded there with more or less the same Turn to Page 2, Column 6.

LARGE BOULDER DERAILS C. P. R. PASSENGER TRAIN

Fireman Killed and Engineer Badly Scalded in Accident Near Brownsville, Me.

St. John, N. B., June 22.—A serious derailment occurred on the Canadian Pacific Railway line near Lakeview, ten miles east of Brownsville, Me., at 5:20 o'clock this morning, when No. 10 passenger train, en route from Montreal to this city, crashed into a large boulder.

Fireman Albert Lockhart, of Brownsville, was instantly killed, and Engineer Rogers was quite badly scalded. The engine was derailed as well as the express car, and practically the entire mail car, while a section of the rails was torn up.

The passenger train was proceeding through a rock cut when it crashed into the large boulder, which was described as fourteen feet by ten by six. The terrific impact tore the truck off the engine and express car, and hurled both cars off the rails.

The passenger train was torn up with the search for this treasure are said to have inspired Edgar Allan Poe's famous story, "The Gold Bug."

He feels confident that the prisoners do not receive exactly a fair hearing in Lambton County, where public sentiment would be apt to be influenced to a certain extent by the fact that the robbery happened within the county.

BULLETIN.

Herrin, Ill., June 22.—A check up this afternoon showed 26 known dead, and indications that the total would be more than thirty in the hostilities between striking union miners and employees of the strip mines of the Southern Illinois Coal Company near here.

Herrin, Ill., June 22.—Sounds of occasional shots were heard early today from the direction of the mining camp near here, where striking union miners surround the camp in which approximately 190 non-union workers are quartered. Sounds of explosions, said to be dynamite blasts, also were audible here. Two union miners are known to be dead today, six unaccounted for, and nearly a score of men wounded as the result of an open fight between striking union miners and non-union men employed by the Southern Illinois Coal Company at its strip mine, 6 miles east of here, which broke out late yesterday and continued until darkness caused its cessation.

Unverified reports were that more than twelve men were killed in the fight at the mining camp, in an explosion between Carterville and May near the scene of the trouble, and in an attack on a truck carrying non-union men to the mine, which occurred near Carbondale. It was im-

WORD 'PROFITS' INSERTED HITS EVERY CITIZEN

Drastic Change Is Made by Ontario Legislature, To Be Effective Jan. 1.

ALL INCOMES ARE LIABLE

"Bootleggers" to Needle Sellers Come Within Scope of New Law.

Sweeping changes in the municipal income tax regulations have been made by the Ontario Legislature, simply by inserting one word in an amendment to the present law. City Treasurer James Bell informed The Advertiser Thursday.

Inclusion of this one word means that after Jan. 1 next, every citizen of London engaged in business, legitimate or otherwise, "from bootleggers to needle sellers," will find their incomes are liable to taxation.

The word in question is "profits," which, by the new law, are now assessable for municipal income tax in Ontario.

"The word profits included in the amendment means income from any transaction or sale," said Mr. Bell, "wholesale, retail, or any other kind of trade. It includes bootleggers, and every person in business from bootleggers to needle sellers."

"Previous to this amendment profits were not taxable. While bootlegging is an illegitimate business, there is nothing in the new municipal income tax law that lets it out. The assessment department must treat the returns, however, as confidential."

Commissioner Agrees.

Assessment Commissioner Stephen Grant, whose department is responsible for the assessment and collection of income tax in London confirmed the city treasurer's interpretation of the new law.

In reference to returns submitted by persons selling whiskey contrary to the law, Mr. Grant stated that he did not think prosecution could be based on the returns, even if they were not treated confidentially.

"The police cannot do anything unless they catch these men in the act," he declared. "You can be sure also that they will not put down bootlegger as their profession on the income tax return."

"What do you think they would write in as their profession?" Mr. Grant was asked.

"O. wine clerk, vendor or something like that," Mr. Grant replied. "Regardless of what they write it will be treated as confidential here, just as is done with the Dominion income tax returns, and will appear on the assessment roll as merchant (class of trade not mentioned)."

"How about bootleggers? Will they be deducted from the income?"

Requirement Statement.

"What we will require is a statement of the net income after fines and expenses for gasoline are deducted," continued the assessment commissioner. "Profits mean the difference between profit and loss, and the latter includes fines and the price of gasoline."

"Well, you will know all the bootleggers in London," ventured The Advertiser reporter, attempting to make friends with Mr. Grant.

"Yes, I guess we will, but what difference will that make?" he countered. "I do not think my staff or myself will be stealing away to see them all the time. Of course, we may be a good reference department for the bootleggers."

City Treasurer Bell does not agree with Mr. Grant that the run-runners' business will be concealed from the assessment department by camouflage tactics.

"There are questions on the income tax return which must be answered, and when a bootlegger answers them, any clerk can read between the lines and learn his business," asserted Mr. Bell. "Anyway, the returns are to be strictly confidential, so what difference does it make?"

GIVEN COUNTY OF MIDDLESEX POST
Edward S. Houghton Succeeds Mrs. Robson in Treasurer's Office.

Edward S. Houghton, formerly accountant with the local public utilities commission, has been appointed as deputy treasurer for the county of Middlesex, relieving Mrs. (Capt.) Thomas Robson, who relinquishes that position July 1.

While this announcement was not made public until Thursday morning by John Stewart, clerk of the county, it is explained that the change had remained more or less of a secret since the recent session of the Middlesex County council, when Mrs. Robson's resignation was received and accepted with regret. The latter is retiring from her duties by reason of ill-health, it is further explained.

The new appointment was made recently at a special committee meeting and official announcement made today.

Mrs. Robson has been connected with the treasurer's department for many years, having been first employed in that office when her father, the late Andrew M. McEvoy, was county treasurer.

under consideration," said C. A. Whitman, a member of the Masonic committee, and vice-president of the Hobbs Hardware Company, informed The Advertiser Thursday. "While we did not have an option on the property, the owners promised to notify us before it was sold. However, we were informed Wednesday afternoon that the London Life Insurance Company had purchased this site.

Was Ideal Place.
"It was regarded by the committee as an ideal place to build a new Masonic Temple. But with so many Masonic organizations, it was difficult to reach a decision at once, and the delay lost us our opportunity. The McDonagh property adjoins the present Masonic Temple, and is in a beautiful location directly opposite Victoria Park.

"We are looking for another central site, in a quiet place," continued Mr. Whitman. "Our present temple is too small. We did consider building out west of it, but that property was sold to Dr. George McDowell, when it was known that we were negotiating for the McDonagh home.

"Of course, the present Masonic Temple could be enlarged by adding a fourth story to it, but that would cost a lot of money, and a new temple would be better. While we have had direct offers for the present temple, we have been asked if it is for sale.

Cost Was Slight.
Every Mason in London subscribed 25 cents a week for a year," concluded Mr. Whitman, "they would pay for the McDonagh property in one year by this means alone. Practically every London Mason regarded it as an ideal site for a temple, but the whole thing was getting official approval for the purchase from the various Masonic organizations."

These organizations include eleven blue lodges, four royal arch chapters, one Knights Templar preceptory, Mocha Temple Shrine, London Lodge of Perfection of the Scottish Rite, and Rose Croix Chapter of the Scottish Rite. There are approximately 5,000 master Masons in London.

WOODMEN HOLD BANQUET AT PORT
Dean N. L. Tucker Delivers Inspiring Address On National Spirit.

With speeches, songs and a musical program, over 100 Woodmen of the World gathered from all parts of the Dominion at the convention of the head camp of that organization and made merry around a banquet table in the Cafeteria at Port Stanley Wednesday night.

The speech of the evening was delivered by Dean N. L. Tucker, replying to a toast, "Canada and Our Empire," proposed by Daniel Cinnamon of Lindsay, past head council commander.

"What a splendid chance it is for us that we are part and parcel of the British Empire," said the dean. "It was not of our doing that we are able to enjoy the privileges, and I sometimes wonder if we have a right to feel proud, for it was the hand of God."

"As a portion of the British Empire Canada, as a nation, need not fear for her existence as did Belgium, Holland and other small nations before the war.

"As Canadians, we are citizens of the world. We take part in the affairs of the empire; in the affairs of England. Our history did not begin just 200 years ago, but rather 2,000 years ago. The great heroes of Great Britain were our heroes. The motherland has produced the supreme, the incomparable men of all walks of life, and men are the greatest things in all the world.

"We in Canada have the sublime inspiration, gained through the contact with Great Britain. We must never close our eyes to the blessing. We must make ourselves worthy of the great partnership."

Laude National Life.
The greatest single thing in the world, Dean Tucker said, was national life. In Canada, he said, a young nation was being built, and so the three factors that go to make a national life should be remembered.

The foremost factor, he said, was great ancestors. Could anyone ask for greater ancestors than the splendid soldiers, statesmen and men of literature and science who have made the British Empire what it is?

Great Britain, he said, was the men of the 'Order,' the men armed with axes who hewed homes out of the primitive forests of this country. They laid the foundation for the fairest region of the earth. The Woodmen were our ancestors."

The dean then made a plea that Canada should not admit the people of the slums of the older nations to mingle their blood with the blood inherited from sturdy ancestors. A great nation could not be built in this manner, he said. He did not mean that Canada should close its doors to the world, but he thought the country had a right to choose its citizens. He attacked the old system of bounty giving to bring men into the country.

Proposes Toast.
Splendid institutions were in Canada, but among the greatest was Sunday, the day of rest. He urged that it be observed more strictly.

Sovereign Hilton proposed the toast to "Our Order" and Head Clerk P. C. Hooper and Head Commander C. Jarvis responded. The speakers outlined the growth of the society, and told of the inception of the fraternal movement and the beginning of actuarial basis of giving insurance. Through the speeches there was a strong vein of optimism for future successes.

A toast to "The City of London" was proposed by J. H. Saunders. The reply was given by Jared Haining, utility commissioner.

The party left London on a special train at 6:20 p.m. immediately on arrival at the grounds many drills were given by the London Regiment No. 1 under the direction of General Thomas Leah and Majors Bailey and Francis. The movements smartly executed were greeted with much applause.

FARMER GAINS BY FREIGHT CUT
Cheaper Building Also Possible, But Coal and Bread Unaffected.

"Bread won't be any cheaper even if freight rates are reduced 20 per cent," the head of a well-known milling firm stated tonight.

"The proposed reduction will not affect London or the farmers in Western Ontario, but only the western farmer, as it applies only from Fort William west. The farmer really pays the freight to Fort William, and the miller pays the rest of the way. From Alberta the old rate is 30 cents per cwt. A saving of 4 cents a bushel will be effected, which will not be enough to bring down the price of flour. Even if there were a reduction of 20 per cent from Fort William east, as well it would not be sufficient to make bread 1 cent cheaper," he said.

Cuts Building Supplies.
The building industry will benefit perhaps more than any other, according to dealers in building materials. Brick, lime, cement and plaster benefit to the extent of 20 per cent, but the reduction affects most of all the man who buys brick.

On a $5,000 house the saving will amount to $1,000, a comparatively small figure perhaps, but not so small when one considers the additional saving on other materials.

Cement will drop 10 cents a barrel as a result of lower rates, one dealer said. On a $5,000 house the cement bill would thus be lowered by approximately $10, a comparatively small saving in proportion to the amount of material used—only in the cellar and for the foundation.

Helps Steel Industry.
The change will come as a godsend almost to the steel industry, one authority claimed. Recently outside competition had been so bad that Canadian mills were merely carrying on without regard to profit and loss, in order to keep out American competition. Steel was being shipped in from across the border at prices for which steel could not be produced here. It took five tons of raw material—ore, coal, coke and lime—to produce one ton of steel. With all these being shipped over the railroads on long hauls a very great saving would be effected in the production cost.

There will be good news for the farmer from the fertilizer market if the change is made. He will be getting his fertilizer from $1.25 to $1.50 a ton cheaper, one manufacturer stated. As in the case of steel there would be a saving on both the raw material and the finished product.

Hard Coal Price Unchanged.
Coal reductions will only affect the public in a very indirect way. Bituminous coal would be subject to reductions of from 10 to 20 cents, according to haul. This would benefit the manufacturer, but not the average home, for anthracite rates, it is proposed by the railways—the C. P. R., Canadian National and Grand Trunk—will remain the same.

FIELD MARSHAL WILSON IS SLAIN

feeling as Sir Edward Carson, the former Ulster leader, and predictions were freely voiced in the south that he would be strongly in sympathy with the Orange side of the feud between the two factions.

Field Marshal Wilson's career in the great war was one of high distinction. He went out with the expeditionary force under Lord French in 1914, and was the backbone of the British staff during the long retreat from Mons.

In 1916, he was sent on a mission to Russia, returning to France as special senior liaison officer in French general headquarters, and later was appointed to the eastern command at home. In 1917, however, his most important work began. In December of that year he was appointed British member of the military committee of the allied war council for the western front. He thus became one of the best-known figures in inter-allied army circles, for while Gen. Sir Douglas Haig was the British commander in the field, Gen. Wilson was the British voice which spoke in the council at Versailles which carried out the joint operations of the Allies.

At Versailles Gen. Wilson was associated with Gen. Foch up to the time Foch took command of the joint forces in the field. He also went to Italy after the Italian debacle at Caporetto and shared the plans for holding back the Austro-German rush into Italy. Later, Gen. Cadorna became his associate at Versailles as the Italian representative of the joint military council.

ASK DRAFT OF 8-HOUR DAY BILL

London Trades and Labor Council Want Government Petitioned.

Provincial and Federal Houses Accused of "Passing Buck."

Hoping that if sufficient pressure is brought to bear upon the authorities at Ottawa, a definite move will be made to establish as law the 8-hour day throughout the Dominion, members of the London Trades and Labor Council in regular session Wednesday night endorsed the suggestion advanced by Delegate W. F. Thompson, that the Dominion Trade Congress be petitioned to draft a bill to that effect to be presented in the federal parliament by the Labor members therein.

The council approved also of the added suggestion that after the first reading of the bill the same should be submitted to a higher legal authority, with a view to obtaining whether it would actually be constitutional to submit a bill of that nature to the federal government.

Delegate Thompson declared that while the peace delegates had agreed upon an 8-hour day in that direction had been made in Canada other than by the provincial governments exchanging "the buck" with the federal government.

Delegate R. Hessel held that Delegate Thompson's resolution did not go far enough. He maintained that the appeal should be for a 44-hour week, particularly in view of the fact that hundreds of railroad workers might now be compelled to labor seven days a week at ten and even twelve hours a day.

TELLS PRISONER HE IS DANGEROUS

"You're a dangerous character," Magistrate A. H. M. Graydon told Romeo Williams, colored, when he sentenced him to an indeterminate term of not less than three months and not more than two years, less one day, in the Ontario Reformatory in a charge of breaking and entering. Williams, who appeared in police court Thursday morning, pleaded guilty to entering the home of William Harris, 470 Horton street, and taking $50.50 in cash, a gold wrist watch, and a vest pocket revolver. Williams' home is in Paduca, Kentucky. When he serves his term he will be deported.

EXPECT AIR MAIL TO STOP IN CITY

The aerial mail plane, which is making an experiment of transporting mail from Lethbridge, Alberta, to Ottawa, touching Chicago, Detroit, London, and other cities en route, has left Lethbridge yesterday and the postoffice authorities are momentarily expecting it in London.

They have no idea, however, where the plane will land. The mail matter from London on this trip is not likely to be large, the charge for a single letter being $1.00, with the owner assuming the risk.

Uphold me according to Thy word that I may live; and let me not be ashamed of my hope.—Psalm cxix:116.

HOPE is itself a species of happiness, and perhaps the chief happiness which this world affords; but like all other pleasures, its excesses must be expiated by pain; and expectations improperly indulged must end in disappointment.—Samuel Johnson.

LABOR COMMITTEE TO DISCUSS OFFER

Western University Desirous of Establishing Workers' Educational Association.

A special committee, comprising Mrs. Katherine Derry, George Murphy and William Stewart, has been chosen by the delegates of the trades and labor council to meet with a committee of Western University authorities and further plans for the establishment of the Workers' Educational Association in London for Western Ontario.

This committee will also discuss with the university group the offer from the latter body of the services of William Houston of Toronto, experienced teacher, who would come to the city this summer for the express purpose of lecturing to the workers upon subjects specially adapted for them.

While the latter proposal does not seem to meet with the undivided approval of the delegates at this moment. The latter felt, however, that if the offer was repeated early in the fall, when more funds would be available, the labor men would be only too willing to attend the classes.

It was reasoned, however, that in the summer months the average worker was more inclined to spend his leisure hours working in the garden and the like, and should the courses be instituted now they would prove a failure from the viewpoint of attendance.

G. W. V. A. TO AID LAD WHEN FREED

Walter Swain, a youth of 17 years, who will complete a 16-day sentence in the Middlesex County Jail Friday for trespassing on the C. P. R. tracks here, has ceased to worry over his home in Toronto.

After a conference with Governor Byron Dawson Wednesday President W. G. Colles and Secretary H. Paul, of the "Great War Veterans' Association" decided that the local command will furnish the lad's transportation, as he is the son of a Toronto war widow.

A few days ago Governor Dawson received a communication from the Toronto G. W. V. A. asking that the young man be home when his term was completed.

As the wanderer has little money of his own, Mr. Dawson was in a quandary until the London G. W. V. A. kindly offered to aid the boy to return to his home town.

of a similar nature were quite prevalent last summer, where twenty or more head were stolen.

ONE OF THE MOST interesting meetings of the London Kiwanis Club in 1922 will be the one next Friday noon, because it is the first after the convention at Toronto. George A. Shurtleff, of Peoria, Ill., district governor of Illinois-Eastern Iowa district, will be the speaker at the luncheon. It is probable that some delegates to the convention from a distance will pass through London and be the guests of the club at this meeting.

IN ORDER TO OBTAIN definite instructions as to what course to pursue, W. A. Tanner, secretary of the board of education, consulted the city solicitor Thursday, respecting the sale of the Grand avenue school property, and the apparent refusal of persons to carry out agreements of purchase for three building lots. It is quite possible that the board will be compelled to take legal action to compel certain citizens to adhere to their original statements.

THE BUILDER'S CLASS of Wellington Street Methodist Sunday School turned out in full force on Tuesday evening and proceeded to Spingbank, where a delightful evening was spent. After supper the members indulged in an exciting game of baseball. Before returning to the city the following officers were elected for the coming year: President, Miss Mary Spry; vice-president, Miss Margaret Ford; secretary-treasurer, Miss Kathleen Jenkins.

THE NUMBER OF BUILDING permits issued by Inspector A. M. Piper this month now totals 149, the estimated aggregate cost of this work being $255,655. Among the larger permits issued Wednesday are the following: C. and H. E. Copeland, for a 1-story frame store on English street, to cost $2,000; Alex. Ross, for a 1-story frame addition at 113 Brishin street, costing $1,500; Samuel and Rosa Richmond, for two 1-story stucco residences on Sterling street, estimated to cost $1,500 each, and H. J. Brown, for a similar dwelling, on Frances street, to cost $2,250.

AFTER SEVEN YEARS as secretary-treasurer of the London Trades and Labor Council, John Cummings has been compelled to relinquish that position by reason of ill-health. His resignation has been accepted with deep regret by his associates in the labor council. As an appreciation of his long and faithful service the latter has voted Mr. Cummings a life-long honorary member of the council, and will forward him an illuminated address in that respect. James Hussey was selected by a majority vote Wednesday to fill the vacancy thus created.

DISTRIBUTION OF 200 CARDS warning citizens that they must not handle meat offered for sale is being made to butcher shops of the city, in view of health officers Thursday. These cards were printed on the meat bylaw by the city council. Lettering on the cards is in black on red background, and draws the attention of citizens to the penalty of a $50 fine for infringing the bylaw. Instructions have been issued to city butchers that the signs must be placed in a prominent position on counters of their stores.

TO LAY SEWERS ON NEW SURVEY

Windsor Crescent To Be Improved Before Lots Are Sold.

For the first time in the history of the city of London, citizens owning a real estate subdivision are undertaking to lay sanitary sewers on the streets laid out. Wednesday morning, workmen commenced laying a sanitary sewer system on Windsor crescent, a survey in South London owned by Lieut.-Colonel W. M. Gartshore, and City Engineer H. A. Brazier is authority for the statement that this action is the first of its nature in London's history.

Windsor crescent lies between Wellington road and High streets, and is a portion of the Frank estate purchased by Lieut.-Colonel Gartshore. This owner has already constructed sidewalks on some of the streets, which, it is understood, will be paid for by citizens purchasing the lots, instead of the usual method of municipal taxation.

"Work has been started on sanitary sewers in Windsor crescent," said the city engineer. "It is unusual for anyone to put down local improvements in their own subdivision, as the city usually does these things. However, the work will be under civic directions with plans submitted to us."

City Engineer Brazier roughly estimated the cost of the sanitary sewers to be laid in Windsor crescent at $5,000. This cost will likely be added to the price for lots to be sold on a frontage basis.

A unique feature of the Windsor crescent survey is the fact that the streets are more or less curved, none of them being straight or parallel, while the main thoroughfare is a crescent.

ZIMBERG ASSESSED $75 AS COSTS OF O. T. A. CASE

Judge Talbot Macbeth Issues Warning as Accused Departs on Suspended Sentence.

Convicted ten days ago by a jury of the Middlesex County court of having spirituous liquors on his premises contrary to the provisions of the Ontario Temperance act, Morris Zimberg, 5 Webb street, appearing Thursday morning before His Honor Judge Talbot Macbeth, was ordered to pay the costs of the court, $75, and allowed to depart upon suspended sentence.

Judge Macbeth, in a few brief remarks, impressed upon Zimberg the seriousness of the situation if he should be again arrested upon a similar charge, pointing out that in such an event, the present charge would also be pressed.

Zimberg's residence was raided last November by a squad of city police in charge of Inspector Lucas, when kegs, jugs and other vessels containing what the defense claimed to be grape juice in the making, were seized.

When one of the city street flushers was proceeding along Ridout street Wednesday, the pavement on that thoroughfare, near McKenzie avenue, collapsed, allowing one wheel of the vehicle to drop into the road up to the axle.

Early this spring side drains to the Ridout street sewer were lowered at this point, and it is believed that the earth used as filling in the hole sunk down, leaving a cavity beneath the pavement, which collapsed as the heavy flusher passed over it.

Fortunately, the flusher tank was empty at the time, and no one was injured. Damage to the machine was slight, and the wheel was extricated from the hole within a few minutes.

As a result of the accident, city employees are on the job replacing the broken section of pavement, which is about four feet square.

Have Riotous Time at Port Stanley On Second Outing.

For the second time in the history of the Huron and Erie Mortgage Corporation and the Canada Trust Company, the employees enjoyed and survived a riotous time at Port Stanley Wednesday afternoon.

It was such a glorious outing, Jupiter Pluvius himself came to see, but even that unwelcome visitor doing his worst failed to dampen the spirits of the picnicers.

Everything that goes with a picnic, and a great deal of the unusual was there—baseball, sports including a full repertoire of races, novel and otherwise, dancing, bathing, not to mention a splendid supper served on the hill by the cafeteria staff, filled every minute of the day from the time two special cars arrived at the beach until late in the evening.

Winners of the various sport events were: Boys and girls, 8 years and under—Katherine Clarke, Miriam Winslow, Katharine Aylsworth, Lorne Spry, Master Ball (St. Thomas), and Harry Sandhu.

Boys' and girls' dash, 9 years to 15, or thereabouts—Jack Spry, Allen Aylsworth, Alwin Aylsworth. "Get there on time" race—Elsie Stephen, Annie Munson, Mrs. Hawthorne.

Thread the needle—Alberta Kent, Edith Fysh, Margaret Widdick.

Punching holes in doughnuts—C. J. Clarke, Bert Blackwell.

Scout race—Miss Lawson, Miss Grant, Kenneth McAlpine.

Hammering the air out of rubber—H. Hutton, H. Grierson, K. McAlpine.

Limerick special—Mrs. Aylsworth, Mrs. Winslow, Mrs. Clarke.

Tug of war, Married vs. Single Men.—The married men forfeited all rights to the prize when they at a given signal let the rope go, placing the single men in various positions none of which could lay claim to dignity.

CANADA'S MOTOR VEHICLES INCREASE BY OVER 50,000

Ottawa, June 22.—(By the Canadian Press)—Canada's registration of motor vehicles for 1921 shows an increase of more than 50,000 over the previous year, according to figures issued by the highways branch of the department of railways and canals. Last year there were 483,443 motor vehicles registered in the Dominion as against 415,268 the previous year. In 1911, ten years previous, there were but 21,100 registered.

Total revenues from registrations were $1,669,493, practically all of which was expended by the different provinces on highway improvements.

On the 1921 census of 8,782,422 persons in the Dominion, there was one motor vehicle for every 19 persons in Canada. Saskatchewan, with 51,175 vehicles and 577,271 persons, or 1 vehicle per 12 persons, had the highest comparative registration. Ontario, with 296,517 vehicles, and 2,355,153 persons, and Alberta, with 49,292 vehicles and 588,458 persons, tied for second place, with 1 vehicle per 14 persons.

BOYS' NAVAL BRIGADE TO TRAIN ON GREAT LAKES

Young Sailors Will Proceed to Port Stanley Saturday to Inspect Good Ship Barbara.

Boys of the Naval Brigade varied the usual routine of drill last Monday with a swim in the Thames River under the direction of their leader, Mr. Atkins. The brigade is already making preparations for a summer on the lakes, and is to visit Port Stanley next Saturday to make the initial inspection of the boat Barbara, a fine 86-footer, which has been handed over to the London Naval Brigade for their summer training.

The boys of the London unit gained a splendid name for themselves at the last inspection, and their leaders are anxious to see that reputation upheld. All are urged to make the trip to Port Stanley next Saturday to inspect the Barbara.

Bishop Fallon Obtains Papal Audience For George Belton

WHEN George H. Belton, well-known London lumber merchant, who recently returned from a tour of Europe, was in Italy, he visited the city of Rome. While in the postoffice of that city he was delighted to meet Bishop M. F. Fallon, who left London some time ago for a visit to the Vatican.

After discussing the latest news from the Forest City, His Lordship asked Mr. Belton if he desired to gain an audience with His Holiness Pope Pius XI.

Mr. Belton declared that he would welcome this pleasure, and accordingly Bishop Fallon wrote a letter of introduction to the Pope for him, and the audience was forthcoming in a few hours.

SAYS HARMONY IN HOME NEEDED FOR CONTENTMENT

Charles Walker Addresses Christian Endeavor Society of Southern Congregational Church.

Charles Walker, superintendent of the Askin Street Methodist Church Sunday School, spoke to the members of the Christian Endeavor Society of the Southern Congregational Church Wednesday night on "Contentment."

As a perfect example of contentment in spite of all difficulties, the speaker cited the case of Paul in his missionary work among the nations of the world.

Harmony in the home, he said, was one of the essentials to contentment, and as every great nation of the world has for its foundation the home, the mightiness of the world powers must necessarily depend on contentment in the homes.

In his address Mr. Walker advocated clean sports as a means of making the young people contented, and impressed upon his hearers the necessity of considering the needs of growing boys and girls more than they have been in the past.

A chorus composed of young girls delighted the audience with many pleasing songs.

MILITARY AUTHORITIES laid information with Chief of Police Robert Birrell to the effect that Percy Haigh was selling liquor to soldiers on Carling Heights last week. When Haigh was arraigned in police court Thursday morning a number of soldiers were examined, but none of them could identify him as the man who sold them whiskey at $7 a quart. Haigh was dismissed.

M'GUGAN WINS MEDAL FOR ROSE

Gloire de Chadane Chosen For Ontario Society's Award.

Horticultural Exhibits To Remain in Place in Hyman Hall Thursday.

The flowers exhibited by the London Horticultural Society in Hyman Hall, Thursday transformed the place into a veritable bower of beauty. The exhibit which will be in progress again all day Thursday, is composed of the choicest blooms of London gardens. The outstanding rose of the show was the Gloire de Chadane, exhibited by L. E. McGugan, a magnificent flower of brilliant vermilion, its petals shading into a velvet richness. It carried off the Ontario Rose Society silver medal for the best rose in the show, as well as the prize for the best hybrid perpetual.

A notable feature of the exhibition were the trellises at the entrance, on which were a number of varieties of climbing roses arranged with such cleverness and artistry that it seemed as if they really grew there.

The results of the judging, which took place Tuesday evening, were the following:

Class 1, Nash cup for best six (6) blooms of any one of, or any best of three, premium roses. Frau Karl Druski, Hugh Dickson, Mrs. John Lang—1 J. N. McLeod, with Mrs. John Lang; 2 W. E. Greenaway, Frau Karl Druski; 2 L. E. McGugan.

Freight Rates Again.

THERE will undoubtedly be some sharp fighting in the House of Commons on the report of the special house committee on railway costs, which recommends that the Crows Nest Pass agreement be suspended for a year, and that in its place more general regulations, affecting a much wider area, be placed in operation.

The Progressives from Western Canada, supported by the press of that section, are supposed to go back home with the reinstatement of the Crows Nest Pass agreement as the trophy of the session. Were this done, the section between the head of the great lakes and the mountains would receive freight rate considerations that could not be granted to the rest of the Dominion, for if they were they would react more seriously on the National roads than on the C. P. R.

The Crows Nest agreement obligates the C. P. R. to carry certain basic articles at a special rate through Western Canada. It was given because the government in 1897 paid a bonus to the C. P. R. to build its Crows Nest branch. When war costs and the McAbou award hit the railroads of this country it was impossible to continue the rate, and Parliament suspended it for a three-year term. The western members of the Progressive party ask point blank that the agreement become effective again. It is purely a sectional advantage, and one that would certainly lead shippers, both business and agricultural in other parts of the country, to ask for lower rates, and they would be perfectly justified in so doing.

The minister of railways has a problem that is not easily solved. He cannot, and dare not by a stroke of the pen, clean up one situation that would create a worse one. His big consideration is that he must get the National lines on a paying basis, and it is from that point he must start all his operations. The credit of the Dominion demands it, and the transportation problem of the country makes it imperative. So it is, starting with that in view, any action regarding rates must be taken with a Dominion-wide grasp of the situation. The sectional or provincial viewpoint cannot be considered.

Relief must be given the West—certainly, but not in a way that will pile the costs on Ontario and Quebec, which two provinces are at present bearing the lion's share of the deficits in the operation of the system.

Had the Parliament of Canada, as one of the last acts of its present session, simply restored the Crows Nest Pass agreement to operation and left the matter there, it would have created a situation so serious that it is doubtful if its best efforts could have cleared it up or brought the tariffs on other lines to a point of equality, and at the same time preserve the financial status of either the C. N. R. or the C. P. R.

It is necessary that the grain crops of the West be taken out at the lowest possible price per bushel, but it is not reasonable to ask that trains of empties go thundering back to the West at a dead loss, and that large sections of the road in the West be served at a dead loss throughout the entire year, with the possible exception of the grain movement season.

The course being followed is the most reasonable, because it takes into consideration a wider section of the Dominion than that coming between the first and last pages of the Crows Nest Pass agreement. It is far broader in its scope, and distributes reduced freight rates to a wider section, and for that reason it is the fairer method.

Our National Marine.

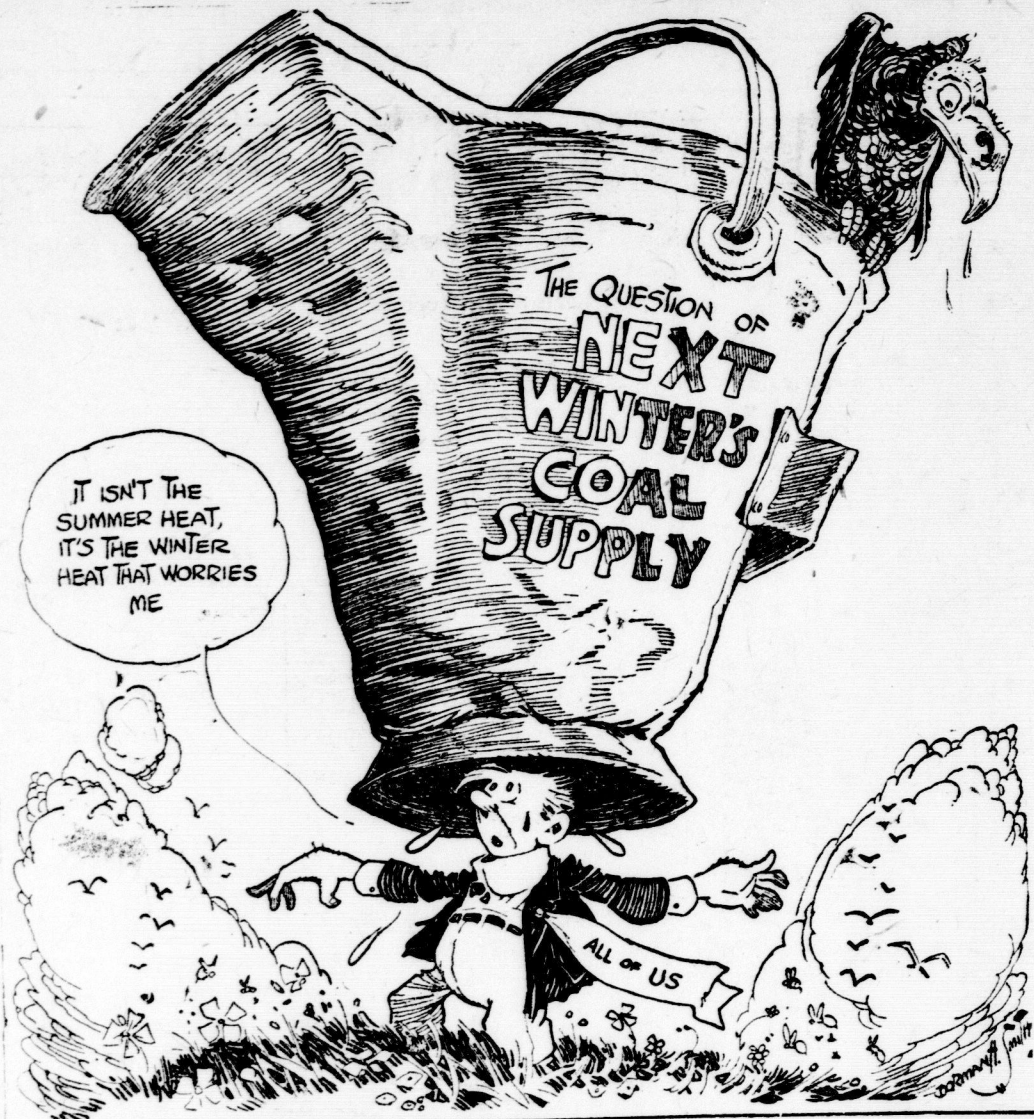

A GLANCE over the third annual report of the Canadian government merchant marine shows that the present government of the Dominion fell heir to a legacy that their own business judgment would never have wished on the people of Canada.

It is not necessary to go again over events that preceded the calling into existence of the Canadian merchant marine. All that is necessary is to remind the reader that ships were piled up to the account of the Canadian government long after there was any need for them, until it was announced that Canada was the proud possessor of 65 ships.

It is not necessary, either, to go over the harrowing details of the loss the country has had to sustain because C. C. BALLANTYNE wanted a fleet. The proposal today is to reduce the fleet to 37, disposing of the smaller type of vessels, and revalue the others according to present-day replacement values. This latter practice is the only fair basis on which to operate the vessels, but it represents a dead loss to the Canadian people. The fleet cost an average of $191 per ton, against British values today of $63 to $110, or an average of about $75. Take the $75 from $191, and we have a loss of $116 that the people must be prepared to take on every ton in the fleet.

The present department of marine has a big problem in the merchant marine. It is simply a case of making the best possible showing in a position where an undesirable proposition has been left on your doorstep.

The Touring Farmers.

MIDDLESEX Junior Farmers' Association has found out that it is pretty good business for them to know what other farmers in Western Ontario are doing.

If there are better herds in the next county, why the best thing to do is go over and see them; if some other farmers are getting better results in any particular line of agricultural endeavor, then one of the best ways to find out how it is being done is to travel over and see the thing in operation.

And so it is that the Junior Farmers' Association has been on a bit of a trip through the center of Western Ontario, for the express purpose of looking things over and finding out if they are keeping up with the times. At the same time they also dig up facts that the people of the Dominion ought to know.

For instance, if some people were to ask what is Atlas Craig famous for, he would have the audience floored. It is known as a pretty little village between Lucan and Parkhill, a good farming country around it, but what is there outstanding? It is the second largest cattle shipping point in the Dominion. The district around there grows a grass that is especially suitable for pasturage, and western cattle are brought there to finish for the market. This, of course, means that farms are being allowed to grow into grass, and it may be that because farms have grown into grass that this cattle fattening enterprise has been made possible. In one case, it is said there are 1,000 acres devoted to this purpose, where in years gone by there were four or five farms, the buildings of which are now more or less dilapidated. It cannot be claimed that it is a desirable turn of events, and it is a strange thing, perhaps, one that few people know, that there is right in the north end of Middlesex a ranch of 1,000 acres. However, it shows a commendable quickness that the grazing industry has been so quick to follow on the heels of undeveloped and unworked farm lands.

Then, again, onions around Exeter? Yes—and for quite a number of years past. There has always been a lot of land devoted to the growing of onions, especially in the land between Exeter and the lake. A good onion crop, as the farmers around Chatham and Windsor also find out, is a money maker.

Chicken ranches are looked upon as something in which a man has to specialize in a big way in order to make good. More people have started in raising chickens and quit than in most other lines. But a few miles from Goderich the tourists ran into a chicken farm that has some 4,000 birds. Things are done some businesslike way. There is no in a thing as keeping 60 hens, and then looking around the straw stack to find out that only 28 of them have been on the job. The trap nest or some other instrument of efficiency is used, and if the hen is not making eggs, she is ticked for the chopping block. No, there are wrong again. The old chopping block that used to stand around behind the kitchen is a thing of the past on this 1922 chicken ranch. The faithless and the eggless hen is strung up by the heels, a little knife jabs her brain and nerve centers and it's all over. The modern poultryman has the feathers off and the bird ready for shipment in about the same time it used to take father, the hired man and the boys to catch the old speckled hen and lay its refractory neck sideways on the old chopping block.

Then, too, the touring farmers ran across another place near Goderich, where reforestation is being carried on, and where the farmer believes it is good business. It has taken a long time for the gospel of the second growth to take root and grow, and more good will be done by a few farmers trying it out on their own premises than by all the preaching and experimenting the departments could possibly do. Once the farmer is convinced that it is a good thing, and that it is possible to make a financial success of it, it will not be necessary to do much more urging in the matter, because by that time it will have ceased to be a theory, and established as a fact.

The Junior Farmers are going to have a bigger idea of what Western Ontario is capable of when they make a few more of these trips. The western provinces cannot interest men who have a good grasp on conditions here, and who realize what is possible in the way of a varied program in agricultural effort.

May the Junior Farmers have a tip-top time, and may their trips increase.

LITTLE TISERS

The greatest study of mankind is man. The greatest puzzle is woman.

In Constantinople the Turks are holding cockroach races. We often race them in Western Ontario, but they usually escape.

In Toronto a man has married a widow with twelve children. This poor Ohio aviator who dropped four miles in second place.

Woodstock's got a duck with four legs. We'll bet on this bird when the time comes for the annual aquatic games in the corner of the barnyard.

The Senate committee heard 104 applications for divorce and granted 102. The batting average in this home-breaking league seems to be very high.

Things improve. Thus do we stand at the season when rubarb sauce is run out of the kitchen pantry and the cherry pie awaiteth a chance to take its place.

Every time AGNES MACPHEIL is accused of saying anything nasty about the Parliament at Ottawa she says she didn't say it. However, being misquoted is one sure way to get famous quick.

Guelph's having a shopping week, with jazz bands and all sorts of entertainers. Therefore, the Mercury of that city states that "the first of the week's shopping days was a howling success."

American tourists are complaining that the Germans are charging them robbery prices this year. Well, dear, bless you, Yankees, there's nothing under the sun to compel you to go there.

A famous Paris doctor says that monkey glands make men better, reduce obesity in women, strengthen weak stomachs, cure backache, chase pneumonia and cure colds. And never a word of comfort for the bald head.

SENATOR McCORMICK of Kent is on a committee to standardize agricultural implements. And while they are at it the house should insist on the senator giving out the secret of how they fail beans in Kent in the autumn.

Some of the newspaper publishers of Western Ontario had a meeting in Chatham a few days ago, and the Planet of that city in an editorial refers to them as "Our Distinguished Visitors." We have searched back as far as the year 1263, and believe that this is the first time such a term was used in referring to a gathering of newspaper publishers.

We have a lot of fair swimmers in this country, but not many who are able to do a trick like that performed by ALF. GUILLETT at Sarnia a few days ago. He saw a young lady slip off the dock into the deep water at the edge. It was apparent that quick action was the one thing necessary. GUILLETT jumped in where the girl had disappeared, and with the help of others both were soon on the dock again. Fortunately there was a real man around when the occasion for help came. A case like that should be recognized in some public and worth-while method.

LEARN A WORD EVERY DAY

TODAY'S word is REPRISAL. It's pronounced — re-priz-ah, with accent on the second syllable. It means—an act of retaliation, public or private. In international law it signifies a resort to force, short of war, to procure redress of grievances—especially a resort to retaliatory acts of the nature of those complained of.

It comes from — French "reprendre," to take back, the French having borrowed originally from the Latin, "reprehendere."

DAVID THE SON OF JESSE. By Marjorie Strachey. New York: The Century Company, publishers. $1.75.

AS if to enhance the Biblical content of this book, its publishers have clothed it in ecclesiastical purple and gold, but once inside the cover nothing scriptural obtains.

The setting is old—as old as the Psalms of David—but the treatment is unexpectedly modern, irreverent, frank, undecorated and, for that matter, a little jarring.

Shorn of the pregnant phrasing and rich old English of the Bible, the story of David becomes merely a series of anti-climaxes, a confusion of wars, a megalomaniac ambition and a meaningless retrospect.

The author, who is a sister, by the way, of "the Strachey" who made Victoria famous, does not permit herself a single personal comment about David. She presents him as he was and allows his actions and reactions to speak for him.

After all the glamor and romance that have been persistently spilled about "the Shepherd King," David, as here revealed, remains a detestable person, with more weaknesses than strength, more good fortune than inherent power. The Bathsheba episode alone is an inexpugnable blot.

One significant incident is the fact that it was not David who slew Goliath, but an obscure youth named Elihanan, although, with true human perversity, David claimed the feat as his own in his old age—which characteristic vanity the author offers with an ironic lack of comment.

The story is well told in spite of its inappropriate modernity. The author submerges herself completely. She never halts the narrative in order to philosophize, lament or deal out pronouncements and judgments or irrelevant personal opinions. The large amount of research involved is likewise kept successfully in the background. It never creaks of the machinery. It has real vigor and verity interspersed with moments of great beauty and true emotion.

No. 247—BUYING FROM THE OPEN "A"

Assume that you are a merchant, and in your morning's mail you find a postal card from a certain salesman telling you he will be in town on a certain date, and adding, let us say, one of those little comments on business conditions or observations of trade methods which many salesmen find it profitable to pass on to their customers.

This salesman has been with his house only a short time, and while you met him on his last trip you did not buy anything from him nor have much of a chance to size him up. You didn't care much for his predecessor, who, you felt, was not quite so honest and frank in his methods as he might have been.

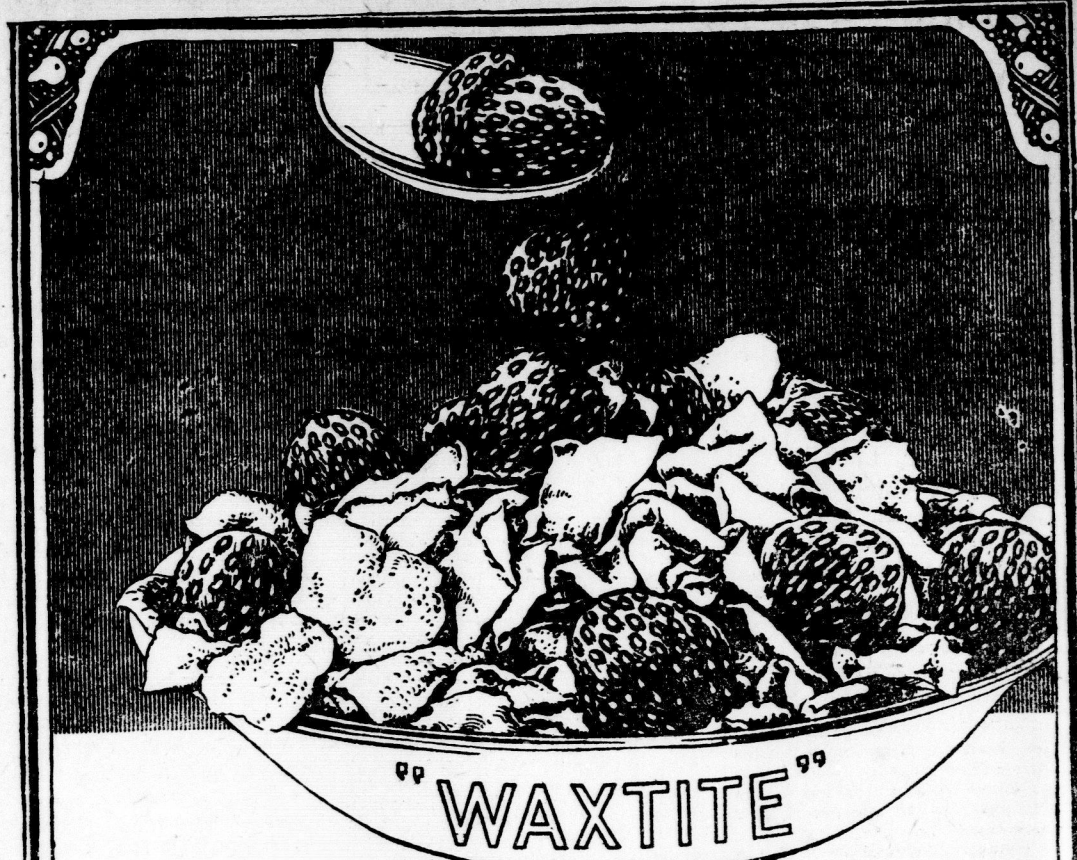

Is this man the same? You have nothing from which to judge, but a postal card. Can you tell?

You can. Even those few lines of writing are bound to contain an "a" or an "o." If the letters are not closed at the top you won't have much difficulty in extracting all the information you want to from this new salesman. Just let him start talking, then lead him on with a question now and then toward the things you wish him to speak of.

But be careful if there are customers of your own around, for this salesman is very prone to be indiscreet and tactless at times, and might, for instance, drag the customer into the discussion under conditions which would be embarrassing to him and hence to you, or make some remark you wouldn't exactly care to have the customer overhear.

Calgary Progressive Urges Extending Field of Royal Commission.

OTTAWA, June 21.—Problems of the returned soldier held the house today. They arose on a motion for concurrence in the report of the special committee on pensions and re-establishment. Herbert Marler, of St. Lawrence-St. George (Montreal), chairman of the committee, related at great length its activities and findings.

He emphasized the great debt of Canada to the returned men, but observed, too, that they were also citizens of Canada and on them devolved the duties of citizenship. And following Mr. Marler, Alfred Speakman of Red Deer, chairman of the subcommittee on land settlement, reviewed what was proposed in the way of assistance to soldier settlers on the land. The idea of the scheme

BE PRETTY! TURN GRAY HAIR DARK

Try Grandmother's Old Favorite Recipe of Sage Tea and Sulphur.

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is messy and troublesome. Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for "Wetzel's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get a large bottle of this famous old recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, at a small cost.

Flays Gland Sale As Moral Wrong Forbidden by Sixth Commandment

MILWAUKEE, June 21.—A bitter attack on what he termed the "traffic in glands," was made today by the Rev. Father Herbert C. Noonan, president of the Marquette University. He denounced the practice as a violation of the moral law, not alone by the person who submits to the operation, but by the surgeon, who, for a fee, transplants the glands. His statement is expected to arouse dissension in medical ranks as the result of the operation upon Harold F. McCormick of Chicago.

"Buying and selling human glands was sound, he asserted. The difficulty lay in changed economic conditions.

Subsequently came criticism. J. T. Shaw (Progressive, West Calgary) himself a war veteran, had an amendment to extend the scope of the royal commission proposed to investigate Great War Veterans' Association officials' charges against the pension board. Under Mr. Shaw's amendment the commission would have power to make a complete survey of existing re-establishment needs, to investigate the conditions of exchange and canteen funds.

Mr. Shaw regretted that the special committee had made no definite proposals in regard to unemployment. He criticized limitations placed on returned soldiers' insurance.

From other members also came pleas that the scope of the proposed royal commission be extended. Ex-Mayor T. L. Church of Toronto thought a proper court should be established to hold a thorough investigation. He charged that insufficient help was being given the blind soldiers, that the government had appointed numerous secretaries, but that few of the appointees were returned men.

Carroll Urges Investigation. W. F. Carroll of Cape Breton South would have the royal commission investigate every grievance of the returned men.

H. Marler (Liberal, St. Lawrence-St. George) chairman of the special committee on pensions, insurance and re-establishment of returned soldiers, moved concurrence in the final report of this committee. The motion was seconded by Alfred Speakman (Progressive, Red Deer).

Mr. Marler reviewed Canada's war effort and the steps already taken in the direction of re-establishment. He quoted figures to show what had been done for the returned men and the dependents of those who did not return since the close of the war. Total expenditures in this connection amounted to $487,152,558.

The soldiers of Canada had earned the gratitude of this country to an extent which we could not repay, but they must remember that they were citizens of Canada and on that devolved the duty of citizenship. Those who did not understand that duty should realize that they must help themselves and not depend on state paternalism any more than is available.

Up to December 31, 1921, admissions to hospital through the D. S. C. R. numbered 127,861; clinical treatments, 945,219; dental treatments, 28,779; number commenced training, 51,838; orthopaedic and surgical appliances supplied, 127,349; positions found, 175,157; dependents returned from overseas, 49,000.

No Solution Available. With regard to unemployment, Mr. Marler said that a number of proposals were submitted to the committee asking that a national economic conference should be held. No concrete proposals were advanced and although the committee was justly seized with the present unemployment situation, no solution seemed available.

With regard to state unemployment insurance it was not held that action of this kind could be recommended until there was a return to normal conditions. Pensions were based on the earning power of a non-skilled laborer, 100 per cent efficient.

In Canada they were greater than in an operation of transplanting is a grave violation of the moral law," he said. "The moral precept, 'Thou shalt not kill,' forbids not alone murder or suicide, but likewise mutilation of the human body."

An organ or member may be amputated only when the good of the entire body demands such an operation. An operation involving the removal of a gland from one person and transplanting it in another is not lawful and constitutes a grave mutilation, and one which if not performed to save life, constitutes a moral wrong.

in other countries. The estimate for the year 1922 was $32,541,000.

Referring to the charges of the G. W. V. A. officials against the pension board, Mr. Marler said that the committee had recommended appointment of a royal commission to investigate these charges. In view of the fact he did not feel that he should now discuss them at any great length.

On the question of land settlement, Mr. Marler explained that there were 21,394 soldier settlers in all. Over $85,000,000 had been loaned and there was still $80,000,000 outstanding. The results of the settlers' operations could not be considered disappointing.

Over 600,000 acres of new land had been brought under cultivation, and the total land operated was over 3,000,000 acres. The capital and interest in arrears was not considered greatly out of proportion with the amount involved.

Explains Provisions. Mr. Marler explained the provisions under which all loans to soldier settlers for land, stock and equipment were to be consolidated as of the date April 1, 1922, to be repaid, allowing for certain exemptions, in 25 annual payments.

Mr. McElghen asked if 25 years was not a long period for both stock and implements as regards security. Mr. Marler replied that the committee had thought that the appreciation on the land would more than make up for the depreciation in the stock and equipment.

He said the exemption from interest, longer to the earlier than to the later settlers, was explained by the fact that the earlier settlers had had to buy land and implements at higher prices. He estimated the total cost involved in exemption of interest at $11,700,000, but said there would be a saving in cost of administration estimated at $250,000 per annum.

Moves Adoption. He then moved the adoption of the report. Mr. Speakman, chairman of the special sub-committee on land settlement, said problems of the soldiers on the land were approached from two viewpoints: first to remedy any injustices through faults in the act; secondly, to investigate from the point of view of a business proposition. The essence of the scheme was not re-establishment, but method of colonization, which applied only to those men who had served overseas. The idea was sound, and the law was just, according to the conditions prevailing at the time it was enacted.

The main trouble encountered was in the complete change in the economic condition of the agricultural industry. It was the situation arising out of this change which the committee sought to alleviate. Men who went on the land had every expectation of success, but unfortunately, owing to the conditions of the time, were compelled to pay high prices for everything needed on the farms. These men had no reserves of cash, and because of the payments on their properties the depression in agriculture felt most heavily upon them.

Relieve Depression. The sub-committee had not regarded their recommendations so much from the legal viewpoint as from the viewpoint of practical farmers. They knew what conditions the settlers could succeed under. Commencing on Oct. 1, the loans would be spread over a period of 25 years. This would relieve the settlers from the effects of the depression of the last two years.

Hon. R. J. Manion was pleased with the proposal to appoint a pension appeal board. He also appreciated any suggestion for the purpose of assisting soldier settlers.

He also advocated extending the powers of the royal commission which will investigate the charges of the Great War Veterans' Association so as to deal with complaints of all soldiers.

J. T. Shaw (Progressive, Calgary West) deprecated the idea that the soldiers were asking for paternalism. He regretted that the committee had made no definite proposals on unemployment. He estimated that 60 to 75 per cent of the unemployed were returned soldiers.

Moves Amendment. Mr. Shaw then moved, in amendment, that the proposed royal commission should have power to report on the following additional matters: 1. To consider and make suggestions in respect of the procedure by which disabled ex-members of the C. E. F. are enabled to make application for pension and medical treatment or submit appeal in respect of decisions thereon.

2. To recommend means for insuring that suitable provision is made for all these ex-members of the forces and dependents who are under serious handicap by reason of war service in conformity with the recommendations now made, and for whom definite legislative provision has not yet been made.

For the above purposes, the commission shall: 1. Survey existing re-establishment needs among Canadian ex-service men and dependents.

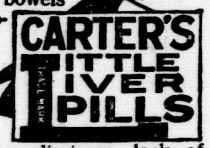

2. Investigate available data in respect of phrases of the parliamentary inquiry, as yet incomplete.

3. Obtain information as regards suitable provision for these classes of ex-service men, described in section 7, chapter 11, of the committee's report.

4. Investigate the question of exchange and canteen funds. In connection with the last clause of the amendment, Mr. Shaw said that a misapprehension appeared to exist in regard to the canteen funds. They belonged to the ex-service men, and not to the parliament of Canada. The proposals which the committee had made that these funds should be used for workshops and for the education of children of returned soldiers were outside the scope of legislation.

SISTER MARY'S KITCHEN

Green Peas Have Come—How To Can Them

IF YOU have your own vegetable garden the problem of getting green peas perfectly fresh for canning is minimized. But if you must rely on the city markets, the difficulty is very real.

Wash pods well. Shell. Be careful not to bruise the peas. Put enough peas to fill one jar in a cheesecloth square. Dip in boiling water and let boil five minutes. Or place in a colander over boiling water and steam 10 minutes. Plunge at once into cold water and lift out immediately. Plunge again into another pan of fresh, cold water and lift out immediately.

Drain. Pack in sterilized jars to within one inch from top of jar. Add one-half teaspoon salt to a pint can and one-half teaspoon sugar.

Fill jars to within one-fourth inch from the top with boiling water. Fit on rubber and half seal. To half seal tighten cover with thumb and little finger as tight as possible.

To half seal, spring top glass jar—adjust cover and pull over top ball, but do not clamp down the ball over the jar.

Put jars in canner. The water in the canner should cover the jars by two inches. When water begins to boil after filling canner with the jars boil for four hours.

Remove jars from canner and finish sealing. Turn upside down to test for leakage. Cool as quickly as possible.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Canon Gunni.

The bride who was given in marriage by her father, was unattended, and wore a graceful gown of white georgette over satin, with strappings falling from the shoulder, which were caught at the waistline with knots of georgette. Her hat was also of white georgette, trimmed with white roses, and she carried an arm shower bouquet of Mary roses.

The rooms were massed with roses, peonies and daisies. Garlands of daisies decorated the arch under which the ceremony was performed. CLINIC GROWS UP LIKE BEAN STALK

Victoria School Well Baby Clinic grew and grew until it was finally necessary, immediately after Easter, to open a second clinic for that end of the city in the Tecumseh School. Attending clinic and keeping well has become such a fad with the little folks that last clinic day in Victoria School there were 36 children there, and nineteen at Tecumseh Clinic.

How is it that the clinics prosper so? Because the mothers tell one another, so child welfare nurses say, and they are all keen to have their babes measure up to a high standard of infanthood efficiency. With the "dangerous days" of hot weather ready to enter at any moment, the wise mother is anxious to get all the authentic advice possible on keeping the baby healthy and the home happy.

Taking the place of family physicians, "Not a bit of it," declares the voice of the Child Welfare Association. "The clinic," says the association, "sends many a child to the family doctor upon detecting trouble when the little one is brought to be weighed and measured."

"In many cases the physical defect or incipient disease would be overlooked by the parents until a danger point had been reached. Through the baby clinic the doctor in the little place in plenty of time to effect a speedy cure."

PRESENT PURSE TO MR. LIDDICOATT

Wednesday afternoon the Mothers' Club of Talbot Street School entertained in honor of Principal W. H. Liddicoatt, who has tendered his resignation, and is retiring from the teaching profession after more than 40 years of service. The guests also included the members of the staff, pupils of the eighth grade, with their mothers, and a number of former pupils of the school. Mrs. Brennan, president, was in charge, and during the progress of the party, Mrs. W. Liddicoatt, on behalf of the mothers' club, pupils, ex-pupils and staff, made a clever little speech in connection with the presentation of a purse of $112 to Mr. Liddicoatt. The actual presentation was made by little Eloise Tennant, who gravely offered the gift almost hidden in a basket of flowers. Mr. Liddicoatt made a suitable reply.

Light refreshments were served by members of the club, assisted by the kindergarten teachers.

Dr. and Mrs. F. A. Moore left Wednesday for New York, where they will spend the summer. Dr. Moore is taking a post-graduate course in orthodontia, given by Dr. Dewey at the New York College of Dental and Oral Surgery.

How to make the most delicious strawberry jam you ever tasted

New Certo process astonishes housewives

Never fails—requires only two or three minutes boiling. Retains all the flavor and color of ripe strawberries—and makes two-thirds more jam from the same amount of fruit

For a spread on hot biscuits or toast strawberry jam has few equals. Its sweet, delicious flavor makes children of us all.

A new and very revolutionary method has now been discovered by which anyone can make a far better quality quickly and very economically. With the Certo process full-ripe strawberries are used and only three minutes' boiling is required—not the 30 or more minutes so necessary by the old method. The result is a far superior fruit flavor and two-thirds more product from the same amount of fruit because no juice is boiled away. Best of all, the taste of fresh strawberries—the kind you picked in childhood in the old berry patch down by the woods—is now actually preserved for the delectable of winter. The Certo Process banishes all guess-work or worry, as perfect results are certain.

The new Certo Process for making Strawberry Jam is very simple:

4 level cups (2 lbs.) Pressed Berries and Lemon Juice, 7½ leveled cups (3½ lbs.) Sugar, 1½ bottle (scant ¼ cup) Certo. Select only small or medium-sized, fully ripened, berries.

Spread berries on their sides in single layer on flat plate and gently press each berry nearly flat with bottom of small bottle. (This leaves skins nearly intact, but ruptures fruit inside and makes it low, allowing boiling sugar to saturate tissues quickly.) Add juice of one lemon. Have sugar measured in saucpan. Measure berries and juice into large kettle, placing layer of sugar over each cup of berries and allow balance of sugar on top. Allow to stand over night, so that part of sugar will be dissolved, and mixture can be stirred and cooked without crushing fruit. Stir constantly and bring to a vigorous boil over the hottest fire. Boil hard for 3 minutes with continual stirring. Remove from fire and add CERTO, stirring it in well. Skim at once and pour quickly within five minutes from removal from fire. Result is about 11 half-pound glasses of delicious strawberry jam for about 7 cents per glass.

The former guess-work or worry of making jam or jelly is now past. The Certo Process is endorsed by government authorities and cooking experts; it insures perfect results with every batch. It is also very economical.

requiring only a few minutes' boiling and thereby making two-thirds more jam or jelly than the old method. It also makes all kinds of jam or jelly, some you have never tasted before, like cherry jelly and rhubarb jam, or unusual combinations like strawberry and pineapple, etc. Hundreds of Canadian housewives with no little pride are exhibiting the new flavors and better quality of jams and jellies made with Certo.

Certo is absolutely pure—contains no gelatine or preservative. It is Mother Nature's "jelly-maker." Housewives particularly have received it with open arms because it is so certain, so economical, so simple, and so useful. They are recommending it to all their friends. Get a bottle of Certo with recipe book from your grocer at once. Try it right away with fresh fruit or with bottled grape juice for grape jelly. Then you will do all your preserving the new and modern way, the easy, economical and better Certo process.

Send your grocer's name to the Douglas Packing Company, Ltd., Cobourg, Ont., and they will mail you a recipe book containing 53 recipes for making jam and jelly.

SCARAMOUCHE

by Rafael Sabatini

BEGIN HERE TODAY.

When the peasant Mabey was shot dead while poaching on the domain of the great noble of Brittany, the MARQUIS DE LA TOUR D'AZUR, a shudder of horror went through the sensitive spirit of PHILIPPE DE VILMORIN, a young divinity student, who was a believer in the democratic doctrines which underlay the French Revolution. Philippe's determination to secure justice meets with little encouragement from his friend, ANDRE-LOUIS MOREAU, a young and brilliant lawyer, who is popularly believed to be the son of QUENTIN DE KERCADIOL, Lord of Gavrilac. Andre-Louis looks with cynicism on the new political doctrines, but agrees to accompany Philippe and put the case before the Marquis was closeted with the Lord of Gavrilac when they arrived. Philippe goes to join the two nobles and Andre-Louis talks to the young and beautiful

ALINE DE KERCADIOL. He is horrified when the girl tells him that the Marquis has come to ask her uncle for her hand in marriage.

GO ON WITH THE STORY.

Aline drew back from Andre-Louis a little, with a frown and an upward tilt of her chin. "It surprises you?" "It disgusts me," said he, bluntly. "In fact, I don't believe it."

"For a moment she put aside her visible annoyance to remove his doubts. 'I am quite serious, monsieur. There came a formal letter to my uncle this morning from M. de La Tour d'Azur, announcing the visit and its object.'

"And will it suit you to be dutiful if your uncle accepts this monstrous proposal?" "Monstrous!" She bridled. "And why monstrous, if you please?" "For a score of reasons," he answered irritably. "Give me one," she challenged him.

"He is forty-five at least." "But he looks no more than thirty. He is very handsome—the greatest hobo in Brittany. He will make me a great lady."

"God made you that, Aline." "Come, that's better. Sometimes you can almost be polite." And she moved along the terrace, Andre-Louis paced beside her. "I can be more than that to show reason why you should not let this beast befall the beautiful thing that God has made."

"TOMORROW AT THIS HOUR, THEN, I SHALL HAVE THE FELICITY TO WAIT UPON YOU."

She frowned, and her lips tightened. "You are speaking of my future husband," she reproved him. "And is it so? It is settled, then? Your uncle is to agree? You are to be sold thus, lovelessly, into bondage to a man you do not know. I had dreamed of better things for you, Aline."

"You are indelicate," said she, and though she frowned her eyes laughed. "My uncle will not consent to more than allow my consent to be sought. I am not to be bartered like a turk."

"You have been torturing me to amuse yourself," he cried. "Ah, well, I forgive you out of my relief."

"Ag— you go too fast, Cousin Andre. Take the look of the gentleman. M. le Marquis does not look as if he were a ducalard. It should be interesting to be wooed by him. It may be more interesting still to marry him, and I think, when all is considered, that I shall probably—very probably—decide to do so."

"Can't I help you, Aline?" he groaned.

"You are insufferable!" She was growing angry, as he saw by the deepening frown, the heightened color.

"That is because I suffer. Oh, Aline, little cousin, think well of what you do. Consider that . . ."

"I consider, monsieur, that you presume upon the kindness I have always shown you. You abuse the position of toleration in which you stand. Who are you? What are you, that you should have the insolence to take this tone with me?"

"My congratulations, mademoiselle, upon the readiness with which you begin to adapt yourself to the great role you are to play."

"Do you adapt yourself also, monsieur?" she retorted angrily, and turned her shoulder to him.

To Wear Thin Waists Or Sleeveless Dresses

(Beauty Topics) With the aid of a delatone paste, it is an easy matter for any woman to move every trace of hair or fuzz from face, neck and arms. Enough of the powdered delatone and water mixed into a thick paste and spread the hairy surface for about two minutes, then rubbed off and the skin is smooth. This completely removes the hair, but to avoid disappointment, get the delatone in an original package and mix fresh.—Adv.

Children's Garb Has Same Lines As Adults'

ONE may be fashionable although one is less than half a dozen years old.

Are capes stylish? Susie will have one. Are side drapes quite the latest thing? She'll have those, too, and an irregular hem line just like mother's newest afternoon frock.

This doesn't mean it's fashionable for small girls to be dressed in Lilliputian copies of grownups' clothes. It is generally true, though, that clothes for little girls do follow, in their own way, the varying changes of fashion.

This cape and pretty party dress show just how successfully they do it.

The cape is for all-round wear. The dress is for dancing class and may be made of organdy.

In spite of their adherence to fashionable rules, neither garment sacrifices the simplicity that is the best taste in children's clothes.

Philippe, "to have offered me this opportunity of continuing the subject that took me so fruitlessly, as it happens, to Gavrilac."

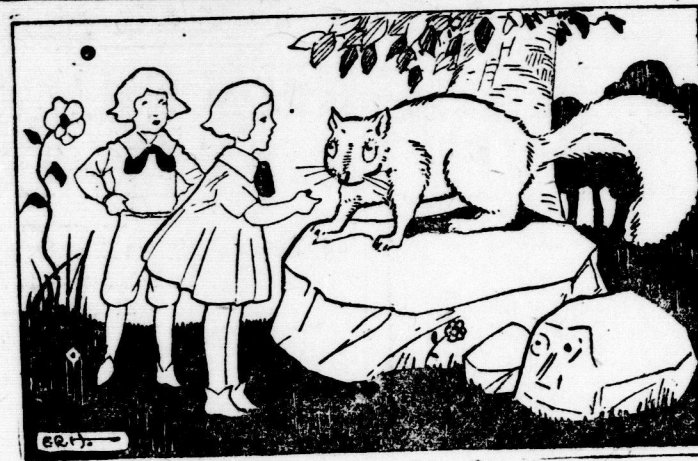

"I think," said M. de La Tour d'Azur, slowly, "that we are at cross-purposes. I asked you to come here because the Chateau de Gavrilac was hardly a suitable place in which to carry our discussion further. But my object is connected with certain expressions that you let fall up there. It is on the subject of those expressions, monsieur, that I would hear your further—if you will honor me."

Mr. Squirrel's Hunch Is Vain, Too

[By Olive Roberts Barton.]

"What's all the trouble about?" he asked.

THE Twins hunted everywhere for Mr. Peababout, the lost Man-in-the-Moon.

They were asking the wood-folk when Scramble Squirrel came bounding along and was just about to shoo them up to his own front door when he stopped to listen.

"What's it all about?" he asked. "And so the whole thing had to be explained over again."

"Say," said Scramble, "I've got an idea. 'What does Mr. Peababout look like?'"

Nancy told him. "And does he keep looking for something all the time?" asked Scramble excitedly.

"Deed he does," remarked Nick. "Why, Mr. Squirrel, did you see him?"

"I'm not sure," declared Scramble mysteriously. "You see," he said importantly, "I have cousins who live in the park in the city, and every once in so often I go to visit them. If you come with me I think I can show you Mr. Peababout."

Away went Scramble like the wind, followed by the Twins in their magic Green Shoes.

At last they came to the city and soon reached the park.

"There," said Scramble, pointing proudly toward a still figure of white marble in the center of a smooth green lawn. In one hand the figure carried a map of the world and with the other hand he was shading his eyes as if he were looking for something very important.

"Scramble, dear," said Nancy in a kind but disappointed voice. "That's not Mr. Peababout. Don't you see what it says? It says, 'Columbus discovering America.'"

"Well, I declare!" said Scramble. "I shouldn't think he'd need to look so hard. It's right under his nose."

Radio Radiations

By the Radio Editor.

AN amusing fifteen minutes was spent at a recent radio conference in the discussion of what someone cleverly termed: Radio "canary birds."

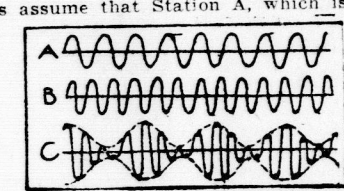

Almost everyone who has listened to broadcast programs has heard the flute-like notes which slide up and down the scale, sometimes rather weak and often very strong. Occasionally they are so annoying as to render the reception of the broadcasting impossible, particularly in those places which are at some distance from the station.

In most cases these "signals" are caused by receivers acting as miniature transmitters.

When the whistle is prolonged at the same pitch for an hour or more, it may be the result of interaction between two broadcasting stations.

Beats. In any case, the whistles are the result of beats occurring between two otherwise inaudible electro-magnetic waves.

With reference to the diagram, let us assume that Station A, which is transmitting on a wave length of 300 meters (sending out a wave having a frequency of 1,000,000 cycles a second) happens to reach a receiving station at the same time as a wave which is being sent out by Station B at a frequency of 1,000,500 cycles.

The effect upon the telephone receivers will be similar to that indicated in C where, it will be noticed, the current rises and falls at the rate of 500 times a second. The wave of Station A is inaudible as is that of Station B. But the beat which occurs between the signals of both is heard. The pitch of the beat is always equal to the difference of the interacting waves.

Modern long distance telegraph receiving stations use this method for the reception of distant signals. The signal wave from the far off transmitter taken into the receiving apparatus reacts upon a locally generated wave for the production of audible beats.

The beats are produced only when the signals are coming in. When no signal is incoming, the locally generated signal energy will be unheard because its rate of variation is far above audibility.

Generators. All regenerative receivers may actually act as generators of electro-magnetic waves. The "frequencies" of the wave generated will depend upon the wave length to which the receivers are tuned. The simpler types of regenerative receivers are the worst offenders.

To gain simplicity, the antenna is usually connected directly to the sound of the electrical oscillations. The more selective and complex types of regenerative receivers, while capable of acting as transmitters, offend to a less degree.

Listeners should endeavor to avoid this effect in using their regenerative receivers. It may bother the neighbors.

FARMERS STAGE BIG ANNUAL PICNIC

East Middlesex Members of
U. F. O. Assemble at Springbank.

From far corners of the riding of East Middlesex, members of United Farmers of Ontario to the number of 3,000 and more are gathered at Springbank today to celebrate their annual picnic.

By the street car, train and automobiles, a stream of pleasure-seeking crowds poured into the park from an early hour in the morning. No time was lost in getting a pretentious program under way.

First came baseball. Pond Mills and the Maple Leafs fought the first game of the tournament and then the team played Bryanston. At 1:30 o'clock in the afternoon, Lucan was aligned against Ilderton, the winner to play the winners of the morning contests for the championship of the riding later in the afternoon.

After the baseball, foot races, a tug-of-war and a baby show were scheduled to entertain the huge crowds.

Speeches by Archibald Hodgins, M.P. for East Middlesex and the member of the Provincial House, J. W. Freeborn, were delivered in the afternoon. Mr. Hodgins came especially from Ottawa for the occasion.

City Forwards Petition To Ottawa Asking Remedy For Unemployment

Following instructions issued by the city council, S. Baker, city clerk, is forwarding a petition to the federal government requesting that immediate action be taken to remedy unemployment. This petition is in support of the appeal of the Dominion Veterans' Alliance, embracing the six principal organizations of former service men in Canada, that definite legislation be enacted at Ottawa during the present session of parliament, to remedy or ameliorate unemployment.

The employment service council, federal and provincial governments and other organized interests have admitted prospects of serious unemployment next winter, with acute distress, and in view of this menace the city council has taken action.

The federal government last April officially recognized the inability of municipalities and provincial government to deal adequately with the problem. Therefore, the assistance of London has been solicited to join with other municipalities in petitioning federal legislation on this subject.

It is the purpose of the petitioners to impress upon the government the necessity for immediate and definite action to preclude hasty and improvised measures, including the dole system next winter.

A profusion of lovely early summer blooms decorated the booths from which dainty refreshments were served throughout the evening, and with the Sunday school orchestra under the leadership of Sam Beaton, nothing was lacking for the complete enjoyment of the scores of people who attended.

In addition to music from the Sunday school orchestra, there was a short program: Vocal solos by Robert Simmie and Harold Barnes, an instrumental duet by Jack Russell and R. Hulbert, as well as a delightful musical drill by the girls of the C. G. L. T. Club under the leadership of Miss Effie Brown.

Mrs. E. M. Russell was convener of the committee which attended to the refreshment booths throughout the evening. Those assisting her were Mrs. John Bruckell, Mrs. S. Adams, in charge of the tea room; Mrs. Percy Taylor and Mrs. Robert Brown, ice cream booth; Mrs. J. T. Snyder and Mrs. W. Proctor, home cooking; Mrs. M. Maloney and Mrs. Evans, soft drinks; Mrs. S. Wilson and Mrs. Duncan, candy; Mrs. Elmer Perrin and Mrs. Lorkin, ice cream, and Mrs. Floyd and Mrs. Bines, weiner and buns. The cooking of the evening made a huge success of the sale of the weiners and buns.

SEEK YOUTH CHARGED WITH ROBBING FRIEND OF WATCH

At the request of High Constable B. F. Watterworth of Middlesex County, the police of Stratford are searching for a young man, whose name is being withheld for obvious reasons, who is alleged to have stolen a valuable watch and chain and other smaller pieces of jewelry from a companion.

The police authorities assert that the stolen property was located in a local pawn shop, and while they enquired for the missing man at his supposed address on English street, he was not encountered. As a matter of fact the officers state that no such number is to be found on that thoroughfare.

It is explained further that the alleged culprit was taken by the owner of the watch out to the Byron Sanatorium for the purpose of securing employment and that but little time elapsed before the man and the valuables both disappeared.

It was a real baseball game played by teams captained by L. P. Chapman and P. H. Mulvey. Mr. Chapman's team laid claim to victory, which was undisputed because of the superior weight of its members and the determined look they wore.

Justice Riddell in Stirring Address To Kiwanians At Osgoode Hall.

LONDON WINS BALL GAME

Illinois and Pennsy District Governors To Speak At City Club Friday.

TORONTO, June 21.—"One Bunker Hill is enough—England is no fool," said Mr. Justice Riddell in addressing the legal men who are delegates to the Kiwanis convention here, at the luncheon tendered the Kiwanian lawyers by the bar association at Osgoode Hall today.

"Anyone who reads the original documents, which are seldom read, will realize how Britain has been urging Canada to assume her own nationhood, as a part of the empire.

"We are sprung from the same root—the great English common law, the British constitution, and the great principles of order and peace and justice."

Justice Riddell declared that Canada and the United States might have quarreled over every inch of their border line, but they didn't—instead of that they had dwelt together in peace, though they had disputes and acute disputes. But these were settled by negotiation.

Lauda Woodrow Wilson.

His lordship roused the luncheon to cheers and shouts of approval when he asserted that the greatest public address of any age in any country was that delivered by Woodrow Wilson before the United States Senate on April 1, 1917, when war was declared on Germany by the United States. And he was saying this, he remarked, to men who might be prejudiced against Woodrow Wilson.

Mr. Justice Riddell amused the Americans by his description of the British constitution, which he characterized as "the finest piece of camouflaged in existence"—because it didn't mean what it said. The king "ruled by the grace of God," but he was proud to rule by act of parliament; he was "Defender of the Faith," because Henry VIII. wrote an answer to Martin Luther's attack on Rome, though by law the king must be a Protestant. There were other similar points.

Peace Must Prevail.

Even without a League of Nations peace in the world must prevail if the English-speaking peoples said there should be peace. No treaty or bond should be made.

Actual work will not commence for four or five years.

PROTEST SALES TAX METHODS

Western Ontario Grocers Pass Resolution To Be Sent To Fielding.

Retailers Urge Collection of Entire Levy From Manufacturer.

Holding that the present government system of collecting sales tax from the retail grocer instead of from the manufacturer is unjust, 75 grocers from various points in Western Ontario decided at a meeting in the Tecumseh House Wednesday afternoon to register a protest with the minister of finance, Hon. W. S. Fielding, asking that the legislation be changed, and that the entire sales tax be collected from the manufacturer.

Fred S. Lawrence, secretary of the D. S. Perrin & Co. Ltd., of this city, addressed the grocers on the sales tax and the manner in which it affected the retail grocer. He explained to them that it was the desire of the manufacturers that the government collect the sales tax directly from them, instead of from the retail grocer, as the case is at present. By so doing, he stated, bookkeeping expenses would be decreased considerably.

Secured Compromise.

He pointed out that a short while ago he had gone to Ottawa and had interviewed the government on the matter. His visit was a partial success, as the minister of finance compromised, and with the result half the sales tax is now collected from manufacturing concerns and the other half from the retail grocer.

However, the grocers are dissatisfied with the new legislation, and as the manufacturers are equally anxious that all the tax be collected from them, the protest was sent by the Western Ontario Retail Grocers' Association to Ottawa.

The stamp tax and the receipt tax were also criticized by the grocers, it being claimed that both were a detriment to business.

That the high price of groceries was due to the freight rates was the claim of many present, one man citing a case where the freight on a case of sardines routed from Leamington to St. Thomas, was 50 cents a dozen bottles.

Among the representatives present from out of town were: Messrs. Shaddock of Ilderton, Waring of Lucan, Panter, Hockin, Wildsworth, Jeffery of Dutton, McKenzie and Egan of St. Thomas, Mailer of Egan, Hunt of Dorchester, McLaren and Stewart of Belmont, Northcott of Mount Brydges, and Jolly of St. Thomas.

Harry Rananah of this city acted as chairman.

The grocers of London will hold their annual picnic Wednesday, July 19, and committees will be appointed this week to make arrangements for what is expected by the retailers to be the biggest picnic of the summer season.

All the city officials have been invited to attend, and Mayor Wilson has announced his intention of declaring a holiday at the city hall that afternoon.

SAND SLIDE DELAYS WORK OF TREASURE HUNTERS

Capt. Carson Will Make Descent Early Thursday Morning.

PENETANGUISHENE, June 21.—High winds and heavy rains upset the plans of the treasure hunters who are dredging the muddy depths of the Wye River in quest of the missing Jesuit chest. It had been the intention of Captain Carson, who has charge of the operations, to make a descent beneath the water and examine personally the position of the box. Just as he was making ready to don his diver's suit there was a swirl in the water, and the sand bank at the edge of the excavation slid down. Probing showed, however, that little damage had been done, as most of the sand went beyond the position of the box, although two or three extra feet remain, and this will have to be cleared away tomorrow. As soon as this is done Captain Carson will make his descent.

The treasure hunters confidently expect that it will be only a question of hours before their search is concluded.

Fear Rail Freight Rate Cuts Will Cost Roads More Than $16,000,000

OTTAWA, June 21.—The new proposals of the railways in regard to rate reductions would mean, according to the evidence of their representatives, a loss in revenue of approximately $16,000,000. These figures were given to the special house committee on railway transportation costs.

The largest estimate of loss came from the C. P. R. and was for $3,335,000 to which the biggest contribution was made by the new reduction on grain.

The Canadian National estimate of loss is $6,971,000, made up of $4,814,000 on grain; $1,183,000 on lumber and forest products, coal and coke, $484,000, etc.

The losses by the Grand Trunk aggregate $1,053,000 of which lumber forms the largest item at $326,000. In addition to these figures of the railways put in estimates of the revenue they will lose as a result of the recent 10 per cent reduction by the interstate commerce commission. The Grand Trunk put this as $2,275,000; the Canadian National rates at $1,250,000, and the C. P. R. at $2,220,000.
