DUNDAS COUNTY HONORS MR. WHITNEY

Whole Countryside Attends His Home Demonstration.

Modesty in the Pace of Remarkable ons-Realizes His Responsibility and Hopes He Will Not Prove Un-effect codes.

Morrisburg, Feb. 2.—(Special.)—The god old town of Morrisburg was en fete to-day. The occasion was the great demonstration accorded by the people of Dundas and the adjoining counties to the premier-elect of Ontario, J. P. Whitney. The ovation he received was in every sense a flattering tribute to the man, who born in this county, reared, educated and spending the greater part of his life here has now attained the highest henor which the province can bestow on a citizen.

An immense crowd of people came to town early in the day from all points within a radius of thirty miles. The capacity of the hotels and the private residences was taxed to the utmost to accommodate the throngs. Special trains were run all along the line east and west.

At 1.30 this afternoon the streets assumed a holiday appearance. They were lined from the depot to the music hall, nearly a mile in length, with cheering men and women, urging on the procession composed of electors from the various municipalities in the county, each marching in a body with the sleigh carrying Mr. Whitney at the head. Four bands were in the parade, as well as rigs containing many of the prominent public men of this and adjoining counties.

Ovatien te Mr. Whitney.

Arriving at the music hall the pro-

Arriving at the music hall the procession could barely move because of the crowds that blocked the entrance. As the premier-elect, Mr. Whitney, stepped from the sleigh he was given a remarkable ovation by his townsmen. In a very few minutes the large hall was jammed full of cheering, enthusiastic people who showed unmistakably the pride and affection they felt for their fellow citizen.

M. J. Casselman, the president of the County Conservative Association, took charge of the meeting and called for speeches from the following gentlemen, all of whom spoke briefly and to the point:

Andrew Broder. M.P., for Dundas. Ovation to Mr. Whitney.

Andrew Broder, M.P., for Dundas, R. R. MacLellan, K.C., of Cornwall, R. A. Pringle, M.P., for Stormont, Geor. Kerr, M.L.A.-elect for Stor-

J. Leitch, K-C., of Cornwall.
J. L. Grove, warden of the united

J. L. Grove, warden of the united counties.

A. Sweet of Winchester.

D. A. MacArthur of Alexandria,
G. H. Ferguson, M.L.A. elect for Grenville.

G. H. Ferguson, M.L.A.-elect for Grenville:

Dr. Hickey, ex-M.P., of Morrisburg, and lastly

Mr. Whitney himself.

Mr. Whitney reiterated what he had said on election night, that the recent expression at the poils WAS NOT A PARTY TRIUMPH. He acknowledged the magnificent tribute his fellow citizens were paying him and modestly and modestly disclaimed any personal credit for the great change that had taken place in the province.

The audience, mostly men, was very enthusiastic, yet orderly, and gave both Mr. Whitney and the other speakers respectful attention.

This was spent the first part of the celebration.

Again in the Evening.

Another enthusiastic meeting was held in the evening. By 7.30 the hall was packed, and before 8 o'clock standing room was at a premium. Never has the hall presented a gayer spectacle. Flags, bunting and mottoes, suc has "Dundas disdains duplicity," "Welcome to our premier" were everywhere. Seated on the stage besides the speakers of the evening were Mrs. Whitney and daughters, Mrs. Thomson, Mise Whitney and Mrs. I. Hilliard. Mr. Casselman again occupied the chair.

speakers of the evening were Mrs. Whitney and daughters, Mrs. Thomson, Miss Whitney and Mrs. I. Hilliard, Mr. Casselman again occupied the chair.

The Chesterfield Band opened the program, and music was also furnished by the Brinstone's Corner's Band and the following vocalists Miss Sophia Bower, Miss Hickey, H. H. Ross and Dr. Davey.

The chairman read letters of regret from P. D. Ross, Dennis Murphy and J. D. Reid.

A. Broder, M.P., began the speech, making with one of his characteristic deliveries that tickled the audience immensely. He was followed by Mr. Donovan, the defeated Conservative candidate in Brockville, who made a favorable impression, and then G. H. Ferguson, member-elect for Grenville, gave a ratifing god speech.

Albert Whitney of Prescott, brother of the premier-elect, expressed the honor he felt on this occasion in being permitted to take part. He hoped that the new premier would hold sacred the trust the people of the province had so unanimously placed in him.

Houghton Lennox, M.P., for East Simce, spoke briefly, as did Mr. Letths of Cornwall, who referred among other things to the fact that he and Mr. Whitney were years ago called "to the bar" together.

A For, New a Friend.

Dr. Chamberlain, late inspector of prisons and asylums and an old political epoponent of Mr. Whitney, made a happy and elequent speech, recalling with pride the fact that the first premier of Ontario, John Sandfeld Macdoniald, had sprung from the united feutiness as well as the sixth premier, Mr. Whitney. As a citizen of Morrisburg he was proud that his old friend had attained such a high position. The hoped that when in a few hours Mr. Whitney would be called on to form a government and would come to his county for re-election that Dundas would return him by acclamation.

H. R. Ross, ex-M.P. made a captill speech, while eulopting G. W. Ross for his many great qualities of mind and heart to ma had not read the signs of the time aright and resigned in 1902.

Dr. Reddick of Winchester spoke briefly.

When Mr. Whitney stepped forward to receive the beautifully illuminated and well worded address from the electors of Dundas, read by I. Hilliard, it was the sign for another ovation. He was cheered for several minutes.

Recollections Overcame Him.

Having bowed, his acknowledgements he said that when he stopped to consider what he should say the recollections of past days were too much sider what he should say the recolsider what he should say the recollections of past days were too much for him. He realized that it was impossible to apreciate the expressions of seed will which the people of Dundas had to lavishly accorded him. He referres feelingly to the strong ties that him to his fellow citizens, and also thanked Dr. Chamberlain for the expression of such broadminded sentiments. Regarding the address he would not answer it by a political speech, but would father look on the gathering as a fellowship meeting. He dealt reminiscently with the political history of the province since he entered the legislature, referring particularly to his close personal friendship with the late Hon. A. S. Hardy and the confidence that gentleman had repossed in him in asking his opinion as to the date of a general election. He could recollect of no similar instance in the political history of any country.

Promises Well.

to the date of a general election. He could recollect of no similar instance in the political history of any country.

Promises Well.

Mr. Whitney characterized the great chasge that had come over the people in the matters of the information they now possessed on all great public questions as a good augury for the future. He also paid a striking tribute to the influence woman has in the affairs of the world. "Happy is the nation," he declared, "in which women take an interest in its affairs. "In an eloquent peroration the premier-elect asked his audience never to forget the privileges and liberties enjoyed by people in this British country." We must remember that one party is not all right and the other all wrong. Each party has a part in working out the great system of constitutional government. When anything becomes wrong with one party, the whole state suffers. We should all feel pride in the fact that each party is moulding the destiny of the country. With such a spirit animating the people there is no danger that posterity will blush at reading our history."

Realizes Responsibility.

In accepting the position which the people had given him, Mr. Whitney said he fully realized his defects and needed his friends' sympathy in the responsible position he was about to occupy. While it was not for him now to criticize the acts of those who had preceeded him in the government of the province, he nevertheless declared it would be his policy to never allow the administration to be judged by the standard he had now set up. He expressed his confidence that public affairs would not lie stagnant, but that Ontario would go on to fulfil the destiny which the creator had seemingly mapped out for this part of the North American continent, and hoped that time of stress came he would not be unequal the situation.

The singing of the National Anthem brought to a close one of the most eventful days in the history of Morrisburg.

Sir Wilfrid's Mounted Police Bill Passed By the House

Robert Reford of the Transportation Commission Wants to Resign, But the Government Is Trying to Persuade Mim to Remain-Salvation Army Officer, Inspector Archibald, to Enter to Ottawa, Feb. 3.—W. T. R. Preston, Canadian Immigration Commissioner in London, figured in two questions asked in the House yesterday. To one enquiry the answer was made that Mr. Preston's visit to Canada in November last was for the purpose of discussing certain questions with the Minister of the Interior. There was no friction between officials in the High Commissioner's office, London, and Mr. Preston said no complaints had been made that he (Mr. Preston) was unduly interfering with the High Commissioner's office. Mr. Preston had no jurisdiction over any of the staff in the High Commissioner's office. Mr. Preston's salary last year showed $679 for traveling expenses.

Mr. Lancaster was informed that twenty-five extra men were employed on the Welland Canal last September, seventy-four in October and forty-two in November.

The men received $1.50 per day. There was a ripple of merriment in the House as Mr. Emmerson supplied the further information that the men were laid off in December, the work on which they were employed having been completed.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier's bill amending the Mounted Police Act had the honor of getting the first third reading of the session. The bill passed through the committee stage and was read a third time with comparatively little argument tively little argument.

The Parole System,

The estimates of the Department of Justice were taken up in committee of supply. Some highly gratifying reports of the parole system were made to the House, Mr. Fitzpatrick said that there were ten parole men in one institution in Topatrick said that there were ten parole men in one institution in Toronto. The same institution recently expressed a willingness to employ three more parole men if, they were recommended. The parole men are required to report once a month to a police officer. In some cases the police went to the trouble of notifying the employer. "This," said Mr. Fitzpatrick, "is an act of cruelty." He explained the process by which paroles are granted, and incidentally bestowed generous praise on Inspector Archibald of Toronto. So greatly are the services of Mr. Archibald valued by the department that it has asked him to become a permanent Covernment. has asked him to become a permanent Government official, devoting all his time to the Government service. So far only one report has been made by the Commission, and that is an interim report on the port of St. John.

THE COMING MINISTRY.

Occasionally Liberals are heard to remark, "Oh, well, I suppose will have to give the Conservatives a chance. Perhaps the country will not be ruined past recovery in four years." Such remarks are, of course, from nervous Liberals, who have been taught to believe a "Tory" to be inferior in intellect and lacking in honesty, the St. Thomas Times They have had such thoughts dinned into their ears ever since they were children, and know no better. The Liberals have been in power so long in Ontario that the idea of a Conservative Government has never occurred for a moment. Indeed, one of the factors in the defeat of the Ross Government was Mr. Ross' assumptions of towering wissom and suggestions that the bottom would fall out of things if the Government were displaced. The people, on the other hand, know that history is full of proof that the greatest of men can disappear from the scene without affecting the planet's revolutions. But what is the record? Any one who has kept in touch with legislative reports knows that when Mr. Meredith-now Chief Justice Sir William Meredith-was leader of the Opposition, he suggested many of the most useful measures passed: and right down to the present many of the best laws passed have emanated from the Conservative side of the House in the form of bills which the Government would vote down, then frame bills on the same lines, introduce them as Government measures, pass them and claim all the credit. No well posted, fair minded Liberal will claim superior intellectual capacity for the Liberals as a party over the Conservatives, and no thoughtful, earnest man of either party will claim all the patriotism, or deny the good in--tentions of the members of the other party. And all right-thinking people must believe that the members of both the political parties desire the prosperity of the province.

Mr. Whitney can be trusted to do what is honorable and fair. That is sharacteristic of the man. He has, with his large majority, an opportunity to legislate fearlessly, and if, as the Globe has intimated, the new Premier will be well watched. We believe, however, that Mr. Whitney will prove equal to the task before He has at his back men as able as any that have sat in the House since Confederation, and it is not unreasonable to expect that the Cabinet to be formed will command the confidence of the people of both parties.

While Cabinet slates are being made by different parties, there can, of course, be only conjecture as to who will be called by Mr. Whitney, and the announcement of the personnel of the new Ministers will be awaited with interest by the peoole generally.

"HELD ON TOO LONG."

Some frank admissions are being made now by the Liberal newspapers, and the following by the Brantford Expositor (Lib.) just about touches the kernel of the subject, though before Jan. 25th the Expositor would not have admitted the same. The Expositor now admits that Rossite greed of office and power, which Conservatives so effectively criticised, and to perpetuate which the aid of corruption was called in, was the chief cause of the Ross Government's undoing. Says the Expositor:
"Undoubtedly the Liberal party in Ontario made a serious blunder in holding on to power when it could no longer command an adequate working majority.

"If power had been resigned six

"If power had been resigned six years ago the party would have been apared the disclosures of North Waterloo and West Elgin, and had it been resigned even two years ago the Minnie M. episode would not have securred, and the member for Manitoulin would have been afforded no inducement to concoct his rascally plot.

"The charges of electoral impurity made against the Government: as the Expositor has repeatedly stated, have been grossly exaggerated and all manner of offences have been charged which never had any real existence. But it is idle to deny the fact that the narrowness of the Government's majority, and the great stakes which were at risk in every bye-election, led to scandals which otherwise would never have existed.

"It would have been patter."

Thrice happy is the man who can take three aquare meals a day and esjoy every one of them. But in take three aquare meals a day and esjoy every one of them. General Nogi Whitney wants to destroy a lot of property that should be surrendered intact. There is a quantity of interesting records in the departments in Queen's Park which the underwriters' association would diagnose as an extra hazardous risk during these fateful hours.

THE NEW METHOD

This year the new Assessment Act comes in force, and the assessors have to value the lands and buildings separately. The assessment slips this year looks quite differently and the effect of the new method of assessing will make considerable difference in the business men's assessment. The ground is assessed, the buildings are valued and then 25 per cent. is added for the assessment of the business.

GOOD MAN FELL

Perhaps the incident of the campaign which excited the most general regret on the Conservative side was the defeat of Mr. James Clancy, in West Kent. Mr. Clancy made a gallant and determined fight, but the odds against him were too great gallant and determined fight, but the odds against him were too great to be overcome. Mr. Clancy's high ability and wide knowledge of public affairs would have ensured him a leading place in the Conservative strength in the Legislature and his defeat is deeply regretted not only by his West Lambton friends, but by the party generally throughout the province.—Sarnia Canadian.

UNCLE TOM'S CABIN TO-NIGHT

If press opinions count for snything Mr. Al. W. Martin's production of "Uncle Tom's Cabin," which will be seen at the Grand to-night, has caught the public taney. The theatres where the offering has been made is said to have been crowded at every performance and no reasonable made is said to have been crowded at every performance and no reasonable doubt remains that business on the season will reach a figure that will astonish the dramatic world. For a play holding the stage over tifty years, within which period not a single season has elapsed during which it was entirely absent from the theatre, Uncle Tom's Cabin still exhibits wonderful vitality. Scorned, ridiculed and rejected of the elect in the more important theatres a few years ago, it is now ensconed in the very homes of art and thousands are weeping and laughing over its varivery homes of art and thousands are weeping and laughing over its various incidents nightly. I doubt whether there has ever been so lavish and adequate a production of this play as that which Mr. Martin will bring to our city. The scenes which are displayed could not easily be improved. Each pictures the reality as closely as paint and canvass will permit, and the stage perspective is so deep that the effect is exceptionally pleasing. The company is also worthy of its environment. So many actors of pleasing reputation have worthy of its environment. So many actors of pleasing reputation have never before been seen engaged together in this play. CREATES CIVIC PRIDE. The Town Beautiful and What It Means

In all cities and towns there are a large number of persons whom poverty restricts to a narrow existence and mean surroundings. They cannot travel, and they possess in their own right little or nothing that is beautiful. Yet in many of these cases the artistic sense is naturally pronounced, so that the hunger for beauty is keen. In all there is a potential capacity more or less consciously recognized for its enjoyment. These people cannot of themselves possess lovely gardens, beautiful paintings and sculpture, feel music's inspiration, in their own homes or retire for prayer to aesthetically satisfying private chapels. Whatever beauty they have must be held in common ownership with others. The parks of the town are their gardens and to many are their one introduction to nature. Their only paintings are in the public art gallery, their only statues in the street; the public churches are their visible evidence of religion's love and pride, and their music is the music of the town.

Poverty were robbed of some of its curse could the lowliest resident boast from his heart that he was a citizen of no mean town. The poorer taxpayers of Paris, it has been said, are so proud of their city's beauty that they would rather have cut from the annual budget those items which stand for expenses that are elsewhere called necessary than those which add to her beauty. With the corresponding classes in any city the most popular thing that a municipal administration can do with sanity is to make striking additions to the visible glory, beauty and wealth of the incorporated community.

Out of such additions as these there is also a gain distinctly civic in influence. Not only does beauty in the town, considered from the spiritual side alone, enrich the life of the poor and widen the life of the toilers. It not only invitingly lays bare new realms of aspiration, thought and sentiment and so becomes an educational influence which is one way and another can be readily turned to definite ends—it creates civic pride. And that is an asse In all cities and towns there are a another can be readily turned to definite ends—it creates civic pride. And that is an asset as precious to a town as is patriotism to a nation. A town whose residents are genuinely proud of it is strong also in industry and commerce as well as politically, for it has the best possible advertisement—the praise of its residents. That is one reason, aside from the attraction of visitors, why urban beauty pays.—Charles Mulford Robinson, Author of "The Improvement of Towns and Cities."

JAPANESE PAPER MONEY. The Kind of Lucre Which the Soldiers the Mikado Receive.

The Japanese soldiers are usually paid in paper money, the bills being similar to the one reproduced in the accompanying picture. These bills are much more convenient for them are much more convenient for them to carry than gold or silver, and they are negotiable at any place in the Empire. They answer just as well as coin in supplying the needs of the soldier for the Mikado. Like nearly everything Japanese, they are artis-tic in design.

Enderance of the Carrier Figeen.

Some naturalists have been recently discussing the ability of a carrier pigeon to cross the Atlantic. Several years ago a pigeon post was actually established on transatlantic liners by a Captain Reynaud, a Frenchman. It has been long discontinued, but while it was in operation a pigeon released from a steamer in mid-ocean actually succeeded in reaching the United States shore. This feat, it is asserted by a recent French authority, was achieved only because the bird was in the track of numerous steamers, on which it rested during the nights. Even thus, its passage took nearly a month. Unided flight over the sea for more than sixteen hours or so, this writersays, is a physical impossibility for any pigeon, and the idea that one could cross the ocean is an absurdity. In spite of the great speed and endurance of this bird, the sensational performances with which it is often credited are, he says, mostly fictions. Endurance of the Carrier Pigeon.

Heps for the Lasy.

A London paper has traced the carcers of five boys who were lazy about getting out of bed in the morning. One of the bunch was the manager of a large business at the age of thirty, another at twenty-seven was a successful physician, the third at twenty-three was at the lead of his class in college, the fourth had passed every examination in a medical school at twenty and the fifth was head boy in school at fifteen years of age. Perhaps these lads would have beaten those records had they been earlier risers. Anyway it goes to show that lay-abeds are not hopeless. Many a boy with stuff in him is slow about waking up to the carnestness of life and the importance of hard work; but, all the same, he arrives in the end,

Thin House Listlessly Discusses the E

Ottawa, Jan. 26.—It was a list-less discussion of estimates that took place in the House yesterday afternoon, and a thin House at that, for members were absent either in person or in spirit. All interest was concentrated in the great political struggle in Ontario.

Mr. Ames was informed that it is the intention of the Government to revise the whole organization of the barbor companization.

harbor commissioners of Montreal

Mr. Ward was informed that surveys are now being made between Lice Lake and Cobourg and Rice Lake and Trenton to determine the best route for the great canal.

The Minister of Marine informed Mr. Morin that the big ice-breaking steamer Montcalm cost the Government $272,000 delivered at Quebec, and her per diem cost since has been and her per diem cost since has been $150, principally owing to her large consumption of coal. She is employed in the endeavor to secure the opening of navigation between Quebec and Montreal earlier in the spring and keep it open late in the fall; also to render assistance to render assistance.

and keep it open late in the fall; also to render assistance to vessels caught in the ice and establish the possibility of winter navigation on the north shore of the Gulf of St. Lawrence. She will also be employed in the summer time as a lighthouse and buoy tender for the Province of Quebec. The vessel's work this winter has been above Quebec.

Mr. Daniel inquired the status of goods imported into Canada under the preferential tariff in 1903 and 1904; also the quantity imported via Canadian and United States ports respectively.

Canadian and United States porce respectively.

The Minister of Customs gave the value "entered for consumption under the preference" as $37,614,505 in 1903, and $44,765,253 in 1904. But no separate record, he said, had been kept of importations by Canadian ports.

The House then went into Committee of Supply and proceeded with discussion of the Postoffice estimates. The Postmaster-General said that 884 letter carriers had accepted the new arrangement by which they are paid by the day instead of by the year. There are 142 who are still under the old arrangement. The House adjourned at 6 p.m.

Provision is the foundation of hospitality, and thrift the fuel of magnificence.

Our sole knowledge of the people on other worlds and how far the people there differ from our inhabitants, can only be guessed by comparison with animal nature on this small sphere of ours. More important to us is a knowledge of ourselves. "Know Thyship" was an old Greek thought. How to take care of one's own body is not so simple as some think; the human mechanism is a wonderful thing and requires watching.

One man who has done more to teach the American people how to care for their bodies than almost any other, is Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., the Author of the "Common Sense Medical Adviser." He says: It is not the quantity of the food eaten which produces strength and health (for some people can keep strong on a very meagre diet), but it is how much food and carried to nourish every organ of the body. It is, therefore, vitally necessary for the body that the stomach be in a healthy state. If disease of the stomach, or what is called "stomach trouble," prevents proper nutrition then the heart, liver, lungs, and kidneys do not get proper food—they are not fed on rich red blood, and in consequence, begin to show signs of distress. Outwardly these signs may be pimples and eruptions on skin, pale face, sleepless mights, tired, languid feelings, or, by reason of the nerves not being fed on pure blood, they become starved, and we rective a surviving in the pain we call neuralpia. Rheumatism, noo, is a shood disease. After years of practice and study Dr. Pierce found that an Alterative Extract, which he named "Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery," made from the extracts of several plants, invariably produced a tonic effect upon the system. It helped the process of absorption of the healthy elements in the food and increased the red corpuscles of the blood, as well as eliminated the poisons from the system.

Business is business. No time for head aches. Constipation causes them. Doctor Pierce's Pieusen and Element mild.

A GLASS FULL OF WATER.

One That Cannot Be Lifted Without One That Cannot Be Lifted Without Spilling It All.

Here is a very simple way to cuell a boaster or any one who is "showing off," as some youngsters are prone to do when a party of several are to You start the thing going by declaring that you do not believe many of those present can lift a glass full of water and carry it five feet in five seconds without spilling most of it. Of course several will at once claim the ability to perform the feat, and the time for your trick has come.

Fill a tumbler with water and com pletely cover the top with a stout shee of writing paper. By pressing the paper firmly against the top of the glass you may safely turn the whole thing "upside down," or invert it. Rest it on a table, and the top of the table will press the paper so firmly against the edges of the glass that not a drop of water will come out.

water will come out.

Now you carefully withdraw the paper, as shown in the picture, and the water is still kept in the glass, this time by the table top alone. When any one tries to lift the glass the water will at once come out, and you have made good your statement at the expense of all those who claimed the ability to lift the glass.

FIREFLIES.

The Heating and Lighting Power of These Little Insects.

Smithsonian institution, while making inquiries into the cheapest forms of producing light, experimented with Cuban fireflies, among other things. The insects were placed in the center of concave mirrors, and the most delicate instrument in the gov-ernment observatory was employed to measure the amount of heat radiated

A sperm candle was used for com parison, and a flame spot from it which was just as big as the firefly was thrown into the mirror. The instrument recorded the heat from the can-dle at once, but no movement was caused by the insect, although the instrument was so delicate that had the firefly produced even as little as one eighty-thousandth part of the heat produced by the tiny spot from the candle it would have shown on the records.

It was different with light. Comparing the fiame spot of the candle and the light from the insect, the instrument showed that the firefly gave oneeighth as much light as the candle,

About Berries.

Probably many people have wondered as they were eating gooseberries what connection there was between the berry and a goose. There is none. "Goose" is a corruption of "gorse," a prickly shrub. The cranberry, on the other hand, has something to do with a bird, for it is named from a fanciful resemblance of its slender stalk to the legs of a crane. Strawberries do not grow on straws, but strawed or strewn along the surface of the ground.
"Mulberry" in the Anglo-Saxon was the "murberie," and the "mur" is allied to the Latin "morum" and the Greek "moron," a mulberry tree. The bilberry, which grows in such profusion on some of our moors, is really the blueberry.

The Sponge Animal. Aristotle was the first man to ven-Aristotle was the first man to venture an opinion that the sponge was an animal. But up to about the middle of the eighteenth century most naturalists considered sponges to be planta. Some, indeed, supposed that they were merely condensed foam of the sea, others a sort of shell formed by a kind of sea worm often found residing in a live sponge. As a matter of fact, the sponge is now classed as an animal, but it is an animal of such simple type that in many ways it is below some plants.

The Kitty.

There was once a kitty-from Cheshirs he came—
His paws they were white and his whiskers the same:
He was very polite, and he bowed all the while
As he greeted his friends with a beautiful smile.

A fealous old rat who chanced to drop in Growled out, "Oh, you silly, to wear such a grin!" So kitty stopped smiling and bit off his head. "I'll teach you to have better manners," he said.

Collar and Cuff.
Little Exther, aged six, had once broken her collar bone. One day while swinging she slipped and hurt her wrist. Immediately she ran crying to the mother and said: "Mamma, please see if I have bro-

Christmas Feasting in Old Times. There are certain dishes which are peculiarly dedicated by custom and tradition to the Christmas feast. The plum pudding is almost the sole sur-vivor of a long list of equally savory enes. There was the bear's head, al-ways the herald of the teast and always seasoned with mustard. Next in majortance was the peacock. The skin was carefully stripped off. with the plumage adhering. The bird was then roasted. When it was done and had cooled it was served up again in its feathers and with gilded beak was sent to the table. Sometimes the whole body was covered with gold leaf and piece of cotton saturated with spirits placed in its beak and lighted as it made its gorgeous entry. The noble bird was not served by common hands. That privilege was reserved for the most distinguished by birth and beauty. Geese, capone, pheasants and ples of marps' tongues also helped to set out the Christmas table in days gone by.

The character that needs law to mend it is hardly worth tinkering.

A WORKER OF MIRACLES Contracted Bad Cold.

WONDERS ACCOMPLISHED BY BUR. BANK, WIZARD OF PLANT LIFE.

ats of a California Horticultur ist in Producing the Thornless Cactus Fadeless Flowers and Stoneless Plum -His Career, Which Began in 1848-75, Is One Alike Interesting to the Scientist and to the Ordinary Layman.

Luther Burbank, whose discoveries Luther Burbank, whose discoveries in fruit and flower culture have again brought him prominently before the world, has been aptly termed a wizard of plant life. He is almost a miracle worker in the gentle art of horticulture, and one of his latest feats in this field is the production of a flower that will not fade or wither. At least after more than a year some of the fadeless flowers that have stood in Mr. Burbank's parlor show no signs of losing freshness or color. ss or color.

Perhaps the most important horticultural achievement of Mr. Burbank from the practical standpoint is his success in producing a thornless and spineless cactus. It was only about a month ago that he announced his

"taming" of the wild desert cactus, and it is the result of ten years of study and experiment. It means the reclamation of the desert, for the cactus grows in great abundance in arid regions, and if it can be made arid regions, and if it can be made useful as a food plant the importance of Mr. Burbank's achievement is manifest. A three-year-old thornless cactus is now growing in front ol Mr. Burbank's home at Santa Rosa, Cal., and one can pick the leaf of the plant, ordinarily so thorny, and rub it over the check with as much freedown the eneck with as much freedom as though it were a soft and downy peach. The cactus grows in desert regions in the United States. Mexico, South America, the shores of the Mediterranean and some other localities, and from 1,500 varieties plants from different places Mr. Bur-bank produced the edible cactus. In many places where no food for animals grows the cartus is found in soundance, and its leaves are said to be more nutritious than beets. According to Mr. Burbank, it will produce the most food during the months when the deserts are entirely devoid of other vegetation. If a thornless variety can be produced in these arid regions as sustenance for stock the cultivation of the plant on a large scale will be undertaken and vast tracts of land useless now will be-come productive and populons. Mr. Burbank works slowly, but with remarkable success. He has produced white blackberries, stoneless plums, the plumcot, a permanent cross between the plum and the apri-cot; the pineapple quince and the peach almond. He has created a variety of walnut that has a thin shell, and one of his most popular flowers is the Shasta daisy, which is much larger and prettier than the ordilarger and prettier than the ordinary varieties and at the same time is hardy and can be grown in almost any soil. In producing it the common daisy was first grafted upon an English daisy, and the hybrid thus obtained was again grafted upon a daisy from Japan, and so on through other varieties.

In the case of the stoneless plum the fruit has been left with the nakad seed in the centre, so that one can ed seed in the centre, so that one can bite through without trouble. In crossing two fruits Mr. Burbank merely takes the flower of one specimen and dusts it into the stigms of the flower of another specimen, using in his experiments his knowledge of nature's laws and the skill in obtaining results that he has gained in years of patient observation. Mr. Burbank was born in 1849 at Lancaster, Mass. He has lived at Santa Rosa since 1875. He enjoys a large income, but works more from love of horticulture as a science than from desire for revenue. He is credited with producing some 2,000 new varieties of plants, and the results he has achieved have given him rank as the most successful investigator in the world in his particular field.

Mr. Burbank has received many medals and testimonials from scientific societies, and recently the Carnegie Institute granted him an allewance of $10,000 a year for ten years for his experiments. "My aim in this work," he says, "is to benefit mankind." THE STONELESS PLUM.

Bottle and a Half of

Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup

Read what Mrs. A. G. Wheeler, Wassewa, Man., has to say about it — "Please let me thank you for the great good that both my husband and my children have received from Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup. One night when my husband came home from work he had contracted a very bad cold. He became so bad that he had to go to bed and send for the doctor. When the doctor came he pronounced it a very serious case, and wanted me to send him to the Winnipeg Hospital. This, I would not do, as it is about 800 miles to Winnipeg. I decided to try Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup and got four bottles of it. He only took one-and-a-half bottles before he was all right again and only lost a few days' work. I always keep it in the house for the children. Even the baby, seven months old, takes it and seems to like it, and as for myself I do not know what I would do without it. # Many Women Suffer Untold Agony From Kidney Trouble.

Very often they think it is from so-called "female disease." There is less female trouble than they think. Women suffer from backache, aleeplessness, servousness, irritability, and a dragging-down feeling in the loins. So do men, and they do not have "female trouble." Why, then, blame all your trouble to female disease? With healthy kidneys, few women will ever have "female diseasers." The kidneys are so closely connected with all the internal organs, that when the believes when the kidneys go wrong, everything goes wrong. Much distress would be saved if women would only take

The Gevernor Made a Hit.

Earl Grey made a great hit at the opening of Parliament, writes an Ottawa correspondent. Part of the speech he had evidently composed himself. There is every reason to believe that, down to the words "It is restifying to note that the traditional participation of the control speech he had evidently composed himself. There is every reason to believe that, down to the words "It is gratifying to note that the trade, etc.," His Excellency actually did it off his own bat, after which the Cabinet, according to constitutional usage, took a hand in and provided the usual quantity of dry bones that a speech from the Throne contains. His Excellency, however, made no difference between his own part and the other. He read one part just as well as the other, and he read it in a fine, vibrant voice that could be heard in every part of the chamber—a great improvement on Lord Minte, who slurred it over as a kind of solemn foolishness. Earl Grey took more time and was more impressive He gave the effect of believing that there was really something between the lines. He raised it almost to the level of oratory by his careful elocution. He paid attention to the expression marks and allowed his voice to rise and fall at the proper places. It was a distinct innovation, and people whispered to each other. Here is a Governor-General that may be caught thinking some day." His Excellency did it all over in French, and the favorable impression was redoubled. His declamation was just as effective in one language as in the other. The French members said that his accent was irreproachable. Colonel Hanbury-Williams aroused a weird interest of his own. He is the successor of Major Maude, but as all soldiers look very much alike to us, it is impossible to arrive at any definite conclusions on first sight. His stride is a little longer than the major's, but that may be set down to the fact that he has got his step as colonel. His bows, too, are a little shorter. They say that the colonel has ideas of his own, but what they are and how they work out is another story.

Tired. Nervous Mothers

Make Unhappy Homes-Their Condition Irritates Both Husband and Children-How Thousands of Mothers Have Been Saved From Nervous Prostration and Made Strong and Well.

A nervous, irritable mother, often on the verge of hysterics, is unfit to care for children; it ruins a child's disposi-tion and reacts upon herself. The trouble between children and their mothers too often is due to the fact that the mother has some female weak-ness, and she is entirely unfit to herse.

SIR JAMES WATSON'S OPINION.

He says that the commonest of all disorders, and one from which few escape is Catarrh. Sir James firmly believes in local treatment, which is best supplied by "Catarrhozone." No case of Catarrh can exist where Catarrhozone is used; it is a miracle worker, relieves almost instantly and cures after other remedies fail. Other treatments can't reach the diseased parts like Catarrhozone because it goes to the source of the trouble along with the air you breathe. Catarrhozone is free from accaine, it leaves no bad aftereffects, it is simply nature's own cure. Accept no substitute for Catarrhozone which alone can cure Catarrh.

An Englishwoman had had a good deal of trouble with her husband, who, according to her account, was a mon-ster of iniquity. Some one asked why she had married a person of such character. "Well, you see, he sin't my first." was the reply. "I was pertickler about my first. This here's my second, and a bad un at that. Hut there"—with a shrug of the shoulders—"he's a shade better than the work'us!"

HAVE YOU HEARTBURN! HAVE YOU HEARTBURN!

It's quite common with people whose digestion is spoor. Immediate relief follows the use of Nerviline. Stomach is strengthened, digestion is made perfect, lasting cure results in every case. Use Polson's Nerviline once and you'll never be without it because every type of stomach disorder is conquered by a few doses. One 25c. bottle of Nerviline always convinces. Sold everywhere for the past fifty years.

The President will be asked to request the Canadian Government to put a stop to the evil without further delay. It is more than a month since delegations from the New York and Vermont Legislatures called on the Government officials at Ottawa and presented the protest of both States. No reply has been received, and the Canadian fishermen, who are said to be favored by their Government, have ignored the request made by the two States.

Montreal, Feb. 2.—Two men were burned to death in a flerce fire which broke out last evening in the tannery at the corner of Frontenac and Rachel streets, near the East End Abattoir, occupied and operated by Fred Galibert, glove manufacturer. The names of the dead are H. Cyrus and P. Zimber. Cyrus was a Russian military man, who deserted his army about a month ago. He had been in the employ of Mr. Galibert only three weeks. P. Zimber, the other victim, was a Montreal boy, of Irish parentage. He was 22 years of age, and was married three weeks ago.

NERVOUS DYSPEPSIA

A CURE FOR ALL.

Not a Patent Cure-All, Nor a Modern Miracie, But Simply a Rational Cure for Dyspepsia,

In these days of humbuggery and deception, the manufacturers of patent medicines, as a rule, seem to think their medicines will not sell unless they dialm that it will cure every disease under the sun. And they never think of leaving out dyspepsia and stomach troubles. They are sure to claim that their nostrum is absolutely certain to cure every dyspeptic and he need look no further.

In the face of these absurd claims is absolutely certain to cure every dyspeptic and he need look no further,

In the face of these absurd claims it is refreshing to note that the proprietors of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets have carefully refrained from making any undue claims or false representations regarding the merits of this most excellent remedy for dyspepsia and stomach troubles. They make but one claim for it, and that is, that for indigestion and various stomach troubles Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets is a radical cure. They go no farther than this, and any man or woman suffering from indigestion, chronic or nervous dyspepsia, who will give the remedy a trial will find that nothing is claimed for it that the facts will not fully sustain. It is a modern discovery, composed of harmless vegetable ingredients acceptable to the weakest or most delicate stomach. Its great success in curing stomach troubles is due to the fact that the medicinal properties are such that it will digest whatever wholesome food is taken into the stomach, no matter whether the stomach is in good working order or not. It rests the overworked organ and replemishes the body, the blood, the nerves, creating a healthy appetite, giving refreshing sleep and the blessings which always accompany a good digestion and proper assimilation of food.

Is using Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets no dieting is required. Simply eat plenty of wholesome food and take these Tablets at each meal, thus assisting and resting the stomach, which rapidly regains its proper digestive rever.

take these Tablets at each meal, thus assisting and resting the stomach, which rapidly regains its proper digestive power, when the Tablets will be no longer required.

Nervous Dyspepsia is simply a condition in which some portion or portions of the nervous system are not properly nour shed. Good digestion in the property nour shed. invigorates the nervous system and every organ in the body.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are sold by all druggists at 50 cents per package.

"Diplomacy, Lester," said the henpecked man, replying to the inquiry of his small son during, it may not be necessary to explain, the temporary absence of the majestic wife of the one and mother of the other, "diplomacy is what makes a man carve a turkey and unselfishly deal out to his family and the visitors their favorite helps, including the only portions which he himself really likes and at the same time look like a putty saint."

HOW TO GET CONSUMPTION.

Ninety per cent. of the "lungers" contract consumption by allowing power of resistance to fall so low that a favorable condition for the development of the baccilli is provided. In a healthy system consumption can't take root. But where there is weakness and debitity, there you find tuberculosis. For developing strength and building up the weak, nothing equals Ferrozone. It makes the blood nutritious and the nerves enduring. The way it converts food into nutriment, the appetite it gives is surprising. Just what the man verging on consumption needs,—that's Ferrozone. It tired and weak don't put off. Fifty cents buys a box of fifty tablets—at all dealers. Ninety per cent. of the "lungers"

ORDER AGAIN IN RUSSIA

Poland, However, Is Still the Restless Exception-posals That Are Said to Be in the Line Progress. They Distinguish Three

St. Petersburg, Feb. 3.—Order appears to have been generally restored in Russia, the exceptions being in Poland. Even in Warsaw, however, there has been a return to conditions approximating the normal.

The committee of Ministers sitting at St. Petersburg has formulated and the Emperor has sanctioned a number of proposals looking toward the establishment of the Senate upon a basis of closer connection with the throne; doing away with the administrative orders suspending certain laws, and in other ways checking the evils that have arisen through the arbitrary acts of Ministers or officials.

The committee of Ministers distinguished three fundamental points as bases for defence laws:

First—Prevention of violation of laws.

Second—Investigation of powers and methods of action of those responsible for the administration of the laws.
Third—Responsibility of officials.
The committee decided that it was expedient to establish local courts of justice connected with the Senate and with the institution of the Senate of the post of first president, with the right of personal relations with the Emperor.

Ne Magna Charta.

The committee of ministers rejected a motion made by M. Witte that the committee should express an opinion regarding the events of Jan. 22, and take steps to prevent a repetition of such incidents. The motion was reected on the ground that such ac-tion was beyond the jurisdiction of the committee of ministers. M. Witte, whose motion was placed upon the minutes, thereupon submitted to the Emperor a memorandum which His Majesty approved and the com-mittee of ministers had an extraordinary meeting Jan. 31 to consider this memorandum. The question of an inquiry into the incidents of Jan. 22 was discussed and the Finance Minister was empowered to draft a scheme for the reform of social legislation particularly applying to the workmen's question.

JAP ARMY HEALTHY.

Only 40 Deaths in Army From Disease Since May 6.

Gen. Oku's Hendquarters, Feb. 3.—
Japanese field surgeons and field hospitals have accomplished a triumph according to statistics obtained by the Associated Press from the chief surgeon of Gen. Oku's army. There have been in the entire army since the landing on May 6, only 40 deaths from disease.

The figures show that up to Dec. 1, there were treated 34,642 cases of disease. Of these 40 resulted fatally, 18,578 patients recovered, 5,609 were sent to Japan, and the remainder were undergoing treatment when the figures were compiled. It is believed that these figures are unequalled in the history of warfare. There were only 188 cases of typhoid and 342 of dysentery, while of beri-beri there were 5,070. The other cases of disease were not serious.

The casualties in General Oku's army from May 6 to Dec. 19, were: Killed, officers 210, men 4,017; wounded, officers, 743, men 20,837, missing, officers 4, men 402. Sixteen per cent. of the wounded died, 19 recovered in the field and 65 per cent. were sent to Japan. Eighty-five per cent. of the wounds were milicted by rifle shots, 8 per cent. by cold steel. The largest percentage of recoveries was in the cases of chest wounds. Most of the recoveries were due to the small calibre of the rifle bullets.

Mukden, Feb. 8 .- After the Russian bombardment of Sandiapu Wednesday, the Japanese tried to drive them off but falled. The indications are that the Japanese will abandon Sandipau. The question of clubbing between city and weekly papers brought out many varied opinions

President Cooper spoke strongly at the close of the meeting on the question of the nationalization of the telegraph and telephone systems of the country, and trusted the resolution committee would bring in an utterance on the subject.

After an all-day session in the Board of Trade, which was attended by about 100 members, representing the daily and weekly press of the province, the Association had a most pleasant evening in McConkey's palm room last night, when the annual dinner was held. The chair was occupied by John A. Cooper, the retiring president, and the vice-chairs by Arch. McNee, the incoming president, and David Creighton. The guest of honor was Dr. Goldwin Smith, and there were also at the head table H. F. Gardner, Benjamin Sulte, president of the Royal Society of Canada; Hugh Clark, and P. D. Ross of Ottawa, and others, many accompanied by ladies. An innovation was the hearty drinking of a toast to "The Ladies' immediately after royalty was honored, accompanied by the refrain "For they are jolly good fellows."

The speakers of the evening were Benjamin Sulte, president of the Royal Society of Canada, on Canada; Dr. Goldwin Smith, H. F. Gardner and David Creighton, on "The Fress of Yesterday"; P. D. Ross of Ottawa, and Hugh Clark, M.P.P. on "The Press of To-day;" and J. S. Willison and Rev. J. A. Macdonald of The Globe.

Electric System For Sarnia Tunnel. Ottawa, Feb. 3.—The Railway Commission are now in correspondence with the Grand Trunk Railway Company in regard to the presented improvements in the Sarnia Tunnel. The company propose to spend half a million dollars in the installation of an electric system and the Commission are not disposed to insist upon undue haste where the expenditure of so large a sum is concerned.

NO JUDGMENT YET

A very strange and seemingly unfair condition of affairs exists in Blenheim in connection with the local option* regulations.

Some time ago, as Planet readers will remember, a local option by law was carried by the ratepayers of this town by a small majority. The Council, however, did not give the by-law its third reading and it was consequently never passed.

A majority of the License Commisers, acting presumably on the instructions of the late Ross Government, refused all licenses to Blenheim.

The hotel men took action and the case was argued before Justice Magee, and judgment reserved. There has yet been no decision, although nearly a year has elapsed since the case was argued.

Whatever the judgment, it surely should be forthcoming. It seems manifestly unfair to those in the business that they should be flux kept in a state of uncertainty, and the court should now without doubt see that the question is settled one way or the other.
