Technical and Bibliographic Notes / Notes techniques et bibliographiques

The Institute has attempted to obtain the best original copy available for filming. Features of this copy which may be bibliographically unique, which may alter any of the images in the reproduction, or which may significantly change the usual method of filming, are checked below.

L'Institut a microfilmé le meilleur exemplaire qu'il lui a été possible de se procurer. Les détails de cet exemplaire qui sont peut-être uniques du point de vue bibliographique, qui peuvent modifier une image reproduite, ou qui peuvent exiger une modification dans la méthode normale de filmage sont indiqués ci-dessous.

The copy filmed here has been reproduced thanks to the generosity of:

Library of the National Archives of Canada

The images appearing here are the best quality possible considering the condition and legibility of the original copy and in keeping with the filming contract specifications.

Original copies in printed paper covers are filmed beginning with the front cover and ending on the last page with a printed or illustrated impression, or the back cover when appropriate. All other original copies are filmed beginning on the first page with a printed or illustrated impression, and ending on the last page with a printed or illustrated impression.

The last recorded frame on each microfiche shall contain the symbol \rightarrow (meaning "CONTINUED"), or the symbol ∇ (meaning "END"), whichever applies.

Maps, plates, charts, etc., may be filmed at different reduction ratios. Those too large to be entirely included in one exposure are filmed beginning in the upper left hand corner, left to right and top to bottom, as many frames as required. The following diagrams illustrate the method:

L'exemplaire filmé fut reproduit grâce à la générosité de:

La bibliothèque des Archives
nationales du Canada

Les images suivantes ont été reproduites avec le plus grand soin, compte tenu de la condition et de la netteté de l'exemplaire filmé, et en conformité avec les conditions du contrat de filmage.

Les exemplaires originaux dont la couverture en papier est imprimée sont filmés en commençant par le premier plat et en terminant soit par la dernière page qui comporte une empreinte d'impression ou d'illustration, soit par le second plat, selon le cas. Tous les autres exemplaires originaux sont filmés en commençant par la première page qui comporte une empreinte d'impression ou d'illustration et en terminant par la dernière page qui comporte une telle empreinte.

Un des symboles suivants apparaîtra sur la dernière image de chaque microfiche, selon le cas: le symbole \rightarrow signifie "A SUIVRE", le symbole ∇ signifie "FIN".

Les cartes, planches, tableaux, etc., peuvent être filmés à des taux de réduction différents. Lorsque le document est trop grand pour être reproduit en un seul cliché, il est filmé à partir de l'angle supérieur gauche, de gauche à droite, et de haut en bas, en prenant le nombre d'images nécessaire. Les diagrammes suivants illustrent la méthode.

When, after the Code of Civil Procedure had been some time in force, the present writer perceived that no other member of the Bar seemed likely to undertake the publishing of an indexed edition of it, for the use of the English-speaking members of the profession, feeling how much the want for such a work existed, he thought that he might possibly usefully attempt it himself, and accordingly set about the task. The present compilation is the result, and, in offering it to the Bar of Quebec, the compiler ventures to express a hope that it may satisfactorily answer the purposes for which it is designed.

It is to be regretted that, owing to that portion of the work which contains the articles of the Code having been already printed when the statutes affecting many of them were passed at the last session of the Provincial Parliament, it has been found impossible to make the text of the Code correspond to the alterations thereby effected. The articles which have been changed will, however, be found indicated on the page facing the commencement of the Code; and the statutes by which the changes are effected are embodied in the introductory matter (V. pp. xxxv to xxxviii post.)

With regard to article 360, relating to jurors, understanding that it was to be altered in conformity with the act 32 Vic., c. 22, Stat. of Q., the text of the Code was made to correspond with that statute, which makes it almost identical with the law as it now stands. The words "Quebec or the legislature thereof" should, however, replace the word Canada, at the end of the third clause thereof.

An omission has inadvertently occurred at page 314, where should have been inserted the items added to the tariff of fees payable to advocates in appealable cases in the Circuit Court of 1852, which items were not abrogated by the tariff of the 30th Dec., 1868. They are, however, to be found in the appendix, immediately before the index (p. 392.)

In lieu of further preface, the compiler has placed in the commencement of this work, as (though open to some criticism still) a far better introduction to the subject than any he could hope to write, the remarks made by the late Chief Justice Sewell on pleading under the old French law, in the trial of Forbes vs. Atkinson (v. Stuart's Reports, pp. 107 to 116).

A SHORT DISSERTATION

ON

LAW PLEADING IN LOWER CANADA

BY

THE LATE CHIEF JUSTICE SEWELL.*

LOGICAL, DISTINCT and CONSISTENT PLEADING is essential to the right administration of justice, and to facilitate the attainment of this important object the several forms of pleadings, contained in the appendix to the rules and orders, have been prescribed. The principle, upon which these forms are founded, should be thoroughly understood, and I shall avail myself of the opportunity now offered, to explain them generally.

Every contested suit at law consists of the demande on one side, and the defense upon the other. Vide the words "Intendits" et "Articulation des faits" in the Repertoire. The term demande implies the representation, and the claim of redress, which the plaintiff, in any instance or suit at law, makes against the defendant, for or by reason of the facts which constitute his cause of action; and a demande is therefore said to be "the exercise of a right of action." † The term defense, on the other hand, implies all that the defendant offers, by way of opposition or resistance, against the plaintiff's demande. ‡ The matters which constitute the demande and the defense, in any case, are respectively set forth in the pleadings of the parties, which vary according to the grounds upon which they are made, and the objects they are designed to attain.

Pleading, therefore, is the statement of the facts which constitute the plaintiff's cause of action, or the defendant's ground of defence, exhibited in writing in technical form. It is the mode of alleging that, which is afterwards to become in evidence the support of the party by whom it is alleged, || or, a simple negatur of that which is alleged by an adversary; the former being an affirmative, the latter a negative pleading. * An affirmative pleading consists of two parts, the libel and the conclusion. In the libel,—or narration as it is sometimes called,—the facts which constitute the grounds of the pleading, that is to say, the premises, from which the conclusions in law are to follow, are alleged and set forth distinctly as to time, place, person and circumstance: † without comment or argument of any kind. ‡ And to the libel, which should contain all that is necessary to justify the conclusion and no more, is added the prayer of the pleader, in apt words, for that specific remedy or relief, to which by law, the facts which he has libelled entitle him, and this is the conclusion. § A negative pleading, in like manner, consists of two parts; of a direct denegation of that to which it answers, and of the conclusion, which asks that relief or remedy to which the pleader will be by law entitled, if that which he denies, be not verified.

In the law of England it is a general rule in pleading, “That a mere prayer for judgment without pointing out the appropriate remedy, is sufficient, and that the facts being shewn, the court ex officio, is bound to pronounce the proper judgment.” § But the reverse of this rule is the principle of the law of Canada. With us the conclusions are held to be essential to the proceedings, ¶ and must contain, à peine de nullité, all that the judgment of the court must comprehend. For although the conclusions may by the court be allowed or rejected in toto, or modified and allowed in part, and rejected in part, †† still what is omitted in the conclusions cannot be supplied by the court, not even if it appears in substance in the body, or libel, of the pleading. ‡‡

The declaration is the first pleading in every case. It sets forth the facts which constitute the plaintiff's demande, and is always an affirmative pleading. Pleas are the pleadings, which set forth the defense of the defendant, and these are sometimes negative, and sometimes affirmative. A negative plea denies the matters which constitute the grounds or fonds of the plain-tiff's demande, and does no more : but an affirmative plea alleges some new matter, which being proved, is of itself sufficient to authorise a judgment for the defendant, notwithstanding the matters which constitute the ground or fonds of the plaintiff's demande : and for the purpose of this distinction, the word defense is used in a second and limited sense : a negative plea being called a "defense au fonds," because it impeaches or denies the grounds or fonds of the plaintiff's demande set forth in his declaration, in opposition to an affirmative plea which is called an exception (from the Latin excipere to exclude), because it does not impeach or deny the ground or fonds of the plaintiff's demande, set forth in his declaration, but alleges, and relies entirely upon one or more new matters as cause why the plaintiff's suit should be delayed or dismissed,* and hence the maxim non excipiendum fit actor.†

The remaining pleadings known in the law of Canada, are answers and replications, the pleading which is put in by a plaintiff, in answer to an affirmative plea filed by a defendant, being an answer : and the pleading which is put in by a plaintiff in reply to a negative plea, or by a defendant in reply to a plaintiff's answer to an affirmative plea, being a replication.‡ Thus much being generally premised with respect to the pleadings which occur in the course of ordinary suits, the nature of each may now be more particularly considered.

The declaration is a specification of the matters that constitute the plaintiff's cause of action, an accurate and logical statement of his complaint or charge against the defendant, and of the remedy in law for which he demands judgment. In this pleading the plaintiff is required, à peine de nullité, to narrate and libel distinctly, as to time, place, person, and circumstance, the several facts upon which he prosecutes, and which he intends to prove in evidence; || all of which he therefore offers " to verify, prove and maintain when and as the court shall direct "; averring the whole " to be well founded in fact and in law "; and praying, by his conclusion, that the court, under the authority of its jurisdiction, will "compel the defendant to appear," and "to answer unto him, the plaintiff, of (i. e., concerning) the demande contained in his declaration," and I will award to him the appropriate remedy in law, which he specifically sets forth and alleges to be the legal result of the premises.* By the king's writ or process ad respondendum, the defendant is summoned to appear and to answer to the demande of the plaintiff contained in his "declaration"; † and if he appears (to prevent a judgment against him by proceedings ex parte), he must answer, or shew "that by law he is not bound to answer."

This constitutes the first great division in pleas; for, as it would be contrary to law to compel a defendant to answer to a demande, who is not bound by law to do so, and consequently what no court lawfully can do; "whether he be or be not bound to answer," must necessarily be a preliminary inquiry in all cases in which the defendant contends, "that he is not bound to answer." For which reasons, if he does contend "that he is not by law bound to answer," he is required to file, in limine litis, his plea or pleas to this effect, without answering the demande; and hence such pleas are sometimes called "preliminary pleas." ‡ But as the principal allegation of every such plea is, "that in this cause, the court of our lord the king now here, by law cannot proceed," || they are more technically distinguished from pleas which answer the demande (and are thence called "pleas to the action") by the title of "finis de non procéder." § A preliminary plea, or "Fin de non procéder," from its nature, cannot, in any case, be a negative plea. A negative plea necessarily takes issue upon the facts stated in the declaration, and the defendant, by such a plea, instead of shewing "that he is not by law bound to answer," would, in fact, answer the demande. As the defendant must therefore plead affirmatively, the matter on which he relies for the support of his averment ("that he is not by law bound to answer"), all finis de non procéder are exceptions. For the same reason (that is, because they cannot answer the demande), finis de non procéder cannot put in issue the right of action, as it respects either of the parties, or the subject of the suit; they have, in truth, relation to the court only, and are founded upon

Finis de non proceder are divided into three classes, and have reference—To the jurisdiction of the court; to the form of the proceedings, or to some exemption from the common obligation to answer, to which the defendant is entitled.

The defendant therefore may show, that he is not by law bound to answer to the demande of the plaintiff in his declaration contained, by pleading.

1. That by reason of some matter, which he (the defendant) alleges and sets forth, "The court by law cannot proceed in the cause, nor compel him to answer in any manner unto the demande, nor in any way take cognizance of the action of the plaintiff, if any he hath, &c." § for want of jurisdiction; and this is the exception declinatoire, §

2. That by reason of some imperfection, defect, or want of form in the proceedings, i. e., apparent upon the face of the proceedings (7 Pothier, 15), as in the writ of declaration, which he specifically sets forth, and of some law, rule or order which he also sets forth, "the court cannot proceed in the cause, nor compel him to answer, in any manner, unto the demande," because the proceedings are null; and this is the exception à la forme. ¶

3. That by reason of some matter which he alleges and sets out, "the court cannot, at this time, proceed in the cause, nor compel him to answer, in any manner, unto the demande," because the matter so pleaded is such as entitles the defendant, at this time by law, to an exemption from the common obligation to answer; and this is the exception dilatoire.*

When finis de non proceder are allowed, the instance or suit is either suspended until the court has authority to proceed, and to compel an answer, or the writ and process ad respondendum and the declaration are declared to be null and of no effect; the defendant in the latter case being discharged or dismissed out of court, and the plaintiff obliged to sue out a new process ad respondendum; but when they are overruled as frivolous, the defendant, within the time limited by the practice of the court, is bound "to answer to the plaintiff of the demande contained in his declaration," by a plea to the action, of which we will now enquire.†

As that is a preliminary plea, or fin de non proceder, which questions the authority of the court to compel an answer, and does not put in issue the right of action, as it respects either of the parties to the suit, or the subject matter of the suit; so e converso, a plea to the action is that which does put in issue the right of action, as it respects the parties or the subject-matter of the suit, and does not question the authority of the court in any manner.

The right of action is put in issue by a negative plea, denying the case stated in the declaration, in point of fact, or in point of law; and all such pleas are "défenses au fonds"; for, as they contest the very ground or fonds of the plaintiff's demande, by denying the truth of the facts set forth in his declaration, or the validity of the law which he avers to be the result of the facts set forth, they are distinguished from other pleas and from the aggregate of pleas (which is implied by the word défense in its general acceptation) by the particular descriptive title of "défenses au fonds."‡ The right of action is also put in issue by any affirmative plea, which sets forth and pleads any matter relating either to the parties or to the subject of the suit, which of itself is sufficient in law to authorise a judgment for the defendant, notwithstanding the facts set forth in the declaration of the plaintiff; and all such pleas, for the reasons before given, are exceptions:|| but as exceptions of this kind have a tendency in law to bar the plaintiff's action for ever, or to abate it, until the disability, or other effect of the matter pleaded, shall have been removed, they are distinguished from that class of exceptions which, under the title of preliminary pleas, or finis de non procedere, tend merely to show that the defendant is not bound to answer; by the descriptive title of "exceptions péremptoires en droit"; the word péremptoire (from the Latin perimere, to destroy) being used to express their legal effect.*

It is obvious that a defendant can have but two sources of defence,—his own strength and the weakness of his adversary; and, consequently, all pleas to the action must be either "exceptions péremptoires en droit," or "défenses au fonds,"—the former comprehending all pleas to the action which are founded upon the defendant's own strength, that is, upon new facts not stated in the declaration, upon which (having set them forth) they tender an issue to the plaintiff: the latter comprehending all pleas to the action which are founded upon the weakness of the plaintiff, that is, upon the intrinsic inefficiency of the case, which he sets forth in his declaration, in fact or in law, upon which they take issue.

As every défense au fonds refers entirely to the matter which is stated in the declaration, and is grounded wholly upon the insufficiency of that matter in point of fact, or in point of law, to support the plaintiff's suit, a direct denegation of the fact, or of the law, is all that is requisite in such pleas to put the right of action safely in issue with respect to the defendant, and to throw the onus probandi upon the plaintiff. But where the demande must be answered by new facts not stated in the declaration, the defendant, for his own safety, must necessarily set them forth with certainty as to time, place, person, and circumstance; for if he does not, the facts, on which he relies for his defence, cannot benefit him, because they cannot be shewn to the court in evidence; it being one among the first principles of pleading, that the court must judge secundum allegata et probata; and that although facts only should be stated in pleading, yet all material facts must be set out to enable the court to declare the law, which arises upon such facts, and authorises a judgment for the defendant (notwithstanding the facts set forth in the plaintiff's declaration), and to apprise the plaintiff of what is meant to be proved, and thereby enable him to deny what is alleged, or to aver new matter in answer to it, and to come prepared with proof, according to the exigencies of the case.†

Pleas of "défense au fonds" are divided into two classes. 1. "Défense au fonds en droit," which denies the law averred by the plaintiff to be the result of the matters stated in the declaration;* and (2.) "Défense au fonds en fait," which denies the truth of the matters stated in the declaration.† In the défense au fonds en droit, the defendant, for "answer au fonds" to the demande of the plaintiff in his declaration contained," avers, "that the allegations of the plaintiff and the matters and things in his declaration set forth and contained, and each and every of them, is and are wholly and altogether unfounded in law, and not sufficient therein for the plaintiff to have or maintain against him (the defendant) the conclusions in his declaration taken, or any or either of them, or the action of him (the said plaintiff) in this behalf," and therefore (by his conclusions) "he prays that, by the judgment of the court, the action of the plaintiff in this behalf may be dismissed."‡ In the défense au fonds en fait, the defendant, in like manner, for "answer au fonds" to the demande of the plaintiff in his declaration contained," avers, "that the allegations of the plaintiff, and the matters and things in the said declaration contained, and each and every of them, is and are wholly and altogether unfounded in fact and untrue, &c.", and therefore (by his conclusion) "he prays that, by the judgment of the court, the action of him (the said plaintiff) in this behalf be dismissed."||

Pleas of "exceptions péremptoires en droit" are, in like manner, divided into two classes: 1. Perpetual § exceptions péremptoires en droit; and (2.) temporary exceptions péremptoires en droit; and these distinguishing titles are derived from the legal effect of these pleas respectively. Both are equally peremptory, because both equally destroy the action to which they are pleaded, but their ulterior effect is not the same. A judgment in favor of the defendant, upon a perpetual exception péremptoire en droit, is a perpetual bar to the action in which it is pronounced, and hence the name of "exception perpétuelle." But a judgment in favor of a defendant, upon a temporary exception péremptoire en droit, does no more than abate the plaintiff's action, until the disability, or other effect of the matter pleaded and allowed, ¶ is removed, and therefore it is a bar to the action for a time only, and hence the title of exception temporaire. A plea ad instantiam peremptam :

In the perpetual exception péremptoire en droit, the defendant, "for answer unto the demande of the plaintiff in his declaration contained," sets forth and libels the special facts which constitute the ground of his exception, which he offers to prove "when and as the court shall direct," averring that by reason thereof, "the plaintiff by law cannot at any time have or maintain any action against him (the defendant), for or by reason of the matters or things in his declaration set forth and alleged, or of any or either of them"; and therefore (by his conclusion) he prays "that for the causes aforesaid, by the judgment of the court, the action of the plaintiff in this behalf may be dismissed."* In the temporary exception péremptoire en droit, the defendant, in like manner, "for answer unto the demande of the plaintiff in his declaration contained," sets forth and libels the special facts which constitute the ground of the exception, which he offers "to prove when and as the court shall direct," averring that, by reason thereof, "the plaintiff by law cannot, at this time, have or maintain his action against him (the defendant), for or by reason of the matters and things in his declaration set forth and alleged, or of any or either of them," and therefore (by his conclusions) he prays "that for the causes aforesaid, by the judgment of the court, the action of the plaintiff in this behalf be, for the present, † dismissed."

Exceptions péremptoires en droit do not impeach or deny the case stated in the declaration, and therefore cannot, in any instance, involve or call for any consideration of the intrinsic merits of that case; as the exceptio of the Roman law and the plea in chancery, "they insist that the matter of the demande is not to be put in issue." (Gilbert's Forum Romanum, p. 64.) They invariably set forth some new matter, which shows (notwithstanding the matter set forth in the declaration) that the plaintiff's action must by law be dismissed for the present, or

for ever.* But as the new matter which they set forth is sometimes foreign to the matter set forth in the declaration and sometimes connected with it—sometimes have reference to the merits of the plaintiff's demand, and sometimes have none,—they are distinguished (by reference to that which they allege, and on which they are respectively founded) into " fins de non recevoir," and " fins de non valoir."† Those exceptions are fins de non recevoir in which the matter set forth is sufficient in law (whether the case stated in the declaration be true or false) to authorise a judgment in the defendant's favor, dismissing the plaintiff's action for the present, or for ever, as where the defendant pleads, that the plaintiff is an alien enemy, which is a temporary exception péremptoire en droit, or pleads the long prescription of thirty years, which is a perpetual exception péremptoire en droit: ‡ and such exceptions are denominated fins de non recevoir, because the matter which they plead shews that the plaintiff cannot legally be received or admitted by the court to prosecute the suit which he has instituted. || Those exceptions, on the other hand, are fins de non valoir, in which the matter set forth necessarily admits and confesses the case stated in the declaration, but avoids or discharges it for the present, or for ever, and is therefore sufficient in law to authorise a judgment in the defendant's favor dismissing the plaintiff's action; as where the defendant pleads "term for payment unexpired," which is an exception péremptoire en droit temporaire, or pleads "accord and satisfaction," or " chose jugée" (res judicata) which are exceptions péremptoires en droit perpétuelles, and such exceptions are denominated " fins de non valoir," because the matter which they plead shews that although the plaintiff may have a legal cause of action hereafter, or heretofore had a legal cause of action, yet, that he cannot now avail himself of it. § Fins de non recevoir and fins de non valoir

* The office of a plea in bar at law or in equity is to confess the right to sue, avoiding that by matter dehors—giving the plaintiff an acknowledgment of his right, independent of the matter alleged by the plea,—that is, the plea admits the bill, but interposes matter, which, if true, destroys it.

AN ACT

RESPECTING THE CODIFICATION OF THE LAWS OF LOWER CANADA
RELATIVE TO CIVIL MATTERS AND PROCEDURE.

(Consolidated Statutes for Lower Canada, Chapter II.)

WHEREAS the laws of Lower Canada in civil matters are mainly those which, at the time of the cession of the country to the British Crown, were in force in that part of France then governed by the custom of Paris, modified by provincial statutes, or by the introduction of portions of the law of England in peculiar cases; and it therefore happens that the great body of the laws, in that division of the province, exist only in a language which is not the mother tongue of the inhabitants thereof of British origin, while other portions are not to be found in the mother tongue of those of French origin; And whereas the laws and customs in force in France, at the period above mentioned, have there been altered and reduced to one general code, so that the old laws still in force in Lower Canada are no longer re-printed or commented upon in France, and it is becoming more and more difficult to obtain copies of them, or of the commentaries upon them; And whereas the reasons aforesaid, and the great advantages which have resulted from codification, as well in France as in the state of Louisiana, and other places, render it manifestly expedient to provide for the codification of the civil laws of Lower Canada: Therefore, her majesty, by and with the advice and consent of the Legislative Council and Assembly of Canada, enacts as follows:

1. The governor may appoint three fit and proper persons, barristers of Lower Canada, to be commissioners for codifying the laws of that division of the province in civil matters, and two fit and proper persons, being also such barristers, to be secretaries to the commission, one of whom shall be a person whose mother tongue is English but who is well versed in the French language, and the other a person whose mother tongue is French but who is well versed in the English language.—20 V., c. 43, s. 1.

2. Any judge or judges of the court of queen's bench or of the superior court for Lower

Canada may be appointed a commissioner or commissioners under this act; and if any such judge is so appointed, the governor may appoint any barrister of at least ten years' standing at the bar of Lower Canada, to be and act as an assistant judge of either of the said courts,—or any judge of the superior court to be and act as an assistant judge of the court of queen's bench, and a barrister as aforesaid to supply his place as judge of the superior court, as an assistant judge thereof,—for and during the time that the judge, appointed a commissioner under this act, continues to be such commissioner :

2. Every assistant judge so appointed shall, during the said time, have and exercise all the powers and authority and perform all the duties by law vested in or assigned to a judge of the court of which he is appointed an assistant judge, as if he had been appointed a judge of such court, and shall reside at the place to be named for that purpose from time to time by the governor; and in case of the vacancy of the office of any such assistant judge, another may be appointed in his stead in like manner and with like effect.—20 V. c. 43, s. 2.

3. The said commissioners and secretaries shall hold their offices during pleasure, and in cases of vacancy, the governor may appoint another or others to fill the same, and so on until the work is completed.—Ibid., s. 3.

4. The said commissioners shall reduce into one code, to be called the Civil Code of Lower Canada, those provisions of the laws of Lower Canada which relate to civil matters and are of a general and permanent character, whether they relate to commercial cases or to those of any other nature: but they shall not include in the said code any of the laws relating to the seigniorial or feudal tenure.—Ibid., s. 4.

5. The said commissioners shall reduce into another code, to be called the Code of Civil Procedure of Lower Canada, those provisions of the laws of Lower Canada which relate to procedure in civil matters and cases, and are of a general and permanent character.—Ibid., s. 5.

6. In framing the said codes, the said commissioners shall embody therein such provisions only as they hold to be then actually in force, and they shall give the authorities on which they believe them to be so; they may suggest such amendments as they think desirable, but shall state such amendments separately and distinctly, with the reasons on which they are founded.—Ibid., s. 6.

7. The said codes shall be framed upon the same general plan, and shall contain, as nearly as may be found convenient, the like amount of detail upon each subject, as the French codes known as the Code Civil, the Code de Commerce, and the Code de Procédure Civile.—Ibid., s. 7.

the codes shall be of the same general nature, and shall contain, as far as may be found consistent, the like amount of detail on each subject, as is known as the Code de Commerce, the Code de Procédure, &c.—Ibid., s. 7.

8. The commissioners shall, from time to time, report to the governor their proceedings and the progress of the work entrusted to them, and shall, in all matters not expressly provided for by this act, be guided by the instructions they receive from the governor; and whenever they think any section or division of the work sufficiently advanced for the purpose, they shall cause the same to be printed, and transmit a sufficient number of printed copies thereof with their report to the governor:

2. And if the governor in council thinks it advisable, he shall cause one or more of such copies to be transmitted to each of the judges of the court of queen's bench and superior court for Lower Canada, with a request that he will return the same, with his remarks thereon, by a day to be named in the letter containing such request.—20 Vic., c. 43, s. 8.

9. Each of the said judges shall examine the portion of the commissioners' work so submitted to him, and return the same by the day named as aforesaid, with his remarks, and he shall more especially examine carefully that part of the work purporting to state the law then in force, and report distinctly his opinion, whether the law, as it then stands, is correctly stated therein, and in what paragraph or paragraphs (if any) it is incorrectly stated, with his reasons and authorities, and a draft of the amendments which he thought, in his opinion, to be made in such paragraph or paragraphs, in order that the law may be correctly stated therein.—Ibid., s. 9.

10. The judges or any of them may, in their report on any portion of the said work referred to them, make suggestions for the amendment of the law contained in such portion, with the reasons on which such suggestions are founded.—Ibid., s. 10.

11. At any time when any portion of the said work is before the judges for their report, they or any of them may confer with the commissioners or any of them, touching the same; and the commissioners shall, in any such conference, give all such information and explanation as it is in their power to afford, and as the judges may require, relative to any statement of the law as it then stands, or any suggestion for its amendment, which the commissioners have made in such portion of their work as aforesaid.—Ibid., s. 11.

12. The reports of the judges shall be communicated to the commissioners, who shall make such corrections in their work as they find advisable after having taken into consideration the reports and suggestions of the judges; but if any of the judges do not send in their reports by the day named for that purpose, this shall not prevent the codes from being completed and submitted to the legislature as hereinafter provided.—Ibid., s. 12.

13. The commissioners shall, from time to time, incorporate, with the proper portions of the said codes, such amendments of the actual law as the governor in council thinks it right to recommend for adoption by the legislature, after considering the reports of the commissioners, and those of the judges, if any; but such amendments shall be carefully distinguished from the actual law.—20 Vic., c. 43, s. 13.

14. When the said codes, or either of them, are completed, with such amendments as last mentioned, printed copies thereof and of the reports of the commissioners, and of the judges if any, shall be laid before the legislature, in order that such code or codes may be made law by enactment; and if it is found advisable that either of the said codes be completed and submitted to the legislature before the other, the Civil Code of Lower Canada shall be the first so completed and submitted:

2. Either house may propose any amendments to either code, but such amendments shall be proposed by resolutions which may be passed by one house and sent to the other for its concurrence, and shall be subject to amendment by the other, and to be otherwise dealt with as a bill might be, until finally agreed to by both houses, and shall then be communicated to the commissioners, who shall, with all possible despatch, incorporate the substance of the amendments so agreed to with the proper code, which may then be passed as a bill, at the same or any future session.—Ibid., s. 14.

15. The said codes and the reports of the commissioners shall be framed and made in the French and English languages, and the two texts, when printed, shall stand side by side.—Ibid., s. 15.

16. Any two of the commissioners may make any report or do any other thing which the commissioners are hereby empowered to do; saving the right of the third commissioner, if so advised, to make a separate report, or enter his dissent and the reasons thereof in the minutes of the proceedings of the commission.—Ibid., s. 16.

17. The commissioners shall be remunerated for their services at such rate as the governor in council shall determine, not exceeding sixteen dollars per diem to each commissioner while employed in the performance of his duties, nor five thousand dollars per annum to any commissioner, and the said secretaries shall be remunerated for their services at such rate not exceeding three thousand four hundred dollars per annum, as the governor in council shall determine, but the said secretaries shall give their whole time to the duties of their office.—Ibid., s. 17.

AN ACT

RESPECTING THE CODE OF CIVIL PROCEDURE OF LOWER CANADA.

(29-30 Vict., Chap. 25.)

WHEREAS the commissioners appointed under the second chapter of the consolidated statutes for Lower Canada, to codify the laws of that division of the province in civil matters, have completed that portion of their work mentioned in the said act as the Code of Civil Procedure of Lower Canada, embodying therein such provisions only as they hold to be now actually in force, and giving the authorities on which they believe them to be so, and have suggested such amendments as they think desirable, stating such amendments separately and distinctly, with the reasons on which they are founded; and have in all respects complied with the requirements of the said act as regards the said code and amendments; and whereas the said code, with the amendments suggested by the said commissioners, has, by command of the governor, been laid before the legislature in order that the said code, with such amendments as may be adopted by the legislature, may be made law by enactment; and whereas such of the amendments suggested by the commissioners, and such other amendments as are mentioned in the resolutions contained in the schedule hereunto annexed, have been finally agreed to by both houses: therefore, her majesty, by and with the advice and consent of the legislative council and assembly of Canada, enacts as follows:—

1. The printed roll attested as that of the said code of civil procedure of Lower Canada, under the signature of his excellency the governor-general, that of the clerk of the legislative council, and that of the clerk of the legislative assembly, and deposited in the office of the clerk of the legislative council, shall be held to be the original thereof reported by the commissioners as containing the existing law without amendment: but the marginal notes, and the references to existing laws or authorities at the foot of the several articles of the said code, shall form no part thereof, and shall be held to have been inserted for convenience of reference only, and may be omitted or corrected.

2. The commissioners under the act mentioned in the preamble of this act shall incorporate the amendments mentioned in the resolutions contained in the schedule to this act, with the schedule hereunto have been finally by both houses: Her Majesty, by and with the advice and consent of the Executive Council and Legislative Council of Lower Canada, enacts as follows:

1. The printed roll attested under the said code of civil procedure of Lower Canada, the signature of his excellency the governor-general, the clerk of the legislative council, and that of the speaker of the legislative assembly deposited in the office of the clerk of the legislative council, shall be held to be the original thereof reported by the commissioners as containing the law without the marginal references to the several articles of the said code, shall form the original thereof, and shall be held to be inserted in the office of reference may be omitted or

2. The commissioners undermentioned in the preamble shall incorporate the amendments mentioned in the schedule contained in this act, with the said code of civil procedure as contained in the roll aforesaid, adapting their form and language (when necessary) to those of the said code, but without changing their effect, inserting them in their proper places, and striking out of the said code any part thereof inconsistent with the said amendments.

3. The governor may also select any acts and parts of acts passed during the present session, which he may deem it advisable to be incorporated with the said code, and may cause them to be so incorporated by the said commissioners, in the manner hereinbefore prescribed with respect to the amendments above mentioned, striking out of the code or amendments any part thereof inconsistent with the acts or parts of acts incorporated therewith.

4. The commissioners may alter the numbering of the titles and articles of the said code or their order if need be, and make the necessary changes in any reference from one part of the code to another, and may correct any misprint or error, whether of commission or omission, or any contradiction or ambiguity, in the original roll, but without changing its effect.

5. So soon as the said work of incorporation and correction shall have been completed, the said commissioners shall cause the code to be reprinted as amended and corrected, carefully distinguishing in such reprint the substantive amendments and additions made in or to the original roll, and shall submit the same to the governor, who may cause a correct printed roll thereof, attested under his signature, and countersigned by the provincial secretary, or one of the assistant provincial secretaries, to be deposited in the office of the clerk of the legislative council, which roll shall be held to be the original thereof; any such marginal notes or references thereon as are mentioned in section one, being held to form no part thereof, but to be inserted for convenience of reference only.

6. The governor in council may, after such deposit of the roll last mentioned, declare by proclamation the day on, from, and after which the said code, as contained in the said roll, shall come into force and have effect as law, by the designation of "The Code of Civil Procedure of Lower Canada," and upon, from and after such day the said code shall be in force accordingly.

7. The laws relating to the distribution of the printed copies of the statutes shall not apply to the said code, which shall be distributed in such numbers and to such persons only as the governor in council may direct.

8. This act and the proclamation mentioned in section six, shall be printed with the copies of the said code printed for distribution as aforesaid.

9. So much of the act cited in the preamble as may be inconsistent with this act is hereby repealed.

ed and corrected, having carefully distinguished in such reprint the substantive amendments and additions made in or to the original roll, and have submitted the same to the administrator of the government of our said province of Canada; and whereas all the provisions of the first five sections of the above act have been duly carried into effect; and whereas the administrator of the government of our said province of Canada, after the provisions contained in the first five sections of the said act had been as above and in every other particular duly carried into effect, hath caused a correct printed roll of the said code of civil procedure, attested under his signature, and countersigned by the provincial secretary, to be deposited in the office of the clerk of the legislative council; and whereas the said administrator of the government of our said province of Canada, after such deposit of the said printed roll of the said code of civil procedure, hath, by and with the advice and consent of our executive council for the said province, fixed the twenty-eighth day of June instant, as the day on, from and after which the said code, as contained in the said roll, shall come into force and have effect as law, by the designation of "The Code of Civil Procedure of Lower Canada"; Now know ye, that by and with the advice of our executive council for the said province of Canada, we do, by this our royal proclamation, declare that on, from and after the twenty-eighth day of June instant, the said last-mentioned roll, attested under the signature of the administrator of the government of our said province of Canada, countersigned by the provincial secretary, and deposited in the office of the clerk of the legislative council of the said province as aforesaid, shall come into force and have effect as law by the designation of "The Code of Civil Procedure of Lower Canada", of all which our loving subjects of our said province, and all others whom these presents may concern, are hereby required to take notice and to govern themselves accordingly.

In testimony whereof, we have caused these our letters to be made patent, and the great seal of our said province of Canada to be hereunto affixed; witness, our trusty and well-beloved Sir John Michel, K. C. B., administrator of the government of our province of Canada, and lieutenant-generale commanding our forces therein, &c., &c. At our government house, in our city of Ottawa, in our said province of Canada, this twenty-second day of June, in the year of our Lord, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-seven, and in the thirty-first year of our reign.

By order.

WM. McDUGALL,
Secretary.

AN ACT

RESPECTING THE AUTHENTICATION AND CUSTODY OF REGISTERS OF CIVIL STATUTES.

(32 Victoria, chapter 26.)

Assented to 5th April, 1869.

HER MAJESTY, by and with the advice and consent of the legislature of Quebec, enacts as follows:

1. Article 1236 of the code of civil procedure is hereby amended, by inserting after the words, "the seal of the superior court," the words, "or the seal of the circuit court."

2. Article 45 of the civil code is amended, by striking out the words, "or to the clerk of the circuit court, instead of the prothonotary, in the case specified in the statute 25 Vict., c. 16," in the said article, and substituting therefor the words, "or to a clerk of the circuit court in the county."

3. Article 47 of the civil code is amended so as to read as follows:

"Within the first six weeks of each year, the person who kept the said registers, or who has charge thereof, deposits in the prothonotary's office of the superior court of his district, one of the said duplicates, the delivery of which is acknowledged by a receipt which the said prothonotary is bound to give, free of charge."

4. Article 48 of the civil code is amended, by striking out the words "or clerk," in the said article.

5. Within three months after the passing of this act, all clerks of the circuit court in any county shall deliver to the prothonotary of the superior court of the district in which such county is situate, all registers of civil status then in their possession.

6. Together with the copy of the portions of the civil code required, by article 1237 of the code of civil procedure, to be attached to the duplicate register mentioned in the said article, a copy of this act shall likewise be attached.

7. All registers which, since the coming into force of the code of civil procedure, have been authenticated by any clerk of the circuit court, and sealed with the seal of the said court, shall be held to have been, and to be, as legally authenticated as if article 1236 of the said code of civil procedure had originally been enacted as amended by section one of this act.

AN ACT

TO AMEND 32 VICT., CHAP. 22, RESPECTING JURORS AND JURIES.

(33 Vic., c. 13, stat. of Q.)

Assented to 1st February, 1870.

HER MAJESTY, by and with the advice and consent of the legislature of Quebec, enacts as follows:

1. In addition to the persons exempt absolutely by article 360 of the code of civil procedure from serving as jurors in civil cases, the following persons shall likewise be absolutely exempt:

1. Members of the privy council, or of the senate, or of the house of commons of Canada, or persons in the employ of the government of Canada;

2. Members of the executive council, legislative council or legislative assembly of Quebec, or persons in the employ of the government of Quebec, or of the legislature thereof;

3. The clerk, treasurer, and other municipal officers of the cities of Quebec and Montreal;

4. Officers, non-commissioned officers and privates of the active militia;

5. Registrars.

6. The persons mentioned in section twenty-three of the act fourth and fifth Victoria, chapter ninety.

2. Article 376 of the said code of civil procedure is hereby amended by substituting for the words "twenty-five dollars," in the said article, the words "one hundred dollars."

3. When more than one member of any commercial firm have been summoned to attend as jurors, before any court, or upon any trial in civil or criminal cases, the court or judge presiding at such trial may, in his discretion, exempt all the members except one of such firm, notwithstanding that no notice may have been given of the intention to claim exemption.

4. Sections two and three of the act thirty-second Victoria, chapter twenty-two, in so far as regards the value of the property required to qualify grand and petit jurors, shall not apply to the county of Gaspé, but in that county such value shall be as follows:

For grand jurors, in the case of proprietors, an assessed total value of over one thousand dollars, and, in the case of occupants and lessees, an assessed annual value of above one hundred dollars.

For petit jurors, in the case of proprietors, an assessed total value of at least four hundred dollars, but not more than one thousand dollars, and, in the case of occupants and lessees, an assessed annual value of at least forty dollars, but not more than one hundred dollars.

AN ACT

TO AMEND CERTAIN ARTICLES IN THE CODE OF CIVIL PROCEDURE
OF LOWER CANADA.

Assented to 1st February, 1870.

HER MAJESTY, by and with the advice and consent of the legislature of Quebec, enacts as follows :

1. Notwithstanding the provisions of articles 48, 84, 248, 461, 555, 559, 809, 836, 857, 899, 1081 and 1082 of the code of civil procedure of Lower Canada, all writs of summons, of attachment for rent, of attachment in revendication, of attachment before or after judgment, seizure in execution, caapias, subpoena or order, issuing either from the superior or circuit court, may be addressed either to the sheriff or to any bailiff of the district, in which such writ issues; and may be by them served or executed in such district or in any other district, or to the sheriff or to any bailiff of such other district in which such writ is to be served or executed.

2. Paragraph eight of article 606, of the said code, is amended by striking out all the words thereof after the words "costs of suit."

3. Article 129 of the code of civil procedure is amended, so as to read as follows :

"129.—The application for security for costs may be made before the court or before a judge or prothonotary in vacation, and may be adjudicated upon forthwith.

"If the person bound to give security fails to do so within such time as the court, judge or prothonotary may fix, the opposite party may obtain a judgment of non-suit.

"Saving the foregoing provision, any person from whom security may be demanded in virtue of article 29 of the civil code, may at any time, whether the same has been demanded or not, put in such security after one clear day's notice to the opposite party."

AN ACT

TO FACILITATE THE TAKING OF EVIDENCE IN CIVIL CASES.

(33 Vic., c. 18, stat. of Q.)

Assented to 1st February, 1870.

HER MAJESTY, by and with the advice and consent of the legislature of Quebec, enacts as follows :

1. Notwithstanding any provisions of articles 239, 240, 263, 280, 284, 285, 287, 288, and 1075 of the code of civil procedure of Lower Canada, all depositions of witnesses in cases before the superior court, or before the circuit court, may, as regards default cases and also by consent of the parties or of their attorneys as regards contested cases, be taken at any stage of the proceedings, at any place, on any juridical day, in or out of term, and may, after being so taken, be sworn to before a commissioner of the superior court.

2. The provisions of the foregoing section shall apply with retroactive effect to all depositions already taken in cases now pending, but shall not in any manner affect any judgment of a court already rendered or any proceedings had or to be had in virtue of such judgment.

CODE OF CIVIL PROCEDURE.

PART FIRST.

GENERAL PROVISIONS.

1. The place, time, and duration of the sittings of the different courts are regulated by particular statutes. The court may, according to circumstances, shorten the terms thus fixed, or it may prolong them, by adjournment, either from day to day, or to any subsequent day before the following term; and at any sitting, held in virtue of such adjournment, the court may hear and determine all cases brought before it, whether such cases were begun before or since such adjournment. Courts cannot sit on non-judicial days; nor can they sit between the ninth of July and the first of September, except as regards proceedings concerning corporations and public offices, oppositions to marriages, applications for writs of habeas corpus in civil matters, suits before commissioners' courts for the summary trial of small causes, suits between lessors and lessees, the proceedings regulated by the first title of the second book of part second, (arts. 796-876,) and as regards the districts of Gaspé, of Saguenay, and of Chicoutimi, and the Court of Queen's Bench.—C. S. L. C., c. 78, ss. 16, 17, 18; c. 82, s. 4; c. 83, ss. 15, 37, 79; c. 40, ss. 5, 6.

2. The following days are non-judicial:

1. Sundays;

2. New Year's Day, the Epiphany, the Annunciation, Good Friday, the Ascension, Corpus Christi, St. Peter and St. Paul's Day, All Saints' Day, [the Conception,] and Christmas Day;

3. [The birthday of the Sovereign;]

(Easter-Monday and Ash-Wednesday have been added,

NOTE.—The changes and additions made, in virtue of the statute of 1866, intituled "An Act respecting the Code of Civil Procedure of Lower Canada," and those contained in the schedule of resolutions appended to the said statute, are in this Code inserted between brackets [].

4. Any day appointed by royal proclamation or by proclamation of the governor as a day of general fast or thanksgiving; [but any writ of summons, or other proceeding, which, before such proclamation, has been made returnable on a day so fixed, may be returned on the next following judicial day.]—12 V., c. 10, s. 5; c. 22, s. 26;—C. S. L. C., c. 64, s. 32;—C. S. C., c. 5, s. 6, § 12;—C. P. L. 207.

3. If the day on which any thing ought to be done in pursuance of the law is a non-judicial day, such thing may be done with like effect on the next following judicial day.—C. S. L. C., c. 82, s. 5.

4. Persons present at sittings of the courts must remain uncovered, and in silence.—C. P. C. 88.

5. All orders given by the court or a sitting judge for the maintenance of good order during the sittings must be instantly obeyed. The word "judge" used alone, either in this code, or in the civil code, means in like manner the chief-justice, or any assistant judge of the same court, unless the contrary is expressed.—Ibid.

6. The provisions of the two last preceding articles must likewise be observed wherever judges are in the exercise of their functions.—Ibid.

7. Any person who, during the sitting of the court or of a judge, disturbs order, utters signs of approbation or disapprobation, or refuses to withdraw or to obey the orders of the judge, or the admonitions of the criers or other officers of the court, may be condemned at once to a fine or imprisonment, or both, according to the discretion of the court or judge. Ibid. 89.—1 Tidd's Practice, p. 479, 480.—11 Geo. 8. If the disturbance is caused by a person discharging any function before the court, he may, in addition to the punishment imposed in the preceding article, be suspended from such function.—C. P. C. 90.

9 The courts, in all cases brought before them, may, according to circumstances, even of their own accord, pronounce orders or reprimands, and suppress writings, or declare them libellous.—C. P. C. 1036.

10. The court or presiding judge may appoint an interpreter and allow him a reasonable compensation, which forms part of the costs of the suit.—C. S. L. C., c. 83, s. 36.

11. Any court or any judge thereof, may require an oath when it is deemed necessary, and may, in such case, as well as in any case when an oath is required by law, or the rules of practice, administer the same.

13. No person can bring a suit at law unless he has an interest therein.—2 Prevot de la Jannée, p. 367.—1 Pigeau, pp. 41, 61, 62.—C. P. L. 15.

14. No person can be a party to suit, either as claimant or defendant, in any form whatever, unless he has the free exercise of his rights, saving where special provisions apply.

—Those who have not the free exercise of their rights must be represented, assisted or authorized in the manner prescribed by the laws which regulate their particular status or capacity.—All foreign corporations or persons, duly authorized under any foreign law to appear in judicial proceedings, may do so before any court in Lower Canada.—Any person who, according to the laws of a foreign country, is authorized to represent a person who has died or made his will therein, leaving property in Lower Canada, may also appear as such in judicial proceedings before any court in Lower Canada.—1 Pigeau, 63 et suiv.—C. P. Genève, 2.—C. P. C. Louis., cc. 5, 6.—C. S. L. C., c. 91, ss. 1, 2.

15. Several causes of action may be joined in the same suit, provided they are not incompatible or contradictory, that they seek condemnation of a like nature, that their joinder is not prohibited by some express provision, and that they are susceptible of the same mode of trial.—A creditor cannot divide his debt for the purpose of suing for the several portions of it by different actions.—1 Pigeau, 38.—Ord. 1667, tit. xx., art. 6.—C. 16. No judicial demand can be adjudicated upon unless the party against whom it is made has been heard or duly summoned.—1 Pigeau, 489.—C. P. Genève, 3.—Seligman, 24.

17. The court cannot adjudicate beyond the conclusions of a suit, but it may reduce them and grant them only in part.—Ord. 1667, tit. 35, art. 34.—C. P. L. 155.

18. A party who brings a suit for less than he is entitled to, upon the same cause of action, may remedy the omission by an incidental supplementary demand in the same suit before judgment rendered.—C. P. Louis., 156, 157.—1 Pigeau, 337.

19. No person can use the name of another to plead, except the crown, through its recognised officers. Tutors, curators and others representing persons who have not the free exercise of their rights, plead in their own name in their respective qualities. Corporations plead in their corporate name.—2 Loisel Instit. liv. 4, tit. iii, art. 5;—liv. 3, tit. ii, art. 4.

20. In any judicial proceeding it is sufficient that the facts and conclusions be distinctly and fairly stated, without any particular form being necessary, and such statements are interpreted according to the meaning of words in ordinary language.—C. S. L. C., c. 83, ss. 77, 78.—C. C. P. Louis., 161. (Art. 144 post.)

21. All provisions and rules concerning procedure are interpreted with reference to each other and in such a manner as to give them all the effect intended; and whenever this code does not contain any provision for enforcing or maintaining some particular right or just claim, or any rule applicable thereto, any proceeding adopted which is not inconsistent with law or the provisions of this code is received and held to be valid.—C. S. L. C., c. 82, s. 1.

22. No public officer or other person fulfilling any public duty or function can be sued for damages by reason of any act done by him in the exercise of his functions, nor can any verdict or judgment be rendered against him, unless notice of such suit has been given him at least one month before the issuing of the writ of summons.—Such notice must be in writing, it must specify the grounds of the action, must be served upon him personally or at his domicile, and must state the name and residence of the plaintiff's attorney or agent.—C. S. L. C., c. 100, s. 1.

23. Any party to a suit may appear and plead either in person or through the ministry of an attorney at law.—25 Geo. III., c. 2, ss. 1, 36.

24. Neither the day of service nor the terminal day is counted in the delays fixed for summoning.—Delays continue to run upon Sundays and holidays; but if a delay expires on a holiday, it is of right extended to the next following day.—The same rule applies to all other delays in procedure.—C. S. L. C., c. 110, s. 1, § 2.—1 Carré et Chauveau, P. H. j. no. 109.—1 Pigeau, 393.—Guyot, Rép. vo. Délai, p. 344.—Ord. 1667, tit. iii., art. 6.—Lavielle, Etudes sur la Procédure, p. 95.—C. P. C. 1033.—C. P. L. 318.

25. Whenever a record is required by law to be transmitted from one court to another, or to a different place, the transmission may be effected through the post-office, and the party requiring it is bound to advance the postage to the person charged to make such transmission; and for any delay caused by the neglect of such party to pay such postage, he is deemed to be in fault. With the consent of all the parties, the record may be transmitted by any other means.—C. S. L. C., c. 82, s. 6.

26. [The provisions of article 17 of the Civil Code apply to this Code. Any copy of this Code, whether designated as Code of Civil Procedure of Lower Canada, or as The Code of Civil Procedure of Lower Canada, or any copy of the Civil Code, whether designated as Civil Code of Lower

SECOND PART.

PROCEDURE BEFORE THE DIFFERENT COURTS.

BOOK FIRST.

SUPERIOR COURT.

PRELIMINARY PROVISIONS.

28. The superior court has original jurisdiction in all suits or actions which are not exclusively within the jurisdiction of the circuit court or of the admiralty.—C. S. L. C., c. 78, ss. 2, 3.

29. The judges of the superior court, or any ten or more of them, may, from time to time, make any rules of practice that may be necessary for regulating proceedings, in or out of term, in causes and matters brought before them, whether in the superior or in the circuit court, and all other matters of procedure not regulated by this code; provided such rules be not inconsistent with the provisions of this code.—C. S. L. C., c. 83, ss. 38, 108, § 13, s. 148.—All rules of practice thus made by such judges and signed by them, are, without any other formality, and immediately upon receipt thereof, or of a copy thereof certified by the prothonotary of the superior court having custody of the original thereof, entered in the registers of each of the said courts respectively, at each place where it is held, and have then full force and effect in the district or circuit where it has been so registered.—Ibid., c. 83, s. 148, § 2.—The judges of the superior court, or any ten or more of them, may also make any tariffs of fees for the counsel, advocates, and attorneys, examiners and other officers appointed by the superior court, whose salaries are not, by law, fixed by the governor in council; and all such tariffs must be promulgated in the manner prescribed by the rules of practice. The governor in council may make, modify, revoke or amend the tariffs of fees payable to prothonotaries, clerks, sheriffs, coroners, and clerks, in accordance with the provisions of chapter 93 of the consolidated statutes for Lower Canada. And any officer or other person receiving any other or greater fees or emoluments than are specified in the tariff for the circuit court, for the discharge of the duties and services therein mentioned, is liable to a penalty of eighty dollars for each offence, as mentioned in chapter 83 of the consolidated statutes for Lower Canada.

30. Every judge, prothonotary, and clerk, and every commissioner authorized for that purpose, as hereinafter mentioned, has a right to administer and receive the oath, whenever it is required by law, by rules of practice, or by order of a court or judge, or the affirmation in the cases which admit of it, unless such right be restricted by some provision of law.—Any judge of the superior court may, in the district in which he discharges his functions, empower, by one or more commissions, under the seal of the court, as many persons as may be necessary in any district, as commissioners to receive affidavits therein, to be used in the superior court or the circuit court.—C. S. L. C., c. 82, s. 10.—The chief-justice of the superior court, and any other judge of the same court, and, in the case of the death of the chief justice, or of his absence from the province, any two judges of the said court may, by one or more commissions under the seal of the court, appoint as many persons as they think necessary, within the limits of Upper Canada, as commissioners to receive affidavits therein, to be used in any court of record in Lower Canada.—C. S. C., c. 79, s. 2.—The governor may likewise, from time to time, appoint fit persons, residing in any part of Great Britain and Ireland, or in any of the English colonies, as commissioners for receiving such affidavits.—C. S. L. C., c. 82, s. 12.—Every deposition or affidavit thus received, has the same force and effect, and is entitled to the same credence as if it had been received in open Court.—C. S. L. C., c. 82, s. 10, § 2.—The provisions of the 26 Vic., chap. 41, give like force and effect to all affidavits received before a commissioner authorized by the lord chancellor to administer affidavits in chancery, in England; or before a notary public, under his hand and official seal; or before the mayor or chief magistrate of any city, borough, or incorporated town in Great Britain or Ireland, in any of Her Majesty's colonies, or in

The words "commissioner of the superior court," whenever they are used in this code, mean a commissioner appointed under any of the provisions of this article.

31. If a party establishes, under oath, that he does not possess sufficient means to make the necessary disbursements, the court or a judge, on being satisfied, by affidavit, that such party has a good cause of action, or a good defence, may grant him leave to plead in formâ pauperis, and may order all officers of justice to afford him their services without any remuneration; but such party, if he fails in the suit, is not exempt from condemnation to pay costs to the other party.—C. S. L. C., c. 82, s. 24;—1 Tidd's Prac., p. 97;—Edit. de 1837, p. 63-4;—Laya, 393.

32. Such leave may, however, be revoked by the court or judge, upon proof that the party was or has since become able to make the necessary disbursements.—Ibid., § 2.

33. [If a party, proceeding in formâ pauperis, obtains judgment in his favor, the other party may be condemned to pay costs, including those of the officers of justice, who are then entitled to an execution to obtain payment thereof from such party, by way of distraction.—No more than one execution can, however, be issued for all the taxed costs remaining unpaid; it is issued at the instance of the prothonotary, or of any party interested, and the moneys are returned into the office of the prothonotary, who pays the same, free of charge, to the parties entitled thereto.]—Tidd's Prac., p. 98-9.

34. In matters purely personal, other than those mentioned in articles 35, 36, 38, 40, and 42, the defendant may be summoned either—1, before the court of his domicile; 2, before the court of the place where the demand is served upon him personally; or 3, before the court of the place where the right of action originated.—C. S. L. C., c. 82, s. 26.

35. In every suit for separation from bed and board, or for separation of property only, the defendant must be summoned before the court of the domicile of the husband.—C. C. 192.

36. Every suit in damages against a public officer, by reason of any act done by him in the exercise of his functions, must be brought before the court of the place where such act was committed.—C. S. L. C., c. 101, s. 3.

37. In every real or mixed action the defendant may be summoned before the court of his domicile or before that of the place where the object of dispute is situated.—C. S. L. C., c. 82, ss. 27, 28, 30.

38. In matters purely personal, if there are several defendants in the same suit, residing in different jurisdictions, they may all be brought before the court of the jurisdiction where one of them has been summoned in conformity with article 34. In real actions, they should all be summoned before the court of the place where the object in dispute is situated. In mixed actions, before the court of the place where the object in dispute is situated, or before the court of the domicile of one of the defendants.—Ibid.

39. In matters of succession, the parties are summoned before the court of the place where the succession devolves, if it opens in Lower Canada, otherwise, before that of the place where the property is situated, or that of the domicile of the defendant or of some one of the defendants.—Ibid.

40. In actions in warranty and actions in continuance of suit, the defendants are summoned to the place where the principal action was brought, wheresoever their domicile may be.—Ibid., c. 82, ss. 31, 33.—C. P. C., 59.

41. When a real action has for its object an immoveable or immoveables, situated partly in one district or circuit, and partly in another, the suit may be brought in either.—Ibid., c. 82, s. 29.

42. If the sole judge administering justice in any district is liable to be recused or must be a party to the suit, the action may be brought in one of the adjoining districts, the grounds of recusation or disability being alleged in the demand; and if these grounds are insufficient or not proved, the court may order the case to be sent back to the court before which it would have been brought in the ordinary course.—C. S. L. C., c. 78, s. 20; c. 79, s. 19.

TITLE FIRST.

OF THE SUIT.

CHAPTER FIRST.

OF SUMMONS.

43. Every action before the superior court is instituted by means of a writ of summons, in the name of the sovereign; saving the exceptions contained in this code, and other cases provided for by special laws.—C. S. L. C., c. 83, ss. 1, 43.—C. P. L., 179.

44. Writs of summons are issued by the prothonotary, upon the written requisition of the plaintiff.—Ibid.

45. They may be drawn up either in the French or in the English language.—C. S. L. C., c. 83, s. 2.

46. They are attested and signed by the prothonotary.—Ibid., s. 1.

48. Saving the particular exceptions hereinafter mentioned, writs of summons are directed to any bailiff of the superior court, commanding him to summon the defendant to appear before the court on the day and at the place therein mentioned. If there are several defendants residing in different districts, several writs must issue, addressed, as the case may require, either to the sheriff or to a bailiff of each of such districts.—Ibid., ss. 3, 4.

49. The writ must state the names, the occupation or quality, and the domicile of the plaintiff, and the names and actual residence of the defendant.—In actions upon bills of exchange or promissory notes, [or any other private writings, whether negotiable or not,] it is sufficient to give the initials of the christian or first names of the defendant, such as they are written upon such bills, notes, or instrument.—When a corporate body is a party to the suit, it is sufficient to insert its corporate name and to in-

51. The formalities mentioned in articles 46, 48, 49, and 50 are required on pain of nullity.—Ord. 1667, tit. ii., arts. 1, 2.

52. If the object of the demand is a thing certain, it should be described in such a manner as clearly to establish its identity. If it relates to a corporeal immoveable, the nature of such immoveable, the city, town, village, parish or township, street, range or concession wherein it is situated, and also the lauds contemporary to it, should be mentioned.

—If it is a body of land, known under a particular name, it is sufficient to give its name and its situation.—If the immoveable forms part of a township, parish, city, town, or village, the lots in which are numbered, it is sufficient to state its number.
—If the demand relates to rents constituted for the redemption of seigniorial rights, or to rights relating to any seigniory, they must be described according to the provisions of the act 27 and 28 Vic., e. 39.—

53. The writ of summons, and the declaration served upon the defendant, and filed in the office of the prothonotary, may be amended or altered with the leave of the court.
The amendment cannot be allowed if it changes the nature of the demand.—C. S. L. C., e.
83, s. 67.—Powell, p. 188.

54. No party can be summoned on a Sunday or a holiday without the express leave of a judge.—Pothier, Proc. 7.—1 Pigeau, 134, notes a. b.—C. P. C. 63, 1037.—C. P. L. 207.

55. No summons can be served before [seven o'clock in the morning, or after seven o'clock in the afternoon.]—This provision, however, does not apply to cases of capias ad respondendum.—Robinson vs. McCormick, L. C. Reports, vol. 1, p. 27;—Poth. Proc. 7;—Pigeau, 134;—Laws of the XII Tables, tit. 7, l. 8;—1 Revue de Leg. L. C., p. 44;—13 L. C. Reports, 302;—C. P. C. 1037.

56. Service is effected by leaving with the defendant a copy of the writ of summons, and of the declaration, if there is one.—The copy must be certified either by the prothonotary or by the attorney for the plaintiff, or by the sheriff, when the service is to be made by him.—C. S. L. C., c. 83, s. 3, § 3; s. 6, § 3; s. 44;—C. P. C. 65.

57. Service must be made either upon the defendant in person, or at his domicile, or at the place of his ordinary residence, speaking to a reasonable person belonging to the family.—In the absence of a regular domicile, service may be made upon the defendant at his office or place of business, if he has one.—C. S. L. C., c. 83, ss. 44, 173;—C. P. C. 68;—1 Chitty's Arch. Practice, 184;—C. P. L. 190.

58. [In all cases in which the defendant resides in the same domicile with the plaintiff he must be served personally, unless the court grants leave to serve him otherwise.]

59. If there are several defendants, they are served in the manner above mentioned, separately and distinctly, and a copy of the summons is left with each of them, except in the cases hereinafter provided.—Pothier, Proc., p. 7.

60. Service upon a general partnership may be made at its place of business, if it has one, and if it has not, upon one of the partners.—Anc. Deniz. vo. Ajournement, no. 27; vo. Société, no. 27;—Encyclop. de Droit, vo. Ajournement p. 257;—Nouv. Deniz. vo. Assignment, § 7, no. 13;—12 Viet., c. 45, s. 4;—C. P. C. 69, 68;—Berthelet vs. Gala,neau, Law Reporter, p. 109;—C. S. 61. Service upon a joint-stock company may be made at its office, speaking to a person employed in such office, or elsewhere upon its president, secretary or agent.—23 Vic. c. 31, s. 55;—C. P. C. 69, § 6.

62. If the partnership has no known office or place of business, nor any known president or secretary or agent, upon a return to that effect, the court or judge may order it to be summoned by a notice to be inserted during one month in at least one newspaper, and such notice is held to be a sufficient service.—Ibid.

64. Foreign companies or corporations, and all executors of wills, administrators, or representatives of the succession of persons having had property in Lower Canada, may, if they have an office or an agent in Lower Canada, or carry on business therein, be summoned there, in the manner provided in article 61, and, if they have no such office, in the manner prescribed in article 62.—C. S. L. C. e. 91, s. 3;—5 L. C. Reports, 403.

65. [Church fabriques and vestries are served by leaving copies of the summons separately with the curé or rector, or person performing his functions in the parish, and with the then acting church-warden.]

68. If the defendant has left or has never had his domicile in Lower Canada, and has property therein, the court or judge, or the prothonotary, upon a return stating that he cannot be found in the district, may order him to appear within two months from the last publication of such order.—The order must be published in the French and English languages, and be twice inserted in a newspaper published in each language respectively in the district where the court is held; and in default of either of such newspapers in such district, then it is inserted in a similar newspaper of the nearest locality; and such newspapers are indicated in the order by the court, or judge, or the prothonotary.—C. S. L. C., e. 83, ss. 58, 61.—C. P. C. 69, 73.

69. Nevertheless, and without prejudice to the mode of summons mentioned in the preceding article, when a defendant, having property in Lower Canada, has no longer or has never had any domicile therein, or when the cause or action arose in Lower Canada and the defendant resides in Upper Canada, the judge or the prothonotary, upon proof of the fact, by affidavit or otherwise, may grant leave to serve the writ of summons in Upper Canada, and such leave is endorsed in writing upon the writ, which may then be served by any bailiff of a county court in Upper Canada, or any literate person, either of whom makes an affidavit of service, sworn to before any justice of the peace of the county in which the service was made, or before a commissioner of the superior court for Lower Canada, or by any bailiff of the superior court for Lower Canada.*—22 Vic., c. 5, s. 58.—C. CHAPTER SECOND.

OF THE RETURN.

81. Every writ of summons, and every writ of capias or attachment, must be filed in the office of the clerk, on or before the day on which the defendant is therein summoned to appear, or upon the next following juridical day in the case of article 3.
—C. S. L. C., c. 83, ss. 5, 9.

82. [If the writ is not returned, as hereinabove provided, the defendant may obtain the benefit of a default against the plaintiff, and be discharged from the suit, with costs, upon filing the copy of the writ served upon him.]—C. S. L. C., c. 83, ss. 66, 189, § 4.—C. P. C., 154.

SECTION I.

Of Appearance.

83. The defendant, when duly summoned, must appear, either in person or by attorney, and must file a written appearance in the office of the clerk of the court, on the day fixed, or on the next following juridical day.—C. S. L. C., c. 83,
s. 9. —22 Vic. c. 5, s. 31.—C. P.
C. 149.

SECTION II.

Of Election of Domicile.

84. Every party appearing in person is held, by reason of such appearance, to have elected domicile in the office of the prothonotary in which his appearance is filed.—Whenever one of the parties has, since the commencement of the suit, left Lower Canada, or has no domicile therein, all orders, rules, notices or other proceedings, may be served upon him at the prothonotary's office, as being his legal domicile, provided the bailiff alleges in his return that he has made fruitless endeavours to find him, and that, to the best of his belief, he is not within the limits of Lower Canada.—C. S. L. C., c. 83, s. 64.

85. Advocates and attorneys are bound to elect domicile within a distance of one mile from the building in which the court is held, and to have the same, as well as any subsequent change thereof, registered in the prothonotary's office, in the register kept for that purpose.—In default of making such election of domicile, or of registering the same or any change thereof, such attorneys are held to have elected domicile at the prothonotary's office, where all services upon them may be validly made.—C.S.L.C., c. 83, ss. 11, 64;—Rules of Practice, 2, 87.

SECTION III.

Of Non-Appearence.

86. If the defendant does not appear within the delays prescribed, the prothonotary, on the next following juridical day, must enter a default against him, and the plaintiff, upon obtaining a certificate of such entry, may proceed to judgment ex parte.—C. S. L. C., c. 83, ss. 9, 189, 196;—22 Vict., c. 5, s. 31;—C. P. C. 149.

87. Notwithstanding the entry of such default, the defendant may, at any time before judgment, upon special application and sufficient cause shown, be relieved from it, upon such conditions as the court may think proper to impose.—C. S. L. C., c. 83, s. 10.

88. This application must be served upon the plaintiff at least one clear day before it is presented.—Ibid.

SECTION IV.

Of Judgment by Default for Non-Appearence.

89. If, in any action founded upon a bill of exchange, promissory note, cédule, cheque, act, or private-writing, the defendant fail to appear or to plead, judgment may be rendered out of term, upon the written application of the plaintiff, without its being necessary to prove the signatures to such documents, [or to make any other proof.]—C. S. L. C., c. 83, ss. 86, 113.

90. Judgment may be rendered in the same manner when the action is founded upon an authentic document.—Ibid., s. 113.

SECTION V.

Of Confession of Judgment.

94. The defendant may, at any stage of the proceedings, file, or cause to be taken down in writing at the prothonotary's office, a confession of judgment for the whole or any part of the demand.—The confession must be signed by the defendant, or be made by his special attorney, whose power of attorney, in authentic form, must be filed with such confession.—25 Vic., c. 10, s. 10.

95. [If the person who appears as defendant, in order to confess judgment, is unknown to the prothonotary the latter must require him to produce the copy of the summons, or to procure the counter-signature of an attorney-at-law.]

96. If the plaintiff accepts such confession, he may inscribe the case forthwith for judgment, and the prothonotary draws up, in conformity with such confession, a judgment, which is held to be the judgment of the court, and is recorded and executed accordingly.—The judgment thus drawn up need not mention the presence of a judge, but it must contain a recital of the confession, as it was given, and of the inscription by the plaintiff, and lastly the condemnation, in the name of the court, against the defendant.—Ibid.

97. If the confession of judgment is not accepted, the plaintiff must give the defendant notice to that effect, and, after such notice, the case is proceeded with in the ordinary course; and, if the plaintiff does not obtain more from the court than he would have had upon the confession, he is not entitled to more costs than if the confession had been accepted; saving the power of the court to grant the defendant whatever costs of contestation it may think proper.—C. S. L. C., c. 83, s. 70.

98. [If there are several defendants in the same suit, some only of whom confess judgment, the plaintiff may proceed, upon such confession, to recover against those who have acknowledged their indebtedness, saving his right to continue the suit against the others.]

SECTION VI.

Of the Filing of Exhibits.

99. The plaintiff must, at the time that he returns the writ, file in the prothonotary's office the written proofs which he has alleged in support of his demand, together with a list or inventory of such exhibits.—Ord. 1667, tit. xi., art. 6.

CHAPTER THIRD.
OF CONTESTATION.

SECTION I.

General Provisions.

107. All declinatory and dilatory exceptions, and exceptions to the form, which the defendant intends to plead, must be filed within four days from the return of the writ, except in the case mentioned in article 121.—C. S. L. C. c. 83, s. 12.

108. The plaintiff is bound to answer any such exception within eight days after it is filed, excepting where he is himself obliged to call in warrantors; the delay then begins only from the expiration of the delays to which such warrantors are entitled to answer the demand brought against them. Ibid.

109. The defendant, when he is entitled to reply, must file his replication within eight days from the filing of the plaintiff's answer.—Ibid.

110. A like delay of eight days is allowed for the filing of any other pleading that may be necessary, or is permitted by the court, in order to complete the issues.—Ibid.

111. The party failing to file any such preliminary exception, answer, or replication, or other pleading, within the delays prescribed, is, by law, foreclosed from doing so, unless the court, upon cause shown, has extended the delay, or has otherwise ordered.—23 them until the articulation of facts, provided he files copies thereof, certified by him or by his attorney.—Bell vs. Knowlton, Montreal, March, 1855;—24 Rule of Practice.

101. Exhibits filed cannot be taken out of the office, unless the opposite party consents and a receipt is given.—C. P. C., 189.

102. [Any person in possession of a document filed and forming part of a record, or having taken or received it, may, upon motion, be coerced by imprisonment to return the same, without prejudice to his liability for damages.]—C. P. C. 107.

103. Until the exhibits have been filed, in the manner hereinabove prescribed, the plaintiff cannot proceed with his demand.—Ord. 1667, tit. xi., art. 33.—C. P. L., 321.

104. Every exhibit filed in a cause becomes common to all the parties to the suit, and they may obtain copies thereof from the prothonotary so long as it remains in his hands.—Serpillon, sur tit. xi., art. 16, p. 168; sur tit. xvi., art. 9, p. 188.—Poth. Proc. civ. 44.

105. The prothonotary cannot receive any exhibit in blank, nor any list of exhibits in which the designation of any exhibit is not filled up.—Ord. 1667, tit. xi., art. 32.

106. If the exhibits in support of the demand have not been filed on the return day, they cannot be filed afterwards without giving notice to the opposite party; saving the provisions of article 100.

SECTION II

Of Declinatory Exceptions

113. When a declinatory exception, filed by the defendant, is maintained, the parties must be dismissed, saving their recourse before a competent court.—C. P. C. 168.—C. P. L. 321.

114. The parties must also be dismissed by the court, even though no such exception has been pleaded, if the action is manifestly beyond the jurisdiction of the court.—C. P. C. 170.

115. The court, in declaring itself incompetent, may award costs, according to circumstances.—1 Pigeau, 155.

SECTION III.

Of Exceptions to the Form.

116. The following grounds must be pleaded by exception to the form:

1. Informalities in the writ or service;

2. Informalities in the declaration, when it contravenes the provisions contained in articles 14, 19, 50, 52 and 56.—1 Pigeau, 160 et seq. †

† The codifiers here suggest this additional article in amendment: "An exception

117. The plaintiff, upon an exception to the form, as well as at any other time before judgment, may, by leave of the court, amend either the writ or the declaration, on payment of such costs as the court determines.—C. S. L. C., c. 83, s. 67.

118. If the copy of the writ or of the declaration is incorrect, or different from the original, the plaintiff may, upon leave of the court and on payment of costs, furnish the defendant with a correct copy.—2 L. C. Reports, 110.

119. Nullities in the writ or service, and informalities in the declaration, are waived by the appearance of the defendant and his failure to take advantage of them within the delays prescribed.—C. P. 175.

SECTION IV.

Of Dilatory Exceptions and specially of Actions in Warranty.

120. The defendant may stay the suit by dilatory exception:

1. If the delays to which he is entitled for the purpose of making an inventory and deliberating, whether as heir, or legatee, or in the case of comto the form does not lie if the plaintiff has omitted to allege in his declaration the performance of some formality required as a simple accessory of the right he claims. The inobservance of such formalities can only be pleaded by peremptory exception."

 in warranty against a third

5. When he has a right to principal or original debtor;

6. When the plaintiff has joined in his action several claims which are incompatible, or susceptible of different modes of trial; and in such case the defendant cannot be bound to defend the action until the plaintiff has declared his option;—1 Pigeau 166, 170, 173, visible right or claim, all the parties interested, and whose presence is necessary, are not made parties to the suit.—Imp.

 Stat., 15 and 16 Vic. c. 76, s. 34.

121. If the dilatory exception is founded upon the legal delay for making an inventory and deliberating, the delays for pleading to the action, and even for setting up other preliminary pleas, do not begin to run against the defendant until after the time allowed him to make such inventory and to deliberate.—Ord. 1667, tit. viii., art. 3.

122. If the defendant has warrantors to call in, he may, by means of a dilatory exception, obtain that his delay to plead to the action be not computed until the warrantors have been called in and held to plead to the merits.

123. [The delay allowed to call in warrantors is eight days after service of the principal demand, exclusive of whatever time may be required to summon the warrantors, pursuant to the provisions of article 75.]
 —Ord. 1667, tit. viii., art. 2.

124. The demand in warranty must be special and contain a summary statement of the grounds upon which it is made, with a copy of the principal demand and of the pleadings which require the calling in of the warrantors.—Ord.
 1667, tit. viii., art. 4.

125. In cases of simple or personal warranty, the warrantor cannot take up the defence of the defendant, but can merely intervene and contest the principal demand, if he thinks proper.—Ibid., art. 12.

126. In cases of real warranty, the purchaser who is disturbed or evicted is not bound to call in first his immediate warrantor, but he may summon in warranty any more remote warrantor who may eventually be bound to intervene in the suit.—C. S. L. C., c. 82, s. 32.

127. In cases of real warranty, the warrantor may take up the defence of the warrantee, who is relieved from the contestation, if he requires it.—Nevertheless, although relieved from the contestation, he may remain in the suit, and act in it for the protection of his rights.—Ord. 1667, tit. viii., arts. 9, 10.—C. P. C. 184.—Judgments rendered against the warrantor may be executed against the warrantee.—It is sufficient, in any case, that the judgment be served upon the warrantee, without any other demand or procedure being necessary.—Ord. 1667, tit. viii., art. 7.

128. Whenever, according to article 29 of the Civil Code, a person, who does not reside in Lower Canada, is bound to give security, all proceedings in the case may be stayed, upon application of the adverse party, until such security has been given.—C. S. L. C., c. 83, s. 68.—Jones vs. Kerr, Montreal, 4th May, 1852.

129. [If such person fails to put in security within such time as the court may fix, the opposite party may obtain a judgment of non-suit].—Prevost vs. Bisson, Montreal, 26th May, 1863.

130. The exception of discussion, whenever it lies, is subject to the general rules contained in this section, and to the special provisions contained in articles 1941, 1942, 1943, 2066 and 2067 in the Civil Code.

131. Before answering a dilatory exception, or any other preliminary plea filed, the plaintiff may if he thinks the exception is filed solely in order to retard the suit, require the defendant, in writing, to plead to the merits, and may foreclose him if such plea to the merits is not filed within eight days from the demand thereof; in which case the court takes cognizance of no other issues than those raised upon the preliminary exceptions.—C. S. L. C., c. 82, s. 73.

132. If the defendant files his pleas to the merits, proof takes place upon all the issues, unless the court otherwise orders; and, if he succeeds upon the preliminary exception, he may recover from the plaintiff the costs incurred upon the contestation of the merits to which he was forced under the provisions of the preceding article.—C. S. L. C., c. 83, s. 74.

133. When the defendant has pleaded a dilatory exception, which is afterwards maintained, the foreclosure from pleading to the merits, obtained against him under article 131, is without effect; but he is bound to file his pleas to the merits within eight days after the expiration of the delays granted upon his exception, and, in default of his so doing, the foreclosure holds good.—If, upon being required to do so by the plaintiff, the defendant has pleaded to the merits, he may, after the judgment maintaining his dilatory exception, amend his pleadings without costs; in so far as he is the plaintiff, c. 83, s. 73.

134. The dilatory exception is maintained, if the defendant, in writing, does not plead to the merits within eight days from the demand thereof; in which case the court takes cognizance of no other issues than those raised upon the preliminary exceptions.—C. S. L. C., c. 82, s. 73.

135. The defendant may, after the judgment maintaining his dilatory exception, amend his pleadings without costs; in so far as he is the plaintiff, c. 83, s. 73.

c. 83, s. 74, §§ 2, 3.

134. When the object of the dilatory exception maintained is the calling in of warrants, the defendant in the principal suit cannot be foreclosed from pleading until after the expiration of eight days, counting from the day on which the warrantor could himself have been foreclosed from pleading to the action in warranty.—The warrantor may, within the delays granted to the warrantee, plead to the action brought against the latter, whether the warrantee has already pleaded to it or not.
—C. S. L. C., c. 83, s. 74, § 3.

135. Grounds of preliminary exception may, in certain cases, be urged by motion, according to the practice of the courts.

SECTION V.

Of Contestation upon the Merits.

136. The defendant may plead by peremptory exception:

1. Lis pendens;
2. The non-completion of the time, or the non-fulfilment of the condition upon which the right of action depends;
3. The extinction, in whole or in part, of the right claimed by the plaintiff.—I Pigeau, 198.—C. P. L. 158.

137. All pleas to the merits, whether by exception or otherwise, must be filed within eight days after the appearance, except in the cases otherwise provided for in the preceding section.—If they are not filed within such delay, the adverse party may demand them, and if they are not filed within the three next following juridical days, the prothonotary may grant the plaintiff a certificate of foreclosure.—C. S. L. C., c. 83, s. 12, § 2.

138. The same delay of eight days is allowed the plaintiff to answer the pleas, unless such answer is in the nature of a declinatory or dilatory plea, or of an exception to the form, in which case the delay is four days only, pursuant to article 107.—Ibid., s. 12.

139. A like delay of eight days is allowed for the filing of of any other pleading necessary to complete the issues.—Ibid.

140. After the expiration of these delays, the party failing to file a pleading is by law foreclosed from doing so, without the consent of the opposite party, or leave of court.—23
Vic., c. 57, s. 37.—C. S. L. C., c. 83, ss. 14, 75.

141. Such foreclosure does not, however, take place without an order from the court if the opposite party has not filed with his pleading, in the manner prescribed, the exhibits or written proofs upon which it is founded; and if such exhibits and written proofs are not filed with such pleading, they cannot afterwards be filed without the consent of the opposite party or leave of court.—A judge may, in term or in vacation, extend the delay for filing such exhibits or written proofs.—C. S. L. C., c. 83, s. 180, § 3.

142. When an amendment of any pleading has been allowed, the delay to answer such pleading is reckoned, according to the foregoing rules, from the day on which the amendment is made and served, without any demand of answer being necessary.

143. When the defendant is foreclosed from pleading, the plaintiff may proceed ex parte, and may, if the case admit of it, proceed to judgment, according to the provisions contained in articles 89, 90, 91, 92 and 93.

144. [No particular form of words is required in any pleading; but every fact, the existence or truth of which is not expressly denied or declared to be unknown, is held to be admitted.]—C. S. L. C., c. 83, ss. 76, 116, § 3.—C. P. L., 327.

145. Every denial of a signature to a bill of exchange, promissory note, or other private writing or document upon which any claim is founded, must be accompanied with an affidavit of the party making the denial, or of some person acting as his agent or clerk and cognizant of the facts in such capacity, that such instrument or some material part thereof is not genuine, or that his signature or some other on the document is forged, or, in the case of a promissory note or bill of exchange, that the necessary protest, notice and service have not been regularly made, stating in what the irregularity consists; without prejudice, however, to the recourse of such party by improbation.—C. S. L. C., c. 83, s. 86, § 2.

[In the case of promissory notes, or bills of exchange payable at a particular place, they are presumed, as against the maker or acceptor, to have been presented at that place at maturity, unless the exception founded upon such want of presentation is accompanied with an affidavit that, at the time they became due, provision had been made for their payment at the specified place.]—The denial of any document specified in article 1220 of the Civil Code, must be accompanied by the giving of security for the costs of the commission required to obtain the proof of such document. In the cases of paragraphs 5 and 6 of the same article, the denial of the original deposited must, moreover, be accompanied by an affidavit of the party making the denial, stating that he doubts and does not believe that the original in question has been signed by the person or executed in the manner therein mentioned. The party wishing to make use of the copy filed is then bound to prove the original, and for this purpose the person who has charge of the original is bound, upon the order of a judge, to deposit it in the court in which its genuineness is contested; and the prothonotary is bound to furnish him,

146. When a party has pleaded incompatible or con- tradictory grounds [in the same plea], he may be requir- ed by the opposite party to choose between such grounds or plead anew, and in default of such choice the incompatible grounds are held to be of no effect, and are set aside.

147. A demurrer may be pleaded, when the facts alleged in the declaration do not give rise to the right of action which the plaintiff seeks to exercise. —1 Pigeau, 204.

SECTION VI.

Of Issue joined.

148. The issues are com- pleted:

1. By declaration, pleas and replications, if there are no perpetual exceptions;
2. By declaration, excep- tions, answers to exceptions and replications to answers, if the answers contain facts that are not alleged in the declara- tion;
3. They are also held to be completed by foreclosure from filing, or by failure to file an- swers or replications.—Nev- ertheless, if the proceedings secondly enumerated are not sufficient to fully set out the grounds of the parties, the court may grant leave to file further pleadings. —C. S. L. C. c. 83, s. 72. —Kierzkowski vs. Morison, 1 L. C. Rep., 419; 6 Do. 159. 25 Vic. 57, s. 37.

CHAPTER FOURTH.

OF INCIDENTS.

SECTION I.

Of Incidental Demands.

149. The Plaintiff may, in the course of the suit, make an incidental demand:

1. In order to add to the principal demand something he has omitted to include in it;
2. In order to claim a right accrued since the service of the principal suit and con- nected with the right claimed by such suit;

3. In order to demand some- thing which he requires for the purpose of avoiding a ground of defence set up by the defen- dant. —1 Pigeau, 337.—Ord. 1667, tit. xi, art. 26.

150. This incidental de- mand is made by a petition, accompanied by the documents in support thereof, and served upon the opposite party.—Ord. 1667, tit. xi, art. 26.

151. The defendant may set up by incidental demand any claim of his arising out of the same causes as the principal demand, and which he cannot plead by exception.—When the principal demand is for the payment of a sum of money, the defendant may also make an incidental demand upon any claim for money arising out of other causes; but such an incidental demand is distinct from and cannot retard the principal action.—The court, whenever it renders judgment upon both demands at the same time, may order compensation, if the case admits of it.—Pot., Proc. civ., 39, 40.—1 Pigeau, 337.—Paris, 106.—37 R. of P.

152. Incidental demands by the defendant are likewise made by petition, accompanied by the documents in support thereof, and served and filed at the same time as the pleas to the merits.—36 R. of P.

153. Issue is joined upon incidental demands in the same manner as upon the principal demand, and their contestation is subject to the same rules, delays and foreclosures.

SECTION II.

Of Interventions.

154. Every person interested in the event of a pending suit is entitled to be admitted a party thereto, in order to maintain his rights.—Pot., Proc. 40.—1 Bornier, sur Proc. civ. 258.—27 et 28 Vic., c. 17, s. 4, §9.—C. S. L. C., c. 83, s. 71.

155. An intervention is formed by a petition, containing the grounds which justify the party in intervening, with conclusions to that effect, and must be accompanied with the exhibits in support thereof.—C. S. L. C., c. 83, s. 71.—Ord. 1667, tit. xl., art. 28.—22 Lambert, 81.—C. P. C., 339.

156. The demand in intervention may be made in court or filed in the prothonotary's office; but it cannot stay proceedings upon the principal demand unless it is allowed by the court, or by a judge in vacation, upon application made at any time before judgment in the cause.—C. S. L. C., c. 83, s. 81.

157. When the intervention is allowed by the court or judge the suit is suspended during three days; and if the intervening party fails within that period to have it served upon the parties in the case and to file a certificate of such service it is held not to have been filed, and has no effect; and the filing of the prothonotary's certificate of such default is equivalent to a judgment dismissing the intervention.—Ibid. § 2.

158. If the demand in intervention is served within the delay prescribed, the parties to the suit are bound to answer it within eight days after such service, in default of which the intervention is held thenceforward to be admitted by the parties who have not contested it. The intervening party is bound, within eight days from the admission of his intervention, to furnish any grounds he may have to set up in the principal suit.—The subsequent proceedings are the same as in an ordinary suit.—1 Crouchet, 78.—25 Vic. c. 57, s. 36.

SECTION III.

Of Improbation.

159. Besides the action of improbation which may be brought as a principal and direct action, any party in a suit may proceed by improbation against any authentic document produced by the opposite party, [and even against a return of the sheriff or of any other judicial officer.—Pot., Proc. civ., 333.—Serpillon, Code du Faux, 153.—C. P. C., 214.—Nevertheless as regards simple service of summons or of notice, the return may be contested on motion, without an improbation, unless the court otherwise orders.—If the contestation be deemed frivolous the contesting party may be condemned to pay double costs.—The court may, according to circumstances, grant leave to amend the return, by supplying any omissions or correcting any errors therein which might be grounds of improbation.]

160. A party may also proceed by improbation against any document filed by himself, and which he is seeking to have declared null.—Perrault & Simard, 6 L. C. Rep., p. 24.

161. Incidental improbation is begun by a petition, praying that the party be allowed to proceed by improbation against the document therein designated, and that the opposite party be held to declare whether he intends to make use of such document.—The petition must, under pain of nullity, be signed by the party himself, or by his attorney under a special power filed with the petition.—Imbert, p. 788.—Ord. 1670, art. 6.—Ord. 1737, tit. ii, art. 3.—Serpillon, Code du Faux, 153.—C. P. C. 215.

162. The petition must be served upon the opposite party before it is presented.—C. P. C. 215.

163. [The petition must be accompanied by a deposit in the prothonotary's office of a sum fixed by the court, to meet the costs to be incurred, in whole or in part, in the event of the improbation being dismissed.]

164. Improbation may be begun at any stage of the suit until the closing of the evidence, and even afterwards before judgment, upon proof that the falsity was not ascertained until after evidence was closed.—All proceedings in the principal suit are suspended until the improbation is adjudicated upon.—3 L. C. Jurist, 268.

165. The opposite party must declare whether or not he intends to make use of the document impugned, and file in the prothonotary's office a precise declaration to that effect, previously served upon the plaintiff in improbation.—The declaration must also, on pain of nullity, be signed by the party, or by his attorney under a special power to that effect filed with the declaration.—The declaration must be made within eight days from the filing of the petition, unless the delay is extended by the judge.—Serpillon, 169, and the authorities by him cited.—C. P. C., 216.

166. If the defendant in improbation fails, within the delay prescribed, to make such declaration, or declares that he does not intend to make use of the document, it is rejected from the record, and if the conclusions demand it, it is also declared null. Serpillon, 173, 179.—Cod. L. 3, de fide instrumentorum.—C. P. C., 217.

167. If the defendant in improbation declares that he intends to make use of the document, the court, or a judge in vacation, upon the demand of either of the parties, orders that such document, and the original thereof if necessary, be deposited in the prothonotary's office, at the diligence of the party who relies upon it, and that the parties in charge thereof be compelled, by all legal means, to deposit it.—Imbert, loc. cit.—C. P. C., 219, 220, 221.

168. As soon as the document impugned has been deposited in the office of the prothonotary, he proceeds to draw up a descriptive statement of its condition; this is done at the instance of either party, the other party being either present or duly notified.—The descriptive statement must mention and describe the first and last word of each page, the erasures, words written over, interlineations, marginal notes, paraps, and signatures upon the document, and all other similar circumstances; the document is initialed, and the statement is signed by the prothonotary, and by the parties or their attorneys, or else mention is made of the reasons why the parties refused to sign upon being required to do so.—C. P. C., 225-6-7.

169. The parties take communication of the impugned document from the hands of the prothonotary, and without removing it.—C. P. C., 228.

170. Eight days after the making of the descriptive statement, the plaintiff must file his articles of improbation and serve the same on the defendant.—C. P. C., 229.

171. The defendant is allowed a like delay of eight days to file and serve his answers.—C. P. C., 230.

172. In other respects the issues are joined and tried as in ordinary suits, and are subject to the same rules and the same foreclosures.

173. The judgment which decides upon the improbation likewise determines to whom of right the document shall be handed over.—C. P. C., 242.

174. While the document impugned remains in the prothonotary's office, no copies thereof can be delivered without an order from the court, after the parties have been heard or have been notified.

175. [The provisions of this section, except those of article 163, are observed, in so far as they apply, with regard to direct actions of improbation.]

Of Recusations.

176. Any judge may be recused :

1. If he is related or allied to one of the parties within the degree of cousin-german inclusively;—C. S. L. C., c. 81, s. 3.

2. If he has a suit depending upon the same question as that in issue in the case;—Ord. 1667, tit. xxiv., art. 5.

3. If he has given advice upon the matter in dispute, or has previously taken cognizance of it as an arbitrator; if he has acted as solicitor for either of the parties, or has made known his opinion extrajudicially;—Ibid., art. 6.

4. If a suit is pending in his name before a court in which one of the parties will sit as judge;—Ibid., art. 7.

5. If he has made verbal or written threats against one of the parties since the beginning of the suit, or within six months previous to the recusation; or if there has been mortal enmity between them without reconciliation;—Ibid., art. 8.

6. If he is the manager or patron of any order, corporation, or community which is a party to the suit, or the tutor, honorary tutor, subrogate-tutor, or curator, heir, or donee of either of the parties;—Ibid., art. 10.

7. If he has any interest in favoring either of the parties.

—1 Pigeau, 365-6.

177. A judge is disqualified

if he is interested in the suit, either personally, or on account of his wife, or if his wife, when separated from him as to property, is interested in the suit.—Ibid.

178. A judge who is liable to be recused cannot refuse to sit in the case until after he has declared the grounds of recusation that may be invoked against him and the court has ordered that he should not sit.—Ord. 1667, tit. xxiv., art. 18.

179. Any judge who is aware of a ground of recusation to which he is liable, is bound, without waiting until it is invoked, to make a written declaration of it to be filed in the record.—Ibid., art. 17.

180.—Any party to a suit who is aware of a ground of recusation against a judge, is bound to make it known as soon as it comes to his knowledge.—Ibid., art. 19.

181. After the declaration of the judge or of one of the parties, the party desirous of recusing the judge is bound to do so within eight days from the service of such declaration; after which he cannot do so, unless the court, for sufficient reasons, has extended the delay.—Ibid., art. 20.

182. If no declaration as above mentioned has been made, the judge may be recused at any stage of the case before judgment, upon the affidavit of the party that the grounds of recusation have only recently come to his knowledge.—Ibid., art. 21.

183. A recusation is proposed by means of a petition containing the grounds thereof, and it must be signed by the party himself or by his attorney under a special power.—If the party is absent from the province, his attorney ad litem may, without special power, sign the petition asking that the judge do abstain from sitting.—Ibid., art. 23.—Pot. Proc. Civ., 30.

184. When the recusation is made before the judge has made his declaration, communication of it must be given to him, and he must declare in writing whether the grounds are true or not; another judge then proceeds to determine whether the recusation is founded or not, without the recused judge having a right to be present.—Ibid., art. 24.

185. If the recusation is proposed against the sole judge residing in a district, it is carried to the chief-place of a neighbouring district, designated by the judge who is recused, and the record is forthwith transmitted to such place by the prothonotary.—C. S. L. C. e. 79, s. 19, § 2; e. 78, s. 20, § 1.

186. If the recusing party has no written proof in support of his recusation, the judge's declaration is conclusive, and the recusing party cannot produce oral testimony, nor even obtain delay to produce written evidence.—Ord. 1667, art 6.

187. If the recusation is maintained, the judge cannot, for any cause or under any pretext whatever, be present in court during the hearing of the case or the rendering of the judgment.—Ibid., art 15.

188. If the recusation has been carried before a court of another district and is maintained, such court remains seized of the case, and the record from that period forms part of its records.—C. S. L. C. e. 78, s. 20, § 2; e. 79, s. 19, § 3.

189. But if the recusation is dismissed, the case is sent back to the former judge, to be by him tried and determined.—Ibid.

190. A party who has a right to recuse a judge may renounce his right, by filing a written consent that the judge should hear and decide the case, except in the case mentioned in article 177.

191. In such case, however, as also when the party fails to recuse, the judge is not bound to sit, unless the grounds of recusation have been declared insufficient.

SECTION V.

Of Disavowal.

192. Any party may disavow his attorney ad litem who has exceeded his powers. He may also disavow an attorney whom he has not employed; without prejudice to his rights if he does not do so.—1 Pigeau, 349. C.P.C., 352.

193. A disavowal may take place during the suit or after judgment.—The latter kind is mentioned in the chapter on petitions in revocation of judgment.—Ibid.

194. A disavowal can only be made by the party himself or his attorney under a special power, and the party himself must declare that he did not authorize the act of procedure which he repudiates.—Pigeau, Ibid., 350.

195. Disavowal is made by filing a declaration, in the office of the prothonotary of the court before which the case is pending, that the party disavows the act in question, as never having authorized the same.—Pigeau, Ibid.—C. P. C., 353.

196. The party disavowing is bound to proceed without delay to have the disavowal declared valid, and this is done by a petition served upon both the attorney or his heirs, and the opposite party.—Pigeau, 350.—Lacombe, vo. Procureur ad lites, no. 2.—C. P. C., 354.

197. After notice of the disavowal has been given, all proceedings in the principal action are stayed.—Pigeau, Ibid.—Guertin & O'Neil, in appeal, 8 Dec., 1865.—C. P. C., 357.

198. The procedure upon the disavowal is the same as in ordinary suits.

199. If the disavowal is maintained, the acts disavowed are annulled, and the parties are placed in the same position as they were in at the time that the acts were done.—C. P. C., 360.

SECTION VI.

Of Change of Attorneys.

200. If the case has not been heard upon the merits, all proceedings had or judgments rendered since the death of the attorney of one of the parties, or when such attorney can no longer act, or has withdrawn, are null, unless such party has appeared in person, or appointed another attorney, or after being called upon to do so, has made default.—Ord. 1667, tit. 26, art. 2.—C. P. C., 344.

201. An attorney who desires, of his own accord, to cease representing a party, must give notice to such party and to the opposite party.

202. If the attorney of one of the parties ceases to act as such, either in consequence of being appointed to a public office incompatible with his profession, or of suspension or death, the opposite party when represented by an attorney at law, is sufficiently informed without further notice.—C. P. C., 344.

203. When one of the party ceases to be represented before the case is submitted to the consideration of the court, the opposite party must notify him to appoint another attorney.—1 Pigeau, 348.

204. If the defendant thereupon fails to appoint another attorney or to appear in person, the plaintiff may proceed with the suit ex parte.

If the plaintiff is the party thus in default he may be nonsuited.—Pot., Proc. Civ., 74.

205. A party's revocation of the powers of his attorney will not be received unless he pays him his fees and disbursements, taxed after hearing or notice given to the party.

206. A party who revokes the powers of his attorney must immediately appoint another, without being notified to that effect by the opposite party, and in default of his doing so the case may be proceeded with as provided in article 204.—1 Pigeau, 349.

CHAPTER FIFTH.

OF ARTICULATIONS OF FACTS.

207. Within two days after the issues are perfected according to the prescribed rules, each party is bound to file in the prothonotary's office an articulation of the facts which he has alleged and intends to prove, if the opposite party has not admitted them in his pleadings. C. S. L. C., c. 83. s. 87.—C. P. C., 252.

208. This articulation of facts must consist of separate and distinct articles upon each fact, numbered in regular order.—The articles must be in the form of interrogatories, clear and explicit, so as to call for an admission or a denial, and so that the default to answer them will establish an admission of the facts.—Ibid., s. 87, §2.—C. P. C., 252.

209. The articulation of facts must be served upon the opposite party within the same delay of two days.—Ibid., s. 87.

210. Any document or writing of which a party intends to avail himself at the proof, must be filed with the articulation of facts, if it has not been filed sooner.—Ibid., s. 88.

211. Within the three days which follow the filing of any articulation of facts, the opposite party is bound to answer each article separately and categorically, admitting or denying each fact articulated or declaring it not to be within his knowledge.—After this delay of three days, the party who has failed to answer cannot be relieved from his default, except upon application made to the court or judge, and upon payment of the costs occasioned by such default and taxed by the judge.—Ibid., s. 87.—29 Vict., c. 43.—C. P. C., 252.

212. The facts set forth in any articulation of facts are held to be proved :

1. If the opposite party does not answer it within the proper delay ;

2. If the opposite party does not deny them in an express manner, or does not declare that they are not within his knowledge.—Ibid.

213. If a document not produced with or before the articulation of facts, is afterwards filed in evidence by a party who should have filed it sooner, the costs resulting therefrom must be borne by such party, whatever may be the issue of the suit.—Ibid., s. 88.

214. If a fact denied in an answer to an articulation of facts is afterwards proved, the party who denied it must pay the costs incurred by such proof, whatever may be the issue of the suit.—A party who declared that a fact is not have had knowledge of it.—

Ibid., s. 87, §3.

215. A party who has neglected to file his articulation of facts, or who has declared that he had no evidence to adduce and afterwards adduces evidence, must bear the costs occasioned thereby.—The same rule applies if he proves any fact not mentioned in his articulation, whatever may be the result of the trial.—Ibid., s. 90.

216. If the court is of opinion that the opposite party has been taken by surprise by the adduction of evidence as mentioned in the preceding article, it may postpone the proof or trial, or make such other order, or impose such terms on the party in fault as it deems just.—Ibid., s. 90.

217. The articulation of facts may, with the consent in writing of all the parties, be dispensed with; and in such case every allegation of facts by one party, which the other party in his pleadings has not denied or declared not to be within his knowledge, is held to be admitted, and the court may award the costs of such proof, according to its discretion.—Ibid., ss. 76, 93.

218. [In the case of articles 213, 214 and 215, the party who desires to be paid such costs must make a special application for that purpose, at the time of the hearing on the merits, and accompany his application with a statement of the facts he has been obliged to prove, and of his costs of proof.]

219. [In rendering judgment upon the merits, the court also adjudicates upon the application for such costs.]—
Ibid., s. 87, §3; s. 91.

CHAPTER SIXTH.

OF TRIAL.

SECTION I.

Preliminary Provision.

220. After the expiration of the three days allowed to answer the articulation of facts, cases may be tried, according to circumstances, either by evidence taken before the court or by a jury.—Ibid., s. 89.

SECTION II.

Of Interrogatories upon Articulated Facts.

221. The parties in any suit may, at any time during the trial, and without retarding either trial or judgment, be examined upon articulated facts pertinent to the issues.—Ord.
1867, tit. x, art. 1.—Code, Obl.
art. 265.—C.S.L.C., c. 82, s. 19.
—C.P.C., 325.

222. [Parties are summoned to answer interrogatories upon articulated facts, by means of a process, issued in the name of the sovereign by the prothonotary, upon a written requisition to that effect, and ordering the party to appear before the court, or the prothonotary, to answer the interrogatories to be put to him.] Ord. 1667, tit. x, art. 2.—C.P.C., 325.

223. The order to answer upon articulated facts is served upon the person or at the domicile of the party, and not upon his attorney, unless such party is absent or absconding; and a copy, both of the order and of the interrogatories, must be left with him.—If the party is absent, the attorney who has been served, may apply to have delay given him to appear, or, upon indicating the place where such party then is, to have him examined under a commission. Ibid., art. 3.—C.P.C., 326, 329.

224. A party summoned to answer interrogatories upon articulated facts must appear in person at the prothonotary's office, in order to give his answers after being previously sworn.—Nevertheless, if the party be a corporation or legally recognized body or community, it must, by special resolution, name an attorney to answer in its place, and specify the answer he must give and swear to as being that which such corporation intends to give. Ibid., arts. 9, 4, 5.—C.P.C., 330, 331, 336.

225. If the party served with the rule fails to attend or to answer the questions put to him, a default is recorded against him and the facts may be held to be admitted.—The party who thus makes default may, however, answer the interrogatories afterwards, before the hearing of the case, but he must bear whatever costs are occasioned by his default.—If any dispute arises as to the pertinency of the interrogatories, it is settled at once by the judge, when the answers are taken by the judge; otherwise the parties must go before the court in order to have it decided. Pothier, Proc. civ. 63.

226. A party may also be summoned to answer vide roca, in open court, or at proof sittings, or before a jury; and his answers are then taken down by the judge or the prothonotary; and the judge may put any other interrogatories he may deem necessary and pertinent. If the party refuses to answer such interrogatories, the judge causes them to be written out and placed in the record, and they are held to be admitted. C.S.L.C., c. 83, s. 100.

227. The interrogatories must be drawn up in a clear and precise form, in such a manner that the absence of an answer shall be an admission of the fact sought to be proved.

228. The answers must be direct to the question, categorical and precise, and free from injurious or libellous terms.—Ord. 1667, art. 8.

229. Every answer which is not direct, categorical and precise, may be rejected, and the facts mentioned in the interrogatory declared and held to be proved.

open court, set apart such days, in or out of term, as may be deemed convenient for proceeding to proof.—In the districts of Quebec and Montreal, not less than six days in each month must be set apart for such proof out of term. C.S. L.C., c. 83, s. 15.

239. In the cities of Quebec and Montreal, parties cannot proceed to proof during term, except in the following cases:

1. When the case is inscribed at the same time for proof and hearing, according to art. 243.

2. In summary matters, when the court or judge has given a special order to that effect.—Ibid., s. 94.

3. In ex parte cases. Ibid., s. 16.

240. In any case wherein it is established upon oath that a witness is about to depart from Lower Canada, and that thereby one of the parties may be deprived of his testimony, one of the judges of the court may, at any stage of the proceedings after [service of summons,] receive the deposition of such witness, in presence of, or after due notice to, the parties; and such deposition has the same effect as if it were taken at proof. The same thing may be done, after issue joined, in cases of evident necessity, when it is established upon oath that the witness is prevented, by serious illness or infirmity, from attending before the court. If the witness is still alive and in the province, and his attendance can be procured, at the time of the proof being taken, he must be examined anew in the ordinary time and manner, if it be required by either party. C.S. L.C., c. 83, s. 101. But see 2 L. C. Rep., Malone & Tate p. 99.

241. The court or judge may, if deemed advisable, and without any commission or other formality, order the proof to be taken, or any person, even if he be a party, to be examined either under the deisory oath, or upon articulated facts, or otherwise, at any place where sittings of the Superior Court or of the Circuit Court are held, before any judge at such place. And in such cases after the record has been four days in the hands of the prothonotary, or clerk, at the place to which it has been sent, the parties may proceed as if the case were there pending.—Ibid., ss. 24, 154.

242. A copy of such order is transmitted to the prothonotary or the clerk of the court at the place mentioned, together with such part of the record as may be necessary; and the prothonotary or clerk may thereupon take the necessary proceedings to compel the witnesses or the parties to appear at the place named on any proof day, or any day, fixed by the judge, on which a judge will be present at such place, and in the cases of this and of the preceding article the rules contained in articles 248, 249 and 480 apply.—Ibid. § 3.

shall be inscribed at the same time for proof and for final hearing immediately after proof; and in such case the cause cannot afterwards be inscribed otherwise. Cases may be so inscribed for any day, in term or during proof sittings, set apart by the court for that purpose, or if no such days have been set apart, then for any day whatever, in term or during proof sittings.—Cases inscribed for proof and hearing have precedence, on days appointed for that purpose, over those inscribed otherwise and fixed for such days.—The days set apart in term or during proof sittings, as above provided, are deemed to be consecutive; and if proof and hearing in any case commenced upon one of such days is not completed on that day, it may be adjourned to any other day thus set apart, and judgment may be rendered on any such day, either in term or in vacation.—The special days for proof and hearing are fixed or changed by rules of practice made and promulgated in the districts of Quebec and Montreal, by a majority of the judges residing in the district, and, in any other district, by the judge holding court therein.—C.S.L.C., c. 83, ss. 19, 20, 21, 22, 23.

§ 2. Of summoning witnesses.

244. Witnesses, if they do not appear voluntarily, are summoned at the instance and diligence of the party requiring their attendance, by means of a writ of subpoena, a copy of which is served upon them one clear day at least before that fixed for their examination, the delay being increased at the rate of one day for every additional five leagues, when the distance exceeds five leagues.

—C.P. Genève, 181.—C.P.C., 260.—C.P.L., 134.

245. Witnesses may be summoned either to declare what they know, or to produce some document in their possession, or to do both.—I Starkie on Evid, 87.—C.S.C. c. 79,
s. 4.—C.S.L.C. c. 79, s. 3.—C.
P.L. 133, 140, 141.

246. Any person residing in Upper Canada may be compelled to appear as a witness, if the court or judge deems it necessary; provided an action for the same cause be not pending in Upper Canada.—
C.S.C. c. 79, ss. 4, 5, 6.

247. The witness in the case mentioned in the preceding article cannot be summoned without a special order granted by the court or judge, if deemed necessary, and such order must be mentioned upon the subpoena.—Ibid. s. 7.

248. Subpoenas are served in Lower Canada by a bailiff of the jurisdiction in which the witness then is, or according to the provisions of article 461, and in Upper Canada by any person whatever, who must return an affidavit of such service.—Ibid. s. 10.

249. Any witness, duly summoned, who, without sufficient cause, fails to attend at the place and time appointed, may, upon a rule served upon him, be condemned, by the court or the judge presiding at proof sittings, to a fine not exceeding forty dollars, to be recovered, for the use of the crown, in the same manner as any other sum awarded by judgment, independently of any recourse the party who summoned him may have for damages caused by such default, and of imprisonment for contempt, if it lies; provided that at the time he was served with the subpoena a sufficient sum was tendered him for travelling expenses, at the rate usually allowed by the court of his domicile.—If the person summoned to appear as a witness resides in Upper Canada, he can only be punished for his default by the court within whose jurisdiction he resides, upon a certificate transmitted by the former court of his default to appear according to the foregoing provisions.—C. S. L. C. c. 83, ss. 104, 109.—C. S. C. c. 79, ss. 8, 9.—C. P. Genève 182.—C. P. C. 263.—C. P. L. 135.

250. Any person who is present in the room in which the proof is being taken may be examined as a witness, and is bound to answer, under the same penalties as if he had been regularly summoned.

251. Any party to a suit may be subpoenaed, examined, cross-examined, and treated as any other witness; but his evidence cannot avail himself; [the adverse party may however declare, before he closes his proof, that he does not intend to avail himself of his testimony, and in such case it is deemed not to have been given.]—C. S. L. C., c. 82, s. 15; c. 83, ss. 100, 108, § 11.—12 L. C. R., p. 399.

[The answers given by a party thus examined as a witness may be used as a commencement of proof in writing.]

252. Relationship, or connection by marriage, except that between consorts, and interest, are not objections to the competency of a witness, but only to his credibility.—Upon the improbation of an authentic deed, the testimony of the notaries, attesting witnesses, or other functionaries who witnessed the deed, may be received.—C. S. L. C., c. 82, s. 14.—4 L. C. Rep., 228.

253. If the person to be summoned as a witness is in prison, the party requiring him may, upon petition, obtain a writ of habeas corpus ad testificandum, ordering the gaoler to bring him before the court to give his evidence.—Langue-doc re Laviolette, 18th April, 1854.—1 Pigeau, 277.

§ 3. Of the examination of witnesses.

254. Any party may demand that during the examination of any witness, the other witnesses should be out of the room in which the examination is taken.—C. P. C., 262.—1 Pigeau, 280.—Ord. 1667 tit. xxiii., art. 15.

256. The form of oath and the manner of taking it may be changed according to the religious creed of the witness, in such a manner, however, as to bind him to declare nothing but the truth.—1 Pigeau, 262.

257. Any witness refusing to take the oath or affirmation is deemed to refuse to give evidence.—1 Starkie, 91.—C.
P. L., 137.

258. A witness who is present cannot refuse to give evidence, under pretext that the necessary amount to defray his travelling expenses has not been paid to him.

259. Before the witness is admitted to be sworn he may be examined by either of the parties as to his religious belief; and he cannot make the oath or the affirmation, nor give evidence, if he does not believe in God, and in a state of rewards and punishments after death.—1 Starkie, 21, 94.

260. No person can be a witness who does not know the importance of an oath, or who is not in the exercise of his mental faculties.—C. P. C., 285.

261. Deaf mutes, who can read and write, may be admitted as witnesses, their oath swers being written down by themselves.—1 Pigeau, 283.—

262. No bailiff who has served the writ of summons in any suit or action can be a witness in support of the plaintiff's demand, except in respect of such service.—C. S.

L. C., c. 83, s. 168.

§ 4. Of proofs taken by a judge.

263. In contested cases, the witnesses are examined in presence of a judge, the opposite party being either present or duly notified, and the judge may ask the witnesses any questions he may deem necessary. He takes down, or causes to be taken down in writing, under his direction, notes of the material parts of the evidence, and of all objections insisted upon by either of the parties, and of his decision thereupon.—C. S. L. C., c. 83,
s. 95.

264. The notes of evidence are read, and if necessary, explained to the witness, who may make the necessary additions or alterations in order to express correctly the material parts of his evidence; they are then signed by him, if he can write, if not, that fact is mentioned; they are finally signed by the judge, and constitute and are held to be the evidence of the witness.—Ord. 1667, tit. 22,
art. 16.—C. S. L. C., c. 83, s.
95, § 2.—C. P. C., 272, 274.

265. If one of the parties requires it, either verbally or in writing, the judge himself is bound to take down the notes of the evidence and of the objections, as mentioned in article 263, and the prothonotary afterwards makes a fair copy thereof, which is certified by the judge and deposited in the record and is held to be the true record of the evidence.—C. S. L. C., c. 83, s. 95, § 3.

266. The judge takes down, or causes the prothonotary to take down, notes of all admissions made verbally by the parties; and such notes, signed by the judge, make proof in the same manner as if they were signed by the parties.—Ibid., s. 97.

267. The witness must first be asked and must declare his names, surname, age, quality or occupation, and domicile.—Ord. 1667, tit. 22, art. 14.—C. P. Genève, 193.—C. P. C., 262.

268. The opposite party may establish, by a preliminary examination of any witness, or in any other manner, whatever grounds he may have for objecting to such witness*.—Ord. 1667, tit. 23, art. 2.—1 Starkie, 211.—C. P. C., 289.

269. A party cannot impeach the credit of a witness

* The objections allowed to be made against a witness are—mortal enmity, subornation, want of age, madness or insanity, inebriety at the time of the examination, variance and contradiction in his statements, condemnation for felony or forgery so long as the punishment has not been undergone or remitted, and conviction of perjury even though punishment should have been undergone or remitted.—1 Couchot, 90.—Poth., Pro. civ., 60-1.—1 Pigeau, p. 283.—1 Starkie, 211-2.—S. R. C., c. 99, s. 115.

C. Jurist, 301.

270. Witnesses are examined by the party producing them, or his counsel, but only touching the facts in issue; and the questions must not be leading, unless the witness evidently attempts to elude the question or to favor the other party.—1 Starkie, 169, 170.—2 Powell, 376-9.

271. When a party has ceased examining a witness he has produced, the opposite party may cross-examine such witness in every shape upon the facts referred to in his examination in chief; or he may require an entry to be made of his declining to cross-examine.—1 Starkie, 186.—2 Powell, 30, 380 et suiv.

272. A witness may be re-examined by the party producing him, when new facts

273. [When witnesses are called to prove the identity of any object in the possession of one of the parties, the court or judge may order that the party shall, either in court or at any other convenient place or time, exhibit such object to the witnesses thus called to give evidence concerning it; and in default of his so exhibiting the object, it will be held to have been identified.—The court may likewise order any witness who is in possession of any object which is the subject of the litigation, to produce it, under the same penalties, in case of default, as for refusing to answer pertinent questions.]

274. A witness may object to answer questions put to him, if his answering would expose him to a criminal prosecution.*—This objection can only be made by the witness himself.—1 Starkie, 192-8.—2 Powell, 388.—1 Greenleaf, 545.—C. P. L., 136.

* In a qui tam action for a penalty, a defendant may claim exemption from answering any question, on the ground that every question which could be put to him in the action had and must have a direct tendency to criminate him.—Burton vs. Young, 17 L. C. Rep., 379.

275. He cannot be compelled to declare what has been revealed to him confidentially in his professional character as religious or legal adviser, or as an officer of state where public policy is concerned.—Parfait Notaire, 83.—1 Starkie, 184-5-6.—2 Powell, 60.—1 Chitty's Archbold, 67.—1 Pigeau, 278.

276. A witness is bound to produce any document in his possession touching the matter in issue, and to allow a copy or extracts thereof to be taken, if it is a private writing; and such copies or extracts, certified by the prothonotary, are entitled to the same credence as would be given to the originals.

277. Any witness, who, without valid reason, refuses to answer or to produce documents or other things connected with the suit and in his possession, may be held by coercive imprisonment to do so.

278. A witness cannot withdraw without the permission of the judge.—C. P. Genève, 198.

279. If the examination of a witness cannot be completed on the day he appears, he is bound to attend again on the next following juridical day, or on such other day as is assigned to him by the judge, which day is mentioned in the notes of his evidence or entered upon the registers of the court, and in default he is liable to the same penalties as for refusing to attend upon the subpoena.

280. It is the duty of the judge to ask the witnesses if they require taxation, and if they do to tax their expenses, with due regard to the nature of the voyage and the duration of their stay.—Ord. 1667, tit. 22, art. 19.—C. P. C., 274, 277.

281. The taxation may be enforced by execution against the party who summoned the witness, after the delay and in the manner prescribed for any judgment of the court. And execution may be sued out by the witness against the opposite party condemned to pay the expenses of such witness, provided that no execution has already been sued out by the party who obtained the judgment, or that the amount allowed the witness has not already been paid to such party or his attorney in virtue of a duly receipted bill of costs.—C. P. Genève, 200.—C. S. L. C., c. 83, s. 153.—De Beaumont vs. Gauthier, and Gauthier and Pratt, 11 L. C. Jurist, 49.

282. When one party has closed his proof, the other party may enter upon his counter-proof, and have his witnesses examined.

283. If, on the day fixed for proof, the party who is bound to proceed does not produce any witnesses, or give any valid reason for their absence, his proof may be declared closed.

284. Upon the consent in writing of all the parties to a case, and subject to such additional costs and fees as may from time to time be fixed by tariff, the proof may be taken down in writing in the manner hereinafter provided, either before a judge or before the prothonotary, who, in such case, may exercise all the powers of a judge, except as to the objections which must be reserved for the decision of the latter.—If the judge is unable to attend court on the day fixed for taking proofs, the prothonotary may preside over them,* and in such case he exercises all the powers of the judge, except as regards the objections made by either party, which must be taken down in writing and reserved for the decision of the court at the final hearing of the case.—C. S. L. C., c. 83, s. 18.—27 & 28 Vic., c. 39, ss. 16, 17.

285. With the consent of the parties proofs may be taken on any juridical day during term or vacation, before the prothonotary, who presides over them and acts in the manner hereinbefore provided with respect to proof sittings.

286. The court or judge may assign the different rooms wherein proofs may be taken in the court house.—C. S. L. C., c. 83, s. 17.

* Depositions cannot, even by consent of parties, be taken before a commissioner of the court, he having no jurisdiction to receive the same.—Pinsonnault vs. Valade, 17 L. C. Rep., 496.

287. The witnesses must take the necessary oath or affirmation before they are examined, and the prothonotary must make a note of the fact of their having done so.—1 Pigeau, 279.

288. The deposition of each witness is written out at full length by the prothonotary, or by some person employed by him for the purpose.—The commencement of the deposition must mention the name of the person presiding over the proof; the designation of the parties; the names, surname, age, quality or occupation and place of residence of the witness; and the fact of his being sworn.—Ord. 1667, tit. 22, art. 14.—C. P. C., 262.

289. The deposition must contain all that the witness declares concerning the matter at issue between the parties, without omitting any of the circumstances, and as much as possible in the words used by the witness; unless, upon objection by one of the parties, the judge orders otherwise.—Ibid., art. 17.—C. P. C., 271.

290. If the parties disagree as to the pertinency of any question or cross-question, it must be written down in the body of the deposition, either to be submitted for the decision of the judge or to guide the witness in his answer.

291. The objections made by the parties must likewise be inserted in the body of the deposition, as well as the decision thereon, or any consent of the parties concerning the same.

292. The witnesses are examined in the manner provided in § 3 of this section.

293. When the deposition of a witness is concluded, it is read to or by him, he is asked to declare whether it contains the truth, whether he persists therein, and whether he knows anything further, and he must sign it. If he cannot sign, that fact is mentioned, as well as the reading of the deposition.—Ord. 1667, tit. 22, art. 16.—C. P. C., 271.—2 Bloche, 233-4.

294. If the witness adds to, strikes out, or alters any portion of his deposition, the changes must be inserted in the margin or at the end, before the closing and acknowledgment of the deposition.—Ord. 1667, tit. 22, art. 18.—C. P. C., 272, 273.

295. No credence is given to unauthenticated marginal notes, nor to words written upon others, nor to interlineations. The number of words struck out and of marginal notes must be mentioned in the jurat.

296. At the examination of each witness, either the parties or their attorneys or counsel must be present or have been duly called. The other witnesses cannot be present if either of the parties object.—Ord. 1667, tit. 22, art. 15.

297. Articles 259, 260 and 261 apply likewise to proofs written down at length.

298. When one of the parties has closed his proof, the other party may proceed with his counter-proof and have a subsequent day fixed for that purpose; a sufficient delay being allowed to summon his witnesses.

299. If on the day fixed for his proof a party fails to appear or to produce witnesses, and furnishes no valid excuse for their absence, or for not proceeding, his proof may be declared closed, and the opposite party may, if he thinks proper, have a day fixed for his own proof.—43 Rule of Practice,

300. The court may appoint a competent person as an examiner to take the proof, when, by reason of the nature of the dispute, or the number and distance of the witnesses to be examined, or the intricacy or multiplicity of the facts to be proved, or any other sufficient cause, it is shown to the court, by any of the parties concerned, that the ends of justice will be better attained by the appointment of such examiners.—C. S. L. C., c. 83, s. 108.

301. The rule appointing an examiner must specify the place where the proof shall be taken, and the delay within which it must be completed. This delay may be extended by the court or judge upon sufficient cause shewn.—Ibid

302. The examiner, before entering upon his functions, must be sworn before a judge, or a commissioner of the superior court, to fulfil his duties faithfully and impartially; and such oath must be in writing and be annexed to his return.

303. He must give the parties at least eight days notice of the time and place at which he will begin the examination.—Ibid., § 4.

304. The witnesses are summoned, by means of a writ of subpoena issuing from the court before which the suit is pending, to appear before the examiner, who may administer the oath to them, may receive any documentary evidence produced by the parties, and has all the powers of a judge presiding over proofs stated in § 4 of this section.—Ibid., §§ 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10.

305. Any party to the suit may also be summoned to answer interrogatories upon articulated facts visà voce before the examiner. The latter may administer the necessary oath, and put such further questions as he may deem necessary and pertinent.—If the party refuses to answer any such questions, they are reduced to writing, and the facts contained in them are held to be proved.—If the party summoned fails to appear, the party who took out the order cannot take advantage of the default unless he has caused him to be served with the interrogatories which he intends him to answer.—Ibid., § 11.

306. After completing the proof, the examiner must make a return of his proceedings, on or before the day fixed by the court or judge.—Ibid., § 12.

307. When any of the witnesses or of the parties reside beyond Lower Canada, or even within Lower Canada at a distance of more than thirty miles from the place where the court is held, the party who requires to examine them may obtain a commission appointing one or more persons to receive the answers of such witnesses or parties.—C. S. L. C., c. 83, ss. 25, 105, 106.—C. P. L. 138.

308. Application for that purpose must be made [by the plaintiff,] within four days after the articulations of facts are completed; except under particular circumstances, left to the discretion of the court or judge. Such an application by the defendant must be made within the same delay if the case is to be tried by a jury or is inscribed at the same time for proof and hearing; [but if the proof is taken in writing, at length, the defendant may make the application within the four days after the closing of the plaintiff's proof.] It may be granted by the court or by a judge in vacation, upon its being satisfactorily shewn by affidavit that the commission is necessary, and after notice to the adverse party.—Ibid. ss. 106, 107, § 2.

309. The commissioners are chosen as follows:—If both parties join in the commission each furnishes four names. From the list thus formed each party alternately strikes out two names; this is done in the presence of the judge, who out of the four remaining names chooses three, to whom the commission is addressed.—If both parties do not join in the commission it is addressed to the persons chosen by the party who applies for it.—Ibid. s. 105, § 3.

310. The court or judge fixes the number of commissioners who must be present in order to execute the commission, and gives directions and authority for swearing witnesses.—Ibid. s. 107.

311. Annexed to the commission are the interrogatories and cross-interrogatories of each party, which shall have been allowed by the judge after due notice to the other party.—Ibid. s. 105, § 2.

312. The commission must also be accompanied with instructions addressed to the commissioners, under the signature of the judge, to guide them in its execution.—Ibid. s. 107.

313. The return consists of a certificate of the commissioners who acted, endorsed upon the commission, and stating that the execution appears by the schedule thereto annexed.—The return must be under a sealed envelope, upon which are endorsed an indication of its contents and the name of the cause. It cannot be opened and published without an order from the court or judge.—Ibid. s. 105, § 2.

314. The party who applies for a commission must himself see to its being transmitted and executed.—Ibid. s. 105, § 3.

315. If both parties have joined in the commission, both are equally bound to have it transmitted and executed.—Ibid.

316. A failure to return the commission will not prevent the court from proceeding with the hearing in the following cases:

1. If it appears that the party applied for the commission solely in order to retard the judgment;

2. If the return has been delayed longer than justice and equity required.—Ibid., s. 107, § 3.

§ 8. Of proofs ex parte.

317. When the defendant fails to appear or to plead to the action, the plaintiff, in suits other than those mentioned in articles 89, 90 and 91, may inscribe his case for proof in term or out of term, if any is necessary, and such proof is then proceeded with before a judge, or before the prothonotary who must swear the witnesses, take notes of their evidence, and do whatever else it would be the duty of a judge of the court to do in matters of proof.—A defendant foreclosed from pleading is entitled to at least one clear day's notice before proof; and he may cross-examine the witnesses, and make such objections as he thinks proper, of which the prothonotary must take notes; but he is not entitled to produce witnesses.—Proofs ex parte may be taken at any time, except between the ninth of July and the first of September.—C.S.L.C., c. 83, ss. 13 § 2, 16, 98, 99.

318. All evidence offered by the plaintiff is filed and remains in the record in the same manner as if the defendant had appeared and pleaded to the action.—Ibid., s. 102.

319. All applications to the court upon any incident of the proof may be made by motion, stating succinctly the object and reasons of the application.

320. The court may, at any time before judgment, in its discretion and under such conditions as it deems just, allow any pleading to be amended so as to agree with the facts proved, and any pleading is sufficiently sustained if the facts alleged agree sufficiently with the facts proved, and if in the opinion of the court the opposite party has not been led into error as to the real nature of the facts intended to be alleged and proved.—Ibid., s. 77, § 2.

SECTION IV.

Of Experts, Viewers, References in Matters of Account, and Arbitrators.

321. Before deciding upon the merits of the case, the court may, if necessary, order an extraordinary investigation in the cases hereinafter mentioned, either before, during, or after the proof.—C.S.L.C., c. 83, s. 81.

§ 1. Of viewers and experts.

322. Whenever the facts in contestation between the parties can only be verified by view of the object or premises, or whenever the evidence produced by each party is contradictory, or when the nature of the contest requires it, the court may, of its own accord or upon the application of either party, order the facts to be verified by experts and persons skilled in the matter.—The order for experts must specify clearly and distinctly the matters to be verified.—1 Liguau, 298.—Pothier, Proc. civ. 44.—C. S. L. C., c. 83, s. 81.—C. P. C. 302.

323. [The investigation must be made by three experts agreed upon by the parties, unless they agree to its being made by one only.]—Ord. 1667, tit. 21, arts. 9, 13.—1 Bornier, 172.—C. P. C. 303.—1 Couchot, 88.

324. If, at the time of the order for experts, their appointment has been agreed upon by the parties, the order records such appointment.—1 Couchot, 88.—C. P. C. 304.

325. If the experts are not agreed upon by the parties, the court fixes a day on which the latter must attend before the court or judge in order to appoint them; and in default of an order to that effect either party may summon the other to attend as aforesaid, within a reasonable delay, for the purpose of such appointment.—Ord. 1667, tit. 21, art. 9.—Pothier, Proc. civ., 44.—C. P. C. 305.

326. [The parties are bound to attend on the day appointed, and if they then fail to agree upon the three experts the court appoints such experts for them.—In the case of any of the experts being validly recusated others are appointed in their stead, in the manner above prescribed.]—Ord. 1667, tit. 21, art. 9.—Pothier, 45.—C. P. C. 306, 309.

327. The grounds for recusating an expert are: relation or alliance, to the degree of cousin-german inclusively; intimacy; enmity; subornation; interest; being in the domestic service or other employ of one of the parties; being a party in a similar suit, or the attorney or agent of a party in the case; and, generally, the grounds of exclusion applicable to witnesses.—Pothier, Proc. civ., 45.—C. P. C. 310.

328. As soon as the experts are named, either party may have the order served upon them, together with a requisition calling upon them to be sworn.—Ord. 1667, tit. 21, art. 10.

329. If any one of the experts neglects or refuses to be sworn or to act, either of the parties may summon the other to attend before a judge in order that another person may be named in the proper manner to replace such expert.—Pothier 48.—C. P. C. 316.

330. The experts, before taking any proceedings in the investigation, must, on pain of nullity, be sworn to perform their functions with impartiality and to the best of their ability.—This oath must be in writing, and be certified by the person who administers it.*—

* Form No. 30.—The oath to be administered to experts.

I, A. B., of the parish of—, in the county of— (if there be two or more persons to be sworn, say, I, A. B., of—, and I, C. D., of—) do make oath and swear, that in the presence of E. F., the plaintiff, and G. Form No. 31.—Certificate, to be made and signed by the commissioner, of the due administration of the oath.

331. The oath must be taken before a judge, or the prothonotary, before a commissioner of the superior court, before an expert already duly sworn, or before any other person indicated in the order for experts.—Pothier, Proc. 46.—C. S. L. C., c. 83, ss. 82-5.

332. A copy of the order for experts, together with the necessary papers, must be given to them, after the prothonotary has taken a receipt therefor.—Ord. 1667, tit. 21, art. 10.

333. The experts are bound to fix the time and place at which they will proceed with the investigation, and to notify the parties, allowing a delay of at least three days when the distance from the domicile of the parties respectively does not exceed five leagues, and one day more for every additional five leagues.—Pothier, Proc. 46.

334. The experts must hear the parties and the witnesses in accordance with the terms of the order naming them: each of them is authorised to administer the oath to the witnesses or the parties, * as the case may be, and the witnesses are summoned to attend before the experts, whatever may be the distance.—C. S. L. C., c. 83, s. 84.

336. [If all the experts agree, they make one and the same report, if not, each of them makes his separate report, if he thinks proper.]—Ord. 1667, tit. 21, art. 13.—Pothier, Proc. 47.—1 Conchot, 55.

337. The report of the experts must be made on or before the day fixed by the court. It must contain reasons and details, so as to enable the court to appreciate the facts; it must also be signed by the experts or be in the form of a notarial original.—Law Reporter, 57; Rodier vs. Mercile, Montreal, 16 Sept. 1850.—Ord. 1667, art. 12.

338. If the experts delay or refuse to file their report, they may be summoned, with the same delays as in ordinary procedure, by a rule of court, to shew cause why they should not be condemned, and even held by coercive imprisonment, to do so.—C. P. C., 320.

339. The court is not bound to adopt the opinion of the experts nor that of a majority of them.—C. P. C., 323.

§ 2. Of references in matters of account to accountants and practitioners.

H., the defendant, and that I am not interested in the event of the cause depending between them, (or, if witness says he is, state in what degree he declares himself to be related or allied to either and which of the parties, or what situation he holds in the family of either of them,) and I do also swear that the evidence which I shall give between the said parties before the experts, (or arbiters or arbitrators, as the case may be,) named in the interlocutory judgment pronounced by (here insert the name of the court), in the said cause, shall be the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth: So help me God.

340. In matters where accounts have to be rendered or adjusted, or which require calculations to be made, and in matters of separation of property, or partition of community or succession the court may refer the case to one or more persons skilled in such matters; and such persons are subject to the rules above prescribed concerning experts.—Such accountants and practitioners have the powers given to experts by the foregoing articles, and are bound to follow the directions of the court; and their reports are adopted, homologated or rejected in the same manner as reports of experts.—C. S. L. C., c. 83, s. 80.

341. The court may, of its own motion or upon the application of one of the parties, refer to the decision of arbitrators any case of dispute between relations, concerning partitions, or other matters of fact which it is difficult for the court to appreciate; and also any other case, if the parties consent to it.—Ord. 1566, art. 83.—1 Pigeau, 248.

342. The preceding provisions relating to experts apply to arbitrators, in so far as they are compatible with those of the present paragraph. Nevertheless, arbitrators need not be sworn unless the order appointing them requires it.—1 Pigeau, 249.

343. Arbitrators can only adjudicate upon the matters submitted to them.—They are bound to observe the same formalities as experts in the investigation of facts, according to articles 334 and 335, unless they are at the same time appointed mediators, but they are not bound to give the reasons of their decision.—They cannot award costs, unless the court has empowered them to do so.—1 Pigeau, 248.

§ 4. General provisions applicable to the three preceding paragraphs.

344. [Experts, accountants, practitioners, and arbitrators, may demand that the amount of their remuneration, costs and disbursements be paid into court previously to the opening of their report and subject to the order of the court.—If they do not demand this deposit they have a recourse against all the parties to the suit jointly and severally.]—Brown & Wallace, 11 L. C. Reports, 182.

345. The party who intends to avail himself of a report of experts, practitioners or accountants must make application to have it received; and if the opposite party desires to take advantage of any informalities or causes of nullity therein, he must do so by a counter-application.—Poth., Proc. 47.—Contra, Ord. 1677, tit. 21, art. 14.

346. If a report of experts, practitioners or accountants is free from informalities or causes of nullity, it is received, together with the depositions and documents annexed, as part of the evidence in the case.—C. de Paris, 184.

347. In the case of an award of arbitrators, the party intending to avail himself of it may apply for its homologation and for judgment in conformity with it. The other party cannot oppose it except by an application to have the report declared inadmissible on the ground of informality or some other cause of nullity.

352. No trial by jury is fixed until the court or judge, tion of the party claiming the same, has assigned the fact or facts to be inquired into by the jury, and has decided all issues raised respecting the quality of the parties.—C. S. L.

C., e. 83, s. 29, 31.

353. Each party must furnish the judge with a statement of the facts which he considers ought to be submitted to the jury.—Ibid, s.
31.

354. The assignment of the facts may, however, be dispensed with, by consent in writing of all the parties to the suit.—C. S. L. C., e. 83, s.
32.

355. The trial must be had at the place where the suit is brought, unless, for sufficient cause, the court or judge orders that it shall be had in another district; and in such case the verdict is returned with the record to the place where the suit was commenced.

356. In any suit for damages brought against a public officer by reason of any illegal act done by him in the performance of his functions, he may apply to have the trial take place in another district, upon shewing that the case cannot be tried impartially and without prejudice in the district in which the suit is brought.
—This application may be granted either by the court or by a judge, and the venue changed accordingly.—C. S. L.
C., e. 83, s. 28; e. 101, s. 3, § 3.

§ 2. Of the jury.

357. The prothonotary of the superior court in each district is bound to make a list of the persons qualified to serve as jurors in civil causes,

by taking from the list deposited in his office of persons qualified, according to the terms of the statute, to serve as grand jurors in criminal cases, and in the order in which they then are, the names of all persons residing within a distance of five leagues from the court.—27 and 28 Vict., c. 41, s. 9, § 1, 2.

358. The qualification required for such jurors is that they must be males of full age, proprietors of real property of the assessed value of two thousand dollars, or tenants of real property of the assessed annual value of two hundred dollars, * in cities or towns of at least twenty thousand souls; and in any other municipalities they must be owners of real property, of the assessed value of one thousand dollars,† or tenants of real property of the assessed annual value of one hundred dollars.‡ Any justice of the peace may be a juror.—Ibid., s. 2, § 2, 3.

359. Persons cannot be jurors:

1. Who have not the qualifications and conditions required by the two preceding articles;
2. Who are afflicted with blindness, deafness or any other physical infirmity incom-

3. Who are arrested or under bail upon a charge of treason or felony, or who have been convicted thereof.

4. Who are aliens, except in cases where, according to law, one half of the jury must be composed of aliens.—Ibid., s. 2, § 3.

360. The following persons are exempt [absolutely] from serving as jurors:

Members of the clergy;

(Members of the privy council, or of the senate, or of the house of commons of Canada, or persons in the employ of the government of Canada.—32 Vic. c. 22, s. 5, § 2, Stat. of Q.)

Members of the executive council, of the legislative council, or of the legislative assembly (of Quebec, or persons in the employ of the government of Canada.—32 Vic., c. 22, s. 5, § 3, Stat. of Q.)

Practising advocates and attorneys;

Prothonotaries, clerks of the peace, and clerks of the circuit court; and the clerk, treasurer, and other municipal officers of the cities of Quebec and Montreal.—32 Vic., c. 22, s. 5, § 5, Stat. of Q.)

Sheriffs and coroners;

Officers of her majesty's courts;

Gaolers and keepers of houses of correction;

Officers of the army or navy, on full pay;

Persons above sixty years of age.

All persons in the civil service of the government, acting under imperial or provincial appointment;

Officers of the customs;

Persons employed in the public offices;

Persons in the service of the post-office;

All persons who have been in military service for a period of seven years. (This and the four preceding clauses are now abrogated by 32 Vic. c. 22, Stat. of Q.)

Physicians, surgeons, and apothecaries;

Cashiers, tellers and accountants of incorporated banks;

Masters and crews of steamboats, (during the season of navigation.—32 Vic. c. 23, s. 5, § 15, Stat. of Q.)

361. The list of jurors for civil cases is revised from time to time by the prothonotary according to the list of grand jurors for criminal cases, by striking out the names of deceased, absent or disqualified persons and adding the names of new persons qualified to serve as jurors, [and also by striking out the names of all those whom the sheriff returns in any case pending as dead, absent, or incompetent, or who are declared by the court to be so.]—Ibid., s. 9, § 1.

§ 3. Of the special list and the striking of the panel.

362. The court, upon motion of either of the parties, may fix a day for striking the panel, and another day for the trial, either in term or in vacation, and may order the summoning of a jury to try the issues, either at the place where the court is held or in any other district, according to circumstances, and may, in the latter case, order the record to be sent to the prothonotary of the court in such district.—C. S. L. C., c. 83, ss. 27, 27.—64 R. of Prac.

* To the above list are now added "registrars," and "the persons mentioned in sec. 23 of the act 4 & 5 Vic. c. 90," viz. Members of the council and board of arbitration of the Montreal board of trade.—32 Vic. c. 22, s. 5, §§ 19, 21, Stat. of Q.

than six persons speaking the English language, or the names of more than six traders or non-traders, as the case may be.—27 & 28 Vic., c. 41, s. 9, § 10.

370. If either of the parties fails to attend for the purpose of striking the panel, the prothonotary may strike twelve names from the special list on his behalf, observing the rules prescribed in the preceding article.—Lush's Practice, 447.—71 Rule of Practice.

371. [If the party who has demanded a trial by jury fails to proceed upon his demand, the opposite party may either adopt the necessary proceedings for summoning a jury or may obtain leave from the court or a judge to inscribe the case for proof in the manner indicated in the chapter on proof.]

§ 4. Of the summoning of jurors.

372. As soon as the panel is formed in the manner prescribed in the preceding section, the prothonotary delivers to the party who applies for it a writ of Venire Facias, in the name of the sovereign, signed by such prothonotary and sealed with the seal of the court, ordering the sheriff to summon the twenty-four persons whose names compose the panel; and a copy of such panel is annexed to the writ.—Lush's Practice, p. 173.—3 Blackstone, 358.

373. The jurors must be summoned at least four days before the day fixed for the trial.—C. S. L., C., c. 84, s. 44.—27 & 28 Vic., c. 41, s. 9, § 12.

374. The sheriff is not bound to leave a copy of the writ of Venire Facias with each person, but merely a notice under his signature, summoning him in virtue of such writ to appear upon the day and at the hour fixed for the trial.—This notice must give the names of the parties to the case, the names, occupation and residence of the person summoned as a juror, the day, place and hour fixed for the trial, the summons to appear as juror, the date of the writ of Venire Facias, the date of the notice, and the signature of the officer to whom the writ is addressed.

375. A return of service of such writ must be made in the same manner as that of ordinary summonses.

§ 5. Of the formation of the jury, and of challenges.

376. On the day fixed for the trial, the persons summoned as jurors must appear at the appointed hour, at the place where the court is held, under a penalty not exceeding [twenty-five dollars,] which may be immediately imposed by the court, and is levied by the sheriff on the goods and chattels of the person so fined; and in default of sufficient goods and chattels, such person may be imprisoned for a period not exceeding fifteen days.—The court may, however, for good cause shewn, reduce or entirely remit such penalty or imprisonment.—27 & 28 Vic., c. 41, s. 11, § 2.

377. As soon as the case is called on the appointed day, the writ of Venire Facias is returned, and after the jurors summoned have been called and a sufficient number to form a jury are in attendance, either party may challenge the array, either on the ground that the officer to whom the Venire Facias was addressed is interested or concerned in the suit, or on the ground of such causes of nullity as may be found in the summoning of the jurors or the making up of the lists or panel.—C. S. L. C., c. 84, s. 45.—1 Archbold Practice, 204-7.—Kennedy, on Jury Trials, 101.—3 Blackstone, 359.—C. P. L., 497, 500, 501.

378. This challenge must be in writing, stating the causes of nullity relied upon, and must conclude by demanding that the panel be quashed.—Archbold, 207.

379. The presiding judge decides the challenge, and may, if necessary, order the facts upon which it is based to be substantiated on oath.—Ibid., 208.

380. If the challenge is pronounced to be valid, the party who applied for a trial by jury must obtain the issuing of another Venire Facias.

381. If there is no challenge to the array, or if such challenge is overruled, the prothonotary, in order to form the jury, proceeds to the calling and swearing of twelve of the persons summoned, following the order in which they appear on the panel, unless the judge orders otherwise saving the cases mentioned in article 393.—C. S. L. C., c. 84, s. 43.

382. Either of the parties may challenge for cause any person called to form part of the jury, before such person is sworn.—3 Blackstone, 359.—C. P. L., 500.

383. The causes of challenge to the polls are either principal or to the favor.—Archbold, 205.—3 Blackstone, 361 et seq.—C. P. L., 502.

384. The causes of principal challenge are :

1. Want of qualification of the person summoned;—C. S. L. C., c. 84, s. 22.—Kennedy, 95.—Archbold, 202.

2. Relation or affinity with one of the parties, to the degree of cousin-german inclusively;—Archbold, 205-6.

3. Interest in the suit;—Ibid., 206.

4. That he has examined into the matter in dispute as an arbitrator named by one of the parties;—Ibid.

5. That one of the parties has wrought upon the juror and give him money or other things, in order to obtain a verdict in his favor;—Ibid.

6. That the juror is infamous, or attainted of felony or convicted of perjury.—Archbold & Kennedy, loc. cit.

385. Jurors may be challenged for causes of lesser importance, which indicate a probability or give rise to a suspicion that they are biased in favor of or against one of the parties, and are to the

386. Principal challenges are tried by the court; chalenges to the favor are tried in the manner hereinafter explained.—Archbold, 207-8.

387. If two jurors or more have already been sworn, they try all challenges to the favor;
if two have not been sworn,
the court appoints two disinterested persons, who are sworn to try the challenge impartially, and who, together with the first juror sworn, if one has been sworn, decide upon it, and upon any other challenges, until two jurors have been sworn.—Archbold, 208.—3 Blackstone, 363.

388. The juror himself may be examined on oath as to the matter of the challenge, provided it does not tend to his dishonor or discredit.—Archbold, 208.—3 Blackstone, 364.
—C. P. L., 509.

389. A challenge founded upon a judicial condemnation must be accompanied with an authentic certificate of such condemnation.

390. In cases of a mercantile nature, the names of the merchants or traders summoned as jurors must be called first, and if they are not in sufficient number, the jury is completed from among the other persons summoned.—27 and 28 Vic., c. 41, s. 9, § 11.

391. If several of the jurors summoned are challenged or fail to attend, so that the number of twelve duly qualified jurors cannot be completed, the court or sitting judge may,

upon consent of the parties, but not otherwise, order the sheriff or the officer acting in his stead, to make up the number by taking forthwith from among the persons present in court the requisite number of individuals qualified to serve as jurors; but the jury cannot be wholly composed of tales, and if all the jurors summoned fail to attend, or are lawfully challenged, the trial cannot then proceed.—C.

392. When a juror called is not challenged, or the chalenge is overruled, he must be sworn to try the matter at issue, and to give his verdict in a just and impartial manner, according to the evidence.—
C. P. L., 514.

§ 6. Of the proceedings before a jury.

393. Two days at least before that fixed for the trial by jury each of the parties must, under a sealed cover, deliver to the prothonotary, for the use of the judge who is to preside at the trial, a factum or case, containing a statement of the facts of the case and the authorities which he cites in support of his pretensions.—
72 R. of Practice.—Archbold, 190.

394. After the return of the Venire Facias, on the day fixed for the trial, if neither party appears, the jurors are discharged; if the plaintiff appears and the defendant makes default, such default is recorded, and the plaintiff may proceed ex parte.—If the plaintiff alone fails to appear, his default is recorded, and judgment of nonsuit is entered against him, with costs to the defendant.—73 R. of Prac.—1 Archbold, 189, 190.

395. The plaintiff may also, at any time before verdict, withdraw from court or abandon his suit, and a like judgment of nonsuit, with costs, is rendered against him by the judge.—74 R. of Prac.—1 Archbold, 197, 211, 212.

396. No paper can be read to the jury without leave from the judge; and if it be not authentic it must first be proved.

397. The witnesses give their evidence orally, in presence of the jury, and the judge is bound to make, or cause to be made under his supervision, full notes of the testimony thus adduced, of all oral admissions, and of all exceptions taken or objections made orally in court. These notes are read out by the judge or by the prothonotary, at the oral request of any party in the suit, during the trial or immediately after it, in order to correct and remedy any errors or omissions that may be found therein.—C. S. L. C., c. 83, ss. 34, 97.

398. A fair copy of such notes is made out by the prothonotary, and, after being certified by the judge, is filed of record, and in case of appeal is held to be the true record of the evidence adduced and all other proceedings mentioned therein, and stands in lieu of any bill of exceptions by either of the parties against the evidence adduced, or the trial, which bills can no longer be filed.—Ibid., s. 35.

399. When the witness cannot attend before the court, their evidence may be taken by means of a commission for the examination of witnesses, which must be obtained and executed in the manner prescribed in the section concerning such commissions, and must be returned before the jury; but no such commission can issue for the examination of witnesses who are within the circuit in which the jury trial takes place, unless with the consent of both parties, which is entered in the record.—Ibid., ss. 105-6-7.

400. When the facts to be proved before the jury have been assigned by the judge, the proof is limited to the facts thus submitted.—Ibid., s. 31.

401. When, upon the written consent of the parties, the assignment of facts by the judge has been dispensed with, proof may be gone into upon all the facts of the case.—Ibid., s. 32.

402. Either party may examine the other by interrogatories upon articulated facts, the answers to which are taken either orally in the presence of the jury, or in writing in the prothonotary's office.—Ibid., s. 100.

When the witness is examined before the court, the evidence may be taken by the commission for the examination of witnesses, which is defined and executed in the manner prescribed concerning such and must be taken before the jury; but the commission can issue for the examination of witnesses who are within the jurisdiction of the court, which the jury try, unless with the consent of both parties, which is entered on the record. — Ibid.

On the facts to be proved, the jury have the direction by the judge, the evidence is added to the facts. — Ibid, s. 31. The jury, upon the written depositions, the parol evidence, the facts by the judge, which have been dispensed with, may be gone into in the facts of the case.

Each party may examine the other by interrogatory, and the facts articulated facts, which are taken in the presence of the jury, and in writing in the office. — Ibid, s. 31.

The plaintiff first examines, and adduces his evidence. — The defendant next proceeds with his defence, having the option of addressing the jury either before or after adduction of his evidence.

— The plaintiff is afterwards entitled to reply, but if he adduces evidence in rebuttal, the defendant may comment upon such evidence before the reply of the plaintiff. — 1 Archbold, 491, 195.

404. When each party has stated his case and adduced his evidence, the judge, if he deems it necessary, summons up the evidence to the jury. — Ibid, 195. — 3 Blackstone, 375.

405. If either party objects to the judge's charge, the judge must, either immediately or as soon as he conveniently can, reduce to writing the portion of his charge which is objected to, mentioning the objection made, and what is thus written, after being signed by the judge, forms part of the record in the case. — C. S. L. C., c. 83, § 33.

§ 7. Of the provinces of judge and jury.

406. It is the province of the judge to declare whether there is any evidence and whether that evidence is legal, and it is that of the jury to say whether the evidence admitted is sufficient. — 2 Powell, Practice of Law, Of Jury, Rule 1, p. 15.

407. The jury finds the facts, but must be guided by the directions of the judge as regards the law. — Ibid, Rule 2. *

§ 8. Of the verdict.

408. If the jury, when charged with the case, cannot immediately agree upon a verdict, they must retire to a place set apart for them, in charge of some bailiff appointed by the court or judge, until they are ready to render their verdict. — The court or judge may, however, in such case, and also during the trial, permit them to depart for the night, subject to the obligation of attending again on the next following judicial day. — 1 Archbold, 197.

409. If the jurors fail so to attend again, they are liable to the penalties attached to contempt of court, without prejudice to the recourse of the parties against them for damages.

410. The jury may, at any time, even after the summing up by the judge, but in his presence and with his permission, in open court, examine again the witnesses already heard; they may also ask the opinion of the judge upon any questions of law which present themselves. — Kennedy, 49.

411. The agreement of nine of the twelve jurors is sufficient to return a verdict. — C. S. L. C., c. 83, s. 26, § 3.

* Reasonable skill, due diligence and gross negligence are questions for the jury.

412. If nine of the jurors cannot agree upon the verdict to be returned, the jury may, in the discretion of the court, be discharged, and another jury may be summoned.

413. The prothonotary, after ascertaining that all the jurors are present, receives their verdict and enters the same in the registers of the court, inserting their names, and stating the number of those who concur in the verdict if it is not unanimous.—Ibid.

414. When there is an assignment of facts the verdict must be special and articulated upon each fact submitted, and be explicitly affirmative or negative.—Ibid., s. 31.—C. P. L., 519, 521.

415. When the parties have agreed to dispense with an assignment of facts, the verdict is general, either in favor of the plaintiff for a specific sum, or in favor of the defendant.—Ibid., s. 32.—C. P. L., 519, 522.

416. The jurors are not bound to render their verdict until the party demanding the trial by jury has paid the sum of one dollar for each of them, for each day that the trial has lasted.—In default of payment by either party, the jury are discharged without rendering a verdict, with costs against the party who demanded a trial by jury; such costs including both the costs incurred upon the trial and the allowance for the jurors, to whom the same is paid as soon as it is recovered by the prothonotary; [and if the trial by jury was demanded by the defendant, the plaintiff may proceed according to article 371.]—C. S. L. C., c. 84, s. 47.—27 & 28 Vic., c. 41, s. 10, §§ 3, 4.

417. The prothonotary, in the case of such default of pay, must immediately issue against the party liable for costs, a writ of execution, to be enforced by the sheriff, for the recovery of the allowance due the jurors.

418. The verdict must be given upon all the issues submitted to the jury.—1 Archbold, 213.—Buller, 178 a.

419. The verdict cannot in any manner pronounce upon the costs of suit.—C. P. L., 523.

420. The presiding judge may order the amendment of any clerical errors that have occurred in any proceeding in the case before the jury or in the verdict.—Buller, 321 a.—If the verdict cannot be rendered by reason of the death, illness or withdrawal of a juror, the jury must be discharged, saving the right of the parties to have another jury summoned.—The judge may, however, in the case of illness or withdrawal of a juror, adjourn the case, in order to give the jury the opportunity to reunite and render their verdict.

the two other recourses mentioned in the preceding article, in which case it may be made within the two days in term

the former motion.—77 Rule of Practice.

hereinabove mentioned can be adjudicated upon unless the opposite party has been heard or duly notified.

Of motions for new trial.

426. The court may grant a new trial in the following cases:

1. If the assignment of facts submitted to the jury does not comprise all the facts necessary to be proved;

2. If the judge has admitted illegal evidence;

3. If he has rejected legal evidence;

4. If he has wrongly directed the jury upon a point of law;

5. If the jury, not agreeing, have settled their verdict by casting lots, even though it be conformable to the evidence and to the direction of the judge;

6. If the jurors have accepted refreshments from the successful party;

7. If one of the jurors had expressed his intention of favoring the successful party;

8. If he has committed any act of a nature to warrant a suspicion of partiality of the verdict;

9. If anything has been done to bias the opinion of a juror in favor of the successful party;

10. If the judge, while summing up the case in favor of one of the parties, was stopped by the jury declaring themselves satisfied, and they afterwards rendered a verdict in favor of the other party;

11. If the amount awarded be so small or so excessive that it is evident that the jurors must have been influenced by improper motives, or led into error;

12. If the jurors, or any of them, have received affidavits or evidence out of court;

13. If the verdict is unsupported by proof, or contrary to the evidence adduced;

14. If the party was taken by surprise;

15. If the case was irregularly called in the absence of either of the parties; or if the record was not complete; if an important witness was absent at the time of the trial without any fault on the part of the party who had summoned him, and his evidence is still obtainable; and in all cases where the merits of the case could not be discussed, and the party aggrieved and his attorneys are free from blame in that respect;

16. In some particular cases, when new evidence has been discovered since the trial;

17. If the verdict is informal or defective;

18. If the writ of Venire Facias is wrongly addressed or executed, or if a challenge of the array or of any juror has been erroneously maintained or overruled;

19. If, for other causes, there is manifest injustice in the verdict.—Lush's Practice, 531 et seq., 543, 550.

427. The causes mentioned in paragraphs 2, 3, 4 and 10, in the preceding article can only be ascertained by means of the judge's notes filed in the record, and when the party has caused his objections to be entered therein.—Lush's Practice, 540.—3 Blackstone, 391.—Buller, 325 c.—C. S. L. C., c. 83, s. 34.

428. The affidavit of a juror as to the reasons and motives which influenced him cannot be received in any case.—Lush's Practice, 536.

429. Nor can the affidavits of jurors or any other evidence be received for the purpose of establishing that the verdict rendered and recorded is not that which the jurors intended to give.—Ibid.

430. A new trial must be granted when the judgment upon the verdict has been reversed by a higher court.—11 L. C. Reports, 325, The Montreal Assurance Co. v. McGillivray.

Of arrest of judgment.

431. The defendant has a right to move in arrest of judgment upon the verdict, whenever it appears on the face of the record that, notwithstanding the verdict, the plaintiff has no right to recover any sum, or that the verdict differs materially from the issues joined, or that the judgment would be reversed in appeal.—Lush's Prac., 527.—3 Blackstone, 393.

432. Arrest of judgment has the effect of annulling the verdict of the jury, which can no longer be carried out.

Of judgment non obstante veredicto.

433. [Whenever the verdict of a jury is upon matters of fact in accordance with the allegations of one of the parties, the court may, notwithstanding such verdict, render judgment in favor of the other party if the allegations of the former party are not sufficient in law to sustain his pretensions.]—Lush's Prac., 529.—C. CHAPTER SEVENTH.

OF DIVERS OTHER INCIDENTAL PROCEEDINGS.

SECTION I.

Of Continuance of Suits.

434. When a case is ready for judgment, it cannot be retarded either by change of the civil status of the parties or by loss of the quality in which they were acting.—1 Pigeau, 339.—C. P. C., 342.

435. The case is ready for judgment, when the trial is completed and the case is under advisement.

436. The attorney who is aware of the death or change of civil status of his party, or of the loss of the quality under which he was acting, is bound to notify the opposite party; and all proceedings had up to the day when such notice is given are valid.—Ord. 1667, tit. 26, art. 3.—1 Pigeau, 344-5.

437. In cases which are not ready for judgment, all proceedings had subsequently to notice given of the death or change of status of one of the parties, or of the loss of the quality in which he was acting, are null; and the suit is suspended until its continuance by those interested, or until the latter have been called in to continue it.—1 Pigeau, 339 et seq.—C. P. C., 344-5.

438. A suit may be continued:

1. By the heirs or representatives of a deceased party;

2. By a minor who has attained full age;

3. By the husband who has married a spinster or a widow, party in the suit;

4. By a wife who has obtained separation of property from her husband, when the suit affects her private property;

5. By the person who replaces the party who has lost the quality in which he was acting.—1 Pigeau, 340.

439. The continuance may be effected upon petition, filed in the prothonotary's office, after being served upon the opposite party.—This petition may be contested in the same manner as any suit.—1 Pigeau, 345.

440. If the continuance is not contested within the delays prescribed, it is held to be admitted, and in such case, as also when it is declared by the court to be well founded, the opposite party may continue on from the last proceedings originally taken.—Ibid, 348.

441. If the persons interested do not continue the suit, the party remaining in it may compel them to do so by a demand in the usual form which is joined to the original suit.—1 Pigeau, 347.

442. In all cases, whether the continuance is voluntary or ordered by the court, it is effected by following up the last valid proceedings originally had in the suit.—Ibid, 348.

SECTION II.

Of the Decisory Oath and the Oath put by the Court.§ 1. Of the decisory oath.

443. A party whose case is not proved may refer its decision to the oath of the opposite party, either upon the whole or upon a distinct portion of the matter in dispute. *—1 Pigeau, 256.

444. The decisory oath cannot be offered by an attorney, without a special power from the party he represents.—The offer must be in writing, and the party obtains, of course, a rule ordering the opposite party to appear before the judge to answer the questions which will be put to him.—Pothier, Oblig., 914.

445. This rule is served with the same delays as those required in summoning witnesses.

446. If the party served fails to appear or refuses to answer, he is held to admit whatever the opposite party seeks to prove by offering the oath.—Ibid, 915.—If the party to whom the oath is offered or referred is a corporation, the answers must be given in the manner provided in article 224 with regard to interrogatories upon articulated facts.

* The decisory oath cannot be withdrawn when the party to whom it has been deferred accepts the reference and declares himself ready to answer.—O'Farrell vs. O'Neil, 17 L. C. Rep., 80.

447. The party served may, however, when he refuses to answer, refer the oath back to the opposite party. This is done in writing, and thereupon the party who offered the oath is bound to attend before the court, without further notice.—Ibid, cod. loc.

§ 2. Of the oath put by the court.

448. The court may, of its own motion, order either of the parties, or both, to appear and answer such questions as it deems necessary to elucidate the matters in dispute; according to the provisions contained in article 1254 of the Civil Code *.—1 Pigeau, 259, 260.

449. The court may order that the party shall appear without notice, or that the rule shall be served upon him at the diligence of the opposite party.

SECTION III.

Of Discontinuance.

450. A party may, at any time before judgment, discontinue his suit or proceeding on

c. 82, s. 25.—C. P. C., 402, 403.

451. Discontinuance may be effected by a simple declaration to that effect, signed by the party or his attorney, and delivered into court or filed in the prothonotary's office. It has no effect, however, against the opposite party unless it has been served upon him.—Ibid.

452. Discontinuance replaces matters as of course in the state in which they would have been, had the suit or proceeding not been commenced.
—C. P. C., 403.

453. A party who has effected a discontinuance cannot begin again unless he previously pays the costs incurred by the opposite party upon the suit or proceeding discontinued.—C. S. L. C., c. 82, s. 25.

SECTION IV.

Of Peremption of Suits.

454. Suits are perempted when no proceeding has been had therein during three years.
—1 Couchot, 75.—Ord. de fév.
1563, art. 15.—Ord. de janv.
1628, art. 91.—C. P. C., 397.

455. Peremption, however, does not take place:

1. When the party has ceased to be represented by his attorney, in the cases mentioned in articles 201 and 202;

2. When the party himself dies, or has changed his civil status;

3. When proceedings are compulsorily stayed by any incidental proceeding or by an interlocutory judgment.—1 Couchot, 75.—9 L. C. Rep., 219.

456. Peremption takes place against corporations and against all individuals, even against minors, when they are represented, saving their recourse against those who represent them. It does not take place against the crown.—3
Ann. Den., p. 662.—C. P. C., 398.

457. Peremption must be declared by the court, upon a motion of which the attorney, if there is one, has had notice;
otherwise the notice must be given to the party himself.—
C. P. C., 480. *

458. Peremption is covered by any useful proceeding taken after the lapse of three years and before the service of the motion to have it declared; but it cannot be prevented or affected by any proceeding taken subsequently to the service of such motion.—10 L.

SECTION V.

Miscellaneous Provisions.

461. When any writ or paper whatever requires to be served out of the district, the service may, in the absence of any provision to the contrary, be made either by a bailiff of the district in which the court is held, or by a bailiff of the district in which such service is to be made; but no more costs can be allowed in the former case than in the latter; and this provision applies also to executions against moveable property and to attachments before or after judgment.—C. S. L. C., c. 83, s. 65, §§ 1, 2, 3, 4.

462. Every written proceeding in the case must be served upon the opposite party, otherwise it is not deemed to be regularly filed. — Every notice of inscription for hearing in law or upon the merits must be given by serving a copy of the inscription at least one clear day in term, and four days in vacation, before the day fixed for such hearing.—Ibid., s. 184.

463. In reckoning the delays in matters of pleading or trial, the first day of September is deemed to be the next day after the ninth day of July; and no party to a cause can be obliged to proceed between those two days, without a special order of the court or judge.

464. [Any two or more judges residing in the same district must sit at the same time and at the same place, but in separate apartments, in term or in vacation; and each of such judges has the same jurisdiction for hearing and determining all cases and matters submitted to him and has the same powers as if he were the only judge sitting at such place.]—Ibid., c. 78, s. 24.

465. In the absence of the judge from the chief-place of any district in vacation, his duties may be performed by the prothonotary, in cases of evident necessity, or where by delay a right might otherwise be lost or a wrong sustained.—But no judgment or order can be made by the prothonotary unless notice of the application has been given to the opposite party, except in cases by default, and such order may be afterwards revised by the court at its next sitting, or by any judge present in the district, provided the party requiring the revision files in the prothonotary's office, on or before the third following juridical day, an exception thereto, accompanied by the grounds upon which such revision is demanded.—The judgment or order of the prothonotary cannot be executed until the delay for filing such exception has expired; and

OF FINAL JUDGMENT.

SECTION I.

Of Judgment on the Merits.

468. Judgment in a suit which is under advisement cannot be stayed by reason of the death of the parties or of their attorneys.—Ord. 1667, tit. 26, art. 1.—[If any judge or assistant judge before whom a case has been heard is appointed chief-justice or judge of the same court, or chief-justice or judge of another court, or has obtained leave of absence, he may render judgment as if no changes had taken place.]

(Further enactment since the promulgation of this code:)

“Whenever any judge of the superior court, who has heard a cause in the said court, is unable, by reason of sickness or other reason, to render judgment in the said cause in person, he may transmit the draft of the judgment, certified by himself, to the prothonotary, who shall be thereupon bound to record the same, and to read it in open court on the next judicial day in term after he shall have received such draft; and the judgment shall then have the same force and effect as if it had been pronounced by the judge on the day which it was so read.”—32 Vic. c. 20, s. 1, stat. of Q.

469. In all contested cases, and in those not provided for by articles 89, 90, 91, 92 and 96, judgment must be rendered in open court.—Ibid., art. 5.—The court may, during term, appoint days out of term for rendering judgment in cases taken under advisement.

470. In cases inscribed at the same time for proof and hearing, judgment may be rendered during the days set apart in vacation for proof and hearing in such cases: (amended by 32 Vic., c. 20, s. 2, Stat. of Q., by adding the words) and also during term and on any day out of term appointed by the court for rendering judgment in cases taken under advisement.—C. S. L. C., c. 83, s. 37.

471. Every judgment for damages must contain a liquidation thereof.—Ord. 1667, tit. 26, art. 6.—C. P. C., 128.

472. Every judgment must mention the cause of action, and must be susceptible of execution.—In contested cases it must moreover contain a summary statement of the issues of law and of fact raised and decided, the reasons upon which the decision is founded, and the name of the judge by whom it was rendered.—C. S. L. C., c. 83, ss. 39, 110.

473. The judgment must be entered without delay in the register of the court, in conformity with the draft paraphed by the judge.*

474. In the case of difference between the draft and the entry thereof in the register, the draft is to be followed; and the court may, without any formality, order the rectification of the register.

475. Every judgment condemning a party to the restitution of rents, issues and profits, must order the liquidation thereof; and this is done by experts if the case requires it; and the party condemned is bound for that purpose to produce all accounts and documents shewing the receipts, all leases of immovables, and a statement of the cost of tilling, sowing and harvesting incurred by him.—Ord. 1667, tit. 30, arts. 1, 2, 3.—C. P. C., 129.

476. Unless it is expressly ordered, it is not necessary to have the judgment served on the party condemned, except judgments in recognition of hypothecs, rendered against defendants having a known domicile in the province.—C. S. L. C., c. 49, s. 15; c. 83, s. 114.—Ord. 1667, tit. 27, art. 1.—25 Geo. III, c. 2, s. 29.

* Improbation cannot be made against a judgment, or a copy of a judgment, even if it has been altered after it was pronounced. — Healy vs. The Mayor, &c., of Montreal, 17 L. C. Rep., 409.

477. [Any party may, on giving notice to the opposite party, renounce either a part only or the whole of any judgment rendered in his favor, and have such renunciation recorded by the prothonotary; and in the latter case the cause is placed in the same state it was in before the judgment.]

SECTION II.

Of Costs.

478. The losing party must pay all costs, unless for special reasons the court thinks proper to reduce them or compensate them, or orders otherwise.—Nevertheless, in actions of damages for personal wrong, if the damages awarded do not exceed forty shillings sterling, no greater sum can be allowed for costs than the amount of such damages.—Ord. 1667, tit. 31, art. 1.—25 Geo. III., c. 2, s. 4.—C. S. L. C., c. 82, s. 23.—C. P. C., 130, 131.

479. Costs are taxed by the prothonotary upon production of a bill thereof, and according to the tariffs in force, and if the amount awarded by the judgment is such that it might have been recovered before an inferior court, the plaintiff is entitled to such costs only as would have been

S. L. C., c. 82, s. 2; c. 83, ss. 151, 152.

480. Whenever witnesses are summoned from beyond the jurisdiction, their expenses cannot be taxed, against the opposite party, for more than it would have cost to examine them by means of a commission, unless the court or a judge otherwise orders.—C. S. L. C., c. 79, s. 11.

481. In the cases of articles 69 and 246, no greater costs of service can be allowed than if such service had been made by a bailiff residing in the county.—C. S. L. C., c. 83, s. 63, § 5; s. 65.

482. Attorneys ad lites may demand and obtain distraction of their fees and of all disbursements actually made by them. *—1 Pigeau, 420-1. C. P. C., 133.

If such demand be not made on or before the day on which the judgment was rendered it can only be granted after the opposite party has been notified to shew cause against it.

* An attorney conducting his own case is entitled to the ordinary fees.—Gugy vs. Brown, 17 L. C. Reports, 33.

TITLE SECOND.

OF REMEDIES AGAINST JUDGMENTS.

CHAPTER FIRST.

OF REVISION.

SECTION I.

Of the Revision of Judgments by Default.

483. The defendant may apply by petition, within a year and a day, for the revision of any judgment rendered against him by default, in the following cases:

1. In all cases of simple attachment, or attachment by garnishment, when the service has been effected under the provisions of article 68.

2. Whenever he has not been served personally or at his real domicile, or ordinary and actual place of residence.—C. S. L. C., c. 83, ss. 111, 112.

484. The defendant may seek relief against any judgment rendered in conformity to the provisions of articles 89, 90, 91 or 92, by means of an opposition, made either before or after seizure, but before sale, or within ten days from the date of a return of nulla bona, if there is one, or within ten days from the service upon him of any seizure by garnishment, issued in virtue of such judgment.—Ibid, ss. 115, 116.—23 Vic. c. 57, ss. 43, 46.

485. The petition for revision mentioned in article 483, and the opposition mentioned in article 484, must contain, on pain of nullity, all grounds, whether in support of such petition or opposition, or against the judgment, with an election of a domicile within one mile from the place where the court is held, and be accompanied by all documents in support of it.—C. S. L. C., c. 83, s. 116.

486. The petition or opposition must, moreover, be accompanied with an affidavit of the defendant, or of one of the defendants, or of some other credible person, that the allegations contained in such petition or opposition are, to his knowledge, true *; and, in

487. The opposition mentioned in article 484 is filed in the prothonotary's office; but the prothonotary must not receive it unless a copy thereof is at the same time left for the plaintiff.—Ibid, s. 118.

488. The filing of such opposition has the effect of suspending the sale under the seizure until it is decided by the court. The prothonotary

The officer is thereupon bound to stay his proceedings, and to return into court the writ of execution and the certificate which he has received.—Ibid., s. 115, § 3.

489. If the opposition is filed before the issuing of a writ of execution, notice of the filing thereof must be given to the plaintiff, and the delays for contesting the same are computed from the date of the service of such notice.—Ibid. s. 116.

490. The petition for revision, and the opposition, are held to form part of the proceedings upon the original suit, and to be a defence to the action, and, as such, are subject to the provisions concerning the contestation of ordinary suits.—Ibid., ss. 116, § 3; 119, 120.

491. If the opposition is maintained, in whole or in part, the costs incurred upon the execution are borne by the plaintiff.—Ibid., s. 123.

492. If the opposition is maintained by reason of any irregularity in the proceedings of the plaintiff, the court, in maintaining the opposition with costs may condemn him to such further costs as it may think fit, but not exceeding in amount the sum deposited by the defendant.—Ibid., s. 124.

493. If no opposition is made to a judgment rendered in vacation, the allegations of the declaration are held to be admitted and proved.—Ibid., 122.

SECTION II.

Of Review before Three Judges.

494. A review may be had:—

1. Upon every final judgment from which an appeal lies;

2. Upon every interlocutory judgment ordering something to be done that cannot be remedied by the final judgment;

3. Upon every interlocutory judgment, whereby the matter in contestation is in part decided;

4. Upon every interlocutory judgment which unnecessarily retards the final hearing or decision of the case;

5. [Upon every judgment or order rendered by a judge in summary matters, under the provisions contained in the third part of this code.]—27 & 28 Vic., c. 39, s. 20.

495. The review takes place before three judges of the superior court, and the judge who rendered the judgment complained of may be one of them.—Ibid., ss. 20, 25.

496. The review of judgments rendered in the districts of Montreal, Ottawa, Terrebonne, Joliette, Richelieu, St.

the inscription and notice are filed.—Ibid, s. 23.

502. The judgment in review may be rendered in term or in vacation, by all the judges who heard the case, or by a majority of them; and the judges may confirm, reverse or alter the original judgment, as the case may require; and their decision, together with the record, must be sent back to the court in which the case was first decided, to be there registered as being the judgment in the suit, at the same place, in the same manner and with the same effect as if it had been rendered on the day upon which it was received by the prothonotary.—Ibid, s. 25.

[Whenever any cause has been heard in review by three judges, and at the least one of the judges who heard the same is present in court and ready to render an interlocutory or final judgment therein, then, if any judge who heard the cause and would be competent to sit in judgment therein, be absent by reason of his appointment to another court, of sickness, or any other cause, but has addressed a letter to the prothonotary of the court, containing his decision in the case and signed by him, or has, in testimony of his concurrence therein, signed a judgment to be delivered and delivered by a judge so present, such judge is deemed to be present for the purpose of such judgment; and the decision so transmitted and signed by him has the same effect as if delivered or concurring in by him in open court.]

503. [No change in the personal composition of the court, by the appointment of any assistant judge as puisne judge, or the appointment of a puisne judge as chief-justice, or by the resignation, death, or appointment to another court of any chief-justice or of a puisne judge, or of an assistant judge, can have alone the effect of rendering a rehearing of any case necessary, if a sufficient number of judges who heard the case remain to render a judgment, either interlocutory or final].

504. [If a judge or an assistant judge, who has heard a case, together with other judges, is removed to another court, or is appointed chief-justice or a judge of the same court, or of another court, or obtains leave of absence, he may render judgment, whether interlocutory or final, together with the other judges, as if no such change had taken place.]

CHAPTER SECOND.

OF PETITIONS IN REVOCATION OF JUDGMENT.

505. Judgments which are not susceptible of being appealed from or opposed, as hereinabove provided, may be revoked, upon a petition presented to the same court, by any person who was a party to or was summoned to be a party to the suit, in the following cases:

1. Where fraud or artifice has been made use of by the opposite party;

2. When they have been rendered upon documents which have been only subsequently discovered to be false, or upon any unauthorized tender or consent disavowed after judgment;

3. When, since they were rendered, documents of a conclusive nature have been discovered, which had been withheld or concealed by the opposite party.—Ord. 1667, tit. 35, art. 34.—Pothier, Pro. civ. 153.—C. S. L. C., c. 83, s. 86, § 3.—C. N., 2057.—C. P. C., 480.

506. It can be received only during the six months after the discovery of the fraud or the falsity, or of the documents withheld, and in all other cases only during the six months after the judgment, or a notice thereof has been served.—Ord. 1667, tit. 35, arts. 16, 5, 18.

507. Petitions for revocation of judgment cannot prevent or stay execution, [unless an order to suspend is granted by the court or judge.]

508. The attorney who acted for a party in the cause or suit may also represent him upon the petition in revocation of judgment, without a new power being required.—Ord. 1667, tit. 35, art. 6.

509. If there are sufficient grounds for a petition in revocation or judgment, the court may replace the parties in the same position as they were in before the judgment, and the proceedings are the same as in ordinary suits. The court may also give judgment at the same time upon the petition and upon the merits of the original suit. In all cases it adjudicates upon the costs of the first judgment, according to circumstances.—Ord. 1667, tit. 35, art. 33.—Décl. de Mars, 1685.

CHAPTER THIRD.

OF OPPOSITIONS BY THIRD PARTIES.

510. Any person whose interests are affected by a judgment rendered in a case in which neither he nor persons representing him were made parties, may file an opposition to such judgment.—Décl. 22 avril 1732, art. 5.—Code, Donations, art. 213a.—Pothier, Pr. civ., 126.—Ord. 1667, tit. 35, art. 2.—C. P. C., 474.

511. This opposition is formed by means of a petition to the court, which must contain an election of domicile on pain of nullity, the grounds of opposition, and proper conclusions, and must be served upon the parties in the cause, or upon the attorneys who represented them, if it is made within a year and a day after the judgment.—Pothier, cod. loc.—C. P. C., 475.

512. The proceedings upon opposition by third parties are the same as upon ordinary suits.

OF THE VOLUNTARY EXECUTION OF JUDGMENTS.

SECTION I.

Of Putting in Security.

514. Every judgment ordering security to be given must fix the time within which sureties shall be offered.—C. P. C., 517.

515. Sureties are offered after notice served upon the opposite party, and, when not objected to, they enter into a bond at the prothonotary's office.—Ord. 1667, tit. 28, art. 2.—Pothier, Pro. civ., 147.—C. P. C., 518.

516. Except in cases where the law requires only personal justification, if a surety is objected to, he may be required to give in a declaration of his real property, together with his titles thereto. Sureties may, in all cases, be required to justify on oath their sufficiency, and the judge or prothonotary may receive and administer the necessary oath.—Ord. 1667, tit. 28, art. 3.—C. P. C. 518.

517. A surety may be objected to:

1. If he has not the qualifications required according to the title Of Suretyship in the Civil Code;

2. If he is not sufficient.—Pot., Proc. civ., 148.

518. The sufficiency of a surety is decided upon the documents and affidavits produced, without a proof being ordered.—Ord. 1667, tit. 28, art. 3.—Pot., Proc. civ., 148.—C. P. C. 521.

519. If the surety is accepted, the bond is drawn up and entered into in conformity with the judgment, and remains in the prothonotary's office as part of the record in the case.—Ord. 1667, tit. 28, art. 4.—C. P. C., 522.

520. The acceptance of sureties is decided upon summarily, without any petition or writings, and the bond is entered into notwithstanding oppositions or appeals, and without prejudice thereto.—Ord. 1667, tit. 28, art. 3.—Pot., Proc. civ. 148.—C. P. C. 521.

SECTION II.

Of Accounting.

521. Every judgment ordering an account must fix a delay for rendering it.—Ord. 1667, tit. 28, art. 8.—Pot., Proc. civ., 89.—C. P. C., 530.

522. The account must be rendered nominately to the party entitled to it; it must be sworn to and be filed in the prothonotary's office within the delay fixed, together with the vouchers in support thereof.—Ord. 1667, tit. 29, art. 8.—Potuier, loc. cit.—C. P. C., 534.—The court may, however, upon motion, of which notice has been duly given, extend the delay for rendering the account.—Pot., Proc. civ., 89.

523. The account must contain, under separate heads, the receipts and expenditure, and close with a recapitulation of such receipts and expenditure, establishing the balance; whatever remains to be recovered being reserved for a separate head.—Ord. 1667, tit. 29, art. 7.—C. P. C., 533.

524. Under the head of receipts must be placed all sums which the accounting party has received, and all those that he ought to have received during his management.—Pothier, Proc. civ., 90.

525. The accounting party cannot place under the head of expenditure the costs of the judgment ordering him to account, unless he is authorized to do so by the court; but he may charge under that head his travelling expenses, the attendances of the attorney who made up the account, the cost of presenting and verifying it, and of whatever copies thereof are required.—Ord. 1667, tit. 29, art. 18.—C. P. C., 532.

526. If the account shows an excess of receipts over expenditure, the party to whom it is rendered may provisionally demand execution for the balance, saving his right to contest the remainder of the account.—David vs. Hayes, Montreal, 29 July, 1846, in appeal, 10 Nov., 1847.—C. P. C., 535.

527. Parties accounted to are bound to take communication of the account and vouchers at the prothonotary's office, and to file their contestations of the account, if they contest it, within a delay of fifteen days, which may be extended by the court or a judge upon application pursuant to notice.—Ord. 1667, tit. 29, art. 13.—Pot., Proc. civ., 91.

528. Parties accounted to, whose interests are the same, must name the same attorney; if they do not agree in their choice, the attorney first in the case remains attorney of record, saving the right of the other parties accounted to to employ attorneys of their own, upon payment of all costs occasioned thereby.—Ord. 1667, tit. 29, art. 11.—C. 529. The accounting party has a delay of eight days after the filing of the contestation to file his answers in support of the account, and the other party has a similar delay to file his replications.—Ord. 1667, tit. 29, art. 13.—Pothier, Proc. civ. 91.

530. In default of filing the contestations, answers or replications within the delay, the party bound to file them is held to admit whatever is contained in the document he fails to contest.—Pothier, cod. loc.

531. After the issues are completed upon the account rendered, the court may order the parties to proof respectively, according to the ordinary course, or may refer the case for settlement to arbitrators, or to a practitioner or an accountant, according to its nature.—Ord. 1667, tit. 28, art. 22.—Ord. 1566, art. 83.—Edit. 1560, art. 2.—1 Pigeau, 248.

532. The judgment upon the account must contain a computation of the receipts and expenditure, and establish the balance if there be any.—Ord. 1667, tit. 29, art. 20.—C. P. C., 540.

533. If the defendant fails to render an account, the plaintiff may proceed to have one made out in the manner mentioned in the article 523.

SECTION III.

Of Surrender.

534. The voluntary execution of any judgment ordering the restitution and delivery of any moveable or immoveable thing is effected, unless the judgment makes other provisions, by delivering the moveable object, and surrendering the possession of the immoveable, in such a manner that the party entitled thereto may take possession of it; and this must be done in conformity with the judgment, and the provisions contained in the title Of Obligations in the Civil Code.—Pothier, Proc. civ., 149.

535. The voluntary execution of a judgment ordering the surrender of an hypothecated immoveable, is effected by means of a declaration of the defendant, filed in the prothonotary's office, to the effect that he surrenders it in compliance with the judgment and by his relinquishing his possession.—1 Pigeau, 594.—Pothier, Proc. civ., 149.—Ord. 1667, tit. 27, art. 1.

536. When an immoveable is thus surrendered, the court or judge, upon application of the plaintiff, names a curator to the surrender, against whom all ulterior proceedings are directed.—Pothier, Proc. civ., 185.

537. The curator has a right to collect the rents, issues and profits due and accrued from the time of the surrender, and may even grant leases if the sale is prevented during any considerable time.—The rents, issues and profits of the immoveable surrendered are treated as reality, and are distributed in the same manner as the price.—Stowe & Richer, in appeal, 1848.—

Pothier, Proc. civ., 193.—Couchot, 139.

SECTION IV.

Of Tender generally and Payment into Court.

538. A tender, or a putting in default to accept, must describe the object offered; and if it be of money, it must contain an enumeration and description thereof.—C. P. C., 812.

539. Tender may be made by an authentic document, or in any other manner which admits of its being legally proved.—Tender may be made in a suit by demanding record thereof, and must be accompanied with payment into court.—1 Pigeau, 435.

540. Tender may be made at the domicile elected in a contract.—Ibid.—2 Pigeau, 135.

541. The authentic document recording the tender, if there is one, must state the answer made by the creditor, or the person representing him, the fact of his being called upon to sign such answer, and in default of his signature, the reason why it was not signed.—Ibid.—C. P. C., 813.

542. A debtor who has made a tender and is afterwards sued, may renew it by his pleadings and pay the amount into court.—C. C., art. 1162.

543. Moneys paid into court es. not, without the authorization of the court, be withdrawn by the party who paid them in.—Unless the tender is conditional the party to whom it is made is entitled to receive the moneys paid in, without prejudicing his claim to the remainder.—Rule of Practice, 4 January, 1854.

544. The expense of the tender is borne by the debtor; but, if it is declared sufficient, the costs attending the payment into court are borne by the creditor.—Pothier, Oblig. 550, 573, 574, 580.

CHAPTER SECOND.

OF COMPULSORY EXECUTION OF JUDGMENTS.

SECTION I.

General Provisions.

545. The judgments of a court can only be put into execution by means of a writ issuing in the name of the sovereign and addressed to the sheriff of the district [in which it is to be executed.]—The writ is attested and signed in the same manner as original writs, it must bear the seal of the court and must specify the date of the judgment to be executed and the day on which it is returnable.—C. S. L. C., c. 83, s. 139; c. 85, s. 2, § 4.—25 Geo. III., c. 2, s. 30.—C. P. C., 545.

against whom they are rendered.—If he changes his civil status or dies before execution, judgment cannot be executed against him nor against his representatives, unless another judgment is obtained, declaring that the former may be enforced by execution against him in the one case, or his representatives or assigns in the other.—But if the party dies or changes his civil status after execution has commenced, the execution continues.—C. de P., 168.—Pothier, Proc. civ., 152.

547. If the judgment does not order a thing that is purely personal to the plaintiff, it may be executed in his name, even after his death: but if any contestation arises upon the execution, the representatives of the deceased party must intervene.—No. 848, Sevigny vs. Bertrand, & Mercier, Intert., jngt. at Montreal, 24 Sept., 1850.—2 Loisel, Institut. liv. vi., tit. 5, art. 2.—Pothier, Proc. civ., 153.

548. When the judgment orders the performance of some physical act, the officer charged with its execution may use the necessary force for that purpose; observing, however, at the same time, all necessary formalities.—1 Con. Lot, 123.

SECTION II.

Of Execution in Real Actions.

549. When a party condemned to surrender or restore an immoveable refuses to do so within the delay prescribed, the plaintiff may obtain a writ of possession to eject him and to be placed in possession.—Ord. 1667, tit. 27, art. 1.—Pot., Proc. civ., 148.

550. The officer entrusted with the execution of such writ must be accompanied by two witnesses, and draw up a minute of his proceedings.—Ord. 1667, tit. 33, art. 2.—1 Couchot, 123.

SECTION III.

Of Execution in Personal Actions.

551. Judgments for the payment of a sum of money cannot be executed before the expiration of fifteen days from their date.—Nevertheless upon an application of the plaintiff accompanied by an affidavit establishing circumstances under which simple attachment might issue before judgment, the judge may allow execution to issue before the expiration of fifteen days, but the sale cannot take place any sooner than if the writ of execution had issued after the ordinary delay.—C.S. L. C., c. 77, s. 27; c. 83, s. 201.—1 Pigeau, 411.

552. In all suits accompanied with attachment, either in the hands of the defendant or of third persons, in which the defendant has only been summoned through newspapers, a judgment rendered by default cannot be executed within a year, unless the plaintiff, in the presence of and to the satisfaction of a judge, gives good and sufficient sureties to pay back the moneys levied, in the event of the judgment being reversed upon revision, together with the costs of such revision.—This provision does not apply, however, to judgment rendered for wages, or salaries due for the manufacture or conveyance of rafts attached for the payment of such wages.—C. S. L. C., c. 83, s. 111, § § 1, 2.

553. A creditor may cause to be seized in execution the moveable or immoveable property of his debtor, in the possession of such debtor, or moveables of his in the possession either of such creditor himself, or of third persons, if the latter do not object; if they do, the creditor must adopt a seizure by garnishment.—C. S. L. C., c. 83, ss. 131, 139.—Prothier, Proc. civ. 153, 174, 183.—1 Couchot, 125—12 L. C. Rep., 403.—1 Pigeau, 659.

554. A creditor may exercise at the same time the same time the different means of execution which the law allows him. He may cause the moveable property and the immoveables to be seized under the same writ, but he cannot proceed to the sale of the immoveables until after the moveables have been discussed; saving, nevertheless, the special provisions of law concerning building societies, cases of pledge, and the case mentioned in article 907; and saving also the cases of judgments rendered for the recovery of rents constituted under the Seigniorial Act of 1851, and of judgments declaring hypothecs.—C. S. L. C., c. 85, s. 1; c. 69, s. 14.—1 Couchot, 125.

555. [Seizure of moveables in execution takes place under a writ addressed to the sheriff of the place where the defendant's moveable property is situated, ordering him to levy the amount of the debt, interest, if any is due, and the costs, both of the suit and of the execution, and such writ is made returnable on a day certain or sooner if possible.—If there be no moveable property to seize, the writ may be addressed either to the sheriff of the district in which judgment was rendered, or to the sheriff of the district in which the defendant has his domicile.]—If the creditor has received any part of his judgment claim, he is bound to make mention of it on the back of the writ of execution.—When the moveable property to be seized is at a distance of more than nine miles from the place where the writ issues, the party suing out the writ, or his attorney, may, by a written notice, require the sheriff to employ for the seizure a bailiff residing in the locality where it is to take place, and the sheriff is bound to comply, and in doing so he is freed from any liability resulting from irregularities or informalities in the execution of the writ.—C. S. L. C., c. 83, s. 129.—27 & 28 Vic. c. 39, s. 12.—25 Geo. III., c. 2, s. 30.—11 L. C. Reports, 367; 3 do. 478.

556. The debtor may select and keep from seizure :

1. The bed, bedding and bedsteads in use by him and his family ;

2. The ordinary and necessary wearing apparel of himself and his family ;

3. One stove and pipes, one crane and its appendages, one pair of andirons, one set of cooking utensils, one pair of tongs and shovel, one table, six chairs, six knives, six forks, six plates, six teacups, six saucers, one sugar basin, one milk jug, one teapot, six spoons, all spinning wheels and weaving looms in domestic use, one axe, one saw, one gun, six traps, such fishing-nets and seines as are in common use, and ten volumes of books ;

4. Fuel and food, not more than sufficient for thirty days, and not exceeding in value, twenty dollars ;

5. One cow, four sheep, two hogs, and food therefor for thirty days ;

6. Tools and implements or other chattels ordinarily used in his trade to the value of thirty dollars ;

7. Bees, to the extent of fifteen hives.

Nevertheless, the things and effects mentioned in paragraphs four, five, and six, are not exempt from seizure and sale when the suit is to recover the price of their purchase, or they have been given in pawn.—Ord. 1667, tit. 33, art. 14.—2 Bour.—Pot., Pro. civ., 154-5.

557. Books of account, titles of debt, or other papers in the possession of the debtor, are exempt from seizure, saving what is mentioned in article 565.—5 L. C. Rep., 299.

558. The following are also exempt from seizure :

1. Consecrated vessels and things used for religious worship ;

2. Alimentary allowances granted by a court ;

3. Sums of money or objects given or bequeathed upon the condition of their being exempt from seizure ;

4. Sums of money or pensions given as aliment, even though the donor or testator has not expressly declared that they should be exempt from seizure ;

5. Wages and salaries not yet due.

Alimentary allowances and things given as aliment may however be seized and sold for alimentary debts.—Pot. Pro. civ., 154, 175.—3 Anc. Den. 417, 419, 420.—2 Bour., 670-1.—6 Bioche, 26.—1 Pig., 651.—C. P. C., 581, 582.

559. The seizure of moveables and movable property is established by an inventory made by the sheriff, or his deputy, or by a bailiff authorized by him to that effect.—Ord. 1667, tit. 33, art. 6.—Pot., Proc. civ. 156-7.—C. P. C., 586.

560. The inventory must contain:

1. Mention of the actual domicile of the creditor;

2. Mention of the writ of execution, its date, and its purport;

3. A description of the things seized, their number, weight and measure according to their nature, and, in the case of a registered vessel of fifteen tons burthen or over, the recital required by section 13 of chapter 41 of the consolidated statutes of Canada.—2, L. C. R. 471.—C. S. C., c. 41, s. 13.—C. P. C. 586.

4. The appointment of a guardian, or the name of the depository furnished by the debtor;

5. The signature of the guardian or depository, and of the witnesses, in the case of article 569, or mention that they cannot sign, and the signature of the seizing officer;

6. Mention of the day on which the seizure is made, and whether it was made before or after noon.

The sheriff or officer making the seizure is bound to accept a solvent depository offered by the debtor, and in such case he is not answerable for the acts of the depository, if he proves that when he accepted him such depository was solvent to the amount of the property entrusted to his care.—Sheriffs or bailiffs cannot take their relations or connections to the degree of consanguerman, as guardians or depositaries of the things seized. Nor can they take as such the judgment debtor or his wife or children, on pain of being liable for all costs and damages.—Brothers, uncles or nephews of the judgment debtor may be appointed guardians, if they consent to be so.

—The debtor must also be called upon to sign the inventory, and his refusal or inability to do so must be stated.—C. S. L. C., c. 92, s. 10.—Ord. 1667, tit. 33, arts. 1, 8.—Pot. 159, 160, 161.—Ord. 1667, tit. 19, art. 13.

561. The inventory must be at least in triplicates, one of which must be given to the guardian or depository and another to the debtor, and each triplicate must be signed by all those whose signatures are required by the preceding article.—Ord. 1667, tit. 33, art. 7.—1 L. C. Rep. 71.

562. The guardian or depository has a right, at the time of his appointment, to remove the property in order to keep it in charge, and to place guards, if necessary, in the place where it is.—If the seizing officer cannot find a responsible guardian or depository, he may, after serving the inventory upon the debtor, have the things taken away and removed to a place of safety, until he finds such guardian or depository.—If the person appointed guardian or depository becomes, while the seizure lasts or is suspended, insufficient to be responsible for the property seized, the judge may, upon the application of the prosecuting creditor, authorize the value, payable to order or may be sold like all other moveable effects belonging to the debtor.]—C. S. C., 855.

566. The seizure of shares in any financial, commercial or industrial company or association, duly incorporated, is made by serving such company with a copy of the writ of execution, together with a notice that all the shares held by the defendant in such company are placed under execution. A similar notice is served upon the debtor.

567. If there is more than one place at which the company may be served, the service hereinabove mentioned, when made elsewhere than at the place where the transfer of shares and the payment of dividends may be validly made, has no effect against subsequent purchasers until a sufficient time has elapsed to allow notice of the service to be transmitted from the place where it was made to the place where transfers of shares should be entered; and the company is bound to effect such transmission.—The seizure of such shares includes all benefits and profits attached to them.—C. S. C., c.
70, ss. 3, 4.

568. The sheriff has a right to demand from the party seizing whatever sums of money may be necessary for the safe-keeping of the property seized, according to the provisions contained in articles 847 and 848.—1 L. C. J., 92.

569. If the debtor is absent, or if there is no person to open the doors, cupboards, trunks, or other closed places, or if he refuses to open them, the seizing officer must draw up a upon the judge may order the of refusal, violence or other physical impediment.—Ord. 1667, tit. 33, art. 5.—C. P. C., 587, 591.

570. If the debtor has no domicile in the province, the triplicate of the inventory of seizure is left for him at the office of the prothonotary of the court.—C. P. C., 602.—C. S. L. C., c. 83, s. 64.

571. Immediate notice must be given to the debtor, and to the guardian or depositary, of the place and time at which the moveables will be offered for sale *.—Pot. Pro. civ., 168.

572. Saving the exception contained in the following article, the sale of moveables must be published by posting and reading a notice, in a loud and distinct manner, at the door of the church of the place where the seizure has been made, immediately after morning service on the Sunday next after the seizure; and if such seizure was not made within a parish, the publication must be made at some public place in the municipality, and the sale cannot take place before the expiration of eight days, reckoning from the day of such publication, and a certificate of such publication must be annexed to the record of the execution.—C. S. L. C., c. 85, s. 2, § 3.—C. Gen. 441-2-3.

* This notice must be in writing. Scott vs. Alain, and Alain, opposant. 4 Canada Law Journal, p. 60.

573. In the cities of Quebec and Montreal, the sale of moveables seized is advertized only by a notice, stating summarily the names of the parties, the nature of the effects and the time and place of sale, inserted in French in a newspaper published in that language, and in English in a newspaper published in the English language; and if there should be put one paper in the place, or if all the papers are published in but one of such languages, then the notice must be inserted in both languages in one paper; and a duplicate of such notice must be posted in the sheriff's office from the time of such advertisement in a newspaper until the day of the sale, which cannot take place until after the expiration of eight days from the day of such publication.—27 & 28 Vic., c. 39, ss. 9, 10, 11.—No more than two dollars is allowed for the cost of such advertisement.

574. [Seizures in execution can only be made between the hours of seven in the morning and seven in the evening, except in cases of fraudulent removal, and may if necessary be continued on following days, affixing seals or placing guards.]

575. Seizures cannot be made on Sundays or holidays, except in cases of fraudulent removal, where the property is found upon the highway.—Pot. Pro. civ., 156.

577. [If the moveables have already been seized and the debtor dispossessed, any creditor making a second seizure is bound to name the same guardian, who can only be discharged by the sale of the property so seized, the consent of all the seizing parties, or the order of a judge.]—Pot., Proc. civ., 166-7.—1 L. C. R., 94.

578. The party first seizing, who does not proceed with proper diligence, cannot prevent the sale by the next seizing creditor.—[If, when there is no opposition, the seizing party does not bring the moveable to sale within the delay fixed for the return of the writ, the seizure lapses, unless the delay for the return of the writ is extended by order of a judge to a cert in subsequent day, which order the prothonotary must make a note of in the entry book of executions.]

579. A creditor who has made a seizure of the effects of his debtor cannot obtain a second writ of execution, unless the previous writ has been returned or accounted for.—Pot., Proc. civ., 167.

§ 2. Of oppositions to the seizure of moveables.

580. A seizure of moveables in execution may be contested by opposition, either by the debtor himself, or by third parties.—Pot., Proc. civ., 163 et seq.

581. The debtor may demand the nullity of a seizure of moveables in execution:

1. On the ground of informalities in the seizure, or of the exemption of some of the articles seized, under articles 556, 557 and 558;

2. On the ground of the extinction of the debt;

3. For any reason of a nature to affect the judgment sought to be executed:

If a part only of the debt is extinguished, the opposition has the effect of preventing the sale for more than is due.—Ibid.

582. The execution may also be opposed by any party who has a right of ownership or of pledge in the property seized.—A lessor cannot, however, oppose the seizure and sale of the moveables subject to his claim, and he can only exercise his privilege upon the proceeds of the sale.—C. S. L. C., c. 83, s. 146.

583. Oppositions to the seizure and sale of moveables must contain an election of domicile by the opposant, and they stay proceedings, provided they are accompanied with an affidavit that the allegations contained in them are true, and that they are made not with the intent of unjustly retarding the sale, but with the sole view of obtaining justice.—80 & 87 R. of P.

584. Such affidavit is not necessary if the opposition is accompanied with a judge's order to stay proceedings.—9 L. C. R. 447.—82 R. of P.

585. Oppositions are served upon the sheriff by leaving with him the original thereof, which he is bound to return into court without delay.—C. S. L. C., c. 85, s. 14, § 2.

586. After the return of the opposition, the opposant moves upon the other parties to the suit to declare whether they intend to admit or to contest it, and in default of such declaration the opposant has a right to be relieved from the seizure, with costs against the judgment debtor, unless the court otherwise orders.—84 R. of P.

587. If the other parties, or any of them, declare that they intend to contest the opposition, the contestation is subject to the rules which apply in ordinary suits.

588. The rules concerning preemption of suits apply equally to oppositions.—2 Bour., 664 et seq.

§ 3. Of the sale of moveables under execution.

589. If there is nothing to prevent the sale of the moveables seized, it takes place at the time and place mentioned in the notice.—If the sale has been retarded by any obstacle, subsequently removed, or if there were no bidders, new notices or publications must be given, but the sale cannot take place after the day fixed for the return of the writ, except in the case mentioned in art.

578.—Pot. P. C., 168.—C. S. L. C., c. 85, s. 2, § 4.

590. The guardian or depositary is bound, at the time fixed for the sale, to produce all the effects seized, which were placed in his charge.—Pot. P. C., 162, 168.

591. The sheriff or other seizing officer, cannot, either directly or indirectly, bid upon the property put up for sale, nor become purchaser thereof.—Ibid. 169.—C. S. L. C., c. 85, s. 7.

592. The officer conducting the sale must make minutes thereof, specifying each article put up for sale, the name and residence of each purchaser, and the price of each purchase.—Ord. 1667, tit. 33, art. 18.—C. P. C., 625.

593. The things seized are adjudged to the last and highest bidder, subject to immediate payment of the price, and in default of such payment the thing adjudged is immediately put up again.—Ibid., art. 17.—C. P. C., 624.

594. The officer conducting the sale cannot, either directly or indirectly, receive anything beyond the price of the adjudication, under pain of being liable for extortion.—Ibid., art. 18.

595. The sale must not proceed beyond the amount necessary to pay the debt in principal, interest, and costs.—To this end, the judgment debtor has a right to determine the order in which the effects are to be put up for sale.—C. P. C., 622.

positary has a right to a discharge or receipt for the effects which he produces, and the minutes of sale must make mention of any effects which have not been produced.—Pot. P. C., 168.—C. P. C., 605.

597. The guardian or depository may be condemned, even on pain of coercive imprisonment, to produce the property he took in charge or pay the amount due to the seizing creditor. He may however upon establishing the value of the effects which he fails to produce be discharged upon payment of such value.—Pot., P. C., 168.—2 L. C. J., 297.

598. The adjudication of moveable property under execution transfers, by law, the ownership of the things thus adjudged.—In the case of seizures of shares in any financial, commercial or industrial company or association, duly incorporated, the sheriff is bound within ten days after the sale, to serve such company or association, in the manner mentioned in article 567, with a certified copy of the writ of execution, endorsing thereon a certificate designating the person to whom he adjudged the shares seized, and such purchaser thereupon becomes a shareholder in the company and has all the rights and obligations of one, and may require an entry to be made to that effect, in the manner prescribed by law, by the officer appointed for that purpose by the company.—C. S. C., c. 70, ss. 2, 3, 4.—3 L. C. J., 122.

599. No demand for the annulling or rescinding of a sale of moveables under execution can be received against a purchaser who has paid the price, saving the case of fraud or collusion, and without prejudice to the recourse of the party aggrieved against the seizing creditor and those acting in his behalf.—Quimet & Senecal, 3 L. C. J., p. 35.—Gen., 457.

600. [Immediately after the sale, the costs thereof, including the pay of the appointed guardian must be taxed by a judge or by the prothonotary, subject in the latter case to revision, if required.]—Pot., P. C., 169.

§ 4. Of the payment and distribution of the moneys levied.

601. The moneys seized or levied, after deducting the duties thereon and taxed costs, may be paid by the sheriff to the seizing creditor, if no opposition for payment has been placed in his hands; otherwise, he must return them into court, to await such judgment as to right shall appertain.—Ibid., 170.—C. S. L. C., c. 83, s. 146, § 2.

602. When the moneys levied have been returned into court, the plaintiff has a right to be paid in preference to all other chirographic creditors; saving the right of a prior seizing party for his costs, the case of the insolvency of the debtor, and the case of privileged claims.—Pot. P. C. 174.

603. When the monies are returned into court, as well as in all other cases where monies of which an account has been rendered into court or monies other than the proceeds of immovables are to be distributed, and insolvency of the debtor is alleged, the distribution of the monies cannot take place until his creditors generally have been called in.—The creditors are called in upon the order of the court or a judge, published twice in the French and English languages in the Canada Gazette,* requiring them to file their claims within fifteen days from the date of the first insertion.—23 V. c. 57, s. 52.—C. S. L. C., c. 83, s. 147, §§ 3, 4.

604. The claims may be made out in a summary manner, and it is sufficient for them to state the names, occupation and residence of the claimant, and the nature and amount of his claim.—They must be accompanied with vouchers, if there are any, or, if not, with an affidavit that the sum claimed is lawfully due.—Ibid.

605. The moneys are distributed according to the order prescribed in the title Of Privileges and Hypothecs, and the title Of Merchant Shipping in the Civil Code, and in the provisions hereinafter contained.

606. The following order is observed as regards the collocation of judicial costs :

1. Costs of seizure and of sale;

* Now the Quebec Official Gazette, 31 V. c. 13, s. 4, stat. of Q.

2. The duty payable upon monies levied or paid into court;

3. The fees of the officer receiving monies levied or paid in;

4. The fees upon the report of distribution;

5. The fees of the attorney prosecuting the distribution;

6. Costs, subsequent to judgment, incurred in order to effect the seizure and sale, and according to the priority of date or of privilege when there are several seizing creditors;—C. S. I. C. c. 37, s. 8.—The costs of a prior seizing party have a preference over those of a subsequent one.—2 Bour. 673.—Pot. P. C. 166.—Laur., 224.—C. S. L. C. c. 85, s. 14.

Nevertheless, if two or more writs of execution issue upon judgments rendered on the same day against the same debtor, the costs thereon are paid concurrently.—C. S. L. C. c. 85, s. 14.

7. Costs of affixing seals, or of inventories, when ordered by the court.—[The plaintiff is next paid his costs of suit, taxed as in an uncontested case not inscribed for proof.*]

607. The crown has a preference over all other creditors upon the proceeds of executions against moveable property which under particular statutes is subject to any of the following duties:—Customs dues, Excise dues, Duties

608. The owner of a thing, who has lent, leased or pledged it, and who has not prevented its sale, has a right to be paid the proceeds of its sale, after the claims mentioned in articles 1995 and 1996 in the Civil Code, and the privileged rights of the crown mentioned in the preceding article, and the claim of the lessor have been collocated.—Pot. P. C., 173.

609. The same rule applies to the owner of a thing which has been stolen, who would not have lost his right to revendicate it had it not been judiciously sold.

610. Persons who have preserved the right of being collocated upon the price of the thing sold, by reason of a right of pledge or of retention which they had upon such thing, rank according to the nature of the pledge or of their claim. The following is the order amongst them: carriers, hotel keepers, mandataries and consignees, borrowers, in loan for use, depositaries, pledgees, workmen, upon things repaired by them, purchasers, against whom the right of redemption is exercised, for the reimbursement of the price and the monies laid out upon the property.—Pot. 611. In the absence of any special privilege, the crown has a preference over chirographic creditors, for sums due to it by the defendant.

SECTION IV.

Of seizure by garnishment.

612. Execution upon the moveable effects of a debtor, which are in the possession of a third party, may, in all cases, and must, when such third party does not consent to their immediate seizure, be effected by means of seizure by garnishing.—The same means must be adopted in executing upon debts due to the debtor other than those mentioned in article 565.—Pot., P. C., 156, 174, 180, 182.—1 Pig., 645-6, 663.—Gen., 472.—C. P. C., 557, 558.—1 L. C. R. p. 114.

613. Seizure by garnishment is made by means of a writ issuing from the court which rendered the judgment, ordering the garnishees not to dispossess themselves of the moveable effects belonging to the debtor which are in their possession, nor of such moneys or other things as they owe him or will have to pay him, until the court has pronounced upon the matter; and to appear on a day fixed, to declare under oath what effects they have belonging to the debtor, and what sums of money or other things they owe him or will have to pay him.—Pot., P. C. 176.

614. This writ also summons the debtor to shew cause why the seizure should not be declared valid, and mentions the date and amount of the judgment in satisfaction of which it is issued; and is moreover clothed with the formalities of ordinary writs of summons.—Pot. P. C., 176.—C. P. C., 559, 563.

615. The rules concerning the service of ordinary writs of summons apply to seizures by garnishment.—Nevertheless, the garnishee cannot be condemned by default, unless the writ of summons or other order to appear has been served upon him personally.—Upon satisfactory proof that a garnishee conceals himself in order to avoid such personal service, service at his domicile is held to be sufficient.—If the defendant upon the principal demand has been summoned as an absentee, the summons upon the garnishment may be served upon him at the prothonotary's office, but if he did not leave the province until after service of the principal demand, he must be summoned upon the garnishment according to the provisions of article 68.—The defendant is bound to answer the proceedings by garnishment within the same delays as upon a principal demand.—6 L. C. R. 148.—10 L. C. R. 21.—7 L. C. J. 227.—C. S. L. C., c. 83, ss. 59, 62.

616. The effect of seizure by garnishment is to place the effects and debts of which the garnishee is debtor under judicial control, and to sequester in his hands all corporeal things, in the same manner as if he had been specially appointed guardian.—Pot. P. C., 177.

617. The garnishee is bound to make his declaration in the office of the prothonotary of the court which issued the writ, before such prothonotary, who is authorized to administer to him the necessary oath. Nevertheless, if the garnishee resides in another district than the one in which the writ of seizure by garnishment has issued, he may, on or before the day fixed for the return of the writ, make his declaration before the judge or the prothonotary of the district where he resides, and such prothonotary is bound to transmit the same to the court where the suit is pending.—C. S. L. C., c. 83, s. 136, § 3; s. 137.—C. P. C., 571. When a seizure by garnishment is made in the hands of a corporation, the declaration is made by an attorney authorized in the same manner as for answering interrogatories upon articulated facts, as provided in article 224.

618. The garnishee's declaration must be made on the day appointed by the writ, or on the next following juridical day.—It may be made at any time before the return day, at the prothonotary's office from which the writ issued, but in such a case it cannot be received unless it is accompanied with a bailiff's return, certifying that previous notice of at least twenty-four hours has been given to the plaintiff of the garnishee's intention to make his declaration before the return of the writ.—Ibid. s. 138, § 2.

619. The garnishee must declare in what he was indebted at the time of the service of the writ upon him, in what he has become indebted since that time, the cause of debt, and any other seizures made in his hands.—If the debt is not yet payable, he must declare when it will be.—If his indebtedness is conditional or suspended by any hindrance, he must also declare it.—He must furnish a detailed statement of the moveable effects in his possession belonging to the debtor and declare by what title he holds them.—[The judgment creditor has a right to be present when the garnishee makes his declaration, and to put him any questions tending to prove any obligation of the garnishee towards the judgment debtor, saving all objections, which a judge, if present, may decide at once, or which, otherwise, the prothonotary must note down for subsequent decision thereon by the court.—Pot. P. C., 176.—Gen., 475.—C. P. C., 573-4, 578.—2 L. C. J., 167.

620. The garnishee is entitled to his travelling expenses, which must be taxed by the judge or by the prothonotary who receives his declaration, and he may retain the amount thereof out of the sums in which he is indebted; and, if he owes nothing, such taxation may be enforced against the party suing out the writ, by an execution emanating from the court from which the writ issued.

621. If the declaration of garnishee is not contested, and he has not declared that any other seizure has been made in his hands, the court, upon an inscription for judgment, orders him to pay to the plaintiff, on account or to the extent of his debt, the moneys seized, according to their sufficiency.—This judgment must be served, and the delay for executing it dates only from the day of such service.—1 Pig., 658.

622. If there are several seizures at the suit of different creditors in the hands of the same garnishee, each seizure has a preference over the subsequent seizures, according to the date of its service upon the garnishee, except in cases of privilege, unless the insolvency of the common debtor is alleged, in which case proceedings must be taken upon the first seizure to call in the creditors, in the manner provided in article 603, and the garnishes, in such case, are condemned to pay into court the amounts they acknowledge to owe.—Pot., Proc. civ., 179.—Gen. 477, 479, 480.—1 Pig. 659.

623. If the moneys or other things due by the garnishee are only payable at a future time, he may be condemned to pay them when such time arrives, and if they are due under conditions which are not yet fulfilled, the court may, upon motion of the seizing party, maintain the seizure until such conditions are fulfilled.

624. Garnishees who do not make their declaration in the manner hereinabove prescribed are condemned as personal debtors of the seizing party, to the payment of his claim.—They may, however, obtain leave to make their declaration at any time, even after judgment, upon payment of all costs incurred upon the seizure.—C. S. L. C., e. 83, s. 137, § 2; s. 138.—Tailhaclos vs. Talon, & Fabre, garnishee, 1 L. C. R., 140.—Pot., P. C., 176.—C. P. C., 577.

625. The judgment rendered upon a garnishee's declaration of indebtedness is equivalent to a judicial assignment to the seizing creditor of the judgment debtor's title of debt, and effects subrogation.—6 L. C. R., 170-1.

626. The seizing party must declare within eight days whether he intends contesting the garnishee's declaration, unless a further delay be granted to him by the court or judge, and he must at the same time file his grounds of contestation, after serving them upon the garnishee, and notifying the latter to answer the same within the same delay as is allowed for answering exceptions and pleas.—He cannot, however, forfeit his right to contest without an order of the court to that effect.—95 R. of P.

627. In other respects, contestations of garnishee-declarations are subject to the same rules as those of ordinary suits.

628. Besides the things enumerated in articles 557 and 558, the following are also exempt from seizure:—Pay and pensions of persons belonging to the Army or to the Navy;—Salaries of public officers;—Contingent emoluments and fees due to ecclesiastics and ministers of worship, by reason of their actual services, and the income of their clerical endowment.—[The salary of school teachers.]—Pot. P. C., 186-7.—Anc. Den., p. 416-7.—C. P. C., 580.

629. If a garnishee declares that he has in his possession moveable effects, the judgment orders that they shall be sold, and the garnishee is bound to deliver them to the officer charged with selling them.—If the garnishee has in his hands negotiable paper or titles of debt payable to bearer, he may be condemned to deposit them in the prothonotary's office, or to deliver them to a person named by the court, according to circumstances.—11 L. C. R., 284.—1 Fig., 660.

630. The proceeds of the sale of such moveable effects are afterwards distributed in the same manner as other moneys levied under execution against moveables.—1 Fig., 664.

SECTION V.

Of Execution upon Immovables.

§ 1. Of the seizure of immovables in execution.

632. The seizure of immovables can only be made against the judgment debtor, and he must be, or be reputed to be, in possession of the same animo domini.—Pot. P. C. 184. No seizure can be made of immovables declared by the donor or testator thereof, or by law, to be exempt from seizure.—Constituted rents representing seigniorial dues are seized and sold with the formalities prescribed by the act 27-28 Viet. ch. 39.

633. The seizure of immovables can only be made in virtue of a writ, clothed with the same formalities as writs of execution against moveables, ordering the sheriff to seize the immovables of the defendant and to sell them in satisfaction of the condemnation pronounced against him in principal, interest and costs.—The date of the judgment must be inserted in or written and certified upon the writ, under the signature of the prothonotary.—Exceptional provisions regulate the sale of immovables for the payment of municipal taxes and assessments.—25 Gt. III. c. 2, s. 30.—C. S. L. C., c. 83, ss. 139, 140.

634. [The writ is addressed to the sheriff of the district in which the immovables belonging to the judgment debtor are situated, and is executed by the sheriff himself or by one of his officers,]—C. S. L. C., c. 83, s. 40.—12 L. C. R., 403.

635. When any of the immovables to be seized is situated at more than nine miles from the place where the writ of execution issues, the sheriff, upon the written demand of the creditor or of his attorney, is bound to employ for making the seizure, the publications and the adjudication, such bailiff residing in the locality in which the immovable is situate as the creditor indicates, and in such case the sheriff is discharged from any liability resulting from the acts of such bailiff, and the seizing creditor becomes alone responsible. The seizing creditor, in order to avoid costs, may also undertake the transmission of the documents belonging to the execution, and the bailiff is bound to return them to him, and on doing so is discharged from any consequent responsibility.—The other provisions of article 555 apply likewise to writs of execution against immovables.—27 & 28 V., c. 39, s. 12.

636. When an immovable is situated partly in the district in which the judgment was rendered and partly in another, it may be wholly seized in execution, in the same manner as if it were wholly in the district in which the judgment was rendered.—C. S. L. C., c. 85, s. 5.

637. Before proceeding to seize immovables, the seizing officer calls upon the defendant to declare and specify his immoveable property, except the case of immovables surrendered in a suit and the cases mentioned in article 641; and upon his failure so to declare and specify, the executing officer may seize the property in possession of the defendant, at the risk and peril of the latter.—4 L. C. R., 227.

638. The seizure of immovables is recorded by minutes, which must contain :

1. Mention of the title under which the seizure is made ;

2. Mention of the defendant having been called upon, as required by the preceding article ;

3. A description of the immovables seized, indicating the city, town, village, parish or township, as well as the street, range or concession in which they are situated, and the number of each immoveable, if there exists an official plan of the locality ; if not, it must mention the coterminous lands. If the property to be seized consists of incorporeal rights, such as rents, leases, or other real charges, mention must be made of the title under which they are due, with a description, as above mentioned, of the real property charged with the same ;

4. Mention that the minutes are made in duplicate, and that one duplicate thereof has been delivered to the judgment debtor, either personally or at his actual or legal domicile.—8 L. C. R., 299.—C. S. L. C., 37, s. 74, § 4.—Pot. P. C. 190-1.

639. The seizing party's domicile is elected at the sheriff's office, without its being necessary to elect another or to mention it in the minutes.

640. The judgment debtor, as well as his seizing creditor, may cause the ground rents and charges upon the immovables seized to be mentioned in the minutes; but it is not necessary to mention rents established in redemption of seigniorial rights, and any oppositions filed for that purpose cannot retard the sale, but must be returned by the sheriff, and no costs can be obtained thereon by the opposants.—C. S. L. C., c. 41, ss. 54, 55 ; c. 85, s. 6, § 2.

641. No minutes are necessary in suits instituted by building societies for bringing to sale the immovables subject to their hypothec or right of pledge, nor in the case of article 907.—C. S. L. C., c. 69, s. 14, § 2.

642. [When the sheriff has seized an immoveable upon a defendant, he cannot seize it again at the suit of another creditor, or of the same creditor for another debt, as long as the first seizure subsists; but he is bound to note any subsequent writ of execution as an opposition for payment upon the first writ; and in such case the first seizure cannot be abandoned except in consecutions applicable to seizing creditors whose writs have been noted with their order of a judgment pp. 69, 456.

643. [In seizing creditors, the seizure, or the content of his proceedings in seizing creditors of the judgment whose writs are specified in writs of execution, the seizure was requisite for R., 95.—Pot. Fig. 756.

644. From that immoveable seized, the debtor is liable in pain of nullity. The alienation of the property if the seizure is not made, or if, before the sale, the debtor pays to the sheriff a discharge to the creditor in whose name the seizure was effected, the claims of the creditor whose writs have been noted, and thus deposited by the sheriff, are entitled to it.—C. P. C., 47, s.—C. P. C.

645. The seized remain in the judgment abandoned nor suspended, except in consequence of oppositions applicable as well to the seizing creditor as to those whose writs of execution have been noted as opposition, or with their consent, or by an order of a judge.]—9 L. C. R., pp. 69, 456.

643. [In the event of the seizing creditor abandoning the seizure, or receiving payment of his claim, the sheriff is bound to continue the proceedings in the name of the seizing creditor and at the cost of the judgment creditors whose writs have been noted, in order to satisfy the claims specified in the subsequent writs of execution, provided the seizure was made with all requisite formalities.]—1 L. C. R., 95.—Pot. P. C. 210.—1 Fig. 756.

644. From the moment that immovables have been seized, the debtor cannot, on pain of nullity, alienate them. The alienation avails, however, if the seizure is declared null, or if, before the day fixed for the sale, the purchaser or the debtor pays into the hands of the sheriff a sufficient sum to discharge the claims of the creditor in whose name the seizure was effected, as well as the claims of any creditors whose writs of execution have been noted, and the amount thus deposited is forthwith paid by the sheriff to the creditors entitled to it.—C. S. L. C., e. 47, s.—C. P. C. 686-7.

645. The immovables seized remain in possession of the judgment debtor until the adjudication.—[But if the sale is prevented by any opposition, the seizing creditor may, according to circumstances and in the discretion of the court, obtain the appointment of a sequestrator to receive the rents, issues and profits of the immovables.]—Ord. 1626, art. 157.—1 Fig. 755.—C. P. C., 685.

646. The judgment debtor, cannot nor can any other person, cut timber on the property seized, or in any manner deteriorate the same, on pain of being imprisoned for a term not exceeding six months, under a rule of court or the order of a judge in vacation.—C. S. L. C., e. 85, s. 29.—C. P. C., 683.

647. The sheriff may, before seizing immovables, exact from the party who places the writ in his hands the sum of four dollars, to meet the first expenses of the advertisements hereinafter required.—U. S. L. C., e. 85, s. 6.

§ 2. Of advertisements..

648. The sheriff is bound to advertise in the Canada Gazette,* in the French and English language, three separate times within the space of four months from the date of the first publication, the sale of immovables seized.

The advertisement must contain :

1. The number of the cause and the nature of the writ, whether feri facias or any other;

* Now the Quebec Official Gazette, 31 V. c. 13, s. 4, stat. of Q.

2. The names and surname of the plaintiff in the writ, or if there are several plaintiffs, a designation of the first named in the writ, with an indication that there are others;

3. The names and surname of the defendant in the writ, or if there are several defendants, a designation of the one first named in the writ, with an indication that there are others.—If the plaintiff or defendant is acting as a tutor to minors, it is sufficient to state that he is acting as tutor to the minor children of the deceased person, without designating the minors by name;

4. A designation of the immovables, or of the rents, as the case may be, as inserted in the minutes of the charges therein mentioned, and of those also which the seizing party has requested in writing to have inserted, and mentioning upon which of the defendants the property is seized;

5. The time and place at which the immovables or rents will be put up for sale and adjudged;

6. The date at which the writ of execution is returnable into court.—C. S. L. C., c. 85, ss. 4, 6 § 2, 10, 11, & schedule A.—C. P. C., 690-1-2-3-6.

649. The advertisements of sheriff's sales must be printed consecutively and be preceded by a notice according to form 34 in the appendix to this code* or any other form of

§ 3. Of oppositions to the seizure and sale of immovables.

651. The sheriff, in the absence of any consent on the part of the seizing creditors, cannot stop the sale of im-movables except upon a judge's order, or upon the filing of an opposition, accompanied with an affidavit on all the part of the opposant that the part of the opposant that all the allegations in the opposition are true, to the best of the deponent's knowledge and belief, and that the opposition is not made with intent unjustly to retard the sale but solely to obtain justice.—C. L.
C. R., 431, 479.—7 do. 130.—8
R. of P.

652. Every opposition to the seizure and sale of im-movables or rents must be filed at the latest on the fifteenth day before that fixed for the sale.—No opposition filed after this period can stop the sale; but if the object of the opposition is to withdraw, in whole or in part, the immovable or the rent under seizure, or to impose upon the purchaser some charge which would be destroyed by a sheriff's sale, such opposition has the effect of an opposition for payment out of the moneys levied.—The sheriff in all cases is bound to return such oppositions into court.—C. S. L. C., c. 85, s. 15.

653. Notwithstanding the filing of any opposition to the seizure or sale of immovables or rents, the sheriff is bound to continue the publications hereinabove described; but he cannot in such case proceed with the sale without an order from the court.—Nevertheless when the opposition is founded upon grounds which only go to reduce the amount claimed, the plaintiff, upon given the opposant notice that he admits his opposition, may proceed to the sale in conformity with the conclusion of such opposition.
—C. S. L. C., c. 85, s. 17, § 3.

654. Every opposition must be delivered to the sheriff, and the return of its service upon him, if it is required, must be made at the foot of a copy thereof.

655. Saving the provisions of article 652 the sheriff is bound to return into court, within 24 hours, any oppositions to the seizure and sale duly served upon him, together with the writ of execution, all his proceedings, including a duplicate of the advertisement published in the Canada Gazette, and a certificate of the oral publication if it has taken place.—Ibid. s. 16.

656. Every party who opposes unsuccessfully the sale of an immovable or of a rent under seizure, is liable towards the party seizing and the de-defendant, not only for the costs incurred upon his opposition, but also for all damages resulting therefrom, including interest upon the amount due to the plaintiff, for the time during which the sale was stopped.—Ibid., s. 17.

Of Oppositions to Annul.

657. The party whose immoveables or rents are seized may oppose the seizure or the sale thereof, whether his opposition be founded on matters of form or on matters of substance.—Third parties may likewise file similar oppositions when they have an actual interest therein.—Pot. P. C., 206-7.

Of Oppositions to Withdraw.

658. Oppositions to withdraw may be filed by third parties who claim as their property part of any immovable or rent under seizure.—Pot. P. C. 208.

Of Oppositions to Secure Charges.

659. Oppositions to secure charges may be filed by a third party when an immovable under seizure is advertised to be sold without mention being made of some charge with which the immovable is burdened in his favor, and from which it might be discharged by a sheriff's sale.—Pot. P. C. 208.

Such oppositions are unnecessary and cannot be received :

1. For the purpose of securing servitudes.

2. For the purpose of securing dues or rents created in the place of seigniorial rights.—C. S. L. C., c. 36, s. 27; e. 41, s. 54.

Of Oppositions to Charges upon Immoveables under Seizure.

660. Any person aggrieved by reason of an immovable being advertised as subject to a charge which prejudices his claim, may file an opposition to the end that the property be not sold subject to such charge, unless good and sufficient sureties be given him that it will be sold at a sufficient price to ensure payment of the amount due him.—This opposition may likewise be made either by the seizing creditor, or by the judgment debtor when the mention of such charge has been made without the participation of the opposant.

661. The proceedings upon oppositions to the seizure or sale of immoveables or rents are the same as those upon oppositions to the seizure or sale of moveables.

662. When oppositions are decided before the day fixed for sale, if the seizure is not set aside, the sheriff on the day of sale may proceed upon the writ in accordance with the judgment of the court.—But if the oppositions are not decided until after the day fixed for the sale, the sheriff can only pro-

663. The writ of venditioni exponas orders the sheriff to proceed with the sale of the immoveable or of the rent under seizure, after a publication in French and in English at the church door, on the third Sunday before the sale, and two advertisements in a public newspaper, with the formalities prescribed by article 648.—It contains moreover such other conditions as the court directs respecting the sale of the immoveable or the rent.—Ibid.—27 & 28 V., c. 35, s. 1.

664. When all the advertisements and publications required by law upon the first writ have been duly published and made, the execution of a writ of venditioni exponas cannot be stopped by opposition, unless for reasons subsequent to the proceedings by which the sale was stopped in the first instance, and upon a judge's order.—C. S. L. C., e. 85, s. 15, § 2.—6 L. C. R., 428, 7 do., 130.—9 do., 447.—10 do., 333.

§ 5. Of bidding and sale,

665. Bids may be given in writing at the sheriff's office at any time after the seizure, except during the eight days previous to the day fixed in the sheriff's advertisement for the sale of the immoveable or rent, either upon the writ of fiери facias when the sale has not been stopped, or upon the venditioni exponas, if the sale was prevented from taking place according to notice under the fiери facias.—27 & 28 V., c. 39, s. 4.

666. Such bids, if made by a creditor of the judgment debtor, must be accompanied with an affidavit, sworn to before a judge, the prothonotary, a commissioner of the superior court, or before the sheriff, who is authorized to administer such oath, stating the nature and amount of his claim, and declaring that they are made in good faith, and not to delay the proceedings.—Ibid., § 2.

667. Such bids by a person who is not a creditor, must be accompanied with an affidavit, sworn to in the manner stated in the preceding article, stating that they are made in good faith, and not for the purpose of delaying the proceedings; and the sheriff may, if he thinks fit, require security from such bidder, or a deposit of a sufficient sum to cover the costs incurred by the seizing party up to the time of such bid, and the costs of a resale upon false bidding, in case it should be necessary.—Ibid., § 3.

668. Every such bid must be in writing, and must indicate :

1. The name of the case in which it is made, and the names, quality and residence of the bidder;
2. The immoveable or rent bid upon;
3. The amount offered.—It must be signed by the bidder or be in the form of a notarial original.—Ibid, §§ 4, 5.

669. The sheriff is bound to endorse on each such bid the date of its filing, and to return it into court with all his other proceedings.—Ibid, § 6.

670. The sheriff is bound to furnish the officer by whom the sale is to be made, with a list of such bids as have been filed under the provisions of the above articles.—Ibid, s. 12.

671. Immovables under seizure, that are held in free and common socage, or otherwise than en roture or en franc-alleu roturier, and those which are situated in the district of Gaspe, under whatever tenure they are held, can only be offered for final bidding and adjudication at the registry office for the registration division in which they are situated. — Those which are situated in the city, town, or chief-place where the sheriff's office is kept, or within the suburban limits (banlieue) thereof, must be bid upon and sold at the sheriff's office. — All other immovables must be bid upon and sold at the door of the parish church of the locality where they are situated.—C. S. L. C., c. 85, s. 4.—27 & 28 V., c. 39, s. 3.

672. The sale cannot take place on a Sunday, on pain of nullity. —C. S. L. C., c. 23, s. 1, § 2.

673. On the day and at the place appointed for the sale, the officer conducting the same, after reading the notice, the charges and conditions of the sale, and the bids filed in the sheriff's office, offers the immovables for sale, taking as an upset price the highest bid filed with the sheriff, if any were so filed.—27 & 28 Vic., c. 39, s. 4, § 7.

674. No bid can be received unless the bidder declares his names, quality or occupation, and residence, and minutes are taken of the bids received. Every bid implies an undertaking to buy the property at the price of such bid, subject to the condition that no higher valid bid will be given.—Pot., P. C., 218.—C. P. C., 704.—Héric: Vte des Imm., pp. 184-5.

675. The conditions of the sheriff's sale must express all those contained in the preceding article, in articles 687, 688, 707, 708, and in the advertisements.

676. The party upon whom the property is sold, if personally liable for the debt, cannot become purchaser nor bidder, neither can the persons mentioned in article 1484 in the Civil Code, nor can the sheriff or other officer entrusted with the sale.—Pot. P. C., 218, 220.—Héric., Vte des Imm. pp. 180-1.—C. P. C. 711.

677. Verbal bids may be made by proxy.—Pot., P. C. 223.

678. The officer conducting the sale must require from every bidder, before he receives his bid, a deposit of a sum of money equal to the costs then due to the seizing party upon the judgment the following

1. In all sale has to opposition.

2. In case of false bidding imposed the instance of suit.—C. S. 22.

the judgment and seizure, in the following cases :

1. In all cases wherein the sale has been stopped by an opposition;

2. In cases of resale upon false bidding, if the court has imposed that condition at the instance of some party to the suit.—C. S. L. C., c. 85, ss. 18, 22.

679. The court may also order such deposit or payment in any case where the party seizing, or his attorney, declares upon oath that he is credibly informed, and believes that the defendant, with a view to retard the sale, will cause the immovable to be adjudged to some insolvent or unknown person.—Ibid., ss. 18, 20.

680. In any case wherein two resales upon false bidding have taken place, the court may, upon application of any interested party, order that every bidder shall be required to deposit or pay a sum equal to one third of the debt due to the seizing party, in principal, interest and costs, but not in any case exceeding four hundred dollars.—Ibid., s. 20.

681. In the cases mentioned in the three preceding articles, the officer conducting the sale may, with the consent of the plaintiff, or of any person authorized by him, receive the bid of any bidder without requiring the prescribed deposit; and such consent must be in writing or given in presence of two competent witnesses whose names such officer must enter in his return.—Ibid., ss. 21, 23.

682. If the bidder fails to deposit forthwith the amount required, his bid is disregarded, and the proceedings are resumed upon the previous bid.—Ibid., s. 19.

683. The sheriff, or other officer conducting the sale, is bound, immediately after the adjudication, to refund to every bidder except the purchaser, the amount deposited by each, and the deposit made by the purchaser is retained as part of the purchase money.—Ibid., s. 24.

684. [The adjudication of an immovable cannot be made before the expiration of a quarter of an hour from the time at which it was put up for sale, and after that delay, the officer before adjudging it must receive all other bids offered.]—Heric. Vte des Imm. 187.—C.P.C. 706.

685. The property must be adjudged to the highest and last bidder.—Pot., P. C. 220.

686. A person who has purchased as proxy for another, is bound to furnish the sheriff, within three days, with the names, quality and residence of his principal, and his power of attorney, or a ratification of his bid and purchase; in default whereof he is held to have purchased in his own name.—He is likewise held to have purchased in his own name, if the person for whom he acted is not known, cannot be found, is notoriously insolvent, or is incapable of being purchaser.—Pot., P. C. 223.—Heric., Vte des Imm. 188.

692. The proceedings upon an application for resale for false bidding are summary, and no written contestations can be had thereon without leave of court.

693. In all cases the false bidder is liable for all damages and interest accruing to the judgment creditors or to the defendant, from his failure or delay to pay the purchase money, and he is moreover bound to pay the difference between the amount of his bid and the price brought by the actual sale, if such price be less, without any right, if the price be greater, to the excess, which goes to the benefit of the judgment debtor and his creditors.—C. S. L. C., c. 85, ss. 18, 25.—Pot., P. C. 225-6.

694. The purchaser may prevent the resale for false bidding by paying into the hands of the sheriff, before such sale, the amount of the purchase money, with the interest accrued thereon since the purchase, and all costs incurred by reason of his default.—Pot., P. C. 226.—2 L. C. R., 125.

695. If the price of the resale is not sufficient to cover the amount of the first purchase, with interest thereon, and the costs incurred on the resale, the false bidder may be held, even by coercive imprisonment, to pay the difference, upon an application to that effect, made by any party to the suit, in the same form and manner and under the same conditions as that for a resale.—C. S. L. C., c. 85, ss. 18, 25, 26.—Pot., P. C. 226.—C. P. C., 710.

696. Resale for false bidding can only take place upon a writ of reventioni exponas, ordering the sheriff to proceed with the sale upon such conditions as are fixed by the court.—The writ is subject to the formalities mentioned in article 663, and must contain a summary of the judgment ordering the resale for false bidding.

§ 7. Of the return of writs of execution.

697. [The sheriff in whose hands a writ has been placed in order to the sale of the immoveables of a debtor, is bound, on pain of being liable for all costs and damages, to return such writ on the day appointed, together with a certificate of his proceedings, the minutes of seizure, a duplicate of the advertisements, with a certificate of their publication and of the oral publications, the minutes of the bidding, the conditions of sale, a statement of his fees and disbursements taxed in conformity with article 705, the certificate of the hypothec charged upon the immoveable seized, and all oppositions and claims placed in his hands, or writs of execution which he has noted as oppositions.—If there be a return of nulla bona it must be made forthwith without waiting until the day fixed for the return of the writ.—If the debtor is an insolvent trader, the monies must, on application to that effect, be given into the hands of the assignee lawfully appointed, together with the certificate of hypothecs.]—C. S. L. C., c. 36, s. 26; c. 85, s. 8.

698. If the sheriff has been unable to procure a certificate of the hypothecs before the day fixed for the return of the writ, he must mention the fact and file the certificate afterwards as soon as he obtains it.—Ibid.

699. As soon as immovables have been adjudged, the sheriff must procure from the registrar of the registration division in which each immovable is situated, a certificate of the hypothecs charged upon such immovable, and registered up to the day of sale; which certificate the registrar is bound to furnish on payment of the fee established by order of the Governor in Council.—The word "hypothec," as regards this certificate, includes privileges and all other charges upon real estate.—C. S. L. C., c. 36, ss. 26, 32.

700. The certificate must contain:—All hypothecs registered against the property, as soon as hypothecs shall be thus registered, when the plan and book of reference shall be in force in the registration division; all hypothecs registered against the parties who, during the ten years previous to the sale, were owners of the immoveable; and all such anterior hypothecs as were registered anew during that period.—It must also contain the date of the act registered as creating or evidencing such hypothec, the date of its registration, the names, occupation and residence of the creditor and the name of the notary or notaries before whom the act was passed, if it is notarial; it must specify, when several immovables are seized, which of them is affected by each hypothec, mentioning, as regards each hypothec, every partial payment registered, and the amount in principal and preserved interest which appears to be due; and if the registration of a hypothec has been renewed, the certificate must mention both the registration and the renewal.—But the registrar must not include hypothecs which appear by his books to have been extinguished or wholly discharged; and in searching for the hypothecs the registrar must not go beyond the date of a sheriff's title, a sale in bankruptcy or by forced licitation, or of any other sale having the effect of a sheriff's sale, or of a judgment of confirmation of title, with regard to the immovable in question, and which has been registered; except as to hypothecs which are not by such means discharged or extinguished.—If there is no hypothec registered, or if all the hypothecs registered appear to have been extinguished or discharged, he

A hypothec created, &c., (as under preceding heads.)

If there is no privilege or hypothec required to be certified under any one or more of the foregoing heads, the Registrar will, instead of the words, "the following, viz," insert the word "None."

Until plans and books of reference, under articles 2168 and 2169 of the Civil Code, are in force in the county or registration division, the registrar may omit the first head.

If the registrar was not able to ascertain, from the books and documents in his office, who were the owners of the property during the ten years aforesaid, or who was the author of the party who was the owner thereof at the commencement of the said ten years, he will add:

And inasmuch as I was not able to ascertain, from the books and documents in my office, who all the owners of the property during the ten years aforesaid were, (or who was the

A sheriff's sale does not discharge property from hypothees resulting from the commutation of seigniorial rights, excepting arrears accrued previously to the sale.—Nor does it discharge property from the right of emphyteusis, or from substitution not yet open, or customary dower not yet open, except when it appears on the face of the proceedings that there exists a prior or preferable claim.—Pot. 712. A purchaser who cannot obtain the delivery of the property from the judgment debtor, must demand it of the sheriff, and upon the sheriff's return or certificate of the refusal to deliver, the purchaser may apply to the court by petition, of which the debtor has received notice, and obtain an order commanding the sheriff to dispossess the debtor, and to put the purchaser in possession, without prejudice to the recourse of the latter against the debtor for all damages and costs resulting from his refusal.—C. § 9. Of the vacating of sheriff's sales.

714. Sheriff's sales may be vacated:

1. At the instance of the judgment debtor, or of any creditor or other interested person.—If fraud or artifice was employed, with the knowledge of the purchaser, to keep persons from bidding.—If the essential conditions and formalities prescribed for the sale have not been observed; but the seizing party cannot vacate the sale for any want of formalities attributable to himself or his attorney;

2. At the suit of the purchaser.—If he is liable to eviction by reason of some customary dower, substitution, or other right from which the property is not discharged by sheriff's sale.—If the immovable differs so much from the description given of it in the minutes of seizure, that it is to be presumed that the purchaser would not have bought had he been aware of the difference.—Pot., P. C. 236, 240.—Heric. Vte. des Imm., p. 187.—1 Pij. 780.

715. The application must be made in the suit by a special petition, it must be served upon the seizing party and upon all other interested parties in the suit, and in other respects is subject to the rules of ordinary procedure.—The party who prosecuted the seizure and sale has a preferable right to contest any suit brought to vacate such sale; and if he fails to do so within the prescribed delays any other party may take up the contestation; but the purchaser cannot, in any case, be condemned to pay the costs of more than one contestation.

716. Applications on behalf of the judgment debtor to vacate sheriff's sales must be made within the same delays as are prescribed for appealing from judgments of the superior court.—Pot., P. C., 125, 265.—Bowman vs. Dawson, & Dawson oppt., & O'Neil, mis en cause, jugt. at Montreal, 26 Sept., 1845.—Le Prestre, 2 Cent., p. 142, no. 9.—4 Henrys, p. 63.

717. Grounds of nullity of a sheriff's sale may likewise be set up by the purchaser against whom an application is made for a resale for false bidding.

§ 10. Of oppositions for payment.

718. The prothonotary is bound to keep a register in which are entered all returns by the sheriff to writs of execution issued by the court, with mention of the amounts levied, of the oppositions made to the distribution thereof, [and of all claims filed as well in the hands of the sheriff as in the prothonotary's office.]—86 R. of P., S. C.

719. Oppositions for payment are necessary only for such claims as the registrar is not bound to insert in his certificate of the hypothecs charged upon the immoveable sold, as required by article 700.—[They are not necessary for claims resulting from municipal or school taxes, or assessments for the building or repairing of churches, parsonages and church-yards; and it is sufficient that a statement of such claims, certified by the secretary-treasurer, or other authorized agent of the corporation, be filed in the hands of the sheriff or prothonotary. — Claims for arrears of cens et rentes or other rents constituted in their stead, may likewise be made by filing with the sheriff or prothonotary a statement thereof under the signature of the seignior, or creditor, or of his agent.]

720. Oppositions for payment may be filed with the sheriff, if he has not yet made his return, or in the office of the prothonotary where the return is made, within six days after the return.—After this delay, they cannot be filed without permission of the court, and upon such conditions as it imposes.—83 R. of P.—C. S. L. C., c. 85, s 4, § 3, and schedule A.

721. No costs are allowed the opposant upon oppositions for the payment of any of the claims mentioned in article 719.—27 & 28 V., c. 39, s. 6.

722. All oppositions for payment must contain an election of domicile, as prescribed in article 583.—87 R. of P.

723. When there is no opposition, and the certificate does not establish the existence of any hypothec, a judgment may be rendered by the prothonotary in the name of the court, upon application made in vacation, ordering the moneys to be paid to the seizing party, according to their sufficiency and to the amount of his claim.—C. S. L. C., c. 83, s. 147.

§ 11. Of collocation and the distribution of moneys.

724. Between the sixth and the twelfth day after the sheriff's return certifying that he has levied moneys, the prothonotary is bound to prepare a scheme of collocation or distribution, and to report the same.—90 R. of P.—If, however, the sheriff has been unable to return the certificate of hypothecs, the delay above prescribed is only reckoned from the filing of such certificate.

725. The report of distribution must mention the names and designation of the parties plaintiff, defendant and opposant, the amount levied, the person in whose hands it is, and the filing of the certificate of hypothecs.—1 Pig., 816.

726. Each collocation must form a separate article, in numerical order, and must mention whether the claim bears upon all the moneys to be distributed or only upon the price of a particular immoveable or part of an immoveable, the nature of the claim, and the date of the title and of its registration.—Ibid. 818.

727. In preparing the report of distribution the prothonotary must act according to the apparent rights of the parties, as shewn by the certificate of hypothees filed by the sheriff, by the oppositions, claims, and the other documents forming part of the record, and in conformity with the rules contained in the Civil Code, in the titles Of Privileges and Hypothees, and Of Registration of real rights, and with those hereinafter declared.—Ibid.

728. Law costs must, however, be collocated in the following order :

1. Costs of the report ;
2. Commission on amounts deposited, and tax upon the amount levied, if any is due, and costs of seizure and sale, if they have not been retained out of the monies levied ;
3. Costs incurred upon the writ of execution against immoveables, and such as may remain due upon the discussion of the moveables ;
4. Costs of cancelling hypothees, or of establishing that they are extinguished ;
5. Costs of affixing seals, and of making any inventory required by law ;
6. Costs incurred, either in the court below or in appeal, upon proceedings incidental to the seizure and necessary to effect the sale of the immoveables ;
7. Costs of suit, as provided in article 606.

729. After law costs, those claimants must be collocated in their respective order who had some right of property in the immoveable sold, and who failed to set up their rights in due time by opposition to annul, opposition to withdraw, or opposition to secure charges, but have filed oppositions for payment ; after, however, deducting such debts as they may be bound to pay and as have become payable in consequence of the sale of the immoveable, and the costs mentioned in the preceding article.—2 Bour., 725-6 ; Pot., P.C., 236 ; Héric., 204 ; C.S.L.C., c. 85, s. 15, § 3.

730. Conditional hypothees are collocated in the report according to their rank, but the amounts thereof are made payable to subsequent creditors whose claims are exigible, or, in default of these, to the defendant, upon good and sufficient sureties being given for the return of the money, in the event of the condition being fulfilled ; and upon failure of the latter to give such security, within the delay fixed by the court, the amounts may be paid to the conditional creditors, upon their giving good and sufficient sureties to return the moneys in the event of the condition failing, or becoming impossible, and paying interest, when the case requires it, to such persons as the court may order.—Pot., P.C., 234-5 ; 12 Guy. Rep. 433 ; 2 Bour. 722 ;

[In the case of neither party furnishing the requisite security, the amount of the conditional claim may be placed in the hands of a sequestrator or depositary upon whom the parties agree, or whom the court names of its own accord.]

731. When a prior claim is undetermined and unliquidated, the prothonotary, out of the disposable moneys, must reserve a sufficient sum to cover it; and such sum remains in the sheriff's hands until the claim is liquidated, or until the court otherwise orders.—Houyvet, No. 193.—C.S.L.C., c. 36, s. 20.

732. Hypothecary claims due with a term of payment become exigible in consequence of the discussion and sale of the immovable subject to them, and are beneficially collocated, but if they do not bear interest, the creditor is then collocated and receives the amount of his collocation on condition that he shall give, and after he has given, security to pay interest, until the term expires, to the subsequent creditors mentioned in the report; and if he is collocated for a part only of his claim, he is not liable for interest towards such subsequent creditors until the full amount of his claim is completed.—2 Bonr., 722.—12 Guy, Rép. 433.—Lac., vo. Intérêts, no. 7.—Et vide Pot., Condictio indeb., No. 152.—Héric, 157.

733. Claims for the capital of life-rents are determined and collocated according to articles 1914, 1915, 1916 and 1917 of the Civil Code.

734. Interest and arrears of rents preserved by registration of a claim are collocated in the same rank with such claim, up to the day on which the immovable was adjudged.—7 Vic., c. 10, s. 35.—Lac., vo. Intérêt, No. 7.—Pot., P.C. 252-3.

[A creditor whose claim is registered is collocated in the same rank, for such taxed costs only as are incurred in the court in which he originally obtained judgment for the recovery of his claim. His costs in appeal rank only according to the date of their registration.]

735. When several immovables, or pieces or parcels of land separately charged with different claims are sold for one and the same price;—when a vendor's claim comes in concurrence with a builder's privilege; or—when a creditor has some preferential claim upon part of an immovable, by reason of improvements or other cause;—and the disposable moneys are insufficient;—the prothonotary, if the record does not afford him sufficient data to perform the relative valuation himself, must suspend the distribution and report the facts to the court.

being established upon the report of the experts, the case is sent back to the prothonotary, in order that he may proceed to determine the order of col-location and the distribution of the moneys.

738. The registrar's certificate is prima facie evidence of the facts therein mentioned;
but it may be contested on the ground of error or fraud on the part of the registrar or in his books; and in such case the court may, if the ends of justice require it, order any interested person to be called in to answer the contestation, which must also be served upon the registrar.—Such interested parties are called in by being served with a rule of court; and this service may be either personal or at domicile, or by advertisement in newspapers if the persons are absent, in the same manner as upon ordinary summons.—C. S. L. C., c. 36,
s. 19;—25 Vic., c. 11, s. 5.

739. Any party to the cause, or any person appearing voluntarily, may produce any acquittance or document of a nature to establish the discharge or extinction of a claim mentioned in the certificate of hypothecs, provided it is accompanied with such proof as would be required to justify the registrar in receiving it; and the court or judge may thereupon correct the certificate, or order it to be sent back to the registrar for correction, or else the registrar may transmit to the prothonotary a supplementary certificate in amendment of the former one.—25 Vic., c. 11, s. 5.

740. The registrar is deemed to be an officer of the court for all that concerns such certificate of hypothecs, as also for the taxation of his fees and expenses for services rendered in regard thereto.—Ibid., s. 6.

741. Any person interested in the distribution of moneys may, either in term or in vacation, even before contestation, cause the defendant or the creditor, or the debtor of any hypothecs mentioned in the registrar's certificate or in any opposition, or any other person having cognizance of the facts, to be examined before the judge, or, in his absence, before the prothonotary, in order to establish whether such hy-pothec has not been discharged, in whole or in part, or otherwise extinguished, or to prove any other fact material to the case; and any person thus examined is bound to disclose the existence of any receipt, account, document or writing, relating to such discharge or extinction, and to produce the same if it be in his power;
and if it appears by the certificate of hypothecs, or by any opposition in the case, that such person is the creditor of the hypothec, his admissions constitute proof. A person thus examined cannot ask to be taxed as a witness if he is in-interested in the distribution, nor can he ask to be paid his travelling expenses before answering.—27 & 28 Vic., c. 30, s. 7.—If the hypothecary creditor of the person who was in possession of the immovables in question at the commencement of the ten years next preceding the day of the judicial sale, or his legal representatives, cannot be found so as to be summoned and examined, then, upon the affidavit of any person swearing that he has reason to believe, and verily believes, that the hypothec has been paid, discharged or extinguished, the court or a judge may order such creditor, or his representatives, to be summoned in the same manner as absentee defendants, and if such creditor or absentee defendants fail to appear, the distribution takes place in the same manner as if the hypothec had not been mentioned in the certificate of the registrar.

742. The parties are allowed eight days to contest the report of distribution, reckoning from the day on which it was entered on the posted list, if such day be a Monday, if not, the delay is reckoned from the Monday following.—92 R. of P.—2 L. C. R., 9.

743. The contestation may relate to the report itself and to the order or rank of the collocations, or it may go to the merits or substance of any of the claims beneficially collocated, and in this case the report becomes impliedly contested and stayed, to the extent of such contestation, without its being necessary to file a special contestation of the report to that end. The contestation in all cases must be accompanied with the reasons and documents in support thereof, if there are any, and a copy of such contestation must be left with the party interested, either at his elected domicile or at the prothonotary's office, if there is no such domicile.—4 L. C. R., 305.—1 Pig. 818.

744. Contestations of the report or of the order of collocation may inscribed forthwith upon the roll for hearing, after notice given to the parties interested, without the necessity of any written answer to such contestation.

745. If the contestation of the report is maintained without being opposed by any party, the costs thereof are taken out of the moneys levied.—In the event of the costs being adjudged against one of the parties, the contesting party is still entitled to be paid them out of the moneys levied, saving to the creditor who is prejudiced by such collocation, his right to demand subrogation against the party condemned to pay them.

746. When a contestation of the report, or of a collocated claim is maintained, it is so maintained for the benefit of the mass of the creditors, and the court orders the prothonotary to prepare a new report according to the rights of the parties.—Houyet, 409, 410.—1 Pig. 821.

748. Contestations upon the merits of oppositions or claims are subject to the rules of procedure which apply in ordinary suits.

749. After the delay for contesting the report has expired, the prosecuting party, or upon his failure to do so within two days, any other party interested, may move for the homologation of the whole report, if there is no contestation, or of the part which is not contested or is not affected by the contestations, when these are only to a part.—Such motion cannot, however, be made until after notice thereof has been posted up in the prothonotary's office during at least four days.—R. of P.—1 Pig. 819.—Héric. 198.—C. S. L.C., c. 83, s. 147.

750. The homologation may be granted either by the court or by the prothonotary, in term or in vacation, unless there is a counter-application or a contestation, in which case the court alone can decide.*—C. S. L.C., c. 83, s. 147.

751. [If in any distribution, whether homologated or not, a creditor is collocated for any sum that is not due to him, the court, upon a declaration of the creditor to that effect, may order a supplementary distribution of the sum thus allowed him.—If the person thus collocated fails to declare what he has previously received, the judge may, upon the application of any party interested, and on production of an authentic discharge, order a supplementary distribution of the amount of such collocation.—If there be no authentic discharge the person thus collocated must be called in, upon application to the court or judge, and in such case the provisions of articles 741 apply.—If the person collocated has no known domicile in Lower Canada, or if he is dead and his legal representatives are not certainly known, the judge may, upon a certificate of the fact, order them to be called in

in the manner provided in article 68. *

752. When no opposition for payment has been filed and no claim appears by the registrar's certificate, or when all the parties consent, the moneys levied may, without the formality of a report of distribution, be adjudged by the prothonotary to the parties entitled to them, upon a motion to that effect made either in term or in vacation.—C. S. L.C., c. 83, s. 147, § 3.

§ 12. Of sub-collocation.

753. Any creditor of a person who is entitled to be collocated, or is beneficially collocated upon moneys levied, has a right to file a sub-opposition, demanding that, to the extent of his claim, the sum accruing to his debtor be not paid to such debtor, but to him. He

754. Sub-oppositions must be served upon the party whose moneys are thus stopped.

755. The sub-collocation may follow the collocation, and be included in the general report, or it may form a separate report, and is subject to the same rules and formalities; but the costs thereof are borne by the creditor whose collocation is thus opposed.—Pot., P. C., 255.

756. If a debtor fails to exercise his rights and claims, his creditor may intervene in the distribution in order to exercise the rights of such debtor, in the same manner and with as little expense as the debtor himself could have done.—Ibid.

§ 13. Of the payment of moneys levied.

757. At the expiration of fifteen days after the date of the judgment homologating a report of distribution, the sheriff is bound to pay to the parties entitled thereto the moneys which he has received.—25 G. III., c. 2, s. 29.

SECTION VI.

Of Abandonment of Property.

763. Any debtor arrested under a writ of capias ad respondendum, may make a judicial abandonment of his property for the benefit of his creditors.—C.S.L.C., c. 87, ss. 12, 13.

764. This abandonment is effected by filing in the prothonotary's office a statement, sworn to by the defendant, and making known :

1. All the moveable and immovable property of which he is possessed;

2. The names and addresses of all and each of his creditors, and amount of their claims, and the nature of each claim, whether privileged hypothecary or otherwise.—Such statement must be accompanied with a declaration by the debtor that he consents to abandon all his property to his creditors.—C.S.L.C., c. 87, s. 12.

765. [The debtor must give the plaintiff notice of the filing of the statement and of his declaration of abandonment.]

766. A debtor who has been admitted to bail is bound to file this statement and declaration within thirty days from the date of the judgment rendered in the suit in which he was arrested.— Any person condemned to pay a sum exceeding eighty dollars, exclusive of interest from service of process and costs, for a debt of a commercial nature, is likewise, after such moveable and immoveable property as he appears possessed of have been discussed, bound, upon being required to do so, to file a similar statement.*—Ibid ss.12,18.

780. Other special provisions concerning insolvent traders are contained in the statute intitled: the Insolvent Act of 1864 (now the Insolvent Act of 1869.)

SECTION VII.

Of Coercive Imprisonment.

781. Coercive imprisonment cannot be carried into execution without a special rule granted by the court, after personal notice given to the party liable to it, unless such party absconds in order to avoid it.—C.P.C., 780.

782. In all cases of resistance to the orders of the court respecting the execution of the judgment by seizure and sale of the property of the debtor, as well as in all cases in which the defendant conveys away or secretes his effects, or uses violence or shuts his doors to prevent the seizure, a judge out of court may exercise all the powers of the court, and order the defendant to be imprisoned until he satisfies the judgment.—C.S.L.C., c. 83, ss. 143-4-5.

783. Coercive imprisonment cannot be granted against tutors or curators for any balance of account due by them, until after the expiration of four months from the service upon them of the judgment establishing such balance.—Ord. 1662, tit. 34, arts. 7, 10, 11.

784. Coercive imprisonment can only be effected in the time during which summonses may be served.—Pot. P.C. 259.—C.P.C. 781.

785. The debtor cannot be arrested :

1. On a legal holiday ;
2. In a place of public worship, during divine service ;
3. In a court of justice when the court is sitting, or before any privileged tribunal.—Pot. P.C., 260.—C.P.C., 781.

786. Notwithstanding what is contained in the two preceding articles, the court may order the arrest to be made on a holiday, or at any time, if it is established that the defendant is acting in such a manner as to escape it.—Pot., P.C., 259, 260.—C.P.C. 781.

787. Coercive imprisonment can only be executed in virtue of a writ or order from the court or judge, which may be addressed to the same officers, and is clothed with the same formalities, and contains the same matters of recital as those required in writs of execution.—C.S.L.C., c. 83, s. 141.

788. Whenever the person condemned to coercive imprisonment resides in another district, the writ must be addressed to and executed by the sheriff of such district.—Ibid. s. 209.

789. Coercive imprisonment is affected by arresting the debtor and placing him in custody of the keeper of the common gaol of the district in which the writ issued.—If there is no gaol in the district he must be imprisoned in the nearest gaol.—Pot. P.C. 261.—C.S.L.C., c. 110, s. 13.

790. Any person thus imprisoned, may, upon petition to the court or to a judge, previously served upon the creditor, and accompanied with an affidavit that he is not worth [fifty] dollars, obtain an order commanding the creditor to pay him, as an alimentary allowance during the period of his imprisonment, a sum not less than seventy cents and not exceeding one dollar per week.—C.S.L.C., c. 87, s. 6.

791. If however the debtor afterwards becomes owner of property exceeding in value the amount above mentioned, the creditor may be relieved from paying the weekly allowance.

792. The debtor may, if he has grounds for doing so, seek redress against such imprisonment, by petition or motion to the court or judge served upon the creditor.—C.P.C., 795.

793. The debtor may obtain his discharge :

1. By paying into the hands of the sheriff or of the prothonotary, the amount of the condemnation, in principal, interest and costs ;

2. With the consent of or a release from the creditor ;

3. Upon the failure of the creditor to pay in advance into the hands of the gaoler the alimentary allowance granted to him ;

4. By the abandonment of his property, as mentioned in the preceding section ;

5. By means of the discharge from liability, obtained under the provisions of law concerning insolvent traders ;

6. If he has completed his seventieth year.—Pot. P. C., 263-4-5,—1 Pig. 837 et seq.—27 and 28 V., c. 17, ss. 9, et seq.—C.P.C., 800.

794. Such discharge must, however, be ordered by a judge upon application, of which notice has been given to the prosecuting creditor.—Pig. loc. cit.—C.P.C., 805.

795. When the debtor has been discharged by reason of default of payment of the alimentary allowance, he is no longer liable to coercive imprisonment for the same debt.

OF PROVISIONAL PROCEEDINGS WHICH ACCOMPANY SUMMONS IN CERTAIN CASES.

GENERAL PROVISION.

796. A plaintiff may, in certain cases, simultaneously with the summons, or pending the suit and before judgment, have the person or the property of his debtor, or the object in dispute, placed in judicial custody, as explained in the following chapters; [subject to a right of action by the latter to recover damages, upon establishing by proof against the creditor a want of probable cause.]—C. P. L., 208, 237,

CHAPTER FIRST.

OF CAPIAS AD RESPONDENDUM.

SECTION I.

Of the Issuing of the Capias.

797. When the amount claimed exceeds forty dollars, the plaintiff may obtain from the prothonotary of the superior court, a writ of summons and arrest against the defendant, if the latter is about to leave immediately the province of Canada, or if he secretes his property with intent to defraud his creditors.—C. S. L. C., c. 87, s. 1.—C. P. L., 210.

798. This writ is obtained upon an affidavit of the plaintiff, his bookkeeper, clerk, or legal attorney, declaring that the defendant is personally indebted to the plaintiff in a sum amounting to or exceeding forty dollars, and that the deponent has reason to believe, and verily believes, for reasons specially stated in the affidavit, that the defendant is about to leave immediately the province of Canada, with intent to defraud his creditors in general, or the plaintiff in particular, and that such departure will deprive the plaintiff of his recourse against the defendant; or upon an affidavit establishing, besides the existence of the debt as above mentioned, that the defendant has secreted or made away with, or is about immediately to secrete or make away with his property and effects with such intent.—Ibid.—C. P. L., 212-4.—Hurtubise vs. Lariche, 13 L. C. J., 83.—7 L. C. J. 30.

799. The writ may also be obtained if the affidavit establishes, besides the debt, that the defendant is a trader, that he is notoriously insolvent, that he has refused to arrange with his creditors or to make an assignment of his property to them or for their benefit, and that he still carries on his trade.*—C.S.L.C., c. 83, s. 47; c. 87, s. 9.

800. The writ of capias may likewise be obtained by any creditor having an hypothecary or privileged claim upon an immoveable, upon an affidavit establishing that his claim exceeds forty dollars, and that the defendant, whether he is the original hypothecary debtor or simply the holder of the property, is, with the intent of defrauding the plaintiff, damaging, deteriorating or diminishing the value of the immoveable, or is about to do so himself or by others, so as to prevent the creditor from recovering the whole or any part of his claim, to the amount of forty dollars, as provided by chapter 47 of the consolidated

* When both parties are domiciled in Upper Canada, the affidavit must also declare that the defendant does not possess within the limits of Upper Canada any immoveable property out of which the plaintiff can reasonably expect to be paid.—C. S. L. C., c. 87, s. 2.—3 L. C. R., 100.—This writ may issue on the ground of secretion committed previous to, after, or concurrently with the making of an assignment under the Insolvent Act of 1864.—Stevenson vs. McOwan, 17 L. C. Jurist, 46.

801. [If the demand be founded upon a claim for unliquidated damages, the writ of capias cannot issue without a judge's order, after examining into the sufficiency of the affidavit; and the affidavit in such case must state the nature, and, moreover, amount of the damages sought, and the facts which gave rise to them, and the judge may, in his discretion, either grant or refuse the capias, and may fix the amount of the bail, upon giving which the defendant may be released.]

802. The writ of capias may be joined with the writ of summons, or may be issued afterwards as an incident in the cause. In the latter case it must be accompanied with a summons for a fixed day to show cause why the writ should not be declared valid and joined with the principal demand.—The writ may also issue after judgment has been obtained for the recovery of the debt.

803. The amount for which the writ of capias has issued, and the name of the person who made the affidavit must be endorsed upon the writ,—10 & 11 Geo. IV., c. 26.

804. [It is not necessary that the declaration or statement of the demand should be served upon the defendant at the time of his arrest, but it suffices to leave a copy of it either with him, or at the office of the prothonotary, within the [three days which follow the service].—C. 810. It may be issued by a clerk of the circuit court, in which case it is addressed to the sheriff or to any bailiff of the district in which it is to be executed.—12 V., c. 63.—C. S. L. C., c. 83, s. 6.

811. The clerk of the circuit court acts in such case as an officer of the superior court, and the writ of capias must be worded throughout as if was issued by the prothonotary.—Ibid.

812. In all cases in which a writ of capias may issue, a warrant of arrest may be granted by a commissioner of the superior court, and be addressed by him either to the sheriff or a bailiff, or any other peace officer in his vicinity.—C. S. L. C., c. 83, s. 53.

813. Such warrant is in the name of the commissioner who grants it ; it orders the arrest of the person therein designated, and his delivery over to the gaoler of the district, who is commanded to keep him in his custody during forty-eight hours, and no longer, unless before the expiration of that time the plaintiff has obtained and caused to be executed against such defendant a writ of capias in the ordinary course.*—9 Geo. Of the Contestation of Writs of Capias.

819. Upon a petition presented to the court, or to a judge in term or in vacation, the defendant may obtain his discharge by establishing that he is not liable to be imprisoned, or by shewing that the essential allegations of the affidavit upon which the capias is founded are false or insufficient.—Ibid. ss. 8, 9 §§ 1, 2.—c. 47, s. 3, § 3.—C. P. L. 218.

820. In order to decide upon this incidental proceeding the court or judge may order the immediate return of the said writ of capias and of the proceedings had upon it, although the day fixed for the return should not yet be arrived.—1 L. C. R., 143.

821. If the contestation is merely as to the sufficiency of the allegations of the affidavit, the judge or the court may dispose of it, after hearing the parties.—But if the contestation is founded upon the falsity of the allegations, issue must be joined upon the petition of the defendant, in the ordinary course and independently of the contestation upon the principal demand, unless the exigibility of the debt depends upon the truth of the allegations of the affidavit, in which case the writ may be contested together with the merits of the case.—10 L. C. R., 241.

822. A defendant whose application to be discharged is rejected may appeal from the decision.—3 L. C. J., 292.

823. [If the court or judge orders the defendant to be discharged, the plaintiff may obtain a suspension of the order, by declaring immediately that he intends to have the decision reviewed and depositing the amount required by article 497. He may likewise appeal from the judgment in review, if he declares immediately his intention of doing so, and causes the writ of appeal to be served within three juridical days from the rendering of the judgment in review.—If the plaintiff fails to comply with these formalities the defendant is discharged.]

SECTION IV.

Of Discharge upon Bail.

824. The defendant may obtain his discharge upon giving two good and sufficient sureties that he will not leave the province of Canada, and that, in case he does so, such sureties will pay the amount of the judgment that may be rendered, in principal, interest and costs, or the amount fixed by the judge in the case of article 801.—But this bail cannot be received after the expiration of the eighth day from the day fixed for the return of the writ of capias, unless with leave of the court, expressly granted upon sufficient cause shewn.—C. S. L. C. c. 87, s. 3.

825. The defendant may also obtain his discharge at any time before judgment, by giving good and sufficient sureties to the satisfaction of the court, or judge, or prothonotary, that he will surrender himself into the hands of the sheriff, when required to do so by an order of the court or judge, within one month from the service of such order upon him or upon his sureties, and that in default they will pay the amount of the judgment in principal, interest and costs, or the amount fixed by the judge in the case of article 801.—Ibid. s. 10.

826. This bail is offered after a notice served upon the plaintiff or his attorney, with one intermediate day's delay.

827. The sureties offered must, if required, justify their sufficiency upon oath, but need not justify upon real estate.—Ibid. s. 10, § 2.

828. A defendant arrested upon a capias may obtain his provisional discharge by giving good and sufficient sureties to the sheriff to the satisfaction of the latter, before the return day of the writ, that he will pay the amount of the judgment that may be rendered upon the demand, in principal, interest and costs, if he fails to give bail pursuant to article 824 or to article 825*.—Ibid. s. 22.

maintaining a capias, and condemning him to pay the debt, will be permitted to put in bail or security that he will surrender himself in terms of the law in place of the bail given to the sheriff. He will also after judgment, on showing cause, be permitted to file the statement of his affairs required by C. S. L. C., c. 87, s. 12. (arts: 763 et seq. of this code) and plaintiff's petition for imprisonment will be dismissed in consequence of such permission. Henderson vs. Lamoureux, 17, L. C. R. 414.

CHAPTER SECOND.

OF ATTACHMENT BEFORE JUDGMENT.

SECTION I.

Of Simple Attachment.

834. A creditor has a right, before obtaining judgment, to attach the goods and effects of his debtor :

1. In the case of the dernier équipour :*

2. In all cases where, as plaintiff, he produces an affidavit establishing : that the defendant is personally indebted to him in a sum exceeding five dollars, that the defendant absconds or is about immediately to leave the province, or is secreting his property, with the intent to defraud his creditors and the plaintiff in particular; or that the defendant is a trader, that he is notoriously insolvent, that he has refused to arrange with his creditors or to make an assignment to them or for their benefit, and that he still carries on his business; and, in either case, that the deponent verily believes that without the benefit of the attachment the plaintiff will lose his debt or sustain damage.—C.S.L.C., c. 83, ss. 46-7, 58, 175.—Pot. Proc. civ. 180-1.—C.P.L. 240.*

* The dernier équipour must make the usual affidavit to obtain a seizure.—Plante vs. Clarke, 17 L. C. Rep., p. 75.

835. [If the claim is founded on unliquidated damages, the writ of attachment cannot issue without the order of a judge after examining into the sufficiency of the affidavits, which, moreover, must state the nature and amount of the damages claimed and the facts which gave rise to them, and the judge may in his discretion either grant or refuse the writ, and fix the amount of the bail upon giving which the property may be released.]

836. Simple attachment is effected by means of a writ addressed, when in the superior court, to the sheriff of the district in which it is to be executed, or, when in any

S. L. C., c. 83, s. 5.

837. The amount of the plaintiff's claim must be endorsed upon the writ, or the sum for which security may be given.—10 & 11 G. IV. c. 26.—C. S. L. C., c. 83, s. 52.

838. The writ is issued by the prothonotary or by the clerk of the circuit court, as the case may be, upon a written requisition from the plaintiff.—It may be either in the French or English language.—It is tested in the same manner as writs of summons.—C. S. L. C. c. 83, s. 1.

839. The writ may also be issued for the superior court, according to the amount claimed, by any clerk of the circuit court, who, in such case, may likewise receive the necessary affidavit.—Ibid. s. 6, § 4.

840. The provisions contained in articles 810 and 811 concerning writs of caipias, apply likewise to simple attachment.

841. The seizure of the goods of the defendant is effected in the same manner as upon the execution of a judgment.—Pot. Proc. Civ. 180-1.—The sheriff or bailiff may make the seizure in another district if the debtor has conveyed his property there or has withdrawn there himself.

842. A warrant of attachment may also be issued, in the case of article 834, by any commissioner of the superior court, addressed to the sheriff of the district where the warrant is to be executed, or to the bailiff or peace officer nearest to his residence, commanding him to seize and detain the effects of the debtor.—C. S. L. C., c. 83, s. 53.

843. This warrant of attachment is in the name of the commissioner who issues it; it orders the moveables and effects of the defendant to be attached, with the ordinary formalities of seizures, and that they be kept and detained for the period of twelve days from the seizure, and no longer, unless before the expiration of such twelve days a writ of attachment, pursuant to the above provisions, issues from the proper court.*—Ibid. s. 54 and form D.

845. The commissioner who granted such warrant must, without delay, transmit a duplicate thereof, together with the original affidavit upon which the warrant was granted and a certificate of his proceedings to the prothonotary, or clerk of the circuit court, who must file and keep the same as part of the record in the case.—Ibid., s. 55.

846. When in the superior court the writ or the warrant is addressed to a bailiff or any other officer than the sheriff, such bailiff or other officer is bound to make a return of his proceedings to the sheriff, and to deliver to him the effects seized, in order that they may be disposed of by the court according to law.* Ibid., s. 6, § 2.

847. The sheriff or bailiff may also demand in advance from the party suing out the writ or his attorney ad litem, such sum as may be deemed sufficient by the judge or the prothonotary of the superior court from which the writ issued, for the safe keeping of the effects seized. Ibid., s. 49.

* The sheriff or bailiff is not bound to execute a writ of simple attachment against any raft or mill until he has been furnished with two good and sufficient sureties to indemnify him and hold him harmless against any demand for damages and costs that may result from such attachment.—C. The sheriff or bailiff may renew such demand as often as the sum so advanced is expended, by presenting a petition, of which notice has been given to the party seizing or his attorney ad litem; and if the amount fixed by the judge or prothonotary is not paid within twenty-four hours, the seizure is discharged, and the sheriff or bailiff is exonerated from any liability whatever. Ibid., s. 49, § 2.

849. The writ of attachment must be returned with an inventory of the seizure, and a certificate of service both of the writ and of the declaration, in the same manner as upon a writ of causis.

850. A copy of the writ of attachment must be left with the defendant, as well as a duplicate of the inventory of the seizure, as soon as it is completed. As regards the declaration, it may either be served at the same time as the writ, or within the [three days which follow the seizure], by leaving a copy thereof either with the defendants or at the prothonotary's or clerk's office. Ibid., s. 57.

851. The effects seized must, in every case, be placed in the custody of a responsible person offered by the defendant, or in default of such offer, in the custody of a responsible person appointed by the sheriff, bailiff, or other officer making the seizure, subject to the provisions respecting guardians and depositaries in cases of executions against moveables. Pot. P. C. 180.

852. If the defendant is absent from Lower Canada, or conceals himself so as to prevent the service of the writ of attachment, the court, or a judge upon proof of the fact by one credible witness, may dispense with the service, and order the defendant to be summoned in the manner provided in article 68.—C. S. L. C. c. 83, s. 58.

853. A defendant whose effects have been seized may get them restored to him by the sheriff within the forty-eight hours from the service of the inventory of seizure:—1. By depositing with the sheriff, bailiff or other officer charged with the writ, the amount endorsed on the writ and costs;— or 2. By giving the sheriff, bailiff or other officer charged with the writ, who is bound to accept them, good and sufficient sureties, who justify under oath to the amount endorsed upon the writ with interest and costs, that he will satisfy the judgment that may be rendered.—In default of his doing so within the specified delay the effects remain under seizure to satisfy the judgment, unless the court or a judge orders otherwise.—Ibid., s. 52.

854. Simple attachment may be contested in the same manner as writs of causis.

SECTION II.

Of Attachment by Garnishment.

855. In all the cases where a writ of simple attachment may be granted as hereinabove explained, a creditor may also attach any moveable property belonging to his debtor which may be in the hands of third persons, and also whatever sums they may owe him, subject to the restrictions mentioned in articles 558 and 628.—C. S. L. C., c. 83, ss. 46-7.—C. P. C. 558.

856. This attachment is effected by means of a writ commanding the attachment in the hands of the garnishees of whatever sums of money, things or effects they have or may have belonging or due to the defendant, ordering the garnishees not to dispossess themselves thereof without an order of the court, and to appear at the office of the prothonotary or clerk to make their declaration, and summoning the defendant to answer the demand of the plaintiff.

857. It may be addressed either to the sheriff or to a bailiff, when it issues from the superior court, and in any other case to a bailiff.—Ibid., ss. 3, 133.

858. It is clothed with all the formalities required for ordinary writs of summons, and is subject to the provisions of articles 838, 839, 840, 842, 845, 846, in so far as they can be applied.

859. A statement of the amount for which the attachment is made or authorized is, moreover, endorsed upon the writ.—C. P. C. 559.

860. The provisions contained in articles 614, 615, 616, 617, 618, 619, 620, 622, 623, 624, 625, 629, 630, and 631, are also applicable to cases of attachment by garnishment before judgment.

861. If the declaration of the garnishee is not contested, the court or judge, in rendering judgment upon the principal demand, adjudicates also upon the attachment and the declaration of the garnishee.—C. S. L. C., c. 83, s. 135.—C. P. C. 576.

862. The plaintiff or the defendant may contest the declaration of the garnishee, upon leave of the court to that effect.—Such contestation is served upon the garnishee, together with a summons to appear on a day fixed to answer the same, the ordinary delays for summoning being observed.—4 Will. IV, c. 4, s. 4.—C. S. L. C. c. 83, s. 136, § 2.

863. In other respects the contestation is subject to the rules of ordinary procedure.

864. If the plaintiff fails to contest the declaration of the garnishee within eight days after the principal judgment, he is foreclosed from doing so, unless the delay is extended by the court.—38 R. of P.

865. The defendant may contest the attachment made upon him or in the hands of a garnishee, in the manner provided for cases of capias.—12 L. C. R. 265.—6 L. C. R. 473.—7 L. C. J. 48.

CHAPTER THIRD.

OF ATTACHMENT IN REVENDICATION.

866. Whoever has a right to revendicate a moveable may obtain a writ for the purpose of having it attached, upon production of an affidavit setting forth his right and describing the moveable so as to identify it.—This right of attachment in revendication may be exercised by the owner the pledgee, the depositary, the usufructuary, the institute in substitutions, and the substitute.—Pot. P. C. 182.—Gu. Rep. ro. Revendication, 619.—C.P.L. 269.

867. The writ of attachment in revendication orders the seizure of the effects revendicated, and that they be placed in the hands of guardians until judgment is rendered upon the revendication.—[The name of the person upon whose affidavit the writ issues is mentioned upon the back of the writ.]

868. The formalities prescribed in articles 809, 836, 838, 847, 848, 849, 850, and 851, are observed in attachments in revendication in so far as they can apply.

869. The defendant upon a demand in revendication may have the effects returned into his possession upon giving good and sufficient sureties that he will produce them when required, which he is in such case bound to do in the same manner as any judicial sequestrator.—Guy. ro. Revendication, 620.—Nye vs. Bigelow, Montreal, 30 May, 1846.—Porter vs. Ferrier, 17 Feb. 1852.—Knapp vs. French, 6 Dec. 1852, contra.—Nevertheless the court or judge may, according to circumstances, grant possession of the effects to the plaintiff, subject to the same conditions.

870. Before the effects are delivered to the party applying for them, the other party may require an inventory thereof to be made, establishing the condition of the effects, their description and their value, in order to settle the amount of the security to be given; and this is done by experts named in the ordinary course of procedure.

871. If neither of the parties applies for the effects seized they remain in the custody of the guardian appointed; or else, at the request of either of the parties, the court or the judge may, if they are of a nature to produce fruits, order them to be placed in the hands of a sequestrator.

872. If the things seized are of a perishable nature or liable to deteriorate during the pendency of the suit, the court or judge may order them to be sold and the proceeds of the sale to be deposited in the office of the prothonotary or clerk.—I Couchot, 123.—C. P. L., 261.

CHAPTER FOURTH.

OF ATTACHMENT FOR RENT.

873. The owner or lessor may cause the effects and fruits in or upon the house, premises or land leased and subject to his privilege, to be seized for the rent, farm dues, or other sums payable in virtue of the lease. He may likewise follow and seize in recaption, even for amounts not yet payable, the moveables and effects which were in the house or premises leased, when they have been removed without his consent; but he must do so within eight days after their removal.—Pot. P. C., 182.—Laurin vs. Kelly, Montreal, 25 April, 1849.—[An attachment in recaption must be served upon the new lessor, who must also be summoned to show cause against its execution.]

874. The provisions contained in article 841 apply likewise to attachments for rent or farm dues.

875. Effects attached for rent or for farm dues cannot, without the consent of the plaintiff, be left in the custody of the defendant, unless he gives sureties to the satisfaction of the sheriff or bailiff for the production of the effects, and such sureties incur the same obligations and are liable to the same penalties as judicial guardians.—C. S. L. C., c. 40, s. 17.

CHAPTER FIFTH.

OF JUDICIAL SEQUESTRATION.

876. All demands for sequestration are made by petition to the court [or to a judge]. It may also, according to circumstances, be ordered by the court without being demanded by the parties.—1 Cou. 123.—Ord. 1667, tit. 19, art. 12.—1 Pig. 117, 170, 172, 387, 388.—Guy, 79, Revendication, 621.—Imbert, Enchiridion, pp. 195-6.

877. The judgment ordering sequestration commands the parties to appear before the court or before a judge, on a day fixed, to name a sequestrator; and if the parties cannot agree, the court, or judge, names one of his own accord.—Ord. 1667, tit. 19, art. 4.

878. The sequestrator must be sworn before the judge or the prothonotary to administer well and faithfully the things of which he is appointed depositary. He is in put possession by a bailiff, who draws up a statement containing a description of the property sequestrated. This statement should be signed by the bailiff and also by the sequestrator, if he can sign; if he cannot, mention should be made that he declared he could not sign, after he was called upon to do so, and the statement had been read to him.—1 Cou. 123.—Ord. 1667, arts. 6, 7, 8, 9.

879. If among the things sequestrated some are consumable or perishable, the sequestrator may cause them to be sold, observing the formalities prescribed for the sale of moveables under execution:—1 Cou. 123.

880. If the thing sequestrated consist in a right of enjoyment, the sequestrator, if there is no conventional lease, is bound to give out the lease by auction.—Ord. 1667, art. 10.

881. Neither party can, directly or indirectly, become lessee of the things sequestrated.—Ibid. art. 18.

882. Repairs or other necessary expenditures cannot be made upon the premises sequestrated without the authorization of a court or judge, upon petition, of which the parties have received notice.—Ibid. art. 12.

883. Sequestrators are subject to the duties and obligations imposed upon guardians in seizures under execution.— They are, moreover, bound to render an account of their administration when judgment has been given upon the contestation, and also whenever, pending the suit, the judge orders them to do so, at the instance of either of the parties and upon cause shown.—Whenever moneys have been paid into court, or are in the hands of the sheriff or the coroner, and their adjudication happens to be delayed for an indefinite time, either by contestation in the suit, or for other reasons, the court may, upon the application of one of the parties, and after the others have been heard or duly notified, order that the moneys be placed in the hands of some other sequestrator charged with investing them until judgment, so that they shall bear interest or profits in favor of the party who eventually will be entitled to receive them, or may order the first sequestrator or depository to invest them in like manner.

884. A sequestrator is discharged by law upon his delivering the property sequestrated to the party named in the judgment of the court, and also in the manner stated in the title Of Deposit in the Civil Code.

885. Orders of sequestration, are executed provisionally, notwithstanding and without prejudice to any appeal.—Ibid. art. 19.

886. If either party, by violent means, hinders the appointment or the administration of the sequestrator, the other party may apply to be put provisionally in possession of the things in dispute, under the same conditions as a sequestrator.—Ibid. art. 16.

887. Actions to annul or to rescind a lease, or to recover damages resulting from the contravention of any of the stipulations of the lease, or the non-fulfilment of any of the obligations which the law attaches to it, or arising from the relation of lessor and lessee, are instituted either in the superior court or in the circuit court, according to the value or the amount of the rent, or the amount of damages alleged.—C. S. L. C., c. 40, ss. 1, 2.—25 c. 12, s. 1.

888. The lessor may join with his action for rescission, a demand for such rent as he is entitled to, with or without an attachment for rent, attachment in recaption, if necessary, and also an ordinary attachment in the hands of the lessee or of garnishees.—C. S. L. C., c. 40, s. 1 § 6, s. 9.

889. All the powers which the superior court or the circuit court can exercise in term in such matters, may also be exercised out of term, and even during the vacation, between the ninth of July and the first of September.—Ibid. ss. 5, 6.

890. The delay upon summons is only one intermediate day when the place of service is within a distance of five leagues, with the ordinary extension when the distance is greater.—Ibid. s. 10.

891. The defendant is bound to appear before noon on the day fixed by the writ; if he does not, default is recorded against him and the plaintiff may proceed accordingly.—Ibid. s. 11.

892. The defendant having appeared is bound to plead before noon on the day following, in default of which the plaintiff may proceed ex parte.—Id.

893. The plaintiff is bound to file his answer before noon on the day after the filing of the pleas, on pain of being foreclosed.—Any other pleading which may be necessary to complete the issues must be filed before noon on the following juridical day, on pain of foreclosure.—Ibid. s. 12.

894. As soon as issue is joined the case may be inscribed upon the roll for proof for any subsequent juridical day, and the parties proceed to proof on the day appointed and continue on from day to day until the proof is closed on both sides.—Ibid. s. 13.

895. Either party's proof may be declared closed as soon as he ceases to produce evidence.—Ibid. s. 13 § 2.

896. The evidence of witnesses must be taken down in writing, unless the parties agree to take it otherwise, and in the latter case, notes of such evidence must be taken down and filed in the record as forming part thereof, and such notes are considered to be the evidence added in the case.—Ibid. s. 14.

897. When the proof is closed on both sides, the case may be inscribed on the roll for hearing on the merits on the next following juridical day, without any notice being required; but if it is inscribed for any other day, notice must be given to the opposite party.—Ibid. s. 13 § 2.

898. Judgment may be rendered either in term or out of term.—Ibid. ss. 5, 6.—25 Vic. c. 12, s. 1.

CHAPTER SECOND.

HYPOTHECARY RECOURSE AGAINST IMMOVEABLES OF WHICH THE OWNERS ARE UNKNOWN OR UNCERTAIN.

900. When the owner of an hypothecated immoveable is unknown or uncertain, the creditor to whom the capital or two years of the interest, [or two years of arrears of any constituted or other rent,] secured by such hypothec is due, may present a petition to the superior court, praying for the sale of such immoveable.—C.S.L.C., c. 49, s. 1.

901. Such petition must contain :

1. All allegations necessary to establish the debt and the hypothec ;

2. A description of the immoveable ;

3. The name of the occupier, if the immoveable is occupied, and if it is not, the name of the last known occupier, the period for which it has remained unoccupied, the names of all the known owners since the hypothec was created, and a declaration that the petitioner has in good faith made due search and used due diligence to discover the owner ;

4. Conclusions praying that public notice be given to the actual owner to appear and answer the petition, and that in default of his doing so the immoveable be brought to sale.—Ibid., s. 1, §§ 1, 2, 3.

902. The petition must be accompanied with an affidavit of the petitioner or of a competent person attesting the truth of the facts therein alleged.—Ibid., § 4.

903. The court upon this petition, orders such proof as it deems necessary ; and if the proof offered is sufficient, it orders the publication of a notice in accordance with form no. 47 in the appendix to this code.*—Ibid., s. 2.

CHAPTER THIRD.

OF THE PARTITION OF TOWNSHIP LANDS HELD IN COMMON.

912. Any person seized as tenant in common of lands in townships originally granted, by letters-patent under the great seal of the Province of Lower Canada, to the grantees therein named as tenants in common, may demand a partition thereof according to the ordinary form of law.—Such demand may be made by petition, without the formality of a writ of summons.—C. S. L. C., c. 44, s. 1.

913. The petition must be presented to the superior court in the district in which the lands are situated.—Ibid. s. 5.

914. Upon proof of the petitioner's right of property, the court may order that his co-tenants shall appear on a certain day in term, but not before the expiration of one year from the date of such order, to answer such demand in partition; that such order shall be posted up in some frequented place in the township in which such lands are situated, or if there is no such frequented place, then in some frequented place in the next adjoining township, six months at least before the day fixed for the appearance of the parties interested; and that such order be published in the *Canada Gazette once a week during the said period of six months before the day fixed for the appearance.—Ibid. s. 2.

915. The co-tenants thus notified to make their claims must do so by an ordinary intervention; and the grounds they may have to urge against the petition for partition must be pleaded, and all issues in the case must be joined in the same manner as upon ordinary suits in partition.—Ibid. s. 3.

916. The judgment ordering the partition is binding not only upon the parties who have appeared but upon those who have made default.—Ibid. s. 4.

917. With the consent of the parties in the case, the court may, at any time before final judgment, refer the matters in dispute as well as the partition itself to be decided and finally determined by three arbitrators, one of whom is named, by the petitioner, another by the intervening co-tenants, and the third by the court. The proceedings of the arbitrators must be had in such place in the township or parish in which the lands are situated, as they or any two of them may appoint; they may examine the witnesses, or the parties who may be sworn before a judge, the prothonotary, a commissioner of the superior court, or a justice of the peace, and the award of such arbitrators, or of any two of them, is final.—Ibid. s. 5.

918. The court, as in all other suits, awards costs according to its discretion.—Ibid. s. 7.

CHAPTER FOURTH.

OF COMPULSORY PARTITION AND LICITATION.

919. When co-heirs or co-proprietors cannot agree upon a partition of their common property, the action at law to obtain such partition belongs to the one who is first to institute it.—1 Pig. 762.—2 do. 111.—C.P.C. 966-7.

920. All the coheirs or co-proprietors must be parties in the suit for a partition, without prejudice to the provisions of the preceding chapter.

921. A special tutor must be named to each minor whose interests are opposed to those of any other minor.—C. P. C., 968.—C.C., Suc. 97.

922. The court before rendering judgment upon the suit for partition, orders that the immoveables shall be viewed and valued by experts appointed according to the ordinary rules, in order to ascertain whether the whole of the immoveables can be conveniently divided, and, in such case, to form the shares according to the provisions of articles 702, 703 and 704, in the Civil Code.—2 Pig. 420, 442.—C.P.C. 970 l.

923. If all the parties have attained full age they may agree upon one expert—C.P.C. 971.

924. The same proceedings are had upon the report of such expert as upon any other report of experts.—2 Pig. 443, et seq.—C.P.C. 971.

925. After the report of the experts has been homologated, the court sends the parties before the prothonotary or some other person, to proceed with the allotment of shares, minutes of which are taken.—2 Pig. 444.—C.P.C., 975, 982.

926. If the suit is for an account and a partition, the lots are not formed until after the accounts, the returns, the formation of the mass, and the partakings have been determined by a practitioner, who is named by the parties or by the court, and whose report must also be homologated.—2 Pig. 443.—C.P.C., 976.

927. When immoveables cannot be advantageously divided, or when there are not as many lots of land as copartitioners, the court may order that such immoveables be put up to public auction and sold by way of licitation.—2 Pig. 416-7, 421.—Pot. Société, 170-1, 194.

928. Rules concerning voluntary licitation are contained in the third part of this code. The provisions of this chapter apply to licitations judicially ordered upon actions for partition.

929. When the court has ordered a licitation, the plaintiff must cause an advertisement to be published three times in the space of four months in the Canada Gazette, in the French and English languages, stating that the immoveables therein designated will be put up to auction and adjudged to the highest and last bidder, at the sitting of the superior court next after the expiration of four months from the first insertion of such notice, subject to the conditions mentioned in the list of charges, and giving notice that all oppositions to the sale must be filed at least fifteen days before the day fixed for the sale, and that all oppositions for payment must be filed within six days after the adjudication, on pain of foreclosure.*—C. S. L. C. c. 48, s. 3, and schedule F.

930. The notice must also be read and published on the third Sunday before the day on which the licitation is to take place, at the door of the church of the parish in which the immovables are situated, and if there is no church or if the immovables are not situated within the limits of a

(description at length) is defendant, ordering the licitation of certain immovables described as follows, to wit: (here insert the description of the property to be sold) the property above described will be put up to auction and adjudged to the last and highest bidder on the—day of—next, sitting the court, in parish, then at the most frequented place in the locality, and a copy of such notice must be posted up at the place where such publication is made.—Ibid., ss. 2, 3.—27 & 28, Vic. c. 39, s. 1.

931. [If the plaintiff fails to proceed with the publication of such notice within fifteen days from the judgment of licitation, any other party may do so, and the first who takes such proceedings has the preference, and has alone the right to be paid the costs of the licitation.]

932. Oppositions to secure charges, to withdraw, or to annul, in respect of immovables which are to be sold by licitation, cannot be received after the fifteenth day previous to the day fixed for the licitation; if the period thereof is converted for payment of the immovables, c. 48, s. 6.

934. Bids may be made in writing at the prothonotary's office, in the same manner as in cases of sale of immovables by the sheriff, and on the day appointed bids are received at the prothonotary's office, but the adjudication is completed before the court, and minutes are drawn up of such bids and adjudication.—Strangers are in all cases admitted to bid.—Ibid. s. 2.—27 & 28 Vic. c. 39, s. 1.

935. The adjudication is made in accordance with the conditions contained in the list of charges, which must have been approved by the court or judge, after hearing the parties, and must have been filed in the prothonotary's office at least [thirty days] before the day fixed for the sale.—Ibid.; C. S. L. C., c. 48, s. 8.—After the adjudication is completed, and the purchaser has complied with the conditions by paying the monies which are to be deposited in court, the prothonotary must prepare a deed of sale which must be drawn similarly to a sheriff's deed in so far as the provisions of article 689 are applicable.

936. The adjudication after the observance of the formalities above prescribed, transfers the property with its active and passive servitudes, has the same effects as a sheriff's sale, and discharges the property in the same manner from such other charges, privileges and hypothecs, as are not mentioned in the list of charges.—Ibid. s. 5.

937. The price of the adjudication must be paid according to the conditions of the sale, and, unless otherwise provided, into the hands of the prothonotary, saving the purchaser's right to retain the moneys on giving security, as in the case of a sheriff's sale; and the purchaser failing to pay such price is subject to the same penalties and liabilities as the false bidder upon immovables sold in execution.—Ibid. ss. 8, 9, c. 85, ss. 12, 13.

938. All oppositions or claims for payment out of the proceeds of the licitation must be filed in the prothonotary's office within six days after the adjudication, after which period they cannot be received, except by order of the court, and upon such conditions as it may impose.—C.S.L.C., c. 48, s. 10.

939. The distribution of the purchase money is subject to the same formalities as in cases of confirmation of title, and of execution against immovables, and the party prosecuting the licitation is bound to obtain the certificate of registered hypothecs which is necessary for that purpose.—Ibid., s. 8.

940. If any immovable is situated partly in one district and partly in another, its licitation as a whole may be demanded and may be ordered in either district, if the jurisdiction in such case is not assigned by law to a particular court.—Ibid., s. 11; c. 82, s. 27.

CHAPTER FIFTH.

OF ACTIONS OF BOUNDARY, OR TO VERIFY OR RECTIFY ANCIENT BOUNDARIES.

941. Whenever two contiguous lands have never been bounded, or the boundaries have disappeared, or the fences or boundary works have been wrongly placed, and one of the neighbours refuses to agree upon a surveyor to determine the boundaries, or to verify or to rectify the division line, as the case may be, the other party may bring an action against him to compel him to do so.

942. If the parties do not agree, the court names a sworn surveyor, whom it charges with making a plan of the locality, showing the respective preten-sions of the parties, and with making such other operations as it may deem necessary.

943. The surveyor thus named is bound, under his oath of office, to proceed in the same manner as experts.

944. If the parties desire it, more than one surveyor may be appointed.

945. The fixing of bounds, the verifying of ancient boundaries, or rectifying of division lines, is ordered in conformity with the rights and titles of the parties, and is done by the person named by the court, who proceeds in accordance with the judgment, and if necessary, places boundary marks in presence of witnesses, in accordance with the provisions contained in chapter 77 of the consolidated statutes of Canada, and must draw up a statement of his operations, and return the original of such statement to the court.

952. The notice must be publicly and audibly read, on the third Sunday before the day on which the application is to be presented, at the door of the church of the parish or place where the immovable is situated, or, if there is no church, at the most frequented place in the locality, and must be posted up at the place where such publication is made.—Ibid. s. 2, § 2.—27 & 28 Vic., c. 39, s. 2.

953. In the case of immoveables by fiction of law, the proceedings are had in the district where the vendor or assignor had his domicile during the three years next preceding the execution of the deed to be confirmed, or if during that period he had his domicile in more districts than one, then in the district in which he is actually domiciled, giving the same notice in the other districts in which he was domiciled during such three years.—C. S. L. C., c. 36, s. 3.

954. Upon the day mentioned in the notice, the applicant is bound to present his application for confirmation to the court, together with certificates of the publication and posting up required, and copies of the *Canada Gazette containing the advertisement.

955. The applicant must, moreover, file with his application a certificate from the registrar or registrars within has been registered, except for such hypothees as are not discharged by such deed.—If there are no hypothees registered, or if, by the registry books, all the hypothees appear to have been discharged, the registrar must state the fact accordingly in his certificate.*—C. S. L. C., c. 36, ss. 7, 10.—25, V. c. 11, s. 4—27 & 28 Vic., c. 40, s. 1.

956. The provisions of articles 701, 702 and 703 apply also to the certificate mentioned in the preceding article.

957. All hypothecary creditors, whose rights are not made known by the deed of which confirmation is sought, or by the registrar's certificate, are bound, on pain of being foreclosed from doing so, to file their oppositions on or before the eighth day next preceding the day fixed for presenting the application.—C. S. L. C., c. 36, ss. 15, 16.

958. No opposition is, however, necessary for the preservation of the principal of rents created in place of seigniorial rights.—Ibid., ss. 17, 18.—25 V., c. 11, s. 2.—The provisions of articles 719 and 721 apply also to proceedings to obtain confirmation of title.

959. During the four months prescribed for the publication of the notice of an application for confirmation of title, any creditor of the vendor or assignor or of his authors, may appear at the prothono-tary's office and bid an increase over the sum, price, or other consideration or value, if any, mentioned in the title, and have his bid received, provided the increase be equal to at least one tenth of the whole price, sum or other consideration, and the bidder offers, besides, to refund to the applicant all his costs and lawful disbursements, giving him security to that effect in the ordinary manner, or depositing for that purpose a sufficient sum, according to the discretion of the court or judge, reserving the subsequent completion of the precise amount.—C. S. L.C., c. 36, s. 11.

960. Any other creditor of the vendor or assignor may, in like manner, and under the same conditions, outbid such creditor; and all such creditors may continue outbidding each other, provided each outbidder offers an increase of at least one-twentieth of the price, purchase money or other consideration, over and above the costs and lawful expenses.—Ibid., s. 11 § 2.

961. The applicant may, however, retain the immovables at the amount of the highest bid legally offered.—Ibid., § 3.

962. If no such outbidding takes place within the delay above mentioned, the value of the immovable remains definitively fixed at the price and sum mentioned in the title deed, saving the provisions hereinafter made.—Ibid., s. 11.

963. If the applicant desires to discharge the property from hypothecs, he must deposit in the hands of the prothonotary, together with the certificate of hypothecs, the price mentioned in his title deed, or the amount which such price has reached by the outbidding; and if it appears by the certificate of the registrar that there no hypothecs, and if there are no oppositions or claims, or if the amount deposited is sufficient to pay all the charges which appear, then judgment of confirmation is pronounced purely and simply.—Ibid., s. 12.

964. But if the sum deposited is not sufficient to pay all the charges and hypothecs which appear, or if no price is mentioned in the deed, the court or a judge may, at the instance of the applicant, name two experts, and the applicant names a third, in order to determine the value of the property and to report thereon; the whole according to the ordinary formalities.—Ibid., § 3.

965. If the value determined by the experts does not exceed the price paid in by the applicant, the judgment of confirmation is pronounced purely and simply.—If the value determined by the experts exceeds the price thus paid in, or if no price is mentioned in the title deed, the applicant cannot obtain a confirmation, unless he deposits the difference between the value thus ascertained and the price, or the whole of such value, if no price has been agreed upon.—Ibid., § 4.

966. The provisions of the last two preceding articles do not apply to cases of expropriation of property by competent authority for public purposes, when the compensation or indemnity has been settled by arbitration or by experts, according to law.—Ibid., s. 13.

967. Upon proof of the observance of all the formalities hereinabove prescribed, judgment is pronounced, confirming the title deed as free from all hypothecs, other than those mentioned in article 958.—Ibid., s. 14.

968. If the applicant is willing, and files a written declaration to that effect, judgment may be rendered subject to the hypothecs mentioned in the certificate of the registrar and to the oppositions and claims filed; and in such case the immoveable is discharged in such hypothecs only as are not mentioned in such judgment.—Ibid., s. 12.

969. The price deposited is distributed under an order of the court, like moneys levied upon the seizure and sale of immoveables under execution.—Ibid., s. 19.

970. The prothonotary, before delivering to any person whatever a copy of any judgment of confirmation of title, is bound to cause such judgment to be registered in the proper registry office, as prescribed in the title Of registration of real rights in the Civil Code, and has a right to demand from the applicant the cost and expenses of such registration, and of the cancellings which it occasions.—25 V., c. 11, s. 2.

971. The word "hypothec," in this chapter, includes all privileges affecting real estate.—Ibid., s. 32.

CHAPTER EIGHT.

OF SEPARATION BETWEEN CONSORTS.

SECTION I.

Of Separation of Property.

972. No suit for separation of property can be brought by a married woman without the previous authorization of a judge, granted upon petition to that effect or upon conclusions for that purpose contained in the declaration in such suit.—2 Pig., 182.—C. P. C., 865.

973. Suits for separation of property must be brought only in the cases and within the jurisdiction mentioned in article 1311 of the Civil Code, and in article 35 of this code.—2 Pig., 181.

974. The formalities required for summons in ordinary cases must be strictly observed in such suits; and the consort summoned has no power to dispense with the same, either directly or indirectly, even as regards the delay upon the summons.—[Notice of such suit must be given and published during one month in the Canas.

du Gazette,* and in two newspapers at, or as near as possible to, the place where the defendant resides, one of which is published in the French and the other in the English language. — No proceedings can be had in such suit until after the publication of such notice.]—27 & 28 V., c. 17, s. 12 § 3.

975. Any creditor of the person sued for separation of property has a right to intervene in the suit, in order either to watch the proceedings or to contest the plaintiff's claim, and he may for this purpose set up whatever grounds and exercise whatever rights his debtor might. — Code Conv. Matrim. art. 60.—2 Pig. 180.—27 & 28 V., c. 17, s. 12, § 3.—C.P.C. 871.

976. Separation of property thus sued for cannot be granted upon the confession or the admissions of the defendant; the allegations of the declaration must be established by some other legal proof.—2 Pig. 186-7.—C. P. C., 870.

977. The judgment pronouncing separation of property may at the same time determine the reprises of the plaintiff, or order that they shall be determined by a practitioner or by experts, if there be occasion for it.—2 Pig. 193-4.

978. The judgment of separation must be executed and published in accordance with the provisions contained in articles 1312 and 1313 in the Civil Code.—C. P. C., 866, 872.

979. The wife who sues for separation may accept or renounce the community, according to circumstances. If the husband fails to make an inventory, she may, upon being authorized, have one made, if she has not renounced.—If she accepts, the partition is effected in the manner provided in the Civil Code, in the title relating to marriage covenants.—2 Pig. 182-3, 196.

980. [The wife's renunciation of the community must be registered in the registry office of the division in which the husband was domiciled at the time that the suit was brought.]

981. The judgment of separation may be executed voluntarily or by legal means, as provided in article 1312 of the Civil Code, but without prejudice to the rights of third parties.—[No married woman, separated as to property, can carry on trade until she has delivered to the prothonotary of the district and the registrar of the county in which she intends carrying on trade, a declaration in writing stating her intention, her names and surname, and those of her husband, and the style under which she proposes carrying on such business. This declaration is entered and transcribed in the same registers as the declaration concerning partnerships mentioned in chapter 65 of the Consolidated Statutes for Lower Canada.—All married women, separate as to

982. When the reprises of the wife consist of moveable property, the husband may oblige her to invest the proceeds thereof, or a portion of the same, in the purchase of immovables.—2 Pig. 196.

983. If the husband gives up immovables to his wife in payment of her reprises, she must apply for and obtain a judgment of confirmation of the deed by which he does so, according to the formalities prescribed in the preceding chapter.—2 Pig. 196.

984. If the amount at which the rights of the wife have been determined is not voluntarily paid, execution may be enforced as in ordinary cases. Nevertheless, the husband may compel the wife to receive immovables in payment, at a valuation by experts, provided such immoveables are available and do not prejudice her interests.—2 Pig. 196.

SECTION. II.

Of Separation from Bed and Board.

985. Besides the provisions contained in the Civil Code on the subject of separation from bed and board, those of the present section also apply.

986. A wife who desires to obtain a separation from bed and board must, in order to bring the suit, first obtain the authorization of a judge, by means of a petition giving a summary statement of the facts which give rise to her application, with an affirmation under oath, and indicating the house where she intends to reside during the suit, and where she will convey the linen and wearing apparel necessary for her use.—The application must be served upon her husband, if the judge so orders.—2 Pig. 216-7.

987. If the wife thinks proper to demand an attachment of the moveable property of the community, she must likewise be authorized by a judge for that purpose.—The attachment is effected in the same manner as attachment for rent, but the husband remains judicial guardian of the property attached.—2 Pig. 184.

988. The wife may also join with her demand for separation an attachment in revendication of such moveables as belong to her.

989. The trial of the case, the judgment, its execution, and its publication are subject to the provisions contained in the preceding section.

CHAPTER NINTH.

OF OPPOSITIONS TO MARRIAGE.

990. [Every opposition to a marriage must be accompanied with a notice indicating the day and hour at which the opposition will be presented to the superior court, or to a judge of such court.]

991. The opposition and notice must be served both upon the functionary called upon to solemnize the marriage and upon the intended consorts, or the persons who represent them, a delay of five intermediate days being observed, with the usual addition where the distance exceeds five leagues.]

992. [The proceedings upon the opposition are summary, and conducted in the same manner as those in suits between lessors and lessees.]

993. If the opposant fails to present his opposition upon the day fixed, any person interested may obtain judgment of non-suit against him, upon filing a copy of the opposition served upon such person; and upon receiving a copy of such judgment the functionary called upon to solemnize the marriage may proceed.]

994. [If the opposant fails to proceed in the manner prescribed the opposition is declared abandoned.]

995. [The court or judge, before rendering judgment upon the opposition may, if there be cause for it, summon the parents, or, in default of parents, the friends of the intending consorts, in order that they may give their opinion upon the intended marriage and that such further action may be had as to law may appertain.]

996. [An appeal lies to the court of queen's bench from judgments rendered on such oppositions, the same formalities being observed as in appeals from the circuit court, and the proceedings on such appeal take precedence.]

CHAPTER TENTH.

PROCEEDINGS AFFECTING CORPORATIONS OR PUBLIC OFFICES.

SECTION I.

Of Corporations Illegally Formed, or Violating or Exceeding their Powers.

governed, or becomes liable to a forfeiture of its rights, or does or omits to do acts the doing or omission of which amounts to a surrender of its corporate rights, privileges and franchises, or exercises any power, franchise or privilege which does not belong to it or is not conferred upon it by law:—It is the duty of her majesty's attorney general for Lower Canada to prosecute, in her majesty's name, such violations of the law whenever he has good reason to believe that such fines can be established by proof, in every case of public general interest; but he is not bound to do so in any other case unless sufficient security is given to indemnify the government against all costs to be incurred upon such proceeding.—C. S. L. C., c. 88, s. 9.

998. The summons for that purpose must be preceded by the presenting to the superior court, in term, or to a judge in vacation, of a special information, containing conclusions adapted to the nature of the contravention, and supported by affidavits to the satisfaction of the court or judge; and the writ of summons cannot issue upon such information without the authorization of the court or judge.—Ibid.

999. The writ of summons commands the persons acting illegally as a corporation, or the corporation complained of, to appear on a day fixed by the court or judge.—It is served, in the first case, upon some one of the persons usurping corporate rights, or at the principal office or place of business of the association, speaking to a reasonable person; and, in the second case, according to the provisions contained in articles 61, 62, 63, and 78.—Ibid. §§ 2, 3.

1000. The delay upon summons is three days, with the usual extension when the distance exceeds five leagues, as prescribed by article 75.—Ibid. s. 1, § 2.

1001. The defendants are bound to appear on the day fixed, and if they fail to do so the prosecutor proceeds with his case by default.—Ibid. s. 5.

1002. If the defendants appear, they must, within four days, plead specially to the information; and the prosecutor is bound to answer within three days.—Ibid. s. 2.

1003. Within three days from the filing of the answer, the prosecutor must proceed to prove the allegations of the information, in the same manner as proof is made in ordinary cases; and after the closing of his proof and within a further delay of two days, the defendants are bound to adduce their proof.—Ibid. s. 3.

1004. As soon as the proof of the defendants is closed, the prosecutor may be allowed to produce evidence in rebuttal, if there is occasion for it; if he does not, either of the parties may inscribe the cause for hearing on the merits, giving the opposite party notice of at least one day before the day fixed.—Ibid. s. 4.

1005. The court or judge may extend the delays whenever it is necessary for the ends of justice.—Ibid. § 2.

1006. Notwithstanding the provisions contained in article 1002, the defendants may set up against the information such preliminary exceptions or exceptions to the form as they deem advisable, and the plaintiff may demur to the pleas set up in defence.—Ibid.

1007. If the judgment declares the association to have been illegally formed, the persons composing it are personally bound to pay the costs: and if it be rendered against a corporation, public body or board, the costs may be levied either upon the property of such corporation or upon the private property of the directors or other officers thereof.—Ibid. s. 10, § 5.

1008. Whenever any corporation, public body or board, has forfeited its rights, privileges and franchises, the judgment declares it to be dissolved and to be deprived of its rights, and a curator is named in due form to administer its property and liquidate its affairs.—Ibid. s. 10.

1009. The curator, after having given the security required by the court or judge, becomes seized of the property of the dissolved corporation, an inventory of which he must cause to be made in due form of law, in the presence of one or more of the persons who were members of such corporation. He must afterwards dispose of the moveable property to the best advantage.—Ibid. C.C. 371-2-3.

1010. [He is bound to give notice of his appointment by an advertisement to be inserted at least twice in two newspapers designated by the court or judge.]

1011. The curator must cause the proceeds realized to be distributed among the creditors of the corporation, by the superior court, in the district in which its principal place of business was situated, after giving notice of the day upon which he will make application for that purpose.—Such notice must be published at least three times in two public newspapers, named by the court, and the first publication must be made two months at least before the day fixed for such application.—C. S. L. C., c. 88, s. 10, §§ 1, 2.

1012. If there are any debts remaining due by such corporation, its immoveable property can only be sold upon a suit brought against the curator in the ordinary form.—Ibid. § 3.

1013. [If there are no debts due by such corporation, or if such debts are not known, then the curator must proceed to the sale of the immoveables to the highest bidder, after giving notice of such sale, in the same manner as the sheriff does in executions against the immoveables of a debtor.]—Ibid. § 4.

1014. A sale thus effected by the curator after observing the requisite formalities, has all the effects of a sheriff's sale.—Ibid. s. 5.

SECTION II.

Usurpation of Public or Corporate Offices.

1016. Any person interested may bring a complaint whenever another person usurps, intrudes into, or unlawfully holds or exercises :

1. Any public office or any franchise or privilege in Lower Canada ;

2. Any office in any corporation, or other public body or board ;—Whether such office exists under the common law, or was created in virtue of any statute or ordinance.—C. S. L. C., c. 88, s. 1.

1017. Such complaint is brought before the superior court, or before a judge of the said court, but the writ of summons cannot issue without leave of the court or judge, obtained in the manner mentioned in article 998 ; and the same delays and formalities are observed in the proceedings as in the preceding section.—Ibid., ss. 1, 2, 3, 4.

1018. The complainant, in addition to the allegations concerning the usurpation and illegal detention of the office, may, in his petition, declare the name of the person who has a right to such office or franchise, and allege such facts as are necessary to shew such right, and the court may in such case adjudicate upon the claims of both parties.—Ibid., s. 6.

1019. If the complaint is well founded, the judgment orders the defendant to be ousted and excluded from the office, franchise or privilege, and condemns him to pay costs to the complainant ; the court or judge may also condemn the defendant to pay a fine not exceeding the sum of four hundred dollars, which must be paid over to the receiver-general of the province.—Ibid., s. 7, §§ 1, 2.

1020. If the complaint is dismissed, the complainant must be condemned to pay all costs.—Ibid., § 3.

1021. Any person whom the judgment declares to be entitled to the office, or the franchise, may, after taking the oath of office, and giving such security as may be required by law, take upon himself the exercise of such office or franchise, and may demand of the defendant all keys, books, papers and insignia, in the possession or custody of such defendant and belonging to such office or franchise, and in the case of neglect or refusal to deliver up the same, the court may order the sheriff to take possession of such keys, books, papers and insignia, and to deliver over the same to the person adjudged to be entitled thereto, without prejudice to any criminal proceedings to which such defendant may be liable.—Ibid., s. 8, §§ 1, 2.

Of Mandamus.

1022. In the following cases :

1. Whenever any corporation neglects or refuses to make any election which by law it is bound to make, or to recognize such of its members as have been legally chosen or elected, or to reinstate such of its members as may have been removed without lawful cause;

2. Whenever any person holding any office in any corporation, public body, or court of inferior jurisdiction, omits, neglects or refuses to perform any duty belonging to such office, or any act which by law he is bound to perform;

3. Whenever any heir or representative of a public officer omits, refuses or neglects to do any act which, as such heir or representative, he is by law obliged to do;

4. In all cases where a writ of mandamus would lie in England :—Any person interested may apply to the superior court or to a judge in vacation and obtain a writ, commanding the defendant to perform the act or duty required, or to shew cause to the contrary on a day fixed.—C. S. L.C., c. 88, s. 11.

1023 The application is made by a petition, supported with affidavits setting forth the facts of the case, and presented to the court or judge, who may thereupon order the writ to issue; and such writ is served in the same manner as any other writ of summons.—Ibid., s. 12.

1024. The proceedings subsequent to the service are had in accordance with the provisions contained in the first section of this chapter.—Ibid., s. 12, § 2.

1025. If the petition is well founded, the court or judge may order the issuing of a peremptory writ, commanding the defendant to do the thing demanded of him; and if he fails to comply he may be held by coercive imprisonment to do it, unless the defendant is a corporation, in which case it may be condemned to pay a fine not exceeding two thousand dollars, which is levied by execution in the ordinary manner against its moveable and immoveable property.—Ibid., s. 13.

1026. Any person to whom, or the person representing any corporation to whom, the peremptory writ is directed, is bound to return such writ on the day specified, together with a certificate thereon of its execution.

1027. If the matter relates to the making by a corporation of any election to an office which is vacant by reason of such election not having taken place within the time required, or being or having been declared null, the proceedings are the same as above mentioned; and the writ commands the proper officer, or, in his absence, such person as is appointed by the court or judge, to proceed to such election, at the place and time fixed, and to do every act to be done in order to such election, or show cause to the contrary.—Ibid. s. 14, § 2.

1028. The person to whom such writ or peremptory writ is addressed cannot, however, proceed to such election without giving public notice thereof in writing, in the French and in the English languages; and such notice must, during at least ten days previous to the day fixed for such election, be posted up at the door of the church of the locality in which the principal office or place of business of such corporation is, and if there is no church, then in one of the most public places in such locality.—Ibid. s. 14, § 3.

1029. Nevertheless, every such election and every act done in order thereto is void, unless as great a number of voters are present and vote thereat as would have been required if the election had taken place at the usual time and under ordinary circumstances.—Ibid. § 5.

1030. The peremptory writ is served in the same manner as writs in error or in appeal.

SECTION IV.

Of Prohibitions.

1031. Writs of prohibition are addressed to courts of inferior jurisdiction whenever they exceed their jurisdiction.—They are applied for, obtained and executed in the same manner as writs of mandamus, and with the same formalities*.—C. S. L. C., c. 89, s. 1.—2 Warton, L. Lest., 832.

SECTION V.

General Provisions.

1032. In any case wherein the rights of a municipal corporation are involved, no elector entitled to vote is incompetent, as such, to give evidence.—Ibid.—C. S. L. C., c. 88, s. 15.

1033. An appeal from any final judgment rendered under the provisions contained in this chapter lies to the court of queen's bench, except in matters relating to municipal corporations and offices; provided the writ of appeal be issued within forty days from the rendering of the judgment appealed from.—Ibid. s. 17.

CHAPTER ELEVENTH.

OF THE ANNULLING OF LETTERS-PATENT.

1034. Any letters-patent granted by the crown may be declared null and be repealed by the superior court;

1. Where such letters were obtained by means of some fraudulent suggestion, or where some material fact has been concealed by the patentee, or with his knowledge or consent;

* See arts. 1023 et seq.

2. When they have been granted by mistake or in ignorance of some material fact;

3. When the patentee, or those claiming under him, have done or omitted to do some act in violation of the terms and conditions upon which such letters-patent were granted, or for any other reason have forfeited their rights and interests in such letters-patent.—C. S. L.C., c. 89, s. 5.

1035. All demands for annulling letters-patent may be made by suits in the ordinary form, or by scire facias, upon information brought by her majesty's attorney-general, or solicitor-general, or any other officer duly authorized for that purpose.—Ibid.

1036. The information is served upon the person who holds or relies upon such letters-patent, and is heard, tried and determined in the same manner as ordinary suits.—Ibid., § 2.

1037. An appeal lies from the final judgment rendered upon such information, provided the writ of appeal issues within forty days from the rendering of the judgment.—Ibid., s. 6.

1038. In the case of letters-patent granting lands, the suit may be brought before the superior court by any interested party, with the observance of the formalities of ordinary suits, as provided in chapter twenty-two of the consolidated statutes of Canada.—C.S.C., c. 22, s. 15.

1039. Letters-patent granting lands may also be cancelled in accordance with the provisions contained in the twenty-second chapter of the consolidated statutes of Canada.

CHAPTER TWELFTH.

OF HABEAS CORPUS AD SUBJICIENDUM IN CIVIL MATTERS.

1040. Any person who is confined or restrained of his liberty, otherwise than from some criminal or supposed criminal matter, or any other person on his behalf, may apply to any one of the judges of the court of queen's bench, or of the superior court, for a writ addressed to the person under whose custody he is so confined or restrained, ordering the latter person to bring him before the judge who granted the writ, or before any other judge of the same court, together with the cause of his detention, in order to examine whether such detention is justifiable.—C. S. L.C., c. 65, ss. 20, 25.

1041. The application must be supported by an affidavit, shewing that there are probable and reasonable grounds for the application.—Ibid.

1042. The writ issues in the name of the sovereign, is sealed with the seal of the court to which the judge belongs, and is attested in the same manner as any other writ. It is returnable without delay, unless a term of the court is so near that the writ cannot be executed before such term, in which case the judge may order the writ to be returned during term; and if the end of the term be so near that the writ cannot properly be executed during the term it may be made returnable during the following vacation.—Ibid. & s. 21, § 2.

1043. The writ is served personally, or at the place where the person is confined or restrained, speaking to a domestic servant or an agent of the person to whom it is addressed, and leaving the writ itself; and the return of service is made upon a certified copy.—Ibid. s. 21.

1044. In default of compliance with the writ of habeas corpus, the person upon whom it was served is held to be guilty of a contempt of the court under whose seal the writ issued, and the judge may grant a rule under the seal of the court, returnable before such judge or before the court, for his imprisonment.—Ibid.

1045. Upon the return of the writ of habeas corpus, or of the rule mentioned in article 1044, the judge proceeds, as soon as he conveniently can, to examine, by means of depositions under oath or affirmation, into the truth of the facts alleged, and decides accordingly.—Ibid. s. 22.

1046. If the judge before whom the writ is returned in vacation is in doubt as to the truth of the facts alleged in the return, he may admit to bail the person so confined or restrained, upon his entering into recognizance with one or more sureties, or, in the case of infancy or coverture, upon security being given by recognizances, in a reasonable sum for his appearance before the court on a fixed day during the next term, and from day to day, to abide such order as the court may make.—Ibid. s. 22, § 2.

1047. The writ of habeas corpus is thereupon transmitted to the court, together with the recognizance and all the papers connected with the application, and the court thereupon make such orders as to justice may appertain.—Ibid. § 3.

1048. The court may direct one or more written issues for the trial of the facts alleged in the return, and such issues are tried [either by affidavit or by the examination of witnesses before the court or judges, as such court or judge may think proper.]—Ibid.

1049. The same proceedings are had in term in the court of queen's bench and in the superior court, respectively, for controverting the truth of the return.—Ibid. s. 23.

1050. The court or the judge may pronounce upon all costs incurred in the issuing, contestation or execution of the writ of habeas corpus.—Ibid. s. 24.

1051. Whenever a writ of habeas corpus has been once refused by any judge, the application for it cannot be renewed before him or before any other judge unless new facts are alleged; but the application may be renewed before the court of queen's bench at its next sitting in appeal at the place where appeals are brought from the district in which the application is made.—Ibid., s. 28.

1052. The provisions of this chapter cannot be extended to the discharge of any person imprisoned for debt or under any action or process in civil matters.—Ibid., s. 25.

BOOK THIRD.

OF THE CIRCUIT COURT.

TITLE FIRST.

POWERS AND JURISDICTION OF THE COURT.

1053. The circuit court has ultimate jurisdiction to the exclusion of the superior court:

1. In all suits wherein the amount or the value of the thing demanded is less than one hundred dollars, saving the exceptions contained in the following article, and such cases as fall exclusively within the jurisdiction of the court of vice-admiralty;

2. In all suits for school taxes or school-fees, and all suits concerning assessments for the building or repairing churches, parsonages, and church-yards, whatever may be the amount of such suits.

1054. The circuit court has original jurisdiction, to the exclusion of the superior court, but subject to appeal:

1. In all suits in which the sum or the value of the thing demanded amounts to or exceeds one hundred dollars, but does not exceed two hundred dollars, saving the exception contained in the second paragraph of the preceding article;

2. In all suits for fees of office, duties, rents, revenues, or sums of money payable to the crown, or which relate to any title to lands or tenements, to annual rents, or such like matters whereby rights in future may be bound, even though the amount claimed be under one hundred dollars.—C. S. L. C, e. 77, s. 39;—e. 79, ss. 1, 2;—e. 15, s. 123.—Grange & Dupont, appeal, 8th Sept. 1865.

1055. [The circuit court may take cognizance, upon evocation, of any suit brought before the commissioners' court for the summary trial of small causes, in the cases secondly enumerated in the preceding article.]—C.S.L.C., c. 91, ss. 29, 30.

1056. The circuit court has also concurrent jurisdiction with the superior court, by means of certiorari, over judgments rendered, within the limits of the district or circuit for which it is held, by the commissioners' court mentioned in the preceding article, or by justices of the peace, wherever a certiorari lies.—C.S.L.C., c. 79, s. 3, § 2.

1057. It has also an appellate jurisdiction over judgments rendered by a commissioners' court or by justices of the peace for taxes, assessments or penalties, imposed under the municipal road act of Lower Canada.—C. S. L. C., c. 24, s. 67.

1058. Whenever any suit or action relates to fees of office, rights, rents, revenues or sums of money payable to the crown; titles to lands or tenements; annual rents or other matters by which rights in future may be affected, the defendant may, before pleading to the merits, evoke the suit or action, and require it to be removed to the superior court in the same district for hearing and judgment.—C. S. L.C., c. 83, s. 178.—The declaration of evocation is filed in the record which is thereupon removed to the office of the prothonotary, and the superior court determines in a summary way whether the evocation is well founded or not; in the former case the court tries the cause and renders judgment therein, and in the latter case the cause is sent back to the circuit court. If, in any cause susceptible of being evoked, the defendant in his defence disputes or calls in question the plaintiff's title to any immoveable, in such a manner as might impair or injuriously affect the plaintiff's rights in future, the latter may evoke the suit, and proceedings are then had as in cases of evocation by the defendant.

1059. The rules contained in the first part of this code, and in the first book of the second part of this code, namely:—in the preliminary provisions:—in the third, fourth, fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth chapters of title first;—in the first, second and third chapters of title second;—in the first chapter, and in sections 1, 3, 4, 6, 7, and §§ 1, 12 of section 5, of the second chapter of title third;—and in the second book, in the second, third, fourth and fifth chapters of title first,—apply in like manner to the circuit court, except as regards trial by jury and such rules as are inconsistent with the provisions of the present book, and such as can only apply to the superior court.—All the powers conferred upon the superior court, or upon the judges and officers thereof, respectively, relatively to matters within their jurisdiction, are also conferred upon the circuit court, within the limits of its cognizance, and upon the judges who hold such court and upon the officers of the said court respectively, with regard to the same matters and the other matters which form the subject of the present book, or with regard to any other matter concerning the manner of conducting suits, actions or proceedings in the circuit court.—Whatever may or must be done by the prothonotary as regards proceedings in the superior court, may or must be done in like manner by the clerk of the circuit court, as regards proceedings before the latter court, except, however, the judicial powers conferred upon the prothonotary in the absence of a judge.—The clerk of the circuit court has the power of administering oaths whenever they are required by law or by rules of practice.—C.S.L.C., c. 79, ss. 3, 4.

1060. All commissioners and other persons authorized to receive affidavits to be used in the superior court, have also like powers with regard to the circuit court.—Ibid. s. 26.

1061. The circuit court for any district is held at the same place as the superior court, and its jurisdiction extends over the whole district, and is designated by the name of such district.—It cannot, however, grant more costs against a defendant than he would have had to pay if he had been sued before the circuit court in the county in which he resides, and in which the cause of action originated.—Ibid. s. 5; c. 83, s. 152.

1062. It may also, upon proclamation of the governor, be held in any other county than that in which the superior court for the district is held, excepting the counties of Hochelaga, Jacques Cartier, Laval, St. Maurice, Quebec and Wolfe;* or in more than one place in certain counties, as provided in chapter seventy-nine of the consolidated statutes of Lower Canada.—The court is then designated as “the circuit court in and for the county of —” (naming the county) and if there are more than one in the same county, the words at —” (naming the place of sitting) are added to such designation.—C.S.L.C., c. 79, ss. 6, 7, 9.

1063. The circuit court for a county has jurisdiction over the whole extent of such county, even when more than one place therein is appointed for its sittings.—Ibid. s. 11.

1064. When it is necessary for the dispatch of business, the circuit court at any place must be held by two or more judges of the superior court, residing in the same district, simultaneously but in separate apartments.—Ibid. s. 15.

ORDINARY PROCEDURE.

CHAPTER FIRST.

OF SUMMONS.

1065. The provisions concerning summonses for the superior court apply equally to the circuit court, saving the provisions hereinafter contained.*—C. S. L. C., c. 83, ss. 42, 169, 170.

1066. The delay upon summons is five intermediate days,

A.B. of ———, &c., plaintiff; and C.D. of ———, &c., defendant.

[L.S.] VICTORIA, by the Grace of God, of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, Queen, Defender of the Faith:

To C.D., the defendant above mentioned.

Whereas A.B., the plaintiff aforesaid, demands of you the sum of ——— due by you to him for (state sufficiently the cause of action) which said sum you have (as the smith) refused to pay him. (If the action be to recover a thing wrongfully de-when the distance from the defendant's domicile to the trained, &c., vary the statement of the cause of action accordingly. If there be a declaration answered, refer to it; and omitting the words after "the plaintiff aforesaid," say "hath, by his declaration hereunto annexed, made complaint against you in the manner therein set forth.") And the plaintiff prays judgment accordingly.

You are therefore required to satisfy the demand of the said plaintiff in this cause, with costs, or to appear in person or by your attorney before our said court, at the court house, at ——— in the said circuit, at ——— o'clock in the forenoon, (omit these words if the case be appealable), on the ——— day of ——— instant (or next), to answer the said demand; otherwise judgment may be given against you by default.

In witness whereof, we have caused the seal of our said court to be hereunto affixed, at ——— this ——— day of ——— in the year of our Lord, one thousand eight hundred and ———.

place where the court is held does not exceed five leagues, with the ordinary extension when the distance is greater.—Ibid. s. 170, § 2.

1067. When the writ of summons is to be served in another district, it may be addressed to the sheriff or to a bailiff of such other district.—It may also be so addressed when it is to be served in more than one district.—In the latter case, as many originals of the writ of summons must be issued as there are districts in which it requires to be served.—Ibid. ss. 170 § 4, 171.

1068. In the case mentioned in article 1067, the writ of summons issuing from the circuit court of a district may be served by any bailiff of such district; but he is entitled to no more costs than if the service had been effected by the nearest bailiff to the residence of the defendant thus summoned.—Ibid. s. 172.

CHAPTER SECOND.

PROVISIONS CONCERNING APPEALABLE CASES.

SECTION I.

Proceedings before Contestation, or in Uncontested Suits.

1069. The provisions respecting appearance and default, election of domicile, judgments by default or upon confession, filing of exhibits and proofs ex parte, in the superior court, apply also to appealable cases in the circuit court.—C. S. L. C., c. 79, s. 27; c. 83, s. 42

SECTION II.

Of Contestation.

1070. The contestation and pleadings in appealable cases in the circuit court are subject to the provisions concerning the same matters in the superior court, except as regards the delays, which are regulated as follows:—The delay for filing preliminary exceptions is four days, and that for answering the same is five days.—The delay for filing any other pleading necessary to complete the issues is five days.—The delay for pleading to the merits is five days from the appearance of the defendant. If no plea be filed within these delays or afterwards within the three days after the service of a demand of plea, the party in default is foreclosed by an act of the clerk of the court without any other proceeding. There is a like delay of five days, on pain of foreclosure, between each subsequent pleading allowed by law, without any demand of plea being necessary.—C. S. L. C., c. 83, s. 180.

SECTION III.

1072. Contested cases are inscribed at the same time for proof and for hearing on the merits.—Ibid., s. 182.—25 V., c. 10, s. 11.

1073. Notice of such inscription must be given to the opposite party, with one intermediate day's delay if notice is given in term, and four intermediate days if it is given in vacation.—C. S. L. C., c. 83, s. 184.

1074. The evidence is given orally, without notes thereof being taken, unless, before the commencement of the proof, the parties, or one of them, files a declaration in writing, requesting that notes of the evidence be taken down in writing, in which case it is taken in the manner provided for proofs before the judge in the superior court.—After the witnesses have been examined, the parties are heard upon the merits, unless the court deems it advisable to adjourn the case on account of the absence of some material witness or evidence.—Ibid., s. 182.—25 V., c. 10, s. 11.

1075. [With the consent of all the parties the proof may take place on any juridical day in or out of term, and may be written down at length, and the clerk of the circuit court may receive the depositions and swear the witnesses in the absence of the judge; or it may be taken before an examiner; in each case according to the rules and in the manner prescribed for the superior court.]

1076. No person residing at a distance of more than fifteen leagues from the place where the proof is to be taken, or beyond the limits of the circuit, is bound to attend as a witness, unless he is summoned in conformity with the provisions contained in articles 246 and 247.—C. S. L. C., c. 83, s. 186.—C. S. C., c. 79, s. 12.

1077. Whenever a demurrer has been filed, the case may, nevertheless, be inscribed for proof and hearing, reserving the argument upon the law issues until after the proof.—C. S. L. C., c. 83, s. 183.

1078. The court may at any time order the proof to be had, or a witness or a party to be examined in another circuit, and may order that the record, or a part thereof, be transmitted for that purpose, according to the provisions contained in article 241.—Ibid., s. 185.

SECTION IV.

Of Judgments.

1079. The provisions which relate to judgments and to costs in the superior court apply also to judgments rendered in the circuit court.—Ibid., s. 42.

1080. Whenever the judge who heard the case is unable, by reason of sickness or other cause, to render judgment in person, he may transmit the draft of the judgment, certified by himself, to the clerk, who is thereupon bound to record the same and to read it in open court on the next juridical day in term; and the judgment has then the same force and effect as if it had been pronounced by the judge on the day on which it was thus read.—C. S. L. C., c. 79, s. 16.

SECTION V.

Of the Execution of Judgments.

1081. [Writs of execution for the payment of a sum of money issue against the moveable property of the debtor situated either in the district in which the judgment was rendered or in any other district. In the first case it is addressed to a bailiff, who is bound to elect a domicile for the judgment creditor in the locality within which the seizure is made, and who is empowered to levy the amount in conformity to the rules prescribed for seizures by the sheriff, without however being entitled to demand or retain any commission on the moneys levied. In the second case the writ may be addressed either to the bailiff in like manner, or to the sheriff of such other district.]—C.S.L.C., c. 83, s. 201.—Ord. 1667, tit. 33, art. 4.

1082. If it appears by the return to such writ that the debtor has not, in the district in which the judgment was rendered, sufficient moveables and effects to satisfy the judgment, the creditor may obtain another writ to be executed upon any moveable property and effects of the debtor situate in another district, and such writ is addressed to the sheriff or to any bailiff of such district, and executed accordingly and returned to the circuit court.—Ibid., ss. 204-5.

1083. All oppositions to an execution against moveable property, whatever may be the amount or the value of the thing claimed, are within the jurisdiction of the court which issued the writ.—Ibid., s. 208.

1084. An order to stay execution in consequence of an opposition to the seizure and sale, may be granted by the judge, either within or beyond the limits of the circuit, or by the clerk, and for that purpose the judge and clerk are empowered to administer the necessary oath, and the bailiff on being notified, by the delivery to him of a copy of the opposition and of the order, is bound to return forthwith the writ and his proceedings thereon to the court from which such writ issued.—Ibid., s. 208.

1085. [In default of moveable property and effects, the judgment may be executed upon such immoveables of the debtor as are within the limits of the district in which the judgment was rendered, or in any other district.]

1086. [The writ for that purpose is addressed to the sheriff of such district, and is returnable to the superior court of such district.]—Ibid., s. 203.

an act of 1854, whatever may be the amount thereof, a writ of execution may issue immediately against such immovable, addressed to the sheriff of the district in which it is situated.—Ibid., s. 206 § 2.

1088. All proceedings incidental to the seizure or sale of the immovables seized in virtue of the foregoing provisions are carried on before the superior court into which the writ of execution is returnable, in the same manner as if the judgment had been rendered by such court.—Ibid., s. 203 § 3; s. 206.

1089. In other respects the formalities of the seizure and the sale of moveables are the same as upon executions of judgments of the superior court, and the provisions concerning seizure by garnishment after judgment in the superior court apply likewise to such seizures issuing from the circuit court.

1090. Upon the return into the superior court of a writ of execution against immovables, granted by the circuit court, the former court may order the clerk of the latter to transmit the original record in the case, that it may serve for all legal purposes.—Ibid., s. 207.

SECTION VI.

Of Remedies against Judgments.

1091. Any party who deems himself aggrieved by a judgment of the circuit court may obtain a rehearing of the case before three judges of the superior court, according to the provisions contained in articles 494 to 504.—27 & 28 V., c. 39, s. 20.

1092. Such party has likewise a remedy by appeal, in conformity with the provisions contained in the fourth book of this code.—C. S. L. C., c. 77, s. 39.

CHAPTER THIRD.

PROVISIONS PARTICULAR TO NON-APPEALABLE CASES.

1093. When a non-appealable case is returnable during term in the circuit court, the defendant is bound to appear in open court on the day and at the hour specified, without having a delay until the next day to file his appearance.—C. S. L. C., c. 83, s. 189.

1094. If the judge is absent the case may be called, and appearance or default recorded by the clerk.—Ibid., § 2.

1095. Confessions of judgment may be given orally in open court; or out of term pursuant to the provisions contained in articles 94 and following, and judgment may be rendered accordingly.—25 V., c. 10, s. 10.

1096. If the defendant fails to appear, the plaintiff may forthwith proceed with his proof, and the court may thereupon render judgment accordingly.—C. S. L. C., c. 83, s. 189 § 3.

1097. If the case is returnable in term, the defendant, upon appearing, is bound to plead forthwith. He may do so in writing or orally, at his option, unless the court orders that the pleas shall, within a fixed delay, be made out in writing; but the plaintiff is not bound to answer in writing unless the court so orders.—Ibid. s. 190.

1098. If the defendant does not plead in writing he is called upon by the court to specify what allegations of the declaration he admits, and such admissions are recorded. If he makes no such admissions he is held to have denied all the facts alleged, and is liable for the costs of proving such of them as may be proved. No other articulation of facts is required.—Ibid. § 2; s. 93 § 2.

1099. If the action is returnable in vacation, the proceedings with respect to appearance, default, judgment by default and relief therefrom, confession of judgment, written pleadings and the inscription of the case, are the same as in appealable cases; but no demand of plea or of answer is necessary in order to obtain a foreclosure; the notice of inscription for proof and hearing must be given at least three days beforehand; and if the defendant fails to appear or to plead, the plaintiff is not bound to give notice of the inscription of the case for proof, when such proof is necessary.—Ibid. ss. 192-3-4-5-6-7.

1100. [If the defendant fails to appear or to plead in any case returnable in term, the plaintiff may at any time proceed to judgment in the same manner as if the action were returnable in vacation.]

1101. The proof in all cases is made orally and in open court, without its being necessary to take notes of the evidence.—Ibid. s. 191.

1102. Judgments for sums not exceeding forty dollars can only be executed upon the moveable property of the debtor, except in the case of hypothecary actions, or of rents created under the seigniorial act of 1854, in which cases the court may issue execution against the immoveable charged, according to the formalities prescribed in the preceding chapter.*—Ibid. s. 202.

1103. The provisions concerning oppositions and stay of proceedings, contained in the preceding chapter, as well as those concerning seizures by garnishment after judgment, must also be observed in non-appealable cases.—Ibid. s. 208.

1104. All non-appealable suits are determined in a sum-

* The circuit court may, if it thinks proper, order that the sum for which judgment is rendered be levied by instalments, provided the delay allowed for the last instalment does not exceed three months from the date of the judgment, and that in default of payment of any one such instalment execution may issue as if no delay had been granted.—C.S. TITLE THIRD.

OF SUITS BETWEEN LESSORS AND LESSEES.

1105. The circuit court has jurisdiction in cases between lessors and lessees, whenever the rent, or the annual value, or the amount of damages claimed, does not exceed two hundred dollars.—C. S. L. C., c. 40, s. 4. —25 V., c. 12, s. 1.

1106. The provisions contained in the first chapter of title second of the second part of this code apply to suits brought before the circuit court.

TITLE FOURTH.

SUITS IN CASES OF ILLEGAL DETENTION OF LANDS HELD IN FREE AND COMMON SOCCAGE.

1107. Concurrently with the jurisdiction of the superior court in such matters, petitory or possessory actions against persons illegally detaining lands held in free and common soccage in the townships may be brought before the circuit court in the circuit within which such lands are situated, or out of term before a judge of the superior court, who may hear and determine such suits in vacation, as the circuit court might also do, whatever may be the value of the lands; and the proceedings in all such cases form part of the records of the circuit court.—C.S.L.C., c. 45, ss. 1, 10.

1108. The plaintiff in any such suits may add conclusions for the rents, issues and profits of such lands, and for any other damages he may have suffered.—Ibid., s. 11.

1109. Such suits are subject to the same provisions as other appealable cases in the circuit court, as regards summons, pleading and proof.—Ibid., s. 5.

1110. The defendant may plead all matters of defence, even adverse title, and may also claim, by incidental demand, whatever sum he may be entitled to for improvements made upon the land.—Ibid., ss. 3, 12, 15.

1111. [If either of the parties is aggrieved by the judgment he may inscribe the case for hearing before three judges of the superior court, according to the provisions contained in articles 494 and following, and without prejudice to the right of appeal to the court of queen's bench.]—Ibid., ss. 1, 2.

1112. The judgment may, when the plaintiff is entitled to it, declare him owner of the lands in question, and order the defendant to restore them to him within twenty days from service of judgment, and such judgment may be carried into effect by means of a writ of possession, as prescribed in articles 549 and 550.—Ibid., s. 6.

1113. An appeal lies before such judgment to the court of queen's bench, in the same manner as any other appeal from the circuit court; nevertheless, the security must be by two sureties, upon real property to the value of two hundred dollars each; and the petition must be served within fifteen days after the judgment, and be presented on the first day of the term next after the expiration of such fifteen days.—25 V., c. 10, s. 7.

BOOK FOURTH.

COURT OF QUEEN'S BENCH (APPEAL SIDE.)

CHAPTER FIRST.

OF ERROR AND APPEAL FROM JUDGMENTS OF THE SUPERIOR COURT.

1114. Error may be brought by means of a writ of error, against any judgment of the superior court founded upon a general verdict given by a special jury.—It must be brought before the court of queen's bench sitting in appeal.—Questions of law only can be argued in error.—C. S. L. C., e. 77, ss. 4, 24; e. 88, ss. 32, 41.—Casey & Goldsmid, 2 L.C.R. 212.

1115. An appeal lies to the same court upon any other final judgment rendered by the superior court, except in cases of certiorari, and in matters concerning municipal corporations or offices, as provided in article 1033.—C. S. L. C., e. 77, s. 4; e. 83, ss. 17, 41; e. 89, ss. 6, 17.

1116. An appeal also lies from interlocutory judgments in the following cases:

3. When they unnecessarily delay the trial of the suit.*—C.S.L.C., c. 77, ss. 23, 26 § 3.

1117. Proceedings in error or appeal from judgments rendered in the districts of Montreal, Ottawa, Terrebonne, Joliette, Richelieu, St. Francis, Bedford, St. Hyacinthe, Iberville and Beauharnois, are brought, heard and determined in the city of Montreal, and the writ is made returnable there, and the like proceedings against judgments rendered in the districts of Quebec, Three Rivers, Saguenay, Chicoutimi, Gaspé, Rimouski, Kamouraska, Montmagny, Beauce and Arthabaska, are brought, heard and determined in the city of Quebec, and the writ is made returnable there.—Ibid., s. 22.

1118. [Proceedings in error or in appeal must be brought within a year from the date of the judgment, saving the cases provided for by articles 823, 1033 and 1037; this delay of a year is binding even upon minors, women under coverture, persons of unsound mind or interdicted, and upon persons absent from Lower Canada, when those who represent them, or whose duty it is to assist them, have been duly brought into the suit.—If the party dies before appealing, the delay is reckoned only from the day of his death, against his heirs or legal representatives.—Proceedings in error or in appeal cannot, however, be taken during the delay allowed for demanding a review before three judges, nor during the proceedings for such review.—Evanturel ex. Evanturel, 17 L. C. Rep., p. 223.

In cases of judgment by default in vacation, the delay for appealing runs only from the expiration of the time allowed for filing an opposition thereto.—Ibid., ss. 27, 55; c. 83, s. 128.—27 & 28 V., c. 39, s. 22.

1119. If the appeal is from an interlocutory judgment, it must first be allowed by the court of queen's bench, upon a motion, supported with copies of such portions of the record as may be necessary to decide whether the judgment in question is susceptible of appeal, and falls within one of the cases specified in article 1116.—The motion must be made during the term next after such rendering of the judgment, and cannot be received afterwards; saving, however, the party's right to urge his reasons against such judgment upon an appeal from or proceedings in error against the final judgment.—C. S. L. C., c. 77, s. 26, § 4.—27 R. of P., Q. B.

1120. The motion must be served upon the opposite party, and, if required, is followed by a rule, calling upon such opposite party to give his reasons against the granting of the appeal; and the service of such rule upon him has the effect of suspending all proceedings before the court below.—Ibid., §§ 4, 5.

1121. Proceedings in error or in appeal are brought by means of a writ, in the English or in the French language, issued from the court of queen's bench, upon the written demand of the party aggrieved, containing the names and description of the parties in the suit before the court below, and mentioning the place and time at which the judgment was rendered.—It is addressed, in the name of the sovereign, to the judges of the superior court, commanding them to send up, within twenty days, the record in the case, together with a transcript of all entries made in such case in the registers of the superior court and of the judgment; it is signed by the clerk of appeals or his deputy, and sealed with the seal of the court of queen's bench; but this latter formality is not required on pain of nullity.—If the appeal is from an interlocutory judgment, the clerk must endorse upon the writ that it is issued by order of the court.—C.S.L.C., c. 77, ss. 26, 28.—7 R. of P., Q.B.

1122. The delay for returning the writ may be extended, according to the distance between the place where the judgment was rendered and the place where the writ is to be returned.—7 R. of P., Q.B.

1123. The writ of error or of appeal must be served upon the opposite party by leaving a copy with him or at his domicile,* or with his attorney ad litem in person: and it must afterwards be deposited with the prothonotary of the court by which the judgment was rendered.—A return of such service and deposit must be made by the bailiff upon an authentic copy of the writ of appeal or error, which copy must be filed in the office of the clerk of appeals.—8 R. of P., Q.B.

1124. The appellant or plaintiff in error must, before the record can be sent up, give good and sufficient security that he will effectually prosecute the appeal or proceedings in error, and that he will satisfy the condemnation and pay all costs and damages adjudged, in case the judgment appealed from is confirmed;* or else he must declare in writing at the office of the prothonotary of the court, whose judgment is appealed from, that he does not object to the judgment rendered against him being executed according to law, in which case he is only bound to give security for the payment of the costs in appeal, if he fails; and if the judgment is reversed the respondent who has caused the judgment to be executed is bound to refund to the appellant the net amount only of the moneys levied by execution, together with legal interest; or to restore the property of which he was put in possession, together with the rents, issues and profits since.—C.S.L.C., c. 77, ss. 23, 42-3.

1125. The security must be received before one of the judges or the prothonotary of the court in which the judgment was rendered; and such judge or prothonotary may swear the sureties offered and ask them any pertinent questions with respect to their sufficiency.—Ibid. ss. 29, 41.

1126. As soon as the sureties have been received and the bond has been formally executed, it is the duty of the prothonotary of the court in which the judgment was rendered to make up and complete the record in the case, according to the forms prescribed by the court of appeal, with a list of all the papers which form part of it, and a transcript of all the entries in the registers, and, upon being paid his fees, charges and costs of transmission, to send them up to the court of appeals; and such return shall be certified on the back of the writ by the judge or by the prothonotary.—Ibid. s. 31.—9 & 10 R. of P., Q. B.

1127. If the writ of error or of appeal is not returned on the day fixed, the appellant may obtain a rule against the prothonotary in whose hands it is, ordering him to return it.—The respondent in such case cannot be condemned if he fails to appear; and if the prothonotary is in default, a new writ must be issued and served in the same manner as the first, without lapse of the proceedings already had.—Archambault & Roy dit Picott, in appeal, 1851.

1128. The appellant and the respondent are both bound, if the writ is returned within the proper delay, to file an appearance in the office of the clerk of appeals, before the expiration of the eight days next after the day fixed for the return of the writ and record, on pain of being foreclosed.—11 R. of P., Q. B.

1129. In default of the writ and the record being returned on the day fixed, the respondent, upon producing the copy served upon him, may obtain judgment of nonpros and be discharged from the appeal, unless the appellant proves diligence.

1130. [Unless the court otherwise orders, the respondent may, within eight days next after the period allowed for filing his appearance, set up by motion all grounds of exception or of demurrer, and all grounds of defence resulting from :

1. Informalities in the issuing or service of the writ;
2. Insufficiency of the appeal bond;
3. Non-existence or forfeiture of the right to proceed by error or appeal;
4. Acquiescence in the judgment;
5. The renunciation of the judgment in the court below.]

—C. S. L. C., c. 77, s. 5.—
McNaughton v. Desantels, in appeal.

1131. The appellant may apply by motion for a reduction of excessive security, if he has been obliged to give it.—
C. S. L. C., c. 77, s. 5.—27 G.
III., c. 4, s. 6.

1132. If both parties seek redress against the judgment, their cross-proceedings in error or in appeal may be joined.

1133. The appellant must file his reasons of appeal or assignment of error within eight days after the return of the writ and record; he cannot, however, be foreclosed from doing so until the expiration of another delay of six days, counting from the demand thereof.—C. S. L. C., c. 77, s.
32.—12 R. of P., Q. B.

1134. If, however, there are demurrers to the proceeding in appeal or error, the demand of reasons cannot be made before the judgment upon the demurrers.

1135. The respondent has a like delay of eight days to answer the reasons of appeal or error; but he cannot be foreclosed from doing so until after another delay of four days from the demand of such answer.—C. S. L. C., c. 77, s.
33.—13 R. of P., Q. B.

1136. The court, or a judge in vacation, upon application, of which the opposite party has had notice, may, for good cause shewn, prolong the delays fixed by the two preceding articles.

—C. S. L. C., c. 77, s. 33.

1137. If the reasons in appeal or error are not filed within the delay prescribed, the respondent may demand the dismissal of the appeal or proceedings in error, with costs.—
Ibid., s. 32.

1138. If the respondent fails to file his answer within the delays prescribed, he is foreclosed from doing so, and the appellant may proceed as if the respondent had not appeared.—Ibid., s. 33.

1139. The provisions concerning election of domicile by parties and their advocates and attorneys in the superior court apply also in matters before the court of queen's bench.

1140. Within ten days after the filing of the respondent's answers, each party must file in the clerk's office a printed factum or case, and, in default of his doing so, the proceedings in appeal or error may be declared to have been abandoned with costs against the appellant if he is in default, or the case may be heard ex parte if the respondent is in default.—
Ibid., s. 49.—14 R. of P., Q. B.

1141. As soon as the answers are filed, either party may, after filing his factum or case, inscribe the case on the roll for hearing, after the delay for filing factums has expired, upon giving the opposite party at least two days notice before the case is called.—15 R. of P.,

CHAPTER SECOND.

OF APPEALS FROM THE CIRCUIT COURT.

1142. An appeal lies to the court of queen's bench from any judgment rendered by the circuit court, in the following cases:—

1. When the sum or the value of the thing demanded amounts to or exceeds one hundred dollars; except, however, in suits for the recovery of assessments for schools or school-houses, or for monthly contributions for schools, and in suits for the recovery of assessments imposed for the building or repairing of churches, parsonages and church-yards. Cases in which the evidence has not been taken down in writing can only be appealed on points of law;

2. When the demand is less than one hundred dollars, but relates to fees of office, duties, rents, revenues or sums of money payable to her majesty;

3. When the demand, though less than one hundred dollars, relates to titles to lands or tenements, annual rents, or other matters in which the rights in future of the parties may be affected;

4. In all actions in recognition of hypothecates.—Special provisions regulate appeals from judgments rendered in the Magdalen Islands.—C. S. L. C., c. 77, s. 39; c. 15, s. 123 § 2; c. 18, s. 25.—25 V. c. 10, s. 7.

1143. The party appealing must, within fifteen days after the rendering of the judgment, but without being bound to give notice, give good and sufficient sureties, who must justify their sufficiency to the satisfaction of the person receiving their security, that he will prosecute the appeal, will answer the condemnation, and pay the costs, in the event of the judgment appealed from being confirmed.—C. S. L. C., c. 77, s. 40.

1144. The security may be given either before a judge of the court of queen's bench or the clerk of appeals, or else before a judge of the superior court, or the clerk of the circuit court, at the place where the judgment was rendered, and the bond remains deposited among the records of the court where it was given.—Ibid., s. 41.

1145. Any one surety suffices if he is the owner of real property of the value of two hundred dollars, over and above all incumbrances upon the same, saving the exception contained in article 1115; and the persons authorized to receive the security have power to administer any oath necessary for that purpose.—Ibid., § 2.—10 L. C. R., 200.

1146. If, within the fifteen days, the appellant files with the clerk of either court a declaration in writing that he does not object to the execution of the judgment, or if he deposits the amount thereof in the hands of the clerk of appeals or clerk of the circuit court, he need only give security for the costs in appeal and whatever damages may be awarded.—Ibid., s. 42.

1147. In the case of the preceding article, the provisions of article 1124 also apply.—Ibid., s. 43.

1148. The appeal is brought by a petition, stating succinctly the grounds of appeal, and that security has been given, and praying for the reversal of the judgment, and the rendering of such judgment as ought to have been rendered.—This petition and a notice of the day on which it will be presented, must, within twenty-five days from the rendering of the judgment, be served upon the opposite party personally, or at his domicile, or upon his attorney ad litem, together with a copy of the appeal-bond, certified by the clerk with whom it is deposited.—Ibid., s. 44.

1149. Within the same delay of twenty-five days, the appellant must file his petition and notice and the return of service with the clerk of the circuit court, together with a certificate from the clerk of appeals, stating that security has been given, if the bond be in the hands of that officer; and the clerk of the circuit court must give the appellant a certificate of such filing, for the purpose of proving, when requisite, that the appeal has been instituted. The clerk of the circuit court is, moreover, bound to certify, under his hand and the seal of the circuit court, and to transmit to the clerk of appeals at the proper place, the said petition and the record in the case, with a transcript of the entries contained in the registers of the circuit court in relation to such case.—Ibid., s. 45.

1150. Before the day on which the appeal may be heard, each of the parties is bound to file an appearance in the office of the clerk of appeals; and the clerk of appeals is bound to record such appearance in the register, or the default thereof, and to enter each case in which the record has been transmitted to him. If the appellant does not appear, his appeal may be declared to have been abandoned, with costs; and if the respondent fails to appear, the appellant may proceed by default.—Ibid., s. 46.

1151. The appellant may prove due diligence on his part, and if, on the day fixed, the record and proceedings have not been transmitted, he may proceed against the clerk of the circuit court in the manner prescribed in article 1127.

1152. At the first term of the court of queen's bench, sitting in appeal, at the place to which the record has been transmitted, after the expiration of forty days from the rendering of the judgment, or at any subsequent sitting, and without any other formality than the filing of a printed factum, if the court requires it, the case is heard in a summary manner, and judgment rendered therein as in any other appeal.—Ibid., ss. 47, 49.

1153. If the appellant fails to serve and file his petition, or to effectually prosecute his appeal, he may be declared to have forfeited his right of appeal, and be condemned to pay costs.—Ibid., s. 48.

CHAPTER THIRD.

GENERAL PROVISIONS.

1154. Proceedings in appeal or error may be brought by the legal representatives of a party to a suit who has died.

—Proceedings in appeal or error, upon judgments rendered against an unmarried woman or widow who has since married, may be brought by her husband, jointly with her; or, in the case of a judgment rendered against a party represented by a tutor or curator or other person, but who has since attained full age or come into the exercise of his rights, by such party himself, without the assistance of the tutor or curator who represented or other person who assisted him in the original suit.*—C.S.L.C., c. 77, ss. 37-8.

1155. If one of several appellants or respondents dies after the institution of proceedings in appeal or error, such proceedings may be continued by and between the other surviving parties.—Ibid., s. 38.—12 Vic., c. 41, s. 18.

1156. Four judges of the court of queen's bench constitute a quorum in appeal.—Any lesser number of judges, or even the clerk in the absence of all the judges, may, on any day in term, open and adjourn the court, receive returns and motions of course, call parties, record appearances and defaults, and do all acts which do not require the exercise of any judicial discretion.—C. S. L. C., c. 77, ss. 7, 20 § 3.

1157. The judges in cases of appeal or error may be re-cessed for the same causes and in the same manner as in the superior court.—Ibid., s. 11.

1158. Any judge who sat in the court below at the rendering of the final or interlocutory judgment appealed from, is incompetent to sit in appeal or error upon the same.—Ibid., s. 8.

1159. No petition in recusal is necessary if the cause of incompetency appears on the face of the record.—Ibid., s. 11.

1160. Every leave of absence for more than two months granted to any judge of the court of queen's bench is notified to the clerk of appeals by a letter from the provincial secretary, which must be deposited among the records of the court and entered in the register thereof.—Ibid., s. 12.

1161. When a judge of the court of queen's bench is disqualified or incompetent to sit in a case, or is suspended from office, or absent from the province, or on leave, the clerk of appeals, when thereto required, must record the fact in the register, and upon the order of a judge of the court, must notify the chief-justice of the superior court.—Ibid., ss. 10, 11.

1162. The judges of the superior court replace those of the court of queen's bench, in all cases of incompetency, absence, suspension, or leave of absence, and upon the chief justice of the superior court communicating with the other judges of the said court, it is arranged between them which of them individually will replace any particular judge of the court of queen's bench, who is unable to sit in the case.—Ibid. ss. 10, 11.

* Parties who have pleaded separately in the court below may appeal jointly by one and the same writ.—Spelman & Robidoux, 12 L. C. Jurist, 227.

The foregoing provisions, as well as those of the preceding article, apply likewise in the case of death, absence, disqualification or incompetency of the judge thus appointed to replace another.

1163. The return of the judge replaced, the expiration of his leave, or his ceasing to be incompetent, do not affect the powers of the judge appointed to replace him, as regards cases of which he has taken judicial cognizance, nor are they affected by the appointment of a judge of the court of queen's bench who would not be incompetent in the case.—Ibid. s. 13.

1164. Nevertheless if the replacing judge has not heard the case upon the merits, the judge thus replaced may take cognizance of the case and render judgment therein.—29 V. c. 42.

1165. If the record in the case is incomplete, either by reason of the absence of any document, or of the inobservance of some important formality, the court of appeals may, upon the suggestion of either party, order the court below to perfect the record, and this is done by an order in the form of a writ issuing in the name of the sovereign, addressed to the judges of the court below, commanding them to do what is necessary, and to make a duly certified return thereof.—Ibid. s. 5.

1166. Interventions may take place in appeal with the leave of the court, and so may also other incidental proceedings, such as petitions for continuance, disavowals, changes of attorney, and like proceedings, according to the formalities prescribed by the court.—Ibid. s. 5.

1167. Discontinuance in appeal is effected in the same manner and under the same conditions as in the superior court.—C.S.L.C., c. 82, s. 25.

1168. The provisions concerning peremption of suits in the superior court apply also to appeals. Peremption of appeals or of proceedings in error has the effect of rendering the judgment appealed from final.—Pot. P.C., 124.—C. P. C. 469.

1169. The parties are bound to be present in court to be heard upon the appeal after the delay mentioned in article 1141.

1170. Judgment cannot be rendered in appeal unless at least three judges concur therein, and judgment may be rendered even in the absence of one judge when the case has been heard before the five judges.—C.S.L.C., c. 77, ss. 9, 14.—25 V., c. 10, s. 1.—[The provisions relative to judgments, contained in articles 503 and 504 apply in similar cases as regards judgments to be rendered by the court of queen's bench.—Whenever a case has been heard by the full court or by a quorum of judges, and at least three of the judges who heard it are present in court and ready to render judgment therein, then if any judge who heard the cause and would be competent to sit in judgment therein be prevented by removal to another court, sickness or other cause from being present, but has addressed a letter to the clerk of the court, containing his decision and signed by him, or has, in testimony of his concurrence therein, signed a written decision drawn up to be delivered and delivered by any other judge, such judge shall be deemed to be present as regards such judgment; and the decision so transmitted and signed by him has the same effect as if delivered and concurred in by him in open court.]

1171. If by reason of the absence, leave of absence, disqualification, or incompetency of any of the judges, or any other cause, the order for advisement requires to be discharged, such discharge may be ordered by the other judges or by any one of them.—C. S. L. C., c. 77, s. 9.

1172. The court may adjourn to any day in vacation, and thence from day to day, for the purpose of rendering judgment.—Ibid. s. 20 § 2.

1173. Judgment may be rendered by the court at another place, where its sittings are held, than that where the case was heard, if the judges are of opinion that otherwise the parties will be exposed to unnecessary delay; but in such case the court in term, or a majority of the judges in vacation, orders the clerk to give the parties interested notice at least six days before that on which judgment is to be rendered, and the judgment is nevertheless entered and registered at the place where judgment would have been rendered in the ordinary course.—25 V., c. 10, ss. 4, 5.

1174. Every judgment in appeal or error must contain a summary statement of the points of fact and of law in the case, and the reasons upon which it is founded, with the names of the judges who concurred therein and of those who dissented therefrom, and must adjudicate upon the costs.—C. S. L. C., c. 77, s. 36.

1175. The costs are taxed by the clerk of appeals, saving a revision of such taxation by a judge within six months, either in term or out of term, after sufficient notice given to the opposite party, but such revision cannot prevent or stay execution, and the decision of the judge in that behalf has the same effect as a judgment of the court.—25 V., c. 10, s. 6.

1176. Judgments in appeal or error are executed both for principal and costs by the court below, and for that purpose, the record is sent back to it, unless a further appeal to a higher court has been moved for. *

1177. The court sitting in appeal or error may exercise all the powers necessary for such jurisdiction and make such orders as it may deem proper for the purpose of remedying any insufficiencies of the record; of staying proceedings in the court below in cases from which appeal or error has been brought; of regulating the putting in or renewal of security; and of providing for all cases in which the law affords the party no special remedy.—Such court may also make such rules of practice as may be necessary, for governing the proceedings in all cases brought before it, provided such rules be not contrary to any existing law.—It may also make and establish tariffs of fees for the counsel, advocates and attorneys practising before it, and also for its bailiffs.

* Whenever a record is required by law to be transmitted from one court to another, and to a different place, such transmission may be effected through the post-office, and the party requiring such transmission is bound to disburse the postage; and any delay caused by the neglect of such party to pay such postage, is deemed to be occasioned by his fault.—With the consent of the parties the record may be transmitted by any other means.—C. S. L. C., c. 82, s. 6.

CHAPTER FOURTH.

OF APPEALS TO HER MAJESTY.

1178. An appeal lies to her majesty in her privy council from final judgments rendered in appeal or error by the court of queen's bench :

1. In all cases where the matter in dispute relates to any fee of office, duty, rents, revenue, or any sum of money payable to her majesty ;

2. In cases concerning titles to lands or tenements, annual rents and other matters by which the rights in future of parties may be affected ;

3. In all other cases wherein the matter in dispute exceeds the sum or value of five hundred pounds sterling.—C. S. L. C., c. 77, s. 52.

1179. Nevertheless, the execution of a judgment of the court of queen's bench cannot be prevented or stayed, unless the party aggrieved gives good and sufficient sureties, within the delay fixed by the court, that he will effectually prosecute the appeal, satisfy the condemnation, and pay such cost and damages as may be awarded by her majesty, in the event of the judgment being confirmed. The security may be received before one of the judges of the court of queen's bench, and the sureties are not bound to justify their solvency upon real estate.—Ibid. s. 52.

1180. The appellants may also consent to the judgment being executed, and in such case may give security only for the costs in appeal, under the same conditions as under article 1124.—Ibid., s. 52.

1181. The execution of any judgment of the court of queen's bench cannot be prevented or stayed after six months from the day on which the appeal was allowed, unless the appellant files in the office of the clerk of appeals, a certificate, signed by the clerk of her majesty's privy council, or any other competent office, and stating that the appeal has been lodged within such delay, and that proceedings have been had therein.*—Ibid., s. 53.

1182. The clerk of appeals of the court of queen's bench is bound to register any exemplification of a decree of her majesty in her privy council, as soon as it is presented to him for that purpose, without requiring any order of the court of queen's bench to that effect, and to send back the record in the case to the court below, together with a copy of such exemplification which has been registered as above mentioned.—Ibid., s. 54.

BOOK FIFTH.

INFERIOR JURISDICTIONS.

CHAPTER FIRST.

COMMISSIONERS' COURT FOR THE SUMMARY TRIAL OF SMALL CAUSES.

1183. The commissioners cannot sit and hold their court separately and at the same time in the same locality. The court may be held

* Execution can not be had if the record has been transmitted within the six months, even if certificate be not filed within that delay.—Jones vs Guyon 17 L. C. Rep. 377.

by commissioner, and several or all of the commissioners may likewise sit together.— They must decide according to equity and good conscience, and to the best of their ability and judgment.—C. S. L. C., c. 94 ss. 4, 7, 11.

1184. The commissioners have, for keeping order during their sittings, and for enforcing the execution of their warrants, orders and judgments, the same powers as the other courts of Lower Canada.—Ibid. ss. 9, 44.

1185. They may be recused for the same reasons as judges of other courts.

1186. The recusation must be in writing.—Ibid. s. 12.

1187. If all the commissioners are recused by either of the parties, the case is immediately transmitted to the nearest commissioners' court, which decides upon the validity of the recusation, and afterwards hears and determines the merits of the case, in the event only of the recusation being maintained.—But if the recusation is overruled, the case is sent back to the former court, which may, without reference to the merits, tax the costs of such recusation against the party who made it.—Ibid. s. 12.

1188. The commissioners' court exercises an ultimate jurisdiction in all suits purely personal or relating to moveable property, which arise from contracts or quasi-contracts, and wherein the sum or value demanded does not exceed twenty-five dollars, and defendant resides :

1. In the locality of the court ;

2. In another locality, but in the same district and within a distance of five leagues, if the debt has been contracted in the locality for which the court is established ;

3. In a neighbouring locality in which there are no commissioners, or in which the commissioners cannot sit by reason of illness, absence, or other inability to act, provided such locality is in the same district within a distance not exceeding ten leagues.—1 Boitard, p. 93-4.—Pot. Int. gen., nos. 110, 111, 119.—C. S. L. C., c. 94, ss. 7, 19, 20.

1189. It has no jurisdiction in suits for slander, or for assault and battery, or relating to civil status, paternity, or seduction, or lying-in expenses; nor in suits for the recovery of any fine or penalty whatever.—Ibid. s. 8.

1890. It has jurisdiction in suits for the recovery of assessments, not exceeding twenty-five dollars, imposed for the building of churches, parsonages and church-yards.—C. S. L. C., c. 18, s. 25.

1191. It may, in matters within its jurisdiction, grant :—attachments for rent;—attachments in revendication;—attachments by garnishment after judgment;—simple attachments or attachments by garnishment before judgment, for sums exceeding five dollars, whenever it is established by the affidavit of the plaintiff, or of his agent, that the defendant is secreting or is about to secrete his property, or absconds or is immediately about to leave the province, with intent to defraud his creditors.—C. S. L. C., c. 94, ss. 23-4.

1192. [These proceedings may be executed beyond the limits of the judicial district in which they are issued, provided an order of one of the commissioners, authorizing such execution within the district where it requires to be executed, is endorsed upon the warrant.]—Every warrant of simple attachment in revendication, attachment for rent, attachment by garnishment or seizure by garnishment, must be made returnable on a day named within forty days, and the return with a certificate of the proceedings must be made on the day so named.—Such affidavit may be received either by one of the commissioners or by the clerk of the court.—Ibid., s. 25.

1193. Any minor above the age of fourteen years may bring a suit before a commissioners' court for the recovery of wages or salary, in the same manner as if he was of age.—Ibid., s. 21.

1194. The delay upon ordinary summons must be at least three clear days when defendant does not reside more than two leagues from the place to which he is summoned, with the usual addition of delay, when the distance exceeds two leagues, according to article 75.—But if the summons is accompanied with an attachment, the delay must be at least fifteen days and not more than forty days.—Ibid., ss. 22, 27.

1195. The writ of summons commands the defendant to pay the plaintiff the amount demanded or to appear before the court to answer such demand.—It must also contain: The names, surname, residence and occupation, both of the plaintiff and of the defendant;—a summary statement of the cause of the action;—the day on which the defendant must appear;—the date of the writ;—the signature of the commissioner.—7 V., c. 19, schedule no. 1.

1196. Ordinary writs of summons may be served by any bailiff of the superior court or by any sergeant of militia residing in the locality.—C. S. L. C., c. 94, s. 28.

1197. If the summons is accompanied with an attachment it can only be served by a bailiff.—Ibid., § 2.

1198. Either party may evoke the case to the [circuit] court in the district when the contestation relates:—to any title to immoveable property;—to any fee of office, or to any sum of money due to the crown;—to any duty, rents, revenue, or annual rent, payment or other matter by which rights in future might be bound.—C. S. L. C., c. 83, s. 178; c. 94, s. 29.

1199. The improbation of any act or document produced before the court has the effect of an evocation [to the circuit court.]—C. S. L. C., c. 94, s. 30.

1200. In the cases of the two preceding articles, the commissioner, or one of the commissioners, or the clerk, must, within fifteen days, transmit the record to the circuit court together with a certified transcript of the entries in the register concerning the same.—Nevertheless, in the case of improbation, the record cannot be transmitted, unless the party alleging the falsity gives sufficient security for the costs to be incurred upon such improbation.—Ibid., s. 31.

1201. [In default of such security being given within the delay fixed by the court the party forfeits his right of evocation, and the commissioners' court may proceed to hear and determine the case without regard to the improbation.]

1202. If the evocation is allowed, the case is heard and determined by the court to which it is evoked as if it had originated therein.—Ibid., s. 32.

1203. No person can act as attorney of either of the parties before a commissioners' court, except he is an advocate or attorney at law, or the holder of a special power of attorney, or unless it is in the presence and with the consent of the party.—Bailiffs and sergeants of militia can in no case act as attorneys.—Ibid., s. 18, § 1.

1204. Any person, other than an advocate or attorney at law, who acts for one of the parties must do so gratuitously; and if such person for so acting receives, either directly or indirectly, any fee, emolument or remuneration whatever, he is deemed to have received the same under false pretences and may be punished accordingly, and is, moreover, disqualified from ever acting as attorney before a commissioners' court.—Ibid., s. 18, § 2.

1205. No clerk of such court can act as the attorney of either of the parties.—Ibid., s. 18, § 3.

1206. If the defendant has been served personally and makes default, or if he confesses judgment, or if the parties agree to it, the case may be heard on the day of the return and judgment may be rendered.—In any other case the suit must be postponed to a subsequent day for trial.—Ibid., s. 33 § § 1, 2.

1207. By consent of the parties the case may be referred to the decision of three arbitrators, one of whom named by each party and the third by the court.—The court may also, in its discretion, order such reference.—The arbitrators, before acting, must be sworn before one of the commissioners or before a justice of the peace, to fulfil their duty faithfully and impartially.—They may hear the parties and their witnesses, who must be sworn before a commissioner or before a justice of the peace.—The decision of two of the arbitrators is final, and must be homologated and executed accordingly.—Ibid., s. 34.

1208. The cases are heard, tried and determined in a summary manner, without any written pleadings being necessary.—Ibid., s. 7.

1209. Oral testimony is admitted in all cases, and one witness, even if related, is sufficient.—But the bailiff or sergeant who served the writ of summons cannot be witness for the party who employed him, except as regards the service itself.—C. S. L. C., c. 94 s. 18 § 3; s. 36;—c. 82, ss. 14, 15, 16.

1210. Upon the application of either of the parties, the court may compel any person residing within its jurisdiction to attend as a witness in any case, under a penalty of not less than one dollar, nor more than four dollars, for every default to attend as

1211. The court, in rendering judgment, may condemn the unsuccessful party to the costs of suit, of contestation, and of arbitration.—But if the amount of the judgment does not exceed two dollars, the court may reduce the costs to the same amount as that for which judgment is rendered.* —Ibid., s. 8.

1212. If the debtor fails to satisfy the amount of the condemnation against him within eight days, he may be compelled to do so by the seizure and sale of such seizable moveables as he may have within the district in which the court

* The court may grant stay of execution, and may order that the amount of the judgment be paid in two or three instalments, at intervals of not more than one month each; but if one of the instalments is not paid at the time appointed, execution may at once issue for whatever remains due. When any poor defendant, before judgment, offers sufficient security, to the satisfaction of the court, for the amount of the debt and costs, the court may order that the amount of the judgment be paid by weekly instalments, the last of which shall not be more than six months after the date of the judgment.—C. S. L. C., c. 94, s. 37, §§ 1, 2.

was held.—He is liable to the costs of such execution to the amount of one dollar and a half.—If the sale does not take place he is not bound to pay more than seventy-five cents of costs.—These costs do not in any case comprise the expense of feeding cattle, if any have been seized.—The warrant of execution must be made returnable and be returned like the other warrants mentioned in article 1192.—Ibid., ss. 41-2.

1213. No opposition to the sale of moveables under seizure can stay proceedings, unless it is allowed by a commissioner and accompanied with an order to that effect.—Ibid., s. 43.

1214. Oppositions thus allowed are heard and determined in the same manner as other cases before the court.—Ibid., s. 43.

1215. The clerk, and the bailiffs or sergeants of militia cannot demand any other emoluments than those mentioned in form number 56 in the appendix to this code.—Ibid., s. 40.

CHAPTER SECOND.

OF JUSTICES OF THE PEACE AND OTHER INFERIOR CIVIL JURISDICTIONS.

1216. Justices of the peace have also jurisdiction in certain civil matters, such as the recovery of school taxes, of assessments for the building or repairing of churches, parsonages or church-yards, damages caused by animals, and other matters relating to agriculture, disputes between masters and servants in the country parts, seamen's wages, claims of pawners against pawnbrokers, and other matters.

1217. In certain cities the recorder's court has also jurisdiction for the recovery of certain municipal claims, and in matters of dispute between lessors and lessees, and master and servant.

1218. The Trinity House also exercises a civil jurisdiction in matters connected with the shores of the river St. Lawrence and of the rivers flowing into it, and also with regard to the wages and indemnities due to pilots.

1219. The extent of the jurisdiction of these special courts and the manner of proceeding before them are regulated by the statutes which create them or relate to them, and in certain respects by the practice therein followed.

CHAPTER THIRD.

REMEDIES AGAINST THE PROCEEDINGS AND JUDGMENTS OF THE ABOVE MENTIONED COURTS.

1220. In all cases where no appeal is given from the inferior courts above mentioned, the case may be evoked before judgment, or the judgment may be revised, by means of a writ of certiorari, unless this remedy also is taken away by law.—1 Wharton, Law Lexicon, 144.

1221. The remedy lies, nevertheless, only in the following cases :

1. When there is want or excess of jurisdiction :

2. When the regulations upon which a complaint is brought or the judgment rendered are null or of no effect :

3. When the proceedings contain gross irregularities and there is reason to believe that justice has not been or will not be done.—Ibid.

1222. The writ of certiorari can only be granted upon motion, supported by an affidavit of the facts and circumstances of the case.

1223. A previous notice of time and place at which the motion will be presented must be served upon the functionary seized of the case, or who rendered the judgment, and a return of such service is made as in any other case.—C. S. L. C., c. 89, s. 2, § 2.

1224. The service of such notice has the effect of suspending all proceedings in the court below.

1225. The motion must be presented to the superior court or the circuit court [or to a judge.] The opposite party is entitled to appear and make any oral objections of a nature to prevent the granting of the writ of certiorari.

1226. Writs of certiorari are in the name of the sovereign: they are sealed with the seal of the court, are clothed with the other formalities required for other writs, and command the functionary to whom they are addressed to certify and transmit, within a fixed delay, all the papers connected with the case, by whatever names the parties may be therein designated.—2 Tidd's Prac. 147.

1227. Mention must be made on the back of the writ that it has issued by order of the court.

1228. The writ is served upon and left with the functionary to whom it is addressed, and if it is addressed to a court composed of several functionaries, it is left with one of them and such service suspends all proceedings before them under pain of being liable for contempt of court.—2 Comyn's Dig. 340.—The return of such service is made upon a certified copy of the writ.

1229. The persons to whom the writ is addressed are bound to comply with it, by annexing to it all the papers demanded and certifying their return on the back of the writ.

1230. If they fail to comply with the writ they are liable to coercive imprisonment, in the ordinary manner.

1231. If the opposite party has not already appeared and filed an appearance in the ordinary form, he may do so immediately after the writ is regularly returned; and thereupon the case may be inscribed on the roll by either party, to be heard in the ordinary manner.—C. S. L. C., c. 89, s. 3.

1232. All interlocutory or final judgments upon writs of certiorari are drawn up and served in the same manner as in ordinary suits.—Ibid. s. 2.

1233. The court, in rendering judgment upon the writ, may award costs in its discretion.—Ibid. s. 4.

1234. No appeal lies from the judgment on the application for the writ, or from the judgment upon the writ itself; nor are such judgments subject to review.—Ibid. s. 6; c. 88, s. 17.

1235. The procedure regulated by this chapter applies also to all other cases in which the writ of certiorari will lie, and against any other court not mentioned in this book; but it does not apply with respect to the court of vice-admiralty, over which the superior court, as well as the circuit court, has no control.

PART THIRD.

NON-CONTENTIOUS PROCEEDINGS.

TITLE FIRST.

OF REGISTERS AND THEIR AUTHENTICATION.

CHAPTER FIRST

OF REGISTERS OF CIVIL STATES.

1236. All registers intended to record births, marriages and deaths, or religious profession, must, before being used, be numbered upon the first and every subsequent leaf, with the number of such leaf written in words, at full length, and be sealed with the seal of the superior court, by affixing the same upon the two extremities of a ribbon, or other such fastening, passing through all the leaves of such registers and secured inside of the cover thereof; and upon the first leaf must be written an attestation under the signature of a judge or the prothonotary of the superior court of the district, or of the clerk of the circuit court of the county which comprises the roman catholic parish, protestant church, or religious congregation or society authorized to keep such registers and for which they are to serve, and to which they belong, specifying the number of leaves contained in the register, the purpose for which it is intended, and the date of such attestation.—Such certificate cannot, however, be given until the formalities prescribed by special acts with regard to certain religious congregations have been fulfilled.—C. S. L. C., c. 20, s. 2.—25 V., c. 16, s. 1.—C.C. Actes de l'État civil, art. 3.

1237. The duplicate register which is to remain in the hands of the priest, minister, or person doing the parochial or clerical duty of each roman catholic parish church, protestant, or religious congregation, must be bound in a substantial and durable manner.—C. S. L. C., c. 20, s. 1 § 3.—[A copy of the title Of Acts of Civil Status, in the Civil Code, and of the first, second and third chapters of the title Of Marriage in the same code, must be attached to such duplicate.]

deaths have taken place, and also the superior of communities in which vows of religious profession have been made, are respectively bound to fulfil the requirements of the laws with regard to the registers of acts of civil status, and may be compelled to do so by such means and under such pains, penalties or damages as the law allows.

1239. Any person who desires to have any register rectified must present to the court a petition for that purpose, stating the error or omission of which he complains, and praying that the register may be rectified accordingly.—The petition must be served upon the depository of such register.—C. P. C., 855.

1240. The court may also order any person to be called in whom it deems interested in the application.—Such person is thereupon summoned in the ordinary manner.—C. P. C., 856.

1241. Any judgment ordering a rectification must contain an order for the inscription of such judgment upon the two registers, and no copy of the act rectified can thereafter be delivered without the corrections thus ordered to be made.—C. P. C., 857.

CHAPTER SECOND.

REGISTERS OF REGISTRY OFFICES.

1242. Every register of which the law requires the authentication, must, before any entry is made therein, be authenticated by an attestation, written on the first page and signed by the prothonotary of the superior court of the district in which the register is to be used; and such attestation must mention the purpose for which such register is intended, the number of leaves contained therein, and the date of the attestation. Each leaf must be numbered in words, written at full length, and the prothonotary must write thereon the initial letters of his name.—C. S. L. C., c. 37, s. 59.

CHAPTER THIRD.

REGISTERS OF SHERIFFS AND CORONERS.

1243. The sheriff and the coroner of each district must keep a duplicate register for transcribing and registering therein all deeds or acts of sale made by them of real property in their official capacity, and when such register is filled one of the duplicates thereof must be deposited by such sheriff or coroner in the office of the prothonotary of the superior court for the district.—C. S. L. C., c. 92, s. 11.

1244. Such registers must be authenticated in the same manner as those of the registry offices mentioned in article 1242.—Ibid. § 2

TITLE SECOND.

OF INSPECTION OF DOCUMENTS.

1245. Notaries are bound, upon payment of their lawful fees and dues and without any judge's order, to give communication or copies of or extracts from any act or document forming part of their official records, to the parties or to their heirs or legal representatives.—1 Couchet, '84.—3 Brillou, 506.—Ord. 135, art. 12.—1 Fig. 54.—C. P. C., 839.—See vide Bioche, t. 4., p. 398, no. 55.

1246. They are not bound to give such communication, copies or extracts to other parties without an order from a judge, [unless it is of such nature that it should be registered.]—Couchot, cod. loc.—1 Fig., 49.

1247. If the notary refuses to give such communication, copies or extracts, as required, the person demanding the same may, by petition duly served upon such notary, apply to a judge for an order for inspection, which is granted upon proof of his right or his interest.—1 Fig. 49, 54.—1 Lacombe, 129.—C. P. C., 839, 841.

1248. If communication only be demanded, the order fixes the day and hour when communication of the act must be given.—If a copy or extract be demanded, the order fixes the time at which it must be furnished.—1 Fig. 51.

1249. The service of the order of the judge upon the notary must give a sufficient delay for a compliance with such order.—Ibid.

1250. The copy or extract must be certified to have been delivered in compliance with the order; and the notary mentions the fact at the foot of the copy of the order that was left with him.—Ibid. 47, 52, 53.—C. P. C., 842.

1251. If the notary fails to comply with the order of the judge, he is liable for all consequent damages, and to coercive imprisonment.—Ibid. 45.

1252. When the original of any authentic act or a public register has been lost, destroyed or carried away, and any authentic copy or extract thereof exists, the holder of such copy or extract may apply to the court or judge for leave to deposit the same with such public officer as the court or judge will name, to be there used and considered as an original, the copies of which will be deemed authentic.—Ibid. 54.

1253. [A similar application may be made by any party to a deed, in order to oblige any other party to the same, who is in possession of an authentic copy thereof, to deposit such copy for the same purpose, and 1254. The petition must be served upon all other interested parties mentioned in the act.

1255. Upon satisfactory proof, the court or judge orders the document produced to be deposited in the prothonotary's or notary's office or other public office in which the original was; or if it is a notarial act, forming part of the records of a notary who is dead or has ceased to practise, then in the prothonotary's office in which the records of such notary are deposited; and every regular copy of the document thus deposited avails for proof in the same manner as if such document was the original.

TITLE THIRD.

OF FAMILY COUNCILS.

1256. Whenever application is made to provide minors, interdicted persons, absentees or substitutes, with tutors, or tutors ad hoc, or curators, or to authorize such tutors or curators to do some particular act, or for leave to alienate immovables belonging to persons who have not the free exercise of their rights, or for the emancipation of minors, the judge or the court cannot act without previously taking the advice of a family council.—2 P^{ig}. 6.

1257. Family councils are convened and composed in the manner provided in the ninth title of the first book of the Civil Code.

1258. Any person demanding the convocation of a family council must show that he has used due diligence to summon the nearest relatives residing in the district, and the delay for such notice is one intermediate day, when they reside at a distance less than five leagues from the place where the family council is to meet, with the usual addition when the distance exceeds five leagues, according to article 75.—2 P^{ig}. 302.

1259. The relations and friends must be sworn before giving their advice upon the matters submitted to them.—Ibid. 301.—C. S. L. C., c. 48, s. 1, § 3.

1260. The minutes of the advice given by the relations and friends must be signed by them, or must mention the reasons which prevent them from signing.

1261. The superior court and the circuit court, and any judge of the superior court at any place where sittings of either of the said courts are held, and either in or out of term, have like jurisdiction in, and may decide all matters in which the advice of a family council is required, and the proceedings in such cases must remain among the records of the court in which the application was made.—C. S. L. C., c. 78, ss. 3, 23.

TITLE FOURTH.

OF TUTORSHIPS AND CURATORSHIPS

1262. The proceedings to be taken for the appointment of tutors to minors and of curators to interdicted persons, emancipated minors and absentees, are explained in the different titles of the Civil Code which treat of such matters respectively.—C. C. liv. 1, tit. 9, arts. 4, 21, 74, 75; tit. 10, arts. 4 à 10, et 14c. à 17e; tit. 11, arts. 24, 25, 25a.

1263. The proceedings to be taken for the appointment of curators to successions that are vacant or accepted under benefit of inventory, or to property judicially abandoned by insolvent debtors, are regulated under the respective titles in this code concerning such matters.

1264. The proceedings for the appointment of curators to the property of corporations that have been dissolved, or declared illegal, are regulated in the Civil Code, under the title Of Corporations, and in the eighth chapter of the second book of the second part of this code.

1265. The proceedings for the appointment of curators to substitutions are the same as those for the appointment of tutors to minors.—2 Pig. 213.

1266. Every curator is bound, before acting as such, to make oath that he will well and truly perform the duties devolving upon him.—Ibid., 510.

TITLE FIFTH.

OF THE SALE OF IMMOVEABLES BELONGING TO MINORS OR OTHER DISQUALIFIED PERSONS.

1267. No voluntary alienation of immoveable property, or of shares or stock in manufacturing or financial associations, belonging to minors or interdicted persons can be made without the order and permission of the court or of a judge.—C. C. Tutorships and Minority, 56, 57.

1268. In addition to the formalities prescribed by the Civil Code, such alienation cannot take place unless, before taking the advice of a family council, the immoveable has been inspected by two experts, one of whom was named by the tutor and the other by the subrogate-tutor; and such experts must not be related either to the parties or to the persons acting for them.—C. S. L. C., c. 48, s. 1.

1275. If the judge refuses to authorize the sale, the reasons for such refusal must be given in writing, and form part of the record.

1276. The place and time of the sale must be published on three consecutive Sundays, at the door of the parish church of the place where the immovables are situated; or, if there is no church, at the most public place in the locality; and notice thereof must be posted up immediately after the first publication, and such notice must contain a description of the immovables.—2 Pig. 106-7-8.

1277. [If no higher price is offered than the upset price, the person applying for the sale may proceed to effect a private sale; but he can only do so within the four months which follow the authorization, and for a sum not less than the upset price.]

ageously divided, proceedings it by the tutor is valid unless are had in the manner above the minor is represented at the mentioned, and no purchase of sale by a tutor ad hoc.

TITLE SIXTH.

PROCEEDINGS RELATING TO SUCCESSIONS.

CHAPTER FIRST.

OF SEALS.

SECTION I.

Of the Affixing of Seals.

1279. Seals can be affixed on the property of a succession so long only as an inventory thereof has not been made.—2 Pigeon, 270-1.

1280. Whenever seals are required to be affixed a commissioner is named for that purpose by a judge of the superior court in the district, upon the application of any party interested.—1 Pig. 439, 440; 2 Pig., 271.—C.S.L.C., c. 78, s. 23.—C.P.C., 907, 912.

1281. The affixing of seals may be demanded:

1. By all those who lay claim to the succession of the deceased, or to a community dissolved by the death of one of the consort;

2. By the creditors;

3. By the testamentary executor;

4. By the crown, when there are no heirs or when the property confiscated.—2 Pig., s. 250 et seq.—1 Couchot, 134.—C.P.C., 909.

1282. The commissioner must draw up minutes of the proceedings, in which he must state:

1. The date;

2. A designation of the person requiring the seals, and the nature of his right;

3. The judicial order authorizing the affixing of seals;

4. The attendance of the persons concerned, and whatever they may state;

5. A description of the places, bureaux, chests or closets, over the openings of which the seals are affixed;

6. A summary description of all articles found in view and placed under seals;

7. The taking, at the close of the affixing of seals, of the oath of the parties residing on the premises, that nothing has been, either directly or indi-

8. The names and designations of the persons in whose custody the things under seals have been placed, and with whom a copy of the minutes must be left;

9. The signing of the parties present, or their being called upon to sign and the reasons which prevented them from doing so.—2 Ptg. 281-2.—C. P. C., 914.

1283. The seals are fixed upon each extremity of a band passing over the keyhole of the lock, if there be one; or, if not, upon the joint of the opening of the apartment or receptacle containing the effects, in such a manner that it cannot be opened without breaking the band or removing the seals.—2 Ptg. 280-1-2.—C. P. C., 915.

1284. If, when seals are being affixed, a will made in authentic form by the deceased is found open, the commissioner enters a description of it in his minutes and delivers it to the guardian; but if the will is not in authentic form, or if it is closed or sealed, the commissioner, after sealing it himself, must deposit it in the prothonotary's office, together with his minutes, in order that the probate may be effected at the instance of the persons interested.—2 Ptg., 282-3-4.—C. P. C., 916.

1295. When the commissioner finds the doors fastened, or is refused admittance, he must report the fact to the judge, who may authorize him to employ a locksmith and such force as may be necessary.—The commissioner may, in the meantime, place guards around the premises, in order to prevent fraudulent removals.—2 Ptg. 281.

1286. If, after he has entered the house, the commissioner meets with a declaration of opposition, he must mention it in his minutes, in order that the matter may be referred to the judge; but he must place guards in the meantime to prevent fraudulent removals.—2 Ptg. 281.—C. P. C., 921.

1287. The judge decides forthwith upon the opposition, either by countermanding or restricting the affixing of seals, or by ordering the proceedings to continue on.—2 Ptg., 285.—C. S. L. C., c. 78, s. 23.—C. P. C., 921-2.

1288. Whenever a reference to the judge has taken place, whatever is done or ordered thereon is certified at the foot of the commissioner's minutes.—C. P. C., 922.

1289. If there are no moveable effects, the commissioner must state so in his minutes.—C. P. C., 924.

1290. As soon as the commissioner has completed his minutes he is bound to deposit them in the prothonotary's office, to form part of the records thereof.

1291. No second affixing of seals can take place, unless the first has been impugned as null.—In affixing seals the second time the bands are placed across those of the first sealing.—2 Ptg. 298.

1302. The return of removal of seals must contain :

1. The date ;
2. The names, residence and occupation of the applicant, and his elected domicile ;
3. A recital of the order for removal ;
4. Mention that the notices required by article 1297 have been given ;

5. What persons were present, and their respective allegations ;

6. The names of the notary or notaries charged with making the inventory, and of the appraisers ;

7. The verification of the seals, if they were unbroken ; if not, the state in which they were found ; saving recourse against whoever may be liable. —2 Pige., 325-6.—C.P.C., 936.

1303. If papers or effects be found which do not belong to the succession or the community and are claimed by third persons, they are delivered to the proper persons, after describing them in the return, if such description is demanded.—2 Pige., 327.—C.P.C., 939.

CHAPTER SECOND.

OF THE INVENTORY.

SECTION I.

Of the Making of the Inventory.

1304. An inventory of the property belonging to a deceased person, or to a community dissolved by his death, may be demanded by any person who has an interest in it ; but the following persons only can take part in it :

1. Those who represent the deceased ;
2. The consort of the deceased, or such consorts representatives, if a community existed ;
3. The testamentary executor.—In the case of a community of property dissolved by a judgment, the inventory may be demanded by either of the consorts.—2 Pige., 328-9, 333.—C.P.C., 941.

1305. All persons entitled to take part in it must be present at the inventory, or have been notified to be present, in the same manner as for the removal of seals.—2 Pige., vol. loc.—C.P.C., 943.

1306. The person who is bound to have the inventory made chooses the executing notary ; the other parties may appoint a second notary.—In cases where seals have been affixed, the order for their removal designates the notary who is to make the inventory, subject to the above restriction.—C.P.C., 942.

1307. The inventory must be in authentic form.—2 Pige., 331.—C.P.C., 943.

1308. The inventory is composed of two parts. The first or the preamble, contains the names, occupation and residence of the persons making the inventory, of those who applied for it, of the persons present or who failed to appear, of all interested persons absent, if they are known, of the appraisers, and the respective allegations, pretensions and protestations of the parties.—The second part is the inventory proper, and contains :

1. A designation of the place where the inventory is made ;
 2. A description of the moveable property and effects, and a valuation thereof made according to their real value by two sworn appraisers ;
 3. A designation of the amounts in specie or in valuable securities ;
 4. A designation of all papers, which must also be numbered from first to last and be paraphed by one of the notaries ;
 5. All declarations of claims or indebtedness made by the parties ;
 6. Mention of the oath having been taken, at the end of the inventory, by those who, before the inventory, were in possession of the things, or who inhabited the house in which such things are, to the effect that no portion of them has been fraudulently removed or carried away with their knowledge ;
 7. The depositing of the papers and effects in the hands and custody of the person agreed upon by the parties or named by the judge.—1 Pig., 334-5-9.—C.P.C., 943.
- 1309. If, while the inventory is being made, difficulties arise between the parties as to their respective rights and pretensions, the notary is bound to record such pretensions in the inventory, together with all protestations against the same, leaving the parties their judicial recourse.—2 Pig., 340-1.—C.P.C., 944.

1310. Any of the parties may petition the judge to oblige the notary to enter their pretensions or protestations in the inventory, and the judge is bound to decide upon such petition in a summary manner, after the other parties have had notice of it.—As soon as the order made upon such petition has been served upon the notary, he is bound to transcribe it in the inventory and to conform to it.—2 Pig., 341.—C.P.C., 944.

1311. In the case mentioned in article 1309, the judge may order the exclusion of any of the parties when it is manifest that they have no right; or else he may order that proceedings shall be taken provisionally in their name, subject to the respective protestations of the parties and to their right to obtain a decision upon their pretensions after the inventory is completed.—2 Pig., 333.

1312. With the consent of all the parties the sale may be proceeded with at once, as the inventory is being made; and in such case no valuation of the effects by appraisers is necessary.

1313. The surviving consort or other person who is bound to have the inventory made, is entitled to the custody of the inventoried effects in preference to any one else; unless, upon being referred to, the judge, for some important reason, orders otherwise.—2 Pig., 343.

1314. The formalities and proceedings prescribed by the present section apply to all other cases in which an inventory is required.

SECTION II.

Of the Sale.

1315. When the sale of the moveables is demanded by any of the heirs, pursuant to article 697 of the Civil Code, or by any other copartitioner, it takes place upon a day fixed, of which public notice must have been given.—2 Pig., 352.—C.P.C., 945-7.

1316. The sale takes place wherever the effects are situated, and for cash, unless it is otherwise agreed or ordered. C. P. C., 949.

1317. The sale is effected by a bailiff or a public crier, or by any person agreed upon by the parties, and the moneys are received by the person thus employed.—2 Pig., 352.

1318. The sale may take place either in the presence of the persons interested, or in their absence after they have received due notice of it.—Ibid., C. P. C., 950.

1319. Minutes of the sale are drawn up, stating who of the persons interested were present, what notice was given to those who were absent, and specifying each object put up for sale, the price for which it was sold and the name of the purchaser.—2 Pig., 352.—C. P. C., 951.

1320. If any of the coheirs or copartitioners are minors, the notice of sale must also be published and posted up in the same manner as in cases of sale of moveables under execution.

CHAPTER THIRD.

OF BENEFIT OF INVENTORY.

1321. Benefit of inventory can only be granted upon petition to the court or judge, stating that an inventory of the property of the succession will be or has been made, that the petitioner has not acted as heir, and that he believes it his interest not to confound his rights with the obligations of the succession.—2 Edits et Ord. in Svo., p. 104.—C. S. L. C., c. 78, ss. 2, 6, § 2.

1322. [The beneficiary heir is bound to give notice of his character as such, by an advertisement, as mentioned in article 1010.]

1323. Benefit of inventory is only granted on condition of security being given to the amount and in the manner fixed by the court or judge, that the petitioner will render an account and pay to such person as may be entitled thereto whatever moneys he may receive.—2 Pig., 367-8.

1324. An heir under benefit of inventory cannot sell the moveable property of the succession without observing the formalities required for the sale of moveables under execution.—2 Pig., 362.—C.P.C., 938.

1325. The heir under benefit of inventory, cannot sell the immoveables without the consent of all the creditors and legatees of the deceased.

1326. [In cases where the beneficiary heir has any claims to exercise against the succession, he must cause a curator to be named, the same formalities being observed as are prescribed for the appointment of curators to vacant successions]

rights against the succession or the property in question to bring their claims before the court.]

1330. The proceedings upon such claims and upon the petition for provisional possession are the same as upon ordinary suits.]

CHAPTER FIFTH.

OF VACANT SUCCESSIONS.

CHAPTER FOURTH.

PROVISIONAL POSSESSION.

1327. Provisional possession, whenever it may be demanded, must be applied for by petition to the surperior court in the district in which the absentee or deceased person had his last domicile, or, if he had no domicile in Lower Canada, in the district in which the property is situate.

1328. The petition in the case of absentees must be accompanied with an act of notoriety, by three witnesses duly sworn, and establishing the facts upon which the petition is based, and also with such other proof as the court may deem necessary.

1329. [Provisional possession cannot be granted until after notice has been given and published, in the manner required for the summoning of absentees, calling upon all persons who may have any 1332. When a succession is deemed vacant, any creditor or legatee, or the heir who has renounced, may demand the appointment of a curator to such vacant succession.—2 Pig., 509.

1333. The judge proceeds to such appointment after taking the advice of the relations and creditors of the deceased, convened in the manner prescribed by such judge.

1334. The curator is bound :

immovables, nor shares or stock in manufacturing or financial associations, without the consent of all the parties interested.—Ibid.

1336. He is bound to render an account of his administration, in the same manner as any other curator, and also from time to time whenever required by a competent court or by a judge to do so.—Ibid., 511.

TITLE SEVENTH.

GENERAL PROVISIONS APPLYING TO THE DIFFERENT TITLES OF THE THIRD PART OF THIS CODE.

1337. In all proceedings under the different titles of the third part of this code, the delays upon summons are the same as those prescribed in article 890.

1338. All applications made or proceedings brought before a judge must remain in the records of the court and form part thereof.

1339. The prothonotary of the superior court may exercise all the powers conferred upon the court or a judge thereof; but any decision by such prothonotary is subject to be revised by a judge, upon application being made to that effect, after notice given to the persons interested.—C.S. L. C., c. 78, ss. 24-5.

1340. All decisions of a court or a judge are also subject to a review by three judges of the superior court, according to and in conformity with the provisions contained in articles 494 and following.—C.S. L. C., c. 86, s. 4.—27 & 28 Vic., c. 39, s. 20.

TITLE EIGHTH.

OF ARBITRATIONS IN GENERAL.

1341. Submission is an act by which persons, in order to prevent or put an end to a lawsuit, agree to abide by the decision of one or more arbitrators whom they agree upon.—Pot., P.C., 109.—1 Couchot, 30.

1342. Those persons only can enter into a submission who have the legal capacity to dispose of the objects comprised in it.—1 Cou., 30.—C. P. C., 1003.

1343. The appointment of arbitrators by the court is regulated in the second part of this code.

1344. Deeds of submission made out of court must state the names and additions of the parties and arbitrators, the objects in dispute, and the time within which the award of the arbitrators must be given.—Pot., P.C., 109. Contra C.P.C., 1057.

1345. Submission must be in writing.—Pot., P.C., 109.—C.P.C., 1095.

1346. The arbitrators must hear the parties and their proofs respectively, or establish a default against them, and decide according to the rules of law; unless by the submission they have been exempted from doing so, or unless they have been named as mediators.—Pot., C.

P., 199.—C.P.C., 1009, 1019.—

[The witnesses to be examined before the arbitrators may be sworn before the prothonotary or the clerk of the circuit court of the locality, or before a commissioner of the superior court.]

1347. During the delay fixed by the submission the appointment of the arbitrators cannot be revoked, except with the consent of all the parties. If the delay is not fixed, either of the parties may revoke the submission when he pleases.—1 Couchot, 30.—C.P.C., 1008.

1348. The submission becomes inoperative :

1. In the case of the death, refusal, withdrawal or inability to act of one of the arbitrators, unless some clause provides that it shall avail notwithstanding, or that such arbitrator shall be replaced by another, chosen by the parties or by the remaining arbitrator or arbitrators, or otherwise ;

2. In the case of the decision not being given before the expiration of the delay fixed ;

3. By the failure to agree, if the appointment of a third arbitrator has not been provided for ;

4. By the mutual consent of the parties ;

5. By the loss of the object which forms the subject of the submission;

6. By the extinction of the obligation which formed the subject of the submission.

7. By revocation in the case of the preceding article.—Bonnin, 617.—Pot., P. C., 109.—1 Cou., 30.—C.P.C., 1012.

1349. Arbitrators cannot be recused, except for reasons which have arisen or have been discovered since their appointment.—C.P.C., 1014.

1350. If the arbitrators fail to agree and the appointment of a third arbitrator has been provided for, such appointment is made in conformity with the submission, and the case is examined over again.

1351. No award of arbitrators can be rendered when there are more than one, unless the two named or one of these and the third arbitrator agree upon each item of the award.—1 Cou., 31.

1352. Awards of arbitrators are made out in notarial form, or deposited with a notary, who draws up an authentic act of the deposit, and they must be given or pronounced to the parties, or served upon them, within the delay fixed by the submission.—Pot., P. C., 109.—1 Cou., 30.—1 Bornier, 235.—C.P.C., 1026.

1353. Extra-judicial awards of arbitrators can only be executed under the authority of a competent court, upon a suit brought in the ordinary manner, to have the party condemned to execute them.

1354. [The court before whom such a suit is brought may examine into any grounds of nullity which affect the award, or into any questions of form which may prevent its being homologated; but it cannot enquire into the merits of the contestation; nevertheless, when a penalty has been stipulated in the submission, the court may do so whenever the party contesting has paid or tendered the amount of the penalty either to the party who accepts the award or into court.]—Pot., P. C., 110.—1 Cou., 30.—3 L.C.R., p. 482.

TITLE NINTH.

FINAL PROVISIONS.

1359. The forms contained in the appendix to this code, whether in connection with this code or with the Civil Code, or others to the same effect may be used in the cases to which they are intended to apply.

1360. The laws concerning procedure in force at the time of the coming into force of this code, are abrogated :

1. In all cases in which this code contains any provision having expressly or impliedly that effect ;

2. In all cases in which such laws are contrary to or inconsistent with any provision of this code, or in which express provision is made by this code upon the particular matter to which such laws relate.—Except always that as regards proceedings, matters and things anterior to the coming into force of this code, and to which its provisions could not apply without having a retroactive effect, the provisions of law which without this code would apply to such proceedings, matters and things remain in force and apply to them, and this code applies to them only so far as it coincides with such provisions.

1361. If in any article of this code founded on the laws existing at the time of its promulgation, there be a difference between the English and French texts, that version shall prevail which is most consistent with the provisions of the existing laws on which the article is founded ; and if there be any such difference in an article changing the existing laws, that version shall prevail which is most consistent with the intention of the article, and the ordinary rules of legal interpretation shall apply in determining such intention.

RULES OF PRACTICE

OF THE

SUPERIOR COURT FOR LOWER CANADA.

Where the following rules have not been altered by some express provision of the foregoing Code of Civil Procedure, they are the rules still in force in the said court. The greater portion of these rules were promulgated the 17th December, 1850.

CHAPTER I.

OF THE OFFICERS OF THE COURT.

I. That the queen's counsel, and barristers, who practice in this court, do appear, when in court, habited in black, and in such robes and bands as are worn by the queen's counsel and barristers in Westminster Hall, as heretofore hath been used, and that no queen's counsel, or barrister, be heard in any cause who is not so habited.

II. That every attorney practising in this court, do file, in writing, in the office of the prothonotary, an election of his domicile, as such attorney, at some place within a mile of the court house at the place where he practises; and that in default of his so doing, he shall be considered to have elected his domicile as such attorney, for all intents and purposes, in the office of the prothonotary at such place.—F. art. 85, p. 14 ante.

III. That the prothonotary of this court do appear, when in court, habited in black and in such robes and bands as are worn by the prothonotary in Westminster Hall, as heretofore hath been used; that the sheriff, when in court, do appear, habited in black, with his robe, his wand of office and sword as heretofore hath been used; and that the crier, when in court, do appear habited in black and in such robe as is worn by that officer in Westminster Hall.

IV. That the offices of the prothonotary and of the sheriff, be open on every juridical day during term, and also in the districts of Quebec and Montreal, on every Monday being a juridical day, from the hour of eight in the morning until the hour of six in the afternoon; and in the districts of Quebec and Montreal, during vacation, Mondays excepted, from the hour of nine in the morning until the hour of four in the afternoon of every juridical day, and in the districts of Three Rivers, St. Francis, and Gaspé, during vacation, from the hour of nine in the morning until noon, and from the hour of two to the hour of four in the afternoon.

V. That the sheriff, the prothonotary and the crier, do personally attend in court, in their respective places, de die in diem, during each term from the opening until the rising of the court, and in like manner during all sittings of the court held in vacation.

VI. That no barrister, or attorney, prothonotary, sheriff, crier, bailiff, or sheriff's officer, shall be bail or surety in any action or proceedings cognizable by this court, or by any judge thereof.

VII. That all orders and rules for the conduct and regulation of the sheriff in the execution of his duty, shall extend to the coroner, in all cases in which such duty shall be executed by him.

CHAPTER II.

GENERAL ORDERS.

VIII. That the rules and orders of practice of this court shall be fairly entered by the prothonotary in a book to be by him kept for that purpose; and all decisions of this court on points of practice, shall also be entered by the prothonotary, when so directed by the court, in another book to be by him kept for that purpose—to each of which books there shall be an index, and all practitioners of this court, shall, during office hours, have access thereto, and therefrom be allowed to take extracts and copies gratis.

IX. That all writs and other practical forms, which are or shall be settled by this court, shall in like manner be fairly entered by the prothonotary in a register to be by him kept for that purpose, to which there shall be an index, and all practitioners of this court shall at all times, during office hours, have access thereto, and therefrom be allowed to take extracts and copies gratis.

X. That every wilful breach of an order or rule of practice of this court (to which no fine or other specific punishment is provided in the body of such rule or order) shall be considered a contempt of court, and punished accordingly.

XI. That in computations of time no fractions of a day be allowed, nor shall any Sunday or binding holiday (sic d'obligation) be reckoned unless

—V. art. 24, p. 4 ante.

XII. That whenever any delay shall expire on a non-judicial day, such delay shall be enlarged to the next judicial day.—Ibid.

XIII. That no paper of any description shall be received by the prothonotary, in any cause, unless the same be regularly docketted by mentioning the title and number of the cause, the general description of such paper, and the party filing the same.

CHAPTER III.

OF PROCESS AD RESPONDENDUM.

XIV. That a register of all and every process ad respondendum whatsoever, issued from this court, specifying the names of the parties, the amount demanded, the cause of action, and the return day of each process respectively, shall be kept by the prothonotary, to which all persons, during office hours, shall have access gratis.

XV. That no process ad respondendum of any description shall issue, until an appearance for the party requiring such process, and a præcipe, for the same, be filed in the office of the prothonotary.—V. art. 44, p. 8 ante.

XVI. That no process ad respondendum, founded upon affidavit, shall issue in any suit until the affidavit upon which such process is founded be filed by the plaintiff in the office of the prothonotary.

CHAPTER IV.

OF CERTIFICATES OF SERVICE, &c.

XVII. That every affidavit or certificate of service shall particularly describe the manner, place and time of service, in letters, and also the distance, from the place of service, to the court house, at which the party is required to appear.—V. art. 78, p. 13 ante.

XVIII. That all services on the attorney of any party be made between the hours of nine a.m. and six p.m., from the twenty-first of March to the twenty-first of September; and between the hours of nine a.m. and five p.m. during the remainder of the year.—That every service of process and other service on any party to a suit be made between the hours of eight in the forenoon and the hour of seven in the afternoon.—V. art. 55, p. 10 ante.

CHAPTER V.

OF APPEARANCES—AND OF BAIL.

XIX. That of every appearance which shall be filed for a defendant, a duplicate or certified copy shall be served during the same day upon the plain-tiff's attorney.—V. art. 83, p. 13 ante.

XX. That no change of attorneys shall in any case be allowed without leave of court, or of a judge in vacation.—V. arts. 200 et seq., p. 29 ante.

XXI. That an attorney who shall appear for any person shall not, without leave of court, or a judge in vacation, be permitted to withdraw from the suit in which he shall have so appeared.—V. art. 201, p. 29 ante.

XXII. That in every suit in which a party shall cease to be represented by attorney he may be compelled, by rule of court, to substitute an attorney or an appearance in person; and in default of a plaintiff so doing, his action shall be dismissed with costs, sous le seigneur—in default of a defendant so doing it shall be competent for the plaintiff to proceed ex parte.—V. art. 203, p. 29 ante.

XXIII. That no surrender of any defendant, by himself or by his bail, shall be valid or effectual, or allowed as such, unless such surrender be made in open court, or before one of the judges of this court in vacation, nor unless the court or such judge before whom such surrender shall be made, shall have made an entry or minute of such surrender, and shall have committed such defendant thereupon to the custody of the sheriff in discharge of such bail; and in every case of surrender made before any judge of the court, the minute of such surrender shall forthwith be returned into the office of the prothonotary, and there be filed of record, in the suit to which such minute shall relate, and a copy of such minute shall, by the prothonotary, be delivered with such defendant to the said sheriff.—V. art. 831, p. 127 ante.

CHAPTER VI.

OF EXHIBITS AND COMMUNICATION OF PAPERS.

XXIV. That all paper-writings, whereon any declaration or other pleading is founded, or duly certified copies of such papers, shall, with lists thereof, be filed together with such declaration or other pleading respectively, and not afterwards, unless by the special permission of the court; and that all other paper-writings which any party shall see fit to produce in evidence, together with the originals of all actes sous seing privé, copies of which shall have been filed as hereinbefore directed, shall be exhibited and filed with lists thereof, before the enquête of the party producing the same be closed.—V. arts. 99 et seq., p. 16 ante.

XXV. That every list of exhibits shall be an index to all the exhibits therewith filed, by number, title, date and description, under the signature of the attorney or party filing such exhibits, and any exhibit, which shall not be so mentioned in such list, shall not be received.—Ibid.

XXVI.—That all delays to plead shall be reckoned from the day on which the exhibits, in support of the pleading to be answered, shall have been filed.—V. art. 103., p. 17 ante.

XXVII.—That all parties to a suit shall be entitled to communication of all exhibits and other paper-writing, filed in such suit, at the office of the prothonotary.—V. art. 101, p. 17 ante.

XXVIII.—That of all exhibits or other paper-writings in any cause, being copies of actes authentiques or of papers sous scing privé, communication shall be given on the receipt of the party indorsed, dated and signed upon the list of exhibits, and such party shall be entitled to retain such copies in communication during forty-eight hours; it being expressly provided that no original paper-writing shall be removed from the office of the prothonotary for any cause whatsoever.

XXIX.—That no exhibit, in any cause, shall be withdrawn pending such cause, or within a year and a day from the final judgment in such cause, without an order of the court or of a judge in vacation; and before such exhibit or other paper-writing be withdrawn, a copy thereof (except of authentic instruments), certified by the prothonotary, shall be filed of record, unless otherwise ordered by the court or judge.

XXX.—That whenever the particulars of any demande shall not be disclosed by the declaration, and no bill of particulars shall be therewith filed, no proceedings shall be had upon such declaration, but the same shall, upon the motion of the adverse party, be rejected, and thereupon the action of the plaintiff be dismissed, unless it be otherwise ordered by the court upon sufficient cause shewn.—V. art. 50, p. 9 ante.

XXXI.—That of every pleading filed a certified copy shall be served upon the adverse party, and, until such service shall have been made, the pleading shall not be held to have been filed.—V. art. 462, p. 64 ante.

XXXII.—That no exception déclinatoire, péremptoire à la forme or dilatatoire be received unless the party offering such exception shall therewith deposit in the hands of the prothonotary the sum of two pounds one shilling and eightpence for every such exception, to answer the costs of the adverse party, if such exception be dismissed or withdrawn, in the proportion of eleven shillings and eightpence to the prothonotary, and one pound ten shillings to the attorney.—V. art. 112, p. 18 ante.

XXXIII.—That upon every exception déclinatoire, péremptoire à la forme or dilatatoire the plaintiff may move for hearing, without an answer; it being expressly provided that every plaintiff, so moving shall thereby, for the purpose of such hearing, be held to confess the allegations contained in such exception.

XXXIV.—That in every case in which an exception déclinaatoire, dilatoire or péremptoire la forme shall be filed, the delay to plead to the merits shall be computed from the day on which such exception shall have been disposed of.—V. art. 131-3, p. 20 ante.

XXXV.—That with every défense au fonds en droit shall be filed a notice assigning all the grounds of such défense au fonds en droit; it being expressly ordered that no party shall be permitted to urge any ground, in support of a défense au fonds en droit, not so set forth and particularised in such notice.—V. art. 147, p. 23 ante.—That every demurrer to a plea or special answer, shall contain an assignment of the causes on which that demurrer is founded.—(Promulgated, Quebec, June, 1854.)—(Additional rule promulgated subsequently, Quebec, June, 1854.)—That it shall be lawful for a defendant, by leave of a judge of this court, to pay into court the sum of money which such defendant acknowledges to owe to the plaintiff, and thereupon, unless the plaintiff shall accept thereof in full discharge of his suit, the said sum shall be struck out of the declaration and paid out of court to the plaintiff; and upon the trial of the issue, the plaintiff shall not be allowed to give evidence for the sum so acknowledged to be due.

CHAPTER VIII.

OF INCIDENTAL CROSS DEMANDS, INTERVENTIONS AND EVOCATIONS.

XXXVI.—That every incidental cross demand shall be filed at the same time with the plea to the action; and no such incidental cross demand shall be afterwards received.—V. art. 152, p. 24 ante.

XXXVII.—That every incidental cross demand shall be deemed a distinct action, and shall not delay the proceedings of the plaintiff.—V. art. 152, p. 24 ante.

XXXVIII.—That every cause brought by evocation before this court, and in which the plaintiff shall think fit to file another declaration, such plaintiff shall, within eight days from the allowance of such evocation, file such other declaration.

XXXIX.—That the rules, orders and delays prescribed by law, or by this court, with respect to the pleadings upon demands in chief, shall in all things apply to and be the rules, orders and delays, with respect to all pleadings upon incidental demands, interventions and causes brought before the court by evocation.

OF ENQUÊTES.

XL.—That there shall be kept in the office of the prothonotary, a roll, to be called the roll des enquêtes, upon upon which shall be inscribed all causes laid down for the adduction of proof.—V. art. 237, p. 33 ante.

XLI.—That no proof shall be adduced in any contested cause unless two days in term, or eight days in vacation, shall have intervened between the notice of such inscription and the day appointed for the making of proof.—V. art. 235, p. 33 ante.

XLII.—That as soon as the issues of fact shall be perfected in any cause in which no issue of law hath been raised, or, if raised, hath been disposed of, either party may inscribe the cause upon the roll des enquêtes.—V. art. 234, p. 33 ante.

XLIII.—That if, on the day appointed for adducing proof, the party bound to proceed shall not appear, or appearing shall not proceed, or shew legal cause for not proceeding, his enquête shall, upon the application of the adverse party, be declared closed, and a day, if necessary, shall be fixed for the enquête of such adverse party upon his application to that effect.—V. art. 283, p. 40 ante.

XLIV.—That a witness shall be examined by one counsel and no more, and cross-examined by one counsel and no more.

XLV.—That any cause inscribed on the roll des enquêtes shall remain thereon, until the enquête in such cause shall have been declared closed, and shall be held to be continued from day to day without any special application to that effect. Provided always that if more than one day shall elapse without any proceeding or application in such cause, and without the same being specially continued to a day certain, no proceeding or application shall thereafter be taken or received without notice of at least one day to the adverse party.

XLVI.—That all interrogatories to be annexed to any order or commission, in the nature of a commission rogatoire, unless settled by consent, shall be allowed by one of the judges.—V. art. 311, p. 43 ante.

XLVII.—That if any such order or commission shall not be returned on the day appointed for such return, (if such there be) or within a reasonable time after the issuing thereof, (if such order or commission be returnable without delay) it shall be competent for the parties to proceed in such cause, as if no order or commission had issued, unless good cause to the contrary be shewn, on motion to that effect.

XLVIII. That either party shall, at any time, have a right, by application to the court in term, or to a judge in vacation, to cause the return to any order or commission to be opened, unless good cause to the contrary be shewn; but the return to an order or commission, issued at the instance of the defendant, shall not be opened until the plaintiff's enquête be closed.—V. art. 313, p. 43.

XLIX. That in all cases in which the service of a rule for serment décisive or for faits et articles shall be made within the distance of five leagues from the court house, there shall be one intermediate judicial day between the day of service and the day of return, and when beyond that distance, one intermediate judicial day as above, and also one intermediate judicial day for every five leagues of distance.—(Additional rule promulgated subsequently.—Quebec, June, 1864.)—That a party served with a rule to answer interrogatories upon faits et articles, shall give his answers before the closing of the enquête of the party who has obtained the rule; and that no answers shall be afterwards received, except by leave of the court obtained on a special application for the same.

CHAPTER X.

OF THE INSCRIPTION OF CAUSES FOR HEARING.

L. That there be kept in the office of the prothonotary a roll, to be called the roll de droit, upon which shall be inscribed all causes for hearing upon any issue of law, or upon the merits, or other matter.

LI. That no contested cause shall be heard upon any inscription on the roll de droit unless two juridical days shall have intervened between the inscription and the day appointed for the hearing.—In the districts of Three Rivers, St. Francis, Gaspé, Ottawa and Kamouraska, the rule of practice formerly required but that one juridical day should intervene between the inscription and the hearing.—(Special rules promulgated 17th Dec., 1850, and 30th June, 1852.)—But this rule and sub-rule are now abrogated by art. 462 of the Code: r. p. 64 ante.

LII. That so soon as any issue of law is perfected either party may inscribe the cause on the roll de droit for hearing on such issue; and if, on the day appointed for the hearing, the party by whom such law issue hath been raised shall not appear, and his adversary shall appear, the pleading whereby the same hath been raised shall be dismissed with costs. If neither party be present the inscription shall be discharged.

LIII. That so soon as the enquête upon any preliminary exception shall be closed, either party may inscribe the same upon the roll de droit, for hearing on the merits of such exception, and if on the day appointed for the hearing thereof, the party excipient shall not appear, his exception shall on the application of the adverse party be dismissed

LIV. That as soon as the enquête in any contested cause shall be closed, either party may inscribe such cause on the roll de droit for hearing on the merits, and if, on the day appointed for the hearing thereof, the plaintiff shall not appear, his action shall on the application of the adverse party be dismissed with costs. If neither party appear, the inscription shall be discharged.

CHAPTER XI.

OF MOTIONS.

LIV. That no motion be received or heard unless previous notice thereof, of at least one day, be given to the adverse party, excepting the motions whereupon side-bar rules may be obtained, and those herein-after specially mentioned.

LVI. That the parties shall not be heard on any Rule unless one day shall have intervened between the service of such rule and the day appointed for the hearing thereof.

LVII. That every motion founded on special matter shall contain the grounds on which such motion is made, and no party shall be permitted to urge any ground in support of a motion not set forth in such motion.

LVIII. That the following motions, being motions of course, may be made and filed in the office of the prothonotary, and be by him received, and rules entered thereon, in the same manner as if made in open court:—

1. For the sheriff to return a writ—nisi :

2. For particulars—nisi :

3. For security for costs, the plaintiff being a person without that part of the province, heretofore Lower Canada, and stated so to be, in the declaration—nisi :

4. To give security for costs—nisi :

5. For a jury trial—nisi :

6. To strike a cause from the roll de droit or roll des enquêtes—nisi :

7. For a reference to experts—nisi :

8. To set aside or confirm a report—nisi :

9. To pay money into court—nisi :

10. To file a retraxit—nisi :

11. To dismiss for want of proceedings—nisi :

12. To discontinue on payment of costs—nisi :

13. For acte to party that he does not contest an opposition—nisi :

14. For a rule on defendant for main levée on such opposition—nisi :

15. To homologate a report of distribution—nisi :

16. For the sheriff to bring in the body—nisi.

LIX. That the following motions may be made and adjudicated upon without notice to the adverse party:—

1. For judgment pursuant to confession, or to a verdict of jury;

LXIX. That the striking of the jury shall take place in the office of the prothonotary.—V. art. 367, p. 52 ante.

LXX. That the party who obtains an order for a venire facias shall give a notice to the opposite party, of at least one day, of the time appointed for the striking of the jury, but the want of such notice shall not prevent the striking of the jury, if the party entitled to notice do not object to such want of notice.

LXXI. That if the attorney of either of the parties make default to appear before the prothonotary at the time appointed for the striking of the jury, or appearing, shall refuse to strike out from the list of jurors, in such cause, the names of twelve, or of any lesser number of such jurors, the prothonotary, in the absence, or on the refusal of such attorney, shall strike out of the said list of jurors, twelve on behalf of the party of such attorney, in the manner directed by law, or such lesser number as the attorney shall refuse or neglect to strike out.—V. art. 370, p. 53 ante.

LXXII. That in every case in which a trial by jury shall be ordered, two days at least before the day appointed for such trial, factums or paper books containing a statement of the facts to be proved and of the authorities in support of the demand and of the defence, be delivered by the parties respectively, sealed up, to the prothonotary, to be by him forthwith delivered to the judge whose duty it may be to preside at the trial of such case.—V. art. 393, p. 55 ante.

LXXIII. That so soon as the venire facias shall be returned, the parties shall be called, and if neither party shall appear, the jury shall be forthwith discharged; but if the plaintiff shall appear and the defendant, being so called, shall not appear, the default of such defendant shall be recorded, and thereupon the evidence of the plaintiff shall be heard ex parte, the verdict of the jury taken thereon, and judgment entered as to law and justice shall appertain. And if the defendant being so called shall appear, and the plaintiff, being called, shall not appear, the default of such plaintiff shall be recorded and judgment of non-suit thereupon entered in due course, dismissing such plaintiff, sauf à se pourvoir, with costs to the defendant.—V. art. 394, p. 55 ante.

LXXIV. That in every case in which a jury shall be sworn, and the plaintiff in such case shall choose, at any time before the verdict of such jury shall be given, to become non-suit, and for that purpose shall withdraw from the court, such plaintiff shall be called, and not appearing, the default of such plaintiff shall be recorded, and judgment of non-suit shall thereupon be entered in due course, dismissing such plaintiff sauf à se pourvoir with costs to the defendant.—V. art. 395, p. 56 ante.

LXXV. That a motion for judgment upon a verdict shall not be made until after the expiration of four days in term, from the day on which such verdict shall be recorded.—V. art. 421, p. 58 ante.

LXXVI. That every motion for a new trial, after verdict, be made on or before the fourth day in term next after the day on which such verdict shall be recorded.—V. art. 423, p. 59 ante.

LXXVII. That every motion in arrest of judgment after verdict, be made on or before the expiration of the fourth day in term, next after the day on which such verdict shall be recorded; except when a motion for a new trial shall have been made, in which case such motion in arrest of judgment shall be made on the second day next after the day on which such motion for a new trial, shall have been disposed of.—V. art. 424, p. 50 ante.

CHAPTER XIII.

OPPOSITIONS AND EXECUTIONS.

LXXVIII. That no writ of execution shall issue until a præcipe for such writ be filed in the office of the prothonotary, and that every such writ be endorsed or signed by the attorney or person by whom such writ shall be so sued out.—V. art. 545, p. 76 ante.

LXXIX. That a register of all writs of execution issued from this court, specifying the description of each writ, the parties to the cause in which it issues, the number of such cause, the name of the attorney or person by whom such writ shall be sued out, the amount to be levied by virtue thereof, the cause of action, the date of the judgment on which such writ shall be founded, the day on which such writ shall issue, and the return day thereof, be made and kept by the prothonotary in his office, to which all persons shall at all times, during office hours, have access gratis.—V. art. 718, p. 107 ante.

LXXX. That to all oppositions ajin d'annuller, ajin de charge or ajin de détruire, there shall be annexed an affidavit in the form following:—

LXXXI. And any opposition to which an affidavit in form aforesaid shall not be annexed, shall not delay the execution of any writ of fiery facias or renditioni expensis issued in any cause; and notwithstanding the service or filing of any such opposition, the sheriff shall in such cause, proceed to the due execution of such writ in like manner as if no opposition had been served or filed. It being nevertheless provided that all such oppositions shall be returned into this court with such writ.—Ibid.

LXXXII.—That in all cases of opposition ajin de distraire or ajin de charge, founded upon title, it shall not be necessary to annex to such oppositions any affidavit in support of the same.

LXXXIII.—That every opposition ajin de conserver be filed, on or before the sixth day next after the return day mentioned in the writ of execution, under which the monies claimed by such opposition shall have been levied; provided that in case the said writ be returned into the office of the prothonotary on a day subsequent to the said return day, such opposition may be filed on or before the sixth day next after the day on which such execution shall be so actually returned. And no opposition shall be afterwards received, unless upon sufficient cause shewn, and upon such terms as the court shall adjudge.—V. art. 730, p. 108 ante.—In the districts of Three Rivers, St. Francis, Gaspé, Ottawa and *Kamouraska, the following rule prevailed before the promulgation of the Code:—*That every opposition ajin de conserver be filed on or before the second day next after the return day mentioned in the writ of execution under which the monies claimed by such opposition shall have been levied. Provided that in case the said writ be returned in the office of the prothonotary on a day subsequent to the said return day such opposition may be filed on or before the second day next after the day on which such execution shall be so actually returned. And no opposition shall be afterwards received, unless upon sufficient cause shown, and upon such terms as the court shall adjudge.

LXXXIV.—That in every case wherein the plaintiff shall declare that he does not intend to contest an opposition ajin d'annuler, ajin de distraire or ajin de charge, the opposant shall be entitled to judgment of main levée, without proof; provided that the defendant, upon the service of a rule nisi to that effect, shall not shew cause to the contrary, or declare that he intends to contest such opposition.

LXXXV.—That the rules, orders and delays, prescribed by law or by this court, with respect to pleadings, enquêtes and hearings upon demands in chief, shall be the rules, orders and delays, with respect to all pleadings, enquêtes and hearings upon oppositions of every description.

LXXXVI.—That a register of all writs of execution, and of all oppositions filed in the office of the sheriff, containing a full description of such writs and oppositions, and of all proceedings and matters relating thereto, be made and kept by the said sheriff in his office, to which all persons shall, at all times during office hours, have access gratis.—V. art. 718, p. 107 ante.

LXXXVII.—That any opposition, made without the ministry of an attorney of this court, which shall not contain an election of domicile on the part of the opposant, at some dwelling-house within one mile from the court house, shall not be received or filed.—V. art. 583, 722, pp. 83, 108 ante.

LXXXVIII.—That every opposition shall contain the moyses upon which the same is founded, and that no other moyses d'opposition shall thereafter be received or filed.

LXXXIX.—That with every opposition ajin de conserve, shall be filed all the exhibits in support thereof, with a list of such exhibits.

XC.—That within twelve days after the return day of any writ of execution, and after the sheriff's return thereto, certifying that there are monies in his hands subject to the order of the court, the prothonotary shall prepare and file a report of distribution.—V. art. 724, p. 108 ante.—In the districts of Three Rivers, St. Francis, Gaspé, Ottawa and Kamouraska, the following rule prevailed before the promulgation of the Code of Civil Procedure:—That within four days after the return day of any writ of execution, and after the sheriff's return thereof, certifying that there are monies in his hands subject to the order of the court, the prothonotary shall prepare and file a report of distribution or of collocation.

XCI.—That the prothonotary shall prepare a list of all such reports filed, and that such list shall be posted up in some conspicuous place in the office of the prothonotary.

XCI.—That any party intending to contest such report shall file his contestation at the office of the prothonotary, on or before the expiration of eight days next after the filing of such report; provided always, that if the report of distribution be filed on any day other than a Monday, the delay for filing the contestation, shall be computed from the Monday next following the day on which such report shall have been filed.—V. art. 742, p. 112 ante.—In the districts of Three Rivers, St. Francis, Gaspé, Ottawa and Kamouraska, the following rule prevailed before the promulgation of the Code of Civil Procedure:—That any party intending to contest such report shall file his contestation (after a copy thereof has been served on the interested party) at the office of the prothonotary on or before the expiration of two days next after the filing of such report.

been filed, the plaintiff, may move that the said report be homologated with costs: and if the plaintiff omit to make such motion, on the juridical day next following the expiration of the delay for the filing of contestations, any other party collocated may make such motion.—V. art. 749, p. 113 ante.—(Subsequent promulgation, June, 1854.)—That immediately after the delay for filing a contestation to a report of distribution shall have expired, if no contestation has been filed, the plaintiff may give notice that he will move on the first juridical day of the ensuing term, that the said report be homologated with costs; and if the plaintiff omit to give such notice on the juridical day next following the expiration of the delay for the filing of contestation, any other party collocated may give such notice.—That the said notice shall not be served on the parties; but that the same shall be posted in the prothonotary's office, at least four days.—Ibid.

XCIV.—That the rule obtained for the homologation of such report shall not be served on the parties, but that the same shall be posted in the prothonotary's office, as heretofore, at least four days.—Ibid.—In the districts of Three Rivers, St. Francis, Gaspé, Ottawa and Konouaska, the following rule prevailed before the promulgation of the Code of Civil Procedure:—That the rule obtained for the homologation of any report or partial report shall not be served on the parties, but that the same shall be posted up by a bailiff of the court in the prothonotary's office, at least one juridical day.

XCIV.—That in every case in which a report of distribution shall be made and filed by the prothonotary, and a contestation of such report or of any claim or opposition on which such report shall be founded, shall be made and filed, such report, upon motion to be made as hereinafter mentioned, shall be confirmed and homologated, as to all uncontested claims and oppositions which shall precede in rank the claim or opposition which, by such contestation, shall be contested, and as to all other uncontested claims or oppositions (if any there shall be) which cannot be affected by such contestation; and judgment according to such report, in so far as the same shall be so confirmed and homologated, shall be entered up and recorded, unless cause to the contrary shall be shewn. It being hereby provided that the rule for such partial homologation shall not be served upon the parties, but that the same be publicly affixed in the office of the prothonotary at least four days. And that the plaintiff shall have an exclusive right to move for the partial homologation of such report during the juridical day next following the expiration of the delay for the filing of contestations; and if the plaintiff omit to move for the partial homologation of the report, within the said juridical day, immediately thereafter, any party collocated may move for such partial homologation.

XCVI.—That none of the delays hereinbefore mentioned with respect to oppositions ajin de conserver, and reports of collocation and distribution, shall be held to run during the month of August.—V. art 1, p. 1 ante.

CHAPTER XIV.

XCVII.—That any party requiring a notice of an application for a confirmation of title shall demand the same by a précipie.—V. art. 950, p. et seq., p. 145 ante.

CHAPTER XV.

SAISIE ARRÊT AFTER JUDGMENT.

XCVIII.—That any party intending to contest the declaration of a tiers saisi, shall file his contestation within eight days from the making of the declaration of the tiers saisi, if the attachment be an attachment after judgment; and if the attachment be an attachment before judgment, then within eight days from the rendering of the judgment in the original cause.—V. art. 626, p. 90 ante.

XCIX.—That the rules, orders and delays prescribed by law or by this court with respect to pleadings, enquêtes, and hearings upon demands in chief, shall be the rules, orders and delays with respect to all pleadings, enquêtes, and hearings upon the Contestation of the declaration of any tiers saisi.—V. art. 627, p. 90 ante.

CHAPTER XVI.

INSCRIPTIONS EN FAUX.

C.—A party desirous of inscribing en faux against an exhibit filed shall, by motion addressed to the court, pray leave so to do.—V. art. 161, p. 25 ante.

CI. The motion for leave to inscribe en faux shall be signed by the party in whose name it is made, or by an attorney specially authorized so to do, and an authenticated copy of the power of attorney given shall be filed with the said motion.—(Subsequent promulgation, June, 1854.)—That a motion for leave to inscribe en faux against an exhibit filed, shall be made within four days of the filing of the exhibit, and not afterwards, unless allowed on special application for the same.—Ibid.

CII. The party filing such exhibit shall, within a delay to be prescribed by the court, on motion of the plaintiff en faux, declare in writing whether he intend to avail himself of such exhibit in support of the allegations set forth in his pleading.—V. art. 163, p. 25 ante.

CIV. If the defendant en fauce declare that he does not intend to avail himself of such exhibit in support of his allegations, the said exhibit shall be taken off the files of the court, and shall be held and considered, to all intents and purposes, to have been withdrawn by the party who files the same.—Ibid.

CV. If the defendant en fauce declare his intention to avail himself of such exhibit for the purposes aforesaid, he shall file the minute thereof, if there be a minute, in the office of the prothotary, within such time as shall be prescribed by the court, and in default of so doing, the said exhibit shall, on motion of the plaintiff en fauce, be taken off the files of the court, and held and considered, to all intents and purposes, to have been withdrawn by the party who filed the same.—V. art. 167, p. 26 ante.

CVI. Two days after the plaintiff en fauce shall have been notified of the filing of the said minute at the office of the said prothotary, the said plaintiff shall file, under his own signature or that of his attorney ad lites, his inscription en fauce, containing all the moyens de fauce, a copy whereof shall be served on the attorney of the adverse party.—Alterci by Code. V. art. 170, p. 26 ante.

CVII. If the said plaintiff omit so to do, the leave granted to him to inscribe en fauce shall, on motion of the adverse party, be set aside, and the plaintiff on the original demand allowed to proceed as if leave to inscribe en fauce had not been granted.

CVIII. When the moyens de fauce are filed, the defendant en fauce may move that the said moyens be declared irrelevant and inadmissible, on which motion it shall be competent to the court, if it reject the same, to declare the moyens de fauce relevant and admissible, and to order the defendant en fauce to file his plea thereto within a given delay, to be computed from the day of the making of the procès-verbal next herein-after mentioned.

CIX. That immediately after the rendering of the said judgment declaring the moyens de fauce relevant and admissible, the plaintiff or defendant en fauce may move that a procès-verbal, descriptive of the exhibit filed, be made in the presence of the adverse party, or his attorney ad lites.

CX. If the defendant en fauce omit to file his plea, as ordered, the plaintiff en fauce shall be allowed to proceed ex parte.

CXI. The plaintiff en fauce may, within two days from the day of the filing of such plea, file a special answer thereto, if he think fit.

CXII.—Either party may inscribe the cause on the roll d'enquête for the adduction of evidence.

CXIII.—The enquête being closed, either party may inscribe the cause for final hearing.

CXIV.—The cause being inscribed on the roll d'enquête, and subsequently on the roll de droit, the proceedings thereon shall be regulated by the orders and rules of practice of this court.—V. art. 172, p. 26 ante.

OF THE

CIRCUIT COURT, PROVINCE OF QUEBEC.

GENERAL RULES.

I. That the court be opened at the hour of ten in the forenoon of each juridical day, unless otherwise specially adjourned.

II. That the queen's counsel, barristers, attorneys and officers of the court be habited in the manner prescribed by the rules of practice of the superior court.

III. That every attorney elect his domicile within one mile from the court house, in default whereof he shall be considered to have elected his domicile at the office of the clerk.—C. arts. 85, 1139, pp. 14, 174 ante.

IV. That the office of the clerk, in the districts of Quebec and Montreal, be open, in vacation, from the hour of 8, a. m., to the hour of 4, p. m.; and during term, from 8, a. m., to 6

p. m. And, in the districts of Three Rivers, Saint Francis, and Gaspé, from 9, a. m., till noon, and from 2 to 4, p. m., in vacation; and during term, from 8, a. m., till 6, p. m.

V. That no attorney or officer of the court be received as bail or surety in any cause.

VI. That the clerk shall keep a register of every process ad respondendum issuing from this court, specifying the names of the parties, the amount demanded, the cause of action and the day of return.—C. art. 1059, p. 161 ante.

VII. That in all cases in which the defendant is entitled to a bill of particulars, a copy thereof shall be annexed to the original writ or declaration and to the copy to be served on the defendant, and in default thereof, the plaintiff's action shall, on motion of the defendant, be dismissed with costs, sauf à se pourvoir.

VIII. That all services on attorneys be made between the hours of nine in the forenoon and six in the afternoon, from the 21st of March to 21st of September, and between the hours of 9, a. m., and 5 p. m., during the remainder of the year.

IX. That no change of attorney be allowed without leave of the court.—V. arts. 200, 1059, pp. 29, 161 ante.

X. That when a party ceases to be represented by attorney, he may, by rule of court, be compelled to name another attorney. In default of a plaintiff so doing, his action shall be dismissed with costs, sauf à se pourvoir. If the defendant omit so to do, the plaintiff shall be allowed to proceed as if the defendant had not appeared in the cause.—Ibid.

XI. That all exhibits, with a list thereof, be filed with the declaration or plea, as the case may require.—V. arts. 991, et seq., and 1059, pp. 16, 161 ante.

XII. That no party shall be bound to file any acte sous seing privé, before his enquête; but that a certified copy of such document shall be filed with the declaration or plea, as is above directed.—Ibid.

XIII. That if a defendant neglect to file his exhibits with his plea, such exhibit shall not be afterwards received or filed, unless allowed by the court.—Ibid.

XIV. That either of the parties in a cause may take from the clerk's office all exhibits filed, except writings sous seing privé, and the same keep during one day, on signing a receipt for the same on the list filed in the cause.—Ibid.

XV. That every defense au fonds en droit shall contain an assignment of the causes of demurrer.—V. arts. 147, 1059, pp. 23, 161 ante.

XVI. That all incidental cross-demands be filed with the defendant's plea, and that all rules of practice shall apply to incidental cross-demands.—V. arts. 152, 1059, pp. 24, 161 ante.

XVII. That every such incidental cross-demand shall be considered a distinct action, and shall not delay the proceedings on the principal demand.—Ibid.

XVIII. That every notice of motion or rule nisi shall be served one day in term, and two days in vacation, before the party can be called upon to show cause.

XIX. That of all motions for attachments two days' notice shall be given, accompanied by a copy of all affidavits to be filed in support of such motion.

XX. That all papers filed shall be regularly docketted, by specifying the title and number of the cause, describing the paper filed, and stating by whom filed.

XXI. That all applications for security for costs be made on or before the second (now fourth) day after the day of return.—V. arts. 120, 135, 1059, pp. 19, 21, 161 ante.

holydays—fetes d'obligation—shall not be reckoned, unless otherwise provided by law—(Code provides that they shall.)—V. art. 24, p. 4 ante.

XXIII. That when any delay shall expire on a non-judicial day, such delay shall be held to extend to the close of the next judicial day.—Ibid.

XXIV. That the clerk shall not receive or file any pleading or paper-writing, unless the fee allowed thereon be paid.—

XXV. That no exception dilatoire, péremptoire à la forme, or dilatoire be received unless the party offering such exception shall therewith deposit in the hands of the clerk, the sum of one pound six shillings and eight pence, for every such exception, to answer the cost of the adverse party, if such exception be dismissed or withdrawn, in the proportion of six shillings and eight pence to the clerk, and twenty shillings to the attorney.—V. art. 1059, p. 161 ante.

XXVI.—That every affidavit or certificate of service shall particularly describe the manner, place, and time of service, in letters, and also the distance from the place of service to the court house, at which the party is required to appear.—V. arts. 78, 1059, pp. 13, 161 ante.

XXVII.—That it shall be the duty of the clerk to call the causes, each day, in the following order:

1. Causes returned.
2. Non appealable causes fixed for final hearing, exparte.
3. Non appealable causes in which one of the parties is to be heard on the serment décisoire.

4. Non appealable causes contested.

5. Appealable causes, exparte.

6. Appealable causes contested.

OF ENQUÊTES.

XXVIII.—That the clerk shall keep a roll of all causes inscribed for the adduction of evidence.

XXIX.—That of every inscription on the roll d'enquete one day's notice shall be given in term and four days in vacation.—V. art. 1073, p. 165 ante.

XXX.—That if the plaintiff or defendant is not ready to examine his witnesses on the day fixed for the enquete, his enquete shall, on motion, be declared closed.

XXXI. That every application for an order or a commission, in the nature of a commission rogatoire, for the examination of witnesses, be applied for within two (now four) days after issue joined.—V. arts. 308 et seq. 1059, pp. 43, 161 ante.

XXXII.—That all interrogatories annexed to such commission, whether for the examination of witnesses or of a party on faits et articles, shall be allowed by a judge before the party can be called upon to answer.—Ibid.

XXXIII.—That either party may, at any period, cause the return to a commission by him sued out to be opened, unless good cause to the contrary be shewn. But the return to a commission sued out by a defendant shall not be opened until plaintiff's enquête has been closed.—Ibid.

ROLL DE DROIT.

XXXIV.—That the clerk shall keep a roll of all causes inscribed for preliminary hearing en droit, and another roll of all causes inscribed for final hearing on the merits.

XXXV.—That of all such inscriptions one day's notice shall be given in term and two days in vacation.

XXXVI.—That either party may inscribe the cause for final hearing on the merits, or for a preliminary hearing en droit.—All causes are now inscribed at the same time for proof and hearing, and the hearing on the law issue may be reserved till after proof.—V. arts. 1072 and 1077, p. 165 ante.

OF OPPOSITIONS.

XXXVII.—All oppositions shall contain the reasons or moyens d'opposition, and none shall be admitted after the filing of any opposition.

XXXVIII.—Each opposition ajin d'annuler or de distraire, shall be supported by an affidavit in the following form :

Lower Canada, }

C.D. DEFENDANT.

A.B., of—being duly sworn, doth depose and say, that the facts articulated and set forth in the annexed opposition ajin d'annuler—and each of them, and are true, and that the said opposition is not made with any intent unjustly to retard or delay the sale of the whole or any part of the moveable or immoveable property, seized by virtue of the writ of execution in this cause issued, but that the same is made in good faith, for the sole purpose of obtaining justice.

Sworn before me, at this—day of—18—.—V. arts. 583, 1089, pp. 83, 167 ante.

XXXIX.—No bailiff shall receive any of the oppositions above-mentioned, unless supported by such affidavit; but it shall be the duty of the bailiff to proceed as if no such opposition had been presented to him. —Oppositions to the execution of a writ de bonis, issued from the circuit court, are served upon the bailiff charged with the execution of such writ, by service upon him by a bailiff in the ordinary manner of a true copy of the said opposition.—C. XLIII.—The party filing such exhibit shall, within the delay to be prescribed by the court, on motion of the plaintiff en faux, declare in writing, if he intends to avail himself of such exhibit in support of the allegations set forth in his pleading.—V. arts. 165, 1059, pp. 25, 161 ante.

XLIII.—Should the party filing such exhibit omit to make such declaration in writing, signed by himself or by his attorney ad lites, within the time prescribed, the said exhibit shall by order of the court, on the motion of the plaintiff en faux, be taken off the files of the court, and thereafter be held and considered to all intents and purposes, to have been withdrawn by the party who filed the same.—V. arts. 166, 1059, pp. 26, 161 ante.

XLIV.—If the defendant en faux declare that he does not intend to avail himself of such exhibit in support of his allegations, the said exhibit shall be taken off the files of the court and shall be held and considered to all intents and purposes, to have been withdrawn by the party who filed the same.—Ibid.

XLV.—If the defendant en faux declare his intention to avail himself of such exhibit for the purposes aforesaid, he shall file the minute thereof, if there be a minute, in the office of the clerk, within such time as shall be prescribed by the court, and in default of so doing, the said exhibit shall, on motion of the plaintiff en faux, be taken off the files of the court, and held and considered, to all intents and purposes to have been withdrawn by the party who filed the same.—V. arts. 167, 1059, pp. 26, 161 ante.

LXVI.—Two days after the plaintiff en faux shall have been notified of the filing of the said minute at the office of said clerk, the said plaintiff shall file, under his signature or that of his attorney ad lites, his inscription en faux, containing all the moyens de faux, a copy whereof shall be served on the attorney of the adverse party. If the said plaintiff omit so to do, the leave granted to him to inscribe en faux shall, on motion of the adverse party, be set aside, and the plaintiff on the original demand, allowed to proceed as if leave to inscribe en faux had not been allowed.—V. arts. 170, 1059, pp. 26, 161 ante.

LXVII.—When the moyens de faux are filed, the defendant en faux may move that the said moyens be declared irrelevant and inadmissible—on which motion, it shall be competent for the court, if it reject the same, to declare the moyens de faux relevant and admissible, and to order the defendant en faux to file his plea thereto, within a given delay to be computed from the day of the making of the procès verbal next hereinafter mentioned.

XLVIII.—That immediately after the rendering of the said judgment declaring the moyens de faux relevant and admissible, the plaintiff or defendant en faus may move that a procès verbal, descriptive of the exhibit filed, be made in the presence of the adverse party, or his attorney ad lites.

XLIX.—If the defendant en faus omit to file his plea, as ordered, the plaintiff en faus shall be allowed to proceed ex parte.—V. arts. 172, 1059, pp. 26, 161 ante.

L.—The plaintiff en faus may, within two days from the day of the filing of such plea, file a special answer thereto, if he think fit.—Ibid.

LI.—Either party may inscribe the cause on the roll d'enquête for the adduction of evidence.—Ibid.

LII.—The enquête being closed, either party may inscribe the cause for final hearing.—Ibid.

LIII.—This cause being inscribed on the roll d'enquête, and on the roll de droit, the proceedings thereon shall be regulated by the orders and rules of practice of this court.—Ibid.

The Following Rules of Practice shall Apply Specially to Non-Appellable cases.

LIV.—That the parties shall be bound to proceed to evidence on the day named for that purpose; should the plaintiff not be ready to proceed, his action shall be dismissed with costs, sans à se pourvoir—in case the defendant is not ready to proceed the plaintiff shall be allowed to proceed ex parte.

LV.—The attorneys shall sign all pleadings by them filed—the clerk shall enter on the declaration the name of the defendant's attorney.

LVI.—All interrogatories upon the serment décisoire or upon faits et articles shall be served the day before that on which the party is to answer, when the party to be interrogated does not reside more than five leagues from the court house, and when the said party resides at a distance of more than five leagues from the court house, an additional delay of one day shall be required for every additional five leagues.—But the judge may, in his discretion, allow either party to be interrogated on the serment décisoire without requiring the interrogatories to be in writing.

FOR THE
SUPERIOR COURT FOR LOWER CANADA
SITTING AS A COURT OF REVIEW,

(UNDER THE AUTHORITY OF THE PROVINCIAL STATUTE 27 AND 28 VIC., CAP. 39), PROMULGATED AT QUEBEC ON THE FOURTH DAY OF NOVEMBER, 1865.

I. It is ordered that in every case of revision before the said court the party aggrieved shall make and file a statement in writing of the grounds or reasons of revision to be submitted to the said court.

II. The said statement shall be divided into distinct items or articles, each of which shall be regularly numbered in succession, and shall in a summary manner explicitly set out and state each particular ground or reason aforesaid, with the point of law or fact upon which said ground or reason shall rest.

III. The said party may, if he see fit, append to such ground or reason the authorities of law, by reference or at length, relied upon for each such ground or reason.

IV. The said party shall file in each case an original of the said statement, to remain of record therein, and a duplicate thereof, for the use of the said court, both original and duplicate to be signed by the counsel of the said party aggrieved.

The said original and duplicate shall be produced and filed of record in each case on the day on which the case shall be appointed to be heard, and no hearing shall be allowed or had until the said statement, original and duplicate, shall be so filed. No party shall be heard upon any grounds or reasons of revision other than those set out in the said statement.

RULES OF PRACTICE

OF THE

COURT OF QUEEN'S BENCH

IN THE

EXERCISE OF ITS CIVIL APPELLATE JURISDICTION.

CANADA—PROVINCE OF QUEBEC.

PROMULGATED JULY TERM, 1850.

I. That this court, in the exercise of its appellate civil jurisdiction, be opened at the hour of ten in the forenoon of each of the juridical days on which the same is by law appointed to be held, unless an order, or adjournment to the contrary be made.

II. That the queen's counsel and advocates, practising in this court, and the clerk of the court, when in the discharge of their respective duties in court, be habited in black, and in robes and bands, as heretofore hath been used; and that no queen's counsel, or advocate, not so habited, and in such robes and bands, be heard in any cause.

III. That all records, registers, books, and papers, belonging to and filed in the court, be kept in the places assigned for the safe custody thereof, in the court houses, respectively, at the places where this court is by law appointed to be held, and be not then removed, or taken therefrom, on any pretence whatever, without the order of this court.

IV. That the office of the clerk of this court, in what relates to its jurisdiction as a court of appeal and error, be kept in the apartments assigned for it in the court houses respectively, at the places where this court is by law appointed to be held; and that the said office, in the said court houses, respectively, during the present and every future term, be open and regular and proper attendance afforded therein, from the hour of nine in the forenoon, until the hour of five in the afternoon of every day (sundays and holydays excepted), and during the vacation after each term, from the hour of ten in the forenoon till the hour of three in the afternoon of every day, sundays and holydays excepted.

V. That there shall be prepared and kept, by the said clerk of this court, in what respects its civil appellate jurisdiction in his office, a fit and proper book, in which shall be made the entries therein-mentioned; that is to say, every attorney of this court, before the first day of September next, shall make in the said book an entry, in writing, and to be signed by him, of his name and of his real and elected domicile, in the cities of Quebec and Montreal, respectively, that is to say, of his real domicile in one or other of the said cities, if resident in either of them, and of his elected domicile in that in which he is not resident, or of his elected domicile, in each of the said cities, if not resident in either of them, at which real or elected domicile all pleadings, summonses, rules, orders and notices, of which the service on him may be required, may lawfully be made. And every attorney hereafter to be admitted, shall, on his admission, and before he commences practising in this court, make in the said book a like entry. And as often as any attorney of this court shall change his real or elected domicile, or domiciles, of which an entry shall have been made as aforesaid, he shall make a like entry of such change; and all pleadings, summonses, rules, orders and notices, which do not require personal service, shall be deemed and taken to be sufficiently served on such attorney, if a copy thereof be left at the place last entered by such attorney as aforesaid, as his real or elected domicile, with any person of competent age and discretion resident at, or belonging to such place. And if any such attorney shall neglect to make such entry as aforesaid, then the fixing up of any notice, pleading, summons, rule or order, for such attorney, in the said office of the said clerk of this court shall be deemed and taken to be service thereof, and as effectual as if the same had been served at such real or elected domicile as aforesaid.—V. art. 1139, p. 174 ante.

VI. That a schedule of all suit, depending in this court, specifying, in each suit, the names of the parties,—the date of the writ of appeal, or of the writ of error,—the time when returned,—or if not returned, the fact of its not being returned,—the names of the attorneys by whom appearances for the parties have been filed,—and the date of such appearance,—and, if not filed, the fact that they have not been filed,—the days on which the reasons of appeal,—and the answer thereto,—and the cases of the parties (if filed) have been filed, and, if not filed, the fact that they have not been filed,—the day on which each suit, if inscribed on the roll for hearing hath been so inscribed,—and the day which by such inscription is fixed for the hearing of such suit, shall be made and kept by the said clerk of this court, on the first day of the next, and of every succeeding term; and such schedule shall be deemed and taken in all parts to be an official certificate by the said clerk of this court, of the state of such suits, severally and respectively, on the first day of the term, when such schedule shall be laid before the court as aforesaid.

VII. That no writ of appeal or writ of error shall issue from this court, unless a præcipe for the same, signed by the attorney suing out such writ, be first delivered to the proper officer, by whom the said writ is to be issued; and every such writ shall be written on parchment and shall bear the signature of the attorney, upon whose præcipe the same shall be issued, and shall be made returnable at the place at which this court shall be held next after the issuing of such writ, within fifteen (now twenty) days from the date thereof; except such writs of appeal and writs of error, as may be directed to the judge of the superior court for the district of Gaspé, which shall be made returnable within two calendar months from the date thereof.—V. art. 1121, p. 172 ante.

VIII. That personal service of any writ of appeal, or writ of error, upon the attorney who has appeared in the court below, for the respondent or the defendant in error, as heretofore has been practised, shall in default of the legal service, be held and taken to be legal service.—V. art. 1123, p. 172 ante.

IX. That the writs, pleadings, motions, and exhibits, and other paper writings, comprising any record to be hereafter transmitted to this court shall, by the prothonotary of the court from which such record proceeds, at the head of each, be separately numbered respectively from number one to the entire number thereof, and that an index of reference to the whole, by number, title, and description, under the signature of such prothonotary, shall be by him annexed to such record.

X. That the postage paid by the said clerk of this court, on the return to writs of appeal and writs of error, and the records accompanying them, shall, on demand, be forthwith reimbursed to him by the attorney of the appellant or plaintiff in error, and, if not so reimbursed, the payment thereof by such attorney may be immediately enforced, by resort to the summary jurisdiction of this court.

XI. That on every writ of appeal, or writ of error, hereafter to be issued it shall be incumbent on the appellant and respondent or the plaintiff and defendant in error, respectively, to enter his appearance in the office of the said clerk of this court, on or before the eighth day next after the day on which such writ of appeal, or writ of error, has been made returnable, and, in default thereof, shall be precluded from entering an appearance in such suit, in which subsequent proceedings may be had ex parte against the party so in default as aforesaid.—V. art. 1128, p. 273 ante.

XII. That the reasons of appeal, or the assignment of errors, as the case may require, in every suit, shall be filed within eight days next after the return of the writ of appeal, or writ of error, as the case may be, and the transmission of the record and proceedings from the court below, and shall contain, specifically the several grounds and reasons of appeal, and the several errors for which the reversal of the judgment appealed from is sought; and if the reasons of appeal, or the assignment of errors be not filed within the time aforesaid, it shall be competent to the attorney of the respondent or defendant in error, by notice in writing under his signature, directed to the attorney of the appellant or plaintiff in error, in such suit, to demand the reasons of appeal or the assignment of errors, as the case may require, and, if the reasons of appeal, or the assignment of errors, be not filed within six days' service of such notice, every such suit in appeal, or in error, shall be dismissed with costs.—V. art. 1133-7, p. 174 ante.

XIII. That the answers to reasons of appeal in every suit in appeal, and the joinder in error in every suit in error, shall be filed within eight days after the filing of the reasons of appeal or the assignment of errors; and if not so filed it shall be competent to the attorney of the appellant or of the plaintiff in error, as the case may be, by notice in writing under his signature, directed to the attorney of the respondent or defendant in error, in such suit, to demand the answers to the reasons of appeal or the joinder in error; and if such answer, or joinder in error, shall not, within four days from the service of such notice, be filed, the respondent or defendant in error as the case may be shall be wholly precluded from filing an answer to the reasons of appeal, or a joinder in error; and the appellant or plaintiff in error may, after notice given to the adverse party of his intention so to do, proceed to a hearing of his suit in appeal or in error ex parte, and to judgment therein, without the intervention of the respondent or defendant in error.—V. art. 1136-8, p. 174 ante.

XIV. That the cases of the appellant and respondent or plaintiff and defendant in error, in every suit in appeal, or error, to the number of ten on each side, shall be delivered by the appellant and respondent, the plaintiff and defendant in error, respective-

And if the case of the appellant or the plaintiff in error, be not so delivered and filed the suit in appeal or in error, of such appellant or plaintiff in error, shall be deemed to be deserted, and on motion of the respondent or defendant in error, shall be dismissed with costs. And, if the cases of the respondent or defendant in error be not delivered and filed as aforesaid, such respondent or defendant in error shall be deemed to have deserted such suit in appeal or error, and the same may be heard ex parte, on the part of the appellant or plaintiff in error, and judgment rendered therein, without the intervention of the respondent or defendant in error.—V. art. 1140, p. 174 ante.

XV. That when and so soon as the answers to the reasons of appeal, or the rejoinder in error, as the case may require, shall be filed, it shall be competent to either party, by whom cases have been filed, to set down such suit for hearing, by inscribing the same on a docket roll to be kept by the said clerk of this court for that purpose, in vacation or in term, of which inscription two days' notice shall be given to the adverse party.—V. art. 1141, p. 174 ante.

XVI. That after the inscription of a cause for final hearing, it shall be the duty of the said

clerk of this court, without delay, to deliver to the judges, respectively, printed cases, making part of the cases, which have been filed as aforesaid in such case, and furnish the attorney of each party, who shall have filed his case, on his demand, with a printed copy of the case of the adverse party; and he shall retain and file of record one of the printed cases of the said parties respectively.

XVII.—That it shall be the duty of the said clerk of this court, to prepare and keep a docket roll of the causes which have been inscribed for hearing, in the order in which they have been inscribed; from which docket roll the causes to be heard shall be called on each day, in the order in which they stand on the said roll.

XVIII.—That in cases where a suit in appeal or in error, having been inscribed for hearing, and being called from the roll, the appellant and respondent, or the plaintiff and defendant in error, shall not appear, or shall not be ready to proceed, every such suit shall be struck from the roll: and in cases where a suit in appeal, or in error, having been inscribed for hearing, and being called from the roll, the appellant or plaintiff in error, shall not appear, and the respondent or defendant in error shall appear, every such suit shall be dismissed with costs to the respondent or defendant in error; and in cases where a suit in appeal, or in error, having been inscribed for hearing, and being called from the docket roll, the respondent or defendant in error, shall not appear and the appellant or plaintiff in error shall appear, and be ready to proceed, every such suit shall be heard on the part of the appellant or plaintiff in error, so appearing, ex parte, and such order and judgment thereupon made and rendered as to law and justice shall appertain, without costs in such case to the respondent or defendant in error.

XIX.—That in all suits which shall hereafter be pending in this court, no more than two counsel shall be heard in opening, or in answer, and one only in reply.

XX.—That when this court shall be moved in any suit, upon any special matter, not appearing upon the record or proceedings filed in such suit, such special matter shall be previously authenticated by affidavit; and a copy of the affidavit, and two days' notice of such motion served on the adverse party. And no such motion shall be received, until such affidavit, and an affidavit of the service of notice as aforesaid shall be read and filed.

XXI.—That every motion for an appeal from an interlocutory judgment shall be accompanied with copies of such interlocutory judgment and of the pleadings filed in the suit together with copies of such exhibits and proceedings therein, as may be material and necessary in support of any such motion.—V. art. 1119, p. 171 ante.

XXII.—That a copy of every

judgment of this court, by reason whereof the record in any suit in this court shall be remitted to the court below shall be annexed to the record, and transmitted with the same, under the certificate of the said clerk of this court.

XXIII.—That in the computation of time, the common rule dies a quo non computatur termino shall be observed: and in all cases in which a prescribed delay or period, within which something is required to be done, shall expire on a Sunday or holyday, the same shall ipso jure stand and be enlarged to the then next juridical day.—V. art. 24, p. 4 ante.

XXIV.—That all rules and orders heretofore made for regulating the practice in appeal, and in error, and now in force in this court, be, and the same are hereby rescinded and annulled.

FOR THE BETTER ADMINISTRATION OF JUSTICE IN HIS MAJESTY'S PRIVY COUNCIL.

(3 and 4 William IV., c. 41.)

II. And be it further enacted, that from and after the first day of June, 1833, all appeals or applications in prize suits, and in all other suits or proceedings in the courts of admiralty, or vice-admiralty courts, or any other court in the plantations in America, and other his majesty's dominions or elsewhere abroad, which may now, by virtue of any law, statute, commission, or usage, be made to the high court of admiralty in England, or to the lords commissioners in prize cases, shall be made to his majesty in council, and not to the said high court of admiralty in England, or to such commissioners as aforesaid; and such appeals shall be made in the same manner and form, and within such time wherein such appeals might, if this act had not been passed, have been made to the said high court of admiralty, or to the lords commissioners in prize cases respectively; and that all laws or statutes now in force with respect to any such appeals or applications shall apply to any appeals to be made in pursuance of this act to his majesty in council.

AN ACT

TO REGULATE THE PRACTICE AND THE FEES IN THE VICE-ADMIRALTY COURTS ABROAD, AND TO OBLIATE DOUBTS AS TO THEIR JURISDICTION.

23rd June, 1832.

2 Will. IV., c. 41.

WHEREAS it is expedient that provision should be made for the regulation of the practice to be observed in the suits and proceedings in the courts of vice-admiralty in his majesty's possessions abroad, and for the establishment of fees to be allowed and taken in the said courts by the respective judges, officers, and practitioners therein: Be it therefore enacted by the king's most excellent majesty, by and with the advice and consent of the lords spiritual and temporal, and commons, in this present parliament assembled, and by the authority of the same, that it shall be lawful for his majesty, with the advice of his privy council, from time to time to make and ordain such rules and regulations as shall be deemed expedient touching the practice to be observed in suits and proceedings in the several courts of vice-admiralty at present or hereafter to be established in any of his majesty's possessions abroad; and likewise from time to time to make, ordain, and establish tables of fees to be taken or received by the judges, officers, and practitioners in the said courts, for all acts to be done therein; and also from time to time, as shall be found expedient, to alter any such rules, regulations, and fees, and to make any new regulations and table or tables of fees; and that all such rules, regulations, and fees, after the same shall have been so made and established or altered, from time to time, be entered or enrolled in the public books or records of the said courts, so far as such practice and fees shall relate or apply to each of such courts respectively.

II. And be it further enacted, that a copy of every table of fees so to be from time to time made and established or altered, shall be laid before the house of commons within three calendar months next after the making and establishment or alteration thereof respectively, if parliament shall be then sitting, and if not, then within one calendar month next after the subsequent meeting of parliament.

III. And be it further enacted, that the several fees so to be established, and no other, shall, from and after the making and establishment thereof, and the entry and enrolment thereof as aforesaid, be deemed and taken to be the lawful fees of the several judges, officers, ministers, and practitioners of the said respective courts; and such fees only shall and may be demanded, received and taken accordingly.

IV. And to the intent that all such regulations and fees may be promulgated and publicly made known, be it further enacted, that the judge and registrar of every such court shall cause to be kept constantly hung up and preserved in some conspicuous part of every such court, and in the office of the registrar, a copy of the table of fees so to be from time to time ordained and established in such courts respectively, so that the said table may be seen and read by all persons having any business in any such court and office respectively; and that the books or records containing the entries of the said regulations and tables of fees, as the same shall be in force, shall be at all seasonable times open to the inspection of the practitioners and suitors in every such court.

V. And be it further enacted, that in all cases in which proceedings may be had in any of the said vice-admiralty courts, if any person shall feel himself aggrieved by the charges made by any of the officers or practitioners therein, and the allowance thereof by such vice-admiralty court, by reason that such charges are not warranted by the tables herein-before mentioned, it shall be lawful for such person or his agent, under the regulations to be established in pursuance of the powers given by this act, by summary application to the high court of admiralty to have the said charges taxed by the authority thereof.

VI. And whereas in certain cases doubts may arise as to the jurisdiction of vice-admiralty courts in his majesty's possessions abroad, with respect to suits for seamen's wages, pilotage, bottomry, damage to a ship by collision, contempt in breach of the regulations and instructions relating to his majesty's service at sea, salvage, and droits of admiralty; be it therefore enacted, that in all cases where a ship or vessel, or the master thereof, shall come within the local limits of any vice-admiralty court, it shall be lawful for any person to commence proceedings in any of the suits herein-before mentioned in such vice admiralty court, notwithstanding the cause of action may have arisen out of the local limits of such court, and to carry on the same in the same manner as if the cause of action had arisen within the said limits.

The practice which has prevailed in many of the vice-admiralty courts, of presenting a petition to the judge to appoint a day for holding a court is from henceforth to cease.

The judge is to be at convenient times accessible at his chambers, that he may be, if necessary, consulted by the registrar on any incidental matter, or for the purpose of hearing a motion by counsel, or directing the sale of perishable goods, or doing any other act which the emergency of a case may render requisite to be done.

The admitted advocates of each court are to be appointed surrogates, to do, in the absence of the judge, ordinary, or common form acts (but none other), such as the administering an oath to a witness, decreeing a monition, taking bail, and the like; but in those courts in which the advocate is allowed to act as proetor also, no judicial act of any kind is to be sped by a practitioner in any cause in which he may be professionally retained or interested.

When an advocate is to be admitted a surrogate, he is to attend with the registrar before the judge, and, on being sworn faithfully to execute his office, is to be admitted. The registrar is then to make an entry of such admission in the minute or assignation book, and attest the same.

§ 3. Registrar and Marshal to be sworn.

The persons to be appointed to execute the several offices of registrar and marshal are to be sworn faithfully to perform their respective duties.

§ 4. Registry Office.

The registry of the court is to be accessible to suitors at convenient hours in the day throughout the year; and a person of competent skill and knowledge is to be in regular attendance there, for all requisite purposes.

§ 5. Registrar's Duties.

The duty of the registrar is to attend all sittings of the court, and also before the judge, or surrogate in chambers, and to make minutes of every act of court or decree, and to enter the same in an assignation book, to be kept for the purpose, which is to form a record of the proceedings of the court; he is to file or take the custody of all pleas, depositions, documents, exhibits, and papers brought into court, recording the receipt thereof in the assignation book, briefly stating the papers so received, and the date of their receipt. He is to take the depositions of all witnesses examined upon pleas and interrogatories. If from illness, or any other sufficient cause, he should be unable to perform this duty, he may, with the consent of the judge, appoint some other competent person to act for him on those occasions. He is to make, or procure to be made, translations of such documents in foreign languages brought into court as may be required by the judge, or by the proctor of either party. He is to make and to attest copies of all records, documents, and papers that may be requisite. He is to draw all bail-bonds, or recognizances, and to be present at and attest the execution thereof before the judge or surrogate. He is to prepare, sign, and seal all warrants, commissions, and instruments issuing under the seal of the court. He is also to collect from the practitioners, and receive for the judge's use, the fees payable to him. He is to have the custody of all monies paid into court, and to remit them when required, by bills of exchange or other valid securities, to England. He is prohibited from acting either as advocate or proctor in any suit, matter, or proceeding in the court of which he is a registrar.

The marshal is to attend the judge in court on all court-days. He is to enquire and report as to the sufficiency of persons proposed for bail. He is to execute all such warrants, decrees, monitions, and other instruments as shall be issued from the court, and be directed to him; and he is to make due returns thereof.

In cases where, in order to

“To all and singular mayors, justices of the peace, bailiffs, constables, officers, and ministers of justice, or literate persons whomsoever, and more especially to the collector and comptroller of our customs at the port of —;” or in some similar form, if more appropriate to the existing authorities in the colony.

And on those occasions either the collector or comptroller of the customs is to be preferred, unless they are parties to, or interested in, the suit.

And with the same view of avoiding expense, it is expedient that other duties which properly belong to the office of marshal, and which require to be performed at a distance from the court, be executed by others; in which cases, commissions are to be addressed specially to any competent persons, by name, resident near the place where such duties are to be performed.

These are to commence with an entry by a proctor, in a book to be kept in the registry for that purpose, called the action book, of the action in a given sum sufficient to cover the demand and the probable amount of costs; but this sum is on no account to be exces-

commence with proctor, in a the registry e called the e action in a ent to cover the probable but this sum to be excessive. Before any warrant is issued, the party applying for the same is to exhibit to the registrar an affidavit, setting forth the nature of the demand, that application for payment has been made without effect to the parties concerned, and that the aid and process of the court are required for the enforcement thereof. Upon the leaving of this affidavit in the registry, a warrant, specifying the amount of the action, may issue to arrest the property proceeded against, or the person arrested is lawful; but personal arrest is never to be resorted to when the ends of justice can be otherwise obtained. The proctor, having obtained the warrant from the registrar, is to make a copy of it, and then deliver the warrant and copy to the marshal, with instructions for the execution of the process. If the instrument is to be served on a ship, cargo, and freight at different places, as many different copies thereof as are requisite, must be made by the proctor for that purpose. Every copy is to be examined with the original by the marshal, or the person serving the instrument.

§ 8. Execution of Warrants.

When a ship is, or a ship and cargo are, to be arrested, the warrant is to be affixed on the mainmast or some conspicuous part of the vessel for a short time, and a collated copy of it left on board; and when goods only are to be arrested (either for the purpose of proceeding against such goods or the freight due thereon,) the warrant is to be affixed for a short time on part of the goods, and a collated copy thereof left thereon, or with any person in whose actual custody the goods may be.

In cases of personal arrest, the warrant under the seal of the court must be shown to the party before he is taken into custody.

A certificate of the service of every warrant executed by the marshal is to be endorsed thereon, and signed by him, in which he is to set forth the time when, and the mode by which the service was effected.

When a warrant is served by any other person than the marshal, there must be, in addition to a similar certificate of the person serving it, his affidavit, in the verification thereof.

The warrant having been served is to be delivered back to the proctor, to be by him returned into the registry at the time when it purports to be returnable; and the registrar is then to attend with the proctor before a judge or surrogate, and enter a minute in the assignation book, that the warrant has been returned duly served and executed.

§ 9. Appearance and Bail.

After the entry of an action, and before the issue of a warrant, the defendant may voluntarily appear and give bail, and thus avoid the expense consequent on the issue of process.

An appearance alone, without bail, may be sufficient for the purpose of contesting a suit, but in cases of the arrest of property or of the person, either the demand must be satisfied, or competent bail given before the property or person is released from the arrest.

In order to avoid unnecessary detention when the arrest is to take place at a distance from the court, a commission for taking bail is to accompany the warrant, as an authority to the party serving the warrant to release the individual or the property on sufficient bail being given.

§ 10. Proceeding by Default.

In the case of property arrested, and no party appearing after the return of the warrant, the cause may proceed by default, or peram contumacie. To this end, on the day the warrant is returned, the parties cited and not appearing, are, at the petition of the proctor, to be pronounced by the judge or surrogate to be in default, and an entry to that effect is to be added by the registrar to the minute on the return of the warrant in the assignation book.

At the expiration of two months from the return of the warrant, if no appearance be given, the parties cited are again to be pronounced in default, and the promoter is to be entitled to a decree pronouncing for the amount of his demand, and giving him a lien on the property; which decree is to be drawn by the proctor, who, after it has been perused and settled by the registrar, is to make a fair copy of it for the court.

An affidavit in verification of all the facts mentioned in the decree is to be made by the party proceeding, which affidavit is to be drawn by the proctor, and submitted to the registrar.

The proctor is then to prepare a short case detailing the proceedings, which, with a copy of the affidavit, he is to deliver to counsel as instructions to move the court to sign the decree, of which, when signed by the judge, the registrar is to make a minute in the assignation book.

On the same court day, or on any subsequent adjourned court day, if an affidavit of two persons is exhibited, stating that the property proceeded against is perishable and likely to deteriorate in value, the judge is to direct a decree of appraisement and sale to issue, of which the registrar is also to make an entry. This decree is then to be delivered by the registrar to the proctor, and by the latter to the marshal, with instructions for its execution. The marshal is thereupon to select a broker, or other person conversant with the value of the property, and to administer an oath to him justly and faithfully to inventorize and appraise the ship, her tackle, apparel, and furniture, or the cases of the parties (if filed) have been filed, and, if not filed, the fact that they have not been filed,—the day on which each suit, if inscribed on the roll for hearing hath been so inscribed,—and the day which by such inscription is fixed for the hearing of such suit, shall be made and kept by the said clerk of this court, on the first day of the next, and of every succeeding term; and such schedule shall be deemed and taken in all parts to be an official certificate by the said clerk of this court, of the state of such suits, severally and respectively, on the first day of the term, when such schedule shall be laid before the court as aforesaid.

VII. That no writ of appeal or writ of error shall issue from this court, unless a præcipe for the same, signed by the attorney suing out such writ, be first delivered to the proper officer, by whom the said writ is to be issued: and every such writ shall be written on parchment and shall bear the signature of the attorney, upon whose præcipe the same shall be issued, and shall be made returnable at the place at which this court shall be held next after the issuing of such writ, within fifteen (now twenty) days from the date thereof; except such writs of appeal and writs of error, as may be directed to the judge of the superior court for the district of Gaspé, which shall be made returnable within two calendar months from the date thereof.—V. art. 1121, p. 172 ante.

VIII. That personal service of any writ of appeal, or writ of error, upon the attorney who has appeared in the court below, for the respondent or the defendant in error, as heretofore has been practised, shall in default of the legal service, be held and taken to be legal service.—V. art. 1123, p. 172 ante.

IX. That the writs, pleadings, motions, and exhibits, and other paper writings, comprising any record to be hereafter transmitted to this court shall, by the prothonotary of the court from which such record proceeds, at the head of each, be separately numbered respectively from number one to the entire number thereof, and that an index of reference to the whole, by number, title, and description, under the signature of such prothonotary, shall be by him annexed to such record.

X. That the postage paid by the said clerk of this court, on the return to writs of appeal and writs of error, and the records accompanying them, shall, on demand, be forthwith reimbursed to him by the attorney of the appellant or plaintiff in error, and, if not so reimbursed, the payment thereof by such attorney may be immediately enforced, by resort to the summary jurisdiction of this court.

XI. That on every writ of appeal, or writ of error, hereafter to be issued it shall be incumbent on the appellant and respondent or the plaintiff and defendant in error, respectively, to enter his appearance in the office of the said clerk of this court, on or before the eighth day next after the day on which such writ of appeal, or writ of error, has been made returnable, and, in default thereof, shall be precluded from entering an appearance in such suit, in which subsequent proceedings may be had ex parte against the party so in default as aforesaid.—V. art. 1128, p. 273 ante.

XII. That the reasons of appeal, or the assignment of errors, as the case may require, in every suit, shall be filed within eight days next after the return of the writ of appeal, or writ of error, as the case may be, and the transmission of the record and proceedings from the court below, and shall contain, specifically the several grounds and reasons of appeal, and the several errors for which the reversal of the judgment appealed from is sought; and if the reasons of appeal, or the assignment of errors be not filed within the time aforesaid, it shall be competent to the attorney of the respondent or defendant in error, by notice in writing under his signature, directed to the attorney of the appellant or plaintiff in error, in such suit, to demand the reasons of appeal or the assignment of errors, as the case may require, and, if the reasons of appeal, or the assignment of errors, be not filed within six days' service of such notice, every such suit in appeal, or in error, shall be dismissed with costs.—V. art. 1133-7, p. 174 ante.

XIII. That the answers to reasons of appeal in every suit in appeal, and the joinder in error in every suit in error, shall be filed within eight days after the filing of the reasons of appeal or the assignment of errors; and if not so filed it shall be competent to the attorney of the appellant or of the plaintiff in error, as the case may be, by notice in writing under his signature, directed to the attorney of the respondent or defendant in error, in such suit, to demand the answers to the reasons of appeal or the joinder in error; and if such answer, or joinder in error, shall not, within four days from the service of such notice, be filed, the respondent or defendant in error as the case may be shall be wholly precluded from filing an answer to the reasons of appeal, or a joinder in error; and the appellant or plaintiff in error may, after notice given to the adverse party of his intention so to do, proceed to a hearing of his suit in appeal or in error ex parte, and to judgment therein, without the intervention of the respondent or defendant in error.—V. art. 1136-8, p. 174 ante.

XIV. That the cases of the appellant and respondent or plaintiff and defendant in error, in every suit in appeal, or error, to the number of ten on each side, shall be delivered by the appellant and respondent, the plaintiff and defendant in error, respective-

And if the case of the appellant or the plaintiff in error, be not so delivered and filed the suit in appeal or in error, of such appellant or plaintiff in error, shall be deemed to be deserted, and on motion of the respondent or defendant in error, shall be dismissed with costs. And, if the cases of the respondent or defendant in error be not delivered and filed as aforesaid, such respondent or defendant in error shall be deemed to have deserted such suit in appeal or error, and the same may be heard ex parte, on the part of the appellant or plaintiff in error, and judgment rendered therein, without the intervention of the respondent or defendant in error.—V. art. 1140, p. 174 ante.

XV. That when and so soon as the answers to the reasons of appeal, or the joinder in error, as the case may require, shall be filed, it shall be competent to either party, by whom cases have been filed, to set down such suit for hearing, by inscribing the same on a docket roll to be kept by the said clerk of this court for that purpose, in vacation or in term, of which inscription two days' notice shall be given to the adverse party.—V. art. 1141, p. 174 ante.

XVI. That after the inscription of a cause for final hearing, it shall be the duty of the said

clerk of this court, without delay, to deliver to the judges, respectively, printed cases, making part of the cases, which have been filed as aforesaid in such case, and furnish the attorney of each party, who shall have filed his case, on his demand, with a printed copy of the case of the adverse party; and he shall retain and file of record one of the printed cases of the said parties respectively.

XVII.—That it shall be the duty of the said clerk of this court, to prepare and keep a docket roll of the causes which have been inscribed for hearing, in the order in which they have been inscribed; from which docket roll the causes to be heard shall be called on each day, in the order in which they stand on the said roll.

XVIII.—That in cases where a suit in appeal or in error, having been inscribed for hearing, and being called from the roll, the appellant and respondent, or the plaintiff and defendant in error, shall not appear, or shall not be ready to proceed, every such suit shall be struck from the roll; and in cases where a suit in appeal, or in error, having been inscribed for hearing, and being called from the roll, the appellant or plaintiff in error, shall not appear, and the respondent or defendant in error shall appear, every such suit shall be dismissed with costs to the respondent or defendant in error; and in cases where a suit in appeal, or in error, having been inscribed for hearing, and being called from the docket roll, the respondent or defendant in error, shall not appear and the appellant or plaintiff in error shall appear, and be ready to proceed, every such suit shall be heard on the part of the appellant or plaintiff in error, so appearing, ex parte, and such order and judgment thereupon made and rendered as to law and justice shall appertain, without costs in such case to the respondent or defendant in error.

XIX.—That in all suits which shall hereafter be pending in this court, no more than two counsel shall be heard in opening, or in answer, and one only in reply.

XX.—That when this court shall be moved in any suit, upon any special matter, not appearing upon the record or proceedings filed in such suit, such special matter shall be previously authenticated by affidavit; and a copy of the affidavit, and two days' notice of such motion served on the adverse party. And no such motion shall be received, until such affidavit, and an affidavit of the service of notice as aforesaid shall be read and filed.

XXI.—That every motion for an appeal from an interlocutory judgment shall be accompanied with copies of such interlocutory judgment and of the pleadings filed in the suit together with copies of such exhibits and proceedings therein, as may be material and necessary in support of any such motion.—V. art. 1119, p. 171 ante.

XXII.—That a copy of every

judgment of this court, by reason whereof the record in any suit in this court shall be remitted to the court below shall be annexed to the record, and transmitted with the same, under the certificate of the said clerk of this court.

XXIII.—That in the computation of time, the common rule dies a quo non computatur termino shall be observed: and in all cases in which a prescribed delay or period, within which something is required to be done, shall expire on a Sunday or holyday, the same shall ipso jure stand and be enlarged to the then next juridical day.—V. art. 24, p. 4 ante.

XXIV.—That all rules and orders heretofore made for regulating the practice in appeal, and in error, and now in force in this court, be, and the same are hereby rescinded and annulled.

FOR THE BETTER ADMINISTRATION OF JUSTICE IN HIS MAJESTY'S PRIVY COUNCIL.

(3 and 4 William IV., c. 41.)

II. And be it further enacted, that from and after the first day of June, 1833, all appeals or applications in prize suits, and in all other suits or proceedings in the courts of admiralty, or vice-admiralty courts, or any other court in the plantations in America, and other his majesty's dominions or elsewhere abroad, which may now, by virtue of any law, statute, commission, or usage, be made to the high court of admiralty in England, or to the lords commissioners in prize cases, shall be made to his majesty in council, and not to the said high court of admiralty in England, or to such commissioners as aforesaid; and such appeals shall be made in the same manner and form, and within such time wherein such appeals might, if this act had not been passed, have been made to the said high court of admiralty, or to the lords commissioners in prize cases respectively; and that all laws or statutes now in force with respect to any such appeals or applications shall apply to any appeals to be made in pursuance of this act to his majesty in council, and

AN ACT

TO REGULATE THE PRACTICE AND THE FEES IN THE VICE-ADMIRALTY COURTS ABROAD, AND TO OBTAIN COURTS AS TO THEIR JURISDICTION.

23rd June, 1832.

2 Will. IV., c. 41.

WHEREAS it is expedient that provision should be made for the regulation of the practice to be observed in the suits and proceedings in the courts of vice-admiralty in his majesty's possessions abroad, and for the establishment of fees to be allowed and taken in the said courts by the respective judges, officers, and practitioners therein: Be it therefore enacted by the king's most excellent majesty, by and with the advice and consent of the lords spiritual and temporal, and commons, in this present parliament assembled, and by the authority of the same, that it shall be lawful for his majesty, with the advice of his privy council, from time to time to make and ordain such rules and regulations as shall be deemed expedient touching the practice to be observed in suits and proceedings in the several courts of vice-admiralty at present or hereafter to be established in any of his majesty's possessions abroad; and likewise from time to time to make, ordain, and establish tables of fees to be taken or received by the judges, officers, and practitioners in the said courts, for all acts to be done therein; and also from time to time, as shall be found expedient, to alter any such rules, regulations, and fees, and to make any new regulations and table or tables of fees; and that all such rules, regulations, and fees, after the same shall have been so made and established or altered, from time to time, be entered or enrolled in the public books or records of the said courts, so far as such practice and fees shall relate or apply to each of such courts respectively.

II. And be it further enacted, that a copy of every table of fees so to be from time to time made and established or altered, shall be laid before the house of commons within three calendar months next after the making and establishment or alteration thereof respectively, if parliament shall be then sitting, and if not, then within one calendar month next after the subsequent meeting of parliament.

III. And be it further enacted, that the several fees so to be established, and no other, shall, from and after the making and establishment thereof, and the entry and enrolment thereof as aforesaid, be deemed and taken to be the lawful fees of the several judges, officers, ministers, and practitioners of the said respective courts; and such fees only shall and may be demanded, received and taken accordingly.

IV. And to the intent that all such regulations and fees may be promulgated and publicly made known, be it further enacted, that the judge and registrar of every such court shall cause to be kept constantly hung up and preserved in some conspicuous part of every such court, and in the office of the registrar, a copy of the table of fees so to be from time to time ordained and established in such courts respectively, so that the said table may be seen, and read by all persons having any business in any such court and office respectively; and that the books or records containing the entries of the said regulations and tables of fees, as the same shall be in force, shall be at all reasonable times open to the inspection of the practitioners and suitors in every such court.

V. And be it further enacted, that in all cases in which proceedings may be had in any of the said vice-admiralty courts, if any person shall feel himself aggrieved by the charges made by any of the officers or practitioners therein, and the allowance thereof by such vice-admiralty court, by reason that such charges are not warranted by the tables herein-before mentioned, it shall be lawful for such person or his agent, under the regulations to be established in pursuance of the powers given by this act, by summary application to the high court of admiralty to have the said charges taxed by the authority thereof.

VI. And whereas in certain cases doubts may arise as to the jurisdiction of vice-admiralty courts in his majesty's possessions abroad, with respect to suits for seamen's wages, pilotage, bottomry, damage to a ship by collision, contempt in breach of the regulations and instructions relating to his majesty's service at sea, salvage, and droits of admiralty; be it therefore enacted, that in all cases where a ship or vessel, or the master thereof, shall come within the local limits of any vice-admiralty court, it shall be lawful for any person to commence proceedings in any of the suits herein-before mentioned in such vice admiralty court, notwithstanding the cause of action may have arisen out of the local limits of such court, and to carry on the same in the same manner as if the cause of action had arisen within the said limits.

The practice which has prevailed in many of the viceregal courts, of presenting a petition to the judge to appoint a day for holding a court is from henceforth to cease.

The judge is to be at convenient times accessible at his chambers, that he may be, if necessary, consulted by the registrar on any incidental matter, or for the purpose of hearing a motion by counsel, or directing the sale of perishable goods, or doing any other act which the emergency of a case may render requisite to be done.

The admitted advocates of each court are to be appointed surrogates, to do, in the absence of the judge, ordinary, or common form acts (but none other), such as the administering an oath to a witness, decreeing a monition, taking bail, and the like; but in those courts in which the advocate is allowed to act as proctor also, no judicial act of any kind is to be sped by a practitioner in any cause in which he may be professionally retained or interested.

When an advocate is to be admitted a surrogate, he is to attend with the registrar before the judge, and, on being sworn faithfully to execute his office, is to be admitted. The registrar is then to make an entry of such admission in the minute or assignation book, and attest the same.

§ 3. Registrar and Marshal to be sworn.

The persons to be appointed to execute the several offices of registrar and marshal are to be sworn faithfully to perform their respective duties.

§ 4. Registry Office.

The registry of the court is to be accessible to suitors at convenient hours in the day throughout the year; and a person of competent skill and knowledge is to be in regular attendance there, for all requisite purposes.

The duty of the registrar is to attend all sittings of the court, and also before the judge, or surrogate in chambers, and to make minutes of every act of court or decree, and to enter the same in an assignation book, to be kept for the purpose, which is to form a record of the proceedings of the court; he is to file or take the custody of all pleas, depositions, documents, exhibits, and papers brought into court, recording the receipt thereof in the assignation book, briefly stating the papers so received, and the date of their receipt. He is to take the depositions of all witnesses examined upon pleas and interrogatories. If from illness, or any other sufficient cause, he should be unable to perform this duty, he may, with the consent of the judge, appoint some other competent person to act for him on those occasions. He is to make, or procure to be made, translations of such documents in foreign languages brought into court as may be required by the judge, or by the proctor of either party. He is to make and to attest copies of all records, documents, and papers that may be requisite. He is to draw all bail-bonds, or recognizances, and to be present at and attest the execution thereof before the judge or surrogate. He is to prepare, sign, and seal all warrants, commissions, and instruments issuing under the seal of the court. He is also to collect from the practitioners, and receive for the judge's use, the fees payable to him. He is to have the custody of all monies paid into court, and to remit them when required, by bills of exchange or other valid securities, to England. He is prohibited from acting either as advocate or proctor in any suit, matter, or proceeding in the court of which he is a registrar.

The marshal is to attend the judge in court on all court-days. He is to enquire and report as to the sufficiency of persons proposed for bail. He is to execute all such warrants, decrees, monitions, and other instruments as shall be issued from the court, and be directed to him; and he is to make due returns thereof.

In cases where, in order to

“To all and singular mayors, justices of the peace, bailiffs, constables, officers, and ministers of justice, or literate persons whomsoever, and more especially to the collector and comptroller of our customs at the port of —;” or in some similar form, if more appropriate to the existing authorities in the colony.

And on those occasions either the collector or comptroller of the customs is to be preferred, unless they are parties to, or interested in, the suit.

And with the same view of avoiding expense, it is expedient that other duties which properly belong to the office of marshal, and which require to be performed at a distance from the court, be executed by others; in which cases, commissions are to be addressed specially to any competent persons, by name, resident near the place where such duties are to be performed.

These are to commence with an entry by a proctor, in a book to be kept in the registry for that purpose, called the action book, of the action in a given sum sufficient to cover the demand and the probable amount of costs; but this sum is on no account to be excess-

Before any warrant is issued, the party applying for the same is to exhibit to the registrar an affidavit, setting forth the nature of the demand, that application for payment has been made without effect to the parties concerned, and that the aid and process of the court are required for the enforcement thereof. Upon the leaving of this affidavit in the registry, a warrant, specifying the amount of the action, may issue to arrest the property proceeded against, or the person in cases where personal arrest is lawful; but personal arrest is never to be resorted to when the ends of justice can be otherwise obtained. The proctor, having obtained the warrant from the registrar, is to make a copy of it, and then deliver the warrant and copy to the marshal, with instructions for the execution of the process. If the instrument is to be served on a ship, cargo, and freight at different places, as many different copies thereof as are requisite, must be made by the proctor for that purpose. Every copy is to be examined with the original by the marshal, or the person serving the instrument.

§ 8. Execution of Warrants.

When a ship is, or a ship and cargo are, to be arrested, the warrant is to be affixed on the mainmast or some conspicuous part of the vessel for a short time, and a collated copy of it left on board; and when goods only are to be arrested (either for the purpose of proceeding against such goods or the freight due thereon.) the warrant is to be affixed for a short time on part of the goods, and a collated copy thereof left thereon, or with any person in whose actual custody the goods may be.

In cases of personal arrest, the warrant under the seal of the court must be shown to the party before he is taken into custody.

A certificate of the service of every warrant executed by the marshal is to be endorsed thereon, and signed by him, in which he is to set forth the time when, and the mode by which the service was effected.

When a warrant is served by any other person than the marshal, there must be, in addition to a similar certificate of the person serving it, his affidavit, in the verification thereof.

The warrant having been served is to be delivered back to the proctor, to be by him returned into the registry at the time when it purports to be returnable; and the registrar is then to attend with the proctor before a judge or surrogate, and enter a minute in the assignation book, that the warrant has been returned duly served and executed.

§ 9. Appearance and Bail.

After the entry of an action, and before the issue of a warrant, the defendant may voluntarily appear and give bail, and thus avoid the expense consequent on the issue of process.

An appearance alone, without any bail, may be sufficient for the purpose of contesting a suit, but in cases of the arrest of property or of the person, either the demand must be satisfied, or competent bail given before the property or person is released from the arrest.

In order to avoid unnecessary detention when the arrest is to take place at a distance from the court, a commission for taking bail is to accompany the warrant, as an authority to the party serving the warrant to release the individual or the property on sufficient bail being given.

§ 10. Proceeding by Default.

In the case of property arrested, and no party appearing after the return of the warrant, the cause may proceed by default, or penam contumacie. To this end, on the day the warrant is returned, the parties cited and not appearing, are, at the petition of the proctor, to be pronounced by the judge or surrogate to be in default, and an entry to that effect is to be added by the registrar to the minute on the return of the warrant in the assignation book.

At the expiration of two months from the return of the warrant if no appearance be given, the parties cited are again to be pronounced in default, and the decree is to be entitled to a decree pronouncing for the amount of his demand and giving him a lien on the property; which decree is to be drawn by the proctor, who, after it has been perused and settled by the registrar, is to make a fair copy of it for the court.

An affidavit in verification of all the facts mentioned in the decree is to be made by the party proceeding, which affidavit is to be drawn by the proctor, and submitted to the registrar.

The proctor is then to prepare a short case detailing the proceedings, which, with a copy of the affidavit, he is to deliver to counsel as instructions to move the court to sign the decree, of which, when signed by the judge, the registrar is to make a minute in the assignation book.

On the same court day, or on any subsequent adjourned court day, if an affidavit of two persons is exhibited, stating that the property proceeded against is perishable and likely to deteriorate in value, the judge is to direct a decree of appraisement and sale to issue, of which the registrar is also to make an entry. This decree is then to be delivered by the registrar to the proctor, and by the latter to the marshal, with instructions for its execution. The marshal is thereupon to select a broker, or other person conversant with the value of the property, and to administer an oath to him justly and faithfully to inventorize and appraise the ship, her tackle, apparel, and furniture, or the goods, as the case may be. An inventory and appraisement are then to be made, and the marshal is to cause the property to be publicly advertised by printed bills or otherwise, and, after sufficient public notice of the intended sale, to be sold by auction. The sale being completed, the marshal is to return the decree (with his certificate as to the execution thereof) into the court, or before the judge or surrogate in chambers, and to bring in at the same time the inventory and appraisement, with a more extended return of the marshal and appraiser, signed by them, setting forth the particulars and the value of the ship or goods as appraised; and he is also to bring the account of sales and proceeds into the registry within the time specified in the decree.

If the property be of considerable value, two brokers or appraisers may be employed, provided there is sufficient reason for the same. The property is never to be sold under the appraised value, unless by special order of the court; and if the appraised value cannot be obtained after an attempt to sell, the marshal is to exhibit an affidavit of at least two persons, stating that the property had been duly advertised and put up at public auction, when only a certain sum was bid for the same. And if the judge be then satisfied that all has been done as properly and fairly as if the owner himself had been selling his own property, he is to direct the same to be sold at a reduced price, but not for less than a sum which he in his discretion is to fix. A minute of such order is to be entered by the registrar in the assignation book, and the property is then to be offered again to sale by public auction.

When the proceeds are brought into the registrar, the registrar may pay out of court to the party proceeding, on his application for that purpose, the amount of the debt pronounced for, together with the costs of the suit, the same being first duly taxed and allowed by the judge.

When a decree pronouncing for the interest of a party proceeding by default has been signed by the judge, if any other party should also proceed against the property, he will be entitled, on motion of counsel, to have his interest pronounced for by an interlocutory decree, after the warrant has been returned two months, and a second default has been incurred in his particular suit. On this occasion a similar affidavit must be exhibited to that required on obtaining the decree for the interest of the party who had originally proceeded by default.

The balance of proceeds, if any remain in the registry after satisfying the amount pronounced for and costs, may, on production of the ship's register, or other satisfactory evidence of ownership, be paid out to the owner. But if his application be made within a year and a day from the return of the warrant, he is to give bail to answer latent demands.

The sufficiency of sureties is to be reported upon by the marshal, and the bail must be given in the manner herein-after mentioned respecting bail to answer an action in a contested suit.

In a case proceeding by default or in penam, the owners of the property are to be allowed to contest the suit at any time before the expiration of a year and a day from the return of the warrant; but if they neglect to appear until they have been pronounced in default, they must, on appearing, pay contumacy fees, viz. all the costs occasioned by such their neglect, including the charges for keeping possession beyond the time specified in the warrant for its return, which costs are to be taxed by the court.

§ 11. Contested Suits.

In contested suits the property remains in the custody of the court, but if the release thereof be a material object to the owner, or to the party defendant, it may be delivered to him on sufficient bail by two persons severally in the amount for which the action has been entered. Causes of possession, however, are not bailable unless by the special direction of the judge. Bail to answer an action, and all bail bonds or recognizances are to be given in the following manner:

The proctor who is to produce the sureties is to furnish the marshal and also the adverse proctor with the particulars in writing, of the names of the proposed bail, their address and occupation; and the marshal, having made due enquiry as to their sufficiency, is to deliver his report thereon to the proctor proposing the bail, who is then to instruct the registrar to prepare the bail-bond. The registrar, the two proctors, and their sureties, are then to attend the judge or surrogate, and, upon the recognizances being duly entered into, the property is to be released upon an instrument to be drawn by the marshal and issued immediately after bail has been given. This form is to be dispensed with when the bail is taken by commission.

It is competent to the adverse proctor to object to the proposed sureties, in which case the judge is immediately to decide on the validity of the objections. If the adverse proctor do not attend at the production of the sureties, the bail may be taken ex parte upon an affidavit, to be prepared by the proctor producing them, that he has given twenty-four hours' notice in writing of their names, address, and occupation,* which affidavit is to be left in the registry.

Should a party appear under protest, either objecting to the jurisdiction of the court or on any other ground on which he means to contend that he is not liable to answer the action, his appearance must be entered by the registrar in the assignation book as given under protest, and the party so appearing is to be assigned to deliver his act on protest to the adverse proctor within a limited time. The same course of proceeding is to be pursued on the act on protest as in cases of acts on petition (hereinafter stated) up to the time of the hearing, when the judge is either to pronounce for the protest and dismiss the suit, or overrule the protest and assign the party to appear absolutely, and the cause is then to proceed as if no appearance on protest had been given.

In contested suits the facts may be established either by libel or plea, and the examination of witnesses thereon styled "Plea and Proof;" or by an "Act on Petition," supported by affidavits, to which may be annexed exhibits or other documents to be verified in the affidavits.

§ 12. Proceedings by Plea and Proof.

When an appearance has been entered, the defendant is entitled to an assignation on the plaintiff to exhibit a libel within a time to be limited by the judge.

The libel or plea is to be drawn by the plaintiff's proctor and settled by counsel, and then a fair copy, signed by counsel, is to be made for the court, and brought in pursuant to the assignation; a copy is also to be delivered to the adverse proctor, and each proctor is entitled to make copies for the use of his counsel at the hearing.

There may be annexed to the libel or plea, documents or exhibits pleaded or referred to therein, of which copies are to be made in like manner, the originals being brought into court. And upon the libel or plea being brought in, the judge is to assign to hear, on admission thereof, on the next court-day, or at a time to be named by him. The defendant's proctor may then lay the libel or plea before counsel for his advice, if the same be opposable, and if it be deemed by him not sufficient in law (supposing it be true) to warrant the plaintiff's prayer, the admission of it may be opposed; whereby if the plaintiff has no legal cause of action, the suit may be stopped in limine, it being the duty of the judge to reject all pleas, which, if assumed to be true, will not justify him in pronouncing a decree for the party giving in such plea. Or if the plea contains matter unnecessary or irrelevant to the cause of action, or is drawn in too diffuse or argumentative a manner, the admission thereof may be opposed. Upon these objections coming on to be debated, the judge will order the plea to be admitted, reformed, or altogether rejected as he shall see cause. If ordered to be reformed, the judge will in his discretion direct the objectionable matter to be expunged and other points modified. If ordered to be rejected, such rejection puts an end to the suit.

On the libel being debated, a case on each side is to be prepared by the respective proctors, and delivered to counsel with copies of the libel and of the exhibits, if any, which copies, however, must afterwards serve for the use of the counsel at the final hearing.

Pleas, the admissibility of which is not objected to, are admitted to proof of course.

Pleas or allegations given in a subsequent stage of a cause, may be admitted, reformed, or rejected in a similar manner.

On the libel being admitted, the proctor giving in the same is to be assigned to prove its contents by evidence within a time to be limited by the judge, and the party giving in the plea is entitled, if he desires it, to the personal answers in writing of the adverse party. In that case a decree for answers is to be extracted from registry and served on the party, by showing him the original under seal, and leaving with him a copy thereof. The answers are to be drawn by the proctor for the party required to give in the same, who must answer specifically to all the facts or allegations in plea which are within his own knowledge, by either admitting or denying the same; and as to all matters, he must answer to his belief or disbelief.

No extraneous or irrelevant matter is to be introduced, but the party may set forth any matter necessary to explain his answer. If any facts are introduced which are capable of proof by witnesses, they must be established by evidence regularly taken on a plea. The answers are to be settled by counsel, and then the party attended by his proctor is to be sworn to the truth thereof before the judge or surrogate in the presence of the registrar, who is to make and sign an attestation at the foot thereof. The registrar is then to file them and make a minute in the assignation book, of their having been sworn and brought into court. The adverse proctor may immediately inspect them without waiting for publication, and may have an office copy of them. And if they be insufficient, redundant, or contain matter not pertinent, may be objected to in the same manner as a libel or plea.

If after the return of a decree personally served, the party does not give in his answer within the time assigned, the judge may decree an attachment against him for his contumacy; but notwithstanding this measure, the proctor for the plaintiff may proceed with the production of his witnesses and take other requisite steps in the cause.

The name of the witness and a designation of the specific articles of the libel or plea on which he is to be examined, must be delivered to the adverse proctor and to the registrar or examiner, whereupon the proctor giving in the plea is to attend the witness and produce him before the judge or surrogate, in court or chambers, when the witness is to be immediately sworn in the presence of the registrar. Due notice of his intended production must be given to the adverse proctor, who may attend if he think fit. On the witness being so sworn, the registrar is to make an entry thereof in the assignation book.

The deposition in chief is not to be taken upon written interrogatories, but by relevant questions put viva voce by the registrar or examiner, and arising out of the circumstances pleaded, but not so put as to lead the witness. If there are several pleas, witnesses are to be examined on each plea. The witness must not be dismissed until the lapse of twenty-four hours from the time of his production, so that the adverse proctor may have an opportunity to cross-examine him by interrogatories in writing if he think fit; and this time may be extended on reasonable cause to be shown by the proctor through the registrar to the judge. Such interrogatories are to be drawn by the adverse proctor, and, when practicable, settled by counsel. They are then to be copied for and signed by the counsel, and delivered to the registrar, with instructions as to the particular interrogatories to be administered to each witness. When the witness has been examined in chief, and also upon interrogatories, if any are to be administered, the depositions in chief and also the answers to the interrogatories (if any),

are to be read over to or by the witness and signed by him, and he is then to attend with the registrar before the judge or surrogate in chambers, and make a declaration that he knows the contents of his deposition, and that the same are true in virtue of the oath by him taken on his being produced; and an attestation thereof is to be made at the foot of the deposition by the registrar or examiner.

The evidence of the witnesses is in all cases to be kept closely sealed, and the contents thereof are not to be divulged until publication shall have been passed: after which, but not sooner, the proctor administering the interrogatories, if any are administered, is to deliver a copy thereof to the proctor producing the witness.

In the event of any witness refusing to attend to be examined, his necessary expenses having been tendered to him (but not otherwise,) a compulsory or subpoena, to be prepared by the registrar, may be extracted, and served on the person so refusing to attend, by showing to him the original instrument under seal, and leaving with him a collated copy thereof, and if he do not appear to this process, an attachment may issue against him for his contempt.

The witnesses for the plaintiff being all examined, his proctor may on the first court-day afterwards pray publication of the evidence, which is to be decreed to take place at a time to be fixed by the judge; and at the expiration of that time it is imperative on the opposite party to plead if he intends to do so at all; for this purpose, he is to attend before the registrar or surrogate, and declare in a minute of court that he intends to offer an allegation or counter-plea, and the same must be brought into court within a reasonable time, to be assigned by the judge. In that case, publication of the evidence must be stayed until the allegation be disposed of, either by being admitted or rejected by the court, or by the party abandoning the intention of giving it in. If admitted, publication must be stayed until the whole evidence in the cause be taken. In the event of no allegation or counter-plea being given, or, if given, being rejected by the court, or withdrawn by the party, publication of the evidence is to take place; and thereupon the depositions may be inspected on each side, and copies thereof furnished to the parties at the request of their proctors, who may make copies thereof for their respective counsel.

After the evidence has been inspected, neither party can claim as a matter of right to give any further plea or allegation in the principal cause; but if the judge shall be satisfied by affidavit that there is any matter important to the issue, which could not have been pleaded before by reason that knowledge thereof had not come to the party prior to, or that the fact had occurred after the publication, the judge in his discretion may allow such matter to be pleaded.

Allegations exceptive to the testimony of witnesses, may be given after publication in cases only where the matter on which they are founded, arises out of the evidence of the witness or witnesses excepted to, and where the contradiction, if proved, would tend materially to destroy his or their credit; but no allegation exceptive to the testimony of witnesses is to be admitted, if the facts it contains either have been or could have been pleaded before publication. After publication, no allegation, pleading generally that the witness is not worthy to be believed on his oath, is to be received. Any such allegation, when offered, must precede publication, and must plead generally that the witness is of bad character and reputation, and not to be believed on his oath without imputing to him any specific charges.

When several pleas are given in a cause, witnesses are to be examined on each plea; and all other steps are to be pursued in the same manner as directed in respect of the plaintiff's libel.

It is the duty of the proctors to take especial care that the libel and defensive allegation contain all the facts material to the decision of the cause, so that several pleas may not unnecessarily be given.

When publication shall have taken place on all pleas, the cause is to be set down to be heard at a time to be appointed by the judge. Counsel are to be furnished with copies of all material papers, viz., pleas, exhibits, and depositions of witnesses, but not of warrants, decrees, or other formal instruments, unless from circumstances, the contents of such instruments may be material to the discussion of the cause. A case for hearing on each side is to be prepared by the respective proctors, briefly stating the proceedings which have taken place, and calling the attention of counsel to the decree which each party may pray the judge to pronounce. The evidence is not to be abstracted, nor are documents of which counsel are furnished with copies to be more than merely described in the case. All lengthened details are to be avoided, but the attention of counsel is to be directed to the principal points. A reasonable fee is to be paid to counsel on the hearing; and if the case takes more than one day in argument, a moderate additional or refreshing fee is to be given for each subsequent day. Definite sentences in writing are only requisite in derelict and piratical cases. In other causes the judgment may be given by interlocutory decree, and entered by the registrar in the assignation book.

If it become necessary to enforce a judgment, a monition is to be taken out against the party principal and his bail, and served in the manner before directed in regard to instruments requiring personal service. Upon the return into court of the monition, with a certificate of its due service endorsed thereon, and the tenor thereof not being obeyed, the judge, upon motion of counsel, may decree an attachment against the person of the party monished for his contempt; directing either the attachment to issue immediately, or to be suspended for a reasonable time, as circumstances may in his judgment require. This attachment is to be extracted from the registry. The previous service of a monition may not always be necessary. Where the disobedience is manifest upon the face of the proceedings, and it is clear that the order of the court must be known to the party, an attachment may be decreed without a previous monition; but in cases where sureties are to be attached, a previous monition is indispensable. Upon compliance with the order, for disobedience of which the attachment issued, and upon payment of the costs of the attachment, the marshal, or other person executing it, is to release the party, certifying to the judge fully what has been done; but in cases of doubt he may resort to the judge for directions previous to the release.

§ 14. Proceeding by Act on Petition.

In case bail has been given to the action, a minute is to be made in the assignation book by the registrar, assigning the proctor for the party proceeding to deliver his act on petition to the adverse proctor by a time to be fixed by the judge. The proctor is then to set forth the facts of the case in a plain narrative manner, without argument, and concluding with his prayer. This, having been settled by counsel (for which purpose he is to be furnished with a copy), is to be copied fair for the court, and then delivered to the adverse proctor that he may reply thereto, and with the reply, it must be returned to the proctor of the party proceeding, that he may make a rejoinder thereto if necessary. The reply and rejoinder must also be settled by counsel in the same manner as the act.

The facts alleged in the act on petition are to be supported by affidavits; and any necessary exhibits, or documents annexed thereto, are to be verified in such affidavits, which are to be confined to the material averments, and are not to be settled by counsel.

Should any delay occur in the delivery of the act from one proctor to the other, either of them may allege the same, in the presence of the registrar, before the judge, who is to direct the act to be returned by a time to be specified; and if it be not returned by that time, or good cause shown for the delay, the judge is to assign to hear the act on petition ex parte, that no unnecessary postponement may take place, for which purpose a copy of the act, instead of the original, together with the affidavits on behalf of the party, must be brought in by the proctor applying to have the cause so heard.

When the article is concluded, it is to be signed by both proctors who are to attend before the judge or surrogate, in the presence of the registrar, to bring in the same, together with the original affidavits and exhibits. No further affidavits or documents are to be afterwards received, unless by leave of the judge obtained on special application. The judge is then to appoint the cause for hearing, and thereupon one copy of the affidavits and exhibits is to be made for each of the counsel, and one for the adverse proctor, to be delivered to him when the originals are brought in. The adverse proctor is also to make copies for his own counsel. The same rules, as to the preparing the case for hearing, delivering copies of papers, fees to counsel, and the same proceedings for enforcing obedience to the decree, are to be observed as in a cause conducted by plea and proof.

The same regulations as to the arrest of a ship, the subsequent proceeding by default or in panam, and the rules for conducting a cause by plea and proof, are to be applicable to the suit of a mariner for his wages, which is called a cause of subtraction of wages, in which the mariner may pro-action.

When an appearance is given,
the proctor for the party proceeding is entitled to an assignment on the defendant to bring into court the mariner's contract and ship's books; and he is not compelled to file his libel until they are so brought in.

The libel, if in common form and pleading no special matter, should state the hiring, rate of wages, performance of service, and the refusal of payment; and should have annexed to it a schedule, stating the whole amount of wages, with the sum received on account, and balance claimed to be due.
This plea is termed a summary petition, and should not be settled by counsel.

§ 16. Suits for Pilotage.

Suits for the recovery of pilotage, where no party appears to defend the action, may be conducted by default or in peram. When contested, the proceeding will be by plea and proof; the libel or plea, as in suits for wages, if containing no special matter, is also called a summary petition, and need not be settled by counsel.

§ 17. Suits of Bottomry.

These suits may likewise be conducted by default or in peram, and ships may be sold, in virtue of a decree of the court, for the payment of bottomry bonds without any appearance having been given to defend the action.

When the validity of the bond is contested, the cause generally proceeds by act on petition and affidavits, but the party promoting the cause may, if he thinks proper, proceed by plea and proof; and it is competent to defendant, on his appearance, to require the cause to be conducted in that manner, for which purpose he must pray the judge to assign the promoter to bring in a libel.

Before the warrant is extracted from the registry, the original bond must be exhibited to the registrar in addition to the usual affidavit.

§ 18. Causes of Damage by Collision.

These causes may also be prosecuted by default or in peram. When defended, the suit is conducted by plea and proof, and differs in no respect from that mode of proceeding already detailed.

Suits of Damage by Beating or Assault on the High Seas.

In these cases the suit is by plea and proof, and the warrant is necessarily against the person.

Prosecutions for Contempt in breach of the Maritime Law, and of the Regulations and Instructions relating to His Majesty's Service at Sea.

These prosecutions can only be instituted on complaint by an officer in his majesty's navy, and under the direction of the lord high admiral, or the commissioners for executing the office of lord high admiral of the United Kingdom, or of some one of the admirals or commanders-in-chief of the naval squadrons abroad, and are to be conducted in the following manner:—

An affidavit of two persons is to be exhibited by the proctor for the crown, stating the name and description of the party intended to be proceeded against, and detailing the particulars of the offence committed, which affidavit, with a short case, is to be delivered to the advocate for the crown to move the judge to decree the warrant of arrest, who, in making the decree, is to specify the amount of the bail to be given as he shall consider sufficient to ensure the personal appearance of the party prosecuted when judgment shall be pronounced. This amount is to be stated in the action book and on the face of the warrant. The marshal is then to execute the warrant by the arrest of the person of the offender, who is to be liberated on giving sufficient bail, which is to be taken in the usual manner.

On the appearance being given, the proctor for the crown is to be assigned to exhibit articles pleading the offence within a short time to be specified by the judge.

These articles are to be prepared by the proctor for the crown, and may be settled by counsel, and the cause is then to proceed like other suits, by plea and proof, with the following exceptions:

1st. On the articles or plea being admitted to proof, the defendant must be assigned to declare in act of court, within a reasonable time, generally whether he denies the facts pleaded, which is termed giving a negative issue, or whether he confesses them, which is termed giving an affirmative issue.

2ndly. In case of an affirmative issue, the judgment of the court may be immediately pronounced, on which occasion the defendant is to be allowed to exhibit affidavits in mitigation of punishment, but not to deny the offence charged.

3rdly. Extended personal answers in writing to the different positions or averments of the articles cannot be required from the defendant.

4thly. Where a negative issue is given, the defendant may be at liberty to offer a defensive plea.

After the evidence is taken, if the judge shall decide that the charge is established, he will proceed to give sentence, imposing the fines due by law on the defendant and condemning him in the costs. In very aggravated cases, the defendant may also be imprisoned for a limited time. Affidavits in mitigation may be offered and are to be received when the offence has been proved by evidence.

urse of proceeding is by act on petition, but in cases where no appearance is given these suits may be prosecuted by default or in vacuo. The property must on no account be released from arrest until a value shall be agreed upon between the parties and alleged in minute of court, which is to be entered by the registrar in the assignation book.

If the value cannot be agreed upon, a decree of appraisal must be extracted by the proctor for the salvors, and executed and returned into court before the property is released. This constat of the value is necessary both for regulating the amount of bail to be taken, and for guiding the judge at the final hearing, in fixing a proper remuneration for the services of the salvors, with reference to the value of the property saved.

§ 20. Causes of Possession.

These causes are to commence by the entry of an action at the suit of the owners or owner of a majority of interest in the ship, and a warrant is to be issued to obtain possession thereof from any party who may withhold the same. No amount of action need be inserted in the action book, or on the face of the warrant.

An affidavit of the party proceeding is to be prepared by the proctor, and laid before counsel, with a short case stating the circumstances, in order to move for the warrant, which can be obtained only on motion of counsel. The affidavit need not previously, as in other cases, be left in the registry. On this occasion, the judge or surrogate is to be attended by the proctor, counsel, and registrar; and the judge, on reading the affidavit, if it be satisfactory, will, on motion of counsel, decree the warrant citing all persons in general to appear and answer to the party proceeding in a cause of possession. The warrant having been served on the ship is to be returned into the registry, and if no appearance be given within a month from such return, the judge, if satisfied that the party proceeding has a majority of the legal interest, is, on the affidavit originally brought in or on further proofs, if necessary, being exhibited on motion of counsel on the next regularly adjourned court day, by interlocutory decree to order possession of the ship to be delivered to the party proceeding, or if necessary to assign a further limited time for entering an appearance, and on any subsequent regularly adjourned court-day in like manner pronounce his decree, which is issued by the registrar from the registry.

Should any party appear to contest the right of possession, the cause is to proceed by act on petition and affidavits, the ship remaining in the custody of the court until the final hearing, because the object of the suit, which is to obtain actual possession of the property, cannot otherwise be secured.

Upon an interlocutory decree being pronounced in favour of either party, a decree of possession is to be issued accordingly.

During the dependence of the suit on proof by affidavit being exhibited that the ship's register is in the possession of any person whomsoever, a monition may be issued requiring him to bring it in, or shew cause why it should not be brought into the registry to abide the event of the suit. Or, after the hearing, should the ship's register remain in the possession of any person, the judge may, on proof thereof, issue a monition directing him to deliver up the same to the party in whose favour the decree has been made.

Causes of possession may also be conducted by plea and proof at the option of either party.

§ 21. Action to obtain Security for the safe Return of a Vessel.

Actions of this description occur when a part owner is dissatisfied with the management of his co-owners, and requires the ship to be restrained from proceeding on a voyage until bail shall be given for her safe return to the port to which she belongs.

An affidavit of the party is first to be made setting forth the number of shares of which he is the legal owner, that he is dissatisfied with the management of the ship, and is desirous of obtaining bail for her safe return to the port to which she belongs, to the amount of the value of his shares, which value is to be stated in the affidavit. And upon this affidavit, which need not previously be left in the registry, the judge or surrogate in chambers is to be moved by counsel to issue the warrant of arrest.

The action should be entered in the amount of the value of the shares of the party proceeding, and in a further moderate sum to cover the costs; and on bail being given, the vessel is to be released and allowed to proceed on her voyage.

In case of the parties differing as to the value of the vessel, she must be appraised under the authority of the court; and the actual value of the shares of the party proceeding at the period of giving bail, whether the ship be appraised or not, is the amount to be recovered in case the bond shall ultimately be pronounced to be forfeited.

The costs of the arrest are to be borne by the party proceeding; and the costs of giving bail by the defendant, unless the judge shall see cause to order otherwise.

In the event of the loss of the vessel before her return to the port to which she belongs (until which time the bail bond remains in force,) the party principal and his sureties may be called on by monition to show cause why they should not bring in the amount of their recognizances, in order to abide the judgment of the court. To obtain this monition an affidavit must be exhibited, showing that the bond has become forfeited, and it must be moved for by counsel before the judge or surrogate. The monition when obtained requires personal service.

Should an appearance be given and the suit be contested, the proctor of the party proceeding is to be assigned to deliver an act on petition to the adverse proctor, and the cause is then to take the same course as other cases conducted by act on petition.

§ 22. Derelict Cases.

In cases of derelict the action is to be entered and the warrant extracted by the proctor for the admiralty, without any amount of action being stated in the action book or on the warrant, and no affidavit is necessary to obtain the warrant, which, when issued, is to be served by affixing it for a short time on the ship or goods found derelict, and by leaving thereon affixed a true copy thereof. The warrant is then to be returned by the proctor into the registry.

After the lapse of three months from the return of the warrant (the property remaining in the custody of the court,) the judge, on the next regularly adjourned court-day, at the petition of the proctor, and on his allegation in court that the warrant has been returned upwards of three months, and that no appearance has been given, is to decree a monition to issue, calling upon all persons to appear and show cause why the property should not be condemned, at the expiration of a year and a day from the return of the warrant, as droits and perquisites of his majesty in his office of admiralty. The monition is to be made returnable at three months after its date, and is to be served by affixing the original for a short time either on the court-house or on the exchange, or place of common resort of merchants, or as the usage of the colony or settlement may be, and by leaving thereon affixed a true copy thereof. The object of this general service is to give the utmost publicity, so that the contents of the monition may be most likely to reach the knowledge of all parties interested. After this service, the monition is to be returned into the registry, with a certificate of service endorsed thereon.

If the property be in a perishable condition, and the judge be satisfied by affidavit at any period after the arrest that it would be for the benefit of all parties interested therein that the same should be forthwith sold, it may be appraised and sold under the direction and authority of the court, and the proceeds paid into the registry.

At the expiration of a year and a day from the return of the warrant, if no claim or appearance be given for the owners, the judge, on the next regularly adjourned court-day, is to proceed to condemn by sentence the property as droits and perquisites of his majesty in his office of admiralty. The sentence is to be prepared by the proctor, who is to make a fair copy thereof, for the judge's signature, which is to be signed in court in presence of the registrar, and a certificate is to be added by the registrar on the sentence, and a minute made in the assignation book of the same having been so signed.

The owners of property proceeded against as derelict, may appear at any time before the termination of the cause, and claim the same without being liable to any fees of contumacy incurred prior to their appearance. The claim with an affidavit in verification thereof, is to be drawn by the proctor, and should set forth the name, residence, and occupation of the owner, the title of the party to, and the identity of, the ship or goods claimed. Documents or exhibits in support of the affidavit may be annexed thereto. When the claim and affidavit have been settled by counsel, the proctor is to attend his party before the judge or surrogate, to be sworn to the same in the presence of the registrar, and the judge will then assign to hear on admission thereof on the next court-day, or at any other time to be by him fixed, of which notice is to be given to the parties. A copy of the affidavit and claim is to be given to the proctor for the crown, and if the counsel for the crown be satisfied that the party claiming is entitled to restitution of the property, he is to consent to the same being restored, which on motion of counsel before the judge may be immediately done on payment of the salvage, and the expenses on behalf of the crown. The instrument of restitution is to be prepared by the registrar, and extracted from the registry by the proctor for the claimant. The interests of salvors are always to be protected, and to this end, if restitution be consented to, and if salvage has not been previously paid, bail to our sovereign lord the king, in his office of admiralty, in a sum sufficient to answer salvage, must be given by two persons on behalf of the owners before the instrument of restitution is to be issued.

If the title to the property is contested, the cause must come on to be heard in court; a case and papers being delivered to counsel as in other contested causes.

§ 27. Prosecutions for Breach of the Revenue or Navigation Laws.

An affidavit is to be made by the seizer, detailing the grounds of the seizure and the circumstances attending the same, to which, in the case of a vessel being seized, is to be annexed all original papers that have been delivered up at the time of seizure, and which must be verified in the affidavit. Or if the ship's papers have been concealed, thrown overboard, or destroyed, the fact of such concealment or destruction should be stated in the affidavit.

The affidavit is to be exhibited to the judge or surrogate, who is to decree a monition to issue, returnable fourteen days after service, citing by name the owners, or persons implicated (if known) in special, and all others in general, to appear and show cause why the forfeiture should not be decreed, and the penalties due by law pronounced for: but where the parties are not known the monitions must only cite all persons in general.

When the monition specifies the names of the parties cited, it must be personally served on them like other instruments requiring personal service, and must also, like other monitions where the names of parties are not mentioned, be served on the exchange or court-house, or other public place, as before directed respecting instruments requiring service against all persons in general.

The monition having been served and no appearance being given, the judge is to proceed by interlocutory decree to condemn the property: but such condemnation is not to take place on any other than a regularly adjourned court-day, and not until the expiration of fourteen days from the return of the monition, and if it has been personally served, the judge may, without requiring any further evidence than the affidavit to lead the monition, pronounce for the penalties due by law.

If a personal service of the monition cannot be effected by reason that the persons named therein have purposely absented themselves to avoid the service, the judge may pronounce a similar decree; but if he has reason to believe that the persons named in the monition are bonâ fide ignorant thereof, he is to reserve his judgment so far as relates to the penalties sued for, and also as to the property, should any doubt arise upon the evidence.

In the case of a monition citing all persons in general, and not describing any person by name, no penalties can be pronounced for, but if the persons by whom the offence was committed shall afterwards be discovered, a subsequent monition may be issued in the same suit against him or them for recovery of the penalties.

In order to move for the interlocutory decree, a case, with a copy of the affidavit, must be delivered to counsel.

A claim may be given on behalf of the owners at any time before the interlocutory decree, and the claimant may, if he think fit, require the seizer to file an information or libel, to which the claimant may give in a responsive plea or allegation, and the case will then proceed by plea and proof in the manner before mentioned.

To the claim must be annexed an affidavit, containing the names, descriptions, and residence of the owners, and a detail of all the circumstances on which the claimant means to rely as the grounds of his defence.

The claim and affidavit are to be prepared and given in as directed in derelict cases; but in compliance with the act of 6 Geo. IV, c. 114, s. 62, security must be given on behalf of the claimant in the sum of £60 sterling, to answer costs before any claim can be received.

Upon a claim being filed, the judge, with the consent of the collector and comptroller of the customs, may order the delivery of the property to the claimant on his giving bond, with two sufficient sureties, to answer double the value of the same, as provided by the 58th section of the said act.

The court, on the application of the officer of the customs, or parties interested, may, at any time before condemnation, direct the property to be sold, if it shall satisfactorily appear by affidavit that a sale will be beneficial to all parties interested.

When a claim is given, and no libel prayed, the court may proceed to adjudge the case upon the facts and circumstances stated in the affidavits on both sides; but if it shall appear to the judge that the case is not sufficiently proved by such evidence, he may direct an information or libel to be filed by the seizer, and give leave to the claimant to file a responsive allegation: in which case witnesses are to be examined on both sides, and the cause will proceed as in plea and proof cases. After condemnation, the sale must take place according to the provisions of the 56th section of the said act.

In order to remedy complaints which have been made of the burthensome law charges on the colonies, on proceedings in revenue cases of small value, it is directed, that any number of seizures, not exceeding in the aggregate value £300, and not individually exceeding the sum of £100, may be included in one monition, and that different seizing officers may proceed conjointly in the same prosecution,—care being taken that the monition, and also the libel where that proceeding is required, be drawn conformably with the several circumstances, and that the different seizures be described in separate articles or counts of the libel or information. And to obviate any possible delay in the proceedings of the seizing officer, any claimant is to be at liberty to take out a monition against the seizer, returnable three days after service thereof, requiring him immediately to proceed to the adjudication of the property seized. For this purpose, and also to enable the seizer to determine whether to proceed separately as to one seizure, or to wait for the chance of including other seizures in the same process, by a consideration of the expenses of warehousing and custody of the seizure, the seizer is, without delay, in all cases where the probable amount of the seizure does not exceed in value £100 to report the facts to the registrar of the court.

In cases where it shall be deemed necessary to proceed immediately without waiting for other seizures, and the value is under £100, the several charges of the proceeding and adjudication are to be reduced £25 per cent. upon the usual charges; and if the property separately proceeded against does not exceed the value of £50, one-half of the usual fees only are to be charged.

§ 28. General Rules to be observed in Practice.—Subduction of an Action.

If a party proceeding determine to abandon his suit, or has compromised the same, he may at any period be allowed to subduct the action; to which end, the proctor who has extracted the warrant is to sign a short entry to that effect in the action book, and the property, if any have been arrested, is to be immediately released.

§ 29. Tender.

Whenever a tender is made on behalf of a defendant to pay a certain sum of money, the sum tendered must be brought into the registry, and an undertaking given for payment of the costs incurred up to that time; this must be done before the judge or surrogate, in the presence of the registrar and the adverse proctor, and a minute thereof is to be entered in the assignation book, and the proctor for the plaintiff is to be assigned to declare whether he will accept the tender or not,

within a time to be limited by the judge.

If the tender be refused, and the court shall ultimately consider the same to have been sufficient, the plaintiff, in general cases, is to be subject to all the costs incurred subsequent to the refusal, but under special circumstances, where the enforcement of this rule may be attended with injustice or hardship, the court may exercise its discretion by forbearing to condemn him in costs.

§ 30. References.

In cases where a reference of the subject in litigation may be expedient, the judge, either for his own satisfaction or at the instance of either of the parties, may refer any accounts or demands, or any matter incidental thereto, to the registrar, directing him to take to his assistance one or two merchants, and to investigate and report on the matter. The merchants to be selected by the registrar and approved by the judge.

The reference being ordered, the registrar is forthwith to make an appointment with the proctors of the parties and with the assistant merchant or merchants, and all necessary documents being produced, the registrar and merchants are to hear the matters in dispute discussed by the proctors and the parties principal, or their agents. The registrar is afterwards to draw up the result of the investigation, and of their joint deliberation thereon, in a written report, to be brought into court, and a minute to that effect is to be thereupon made in the assignation book.

The judge is to direct the report to be confirmed, unless objected to by either party by the succeeding adjourned court-day, or within a time to be limited by him. The report may be confirmed at the prayer of either of the proctors, and either may object to the report wholly or in part; but the party objecting must so declare in act of court, and is to be assigned by the judge to deliver in an act on petition, setting forth his objections to the adverse proctor, within a time to be limited. And the subsequent proceedings are then to be conducted as on all other acts on petition.

The proctor of the party who has obtained a decree or order condemning another party in the costs, is to furnish the adverse proctor and the registrar each with a copy of his bill, and to attend the registrar to procure an appointment to tax the same, of which notice is to be given to the adverse proctor, that he may be present thereat; and if he shall decline, or neglect to attend, the taxation may proceed in his absence upon an affidavit being exhibited to and filed with the registrar, shewing that a copy of the bill had been furnished, and that twenty-four hours' previous notice of the appointment had been given to him.

If the amount of the costs ascertained by the registrar be not forthwith paid, the registrar is to report the amount to the court, when, if no objection be made, the judge is to sign the bill, which completes the taxation, and a minute thereof is to be entered in the assignation book.

If the adverse proctor be dissatisfied with the amount proposed to be allowed, he is, on the same being reported and before the bill is signed by the judge, so to declare in court; and in that case the judge is to assign him to deliver an act on petition in objection to the taxation within a short time to be specified, and subsequently the same course is to be pursued as in other acts on petition.

When the judge has signed the bill, whether as originally reported by the registrar, or with any subsequent alteration, he is to decree a monition for payment thereof: and if the costs be not immediately paid, such monition may be extracted and served as usual, and may be followed up by attachment if necessary.

§ 32. Incidental Monitions.

In any cause, however commenced, monitions may incidentally become necessary, which are to be made returnable at a period to be fixed by the judge; and if the tenor of the monition be not complied with, the judge, on proof that it has been duly served, may enforce obedience thereto by attachment.

Commissions to take bail, to take the answers of parties to a libel or allegation, to take the oaths of parties or others to affidavits, to examine witnesses, and the like, may, under the authority, and at the discretion of the judge, issue in cases where the parties reside at so great a distance that the transaction of the business by commission will be attended with less expense than their personal appearance before the court.

Commissions may also issue for the unlivery of a cargo, for the appraisement or sale of a ship or cargo, or for the appraisement and sale of a ship and cargo in cases when, by reason of the distance, the marshal cannot be conveniently employed for the purpose without great expense.

All commissions are to be directed to respectable merchants, or professional men named by the proctors; and when they can agree thereto, one commissioner will be sufficient, otherwise a commissioner is to be nominated by each party.

§ 34. Acts on Petition.

In cases where any incidental matter may become the subject of dispute, and either of the parties shall desire it, or if the judge shall deem it necessary for his own satisfaction to have the facts further elucidated, he may direct the circumstances to be set forth in an act on petition.

§ 35. Appeals.

All appeals from decrees of the vice-admiralty courts are to be asserted by a party in the suit within fifteen days after the date of the decree, which is to be done by the proctor declaring the same in court; and a minute thereof is to be entered in the assignation book. And the party must also give bail within fifteen days from the assertion of the appeal in the sum of £100 sterling to answer the costs of such appeal.

In all cases, however, in which an appeal is asserted, except respecting slaves, the judge may proceed to carry his sentence into execution, provided the party in whose favour the decree has been made give bail to abide the event of the appeal, by two sureties in the amount of the value of the property or subject in dispute, together with the further sum of £100 sterling to answer costs, in the event of the same being awarded by the superior court.

The party appealing, having complied with these regulations, is then to cause the judge and registrar to be served with an inhibition from the high court of admiralty, restraining them from further proceeding in the cause, and also with a motion to transmit the process.

This process will consist of a fair copy of the proceedings under the seal of the vice-admiralty court, to be made and signed by the registrar, at the expense of the party ordering the same, which is to be transmitted to the superior court pursuant to the monition,

The proceeds, if in court, or in the hands of any individual, must, on a special monition for that purpose being served, be remitted to the registrar of the high court of admiralty or court of appeal.

§ 36. Regulations as to the Sittings of the Court.

Before the rising of the court, the judge is always to adjourn the same to a day to be by him fixed at his discretion, and proclamation thereof is thereupon to be made in open court by the marshal or officer of the court. It is, however, competent to the judge, notwithstanding such adjournment, subsequently to appoint an intermediate day or days, as may appear to him to be necessary, for the expediting any particular cause or causes before the court.

Forty-eight hours' notice of such intermediate court-days must always be published in the gazette or public newspaper of the colony by the registrar, at the expense of the party at whose instance or for whose benefit the court is to be so called, which expense is to be paid by the proctor.

Care is always to be taken that on such intermediate court-days, no assignation be sped, or order made, precluding the right, or to the manifest injury of any absent party, when it shall appear that he cannot have received sufficient notice of the sitting of the court; and absent parties are always to be entitled to the favourable consideration of the judge, if on the next succeeding regularly adjourned court-day cause shall be shown why an assignation made on any intermediate court-day had not been complied with.

In like manner, when an assignation has been made for an act to be done by a limited time, shall not have been duly complied with, and an intermediate court-day shall be subsequently held, parties who cannot by possibility have been cognizant of such intermediate court, and who may have very conclusive reasons to allege why they have been unable to comply with such assignation, are not to be prejudiced by the enforcement of the same on such intermediate court-day.

§ 37. As to the Return and Service of Warrants, Monitions, and other Instruments.

In general cases, warrants, monitions, and other instruments are to be made returnable, and parties cited to appear at the registry, either on a certain day mentioned, or at the expiration of a certain number of days after service, to be specified in the instrument, and between any two hours of the day most usually appropriated to public business.

Monitions to pay costs or a sum of money, or to do any specific act within a certain number of days, are to be returnable at the expiration of the usual hours of business at the registry, on the furthest or

If no appearance be given thereto, the registrar is immediately, on the expiration of the time specified, to attend before the judge or surrogate in court or chambers, with the proctor who is to return the instrument; and the proceedings are subsequently to be continued according to the requisites of the cause. The day of such return is the period from which is to be reckoned, for all future purposes, the contumacy or default of the party cited and not appearing.

Instruments against all persons in general, and which are served only on the ship or goods, or on the exchange, or principal resort of merchants, or on the court-house, can only be further proceeded on in parvam on the regularly adjourned court-days. But an instrument which has been personally served and duly returned, may be followed up by all further proceedings, even to attachment, without more regard to the regularly adjourned court-days than would be necessary respecting any other incident in the proceedings, because in such cases the party who has been served must always be aware of the liabilities to which he is exposed by his own laches, or contempt.

If an instrument be served on a ship, or goods laden on board a ship, when the master is on board, and the action be one to which he ought to appear and become a defendant, such service may, for the purpose of future proceedings, be considered equivalent to a personal service on him.

Wherever any monition or other instrument is served by any other person than the marshal, the certificate of the service thereof must be verified by an affidavit of the person serving the same.

All warrants, monitions, and other instruments requiring ulterior proceeding in parvam, in case of no appearance or of non-obedience, must be duly returned at the time specified for their return; and if not then duly returned, no further proceedings can be had thereon.

§ 38. Interlocutory Decree.

The interlocutory decree, which must always be moved by counsel, is the final act of adjudication in the principal cause of action in any suit. But in some few instances a suit may be terminated without it, viz. :—

Where a libel is rejected.

Where a defendant is dismissed because the promoter does not bring in his libel.

Where a protest is pronounced for, and the party appearing under protest is dismissed.

Where an action is subducted.

If sureties apply to be dismissed from their recognizances, it must be done by interlocutory decree; but if they are dismissed by the interlocutory decree in the principal cause, no further decree of that kind is necessary for their dismissal.

The fees due to the judge and officers on an interlocutory decree, are chargeable to all parties who receive benefit under the same; thus, in a case of derelict, the fees are chargeable to the claimant who obtains restitution of the property, and to the salvors to whom salvage may be awarded.

No decree is to be made, nor act of court to be sped by the judge or surrogate, without the presence of the registrar, by whom a minute or record thereof must be made and attested, except only in case of the registrar's unavoidable absence, on which occasion the judge or surrogate may assume an actuary to attest pro hac vice the act to be done. Any practitioner of the court, provided he be not concerned in the suit in which the act is to be done, may perform this part of the registrar's duty, attesting by his signature the entry of the act in the assignation book.

§ 39. Motions.

If a motion be not decreed at the time an interlocutory decree is made, it may, at the petition of the proctor on either side, be decreed on any court-day afterwards.

No motion to pay costs can be extracted until after such costs shall have been regularly taxed by the court.

§ 40. Proxies.

Although proxies are not usually exhibited in maritime suits, yet they may sometimes be required in order to prevent proctors from proceeding in causes on instructions from parties not being themselves entitled to intervene, or not having a legal personae standi to prosecute a cause.

§ 41. Other General Rules.

Upon the execution of commissions to take bail, the sureties must always justify their sufficiency before the commissioners, by being sworn to an affidavit, to be drawn by the registrar and annexed to the commission; and when bail is not taken by commission, and the court orders the sureties to justify, a similar affidavit must be made.

When a cargo has been delivered to the consignee, and he has not paid the freight, or when freight has been paid, and is in the possession of the owner of the ship, master, broker, or any other person, such freight may be arrested by service of a warrant upon the consignee or the person in whose hands the freight remains.

The same course is to be pursued when, under similar circumstances, a motion is to be served to bring the freight into the registry.

All commissions of unlivery, of appraisement, and of appraisement and sale, are to be extracted by the proctor for the plaintiff or promoter in the cause.

In those courts in which it may be necessary that the same individual should act as advocate and proctor, he may elect in which of the two capacities his fee, in those instances where the duties are necessarily exercised together, shall be charged, and the practitioner is in no instance to be allowed to receive fees for the same business in both capacities, nor to take a fee as counsel where the act of a proctor only is necessary. The same rule will apply to the fee specified in the table for a consultation in any intermediate stage of the proceeding, should a "necessity arise to resort to counsel for advice;" but an advocate's fee for consultation is not to be charged on any occasion where a reference to counsel would not have been necessary. The practitioner in such cases is only to be entitled to the fee for consultation as a proctor.

If the practitioner charges the advocate's fee for motion necessarily made by counsel before the judge in the progress of the cause, he is not to charge or be allowed the proctor's fee for attending such motion, and where he charges the advocate's fee "for the hearing," he is not also to charge or be allowed the proctor's fee "for attending informations on the final hearing;" nor is he in any case, when acting as counsel in the cause, to charge the proctor's fee for attendance to fee counsel.

In the case of the charges for drawing, and the fee for settling any plea, affidavit, interrogatories, answers, and the like, the practitioner acting in both capacities is not to be entitled to the full fee for drawing, and to charge a copy to settle, and also a fee for settling the same; but may be allowed, instead thereof, to charge such fee as the table prescribes for the advocate on settling, and also a moiety of the charges allowed by the table to the proctor for drawing and copying.

It being provided by the 5th section of the act, under the authority of which these regulations are established, that persons feeling themselves aggrieved by the allowance of any charges made by any officers or practitioners in the said vice-admiralty courts, as not warranted by the established tables of fees, may have such charges re-taxed by the authority of the high court of admiralty of England, upon summary application thereto.

It is requisite when such applications are intended to be made to that court, that a set of the copies of all papers previously made out and used in the proceedings upon which the charges objected to have arisen, or so many of them as may be necessary to explain or support the disputed charges, be transmitted to England; or if such copies cannot be transmitted without incurring an expense disproportionate to the object, it will be sufficient, as a substitute for the same, that an affidavit be made stating summarily the nature of the proceedings and the decree in the cause, a description of the different papers and the number of folios contained in each of them, and such facts or circumstances as will explain the nature of the cause and the charges objected to; which affidavit is to be filed in the registry of the vice-admiralty court, to give the officer or practitioner whose charges may be objected to, an opportunity of replying thereto, which he should do within a period not exceeding fourteen days, to be limited by the judge, who is then to order the costs already taxed to be referred for revision to the high court of admiralty, with copies of the affidavits. But, previous to any such order of reference being made, the party complaining must pay to the adverse proctor such part of the allowed charges as is not objected to, and must bring the remainder into the registry of the vice-admiralty court, to abide the decision of the high court of admiralty.

NOTE.—The foregoing rules and regulations touching the practice and proceedings in the several courts of vice-admiralty abroad, are extracted from a report addressed to the lords commissioners of his majesty's treasury, drawn up and signed by

SUPPLEMENTARY RULES

ESTABLISHED BY THE QUEEN'S ORDER IN COUNCIL, DATED AT THE COURT AT BUCKINGHAM PALACE, THE SECOND DAY OF MARCH, 1848.

The rules and regulations established by the king's order in council of the 27th June, 1832, are not to be construed to have set aside the former practice of the courts of vice-admiralty, of allowing the defendant to libel with sureties, unless the promoter should be admitted by the court to his juratory caution.

From the shortness of the season of the navigation at the port of Quebec, and the danger and risk to ships towards the close of the navigation in the autumn, from even so short as twenty-four hours' notice of bail, to answer an action, the period of notice of bail as provided by the 11th section of the above rules and regulations, shall not be required where the parties who are proposed as the bail make oath that they are respectively worth more than the amount for which they are proposed as bail or security, over and above the amount of all their just debts.

J. DODSON,
JOSEPH PHILLIMORE,
WM. ROTHERY,
H. B. SWABEY,

ADDITIONAL RULES AND REGULATIONS

FOR THE SEVERAL COURTS OF VICE-ADMIRALTY ABROAD, ESTABLISHED BY HER MAJESTY'S ORDER IN COUNCIL, BEARING DATE THE 6TH DAY OF JULY, 1859.

I. In all cases of damage, unless the judge shall be pleased otherwise to direct, each party or his proctor shall, before the libel or act on petition is given in, bring into and deposit in court a sealed packet containing a statement of the following particulars:—

I. The names of the two vessels which came into collision, and the names of their respective masters.

R

2. The time of the collision as nearly as can be stated.
3. The place of the collision.
4. The direction of the wind.
5. The state of the weather.
6. The courses of the respective vessels on first sighting each other.
7. The distance at which the other vessel was first seen.
8. The steps taken to avoid the collision.
9. The parts of each vessel which first came in contact.

And such packets shall remain in the registry sealed up, and shall not be opened, save with the permission of the judge, until the proofs in the cause are brought in, or the whole of the pleadings and evidence are concluded, and such statements shall be called the "preliminary acts," and may be in the form of the schedule hereto annexed, marked A. (V. post. p. 280.)

II. It shall be competent to the court, if it shall think fit so to do, and if the parties in the cause consent thereto, to direct the evidence to be taken upon the preliminary acts, and without its being necessary to bring in any further pleadings in the cause.

III. In proceedings by act on petition, the proctor, by whom the act is to be commenced, shall, on an appearance being given to the action, be assigned to bring in his act on petition by a time to be then fixed by the judge or his surrogate; and on his bringing in the same he shall deliver a copy thereof to the adverse proctor, who shall thereupon be assigned to bring in his answer thereto by such further time as may be then fixed by the judge or surrogate, and on the answer or any subsequent writing to the act being brought in, the proctor bringing in the same shall deliver a copy thereof to the adverse proctor, and a similar assignation shall be made on the adverse proctor to bring in his reply thereto. And when both proctors decline to write further to the act, a conclusion (form of which is hereunto annexed, marked B) (v. post. p. 281) shall be brought in signed by both the proctors, and, on the proofs being given in, the cause shall be assigned for hearing.

IV. In the event of a proctor not complying with the assignation made upon him to bring in his act on petition within the time specified for such purpose, the court may dismiss the cause. And if after the act on petition shall have been given in, either proctor shall fail to comply with any assignation made upon him to bring in any subsequent writing to the act, the court may conclude the act, and assign the proctors to bring in their proofs within a time to be then fixed, in order that the cause may be set down for hearing.

V. In proceedings by plea and proof upon a libel or allegation being given in, an assignation shall be made upon the adverse proctor to bring in his allegation responsive thereto on some day to be then fixed by the judge or surrogate, and the libel or allegation so given in as aforesaid shall stand admitted, unless the adverse proctor shall, within four days from the giving in of the same, declare in acts of court that he opposes the admissibility thereof.

VI. No witness shall be examined on any plea until after the pleadings in the cause have been concluded, except with the permission of the court, and upon good cause shown.

VII. The witnesses may be examined in one or other of the following methods:—

1. Virā rocc in open court.
2. By the registrar or an examiner of the court in chambers.
3. By a commissioner specially appointed by virtue of a commission to be issued under seal of the court, form of which is hereto annexed, marked C. (V. post. p. 281.)

VIII. When the witnesses are to be examined in open court, a list of the witnesses to be examined by each party is to be given to the adverse proctor forty-eight hours before the time appointed for their examination, provided that nothing herein contained shall prevent the immediate examination of the witnesses, if both parties in the cause consent thereto, and the court shall think fit to order it.

IX. It shall be competent to the court to summon and examine before it any witnesses, whether the proceedings shall have been by act on petition or by plea and proof, and whether the witnesses shall or shall not have previously made affidavits or given evidence in the cause.

X. In any examination by the registrar or an examiner, or a commissioner specially appointed, the proctors in the cause, or their substitutes, may, unless the judge shall order to the contrary, be present; but the evidence, as well in chief as upon interrogatories, shall be taken down in writing by the registrar, examiner, or commissioner, as the case may be. The witnesses may be cross examined upon interrogatories either prepared beforehand or framed and put in writing at the time of the examination, and, after cross-examination, they may in the same manner be re-examined also upon written interrogatories, but the questions shall in all cases be put, and the interrogatories be administered by the registrar, examiner, or commissioner.

XI. No party in a cause, except by special leave of the judge, shall be allowed to be present at such examination by the registrar, examiner, or commissioner, unless he shall be conducting the proceedings in person. And no party, proctor, or substitute shall be permitted to take any part in such examination, cross-examination, or re-examination, or in any manner to interfere with or object to the conduct or proceedings of the registrar, examiner, or commissioner, except to design the witnesses to the several articles of the pleas, and to tender written interrogatories to the registrar, examiner, or commissioner, for the purpose of their being administered to the witnesses.

XII. It shall not be necessary to repeat a witness to his deposition, either in chief or on interrogatories; but the registrar, examiner, or commissioner who shall have taken the evidence shall certify at the foot of the deposition that the same has been read over audibly and distinctly to the witness, and that the witness has acknowledged the same to be true.

XIII. If the witness refuse to sign his deposition, the registrar, examiner, or commissioner who shall have taken the evidence shall certify at the foot of the deposition that the witness has so refused, and that the deposition is in accordance with the evidence given by such witness, and the deposition of such witness may thereupon be read and referred to at the hearing of the cause.

XIV. It shall be competent to the court, whether the examinations take place in open court, or before the registrar, examiner, or commissioner, to direct the evidence of the witnesses to be taken down by a short-hand writer or reporter, who shall have been previously sworn faithfully to report the evidence, and a transcript of the short-hand writer's or reporter's notes, certified by him, to be correct, and approved by the judge or the registrar, examiner, or commissioner, as the case may be, shall be admitted to prove the oral evidence of the witnesses, and be taken down and used as evidence in the cause.

XV. Witnesses may be produced for examination before the registrar in any reference made to him either alone or with the assistance of merchants, after they shall have been duly sworn to speak the truth; and the evidence shall, if either party in the cause require it, be taken down by a short-hand writer or reporter appointed by the court, who shall be previously sworn faithfully to report the evidence, and a transcript of the short-hand writer's or reporter's notes, certified by him to be correct, and approved by the registrar, shall be admitted to prove the oral evidence of the witnesses, and be taken and used as evidence in any objection that may be taken to the registrar's report on such reference.

XVI. All the pleadings and proofs in a cause may, if the judge shall so direct, be printed prior to the hearing, and such printing shall be in such manner and form and under such regulations in regard to the cost and mode of printing the same as the judge of the court shall from time to time direct.

ADDITIONAL RULES

ESTABLISHED BY ORDER IN COUNCIL AT THE COURT AT WINDSOR,
THE 22ND DAY OF OCTOBER, 1859.

I. Whenever any ship, vessel, goods or merchandize has or have been detained or captured by any of your majesty's ships or vessels of war, and it has been determined to send the same before some vice-admiralty court for adjudication, the commanding officer of the capturing ship shall deliver to the officer who may be sent in charge of the prize an authority to institute the necessary proceedings, and such authority shall be in the terms or to the effect contained in the exhibit hereto annexed marked No. 1.*

II. The officer to whom such authority is given shall, upon his arrival in port, or the commanding officer shall himself, if in port, deliver the said authority to the queen's proctor in the colony, or in his absence, or on his refusal or default to institute proceedings, to any other proctor in the said colony; and such proctor may thereupon institute the necessary proceedings against the said prize, with a view to her condemnation.

III. At the termination of the proceedings the proctor who shall have conducted the suit on behalf of the queen's ship shall submit his costs, as also any charges which may have been paid by him, and which are properly chargeable against the said prize, including the expenses, if any, attending the

I request that you will, on the receipt of this, cause proceedings to be instituted on behalf of the officers and crew of Her Majesty's ship — against the — or vessel captured on maintenance and conveyance of the prize officer and crew, for taxation; and the registrar of the court, after having carefully examined them, shall report to the court the amount at which such costs, charges, and expenses ought to be allowed.

IV. Should the prize be condemned, then, if the proceeds arising from the sale thereof are sufficient, the court may order payment of the sum at which the said costs, charges, and expenses have been taxed, to be made out of the said proceeds, and the balance of such proceeds shall be forthwith paid to the senior commissariat officer at the place, in order that the same may be remitted to this country, in accordance with the provisions of the act of the 17th Victoria, cap. 19.

V. But if the proceeds shall be insufficient to pay the amount at which the said costs, charges, and expenses have been taxed, the court may order the whole of the said proceeds to be paid in part satisfaction thereof; and the said proctor may then draw on the accountant-general of the navy a bill, at thirty days after sight, for the balance remaining unpaid, and shall transmit with such bill the authority above mentioned from the commanding officer of the capturing vessel for instituting proceedings against the said prize.

VI. If, however, there shall be no proceeds, or if the prize against which proceedings have been instituted has been decreed to be restored, the proctor may draw upon the accountant-general of the navy a bill at thirty days after sight for the whole amount at which the said costs, charges, and expenses have been taxed and allowed by the court, and shall transmit with the said bill the authority from the commanding officer of the capturing ship, authorizing him to institute proceedings against the said prize.

VII. The registrar of the said court shall, as soon as possible after the said costs are taxed, and before the proctor has drawn upon the accountant-general of the navy for the amount which may be due to him, transmit the account of the said costs, charges and expenses in original, signed by himself and the judge of the said court, to the registrar of the high court of admiralty of England, accompanied with a certificate stating the amount at which it has been taxed, whether the whole or what part thereof has been paid, and whether any and what part remains due, and for which the proctor may draw upon the accountant-general of the navy, and, if the proceedings have not been conducted by the queen's proctor, whether that officer has declined or refused to conduct them, and on what grounds.

RULES OF PRACTICE

IN

HER MAJESTY'S PRIVY COUNCIL.

JUDICIAL COMMITTEE,
APPELLATE JURISDICTION.

AT THE COURT AT BUCKINGHAM PALACE,
The 13th day of June, 1853.

PRESENT:

THE QUEEN'S MOST EXCELLENT MAJESTY.
HIS ROYAL HIGHNESS PRINCE ALBERT.

LORD PRESIDENT.

LORD STEWART.

DUKE OF NEWCASTLE.

DUKE OF WELLINGTON.

LORD CHAMBERLAIN.

EARL OF ABERDEEN.

EARL OF CLARENDON.

VISCOUNT PALMERSTON.

MR. HERBERT.

SIR JAMES GRAHAM, BARR.

WHEREAS there was this day read at the board a report from the right honourable the lords of the judicial committee of the privy council, dated the 30th May last past, humbly setting forth that the lords of the judicial committee have taken into consideration the practice of the committee with a view to greater economy, despatch, and efficiency in the appellate jurisdiction of her majesty in council, and that their lordships have agreed humbly to report to her majesty that it is expedient that certain changes should be made in the existing practice in appeals, and recommending that certain rules and regulations therein set forth should henceforth be observed, obeyed, and carried

I. That any former usage or practice of her majesty's privy council notwithstanding, an appellent who shall succeed in obtaining a reversal or material alteration of any judgment, decree, or order appealed from, shall be entitled to recover the costs of the appeal from the respondent, except in cases in which the lords of the judicial committee may think fit otherwise to direct.

II. That the registrar, or other proper officer having the custody of records in any courts, or special jurisdiction, from which an appeal is brought to her majesty in council, be directed to send by post, with all possible despatch, one certified copy of the transcript record, in each cause, to the registrar of her majesty's privy council, Whitehall; and that all such transcripts be registered in the privy council office, with the date of their arrival, the names of the parties, and the date of the sentence appealed from; and that such transcript be accompanied by a correct and complete index of all the papers, documents, and exhibits in the cause; and that the registrar of the court appealed from, or other proper officer of such court, be directed to omit from such transcript all merely formal documents, provided such omission be stated and certified in the said index of papers; and that especial care be taken not to allow any document to be set forth more than once in such transcript; and that no certified copies of the record be transmitted to agents in England, by or on behalf of the parties in the suit; and that the fees and expenses incurred and paid for the preparation of such transcript be stated and certified upon it by the registrar, or other officer preparing the same.

III. That when the record of proceedings, or evidence in the cause appealed, has been printed or partly printed abroad, the registrar, or other proper officer of the court from which the appeal is brought, shall be bound to send home the same in a printed form, either wholly or so far as the same may have been printed; and that he do certify the same to be correct, on two copies, by signing his name on every printed sheet, and by affixing the seal, if any, of the court appealed from: to these copies, with the sanction of the court; and that in all cases in which the parties in appeals shall think fit to have the proceedings printed abroad, they shall be at liberty to do so provided they cause fifty copies of the same to be printed in folio, and transmitted, at their expense, to the registrar of the privy council; two of which printed copies shall be certified, as above, by the officers of the court appealed from; and in this case no further expense for copying or printing the record will be incurred or allowed in England.

IV. That on the arrival of a written transcript of appeal at the privy council office, Whitehall, the appellant, or the agent of the appellant prosecuting the same, shall be at liberty to call on the register of the privy council to cause it, or such part thereof as the respondent, or his agent may require, to be printed by her majesty's printer, or by any other printer, on the same terms—the appellant or his agent engaging to pay the costs of preparing a copy for the printer, at a rate not exceeding one shilling per brief sheet—and likewise the costs of printing such record or appendix; and that one hundred copies of the same be struck off, whereof thirty copies are to be delivered to the agents on each side, and forty kept for the use of the judicial committee; and that no other fee for solicitors' copies of the transcript, or for drawing the joint appendix, be henceforth allowed—the solicitors on both sides being allowed to have access to the original papers at the council office, and to extract, or cause to be extracted and copied, such parts thereof as are necessary for the preparation of the petition of appeal, at the stationer's charge, not exceeding one shilling per brief sheet.

V. That a certain time be fixed, within which it shall be the duty of the appellant, or his agent, to make such application for the printing of the transcript, and that such time be within the space of six calendar months from the arrival of the transcript and the registration thereof, in all matters brought by appeal from her majesty's colonies and plantations east of the Cape of Good Hope, or from the territories of the East India company, and within the space of three months in all matters brought by appeal from any other part of her majesty's dominions abroad; and that in default of the appellant, or his agent, taking effectual steps for the prosecution of the appeal within such time or times respectively, the appeal shall stand dismissed without farther order, and that a report of the same be made to the judicial committee by the registrar of the privy council, at their lordships' next sitting.

VI. That whenever it shall be found that the decision of a matter on appeal is likely to turn exclusively on a question of law, the agents of the parties, with the sanction of the registrar of the privy council, may submit such question of law to the lords of the judicial committee, in the form of a special case, and print such parts only of the transcript as may be necessary for the discussion of the same; provided that nothing herein contained shall in any way bar or prevent the lords of the judicial committee from ordering the full discussion of the whole case, if they shall so think fit; and that in order to promote such arrangements and simplification of the matter in dispute, the registrar of the privy council may call the agents of the parties before him, and having heard them, and examined the transcript, may report to the committee as to the nature of the proceedings.

And her majesty is further pleased to order, and it is hereby ordered that the foregoing rules and regulations be punctually observed, obeyed, and carried into execution, in all appeals or petitions and complaints, in the nature of appeals brought to her majesty, or to her heirs and successors, in council, from her majesty's colonies and plantations abroad, and from the Channel Islands or the Isle of Man, and from the territories of the East India company, whether the same be from the courts of justice, or from special jurisdiction, other than appeals from her majesty's courts of vice-admiralty, to which the said rules are not to be applied.

Whereof the judges and officers of her majesty's courts of justice abroad, and the judges and officers of the superior courts of the East India company, and all other persons whom it may concern are to take notice, and govern themselves accordingly.

TABLES
OF THE STAMP DUTIES PAYABLE ON LAW PROCEEDINGS
IN THE
SUPERIOR COURT,
PROVINCE OF QUEBEC.

NOTE.—To find out from the following tables the amount of stamps payable on any proceeding, add to the amount in the column of fees the amount in the column of taxes for the district.

The amounts in the first column of taxes are those payable in the districts of Montreal, K^ebec, and Ottawa. Those in the second, in the district of Quebec. And those in the third, in the districts of Three Rivers, St. Francis, Gaspé, Terrebonne, Joliette, Richelieu, Saguenay, Chicoutimi, Rimouski, Montmagny, Beauce, Arthabaska, Bedford, St. Hyacinthe, Iberville, and Beauharnois.

The items marked with an asterisk have been increased 5 cents on prothonotary's fees under stamp act.

The items marked with a dagger have been increased 5 cts. on crier's fees under stamp act.

The items in italics are amendments or additions to the tariff, made by order in council, promulgated 28th December, 1869, and only apply in the several districts to cases there instituted since the registration of this order in the prothonotary's office of the district.

No tax is payable on any alias or pluries writ of any kind or on any writ of attachment by garnishment after judgment in cases in which an execution has been previously issued.

No tax payable on any writ of saisie arrêt after judgment, if an execution has been previously issued, or on any alias or pluries writ of any kind.

N. B.—There are many proceedings, not specified in the foregoing tables, whereon fees and court-house tax are payable, which it has not been thought necessary to include, as they would render these tables too voluminous, and as a knowledge of the latter will easily suggest what number and denomination of stamps will be required.

For each folio to which the examination shall extend, if in English	0	1	0
If by interpretation (interpreter included)	0	2	0

NOTE.—It should be understood that the registrar, or whoever acts as the examiner for him, should take depositions in chief of the witnesses, on the libel, information or plea itself without written interrogatories, putting each relevant questions, viva voce, as may suggest themselves, and care should be taken not to lead the witness. The libel, information or plea should, therefore, always be drawn sufficiently precise and full to enable the examiner to take the examinations accordingly. The cross-examinations must, of course, be taken on written interrogatories.

4. Fees on office copies of papers or proceedings.

For office copy of sentence or interlocutory decree, certified under seal	£0	6	0

For the like duty, when the value exceeds £500 sterling	1	16	0
For executing every decree or commission of sale of ship or goods, by public auction, when the gross proceeds are under £200 sterling	1	1	0
And on every additional £100 sterling	0	10	6
On attending the execution of a decree or commission of unlivery of cargo, (when not done for the purpose of sale,) per day	0	16	0
For taking a person in execution, after sentence, if the sum due from such person does not exceed £20 sterling	0	18	0
For the like duty, when the sum is above £20, and under £50 sterling	1	16	0

For the like duty, when the sum is above £50, and under £100 sterling, for every pound sterling due	£0	1	0
And on every additional pound sterling, after the first £100.....	0	0	6

NOTE.—Should it be necessary for the marshal to go any distance, to execute any of the above duties, there should be paid to him, for loss of time and travelling expenses, in addition to the preceding fees, the following :

If the distance exceeds four and be under six miles	1	1	0
If the distance be still greater, the allowance to be increased by an addition of 2s. 3d. for each additional league, and his reasonable disbursements.

BY THE ADVOCATES.

As the professions of advocate and proctor are not as yet separated in Lower Canada, the fees of both are inserted under the following head :

BY THE ADVOCATES AND PROCTORS.

Retaining fee, instructions to prosecute or defend	0	10	6
For attending before the judge, or judge surrogate, either in court or chambers	0	6	0
On extracting any warrant, monition, commission, writ, or other instrument	0	6	0
Drawing libel, information, claim, and affidavit, act on petition, responsive plea (or replication) to libel or information, or act on petition	0	18	0
Engrossing copies, each	0	9	0
Drawing interrogatories, answers, affidavits, or any other proceeding whatever, not herein specified, for each folio	0	1	0
Fair copying or engrossing, for every folio	0	0	6

NOTE.—It should be understood that in preparing interrogatories for the cross-examination of witnesses, they are not to be drawn separately for each witness to whom the same are to be administered, but that when practicable, as in most instances will be the case, one set of interrogatories should be prepared, generally applicable to all the witnesses.

For consultation with party, for the purpose of taking instructions for the libel, information, plea, act on petition, or for any other important purpose, during the dependence of a suit	£10	6	0
The fee for the final hearing must depend upon the length of the evidence, and the importance and difficulties of the cause; but in cases of no great intricacy, the fee should be from two to three guineas, and not to exceed the latter sum, unless where the proceedings are voluminous, or unusually important or difficult, and in this last case not to exceed five guineas	2	2	0
		or
	5	5	0
For any necessary attendance on the registrar, or on the adverse proctor, during the progress of a cause, to adjust any incidental point in the suit, or on the marshal, to instruct him as to the service of any instrument, reporting bail, &c.	0	4	6
On all office copies of depositions, &c., obtained from the registrar, one-third of the actual sum paid at the registry is to be added for the trouble of collating and extracting the same.
For perusing and considering any papers, exhibits or documents, furnished or introduced into a cause by the adverse party, or furnished by a party to his own proctor, for the purpose of being brought forward as evidence in the suit, if not exceeding twelve folios	0	3	0
For every additional twelve folios	0	1	6
For attending informations on the final hearing of a cause, when it occupies only a short time, 10s. ; if a few hours, 16s. 8d. ; if a whole day, £1 6s. 8d.....	0	10	0
	0	16	8
		or
	1	6	8

NOTE.—In some of the vice-admiralty courts proceedings for the forfeiture of ships or goods, and for the recovery of penalties consequent thereon, have, in some instances, been carried on by two separate suits—one for the condemnation of the property, and the other for the penalties. This mode of proceeding should be discontinued, one suit only being necessary to accomplish both objects.

*In all cases under £20 sterling, wherein the judge shall see fit to order that the proceedings be summary and the evidence taken viva voce, the fees to be taken by the several officers of the court shall become half of the foregoing fees, and no more,* save and except as to the fee for the warrant of arrest, arrest and bail bond, which shall remain as above.

So also as to cases under £20 sterling settled before the return of the warrant.

SUPPLEMENTARY RULES.

The rules and regulations established by the king's order in council of the 27th June, 1832, are not to be construed to have set aside the former practice in the courts of vice-admiralty, of allowing the defendant to require from the promoter to libel with sureties, unless the promoter should be admitted by the court to his juratory caution.

From the shortness of the season of the navigation at the port of Quebec, and the danger and risk to ships towards the close of the navigation in the autumn, from even so short as twenty-four hours' notice of bail to answer an action, this period of notice of bail, as provided by the 11th section of the above rules and regulations, shall not be required where the parties who are proposed as the bail make oath that they are respectively worth more than the amount for which they are proposed as bail or security, over and above the amount of all their just debts.

AT THE COURT AT BUCKINGHAM PALACE,
The 2nd day of March, 1848.

THE QUEEN'S MOST EXCELLENT MAJESTY IN COUNCIL.

Whereas, there was this day read at the Board, a memorial of the right honourable the lords commissioners of the admiralty, dated the 16th February, 1848, in the words following, viz.:

"Whereas, by his late majesty's order in council, of the 27th June, 1832, certain tables of fees were established for the several courts of vice-admiralty; and by a subsequent order in council of his late majesty, dated 20th November, 1835, so much of the preceding order in council as related to the establishment of a table of fees, to be taken by the several officers of the vice-admiralty court at Quebec, was revoked; and whereas, the lords commissioners of your majesty's treasury have represented to us that it would be desirable to establish a table of fees for the said vice-admiralty court at Quebec, we do, therefore, most humbly submit to your majesty, that your majesty will be most graciously pleased, by your order in council, to authorise us to carry into effect the proposal of the lords commissioners of your majesty's treasury, and that the table of fees hereunto annexed, which has been proposed by your majesty's advocate-general and other competent authorities of the high court of admiralty of England, may be established, by your majesty's order in council, as the only fees to be taken, or received, by the officers and practitioners of the vice-admiralty court at Quebec."

Her majesty having taken the said memorial into consideration, was pleased, by and with the advice of her privy council, to approve thereof, and of the table of fees accompanying the same (copy whereof is hereunto annexed), and the right honourable the lords commissioners of the admiralty are to give the necessary directions herein accordingly.

RULES AND ORDERS

IN

INSOLVENCY MATTERS

Made by the Judges of the Superior Court for Lower Canada, under and by virtue of the Statutes 27 and 28 Vict., cap. 17, intituled: "An Act respecting Insolvency," and continued in force by the "Insolvent Act of 1869," s. 138.

1. There shall be assigned in the court-house of each judicial district at which the sittings of the superior court are held, two rooms for matters in insolvency, one in which the sittings of the judge shall be held, and the other for the office of the clerk in insolvency.

2. All judicial proceedings in insolvency shall be had and conducted in the said court room alone, and not elsewhere; and the sittings of the judge shall commence at 11 A.M., or at such hour as the judges or judge in each district shall hereafter appoint, and shall continue till the business of the day shall be completed, or until the judge shall adjourn the same.

3. The clerk's office shall be kept open every juridical day, from 9 A. M. to 4 P. M., and shall be attended during that time by a clerk appointed by the district prothonotary, and who shall be known as "The Clerk in Insolvency."

4. To ensure regularity of proceedings at the sittings of the judges, the business shall be conducted in the following order:

- i. Meetings of creditors;
- ii. Motions;
- iii. Rules nisi;
- iv. Petitions, except as hereinafter mentioned;
- v. Proceedings on applications for discharge of insolvents;
- vi. Proceedings on applications for discharge of assignee;
- vii. Appeals.

5. Proceedings before a judge or court may be conducted by the insolvent himself, or by any party having interest therein, or by their attorney ad litem, admitted to practice in Lower

Canada, and by no other person.

6. All motions, petitions and claims, and all papers in the nature of pleadings in insolvency shall be intitled: In Insolvency for the District of In the matter of Insolvent, and Claimant, Petitioner or Applicant, as the case may be, plainly written, without interlineations or abbreviations of words; and the subject or purpose thereof shall be plainly and concisely stated. They shall also be subscribed by the petitioner, applicant or claimant, or by his attorney ad litem for him; and they shall be subject to the ordinary rules of procedure of the superior court in respect of similar papers, as regards the names and designations of the parties, and the mode in which they shall be docketed and filed.

7. No paper of any description shall be received or filed in any case, unless the same shall be properly numbered and intitled in the case or proceeding to which it may refer or belong; and be also endorsed with the general description thereof, and with the name of the party or his attorney ad litem filing the same.

8. In all appealable matter in dispute, the pretensions of the parties shall be set forth in writing, in a clear, precise and intelligible manner, and the notes of the verbal evidence taken before the assignee shall be plainly written, shall be signed by the witness, if he can write and sign his name, and shall be certified by the assignee as having been sworn before him. And, in the event of an appeal, the assignee shall make and certify a transcript from his register, of the proceedings before him in the matter appealed from. And he shall also make and certify a list of the documents composing such proceedings and appertaining thereto, and shall annex such transcript and list to such documents with a strong paper or parchment cover, before producing the record before the judge, as required by the said act.

9. All proceedings before a judge or court shall be entered daily, in order of date, in a docket of proceedings, to be kept by the clerk for each case; and shall, from time to time, and until the close of the estate, be fairly transcribed in registers suitable therefor, which shall be kept and preserved by the prothonotary, in the same manner as the registers of proceedings of the superior court.

10. No demand, petition or application of which notice is required to be given, either by the provisions of the said act or by an order of the judge or court, shall be heard until after such notice shall have been given, and due return thereof made and filed in the case.

11. Except where otherwise limited and provided by the said act, and upon good cause shewn, the proceedings, after notice thereof has been given, may be enlarged by the judge or court whenever the rights of parties interested may seem to

13. All affidavits of indebtedness made by a creditor, or by the clerk or agent of a creditor shall set forth the particulars and nature of the debt, with the same degree of certainty and precision as is required in the affidavits to hold to bail in civil process in the courts of Lower Canada.

14. All writs of attachment issued under the said Act, shall, as issued, be numbered and entered successively by the clerk in a book, to which there shall be an index, and to which access for examination or extract shall be had gratis, at all times during office hours.

15. Every such writ shall describe the parties thereto, in the same manner as they are described in the said affidavits of debts; and the declaration accompanying the said writ, shall be similar in its form to the declarations required to be filed in ordinary suits in the superior court.

16. No such writ shall issue until after the affidavit of debt upon which the writ is founded, shall have been duly filed in the clerk's office.

17. All services of writs, rules, notices, warrants and proceedings in Lower Canada, except otherwise specially prescribed by the said act, may be made by a bailiff of the superior or circuit court, whose certificates of service shall be in the form required for service of process in the said courts; or by any literate person, who shall certify his service by his affidavit; and in either case, the manner, place and time of such service shall be described in words, and also the distance from the place of service to the place of proceeding.

18. All services of writs, rules, notices, warrants or other proceedings, shall be made between the hours of 8 A. M. and 7 P. M., unless otherwise directed by a judge or court upon good cause shewn.

19. Writs of attachment need not be called in open court, but shall be returned on the return day into the clerk's office, and shall be there filed for proceedings thereon, as may be advised or directed.

20. Every day except Sundays and holidays, shall be a juridical day for the return of said writs, and for judicial and court proceedings.

21. The sheriff to whom the writ of attachment shall not be required to make any detailed inventory or proceeds-verbal of the effects or articles by him attached under such writ; but a full and complete inventory of the insolvent's estate, so attached by the sheriff, shall be made by the assignee or person who shall be placed in possession thereof as guardian under such writ; by sorting and numbering the books of account, papers, documents and vouchers of the estate, and entering the same, with the other assets, and effects thereof, in detail, in a book for the same, which shall be called "The Inventory of the Estate of....." and which shall be filed by the said assignee or person in possession, on the return day of the said writ, as required by the said act; and the said inventory shall be open for examination or extract at all times during office hours, gratis.

22. Immediately upon the execution of the voluntary deed or instrument of assignment to the assignee, he shall give notice thereof by advertisement in the form of D. of the said act (vide The Insolvent Act of 1869, s. 2, and form A), requiring, by such notice, all creditors of the insolvent to produce before him, within two months from the date thereof, their claims, specifying the security therefor, with the vouchers in support of such claims, as required by such notice.

23. The clerk shall prepare for the judge or court, a list of matters pending or ready and fixed for proceeding on each day, following therein the order of procedure prescribed by the 4th rule, which list shall be communicated to the judge on the previous day.

24. The record of proceedings in each case shall at all times during office hours, be accessible, at the clerk's office, to creditors and others in interest in such cases, for examination or extract therefrom, gratis. And in like manner the minutes of meetings of creditors, and the registers of proceedings, together with claims made and the documents in possession of the assignee, shall also be accessible to creditors and others in interest in the case, at convenient hours, daily, to be appointed by the said assignee.

25. The assignee shall, from time to time, under order of date, and within twenty four hours after the proceedings had before him, file in the said clerk's office, a clear copy under his signature as such assignee, of such proceedings, together with a copy of the several newspapers and Official Gazette, in which he shall have caused notices of such proceedings to be advertised, which said copy and newspapers shall form part of the record of the particular case.

26. The assignee shall, on the third juridical day of each month, after he shall have commenced to deposit estate moneys in a bank or bank agency, as required by the said act, file of record in the case an account of the estate, shewing the balance thereof in his hands, or under his control, made up to the last day of the preceding month. And no moneys so deposited, shall be withdrawn without a special order of the court, entered in the docket of proceedings in the case, or upon a dividend sheet prepared and notified, as required by the said act, or unless otherwise ordered by the creditors, under the powers

ADDENDA.

The following Supplementary Rules of Practice in the Court of Queen's Bench, (Appeal Side,) were, by an oversight, omitted in their order, after page 224. They will, however, be found referred to in the Index.

SUPPLEMENTARY RULES OF PRACTICE, QUEEN'S BENCH.

RECORDS TO HAVE PARCHMENT COVERS.

July 11th, 1857.

Experience having shewn that the paper covers, heretofore in use, are insufficient to protect the records of the court from injury, it is hereby ordered, pursuant to the statute in that behalf, that for the future the clerk do provide proper wrappers, or external covers, in parchment, for each record; and to defray the expense thereof the sum of one shilling and threepence shall be paid to him, over and above the other sums now payable upon the suing out of any writ of appeal.

TWENTY-FIVE FACTS TO BE FILED.

It is further ordered, that instead of the present number, for the future there be filed in the office of the clerk twenty-five printed copies of cases, on each side, in appeal; and that the said cases be printed, as heretofore, on paper in folio form.

October 12th, 1857.

Doubts having arisen, whether the additional number of cases in appeal, made requisite by the rule of the 11th July last, should be liable to the payment of any fee or charge, it is hereby ordered that no fee or charge whatever shall be demanded or paid, in respect of such additional cases.

PRINTED FACTUMS TO BE PRODUCED IN APPEALS FROM CIRCUIT COURT.

December 6th, 1859.

1. That for the future, in appeals from the circuit court, the parties shall each produce a printed factum, in the same manner, within the same delay, and subject to the same penalties as are prescribed and established by the rule concerning appeals from the superior court; and the party appellant will not, for the future, be obliged to furnish copies of his petition in appeal.

EVIDENCE TO BE PRINTED.

2. That for the future, in every appeal, as well from the superior as from the circuit court, the evidence taken in the suit is to be printed, and to form part of the factum; that is to say, that the appellant shall have printed, with his factum, the evidence adduced by him in the court of original jurisdiction, and the respondent that adduced by him.

COPY OF JUDGMENT APPEALED FROM TO BE INSERTED IN APPELLANT'S FACTUM.

December 30th, 1861.

It is ordered that the appellant, in each case, shall insert in its factum, a true copy of the judgment appealed from, and both parties, appellant and respondent, shall endorse on the said factum the name of the court from whose judgment the appeal has been instituted.

PARTIES TO HAVE COMMUNICATION OF RECORDS.

June 5th, 1862.

It is ordered that, hereafter, communication of the record, in each case, be given to the attorney of either party, on his receipt, filed with the clerk of the court; and that the order of this court, or of one of the judges thereof, required by the third rule of practice, be dispensed with.

CLERK TO FURNISH JUDGES WITH LIST OF APPEALS TO THE PRIVY COUNCIL.

June 4th, 1864.

It is ordered that, at the expiration of each term the clerk of this court do give each judge a list of the cases in which an appeal has been allowed to her majesty in her privy council.

That immediately on the transcript of the record being transmitted to the first clerk of the privy council, the clerk of this court shall inform each judge thereof.

EJECTMENT CASES TO BE HEARD BY PRIVILEGE.

March 9th, 1865.

It is ordered, that appeals from judgments in actions of ejectment, brought under the lessors' and lessees' act, shilla, as to hearing, have precedence in this court before other cases.

NO BARRISTER OR OFFICER OF THE COURT MAY BECOME SURETY.

June 9th, 1865.

It is ordered, that no barrister, attorney, prothonotary, sheriff, crier, bailiff, sheriff's officer, or officer of this court, shall be bail or surety in any action or proceeding cognizable by this court, or by any judge thereof.

CASE RESERVED FOR OPINION OF COURT TO BE SET DOWN FOR HEARING ON RECEIPT OF PAPERS.

June 1st, 1867.

It is ordered, that the clerk of this court, immediately upon the receipt of the papers transmitted in a case reserved for the opinion of the court, shall set down such case for hearing on the first juridical day of the then next ensuing term.

WRITS OF ERROR.

It is ordered that the plaintiff in error, in all criminal cases, shall file an assignment of errors on the first juridical day after the day of the return of the said writ.

That the joinder in error shall be filed on the first juridical day following the filing of the assignment of errors.

That the clerk of this court, on receiving the joinder in error, shall forthwith set down the cause to be heard on the errors assigned.
