Why does Canada Raise Money by Selling Bonds?

BONDS are issued payable in ten or twenty years, as the case may be. It means that repayment of the money will be spread over ten or twenty years instead of being raised by taxation to meet current expenditures. To raise by taxation all the money as fast as it is needed to carry on Canada's share in winning the war, would be an unbearable burden upon the people. It would mean that more than a million dollars a day would have to be raised right now.

But to raise money by selling Canada's Victory Bonds means that those of the next generation who will benefit by the sacrifices this generation is making;—who will share in the freedom this generation is fighting for and largely paying for—will also pay their share.

And when you buy Canada's Victory Bonds you make a first-class business investment in a security that is absolutely safe, likely to enhance in value after the war, and bearing a good rate of interest. You help the country by keeping open the British market for Canadian products and this helps the general welfare in which you share.

And again, every Canadian who buys a Victory Bond becomes a financial partner or backer of Canada in the war. When you buy a Canada Victory Bond you give a personal pledge that you are going to help to win the war.

Every man and woman in Canada can help to win the war by buying Canada's Victory Bonds. And Canada wants the personal, individual interest and co-operation of every man and woman in the country.

The buying of Victory Bonds by the whole people unites them in a determination to win the war.

Every purchase of Canada's Victory Bonds is a blow for freedom against the tyranny of German Kultur.

Every bond sold is a new guarantee that Canada is in the war to the finish, until victory is with the Allies and the world has been made safe to live in.

Every bond you buy is a new pledge that Canada will remain true to herself, the Empire, the Allies and to freedom's cause.

So it is both patriotic and good business to Buy Canada's Victory Bonds

Issued by Canada's Victory Loan Committee in co-operation with the Minister of Finance of the Dominion of Canada.

A NEW INVENTION

It is Said That Dyking Will now be a Pleasure.

(From the Sackville Tribune)

An invention, which promises to revolutionize the work of dyking and ditching is soon to be tried out on the dyke-lands of the Tantramar. The inventor is Mr. J. K. Elderkin, of Apple River, Nova Scotia, who for about four years has been bringing to perfection a dyking machine, which is recognized as being admirably adapted for the purposes for which it is intended. Sometimes inventions promise well, but fail when it comes down to practical performance. The dyking machine of Mr. Elderkin, however, has passed the experimental stage entirely and one machine is now doing valiant service in the marsh lands in the vicinity of Apple River. So efficient and excellent is the machine that the people of Cumberland County, who have much dyking to do as a result of the recent high tides, will not allow it to be removed to Westmorland so Mr. Elderkin is under the necessity of having other machines manufactured as quickly as possible in order to meet an urgent need.

A few days ago a number of Sackville men, learned in the art of dyking and ditching, visited Apple River and watched for themselves, the dyking machine in operation. They all express themselves as being delighted with what they saw and such terms as "wonderful," "splendid," "works fine," express the story of their satisfaction. The only difficulty lies in the fact that it will be a week or more before a machine can be manufactured for use on the Tantramar marshes. In the making of this machine and others, which are likely to follow as quickly as possible, Sackville will play quite an important part. Mr. Elderkin and some Sackville men, associated with him, have arranged to have wood work in connection with the machine made in Middle Sackville, Messrs. George Campbell & Sons, Limited, having undertaken the work. The castings will probably be made in Amherst, and New Glasgow, with the assembling done here. The machine is run by a gasoline engine of about eight horse power and can easily be operated by three men, who do not need to work hard. It will travel under its own power, over very soft land, and will do the work of fifty men

Such an efficient machine which can be used for ditching as well as dyking, is especially valuable at the present time when labor is scarce and when the necessity for repairing the dykes quickly is very urgent. There should be a wide market for dyking machines of this kind and it is to be hoped that Mr. Elderkin and his associates will decide to go into their manufacture extensively. [The Mr. Elderkin above referred to is a brother of Dr. E. J. Elderkin, of Weymouth, Digby county.]

W. M. S. DISTRICT CONVENTION

The District Convention of the W. M. S. of the Methodist church, was in session in Grace Methodist Church, Digby, on Wednesday and Thursday of last week. Mrs. Brown, of Middleton, acting as secretary. Of the fifteen auxiliaries, ten were represented by delegates as follows: Annapolis, Mrs. C. A. Munro; Auburn, Mrs. LaMert Patterson; Bear River, Mrs. Dunn; Benville, Mrs. Clair Bent; Digby, Mrs. England; Upper Granville, Mrs. Harold Bent; Lawrencetown, Mrs. S. J. Boyce; Margaretsville, Mrs. Moody; Middleton, Mrs. Brown. In addition to these, there were several visitors from Bear River and other towns.

The Devotional exercises in the afternoon and evening, were conducted by Rev. W. I. Croft. Wednesday afternoon was devoted to business. Reports were received from the various societies in the District and discussions followed on the best methods of work.

The public meeting in the evening was well attended and was a bright and helpful service. The Digby Auxiliary and choir rendered excellent service with music. A well delivered exercise by some young girls was enthusiastically received. The chair was occupied at this meeting as at all sessions by the District President, Mrs. Jost, of Bridgetown. The principal speakers were Mrs. A. C. Borden, of Kentville, and Miss Killam, of Yarmouth, a returned Missionary from Japan.

Mrs. Borden brought "Echoes from the General Board of the W. M. S." into each sentence of the address, Mrs. Borden packed a volume of information and suggestion. A closing sentence is worth preserving: "The Missionary Society is the Aviation Corps of the church because of its physical strength, its mental alertness and its spiritual equilibrium."

Miss Killam, of Yarmouth, recently of Japan, told of many questions she was frequently asked concerning Christian work in Japan. She made it clear that Japan needs the Christian religion and that it is receiving the word that marked readiness, and that good results are following the Missionary labours. Thursday morning session was given up to the consideration of the work in the Junior Societies.

W. M. S. of the Canadian Methodist church, has a membership of 86,731 persons. The total income for the year 1916-17 was $223,553.36, an increase of over $17,000.00 over the previous year.

Its finances and all its operations are carried on in harmony with the general Board of Missions of the Methodist Church, yet as an independent body.

The General Board makes a contribution to the magnificent work of W. M. S. every year. Last year it gave the sum of $11,434.00. The current income of the General Board of Missions was $692,515.00. To this should be added the amount of the W. M. S., which makes a total of $296,068.00, raised by the Methodist church for Home and Foreign Missions last year.

BAPTIST CONVENTION

SUCCESSFUL MEETING HELD IN HALIFAX LAST WEEK

The Sessions Well Attended—A Number of Important Resolutions Passed Unanimously—Good Financial Report—Committees Appointed.

At the Baptist convention in Halifax on Wednesday morning several important resolutions were passed.

The committee on temperance and moral reform recommended the employment along with the other Baptist conventions in Canada, of a social service secretary; that the convention officially relate itself to the Home for Delinquent Girls in Truro; that in view of the laxity of the enforcement of the Nova Scotia Temperance Act, in sections of Nova Scotia, that said Act be so amended as to centralize the authority and so give greater power, thus making the Act more effective; that this convention register its strong disapproval of the Dominion Senate in expunging the amendment to the criminal code relating to the age of consent and also the Doherty Act; that the pastors of our churches place greater emphasis on these great social issues that the Baptist people of our constituency may attain an intelligent grasp on existing conditions.

By rising vote the following resolutions were passed:

"Resolved, that we express our gratitude for the formation of the Union Government at Ottawa for the purpose of winning the war and that we respectfully petition this government to enact as speedily as possible a law prohibiting the importation, manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquors in the Dominion of Canada.

"Resolved, that this convention expresses its determination to prosecute the war to a successful termination until righteousness, equity and fraternity are vindicated by our arms."

Greetings were ordered sent to the Baptist captains overseas and through them to our men at the front. The following resolutions were passed by standing vote:

"Resolved, that we express our appreciation of the patriotic devotion of the noble men who have so freely offered their services in the defence of our country and that we tender our heartfelt sympathy to those who have lost their loved ones in the great struggle for freedom and righteousness.

Resolved, that this convention reaffirms its conviction that the laws against intemperance should be strictly and impartially enforced in all parts of the Maritime Provinces. Further resolved that this convention views with strong disapproval the manifest failure to enforce the Temperance Act in the city of Halifax, where so many of our soldiers embark for overseas and return after sacrificial service for God and humanity."

The convention put itself on record in favor of woman suffrage.

Revs. W. C. Rose, H. R. Boyer and F. E. Bishop were appointed as members of the Baptist army and navy board.

The convention endorsed the proposition to officially unite in the support of the Home for Delinquent Girls in Truro.

The following resolution regarding gambling was enthusiastically endorsed:

"Whereas, careful observers have noted an alarming increase in the spirit of gambling, thus establishing a menace to the sound fabric of society with its spirit:

"Therefore resolved, that this convention record a vigorous protest against all forms of gambling and call for a vigorous enforcement of the law against gambling wherever applicable, and that we make emphatic our protest:

"And whereas, the practice of gambling under the guise of patriotism is so prevalent in connection with efforts to raise money for patriotic purposes, is a particularly insidious form of vice, tending as it does to draw great numbers of people into its toils, thus honeycombing society with its spirit:

"Therefore resolved, that this convention record a vigorous protest against all forms of gambling and call for a vigorous enforcement of the law against gambling wherever applicable, and that we make emphatic our protest against all forms of gambling under the guise of patriotism."

Rev. E. Bosworth reported for the Grand Ligne Mission. This mission has 140 representatives at the front. The amount contributed to his constituency of the convention was $5,316.79.

Rev. E. E. Daley reported for the finance committee. They ask for $80,000 for denominational work. Of this, $55,500 is asked from the churches, to be apportioned as follows: Nova Scotia, $33,000; New Brunswick, $21,000; Prince Edward Island, $1,500.

CLOSING SESSION

The closing session of the Baptist convention was devoted to Canadian Missions. Rev. E. S. Mason, secretary of Home Missions, spoke on the call for workers in Home Mission fields.

Rev. A. J. Prosser spoke of the work in Western Canada. Rev. G. Masse spoke of the work of the Grande Ligne mission.

Rev. E. S. Mason, secretary of the Home Mission Board for Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island, reported the engagement of Rev. and Mrs. L. F. Wallace as home secretary evangelist. Mrs. Wallace is an accomplished musician.

The financial showing is the best of many years. The income was $13,989. Of this, $2,000 was received from the James E. Cushing estate. Last year's deficit $1,775.95 has been wiped out, and the new year opens with a credit balance of $534.31. The estimate call for $15,000 for the present year.

Military Service Act.

As the arrangement now stands the first duty of every young man within Class A, being called out, is to call at the Post Office and register.

The forms on which registration is made will be procured at any Post Office in the country.

The method of this process has been outlined as follows:

(1) Apply to a Post Office for a form upon which the applicant will report for service and give the same form to the postmaster or his deputy who will forward it to the Registrar; or

(2) Apply to a Post Office for a form upon which the applicant will make application for exemption from military service, the reason for such application being indicated by the letter "X" being placed inside or more of the six sentences which set out the six causes for which application for exemption can be made, and give the said form to the Postmaster or his deputy; or

(3) Apply in person to any exemption tribunal on November 8, 9 or 10, 1917, and make application for exemption to such tribunal.

Any person who is ill, or who cannot attend at a Post Office for the purpose of filling in a form, may have the form filled in by a near relation or such person's employer.

After November 10, 1917, no report for service will be accepted. After registration as above outlined, the applicant will receive notice as to when and where he is to go before a medical Board for examination.

BAD FOOD AND NOT ENOUGH OF IT

Hardships of Prisoners in Germany Told by Canadians Who Have Escaped.

LONDON, Oct. 24.—Eight more Canadians, newly escaped from Germany, expect to return to Canada shortly. They are Corporal E. Cunningham, Royal Highlanders, captured at the Somme last year; Pte. Horace McArthur, captured in the second battle of Ypres; Privates N. L. Masters, J. Evans, R. Howitt, of Windsor, Ont.; F. McMullen, of Toronto; F. Ford, New Brunswick, all of the Canadian Mounted Rifles, and Private A. Blacklock, Engineers, of Alberta. They suppress the details of their escape. Generally speaking, they suffered much from bad and insufficient food and compulsory work when ill, as one of them says: "Prisoners in the eyes of the Germans are no better than dogs, but they don't treat dogs as they treated us. Tell our Canadian people, our Red Cross parcels are very acceptable, when we get them, they helped to keep us alive, but the German authorities don't bother about regular deliveries. Some times a long gap with no parcels coming. It is good to be back in England again, how much better to be once more in Canada."

In order to save coal, some street lamps in Boston will be discontinued and the electric signs will be limited.

LIFE AN ELECTRIC BUTTON ON TOES

Tells Why a Corn is so Painful and says Cutting Makes Them Grow.
Press an electric button and you form a contact with a live wire which rings the bell. When your shoes press against your corn it pushes its sharp roots down upon a sensitive nerve and you get a shock of pain.
Instead of trimming your corns, which merely makes them grow, just step into any drug store and ask for a quarter of an ounce of freezeone. This will cost very little but is sufficient to remove every hard or soft corn or callus from one's feet. A few drops applied directly upon a tender, aching corn stops the soreness instantly, and soon the corn shrivels up so it lifts right out, root and all, without pain. This drug freezeone, is harmless and never inflames or even irritates the surrounding skin.

As a farmer was going to plough, He met a man driving a cough. They had words which led to a rough, And the farmer was struck on his brough.

One day when the weather was rough An old lady went out for some snough, Which she thoughtlessly placed in her mough, And it got scattered all over her cough.

While a baker was kneading his dough, A weight fell down on his tough, When he suddenly exclaimed ough! Because it had hurt him sough.

There was a hole in a hedge to get through, It was made by no one knew whough; In getting through a boy lost his shough, And was quite at a loss what to dough.

A poor old man had a cough To a doctor he straight went off, The doctor did nothing but scough, And said it was all fancy, his cough.

What is Crushed Coffee?

Briefly, Crushed Coffee is coffee that has had the beans crushed between steel rollers with just enough pressure exerted to break the beans into clean, even grains from which the bitter chaff and dust are easily separated by air suction—

Resulting in a coffee so pure that no egg is needed to settle it. Red Rose Coffee is as easy to make as Red Rose Tea, and its flavor, aroma and smoothness are a delight as compared with the ordinary ground coffees.

Sold only in double-sealed air-tight cans to keep it good.

AN INTERESTING LETTER

Description of Fruit Grown in the Wenatchee Valley

To the Editor of the MONITOR: DEAR SIR: I wondered if your fruit growing readers might care for some description of the fruit raised in Wenatchee Valley, State of Washington, U. S. A. One reaches the Valley from the Pacific Coast after travelling for some hours through the Cascade Mountains, where the railway winds its way up precipitous heights in zigzag fashion, through frequent tunnelings and snow sheds; where on one side of the track earth seems to fall away into nothingness and on the other to rise in a straight wall of rock to the sky line—past canyons and mountain streams and patches of snow into a rare mountain atmosphere, where clouds of vapor sometimes shut the visible world from view excepting where a dark jagged peak cuts its way out threateningly against the sky. After a time, however, the mountains grow lower and longer and finally subside in height upon height of brown colored foot hills. Between steep, parallel ranges of these foot hills, with the Columbia River winding through, lies the sunny valley of Wenatchee, famous for its fruit and especially its apples, second to none in the world. Just now is beginning the harvesting of the first winter fruit of the season and one may motor for miles and get a continuous view of extensive orchards, whose careful pruning and equally careful propping, show trees literally laden to the ground, with ropes of apples, so large and so highly colored as scarcely to seem a product of nature. At this particular place, "Monitor," are some eight or ten warehouses, where the fruit is handled and just opposite the railway station, where it is shipped, while some growers prefer picking, sorting and packing on their own ranches, many others cooperate and send their fruit to a warehouse where all the work is done for them. One such establishment, where I have the privilege of walking past the "no visiting" signs, is the Monitor Fruit Exchange, now trying-out its second year of experimental work. Here the fruit is brought in from the different ranches loosely packed in boxes direct from the trees. One never sees an apple barrel in this country. It is checked and when its turn comes is placed upon the grader, above which is hung a sign, bearing the name of the grower and the variety. An interesting machine is the Grader at the head of which stands a man of necessarily deft movements, who feeds in the fruit. At either side of him in line stand the porters, some dozen experts, who sort the fruit into three grades—"Extra Fancy," "Fancy" and "Choice." As they sort, they drop the apples according to class into shallow cloth hods, moving troughs, where they pass automatically past a row of pockets, each grade passing nine pockets and each pocket containing an apple of graduating weight. When a passing apple balances the weight of an apple in a certain pocket, it is dropped automatically into a bin beneath, and all apples which fall to balance the weight of any apple in any of the nine pockets over which they grade run, fall into a bin at the end and are packed as "culis"—the lowest grade of fruit. Thus an "Extra Fancy" apple, classed as such on account of its perfect form, color and smoothness, failing to weigh as much as the lightest weight apple in the pockets of its grade, falls at length into the bin of "culis." "Culis" also include defective apples, cast aside at the head of the grader by the sorters. A carload of "culis," however, as sent from this country is a very fair looking collection of apples and quite as delicious in flavor as the higher class fruit, while selling for much less. At the different bins stand the packers, who line boxes with paper, wrap each apple in paper, bearing its brand mark and place in rows. An expert packer will average from 150 to 200 boxes per day, according to size. As a box is packed it passes on an automatic conveyer to the muller, who removes and registers the packers' check, covers the box, presses and mills it and places it ready for the truckman, who presently comes for his ever ready load and bears it away to the warehouse. There each box is checked, labelled, according to its class, stamped with the name of the exchange and with the number of apples in the box. The number of apples in a box is figured from the bin, from which it is packed, since a certain bin must contain apples of a certain weight, and apples of a certain weight must average up to a size and only a certain number of a certain size apple can be packed in a box. Thus a box of "Extra Fancy" apples may contain from 36 to 175 apples. A box containing 36 apples is a sight to look upon and appeals to the high class trade, while one containing 175 apples for less, while being as perfect in flavor and appearance, except in point of size. In the large warehouse shed the boxes are stacked ready for shipment, while underneath is a cement frost proof basement, where fruit awaiting later sales may be stored. Daily the loads from the orchards arrive in increasing numbers and from now till the end of December, the valley will be a busy place. Everywhere one sees pickers, packers, buyers, managers and ranchmen, the latter mostly driving their own cars and making good money for a grover averages a net profit of one dollar and forty cents per box for his apples. It is not accomplished, however, without work, and the methods of growing, pruning, irrigating, spraying and propping, whereby this little valley of fifteen miles in length is made to export some seven thousand carloads of apples annually, is most interesting. Very interesting, too, is the history of the place, inhabited until only thirty years ago by roving bands of Indians, and pioneers tell interesting stories of the earlier days. I fear however, that this letter is already unreasonably long and will now close.

With best regards to the MONITOR and its readers.

ALICE M. MACLEOD, Monitor, Washington, U. S. A., Oct. 11th, 1917.

IMPORTANT TO FARMERS

Distribution of Seed Grain and Potatoes from the Dominion Experimental Farms, 1917-1918

By instruction of the Hon. Minister of Agriculture, a free distribution of superior sorts of grain and potatoes will be made during the coming winter and spring to Canadian farmers.

The samples of grain for distribution will consist of spring wheat (about 5 lbs.), white oats (about 4 lbs.), barley (about 5 lbs.), and field peas (about 5 lbs.). These will be sent out from the Central Experimental Farm, Ottawa, by the Dominion Cerealist, who will furnish the necessary application forms.

A distribution of potatoes in samples of about 3 lbs. will be carried on from most of the Experimental Farms, the Central Farm supplying only the province of Ontario.

All samples will be sent free by mail. Only one sample of grain (and one of potatoes) can be sent to each applicant. As the supply of seed is limited, farmers are advised to apply very early.

A pleasing incident took place last Sunday evening in St. James' Church, schoolroom immediately after the close of the evening service, when Miss Hoyt, whose marriage takes place this morning, was made the recipient of a congratulatory address accompanied with a purse of gold.

Shooting Accident.

What might yet prove a serious shooting accident took place about ten o'clock Sunday morning in Beaconsfield, a small village near the north mountain. It appears that Gordon, DeBlais and Kenneth, three sons of Kenneth Hebb, of Upper Granville, were returning from a porcupine trap when in some way a 22 rifle carried by one of the boys who was about twelve years of age, was accidentally discharged, the bullet lodging in the left leg of Gordon, aged 21.

During the rain of last Thursday the river again overflowed its banks in many places. The traffic bridge near the Paradise station, which was washed away, has since been rebuilt.

Mr. E. C. Cowell, who is engaged in cleaning and pressing clothes, has moved his business to the Young building, next door north of W. H. Maxwell's Confectionery, Queen street.

A number of our Bridgetown heroes are returning from the front without special official recognition. This is due to the fact that the civic authorities have no means of ascertaining the date of their arrival, especially when they arrive via St. John and Digby.

In our story of the bravery and the severe wounding of Percy Craig, son of Mr. E. A. Craig, of this town, we omitted to state that he is a Lance Corporal, hence the leading of his team into the heavy machine gun fire as referred to in our columns last Wednesday.

Mr. C. B. Tupper, one of the MONITOR'S new advertisers, who is arranging for a regular space in our columns, announces that a post card addressed to him will bring an Edison Diamond Amberola to your home. We should suggest that you read his advertisement in today's MONITOR.

A VERDICT FOR THE CROWN

The Indictment Was Prepared Under the Direction of Hon. O. T. Daniels

[Yarmouth Telegram]

The case of the King vs. The Yarmouth Light & Power Co., Ltd., was heard on Wednesday at Tuskett at a special sitting of the Supreme Court, Mr. Justice Chisholm presiding. The indictment was prepared under the direction of the Attorney-General, O. T. Daniels, and is, as far as can be ascertained, the first of its nature to be heard in a criminal one and had it been preferred against an individual, instead of a corporation, would have been manslaughter. As a corporation, however, cannot be so charged the indictment was for causing grievous bodily injury to one Charles Smith, who was killed by coming in contact with a live wire, controlled by the Light & Power Co., at the breakwater, Yarmouth Bar, on October 14th, 1916, and was in the interest of the public safety.

The court opened at 10 a. m., and it was late in the afternoon before the evidence was complete. Judge Chisholm, in addressing the jury, dwelt strongly on the importance of the case. The jury retired at 5.30, and after a half hour's deliberation returned a verdict of guilty.

His Lordship imposed a fine of $1,000, to be paid on or before Jan. 31st, 1918.

R. S. McKay, K. C., represented the Crown; Landry & Cameron, the Light & Power Co.

Messrs. J. W. Peters, O. S. Dunham, A. C. Charlton, Geo. Chute and Alden Walker, who were in Annapolis Monday evening to witness the conferring of the first degree on five candidates in the Oddfellows' lodge, by a degree team from Digby, report a very pleasant evening, and are loud in their reference to the kind hospitality extended them by the three link brethren in that town. The trip was made in Mr. Peters' car, the Bridgetown members arriving home at one o'clock yesterday morning. Next Monday evening the second degree will be conferred on the same candidates by a degree team from Crescent Lodge, Bridgetown, and the third degree by a team from Friendship Lodge, Bear River.

MARINE NEWS

Schr. Raceval was launched from the Clere Shipping Co.'s yard at Meteghan River yesterday morning.

Tug Hugh D., with the barge Malcolm Cann in tow, left Boston Friday morning for Windsor, N. S., with a cargo of fertilizer.

The fishing schr. Morning Star, Capt. Harry Ross, which had been in Yarmouth three days, sailed for the fishing grounds Friday morning.

On her first trip from Yarmouth to Boston, the S. S. North Star had a very rough passage. When going up Boston Harbor, her propeller drooped off, and the big boat lay disabled till tug boats towed her to the pier.

Yarmouth Telegram: While prices for potatoes are ruling so high in Yarmouth and elsewhere in the province the export still goes on apace. The North Star had a large quantity outwards on Wednesday and there were 1,900 barrels left in the warehouses.

Thomas G. Rice, of Weymouth, is again going into shipbuilding and is preparing to lay the keel of a large schooner. The number of vessels Mr. Rice built in years gone by and of which he was the sole owner, would make a good sized fleet if they were assembled, and would include square-riggers, tern schooners and two-masted schooners. The tern schooner Frances was the last vessel built by Mr. Rice.

The Boston Globe says: All records in the mackerel sealing fishery have been broken by the schooner Mary F. Curtis, Capt. Lennuel Firth, who has stocked approximately $73,000 since the beginning of the mackerel season. Up to Oct. 1, the vessel had stocked $65,610.05, and since then has made two trips. Never before in the history of the industry have the fishermen as a whole, made as much as they have this season, not only in the mackerel and swordfish fleets, but in the ground-fish fleet as well.

Digby's shipping since last reported: Schr. Dorothy P. Sarty, Capt. Longmire, arrived on Oct. 25th, fitted and sailed for fishing grounds Oct. 28th; schr. Lorán B. Snow, Casey, arrived Oct. 28th, with 65,000 lbs. mixed fish, sold to J. E. Snow; schr. Dorothy Smart, Capt. Ansel Snow, arrived Oct. 28th with 65,000 lbs. mixed fish, sold to Maritime Fish Corporation, Ltd.; schr. Lila G. Boutiller, Capt. L. J. Snow, arrived Oct. 28th, with 80,000 lbs. mixed fish, sold to Nova Scotia Fish Co.; schr. Cora Gerlie, Capt. Crocker, arrived Oct. 29th, with 20,000 lbs. haddock for Maritime Fish Corporation.

The schr. Hazel R. Hines arrived at Gloucester, Mass., on October 10th, with a fare of 297,000 lbs. salt codfish. This was the Hazel's second trip for the season. The first she weighed off 321,000 lbs., making a total of 618,000 lbs. for the two trips. On the first trip the vessel stocked $15,500.00 and the crew shared $511.00. On the trip just completed with 297,000 lbs. of fish she stocked $78,807.48 and the crew shared $686.78 or $1,197.78 for the season. The schooner's total stock for the season on the 618,000 lbs., of fish was $34,307.48, which is the largest ever made by a salt trawl banker in the United States or any part of North America. The Hazel R. Hines is owned by Capt. L. W. Hines, of Yarmouth, and Capt. Fred A. Morrissey, of Pubnico.

Death of Mrs. R. J. Anthony.

Our Bear River correspondent writes: The death of Mrs. R. J. Anthony occurred at her home here on Thursday morning last. Although she had been in poor health for a long time, the end was sudden, as only a day previous she had seemed much better in every way. She was the second daughter of the late Wm. Riordan, at one time telegraph and telephone operator in this place. The remains were taken to Annapolis for interment; the services were held in St. Thomas church, sermon by Father Grace. Many floral tributes testified to the high esteem in which she was held by relatives and friends. The deceased was 57 years old. She leaves to mourn their loss, beside a sorrowing husband, two sons, Kenneth and Leslie at the front; two sisters, Lailah, at Annapolis, and Mrs. Jack DeVaney, of Dalhousie, and one brother, William, of Boston. She will be greatly missed by all who knew her as her bright, cheery way won for her many friends. The sympathy of the community is extended to the bereaved ones.

Married in Digby.

Rev. John Craig, one of the leading ministers of the Nova Scotia Methodist Conference, and who at one time was stationed at Bear River, but now of Caledonia, Queens Co., was united in marriage to Miss J. Palmer, of Kingston, N. S., on Wednesday, October 24th, 1917, at the Methodist parsonage, Digby. Rev. J. C. O'Brien, of Bear River, performed the ceremony.

Kerosene was first used for lighting purposes in 1826.

Lower Granville Red Cross

The Lower Granville Red Cross Society held its annual business meeting on the evening of Oct. 3rd. Mrs. J. K. Winchester in the chair.

The following officers of the preceding year were re-elected:

Pes., Mrs. Geo. Anthony.
Vice Pres., Mrs. J. K. Winchester.
Secty., Miss Primrose Elliott.
Treas., Mrs. Edward Farnsworth.

The buyers are Mrs. V. Melancon and Mrs. Stanley Farnsworth; the cutters, Mrs. Jos. Croscup and Mrs. S. McKenzie.

The Secretary and Treasurer gave their reports for the coming year:

Membership 70.

In January, April and September, boxes of Red Cross goods were sent to the Red Cross Depot, Halifax.

They contained: 48 hospital shirts, 50 cheese cloth handkerchiefs, 158 pairs of socks, 40 cakes of toilet soap, 350 mouth wipes, 8 pillows, 3 pillow cases, 3 rolls flannel, 2 rolls linen, 1 doz. huck towels, 8 Christmas stockings.

The society received from the Field Comforts Committee, Halifax, 24 lbs. of yarn. This was knitted into socks and returned to them.

Ten pairs of socks were sent in November last as Christmas gifts to the ten young men from our neighborhood, then overseas or in training. We deeply regret the loss to our community and to our country in the passing away of one of the ten in April last.

Corp. Harry Robblee fell fighting at Vimy Ridge, leaving behind him the proud record of a gallant Christian soldier and gentleman, and a good comrade.

Two suppers were held: One at the home of Mrs. J. K. Winchester, realized $61.00, spent for Red Cross supplies; the other at the home of Mrs. Geo. Anthony, raised $51.50 for the Belgian Relief Fund.

During the year collections were made in aid of the British Red Cross, the French Red Cross and for Christmas stockings for the soldiers. We take this opportunity to thank those who so willingly and cheerfully have given to the needs of the Red Cross, and to those who have helped so liberally with the suppers. Thanks are also due to our President, Mrs. Geo. Anthony, who has put so much ability and good will into the management of the society, and to the Vice President, Mrs. J. K. Winchester, who has so ably seconded her efforts.

Mrs. V. Melancon, as buyer, has spent much time and thought on the work of her department, and has kept us well supplied with work.

The Treasurer, Mrs. Edward Farnsworth, reported:

Total receipts for year $252.03

EXPENDITURES

Amts. sent to British R. C.	$14.65
Amts. sent to Belgian Relief	51.50
Amts. sent to French R. C.	30.05
Amts. spent for purchase of supplies	130.48
Total expenditures	$226.68

Balance on hand $25.35

The school children of the neighborhood collected $2.04, of which $1.04 was included in the sum sent to Belgian Relief and $1.00 in that sent to the French Red Cross.

Value of materials on hand $10.00

CLAIMED EXEMPTION

Even the Bible Did Not Save This One

There have been some very peculiar reasons given for claiming exemption from the draft in the United States, but the best must be awarded one of the New York claimants. This man had been recently married, and he based his claim for exemption on the 24th chapter of Deuteronomy, which in one verse says: "When a man hath taken a new wife, he shall not go out to war, neither shall he be charged with any business; but he shall be free at home one year, and shall cheer up his wife which he hath taken." An examiner asked about the second injunction in the verse and inquired if the unwilling candidate in case he was moved from war service would close his tailor shop and compel his wife to give up her work as a trousers maker. The replies showed there was no likelihood of either move being made, whereupon the board determined that he'd better go into the army.

THE COST OF WAR

Belligerent Nations Are Carefully Husbanding Resources by Effective Organization

OTTAWA, Oct. 22—The cost of the war has become so great in recent months that the layman is at pains to understand it. The Allied financial experts, however, are not frightened by the prospect in view of the measures that are being taken to maintain financial stability in Allied countries.

Assuredly one of the most important of these measures is that which provides for the safeguarding of the national prosperity by sending into military service only those who do not happen to be working at essential tasks. The great basic industries, such as agriculture, transportation, etc., are being carefully protected against disintegration in all the larger belligerent countries. As a result, a very quick recovery is expected to follow the end of the war.

Canada is being congratulated upon her wisdom in recognizing the unexpected length of the war by putting into operation a Military Service Act of moderate type yet bound to provide an efficient help to industry.

Canadians should not consider that 1917 will be the only year that rigid economies must be practised. There is no knowing at this date when the war will end, and even after it has ended there will be urgent need for Canada's surplus of food for many months while Europe is being regenerated.

CORRESPONDENCE

The Farmer and Prohibition.

To the Editor of the MONITOR:

DEAR SIR—There are about 80,000 farmers in Canada, constituting about ten per cent of our entire population. The value of their products is approximately $1000 per farmer, or $80,000,000 for the whole country. The liquor trade purchases from the farmer about $800,000 worth of produce or just one per cent, of all that he produces—that is $10 for each farmer in Canada.

The question so often asked is, "what will the 'poor' farmer do with this $10 worth of produce when prohibition puts the liquor trade out of business?" One thing is certain, he will never be compelled to throw away this $10 worth of material about which the liquor men are troubling themselves so grievously. The likelihood is that someone else will want the grain and grapes, the apples and the cherries. To hear the defender of the liquor traffic talk, one would think that no one likes these things unless they are brought to him in the form of liquor.

If the 8,000,000 people of this country were to increase their purchases to the extent of two cents per week, it would amount to about $80,000 per year, the amount the liquor interests expend on purchases from the farmer. No need to worry about the farmer. He is not worrying himself, but is voting out the business every time he gets the opportunity.

COMPULSORY SERVICE

VICE A SUCESS

United States Favour Conscription in 1917 as in 1863

The United States was not only following the example of Great Britain, France, Italy and Russia in adopting compulsory service. She was profiting by her own experience in the Civil War.

For the first two years of the Civil War, the North depended for her men on voluntary enlistment. In 1863 under President Lincoln, without doubt one of the greatest statesmen this continent has produced, conscription became necessary if the North was to prevail. The law was passed and administered with firmness, even to the point of shooting a few who made determined resistance to the enforcement of the Act.

The success of compulsory service in the Civil War warranted its adoption by the United States in the present crisis, with exemplary success. Stern measures have been taken out to those who neglected to register. Every confidence is felt by those in authority that the administration of Canada's Military Service Act will proceed smoothly and events to date are most encouraging.

OF INTEREST TO FARMERS

Economical Finishing of Hogs at Present Feed Prices.

(Dominion Experimental Farm Note)

In choosing feeds for fattening hogs choice is of necessity more limited than in the case of other classes of stock. With young pigs, where skim-milk and pasture are available, the use of the higher priced meals and concentrates may, in view of high prices, be limited and full benefit derived from the former cheap, home-produced feeds. With a reasonable amount of wheat middlings, shorts or ground oats, good growthy pigs may thus be produced. For the finishing period, however, a more concentrated, more rapidly fattening ration is required. The swine feeder at once asks, "How can I profitably finish hogs at present feed prices?"

Corn, barley, oats, middlings and shorts are possibly the five most desirable grains and meals for hogs in Eastern Canada. With corn at from $88.00 to $90.00 per ton; barley, $60.00; oats, at $65.00, approximately, and with the two former meals most difficult to procure, some cheaper grain must be used in the finishing ration. Wheat middlings and shorts, even though high in price, ($45.00 approximately), must be relied upon for the major part of the meal ration. At the above price, middlings offers digestible nutrients at a lower net cost per ton than any one of the grains previously mentioned. By net cost is meant the total cost of the digestible nutrients, less their manurial value.

Oats or barley, one part, shorts and middlings, two parts, with some milk product or, lacking the latter, ten per cent oil meal, should supply an economical growing ration as is generally available. With the likelihood of a material drop in the price of oats and the more problematical prospect of cheaper corn, when the new crop moves, the above ration could be improved. Corn, shorts, and oats, equal parts with skim-milk is an excellently balanced ration. The addition of corn, even as a small proportion, to the shorts, middlings, skim-milk ration would distinctly improve it as a finishing ration. Corn, must, however, reduce materially in price to be considered an economical hog-feed.

At the present time feed wheat, as procurable in Western Canada, forms an excellent hog-feed, as has already been well demonstrated. To the more central and Eastern sections this particular feed is not generally available. In many localities, however, an elevator by-product known as buckwheat screenings, may now be purchased. Further information concerning the distribution of this material may be had from C. E. Austin, Mgr. Government Terminal Elevators, Fort William, Ont., or the Live Stock Branch, Department of Agriculture, Ottawa.

Analysis of this particular grade of screenings reveals the following constituents:—Wild buckwheat, 58%; broken wheat, oats and flax, 29%; weed seeds, 9%; chaff, 4%. In view of the weed seeds present it should be as finely ground as possible. Experimental evidence, as afforded by swine feeding tests, at the Central Experimental Farm, would go to prove that this material is of considerable value. During the winter of 1914-15, in an experiment calculated to throw light on the value as a hog-feed of elevator by-products, as represented by the various grades of screenings, buckwheat screenings compared favorably with a standard meal and milk ration. Two of the rations compared were as follows: No. 1, shorts, three parts; corn, three parts; oil meal, one part; plus skim-milk. No. 2, Finely ground buckwheat screenings, plus skim-milk. Without entering into the details of this test (See Experimental Farm Report, Vol. 1, 1915) it may be stated that the pigs fed buckwheat screenings, while not so fat as those fed the regular meal ration and standing therefore slightly lower in total gains, stood first in economical production per 100 pounds gain. With the meal ration valued at $28.00 per ton (1915 prices) and the buckwheat screenings at $14.00 (nominal) the cost per pound gain was 4.7 cents in the case of the pigs fed the former and 2.7 cents for those fed the latter ration. On the actual prices paid or charged for meal, skim-milk and roots, and figuring on the basis of total gains produced by the two lots, buckwheat screenings showed a comparative value of $27.60 per ton. The swine feeder would be well advised in making inquiry into this particular feed, the eastern distribution of which is controlled by the Live Stock Branch at Ottawa. From the latter source further announcements may be expected in the year future.

FOOD CONTROL

The World Peril is Not the Sub-Marine; it is Diminishing Harvests and Lessening Herds.

Baron Rhondda has issued a statement explaining Great Britain's plans for food control. Food regulations in Great Britain are much more drastic than those on this side of the Atlantic. Nevertheless they are voluntarily, not compulsorily, observed by householders and others. "If voluntary measures fail," says Lord Rhondda, "I shall have no compunction in putting the nation on compulsory ration." This crisply defines the spirit of Great Britain. Self-restraint and self-sacrifice are the keys of the nation's attitude. Men, women and children are proud to do their part in saving food and in increasing production. In both directions the national effort is sustained at a supremely high pitch.

Baron Rhondda, through the Food Administrator of the United States and the Food Controller for Canada, has called upon both these countries to rise to the occasion. That call must meet prompt and full response. Should Canadians fail to emulate Great Britain than all the sacrifice, all the devotion of Great Britain's people will have gone for naught. It remains for Canadians to make effective the efforts of the Old Country.

The whole of Baron Rhondda's message is significant. That he depends upon Canadians is evident. In effect, he says: "Price-fixing must be international, intercontinental. This means a readjustment of international and intercontinental trade relations. Each country must of necessity regard the others as partners and refrain from acting except with reference to them. Mr. Hoover, Mr. Hanna and I have been made responsible for food control in our respective countries. Food control in each must be adjusted to the requirements of all. Therefore we must work together to accomplish our ends. Our people will have reason to know that profiteering will be wiped out—that it is now fast disappearing, and that where high prices continue to exist they are to be attributed to war conditions.

Comprehensive plans have been developed whereby all international purchases of necessary foodstuffs are to be pooled and proportionately allocated to Great Britain and her Allies. All such contract prices are to be strictly regulated. "Unless prices are fair," Lord Rhondda asserts, "an unnecessary burden is placed upon the backs of the allied governments and consumers, American and Canadian taxpayers, and reactively on every food consumer in America for the sole benefit of a small section of the community."

It is only with Canada's unstinted help that Baron Rhondda's plans can be brought to fruition. "The world-peril is not the submarine," says the British Food Controller, "but diminishing harvests and lessening herds."

Results With Root Seed Growing in Canada.

(Experimental Farms Note.)
Among the great problems that the war has created for Canada, the problem of growing root seed, i. e. seed of swede and fall turnips, mangies and field carrots, may seem rather insignificant to the average Canadian citizen. Yet, that problem is today one of the most vital to the Canadian farmer, notably the dairy farmer, inasmuch as it is directly connected with the providing of that indispensable stock food that is generally referred to as "roots."

In 1915, Canada imported a total of 1,927,313 pounds of turnip seed, and 1,056,060 pounds of mangel and beet seed. In 1916, the import of turnip seed dwindled to 150,865 pounds and the import of mangel and beet seed to 636,797 pounds; and for 1917, the figures stand at 291,379 pounds for turnip seed and 891,677 pounds for mangel and beet seed. This means that Canada imported a total of these most important farm seeds, in the years of 1916 and 1917, which falls short of the import of 1915 alone of, roughly, one million pounds. It should be added that practically every pound of field root seed used in this country is of European origin.

That Canada was running a great risk of having her supply of root seed from Europe shut off, partly or wholly, as a result of the war, was regrettably predicted in an Experimental Farms bulletin entitled "Growing Field Root, Vegetable and Flower Seeds in Canada," issued early in 1915. In the said bulletin, an appeal was made—as has also repeatedly been done later in many issues of "Seasonable Hints," distributed by the Dominion Experimental Farms System, to Canadian farmers and others interested in the feed supply being kept up, urging that Canada could not afford to take the risk of relying on import from Europe either under prevailing war conditions, or immediately after the conclusion of peace. It was emphatically stated that "Canada should make herself independent of foreign markets and produce at home what now has to be brought from abroad. Canadian farmers should not only try to meet the emergency demand for field root seed in the immediate future, but also try to establish a permanent seed-growing industry which would make them independent of any other country." The bulletin went further and predicted "that many districts of Canada where root seed growing is unknown at present, will prove themselves not only able to produce seed of good quality, but also to be especially well adapted to seed raising."

To what extent this prediction was justified, will be shown by the data following, showing what results in root seed raising were obtained in the year of 1915. In that year the Central Experimental Farm at Ottawa raised, from a field about 1½ acres a first class mangel seed crop at the rate of about 1,150 pounds of seed to the acre. Mangel seed was produced at the Experimental Farm at Agassiz, B. C. at the rate of 2,100 pounds per acre, at the Experimental Station at Lennoxville, Que., at the rate of 1,150 pounds per acre and at the Experimental Station at Kentville, N. S., at the rate of 2,100 pounds per acre. The same year the Experimental Station at Lennoxville, Que., raised swede turnip seed at the rate of close to 1,250 pounds to the acre.

But what about the profit? Does it pay the grower to raise that kind of crop? As an answer, it may be stated that there was, according to records kept, a net profit of about $80 per acre from the mangel seed crop at the Central Experimental Farm, Ottawa, in 1915. And this in spite of the fact that the men handling the crop were quite unfamiliar with the same.

The above figures indicate, most decidedly, that there are, in Canada, great opportunities for developing a new field in agricultural activity promising substantial rewards, from a profit standpoint, to those who take up root seed growing conscientiously and in a business-like manner.

May it also be added that the raising, in Canada, of the seed needed in the country will directly help to increase the average yield of the root crops of the Dominion. This will, however, be discussed in a special article.

Will Class One Provide The One Hundred Thousand Men?

It will be greatly to the advantage of Canada if the entire quota of 100,000 men to be raised under the Military Service Act can be secured from the first class; that is, from the men between the ages of 20 and 34 who were unmarried or widowers without children on July 6th, 1917.

This is almost self-evident for the following reasons:

It is admitted that, between the ages of 20 and 34, the average man is at the height of his physical strength and is most adaptable to the change of conditions from civilian life; the military service of unmarried men and widowers without children would occasion less distress than that of most others, since they are largely without dependents. Also, it would entail less financial burden for Canada, through separation allowances, etc.

Authorities estimate that, after all proper exemptions have been allowed, Canada should be able to produce from the first class 100,000 men fit for service, so the drain upon the man power of the country will not be severe.

Members of Class One will be well advised to present themselves for examination immediately to the Medical Board in their district. Upon examination as to their physical fitness, they will be placed in one of the following categories:

- Category A—if fit for service in overseas fighting units.
- Category B—if fit for service overseas in Army Medical Corps, Forestry Battalion, etc.
- Category C—if fit for service in Canada only.
- Category E—if unfit for military service of any nature.

If not placed in Category A, the applicant will know that he is not liable for immediate service, but will go to the Post Office and send in a claim for exemption with his Medical Certificate attached, when he will receive in due course a certificate of exemption until those in his medical category are summoned for service.

Where a man, who is placed in category A, feels that exemption should be allowed, an application form can be secured from the postmaster. This form, when filled in, will be forwarded by the postmaster to the registrar of the district, and the applicant will be informed by mail as to the time and place for the consideration of his application by the Exemption Board.

Issued by The Military Service Council.
