HURLS A STONE AND MURDER IS DONE

Italian Sport at Ingersoll Becomes Scene of Crime Sunday Afternoon—Murderer Escapes.

INGERSOLL, Nov. 1.—(Special).—Murder was the outcome of a dispute this afternoon between two Italians, members of a party of natives in the employ of the C.P.R., who for the past few days have been occupying cars here. The immediate cause of the fatal quarrel is not definitely known, but it is supposed to have been due to a difference of opinion as to a game of cards which had been playing in a car in which they were sitting. In a fit of rage M. Ponzl, a man of powerful physique, standing nearly six feet in height, is said to have seized a large stone, weighing probably two pounds, and hurled it at his fellow-countryman, Parol Constantini. The missile struck Constantini on the left temple with such force that he dropped in his tracks and expired before a doctor arrived.

Intense excitement followed the crime, during which Ponzl made his escape, and a search was at once made for him his whereabouts are still unknown. His description has been wired to many neighboring points. The tragedy occurred shortly after 4 o'clock and the police had very little time to follow the trail.

After Constantini received the death blow, Ponzl hurried to the car he had been occupying and grabbed his coat. He started in a westerly direction and is supposed to have followed the C.P.R. in the direction of St. Thomas.

(Canadian Associated Press Cable).—LONDON, Nov. 1.—Henniker Heaton announces a meeting in support of a bill which would give the government to hold a conference with the postmaster-general with a view to buying out existing cables. LOOKS LIKE TAFT SO EXPERTS AGREE

But Forecasts Have Been Made Before, and Democratic National Chairman Has a Big One of His Own.

CHAIRMAN MACK (Dem.): "A landslide for Bryan. The party is reunited and victory is in the air. He will have 333 votes, made up of the solid south with 169 votes, including Maryland and Delaware, Colorado 5, Connecticut 7, New York 39, Kansas 10, New Jersey 12, North Dakota 4, Oregon 4, Rhode Island 4, West Virginia 7, Wisconsin 13, Wyoming 3, Indiana 15, Idaho 3, Montana 3, Ohio 23, Nebraska 8, South Dakota 4. Total, 164. California and Illinois 1 place in the doubtful column, but the chances are extremely in favor of their being won."

CHAIRMAN HITCHCOCK (Rep.): "We will have 325 electoral votes."

CANDIDATE TAFT: "The State of New York is the most Republican part of the United States. There is every indication, thru that part of the state above the Bronx, that there will be a majority of the Republican ticket, nearly equal to that of Mr. Roosevelt four years ago. The Democratic majority in the City of New York will probably not exceed 70,000 votes. This will be overcome by the Republican vote above the Bronx with such overwhelming force as to give the Republican ticket in the Empire State a clear majority of from 100,000 and upward."

CANDIDATE BRYAN: "While I think that the result is more certain in some states than in others, I do not want to discourage those in less certain states by making discriminations. I believe that we shall have votes to spare in the electoral college and a considerable majority of the popular vote."

NEW YORK, Nov. 1.—(Special).—The Herald thus sums up its final forecast:

Reasonably sure Republican: California 10, Colorado 5, Connecticut 7, Delaware 3, Idaho 3, Illinois 27, Indiana 15, Iowa 13, Kansas 10, Maine 6, Massachusetts 16, Michigan 14, Minnesota 11, Montana 3, New Hampshire 4, New Jersey 12, New York 39, North Dakota 4, Ohio 23, Oregon 4, Pennsylvania 24, Rhode Island 4, South Dakota 4, Utah 3, Vermont 4, Washington 5, West Virginia 7, Wisconsin 13, Wyoming 3, total 206.

Reasonably sure Democratic: Alabama 11, Arkansas 9, Florida 5, Georgia 13, Kentucky 13, Louisiana 9, Maryland 8, Mississippi 10, Missouri 18, Nebraska 8, Nevada 3, North Carolina 12, Oklahoma 7, South Carolina 8, Tennessee 12, Texas 18, Virginia 12, total 177.

Basing the forecast of to-day still on past indications and on reports made by disinterested correspondents in various doubtful states, The Herald gives Mr. Bryan 308 electoral votes and Mr. Taft 177.

"The states changed from the table of last Sunday are six. No state that Mr. Taft seemed then to have with reasonable surety has been lost to him during the last week of the campaign. No state that Mr. Bryan was credited with last week has gone from his column."

The four states of Colorado, Indiana, Montana and Wyoming, which were last week classed as doubtful, with Republican tendencies, are now credited to Mr. Taft.

Bryan Will Carry Nebraska and Kentucky, which were classed as doubtful, with Democratic inclinations are now given to Mr. Bryan.

"Thus during the week the net apparent gain of the Republican candidate has been 26 electoral votes, while the net apparent gain of the Democratic candidate has been 21. All observers agree that Mr. Bryan did not add to his electoral strength by his last journey to the east. He utterly failed to shake the electoral vote of New York from its Republican moorings, and, indeed, during his presence in the empire state the belief was intensified that there is a working agreement between a large number of Democrats and Republicans to throw the state to Taft and Chandler."

"It yet remains to be seen, however, whether the peculiar arrangement by which Mr. Rockefeller that he would support Taft can be turned by the Democrats into an argument which may swing some close states back to Bryan. The Democratic campaigners are making use of the incident with all the

PARADE A TRAIL OF BROKEN GLASS

Hoodlums in Wake of Students Blamed for Considerable Damage to Windows, But No Arrests Are Made.

Not students but just plain rowdies were responsible for much noise and the breaking of a deal of glass Halloween.

From all over the city they gathered downtown crowds of the lovers of disorder and the idly curious.

About 10 o'clock a party of some 300 students set out from the Varsity grounds for a street demonstration.

When time went on and the students appeared to be peaceably, if noisily, inclined, and failed to provide the desired amount of fuss, this bunch got together about 100 strong in the rear of the student body and paraded the downtown streets and also visited the ward.

So long as they were in the lighted district they confined themselves to bedlam, but when they hit the dark places stones few and much glass was demolished.

A visit to the Union Station to meet students coming by train at about 10:30 opened the ball, with a broken pane in the Walker House and one in the Dominion Express Company's office in Station-street. Then the crowd proceeded to Yonge-street and windows were broken in numbers 40, 57, 143, 151, 157, 175, 181, 183 and 185.

From there the crowd proceeded to Yonge-street and on the way a stone went thru Carrick's bakeshop window at Richmond and Bay-streets. Other windows along the line of march suffered.

It was north of Yonge-street, however, that the chief damage was done, and here, too, it was the rear guard of rowdies following the students, and scattered groups of hoodlums, who did the damage.

Damage on Yonge Street. On Yonge-street windows were broken at numbers 138, 248, 254. Spanner, the taxidermist at 378, a large plate glass front; 370; Lugsdin, furrier at 400, a large plate glass front; Douglas, tobacconist, at 402, two large plate glass fronts; 399, 429 and 435, on Elizabeth-street few panes were left at the following numbers: 68, 74, 76, 80, 86, 91, 95, 98, 131, 142, 211, 216, 220, 234, 242, 243, 246 and 255; on Elm-street, numbers 79, 91, 109, 102, 115 and 118; on Centre-avenue, 136, 170, 172, 177 and at 27 five lights were broken; on Hayter-street 72 and 80; on Louis-street number 58; on University-avenue, 309 lost four lights; on Agnes-street, 51, 92, 88 and 90 lost each one or more lights; on Christopher-street, number 21; on Teraulay, numbers 34 and 100; on Shuter-street, 31 and 41. In addition to these four windows were broken in the Syrian Church at Victoria and Shuter-streets.

A false alarm of fire was also turned on from box 73 at Agnes and Elizabeth-streets at 3 o'clock in the morning.

This crowd was finally broken up.

The Students' Hallow'een

There were 300 police on duty in the city on Saturday night to prevent the students from damaging property. The students were so well watched that they didn't do a thing but make noise, and it was a crowd of outsiders who followed the parade of 300 students down town late at night who are blamed for the destruction of glass worth hundreds of dollars.

Plate glass store fronts on Yonge-street and numerous house windows on York, Agnes, Elizabeth and other streets were demolished. And there wasn't a single arrest.

The "Meds" enjoyed themselves in the early part of the evening by waylaying Arts men escorting young ladies to the dance in the "gym." Nearly every escort had his white shirtfront daubed with blacking and his attire otherwise mauled.

The "Meds" expected to join forces with S.P.S. returning from Buffalo about midnight, but the train was delayed and the locals waited beside two huge bonfires in the park until after 2 a.m., the forces did not unite.

At Hamilton 30 policemen were hidden in the depot ready to belabor the Science excursionists had they attempted a frolic there.

"MEDS" SPOIL DANCE BY TREATING BEAUX TO DAUB OF BLACK

Exciting Times in Varsity Grounds—Young Ladies Deprived of Their Escorts and Later Are Comically Mauled.

Special police protection was promised the lady "grads" who got up the hallow'een and leap year dance in the university gym, Saturday night, but if there was any special protection it wasn't so you could notice.

The rioters had no respect for persons, except in cases where there was no silk rustling.

Even some of the "Meds" who had been favored with invitations to the function got branded by their fellows.

Prof. Fraser's son was given an especially stiff go but he had the good grace to see the thing thru pleasantly.

As the dancers thickened in numbers the scraps became dexter and more furious, but in the confusion many escaped being mauled.

When the dance got in full swing there were about one-third more ladies than men and half of the men were decorated in some shape or other. They took it good naturedly, however, and even exploited their wounds in the ball room as badges of distinction.

Spread the Ladies. Having done all the damage they could, here, for the time being, the Meds assembled, orderly enough, in Convocation Hall, where they were to have a stag reception of their own.

Most of the casualties occurred at the Hoskin-avenue gate where the greatest number of the attached ladies approached.

The marauder's modus operandi was to first seize upon the girl and rush her thru the gate in order that she might be spared the pain of witnessing her companion's initiation.

After a brief ceremony, that sounded like a dog-fight, she would be approached in the gloom by an odd looking object that apologized for letting his temper get the best of him, but he simply couldn't stand for her being discourteously treated, and so had stayed behind to lay a few of them out—and he certainly looked the part.

STANDARD OIL'S GRIP ON THE PRESS

W. R. Hearst Reads Some Surprising Letters Showing How Journals Are Systematically Subsidized.

NEW YORK, Nov. 1.—W. R. Hearst brought the campaign of the independent party to a close in Carnegie Hall last night by reading letters which revealed an attempt of the Standard Oil Co. to shape public opinion.

"I have shown heretofore," said Mr. Hearst, "the peculiar interest of the Standard Oil Co. in certain congressmen. I have shown their interest in certain attorney-generals and judges. I intend to show that the Standard Oil Co. takes a similar interest in newspapers and magazines, and lecturers and other institutions and individuals that influence public sentiment."

Mr. Hearst read the following letter: "26 Broadway, Oct. 10, 1902. "Dear Sir,—Responding to your favor of the 5th inst., I find that it is $4 a year. Consequently Mr. Archibald was either subsidizing 'The Manufacturers' Record' or he was subsidizing for 75 years. There is no mention of any advertising done by 'The Manufacturers' Record' or any legitimate newspaper business performed. The $300 is distinctly a subsidy. I see that it is definitely stated as a year's subscription, so that there is no possibility of its being anything but a year's subscription. $2000 to Farm Magazine."

"The Standard Oil Co. is a liberal subscriber of this sort, and the object of these subsidies is to induce these publications to influence public sentiment in favor of Standard Oil, as the following letter will show:

"26 Broadway, Dec. 28, 1901. "Mr. Thomas S. Archibald, care of Buck & Pratt, Room 1203, 27 William-street, city: "Dear Mr. Grasty,—I have your favor of yesterday and beg to return herewith a telegram from Mr. Edmonds to you. We are willing to continue the subscription of $500 to 'The Manufacturers' Record' for another year, payments to be made the same as they have been this year. We do not doubt that the instance of our publications through the south is of the most helpful character.

"With good wishes, I am very truly yours, "John D. Archibald."

"I have looked up the subscription price of 'The Manufacturers' Record' and find that it is $4 a year. Consequently Mr. Archibald was either subsidizing 'The Manufacturers' Record' or he was subsidizing for 75 years. There is no mention of any advertising done by 'The Manufacturers' Record' or any legitimate newspaper business performed. The $300 is distinctly a subsidy. I see that it is definitely stated as a year's subscription, so that there is no possibility of its being anything but a year's subscription. $2000 to Farm Magazine."

"The Standard Oil Co. is a liberal subscriber of this sort, and the object of these subsidies is to induce these publications to influence public sentiment in favor of Standard Oil, as the following letter will show:

"26 Broadway, Dec. 28, 1901. "Mr. Thomas S. Archibald, care of Buck & Pratt, Room 1203, 27 William-street, city: "Dear Mr. Grasty,—I have your favor of yesterday and beg to return herewith a telegram from Mr. Edmonds to you. We are willing to continue the subscription of $500 to 'The Manufacturers' Record' for another year, payments to be made the same as they have been this year. We do not doubt that the instance of our publications through the south is of the most helpful character.

"With good wishes, I am very truly yours, "John D. Archibald."

"The Standard Oil Co. not only endeavors to influence public sentiment thru magazines and newspapers, but it subsidizes teachers and lecturers to 'educate' the public in the interest of the Standard Oil. The following letter is an example in point:

"26 Broadway, "Professor George Gunton, 41 Union Square, city: "My Dear Professor,—Responding to your favor it gives me pleasure to inclose you herewith certificate of deposit to your favor for $500 as an additional contribution to that agreed upon and to aid you in your most excellent work. I most earnestly hope that the same will be open for an enlarged scope, as you anticipate.

"Yours very truly, "John D. Archibald."

"It would seem likely from this letter, and from the mention of an additional contribution of $5000, that the total contribution to this professor was $10,000. Applying the same rule as heretofore, and learning that admission to the professor's lectures is 50 cents, we must conclude that Mr. Archibald was either subsidizing the professor to teach the public to love the Standard Oil, or he was purchasing a season ticket for 20,000 performances.

"In the following letter is the mention of a certificate of deposit sent to the editor of a daily newspaper:

"26 Broadway, Jan. 17, 1899. "Hon. W. A. Magee, Pittsburg Times, Pittsburg, Pa. "Dear Sir,—As per understanding, herewith enclosed find certificate of deposit to your order for $1250, the receipt of which kindly acknowledge.

"Truly yours, "John D. Archibald."

"A Congressman's Letter. "We have seen heretofore that the Standard Oil Co. endeavor to influence magazines, newspapers, lecturers, and every medium of publicity for their political and financial purposes. "I will now read a letter which indicated a still wider and more comprehensive plan, and one of even greater danger to the free press, which are the cornerstones of our republic. The letter is from the Standard Oil Co.'s congressional spy, Joseph C. Sibley. It is written:

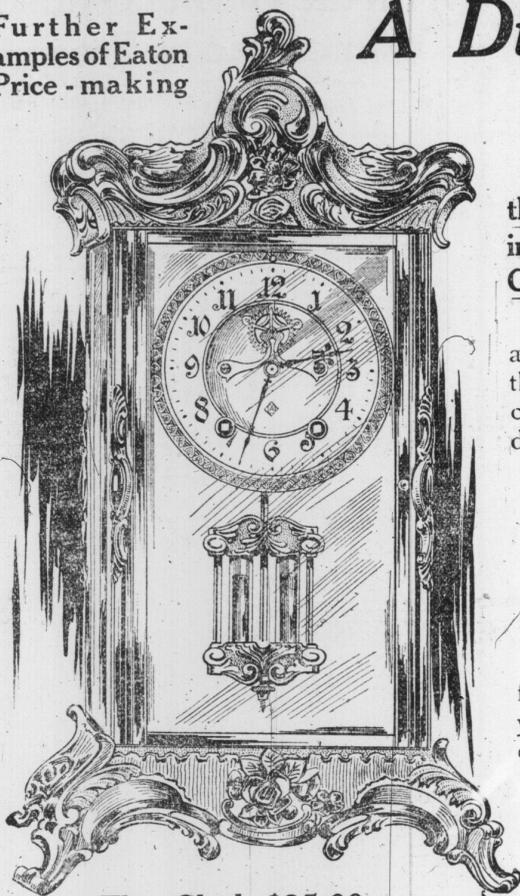

"WASHINGTON, March 7, 1905.—My Dear Mr. A.—The illness of a member of my family has prevented my coming to New York. Senator B. wants to have some over with me. I think he will go anyway, as he has business there. I had a conversation with an important official yesterday, and he

There seems no stopping Queens in the mad football race for the championship. McGill looked promisingly in Saturday's game, but it was only the wind, the Montreal men having won the toss. The contest will continue on the morning of the league Nov. 14, when the Kingston students perform onVarsity field.

Hamilton's test comes earlier next Saturday, when their stripes show at Ottawa. The Tigers and Argonauts are expected to meet at the Argonauts' early performance gave some hopes.

Meanwhile, being credited in some outside places, as a paper club, it is in order to congratulate T.A.A.C. on winning the championship of the senior series of the Ontario Rugby Football Union.

Brookville ran up the score of the day in the junior series of the O.R.F.U., 62 points, defeating Ganoquoque by an even 60.

According to official averages Joe Kelly went back into the National League and hit sufficiently hard to figure with in the 25 list. This should prove an impetus to President McCaffery to have Boston the place and a successful leader back again. Wagner of Pittsburgh took the list with Donlin of New York being struck out at the end of the year.

After breaking into the big baseball leagues some players are fanned back to the minors, when, as a matter of fact, they should never have left the farm at all.

It was reported that Buffalo would release George Smith by one of several and now the owner of the club is reported as saying: "You may see me for I have entered into no negotiations with Jimmy Collins, Walter Burnham, Willie Foster, Charley Carr nor any other man in the country to manage next year's Buffalo team."

After breaking into the big baseball leagues some players are fanned back to the minors, when, as a matter of fact, they should never have left the farm at all.

Probably when Owner Lou Solman, who is now on the water enroute home with his accessories, reaches Toronto he may advise owner Larry Schafly back to the club.

Albert Tuckwell, the soccer player who made the mistake of breaking in Broadway field, is the well-known British United amateur boxer who was the light weight champion last spring from H. Peters. He was also in training for the bouts this fall and will be unable to take any part in Tuckwell's many friends will sympathize with him in the mishap.

Says The Winnipeg Telegram: Eastern comment on the sending of those seven Canadian clubs to Scotland is that they will take part in the Royal Caledonian Curling Club's bonspiel, seems to throw some doubt on the financial arrangements if Ontario would do as Manitoba is doing, by a dollar a head on the members of affiliated clubs. The $100 thus raised would go a long way towards meeting the expenses of the trip.

Reports from Manitoba are very satisfactory and it is taken for granted that when the curlers leave they will bring the rest will be easy. Nothing on earth should stop the expedition.

There are still plenty of deer for the hunters in Maine, according to the following dispatch from Bangor: "The season has reached 700 deer and 27 moose, which is well up to the average of the best deer season in the state. The moose was the carcass of a large cow moose, which had been shot near Passadumcook. It was found a short time after it was killed and turned over to Game Warden Perkins, who is taking the case. Arrests will probably follow."

One Death Among Features American College Football

At Chicago—Minnesota's football aggression proved helpless Saturday in front of the lightning play of Stagg's athletes and Chicago piled up a score of 20 while Minnesota fought vainly to cross the goal of their rivals. Yale veterans also decided a friendly rivalry when Coach Stagg's machine beat down the Green Bay team, who are anxious to return to the field.

Minnesota's forward passes were intricate and usually unsuccessful. The Chicago line withstood the most determined charges of their opponents and, protected by the best interference Chicago has shown in any game, they were able to force back the Minnesota line and force back the Minnesota line and force back the Minnesota line.

At New Haven, Conn.—By a score of 49 to 0 Yale defeated the Massachusetts Agricultural College eleven in a football game. Only once during the game did the visitors have a chance to score. In the first half the ball was forced to Yale's 50-yard line, when the visitors had an opportunity to try for a goal from the 100, but did not. The game was entirely new team with one exception was made by Yale in the second half, Brown played back along playing the full game.

At Annapolis—The theory that a dry field and the opportunity for open play meant the line on Saturday was sustained. The victory of duck blues, was sustained. On first gridiron and in the presence of a crowd that showed the signs of a big game, the Harvard-Navy contest last night. The varsity line administered their first defeat to the seniors. The score was Carleton 14, Navy 6.

At Cambridge, Mass.—Harvard defeated Brown in a sharply contested game at the stadium, 3 to 0. All the scoring was done in the second half. An exchange of punts placed the ball on Harvard's 25-yard line. Then White and Cotting were coarsely on the plunger and one fake kick carried the ball down the field with little interruption until White was pushed over for a touchdown. McKay kicked the goal. Brown got his talk after something had been done to him, but he fumbled on Harvard's five-yard line and was thrown over for a safety. This was the first safety ever made in a game in the stadium.

At Lexington, K.—Cadet C. Coote Ferebee, a son of C. Ferebee of Norfolk, died from concussion of the brain due to an injury received in a game of football between Virginia Military Institute and Washington College, played Saturday afternoon.

At Westport—Princeton met the Army at football here for the first time in two years and the result was a nothing to nothing tie. Both teams fought hard. In the first half honors were about even, but in the second the visitors threatened to score repeatedly. Four times they carried the ball to within the college's five-yard line, only to be driven back, despite the strong wind, by the status quo packed with spectators and the crowd was the most enthusiastic of the season.

There is to be an entertainment of the night artists Thursday night at Tweed, when the well-known local boxers, Jack and Tommy Daly, are to go ten rounds to the wind-up. Jack Daly and McCarthy are to open the show with a four-round bout.

Hamilton and Queens Still Undeclared in Rugby Leagues

T. A. A. C. Also Emerge With Clean Record—Standing of the Clubs and Schedule for Next Saturday.

The Argonauts were swamped again by the Hamilton Tigers. The score was 28 to 9. The Argonauts scored the first two points, but the end of the second half saw the Tigers ahead, 13 to 3.

In the third quarter the Argonauts scored a touch-down, which Russell converted, and the last period began with the score: Tigers 13, Argonauts 9. Then came the deluge.

Tigers forced the play on remaining in the last quarter. Taylor being forced to touch-in-goal, making the score 14 to 9. Shortly after Biggs tried a drop, but failed, Taylor being forced to rouse again. Score: Tigers 15, Argos 9.

Tigers kept forcing the play, Biggs being forced to convert. Score: Tigers 20, Argos 9.

Argos failed to give yards on kick-off. Tigers getting possession at centre field, Biggs being punted on the first down, Art Kent making an error in securing the ball. The whistle for full time blew shortly after this.

The teams lined up as follows: Argonauts: Back, Taylor; halves, Art Kent, Mort, Grevack; quarter, Newport, scrimmage, Bargett, Russell, Lane; three-quarter, Taylor; middle wings, Sinclair, Thompson; outside wings, Barber, Tomes.

RACE SCANDAL AT PIMLICO

Gentleman Jockey is Set Down for Alleged Pulling of My Grace to Allow Homelander to Win—Turf Gossip.

The racing at Pimlico has developed a scandal which is liable to stir up the steeplechase end of the game beyond measure. Several days ago the Pimlico stewards, H. J. Morris, Frank J. Bryan and William M. Manley, notified Jay O'Brien, the well-known gentleman jockey, that because of his ride on My Grace he had been removed from the race. O'Brien, who is a professional jockey, and as a result he says that unless the reflection on his character is promptly removed he will take the matter before the stewards of the National Steeplechase and Hunt Association at Pimlico, further demanding that he be paid $200 on My Grace with interest.

Fifty head of thoroughbreds for use by the officers of the German army will be shipped from New York to Germany from which point they will sail this week. All of the horses, which are of the high type, are thoroughbred and bought by the week at Lexington by Herr L. Keller, a representative of the officers of the German army, and Emil Jacobson, an interpreter, of New York.

S. C. Hildreth has arranged for Jockey McCarty to drive his lightweight riding next winter at Oakland. McCarty will go to California at the close of the Pimlico season. H. F. Hayes has entered Red Gauntlet in the long-distance stakes to be run at Oakland, and the presumption is that the track was decidedly slow during the early days of the meeting. Hildreth worked Redgauntlet six furlongs in 1:18.4, the first of any second that he has asked of the horse since his arrival. Several Opening Handicap candidates, including Montague, were sent slow miles.

The horse-racing season in Japan opened last Friday at the track of the Nippon Race Club. For the first time in the history of the country, in accordance with a recent ruling by the authorities, the Nippon Race Club has decided to have good horses next year to be sent to the United States. STANDARD OIL'S GRIP old me there was but one thing to do, and that was to start a strike. Like myself, he is much assured, and as a member of the reigning family, his mind and tongue are free. He thinks the work should be done in the education of public sentiment between now and the meeting of congress in October.

The one thing to do is to get delay until temperate action can be secured. I think the pendulum will swing to the other side after a while, but I do not want the devil to pay before it gets back.

An efficient literary bureau is needed, not for a day or a crisis, but a permanent and healthy control of the Associated Press and kindred agencies. It will cost money, but it will be the cheapest in the end, and can be made self-supporting.

The next four years is, more than any other, a critical time to determine the future of the country. No man values public opinion or fears it so much as Roosevelt. No man seeks popular approval so much as he. Mild reproach of criticism of his policy would nearly paralyze him.

To-day he hears only the chorus of a rabble, and he will not listen to a sane, sensible, and sane sentiment. I don't know whether the industrial corporations and the transportation companies have enough of a stake to justify a union of forces for concerted action. It seems to me necessary.

Sincerely yours, "Sibley."

"The Senator B. mentioned in this letter is, of course, our old friend Joe Bailey of Parkville, a station to open up our crooked cranny of Standard Oil association without finding Mr. Bailey in some dark corner, blinking with ready eyes over the unwelcome light."

"The important part of this letter, however, is the part which reveals the plan to control the great news organizations of the country, the Associated Press and kindred agencies, to influence public opinion." In that way Mr. Sibley thinks the public can be deceived and public men, like Mr. Roosevelt, who value public opinion, can be criticized and controlled.

"Think of the joy of the Standard Oil Co. in a self-supporting organization which would be led by all the citizens of the United States."

"In complete ignorance of what was occurring in the public mind, as to the perpetuation of a government of the Standard Oil Co. by the Standard Oil Co. and for the Standard Oil Co."

"When I am attacked by certain publications for making these Standard Oil letters public, I cannot help but think that the Standard Oil Co. has been partly successful in establishing that efficient literary bureau which costs money, but is the cheapest in the end."

CALEDONIAN SOCIETY HONOR ST. ANDREW'S DAY

Many Prominent Scots at Annual Hallow'e'en Banquet at Walker House.

"Friendship makes us a 'mair happy.' Friendship gives us a delight; Friendship consecrates the drapple; Friendship brings us here to do."

This was the greeting together with a spring of heater, each guest received at the Hallow'e'en banquet of the Caledonian Society at the Walker House on Saturday night.

The lads from the land of cakes received in Toronto hit upon an innovation by inviting the fair ladies from the Highlands and Lowlands to be present at the annual celebration of the Caledonian Society, and they responded in goodly numbers, adding grace to the assembly and contributing greatly to the pleasure of the evening.

"The 'Great Chieftain of the Pullin' race, Haggis," was received with the usual royal honors, as it was borne round the room by the chef, preceded by pipers.

Charles Walker recited in fine style Burns' famous address to Scotland's national dish.

William Banks, sr., presided, supported by Senator R. Murray, J. D. Robertson, Rev. Prof. I. D. Robertson, Lt.-Col. M. Robertson, 4th Highlanders; J. M. Gardner, president of the Caledonian Society; Col. J. I. Davidson, president St. Andrew's Society; George B. Sweetnam, president Irish Protestant Benevolent Society, who responded to the toasts of sister societies.

Letters and telegrams of regret for inability to attend were received from: The Governor-General, the Lieutenant-Governor of Ontario, Sir Wilfrid Laurier, Sir James P. Whitney, Hon. G. H. Murray, premier of Nova Scotia; Mayor Adams of Buffalo, R. Weddell of Toronto, Ont., and Miss Theodora Peck of Burlington, Vermont, the author of "The Sword of Dundee," the romance which is just now being so eagerly read and discussed in Scotland and elsewhere. Miss Peck is a granddaughter of the late Mr. Leslie, formerly postmaster of Toronto. She will be at one of the regular meetings of the society this season.

John M. Laidlaw proposed the "Naval and Military Forces of the Empire." Col. Robertson, in reply, said the members of the 48th who recently visited England as guests of the Gordon Highlanders, were given the best time of their lives. They were received by his majesty the King, who shook hands heartily with each man and told them he was proud to see such a fine body of men from the great Dominion.

"The Day and a Night Honor It" was proposed in a felicitous speech by the chairman and responded to by Prof. Robertson in a happy and humorous vein, in which he pointed to the satisfaction of his audience that the Scotch race were first and foremost in everything that contributed to the happiness and the welfare of mankind throughout the world.

"The Dominion Parliament and the Legislative Assembly of Ontario" was proposed by W. Grant and responded to by Senator Jeffrey and W. D. McPherson.

Controller Harrison, in the absence of the mayor, replied for the "City Corporation."

The ladies were given a hearty reception and a most enjoyable time. The toast, thanked them for turning out in such large numbers, and expressed the hope that the ladies would be seen at the festive board more frequently in the future.

by the police at King and Simcoe-streets. 300 Police on Duty.

There were slightly over 300 police on duty in the various divisions in numbers division 80 men were on duty. The day duty men were held for night duty and all night held brought in early. The front beats, where student bodies were likely to appear, were double patrolled and a reserve of 25 men held in the station.

Both patrol wagon crews were kept for duty and both ambulances were manned. The full mounted force of men and two officers were on duty and a reserve of fifteen men was kept at the station in Court-street.

In number five (Yorkville) 30 men were held, of whom twelve were in reserve.

Number six (Parkdale) held 20 men, the no students went, nor were they expected there. A watch was, however, kept at the station to see the trains go thru, in case an attempt by the outside detachments was made to get off at that point, in which case the full run thru to the Union Station.

At number seven (Ossington-avenue) Inspector Dilworth mustered 20 men, however, Inspector Miller held a full division over the Don. One man was held as reserve at the station on Pape-avenue.

"MEDS" SPOIL DANCE

giving some "vociferous" color yell, Dr. McKenzie emerged from the ballroom.

"We thank you, boys, for your kind visit," he said, "but this dance was given by the ladies and they would mind that you stay outside."

"Three cheers for Dr. McKenzie!" was the reply, and the gym was immediately vacated. The student procession started for the University-avenue to Elm-street, to Young-street and thence along King towards the Union Station, to meet the S. P. S. men on their arrival back from Buffalo.

RIGHT WAY TO CELEBRATE.

Dean Reeve Tell "Meds" It's in Hearing Frank Yeigh Lecture.

Upwards of 300 embryo physicians attended the annual reunion given by the dean and faculty of medicine on Saturday evening in convocation hall, and spent a most enjoyable time.

The earlier stages consisted of a delightful dinner, which consisted of a number of small dainty sheets, the handwriting being difficult to decipher and the chancellor referred to the affair as "the minister at the Hague, who was acting as the chancellor's private secretary."

The latter, in his turn and without examining the document, sent it to the foreign office, where in the absence of Herr Von Schoen, the secretary for foreign affairs, he became the subordinate officials, who did not attach importance to its contents, and returned thru the proper channels for further examination in the transmitted by one of the imperial secretaries to England, where, as The "Tagliche Rundschau," one of the newspapers that is read in court circles, and the dean opening remarks fairly made the spacious auditorium ring with laughter.

"I listened to that splendid address of Mr. Veigh's," said Dr. Reeve, "I was impressed with the fact that this is the proper way that a Hallow'e'en should be spent. (Loud laughter.)

"We, who are all more or less advanced in the study of medicine, have come to know something about the evolution, and we would hesitate to resort to old-fashioned methods even in such a celebration as the present one. (Laughter.)

"I would particularly impress upon you the fact that nearly everybody present lives on necessary food to support one another home." (Laughter and applause.)

The speaker then mounted the platform and his opening words also brought down the house with laughter.

"This meeting has afforded me a delightful opportunity to tell you the inmost desires of my heart. (Applause.)

"Take the advice of Dr. Reeve. As you will be a few years older, all parts of this broad and beautiful Dominion, of which we have learned so much to-night, you will remember this meeting as one of your happy days, and carry away fond recollections of Dean Reeve, who brought about this event. His devotion, as well as his medical studies in particular, make Dr. Reeve a most important figure in the university's history and to the medical students in particular."

"He is a benediction to you, here in college, and he is a model for you to follow in your future professional life."

In thanking President Falconer for his kind remarks, Dr. Reeve announced that the faculty had agreed to donate the sum of $100 to the hospital. This information was greeted with applause.

The students then retired to the halls, where a bounteous supply of refreshments was furnished by a staff of waiters whose energies were taxed to the utmost in keeping the supply equal to the demand.

WAITED UNTIL 2 A.M.

Wanted to Mobilize With Buffalo Bunch, But Didn't.

The students to the number of about 200 mobilized on the campus at 10:30 p.m. Most of them were Varsity Meds. with a number of dentists and science men.

The idea of meeting the School of Science students who were expected to arrive from Buffalo about 11:30 p.m. they marched down University-avenue to Elm-street and by way of Yonge, King and York-streets to the station.

Here they were informed that the train would not be for some time and it was decided to fill in the interval by a parade thru the streets.

A few minutes before midnight, the students, with several hundred followers, marched up Yonge-street and turned west along Richmond-street. The college boys seemed to be contented with singing, and made no attempt to molest any passers by or property. They were accompanied by a body of policemen, the officers being distributed here and there so as to have an eye upon the whole marching column.

ed west along Richmond-street. The college boys seemed to be contented with singing, and made no attempt to molest any passers by or property. They were accompanied by a body of policemen, the officers being distributed here and there so as to have an eye upon the whole marching column.

Their march was quiet, and as they passed, but the missiles were thrown by hoodlums who made up the rear guard. The army turned down York-street and along King-street to Simcoe-street, where it wheeled south with the intention of going back to the Union Station.

Horatius Act by Police.

But three policemen suddenly loomed up in front and barred the way. The crowd halted, then wheeled around and wended its way up Simcoe-street again much to the disappointment of the crowd which had hoped for a clash.

The crowd secured a view of the word passed around. As for the students they took their revenge by repeated renditions of the classic refrain "The boys are on the burn."

Having reached the lawn on College-street east of Science Building, the collegians lolled about aimlessly for 15 minutes, then a huge bonfire of the policemen would not invade their rights. The police melted away and the students finally headed for the campus. It was cold and chill and enthusiasm began to sink lower. Some of the collegians had had enough and when they thought no one was looking slipped away for home.

Wanted to Mobilize.

A council-of-war was held and a chief of war announced that four of the Meds had been detailed to meet the Buffalo train and ask the S. P. S. men to mobilize with the rest on the campus. The foundation stone being laid, a standing vote was called for on the question whether to bivouac on the campus or march back to the station. His Grace's majority being in favor, an attempt was then made to start a college "scrap."

"You freshmen, line up," shouted a leader, but only a few feebles accepted the invitation and general apathy killed off the enterprising move.

The proposal that fire be built was, however, seized upon with alacrity and forage parties scattered in all directions. Some loists and planks were soon piled up and a huge bonfire was soon blazing near the south limit of the campus with another on the roadway to the east. A ruddy reflection of the sun was visible for several blocks, while the students with their frozen spirits thawing broke into song. But as time went by and the engineers "top," the enthusiasm flagged. It was not, however, until about 2:30 a.m. that the campus was deserted.

Baron Von Jenich, who was attached to his entourage while the emperor was absent from the capital a short time ago, as the representative of the foreign office with the direction to send it to Prince Von Buelow. The chancellor described the note from Von Jenich, which accompanied the manuscript of the article, as the enclosure of an article, not as an interview, so that the chancellor did not consider it necessary to give it his personal attention. The manuscript consisted of a number of small dainty sheets, the handwriting being difficult to decipher and the chancellor referred to the affair as "the minister at the Hague, who was acting as the chancellor's private secretary."

The latter, in his turn and without examining the document, sent it to the foreign office, where in the absence of Herr Von Schoen, the secretary for foreign affairs, he became the subordinate officials, who did not attach importance to its contents, and returned thru the proper channels for further examination in the transmitted by one of the imperial secretaries to England, where, as The "Tagliche Rundschau," one of the newspapers that is read in court circles, and the dean opening remarks fairly made the spacious auditorium ring with laughter.

"I listened to that splendid address of Mr. Veigh's," said Dr. Reeve, "I was impressed with the fact that this is the proper way that a Hallow'e'en should be spent. (Loud laughter.)

"We, who are all more or less advanced in the study of medicine, have come to know something about the evolution, and we would hesitate to resort to old-fashioned methods even in such a celebration as the present one. (Laughter.)

"I would particularly impress upon you the fact that nearly everybody present lives on necessary food to support one another home." (Laughter and applause.)

The speaker then mounted the platform and his opening words also brought down the house with laughter.

"This meeting has afforded me a delightful opportunity to tell you the inmost desires of my heart. (Applause.)

"Take the advice of Dr. Reeve. As you will be a few years older, all parts of this broad and beautiful Dominion, of which we have learned so much to-night, you will remember this meeting as one of your happy days, and carry away fond recollections of Dean Reeve, who brought about this event. His devotion, as well as his medical studies in particular, make Dr. Reeve a most important figure in the university's history and to the medical students in particular."

"He is a benediction to you, here in college, and he is a model for you to follow in your future professional life."

In thanking President Falconer for his kind remarks, Dr. Reeve announced that the faculty had agreed to donate the sum of $100 to the hospital. This information was greeted with applause.

The students then retired to the halls, where a bounteous supply of refreshments was furnished by a staff of waiters whose energies were taxed to the utmost in keeping the supply equal to the demand.

ed west along Richmond-street. The college boys seemed to be contented with singing, and made no attempt to molest any passers by or property. They were accompanied by a body of policemen, the officers being distributed here and there so as to have an eye upon the whole marching column.

Their march was quiet, and as they passed, but the missiles were thrown by hoodlums who made up the rear guard. The army turned down York-street and along King-street to Simcoe-street, where it wheeled south with the intention of going back to the Union Station.

Horatius Act by Police.

But three policemen suddenly loomed up in front and barred the way. The crowd halted, then wheeled around and wended its way up Simcoe-street again much to the disappointment of the crowd which had hoped for a clash.

The crowd secured a view of the word passed around. As for the students they took their revenge by repeated renditions of the classic refrain "The boys are on the burn."

Having reached the lawn on College-street east of Science Building, the collegians lolled about aimlessly for 15 minutes, then a huge bonfire of the policemen would not invade their rights. The police melted away and the students finally headed for the campus. It was cold and chill and enthusiasm began to sink lower. Some of the collegians had had enough and when they thought no one was looking slipped away for home.

Wanted to Mobilize.

A council-of-war was held and a chief of war announced that four of the Meds had been detailed to meet the Buffalo train and ask the S. P. S. men to mobilize with the rest on the campus. The foundation stone being laid, a standing vote was called for on the question whether to bivouac on the campus or march back to the station. His Grace's majority being in favor, an attempt was then made to start a college "scrap."

"You freshmen, line up," shouted a leader, but only a few feebles accepted the invitation and general apathy killed off the enterprising move.

The proposal that fire be built was, however, seized upon with alacrity and forage parties scattered in all directions. Some loists and planks were soon piled up and a huge bonfire was soon blazing near the south limit of the campus with another on the roadway to the east. A ruddy reflection of the sun was visible for several blocks, while the students with their frozen spirits thawing broke into song. But as time went by and the engineers "top," the enthusiasm flagged. It was not, however, until about 2:30 a.m. that the campus was deserted.

RELIEF FOR THE G. T. P.

Parliament Will Be Asked to Enact the Terms.

OTTAWA, Nov. 1.—(Special).—Some people who were well posted as to the relations between the Grand Trunk Pacific and the government expect some kind of a relief bill at the early part of the coming session.

When the Grand Trunk Pacific before parliament, the minister stated that the section just named would cost $52,000,000. At three per cent, this would be an annual return of $1,560,000, which would not be very formidable, but it is now asked, however, that the transcantional will have cost when completed $160,000,000, and that the annual rental the grand trunk Pacific will have to pay will not be less than $4,800,000.

When it is considered that the amount of money now available for dividends on the Grand Trunk proper is but $4,100,000, the monumental character of the liability assumed by the Grand Trunk Pacific as far as the eastern section is concerned can be understood.

William Sloan, P.M. for Conroy, Allen, denies the statement that there have been $100,000,000 in the Grand Trunk Pacific. Vancouver Liberals to give pipe to W. B. Melrose, the latter to be by the Government. The minister's statement that in the event of Mr. Bernard's election, being confirmed by account and Hon. Wm. Templeton being appointed to resign, it was altogether likely that Prince Rupert would have cabinet representation.

ARE YOU AWARE THAT THE MONTREAL RIVER MINES WILL SURPASS THOSE OF COBALT?

Many mining men experienced in Cobalt mines believe that the Montreal River silver district will surpass the Cobalt mines.

The Crown Jewel Mines consist of one hundred and fifty acres in the Montreal River and Nett Lake districts, about eight miles from Latchford.

We have the report of one of the most competent and reliable engineers in the Cobalt camp, who has given his report, not from a selling point, but only with the idea of acting in behalf of the investors.

Our J. S. 61 property, consisting of 39 acres, is on the Montreal River and has been pronounced by several mining engineers who have seen it to be one of the best properties in the district. We have uncovered one vein in diabase contact fourteen inches wide on the top of the hill, and over four feet wide where vein strikes into Trout Lake.

We ask you to remember that our capitalization of $350,000 is extremely low, and that most of the mining companies in the camp are capitalized at many times the amount of this company.

We solicit your consideration of our offer, and firmly believe that the money you invest with this company will make you money quickly.

Big Operators Control Wall Street Transactions

In Toronto, the Public Refuses to Be Drawn into Market Operations Otherwise Than Cobalts.

World Office, Saturday evening, Oct. 21. Two rather astonishing statements were given out on Wall-street this week, the quarterly statistics of the Steel Trust and the September earnings of the Harriman roads. From the market it must be inferred that the statements were received with considerable doubt. They certainly do not accord with the general run of events and the doubt felt is doubtless on this account. In that trading in Wall-street stocks is now largely in the hands of the big operators and the room operators, it is easily explained why items of this kind are given little attention. Trading brokers know well that railroad and other earnings are very largely governed by market conditions, and almost no confidence is consequently placed in them.

It is certainly strange that Mr. Harriman can operate the Union and Southern Pacific roads to such advantage, when every other railroad is suffering from smaller earnings and increased expenditures. Mr. Harriman may be a market wizard, but his ability to create traffic when it is not in sight, may well be the chief reason why his kind are not new to Wall-street, nor to any other exchanges, as a matter of fact, and the only inference that can be conveyed in connection with them is that they are being used to bolster up prices. As stock prices are entirely at the mercy of the controllers of the various companies, it must be assumed that the desire at present is to strengthen prices regardless of anything which should govern values.

The financial fraternity is a unit in regard to the presidential election. That must be elected at all costs, and as the market is supposed to reflect commercial conditions it is essential that stock prices be maintained with a certain amount of buoyancy. No more scientific market has ever been conducted than that now under way. Spots of strength during the week have been generally followed by equally weak spells and the nervousness of traders owing to the flimsy position of the market has been followed by out much loss to those who have brought them about. On several occasions during the week transactions in thousands of shares have been followed by absolute dullness and stagnation.

The point at issue, so far as the public is concerned, is this: Distrust is widespread among outside speculators. The only money made in Wall-street by the public is a moderate take-off at the expense of itself. With such a small outside interest as now exists there is scarcely enough profit in transactions to keep the outsiders supplied with spending money, and it is perhaps impossible to operate in the market with any success. The market leaders should attempt some kind of a movement which would result in a temporary recovery, and in case of a quick change in quotations, operations at extreme prices in either direction should result in profitable turns.

The public as a body steadily refuses to be drawn into operations on the listed securities at the Toronto market. Various attempts are made occasionally, but as far as can be gathered they are unsuccessful, and those who are seeking to create speculation are having to take out stocks on the advance. It is perhaps proper to remark that efforts along these lines are chiefly confined to fallen securities.

The London market is being worked by the pools at that end, but it would seem that the successes in the old country are not much better than they are here. It is astonishing the amount of capital that these foreign properties can tap.

The Mexican Light and Power Co. has recently announced two large additions in capital—a block of preferred stock and a much larger block of common stock. But as a large proportion of these new issues are to be supplied out of Canada, it is not a matter of a great deal of consequence to domestic investors and speculators.

The stir in Toronto Electric Light stock came into evidence towards the latter part of the week, when the price of the stock was run to 120. Vague rumors of buying for control of this concern are still being circulated, but wherein any benefit could accrue to Toronto Electric, outside of the abrogating of the agreement which this company has with the Electric Development Co., no one seems to be able to define. Anyway, until something definite is known, and the supposition that the movement is for the purpose of distributing the stock of the company, which was bought in at par, there does not seem to be any valid reason for the movement.

Bradstreet's says the unsettled weather and pre-election quiet are in evidence this week as affecting trade in a great many cities.

Conservative bullish operations seem likely to continue in the stock market. Probably more of specialized character. We still suggest taking fair returns on part of holdings on bulges, with placement on moderate declines. Attention is in a strong position to respond well to bullish reports on it. Union Pacific should be bought on all reactions, according to latest advice. The same may be said of Southern Pacific. Philadelphia reports are still favorable to purchases of Reading on little declines, and as soon as the offerings listed around 134 are removed, the stock may be bought on a reaction. The same may be said of Northern Pacific regarding the Flower following is bullish on Anagnanated. Smelting may be bought on a reaction. Bull tips are still noted in Westinghouse, Leontine and Sloss, Consolidated Gas, American Car and Foundry is doing an excellent business now, and the inside pool seems confident of high or prices. The Canadian pools are showing some activity, and Canadian stocks, Soo and Duluth issues may be watched.—New York Financial News.

If the market speculations on satisfactory election results, as it seems inclined to do, there will, of course, be more or less of a reaction. It is perhaps proper to remark that efforts along these lines are chiefly confined to fallen securities.

The market is discounting Taff's election by stubbornly rising, notwithstanding bear attacks producing temporary reactions. There is apparently little indication by the public, in case of an overwhelming majority for Taff, a higher market may be expected for a reasonable season, and the president is any value, a decline on realization of good news would be natural, followed later on by the long rise.—J. S. Bache & Co.

On Wall Street, Charles Hoad & Co. to R. R. Bondard. Trading all stocks on the reaction yesterday expecting to sell out in the market there and sold here instead. There was some liquidation by outside interests, but the market was not important. The buying on the reaction was mostly by strong interests. The fact that the market became more active on the decline than previously was accepted as a bear indication. It is part of the bull program to allow the market to break now, or any time soon, except in the event that Mr. Bryan should be elected, when the selling would likely come from all quarters for a turn.

IMPERIAL BANK MEN OF INDUSTRIES VISIT FARM COLLEGE

Enjoy "Scientific" Luncheon and Learn of Agricultural Progress at Guelph College.

About 150 members of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association visited the agricultural college at Guelph on Saturday, and one and all expressed themselves as having had an enjoyable time, and a most instructive one. The only drawback was the time taken in getting and coming, as the Grand Trunk special which had been chartered consumed over two hours in negotiating the fifty-one miles between Toronto and the Royal City.

The visitors were met at Guelph by President Creelman of the college and conducted thru the grounds and buildings. Many of the industrial men had never been there before, and the perfect organization and evidences of the vast amount of experimental work being carried on there drew from them expressions of wonder and admiration, and all went away feeling that Mr. Creelman was the right man in the right place and that the students conducted for instruction from all parts of the world had made no mistake in their selection.

A splendid luncheon was served in Macdonald Hall. This was cooked and served by the ladies from the Macdonald Institute, and everything edible on the table had been produced on the farm. The way the captains of industry relished the repast spoke volumes for the cooking of the institute girls. After luncheon the rounds were made, and as each department was visited the man in charge explained in detail to the party the work and experiments conducted there.

Someone remarked in the presence of President Creelman that this was a pity the farm was not better known "throughout the country." The president expressed the visitors that last year 20,000 farmers had visited the year 1977 students of course, from Ontario, but there were also students from England, Ireland, Scotland, Italy, South Africa, Texas and every province in Canada.

During the course of an address the president informed his visitors that 40,000 agriculturists from the district bounded by Kingston, Most of Windsor on the west and Parry Sound on the north. In addition, said he, there are 4000 farmers' institutes throughout the country. Most of the farmers are informed by capable instructors as to the experimental work being carried on.

President R. Hobson of Hamilton Canadian Manufacturers' Association thanked the president for the courtesy shown the members.

HARRY LOVE IN SHOES

Makes a Dashing Entry into a New Line of Business.

Harry Love has launched into the shoe business in a strong fashion. He has many thousand dollars' worth of new shoes in his store at 191 Yonge-street, sixteen cases of fine shoes at $30.00, arriving on Saturday. But it is his purchase, at auction of the entire stock of fine shoes at 191 Yonge-street which has enabled him to make a pyrotechnic display in the matter of prices.

When Mr. Love decided to add shoes to his store at 191 Yonge-street he went about it in a quiet way. The announcement was made last Friday, and the store was open for business on Saturday.

The feature of the selling this week is the selling of like-known price-branded shoes like Wm. Banner, the Type-Opener and the famous Foot-rite shoes.

"Any pair of these shoes, whether it be a $5, $5.50, $6 or even an $8 pair our customers can select for $3.50 this week," said Mr. Love.

For the ladies he is selling all the latest styles of American models, any size in the store for $2.50. There are all shoes worth $4, $4.50 and $5 a pair.

There are shoes for boys, for misses and for children, and they, too, are being sold.

These are not summer shoes, with the sole soles such as would give one the slip in the rain, but they are seasonable and fall and winter shoes.

HURON OLD BOYS.

Huron Old Boys executive held an enthusiastic meeting at the Rossin House with President W. E. Grosvenor in the chair, and decided to hold the annual meeting of the Association on Friday evening, Nov. 20, at the Rossin House. The annual banquet will be held in the Temple Building first Friday in March.

Thirty-Six Cottages Burn.

ROCHESTER, N.Y., Nov. 1.—Thirty-six cottages at Windsor Beach, a summer resort of Rochester on Lake Ontario, about seven miles from the city, were completely destroyed by fire between 2 and 4 o'clock Saturday afternoon, entailing a loss estimated at $17,000.

The fire started from an oil heater in an old frame cottage.

R. A. Mason Counted Centre York Ballots on Saturday—Big Snow Fall in County.

MARKHAM VILLAGE, Oct. 31.—(Special.)—Returning Officer R. A. Mason this afternoon declared Thomas G. Wallace member-elect for Centre York by a majority of 45 over Dr. P. D. McLean, the Liberal candidate.

Barely half a dozen interested spectators were present. Captain Wallace appeared in his own behalf, while A. F. Wilson and R. J. Carson dropped around incidentally to tender congratulations. The victor accepted the result with becoming modesty, but was visibly pleased and made no attempt to conceal his gratification at the result. The final summing up, which placed Scarborough Township in the Conservative column, the by a majority of only one, was accepted by Captain Tom and his friends as an augury of better things to come. Following the formal proceedings, Captain Wallace drove across country to his home in Woodbridge.

BEATS OWN RECORD.

Aurora Bank Youth Scores High on Walk Down Yonge Street.

Harold Milloy of Aurora, teller in the Bank of Montreal at that point, yesterday set a new record for walking and incidentally beat fair to establish a new record for long distance amateur record. He walked from Aurora to Toronto in six hours and thirty minutes.

Some two weeks ago Milloy walked the entire distance from Aurora to the C.P.R. tracks in six hours and thirty minutes.

Yesterday he covered the same distance in five hours and twenty-eight minutes. From Aurora to Toronto up hill and down-hill is within a fraction of the twenty-five miles. The snow is from four to six inches deep, and Milloy encountered heavy walking until well south of Richmond Hill.

UNIONVILLE.

Heavy Snowfall in Northern Part of the County.

UNIONVILLE, Nov. 1.—A big snowfall the first of the season, fell here on Friday night, covering the ground to a depth of from four to six inches. At Agincourt there was barely two inches, while at Markham the fall was much heavier. It was good and heavy, the type that insists on efforts to dislodge it by brooms and villagers were forced to resort to shovels to clear the sidewalks. At Scarborough junction its presence was barely noticeable and train-hands running from Peterboro say that snow has fallen there. While the immediate effect is somewhat annoying, farmers will greatly appreciate the fact that the plowing.

There was a big gathering of friends at the silver wedding of Mr. and Mrs. James Galloway on the 5th concession on Saturday. Many handsome and appropriate gifts were presented, and Mr. and Mrs. Galloway were the worthy recipients of the best wishes of a wide circle of friends and neighbors.

The many friends of Mr. R. Hemming of this village, who have been seriously ill, and some ten days ago entered St. Michael's Hospital for treatment, are now in a fair way of recovery, and it is believed that their condition has not materially improved.

WEST TORONTO.

New Methodist Church is Opened on Bloor Park Avenue.

WEST TORONTO, Nov. 1.—"Lord, God with us, let us not forget, lest we forget, lest we forget."

These famous words of Kipling formed the central theme of a very interesting sermon preached to-night at the new High Park-avenue Methodist Church by a former pastor, Rev. G. W. Howson, now of Wingham.

There were large attendances at all the services to-day. Rev. W. B. Barker of Bracebridge preached at 11 a.m., and Rev. L. W. Hill of Broadway Tabernacle at 2 p.m. Miss Brenda Snellie was the soloist.

"The religion to which we as Christians all adhere is simply God's touch on humanity," said Rev. Mr. Howson. "It has been so all thru the ages."

The speaker then discussed the usefulness of the Sunday school in developing the character of the young.

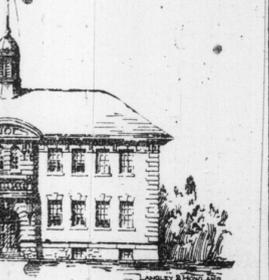

"There has been discovered in Texas a flower which always has its petals towards the north, so that travelers long to the prairie can get their bearings if this flower can be found. So does the Sunday school direct the young towards God."

Memory and imagination were also two valuable gifts of nature for the upbuilding of character according to Mr. Howson. "The old home and childhood days always fill our hearts with happy memories wherever we go, and the other later life may be oftentimes a tragedy, the recollections of the long ago come as a solace to our cares. On the gifts of Waterloo, where once human blood streamed, the ground is now covered with forget-me-nots."

For Next Year's City Council

W.M. J. HEVEY, secretary of the District Trades and Labor Council, and vice-president of the Chalmers' Union, is a probable candidate for aldermanic honors in the Third Ward. Mr. Hevey is not a novice in public matters. He was secretary of the Citizens' Committee which last March asked the council to submit the question of license reduction to the people, a course which is now being followed. He is an independent in politics, and in the last provincial election he was the Labor candidate in North Toronto, earning Mr. McNaughton's complimentary references.

PUBLIC IS TO BLAME FOR UNSAVORY PLAYS

So Says Wright Lorimer, the Actor, in Addressing Sunday Night Service.

The statement that the public is largely to blame for the unsavory nature of many plays was made by Wright Lorimer, playwright and actor, in addressing a crowded house at the "People's Sunday Service" in Mr. Lorimer appears at the theatre all this week in his remarkable Bible-story play, "The Shepherd King."

Mr. Lorimer proved to be an agreeable speaker, graceful as to style and engaged in close attention. Probably it was from the force of habit, however, that before his lecture was over he drifted from the table near the wings to the centre of the stage.

Mr. Lorimer admitted that he didn't feel altogether at home without the footlights and the blackness beyond them. He had grown to regard the public as a great dim monster, which he never saw, but sometimes heard. He was not a member of any church, nor even a good man, making no profession and being purely a man of the world, who has had a very strenuous boyhood and hard work all his life.

The most important word in the dictionary was "grow" in the estimation of the speaker, who believed that very few people realized the powers that were in them awaiting development, and how much broader and bigger mentally and spiritually they might become. In his recent mood he realized how small and insignificant was his wit as an actor beside that of the great by-gone masters of the profession.

Speaking of his practice of sending invitations to clergymen to see his play, he said that he sometimes received replies to the effect that the theatre was a den of iniquity, and that he (Wright) was a servant of the devil. Such a clergyman was a "poor, little, narrow, crooked stick, so small that if God let his breath blow they would be nothing left but the dust of him."

Everything, the drama included, had its use in helping the soul and mind to grow. The drama was sometimes abused, however.

"There are vendors of rotten wares which are all too gladly received by many of you," he said. "The stage might be purged of much rottenness if you wanted it. Many managers would be glad to give high-class plays, noble in theme, were it not that the public turn away and go to see that which is lewd and suggestive of the lowest in us."

In allusion to the love of beauty, romance and art planted in many hearts, Mr. Lorimer said that such yearnings were of divine origin, and that the manifold beauties of life made this clear. The life of the average man who worked in office or factory was in need of more romance, and the drama did good work in keeping the spirit of it alive. He had had evidence that "The Shepherd King" was an agency for good, but he had not written it to this end, but because he believed in a good and noble theme was the highest form of art.

Canon Welch of St. James' Cathedral gave an address on the parable of "The Prodigal Son," illustrated with lantern slides, which was intensely and reverently listened to.

WOMAN'S SUDDEN DEATH.

Mrs. Susan Jackson Expires Just After Leaving Church.

Just as Mrs. Susan Jackson, 40 Homewood-avenue, emerged with her son from the Christian Science Church on University-avenue last night she became weak and a few minutes later as she was being helped into a carriage she died.

The son, John M. Jackson, 30 years of age, called for assistance, but when someone suggested that a doctor be summoned, he said it wasn't necessary, as they were Christian Scientists. However, when Dr. Duncan of Dundas-street volunteered aid the offer was not rejected. Mrs. Jackson was supported to a hearse and F. C. Annings summoned the ambulance. A passing carriage was hailed, and Mrs. Jackson was lifted in, but in a few moments she succumbed.

Deceased was a widow in her 60th year, and is survived by two sons and a daughter, Catharine. Mrs. Jackson had suffered many of late years from an impairment in her breathing, but failure is the attributed cause of death.

"SHELL OUT" THEIR SLOGAN.

How Kew Beach Juveniles Celebrated Halloween.

About a hundred of the Kew Beach boys marched from Kippendavie-avenue east along Queen-street on Saturday night serenading the merchants with the slogan "Shell out." The solitary policeman who walked down the Kew Beach beat hailed along with a watchful eye. The merchants took the serenading in good spirit of Halloween and shelled out a generous quantity of fruit and candies. At one block a jugful of cold water was also contributed, but this was also taken as a joke.
