The Helmet of Navarre

BY BERTHA RUNKLE. GROSSET & DUNLAP Publishers: New York.

(Continued.) Was there no escape? There were three doors in the room. One led to the passage, one to the closet, the third—a dashed through to find myself in a large empty chamber, a door wide open giving on the passage. Through it I could see the dusky figures of four men running up the stairs. I was across the room like an arrow, and got the door shut and bolted before they could reach the landing. The next moment some one flung against it. It shook it, three of the four I could hear run to the farther door, whence issued the noise of the sword.

Hark, from the next room came a cry, a fall! Well, were at Lucas's victory, he might kill me as well as another. I walked into the back room. But it was Lucas who lay prone. "Come, come!" I cried, clutching monsieur's wrist. But he would not till with Lucas's own moustache he had given him coup de grace. "Crash! Crash! The upper panel shivered in twist. A great splinter six inches wide, hanging from the top, blocked the opening. A hand came through to wrench it away! M. Etienne, across the room at a leap, drove his knife through the hand, making it to the wood. A great splinter six inches wide, hanging from the top, blocked the opening. A hand came through to wrench it away!

"But, monsieur, they've gone to inform! You'll be taken for killing Lucas." "I doubt it. They smell too strong of blood to dare breath the matter. Nevertheless, if you can walk now, we'll make good time to the gate." "But for all this, he would not stand till I had had some bread and soup down in the kitchen. "We must take good care of you, boy Félix," he said, "for where the St. Quentin would be without you, I tremble to think."

THE NEWSPAPERS THE BEST GIVERS Mr. Wilder Tells How They Help Many Public and Worthy Causes. In the course of a recent address in the Utataca church in Madison, Wis., Andrew Wilder, editor of the Wisconsin State Journal, said: "The newspapers are the best givers in the community. No one else gives so much money to good causes as the newspaper man. The average citizen is introduced in one good thing or another to the newspaper or a church supper to the Humane Society."

"We're being murdered! We can't get out! Help us!" "Have you horses for us, Vigo?" "Of course. Some of the men will walk. I suppose we're leaving Paris to buy you out of the Bastille?" "Not worth it, eh, Vigo?" "Yes," said Vigo, gravely—"yes, M. Etienne. You see south it?" Vigo's troop was but slow-moving, as some of the horses carried double, some led with diables, M. Etienne kept the cavalcade behind us. Before I knew it, we were halted at the outpost of the camp. My lord gave his name. "To be sure!" cried the sentry. "We've orders about you. You dine with the king, M. de Ma?" "Mordieu! I do?" "You do. Orders are to take you to him out of hand, Captain!" (To be continued.)

Top of the house as it was, I thought I would sooner leap than be stabbed to death. I struck out my head. It was the same window where I had stood when Grammont seized me. There, not ten feet away, eight at the most, but a little above me, was the crenelated of my turret in the Amour de Dieu. Would it be possible to jump and catch the sill? If I did, I could scarce pull myself in. I looked below me. There was no mistaking the sign of the Amour de Dieu. And there beside it stood a homestead figure surely known to me. There was no mistaking that tall pine. I yelped at the top of my lungs: "Maitre Jacques!" "Me looked up, gazing at this voice out of the sky, but, despite his amazement, I saw that he knew me. "Maitre Jacques! We're being murdered, tell! We can't get out! Help us for the love of Christ! Bring a plank, a rope, to the window there!" "For an instant he stood confounded. Then he vanished into the inn. I waited, on fire. Still from the next room sounded the clash of steel. White shirt and black doublet passed the door in turn, unflagging, unshrinking. Suddenly came a new noise from the passage, of tramping and rending, blows and oaths. My first thought was that they were fighting out there, that rescuers had come. Then, as I listened, I learned better. Despairing of kicking down the door, they were tearing out a piece of stair-case for a battering-ram. It would not long stand against that. I ran back to the window. No Jacques appeared. We were lost, lost!

Why everybody likes Abbey's Salt. It is so pleasant to the taste that even children take it with pleasure. It does not "cake" or flake on top of the water. It effervesces slowly—may be drunk leisurely, without choking or blowing the user like seditious powders. The granules all dissolve—thus the full benefit of the salt is obtained with every dose. It is the ideal laxative and tonic to purify the blood—regulate stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels—and build up the system. 25c. and 60c. a bottle. Effer- vescent Salt

Bay Shore Accident To the Editor of The Times: Sir: Your editorial reference to the drowning accident at Bay Shore does a grave injustice to the street railway management which controls Seaside Park. The drowning did not take place on the property of the Street Railway Company, but on another property 800 feet away. There are no bathing houses at Seaside Park as the beach, fronting the property is not suitable. The bathing house near the park are all private enterprises, over which the Street Railway Company has no control whatever. Ample police protection is provided on the park grounds, which are also thoroughly lighted at night. Anyone under the influence of liquor, or acting in an objectionable or unseemly manner is promptly removed. It is a noteworthy fact that there has not been a case of drowning at the park since its opening, and in that time thousands have come there and enjoyed the many attractions which the company provides free of charge. The drowning of Saturday is certainly to be regretted, but the Street Railway Company are not in any way responsible. They have no bathing houses, do not rent bathing suits, nor permit anyone to go in bathing on their property. These are all facts which might have been ascertained by your staff in gathering the details of the accident. Yours truly, The St. John Railway Company. H. M. HOPPER, Sec.-Treas. St. John, N. B., July 3.

WOMAN'S HOME COMPANION July Number has Powerful Article on Child Slaves of the Slums. John Spargo's powerful article, "Child Slaves of the Slums," in the Woman's Home Companion for July, is a further evidence of the earnestness with which that periodical has entered into the campaign against the evils of child labor. It is supplemented by a very timely and powerful article by the organization of a national league for the liberation of child slaves. But this serious purpose has not lessened the interest in the magazine. "The Hat and the Man," "A Detestable Girlhood Reminiscence," "From the 'Vain' to the 'Vain'," "A Little Thing in Blue," by Miriam Melchior, "Jewels," by Anne O'Hara; "A Nice Little Thing in Blue," by Miriam Melchior, "The Adopted Daughter," and other stories that appeal to a variety of tastes. The magazine is also distinguished by the Club-Woman's department, which contains the "Finnish and the Girl on the Farm," by Cecile Stebbins, and "The Club-Woman's articles on summer cookery, fashion, etc., increase the value of the magazine as a household publication.

Slight Fire in Windsor Hotel Montreal, July 4—Wild excitement was caused by a fire breaking out in the basement of the Windsor Hotel shortly after midnight, but everything was soon quieted down, when it was seen there was no danger. Two fire alarms were sent in and by the time the firemen arrived the basement of the hotel and the lower floors were filled with smoke. Water was quickly turned on and in a few minutes the fire was out. Many of the guests were roused out of bed in noisy attire and several ladies sought lodging elsewhere. The damage was small. Bishop Casey and Rev. A. J. O'Neil, of Silver Falls, left yesterday for Memramcook to join the pilgrimage to the shrine of Ste. Anne Beauséjour.

Robbed and Store Fired Toronto, July 3—A curious story was reported to the detectives this morning by John W. Dobson, agent for piano, living in the store at 223 Queen street west. Dobson says two burglars forced open the rear door in the premises this morning between 2 and 3 o'clock, and after tying his hands behind his back and gagging him, stole $80 and then set fire to the building. Dobson told the police that he managed to run as far as John street fire hall, and that when the firemen reached the building the main floor was enveloped in flames. The building was damaged to the extent of $1,000, and stock $400. Only part of the SCHOOL BOARD OF HALIFAX Grants Use of School Grounds and Furniture for Playground Work. (Halifax Recorder report.) The chairman reported that the ladies of the Women's Council asked for the use of the Bloomfield school grounds for five weeks, and on motion of Comrs. Hunt and Gaultney the use of school furniture for the purpose was authorized. Right Rev. Mons. Daly made a request through the chairman for the use of St. Joseph's school grounds for a similar purpose, a request that was readily granted. The commissioners expressed themselves as thoroughly in sympathy with the movement and trusted it would meet with every success this summer. Good news came yesterday to William Robinson, son of James Robinson, of the Fender Company. The young man has been a student at Bowdoin College, Brunswick (Me.), and in the term just closed earned a special prize of $80 offered for an essay on history. The subject was left to the professors to choose and they selected the History of the Greenback. It meant a lot of work compiling the history of paper money, but Mr. Robinson is doubly rewarded in the pleasure of the victory and the receipt of the cash prize. Mrs. G. Herbert Thomas and family, also here since Mrs. Sothy and son, will leave on Saturday for Edmonton, where Mrs. Thomas expects to meet her husband who has just completed a residence there. Miss Mary R. Beard will accompany them and upon their arrival at Calgary will be married to H. P. Knight.

THE EVENING TIMES.

Circulation of The Times. Week Ending June 30, 1906.

Table with 2 columns: Day and Circulation. Rows include Monday (7,102), Tuesday (7,186), Wednesday (7,295), Thursday (7,175), Friday (7,072), Saturday (7,299), Total (43,119), Daily Average (7,186), and Average Daily Sworn Circulation First Three Months, 1906 (6,741).

THE PLAYGROUND FUND. It has been decided that so far as the Telegraph and Times are concerned the fund in aid of supervised playgrounds will be closed on Saturday next.

Of course it will be possible to contribute at any time direct to Miss Leavitt, the treasurer of the playground committee of the local Council of Women, but the fund started by these papers will be closed on Saturday.

PLAYGROUND ASSOCIATION. The Times has more than once referred to the fact that a national playground association has been organized in the United States with President Roosevelt as honorary president.

The object of the Playground Association, "that in a democracy the side and tone of life should be kept full and high, and that upon the physical well-being of its people largely depends the well-being of the nation; that the artificial life of crowded centres and the isolation of the country tend to nervous disorder and breakdown, and believing that play is instinctive and tends to develop the whole man and the physical and mental qualities necessary to high character, thus maintaining the working power at the best, the Playground Association of America affirms the necessity for place, space and opportunity in the open air in order to insure life and happiness."

THE DRILL HALL. The question of a site for the proposed drill hall is again receiving attention, this time from the members of the city council. The matter has been discussed many times, and no progress was made because some favored the site on Barrack Square, at the extreme south end of the city, as far as the town might desire to join the militia. There was also difficulty in securing a site up town. The mayor now suggests that the waterworks property at the corner of Leinster and Carmarthen streets might meet the requirements of the case, and a committee has been appointed to look into the matter in connection with the proposal to continue the water and street and other departments at City Hall.

It would be a great relief to the public if a satisfactory site for the drill hall could be secured, and the structure erected. For years there have been periodic agitation in favor of this needed work, with the result that the money has been voted and the way desired for the erection of the building whatever site may finally be selected. There will be some objection to the site now proposed, on the ground that it is not central, but it is much more so than the Barrack Square.

"There is now in full way in the United States an uprising of the unprivileged classes against the privileged classes," says the Portland Oregonian, (Rep.), "and the movement will not stop until we have achieved the realization of that fundamental principle of our Government that all men are created equal and that they are endowed with certain inalienable rights, among which are life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness. Steadily we have been drifting away from that principle in practical application, but now, with a short turn, we are coming back to it, swiftly and surely."

The city council last evening did its part toward removing the ban that has been placed upon the dredging operations near Union street, west. The belief is growing that unless the sinking of cribs and the work of wharf construction is begun on the site within a very brief time it will not be possible to complete the berth before the end of the year. That would be most unfortunate, and the council does well to keep its attention fixed on the subject until the best possible arrangement has been made.

A consular report just issued shows that the United Kingdom is by far the largest purchaser of meat products exported from Chicago. The figures for 1905 relating to the principal meat exports are as follows: Total U.S. Meats Exported, Kingdom: Beef (canned) . . . $1,484,614 2,927,849 Beef (fresh) . . . 4,649,538 4,617,669 Beef, salt & cured . . . 833,534 242,764 Bacon . . . 5,647,398 4,376,682 Ham . . . 4,231,713 3,827,007 Pork . . . 2,421,954 1,533,057

Premier Tweedie and Hon. Dr. Pugsley have both been interviewed relative to certain rumors of their early retirement from politics, and that there will be an election before the house meets again. Both deny emphatically that there is any foundation for the rumor concerning their retirement, and the Premier adds that there will be no elections before the house meets. As the current phrase has it, "this ought to hold the gossamers for a spell."

The packing house revelations have not seriously affected the price of shares of stock in the meat packing industry. A Chicago despatch says it is stated in connection with the selling of Swift's stock since the government's investigation that practically all of the shares offered on the market have been taken by insiders. The effect of the investigation upon business is said at the most not to exceed 10 per cent in gross loss.

The local board of health in Westmorland county, and the provincial board as well, have an important duty to perform in connection with the outbreak of smallpox in a small district in Dorchester parish. Vigorous measures are the only effective measures in such cases.

This is the national holiday in the United States. It is largely distinguished by the number of lives lost or bodies maimed by the spread-eagle method of celebration. The giant fire-cracker is king from Maine to California.

Life would have a new meaning for the children of St. John if they knew that on fine days or rainy days they would not be thrown upon their own resources for amusement. Let us have more playgrounds and shelters for the young people.

Speaking of evening papers being reprints of morning papers, the St. John Star last evening lifted thirteen columns of news out of the morning Sun. The Sun this morning lifted three and a half columns from last evening's Star.

The rush of summer travel by rail and steamer has begun. It has been suggested that an information bureau at the railway station during the summer months would be of great value.

It is expected that the city council will, this afternoon, apply the compulsory school attendance act. There should be no further hesitation over this matter.

NORTHFIELD YOUNG WOMEN'S CONFERENCE

Within four days after the close of the student conference, at Northfield, Mass., another representative gathering of young women will assemble in the same place and for a similar purpose--the Northfield Young Women's Conference opening on Thursday evening, July 5, and closing on Sunday, July 15. Various private schools as well as churches and Sunday schools from the Middle and New England States will send delegations, and many others will go in groups simply as friends.

During these ten days the halls of Northfield Seminary and the Hotel Northfield will accommodate all the young women who have come to gather for Bible Study and a discussion of the best methods of church work. These things will not fill all the time, however, for it was one of D. L. Moody's first instructions to the young women that part of every day must be devoted to recreation. It is customary, therefore, early in the afternoon, to see large parties of girls going off for a drive along the Ashuelot River or to Lovell's Retreat, some enjoying the tennis courts and still others tramping to the top of Bear or Strawberry Mountains, where a fine view of the Connecticut River Valley is to be seen.

All of them return for the most popular meeting of the day, the sunset hour on Round Top. Dr. A. F. Schaeffer of New York City will speak every morning in the Auditorium, giving a series of addresses on Old and New Testament characters. Among others who will be present at this conference as speakers and teachers are the following--Robert E. McDowell, Rev. A. E. Keigwin, Rev. J. N. Blandhard, Dr. A. T. Pierson, Prof. James McConaughy, Prof. L. H. Miller, Rev. D. Beever Eddy, Philip H. Howard, Deaconess Knapp, Miss Margaret Slattery, Miss Mabel Holmes, Mrs. Lawrence Thurston, Miss Mary Russell, and Mrs. Lucy M. Waterbury.

Examinations for the U. N. B. matriculation and the normal school exams for first, second and third class teachers, also for the Superior school, are being conducted at the High School building under the direction of School Inspector Carter, assisted by John March and Messrs. Thomas Stoddart and M. D. Brown, of the city school staff.

Mr. and Mrs. Gibbs Kestor are visiting Mrs. Harry Robinson, Westfield.

WOMEN IN THE GOLDEN WEST
They Have Been Wonderfully Successful in New Land
ELEGANT HOMES
Canadian Press Women Visit Farm Houses Having Polished Hardwood Floors, Grand Pianos and Other Elements of Comfort - - - Stories of Success.

ON BOARD C. P. R. CAR "WAKE-FIELD" NEAR REGINA. — Nothing smazes the members of the Canadian Women's Press Club on their trip through Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta more than the continued evidence of the success of women in the west. We had heard of the wonders worked by men out here on the prairie and were prepared to partially believe them, but that women, entirely ignorant of farming or ranching could make a success in this line of life was beyond our ken.
But Miss Mary Gilroy, the bachelor girl farmer of Regina, started the first furrow of our disbeliever and planted seeds where fancies had grown rampant. She is a bright, intellectual young woman and an accomplished artist. Eleven years ago she bought a farm on the outskirts of Regina, expending $2,000 for land, stock and implements. She knew absolutely nothing of farming, but used her common sense, asked questions and hired help.
"If my men didn't do what I thought was right, I discharged them and got others," she told us. "Ask anybody for miles around if I can be imposed upon."
She continued, laughing, "I've a 'firing' reputation."
For eleven years, Miss Gilroy, besides making a comfortable living has been able to save money. Last year she took a trip abroad and a few further years in painting, and returning this spring sold her farm and stock for $12,750.
The rapid growth of Regina has made wealthy some of the formerly well-to-do husbandmen whose farms are fast becoming suburbs. One of these is Mr. Marshall, whose wife entertained interviewers unawares the other morning when a carriage load of Canadian Women's Press Club people, after ploughing through the mud trooped into her pretty parlor, played her piano, plied her with questions and thoroughly enjoyed the hearty hospitality of the welcome extended them, despite their muddy boots and many queries.
The Marshalls, who came originally from Henley County, farm 600 acres of the 1,000 acres they own. Four years ago their wheat crop averaged 33 bushels to the acre; last year the grain was so heavy headed it tangled and they only harvested 42 bushels to the acre. But when you consider that the 244 acres nearest town, for which they paid $28 an acre three years ago, is today in demand at $250 an acre, a few bushels more or less left to fill the bushels with delight and indignation does not matter much.

The Marshalls' other property has greatly increased in value too, but not in the way you would expect. It is a rolling prairie, 640 acres (which, by the way, is called a section) two miles further out was bought for $20.25 an acre and is now worth $40 an acre. A homesteaded forty miles away, which only cost them $10 to take up, is today worth $20 an acre, or $2,200. This boasts the rice or the stock market, does it not?
"I do most of my own work. Help is hard to get," explained Mrs. Marshall, rolling down her sleeves while she talked to us. "But I'm healthy and happy. You should go across and see Mrs. Pope. She stands just a lady's life."
Acting on this advice, we invaded Mrs. Pope's parlor, or rather drawing room, for we found, instead of the conventional well-built farm house we have learned not to be surprised at in the west, a home with polished and oriental rugs, airy breakfast room, Japanese conveniences and all kinds of dainty nick-knacks, and hostess a bright, pretty society woman. But she was a society woman with brains and for the last eight years she has used her hands, her hands and her head helping herself and her husband, with each good result that today they are wealthy people.
"Eight years ago," said Mrs. Pope, "we were deeply in debt. Something had to be done. We rented this farm and house (the 'Admiral's Place' it is called) although neither my husband nor I knew a thing about farming. We went deeper in debt by buying a cow, a calf, and a horse. Then, I, figuratively, of course, put my hand to the plow while Mr. Pope went daily to his work in Regina. I wrote and I looked. Before long I made butter for advice; I asked questions of all the farmers' wives around till I'm sure they thought I was a fool; but I learned how to do things. Before long I made butter so well that the C. P. R. gave me a standing order for one hundred pounds a week, every pound of which I made and stamped with our initials J. C. P. R. It was only when the company wanted two hundred pounds every seven days that the cows and I looked. Now I sell the railway cream at 35 cents a quart. The receipts are just as large and I'm saved the work of churning."
"Last year we harvested 3,000 bushels of No. 1 Northern from 80 acres of land; our barley went 50 bushels to the acre, and our oats 30 bushels."
"We own the 640 acres we rented that first year, and we don't owe a cent. How's that for a city woman's work? We only paid $8 an acre for the farm, but since we bought it Regina has grown almost to do things and we expect to be doing it in a few years. We've several times this season returned $100 an acre for our land. When we get $100,000 for the whole thing we'll sell it all the stock and implements, and retire."
"I'll be glad to take life easy again. I'm such a gals-about, you know, I've made hand work harder by refusing to give up town gaieties," and in proof of her love of things pleasing Mrs. Pope came back with us to the town hall for luncheon and the other social functions which followed.
In a place growing as rapidly as Regina is people with property are bound to make money. A. D. Wright, one of the city's aldermen, three years ago bought town lots for $500, which he sold last month for $20,000, realizing $19,500 for other lots bought at the same time for $2,000.
Life's essentials are not so very dear in this new land. Eggs and butter sell everywhere for 25 cents and milk and most prices seem much the same as further east. People was wealthy out here with-out following the "take care of the pence and the pounds will take care of themselves" precept of earlier days, for there are no grimes in this land of grimes. Five cents is the smallest currency. What a country of candies, tops and marbles eastern children would confuse up in their bright little brains if they knew this. Fancy saving all the coppers and pennies that come their way turned into five and ten cent pieces.

Man and opportunity seem to have met all along the line of the C. P. R. from Winnipeg to the mountains. Medicine Hat, Alberta, sloping gradually up from either side of the South Saskatchewan River, has coal and natural gas resources, the latter sufficient for lighting, heating, furnace and 15 lights, costing only $5 a month.
Leithridge, on the Crow's Nest Pass route, is prospering prodigiously. It has big collieries, huge irrigation works, two newspapers, well appointed club, pretty homes and prettier cottages. With coal only $3.25 a ton, excellent water and railway facilities and surrounding lands fast turning from grazing grounds to first class farms, the bright future seems anything but in the dim distance.
South from this enterprising town the Alberta Railway and Irrigation Company line runs through the Mormon settlements of Canada. At Raymond, the first of these a large sugar refinery, pays $4 and $5 a ton for beets and the dry lands and average 8 tons to the acre. But beets like moisture and in the long stretch of water large flocks of wild geese and ducks with trout by the thousands are to be found.
But just now westerners are much too busy for recreation. The air is full of the finest line of expansion. Commerce and speculation like the grain, from small beginnings, is multiplying in the boundless opportunities of our Canadian west. At every town or village along the route of the C. P. R. men are seen on doorsteps, street corners, in hotel offices and writing rooms pouring over blue prints. They are alive to the fact that the country has unknown possibilities. Erasmussen have here and there scattered patches of the surface. We know there is salt at Winnipeg; lignite coal in south-western Manitoba; anthracite at the entrance to the Rockies; immense coal fields in the Crow's Nest; iron ore on Lake Winnipeg; gas at Medicine Hat and Moose Jaw; gold in the river bottoms at Edmonton but all this is mere surface knowledge. In time surplus capital will start searching for the gold mine that will be found deep under the roots of the grass.

Bowel Troubles of Childhood
It is impossible to exaggerate the value of FRUIT-A-TIVES as a medicine for children. They contain no alcohol—no morphine or cocaine—no dangerous drugs of any kind.
Fruit-a-tives are fruit juices—concentrated and combined with the most valuable tonic and internal antiseptic known to medicine.
Fruit-a-tives are free of calomel, cascara, senna and the host of violent purgatives that simply act by irritating the bowels. Fruit-a-tives are made from fruit and tonics and are pleasant to take, and so mild in their action that they never gripe or pain.
During the summer, when children are so apt to eat improperly, mothers should have a box of Fruit-a-tives always handy.
At the first sign of Diarrhoea, Indigestion, Headaches, Biliousness, Peevishness, Vomiting—Fruit-a-tives according to directions. LATE LOCALS

The members of the Neptune Rowing Club's four-oared crew returned from the capital today.

F. A. Dykeman & Co are putting on a timely sale of cotton wash materials, as the goods are of a most serviceable and stylish kind, every lady reader of this paper ought to be interested in their advertisement.

The tug F. W. Roebing left Halifax Monday night to work at the wrecked steamer Esso off Cape Sable. C. P. R. S. S. Montezuma landed passengers in Quebec at 6:30 this morning from Antwerp and London.

You never make a raincoat or umbrella until it rains - you will be able to find some very suitable rainproof apparel at the Union Clothing Co.'s, 26-28 Charlotte street, old Y. M. C. building. Take a look at their window display.

No. 1 Company, C. A., will not drill this evening, but instead there will be a full company drill on Friday night. Battalion inspection will be held on Monday night next. It is probable the inspecting officer will be Lieut. Colonel Rutherford.

Tip O'Neill is keeping up his clip. His batting average is now .233. In Tuesday's game between Chicago and St. Louis he went at bat four times, and made two of the four hits secured. He also had three putouts, one stolen base, and no errors. He has made seven hits in the last four games Chicago has played.

An advertised in this issue, M. R. A., Ltd., will inaugurate a sale of summer shirts waists tomorrow morning in the silk room. It will be a clearance of this season's surplus and early preliminary stock of the "oldies" of the earlier part of the summer rush. Full particulars are given in the announcement. A very timely offering indeed, with prices most unusual.

The Sabbath school committee of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in Canada has awarded a diploma to Rebecca M. Long, of South Bay, who has successfully passed all the exams in the teachers' training course. This course covers a period of two years, and includes studies in scripture, in doctrine and in the art of teaching. Miss Long won first class honors.

The regular monthly meeting of the hospital commissioners will be held on Friday next, when it is probable the question of appointing a consulting physician and assistants in place of Drs. Scott, McMurtry and Loggie, who have resigned, will be considered. It is also likely that the case of the two names will be re-discussed and will again be brought up and it is considered probable that they will be reinstated.

ANOTHER SUCCESS

Miss Roselle Knott and Company gave another splendid production of "Cousin Kate" in the Opera House last evening and the audience was even more enthusiastic than on the previous evening. At the close of the second act Miss Knott was accorded a veritable ovation. There was a ripple of applause and the star was most warmly received.

Miss Knott and her company have certainly set a new standard of excellence in St. John and in the Maritime which will be difficult for other companies to attain. Beyond a doubt the production of "Cousin Kate" is the finest attraction of its kind ever seen in St. John.

The matinee performance this afternoon was very well attended despite the wet weather. Tonight will be the last opportunity to see "Cousin Kate."

THE FIRST TRIP OF THE HURON

The new steamer Huron, Capt. Thompson, arrived in port this morning from Boston and Portland with 65 passengers and a large freight. The Huron has been placed by the Eastern Steamship Company on the Boston route until the new steamer Governor Cobb is ready. The steamer Huron's hull is about two years old, and all her top or upper decks were placed on her last year and a new boiler also placed in her. She has 75 state rooms and a great carrying capacity, with a tonnage of 224 net. The Huron will carry the most of the freight between Boston and this port, which at the present time is very heavy.

All the interior of the Huron is fitted up splendidly, and in the most up-to-date style. The captain's room, on the upper deck, is very large and made very comfortable for that officer.

Capt. J. E. Thompson, who is in command of the Huron, will have for first pilot U. G. Garnett, with J. Nicholson for second pilot, R. P. Nichols, for purser and F. Ringold for steward.

The Huron sailed at 1 o'clock for Boston via Eastport with a large number of passengers.

POLICE COURT

This morning in the police court Joseph Hudson and Charles Cobham appeared to answer the charge of allowing their horse to run at large on Market Place on the 28th ult. Both pleaded not guilty, claiming that the animals were tied. Cobham said that he had hopes on his horse, and that he had two boys minding them. Hudson said that he had his horse and cow tied, but Officer Gossline said that all three horses were at large and Cobham and Hudson were fined $2 each. Two drunks were fined $5 each.

A ST. JOHN MAN MAY BE CHOSEN

Rev. Fr. Finan one of those Recommended as Archbishop Coadjutor of Boston.

The following, which appeared in the Bangor News, will be of interest to many in this city: A Portland despatch says: It will be learned with surprise that the list of three names made by the bishops of the New England province, from among whom it would be recommended that a successor be chosen to Most Rev. William H. O'Connell, now archbishop coadjutor of Boston, are all located outside of Maine.

From an authoritative source it was learned today that the bishop's ternary is: Rev. Fr. Louis A. Walsh of Salem, diocesan; Rev. Fr. T. F. Casco of Hallowell; and Rev. Fr. John E. Finan of Tilton, N. H., diocesan.

Rev. Fr. John Finan has for some years been rector of the Church of the Assumption in Tilton, N. H. He is about 42 years of age, and a native of St. John, N. B. Today the question was in the schools of the maritime provinces and later in St. Laurent's College in Montreal and Laval University.

His lack of theological course in Grand Seminary in Montreal, being ordained to the priesthood in 1888. Following his ordination, Fr. Finan came to the Manchester diocese and after serving in a Concord parish church about four years was sent to Tilton as pastor, with the town of Ashland as a mission. He built a new church in Ashland and made many improvements about the parish property in Tilton.

"JIM" PITT'S INVENTION

Famous "Lightning" Barber Claims to Have Improved on the Marconi System.

James Pitt, of Cambridge, Mass., known there as the lightning barber, and also of "wireless" fame, arrived by this morning's steamer in company with his brother, Dr. Chas. Pitt, also of Cambridge. Both are the guests of a brother, Harry Pitt, of the north end.

Mr. Pitt has offered to challenge anybody to shave a man and then run a hundred yards. Talking with the Times Mr. Pitt said he had improved on the Marconi system, by which the use of the "pole" is done away with. He added that he was willing to dispose of the machine for $1000 to the Marconi people. He is here on business, and says he is looking for land for a wireless station.

THE RIVER BOATS

Steamer Springfield's Plans Not Yet Completed.

The route to be covered by steamer Springfield is still undecided, and a meeting of the company will be held in the near future, when the matter will be discussed.

This information was furnished today by Captain Porter, who when asked regarding a story published recently in the Star, said that while many would like to have a steamer on the river making five or six trips a day, this had not been decided upon. He would not state whether or not there was any possibility of running the Springfield on the Beaubien route.

Captain Porter said further that it was intended to run an excursion by the Springfield yesterday, but the crew did not turn up.

It is not known at present just when the steamer will be placed in commission.
