OUT OF THE FRYING PAN INTO THE FIRE

Reliefs from Army, But Will Accompany Roosevelt on His Hunting Trip

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 6.—The newspaper announcement that Major Meatus of the army, who has been retired on account of disability, is to accompany President Roosevelt on his African hunting trip, was the basis of a brief column in the house today. The question came up in connection with a bill providing for the issuance of commissions with increased salaries to retired officers of the army, navy and marine corps, which was called up by Mr. Hull, chairman of the committee on military affairs, from which it had been reported.

The first one who saw these treasures it was Panny Wheeler, the following afternoon Miss Mattie Lovell was about to be married. She had gotten married under, and she had the joy of burrowing for them in the accounts of the committee. She had been down among the mantle-piece decorations. When, in addition to all this, she was about to be married, she was in a mood, and she in the funeral procession of old Mr. Alvin Waters, we felt that life could provide no more excitement than the wedding of Miss Mattie Lovell.

But for Miss Mattie the day had not exhausted its possibilities. That night she was again in a mood, and she was in a mood, and she in the funeral procession of old Mr. Alvin Waters, we felt that life could provide no more excitement than the wedding of Miss Mattie Lovell.

ONE HUNDRED THROWN OUT OF EMPLOYMENT

STOUGHTON, Mass., Jan. 6.—Fire starting from an explosion, the cause of which is unknown, destroyed the four-story factory of Chas. Stretton Sons, Jersey manufacturers here, tonight, entailing a loss of about $15,000. A strong northwest wind carried the sparks in the direction of the Baptist church and several tenement houses, but although several small fires were started, no damage was done, except to the factory building. Aid was summoned from Brockton and Canton, but the apparatus responded too late to be of use. More than 100 persons will be thrown out of work as a result of the destruction of the factory. The explosion in which the blaze had its origin, occurred on the lower floor of the building, but what caused it is unknown. The damage of $15,000 is fully covered by a blanket insurance.

The Dream

The Story of A Woman's Happiness

—By—
Mabel N. Thurston

As for Dr. McGruder, he blustered and fumed and muttered, and smothered words in his big beard.

"Why can't she leave William, I'd like to know? If his heart really is broken, does he think women and cream-puffs are going to cure it? If he's got any manhood at all, do you suppose he'll stamp a woman hanging over him and pitying him? He ought to thank Ellen Daly for giving him an opportunity to show that he has a spinal column—if he has one. I'll go and see Mattie Lovell myself. I'll bring her round."

But though he went to see Mattie Lovell he did not bring her round. In fact when he saw her poor ravaged and trembling hands, he gave up any hope of attempting it, and with a self-control that verged upon heroism, he poured out her rhapsodies of dear William, the nobility with which he was bearing his sufferings, his patience his magnanimity.

"He actually said this morning that doubtless it was all for the best. Of course I know that it was his consideration for me that made him say it, because he wanted to keep me from suffering. But I know that he will never be the same again—his delicate and sensitive nature has received a wound from which it will never recover. You cannot think, Dr. McGruder, how grateful I am that I am permitted to be with dear William now."

"And of course," the doctor grudgingly conceded, "the Capitol lent you to blow away. Perhaps another year—"

"Yes," Miss Mattie agreed hurriedly. "Yes. Perhaps some other year—"

So the doctor and his wife went alone and since they could not take Mahomet to the mountain, as far as it was possible they brought the mountain to Mahomet. Miss Mattie was overwhelmed by the souvenirs they brought back to her. Photographs of all the most famous places, a purse made of two musk-shell, with "Washington, D. C." stamped upon it in gold, a pair of pin-curlers and badge, a silk flag, a red, white and blue pin-cushion with "Washington, D. C. in pinna, a cup and saucer with a picture of the White House, a napkin ring decorated with the Capitol.

The first one who saw these treasures it was Panny Wheeler, the following afternoon Miss Mattie Lovell was about to be married. She had gotten married under, and she had the joy of burrowing for them in the accounts of the committee. She had been down among the mantle-piece decorations. When, in addition to all this, she was about to be married, she was in a mood, and she in the funeral procession of old Mr. Alvin Waters, we felt that life could provide no more excitement than the wedding of Miss Mattie Lovell.

BRUTAL MURDER OF A MINISTER

Rev. J. J. Carmichael Hacked to Pieces

CRIME IN CHURCH

Slayer Unknown to Police, but 2 Men Thought to Be Implicated

DETROIT, Mich., Jan. 6.—The dismembered body of Rev. John J. Carmichael, a Methodist minister, was found today partially consumed by fire in the two heating stoves of one of his three churches near Columbus, in the southeastern part of St. Clair County. Rev. Mr. Carmichael had been in Michigan about ten years and for two years had been pastor of the three churches at Columbus, Adair and Chula. With his wife and three children he resided at Adair. Leaving home yesterday morning, he told Mrs. Carmichael that he was going to Columbus to arrange a series of revival meetings. He waved his hand affectionately to a group of children as he drove out of the village of Adair and from that moment all trace of him is lost.

Myron Brown, who lives near the scene of the tragedy, discovered the crime today. While he was waiting at the crossroads to keep an appointment, he was surprised to find the church doors unlocked, and upon opening them he was terrified to see the communion table drenched with blood and fragments of bloody clothing scattered all around. Evidently the clergyman, who was 55 years old and of athletic build had made a terrific struggle for his life.

Without investigating further, Brown fled to his home, where he had a key to the door of which had been burned. He returned and looked through the doors and hurried to the village of Hickey, from whence he notified the sheriff's office at Port Huron.

The authorities on their arrival at the church found parts of the dismembered body in the two stoves located respectively at the front and rear and discovered in one stove the head of what was apparently a new hatchet. The handle of which had been burned. A dirk was also found in the church and it is believed that the dirk served for a small village near Thomson on the main line of the Grand Trunk Railroad and fully twenty miles from the scene of the murder.

"But at last," she declared, extracting what comfort she could from the affair—"at last, I've fixed Mattie Lovell up for three years."

It proved to be for many more than three years. And it was somewhere about that time when Lydia's "divine love" was revealed. Miss Mattie Lovell was six or seven years old, and her people began to speak of "poor Mattie Lovell." It was foolish, of course, for Miss Mattie's life was full and happy, since, curiously enough, it seems to matter little whether the object of one's love and pride is worthy of it or not. Perhaps, after all, this may account for the spiritual value of many churches unless lives in the struggle of the world.

So Miss Mattie was as poor as she could be, and abundantly contented, and when she was fifty something she happened.

WATER AND SEWERAGE ASSESSMENT SCHEME DECLARED A FAILURE

That the scheme inaugurated last year of making the cost of sewerage maintenance a charge upon the water assessment has followed in natural sequence the water assessment and a return effected to the old system, was the view expressed last night by Ald. Frink, chairman of the Water and Sewerage Board.

In 1907 an act was passed by the Toronto City Council making it obligatory upon the part of the city to make the cost of sewerage maintenance a charge upon the water assessment. The offer of Jarvis & Co., Toronto, of five dollars a share then made to the Standard was not accepted.

THE EMANUEL MOVEMENT.

Two years ago a Boston clergyman called on a prominent physician, and asked the latter if, in his opinion, mental suggestion such as might direct the mind, might not prove a valuable aid in the treatment of certain kinds of disease. The physician, Dr. J. J. Putnam, one of the great of Harvard University, replied that such suggestion was always valuable. This was the origin of what has since become known as the Emmanuel Movement, promoted in the first place by Rev. Mr. Worcester, and now practically running away with itself because of too great zeal on the part of its supporters. Physicians everywhere have recognized that mental suggestion, that anything which tends to draw a patient's thoughts away from his own worries, is of no mean value in helping along the cure, and they readily agree that clergymen who are peculiarly qualified because of a knowledge of human nature, can find ample opportunity of assisting the doctors being thus in agreement with medical men, ministers in many cities have taken up this practice of psycho-therapeutics, believing themselves capable of doing great things. They are not faith-healers, nor science healers, nor in fact any other particular kind of healers. They are believers in Dr. Worcester's theory of treating all forms of neurology by suggestion.

But while in this moment it seems that while the medical men and the clergy agreed as to first principles, they drift far apart when the actual application of treatment came up for consideration. The clergymen labored under the delusion that a few weeks' study of suggestion would be sufficient qualification; the doctors maintained that in order to assist in the medical treatment the clergy should have a thorough knowledge of the disease itself. Certain diseases can be benefited by suggestion, but just when any mental suggestion can be decided by the trained medical man and not by the unqualified minister. The treatment of patients in essence by untrained diagnosticians, by men who may be excellent preachers but who have absolutely no knowledge of the nervous system, is bound to prove injurious and hence the Emmanuel movement, which has reached even to St. John—is now being denounced in the public press. A great opportunity has been turned into a fad. Instead of individual cases being carefully studied under the direction of a physician, the Emmanuelists claim that everyone who listens will receive benefit, that treatment is given by them for only functional diseases and that all such sufferers may be lifted out of themselves by suggestion. But medical science shows that many diseases, apparently functional, are really organic, and in these the Emmanuel suggestion is valueless, but yet the adherents of the movement arrogate to themselves the privilege of deciding whether any disease is functional or organic. And here the dispute with the medical profession becomes warm. The doctors assert that in order to aid in the cure of a truly functional disease, the physical cause of the disease must be removed; that while suggestion may frequently eliminate these ill arising from disease it finds itself useless when it comes to the actual trouble; and that in reality few functional diseases exist if organic diseases are not present. Apparently the Emmanuelists have neglected the vital principle that most nervous disorders have their basis in some physical weakness, and disregarding this principle thousands of untrained clergymen all over the country are throwing aside the opportunities which are actually at hand, and foolishly reaching for something beyond their grasp. The Emmanuel movement might have become a potent aid to medical science, it has developed into a sensational fad.

RICKETY ARM.

After another such gale as we had yesterday it is possible that the agitation for a Navy Island bridge will be duplicated by an agitation of equal proportions for a new bridge across the river, to replace the Suspension bridge. The present structure is getting pretty old and although an expert pronounced it perfectly safe a few years ago this was not regarded as much consolation by some of the most timid persons who had to cross yesterday while the bridge was swinging and undulating with a motion calculated to give an inexperienced traveler an attack of sea-sickness. While there is probably little genuine cause for alarm, nevertheless, considerable anxiety was felt yesterday, and it would relieve a lot of minds to have some expert assurance that the bridge is still capable of sustaining the traffic which passes over it.

St. John and the adjoining districts certainly cannot afford to take chances of a break down in this important section of one of our most used highways. A stronger and more modern bridge would certainly be heartily welcomed.

SOUTH BAY WOMAN STRUCK BY LIGHTNING

Mrs. Samuel Charlton Badly Injured During the Storm Tuesday Night.

Mrs. Samuel Charlton, of South Bay, was struck by lightning at 1:30 o'clock Tuesday morning and was badly injured. The back of each hand and the lower part of each arm were covered with large blisters, also the face and neck. Portions of the hair were singed. Portions of the upper part of her body were burned to a crisp, and other parts were burned. The right leg from the knee down to the right ankle was badly burned.

Speaking of the affair Mr. Charlton said that about one o'clock his wife became frightened about the storm, got out of bed and was standing near the foot of the bed when suddenly a flame burst through the chimney hole and in another instant Mrs. Charlton's night dress was ablaze, and she fell towards the door. Mr. Charlton managed to wrap a quilt about the body of his wife and assisted by his son put her in the bed. Mrs. Charlton's condition was such that she could not be moved. She was summoned from Fairville, dressed the wounds.

An examination of the house showed that one of the corner posts at the foot of the bed was a mass of splinters, the side piece of the bedstead was broken and the mat on which Mrs. Charlton was standing was ripped into two pieces lengthwise as if done by scissors. The stove pipe had been disconnected from the flue, and one of the bricks displaced. A large square of mortar had been blown from about the stovepipe hole and crumbled into small pieces over the bedroom carpet. In the parlor a circular portion of mortar about one foot in diameter, had been cut out from the face of the flue near the ceiling, and had been scattered over the furniture and carpet. There was a chip or crack down the flue to the floor. A large picture had been thrown from the knobs on which it had been hanging. In the north end of the parlor there was more tearing of the plaster, more ripping extending towards the floor.

Outside of the house at the north angle, the corner boards were sprung off. Four clapboards had been torn clear of the house, and the pieces were piled up at a distance of fifteen or twenty feet from their original position on the house.

It appears that the electric fluid must have entered the house through the top of the flue, dividing into two portions, one going down the northern face of the flue and ascending through the north angle of the house, tearing off the clapboards and doing other damage; the other going down the opposite side of the flue, throwing the stovepipe out of place and striking Mrs. Charlton, scattering through the floor into the cellar.

OLYMPIC ATHLETES HAVE BEEN REINSTATED

NEW YORK, Jan. 6.—What proved to be a tempest in a teapot in amateur athletic circles, was settled tonight when the registration board of the Amateur Athletic Union lifted the ban of suspension for alleged professionalism which ten days ago had upon six prominent athletes, four of whom won international and Olympic honors. The men who thus again are eligible to compete as amateurs are: J. J. Lee, of Boston, unattached; F. G. Bellar, N. Y. A. C.; and Melvin W. Shepard, H. F. Porter, Irish-American A. C.

The charges of professionalism laid against the men were covered by an allegation that they demanded and accepted money for travelling and other expenses to cities outside of New York in excess of what was necessary. These charges were not sustained at the meeting of the registration committee tonight.

When the suspensions were announced ten days ago the men demanded a hearing, and under the rules of the A. A. U. this was granted them tonight by the registration committee. All the athletes except Bonhag and Porter were present and submitted evidence to controvert the charges. The two absent men were represented by club mates. The hearing was held behind closed doors.

HALF A MILLION FIRE IN CHICAGO STOCK YARDS

CHICAGO, Ill., Jan. 6.—A spectacular fire at the stock yards tonight destroyed a large part of the fertilizing plant of Daring and Company, Yards, causing explosions and injuring a number of firemen by falling walls causing $200,000 damage. For hours every available fireman in the city fought in below zero weather to prevent a spread of the flames through the stock yards.

Yesterday afternoon Miss Holmes lectured in the Natural History Society rooms, on the Story of Lehighria, and notwithstanding the inclemency of the weather a large number attended. Miss Holmes was thoroughly conversant with her subject, which was exquisitely illustrated by music executed by Mrs. Kent Scott, and all present were delighted and pronounced the afternoon a most enjoyable one.

THE RAILWAYS CARE FOR ITS LITTLE TRAVELLERS

Five German Children, All Under Ten, Find a Mother in Kind Nurtured G. T. P. Conductor as They are Borne Swiftly Through Canada to Their Grandmother's Arms.

Riding on the Grand Trunk Railway a few weeks ago, from Suspension Bridge to Chicago, says a writer in January Edition, I saw a sight so trivial that it seems foolish to mention. And yet I have remembered it for three weeks, and so I'll now relate it in order to get rid of it.

And possibly these little incidents of life are the items that make our memories.

But here is what I saw on that railroad train. Five children, the oldest a girl of ten, the youngest, a baby boy and three. They were travelling alone and had come from Germany, duty tagged, ticketed and certified. They were going to their grandmother, at Waukegan, Illinois.

The old lady was to meet them in Chicago.

The children spoke not a word of English, but there is a universal language of the heart that speaks and is understood. The train men and the children were very chummy terms. Now at London, Ontario, our train waited an hour for Toronto and Montreal connections. Just before we reached London, I saw the conductor take the three smallest little passengers to the wash room at the end of the car, and only wash their hands and faces. Then he combed their hair. They accepted the situation, as they belonged to the conductor's family, as of course they did, for the time being.

It was a domestic scene that I never looked with resting on the floor. A touch of nature makes a whole coach kin.

SCRAP OVER CHILD'S LUNCH.

The children had a bushel basket full of eatables, but at London, the conductor took the whole brood over to the dining hall for supper, and I saw two fat men scrap as to who should have the custonary lunch. One of the train men borrowed a couple of blankets from the sleeping car, and with the help of their volunteer, the babies were all put to bed, and duly tucked in.

I went back to my Pullman and went to bed, as I dozed off I kept wondering whether the grandmother would be there in the morning to meet her. I did not know, nor did I care to ask. The children were alone, but among Romance of Wm. Beachey Ends in the Sudden Derangement of His Mind.

Father of Well Known Aeronaut, Left a Widower and Blind, Must Now Go to Asylum.

LEBANON, Oelo, Jan. 6.—A romance like that of fiction, with its inception in this City of Cellars in the early fifties and ending after half a century now culminates most sadly where the hero, blind, friendless and homeless wanders back to his first sweetheart and the scenes of his early love, only to become hopelessly insane.

Thus runs the last chapter in the checked life history of William Beachey, father of Lincoln Beachey, one of America's best known aeronauts.

Mr. Beachey has been adjudged insane by Professor Judge Alexander Boxwell and application has been made to the state asylum at Dayton for his confinement.

Mr. Beachey as a young man came to Lebanon and entered Lebanon University nearly fifty years ago. It was while he was pursuing his studies there that he met and won the promise of Miss Lizzie White to become his bride. Miss White was the daughter of his landlady, while he was a student, and is still living at the old homestead, an antique brick house in Warren street.

It is said the wedding day for these two happy young persons had been set, but for various reasons the parents of the bride to be objected to so strenuously that the two parted in tears, apparently forever.

Young Beachey left immediately for New York, where he was engaged to be married to Miss White's parents died, but with a little ray of hope still remaining, she waited through the slow treading years.

Mr. Beachey entered the army, fought through the Civil War, and at its close was married to a Western girl. Several children were born to them, among them being Lincoln Beachey. Time passed on, Mrs. Beachey died, and the children all left home, leaving the father alone, and with only a small pension in return for his services to his country. To deepen his grief he was suddenly stricken almost totally blind.

As the shadows of evening settled over his life, now sixty years in length, Mr. Beachey's mind wandered back to his first sweetheart and his early love, and he determined to at least visit old scenes in search of her, though he could never again see her. It was a bright spring morning nearly two years ago that blind William Beachey, sighted from a train, had travelled two thousand miles alone. His first inquiry was for his sweetheart of early days. He was directed to the house where she had met him in years ago, and there was a meeting of tears and a renewal of the old friendship.

Thus these two old persons have lived; the twilight of life has settled around them as a benediction — just for momentary. But now the romance ends sadly in the sudden derangement of the old man's mind.

F. E. BOREHAM AT HALIFAX

HALIFAX, N. S., Jan. 7.—E. B. Boreham, who leaves next week for Toronto where he will become citizen agent of the North American Life, was tendered a complimentary banquet at the Halifax Hotel tonight by his personal friends who desired to unite to express their personal regard for him, and to signify in a public manner their appreciation of him as a citizen.

It was a notable gathering. It was Premier Murray presided and one hundred and twenty five guests, representative of the best citizenship of Halifax, were present.

Premier Murray and Hamphrey Melish, who proposed the toast to the guest of the evening, paid high tribute to the worth of Mr. Boreham, who by his own efforts had won a high place in the business community and who was leaving his native city with the best wishes of his fellow citizens for his success.

Mr. Boreham has been provincial manager of the Mutual Life of Canada and has been singularly successful as an insurance man.

IT RAINED HOT BIRD SHOT AT SANTA CRUZ

Peculiar Phenomenon Supposed to Have Been Caused by a Meteor.

SANTA CRUZ, Cal., Jan. 6.—It rained hot bird shot at Santa Cruz today for nearly an hour, according to Mrs. Burns and her neighbors. Some of the shot have been preserved. Mrs. Burns' curiosity was aroused today by the peculiar antics of a number of barefoot children who were playing in front of her house. When she asked them what was the matter they told her that the air was full of electricity and that hot shot were falling from the clouds. She then heard a clattering on the roof and saw little threads of steam rising from neighboring roofs. This steam was found to be the result of the dropping of little hot globules on the damp shingles. These molten rain drops occurred between three and four o'clock in the afternoon. Sometimes people who were bareheaded or barefooted were compelled to take cover. One boy received a burn on his finger where one of the pellets struck.

One theory to account for the phenomenon is that the metallic rain was due to a meteor. The pellets are about the size of number 8 shot and resemble lead.

CALENDARS IN TABLOID FORM EASILY CARRIED IN THE HEAD

Rhymes, Sentences and Figures by Which One Can Determine by Mental Work the Day of the Week Upon Which a Certain Date Has Fallen or Will Fall.

dates on which the first Sunday in each month fall in what they call their standard years.

Table with 3 columns: 1, 2, 3. Rows: June, Feb., Mar., Nov., August; May, Jan., Oct., April, July; Sept., Dec.

There are two serious defects about the average calendar. One is that you may need it most when you are not near it and the other is that it is useless except for the current year.

There are many occasions when one wishes to tell from memory upon what day of the week a certain date will fall or has fallen.

The simpler methods usually require a greater mental effort to work out, while the complicated schemes can be worked out with great rapidity and accuracy provided the person using them has the requisite amount of practice.

The simplest perpetual calendar of all and the one which is probably the best known requires no further effort of the memory than to commit to its keeping the following couplet.

Time Flies Fast; Men Wisely Say; Men Think Alike, Time's Pooled Away.

The 'TH' in think stands for Thursday, to distinguish it from the T, in time, for Tuesday. A stands for Sunday, to distinguish it from the S for Saturday.

Take half the last two figures and divide by seven. The remainder is the day of the month upon which the day of the week indicated in the foregoing couplet would fall.

Suppose the date asked for is July 4, 1888. This was a leap year and half 88, 44, divided by 7, leaves 6, July being the seventh month in the year, the seventh word in the couplet, 'Men,' indicates that the remainder found points out Monday as July 6 in that year; so the Fourth must have fallen on a Saturday in 1888.

When the date asked for is not in a leap year take half the preceding leap year and the adduct 1 for each year passed since that leap year before dividing by 7.

Suppose the date asked for is Christmas, 1888. The previous leap year was '92, half of which is 46, and three years have passed since '92, which leaves 43 to be divided by 7, the remainder being 1. The twelfth word in the verse is 'Away,' indicating Sunday as December 1, so the other Sundays must have been the 8th, 15th and 22nd, giving Wednesday for the 25th, or Christmas Day, in 1888.

For the twentieth century it is necessary to add 2 to the remainder found after dividing by 7. Suppose the day of the week required be for January 2, 1909. The last leap year was 1908, and half 8 is 4. Deduct 1 for the year passed and you get 3. As it cannot be divided by 7 it is all remainder, to which 2 must be added for the twentieth century, giving 5. The first word in the verse, for January, is 'Time,' indicating Tuesday as the 5th, so the 2d must fall, two days earlier, on a Sunday.

Professors of mnemonics who give public exhibitions of their powers instead of committing to memory the order of certain days of the week begin at the other end and fix in the memory the following table of the

The mnemonical method of retaining these figures in their order will be given presently. The rule for their use is to take the last two figures of the year and see how many times 4 will go into it. Then divide it by 7 in order to see what the remainder would be.

Add these two results together and then add the day of the month and the figure value of the month as given in the table, if the grand total of these additions is divided by 7 the remainder is the day of the week on which the date falls. Sunday being considered the first day, Monday the second, Tuesday the third, and so on.

Suppose you want to know the day of the week on which Lincoln was born the date being February 12, 1809. Take the last two figures, 09 and 4 will go into them two times. Divide the same 09 by 7 and the remainder is 2. That is 4 altogether.

The date asked for is 12, which brings it up to 18 and the figure value of the month is 6, a total of 24. Divide this by 7 and you get a remainder of 3, indicating the first day of the week or Sunday, as the day which Lincoln was born.

For the twentieth century it will be necessary to deduct 2 from the final calculation of a remainder. If it is required to know the day of the week on which Christmas will fall in 1910 you find that 4 will go 2 times and 7 will leave 3 as a remainder. The date is the 25th and the figure value of December is 1, a total of 31 to be divided by 7, giving a remainder of 3, from which take 2 for the twentieth century, leaving 1, or the first day of the week, so that Christmas next year will fall on a Sunday.

For ready reckoning purposes many business men prefer a calendar for the current year which they can carry in their heads. This may be made by setting down in order the dates of the first Sunday in each month of the twelve and then committing that order to memory. The first Sundays for the months of 1909 will be:—

Jan. Feb. Mar. Apr. May June July Aug. 3 7 7 4 2 6 4 1. Sept. Oct. Nov. Dec. 8 2 7

With these as starting points, any date in the year can be found by adding 7s for succeeding Sundays. Suppose you want to know the day of the week that Decoration Day will fall on this year. The Sundays in May for 1909 begin with 2 and are the 9th, 16th, 23rd and 30th; so Decoration Day will fall on Sunday.

Those who are familiar with the use of the figure alphabet will have no difficulty in remembering the order of any series of numbers such as these months value. Each consonant sound represents a figure, and consonant sounds such as t and d, stand for the same figures.

By writing out the figures and under them their consonant values it is an easy matter to fill in with vowels so as to make words or sentences, as vowels and h, l and y have no figure value. Such words or sentences retain the figures as a fixed order. This is the figure alphabet in common use:

1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 0

Taking the line of figures given for month values you can easily make a sentence such as 'Making a wrench rattle meekly, which has the advantage of keeping each section of three months in one word. Observe that it is sound and not spelling that is translated, so that double consonants have a single value. Some persons make a new sentence for each year, so that the figures shall always represent the first Sundays.

Others get one order of figures and one sentence fixed in the memory and use it for every year, changing the day of the week to which it applies, which they find simpler. For example, in the year 1902 this sentence gave the figures for the first Sundays:

A linen shirt which I am cleaning, 522 641 6 5 7527

In 1903 the same figures were used for the first Mondays and in 1904 for the first Tuesdays, and so on until leap year came around in 1908. This made it fit the Mondays again, except for the first two months.

BOSTON, Mass., Jan. 6.—By the compilation of statistics of the apple shipments from the eastern ports of North America it is shown that there was a large decrease in the number of barrels shipped from every city except St. John, N. B., and Halifax, N. S.

Among the other ports (Montreal was the only one whose shipments exceeded those of Halifax, shipping 356,845 barrels against 336,982 from Halifax.

Portland, Maine, was also far below its last year's record. After sending away last season 170,291 barrels a gain of 23,138, this year but 55,271 barrels were shipped.

One of the things which has made the Canadian apples popular in Europe is the Canadian system of packing and grading in order to overcome which a bill will be introduced in Maine legislature which convenes Wednesday.

LIVE STOCK IN 1908. Exports Were Reduced, But Exporters Did Well.

Quarantine Regulations Caused a Scarcity of Ocean Vessel Space—Year's Domestic Trade in Cattle Exceptional One.

Although there was a falling off from the previous year in the number of the cattle exported from Canada, the exports in 1908, the season has on the whole been a most successful one for exporters.

The quarantine regulations, which closed the United States ports to Canadian shippers on account of the discovery of disease among cattle in several of the States, acted as a restraint on exporting for the last couple of months in that it created an abnormal demand for ocean vessel space from St. John, but the price obtainable for our cattle did not suffer.

The year's domestic trade in cattle has been an exceptional one from all points of view, and the whole course which the markets took can be traced directly to the scarcity of feed that prevailed in the country a year ago.

PALACE NOW A WORKSHOP.

ROME, Jan. 5.—In order further to aid the earthquake sufferers, Queen Helena has turned a portion of the Quirinal palace into a workshop and a number of women of high rank, and dressmakers and working girls are busily engaged in cutting out and sewing garments for the refugees.

EXTRACTION OF TOOTH CAUSED MAN'S DEATH. Every Remedy Known to Physicians Failed to Stop Flow of Blood.

LOUISVILLE, Jan. 6.—Loss of blood caused by the extraction of a tooth, caused the death of Frank Carraro, a linotype operator for the Courier-Journal.

Mr. Carraro had the tooth pulled yesterday morning at 12.30 o'clock. The gum immediately showed a tendency to bleed, and every remedy known to the dentist failed to stop the flow.

According to the physicians, the wound had started to bleed freely, and in his extreme weakness could not be stopped.

At a meeting of the Baptist foreign mission board yesterday, W. C. Cross was appointed a member in succession to the late T. S. Simms. Those present at the meeting besides the chairman, Rev. Wellington Camp, were Rev. W. V. Higgins, Rev. M. E. Fletcher, Rev. Dr. McIntyre, A. A. Wilson, E. M. Sippell, W. H. White and R. M. Hobart. Reports received from the mission field were to the effect that the rains had come and that the prospects for good crops were bright. Relief had to be given to some native Christians and the board will forward a portion of their famine fund to be applied for that purpose.

Charlottetown had a good year in 1908, notwithstanding the commercial depression abroad in the world. Trade was good, largely owing to farmers having plentiful crops which they sold for good prices. Labor found ready employment. Probably there is no city in Canada with a smaller proportion of uncollected taxes, or less real poverty than Charlottetown. The general health of the city has been up to the favorable average of past years, with no serious epidemics. The city improves from year to year. The concrete sidewalks have been extended, houses numbered, the letter carrier system introduced and many other improvements made. The outlook for the new year appears bright.—Guardian.

LOCAL NEWS

You should never let your clothes advertise the fact that money is scarce with you, or it will continue to be scarce.—Fidgeon.

Gordon Division No. 275, Sons of Temperance, met in Christadelphian Hall, 112 Union street, this evening. All members of the Order welcomed.

The Star is in receipt of an up-to-date World's Annual Sporting Record issued by James M. Power, 13 Buckingham street, Halifax. Mr. Power is one of the most prominent sporting men in the Province.

Dr. Price was called to Mission Point yesterday and while visiting a patient there discovered that there were quite a number of cases of smallpox among the Indians. Prompt measures are being taken. The Town Board of Health met last night and placed a close quarantine on all persons from the Point and Campbellton people are warned to have as little as possible to do with the natives from the Mission. It is hoped the prompt measures taken will prevent a spread of the disease.—Graphic.

In conversation today with Mr. O. Turgeon, M. P. P. for Gloucester, that gentleman assured the Graphic that he was confident the Dominion Company would locate their smelter at Bathurst. He had interviewed the government as to undertaking the necessary harbor improvements and was confident from the answer given him when he pressed the Dominion claim, that the government would undertake the work planned. There is hardly a doubt but that if this company gets what it requires at Bathurst in the way of harbor improvements, etc., etc., but that it will locate there. With the answer assured Bathurst can look for a boom when spring opens up.—Graphic.

GOLD WEATHER FOUND HOSPITAL PREPARED

Heat Was Turned on Last Night and With Aid of Oil Stoves Building is Quite Comfortable.

The cold weather which arrived last night held off just long enough to enable the workmen at the Provincial Hospital to get the heating plant in sufficient working order to get up steam and turn the heat on. While there is not a great deal of steam yet the amount of rain which fell in yesterday's big storm was 3.84 inches. This is the biggest precipitation ever recorded here for January.

The C. P. R. liner Montezuma which sailed yesterday for London carried 1,222 head of cattle. This is the largest shipment which ever left St. John on one steamer. Last month the shipmen from St. John were largely in excess of previous years, and the record will probably be continued this month.

WEEK OF PRAYER IN THE NORTH END

The North End week of prayer meeting will be held in Douglas Avenue Christian Church tonight. Rev. R. P. McKim will preside and the speakers will be Rev. Messrs. J. J. McCaskill, B. H. Nobles and D. Hutchinson. The subject is "Nation Under Rulers."

There was a large congregation in Portland Street Church last night when the subject was Foreign Missions. The leader was Rev. D. Hutchinson, and interesting addresses were delivered by Rev. Messrs. Appel, McCaskill and Nobles. The choir of the church assisted with the music. The attendance at the North End meetings have never before been as large as this year and the interest shown is most encouraging.

WAR ON TUBERCULOSIS WILL COMMENCE TONIGHT

At Meeting in Germain St. Church the Campaign Against the White Plague Will be Inaugurated.

Tonight marks the opening of a definite campaign in this city against the disease of tuberculosis. While spasmodic efforts have been made in the past to arouse interest in the campaign, no such definite and organized attempt has been made before.

The meeting tonight which will be held in Germain Street Church in connection with the series of week-of-prayer meetings, has been arranged as the result of the decision of the vangelical Alliance to start a fight against the disease.

Van. Archdeacon Raymond will preside this evening, and Rev. Hugh Pedley, of Montreal, will first address the meeting. Addresses will also be made by Dr. J. R. McIntosh, president of the Medical Association, Dr. J. W. Daniel, M. P., and Dr. G. A. S. Addy. A great amount of interest has already been shown in the movement and a large attendance is expected. The choir of Exmouth Street Church will assist with the music.

RAIN FALL THE LARGEST ON RECORD FOR JANUARY

Amounted to 3.84 Inches—Temperature Dropped 42 Degrees Last Night

The weather, which has been doing some surprising things lately made another quick change last night and today the thermometer shows a difference of 42 degrees between yesterday's temperature and that today. The highest figure yesterday was 54 degrees above while this morning it was only 12 above.

The change occurred last night about eight o'clock when the wind shifted to the southwest. The fog then cleared out and the mercury began to fall. The indications now point towards continual cold and colder weather.

MONTEZUMA TOOK RECORD NUMBER OF CATTLE

C. P. R. Liner Left Yesterday With 1,222 Head Which Were Loaded in 2 Hours and 20 Minutes

The C. P. R. liner Montezuma which sailed yesterday for London carried 1,222 head of cattle. This is the largest shipment which ever left St. John on one steamer. Last month the shipmen from St. John were largely in excess of previous years, and the record will probably be continued this month.

The Montezuma also established a record which it will be hard to beat in putting the cattle on board. Only 3 hours, 25 minutes were required to load the whole shipment.

MONTGTON HOPES TO WIN FROM AMHERST

Cold Weather Makes Hockey Game Possible—L. G. R. Is in Pretty Good Shape.

MONCTON, N. B., Jan. 7.—The weather became colder last night with the result that the Amherst Ramblers will play here tonight in the first game of the Star trophy series. The Victoria's line-up will be the same as that given previously.

There is little betting on the outcome, and a local victory is looked for in Moncton if not elsewhere. The defeat of the Ramblers at the hands of the Halifax Crescents Monday evening is the main cause for the local confidence, and with the Victoria's in good shape it is generally expected here that the locals will have little difficulty in retaining the championship honors.

Reports received here today from various sections of the Intercolonial indicate that with the exception of the Canada eastern division where matters are still in bad shape, the damages caused by washouts has been repaired and trains today will run as usual.
