Dear Sir.—This is to certify that I had been suffering from a Rose Cancer on my right breast, which grew very rapidly, and all my friends had given me up to die, when I heard of your medicine, Vegetine, recommended for Cancer and Cancerous Humors. I commenced to take it, and soon found myself beginning to feel better; my health and spirits both felt the benign influence which it exerted, and in a few months from the time I commenced the use of the Vegetine. Orders taken for direct shipments of flour from Mills in car load lots, and drafts made direct on consignees. Flour a specialty.

Briefly, this is what he underproved conclusively that the lower bed of the Richibucto river and the bed of the Richibucto river and the bed of the Bay Chaleur were at one time the seat of a glacier whose length was 150 miles long; width 25 to 50 feet, and depth, in places, not less than 1000 feet. He believed that this was a small independent glacier which was found at the time of the breaking up of the great ice field that previously extended over the entire continent. The paper was a very interesting one. During the evening Mr. Mont. Chamberlain presented the Society with 18 specimens of birds of prey, finely mounted. These were given as the commencement of a series of native birds, Mr. C. and several other gentlemen being engaged in making the collection.—Globe, 2nd.

In regard to your favor of a few days ago, would say: About one year ago a horse would say: About one year ago a horse would by me contracted a large Bone Spavin or the cure of which I tried a number of he liniments and lotions, advertised to cure e same, without any effect, and he becam ery lame. A friend of mine recommended very lame. A friend of mine recommended me to try Fellicws' Leeming Essence. I acted upon his advice, and now I am happy to say the lameness has ceased and the spavin disappeared. I now consider him entirely cured, and would cheerfully recommend FELLOWS' LEEMING'S ESSENCE as being the best remedy in the market for all lameness that horses are subject to. Yours truly,

The author's name is unknown.

This transvaal Boer to stimulate his countrytable and wrote out the required boson a paper, he placed it in her hand, remarking as he did so—
"Lizzie, this is your husband's present for the New Year?"

The wife took the paper and she opened it. This translation was made from a copy in | 1t. Dutch of the song that has just been received from the Transvaal:

When came Kleinfontein's bloody day In all the fury of the fray There was one thought that ruled us all. And that was this- . The foe must fall !" For all men dearly loved their land, Not one but scorned the tyrant's hand. And so our soug must ever be,

" We will be free. And on our side the right shall be."

To yield our freedom is no task, It is no wonder that we ask Only that rights to us belong, Only that tyranny is wrong. Can we not keep our sad sore land?-It is not worth a robber's hand. Yes, yes, we will forever be-We will be free, Aud on our side the right shall be.

This is our own, our darling land, A father's wise and careful hand Made these dear plains a pleasant home, To which the invader now has come. But still we hold our precious land. And all our weak but fearless band

Cry, "Yes, it must be-forever be, We will be free. And on our side the right shall be." The teeming fields our fathers sowed With tears; their crimson blood that flowed. Their heavy sights that move us still,

Shall steel anew our souls until We clasp each other hand in hand And cry " Forever free's our land. We will be free,

And on our side the right shall be." The emblem that our fathers gave, The tree of freeman, not of slave, Shall never kiss a conquered earth. Twill grow and blossom o'er our hearth. Its roots will make a mighty band To clasp together all our land, And then our song will ever be

We will be free. And on our side the right shall be. A little while we may be chained.

But hard-lost fights may be regained. The land that smiles may melt in tears, And tells Natal the tale of years. But shall we never understand The fire that Sandlawana fanned? It means. We will forever be— We will be free,

And on our side the right shall be." THE HUSBAND'S PRESENT.
