

ELDER HENRY CUNNINGHAM

Recommends

Vinol

For Weak, Run-Down People.

"I was run down and weak from indigestion and general debility, also suffered from vertigo. I saw a cod liver preparation called Vinol advertised and decided to give it a trial, and the results were most gratifying. After taking two bottles I regained my strength, and am now feeling unusually well." — HENRY CUNNINGHAM, Elder Baptist Church, Kinston, N.C.

Vinol contains the two most world-famed tonics—the medicinal, strengthening, body-building elements of Cod Liver Oil and Tonic Iron. Vinol contains no oil, and is by far the Best Strengthening Tonic obtainable. We return your money without question if Vinol does not accomplish all we claim for it.

CAMPBELLTON, NEW BRUNSWICK TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 15th, 1910

This brisk trade in hockey players does not indicate that another of the necessities of life has gone up.

It is no trouble for the eighty seven year-old New Jersey man, who has never eaten meat, to join the boycott.

Haven't heard a word the past week from the man who picked pansies in his garden or from the man who saw a robin.

The coroner's jury after investigating the Spanish River wreck, seems to have concluded that it undoubtedly occurred.

Proposition is now made that married men be required by law to wear wedding rings. Nonsense. You can always tell 'em on sight.

A Toronto court has decided that a street car conductor is not responsible for the safety of a drunken man on his car.

If you don't believe Spring is coming how about the fact that seven members of the New York Giants go to Alabama for their Southern practice next Saturday.

It is pleasing to read in the fashion notes that "one of the new veils is so large as to be almost more like a long scarf." This will be valuable to use for binding up the heads of poor male dealers who have been stabbed by one of the long haps.

The game, the visitors were entertained at a supper in St. George's Hall, which was served by the ladies of St. George's Guild in their usual attentive manner.

Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Veniot celebrated the 25th anniversary of their marriage on Feb. 8, by a very enjoyable At Home. They received a large number of gifts in silver from a circle of friends throughout the province, indicative of the esteem in which they are held.

Some publisher will make a bit with a book showing how to "prepare" hay in a manner to tempt the human palate.

PASPEBIAC

The hockey match arranged for Saturday night between the merchants and bankers did not take place as the weather was very cold and stormy.

The "Misses" Bissell have returned from a very pleasant trip down the coast, where they were the guests of their sister, Mrs. LeGresley, Cape Cove.

OBITUARY
The death of Mrs. Graham, widow of the late John Graham, who died at her residence on Sugar Loaf street on Thursday afternoon, after an illness of three months. Deceased who was in her third year leaves to mourn the loss of a kind and devoted mother three daughters, Mrs. Edward Alexander and Mrs. Jacob McNeill of Campbellton and Mrs. Debbie of Chaladier, and four sons, Thomas, John, Frank at home, and John of River du Loup and Harry in the West. The family have the heartfelt sympathy of the entire community in the very great loss they have sustained. The funeral was held Sunday afternoon and was very largely attended.

A man at a recent scientific meeting in France traced the history of what is probably the oldest known addition-table of food, the calculation of the four elements. The Dutch predicted the far task for 1899, but the French did not take it up until 1871. When the Italians did it is unknown, but they are the worst offenders on earth, as any traveller will tell you.

OUR OTTAWA LETTER

The naval debate was resumed in the Commons last week and resolved itself into an animated discussion that will probably last for several weeks.

The law makers are keyed to a high pitch over this important national question and nearly all will deem it their solemn duty to place on record not only their own views, but also the views of the people whom they have the honor to represent. Once again has the "Great Liberal Chief," Sir Wilfrid Laurier, given himself the man of the hour, and made himself worthy of the accolade of his fellow Canadians "Canada's Greatest Statesman."

His powerful and patriotic speech in Parliament in support of a Canadian navy will live in history. It will implant within the heart and mind of every born Canadian whether at home or abroad, an indomitable desire to respect and admire a country where in its people, where advancement is the past word and national greatness the future.

HER DEATH WAS HOURLY EXPECTED

Enterprise, Ont., Oct. 1st, 1908.
"I have been suffering with what physicians called a 'Water Tumor.' I could neither sit, stand, nor lie down. Hypodermic medicine had to be given me to ease the pain."

MRS. JAMES FENWICK

My cure seemed hopeless, and my friends hourly expected my death. I was so bad that I wanted to die, and it was during one of these very bad spells that a family friend brought a box of "Fruit-a-Lives" to the house. After much persuasion I commenced to take them, but I was so bad that it was only when I had taken nearly two boxes that I commenced to experience relief. I kept up the treatment, however, and after taking five boxes I felt better, and when I appeared on the street my friends said, "The dead has come to life," and this seemed literally true, because I certainly was at death's door."

(Signed) MRS. JAMES FENWICK.

"Fruit-a-Lives" are sold by all dealers at 50¢ a box—6 for $2.50, or trial box, 25¢, or sent post-paid on receipt of price by Fruit-a-Lives Limited, Ottawa.

For it will be remembered that at Halifax, Mr. Foster said that to build a Canadian navy would be the greatest step forward that Canada had ever made. But today Mr. Foster is so wrapped up by that narrow policy of the navy that he is not only blind to the fact that the navy is a drain on the country's resources, but also distrusts for Canada. The Minister of Militia went on to show how inconsistent were the ideas of his friends opposite. They would send huge sums of money away from Canada to be spent in far distant lands and have the navy, which is the backbone of the great Canadian trade routes, harbors and commerce of our dominion. They have heralded broadcast many misleading statements, and they have said that the Admiralty had demanded the automatic service of Canada's fleet in time of war. Let me tell you, however, that if Mr. Foster, as one who knows, that no such demand or suggestion was ever made by the Admiralty to the delegates at that conference. The Prime Minister's sentiment, which in it should be the policy of the British empire to encourage less war and develop more colonization in her overseas dominions, by the colonies themselves branching out in matters of this kind.

The Minister remarked that until recently the leader of the opposition would have been in favor of the Canadian built navy, which he declared would become a greater benefit to the mother country than any other proposition that could be made. But today it is a far different story. Why? Because the disgruntled members in his (Mr. Borden) ranks, knew well what their leader's attitude was on this question and not being agreeable, advanced in cold blooded spite, placed a pistol to his head and said "Now you reconsider your previous sanction to the building of a Canadian navy."

Then again the "deputy leader" of the Opposition Mr. Foster, was hurried into line, declared Sir Frederick.

Sir Frederick—There were none. I was agreed, however, that if a matter could be arranged such dominion should meet with the First Lord of the Admiralty and then consider such resolution as would best suit each colony.

This is not all, my friends opposite, have even gone so far as to hurl anvil and slurs at our leader, Sir Wilfrid Laurier, as he who has been doing royal. But all such insinuations go for naught. I am one, declared Sir Frederick, who will absolutely confide.
