HUNTING SEASON IS NOW OPEN

Deer Reported to be Plentiful—Many Non-Resident Hunters are Expected.

Fredericton, N. B., Sept. 16th. Everything points towards a very successful hunting season according to Chief Game Warden, A. Gagnon, who has been busy distributing the Game Licenses to the vendors in readiness for the hunting season which opened for deer on the 15th, and for moose on October 1st. From almost every county in the Province reports show an abundance of deer, while moose also appear plentiful. The partridge season, however, has been shortened by one week and does not open until October 20th, closing on November 10th, both dates inclusive. The bag limit for partridge is the same as last year, namely, six per day and twenty for the season.

An important amendment, passed at the last session of the Legislature and in force this season, requires all hunters who kill a moose to bring out the head forthwith and exhibit the same to a Game Warden. This is necessary in an effort to prevent any illegal killing of cow and calf moose.

The forest is reported very dry so the early hunter will find dry walking where other years the travelling was wet and heavy. Hunters are therefore requested to carefully extinguish their camp and cooking fires as serious forest fires have occurred after the hunting season opened in similar dry autumns. Hunters holding licenses are not required to register to enter the forest.

Mr. Gagnon spoke of the hunting accidents which occur from carelessness during the hunting season and drew attention to the comparatively small number of accidents which have occurred in this Province during the past two autumns. "We sincerely hope that the records established in our Province during the past two years in connection with the small number of casualties in the woods during the open season will be lived up to by our people as well as by non-resident hunters during the coming open season," said Mr. Gagnon. "It can be done if all are careful and do not shoot before they know what they are shooting at and stop to think that they will regret it, if through their carelessness, they become responsible for a human life or for a maimed body." He also expressed the hope that all hunters would co-operate with the Department and the Officials charged with the enforcement of the Game and Fire Laws, so that the season would be successful in every respect.

WEDDINGS

Giroux-Levesque.
A very pretty wedding was solemnized in the St. Benoit Church Balmoral when Mr. Amelie Giroux, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Giroux of Charlottetown and Miss Alina Levesque, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Antoine Levesque were united in marriage. The marriage which was performed in the Sanctuary of the church was solemnized by Rev. Fr. Lefebvre.

The bride wore a black costume with red fox hat and shoes to match and carried a nice bouquet.

After the ceremony the party motored to the home of the bride's parents where a dainty luncheon was served. Mr. and Mrs. Giroux left on the Ocean Limited for a honeymoon trip to Newcastle and Moncton and on their return had a very nice supper and dance at the home of the groom's parents.

The happy couple received many beautiful presents including cut glass, silver and linen.

They will reside in Charlottetown.

McIntyre-Goulette.
A pretty but quiet wedding took place at the St. C. Church, Upper Charlot when Miss Merle Goulette, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James J. Goulette became the bride of Mr. Wilfred McIntyre, second son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph E. McIntyre.

The bride wore a costume of navy blue point twill with hat and shoes to match. After the ceremony the party motored to the home of the groom's parents where a dainty luncheon was served.

Mr. and Mrs. McIntyre left on the Ocean Limited for a honeymoon trip to Moncton and on their return had a very nice supper and dance at the home of the bride's parents. The young couple received many beautiful presents including silver, cut glass, and linen. They will reside in Charlottetown.

ONE MANUFACTURER POINTS OUT NEED FOR A LOW TARIFF OF GOOD ROADS

Management of Toronto Factory Opposes Increase in the Tariff.

Toronto, Sept. 12.—Canadian manufacturers do not, as a rule, oppose increases in the tariff. The following "election notice" posted in a large Toronto factory yesterday, is therefore interesting, because it is different.

"We have no desire to dictate to our employees how they shall vote in the coming election, but we want them to vote intelligently.

"The increase in the tariff will increase the cost of the materials used in our goods, and will compel us to raise our prices.

"This will restrict their sale and so reduce either the number of employees or their hours of labor, or both. Increase in the tariff is increase in taxation and is followed by increase in cost of goods, increase in cost of labor and in lower demand for labor.

"Will that make Canada prosper?"

MAIL ORDER ECONOMICS
Down in a certain town a man went into a store to buy an article and asked the price. It was $3.20 the dealer said.

"Good gracious," said the man. I can get the same thing from a mail order house for $2.82."

"That's less than it costs me," said the dealer, "but I'll sell it on the same terms as the mail order house just the same."

"All right," said the customer. "You can send it along and charge it to my account."

"Not on your life," replied the dealer. "No charge accounts. You can't do business with the mail order house that way. Fork over the cash."

The customer handed over the cash. "Now 2 cents for postage and 5 cents for money order."

The customer, inwardly raving kept to his agreement and paid the 7 cents. "Now 35 cents expressage."

"Well I'll be —," he said, but paid it saying "Now hand it and I'll take it home for myself and be rid of this foolery."

"Hand it to you? Where do you think you are? You're not in Winnipeg, and you'll have to wait a week."

Whereupon he placed the article on the shelf and put the money in his cash drawer.

"That makes $3.26," he said. "It has cost you 6 cents more and taken you a week longer to get it than if you had paid my price in the first place."

TOBACCO OF VERY HIGH QUALITY GREAT BENEFIT TO CANADIAN TRADE

New Brunswick Can Produce Tobacco Which Ranks With Best Quebec Product

British Empire Exhibition More Profitable From Dominion Point of View.

H. A. Freeman, tobacco expert from the Central Dominion Experimental Farm, Ottawa, who arrived in the city on Tuesday made an inspection of the tobacco crop grown by Arthur T. Thorne at his farm at Golden Grove, and pronounced the tobacco of a very high quality. Samples of the tobacco will be taken over from the 1923 pack. It has helped for points up river where he will inspect the crops of tobacco grown by T. H. Eschbrooks and W. W. Hubbard, who along with Mr. Thorne, were induced through the efforts of the local Board of Trade to experiment with tobacco this year.

Mr. Freeman stated that the variety of tobacco grown in the province was similar to the grades used extensively in England and on the continent for pipe tobacco and chewing and added that Canadian tobacco carried off the honors at the Wembley Exhibition last year in competition with tobacco grown in the United States and various sections of the British Empire.

Regarding the tobacco grown by Mr. Thorne as an experiment, Mr. Freeman stated that the result was highly satisfactory and pointed out that yield per acre would amount to between $500 and $600; while the cost of planting, labor and curing would amount to about $200 per acre. There is a growing demand for this class of tobacco and it is thought that if the results of the two other experiments are satisfactory that there will be a splendid opening for the New Brunswick farmers to sell tobacco growing to their farming—Globe.

NEW ROAD MAP OF NEW BRUNSWICK

"I was most delighted with the condition of the roads down in New Brunswick." This was the way an enthusiastic Ontario motorist expressed his appreciation of the touring conditions in the province of the sea. New Brunswick has good roads—they are the result of long-time construction and of efficient upkeep. They are practically all hard gravel roads, of which material New Brunswick has an ample supply; the result is that even after a wet period, the drainage provided soon dries up the surface.

The fact that these good motor roads are available has very materially increased their use. Touring parties from other portions of Canada and the neighboring states are visiting the province in increasing numbers, to the benefit of both residents and visitors.

The Natural Resources Intelligence Service of the Department of the Interior at Ottawa, recognizing this intensity of motoring in the province, has just issued a most useful map, known as the "New Brunswick Motor Roads and Recreational Map". The map shows at a glance the motor roads of the province, segregating in colors the trunk roads, secondary roads and other roads. Tourist camps and sites are marked, as are also towns with hotel accommodation. An interesting feature of the map is the indication of the accessible points to hunting and fishing resorts, while the areas where game and fish are to be found are shown in color. The map is on an easy scale and will fill a pressing need among those residents in the province and others, who have in mind a visit thereto. Copies of the map may be obtained from the Director, Natural Resources Intelligence Service of the Department of the Interior at Ottawa.

ADVERTISED ARTICLES SURELY DO SELL BEST
If you doubt that advertising pays these figures sent out by the National Retailers' Association, should help convince you that it really does—

Two similar articles were placed on sale at the same price, one was advertised.

87.6 times the customer bought the advertised article.

3.6 times the customer bought the unadvertised article.

8.8 times the customer had no preference.

Two similar articles were placed on sale at another time, one was advertised and sold at a higher price than the other.

60.6 times the customer bought the advertised article.

24.2 times the customer bought the unadvertised article.

15.2 times the customer had no preference.

This test was not made in one community alone, but in representative communities and by reputable grocers throughout the country.

The figures furnish pretty conclusive proof.

London, Sept. 12.—Although the second year's British Empire Exhibition is in many respects a failure in the city on Tuesday made an inspection of the tobacco crop grown by Arthur T. Thorne at his farm at Golden Grove, and pronounced the tobacco of a very high quality. Samples of the tobacco will be taken over from the 1923 pack. It has helped for points up river where he will inspect the crops of tobacco grown by T. H. Eschbrooks and W. W. The Dominion had been known as a supplier of raw furs. Now one Canadian firm alone had sold at the Canadian pavilion nearly a hundred thousand dollars worth of made-up furs.

Canadian agricultural implements have long enjoyed a world-wide reputation. Additional advertisement made possible by the Empire Exhibition, however, has resulted in negotiations by one of the governments represented at Wembley for the purchase of seventy-five thousand Canadian ploughs.

The most significant feature of the Exhibition, however, is that 130 Canadian firms not previously represented here have appointed permanent representatives and are prepared to do export business.

NEW CARLISLE NOTES

Mr. Robert Astels passed away, at his home here in New Carlisle, at the advanced age of 82 years. About one year ago he underwent an operation at the Soldiers' Memorial Hospital at Campbellton, but owing to his age it did not appear to be of any benefit.

He leaves to mourn his loss his sorrowing widow and a grown up family of sons and daughters. Interment took place in the Anglican Cemetery. Rev. W. DeGrouchy officiating. Our sympathy goes out to the bereaved family.

Mr. James Thompson and Mr. Robert Craig have returned to their homes from Pennsylvania, where they spent the last four months.

Miss Gertrude Robinson, Miss Alice Ross and Miss Mary Smollett left on Tuesday's train for McDonald College, where they are training for the Intermediate Diploma. We wish them every success.

Our sympathy is extended to Mr. and Mrs. Angus Astles in the loss of their little son, Garfield.

Mr. John Thompson Sr. is leaving on Tuesday for Vancouver, where he intends spending the winter with his daughter Mrs. R. W. McNeill.

"Why are you so late?" inquired the teacher of one of her pupils. "Father wanted me at home," was the reply.

"Wouldn't someone else have done?" she inquired.

"No," said the boy, shaking his head emphatically, "cos he was giving me a spanking."

NOTABLE ACHIEVEMENTS

The Transcript says—it is a convincing reply which Premier King gives to the statement by the leader of the Opposition that the King Government had no achievement to its credit. Of course, even Mr. Meighen himself did not believe that statement; it was merely one of the generalities of which he is so fond and with which his speeches are so carelessly strewn. It is natural that a man of Mr. Meighen's type should be jealous of the success of a Government of which he is not a member, and that he should endeavor to belittle what it has accomplished; but on this occasion he overstepped the mark so far that he makes himself ridiculous.

No achievement? What can Mr. Meighen say to this brief list giving only a few of the changes which have been brought about? Here they are; mark them well:

1. Reduced expenditure by $100,000,000 in the last four years.
2. Reduced taxation to 75 per cent of what it was.

3. Reduced the public debt by $83,000,000, while the Meighen Government had increased it by $178,000,000.

4. Added to the railway debt less than was added by the Meighen Government.

A reduction of $100,000,000 from expenditures which totalled $460,000,000 when the present administration entered office is an achievement at which the tax-payers of this country will not sneer. It means an annual saving of more than $50 for the average Canadian family. That may not be a matter of importance to Mr. Meighen and his wealthy friends, but it is to the family man who has to pay the bills and to the wife and mother who has to make every dollar go as far as it can.

Today, as a result of the achievements of the King Government, the people of the Dominion are paying but seventy-five cents for every dollar which they paid in taxes under Mr. Meighen's administration. That means a saving which comparatively few will dismiss lightly as a matter of no account.

During the two years Mr. Meighen was in office, and that was after the war was over, the public debt was increased by $178,000,000. In the first year of the King administration the annual deficit was decreased to $31,000,000; in the next year there was a surplus of $36,000,000 and last year there was another and larger surplus, of $78,000,000. And Mr. Meighen has the temerity to suggest that the people of Canada should prefer his way of doing business!

The tremendous railway obligations of the Dominion are the direct result of the unfortunate policy of the previous Conservative Government in dealing with the situation arising from the failure of privately-owned roads. The present administration has had to accept, as a legacy from its predecessors, a burden which added $278,000,000 to the railway debt during Mr. Meighen's period in office. In spite of the world-wide trade depression, the King Government not only prevented this debt from increasing at a more rapid rate, as might have been expected, but in three years added to it a sum vastly less than was added during Mr. Meighen's three-year regime.

Without touching upon any other department of the government's activities, the Prime Minister has fully answered Mr. Meighen's contention. If this is the best the leader of the Opposition can do, he will find it hard to convince the electors that they would have anything to gain by returning him to office. The people have a natural preference for sound financing, economical administration and efficient methods which make themselves felt in the form of lower taxes.

Some of the New Brunswickers who, invested in Western real estate ten or eleven years ago will appreciate a paragraph in the Edmonton Journal. It says: "In Edmonton we have now some fairly extensive grain fields within the city limits, subdivision land having reverted to its former use." Easterners did what they could for the Western estate speculators. They bought plentifully when many Western towns were staking out limits about as extensive as those of Greater New York, and in this way they helped to increase that fine spirit of optimism for which the West is famous. They will now feel a satisfaction in knowing that the properties on which they paid taxes hopelessly for some years — and sharply rising taxes — are now being employed to swell the grain crop, the harvesting of which the whole country looks forward so hopefully.

There are few places in the British Empire which offer more attractions for settlers of the right class than do the Maritime Provinces, but we need not be surprised that these attractions and opportunities are not realized in Great Britain, 3,000 miles away, when our own people fail to realize them. While visitors see in New Brunswick nearly everything that the heart could desire, our own young people continue to turn their backs on these opportunities and seek their fortunes in distant fields. This will continue, however, so long as distant fields look green, and so long as the opportunity at a distance appears more attractive than that at hand. It is in the blood of the average Anglo-Saxon to roam, and there always will be a shifting of our population in answer to this response to the call to new scenes and new adventures. While we continue to lose some of our population because of this tendency, we should at least be able to make good the loss by bringing in of new settlers moved by the same desire for new surroundings, and as our own advantages are more fully realized we should be able to hold more of our own people while attracting more from other places. Moncton Transcript

COST OF A YEAR AT COLLEGE

As the vacation season is drawing to a close, many parents are considering the advisability of a college course for their sons and daughters who have completed the work of the High School. In this consideration cost is a most important factor. An estimate has been furnished of the probable cost of a year at the University of New Brunswick. The amount involved is very moderate indeed, but many students manage to get along on much less, but this is doubtless at the expense of lack of participation in many of the college activities, social and athletic, which are after all an important part of the student's life, and doubtless a real factor in his training.

On the other hand many students spend more; but too much pocket money is worse than too little, leading the student to devote too much of his time to social activities to the detriment of the true purpose of his college course. The estimate follows:

Fees, Arts Course, including Laboratories, etc. $80.00
Board and Lodging, 30 weeks at $8.00 a week 240.00
Laundry, 50 cts a week 15.00
Sundries, personal toilet articles, etc. 10.00
Books 25.00
Amusements, college societies and incidents 60.00

In Engineering and Forestry the fees are $50.00 higher and an additional item of $5.00 should be allowed for drawing instruments, etc., making the total cost slightly under $500. This is certainly a reasonable sum for the advantages a college education offers in fitting young men or women for life's battle. Some of the other Colleges can be attended at even a lower figure than these quoted.—Ex.

THEY ARE ASTONISHED

The fact that the British Journalists who have just completed a tour of the Maritime provinces were surprised by what they saw, the beauty of the country, its suitability for settlement and the opportunities offered, is convincing proof of the lack of information in Great Britain concerning the attractions and resources of this part of Canada. If journalists of the experience and standing of these visitors had the idea of conditions in the Maritime Provinces, could it be expected that the average citizens, the men and women whom we seek as settlers, should be better informed?

Their tour of these provinces was a revelation to the visitors, and they say so frankly. They were astonished by the attractions of New Brunswick and Nova Scotia, the stretches of park-like lands admirably suited for settlement, the numerous farm lands available at cheap rates, the signs of prosperity and contentment and, more than all, by the fact these conditions had not been made known more generally in Great Britain. On the completion of their tour, the spokesmen for the party give their considered opinion of the Maritime Provinces in the following words: "Owing to the magnificent resources, we came to the conclusion that any immigrants who were willing to work and adapt themselves to local requirements would gain not only a livelihood but would be assured of prosperity in a substantial degree."

PATRONIZING HOME INDUSTRY.

At a meeting of the lumbermen of New Brunswick, held at Douglastown recently, a resolution was passed endorsing the principle of the purchase of Canadian-made goods. However, the lumbermen decided to go further than that, inasmuch as they agreed to give New Brunswick products the first call. Probably this is the most important resolution that has been passed by a representative body of New Brunswick business men in recent years. If acted upon, its full significance would be most felt by the farming communities of this province. The value of supplies used in the lumber camps of New Brunswick is very considerable. Therefore, if the policy of purchasing New Brunswick products is followed up it will mean that the farmers of the province will sell thousands of dollars worth of beef, pork, dairy products, hay, oats, etc. We have seen millions of dollars abroad to pay for just such supplies, and if the lumbermen can fill their requirements from New Brunswick farms it will mean that these millions, in the aggregate, will be kept within ourselves.

It is encouraging to find such a representative body of men willing to patronize the farms of New Brunswick. After all, agriculture is the industry of this province. Its success means more to us than the success of any other branch of business we have. That the lumber operators of the province desire to encourage and foster it, is a step in the right direction. This is another sign that the Maritime Provinces are waking up.

BACK FROM THE SARGOSSA SEA

The return on July 30th, of the Acturus from the Sargossa Sea, Curator of the New York Zoological Museum and other members of the expedition who on February 10th went out to explore the Sargossa Sea, will result in an increase in the knowledge of the marine vegetation and animal life of that wonderful region about which have grown up many strange and weird tales. The storms that caused much apprehension regarding the safety of the Acturus and her research party, did more damage to the inhabitants of the Sargossa Sea than to the little expedition. The Acturus proved seaworthy but the frail plant and animal life was swept away and while the layman will no doubt, consider the collection brought home by the party as wonderfully illuminating, the scientists feel a bit disappointed. It is too soon to know all that happened, or all that was found in the five months' search among the under currents of the Sargossa Sea and in the waters of the Pacific Ocean about Galapagos Island, but "luminous jelly-fish, feathery snails, fragrant crustaceans and diaphanous eels, sound as though the explorers had invaded a fashionable marine modiste's establishment and in modern language 'got away with it.' Such reports and pictures as have found their way back to a less adventurous world during the five months' absence of the scientists, have shown that the operations in the deep sea fishing were carried on from a "sidewalk" that could be attached to the Acturus at the water line and from a platform that was hung out over the boat from above, and that both were fitted with dredges, and special gear that enables the capture of the specimens of plant and animal life known to inhabit these waters. Dr. Beebe has some fifty new species and while in some respects he is a bit disappointed, on the other hand this expedition which has covered some fourteen thousand miles has added a number of new pages to the history of ocean life and ocean inhabitants, and has a tale to tell more wonderful in some respects than here the description of the sea world told by Captain Nemo.

All previous records set by the Manitoba Telephone System, a provincial all-government owned and operated utility, were surpassed in July, when net earnings for the month were $16,754. A surplus of $100,000 was predicted for the present fiscal year.

According to an estimate made by Quebec Automobile Club officials from data supplied by transportation companies and garages, 200,000 tourists have already passed through Quebec this year. This, it is explained, is an increase of twenty per cent, over the total for the whole of last year.

Building permits issued in Winnipeg since the beginning of the current year to date have topped the three million dollar mark, being $3,034,840 for 1,704 structures. For the corresponding period of last year the total was $2,288,450 for 1,733 buildings, an increase in value for this year of $745,390.

Heavy shipments of this season's crop of potatoes in Fredericton, N.B., are now being made to the Cuban market from the potato belt on the Upper St. John River, according to the provincial superintendent of the crops and soil division of the Department of Agriculture. There have been large consignments from Carleton and Victoria counties.

Greater Montreal's population is now estimated at 1,028,000, according to the 1925 issue of Lovell's Montreal Directory just published. Population of the city proper is estimated at 907,500. Population in the suburbs and surrounding country is given as 120,500. The last estimate of Greater Montreal's population, by the same authority, gave the population as 979,027.

A party consisting of twelve Chinese students from Hong Kong and Peking arrived in Montreal recently to take up temporary positions in departments and shops of the Canadian Pacific Railway, in order to familiarize themselves with the railway situation in Canada. They will remain a few months and then return to China to make practical use of the information they acquire.

Among the notable personages who arrived in Canada during the first week in September from Europe were Princess Patricia, Sir Thomas and Lady Grafton, the Earl and Countess of Mar and Kintyre, all of whom were on the Canadian Pacific steamer Montserrat, James Oliver Curwood on the Empress of Scotland and Mrs. E. J. O'Connell on the Montserrat, of the same line.

Calgary, Alberta. — The No. 4 Royaltie well (Imperial), continues to amaze geologists. Its naptha production increased July to 546,135 gallons, 73 degrees Beaume, an increase of 25 barrels daily over the June production. The production continues to increase and the flow of gas at 20,000,000 cubic feet a day is being maintained. This flow will shortly be harnessed to supply Calgary.

Preparations are under way for the holding in Montreal in June next year of the annual convention of the American Association of Railroad Superintendents. J. K. Savage, General Superintendent, Canadian Pacific, was elected chairman of the arrangements committee, and plans were made for the organization of a complete committee to go ahead with the business of making the convention a success.

A despatch from London states that in the past three weeks more than 20,000 boxes of Quebec-made cheese have arrived and been sold in London at good prices, the quality, it is said, being of the best. It is pointed out that if Quebec products are to obtain the position they deserve here it is necessary to keep continuous supplies coming, in order to make them known to the general public, rather than to make either isolated or occasional speculative shipments. Along this line, some 7,000 boxes of Quebec-made cheese went forward from here to the London market during the past week.

This store closes every evening except Saturday.

CORRECTION

In the item published last week reporting the fire in which the garage and house of Mr. C. Chatterton and the launch "Restigouche" were destroyed it was stated that the blaze had originated from the explosion of dynamite in the garage. This was incorrect. The origin of the fire is unknown but it has been learned that there was no dynamite anywhere on the premises. As previously stated the cause of the fire was a gas leak from the launch.

The Wife Who Wasn't Wanted

By GERTRUDE S. de WENTWORTH-JAMES

The purple haze of a summer's morning lay upon the distant hills, the rising sun gilded the roof of John Mannering's beautiful home and its rays scintillated against the window panes with the leaping flames of many fires. They set the dew wet grass on the close lawn to glittering like a vast tray filled with myriads of gems and gave warm caresses to the moist blooms in the rose garden. They aroused a robin to a joyous outburst of melody and peeping amidst the trellised vines which framed a window, they sifted on into a room to paint its polished floor with great splashes of gold.

Not content with this, a very rake of a ray crept boldly up on a bed and falling full upon a pillow kissed the soft cheek of a woman lying there. Before so wanton a salute, she moved uneasily. Opening her eyes, she gazed about her drowsily until finally, fully awakened, she reached for the clock at her side. But quickly Eileen Mannering set the time piece aside as a remembrance brought a glow of happiness to her face. A day among days had dawned. It was her son's twenty-first birthday.

She sat up, her mind overflowing with tender memories as it traveled back through the years since she had cradled Bob as an infant in her arms. Happy years had they been, for Bob had been all that a son should be. And now he was a man. A clean, splendid young fellow, the very thought of whom thrilled her heart with pride. Her eyes were misty with motherlove as, leaving the past, her thoughts leaped on to dwell upon the mysterious way of the future. Fear found no place in her heart. Bob had been a wonderful boy and would be a wonderful man. To what high pinnacle might he aspire, what marvels accomplish?

Aloused from her dreams, Eileen reached for her negligee. But as she slipped it on, her eyes rested gently upon the recumbent figure of the man in the twin bed beside her own. To the world, John Mannering was the District Attorney of Fayette County and reckoned one of the big lawyers of the state, but to her, he was just her other boy—her pal—tried and true. Not always had life been as rosy to Eileen and John. Mannering as it seemed this morning. There had been difficult years when John unknown and unappreciated was struggling to get a start in his profession. Money was scarce in those days, but they had met and conquered their problems, buoyed up by a richness of faith and love. Best of all, as John had chimed, winning by his outstanding ability and inflexible integrity of purpose ever greater honor and success in his profession, that had remained.

Her eyes rested gently upon the recumbent figure

Another glance at the clock and hesitation. John worked so hard and now he was sleeping so soundly. It seemed a shame to disturb him an instant sooner than was necessary. Sliding cautiously from the bed, she slipped quietly into the bath room, beyond. Behind a carefully closed door, she turned on the water and laid out fresh undergarments for her John. At one P.M. today with an efficient staff of servants at her beck and call, she still saw to the most intimate details of John's personal comfort and well being with a devotion which only love can give. And dimly, happily was Eileen at the task this morning. A peace of thanksgiving and joy welled up within her heart, for her boy, her husband and the rich fullness of her life. To it, she must surely have given lip, had it not been for the sleeping man behind her.

Yet, for all her care, John, Mannering awakened. With a yawn he marked her empty bed and hastened to the muffled rush of water within the bath room. Aware that she would soon return, there came a change in him. An official of dignity and consequence, there was still a bit of a boy about John. As the bath room door reopened, he deliberately snuggled down in his pillows and closed his eyes. Reappearing, Eileen crossed the beautifully furnished room to pause unexpectedly by the bath door and to hesitate in gentle sweetness as if still loath to disturb him.

"John," she said finally, "John!"

Then she stopped and kissed him. A kiss from Eileen Mannering? Surely it would be impossible for a man to be so lost in slumber as to fail to heed such a sweet summons? But John Mannering never moved. Indeed, he essayed a snore.

A mistake, John—a fatal mistake. It was a sorry imitation, lacking verity and failing to carry conviction even to so confiding a soul as hers. Her suspicious were promptly aroused.

What was more, a woman of action, she cast aside the bed-clothes and as an eagle swoops down on its prey was upon him—ticking his ribs—until he wiggled, squirmed and laughed helplessly under her attack.

Beware Eileen, be content with your triumph. Over-confidence has brought disaster at the instant of victory. Ah—it is over with the quickness of a flash. Her frailest figure, caught within his strong arms, is drawn down to his side. A prisoner of war and made to suffer the added ignominy of a tumbled head.

But even in the administration of condign punishment his touch was but a caress, his threats but empty boasts. "Come on—want to try it again?" he dared her when she had finally escaped his grasp to sit a headless figure at the other end of the bed. She received the invitation with silent scorn. "Afraid?"

"Of you, certainly not. But why trouble when I have gained my point. You are awake, you're never more wide awake in your life. Now, get up."

He cast a careless glance at the clock and again gave his attention to her, affection written plain upon his face.

"The prettiest bride that ever came out of Kentucky," he proclaimed.

THE STORAGE AND TRANSPORTATION OF SEED POTATOES.

(Experimental Farms Note.)

Improper storage of potatoes results in the loss of thousands of bushels annually. The careless handling of potatoes in transportation means financial loss and tends to have a serious effect upon the market.

Several factors influence the successful storage of potatoes. These are, temperature, ventilation, humidity, depth of pile, and sound stock free from dirt.

Potatoes should be stored in as cool a temperature as possible without freezing. A good average temperature ranges around 36 degrees F. Good ventilation is essential to assist in carrying off excess moisture, particularly where potatoes are stored in large heaps. Control of temperature, moisture, and ventilation can be obtained by using false floors, wall-racks and air shafts. Too dry an atmosphere causes shrinkage, therefore, a certain amount of humidity is necessary. In a bright year careful grading should be practised. Potatoes showing rot should not be placed in storage. Avoid the development of certain rots in bruised and cut tubers by white-washing the interior of storage houses. Potatoes should not be removed from the field in a wet or dirty condition, as these elements increase the possibility of rot in storage. In harvesting, care should be taken to avoid cutting or otherwise damaging potatoes, since it is often through these cut surfaces that storage rots gain entrance.

A grower's responsibility does not end when his potatoes have been bagged. The use of clean bags is a factor which at times is not taken into consideration. Bags or sacks should be either washed or sterilized. Second-hand flour bags are good providing they are not intended for storing any length of time. Salt or fertilizer bags should not under any consideration be used.

Directly or indirectly the grower is responsible for the arrival of his stock condition. Frost is by far the greatest obstacle to overcome. Care must be taken that the stock is not chilled during the trip from the farm to the shipping point. The liberal use of straw and blankets in the cold weather is essential. Similarly in the railway cars straw and paper will reduce the possibility of freezing. Careful handling at siding where loading platforms are provided will prevent bruising. It is not unusual for several potatoes in a bag to be badly damaged by rough treatment. Careful piling in the cars lessens the possibility of bruising during transit. It is always advisable to so arrange the tiers that they will slant back and thus eliminate the danger of bruising between the car doors where bulkheads are not used.

HEBRIDES ISLANDS ON MARKET

One of the largest real estate deals on record will take place as a result of the decision to sell the Scottish estates of Lord Leverhulme, which cover an aggregate of 562 square miles and bring into the market some of the most picturesque and historic islands of the Outer Hebrides. Lord Leverhulme spent many thousands of pounds in the development of the islands, partly for what he conceived to be the benefit of the inhabitants and partly to develop a large fishing enterprise into which he entered with characteristic vigor. The sale will include the islands of Rona and Sulaigh, which are forty miles from the nearest land, the Finnan Islands, the "superiority" of St. Kilda, the Island of Harris with Amulmuidh Castle, most of the Island of Tarbert, the Island of Scarpa and Sempay, and several smaller islands. The entire district in which the property lies has been the scene of many of the stories and romances woven around the Hebrides and is sparsely inhabited by a virile race able to withstand the boisterous climatic conditions that prevail there most of the year.

BEST FLOWERS FOR FALL PLANTING

(Experimental Farms Note.) Flowers are, no doubt, enjoyed more in the spring than at any other period of the growing season. After a long winter the first flowers eagerly sought for and if bulbs have been planted in the autumn one has not long to wait for flowers for. Snowdrops bloom as soon as the snow has gone. Then come in rapid succession, and some at the same time, the Scillas or Squilla, Glory of the Snow or Chionodoxa, Crocus, Grape Hyacinth, Dutch Hyacinth, Narcissus in great variety, and early, cottage and Darwin Tulips. These give a succession of bloom from early in April, or earlier if the frost is out of the ground, until well on in June.

While the bulbs are growing in Holland, the flowers for next year are being formed in the bulb. Later the bulbs are dug, cured and shipped to Canada. Knowing that the flowers are already formed in the bulbs before planting them in the garden and pot them for the house will readily understand that large, well-developed bulbs are likely to give better flowers than small ones. In ordering this should be remembered. No amount of care can add more blooms to the Hyacinth spike than were formed when the bulb was growing in Holland. Unless the bulbs are well rooted in the soil outside or in the pots in the house, the weather will not be satisfied, hence the desirability of obtaining them as soon as they are offered for sale in the stores, which will be during the month of September. Tulips, Narcissus and Hyacinths should be planted from four to six inches deep to the bottom of the bulb, and about the same distance apart, while the smaller bulbs, such as Snowdrops, Crocuses, and Scillas, may be planted about two inches apart and from two to three inches deep.

WILL GIVE HONEST ENFORCEMENT

New Local Government Has Pledged to Enforce Prohibition Law

(Temperance Bulletin.)
Now that the members are elected to the Legislature, pledged to carry out the Prohibition Law, our duty is to stand back of them and give them all possible help in their work.

We should seek to deepen and strengthen the sentiment in favor of law enforcement throughout the Province. Our duty is to call attention to any lack of enforcement and see to it that no violators of the law are allowed to continue to sell intoxicating liquors with impunity. There is not the shadow of a doubt but that the law can be reasonably well enforced if the officials do their duty; that has been proven beyond any question. Give the new men a fair chance. Don't be too ready to find fault, but let us aid them in every way in our power and success is sure to come.

The incoming Government and its supporters are pledged to give the Prohibition Law a fair and honest enforcement, and every well wisher of his country will wish them success in their work, and so far as possible stand ready to aid them in the doing of it.

The following statement was presented to the late Government by The Temperance Alliance, and has been presented to the incoming Premier:

The Alliance believes that the following requests if complied with would ensure a satisfactory enforcement of the Law. It therefore asks those in authority

1. To appoint as Chief Inspector a man who will give his whole time to the work of carrying out the Law, and one in whom there will be general confidence.
2. To reduce the number of Vendors as speedily as may be possible.
3. To cancel all Vendors Licenses or Beer Licenses, where the holders have violated the Law.
4. Not to make any further appointment as Vendors, or give any Beer Licenses without the expressed wish of the people in the locality where the appointment is proposed to be made.
5. To see that the record of sales as provided for in the Law (Sections 84 and 85) be properly kept and supervised by the Inspector.
6. That the Government instruct the Commissioners to refuse to sell to Vendors more Liquors than are normally required to supply the legitimate demands under the Law.
7. That charges for second and following offences as provided by the Law be laid against the offenders.
8. That the Government cease using the Law for revenue purposes, instead of as the Act provides for "The suppressing of the sale of Intoxicating Liquors."

Senior British Trade Commissioner Here On Dominion Tour Today.

Fredericton, Aug. 31.—F. W. Field, Senior British Trade Commissioner to Canada and Newfoundland, is in Fredericton today meeting deputy heads of the departments of the Provincial Government and also business people. He is completing a tour of Canada from the Pacific to the Atlantic Coast and has been greatly impressed with the possibilities for development.

"With your rich agricultural lands, New Brunswick should with the help of a well planned settlement scheme be able to attract a valuable flow of immigration from the United Kingdom," said Mr. Field. More population, he said, seemed to be one of this province's most pressing needs. He also expressed the view that in the establishment of branch factories in Canada by British industries New Brunswick might well expect to get its share, especially in view of its favorable shipping opportunities.

WAS GIVEN A LESSON IN COURTESY

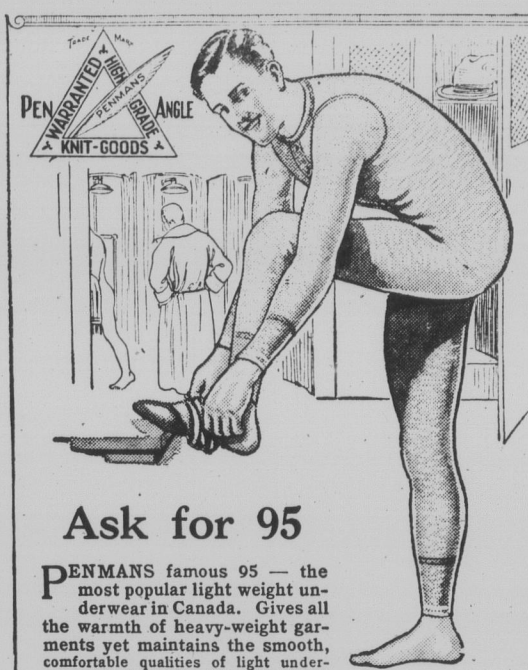

(Maritime Baptist.)

Rev. R. W. Bennett, D. D., pastor, of the Immanuel church, Truro, N. S. spent his vacation on a motor trip through parts of Nova Scotia, New Brunswick, Quebec, and the New England States, travelling altogether over 2,200 miles. Dr. Bennett was accompanied by his wife and his daughter. Dr. Bennett reports very highly on the hospitality received from the people of Quebec. He relates the following incident: "One evening we were preparing to camp for the night, when a man came out and as best he could let us know that it was likely to be a stormy night. He would not hear of our camping out, and insisted that we accept his hospitality and come over to his house. He and his wife gave us the best rooms and best food, and in the morning refused to accept any payment for their kindness; this in spite of the fact that I had succeeded in letting him know that I was a Protestant clergyman. I confess that I learned a lesson in courtesy."

EMIGRATION FROM BRITAIN DECLINING

London, Aug. 31.—Emigration from England and Scotland to less crowded parts of the empire is less than half as great as before the war, despite the fact that the home country is overcrowded and opportunities for workers seem to grow scarcer. Last year, despite the growth of unemployment and the encouragement given to emigrants through government financial assistance, only 88,883 people left to take up residence in the dominions and colonies.

In 1913, when no financial help was offered by the state, the number was 223,581.

The natural increase of population on this island averages about 300,000 persons a year at present. Unless more people depart, overcrowding and perhaps unemployment will steadily become more severe.

In 1913, statistics given by the Colonial Secretary, show 164,566 people emigrated from this country to Canada and Newfoundland, but last year the total was only 47,194. For the same years the number going to Australia dwindled from 44,500 to 30,300; to New Zealand, from 11,800 to 8,740 and for other parts of the empire, from 2,340 to 2,000. Only South Africa showed an increased magnetism for emigrants, but the figures are insignificant—375 emigrants in 1923 and 649 last year.

These facts are causing serious ponderings among many who feel that trade will never wax large enough to absorb all the idlers in England and Scotland unless their numbers are vastly lowered by wholesale migrations to those parts of the empire which are under-populated. There are some who feel that emigration never can be made properly attractive so long as persons can stay at home and make a living doing nothing. That is what the dole amounts to, in their eyes, and there are about 1,300,000 persons on the dole, receiving their handout from the state each week they are without work. The unemployed, it is contended, prefer to stay where they are, rather than wrench themselves away from this island and gamble on a little more glittering future in pastures new.

KU KLUX MEDDLING IN POLITICS

The following appeared in a recent issue of Saturday night and has been handed The Graphic with the request that it be published.

Editor, Saturday Night.

Dear Sir:—I read with interest your comment on the New Brunswick elections and as one who was there during the scrap may say that I appreciated your very evident fairness. There were features of the campaign of which you did not hear apparently, and which will, in time to come, react on J. B. McRae. I refer to the open and brazen way in which the Ku Klux Klan directed and financed from New York City which worked against the Liberal government in the English-speaking counties in the St. John Valley and central New Brunswick. York, Sunbury, Carleton, Kings and Albert were prominent among the stamping grounds of this foreign crew, and the canvassers were out in every guise, one emissary from New York representing himself as a "temperance worker."

That they worked with deadly effect to the Liberals was quite easily read into the returns. The humor of the situation was that Baxter had sixteen Catholic candidates while Veniot had only twelve. In Carleton the Orange Order was the centre from which these Yankee interlopers worked and despite the fact that the farmers' ticket was made up of one Orangeman, one Oddfellow, and one member of the Klan, they were canvassed against not on personal grounds but "We must elect the Conservatives to make sure of defeat." This statement can be verified a hundred times over in Carleton. The same game was worked elsewhere, while in other ridings the electors were asked to vote for "Papists" in an effort to defeat Veniot. This may be playing the political game as it is understood in New Brunswick, but things have come to a pretty pass when Yankees come into this country and interfere in our elections. The same game is being played in Ontario now in the back townships urging the electors to "vote against Quebec." Mr. Meighen may prate as loudly as he likes about protection but the hopes of the party rest almost entirely with the whispering campaign.

GEORGE HESPLER.

A WARNING

A man who was too economical to take this paper, sent his little boy to borrow the copy taken by his neighbor. In his haste the boy ran over a $4 stand of bees, and in ten minutes looked like a warty summer squash. His cries reached his father who ran to his assistance, and falling to cut a barbed wire fence, ran into that, breaking it down, cutting a handful of flesh from his anatomy, and ruining a $4 pair of pants.

FAMILY MEN PAID MORE

The conception of the old economists that it was a mistake in industry and certain to lead to disaster to pay any attention to the individual circumstances of employees is being rapidly abandoned. Not long ago certain firms in France began to pay higher wages for the same work to men who were married than to those who are still single and still higher wages in proportion to the size of their families. The plan was denounced as utopian and contrary to good business principles. But we are informed that it is working well and has now been extended to ten thousand establishments employing a million men. It has been extended to Belgium and is being considered in connection with the collieries of New South Wales. It is based on the assumption that husbands and fathers have a greater sense of responsibility and that employers accordingly got better results from their labor.

To a young man who stood on the street-corner in Toronto, peacefully smoking a cigar, approached the elderly and impertinent reformer of immoral legend. "How many cigars a day do you smoke?" inquired the inquirer in other people's affairs. "Three," patiently replied the youth. "How much do you pay for them?" continued the inquirer. "Ten cents each," confessed the youthful sinner. "Don't you know, sir," continued the sage, "that if you would stop smoking and save up that money, by the time you are as old as I am, you might own that big building on the corner?" "Do you own it?" answered the smoker. "No I don't," replied the old man. "Well I do," said the young man.
