Ladysmith Were Decidedly Successful.

Gen. White's Dispatches Described as "Unduly Modest."

Caught the Boers in the Rear and Inflicted Heavy Loss.

One Section of the Enemy's Forces Perished Almost to a Man.

Boer Efforts to Capture Mafeking Repulsed by the Garrison.

London, Nov. 8 .- The following is the text of a dispatch from Gen. Buller from Cape Town, dated Nov. 7,

Recent British Sorties at the enemy at Tatham's, about ten miles west, near Bester's, apparently gave a surprise, the Boars evidently being CAUGHT ON THE OPEN VELDT, and their camp captured. Encouraged by this, Gen. White ordered a more general movement on the following day, which was again justified by success. Ladsymith had been isolated, and a Boer force had intercepted the railway between Ladysmith and Col-enso. This force on Friday had deenso. This force on Friday had descended upon Colenso, and, as shown by the dispatches from Estcourt, had compelled the hurried abandonment of Colenso, and a retirement of the British to Estcourt ish to Estcourt. Gen. White had ascertained that the Boers were attacking Colenso, but he was not aware of the British retirement. He had determined, therefore, to attack the Boers in the rear, thus hoping to achieve the double object of drawing off attack upon the garrison of Colenso and possibly of reopening communication southward. The Boers had advanced southward until they had advanced southward until they had occupied the hills north of Tugela. River and dominating Colenso on the other side of the stream. The hills slope to a plain that reaches to the banks of the Tugela. Gen. White's division caught the Boers in the rear, and after the hills had been shelled, the British infantry stormed the position. Meanwhile the British cavalry swept around the hills, and as the retreating enemy descended into the plains, with British bayonets behind them and graph publishes the following dispatch from Pietermaritzburg, dated Satur-day evening: Since the occupation of Colenso, the Boers have atttempted no advance further south. Estcourt is now becoming a strong and growing camp. Major Wolfe Murray is in tem-camp. Major Wolfe Murray is in temporary command.

It is now possible to furnish official details of Friday's fighting around Ladysmith. The Boer artillery fire was accurate and well sustained, but ineffective. The British cavalry was constantly on the alert to prevent the Boer investment being too close. The cavalry and artillery under Col. Brocklehurst, about noon, drove the enemy lehurst, about noon, drove the enemy from all their positions with great slaughter. This attack was directed against a reported move of the enemy toward Maritzburg. Our artillery shelled three of the enemy's guns into silence. The British loss was slight.

BOER TRICKERY. Estcourt, Nov. 8.-The Boers proposed, under a flag of truce, on Thursday to send in a Boer spy, disguised as an ambulance driver for the wounded, to observe the British artillery fire. A native eye-witness of Thursday's battle near Ladysmith says the Boers were caught on the open ground, and raised several white flags. The Brit-ish then advanced, without firing, to ish then advanced, without hing, to accept the surrender of the Boers, but were received with a volley at close range. Enraged at this treachery, the Lancers, Hussars and Dragoons, followed by the infantry with fixed bayonets, charged through and through celved from the general commanding at Estcourt, dated Nov. 6:

"'Since Friday there has been cessation of hostilities. A note was sent that day to Gen. Joubert by Gen. White, at the request of the mayor, asking permission for non-combatants, sick and wounded, to go south. Gen. Joubert refused the request, but agreed to allow them to go to a special camp, four miles from Ladysmith. The townspeople refused to accept this offer. The sick and wounded and a few of the inhabitants were moved yesterday.

"'A few shots were exchanged yes-

"There was a smart action on Friday towards Dewdrop. The troops, under Gen. Brocklehurst, drove the Boers back a considerable distance and disabled a gun.

"There was also fighting near Bulwana. "'Our loss altogether is eight killed and about twenty wounded. Ninetyeight Dundee wounded have arrived. They were sent here Saturday; all are doing well.

LADYSMITH ENTIRELY SAFE. "The positon here is now believed to be entirely safe. It has been greatly strengthened during the last 24 hours. The people have deserted their dwellings and are living in bomb-proof places, safe from shell fire. There is plenty of good stores of all kinds.

"'Capt. Knapp and Lieut. Brabant were killed in Friday's action.'
"The foregoing is an exact copy of a press censor telegram brought here by a Kaffir runner. There is no other official news."

BRILLIANT SORTIES. Last night's welcome dispatches from the front have rent the veil of gloom enveloping Ladysmith, showing the British garrison not merely standing on the dogged defensive, but executing a series of brilliant sorties. Accounts from different sources agree that the laconic official description of Thursday's battle, as an "effective shelling of the Boer laager," was unduly modest. It appears that Gen. Sir George Stewart White, while sending a strong force of cavalry and infantry to attack the river in front of them, they were charged by the cavalry, and seem to PERISHED ALMOST TO A MAN. The British then returned to Ladysmith, without coming into touch with the Colenso garrison, which had retired to Esteourt. Sunday's dispatch from Estcourt, however, showed that an from Estcourt, the Boers on Thursday armored train had been sent back to Colenso to repair the line, and the next agreed to this on condition that they news may possibly be the restoration of communication with Ladysmith. While the British forces are thus seeking to wipe out the battle of Nicholson's gap, the situation inside the attack. Ladysmith, according to the report of the war office, was quite satisfactory, and it is considered Gen. White may yet completely retrieve his reputation and that his force may emerge triumphant through the ordeal it is now undergoing.

REPORT CONFIRMED.

Estcourt, Natal, Sunday, Nov. 5-10:40 p.m.—A reliable native has brought confirmatory evidence of Friday's fighting south of Ladysmith. A reconnoissance in force was made by a British division, the object being to relieve the Colenso column, which had been attacked by the Boers. The British infantry charged the Boers, who were strongly posted on Globerskloof Hill, and drove them down on the plain towards the Tugela River, when the British cavalry, executing a fine flank movement, charged the Boers, almost annihilating them. The plain was strewn with slain Boers.

COLENSO. An armored train went over the Tugela bridge, and found Colenso intact, and also found the road and railway bridges strong. An Orange Free State force was sighted six miles from Colenso, on the Ladysmith side. It was supposed to have been engaged with the British forces from Ladysmith, Thursday. The Boers suffered heavily.

It is rumored that the Natal Dutch took part in the engagement, siding with the invading Boers. The enemy bombarded Colenso on Thursday until sunset, at the extreme range of nine centimeter Krupp guns. It is a fact that Gen. Joubert drew in his line, and that the Boers now have only outposts at Colensa have only outposts at Colenso.

BOERS MOURNING. Runners are bringing the names of the Boers who were killed and wounded outside Ladysmith, and their re-ports have caused much mourning among the relatives. A general Boer advance is not thought probable. Means have been taken to secure Pietermaritzburg against any popular attack, and also to relieve Ladysmith before the enemy can come further.

AT MATEKING.

Cape Town, Nov. 7. - A dispatch from Kuruman, dated Friday, Nov. 3, says a dispatch ruler arrived there from Mafeking that morning announcing that Colonel Baden-Powell had captured a number of mules and horses. Fighting was occurring daily at Mafeking, all, it was added, in favor of the garrison. Natives report that Colonel Plumer's force, from Tuli, is working its way from Rhodesia, to relieve Mafelting. London, Wednesday, Nov. 8.—News has just arrived from Mafeking showing that up to Oct. 25 the Boers continued the bombardment, firing as many as 300 shells in 36 hours, though causing but little damage and wounding only four men. That day they closed in all round the town and made a determined attempt to rush it. The garrison turned out to a man and de-livered a terible rifle and Maxim fire, which speedily stampeded the Boers, BOER REPORTS.

Boer reports have reached Cape Town to the effect that on the arrival at Johannesburg of the news of the British reverse at Elandslaagte, the whole rand special police force was ent to the front with guns from Johannesburg fort, the fortress being left with only one gun and a garrison of twenty men.

The men of the 18th Hussars who were captured at Dundee, first took refuge in a Kaffir kraal, where fought stubbornly, only surrendering after four Krupp shells had exploded

A large force has been sent to reinforce Gen. Schalkburger on the Tuil border. The Boers have repaired the railway between Volksrust and New-

BOERS IN ZULULAND. Durban, Natal, Nov. 5 .- Sunday .-The Boers have invaded Ingwauvmo, Zululand, and looted and burned the public buildings and stores. The magistrate, police and other inhabitants fled toward Eshowe. London, Nov. 8.—The Daily Mail has the following from Pietermaritzburg: The progress of the Boers through Zululand is characterized by many excesses. Pomerey village is in ashes, and stores and houses have been wantonly looted.

Advices from the Orange River say it is reported that the Boers have destroyed one of the piers of Modder River bridge, and there are rumors emanating from Hopetown that an attack will be made an the Orange River

THE BRITISH REINFORCEMENTS. London, Nov. 8 .- A Cape Town dispatch says that as fast as troops land they are sent away by rail, but their destination is kept secret.

It is now virtually decided to send another division of 10,000 men to South Africa as speedily as possible. For this purpose a second and third army corps will be mobilized. The second will consist of 40,000 men, of which 10,000 will go to Africa, the rest being con-centrated at Aldershot in readiness for emergencies. The third corps, a nominal affair, will number 25,000 men, who will be used for garrison purposes at home. Thus the entire British army will virtually be mobilized, which will be an unprecedented occurrence. Glasgow, Nov. 8.-The famous Scots Greys embarked yesterday on the troopship Ranee for Africa. As they rode through the street, magnificently mounted, the Greys were cheers by enormous crowds. The docks were lined with the wives and sweethearts of the soldiers. The ship sailed amid the cheers of men and the weeping of

The Irish troops leaving Queenstown for South Africa go in high spirits, burning to have part in the relief of Gen. White, and the invasion of he Boer territories. The troopship Servia sailed at 7 o'clock Sunday morning with a large quantity of ammunition and stores. The third battalien of the King's Royal Rifles, a detachment of the Argyle and Southerland Highlanders and officers to fill the places of those killed, go by the same boat. The Catalonia also is ready to sail, with 1,000 Irish Fusiliers and Maj.-Gen. Arthur Fitzroy Hart, commanding the 6th Irish Infantry brigade.

FIELD MORTAR BATTERIES.

London, Nov. 8 .- A powerful double hattery of twelve mortars leaves Portsmouth today, obviously for the reduction of the strong Boer positions. These independent field mortar batteries are a part of the implements of the first AMERICAN LADIES THANKED. London, Nov. 8 .- Gen. Lord Wolseley, the commander-in-chief, has written trusting to the Orange River, and the Lady Randolph Churchill, thanking obstruction of railway bridges to inher for the efforts of the American her for the efforts of the American ladies in England in fitting out a hospital ship for South African waters. He says: "I am only too anxious to help you in this matter, in order to show you how eagerly our army, and, indeed, the nation, appreciates this interest American ladies take in our sick and wounded." The Maine will sail for the Cape on Nov. 25, with Lady Randolph Churchill on board.

IN RE ARBITRATION. Regarding the alleged scheme for arbitrating the Transvaal question, a semi-official dispatch has been issued at Berlin as follows: "Nothing whatever is known here of any common plan of action upon the part of Russia, France or Spain in the Transvaal tively stated that no such plans have been brought to the knowledge of the German government from any quarter whatever, and therefore it has not been in a position to reject such or similar proposals."

INTERVENTION BALKED. A St. Petersburg dispatch to an afternoon paper says: The numerous rumors that certain continental powers have been meditating some sort of a combined move to the detriment of British interests are not without foundation. A definite attempt has been made to bring about a combination between Russia, France, Germany and Spain, with the object of embarrassing Great Britain in the settlement of the Transvaal question, but the success of the movement was wrecked by the refusal of Germany to take part in the proposal. KAFFIRS ROBBED BY BOERS. Letters received by the Cologne Gazette from Johannesburg, say the Germans there indignantly repudiate the telegram to Emperor William, signed by Col. Schiel, who, they add, "in no way represents the feelings of the Germans of the Transvaal." The letters reaffirm that Kaffirs are being conveyed across the border in gangs of 1,000 to 5,000, and that the escorting Boer forces are robbing them of a considerable amount of their savings. Foreigners, it also appears, are being stopped in the streets and compelled to give up the money in their pockets. One letter concludes: "As long as the Boers are victorious, Johannesburg has nothing to fear; but if beaten the town, with all the mines, will soon cease to exist."

BOER SYMPATHIZERS IN MICHI-GAN.

Kalamazoo, Mich., with her 3,000 Hollanders and 70 Dutch churches, is a veritable hotbed of sympathy for the Boers. A meeting of a dozen of the more prominent Hollanders was held on Tuesday evening, and arranged plans for a public mass meeting of big proportions. Subscriptions will be collected for the widows and orphans of the Boers who fall in their battles against the British. The sentiment of the Holland people is that the cause of justice is on the side of the Beors.

THE BOERS' PLAN OF CAMPAIGN

Said to Have Been Drawn Up by Noted European General.

London, Nov. 8 .- The Standard's correspondent at Luxemburg gives further details of the Boer plan of campoign, which was drawn up, he asserts, by "a general of European reputation." He says:

"Dr. Leyds obtained from several generals in Germany and Belgium, as well as Holland, a series of highly interesting plans, although there is no reason to believe that the general whose plan was selected ever imagined that it would be put into execution. "The Natal portion included the seizure of the coast railway north of Dur-ban by an attack through Zululand, or by way of Greytown, and Umboti. Thus throughout Natal offensive tactics were suggested; but in the Orange Free State, the plan proposed a defensive policy, based on the strategical advantage given by the position of the Orange Free State on the flank of the railway north of De Aar Junction, and duce the British to advance with celerity through Kimberley to Bloemfon-tein, or through Mafeking and Pretoria. "The Boers are advised in the scheme not to oppose either of these move-ments in their earlier stages, but to oprate on the line of communication, namely, 150 miles from De Aar to Kimberley, and 250 miles from Kimberley to Mafeking.

"Dr. Leyds has been assured that if the Boers can hold out twelve months the European powers will intervene. It is perfectly clear, therefore, that the only way to disconcert their plans is at all costs to obtain the right to dispatch a third army to Delagoa Bay."

The Christian At the Grand.

The world and his wife were at the Grand last night to see "The Christian." The pretty theater never held a larger nor a more fashionable audience. An interesting feature of the audience was the presence of a large number of people, who, as a rule, have scruples about theaters and playacting, which only goes to show that there is a great deal in a name after all. This is not the place to discuss the merits or demerits of Hall Caine's novel. The play, however, is a decided improvement upon the book. The necessity for simplifying the story and for giving it a conventional ending, imposed by the drama has a most beneficial effect. The story becomes quite simple and natural. Glory Quayle, a beautiful girl, a clergyman's daughter, filled with vague longings for the glitter and excitement of life in the metropolis, turns her back on the true love of John Storm, a young Ang-lican clergyman. She goes to London and makes a success as a music hall singer. Her patron, Horatio Drake, a man of wealth and fashion, in whom the "instincts of a gentleman" take the place of moral principles, at first seeks to betray her, and then falls in love with her. His friend, Lord Robert Ure, a polished, shameless libertine, also pursues Glory with his addresses. Failing in his purpose he addresses. Failing in his purpose he determines to destroy her reputation. In this he succeeds. John Storm has been working as a clergyman among the poor of London, and at the same time trying to save Glory from her dissolute friends. He becomes the victim of Lord Robert's hatred. His church is sold over his head. His parishioners are turned against him. parishioners are turned against him, and become an infuriated mob seeking and become an inturiated mob seeking his life; pursued by the mob he goes in a fit of temporary madness, to Glory's room at night, intending to kill her body to save her soul. He is overcome by love, and takes her in his arms and kisses her. He leaves the room just in time to prevent Glory's being compromised in the eyes of Drake, who is brought on the scene by Lord Robert, as a part of his plan to destroy the girl's reputation. At the last, Drake, ennobled by a pure love, restores Storm's church to him, and gives his blessing to the marriage of Storm and Glory.

The prologue, which is placed on the Isle of Man, and brings the story up to the time of Glory's leaving for London; and the first act, which takes place in the saloon of the music hall on the night of Glory's first success, have some excellent passages, but up to that point the part of Glory is rather trying to Miss Effie Ellsler. It was not till near the close of the second act that Miss Ellsler captured her audience. With greater intensity, she might have done so at the close of the first act, when Drake forces his kisses upon Glory, and in the bit of splendid declamation that follows. In the second and third acts, however, Miss Ellsler proved herself a really powerful emotional actress. When choking back her tears with mocking laughter, she turned to leave the church, stooping for a moment to kiss Storm's priestly gown that hung by the door, the play of emotions was intense, and powerful, and their transi-tions perfect. From that time forward Miss Ellsler had control of her audi-

It was just to their taste. a year since he traveled over the same territory before, and there were many evidences of progress and increased prosperity to be noticed on every side. Speaking of his trip Mr. Shaughnessy sand: It was just an ordinary business journey, and apart from the satisfactory condition of affairs generally, both as regarded the railway company and the population of the Northwest, there was nothing of interest to mention. The shipments of ore from the British Columbia mining district had not been quite as large of late as might have been expected, but the develop-ment of the mines had progressed steadily, and no doubt the shipments would increase in a short time. Toronto, Nov. 8.-The car famine has taken a novel turn. Through the inability to obtain cars necessary to move the unprecedented amount traffic, two of the important roads in the Northwest have stopped all soliciting of freight and passenger business, have called in their traveling freight and passenger agents, and put them at work hunting up cars to handle the business. The cry for more cars is heard from every quarter and business is piling up at freight depots everywhere from New York to San Francisco and from Canada to the gulf.

BRAIN FOOD.

Is of Little Benefit Unless It Is

Digasted. Nearly everyone will admit that as a nation we eat too much meat and too little of vegetables and the grains. For business men, office men and clerks, and in fact everyone engaged in sedentary or indoor occupations, grains, milk and vegetables are much more healthful. Only men engaged in a severe outdoor manual labor can live on a heavy meat diet and continue in health. As a general rule, meat once a day is sufficient for all classes of men, women and children, and grains, fruit and vegetables should constitute the bulk of food eaten. But many of the most nutritious foods are difficult of digestion, and it is of no use to advise brain workers to eat largely of grains and vegetables, when the digestion is too weak to assimilate them properly.

It is always best to get the best results from our food that some simple and harmless digestive should be taken after meals to assist the relaxed digestive organs, and several years ex-perience have proven Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets to be a very safe, pleasant and effective digestive, and a remedy which may be taken daily with the best results. Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets can hardly be called a patent medicine, as they do not act on the bowels or any particular organ, but only on the food exten. London, Nov. 8.—An air of relief was observable among the British war office officials today as a result of the reassuring news from Ladysmith, and the tone of comment on the war news has assumed an optimism that lately has been absent, leading to the belief that, in addition to the brighter prospects of the beleaguered garrisons, the war office is cheered by the news of the arrival at their destination of the first transports with Gen. Clerk Embezzles $350,000 Before He Is Detected.

London, Nov. 8.—A story of embez-zlement of £70,000 comes by mail from Johannesburg. This large sum has been abstracted in the course of five years by Jonathan King, chief clearing clerk at the Standard Bank of South Africa.

According to his own confession, King opened an account with another bank in Johannesburg. He then drew checks ranging from £5,000 to £2,000 on the Standard Bank in his own favor, paying them into his own account at the other bank. Possibility of a Conflict Between Russia and Japan.

Czar and Czarina Meet the Emperor and Empress of Germany-Dividing Up the Samoan Islands.

New York, Nov. 8 .- The probability of war between Russia and Japan before the spring is discussed. Japan has a larger fleet in the east than Russia, and in pursuance of a design to acquire Corea and thwart Russia's Chinese schemes before the completion of the Trans-Siberian Railroad, may make war. The London Daily Mail, commenting on the report, says: "Japan knows that her time for striking is now or in the forthcoming spring. That is to say, she must assail Russia before the completion the Trans-Siberian Railway, while the hands of France are tied by the Paris exposition. If Japan takes the opportunity, war is likely to have but one result. Russia was never more heavily handicapped, while Japan has never been better prepared. We have before pointed out the strict neutrality of the Russians, and at the present moment it is by no means due to friendship for England. With the German emperor's visit to England to occupy Russia in the west, and with the activity of Japan in the east, Russia is hardly ready to adopt the suggestions of Dr. Leyds at the present moment. it is for this reason that the threaten-ed intervention for which the French worked so vigorously a week or two ago is falling out of view."

Once the declining years of life are reached, the sap of youth begins to flow more slowly, and soon to dry up. The muscles grow soft and weak, the nerves lose their tone, and a general weakening of the vital forces sets in. This is the Process of Decay. Can we This is the Process of Decay. Can we

Dr. Arnold's English Toxin Pills contain all the substances required to build up new bone and tissue. They renew the vital forces, retard the gradprocess of decay, give firmness to the relaxing muscles, strength to the weakening bones, tone to the unstrung nerves, and stimulate every organ to a proper and naturally vigorous performance of its duties.

For aged people, persons who are recovering from fevers, or from other debilitating diseases, Dr. Arnold's English Toxin Pills are the best and strongest prop and restorative obtainable. A single dose is enough to prove this. They prevent relapse, generate fresh energy, store up vitality and build new, firm tissues rapidly, while purifying the blood and ridding the system of all disease germs.

The War Situation.

The news from South Africa wears a brighter aspect. It may be found that the Boers have done their best, and that the British will now not only hold what they have, but, with the arrival of additional troops, execute a few flank movements of their own. We rather suspect the invincible ignorance of the Boers, in thinking themselves capable of "licking the British Empire," and their fanaticism, in thinking themselves bullet-proof, have already received a considerable check. A few sharp reverses may take a good deal of the bounce out of them. The general effect of the news today is Interesting, as well as encouraging for the British. From this time onward the dispatches will be apt to grow more Interesting; and, while one must be prepared for ups and downs in war, We expect the general result to be a steady gain, week by week, for the us the efforts of those interested in British arms.

A Splendid Example.

Sir William Macdonald's munificent cheme of manual training-not technical education, as we stated by a slip of the pen-has received enthusiastic recognition by the press. Ottawa and Brockville, the Ontario headquarters of the experiment, are to be specially congratulated, but the whole Dominion will eventually share the benefit. The general adoption in this country of manual training and technical education has been only a matter of time, but the movement will be hastened by Sir William Macdonald's practical example. Public spirit needed the great mass of the people having just such an incentive.

Sir William's scheme, as explained by Professor Robertson, is to equip and, for three years, maintain, as many centers as are required to give all the boys between the ages of 9 and 14 in the public schools of Ottawa, Brock- labor in London will say to those who wille and the other chosen cities, an have so magnificently stood by them, opportunity to receive training in wood and iron work, under skilled instruction. Half a day or more in each week is to be devoted to this branch. The Ottawa Journal says this plan is already in force in three thousand British and Irish schools, so there can be no doubt of its practicality. Thoroughly experienced teachers will be brought from Great Britain and the United States, and it is also proposed to send several teachers from Canada to Europe to take a course of training there. With such agencies at work it is safe to say that before long manual training will become an integral part of our school system. This will lay the groundwork for a comprehensive system of technical education, in which private philanthropy can do much to stimulate and supplement public enterprise.

Michigan Men Bring Suit.

A case of great public interest opened at Osgoode Hall on Monday. Action is brought by a number of Michigan lumbermen, through the Bank of Commerce, to test the constitutionality of the act passed by the Ontario Legislature requiring all timber cut on Ontario Crown Lands to be manufactured in this Province before being exported. The Michigan lumbermen, who now bring suit, purchased certain timber limits in 1872 and 1885, and claim that they should not be bound by the manufacturing clause, but that their licenses should be renewed in the old form. The Crown, on the other hand, points out that the timber limits were sold on the condition, expressly stated in the licenses, that the purchasers should be subject to any regulations which the Crown Lands Department might afterwards impose. The manufacturing clause, the public will remember, was inserted by the Government as an answer to the Dingley Bill, which raised a tariff of $2 per thousand feet against Ontario lumber, with the manifest purpose of compelling Ontario sawlogs to be rafted to Michigan for manufacture, Instead of being sawn into lumber in this Province. The Michigan owners of Ontario timber limits denounced the new Ontario law as confiscation, and alleged that it would ruin them by depreciating the value of their timber holdings here. This is the basis of their action to overturn the law. There is no ground whatever for believing that their allegation of financial loss is true. There is every evidence that it is not true. The other day, at a Crown Lands sale in Toronto, a number of Michigan lumbermen paid the highest prices for timber limits, subject to the very conditions which the suppliants in the present case are railing against. One of the witnesses on Monday was Mr. Aubrey White, Deputy Commissioner of Crown Lands for Ontario. The following colloquy ensued:

Mr. Blake (Crown Counsel)-There have been sales of timber since the new regulations have been in force. What did those three townships which were sold on October 24 last fetch? Mr. White-Six hundred and sixty odd thousand dollars, I think.
"Was that not as good a sale as you

"A better average, I think."
"The same regulations were enforcod?"

"Yes." Mr. Scott (Counsel for suppliants)-Would those berths not have sold for more if the regulations in question had not been enforced?"

Mr. White-I don't know. This shows pretty conclusively that the Miohigan industry at the expense of our own.

Compulsory Arbitration.

The Advertiser is asked how compulsory arbitration in cases where public franchises are involved could become the law of the land. In reply we may say that a short clause added to the present Ontario Act would do the business. The present arbitration law seems to be a good one, so far as it goes. It provides for the subnession of labor disputes to arbitrators selected in the usual manner, each side being equally represented by men of their own choosing. And, a very important point, it provides that the evidence may be taken under oath, so that the public would have the advantage of being furnished with the undoubted facts pro and con. But the defect of the Act is that no provision is made for compelling acceptance of the decision, however just, that may be arrived at, as in New Zealand. It is this omission that should be rectified at the next meeting of the Ontario Legislature. To the rectification of this omission, and to the election of trustworthy, non-partisan municipal representatives, it seems to organized labor should now be chiefly directed. Had there been a compulsory arbitration law on the statute book six months ago, the street railway strike that broke out shortly after would not have lasted a month at the longest. It is the interest of London to provide as much as possible against such strikes in the future, or, at least, for their being of short duration. And that which is the interest of London is as much the interest of every other place where traffic facilities have been granted over public streets. With a compulsory arbitration law in force, London would have a double security; for it would have also the security that comes from united in a manner never before witnessed on the American continent to teach a lesson to a presuming alien millionaire, who managed to get hold of the franchise of our streets. The time will doubtless come when organized that they will not ask them longer to continue the sacrifices that have for so considerable a period been made, the more so, as a significant lesson in the

GEN.SYMONS' WOUND

New York World's Story of How the Brave General Met His Death.

A London dispatch to the New York World says: The true story of how Gen. Sir William Penn Symons got his mortal wound at the battle of Glencoe is known at the war office here, but has not yet been told in the English press. It is an open secret in official circles.

The extreme vagueness of the accounts published plainly suggested that full information was being kept back, and the World correspondent succeeded in unearthing the mystery. Gen. Symons, who was in command of the British forces at Glencoe, was trying to drive the Boers from the hills they had seized. Accompanied by his staff, he was watching the action from the shelter of a clump of trees-a target such as the Boer sharpshooters delight in, but their bullets fell short. As the action grew hot, and the British force was suffering badly, Gen. Symons ordered the Dublin Fusiliers

At Port Hope on Sunday the evaporating establishment of D. I. Hamlink was completely destroyed by fire. Loss probably $4,000, with no insurance. Hamlink had a large quantity of evaporated goods ready for shipment. Alexander McTavish's residence at

Palmyra was burglarized Sunday night while the family were at church. About $32 was the amount the marauders received, consisting of $27 of A. O. U. W. funds and the rest church funds. No A bold robbery occurred Sunday evening at St. Thomas. The residence sacque, two diamond rings, a black sack coat, and a purse containing $6 were taken. There was considerable money in the house, which the burglars failed to locate.

Application was made in the divisional court, Toronto, Monday, to quash an order by the county judge, of Essex under which T. A. Davies, a United States horseman, was arrested at the instance of Sol White, of Windsor, on a capias charging that he was leaving Canada to escape payment of a debt of $200. It seems that White gave Davies the right to run a horse of his named Sidney Bender at the Oakley track, in the State of Oak, The barres was salved and held on a light horse was seized and sold on a judg-ment, and White demanded that Davies so, and was arrested at Windsor. He

George Gott, collector of customs at Amherstburg for the past fifteen years, celebrated his golden wedding Monday. He received many handsome presents from members of his family, and a magnificent gold watch from his many friends who came in contact with him in business. The presentation was made by John A. Auld, M.P.P. Mr. Gott is considered one of the oldest members of the Masonic order in Western Ontario.

WEEKLY REVIEW. The receipts of grain have been moderately good, taking the whole week into consideration. The quantity offered each day varied, and prices of some lines were easily affected, principally hay, oats and hogs, in all shapes. Wheat was firm, sales ranging from $1 10 to $1 12 for good.

Oats opened at 82c to 85c, and closed at 82c to 88c; demand good. Barley brought 75c to 80c; mostly 78c to 80c. No rye or beans offered.

One or two small lots of buckwheat sold at 90c to $1, and a small load of Flin corn at 75c. was scarce; some days there most none in; $10 to $11 is about its due today.

Dressed and live hogs were both easier, and young pigs slow of sale.

TORONTO, Nov. 7.—There were two special features of the western cattle market today—a drop of 25 per cent in lambs and 12½c per cwt in hogs. Cat-tle continued about the same in prime, but slower of sale; the run was larger than any day last week; there all 57 loads, representing 1,000 cattle, 100 sheep and lambs, and 1,200 hogs. Export cattle—This branch was very active; a few loads were fered, but buyers displayed no desire to purchase; a few loads sold about $40 to $45. Butchers' cattle—Good cattle were very scarce, and sold at a fair price, $4 to $4 10 for really choice stock; most of the stock offered sold for much less. Feeders-A fair trade was done; heavy feeders sold at $3 50 to $3 75, and light $3 to $3 25. Stockers—Not very active; most of the stock is sold out at prices ranging from $2 25 to $3 25. Bulks—Feeding bulls sold at $2 60 to $3, and light stock bulls at $2 to $2 50 per cwt; light bulls for Buffalo were slow of sale at $1.75 to $2 per cwt. Sheep and lemba $1 75 to $2 per cwt. Sheep and lambs -Market was 25 per cent weaker in who have raised the money necessary lambs; sheep ruled about the same. Hogs—Another drop of 12½c per cwt all round; best weights sold at $4 12½ per cwt, but the feeling is that the market will soon drop another 1/2c a pound

CHICAGO, Nov. 8 .- Cattle-Receipts. 16,000; best natives steady to prime; others easy; range cattle strong; canners steady; cows and heifers strong; feeders unchanged; beeves, $4.30 to $6.75; cows and heifers, $1.75 to $5; Texas grass steers, $3 95 to $4 20; Texas fed steers, $4 50 to $4 90; stockers and feeders, $3 to $4 50; west-erns, $4 to $5 25; canners, $1 75 to $2 95. Second and Third Army Corps To Be Mobilized,

Says the London Mail-The Action Is Unprecedented.

London, Nov. 8 .- The Mail prints a has decided to immediately mobilize the second and third army corps and send 10,000 additional men to South Africa without delay. The second corps, which is roughly estimated at 40,000, will be mobilized and sent to Aldershot. The third corps will not exceed 25,000, as the 10,000 men above referred to are in this division.

DOUBTFUL. It is impossible to say how far the foregoing statements are accurate.

The Daily News confirms them 'from official sources," to the extent that preparations are being made for the forwarding and summoning of further reserves numbering 11,000. The News says: "Of course a division may not be required, but the authorities are quite right in making preparations, especially after Lord Wolseley's speech on Monday. The cost of transporting the men would not be very heavy, as the transports have already been hired for three months. It is believed that by the time the new division is mobilized the first transports will have landed the troops in South Africa, and will be on the way back to England."

Talk and Heredity.

There is a strong fiber of common sense and shrewdness in the negro character which often helps the old colored people to keep the too ambitious young folk within bounds. Gen. Nichols, of Louisiana told the other day of the return to a plantation gray old negro, interposed, solemnly: "I've been listenin' to yoh, Odolphus, foh two days, an' yoh talk, but yoh doan' reach into de stomach ob yoh subject; an' yoh argufy an' yoh argufy, but yoh doan' locate!'

Many orators with lighter skins and more pretentions than Adolphus could apply these homely hints to their arguments with good effect, Another wise old "uncle" lately listened in silence to a disucssion on the divers social claims to distinction of several educated men and women of his race. The members of one family boasted of descent from wealthy merchants in the West Indies; others claimed kinship with well-known politicians; still others asserted that their ancestors never had been slaves, but

Matrimonial.

HARLEY-HOARE.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Hoare, of 114 Simcoe street, was the scene of a very pretty wedding this afternoon, when their daughter Clara was united in marriage to Mr. Frank E. Harley, traveler for the London Lumber Company. The wedding was a very quiet one, only the immediate friends being present. The bride was attired in white organdy, and was assisted by her sister, Miss Jennie, while Mr. Harry Hagley supported the groom. Ven. Archdeacon Davis, of St. James' Church, South London, officiated, and after the ceremony the guests retired to the dining-room, where a dainty wedding breakfast was served. Numerous and costly presents evidenced the esteem in which the young couple are held. Mr. and Mrs. Harley have left for a trip to eastern cities, and will receive on the 22nd, 23rd and 24th of this month at their new home, 198 Richmond

GRIERSON-WHEATON. A very pretty wedding occurred last evening at the residence of Mr. A. Currie, 371 Central avenue, when Mr. John Grierson, of this city, was united in marriage to Miss Bertha Wheaton, of Thedford. Rev. D. Stuart, of Guelph. tied the nuptial knot before a large gathering of relatives and friends, including some from Guelph and Thedford. During the evening congratulatory telegrams were received from friends of the bride in Detroit. esteem in which the young couple is held was amply testified by the num-ber and value of the wedding gifts.

Obituary.

MR. PATRICK TYNAN. An aged and well-known citizen passed away this morning in the person of Mr. Patrick Tynan, at the city hospital. He had been suffering for some time with Bright's disease. Mr. Tynan was born near Cashel, Tipperary county, Ireland, in 1829, and spent much of his life in the British army as a band-master. With the 2nd Bengal Fusiliers he served in Burmah in 1853-54, and participated in the siege and capture of Delhi in 1857. He was also in other engagements during the Indian mutiny, including the battle of Badukeleiai. In 1860 he enlisted in the 16th Foot, and from that regiment was transferred to the Royal Canadian Rifles, from which he obtained his discharge at Kingstor in 1870. Prior to that he saw service during the Fenian raid. By his service at Delhi he won the Indian medal and clasp, and could also show a number of scars from wounds received on that memorable occasion. On his retirement Mr. Tynan came to London, and for a number of years was a member of the 7th Battalion Band. Of late he suffered much through illness. He leaves a widow and three daughters-Mrs. Billinghurst, of Buffalo; Miss Clara, at home, and Miss Lizzie, of Buffalo. The funeral will take place Friday morning from his late residence, 649 Richmond street, to St. Peter's Cathedral, thence to the Catholic cemetery.

TOMORROW NIGHT'S PERFORM. ANCE.

The new comedy-drama "Parson Jim," will be seen here at the Grand tomorrow night. "Parson Jim" is a domestic comedy-drama. It is full of genuine and thrilling heart interest, with some intensely dramatic situations. Jim Fairchild, or, as he is called, Parson Jim, is a shipbuilder. Much of the action of the play takes place on the sea coast near Gloucester, Mass. The story hinges on Jim's intense devotion to his foster sister, who has fallen into the hands of an unscrupulous young man of society from Boston. "Parson Jim" will be pre-sented here with the entire original production, including the special spectacular features designed for its New

"A COLONIAL GIRL." 'A Colonial Girl," the new play which Daniel Frohman's company is announced to present at the Grand next Tuesday, was one of the most pronounced of last year's successes at the New York Lyceum, where it had a long run. Howard Gould has been engaged to take the leading character in the road production. Mr. Gould will be remembered as the excellent actor 'The Prisoner of Zenda," a character which he assumed with great success. The rest of the cast is made up of last year's "The Prisoner of Zenda" company, and some of the actors who appeared with Sothern in "A Colonial

Gen. White's Blows Have Telling Effect.

Indications of the Main Advance of Keep the Boers Four Miles Away From Ladysmith.

London, Nov. 8 .- Allowing for all exaggerations, Gen. White appears to have given Gen. Joubert's forces several home thrusts, and the war office justified its contention today, that the news demonstrates clearly that Gen. White is able to more than merely hold his own, and can strike

ALLEGED BOER TREACHERY. It is hoped that the renewed charges of Boer violations of the sanctity of the white flag originated in the lively imagination of the Kaffirs. Though similar charges have several times been reiterated during the present campaign, and though official accounts report similar practices in the former Transvaal war, there has not been any mention of such actions thus far in any of the official reports received from Gen. White and Gen. Yule, who would surely formally remonstrate against such conduct of the part of the Boers. One of the most important items today is that Gen. French is going to Cape Town. This is taken as a confirmation of the statement already made by the Associated Press that the MAIN ADVANCE OF THE BRITISH FORCES will be through the open flat country of the Orange Free State and the southwestern part of the Transvaal. Otherwise so skillful a leader as Gen. French would hardly have been withdrawn from Ladysmith at the present time of stress. There is much speculation regarding THE NEXT BOER MOVE. It seems clear that it will be impossible for them to closely invest Ladysmith, owing to the fortunate arrival of the long range naval guns, which keep the Boers at least four miles off. making the circle of investment about 25 miles in circumference, which, it is claimed, it will be impossible for the Boer force to fully occupy. It is beyond belief, however, that Gen. Joubert will remain long inactive, and it is conjectured here that his present quiescence is due to the fact that he is awaiting the arrival of heavy guns from Pretoria, and Johannesburg, to effectually bombard and render unten-

Ocean Lampposts That Guide Mariners Through the Swin Deep at the Thames' Mouth.

[London Mail.]

Mariners about our English coasts have the sea marked out for them into roads and streets as definite and obvious as Piccadilly or the Strand. It is only by extreme negligence or by an absolute unforeseen combination of adverse circumstances that a ship can lose its way nowadays when it is within twenty or thirty miles of the English coast. The greatest sea road in the whole world is the Swin Deep, at the mouth of the Thames. It is not too much to say that every foot of it is surveyed and marked down on the chart. It is lighted more completely than many city thoroughfares, and to the sailor it is more homelike and familiar than the Comercial road or the Whitechapel High street.

Down this great high road of the sea much of the trade of the world is carried. Ships from the farthest parts of the world patrol it day and night an endless procession, bringing goods to London or taking English products to distant lands. As the traveler steams down the Thames between the low mud reaches beyond Gravesend, his first glimpses of the wonderful system of lights which guides the ships is obtained at Southhead. A red light shines out over the water, and it is a warning that the river journey is nearly finished and that Swin street is near at hand.

Tom Hood immortalized the Nore in a poem called the "Little Buoy at the Nore," but he had nothing to say about one of the most famous of our English lightships. The "Nore light," as the sailors call it, is at the very entrance to the great highway. It shows a white light, which revolves every half-minute.

Every lighthouse and lightship has its own particular and distinguishable system of signaling its name. For example, the next light in Swin street is seven miles from the Nore, and is called the "Mouse" light.
In order that there may be no confusion between the two ships, the Mouse ship shows a green light, which revolves every twenty seconds, and which is visible for exactly ten miles. It is also provided with a foghorn, which is blown by compressed air, and is said to have the most unpleasant voice in the whole channel. These lightships provide the principal illuminations of Swin street. In daytime each one carries a cone of iron bars of different shapes in the place where the lamp is hoisted at night, and, moreover, the name of the ship is painted upon its side in colossal white letters.

One of the most powerful and curious lights in Swin street is known as the Maplin light. It is at the edge of the dangerous flat known as the Map-

There are many of these "occulting" lights in Swin street, and it is often a welcome sight to see one of them flash out of the dark, explaining with absolute certainty the exact position of the ship in the channel. The smallest lights of all the many colored illumina-tions are those at the head of the buoys which mark out the various safe passages for ships. These burn night and day, and the light is oduced from ordinary gas. The great suoys many of them from fifteen to twenty feet high—are hollow and filled with gas, which burns continually from a his deepest tone. Jolland felt a difficulty in explaining that he had done so because he wished to avoid eating it, and with a view to interring it later on in the playground; he preferred silence.

"Shall I tell you why you did it?"
thundered the doctor. "You did it because you were scheming to obtain a second portion—because you did not feel yourself able to eat both portions at your leisure here, and thought to put by a part to devour in secret at a future time. of being detected in such an act. It was a solemn warning to him of the dangers he was exposed to hourly while he lingered within those walls; but his position was still more strongly prought home to him by the terrible discovery he made shortly afterward. He was alone in the school-room, for the others had all gone down into the playground, except Jolland, who was confined in one of the class-rooms below, when the thought come over him to test the truth of Dick's hint about name cut on the doctor's writing-

He stole up to it guiltily, and, lifting the slanting desk which stood there, examined the surface below. Dick had been perfectly correct. There it was, glaringly fresh and distinct, not large, but very deeply cut, and fearfully legible, "R. Bultitude." It might have been done that day. Dick had probably performed it out of bravado, or under the impression that he was not going to return after the holidays.

The younger boys came up from the lower class-room and were sent out to play; the doctor shortly afterward dismissed his own class to follow them, and Paul and his companions had the room to themselves. He sat there with his slate before him, hearing, half-unconsciously, the shouts, laughter and ring of feet com-ing up from the darkness outside, and the faint notes of a piano, which filtered through the double doors from one of the rooms, where a boy was practicing Haydn's "Surprise," from Hamilton's exercise book—a surprise which he rendered as a mildly interjec-

How Canada Rose to the War Emergency.

Trade in the Upper Lakes-A Wise Or dinance and Unwise Abuse.

Ottawa, Nov. 4.—The Sardinian has sailed, and by the time this letter appears in print the Royal Canadian comtingent, our spontaneous and hearty contribution to the defenses of the empire, will be well out upon the high The extraordinary national enthusiasm—absolutely spontaneous and universally manifested from Victoria to Halifax-grew in intensity as the preparations for departure proceeded, and the wild scenes which marked the entraining of the detachments as they started from the various local points for Quebec, were repeated and culminated in the final outburst of delirious patriotism as the good ship weighed nachor and started down the river. The great facts that will stand out in the history of the last four weeks are kept them concealed so long. When that Canada was ready when her aid was needed by the motherland; that they did come to light, he knew, from was needed by the motherland; that what he had seen of the doctor, that the government was so thoroughly prepared for all emergencies that the thousand men required were gathered from all corners of the Dominion, and the expedition under way, nearly two days earlier than required or expected by the imperial war office; that every detail of equipment was thoroughly attended to, and every dollar required cheerfully provided, while tens of thousands more in money and in goods poured in on every side to provide for every possible requirement from life insurance to tobacco; that the difficulty with the recruiting officers from start to finish was not to find the men, but to select from the superabundance of excellent material eagerly offering for enlistment: that English and French, Scotch and Irish, vied with one another for the honor of being in the thousand; possible. and that with the English speaking commanding officer and his first lieutenant, the third man in authority on the contingent was a representative French-Canadian, of whom Major-Gen. Hutton declared "that he had not met any officer under his command who had a greater aptitude for leading men than Col. Pelletier." Remembering all this it is not difficult to appreciate the truth of the remark made by Sir Louis Davies the other day in England when, in the course of a speech before the London Chamber of Commerce, he declared "that Canada was prepared to send ten thousand men if necessary for the defense of the empire." TRADE ON THE UPPER LAKES. The outburst of indignation which was aroused a couple of weeks ago, in opposition quarters by the announcement that an order-in-council had been passed suspending for the balance of the season the regulation which prevented American vessels from trading between Canadian ports is an excellent instance of the hasty manner in which the actions of the government are criticised on general principles and without the slightest regard to the merits or demerits of the particular case under consideration. The facts are simply that for some years past the great bulk of the Manitoba wheat crop shipped from Fort William and Port Arthur for export has been goto the Atlantic seaboard by way of Buffalo and New York. During the season of navigation last year, that is from April 24 to Sept. 10, 1898, the shipment of wheat for export from those places aggregated 4,861,000 bushels. Of this total 4,302,000 went east via tor came in, looking at his watch, and Buffalo, that going by Montreal being said: "I think these boys have had only 559,000 bushels; in other words, for every bushel of export wheat sent to Europe by way of Montreal, eight went by way of Buffalo. This diversion of traffic to American railways and seaports obviously means a heavy loss to Canadian interests, and the question of how to divert the traffic, or a more reasonable proportion of it, into Canadian channels, has long been one of some importance.

AN URGENT DEMAND FOR THE

CHANGE. For three or four years past various boards of trade, led by those of Mon-treal and Winnipeg, have urged upon the government the neccessity of just such steps as have now been taken, and a special committee of the former board in 1896 emphatically declared that a division of the traffic was chiefly owing to the lack of Ontario lake tonnage towards the close of the season, when grain is offering, the consequence being that a large proportion of the crop of Manitoba is shipped to Buffalo, that port thus becoming a storage point for cargoes of Manitoba, whereas such should be conveyed to be exported during the winter by Canadian seaports. In the same year (1896) the Montreal board recommended that "Pending the increase of Canadian tonnage until it is equal to the requirements of the trade originating at Fort William, American vessels be permitted to load wheat at Fort William for Canadian ports for export." The Winnipeg Corn Exchange recently made a strong recommendation to the same effect.

No possible loss can result to Canadian boats, inasmuch as they have al-ready contracted for all the business they can possibly handle to the close of navigation, and one is therefore for-cibly reminded of the dog in the manger, by the action of the marine sec-tion of the Toronto Board of Trade in ger, protesting against the concession which has been granted, a concession which cannot hurt Canadian lake shipping to the extent of a single dollar while it will put a large amount of business in the hands of Canadian railways and Canadian seaports which has hitherto gone though American

MONTREAL STAR METHODS

Readers All Over Canada Should Bear This in Mind.

The New York Evening Post has a special correspondent in London who signs his name to his dispatches, and the Star also publishes these dispatches, it appears, but without the name of the sender attached. Now, every honest man in Canada knows that the motherland isp roud of her colonies sending assistance to the Transvaal, and the London correspondent to the Post notes that feeling in a paragraph. What he sent is given as it appeared in the Post, but the Star, in violation of all rules of honor, truth or decent journalism, changes the dispatch to suit its purpose, and puts into the dispatch something that was never sent. Read:

Montreal Star, Oct. 28: "They see each British colony insisting upon sending its contingent to the tront at its own expense, except Canada, whose government wants Britain to pay its troops. The others are almost angry because they are not allowed to send

Now, there is a dispatch cooked by the interpolation of a downright false-hood, but it is put in there to make Canadian people believe that the Motherland is displeased with Canada. Was a more villainuous piece of deception ever perpetrated? What do the people think of such tactics? What confidence can be placed in a journal that will descend to such methods in order to make what it knows is false, appear true? It is disgusting and a disgrace to Canadian journalism, and every self-respecting member of the profession should show his disapproval of such knavery.-Brockville Recorder.

Berlin, Ont., Nov. 8.-A sad accident occurred here yesterday at C. H. Dorr & Co.'s biscuit and confectionery establishment. Hugo Knell, aged 21, son of H. Knell, ex-councilor for the north ward, was coming down the elevator, when the cable broke, and all went down to the bottom with a crash. Knell struck a beam, fracturing and crushing his skull in a frightful man-ner. He never regained consciousness, dying in the afternoon.

Minneapolis, Nov. 8.—The elevator in the Phoenix building, one of the largest structures in the city, fell five stories Monday afternoon when filled with passengers. Ten persons were injured, geveral of them seriously. The names of the injured follow: C. B. Traflon, L. Armstrong, Garvey Donaldson, J. H. Tallmadge, sen., W. H. Place, Arthur Fredenburg, Edwin Lindahl, Charles B. Marvin, J. H. Tallmadge, jun., and an unknown woman. The most severe injuries are broken legs, and it is thought all the victims will recover.

GUN ACCIDENT. Toronto, Nov. 8 .- While Bert Kilner, 203 Jarvis street, and C. Krauss, 262 College avenue, were out duck-shooting on the bay yesterday morning, Kilner laid down his gun at full-cock while he rowed a few strokes to secure a better position. The oar struck the gun and both barrels went off, the charge shattering Kilner's knee-cap and blowing the little finger off his right hand. He will be permanently lame, but amputation may be avoided. CAUGHT IN THE MACHINERY. Toronto, Nov. 8. - John Jenkins, machinist, residing at 77 Palmerston avenue, while engaged repairing some machinery in the printing house of Warwick & Rutter yesterday, was caught in the shaft and badly crushed. His head was battered against the ma-chinery. Jenkins, although dangerously hurt, will probably recover.

GLASS IN HER THROAT. Hamilton, Nov. 8. - Mrs. Barett, No. 64 West avenue, nearly lost her life the other night, a piece of a lamp chimney getting in her throat, and almost choking her. Her throat was badly cut. The glass fell into some apple-sauce when the chimney broke, and Mrs. Barrett did not notice it at the time.

FATAL ACCIDENT AT SARNIA. Sarnia, Ont., Nov. 8 .- A shocking accident happened at the north end of Christina street Monday evening, by which a young man named Wm. Smith lost his life. He was employed by Mr. McIntosh, of Brigden, who was engaged moving a house from Point Edward to the fourth ward. Nine teams of horses were attached to the building and deceased was driving the team nearest to the moving house. He was sitting on the wagon truck at the time, and in some manner lost his balance and fell in front of the moving wheels. Canadian lake ports, whence it could The men who saw him fall tried to stop the horses, but it was too late, as the heavy wheels passed over the young man's body and crushed his life out. He expired in a few minutes after the mishap. Deceased was aged 22 years and came here from Brigden. The remains were taken to deceased's home in Brigden.

Wornout Nerves.

So Weak She Couldn't Sleep or Work -Hands Trembled-Restored by Using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

Mrs. Margaret Iron. Tower Hill, N. B., writes: "Dr. Chase's Nerve Food has done me a world of good. I was so weak that I could not walk twice the length of the house. My hands trembled so I could not carry a pint of water. I was too nervous to sleep, and was unable to do work of any

"Since using five boxes of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food I have been completely restored. I can walk a mile without any inconvenience. Though 76 years old and quite fleshly I do my own house work and considerable sewing, knitting and reading. Dr. Chase's Nerve Food has proved of inestimable value to me.' Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is the world's greatest restorative for pale, weak nervous men, women and children. 50 cents a box, at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

Agony Eczema.

Couldn't sleep at night with the torture.

Eczema, or Salt Rheum as it is often called, is one of the most agonizing of skin diseases, nothing but torture during the day and twofold torture at night.

But there's a remedy permanently cures the worst kind of Eczema relieves the itching, burning and smarting and soon leaves the skin smooth and healthy. It is Burdock Blood Bitters.

Mrs. Welch, Greenbank, Ont., tried it and here is what she says: "B.B.B. cured me of Eczema three years ago and I have had no return of it since. I was so bad that I could not sleep at night

"Being told of B.B.B. I tried it, and two bottles made a perfect and permanent cure."

MEDICAL BOARD INCREASED

The hospital trust met at Col. Lewis' office yesterday afternoon and continued the revision of the bylaws. A few unimportant changes were made. Drs. Belton, McDonald, J. Wilson and Teasdall were added to the medical board. Mr. Harding will be kept in the position of second engineer for a time, at least. On Friday the trust and hospital buildings committee of the council will meet to consider the opening of the new building. It is probable that a decision will be reached to change the date proposed for the opening from Dec. 15 to the end of the month. Parties furnishing rooms in the hospital find it impossible to get suitable furniture, have the wallst tinted, etc., by Dec. 15, and some of the members of the committee consider it desirable to have the building furnished as far as possible before

MR. LATCHFORD'S APPOINTMENT

The Premier and His New Colleague Congratulated.

Toronto, Nov. 8.—At the last regular meeting of Branch 49, C. M. B. A., Toronto, the following resolution was unanimously adopted:

"Whereas, the Hon. F. R. Latchford has been offered and has accepted an important portfolio in the Government of Ontario, and is now the commissioner of public works, we desire to place on record our hearty appreciation of the wisdom of the premier of the province in selecting Mr. Latchford as one of his colleagues, and to extend our congratulations to both Mr. Latchford and to Premier Ross on the selection.

"While we believe the elevation of Hon. Mr. Latchford to this important place in the administration of the province will meet with the approval of the citizens generally, his fellow-members in the Catholic Mutual Benefit Association cannot but appreciate the well-deserved honor attached to our grand sonction in his elevation to the cabi-
