Doing Good Work in Spite of the Hindrance by Fogs.

[Canadian Press.]

London, March 16.—The regular semi-weekly report on the progress of the fighting was given out today by the British authorities. It is dated March 15, and reads as follows:

"Since the last announcement of March 11, the operations in the neighborhood of Neuve Chapelle have been continued. The line captured March 10 and 11 to the east of that village has been consolidated, and held in spite of repeated efforts on the part of the enemy to retake it. During the night of March 11-12 and in the early morning of the 12th several counter-attacks to the east of Neuve Chapelle were repulsed, and sixty prisoners were captured.

Captured Lepinette.

"The same night a skillfully executed enterprise to the east of Armentieres, resulted in the capture by us of the village of Lepinette, with small loss. The possession of this village advances our lines in this quarter 300 yards on a front 300 yards wide.

"Fighting into the Neuve Chapell area was very severe March 12. A strong counter-attack by Germans in the afternoon was repulsed, and 612 more prisoners were taken. The Germans continued to deliver minor counter-attacks during the night of March 12-13, and throughout the 13th. In no case did they succeed in recapturing any of the ground they lost.

"March 14 the fighting was confined mainly to the artillery.

German Loss About 18,000.

"The prisoners in our hands taken since March 10 number 1,700, of whom 30 are officers. Judging from the number of dead counted on the ground, the total German losses during the operations from March 10 to March 13 on the Neuve Chapelle, cannot be less than 17,000 or 18,000.

"During the evening of March 14 the enemy rushed some of our trenches to the south of St. Eloi, after a heavy bombardment and the explosion of a mine. The greater part of these trenches were recaptured this morning. The fighting in this area continues.

"The royal flying corps secured further successes during the last few days, although the fog at times interfered materially with their work. March 12, the railroad junctions at Don and Douai were attacked with bombs and damaged, and on March 13 a train in the Don station was blown up."

"GHOSTS" IN FORM OF OVERDRAFTS

They Haunt Civic Legislators as Estimates Draw Near.

TODAY THE FINAL CALL

All Appropriations by Civic Departments Must Be in Shape.

Members of the finance committee of the council and of the board of control are getting ready to doff their coats, clear the decks for action and prepare to wrestle with the year's estimates. All estimates from the various spending bodies of the city were to have been in by today. Some are still unfinished but indications would point to the fact that they will all be in shape for the pruning knife immediately.

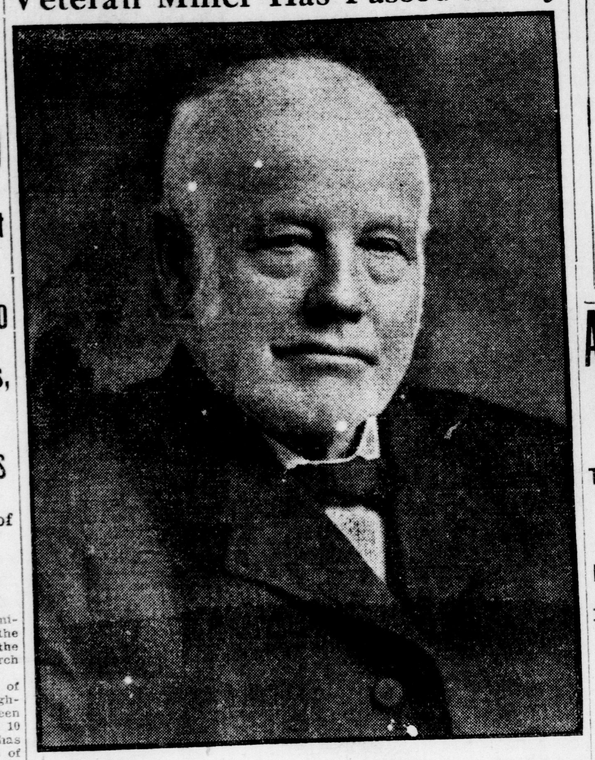

The problem of reducing the city's expenditures to a limit that will enable a lower tax rate to be struck and at the same time provide for the enormously heavy overdrafts, left as legacies by the administration of last year, is one that will give the financiers of the council an exceptionally busy time.

STAMPEDE OF HORSES

C. M. R. Mounts Get Loose and Have To Be Rounded Up.

A large number of horses belonging to the 7th C. M. R. broke out of their quarters and stampeded over the parade ground. The men turned out quickly and soon rounded the animals up and drove them back to their inclosure.

PALL OF 12,000 VIOLETS COVERS BIER OF DEAD CANADIAN WHISKY KING

Windsor, March 16.—A pall of 12,000 violets, the memorial offering of the employees of all the Walker interests, covered with a beautiful blue and green mantle the coffin of Edward Chandler Walker, distiller, in a great room of his mansion, Willistead, Walkerville, where the funeral services were held Monday afternoon.

Walkerville in all its great and little industries was silenced during the funeral. Not only the Walkerville mills, but the stores and shops, the schools and the public offices were closed for the afternoon. Like his father before him, Edward Chandler Walker had laid his impress on every phase of the development of Walkerville, and the whole city gave its testimonial of appreciation.

HUNS FLED SCREAMING AT TASTE OF CANADIAN STEEL

Others Fell On Knees and Pleaded For Mercy When the Canucks Entered Their Trench — Patent Hand-Warmers Found Among Belongings

[Special Cable to The Advertiser.]

London, March 16.—Describing how the Canadians captured the trench recently mentioned by Sir John French, Corporal John F. Bolt, of Princess Patricias, says the heroic Huns were afraid of cold steel, and fled from them screaming like little children. Others fell to their knees and pleaded for mercy, which, adds the writer, in true British fashion was granted to them.

"Just before dawn on that memorable day," he says, "we were ordered to force one of the German trenches in front of us. As we climbed over the parapet, the enemy, by means of magnesium flares, spotted us and immediately opened a withering machine-gun fire. We lost men, but on we kept, plodding through a quagmire of mud, and when we jumped over the enemy's parapet into their trenches we had to tramp over dead bodies.

"The scene was awful, though we were successful.

"In the captured trench we discovered plenty of food and clothing, and also some patent hand-warmers, which serve to show they are fairly comfortable."

MOCK OFFICER IN POLICE TOILS

Port Arthur Captures Man Wanted by Local Merchants.

GAVE WORTHLESS CHECKS

Wore Uniform and Asked the Chief For Permit To Carry Revolver.

Chief of Police W. T. T. Williams received word today from the Port Arthur authorities that J. C. Gillespie, the man who some weeks ago is alleged to have passed a number of bad checks here, had been arrested there, and was now being detained for trial.

Gillespie, using the name of Collins, passed a number of checks in Toronto and Port Arthur prior to his arrest. He is wanted in Toronto on a fraud charge.

While in this city Gillespie wore a military uniform( and posed as a United States officer, and he applied to Chief Williams for a permit to carry a revolver. His request was refused by the chief, because the man was unable to get the necessary credentials from the military authorities.

Later complaints were received at police headquarters that a number of businessmen had received bad checks from Gillespie. When the police visited the hotel where the man was staying they learned that he had left there.

NINETEEN MISSING OF DRESDEN CREW

The Auxiliary Cruiser Orama Lands Survivors at Valparaiso, Chile.

[Canadian Press.]

Valparaiso, Chile, March 16.—Nineteen members of the crew of the German cruiser Dresden, sunk off Juan Fernandez Island on Sunday by three warships, are missing. This was made known on the arrival here today of the British auxiliary cruiser Orama, having on board the survivors from the Dresden, some of whom were wounded.

SAW BUGLER KILLED

Mrs. Walter Smith, of Byron, has received word from her son, Pte. Charles Smith, of the 18th Battalion, in which he describes the visit to the trenches of the London men.

Pte. Smith witnessed the death of a bugler, who was killed as he was carrying sand bags in the rear of the trenches.

Sergt.-Instructor Davey, of the 7th C. M. R., had his collarbone broken at Queen's Park last evening, when his horse fell with him. He was taken to the hospital at Wolseley Barracks and today is doing nicely. It was stated to The Advertiser that the horse which fell with Instructor Davey is the same which fell with Major Abell some days ago.

PRUSSIANS ADMIT LOSS OF MILLION

These Casualty Lists Do Not Include Other Provinces' Lists.

[Canadian Press.]

London, March 16.—The last eight official Prussian casualty lists, No. 166 to No. 173, contain 33,142 names, bringing the grand total of killed, wounded and missing since the war began to 1,050,929 men, according to a dispatch to the Evening News from Copenhagen. The last four lists include the names of 11 airmen killed, 4 wounded and 2 taken prisoners.

It should be borne in mind that these totals refer to Prussia; they do not take into account 160 Bavarian, 136 Wurttemburg, 119 Saxon and 20 navy lists.

AN 18TH ROUTE MARCH. — The men of the 18th Battalion will be taken for a long route march this evening by Lieut.-Col. Wigle. The entire force will be taken out and all transport wagons.

ALL CHARGES FOUND PROVEN

Toronto Fire Chief and Deputy Held Responsible For Conditions.

IGNORANCE NO DEFENCE

Deputy Chief Noble Comes In For Severe Censure by Judge.

[Canadian Press.]

Toronto, March 16.—Judge Denton's report on conditions at Portland street fire hall issued today finds that all the charges made have been proven. He lays the responsibility for lack of discipline primarily on the fire chief and next on Deputy Chief Noble. He holds that Noble is more directly responsible than Thompson.

"It is no defence to say they did not know what was going on. Negligent ignorance is no less a breach of duty than neglect."

He finds that Noble is acquainted with the worst of the loose women who frequented Portland street fire hall, and knew very well what kind of a woman the one in question was. His final sentence is that there is nothing new in the statement that the fire department is lacking in discipline.

The judge intimates that in the wider inquiry which is to follow he may go into the unnamed charge against Noble, which he has investigated in camera.

He finds evidence substantiating all charges of drinking, betting, firemen working for Noble, and the city of Toronto letters on Noble's buggy being covered up.

BRITISH GAINING GROUND STEADILY

Drive Enemy From Trenches Southeast of St. Elvi Village.

FRENCH REGAIN LOSSES

Take Part of Forest of Le Petre Lost Monday Morning.

[Canadian Press.]

Paris, March 16—Via London, 4:30 p.m. —The events yesterday on the Franco-Belgian front are described in a statement from the war office this afternoon as follows:

"The Belgian army has consolidated its gains of the past few days. The British army after having retaken St. Eloi, has also recaptured trenches to the southwest of the village and compelled the enemy to evacuate trenches to the southeast of the same point, which have been completely demolished by the artillery.

"In Champagne fresh progress has been to the northeast of Souain. In the Forest of Le Petre we have recaptured from the Germans the remainder of the trenches won by them yesterday morning; or, to be more precise, the site of these trenches, for defensive works had been completely shattered by mine explosions.

"On the southern slope of Great Reich Ackerkopf an attack by the enemy yesterday morning carried a trench. We have retaken it and made some prisoners."

"SAYVILLE" REPORT.

[Canadian Press.]

Berlin, March 16.—By Wireless to Sayville.—The German war office gave out today a report on the progress of the war, dated March 16, and which reads as follows:

"The British position on the height near St. Eloi, south of Ypres, has been taken by the Germans. Fighting for the possession of this terrain has been going on since the day before yesterday.

"In the Champagne district several partial attacks delivered by French troops broke down in the face of the German fire. The French losses were heavy. To the north of Beausejour German troops took possession of several French trenches.

Engagement Continues.

"An engagement begun yesterday in the Argonne continues today. Also in the Vosges there are several places where the fighting still is going on.

"On the Orzyc, to the northeast of Przasnysz, Russian attacks everywhere have been repulsed. There was an especially violent engagement for the possession of Jednorozek. Two thousand Russians were taken prisoners.

"South of the Vistula there is nothing to report."

DRIVE TO BEGIN AS FIELDS DRY

Allies Have Accumulated Vast Stores of Ammunition In Readiness.

MOTORS BY THOUSANDS

Three-Quarters of a Million British Troops Now On Continent.

Paris, March 6—(Correspondence of the Associated Press).—The French and British general offensive will begin as soon as the fields are dry and artillery can be moved over them, according to present plans. A moderate offensive was begun early in the new year to keep the allied troops in spirit and the Germans engaged on the defensive.

The long interval since the German advance into the northwestern part of France and southern Belgium was stopped has been employed by the French in assembling vast quantities of munitions, so that when the real offensive does begin it can be carried on with sustained power for two or three months, with an enormous expenditure of small arm munition and shells. It appears likely that the French artillery has a store of 25,000,000 shells.

Automobiles Needed.

A long and rapid pursuit could not be sustained with the railways torn up behind the retreating armies, without adequate automobile transport. For this reason the French and British have gathered tens of thousands of automobile trucks.

All the machines in a procession of new automobile trucks seen on a country road this week were American built. Four hundred were counted in one line It is understood that British and French army orders in America for automobile trucks amount to upwards of $30,000,000. The one hundred divisions of French troops of a normal strength of 20,000 each have been brought up to beyond the full war strength, so that regiments of 3,000 men on a regular war footing frequently have 3,500 men. Not only has all the wastage been repaired, but considerable additions have been made to the full fighting strength.

750,000 British There.

The British troops now on this side of the channel are said to number 750,000, and they are reported to have been coming over during recent weeks at the rate of one or two army corps a week. Some weeks 100,000 men have crossed the channel.

General Joffre is reported to have asked that the number of beds in the hospitals in Paris be doubled in preparation for the forward movement. All the boys' schools in the city are to be taken immediately for hospitals. The French sanitary corps now has one hundred hospital trains fully equipped. Each train can transport 500 seriously wounded, so that the hospital train capacity is now 50,000. The exact number of automobile ambulances at the front is unknown, but there are several thousands.

MANY WOUNDED SOON FIT AGAIN

Numbers of Canadians in Hospital Only Very Slightly Injured.

SEVERAL NERVE-RACKED

Wonderful Shooting of the Enemy's Riflemen Proved by Sergeant.

[Special Cable to The Advertiser.]

London, March 16.—A wounded sergeant from Winnipeg, just arrived in London, is anxious to locate the man who first put the story round that Germans cannot shoot straight. The sergeant, speaking of his own battalion, says it went to the trenches for 48 hours. During the night all the Germans had to fire at was the flash from Canadian rifles. During that night seven rifles in his portion of the trench alone were smashed by rifle fire, and the bearers were more or less wounded.

Many wounded Canadians, he says, will be fit for the firing line again very soon, as heaps of the wounds are of the slightest, and a few days' rest at the base helps wonderfully in restoring men to full strength.

Several Canadians now at Shorncliffe and Clivedon, while primarily suffering from such ailments as rheumatism, and frostbite are really nerve-racked, and have been sent home for this reason.

ONTARIO REFUSES TO ALLOW LICENSE REDUCTION TO PASS

Private Bills Committee Holds Up Clause and Rev. Dr. Macgregor Says Members Shielded Selves Behind Technicality—Up Against Too Strong a Combination, He Adds.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Toronto, arch 16.—By a vote of 21 to 16 the private bills committee of the Ontario Legislature today refused to allow the clause of the city of London bill validating the recent license reduction bylaw to remain as part of that bill. The majority of the members declared that in view of the fact that the bylaw was in the courts at present, the Legislature should have nothing to do with it, and they voted accordingly.

In Judge's Hands Now.

This action leaves the fate of the bylaw entirely in the hands of Justice Middleton. If he throws out the appeal of the license holders to quash the bylaw, which passed on January 1 by a majority of 150, the six hotels will have to close on May 1. If, on the other hand, he quashes the bylaw on the technicalities advanced by the liquor interests, there will be no other redress for the temperance people.

It was to secure validation of the bylaw, even if the judge quashed it, that the temperance people petitioned to have the clause included in the bill.

After the vote had been taken, Rev. D. C. Macgregor, pastor of the St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, London, who appeared on behalf of the temperance people, made the declaration that the majority of the committeemen were apparently out of sympathy with the temperance movement.

Too Strong a Combination.

"They hid behind the technicality that the case was in the courts, and consequently refused to allow the clause to pass," said Mr. Macgregor. "We were up against too strong a combination to defeat."

In presenting the claims of the temperance people to the committee, Mr. Macgregor urged that thev ote of the people on the bylaw was quite definite and a proper mandate to the Legislature, apart from the sufficiency of the petition that forms the basis of the liquor claim to have the bylaw quashed.

A. H. M. Graydon, attorney for the License Victuallers' Association of London, on the other hand repeated his previous claims that the petition had been insufficiently signed, and that as the mase was in the courts it would be very unusual to have the Legislature pass on such a question.

"Unfair," Says Crawford.

When the question was put to the vote, a show of hands opposed the inclusion of the clause. Hon. Mr. Crawford insisted on the yeas and nays, declaring that the action of the committee was not treating the people justly. On the yeas and nays the motion to include was declared lost by a vote of 23 to 16.

Mr. Musgrove, Mr. Pratt and various rural members, supported the clause, but George H. Gooderham, E. W. J. Owens, Mark Irish, Dr. Godfrey and others protested against it being passed.

With the exception of this clause and those referring to the waterworks extension and the stockyards the remainder of the city of London bill passed with very little comment.

Opposes Waterworks Loan.

The first clause dealt with was that giving the city power to pass a bylaw to borrow $30,000 for new hydraulic pumping equipment for the Springbank pumping station. Sir Adam Beck opposed the clause on the principle involved. He declared that it was wrong that the surplus of the city water system should go into the general city treasurer, while the utilities commission had to borrow money for waterworks improvements.

T. G. Meredith, K. C., counsel for the city, urged that the clause be adopted first, and then the principle of payments out of revenue could later be adopted by legislation. This suggestion was agreed to, and the clause carried.

Stock Yards Vote Necessary.

Sir Adam Beck put himself on record again on the clause providing for the expenditure of $7,000 for the establishment of a live stock market without a vote of the people, on the score that it was a new principle, and should receive the indorsation of the ratepayers. The committee agreed with him, and the cattle market project must be voted upon.

THESE HAND GRENADES DEADLY IN TRENCHES

Advertiser Illustrations.

These are the weapons used so much in close trench fighting, being either thrown by hand or shot from the muzzle of a rifle. They weigh 23 ounces, are made of malleable iron or steel, and deeply scored into 72 segments, so that upon failing they explode into that many fragments. One of the pieces is just as effective in putting a man out of the fighting as a bullet.

KICKED MAN AS HE LAY UNCONSCIOUS

William Clarke Witnessed in Brutal Assault by M. Caravella.

ONE ROWDY GETS MONTH

George Bennett, Participant in Slugging, Drew Remarkably Light Term.

William ("Isshy") Clarke, charged with assaulting and wounding Veterinary Surgeon William MacDonald, was today committed for trial by Police Magistrate J. C. Judd, while George Bennett, who pleaded guilty to the same charge yesterday, was sentenced to serve one month in the common jail.

George Bennett, a married man with four small children, said that he had been with Clarke for about ten minutes when the latter got into a fight.

"Clarke said to me, 'You are not going to see me get a thumping, are you?' So I stepped in and gave MacDonald a couple of punches," said Bennett.

Crown Attorney James B. McKillop stated that an investigation by his department proved that it was not Bennett who cut up MacDonald.

Had a Close Call.

His Worship, after giving Bennett a severe lecture in which he pointed out the seriousness of the crime, said that it was only the testimony of the crown and the fact that he took a minor part in the fray which saved him from a lengthy term.

Frank Burke, who was taken into custody as a witness, and detained at police headquarters, was discharged by His Worship after he was told that he would receive a term in Central Prison if he were arrested here again.

Michael Caravella, the principal witness for the crown, in the witness box said, that he was standing on the southeast corner of Dundas and Talbot streets when he saw a number of men start fighting. Two of the men were fighting with a man in the middle of the road who wore a fur coat. After the fight had lasted a few minutes the man with the fur

IN TRENCHES A WEEK LONDON BOYS HAD FINEST OF MEALS

Lieut. Chester Butler Says Men Were Comfortable as at Home.

PRICES HIGHER HERE

In Spite of War, 20 Cents Pays For Good Meal in France.

Home comforts in the trenches!

Such a possibility seems strange after the stories that have come from Flanders of flooded breastworks and terrible privations suffered by the defenders of the Allies' trenches, but it is more than a possibility. It is a reality according to Lieut. Chester Butler, of this city, signalling officer of the 1st Canadian Battalion.

In his second letter from France, dated February 24, received by his mother, he describes life in the trenches from a somewhat different angle to the one which was published in The Advertiser of yesterday which chronicled the Canadians' baptism of fire. In this second letter he is back with his battalion in the first billet it had after arriving in the theatre of war.

A Week in Trenches.

The letter follows:

"Here we are back in our first billet that we came to after a week's duty in the trenches, which I enjoyed very much.

"A very strange thing happened last night at mess. Lieut. Creighton, of our battalion, was telling a story about coming down on the train from Winnipeg to enlist and happened to mention the name 'Hesketh.' I thought the name was familiar, and found it was the same Lieut. Hesketh that was through the Northwest rebellion with father. He is there as a major of the Strathcona Horse. I understand that they are going to be sent to Egypt, as there is little use for cavalry in this war at the present time.

Surprised at the Trenches.

People of Philadelphia Donate Big Amount in One Day.

Philadelphia, March 15. — A total of $65,000 was the conservative estimate given out today as the amount already donated to "Billy" Sunday for his work here by the people of Philadelphia.

It is believed the amount will be swelled to $80,000 before the day is over.

A constant stream of checks, bills and gold is keeping tellers at the Land Title Trust Company busy crediting them to the evangelist's account.

MAJ.-GENERAL STEEL PROBABLY NEXT LEADER

South African Veteran Likely To Command Second Expeditionary Force.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Ottawa, March 16.—Major-Gen. S. B. Steel will probably command the second Canadian expeditionary division when it goes into action.

Gen. Steel commanded the Canadian Mounted Rifles through the South African war, and showed himself to be a man with capacity for handling of troops. He has been in the service ever since that time, and at present is the Canadian inspector-general for the western forces.

The second expeditionary force is now being mobilized in England, four thousand men having recently landed there to join the ten thousand left when the first Canadian division crossed the Channel.

MAY PUT THIS MAN OUT OF THE COUNCIL

Alleged That Alderman Has Not Property Qualification.

As a result of an investigation by several alde men into the property qualifications of one of their fellow council members, it is expected that proceedings will be instituted at once to secure the removal of this alderman from the council board.

One of the investigators announced today that he expected to have sufficient evidence by night to complete his case.

It is claimed that while the alderman, under investigation, has sufficient property assessed in his name to complete the requisite qualification, mortgages have been registered against his real estate to such an extent that he is legally barred from occupying a council seat with property qualifications, as they now stand.

JOSEPH D. SAUNBY CALLED BY DEATH

Veteran London Miller Victim of Two Weeks' Illness.

A NATIVE OF QUEBEC

Fought City 25 Years in Legal Case Finally Decided by Privy Council.

Joseph D. Saunby, one of London's oldest businessmen, and late owner of the Saunby mill and dam at the foot of Blackfriars street, over which the city of London and its owners became entangled in every court in Canada, and which ended in the privy council, the highest court in the empire, died late Monday afternoon in the house, at 24 Gunn street, in which he had lived for nearly 50 years.

Born in Quebec.

Mr. Saunby was 77 years of age, and was born in Quebec. He caught cold two weeks ago, which developed into pneumonia, which caused his death. Mrs. Saunby and one son, William, of Tustin, Orange County, Calif., survive. The funeral will be held probably on Friday or Saturday, upon the arrival of the son from California.

The life history of Mr. Saunby is a history of the milling business in this part of the country. He was at one time one of the widest known men through business connections in the country. With Thomas Hilliard, who now resides in Grimsby, he founded a business in the mill now owned by T. Dexter and Son, on the north branch of the Thames. This mill is one of the oldest in the district, originally owned by Jerry Hill, well known in the thirties.

Bought Blackfriars Mill.

In 1873 he bought the mill at Blackfriars street from George Phillips, and for 25 years prior to his retirement from business five years ago he fought the city in an effort to save the property. The legal actions commenced when he sued the city for damages he alleged through the backing up of water from the dam at Springbank, which he claimed prevented the use of his hydraulic machinery in the Blackfriars Mill. Suits and counter-suits were entered and dismissed through the Canadian courts which cost both parties a tremendous amount of money and little satisfaction to either. At last the case was taken to the privy council, the highest tribunal in Great Britain, and its decision resulted in Sir George Gibbons purchasing the property and tearing down the mill.

Reeve of Petersville.

In every way, Mr. Saunby was a prominent and active man in the affairs of what is now West London. He was the first reeve of Petersville, the village which was incorporated into the city as West London, about 1900. He served for two terms, 1874-5, and William, his son, was the last reeve of the village, just prior to its passing into the growing city.

Many years ago he founded the Empress Avenue Methodist Church, which he attended until recently.

Waterspout Smashed Dam.

Of the floods which changed the Thames into a swollen torrent every spring, Mr. Saunby could tell many stories. He lost much property of value, for many years in succession, and was seriously crippled in a financial way when the dam of the Blackfriars mill was swept away by the waterspout of July, 1883. The catastrophe caused widespread destruction along the Thames and across the country to the south. A terrific disturbance of the elements which old-timers call a waterspout, struck the district to the north, and the Thames was suddenly changed into a roaring current, on a summer day.

Mr. Saunby's parents lived for some years with him in West London. His father was a miller, and it was in his father's mill in Quebec that the late Mr. Saunby learned the business.

BODY IN MAUSOLEUM.

TARRYTOWN, N. Y., March 15. — The body of Mrs. John D. Rockefeller was taken from Pocantico Hills today and placed in the mausoleum of John D. Archbold, in Sleepy Hollow Cemetery, until the final resting-place is decided on.

MILITARY DAY FOR BATTALION TROOPS

March 19 Set Aside For Big Reception To All Civilians.

RUN RAILWAY EXCURSIONS

Western Ontario Residents Get Chance To Visit Relatives in Camp.

Friday, March 19, will be military day in London, when a public reception will be held at Carling's Heights and the 18th Battalion will be inspected.

So that residents of Western Ontario towns and cities will be able to participate in the reception as well as Londoners, arrangements have been made with the railway companies to run excursion trains into the city for that date. Single fare for the return journey from all points in Western Ontario, which are included in the first division military area, will go into effect for the day and a record attendance of those who have loved ones at the camp, is expected.

Mayor Stevenson and military authorities are co-operating in arranging for the biggest celebration of its kind ever attempted in this city. The battalion will be put through extensive military manoeuvres on the heights in the afternoon, while visitors will be given an opportunity to visit and inspect the quarters of the men at the barracks and also at the big concentration camp at Queen's Park.

The proposed military day has been planned with the dual purpose of getting citizens better acquainted with the men in khaki, who will fight the battles of the Empire overseas, and to extend an opportunity to those who do not live in London to visit relatives encamped here.

Large representatives are expected from the following places from which many men have enlisted in this city: Windsor, Sarnia, Goderich, Guelph, Port Burwell and St. Thomas. It is expected that nearly every Western Ontario town will send its quota to London for the military holiday. Railways are anticipating record crowds and are making extensive preparations to handle them.

MANHOOD'S STANDARD IS SET BY WOMEN

Dr. Gordon Addresses Audience On Morality of Young Men.

That the standard of manhood in any community would be just as high and no higher than the standard demanded by the women of that community, was the contention of Dr. J. L. Gordon, who preached to another very large audience in the First Methodist Church last night on the subject: "What Standard of Morality Should a Young Woman Demand of a Young Man?"

For 2,000 years, he said, men had been demanding of women a higher standard of morality than they had themselves. Caesar's wife had to be above suspicion, but Caesar's moral character was by no means all it should have been.

Woman's Place in World.

But in the present generation and age, women were beginning to assert themselves and to demand a place in the affairs of the world on an equality with men. Therefore, Dr. Gordon thought, the present was an appropriate time to discuss the question of what standard a young woman ought to expect of a young man.

In the first place she should demand the standard of a high ideal, and secondly, that that ideal be enthroned in a high character. Character was the greatest thing in all the world. A great struggle was going on at the present time, and the victory sooner or later would rest with Great Britain and her allies, and it was character that had given Great Britain and the British Empire the strength to make that result beyond question.

The standard of a noble ambition also should be demanded by a woman of the man she decided to marry. A woman had thrown herself away who linked herself to an man who had not an ambition to do something or to be something in the world.

Demand Clean Record.

The next thing which should be demanded, was the standard of a clean record. The speaker reminded the young women in the audience that in marrying they not only were choosing a companion for life, but were selecting a father for their children. Therefore they had a right to expect that their husband should come to them at the marriage altar with a spotless record.

A woman should demand also the standard of a generous nature, of a genuine love and of a deep religious conviction. Without true love no marriage could be a happy one. Love was still the standard, still real, still true. With it and with the other characteristics outlined, a man would be certain to make a good husband.

TORY M. P. CALLED POLITICAL SNIPER

Sought To Cast Doubt On the Gallantry of Hon. Dr. Beland.

SPEECH WARMLY CHEERED

Both Sides of House Applaud Mention of First Canadian on Firing Line.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

OTTAWA, March 15.—The name of Hon. Dr. Beland was received with cheers from both sides of the Canadian Commons tonight. Political snipers were attacked with the cordial approval of a large portion of the Chamber. Partisan ambushing at such a time as this was condemned and one offender was named by Mr. W. F. Carroll, the young Liberal member for Cape Breton. In closing a speech, in which he pleaded for the co-operation of men and parties in Canada at this juncture, Mr. Carroll scornfully referred to a bitter political pamphlet, which had been franked to Manitoba by a Conservative member. The pamphlet attacked the loyalty of Sir Wilfrid Laurier. There were cries of shame' from the Liberals.

"Shame indeed it is," said Mr. Carroll hotly. "Sir, there is, and I blush as a Canadian to have to say it, a class of politicians in this country at the present time, who can best be described as political snipers, snipers who seek to bring down the big and the noble and the patriotic in our public life. I am not going to shoot from concealment. I name the member for Kings-Albert (Mr. George W. Fowler) as one of these political snipers. I read in a press report of his speech to a Conservative meeting, Saturday night, that he sneered at the gallant and patriotic services of a member of this House, a member whom we all hold in highest honor and esteem, Hon. Dr. Beland. (Prolonged cheering in which many Conservatives joined). He went on to state that Dr. Beland did not go to Belgium to take part in the war and added the unworthy insinuation that if he had been in Canada, when the war broke out, it was very doubtful whether he would ever have made a move to aid the cause of Britain. (Cries of shame).

Smallness of Some People.

"None of us," continued the young Cape Breton man, "can afford to pass that by. It shows how small some people can become. The name of Dr. Beland is honored, worthily honored, not only in this House, where all knew and esteemed him, but throughout the whole country. He was the first Canadian to volunteer his services, he was the first to shed blood in service of the British forces, he is today a prisoner of war in the hands of the enemy. The minister of militia honored himself and honored Parliament and honored Canada, when he appointed Hon. Dr. Beland an officer in the medical service branch of the Canadian contingent (cheers), and we know that if he were not now a prisoner in the hands of Germans, he would be succoring and serving our own boys at the front.

"Sir, let me say this one thing more," exclaimed Mr. Carroll indignantly, "these political snipers who would do injury to men they are unworthy to even mention, will have no more success in their unworthy campaign than will the German snipers in lowering the power and prestige of Britain in the blood-stained trenches of Flanders."

As Mr. Carroll resumed his seat he was greeted by an outburst of hearty and generous cheering from both sides of the Chambers.

GERMAN COMPANY TO WITHHOLD REPORT

Hamburg-American Line Asks Authority—Uncertain of Affairs Abroad.

BERLIN, March 15, via London, March 16.—2:29 a.m.—On the basis of a Bundesrath decree, the Hamburg-American Steamship Company has petitioned the Senate to permit it to dispense with the submission of its annual statement, and also with the annual general meeting of the company which is called law. If the request is granted it is stated the company will not compile its 1914 statement and that it will also abstain from holding the general meeting. The grounds given by the company for making these requests are that for months past the Hamburg-American Line has been cut off from its foreign subsidiaries and has been unable to draw up its financial balance because it is not clear regarding the state of affairs prevailing in the foreign establishments.

The Bundesrath decree, under which the requests are made, says that any firms having subsidiaries in enemy countries may be exempted from submitting annual balances.

Valcartier Camp To Be Re-opened In The Spring

Soldiers From All Parts of Canada To Go There for Training.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

OTTAWA, March 15.—As soon as spring is established, and the weather has settled, so that soldiers can live under canvas, Valcartier camp will be reopened.

Soldiers from all parts of Canada will be taken to the camp for training. General Hughes believes that there should be no time lost in training men to shoot, and that there is no place in Canada where this can be so well done as at Valcartier, where there are 1,500 targets and ample space for camping and for manoeuvres.

It is expected that the troop train will begin moving upon Valcartier in the course of a couple of weeks.

SEVEN DAYS OLD CHILD ARRESTED

MONTREAL, March 15.—Seven days old and already arrested on a charge of vagabondage, is the extraordinary record of a little waif now in care of the Juvenile court.

Abandoned by its mother and left to the mercy of the underworld, who refused to surrender the infant to the police, the latter were at a loss to secure possession, and to further complicate their problem, the babe was hurried from one resort to another. It was at last decided to swear out a formal warrant charging the infant with vagrancy, and after Judge Choquet had signed the document, it was given to Detectives Gagnon and Benard for service.

A search for the child resulted in finding it in a house in St. Elizabeth street. The detective formally read the warrant to the squalling youngster before making the arrest.

BATTLE "VICTIM" WRITES TO LONDON

Sapper Brooker, Supposed To Have Been Killed, Very Much Alive.

BACK FROM TRENCHES

Coincidence of Names Caused Report of His Death To Be Circulated.

Clement Brooker, a native of Bermuda, and the London man who was supposed to have been the first member of the Canadian expeditionary force from Western Ontario to have fallen in battle, is at business as usual in France, judging from the fact that a postcard was received from him today by Quartermaster-Sergt. Harry Bennett, of the 7th Field Company, Canadian Engineers.

Last week relatives in this city received English papers, a month old, in which the name of Clement Brooker, aged 23, a member of the Engineers, appeared in the casualty list. The similarity of names, age and branch of the service seemed to indicate that the Londoner had fallen, but today's postcard would seem to disprove that fact.

Brooker, who was an employee of the Smallman & Ingram Company, left London with the first draft of the 7th Engineers for the first contingent. He was attached to No. 1 Field Company, C. E., of the first Canadian expedition.

The postcard received by Q.-M. S. Bennett is from France and dated in the latter part of February. On it Sapper Brooker says:

Back From Trenches.

"Just a line to let you know that I am well. Just came back from the trenches last night. Hope everything is going on fine."

The fact that the English papers, which caused such uneasiness to Brooker's friends, were printed weeks before the postcard was written, is absolute proof that by some strange coincidence a namesake of the Londoner, in the same branch of the English service as he was in the Canadian, fell a victim of a German bullet.

PIECES OF BOARD TIED ONTO BOOTS

Only Way For Halifax Soldiers To Keep Feet Off Ground.

OTHERS UTILIZED SACKS

Tied Them Around Feet in Order To Walk About.

[Canadian Press.]

Ottawa, March 16.—The parliamentary boot committee this morning examined a number of officers and non-commissioned officers from the regiments at Halifax, who wore the Canadian militia boots. Samples of 111 pairs of boots examined by one regimental board called in Halifax were produced, and appeared to be well worn.

Major Doane, quartermaster of the 63rd Regiment, gave evidence as to these boots which had been worn by men of A Company of his regiment.

The boots were generally worn through the outer and even inner sole, some with the whole sole gone entirely; the uppers, heels and counters were sometimes spongy. The boots lasted 12 days to 4 weeks. After a fortnight, as a rule, they were worn through, and the men's feet on the ground, unless they tied pieces of board on them, as they were forced to do. The boots condemned were all Gauthier boots.

Made Before War.

In reply to question by Chairman Middlebro, it was brought out by the witness that the boots complained of had been from an issue in store before the war broke out; that while most of the boots had to stand trench digging and wetting, one pair had worn out on a dry, hard parade ground from the stitching giving way. A new issue of boots had been received on October 15, which had worn well and had not been condemned. The witness said the 111 pairs of boots condemned by his own board had been out of an issue of 550, and were all Gauthier boots, some of the Slater make having worn well.

Feet Tied in Bags.

Mr. Pringle examined the witness as to the reports of other boards. He testified that some of the men had been going about with their feet tied up in bags, an assertion which brought the remark from Hon. Charles Murphy that this condition was a scandal, and that boots which could be repaired had finally been repaired in Halifax at the men's own expense.

Capt. A. M. Jones, commanding A Company, 25th Battalion, second contingent, stated that he had presided over a board which condemned, on January 15, 172 pairs of boots issued on November 13, and which had been used in drilling in the armory and route marching. The uppers, after one march in the snow, seemed little better than wet blotting paper, causing wet feet. One man had worn a hole in his boot by simply "waggling his big toe."

Kept From Drill.

Some 172 men had been prevented from marching drill because of their bad boots.

Chairman Middlebro asked the witness why the men's boots had not been repaired.

Capt. Jones replied that he had been informed it was in the regulations that they "shouldn't get the men's boots repaired, because they would not be condemned by the board. Thus the men would not get new pairs."

"Isn't it the general understanding among ourselves, among the regiments, that these boards are held to get new boots?" asked the chairman.

E. M. MacDonald, however, objected to the "between ourselves," and elicited a statement from the witness that this had not been his idea in holding the board.

The Best Simile.

Some argument between Chairman Middlebro and the witness followed as to whether his statement in his report that the boots were "little better than paper" were to be taken literally or as a figure of speech. The witness finally stated he could not swear they were like paper, but that was the best simile he could think of. No dubbing had been issued at that time.

Mr. Pringle then asked the witness whether it was the case that before the investigation took place he had been ordered by his superior officer to first march his men through the snow.

Capt. Jones said the men had been marched through the streets of Halifax in melting snow by the order of Col. Le Cain. The regimental board had also been ordered by Col. Le Cain, but he could not say if there was any connection between the two.

"As a member of this committee I resent your suggestion to this witness that a march was ordered for any ulterior purpose," said E. M. MacDonald hotly.

"Let me say this to you, Mr. MacDonald, I have no brief here for anybody," retored Mr. Pringle. He then asked the witness whether he "could tell leather from paper."

Mr. MacDonald also objected to this question. "You're not here for that kind of an examination. You're here to assist the committee," said the member from Pictou.

Other members of the committee here pointed out that the witness was not endeavoring to insinuate that the boots were really of paper, but that he had employed it as the nearest simile.

Capt. Jones further testified that his examinatoin of the boots had been made while on the men's feet. Some samples of the boots in question were produced and appeared well worn out.

Examined as to the man who had worn a hole through his boot by "waggling his big toe," the witness admitted this would occur if the boot were too short for the man's foot.

Not Enough Shapes.

Major A. W. P. Weston, of the 25th Nova Scotia Battalion, testified that he had held a board on December 16 on boots which had been issued on November 13, and which had thus been in use only a month, though given severe service. The chief source of complaint was that soles and heels wore out too rapidly, while the upper leather was thin. The boots in question had been supplied by Gauthier and Tetreault. Dubbing had been secured individually, but he did not think the men had used it regularly. There was some complaint as to shape, there appearing to be only two widths among the total issue of boots. In reply to E. M. MacDonald, the witness stated there had been no bad faith in the reports made by the different regimental boards; they had simply acted in response to complaints.

The committee then adjourned till tomorrow morning, and will also sit tomorrow afternoon.

FRENCH-CANADIAN INVENTED AIRSHIP

Sold Plans To German-American Now in Prison at Southampton.

PRICE RECEIVED WAS $50

Leclerc Never Dreamed Machine Would Drop Bombs On Native Land.

[Canadian Press.]

Quebec, March 16.—In connection with the arrest and subsequent condemnation of Lawrence Victor Cobb, former member of the 48th Highlanders, of Toronto, first Canadian overseas contingent, who was sentenced to six months at hard labor at Southampton for forgery, Chief Constable Jones, of Southampton, has written to Chief Trudel, of this city, stating that Cobb is a German-American, an alleged pro-German, and also a confirmed criminal.

The chief constable of Southampton also forwarded to Chief Trudel a copy of a letter found in Cobb's possession when he was arrested. The letter is a reply sent to Cobb from Laurent Leclerc, of St. Joseph street, who, five years ago, sold to Cobb the plans and devices of a dirigible which he had invented.

Invented Dirigible.

The communication replies to questions which were supposedly asked by Cobb. Leclerc expressed his gratification that his aircraft had been called "Zeppelin" now and for all time. Here in Quebec, he wrote, the people did not believe he had invented a dirigible, and yet he had sold the plans for it five years ago. Leclerc also asked Cobb for some news of one Von Kluck, and in closing his letter he declares that he never thought that his machine would be employed to drop murderous bombs on his country. He also asked Cobb to keep his letter secret.

Chief Backs Leclerc.

Summoned by Chief of Police Trudel, Leclerc admitted that he had corresponded with Cobb, who wanted further information about the dirigible which he (Leclerc) had sold to Cobb five years ago for the ridiculous sum of $50. Leclerc said that he was then a poor man, with no means to exploit his invention, and when he was approached by a man named Cobb, whom he supposed to be an American, he readily sold his plans and devices, as everyone in Quebec laughed at him. He felt bound by his contract to give all the particulars necessary, and that was what prompted him to write to Cobb, whom he had seen at Valcartier. He gave Chief Trudel some of his plans.

Chief Trudel says that he considers that Leclerc had acted in good faith, and he would report accordingly to the police authorities at Southampton. Leclerc, who is a mechanic by trade, secured employment chiefly in automobile garages.

CROUCH IN CELLAR WHILE SHELLS FLY

Actor Passes Through Belgian Town Bombardment After Trials.

ESCAPES FROM COUNTRY

Leaves Ostend As German Zeppelins Start Dropping Bombs on Town.

Crouching in a cellar while German shells were bursting around him, causing death and destruction, Gaston Alphonse Palmer, playing at the Majestic Theatre this week, passed through the bombardment of the Belgian town of St. Nicolas, and later escaped to England, from where he took passage to Canada.

Mr. Palmer was born in England, although he had lived a considerable time in France and Belgium. At present his parents are in Lyons, France. His wife is safe in Philadelphia, after the terrifying experiences she passed through in escaping from the war-swept country with her husband.

Atrocities True.

Stories of German atrocities are all too true, Mr. Palmer stated. In one instance at Liege, a machine gun was turned on a number of Belgian prisoners, several of whom had made an attempt to escape. They were shot down in an instant, Mr. Palmer says, by the deadly weapon of warfare. From wounded Belgian soldiers who had served in the trenches and been brought to the rear, he heard terrible tales of men buried to their shoulders and left to die. Stories carried in cable dispatches telling of unthinkable cruelty to children and of horribly mutilated bodies, could be confirmed by any Belgian soldier who had been in active service, he declared.

Ten Relatives At Front.

Mr. Palmer has ten cousins fighting with the allied forces. Several are with the Belgian army, several others are with the French troops in the trenches, while the remainder are fighting with the British soldiers on French soil.

A French cousin of Mr. Palmer, an aviator, with a reputation for daring, was recently killed in a fight with a German Zeppelin. The enemy's raider was advancing to attack when the Frenchman rose into the air in his machine. He soared above the German, Then plunged and rammed the German craft. The two machines came together, and shattered to pieces, falling to the earth. Both aviators were instantly killed.

Waited Till Foe Shelled Town.

Mr. Palmer resided in St. Nicolas with his father-in-law when the war broke out. When the news spread that the German armies were advancing into Belgium, many of the inhabitants of St. Nicolas fled in terror from the city. Mr. Palmer and his family stayed until the enemy was within a mile. Then, with the enemy's heavy guns shelling the town, they fled to the seacoast.

When they reached Ostend, the Germans were pressing on to Ghent. The party sailed for England on September 16. On that day Zeppelins dropped bombs on the city. Their vessel was escorted to England by two destroyers, which steamed around the ship with its hundreds of refugees fleeing to England, during the entire voyage.

Allies Confident of Success.

Questioned regarding the feeling in France and Belgium as to the outcome of the war, Mr. Palmer stated that both countries were certain that the allied nations would be victorious. France had thousands of young men in training at present, he stated. In the spring they would swell the ranks of the Allies in the trenches, and drive the German hordes back.

Two of Mr. Palmer's sisters are Red Cross nurses in France. Both played this city some years ago with the Pirosoffic troupe.

ITALY CONCENTRATING NAVY NEAR TO THE DARDANELLES

Austrian Archduke Wants the Campaign Against Servia Abandoned.

[Canadian Press.]

Geneva, via Paris, March 16.—A dispatch to the Tribune from its Rome correspondent says that a large part of the Italian navy is being concentrated at Taranto at the southeastern extremity of the country, and the point nearest the Dardanelles.

The same paper prints dispatches from Vienna, which state that Emperor Francis Joseph on Saturday received Archduke Frederick, who insisted on behalf of the general staff in the Carpathians that Archduke Eugene should be ordered to abandon the campaign against Servia and also withdraw useless forces on the Roumanian frontier in order to reinforce the exhausted troops in the mountains.

Getting No Rest.

The archduke is reported to have cited, as an example of the conditions in the Carpathians, troops from the Lupkow and Dukla districts numbering 20,000 who have been fighting incessantly for six weeks, sleeping with their rifles in their hands.

The interview of the Emperor and the archduke is reported to have taken place in the presence of Minister of War Krobatin and Gen. Holzendorf. The monarch, it is said, decided to summon Archduke Eugene for a consultation before deciding the questions presented to him.

Sultan Obstinate.

The Tribune Dedegatch correspondent telegraphs that Talaat Bey, the Turkish minister of war, is having great difficulty in persuading the Sultan to transfer the capital from Constantinople to Konieh, in Asia Minor. A special train is said to be held in readiness constantly to transport the Government funds and archives to Konieh, if Adrianople is evacuated. Turkish troops are reported to be concentrated at Constantinople and along the Dardanelles.

STRONG AMERICAN PROTESTS CERTAIN

Officials Dislike British Prohibiton On Suspected Goods To Neutrals.

[Canadian Press.]

Washington, March 16.—Administration officials were giving careful study today to the provisions of Great Britain's order-in-council aimed at the stoppage of all commerce by sea to and from Germany, which they regard as unprecedented, and as having far-reaching effect on American commerce particularly on shipments on cotton and importations of dye stuffs from Germany. That officials are keenly disappointed is evident, and that vigorous protest will be lodged by the American Government against the British action is virtually certain.

What Jars Most.

What, perhaps, displeased officials most was the prohibition on American commerce consigned to neutral countries, and suspected of enemy destination. It forms the principal basis upon which the United States Government will insist on the freedom of its commerce from undue interference.

The probable course of the United States will be to await an enforcement of the British order in specific cases, each one of which will be made the basis for strong protest.

Hopes Were Dashed.

Official hopes for an early improvement of conditions for the commerce of neutral nations were destroyed by receipt of the British order, together with information that Great Britain had declined to accede to the American Government's informal proposal for the withdrawal of Germany's submarine campaign and Britain's ban on foodstuffs for German civilians.

PRESIDENT SILENT.

Washington, March 16.—President Wilson declined to discuss the British order in council, shutting off trade with Germany, with callers today, because he had not had opportunity to go over the official text, but he indicated broadly that the unofficial outline of its contents was very displeasing to the United States Government.

The British order was taken up at length at the cabinet meeting, where it seemed to be agreed that a vigorous protest would be made as soon as the president can go over the question in detail with the state department officials.

The official text of the order arrived today.

KICKED MAN

coat left the other men and walked towards Carling street.

"I then noticed a man lying on the sidewalk near the City Hotel, Talbot street bar door," said the witness.

A Brutal Exhibition.

"When Clarke and Bennett left the man with the fur coat they walked towards the sidewalk. As they passed MacDonald, who was lying unconscious, Clarke kicked him in the ribs three times and then walked on. He went about three yards, when he turned around, came back and kicked the veterinary three or four times in the face. Clarke and Bennett then hurried down Talbot street towards King street," stated Caravella.

Lachlin McCallum, Westminster Township, lot 10, concession 4, said that he was the man with the fur coat who was fighting with Clarke and Bennett. McCallum stated that the fight started after he had seen a policeman take a man away from the bunch Clarke was with. Witness said to Clarke, "The bird has flown." He replied, "What do you mean?"

Had a Short Fight.

"Then," said McCallum, "a soldier butted in and I grabbed hold of him saying, 'It would be a shame to hit a little fellow like you.' While I had a hold of the soldier I received a blow on the nose, and as I did I heard MacDonald fall on the sidewalk. I had a short fight with two men," concluded McCallum.

The "bird" was Wreath, the St. Thomas railwayman, who was taken to the station by Patrolman Fish.

William MacDonald, the veterinary surgeon said that he didn't remember a thing after he had received a blow until he recovered consciousness in a drug store.

William Carroll and George Meagher, of Detroit, Mich., and Hugh Tarlow gave minor testimony regarding the fight in which McCallum and Clarke and Bennett participated on the roadway.

Clarke, when asked by the magistrate if he had anything to say, replied:

"I have nothing whatever to say."

J. F. Faulds who appeared for Clarke, made a plea for bail, but it was refused by the court.

The preliminary trial drew a large audience, the spectators' dock being filled to capacity, while a number of men stood during the hearing.

Ends Dry, Hearse or Painful Coughs Quickly

A Simple, Home-Made Remedy, Inexpensive but Unequaled.

The prompt and positive results given by this pleasant-tasting home-made cough syrup has caused it to be used in more homes than any other remedy. It gives almost instant relief, and will usually overcome the average cough in 24 hours.

Get 2½ ounces Pinex (50 cents worth) from any drug store, pour it into a 16-ounce bottle and fill the bottle with plain granulated sugar syrup. This makes 16 ounces—a family supply—of the most effective cough remedy at a cost of only 54 cents, or less. You couldn't buy as much ready-made cough medicine for $2.50. Easily prepared and never spoils. Full directions with Pinex.

The promptness, certainty and ease with which this Pinex Syrup overcomes a bad cough, chest or throat cold is truly remarkable. It quickly loosens a dry, hoarse or tight cough and heals and soothes a painful cough in a hurry. With a persistent, loose cough it stops the formation of phlegm in the throat and bronchial tubes, thus ending the annoying hacking.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, rich in guaiacol, and is famous the world over for its splendid effect in bronchitis, whooping cough, bronchial asthma and winter coughs.

To avoid disappointment in making this, ask your druggist for "2½ ounces Pinex," and don't accept anything else. A guarantee of absolute satisfaction, or money promptly refunded, goes with this preparation. The Pinex Company, Toronto, Ont.

IN TRENCHES

surprised if you had seen how nice it was in the trenches and what conveniences they have here. The firing line is about a mile outside a fairly big city, and they get up supplies every night. When they are relieved, which is every six days, they just go back to their billets in nice comfortable houses.

"Just before coming out, we were attached to the Shropshire Light Infantry, and for breakfast we had ham and eggs, sausages, toast, jam and coffee. For lunch we had soup, steak, potatoes, buns, jam and tea. Even the men live well.

Improving Their Lines.

"The English have held this line for some time, and have been improving it all the time. Every officer has a little place to sleep built in the rear of the trench, and the officers of each company have a mess of their own.

"You no doubt read in the papers of the truce which was arranged between the troops at Christmas. Well, that was just around here. It seems that the Germans, opposing our troops, were Saxons, and they said to our men: 'You are Anglos, and we are Saxons, and the Anglo-Saxons should not fight against each other.

Borrowed Each Other's Mallets.

"After this conversation they put in their time fixing their trenches and putting up breastworks, even borrowing each other's mallets to do the work. There was not a shot fired for three weeks, and at last the Germans ordered them to fire. Finally the Saxons were withdrawn, and some Prussians put in their place.

"The Saxons told the English beforehand that if they were relieved they would fire three volleys into the air, and they would know that afterwards they could then fire into the trenches.

Confirmed by Officers.

"I know that this is an actual fact, because I got it from several different officers who were present. You know that Saxony was conquered by the Germans, but they are not loyal to them at all.

"We marched back here yesterday morning, a distance of about twelve miles. It was a lovely day for a march. The weather was remarkably good while we were away. I think it only rained once, and we were not in the trenches then.

Living Is Cheap.

"Things are fairly cheap over here; in fact far cheaper than in Canada, in spite of the war. You can get a good lunch here for one franc (20 cents), and the cooking is excellent. You just ought to taste their omelettes, French-fried potatoes and coffee. Where we are billeted now, they make their own bread, keep lots of chickens, and we get strictly fresh-laid eggs.

"I understand that we will be here for some time, as all the other Canadians have got to go to the trenches for instructions.

"I generally go to bed at 9 p.m., and as it is exactly that now, I am beginning to get sleepy. I don't get up till 7 a.m., so with lots of sleep and good meals and fresh air, I am feeling fine, in fact, never better.

"Good-night, best love to all.

"CHESTER."

WIN PRAISE OF ALLIES VETERANS IN FRANCE

Canadians Make Favorable Impression in First Appearance.

Capt. F. B. Ware, formerly of the 7th Fusiliers, and at present staff captain of the 1st Brigade of the 1st Canadian Contingent, in a letter dated somewhere in France which reached his wife yesterday, declares that the Canadian troops have won the unstinted admiration of the men of the imperial army as well as those of the French army.

As a staff officer Capt. Ware has not seen any actual fighting, although apparently he is not far from the firing line. His letter consists mainly of references to his own circumstances, which he describes as very comfortable.

FRENCH PEOPLE TREAT LONDON OFFICER AS ONE OF THE FAMILY

Not Only Serve Fine Meals, But Mend and Clean His Clothes.

Captain E. E. Williams, who left here last fall with the Army Service Corps, and who, until early in February, was stationed in England, having been appointed second in command of the provision train under Major Coles, has written to his wife in the city from some place in France, announcing that he has been made a supply officer for one of the supply divisions.

He says he is billeted now with a French family, where a number of other officers also are staying, and where the people are very kind to them, giving them "cafe au lait" every time they go in, and not only cooking their meals and supplying them with nice clean beds, but mending and cleaning their clothes when need arises.

Captain Williams states that the promotion of General Hodgins has been learned by the officers with whom he is living, and they are all very pleased to hear of it.

The captain's letter has been censored by Major Coles, who not only is his superior officer, but his personal friend. The letter was written on February 21.

ACID STOMACHS ARE DANGEROUS

Common Sense Advice by a Distinguished Specialist.

"Acid" stomachs are dangerous because acid irritates and inflames the delicate lining of the stomach, thus hindering and preventing the proper action of the stomach, and leading to probably nine-tenths of the cases of stomach trouble from which people suffer. Ordinary medicines and medicinal treatments are useless in such cases, for they leave the source of the trouble, the acid in the stomach, as dangerous as ever. The acid must be neutralized, and its formation prevented, and the best thing for this purpose is a teaspoonful of bisurated magnesia, a simple antacid, taken in a little warm or cold water after eating, which not only neutralizes the acid, but also prevents the fermentation from which acidity is developed. Foods which ordinarily cause distress may be eaten with impunity if the meal is followed with a little bisurated magnesia, which can be obtained from any druggist, and should always be kept handy.

SALTS IF KIDNEYS OR BLADDER BOTHER

Harmless to Flush Kidneys and Neutralize Irritating Acids.

Kidney and Bladder weakness result from uric acid, says a noted authority. The kidneys filter this acid from the blood and pass it on to the bladder, where it often remains to irritate and inflame, causing a burning, scalding sensation, or setting up an irritation at the neck of the bladder, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night. The sufferer is in constant dread. The water passes sometimes with a scalding sensation and is very profuse; again, there is a difficulty in voiding it.

Bladder weakness, most folks call it, because they can't control urination. While it is extremely annoying and sometimes very painful, this is really one of the most simple ailments to overcome. Get about four ounces of Jad Salts from your pharmacist and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast. Continue this for two or three days. This will neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer is a source of irritation to the bladder and urinary organs which then act normally again.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless, and is made from the acids of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is used by thousands of folks who are subject to urinary disorders caused by uric acid irritation. Jad Salts is splendid for kidneys and cause no bad effects whatever.

Here you have a pleasant, effervescent lithia-water drink, which quickly relieves bladder trouble.

Retreat of French in Early Days of War Had Limit Set

On September 5 Forces Were Told To "Die Where You Stand Rather Than Give Way" — Detailed Official Account of August Movements.

London, March 5—(Correspondence of the Associated Press).—The Associated Press has received a historical review emanating from French official sources of the operations in the western theatre of war, from its beginning up to the end of January, the first six months of the war. It is long, detailed and in some respects technical in the military sense; but it contains matter of absorbing interest, both for the layman and the expert.

Plans Explained.

The plans of Gen. Joffre are set forth and explanations given as to how and why they could not always be carried out, how they were modified from time to time, and in what manner they were successful.

The review closes with expressions of satisfaction at the results achieved and of confidence in the final issue.

A first instalment of the review, which is too long to be printed entire, is as follows:

Concentration Modified.

The French setbacks in August:

The first month of the campaign began with successes and finished with defeats for the French troops. Under what circumstances did these come about?

Our plan of concentration had for us the possibility of two principal actions, one on the right between the Vosges and the Moselle, the other on the left to the north of Verdun-Toul line the double possibility involving the eventual variation of our transport. On August 2, owing to the Germans passing through Belgium, our concentration was substantially modified by Gen. Joffre, in order that our principal effort might be directed to the north.

From the first week in August it was apparent that the length of time required for the British army to begin to move would delay our action in connection with it. This delay is one of the reasons we explain our failures at the end of August.

Leader Failed.

Awaiting the moment when the operations in the north could begin, and to prepare for it by retaining in Alsace the greatest possible number of German forces, the general-in-chief ordered our troops to occupy Mulhausen, to cut the bridges of the Rhine at Huningue and below, and then to flank the attack of our troops, operating in Lorraine.

This operation was badly carried out by a leader, who was at once relieved of his command. Our troops, after having carried Mulhausen were thrown back on Belfort. The work, had therefore to be recommenced afresh, and this was done from August 14 under a new command.

Mulhausen Taken.

Mulhausen was taken on the 19th after a brilliant fight at Dornach. Twenty-four guns were captured from the enemy. On the 20th we held the approaches to Colmar. On August 28 the Alsace army was broken up, only a small part remaining to hold the region of Thann and the Vosges.

The operations in Lorraine:

The purpose of the operations in Alsace was, namely: to retain a large part of the enemy's forces far from the northern theatre of operations. It was for our offensive in Lorraine to pursue still more directly by holding before it the German army corps operating to the south of Meuse.

The offensive began brilliantly on August 14. On the 19th we had reached the region of Saarburg, and that of the Etangs (Lakes). We held Deuze, Delme and Chateau Salins.

Success Stopped.

On the 20th our success was stopped. The cause is to be found in the organization of the region, in the power of the enemy's artillery, operating over ground which had been minutely surveyed and, finally, in the default of certain units.

On the 22nd, in spite of the splendid behavior of several of our army corps, notably that of Nancy, our troops were brought back on to the Grand Couronne, while on the 23rd and 24th the Germans concentrated reinforcements (three army corps at least) in the region of Luneville and forced us to retire to the south.

This retreat, however, was but momentary. On the 25th, after two vigorous counter-attacks, one from south to north and the other from west to east, the enemy had to fall back. From that time a sort of balance was established on this terrain between the Germans and ourselves. Maintained for fifteen days, it was afterwards, as will be seen, modified to our advantage.

The Principal Business.

The operations in Belgian Luxemburg:

There remained the principal business, the battle of the north—postponed owing to the necessity of waiting for the British army. On August 20 the concentration of our lines was finished and the general-in-chief gave orders for our centre and our left to take the offensive.

Our centre comprised two armies. Our left consisted of a third army, reinforced to the extent of two army corps, a corps of cavalry, the reserve divisions, the British army, and the Belgian army, which had already been engaged for the previous three weeks at Liege, Namur and Louvain.

The German plan on that date was as follows:

From seven to eight army corps and four cavalry divisions were endeavoring to pass between Givet and Brussels, and even to prolong their movements more to the west.

Allies' Objects.

Our object was, therefore, in the first place, to hold and dispose of the enemy's centre and afterward to throw ourselves with all available forces on the left flank of the German grouping of troops in the north.

On August 21 our offensive in the centre began with ten army corps. On August 22 it failed, and this reverse appeared serious.

The reasons for it are complex. There were in this affair individual and collective failures, imprudences committed under the fire of the enemy, divisions ill-engaged, rash deployments, precipitate retreats, a premature waste of men, and, finally, the inadequacy of certain of our troops and their leaders, both as regards the use of infantry and artillery.

In consequences of these lapses, the enemy, turning to account the difficult terrain was able to secure the maximum of profit from the advantages, which the superiority of his subaltern complements gave him.

Then British Fell Back.

The operations between the Sambre and the Meuse:

In spite of this defeat our manoeuvre had still a chance of success, if our left and the British army obtained a decisive result. This was unfortunately not the case. On August 22, at the cost of great losses, the enemy succeeded in crossing the Sambre, and our left army fell back the 24th upon Beaumont-Givet, being perturbed by the belief that the enemy was threatening its right.

On the same day (the 24th) the British army fell back after a German attack upon the Maubeuge-Valenciennes line. On the 25th and 26th its retreat became more hurried. After Landrecies and Le Cateau it fell back southward by forced marches. It could not from this time keep its hold until after crossing the Marne.

The rapid retreat of the British, coinciding with the defeat sustained in Belgian Luxemburg, allowed the enemy to cross the Meuse and to accelerate, by fortifying it, the action of his right.

Two Courses Open.

The situation at this moment may be thus summed up: Either our frontier had to be defended on the spot under circumstances which the British retreat rendered extremely perilous, or we had to execute a strategic retirement, which, while delivering up to the enemy a part of the national soil, would permit us on the other hand to resume the offensive at our own time, with a favorable disposition of troops, still intact, which we had at our command. The general-in-chief decided on the second alternative.

The preparation of the offensive:

Henceforth the French command devoted its efforts to preparing the offensive. To this end three conditions had to be fulfilled:

Conditions Necessary.

1. The retreat had to be carried out in order, under a succession of counter-attacks which would keep the enemy busy.

2. The extreme point of this retreat must be fixed in such a way that the different armies should reach it simultaneously, ready at the moment of occupying it to resume the offensive all together.

3. Every circumstance permitting of a resumption of the offensive before this point should be reached must be utilized by the whole of our forces and the British forces.

Results Obtained.

The French counter-attacks, executed during the retreat, were brilliant and often fruitful. On August 29 we successfully attacked St. Quentin to disengage the British army. Two other corps and a reserve division engaged the Prussian Guard and the tenth German army corps, which was debouching from Guise. By the end of the day, after various fluctuations, the enemy was thrown back on the Oise and the British front was freed.

Recrossed Meuse.

On August 27 we had also succeeded in throwing back upon the Meuse the enemy, who was endeavoring to gain a foothold on the left bank. Our successes continued on the 28th in the woods of Marfee and of Jaulnay. Thanks to them, we were able, in accordance with the orders of the general-in-chief, to fall back on the Buzancy-Leichne-Bouvellemont line. Further to the right another army took part in the same movement, and carried out successful attacks on August 25 on the Othain and in the region of Spincourt.

On the 26th, these different units recrossed the Meuse without being disturbed, and were able to join in the action of our centre. Our armies were therefore again intact and available for the offensive.

On August 26, a new army, composed of two army corps, five reserve divisions, and a Moorish brigade, was constituted. This army was to assemble in the region of Amiens, between August 27 and September 1, and take the offensive against the German right, uniting its action with that of the British army operating on the line Ham-Bray-Sur-Somme.

Retreat Continues.

The continuation of the retreat and its cause:

The hope of resuming the offensive was from this moment rendered vain by the rapidity of the march of the German right wing. This rapidity had two consequences which we had to parry before thinking of advancing. On the one hand our new army had not time to complete its detraining, and on the other hand the British army, forced back further by the enemy, uncovered, back August 31, our left flank. Our line thus modified contained waves which had to be redressed before we could pass to the offensive.

To understand this, it is sufficient to consider the situation created by the quick advance of the enemy on the evening of September 2. A corps of cavalry had crossed the Oise and advanced as far as Chateau Thierry. The first army (General von Kluck), comprising four active army corps and a reserve corps, had passed Compiegne. The second army (General von B-low), three active army corps and two reserve corps, was reaching the Laon region. The third army (General von Hausen), two active army corps and a reserve corps, had crossed the Aisne, between the Chateau Porcien and Attigny.

Dangerous Position.

More to the east the fourth, fifth, sixth and seventh armies, namely, twelve army corps, four reserve corps and numerous ersatz formations, were in contact with our troops, the fourth and fifth armies, between Vouziers and Verdun, and the others in the positions which have been indicated above, from Verdun to the Vosges. It will, therefore, be seen that our left, if we accepted battle, might be in great peril through the British forces and the new French army, operating more to the westward, having given way.

A defeat in these conditions would have cut off our armies from Paris and from the British forces, and at the same time from the new army, which had been constituted to the left of the British. We should thus be running the risk of losing, by a single stroke, the advantage of the assistance which Russia later on was to furnish General Joffre chose resolutely for the so'ution which disposed of these risks, that is to say, for postponing the offensive and the continuance of the retreat. In this way he remained on ground which he had chosen. He waited only until he could engage in better conditions.

Limit Fixed.

In consequence, on September 1, he fixed as an extreme limit for the movement of retreat, which was still going on, the line Bray-Sur-Seine, Nogent-Sur-Seine, Arcis-Sur-Aube, Vitry-Le-Francois and the region to the north of Bar-Le-Duc. This line should be reached if the troops were compelled to go back so far. They would attack before reaching it, as soon as there was a possibility of bringing about an offensive disposition, performing the co-operation of the whole of our forces.

The Eve of the Offensive.

On September 5, it appeared that this desired situation existed. The first German army, carrying audacity to temerity, has continued to endeavor to envelop our left, had crossed the Grand Morin, and reached the region of Chauffry, to the south of Rebais and of Esternay. It aimed then at cutting off our armies from Paris, in order to begin the investment of the capital. The second army had its head on the line Champaubert, Etoges, Bergeres and Vertus. The third and fourth reached to Chalons-Sur-Marne and Bussy Le Repos. The fifth was advancing on one side and the other from the Argonne as far as Posesse to Triancourt-Les-Isleletts and Julvecourt. The sixth and seventh armies were attacking more to the east.

"The Hour Has Come."

But, and here is a capital difference between the situation of September 5 and that of September 2, the envelopment of our left was no longer possible. In the first place, our left army had been able to occupy the line of Sezanne, Villers-St. Georges, and Courchamps. Furthermore, the British forces gathered between the Seine and the Marne, flanked their left by the newly-created army were closely connected with the rest of our forces.

This was precisely the disposition which the general-in-chief had wished to see achieved. On the 4th, he decided to take advantage of it, and ordered all the armies to hold themselves ready. He had taken from his right two new army corps, two divisions of infantry, and two divisions of cavalry, which were distributed between his left and his centre. On the evening of the 5th he addressed to all the commanders of armies a message, ordering them to attack.

"The hour has come," he wrote, "to advance at all costs, and to die where you stand rather than give way."

NEUTRALS SAFE IN HANDS OF BRITAIN

The Reprisals Do Not Involve Risk To Ships Or Lives.

[Canadian Press.]

Paris, March 16.—The text of the decree of defining the measures decided upon by the British and French Governments as reprisals against Germany's commerce already announced from London, is published in the Official Gazette.

A supplementary statement declares that since Germany has proclaimed the seas around Britain and France a war zone, the Allies have a right to reply by stopping all merchandise to or from Germany. "Nevertheless," the report says, "the allied Governments have no intention of following their enemy in his cruel and barbarous methods, and the measures to which they have been obliged to have recourse do not involve any risk for neutral ships or for the lives of neutrals or non-combatants. They will be applied in strict conformance with the dictates of humanity."

BRONCHITIS

If Neglected Will Surely Turn Into PNEUMONIA.

Bronchitis comes from a neglected cold. It starts with a short, painful, dry cough, accompanied with rapid wheezing, and a feeling of oppression or tightness through the chest. At first the expectoration is of a light color, but soon becomes copious and of purulent character.

You have, no doubt, wakened up in the morning and have had to cough half a dozen times before you could raise the phlegm from your bronchial tubes, and when you do succeed in doing so you find that it is of yellowish or greenish color, and you get some relief right away. When this happens to you, you may rest assured that you have a touch of bronchitis, and if not cured immediately it will sooner or later develop into pneumonia or some other more serious trouble.

Cure the cold, and thereby prevent bronchitis and pneumonia taking a hold on your system.

This can be quickly done by the use of

DR. WOOD'S NORWAY PINE SYRUP.

Mrs. Rebecca Have, Mahone Bay, N. S., writes: "My little boy, aged , was always troubled with bronchitis, and when he had whooping cough he was worse. Doctors advised me to use Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup. It gave him instant relief, and positively cured him."

LACKED GUARANTEE FOR COMPENSATION

Greek Prime Minister Gives Reason For Neutraltiy, Says Paper.

[Canadian Press.]

REFUSED TO DRAW LOTS FOR NOMINATION

London Township Man Says B. C. Brooks Offered To Let Meeting Decide.

An account which differs in some particulars from that published yesterday of the nomination meeting for London Township reeveship, held in Arva, was given The Advertiser today by Joseph Winter, a resident of the district, who was present at the meeting.

Mr. Winter says there was a large attendance and six men were nominated. Of these two, W. A. Roberts and Fred Fuller, withdrew. The four remaining were: James Barter, John Geary, B. C. Brooks and R. W. Jackson.

A motion was made by A. B. Powell that one be selected by the meeting, rather than hold an election and to this Mr. Brooks agreed. The others, however, objected and it was then suggested that the four should retire into a room and draw lots for the nomination. To this Mr. Brooks objected, saying that it was pure gambling, so an election is to be held.

B. C. Brooks was the opponent of Reeve Hodgins at the last election.

A Great Blessing To Be Freed of Indigestion

For Years He Suffered After Almost Every Meal — Attributes Complete Cure to Use of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills.

The experience of many people who suffer from indigestion is like that of the writer of this letter. Stomach medicines may bring relief, but chronic indigestion is almost invariably the result of derangements of the liver, kidneys and bowels, and cannot be actually cured until these organs are set right.

MR. BARRETT

With the liver sluggish there is constipation, and the food ferments in the bowels instead of being digested. This is the source of pain and suffering, and the cause of such dreaded diseases as appendicitis, peritonitis and kidney disease. It is much better to be on the safe side, and prevent such ailments by the timely use of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills.

Mr. J. D. S. Barrett, Nelson, B. C., and formerly of Twillingate, Nfld., writes: "For several years I was a great sufferer from indigestion. The least bit of food caused me considerable trouble, and often I could scarcely eat a meal a day. The many remedies I tried proved futile until I began the use of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and after using about eight boxes I was completely cured.

"Since that time I have not been troubled with indigestion, which I consider a great blessing. I feel grateful for this cure, and shall gladly answer any inquiries from persons suffering as I did."

THE CAUSE OF DELAY.

SURPRISE was expressed by a Liberal member of Parliament that the Government had not been prompt in submitting its proposal for the appropriation for war purposes. It would have seemed good policy for Parliament, as soon after opening as possible, to have voted the hundred millions which the Government requires. It should have been carried without debate, and without a dissenting voice. It would have shown the unanimity of Canada in defence of the Empire, and would have a good effect in Europe. It was not necessary to take up the tariff changes first. The Government has a large majority, and any objections the Liberals might have raised would not prevent this Government's tariff bill passing.

We had been disposed to think this delay was a little scheme of the Tory politicians; that they wanted to get the Liberals committed. If they accepted the Government proposal to raise the tariff on British goods, they would have been stopped from any future objections to hampering British trade. On the other hand, if they objected now, then they could be charged with opposing the war tax necessary to raise money for the Empire's defence. A trick of this kind would be just like the smaller politicians in Sir Robert's combination.

Whether or not this idea was in the minds of the Conservatives, it looks as though there might have been another cause for the delay. One of Sir Robert's supporters has come out frankly in opposition to the war appropriation. Mr. Boulay is classed as a Conservative, though we presume he is one of the Nationalist type. In the debate last week, he expressed the opinion that we were too extravagant in our money contributions towards the war, and he doubted as to whether "the benefits that we may reap later on would be an adequate compensation for our sacrifices." The idea that sacrifices were imperative, no matter what the future conditions might be does not appear to have a place in Mr. Boulay's mind. He thinks "we should not be expected to compromise our own interests to meet the requirements of the Allies." What a howl would be raised if a Liberal had talked in this manner. Fortunately there are no Liberals who are trying to strike a balance between our services to the Empire, and the compensation we are to receive. That degrading position is filled by a Conservative member of Parliament.

It has been hinted of late that the Conservative party in the House of Commons was by no means unanimous, that a large and important section was opposed to the size of the war appropriation. And under these circumstances it was thought wise to delay bringing down the Government measure. It seems as though that might have been the case, and that Mr. Boulay spoke for more than himself. No doubt the rift will be closed before the vote is taken. Even Mr. Boulay, having made his protest, may fall into line. But it is not creditable to the honor of Canada that in the time of the Empire's need there should be even one member of the old-time loyalist party to raise his voice against the most generous help we can give, or to measure our services by the compensation we shall receive for them.

RENT AND FAMILIES.

A DETROIT landlord is reported as discriminating against childless tenants. He will have none in his houses but families with at least one child, and the more the merrier, that is, within reason. His view is that parents who have children will stay and pay longer, and will put up with more rather than move.

In countries where an increase of the birth-rate is deemed requisite, perhaps an association of landlords to enforce the Detroiter's ideas might have good results. There is an impression that ordinarily the landlord looks askance at large families. They leave their mark on the precincts. Once there was an old woman who had so many children that she had to go and put up in a shoe, for lack of a better tabernacle.

A NEW WONDER OF THE WAR.

MANY varied and amazing have been the uses to which wireless and the aeroplanes have been put in the conduct of the war, but none more so than the part the are playing in the running of the Dardanelles. When the straits have fallen to the allied fleets a great step towards the ending of the war will have been taken, but thus the aeroplane and the wireless, task of reducing the powerful fortions would have been a long drawn-, making possible Balkan com- unfavorable to the Allies.

Queen Elizabeth, the monster with super-dreadnought, with guns, thanks to the British airmen, is able to smash forts at a distance of fifteen miles, and is herself invisible as between her and the enemy is a barrier of hills. The big battleship remains in the Aegean Sea, safe from the shells of the fortresses, hurling her 2,000-pound projectiles after the hovering airmen have got the range and sent it to the gunners via the wireless of the warships stationed in the straits. Twenty years ago Jules Verne dished up romances of airships which charmed us, while we gently ridiculed them, but in his most astounding flights he never pictured anything quite as amazing as the daily doings of the aeroplane and dirigible balloon at all points of the war.

WHISKERS AGAIN.

WHISKERS are said to be bidding for a return to favor, in the armies at the front. They warm the gallant soldier on a cold night, and unless pink or tango shade, make the face a more difficult target. They blend into the surrounding scenery, and might even be dyed to suit any landscape scheme.

Shaving in the trenches must be a problem. The only drawback to a full beard would be the time spent in combing out the shrapnel splinters, the sand sprinkled into the brush by "Jack Johnsons," and the Flanders mud. The artistic possibilities of whiskers are considerable. With a pair of shears for barb-wire entanglement cutting a soldier might sculpture a good healthy growth into such various figures, as, for instance, may be seen in evergreen shrubs on an old-fashioned lawn. A book could be written on the subject.

OUR BOYS FIGHT WELL.

Sir John French says the Canadian force is one of the finest bodies of men he has ever seen and that they are fully up to the standard of the best Imperial troops.—From a London dispatch.

THIS statement is believed to have been made in the course of a dispatch from Gen. French to Gen. Alderson. It speaks volumes for the Canadians, and it is eloquent testimony to that spirit which can build armies the equal of any on earth in a few months. That spirit is not the spirit of a caste-ruled people. There are no freer people anywhere on earth than the men who today stand for Canada and fall for Canada in blood-stained France or Flanders. They are not forced to serve as soldiers. And their service in France will be a free offering to humanity. They will measure their skill with that of the conscriptionist and prove again, and once for all, that the free man is a better man than the bondman.

The Canadians had an important part to play in the recent British victory, and the whole country must have been stirred with the news. What has been accomplished is already an imperishable page in Canadian history; but the great ordeal is to come. Many Canadians will be slain or maimed before the war has been decided. And eager as we are to vent our enthusiasm, we should not take the attitude that the Canadians will now proceed to settle the affair. For the present, our part is a small one. our 20,000 men almost negligible so far as numbers go. But Canadian spirit and resourcefulness will count for much and a certain Canadian dash or recklessness may be a sacrificial keynote that will sound the doom of Germany. For whatever the birthplace of the boys in France, they carry the temperament of this young land with them.

Today there is a single thought: "Our boys are doing well." Mothers and fathers, wives and brothers and sisters are proud. In fact, the whole Dominion is proud, and many of the "stay at homes" just a trifle envious.

SERGIUS WITTE.

BY THE death of Count Sergius Witte, Russia loses one of its big men, according to some the biggest man Russia has produced in many years. He rendered to his country at several critical times services that were vital and far-reaching. To Canadians he will be best remembered as the dominating figure of the Portsmouth Peace Convention, when he saved his country from the humiliation of having to pay the Japanese a huge war indemnity. Again, as Russia's first premier, his firm hand helped guide the nation through the chaos that followed the granting of a constitution. He straightened things out to the benefit of the people despite the active hatred of the bureaucracy Some of his critics claim that he surrendered too much to the aristocracy, but by taking half a loaf he probably avoided the crushing of Russian constitutionalism before it had got well started. He had many enemies amongst the mighty of Russia which accounted for his comparatively early retirement from public life, but while he held the reins, and later as an unofficial confidential adviser of the Czar, he was able to do much for that democracy that is slowly but certainly leavening the Muscovite nation.

A CHANCE FOR VON TIRPITZ.

LIKE wolves cut off from the main pack, the few German cruisers left on the high seas lived off the stray sheep that came in their path, but the great sheep dogs of the ocean run them down one by one. The Dresden was the last to go.

But if these dashing commerce raiders, isolated and doomed from the first, have made a deadly and gallant name for themselves, the high seas fleet of Germany has little to be proud of. Today many British dreadnoughts and cruisers are engaged in the Dardanelles, leaving the fleet in the North Sea somewhat smaller, though not weak by any means. If this is not an invitation to a bold sortie from the Kiel Canal, with the advantage on the side of the attackers, and considering that many other units of the British navy are engaged elsewhere as well as at the Dardanelles, a fairly even "break" for both sides, then the German admiral must be looking the wrong way. Perhaps the test will come very soon; at any rate, if Germany ever intends to strike boldly at sea, she can hardly fail to see the chance. Perhaps the sinking of the Dresden will sting Von Tirpitz to test this grand, if suicidal, opportunity.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Lincoln Beachey diced with death once too often.

The British success at Neuve Chapelle was an auspicious step towards clearing Belgium of the Germans.

Harry Thaw and Mexico on the front page once more, shows that you can't keep the old-timers on a back seat for long.

The mops, dusters and brooms are mobilizing for the spring housecleaning. For father, the melancholy days are here.

Sarah Bernhardt, at 70, and with one of her legs amputated, is coming to America next year. Evidently it was Sarah's other foot that was in the grave.

Much fun is being had by American paragraphers over the spelling and pronunciation of Przemsyl and Przasnysz. How about Schenectady, New York, and Punxsuatawney, Pennsylvania?

Why is it that battleships are always christened by the sweetest and prettiest girl that can be found. Considering what its life work consists of, a barroom bouncer or a prizefighter should have the job.

The English football season draws to a close, games as exciting as ever. Many of the players have enlisted. Do they get off from camp for scheduled games? As soon as the "soccer" season is finished, Kitchener may begin his great rush.

CHOICE OF EVILS.

[Judge.]

A maiden's pouting I can stand
(There are worse things, there is no doubting);
But, ah, of all things in the land,
Pray save me from a maiden's spouting!

NEAR WISDOM.

[Kansas City Journal.]

It is easy to pick out a husband at first sight, but a girl has to make many weary rounds of the shops to select a suitable hat.

A LESSON IN SALESMANSHIP.

[Toronto Star.]

I went to buy myself a hat,
My old one having gone to seed,
The man exclaimed, "You don't want that;
It is an overcoat you need."

"And I have collars just your size,
And ties and hosiery galore,
My friend, nobody ever buys
A hat in this department store.

"It pains me much to hear you say
You think you want a derby hat,
Observe this fancy vest, I pray,
Six-fifty is dirt cheap for that.

"Now, here's a stock of gloves that's swell.
And here's a muffler that is fine,
We're cutting prices now to sell
This most exclusive garment line."

In rage I let my fist fly out,
And when I'd knocked the salesman flat,
I stooped into his ear to shout:
"I come in here to buy a hat.

"Now take this little tip from me,
When customers are standing nigh,
Jus show 'em what they ask to see,
Not what you think they ought to buy."

THE DIFFERENCE.

[Judge.]

Mrs. Bilton—That Mrs. Jinks is always very well dressed, while her husband always looks shabby.

Bilton—Well, she dresses according to fashion and he according to his means.

CONTRARY.

Woman, woman, source of all our bliss!
Woman, woman, heaven's in your kiss!
From the queen upon her throne,
To the maiden in the dairy,
In this they're all alike, they're all contrary.

A WAR POEM OF 1913.

[With apology to Kipling.]

This poem was written by Dr. E. L. Graves, of this city, in 1913, and has never before been published. Dr. Graves is a former non-com. in the 7th Regiment, who believed the war was inevitable.

Oh, where is Kipling's army
Which has tramped so many leagues,
And the absent-minded beggar
Who got mixed up with intrigues?
Will this nagging and this lagging
Make the beggar understand
His to "shoulder arms" his musket
And defend the Motherland?

Will those mighty ships of armor
Tommy sees upon the shore
Tell the absent-minded beggar
He is needed at the oar?
Will the coaling and the rolling
Of the dreadnought make it plain
He's a bulldog in old London.
But a watchdog on the main?

Is the pride of Britain lowered?
Does she arbitrate in fear?
Ask the absent-minded beggar
If the cloud is hanging near?
Are we holding, are we molding
Out each link in Britain's chain,
And giving due attention
To our place in this domain?

Have the nations had revival?
Do you see them arm in arm?
Ask the absent-minded beggar
If he heard the Fez alarm?
Was there stamping, was there tramping?
Did dessert go all around?
And was Morocco tempting
To the palate, had they found?

All the clergy have suggestions
To preserve this land of ours,
But the absent-minded beggar,
He can estimate the powers,
As the knocking and the blocking
Still goes on among the peers,
We'll have need of men of action
For this tragedy of tears.

How the old world is divided,
Is the war god ever still?
Does the absent-minded beggar
Dwell upon a chosen hill?
Is he strutting? Is he cutting
Up the country high and dry?
Or has this man of action
Seen the war cloud in the sky?

O, we can boast of legions,
Just as much as Caesar did,
If the absent-minded beggar
Will perform as he is bid!
And the rusting, and the busting,
Of the cannon it will cease
When the little half-pay
Gunner and the beggar stand at ease.

To Kaiser Wilhelm II.: What Will The Judgment Be?

Cruel, arrogant, fierce war lord,
Who putteth millions to the sword,
What verdict fits thy heinous crimes,
Greatest of old or modern times,
Ah, proud ruler of Germany,
What, oi what, will the judgment be?

What of the millions maimed and slain,
What of the father's and mother's pain,
What of the widow's plaintive cry
As starving children round her die,
The victims of fierce brutality,
What, oh what, will the judgment be?

What of the Day, the final Day,
What will the Great Judge to you say
When you stand before the great white throne
And all your crimes shall there be shown,
When your victims rise from land and sea,
What, oh what, will the judgment be?

What will the judgment be at the end,
None to console thee, none to defend,
Satan may you a place deny
And devils shudder as you pass by,
The foulest soul from thy presence flee,
What, oh what, will the judgment be?

What of the judgment, who can tell,
Is there a corner in deepest hell
Where you may dwell alone, alone,
Hearing your victims' dreaded moan,
Hearing it through all eternity,
What, oh what, will the judgment be?

Music and Musicians

"The wise man seeks by Music to strengthen the weakness of his Soul."

—Confucius.

The Value of the Pupils' Recital.

As a general rule, the piano student has all too few opportunities of hearing a comprehensive list of works for the instrument which he is studying. Frequent pupils' recitals supply this want to a very large extent. He is at least enabled to hear many works played by his fellow students which are quite new to him, and which he might not otherwise get a chance of hearing. This feature of the student's education is one too often neglected—to be able to judge of the musical value of compositions belonging to the different schools, quantities of different pieces must be heard and heard again at every opportunity. In this way only can he judge of the change and progress made by the science of music as exemplified by the works of the great masters at different periods of musical development. The pupils' recital then is of immense value to the student himself. How about the parents?

Many a man has received his first inklings of musical appreciation by having been persuaded to attend a recital at which his son or daughter were to appear. He has been brought to realize that there is a far higher type of music to be enjoyed than the latest rag-time song. Any person with musical instincts has only to be brought into contact with good music to be made to like it, and later to discern its beauties. The pupils' recital serves a real purpose in this respect.

Parents as a rule have comparatively little opportunity of judging of the child's progress. This is particularly true of the father. He is away all day busy with his own work, and on his return home wants to get as far away from the children's practice as possible. The recital gives him a pleasant opportunity of judging for himself the advance made from performance to performance. It also enables him to compare his own child's progress with that made by his class mates.

Now, how about the teacher? The pupils' recital is an excellent form of advertisement. The only way a teacher has of showing ability to teach is to let others see results. Unfortunately, the music teaching profession is not legally protected. Any incompetent takes upon himself he same rights as the teacher who is fully qualified. The only way for the thorough, competent teacher of ability to assert himself is to take occasion to show the general public the kind of work that he is doing. No better opportunity offers itself than through the medium of the pupils' recital. Good conscientious work soon becomes apparent, and the clever teacher soon obtains recognition which to the other is impossible.

Not Cat-Gut At All.

I don't know how the word cat-gut ever came to be used for the material out of which violin, 'cello, guitar, harp and other strings are made, for it is a fact that they are not made from cat-gut at all. They are made from the gut of horses and sheep.

The Chinese Language.

The Chinese language is about the most remarkable on earth. Of actual words it contains only about three hundred and fifty. Yet each word can have half a dozen or more entirely different significations according to the inflections of the voice. In this respect it can be considered the most musical language in the world. The proper pronunciation must certainly demand great flexibility on the part of the vocal apparatus. You'd think the Chinese might produce some remarkable singers—so they do, very remarkable, but not of the kind we like to hear.

This Mixture Is All Right.

I gave some definitions of 'Genius" the other day that I had picked up somewhere, but I yield the palm to this one, sent in by "A Lover of Music in Petrolea."

"Genius is five per cent inspiration, and ninety-five per cent perspiration."

Can you beat it? If so, send it along.

Answers to Correspondents.

Questions sent to this department should be addressed "Musical Editor, London Advertiser," and must be brief and to the point. They must also be of general musical interest.

Sarnia Reader—Could you through your much appreciated columns give your readers some idea of the nature of the instruments used by the ancients, particularly those mentioned in the Old Testament?

Ans.—Yes, I think I could. The suggestion is a good one, and I'll do my best to describe the different instruments from time to time. In the meantime, I'll get my data ready and begin the series in a few days.

MIGHT TRY IT HERE.

(Detroit Free Press.)

Chicagoans have started a movement to make that a garden city, or as one enthusiastic advocate puts it, "to restore the gardens to Chicago and Chicago to the gardens." The three underlying objects of the movement are city beautification, the increase of employment and the lowering of the cost of living through cultivation of open spaces and vacant lots now left in idleness. It is a movement which recalls the vacant lot gardening for the needy, started years ago in Detroit by the late Hazen S. Pingree, then mayor, with this exception, that the scope of the Chicago idea is somewhat wider.

General gardening implies not only the cultivation of food products but the growing of shrubbery and blossoming plants. The front and side yards of homes of all classes can be made more attractive by blooming shrubbery and plants. Backyards, even though small, can be made profitable by growing strawberries, peas, corn, carrots, beans and such foods; vacant lots will grow profitable crops of potatoes, and these products will lessen the household outgo at small expense for seeds and the addition of a little healthful labor.

Such gardening has a tendency to grow on one. A few seasons of reasonable success in a limited yard or vacant lot will give rise to ambitions to try conclusions with nature on a wider scale and attention is inevitably turned to the acre lot or the farm varying in size from 10 to 100 acres, according to the means and energies of the individual.

The Chicago idea is not covered by copyright. It can be imitated by any city. Individuals can go ahead and imitate it on their own responsibility without danger of incurring rebuke.

THE DOPE ON SPRING.

[Cleveland Plain Dealer.]

Somebody saw the first robin;
Somebody saw the first snake;
Somebody knew that winter was through,
For his ankles began to ache.
Somebody saw the groundhog;
Somebody else, by jing,
Peered 'way back in the almanac,
And said he'd discovered spring!

I haven't seen a robin,
I haven't seen a snake—
My liver is right, and each lung and light
Never has felt an ache;
I never saw a woodchuck,
And I wouldn't know the thing
If I went and did—but believe me, kid,
I know that the year's at spring.

The frost is still in the meadow,
The snow is still on the ground,
But down in my merry soul it's a very Wonderful thought profound!
The winds may come and abuse us,
The storms may arrive and sting—
We may get a blizzard—but down in my gizzard
I know that it's really spring!

THE FRECKLE.

(Cincinnatti Times Star.)

It is high time that somebody spoke up in behalf of the freckle. The daffodil of the complexion has been gibed at and abused until it has lost its standing as a thing of beauty. Young girls smother in powder this wild flower the sun has placed upon their cheeks. Married women apply lotions to cause it to fade into pallor. And only the other day a widow died from an operation which would scientifically have plucked "the jocund company" from its ordained meadow.

We can not all be blondes. And by the same token all our complexions can not be rose gardens. If the fates have strewn daffodils upon your face, be not ashamed, even if you do nothing to encourage their growth. Rather be proud that sun and wind have given you something milady's boudoir has despaired of imitating. For you never saw an artificial freckle. But as to the roses that bloom in milady's cheeks—ah, well, all is not rose that is red or pink. And many is the rose that's true, that is also a hectic bloom, the symbol of latent disease. But there never flourished a freckle that did not bespeak health.

So if you have freckles, exult in them. They are true and they are healthy. And they prove at least that you have had "a place in the sun."

JUST NONSENSE.

Eating chicken fried in butter
Will enrich the tombstone cutter.

A breakfast formed of sliced pineapple
Makes the sexton dust the chapel.

Prunes are ever fine and dandy
If a stomach-pump is handy.

When you have banana fritters
Every undertaker titters.

Fried liver may be good, but mind you,
Friends will soon ride slow behind you.

PRECAUTION.

[Washington Star.]

"Do you think you can support my daughter in the style to which she has been accustomed?"

"I think so," replied the earnest young man. "But maybe we'd better live with you for a few years, so that I can find out exactly what it's like."

HERE'S A "DIFFERENT" WAY FOR CABBAGE

[By Caroline Coe.]

Cabbage dressed with rice and sausage meat is a substantial dish, and a very palatable one. Select a sound head of cabbage and pour over it boiling water, let stand 15 minutes, drain, scald again and let stand 30 minutes. Drain and shake until dry. Make the stuffing as follows: Wash 2 heaping teaspoonfuls of rice in cold water, then mix it with ½ pound sausage meat, add a tablespoonful of onion and a tablespoonful of chopped parsley; mix all well together.

Open the cabbage carefully to the very centre, put in ½ teaspoonful of the mixture, fold over 2 or 3 of the little leaves; now cover these with a layer of the mixture, fold over this the next layer of leaves, and so on until each layer is stuffed. Press all firmly together, tie in a piece of cheesecloth, put it into a kettle of salted boiling water, and boil 2 hours.

When done, carefully remove the cloth, stand the cabbage in a deep round dish, pour over it cream sauce, and serve very hot.

Response to "Y" Appeal.

Already two responses have reached me in answer to the appeal for girls to help the Y.W.C.A. in Saturday's issue of The Advertiser. From "Justa Mite" comes 50c; and from "One Who Has Tested It" I receive this very kind letter accompanied by a donation of $3.

Dear Miss Grey,—Inclosed find $3 to help the Y.W.C.A. I was glad you brought their needs to notice, for I can speak from experience of the good work they are doing. I have travelled thousands of miles alone in Canada and the United States, boarding as a transient at several Y.W.C.A. buildings, and everywhere I found the same spirit of kindness and friendliness. This organization has made it possible for a woman to go alone to strange cities with perfect safety. The Travellers' Aid is always on hand at depot or wharf to give all necessary directions. In fact, I have found without exception that everyone connected with the Y.W.C.A. work did all in their power to further the happiness of women and girls. Too much cannot be said in their favor. So I am glad to give a little help to our London branch.

Silks for Spring.

1. What silk will be the most fashionable for dresses this spring?

Wishing your column every success, I am CANUCK.

Ans.—Silk poplin, taffeta and finely corded silks will be leaders; satin will also be considerably in favor. Your letter and address was forwarded as desired.

Man, Woman and Money.

Dear Miss Grey,—The question was asked in the woman's page a short time ago: "Who should carry the money, the man or the woman?" I have not seen an answer yet, so just give my opinion. I think each should carry some. I suppose a man don't feel like earning the money and handing it over to his wife to do as she likes with, and again a woman don't want to go out with her purse empty. I think the man should give his wife money enough to run the place and have some spending money anyway. My man leaves the money home, and if he wants some he takes it, and when I want some I just help myself also, so in that way we are both satisfied, and when there is satisfaction all round there is peace in the camp.

I will send a recipe for Annie Rooney cake: One egg, one cup molasses, one teaspoon butter, one tablespoon sugar, half cup cold water, one teasopon soda, one teaspoon cinnamon, allspice and half teaspoon cloves, two cups flour. Bake in layers, put jelly between and plain icing on top. V. G. E.

Ans.—You have surely settled your household finances in a very satisfactory way. It must be most humiliating to a wife to have to "beg" for every cent she spends, not only on herself, but for the household. Yet most of wives certainly perform their half of the partnership well—should they not receive a portion of the profits resulting.

Announcing a Wedding.

Miss Grey,—1 How long before a wedding should the announcement be put in the paper?

2. Are the laws of the North West the same as of Ontario?

3. Recipe for dark layer cake?

ELMIRA.

Ans.—You mean the announcement of the couple's engagement? Sometimes two or three months, sometimes one month or about three weeks before the date set for the wedding.

2. Do you mean in regard to marriage? They differ somewhat. For instance, in Ontario I believe minors cannot marry without the consent of both parents; in British Columbia, if the father is willing, minors may marry, regardless of the wishes of the mother. In most of the provinces, the laws are very similar.

3. Here is a nice one sent by V. F.: Spiced Layer Cake—One egg, 3 tablespoons molasses, 1 cup sugar, butter the size of an egg, quarter teaspoon cloves, same of allspice and a little more of cassia, ½ teaspoon ginger, 1 cup sour milk, 1 teaspoon soda, stir about the same as any other layer cake. This is a nice icing for this cake: Put 1 cup of yellow sugar on stove, with 1 cup seeded raisins; let boil until it hairs; have the white of 1 egg beat well, and pour the mixture over, beat until thick enough to spread on cake; you will find this good.

When the Birds Come.

Dear Miss Grey,—Will you please answer a few more of these troublesome questions?

1. How old do you think a girl should be before she lengthens her skirts?

2. What is the best way you know of to make your hair grow?

3. About what time of the year do you look for the following birds—cowbird, killdeer, songster, red-winged black bird and flicker?

As this is my first letter to you, I will close now, thanking you in advance. A SCHOOLGIRL.

Ans.—1. Usually the lengthening is done a few inches at a time, generally beginning when a girl is thirteen. If she grows up unusually tall, her skirts would naturally be lengthened sooner than if she were very short.

2. Keep hair and scalp in clean, wholesome condition, brush the hair every night with a "clean" brush; massage a little vaseline in around the roots about once a week.

3. Glad that you are interested in bird life, or is it because the subject is on your school curriculum that you make these inquiries? Mr. W. E. Saunders, our London authority on birds, tells me that the cowbird, killdeer and red-wing may be expected here this week if the weather continues mild and favorable; the songster, or rather song-sparrow, is here already. I heard one myself, singing his cheery song one day last week; the flicker belongs to a group of birds that arrives here a week or two later.

For April Fool.

Dear Miss Grey,—Will you please answer a few questions for me?

1. Will you tell me some little tricks that you could play at an April fool concert at church?

2. What would be a nice present to give a Sunday school teacher, there being about twenty-nine girls?

3. What are the meanings of these names—Edna, Retta, Alice and Clara?

I remain, SUNNY CLARA.

Ans.—1. Shall try and print some "April fool" games some day this week.

2. I presume, as there are so many of you, your gift would cost not less than five dollars. How about a camera? You can get a very nice one and two or three rolls of films for that amount, and it is gift that gives great pleasure. A manicure set, or toilet set of brush, comb and mirror, in a neat case, would no doubt be much appreciated; or how about books? Several volumes of Henry Van Dyke's writings, she would probably like, or collections of poems, or stories by a standard writer. A nicely-fitted handbag or a club bag (if you were spending ten or fifteen dollars), or wrist watch, would be acceptable gifts. If your teacher is a young woman interested in athletics, a good tennis racquet may be purchased for three or four dollars.

3. Edna, pleasure; Retta, originally a contraction of Margarita, which means a pearl; Alice, a princess; Clara, illustrious.

Saw It Elsewhere.

Dear Miss Grey,—I have two questions which I would like to have answered as soon as possible.

1. Some time ago I saw a remedy for gallstones, but I have forgotten where I saw it. Have had the idea that it was on the Woman's Page of The Advertiser. It was since Christmas that I saw it. If so, would you please print it again, or if you know any remedy at all, will you please publish it as soon as possible in your column?

Lastly, what is your opinion of my writing? A READER OF THE AD.

Ans.—1. You did not see the remedy on this page unless it was an advertisement. Should think medical treatment and advice should be sought without delay.

2. Fairly good.

Thanks and Recipes.

Dear Miss Grey,—I want to thank you for help so kindly sent before. Here are two tested recipes:

Nut Icing—One cup of hickory or walnut meats, one cup sugar, one cup sour cream; boil slowly until thick enough to spread.

Apple Pie With One Crust—Prepare bottom crust in usual way; cover with sugar; next add a generous sprinkle of flour; add apples in the usual way; pour a little milk over apples and bake till milk will not run; to be eaten the same day as baked.

Thanking you for your help to me before, and wishing you great success. MARION.

Ans.—So glad if the help really helped. Thanks for your nice-sounding recipes, Marion.

Would Like to Teach.

Dear Miss Grey,—I wonder if you would be kind enough to answer a few questions through your very delightful column?

1. Is it necessary to take the four-year course at the collegiate institute, and then attend Normal, to be a kindergarten teacher? I took a two-year commercial course at the collegiate and secured my diplomas about four years ago.

2. Could I train for a kindergarten teacher now without going through the general course, and, if so, what course would it be necessary for me to take?

3. What is the average salary of a kindergarten teacher?

4. I am 20 years old and weigh 110 pounds, and am 5 feet 5 inches in height. Am I too slight for my age?

5. What do you think of my writing?

Sincerely yours, TRUE BLUE.

Ans.—1. To train for a teacher would naturally require a much different course than the training for commercial life. I think you would have to have your matriculation before entering Normal. However, why not write to Mr. Radcliffe, principal of the Normal, or arrange for an interview with him as to the qualifications necessary? This would be most satisfactory, as you would then have direct information.

3. Six or seven hundred a year, I believe.

4. No, a very nice weight, I think.

5. Your penmanship is excellent.

Shirts for Soldiers.

Dear Miss Grey,—This is my first visit to you, but I always read your page with interest.

1. To what address would one send knitted garments for the troops at the Front?

2. What do you think of my writing?

MAC.

Ans.—Best send them to the Red Cross Society rooms, Hyman Hall, London, and the parcel will be forwarded with their shipment. Mark the parcel "Private," and address it with the soldier's name, rank, company or any other information you have of a similar nature. This will help the distributors in England to deliver the parcel properly.

2. Very good.

Saves the Recipes.

Dear Miss Grey,—1. Would you please print the recipes for chocolate pie, Prince Albert cake and cream puffs? I am saving the recipes, and have lost these three.

2. What will take pimples off the face and not make the hair grow?

3. Would you please print a pattern for a summer dress for a girl of 16?

I enjoy your page very much, and think those girls of 16 should not think of getting married for at least six years anyway. Hoping to see this in print soon, COUNTRY GIRL.

Ans.—1. Prince Albert cake—Two eggs beaten together, half cup butter, one cup brown sugar, half cup sour milk mixed with one teaspoon soda, one cup seedless raisins, one and half cups flour, one grated nutmeg, one teaspoon cinnamon. Bake in two jelly tins.

Chocolate pie—Make fairly rich pie shell and bake; when cool, pour in this chocolate filling— One and half cups sweet milk, two egg yolks, half cup granulated sugar, tablespoon cornstarch, two tablespoons grated chocolate melted in a little hot water; beat eggs, milk, sugar and chocolate together, then add the cornstarch dissolved in a little cold milk; boil a few minutes, adding vanilla flavoring, and remove from fire. The egg whites should be beaten, sugar added, and the meringue piled on the pie. Brown a little.

Cream puffs—Three cups flour, one cup butter, pinch of salt, two cups boiling water, five eggs; mix flour, butter and salt, pour in the boiling water, beat lightly, and place on the stove in a double boiler; cook, stirring constantly, until it becomes thick. Take from fire, let cool, and break in the eggs one at a time; beat up well and drop into buttered gem tins; bake, then split when cool and fill with sweetened, whipped cream.

2. Please see answer to Gypsy in Monday's paper.

3. A number of suitable pattern illustrations have appeared and others will follow.

Should Join Girl Guides.

Dear Miss Grey,—Would you please answer the following questions for me as quickly as possible and oblige?

1. Would you please tell me what club girls from ten to twelve could form? We want something with fun connected with it. If you can please tell me the name, uniforms, if it matters, their duty and everything connected. We live in the country and so there are not many of us, five or six, but we would like to have a club. Not to sew, but something nice. We want something like the boy scouts, you know. I know you will understand what I mean. SNUBBY NOSE.

P.S.—What do you think of my writing. S. N.

Ans.—I think it is an organization called the Girl Guides that you are asking about. Write to Lady Pellatt, Toronto, Ont., for information about organizing a branch. I believe the rules, etc., are very similar to those for the Boy Scouts, and should be an admirable thing for you and your friends.

2. Fair.

Wrote Before.

Dear Miss Grey,—Would you please answer these questions for me? I am writing once more to your very helpful Mail Box, and I send my thanks for answering my other letter, and hope you may answer these questions for me this time.

1. If there is any way, how might I clean the top of a couch, it being of red velvet, is as good as new, only it seems faded or dirty?

2. How could a burnt-colored Tagal braid hat be cleaned for the summer? It was an expensive straw, and I would like to use it another summer again?

3. Will the "Tipperary" hats be of two colors, or just one? Would a black with white crown be all right, or are they going to wear black hats this summer?

4. Would you please print a pattern of a middy-blouse with long sleeves. Will the long sleeves be in "middies" the same as the rest of summer dresses?

5. What do you think of my writing? I intend sending some recipes to you soon. I have a "scrap-book," and clip all hints out of your page. LUCELLE.

Ans.—1. Afraid there is no way but to get the couch reupholstered.

2. You would get most satisfactory results to send the hat to a professional cleaner's. You might clean it fairly well at home by brushing the hat (after ripping all the trimming off) and sponging it lightly with a weak solution of oxalic acid, followed by an application of clear water. A hand brush is very convenient to use.

3. Yes, the two-color hats seem to be fairly plentiful among those shown by local millinery establishments. Black and white is a popular combination, some of the black hats having a white and black "lattice-work" crown, and a narrow facing of white under the brim. All black hats, too, will be much worn.

4. Do not think there is such a pattern in the department, or I should be glad to publish it. Sleeves may be either long or elbow-length.

5. Not particularly good.

"PIVOT STEPS AND GLIDES CHIEF MOTIONS IN THE AEROPLANE WALTZ," SAYS

JOAN SAWYER

(Famous Dance Director of New York's Persian Garden)

The "glide step" is the dominant one in the aeroplane waltz.

BY JOAN SAWYER.

The aeroplane waltz is not necessarily a professional dance. Smoothness of motion, grace, and, above all, alertness are necessary in this dance, which portrays the motions of an airship in flight.

The waltz step is the basic step in the aeroplane dance, and, though there are many "wheels" and pivot steps, the glide and the swaying movement are the characteristic steps of the "aeroplane." The criss-cross, the double tap, the backward spiral, the wing and the lame duck are some of the steps that tax the agility and certainty of movement in the new dance—a shaky, uncertain step spells failure in the aeroplane waltz.

From the "lame duck," which is a typical step in this dance, to the sweeping courtesy, with which it ends, the dance of the aeroplane is one of the most graceful as well as one of the most original of the many new dances.

KITCHEN KINKS

[Sent in for Advertiser readers by "Spring Blossoms."]

Before putting milk into a saucepan, boil rapidly a few spoonfuls of water (enough to cover bottom of pan) and it will never burn, however fierce the fire.

It is said that if parsley is eaten with onion or a salad, the odor of onion will not affect the breath.

Never buy meat that is a palish pink, for it is diseased. Good meat is red, with fat clear, white and firm.

If you wish to cut butter without "crumbing," put a piece of wax paper over knife; it will be perfectly smooth and even.

When cooking, never leave a spoon in dish, as it conducts the heat from the liquid.

To remove grease from wall paper, hold a piece of blotting paper over the spot with a hot flatiron for a few minutes.

Stick a pin in the cork of each bottle containing poisons, and it will save tragic mistakes in seeking medicines in the dark.

When a fish bone is lodged in the throat, lemon juice will remove it; if the lemon is sucked for a moment the bone will move on; in one case it succeeded after the bone had been in the throat two days.

Quicksilver beaten up with white of an egg and applied with a feather to a bedstead will soon clear it from bugs; this holds good for years.

Flies dislike the odor of lavender oil; if sprinkled around the dining-room, they will try to escape from it.

A bag of one-half ounce of cloves, nutmeg and caraway seeds will keep moths at a distance.

Red ants do not like parsley.

When paring bananas for a sick person, instead of using sugar and cream, they will be more appetizing if orange juice is used in place of cream. Just try it yourself.

A teaspoon of glycerine given in a cup of hot milk will relieve coughing.

The juice of a lemon is an excellent gargle for sore throat.

Old Songs and Poems

LOCHABER NO MORE.

Farewell to Lochaber, and farewell my Jean,
Where heartsome with thee I've mony day been;
For Lochaber no more, Lochaber no more,
We'll maybe return to Lochaber no more.
These tears that I shed, they are a' for my dear,
And no for the dangers attending on weir,
Tho' bore on rough seas to a far bloody shore,
May be to return to Lochaber no more.

Tho' hurricanes rise, and rise ev'ry wind,
They'll ne'er make a tempest like that in my mind.
Tho' loudest of thunder on louder waves roar,
That's naething like leaving my love on the shore.
To leave thee behind me my heart is sair pain'd,
By ease that's inglorious, no fame can be gain'd,
And beauty and love's the reward of the brave,
And I must deserve it before I can crave.

Then glory, my Jeany, maun plead my excuse,
Since honor commands me, how can I refuse?
Without it I ne'er can have merit for thee,
And without thy favor I'd better not be.
I gae, then, my lass, to win honor and fame,
And if I should luck to come gloriously hame,
I'll bring a heart to thee with love running o'er,
And then I'll leave thee and Lochaber no more.

Deal for Beebe and Linneborn May Fall Through

President Somerville of London Club Says Youngstown Has Not Bought These Players Yet.

The report that Beebe and Linneborn would be sold by the London club to the newly-organized Youngstown team of the Central League was not confirmed by President Somerville this morning. "Manager Reisling has been trying to send these two players there," he said, "but so far no deal has been made. The Youngstown club has not completed its organization yet and although we hope to sell Linneborn and Beebe to that club, it may be that the deal will fall through. Reisling has other plans for these two players in that case."

Nevitt Too High.

Chief Nevitt, the Indian catcher, who was with St. Thomas last season, has been making an effort to come to London. However, owing to the large salary he asks it is not likely he will come. President Somerville stated today that if St. Thomas could not afford to keep the Indian this season the London club could not either. "I do not think Nevitt will play for London," he said.

Wellington Street To Play McClary's for Simcoe Cup

St. Andrews Refused To Play Because One of Their Men Had Previous Engagement.

Wellington Street will be substituted for St. Andrew's tonight in the games for the Simcoe Rink cup at the Simcoe street rink. St. Andrews have refused to play because one of their players made a previous engagement for this evening. Manager Lowry, of the Simcoe street rink, has decided then to go ahead with the games, and Wellington Street, runnersup in the Church League will meet McClarys instead of the Presbyterians. Six-man hockey will be played tonight. The rink management and cup trustees feel that St. Andrews could have played easy enough tonight, as they had to drop a man in any case for the game this evening. The rink has a splendid sheet of ice, and owing to the lateness of the season the management saw no reason for putting the game off until it suited St. Andrews' convenience to play.

The best individual scores were 205, made by Bill Lehman and Miller.

THE FUNNIEST PLAY THAT I EVER SAW

BY CHICK FRASER,
Veteran Pitcher, Now Scout for Pirates.

The funniest thing I ever saw on a ball field happened in Boston quite a Fraser.

It was when Bob Emslie was getting sensitive, and the Boston players having little else to do, spent most of their time amusing themselves on the bench by kidding the umpires.

On that day we were beating the life out of Boston, and the bench crowd was after Emslie every minute. He was watching out of the corner of his eye to try to catch the fellows who were doing the yelling.

His attention naturally was off the game, and he was giving them some reason for kicking as the game went along.

Half the fellows on the bench were up to it, and they had Bob considerably fussed before the fifth inning.

Then somebody yelled from the bench for Bob to get a new wig.

He turned as quickly as possible, jerked off his mask, and called out:

"Off the field with you, Willis; I know your voice."

No one moved, and the umpire thoroughly angry, moved toward the bench, yelling at Willis to get to the club-house. The Boston players commenced to laugh as hard as they could. Bob stopped, and turned red.

Willis was sitting in the corner, his head resting against the side of the bench, and he was sound asleep. Bob, having made the bluff so the crowd could hear him, had to make good. He woke Vic, and ordered him off the field.

"What for?" demanded Vic, rubbing his eyes.

"Snoring too loud," said Emslie, and got away with it.

INTERNATIONAL SCHEDULE MEETING AGAIN POSTPONED

President Barrow Announces That It Will Probably Be Held Next Week.

NEW YORK, March 15.—The schedule meeting of the International League, which was to have been held next Thursday, has been postponed, and probably will not be held until same time next week, President Edward J. Barrow announced tonight. No formal call for the meeting has as yet been sent out, he said.

E. W. Wicks, secretary of the Richmond club, President Barrow stated, has been appointed secretary and business manager of the Jersey City club, but has not been named president and general manager, as reported. No president has yet been selected, he said.

The purchase by the Jersey City club of three players, Salmon (pitcher), Barney (outfielder), and Curry (second baseman), from Hartford, of the Eastern Association, was also announced

"Kid" Williams Has Nothing To Lose By Meeting Kilbane

Johnny Kilbane

Advices from Philadelphia are that Johnny Kilbane is already in fine fettle for his six-round engagement in that city Wednesday afternoon against Kid Williams, the bantam champion. Kilbane and Williams are both big favorites in Philadelphia, but the fans in that city have made Johnny favorite, with the odds 6 to 5 against the bantam titleholder.

Kilbane is taller than Williams by about six inches, and he will have a weight advantage of two or three pounds. Two or three pounds is often enough to turn the scale in a scrap between the title fellows.

Moreover, Kilbane is much faster than Williams. The Cleveland Johnny is the cleverest little man in the ring today.

Of course, in one sense the match is a good one for Williams. If the Cleveland boy should happen to slip over the sleep producer the Kid will not lose his bantam title, for the scrap is at 122 ringside, while the bantam limit is 116 pounds. And Kilbane does not even profess to be able to do 116.

On the other hand, if Williams manages to stop Kilbane, he will acquire the featherweight belt to add to his bantam prize. In a way Williams has all to gain and nothing to lose, but he's playing a 100 to 1 shot.

MONTREAL TO HAVE SOME BIG BOUTS

One World's Championship Bout Is Already Booked Since Council Passed Bylaw.

Montreal, March 16.—Following the action of the city council yesterday in passing without opposition a bylaw allowing athletic associations to stage boxing matches open to the public, it was announced today that one world's championship bout was in prospect for Montreal, and that many other important fistic engagements would be staged here within the next few weeks.

George Kennedy, manager of the Canadian Club, states that a match between Frankie Fleming, the Canadian featherweight champion, and Kilbane, world's featherweight champion, is being arranged, and today Fleming signed to fight Kid Julian, of Syracuse, at Sohmer Park on April 16.

AILSA CRAIG LADIES BEAT FOREST GIRLS TEAM 3 TO 2

Made Strong Finish In Third Period, Coming From Behind and Winning Out.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Ailsa Craig, March 15.—The Ailsa Craig ladies' hockey team defeated the Forest ladies' hockey team here last night in an exciting exhibition, by the score of 3 to 2. Forest ladies led until the final period. In the first period the visiting girls scored one goal to Ailsa Craig's nil, and in the second period the teams each scored a goal. Ailsa Craig secured two goals in the third period, while Forest was shut out. The game was played on soft ice. The teams were:

| Ailsa Craig. | | Forest. |

| A. Meadows | Goal | S. Smith |
| K. Robinson | Right | A. McCahill |
| M. Craig | Left | B. Rawlings |
| M. Morton | Centre | B. Ross |

| L. Stevenson | R. Wing | C. McPherson |

Referee.—S. Garden, of Parkhill.

War is an odd thing; here Germany is going ahead and doing with much success the very things she has been telling the socialists for a dozen years were impossible.

George Davis, the Boston Braves' pitcher, has set a new mark for strength at Harvard. In spite of his strength you will observe he did not try to hold up Stallings.

CONTINUE RACING IN SPITE OF WAR

English Jockey Club Decides at Special Meeting—Will Curtail Social Functions.

London, March 16.—The Jockey Club has decided to continue racing in spite of the war. The only change from times of peace will be the necessary curtailment of social functions in connection with the Epsom and Ascot meets.

The club held at the residence of Lord Derby in London today a special meeting to decide this question, on which public opinion is divided so widely. After an exhaustive discussion the club confirmed its decision of six months ago that the continuance of racing was necessary to the interests of horse breeding and of the thousands of men employed in connection with the sport.

The revival of the discussion was due mainly to what the Jockey Club styles a misstatement, to the effect that wounded soldiers in the clubhouse at Epsom, now being used as a hospital, would be obliged to vacate the building because it would be required for the race meet.

About forty members attended today's meeting.

CHAMPION CARPENTIER IS STILL IN THE RING

NEW YORK, March 15.—A London cable printed here says: "The report issued from Berlin that Georges Carpentier, the heavyweight champion of Europe, was wounded and was now a prisoner of war, has no foundation.

"Carpentier is in perfect health, and obtained special leave from his regiment to take part in a boxing exhibition in Paris last Friday, given for the benefit of the Belgium sufferers."

Tommy Burn's New Role Is Another Money-Maker

Former Heavyweight Champion Is Fight Promoter in New Orleans and He Has His Own Arena Where Crowds Gather Nightly—Picks Willard To Win.

NEW ORLEANS, March 15.—Tommy Burns, ex-Detroiter, now a resident of New Orleans, is the fellow of whom it originally was said, "race's foolish as a fox." He proved this in his business dealings when he was fighting, and he is proving it again by the way in which, jumping into the Crescent City the minute the 20-round game was made legal, he has shown the local promoters how to make money, and has driven Tom McCarey back to the coast.

When Burns came here there were several local clubs of no great seating capacity. Some of these promoters were figuring, and not figuring fast, on big arenas. McCarey had come on from Los Angeles to talk with businessmen who threatened to build a clubhouse for him. Burns did not confer or figure. He just went out and found an open lot on Howard street, just off Canal about six blocks from the St. Charles Hotel. Then he grabbed.

Best Seats on Mother Earth.

This lot already was fenced. Burns built circus seats on all four sides, and left a little space between the front barriers of these, and the ring platform. When you get a ringside seat you pay $8 to sit on a chair whose legs rest on Mother Earth. There is no concrete flooring. When you look up you see the stars. There is no roof. The circus seats all about you sell for $2 and $1. Special sections, of course, are set aside for negroes, Jim Johnson and Wills boxed before 4,000 persons. The place will accommodate more than 5,000.

Local promoters gave purses, and the boxers got all the coin. Burns makes them work percentage, or they don't box. Local promoters allowed all sorts of wrangling over referees, and had to hire high priced ones at times. Burns umpires the contests for himself, and saves a salary and expenses. New Orleans is intensely loyal to its home fighters. Burns has discovered this, and already has dug up a bantam and a little weight, who are sort of house champions, and whom he works with frequency. They don't cost a lot, and they pull big gates.

Picks Willard to Win.

Jess Willard was at Burns' show and got a great reception. Talking this fight over, Burns said:

"There isn't dope on which you can figure Willard to win. Yet in my opinion, there isn't a shadow of a doubt that he will be champion on the night of April 5.

"He is young and strong and will fight if stung. Johnson is getting old and he never was the fighter he is rated.

"Johnson beat me. I never was a great fighter. If he was what they claim he should have stopped a little fellow like myself in four rounds.

"You can't put yourself in the class out of it, though. This is good enough for me. I had my fling. I went from a $1.25 purse at Handlosers Hall to a $30,000 bit for my end at Sydney, and did it inside ten years. That's good enough for me."

Burns will make New Orleans his home, his brother having taken charge of his business in Alberta. The Burns family now consists of four daughters, the latest two additions being twins

And talks till your ready to sob,
Dont stand there and listen to more
—Just maim him for life with the knob.

TORONTO PAPERS PRAISE PHILLIPS

[Toronto News.]

Phillips, the little fellow from London, is one of the fastest and cleverest players ever seen in Toronto.

[Toronto Star.]

The third best man on the ice is difficult to determine. Phillips, the Western University man, showed some sparkling stick-handling and pace, and was always in the fray.

[Mail and Empire.]

Phillips, the Western University right wing, who captained the West, shaped up like one of the best right wings seen around here in a long time. He has speed, and a good shot, but like a lot of the other players who performed Saturday night, has got into the habit of circling in place of going straight for the net.

Jess Willard should insist upon fighting at Juarez, March 6, the further away from Johnson he is the safer he'll be.

Joe Welling, the lightweight who has sprung into prominence through his clever work this winter, is after big game. He wants a crack at the Champion Welsh himself. Welling has improved so much this winter that the sharpshooters who have been watching his work around Chicago declare that he is the peer of any man in the lightweight division and the coming champ of the welterweights.

Tip O'Neill umpired a game in California. There is one umpire no ball player ever will talk back to a second time. After Tip gets through talking there isn't any language left.

We suspect, however, that Tom Jones would be willing to buy a drink for Jack Johnson just now, but we shudder to think what he'd put in it.

FORMER AMERICAN SECRETARY KILLED

W. L. Breese Was Officer In British Regiment at Front.

[Canadian Press.]

New York, March 16.—Wm. L. Breese, former secretary to Ambassador Page in London, was killed Sunday in the fighting in the French front, according to French advices received here from London today. Mr. Breese was an officer in the Royal Horse Guards, and it was while in action with his regiment that he fell.

Mr. Breese leaves a widow and two children. Two of his sisters are Lady Alister Innes-Ker and the Countess of Ancaster.

Mr. Breese had lived in England for the past six years. He became a naturalized British citizen in order to take a commission in the army.

ELMIRA FINALLY BEAT SEAFORTH 4—1

Outplayed Opponents in 2nd Half of Game at Stratford.

GOALKEEPERS STARRED

Seaforth Did Not Score Until Near the End of the Game.

STRATFORD, March 15.—In a brilliantly fought battle here tonight the fast Elmira septette defeated the Seaforth boys by the score of 4 to 1, and thereby qualified to meet the Wiarton seniors in the Northern League finals.

The rink was crowded to its full capacity, and the majority of those present were with the boys from Huron.

Throughout the first period, the Seaforth team had a big edge on the play, although they were unable to get one by Helmbecker, and the half finished 1 to 0 for Elmira.

Elmira Spurts in Second Half.

With the commencement of the second period the Elmira team opened up with a rush and played the Seaforthians off their feet, and the period was almost over before Hays scored on a wing shot, the only goal of the night for Seaforth. The opposing goal tenders were the stars of the engagement, both stopping and clearing repeated bombardments. "Tommie" Dick and Miller, opponents in centre ice were the best men. The line-ups were:

| Elmira. | Position. | Seaforth. |
|---|---|---|
| Helmbecker | Goal | McGeoch |
| Welchel | Right defence | Hays |
| Otto | Left defence | Reid |
| Ruppel | Rover | Sills |
| Miller | Centre | Dick |
| Helmbecker | Right wing | Hoffman |
| Welchel | Left wing | O. Dick |

Referee—Jack Moxon, Toronto.

GALT JUNIORS WON FROM BERLIN JACKS

Northern League Champions Show Much Team Work.

BERLIN USED TWO SUBS

Games Were Inclined To Be Rough Owing to Ice Being Heavy.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

GALT, March 15. — The Berlin Junior Jacks, O. H. A. runners-up, strengthened by Hiller and Clayton, intermediates, were this evening decisively defeated by the local "kids," Northern junior champions, by a score of 7 to 3. The half-time score was 5 to 2. The game was one of the hardest fought played here this season, and while the visitors showed considerable speed they were close-checked too hard for it to be effective. Both teams bodychecked hard, and in the second period the play was inclined to be rough. Hiller, Clayton and Erb played fine hockey for the visitors, while all the locals played winning hockey. The locals showed more teamwork tonight than they have in any game this season, and in the past three exhibition games have played their best hockey. The ice was heavy and slushy. Tonight's game closes the season here.

The teams:

|---|---|
| Storm sewers | $190,000.00 |
| Sanitary sewers | 78,000.00 |
| Pavements | 27,313.00 |
| Curbs and gutters | 10,997.90 |
| Cements walks | 3,935.02 |
| | $310,245.92 |

These are the several parts of the biggest local improvement budget, ever put through a London council, which went through at a meeting last night. In addition, $142,861.19 of pavements were laid over to give the aldermen a chance to familiarize themselves with them.

Its size can best be estimated by the fact that when these other pavements are added, it means more than four miles of additional paving, more storm sewer work than was done last year, and the biggest individual sanitary sewer authorization since the system was first installed in this city in the '90's.

The good roads phase of the budget is naturally one that appeals to the majority. Last year was regarded as a record breaker, but this year will far surpass it. Without the "hangover" work, authorized in 1914, but never completed, there is more than $170,000 to be spent this year. Of this amount, $27,313.00 is represented by pavements put through on petition and the remainder work put through on a two-thirds vote of the council. The petition pavements went through without comment the ones requiring a two-third vote being the ones left over.

In as compact a form as possible the following will show what the paving budget means. Merely the street, the area to be paved and the total cost are used, but these figures are sufficient to explain better than words what is to be accomplished.

By Two-Thirds Vote (Laid Over).

William street, King to Queen's avenue, $6,134.77.

Maitland street, King to Hamilton road, $9,666.00.

Hamilton road, Maitland to Trafalgar, $39,657.77.

Waterloo street, Princess to Grosvenor, $37,360.73.

Ridout street, Ferguson Place to Garfield, $9,898.08.

Dundas street, Woodman avenue to 678 feet west, $4,655.13.

South street, Colborne to Waterloo, $7,088.20.

Waterloo street, Bathurst street to South, $17,775.02.

Briscoe street (concrete), Wortley road to Ridout street, $4,787.19.

Elmwood avenue, Wortley road to Ridout street, $5,838.30.

By Petition (Passed).

Elmwood avenue, Wortley road to Wharncliffe road, $18,160.35.

Gerrard street (concrete), Grand avenue to Duchess avenue, $3,936.20.

The Ridgeway, Becher street to Wharncliffe road, $5,216.45.

The length of the various kinds of pavement that will be used in the construction of the above program is as follows:

| | |
|---|---|
| Asphalt | 20,302 feet |
| Concrete | 1,663 feet |
| Brick | 376 feet |

This total works out to 4.212 miles.

Estimated Sewer Costs.

A tabular statement of the sewer estimates follows:

The first division is for storm sewers and the second for sanitary sewers. With the exception of a $2,000 item for repairs to the syphon chamber at Evergreen avenue, the sanitary sewer appropriation is for the new east end disposal plant.

| | |
|---|---|
| Egerton street, Hamilton road to Dundas | $ 66,000 |
| Dundas, Egerton to Ashland avenue | 7,000 |
| Carling Creek mains | 103,000 |
| Oxford street, etc., | 10,000 |
| The Ridgeway | 4,000 |
| | $190,000 |

Sanitary.

| | |
|---|---|
| Muir (Beatrice) and Price streets | 11,000 |
| Egerton street, Hamilton road to Dundas | 39,000 |
| Dundas street, Egerton to Ashland avenue | 8,000 |
| Syphon chamber | 2,000 |
| Disposal site | 18,000 |
| | $ 78,000 |

Tenders for the following pavements authorized last year were ordered called for:

Ridout Street Bridge to Craig street, vitrified brick; Craig to Ferguson Place, asphalt concrete.

Colborne street, Queen's avenue to King street, asphalt.

Waterloo street, G. T. R. tracks to Bathurst street, vitrified brick.

Where Curbs Will Go.

The $10,997.90 to be expended on curbs and gutters is made up of the following sections where the work will be done. The average cost is 6 cents per foot per year.

William street (both sides) from Dundas to Queen's avenue, $359.04.

Maitland street (both sides) King to York streets, $424.64; York to Bathurst, $300.15; Bathurst to Hamilton road, $250.40.

Hamilton road (both sides) Adelaide to Rectory, $2,056.42; Anderson to Sackville (north side), $521.93; Anderson to Trafalgar (south side), $708.68.

Waterloo street, St. James to Grosvenor, $671.78.

Dundas street, Egerton to 790 westerly, $714.94.

The above were all put through on a two-thirds vote, but the following went through on petitions:

Gerrard street (both sides), Grand to Duchess, $609.15.

Ridout street (both sides), Ferguson to Garfield, $1,395.28.

Ridgeway (both sides), Becher to Wharncliffe, $772.

Poor Old Glaubitz.

No council meeting is complete any more without some reference, either directly or indirectly, to the Glaubitz proposition. Last night's meeting was no exception to the rule.

Ald. F. W. Daly brought the question first to the attention of the council under the head of inquiries, when he asked by what right the fire, water and light committee had refused a hearing to General Manager H. J. Glaubitz, of the public utilities commission, on the ornamental street lighting question.

Mayor Stevenson answered him.

"We refused to hear him because he was not asked to come," he said. "I asked Mr. Buchanan to prepare an estimate, but he never."

"That was a question for the commission, was it not?" asked the alderman.

Right to Ask Information.

"No, it was not," was the reply. "I have the right to ask any city official for information. I thought Engineer Buchanan was the proper man, so I asked him."

Ald. Tancock suggested that it was up to the council to pass a vote of censure to the man who refused to come, or the man who refused to allow him. No action was taken on this suggestion. Later, however, it was brought up in another form, when Ald. W. A. Wilson presented a resolution asking Engineer Buchanan to appear.

This resolution precipitated a lengthy and warm debate. It was finally defeated on a vote of eight to seven, the board of control voting solidly against it, together with Alderman Ashplant, Cooper, Lerner and Daly.

Calls It an Insult.

Controller J. P. Moore waxed indignant that such a motion should be introduced. He declared that he was disgusted with the report of the proceedings of the committee, and that nothing more childish than its action to Manager Glaubitz could be imagined. It was a disgrace to the dignity of the council that such a thing should have occurred.

Ald. Cooper declared that as the commission had seen fit to deal with the Glaubitz case, and reinstate him, the council should deal with the commission.

Ald. Merryfield took an opposite view. He declared that he had done all in his power to have Glaubitz leave in a gentlemanly way, in view of the feelings of the people against him. This having failed, he was prepared to make it as interesting as possible until Glaubitz did leave.

Ald. Tancock declared that Glaubitz was a funny proposition.

"He would not appear when we wanted him to, and when we did not want him to appear, he did. He's a pretty funny kind of a man to be doing that kind of work," he declared.

"The commission has publicly flouted the council on more than one occasion," said Ald. Haney. "We have a right to say who shall appear before the committee, and who will not."

Wants To Abolish Control Board.

Following the defeat of this motion, Ald. Wilson made his expected denouncement of the board of control question, when he introduced a motion, later amended to a notice of motion, to have a bylaw prepared for a special election, either in June or as early as possible, to submit to the people the question of the abolition of the board of control.

Ald. A. W. Palmer's motion calling on the city engineer to prepare a report on the service now being rendered by the street railway passed without comment. So did Ald. Lerner's, to issue debentures in $100 lots.

Though brought up under the head of inquiries, the question of assessment was one of the most interesting brought up throughout the entire session. Ald. Tancock started the ball rolling when he inquired if it would be possible to instruct the assessment commission to make no further assessment increases this year, except where new buildings were erected

Ald. Merryfield hotly opposed any such move, declaring that it was contrary to the law to interfere with the assessment commissioner in his work, while Controller J. P. Moore pointed out that the commissioner was sworn by law to do his duty.

"I would like to know why the assessment was raised, anyway?" asked Ald. Donnelly.

Blames Wire Pullers.

"That's very simple," replied Ald. Tancock. "By increasing the assessment the rate was lowered, and those enjoying fixed assessments got off without paying any more. If the assessment had been lowered, and the rate increased, they would have had to pay more, so in my opinion they pulled the wires, and the assessment was increased."

"I would like to know if there is anything to justify increasing assessment to help pay salaries for public officials?" asked Ald. Donnelly, but there was no answer.

License reduction and its probable fate before the Legislature was something that Ald. Ashplant asked about, and was informed that the council's deputation would have to defend the entire bill. The same alderman wanted to know what had been done in reference to the property qualification resolution passed last year. He was informed that it had been sent on to the Legislature for consideration.

Hydro Radial Convention.

At the request of Industrial Commissioner Philip, the board of control was authorized to meet with the executive of the board of trade executive to arrange for the London delegation to the hydro radial convention on March 26. At this convention it is proposed to ask the Provincial Government for a subsidy of $3,200 a mile to the hydro radials. This will be a supplementary subsidy to the Federal Government subsidy of $6,400 a mile that is being asked for.

Later the council passed the resolution asked for by the Ontario Hydro Radial Association to memorialize the Dominion Government for a subsidy of $6,400 a mile.

This memorial requests the Government to announce its subsidy policy so that in anticipation of such subsidies work can be started. It further asks for the appointment of public service commissions, with powers similar to the Provincial Hydro-Electric Commission, to construct and operate these radials.

There will be no little old last year's car for the fire department. The council sustained the recommendation of the board of control that no action be taken on the recommendation of the fire, water and light committee to offer the public utilities $600 for the machine driven by General Manager H. J. Glaubitz.

The recommendation of the board of control that sewer and construction department employees be insured, because of the city's liability under the Workmen's Compensation Act, was sent back for further consideration. There was some objection to limiting the insurance to these two classes and on the suggestion of Controller J. P. Moore, a ruling of the workmen's compensation commission will be secured to cover this question.

Down Ward Division Motion.

Ald. Wilson's motion to divide the city into six wards was voted down. He declared that the population of the present wards was unfairly divided and that his proposed new divisions would more equitably divide the voters of the city.

The question of purchasing the Collier property in the East End, comprising some three acres, for a site of the new stock yards, was left over until the special meeting of the council next week. This was purposely left over as the Legislature will deal with the stock yards question today, when it considers the city of London bill.

The request of Manager C. B. King, of the London Street Railway, for an opportunity to be heard on any proposed changes in the schedules, etc., was referred to the special railway committee.

A special motion was made, ordering the city clerk to omit from the collectors' roll the assessment of the Beatty Bros. The Beatty Bros. purchased the Bros. Beatty Bros. purchased the business of the Wortman & Ward Company, which enjoyed a fixed assessment. No provision was made to transfer this privilege to Beatty Bros., and as it was, in the opinion of the city solicitor, too late to seek special authority from the Legislature, it was decided to adopt the method of an order to the clerk.

The request of the draymen to have their draystand changed was referred back to the board of works.

Ald. Max Lerner resented the recommendation of the board of works that no action be taken on a committee recommendation to have a chemist report on the ferilizing qualities of the garbage. To avoid a discussion it was decided to send the clause back to the committee for more information.

Consider Market Improvements.

Ald. Daly, advocating a better policy in connection with market improvements, asked that some scheme be outlined to induce more farmers into London with a consequent reduction of produce prices.

In connection with this market question it was decided to have the fire, water and light committee secure estimates on better accommodation, and on paving the square.

Building Inspector A. M. Piper was ordered to prepare estimates on the cost of erecting a stable on property adjacent to the incinerator building.

Ald. Haney's motion to have no further delegations and deputations appear before the council was defeated. He asked that they be referred to the committees to present their claims.

His motion to have the laying of water mains placed on a frontage basis was referred to the legislation committee. His contention was that while few people paid for the water mains, all ratepayers and property owners on that street benefited from the extra fire protection given through these extra mains.

Ald. Lerner introduced a motion that no further capital expenditures, such as school buildings and such like undertakings, be authorized by the council without indorsation from the people first, this was referred to the board of control.

To Repair Wrecked Truck.

Controller J. P. Moore introduced a motion, which successfully carried, to have the fire truck, wrecked at the William street crossing some two years ago, brought back from the makers' factory at Walkerville, where it was sent after the accident, in order that tenders can be called for its reconstruction.

Ald. Haney introduced a notice of motion to prohibit any abbatoir companies or wholesale butchers from selling meat in London in less quantites than by the quarter. He claimed that there were fourteen companies operating in London now and that they were selling the meat in small quantities, really retailing it, and should therefore come under the transient trader's law and pay a license or go into the retail business.

Street Cleaning Charges.

The rate per foot for street watering and street oiling was placed at 4 cents, while for street cleaning the levy was placed at 8 cents for the business district, and 6 cents for the residential district, the remaining portion of the cost to be charged against the general rate.

The street cleaning divisions are:

Some unusual driving power was behind the aldermen last night, for the session was adjourned at 10:40.

WINGHAM BOY LOSES TWO OF HIS FINGERS

WINGHAM, March 15.—A painful accident befell little Harold Elliott, 3 year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Elliott, of Bluevale, when he was playing in the yard on Saturday afternoon about 4 o'clock, with some lads who were cutting up some wood with an axe. In some manner the little lad got two of his fingers cut off. He was taken to the hospital here and is doing as well as can be expected.

Farewell services were conducted in the Salvation Army Citadel yesterday to the honor of Captain Champkins and Lieut. Roberts, both of whom are leaving. Lieut. Roberts is going to Sarnia and Captain Champkins is going to the rescue home in Toronto. In the afternoon some members were enrolled and on Tuesday evening a social is to be given by the members of the staff and others before the two officers leave for their new positions.

Farmers here report fall grain stood the winter well. Sugar bush owners at present are tapping their trees, some of them having about 300 already tapped.

Many people here are confined to their homes with the grippe, and doctors state it has been one of the worst seasons for some years.

Cruiser Dresden Sunk In S. Pacific Ocean

Last of Von Spee's Squadron Caught Off Juan Fernandez Island—Hoists White Flag in Five Minutes —No British Loss.

[Canadian Press.]

LONDON, March 15.—7:55—The British admiralty announced tonight that the German cruiser Dresden had been sunk.

The sinking of the Dresden was announced in the following statement:

"On the 14th of March, at 9 a.m. H.M.S. Glasgow, Captain John Luce, R.N.; H. M. auxiliary cruiser Orama, Captain John R. Segrave, R. N. and H.M.S. Kent, Captain John D. Allen, C.B.R.N., caught the Dresden near Juan Fernandez Island.

"An action ensued, and after five minutes fighting the Dresden hauled down her colors and displayed the white flag. She was much damaged and set on fire, and after she had been burning for some time her magazine exploded and she sank.

"The crew were saved. Fifteen badly wounded Germans are being landed at Valparaiso.

"There were no British casualties and no damage to the ships."

ONLY ONE OF FIVE WARSHIPS WHICH ESCAPED.

The Dresden was a member of the German squadron which was defeated by the British squadron off the Falkland Islands in December. She was the only one of the five German warships to escape. She was said to have fled to the westward, but there have been no definite reports as to her whereabouts since that time. She was reported, unofficially, to have been seen in the Straits of Magellan, and later to be in hiding in one of the bays on the Chilean coast.

Sister Ship of Emden.

The Dresden was a sister ship of the Emden, which was sunk off Cocos Island in the Indian Ocean by the Australian cruiser Sydney after an adventurous career. The sinking of the Dresden leaves at large on the high seas, so far as is known, only the cruiser Karlsruhe, last reported as operating in the West Indies, and the auxiliary cruiser Kronprinz Wilhelm, which is still raiding commerce in the South Atlantic.

The Dresden, a vessel of 3,600 tons, was no match for the battle cruisers in the fleet of Vice-Admiral Sir Frederick Sturdee in the battle off the Falkland Islands, and after the destruction of the Scharnhorst, Gneisenau, Leipzig and Nurnburg, she steamed away and escaped her pursuers in the darkness.

Sought for Three Months.

Since that time, both British and Japanese warships have searched persistently the waters of the South Pacific and South Atlantic, but for more than three months the German cruiser eluded pursuit.

The Dresden's armament was comparatively light. She carried ten 4.1-inch guns, eight 5-pounders, four machine guns and two torpedo tubes. She was 395 feet long. Her complement was 321 men.

Juan Fernandez Island, near which the Dresden was finally run down, is a Chilean dependency, in the Pacific Ocean, about 400 miles off the mainland. The Chilean Government protested to Germany in December against alleged violations of neutrality by German warships in Chilean waters, and three destroyers were sent by Chile to the Juan Fernandez Islands.

The solitary residence on Juan Fernandez Islands for four years of a Scotchman named Alexander Selkirk, is supposed to have formed the basis of Defoe's tale, "Robinson Crusoe."

SEALING STEAMERS CAUGHT IN THE ICE

[Canadian Press.]

St. Johns, Nfld., March 16.—A wireless message received today brought word that eight steamers of the sealing fleet were caught in the ice fifteen miles off Cape Bonavista, 80 miles north of this port. There appeared to be no chance of their getting clear until there should be a shift of the wind.

IS 83 YEARS OLD

And Her Heart Does Not Bother Her.

Thanks to MILBURN'S Heart and Nerve Pills

Mrs. J. McLaren, Commanda, Ont., writes us under date of February 9, 1914: "Sixteen years ago I took bad with my heart and nerves, and was not able to do anything. I tried a good many doctors, but they did me no good; in fact one doctor gave me up to die. I heard about Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, and I thought I would give them a trial, and after using a couple of boxes I saw that I was improving. I kept on using them for quite a long time. I am 83 years old and my heart does not bother me at all.

"I am raising a little girl who was never very strong, and the doctor said that she had palpitation of the heart, so I started to give them to her. She is now 12 years old, and they are doing her more good than I can possibly tell you. I would advise anyone who has a weak heart to try Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, as they have done wonders for us."

Price, 50 cents per box, 3 boxes for $1.25; for sale at all dealers, or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Company, Limited, Toronto, Ont.

SINKING OF FRYE "MINE-SWEEPER"

New York Herald Says Protest Against "Blockade" Will Not Be Explosive.

[Canadian Press.]

New York, March 16.—The New York Herald this morning contains an editorial on the British order in council: "To attempt to apply the old law of blockade to this situation would be like trying to apply the law regulating monopoly of fifty years ago to conditions at the present day.

"Of course, henceforth the air will be full of protests addressed by all neutrals to all the belligerents, but these protests will not be in the nature of high explosives so far as the relations between the United States and the Allies are concerned."

The Herald declares that the sinking of the American sailing ship Frye by a German cruiser has unwittingly been "a most effective mine-sweeper."

The Sun's View.

The Sun says:

"This new blockade or embargo, designed to starve Germany by isolating her from commercial intercourse with the neutral countries of the world, the United States included, raises questions which can be answered only in their application to specific instances of interference; for in general principle the blockade has no precedent in the history of warfare. It is intended to be enforced not merely at or near the entrance to the German ports, but anywhere on the high seas that neutral ships are found with goods, either contraband or non-contraband, going to or coming from Germany.

Justified by Publicity.

"The proclamation of the blockade or the public knowledge of its existence will be held by Britain to justify the seizure of a Germany-bound cargo of non-contraband in a neutral bottom, even at a point four miles out from the entrance to the Ambrose Channel.

"Such is the new-fashioned blockade which the vast sea power of the Allies purposes to render effective and therefore valid."

THAW CANNOT GO TO NEW HAMPSHIRE

Motion of Defence Refused—Writ of Habeas Corpus Issued.

[Canadian Press.]

New York, March 16.—Harry K. Thaw will not be sent back to New Hampshire by the State of New York, as his counsel demanded, but must be returned to Matteawan Asylum "unless legal papers calling for his detention in New York County are served upon the warden of Tombs Prison." Such was Supreme Court Justice Page's decision today in disposing of the formal motion to have Thaw returned to New England.

In the meantime, counsel for Thaw, as if in anticipation of just such a decision, had obtained from Supreme Court Justice Bijur, a writ of habeas corpus, which will keep Thaw in Tombs Prison till next Friday, March 19, when he must be produced in court.

Sheriff Griffenhagen, of New York County, had heard whispers of a plot to abduct Thaw during the brief interval when he should be out of Warden Hanley's custody in going to and from the prison to the courtroom across the bridge of sighs. Accordingly, the sheriff armed twenty deputies with revolvers and scattered them throughout the crowd that packed the courtroom.

SPAIN TO IGNORE MEXICO TILL SETTLED

No New Representative To Be Appointed—Premier Says States Must Intervene.

[Canadian Press.]

Paris, March 16.—That "anarchy in Mexico, and the crimes committed there, make intervention by the United States almost inevitable," is a statement credited to Premier Dato of Spain, in a dispatch to the Petit Journal from its Madrid correspondent.

The Premier is reported to have said that the Spanish Government had decided not to maintain diplomatic relations with Mexico, until the situation there again is normal, and will decline the invitation of Gen. Carranza to send a representative to act as successor to Minister Caro, who was expelled from Mexico.

A dispatch from Madrid on March 14 said the Spanish Government had published a note outlining the negotiations with General Carranza, which grew out of the expulsion of Minister Caro. It was said that Spain had accepted in principle the explanations offered by Carranza, and probably would send Manuel Walls Merino to Mexico as its confidential agent.

MOST CANADIANS HAVE HAD PLACE ON THE FIRING LINE

Wounded Men At Cliveden Hospital Tell of Their Experience —Long Overcoats a Burden, So They Cut Them Off At Pockets.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

LONDON, March 15.—The Duchess of Connaught Canadian hospital at Clivedon, received on Sunday the first batch of Canadians from the front Nearly seventy patients were sent there from Southampton, fourteen being Canadians.

In due course, when new buildings are completed, Clivedon will become the principal receiving hospital for the Canadian contingent, and the good people in the Dominion who have so generously provided it would be proud were they able to see it now, even in its present limited state; limited, however, in nothing but size. A large covered tennis court, which has been converted into wards, is certainly not one whit behind any other hospital in this country of hospitals. Every single member of the staff, from Colonel Gorrell to the junior nurses and orderlies is a Canadian. Even the motor ambulances are driven by Canadians. Perhaps the most intimate Canadian touch of all is experienced when one peeps into the store cupboard and finds home-made jam in jars bearing the names of donors living in little townships all over the Dominion. Colonel Gorrell, by the way, pleads for more apples from Canada. He believes in good food and plenty of it, along with exercise and amusement for getting his patients ready again for the firing line. We found him on the lawn yesterday teaching a hobbling group to play bowls.

Canadians at Clivedon.

The Canadians now at Clivedon are Privates E. E. Wards, H. Morden, G. Gilbey, of the Patricias; R. J. Williams, of the 5th Battalion; G. Bryan, E. H. Lunn, D. Cleghorn, of the 10th Battalion; D. Milley, 48th Highlanders, Sergt. Oliver, 1st; Privates A. C. Herbert and F. Dolan, of the 4th; Driver Piper, of the Army Service; Private Morgan, of the Field Ambulance, and Sapper Buchanan, of the Engineers.

It does not seem romantically warlike to be laid up with scalded feet, but such is the experience of Private Milloy, of the Toronto Highlanders, who has, nevertheless, probably suffered a good deal more than many men with wounds from the enemies shrapnel. He was taking a bucket of tea along the Highlanders' lines near the trenches when a kicking horse upset the bucket and finished his soldiering for the time being.

The 48th, says Milloy, had been in the trenches eight days altogether when he left. Their first dose was forty-eight hours, when they were only three hundred yards from the German trenches along with the Notts and Derby boys. A few days later they did another twenty-four hours, and were then moved five miles away, when they took turn for four days. Private Milloy says the 48th came out of the trenches last Tuesday, so he doubts if they would be in the heavy fighting of last week.

How Canadians Fare.

Pte. Morden, of the Patricias, belonging to Winnipeg, was able to tell us a good deal as to how all branches of the Canadians have fared generally lately. His last experience with his own regiment was when they were left in the trenches for extra turn duty, and there were seven tins of bully beef among 33 men. An order to hand along the water barrels did not reach the whole line. Many men were without water over twelve hours.

The fighting round Eloi was the hardest corner, says Morden, for the Pats. They were picked, with the King's Royal Rifles, to relieve the French forces in the trenches, and to do so had to travel about twenty miles. Pte. Morden says Lieut. Colquhoun met his death undoubtedly by wandering into a German trench when out sniping, because when the King's Royal Rifles eventually turned the Germans out of the trench they found Lieut. Colquhoun's dead body there with seven wounds.

Overcoats a Burden.

Most of the Canadians, says Morden, who have been in muddy trenches have cut their overcoats away round about the pockets in order to relieve themselves of carrying an intolerable weight of mud sticking to them. The condition of the German trenches when captured is indescribable, for the Germans apparently bury their dead where they fall.

Pte. Morgan, of the Second Field Ambulance, says that practically the whole Canadian division has now been engaged. They relieved one another or else parts of the British forces. Sir John French had more than once congratulated the Canadians in various parts of the field on their readiness.

Canadian Ambulance a Laundry.

The Canadian Field Ambulance had dressing stations within half a mile of the foremost trenches, and members went out in the night to fetch in the wounded, then sending them to hospitals at the base. The Canadian Ambulance has also to do the work of the laundry, washing the shirts of the men engaged in the trenches.

Pte. Morgan is suffering from an affection of the right eye, possibly caused by an infinitesimal piece of shell, of which he was unconscious at the time he was struck. Incidentally, Mr. Lawford, a well-known Canadian eye specialist, visited Clivedon yesterday to arrange for treating special cases None of the Canadian patients now in Clivedon were in last week's heavy fighting; most of them having had the misfortune, as they regard it, to fall sick immediately before.

OSSOWETZ HOLDS BACK THE ENEMY

Defenders Have Advantage In Fighting, and Capture Some Positions.

[Canadian Press.]

Petrograd, via London, March 16.—The following official dispatch has been received from Ossowetz.

"The enemy has brought some of his batteries closer to the fortress because of their obvious ineffectiveness at the longer range. The artillery of the fortress effectively shelled a column of the enemy, consisting of motors drawing artillery, provisions and ammunition.

Defenders Have Advantage.

"Fighting at moderate distances continued throughout Sunday and Monday, with the advantage constantly with the defenders. Two German companies endeavored to approach the frozen River Gobr, but retired after being shelled from a distance of a mile.

"Close to Ossowetz our scouts carried some of the enemy's positions, and at nightfall sent prisoners back into the fortress."

Enemy Held at All Points.

Official reports from other fronts follow:

"Przasnysz: The Germans continue a violent artillery fire, but their infantry is unable to resist our attacks. We are holding the enemy on almost the entire front, with particular success in the wooded sectors bordering on the River Orzyc.

"Bzura region: The enemy is active at night, possibly reinforcing his artillery.

"The Carpathians: Conditions are extremely difficult for an offensive. Owing to the deep snow the troops can be moved but slowly. The men use beaten paths, moving in Indian file, which involves heavy losses. Troops on both sides are using skis. In spite of the conditions which exist, the Austrians continue their vain attempts to relieve Przemysl, where our heavy batteries are active."

Blew Down Tree With Enemy Flag

Daring Act of Two French Chasseurs Near Apremont.

[Canadian Press.]

Paris, March 16.—The exploit of a sergeant-major and a corporal of chasseurs in capturing a German flag hoisted in a tree a short distance in front of the French line near Apremont, east of St. Mihiel, is described in an official note.

The two soldiers resolved to remove this emblem from the sight of the French troops and on the night of October 9 they crawled through the German barbed-wire entanglements without the sentries hearing them. Then the Frenchmen blew down the tree with detonators and returned safely to their lines with the flag.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

THE LOCAL MARKET

Maple syrup was on the market today in quantity for the first time this season, selling at $1.40 to $1.50 per gallon. The sale was slow, there being little demand for any line offered on the square.

Hay and straw, on account of the large supply last week, sold slowly, and at reduced prices. Straw brought $7.50 to $8.50; hay sold at $13.50 to $16, with the average price around $14.50.

No butter or eggs were on the square, and it is expected that butter will sell at a gradual rise in price for the next few weeks.

Live hogs are a little stronger, and a shipment will be made from London tomorrow at $7.60 per hundredweight.

GRAIN.

Winnipeg, March 15.—Wheat opened ¾c to 1¾c higher; oats, ½c to ¾c, and flax 4c to ¼c advance.

The market for wheat futures was fairly active and in sympathy with a firm Liverpool market prices advanced further on wheat. May oats advanced, while July declined. Flax made considerable advances over opening points. Nearing noon the market was dull, and values holding about at the high points.

In cash circles the demand all round is exceptionally keen, but little actual business is being carried through, owing to the abnormal scarcity of offerings. Export houses report nothing doing in new business.

Total inspections on Saturday were 374 cars as against 268 cars last year, and in sight today were 500 cars.

Wheat futures closed 1⅝c to 2⅝c higher; cash wheat, 2¾c to 3c higher; oats, 1⅛c to 1⅜c higher, and flax, 5c to 6¼c higher.

Cash grain: Wheat—No. 1 northern, $1.54; No. 2 northern, $1.53; No. 3 northern, $1.50; No. 4, $1.44¾; No. 5, $1.41; No. 6, $1.41; feed, $1.37.

Oats—No. 2 Canadian western, 64¾c; No. 3 Canadian western, 62½c; extra No. 1 feed, 62½c; No. 1 feed, 61½c; No. 2 feed, 60½c.

Barley—No. 3, 77c; No. 4, 72c; feed, 70c.

Flax—No. 1 N. W. C., $1.83½; No. 2 Canadian western, $1.80½.

Chicago, March 16.—Diminishing of stocks in Europe tended today to lift the wheat market here. The transatlantic visible supply total was reported as showing a decrease of 344,000 bushels, as against an increase of 10,424,000 bushels a week ago, and an increase of 1,400,000 bushels a year ago. There were also advices that Portugal had purchased 1,500,000 bushels in Argentina, and that 1,000,000 bushels were being taken out of store at Kansas City to go to the Gulf for shipment. ### LONDON STOCK EXCHANGE.

London, March 16.—Discount rates were slightly dearer today on further borrowing by the Bank of England. The supply of money is gradually shrinking.

The stock market was slightly irregular, owing to profit-taking in mine and oil shares, but invesment securities were as firm as ever, with a very large call for war loans, short term securities and home rails. Industrial and rubber stocks were more frequently marked.

American securities were idle and neglected. The only transactions recorded were in Canadian Pacific and Union Pacific.

Closing prices were:

MONEY MARKET.

London, March 16.—Bar silver, 24⅛d per ounce.

Money, 1 to 1¼ per cent.

Discount rates—Short bills, 2¼ to 2⅜ per cent; three months' bills, 2⅜ to 2½ per cent.

WALL STREET.

New York, March 16—Wall Street, 10:30 a.m.—Specialties were again more prominent than the active or seasoned issues at the outset of today's market operation. The minor coppers, Alaska Gold, Central Leather and motor shares made general gains, while leaders were slightly lower or unchanged. Later Bethlehem Steel and Texas Company were added to the list of higher-priced stocks, the former advancing 2 points. Reading's uncertain course reflected current gossip connected with its future dividend prospects. Some very substantial recessions were recorded by American stocks on the London market, notably Canadian Pacific, Reading and Union Pacific.

Noon.—Reading became acutely weak toward midday, declining 2 points to 142⅜ on steady selling, much of which was acribed to out-of-town sources. The balance of the list was sympathetically affected, Canadian Pacific yielding 1⅝, with substantial declines in United States Steel and Amalgamated Copper. Bethlehem Steel, however, held much of its firmness. Activities of the short interest became more pronounced. Bonds were lower, several large blocks of the New York debenture sixes selling at lowest prices.

1:30 p.m.—Active selling ceased in the early afternoon, after which the market became apathetic, with no appreciable price decoveries. Weakness extended to that group of specialties, denoting decreasing professional support.

I NEVER WANT TO BE WITHOUT THEM

What Mrs. A. Averon Says of Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Alberta Lady Feels It Her Duty to Tell Her Friends of the Benefit She Has Received From Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Firth, Alberta, March 15—(Special).—"I never want to be without Dodd's Kidney Pills," so says Mrs. A. Averon, one of the oldest and most highly respected citizens of this place.

"I am an old lady, sixty-eight years of age," Mrs. Averon continues, "and had kidney trouble for twenty years. My heart bothered me, my muscles would cramp, and my back ached. Neuralgia was added to my troubles.

"Dodd's Kidney Pills are the only medicine that have helped me, and I cannot recommend them too highly. I feel it my duty to tell my friends what Dodd's Kidney Pills did for me."

Dodd's Kidney Pills are the favorite remedy of the old folks. They cure the Kidneys which are the first of the organs of the body to feel the strain of years. By curing the kidneys Dodd's Kidney Pills insure pure blood, and pure blood gives renewed energy all over the body. That's why the old folks say, "Dodd's Kidney Pills make me feel young again."

ASKING FOR INFORMATION

City Would Know When Military Authorities Take Square Buildings.

The city wants to know just how soon the military authorities want to take over the Ford buildings and the other houses on that portion of the Federal Square site that will form the Government's share. City Clerk Baker has been instructed to secure that information at once. The statement has been made from Ottawa that the militia department wants the buildings at once, but the city wants definite information. Several buildings in the Government portion are now vacant, and the city will rent these if they are not desired at once.

ADOPTED AS BABY LOSES HIS MOTHER

J. Couch, of Chicago, Asks The Advertiser To Find Her.

WAS TAKEN BY NEIGHBOR

Prosperity Has Caused Him To Commence Search For His Relatives.

Adopted when a baby thirty-seven years ago in this city, where he was born, J. Couch, of 1141 Orlean street, Chicago, Ill., now in good circumstances, has been searching in vain to ascertain the whereabouts of his mother, three brothers and one sister.

Mr. Couch has written The Advertiser asking this paper's aid in finding his relatives.

The letter says that soon after his birth his father died, and apparently because his own mother was unable to support him, he was taken by Mrs. Coonet, a neighbor of the family, who moved to Chicago. Mr. Couch believes that there may be many people in London who will know where his mother and other members of the family are to be found. He writes: "I implore you to help me. I have prayed to find them since I have been old enough."

Those who are able to furnish information should communicate either direct with Mr. Couch at the address given above or with The Advertiser.

PRIVATE ILL OF PLEURISY

18th Battalion Men Taken to Victoria Hospital.

Pte. McKinnon, of A Company, 18th Battalion, was taken to Victoria Hospital yesterday very ill with pleurisy.

A large number of cases of mumps have developed at the camp in the past two days, and many soldiers are going around with badly swollen and very painful jaws.

To a large extent, drill has been suspended for the men of the 33rd and 7th C. M. R., owing to the illness following inoculation for typhoid. The men of the 7th C. M. R., who were inoculated, will, it is expected, be ready to resume work Tuesday. Major Hogg yesterday commenced inoculating the men of the 33rd, and several hundred were given the treatment.

USE FUND MONEY FOR REGIMENTAL NEEDS

Captain Shuttleworth Tells of Military Affairs in East.

Captain Shuttleworth, of Base Company, 18th Battalion( returned Sunday from Kingston, where he was visiting officers of the 21st Regiment which is brigaded with the 18th. He says it one of the finest battalions he has seen.

"The people of the district," he said, "have subscribed a fund of 10,000 for the 21st, and anything that the regiment needs, such, for instance, as soup kitchens, a band or anything else, is paid for out of the money. The idea is working splendidly.

BUTTON AS EVIDENCE

The button from a fur coat he was wearing on the night of March 1, on which he is charged with the theft of a quantity of oats from the barn of Francis E. Dale, Westminster Township, is being held as strong evidence against Albert Swanwick. The button was found near a couple of sacks of oats in the barnyard of Dale's farm, and is identical with others on the coat Swanwick wore that night.

Swanwick appeared for trial before Judge Elliott yesterday and was remanded until Wednesday morning for judgment.

LIQUOR MEN HOLD STRONG WHIP HAND

Government's Attitude Shown By Hostility To Women's Franchise.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Toronto, March 16.—One salient reason for the collapse of the artificially-fostered Hearst temperance boom is his unyielding and undefended hostility to the extension of the municipal franchise to married women. Mr. Proudfoot summed up the situation in a few words, and left the Government decidedly disconcerted. He pointed out that in 1913 the Government, through Mr. McDairmid, then a private member, took the greatest pains to rush in a married women's franchise bill before the Liberals could get one tabled, but even at that time the pressure of the liquor interests was too strong, the Conservative bill was withdrawn and the Liberal bill was killed.

"Why are the liquormen opposed to the giving of the vote to married women?" asked Mr. Proudfoot, and he answered it by showing that the granting of such a right would mean the carrying of local option in a large number of additional municipalities and the extinction of a large number of licenses.

The next question Mr. Proudfoot asked was equally direct: "Why," he asked, "does the Government have to do what the liquormen want? It is because the Government knows, and the general public is realizing it more every day, that from one end of the province to the other last June the Government had the active support of the liquor interests, and that today Mr. Hearst and his colleagues are under such an obligation to them that they dare not act for temperance in spite of their professed temperance principles."

The Government's refusal to grant the married women's franchise is another example of what Mr. Hearst himself admits to be his zig-zag course on the temperance question.

SOUL CANNOT FEED ON THINGS OF FLESH

Pleasure, Fame and Gold Prove Worthless, Says Dr. Fikes.

"You cannot feed your soul on the things which perish with the body," says Rev. Dr. Fikes, speaking in Talbot Street Baptist Church last night on "The Quest for Happiness."

"There are people today," continued Dr. Fikes, "who are giving their very lives in the search of pleasure, fame and gold. If they should obtain these their lives will be as discontented and dissatisfied as ever.

"That which people often think to be the only reality, proves to be a mirage, a delusion. The things of time and sense can never really satisfy the cravings of a human soul. That which man needs, is God rather than gold; spiritual power rather than pleasure. There is a true happiness which comes through a living faith in Christ. True happiness goes on through all eternity.

"Eternity," said the speaker, "is a wonderful word. No finite mind can grasp its meaning or measure it. Were a bird to carry one grain of sand a year from Canada to England and then continue until all the sands of Canada were placed on the European continent, and then carry one grain of sand a year in bringing it back, after it were all done eternity would have just begun.

"Your decision for Christ here will determine your happiness hereafter, and that happiness will be eternal," concluded the evangelist.

Master George Branton sang two solos, which were greatly appreciated. He will sing again this evening, when Dr. Fikes will speak on "The Call of the Wild."

Rev. H. H. Bingham, the pastor, announced that there would be a mass meeting for boys and girls Wednesday afternoon at 4:15, when Dr. Fikes will speak.

LOCAL MILITARY LEARN HEADQUARTERS MOVED

Shorncliffe Will Be Overseas Base In England.

Salisbury mud has presumably become too deep for the efficient training of troops, and the headquarters of the Canadian expeditionary forces in England has been changed from Salisbury Plain to Shorncliffe, in Kent County.

The Canadian contingents will now be quartered at Shorncliffe, which is not far from London. Military headquarters received a communication yesterday from Ottawa telling of the change. The address of the Canadians in the second contingent, who arrived recently in England, will be Shorncliffe, Kent, England.

LIBERALS WIN FROM THE WHITE PLAYERS

Members of the Liberal Club Euchre Club wear today the figurative wreath of laurels that go with the championship in euchre playing. The Liberals won from the George White & Sons' euchre club last night the first series of tournaments which began early in the season.

Enthusiasm was the most prominent feature next to the excellent playing displayed by both sides. Thirty players, eager and confident, were in the ring for the George White & Sons' Company, under the able captaincy of Harry Brown.

Such was the intense interest that the Liberals sent more players to the hall than they could handle, but a match for the thirty was soon found, and they won by 90 points. The Liberal Club individual prize was awarded to A. Hardy, who made 106 points. The George White prize went to A. Fortner, who scored an even 100. More tournaments will probably be arranged between the two clubs.

SIR GEORGE ROSS CHAPTER IS NEW D.O.E. CHAPTER

The Collegiate Institute Girls Are the Officers and Members.

A junior chapter, to be known as Sir George Ross Chapter, of the Daughters of the Empire, was organized by the Municipal Regent, Mrs. Hodgins, at the residence of Mrs. Cl. T. Campbell last Monday afternoon. The chapter will be composed of girls from the Collegiate Institute. The officers chosen were: Miss Ora White, regent; Miss Margaret McCrimmon, secretary; Miss Jean Jarvis, treasurer; Miss Grace Mann, standard-bearer. Among those who formed the new chapter were Misses Gwendolin Screaton, Margaret Johnston, Lorraine White, Doris Nelles Harriet Manning and Shirley Lind. At the next meeting the roll of membership will doubtless be largely increased as the idea seems to be popular with the young ladies.

Among the elders present to give countenance and support to the juniors were Mrs. E. B. Smith, Mrs. McCrimmon, Mrs. H. B. White and others.

The chapter takes the name of a former resident of London, whose name stands high in Canadian history, not only as Minister of Education and Premier of Ontario, but as one of the leading Imperialists among Canadian statesmen. The motto chosen will certainly be in harmony with the name: "Potens et Volens"—able and willing.

MRS. IRWIN HONORED BY MOTHERS' CLUBS

Presented With Statuette on Occasion of Departure.

Mrs. M. F. Irwin, first president of the Union Mothers' Club of this city, and one of the most faithful workers of that organization since its inception, was last night presented with a bronze statuette by the executive of the club. The presentation, which marked Mrs. Irwin's removal from London to Toronto, was made at a meeting held at the home of the president, Mrs. Harry White, the Ridgeway, and was a complete surprise to Mrs. Irwin. Mrs. Carson made the presentation address, while Mrs. Hughes presented the statuette on behalf of the other members of the executive. Mrs. Irwin made a suitable reply. A musical program, refreshments and a social evening were enjoyed. Mrs. Rowland Munro sang several splendid numbers, while Mrs. Ed. Westland gave a number of readings. Mrs. White, the president, announced that the next meeting would be held in the Collegiate Institute on March 28. This meeting will take the form of a debate on the subject: "Resolved, that the majority of modern women spend more time on personal adornment than in the development of true duty."

WOMEN OF THE BIBLE

Interesting Papers Read at St. Matthew's Church.

An unusually interesting program was given last evening by the A. Y. P. A. of St. Matthew's Church at their weekly meeting. Six young ladies contributed excellent and well-thought-out papers on six women of the Bible. The sketches were as follows: Miss Viola Taylor, "The Life and Character of Deborah"; Miss May Spafford, "The Life and Character of Queen Esther"; Miss Jermy, "The Life and Character of Marion"; Miss Jean Isaac, "The Life and Character of Ruth"; Miss Irene Cripps, "The Life and Character of Jezebel"; Miss Aida Isaac, "The Life and Character of Delilah."

The addresses were interspersed with music, an instrumental selection being given by Miss Edith Appleyard and a duet by Misses Hazel and Viola Taylor.

Mrs. Cook, president of the society, presided.

GERMANS DRIVEN FROM VILLAGE LATER USED FOR THE CANADIANS

Place Scattered With Enemy's Equipment, Writes London Boy.

A. H. Clinger, who left London late last year as a chauffeur in the mechanical transport section of the Army Service Corps, and who later became a motorcycle dispatch rider, has now been detailed for office work, following an accident which temporarily incapacitated him. Writing to his mother at 43 Ridout street under a date line no more specific than "France," he says he is comfortable and is rapidly recovering.

He has not been into the trenches yet, but he says he has been close enough to hear the roar of the big guns hour after hour all day and all night, and to see their smoke in the daytime.

The place where he is now quartered, he states, evidently was held by Germans just before the Canadians entered it, since he found numbers of articles of German soldiers' uniforms. Some British equipment also was lying about, from which he drew the conclusion that the British troops had driven out the Germans.

LONDON MEMBER TO PROTEST CALIFORNIA ACT

OTTAWA, March 15.—Under an old law recently resurrected in California, Canadian school teachers there who are not naturalized American citizens have been refused payment of their salaries. The point having been submitted to the state attorney general, he has ruled it well taken. The matter has been brought to the attention of William Gray, M.P. for London, who will lay the case befor Parliament.

DENIAL FROM UNIVERSITY.

BERKELEY, Cal., March 15.—Officials of the University of California denied today the charge made by William Gray, member of the Canadian Parliament, that twenty-eight professors and instructors in the university here were unable to receive their salaries because they were not American citizens.

The university officials said their legal advisers had instructed them that the recent opinion of the state attorney-general to the effect that it is illegal for aliens to draw state funds as teachers did not apply to the university. It was said all Canadians and other aliens have received their salaries regularly.

STRUCK LIKE A CLOCK

"Judge, I was an awful boob to marry that man; why I must have been crazy, for I even bought the license and the ring," said Josephine Moore to Police Magistrate J. C. Judd, who bound her husband over for $50 to keep the peace when he appeared today on an assault charge.

"He even struck me twelve blows in one day," added the fair Josephine.

Moore accused his wife of being unfaithful to him since they were married on January 21, 1915, and after much cross-fire they decided to separate.

SIR GEORGE FOSTER PAYS TRIBUTE TO LIBERAL LEADER

Commends Statesmanship of Sir Wilfrid Laurier—Asks Political Peace.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

OTTAWA, March 15.—In the speech, which sought to deal fairly with the war, with conditions in Canada and with the duty of political parties at this time, Sir George E. Foster was heard to great advantage by the House of Commons today. He criticized both sides and commended both sides and during the course of his speech was heartily applauded from both sides of the speaker's chair.

He commended the statesmanship of Sir Wilfrid Laurier and the high attitude he had adopted toward public affairs in the midst of difficulties. He apparently said this by way of rebuke to Hon. A. E. Kemp, who recently declared that there was no party truce.

That there was a truce and that it had been fairly well kept on both sides was the opinion of Sir George. "It was not established by writing, but it was none the less real on that account."

No Time For Egotism.

Finance Minister White's satisfied self-esteem also came in for a little chastening, when Sir George declared that this was poor time for self-sufficiency and egotism. "I confess that I do not yet," he said, "fully realize the full responsibility or know of consequences entailed. As yet we have only looked timidly over the precipice; we have not any real conception of the terrible cauldron beneath." At this time he depreciated controversy and said, "the other night when the member for Red Deer and the minister of finance were discussing economics that got me into a perfect haze until I felt like crying to them, 'a pest to both your Houses of economics, give us some plain common sense.'"

Near the end of the speech an impressive warning was given to those who are pressing for an immediate election. "Until this stupendous war is over," said Sir George gravely, "both in this House and the country, let us put behind our backs whatever is selfish and try and face steadfastly the mighty issues."

Sir Wilfrid's Attitude.

At the session in August Sir Wilfrid had adopted the attitude taken by the statesmen in Britain and abstained from criticism while reserving his right to criticize. In August Sir Wilfrid had offered no criticism of customs and excise increasce then made. However, this session Sir Wilfrid had to some extent departed from the ground formerly taken, and though stating that his purpose had been to avoid domestic issues during the war, the debate which followed had been full of the old controversy whether the tendency in Canada should be in the direction of protection or free trade. Though Sir Wilfrid's amendment had been guarded it made an artificial distinction between war necessities and home necessities Sir Wilfrid expresses hearty support of the vote of money for war needs, but criticized the provisions of the Government for home needs. In Canada the war had hit all industries except agriculture. Dr. Clark might talk as though the Government and its policy were responsible for existing conditions but if Canada had been under free trade instead of protection, or if reciprocity had been adopted Canada would have suffered in the same way from the secondary consequence of war. There were times when protection was powerless to prevent and free trade powerless to prohibit.

Ready to Bear Burden.

Neither of the Canadian political parties was responsible for the war, how it came he knew not but every Canadian felt that the cause behind the British position was just. All were ready to turn their faces to the front and bend their backs to the burden imposed. For the difficulties in Canada the present Government had not been wholly to blame. The Hudson Bay Railway was a legacy, though one which had been considerably approved by both parties.

To Liberal criticism that better ways could have been found of meeting the domestic needs of the country than through tariff taxation Sir George maintained that "Up to this time we have found the best way to raise revenue is through customs tariff and excise duty."

Revenue From Tariff.

Sir George said that while he hated and deplored extravagance, if thirtd millions had been cut off the expenditure, as proposed by Sir Wilfrid, the Government would not even then have the funds to meet conditions; there would be deficits to meet. That revenue would not result through the tariff increases had been urged by Dr. Clarke. From this Sir George differed. Last year there had been free goods imported to the value of $208,000,000, and as almost all of these goods were of a sort which did not originate in Canada, no doubt a large proportion of these free goods would be imported this year, and would pay tariff charges of 5 or 7½ per cent. That Canadian manufacturers would take advantage of increased protection to increase their prices to consumers, Sir George doubted, because that they were hungry for business now that there would be competition to keep down the prices.

To the charge of Sir Wilfrid that the Government had put an additional barrier against British trade, Sir George maintained that the British preference had really been improved by two and a half points, because, while the advance against the British manufacturer had been only five points, it had been seven and a half against the manufacturers of other countries.

Sir George closed with a plea for political peace.

Censure for Boulay.

Mr. Carroll, Liberal, of Cape Breton, censured Mr. Boulay, Conservative, for having last Friday night condemned the idea of giving any large measure of further aid to the British cause. Mr. Boulay shared the views of Henri Bourassa and Premier Borden's Nationalist followers. Standing strongly against that view, Sir Wilfrid Laurier and the Liberals were willing to vote every dollar required for Canada's share in the war. There was no doubt that the Liberals had kept the political truce, neither was there a doubt that the Conservative party had not kept it, but had flooded the country with political literature, and a frank confession that there had been no truce-keeping had been publicly made by Hon. A. E. Kemp. Sir Wilfrid Laurier had spoken publicly only for the purpose of stimulating the young men of his province to enlist, while the Conservative leaders were seeking only for votes.

Liberals had no hesitation in discussing the naval question just now. The success of the Australian boats showed how successfully Canadian cruisers could have been employed for the protection of trade routes.

YOUNG LADY FOUND DROWNED IN WELL

An Inquest May Determine Whether Self-Destruction Was Planned.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

PORT ELGIN, March 15.—The sudden death of Miss Sarah Wrightson is reported from Bruce Township. Deceased young woman was found in a well at the home of Mr. Westman, where she had been employed. It is not known whether the young woman met death through accidental drowning or whether it is a case of self-destruction.

She was 35 years of age and a daughter of John Wrightson. An inquest will be held.

NO STOMACH PAIN, GAS, INDIGESTION IN FIVE MINUTES

"Pape's Diapepsin" is the only real stomach regulator known.

"Really does" put bad stomachs in order—"really does" overcome indigestion, dyspepsia, gas, heartburn and sourness in five minutes—that—just that—makes Pape's Diapepsin the largest selling stomach regulator in the world. If what you eat ferments into stubborn lumps, you belch gas and eructate sour, undigested food and acid; head is dizzy and aches; breath foul; tongue coated; your insides filled with bile and indigestible waste, remember the moment "Pape's Diapepsin" comes in contact with the stomach all such distress vanishes. It's truly astonishing — almost marvelous, and the joy is its harmlessness.

A large fifty-cent case of Pape's Diapepsin will give you a hundred dollars' worth of satisfaction or your druggist hands you your money back.

It's worth its weight in gold to men and women who can't get their stomachs regulated. It belongs in your home—should always be kept handy in case of a sick, sour, upset stomach during the day or at night. It's the quickest, surest and most harmless stomach regulator in the world.

DON'T USE SOAP ON YOUR HAIR

When you wash your hair, don't use soap. Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali, which is very injurious, as it dries the scalp and makes the hair brittle.

The best thing to use is just plain mulsified cocoanut oil, for this is pure and entirely greaseless. It's very cheap, and beats soaps or anything else all to pieces. You can get this at any drug store, and a few ounces will last the whole family for months.

Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in, about a teaspoonful is all that is required. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, cleanses thoroughly, and rinses out easily. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and is soft, fresh-looking, bright, fluffy, wavy, and easy to handle. Besides, it loosens and takes out every particle of dust, dirt and dandruff.

Girls' and Children's Boots—Just as good, just as fine, and just as carefully made as those of their elders'—that is our idea of children's shoe-making. Growing feet cannot be fitted like "set" ones. Our fitters know this and bear it in mind at all times. Girls' fitted here grow perfect feet—and so do boys. For strenuous youngsters we have strenuous shoes. But for all that the prices are certainly moderate. To wit, $1.50 to $3.50.
