As a measure for rendering street traffic more safe, and at the same time expediting it, the Ontario minister of highways, the Hon. George S. Henry, has had the above diagram produced by department engineers. The safety of motor travel is a prime consideration with the minister, who is insistent in the warnings and advice he has issued on subjects such as non-glare lights and head and tail lights which are not constantly illuminated. Publication of the above official chart and instructions on the turning of corners is made in the hope that motorists will note the directions given. It is suggested that the chart be cut out and kept for reference.

merry men made merry, for it was the gala day of a policeman's year—the city of London police department's annual picnic.

London was left at evil's mercy yesterday afternoon, Only a few unfortunate officers remained in the city to do their utmost to guard against breaking of the law. But Londoners realized that one day of the year must be turned over to the bluecoats, and so they were on their bluecoats, and so they were on their best behaviour, unwilling to take advantage of the police force's temporary absence.

And what a day it was. The police

Mr. Meighen Has a Riddle. logical mind of Right Hon. Arthur Meighen. In prospects. The salient points of the speech plexions which appear in our store windows his speech at Polar Point, Manitoba, Mr. Meighen were: evolved the following conundrum:

"Was I wrong when I told you that the Liberals would not put their platform into practice and that if they did the effect upon Canada would be ruinous?"

Mr. Meighen should explain, if possible, what he means. Apparently he gave his constituents two opposite predictions: first, that the Liberals would not put their platform into practice; secondly, that they would and thus ruin Canada.

Mr. Meighen should now give the answer to his four-year-old riddle. Which prediction does he means has come true? Does he mean that the Liberals have failed to effect their platform? If so, they must have retained the platform of their Conservative predecessors, and even Mr. Meighen could find no fault with that. Or does he mean that the Liberal platform has been used and Canada is ruined? Surely Mr. Meighen is not going to start singing his song of blueruin again, not in the west anyway, where the song of the binder at work on a bumper crop is

The small investments of British capital in way in Canada. Canada in comparison with investments of American capital have been attributed in some gated experiments in fourteen large American quarters to a British financial boycott of Canada cities and reports: owing to ill-feeling over the Grand Trunk question. The explanation offered by The Advertiser's correspondent in London, England, however, discards the Grand Trunk question as having practically nothing to do with the stoppage of British investments and places responsibility entirely on the low exchange value of the pound sterling as compared with the dollar.

The Lane Will Turn

BY ANNE CAMPBELL. Behind the rambling cot

A long green lane Ran to the pasture lot

And back again, A curving lane it was Through grass and fern. I thought it short because The lane would turn,

I used to have to go When twilight's drowse Bedimmed the sunset glow,

To call the cows. I walked a fragrant mile,

And soon I'd learn In just a little while

The lane would turn, The lane turned to the right And I could see, The cattle, brown and white,

Reneath a tree. Then tranquilly we went,

With small concern, To whither, homeward bent, .

The lane would turn. So, confidently, I Through tasks ahead Will plod beneath the sky With steady tread. Serene through lonely way,

And duty stern, Because I know, some day The lane will turn! (Copyright, 1925)

Chamber of Commerce Tour Expected To Be Even Better This Year.

ROUTE EXTENDED

All Committees Are Appointed and Prospective Speakers Named.

Every effort will be made to make the London chamber of commerce tour early next month fully represening the fact that it is really a Western Ontario tour, Strathroy and Sarnia will also be invited to participate in the tour.

Last year's tours established the principle and worth of the trips, and thus the local chamber is exceedingly anxious that the greatest possible benefit be derived from this year's tour by securing a large and repesentative attendance

As arranged in detail at the man agement committee meeting in the chamber offices last night, the Lon-don cars will leave the city early in roy, luncheon at Petrolia, stop at Wyoming, and on to Sarnia for the night, where it is hoped the Tunnel City will put on a community evening. Leaving Sarnia the next day about 9 a.m., the tour will proceed via afternoon meeting, at the close of which the members of the tour will head back for London by whatever route they wish. No decision has been made yet as to the dates, Sept. 2 and 3 or 3 and 4, nor will any decision be made until correspondence has been concluded with the towns to be visited on the tour. Gordon Ingram, A. R. Ford and W. H. Wood were named as a committee to be responsible for the speakers for the tour to speak on Western On

A school is as strong as its faculty. Knowing this to be true, we have gathered an experienced staff of teachers which we believe has no superior in any business school in Western Ontario. The high standing of Wells Academy is one evidence of the scholarship of its faculty, members of which are graduates of leading colleges and universities, and all of them highly trained specialists in their particular fields. PHONE 8271-W

Now there were four occupied apartments in that apartment tree, and of the four families just one was awake during the day. The family of Drummer the Woodpecker awoke at the very beginning of daylight, just at the time when the other tenants weere going to bed, and the Woodpeckers went to bed just when the other tenants were starting out. So the Woodpeckers rarely saw anything of the others, and the ly saw anything of the others, and the others had only glimpses of the Woodpeckers. In fact, Spooky the Screech owl had lived in that tree a week before he knew that the Woodpeckers were

Distinguished visitors in the city yesterday were the Misses Hibbert-Ware, Miss Muriel Main and Hugh Main, all of London, England, who were guests for the day of Mrs. E. B. Smith, Provincial Girl Guide Commissioner for Ontario, and Miss Commissioner for Ontario, and Miss Margaret Harley-Brown, provincial Girl Guide secretary.

The party arrived in Canada some weeks ago and is making a tour of the country, visiting in various cities in the Dominion as Girl Guide representatives. Miss Main and one of the Misses Hibbert-Ware are Girl Guide workers in England, and were intensely interested in the work being done in Canada.

They are travelling with Mr. Main, who is recognized at the present ime

CHAPTER XLI.

The Lane Heiress No Longer.

The dinner party, followed by cards until the small hours at Chandler's bungalow, was only the beginning of a series of similar functions.

When the six prosperous touris's had passed on their way to the Orient, others came to take their place. Scarcely a boat but brought some wealthy drifters whom Chandler quickly came to know and brought to the bungalow for a so-called friendly game.

Madelon greeted them courteously gravely, and then always withdrew, unless there were women in the party. She could not be persuaded to join the card games or to take so muc

A girl may seem to be so sweet that she is positively saccharine, but she gives herself away by saying catty little things. A man may pose as gallant, but shows his true colors when he gives his seat to a pretty young woman and lets an old woman stand.

A girl may be ever so charming, but she shows she is grasp. ing, and greedy, and selfish if she always picks out the most expensive dishes on the menu, and invariably inveigles a man into taking her to the most expensive place to dance. A man may have a large, free air of generosity, and yet show that he is a tightwad by never being able to reach his pocketbook until somebody else has got hold of the dinner check or is paying for the tickets at the theatre.

Then there is the man who mar-ries the poor girl who dresses like a fashion plate and whose father is known to be in debt to every drygoods and millinery man in town, yet who wails that his wife is ruining him with her extravagance. And there's the man who is amazed to find himself henpecked, yet who picked out as a wife a girl who bossed her family and whose mother and father were afraid of her.

Anderson Beats Crocker, While Patterson Defeats Wright in Singles.

Canadian Press Despatch.

Montreal, Aug. 13.—Australia captured the first two singles matches of the second round Davis cup the with Canada here this afternoon. J. O Anderson defeated Willard F. Crocker in straight sets. 6—1, 6—3, 6—2, while Gerald Patterson disposed of Jack Wright, 5—7, 3—6, 6—3, 6—1, 6—3.

Anderson won easily from Crocker, at no time being unduly extended, but patterson fought Wright at his most brilliant form, and it was only after five gruelling sets that the Australian won out. Wright never played better tennis. He fought szmely against the deadly service and steady placements of the Australian, but without success. LARGE ENTRY SEEN

Western Ontario is to have its first championship swimming meet at last, and it is to be held in London at the Thames park pool. There have been Ontario titular events and City of Toronto championships, but never has ronto championships, but never has Western Ontario been favored to this extent. This move, the credit for which is mostly due to Gerry Goodman chief supervisor of the local playgrounds, has been under consideration for a long time, but now the proper steps have been taken and it is to become a reality been taken and it is to become a reasy on Aug. 29.

For a lengthy space the western part of the province has been under a handicap in this sport. Around Toronto meets have been staged on various occasions which have been largely responsible for Queen City men and girls representing Canada in aquatic championships. In other words, the Ontario championships have been merely meets for Toronto swimmers. Of course, general invitations have always been sent out, but swimmers in the other parts of the province have not attended, due to the fact that they have not had a chance to test their ability in smaller meets.

Fractional Declines Registered -Liverpool Cables Show Strength.

Canadian Press Despatch.
Winnipeg. Aug. 13.—Continuing to follow the lead of Chicago, the local wheat market today was a stubborn affair, with fluctuations working within a narrow range of 2c throughout the session. A strong undertone prevailed. October declined $\frac{5}{2}c$ at $1.46\frac{1}{4}$, this being fractionally above the low point for the day. December eased off $\frac{5}{4}c$ at $1.42\frac{5}{8}$, while May at $1.47\frac{5}{8}$ was $\frac{5}{8}c$.

at $1.42%, while May at $1.47% was 's' lower.
On early dealings October delivery reached its maximum, touching $1.48. After the first hour of trading the market became draggy, with prices following an erratic course. The trade passing was almost purely local.
Liverpool cables continued to show strength, based principally on unsettled weather conditions in the United Kingdom and the continent.
Of the course grain commodities flax underwent a decline of 3c. Oats, barley and rye were inactive, prices easing off slightly.

CHICAGO

Chicago, Aug. 14.—Reports of better weather in Europe, together with a break in Liverpool quotations for future delivery, gave a sharp early setback today to wheat prices here. Purchasing on the decline was persistent, but consisted mostly of small lots. The opening 2c to 3c down, was followed by a further drop, which carried September to $1.62 and December to $1.53 \( \frac{1}{2} \) and December to $1.53 \( \frac{1}{2} \) and December to $1.53 \( \frac{1}{2} \) and December to $1.62 and December to $1.63 and December to $1.63 and $1.

Garage Owner Called From House Meets Death From Waiting Auto.

Canadian Press Despatch. Windsor, Aug. 13.—Clayton Mc-Mullin, well-known proprietor of the McMullin Storage Battery station here, was shot and instantly killed tonight, and his assailant, Mrs. Ruth A. Janisse, of Lasalle, is under police guard in Grace Hospital, following an attempt to commit suicide, Her husband, Arthur Janisse, is held by police as a material witness.

That the murder was premeditated, has been admitted by Janisse in a statement to the police. Mrs. Janisse is said to have planned to shoot McMullin. At least, that is what neighbors of the Janisses told the police tonight.

Janisse drove up to the home of
Mrs. E. Taylor, 314 Ellis avenue,
Windsor, where McMullin and his wife, Ethel, had called to leave their two-year-old daughter while they attended a theatre.

Invited Outside.
"Come outside, McMullin, we want to speak to you," Janisse said to McMullin.

McMullin.

Without questioning why the Janisses had visited him, McMullin walked out to an automobile in which Mrs. Janisse was seated. Without any words being spoken, Mrs. Janisse is said to have fired two shots at McMullin, the second killing the McMullin, the second killing the storage battery proprietor instantly. Hearing the shots, Mrs. Taylor telephoned the police, while Janisse drove away. Before the car had been driven a block, Mrs. Janisse attempted to end her life, but was thwarted by her husband.
