IMPROVEMENTS FOR ECHO PLACE

A Profitable Meeting of the Association Was Held Last Evening.

A well attended meeting of the Echo Place Improvement Association was held in the Mohawk Park school last night.

The secretary was requested to communicate with the City Clerk of Brantford and ascertain, if possible, what service the Street Railway Co. should run between the city and Mohawk Park.

Complaints were made about automobiles exceeding the speed limit in the vicinity of Echo Place. It was moved by F. T. Morrow, seconded by W. H. Paterson that the secretary communicate with the Brantford Motor League and request them to take some action in suppressing the speeding of autos on the Hamilton road.

A vigilance committee was formed for the purpose of attending to any theft cases which might occur in Echo Place.

A committee visited a number of Brantford merchants in reference to the delivery of goods purchased in the city to the residents of Echo Place.

The committee reported very favorably on the point.

The committee were of the opinion that the county constables should get after the "auto speeders."

DEPUTATION AT BOARD OF WORKS

Considerable Business of Importance at Session Last Evening.

At the Board of Works meeting last night a delegation was present from Eagle Place of which ex-Alderman F. Billo and Mr. J. Robertson were spokesmen.

The Eagle Place gentlemen requested the board to consider the opening up of a road way to connect South Market and Foster streets.

Another hunger strike and got out on license a few days ago. She was placed in a house at Leeds until she had sufficiently recovered to be returned to jail, and police guarded the house. She again eluded them and got away yesterday.

Dean Wright's Case. Dr. Beattie, C.P.R. surgeon, and Mr. McCurdy, one of the lawyers of the corporation, were in the city and visited Rev. Rural Dean Wright, in order to note his condition and hear full particulars of the mishap which he met while travelling on that road.

The other witnesses were Eddie Smith of Chicago, the referee of the fight. He said that there were no heavy blows struck as far as the contest went and he was quite surprised when he saw McCarty go down slow and more surprised when he did not rise.

The last witness of the afternoon was Joe Price, sporting editor of The Albertan, who told what he knew of the contest and described the various blows previous to the fall of McCarty.

After a while even buttermilk will be considered a dangerous beverage.

SHE ESCAPES IN MALE ATTIRE

Suffragette in Leeds County Puts One Over On Authorities.

LONDON, June 20.—Miss Lillian Lenton, the militant suffragette who was convicted of having started the fire in the Kew Tea Garden pavilion, and who has given the police much trouble, has escaped in man's clothes from the house where she was living in Leeds, pending the expiration of her license.

Miss Lenton was released from jail in March because of illness caused by a hunger strike. She broke her license and was not heard of again until June 10, when she was arrested at Doncaster under dramatic circumstances. A woman named Winslow was charged with breaking into Westfield House at Doncaster with the intent to burn it. A witness for the defence, who called herself May Dennis, confessed that she and not the Winslow woman, was guilty. She proved to be Miss Lenton, for whom the police had been searching. The Winslow woman was released and Miss Lenton was sent back to jail.

THE CRANK IS IMPROVING

ASCOT, Eng., June 20.—There was a slight improvement today in the condition of Harold Hewitt, the man who was injured yesterday when he interfered with the race for the Ascot gold cup and was knocked down by August Belmont's horse Tracery. He partly recovered consciousness, and after a short period slept calmly.

Arthur Pelkey on Trial Today

CALGARY, June 20.—Arthur Pelkey was placed on trial yesterday on a charge of manslaughter in connection with the death of Luther McCarty in a boxing bout here on Victoria Day. Pelkey was arraigned before Chief Justice Havery and pleaded not guilty. A large part of the forenoon was spent in the selection of the jury and shortly after 11 o'clock, Bill McCarty, manager of McCarty was placed on the stand, and he related the evidence given by him at the coroner's inquest and at the preliminary hearing. He maintained that McCarty was in good physical condition when he entered the ring and could not see how his protegee met his death. No severe blows were struck by either man.

The evidence of the doctor who performed the autopsy on Luther McCarty on May 24, took up practically the whole afternoon at the Pelkey trial. Dr. H. H. Mosher remained steadfast in his opinion that some external force had caused the dislocation of McCarty, which brought on the hemorrhage and the resultant death.

The number of shareholders have increased by 3000 in the two years and a half. Notable gain of 200 Canadian holders is recorded. June 1, 1910, $10,000,000 common stock was obtained in Great Britain; June 2, 1912, $18,000,000 stock was allotted at 150, and on January 2, 1913, $60,000,000 at 175.

GREAT BRITAIN HOLDING C. P. R.

Question as to Where Stock is Held Discussed by Monetary Times

TORONTO, June 20.—Much speculation has been indulged in as to where the stock of the Canadian Pacific Railway is at present held. Sir Thomas Shaughnessy this week informed the Monetary Times that the total number of Canadian Pacific common stock shareholders at the present time is about 27,000, the number of Canadian holders being 3,400. Of the common stockholders in Great Britain have approximately 60 per cent. About 15 per cent. is held in Germany and France; 23 per cent. is divided about equally between Canada and the United States, the remaining 2 per cent. being scattered in the colonies and other countries. Nearly all the 4 per cent. consolidated debenture stock and the 4 per cent. preference stock is still held in Great Britain.

The Monetary Times prints the following interesting table comparing these figures with the position in January, 1911:

Table with columns for Jan 1911 and 1913. Rows include Total number common stock shareholders, Number of common stock shareholders in Canada, etc.

The number of shareholders have increased by 3000 in the two years and a half. Notable gain of 200 Canadian holders is recorded.

LAST SAD RITES WERE DULY PERFORMED

The big rhinoceros which had the honor to be the first of its species to die in Canada, which was with the Barnum & Bailey show this week, was not sent to Toronto, either bones or carcass, and its meat, said to have been full of tubercular germs, was not stripped from its bones and fed to other animals.

SAW THE ROADS AND WERE HEARTILY ASHAMED

Brant County Councillors Got a Seventy Mile Joy Ride in Three Counties Yesterday—Brant Roads Received a Showing Up.

Yesterday afternoon the County Council and quite a few members of the Township Councils were guests of the Brantford Motor League on an automobile trip of about seventy miles, forty of which were made over macadamized roads.

The Brantford Motor League are endeavoring to interest the councils in the good roads movement. In order for the county council to pass a by-law allowing the roads of the county to be made and repaired under the good roads system, it would be necessary to get the consent of the Township Councils. If the county adopted this system, the government would pay one third of the cost. Under the present system, the roads are repaired and made by each resident doing so much road work or by paying to have it done.

Arriving at Galt, the councillors had their first view of the macadamized roads the league were to show them. As soon as the wheels took the macadamized Galt road to there were many expressions such as "Isn't this great?" "I tell you this is fine," and they kept it up until once more the party started to travel on Brant County roads, and there—more about that in a minute. Leaving the Manchester City behind, the party took the macadamized Galt road to the valley town, Dundas, to Hamilton, the Ambitious City.

They Are Great. Once the party returned to Galt, they travelled on macadamized roads to Hamilton. The roads were wide and practically eliminated the possibility of an accident that could be traced to the narrowness of the road The road from Galt to Rockton and Should the County Council not pass this resolution, the Motor League would like the council to build a test road of one or two miles under Government standards, and the league would do all they could to assist them.

There were nine autos. At Paris one auto refused to go any further and the occupants were transferred to other cars.

Among those in the party from the Motor League were Messrs Chester Harris, C. A. Waterous, Logan Waterous, Glen Ellis, Mr. Buchanan of the Keeton Motor Co. and Mr. DeWilder, County Clerk A. E. Watts and Township Clerk Smith were also with the party.

SUNDAY CARS IN GALT THIS WEEK

Grand Valley Railway Will Operate Into the Town In Future.

GALT, June 20.—The Sunday car question promises to be a local public issue if the intentions of the Grand Valley Railway to give service into the town are carried out. Under an agreement with Galt the railway agreed not to run on Sundays beyond the township boundaries. This has expired and the company will take cars as far as the G. and H. track, thus removing the hardship of walking in connection with the road a mile from the Grand Valley running into Galt. Then the opposition will proceed to contest their right claimed under a federal charter. It is believed that the majority of the citizens favor a Sunday service and would be pleased to have it in operation on the G. P. and H. also.

Tournament Held in City 25 Years Ago

Twenty-five years ago to-day a grand international firemen's tournament was held in Brantford at which $800 in cash prizes was given. Mr. Grant-Jarvis brought into The Courier a dodger which was printed for the event. The officers were: John McCann, chairman; Geo. D. Calder, vice-chairman, both of whom are deceased; and J. C. Montgomery, recording secretary; Geo. M. Crooks, financial secretary; Charles Hartman, treasurer, all of whom are very much alive. It must have been some day.

It was accepted and Mass was sung on the following Sunday.

WANT AD HOROSCOPE
JUNE 20.
Born on this date, you must overcome a tendency to senseless worry and fear.

The governing planet of this birth date is Mercury, which gives a variable disposition and one easily affected by surroundings and circumstances.

It is well to remember that no other sign of the Zodiac so places its natives on their own feet and forces them to be self-reliant, if they desire success.

They always go to extremes. They are either supremely happy or supremely miserable and they are fond of telling their troubles to everyone who will listen. This is most weakening and works strongly against permanent happiness or success.

Misery, the governing planet of this nativity, governs favorably all means of transportation to-day. The Want Ads will bring automobile advertising to the attention of the public, in which sales will be made and profits realized. This beneficent influence will rule for the coming week.

DUE TO FRANCE

It is a somewhat peculiar thing, but nevertheless a fact, that English-speaking people have had to borrow from France their voicing of delight at public performances, or in appreciation of individuals at the festive board.

Every time there is a cry of "encore, encore," it is the French for "once more," or "again," and now it has been discovered that the tune of "For he's a jolly good fellow," also originated in the land of the fleur de lis, with words written for the purpose of burlesquing the Duke of Marlborough.

The name of the ditty was "Malbrouck," and the music was written by an obscure composer in the Walloon country.

It was unknown in the French capital until fifty years after Marlborough's death, when a Picardy peasant woman, coming up to Versailles to nurse the baby Dauphin, brought it with her and sang her little baby charge to sleep with the old jingling rhyme.

From this "Malbrouck" became popular in Paris, and ultimately it reached England. The tune being a catchy one, it was wedded to the festive chant of "For he's a jolly good fellow." And so a song written in savage ridicule of England and one of her greatest generals has become one of the most popular airs to which Britishers all the world over pledge jovial cups.

CANADA IS ALL RIGHT.

The following are extracts from an article in "Canada," a well known illustrated magazine published in London, England, and dealing solely with Dominion items and affairs.

This journal and apparently all of its contemporaries who devote much attention to the progress of Canada and movements of Canadian securities, have been asked by their readers if there is anything unsound in the financial position of the Dominion.

Rumors of various kinds have been circulating in the city, and have also sprung up in foreign financial centres, which tend to disquiet holders of Canadian securities. We may say at once that there is no justification whatever for any fears in regard to Canada's progress or its financial stability.

There does not seem to be any immediate danger of the royal direct line dying out in Spain. There was a net profit of $176,000 in connection with the two polo matches in New York between the British and United States teams.

In Berlin, when Hydro-Electric power went off, the Telegraph there adopted the novel plan of using a motorcycle to supply power to run the typesetting machines. Newspapers have to get out each day, no matter what happens.

A crow in the possession of a Liberal family at Goderich has been taught to speak. He makes sneering remarks about the Ontario Conservative leaders. The family ought to eat the bird, for provincial Grits are quite used to masticating crow these days.

It is to be hoped that the fact of a rhinoceros dying in Brantford will not lead to an outside belief that we grow them in the river here. By-the-by, it was a Sheffield Choir member who, when introduced to a Brantfordite at the depot, at once remarked, "Oh, please show me a Mohawk." It was raining at the time, and the gentleman in question explained that Brantford Mohawks never came out in the wet, as it would cause their war paint to run. And she accepted that.

There is no doubt about that and the cause of the present tightness of the money market in Canada is simply due to the country's remarkable prosperity and rapid development. Mr. F. W. Ashe, London Manager of the Union Bank, remarked: "It is quite obvious to those business men who are watching with pleasure the progress of Canada that there is a deliberate 'bear' raid on Canada and Canadian investments. Malicious reports of an impending financial crisis in Canada are the chief causes of the unrest and decline in values. Such reports of a crisis are absolutely absurd. One has only to look at the last government return of our chartered banks to see that they are in a very strong position. Our recent advances from Canada show that every line of legitimate business is prosperous, and the outlook for the immediate future is most encouraging."

ARE MILLIONAIRES HAPPY.

Baron Henri de Rothschild, a multi-millionaire was asked the question the other day, "Are Millionaires happy?" His reply was: "That all depends upon the millionaire," and he added that he himself was not a perfectly happy man. To a great many people riches seem to be everything but are they? The responsibilities and the worries of vast wealth must be many and a modern Croesus cannot eat any more, or sleep any more, or do anything else human beyond that of those whom the world classes financially as not in that category.

An incident took place some years ago in Brant County which is quite illuminative of this point. Two boys were brought up on the same farm, the one an orphan, son of a deceased brother of the proprietor. The second lad was ambitious and went to the States where he amassed much wealth. Then under the money getting strain his health broke down and he was ordered on a tour of the world in the vain hope of regaining expended energies.

His health account, was, however, too much overdrawn, and on his return to die at home he visited the old farm for a farewell. He found the companion of his youth in a robust and contented condition physically, and at breakfast next morning while he was sipping at a bowl of bread and milk, he noticed that his cousin was polishing off a substantial repast of porridge and bacon and eggs. Then he wistfully remarked: "They call me a rich man, and so I am, as the world regards it, but I would give very cent I possess to have an appetite and a zest like that."

The truth is that a man who is healthy himself and has a healthy wife and family, is richer than any millionaire not so circumstanced. Health is wealth.

NOTES AND COMMENTS

It is a terrible shame to have had to bury all that rhino.

There does not seem to be any immediate danger of the royal direct line dying out in Spain.

There was a net profit of $176,000 in connection with the two polo matches in New York between the British and United States teams.

In Berlin, when Hydro-Electric power went off, the Telegraph there adopted the novel plan of using a motorcycle to supply power to run the typesetting machines.

It was raining at the time, and the gentleman in question explained that Brantford Mohawks never came out in the wet, as it would cause their war paint to run.

Last evening at a quarter to six one of the employees of the Avey Planning Mill on Grey street, while working on the sticker noticed the big belt connected to the machine commencing to tighten on the shafting, and in trying to avert an accident to the machine, he, in some way became tangled up with the belt. He narrowly escaped injury.

What the Other Fellow Thinks.

The Other Fellow's Etce English Enterprise for Canada. Canadian Churchman: Three important English newspapers, the Sheffield "Daily Independent," the Birmingham "Gazette," and the Northern "Echo," have included gratis with their ordinary issue a thirty-two page supplement dealing with all phases of Canadian life.

It is not an emigration "puff" or an advertising sheet, but is intended as a strong appeal to men to invest their labor and capital in a land described as "full of opportunities." These three papers have practically the largest circulation of any morning journals in the districts covered by them, and they have for many years devoted considerable attention to Canada, and thereby have created a keen atmosphere of interest. Several members of the staffs of these papers have visited Canada from time to time, and are fully alive to the advantages offered by the Dominion. This is an enterprise which is decidedly significant of the intense interest now felt in England in all matters pertaining to Canada, and we record it with great satisfaction and with the hope that the result may be to bring into our country all the capital we need and also the best available labor.

Church Union—A Good Example.

Ottawa Journal: At Danville, Quebec, Presbyterian and Congregational churches have joined to form a union church. It is the largest in the town now, and the attendance at its services is 50 per cent better than the total attendance of both churches before they united. Rather a promising example, isn't it? And to be commended to the attention of the committee of ten which has been formed to oppose church union within the Presbyterian church.

Was She a Martyr?

Christian Guardian: Miss Emily Davison was a cultured and clever Englishwoman, and a militant suffragette of more than ordinary daring. Once she threw herself down a flight of stairs in the jail and was seriously injured, and it was she who not long ago assaulted a Baptist minister, thinking him to be Lloyd George. Her last daring exploit, which cost her her life, was to throw herself in front of the galloping horses on Derby Day. Her idea seems to have been that this would call attention to woman's demand for the suffrage in such a fashion as to materially hasten the coming of the reform she so much desired. Few of us question that British women will ultimately be granted the suffrage, but it may well be doubted whether any such sacrifice of life will convince any man that woman has the right to vote. It is true that her militant sisters will hail the dead woman as a martyr, but we fear that a very much larger number, both of men and women, will be inclined to view the act rather as an evidence of unbalanced mentality or overwrought nerves.

Here's a Libel.

Guelph Herald: That men are in reality the "fair sex" is the somewhat startling assertion recently promulgated at the annual convention of the National Association of Merchant Tailors of America, Cleveland. It is all bosh, say the tailors, about women being the fair sex. "If it wasn't for hair, which the men have to cut off, and complexion, may-be, and dress, women wouldn't be half so good looking as men. Some of the tailors even went so far as to say that women won't let men wear the bright and beautiful colors which women monopolize, for fear the truth will be revealed."

U. S. Bosh.

Montreal Star: The New York American says that Princess Patricia has written a book about Canada and the States which has been censored by Queen Mary. The only thing which gives color to the story is the peculiarly intimate not to say affectionate relationship between Mrs. Hearst and the Royal Family. It is now rumored that Queen Mary will send a copy of the book with her kind regards to Tammany Hall.

Saw Brant Roads

(Continued from Page 1) beyond Rockton for a short distance was the best piece of road travelled. The rock in that district is close to the surface, and by the kindness of nature the road can more easily be kept in good condition.

Once the rock country is left the road was not quite as good, though excellent as compared with some of the roads in Brant.

Brant Roads Await

The party arrived in Hamilton at 6.15, and had supper at the Waldorf Hotel. Leaving Hamilton, the party took the Hamilton road to this city. The road was excellent, but once the Wentworth line was passed, the party quickly realized that they were once more travelling on Brant County roads. One councillor remarked that the eight miles from the Wentworth line to this city spoiled the whole journey for him. For two miles after crossing the Wentworth line it was a case of dodging to the side of the road, going through mud holes and competing with several other kinds of very unmodern road-building. The last six were not so bad, but bad enough.

Arrived Home

The city was made about between 8.30 and 9 o'clock, after having travelled the roads of three counties: Waterloo, Wentworth and Brant.

Some of the councillors are in favor of the movement, others are not, but how much missionary work was done yesterday will remain to be told when the matter is taken up in the county council.

With the City Police

There was a good sized police court this morning. The case of Angus Sheppard again came up. Chief Slemin declared the man had a bad record and wanted the Magistrate to send him to the Guelph farm. There was a lively discussion between the chief and the prisoner. Several witnesses were called and they stated that Sheppard had tried to sell them a pair of gold-rimmed glasses. When asked where he had obtained these glasses, he said that he had found them in a railway car. Prisoner declared he had been working up till two weeks ago, and made a strong plea to be dismissed, stating that he was willing to work if he could obtain a job. An officer of the Salvation Army, who was present, said he would obtain work for him, and he was let go on suspended sentence.

A. F. Webster, a well known fireman of the East ward fire department, charged F. W. Smith with running him down in his automobile. Webster was riding his bicycle along Dalhousie street and according to him and his two witnesses, was run down by Smith's car, driven by Charlie Smith, the defendant's son. Each side called two witnesses, and the evidence was rather contradictory. Mr. Hollinrake acted for Webster, who stated that his bicycle was badly smashed and his clothes torn. The Magistrate thought they had better try to settle it peacefully, but as the Court wanted to see the extent of the injuries the case was adjourned till to-morrow morning at 10 o'clock to allow Webster to bring the torn garments into court.

A case of vagrancy was also on the carpet. Eli Cattanauch was arrested for vagrancy at 2.25 p.m. in Jubilee Terrace. He stated that he had been working steadily and he was allowed to go.

The Keeton Motor Co. were charged with a breach of the Motor Act. The case was adjourned till next week.

Denjam Kancercull charged Peter Helencull with assault. It appears a sum of money was lost and Kancercull called Helencull a thief. Soon after, the money was found, but still Kancercull called Helencull a thief.

Last week a great musical festival was held at Regina, Sask., lasting for several days. Several prominent choirs took part in the contest, and our readers will feel proud to learn that a former Paris boy, Mr. Will H. Buckley, carried off the honors, with his choir. Speaking of the result of the Musical Festival the Regina Standard says: "There were moments when the singing of the Metropolitan Choir (of Regina), could not have excelled. They thoroughly deserved their success. This much is granted. There also is not a man in this fair city who is prouder of the achievement than Mr. Buckley. But then everything he touches, so to speak, ring of the musical. He is a King Midas of music."—Paris Star-Transcript.

Strike Here Has Not Yet Been Settled—Men Still Out.

At the meeting of the union moulders in Union Hall to-night, the present situation of the moulder's strike will be discussed. The local union men would not work under the circumstances and the strike followed.

It is said there is only one moulder working at Burrill's and he is not a union man. The union men on strike went down to the Burrill foundry Wednesday morning, but it is said that the goods were still being made. There is no change in the situation at the Hartley foundry reported.

SWINDLES ENTIRE TOWN.

LONDON, June 19—More than one person in Gainsborough would like to know the whereabouts of a certain old gentleman of patriarchal appearance. He stayed at the White Hart hotel, the leading hostelry of that town for a week, entertaining there under the name of Sir Thomas Lawson. He gave out that he had taken Sandby Grove, a well-known residence of the North side of the Trent, interviewed a postmistress who also keeps a registry office, who said that he wanted a staff of servants, was motored all over the district for the best part of a week; had tradesmen and others running after him, and then suddenly disappeared after borrowing $7.50 from the postmistress and a smaller sum from a housekeeper he had engaged at Reford and without settling his hotel bill.

He leased the farm and all its chattels, including 15 cows, which were to be supplied April 1, 1915. The landlord counter-claimed $500 arrears of rent and the damage for a breach of covenants in the lease, and also claimed that he had furnished the cows. The judge, after hearing the evidence of 15 witnesses of the defense and about the same number of witnesses for the plaintiff, dismissed the case with costs against the plaintiff. There were about 50 present from St. George, including the 30 witnesses. Mr. M. W. McEwen appeared for the plaintiff and Mr. B. Swaine of Newmarket and Heyd for the defendant.

PUZZLES THE DOCTORS.

Mysterious Disease Appears in West of England.

LONDON, June 19—English doctors are puzzled by a new disease which has appeared in the west country and spread with almost the rapidity of an epidemic. The chief symptoms of the disease is the appearance on the nostrils and the back of the throat of a membrane often persists indefinitely after the throat symptoms have disappeared. It was at first thought the disease was diphtheria, but exudate from the throat was forwarded to the Clinical Research association in London, and no trace of diphtheria bacillus was found. Since then it has been suggested that the disease may prove to be a non-typical variety of scarlet fever or measles. Paris is suffering from a similar epidemic, and there the death rate among children affected averages 15 to 20 per cent, which is worse than the mortality from diphtheria before the days of antitoxin.

SENIOR RECITAL AT ACADEMY OF MUSIC

The last concert of the closing recital of the Academy of Music was given last evening in Victoria Hall before a very large and enthusiastic audience. Almost every number was encored and Miss Nolan, Mr. Ostler and Mr. Wright are certainly to be congratulated on the very fine, artistic work displayed by pupils and junior teachers. Brantford citizens should be proud of an institution which can develop the natural musical ability of the young people of our city to such a high degree. The work that Miss Nolan has been doing for several years in Brantford is gaining its just appreciation to a greater extent every year.

The programme opened and closed with the second and last movements of Beethoven's Fifth Symphony played very brilliantly by Misses E. Burr, E. Schuler G. Hargadon and Mr. Wright. Miss Elsie Senn sang in Italian, "Ah Rendimi" by Rossi. Miss Senn's sweet and full contralto voice showed to the best possible advantage in this fine classical song, Miss ary O'Grady played Schumann's "Carnival Scenes" and later on in the evening sang very beautifully the "Swiss Echo Song" by Eckert. Miss O'Grady is the possessor of a very sweet soprano voice and her rendering of both the piano and vocal pieces was very artistic. Miss Mary MacIntyre played Bendel's "Cascade" very lightly and with beautiful quality of tone and shading. Mr. Charles Darwin, one of our best basso, sang with great expression and musical feeling "O Flower of All the World." One of the finest numbers was a vocal trio, "The Snow," by Elgar, sung by Misses M. Campion, E. Phipps and E. Senn, with violin obbligato parts played by Master Errol Gamble and Miss Gourlay. The ensemble of voices and instruments was perfect and the composition was given a very delightful rendering. Miss Gourlay, of Galt, one of Mr. Ostler's pupils played with good breadth of tone and expression a "Reverie" by Vieuxtemps. Miss Edna Bier played very beautifully the "Capriccio Brillante," Op. 22 of Mendelssohn's. Miss Bier has never played to better advantage than last evening. Mr. Wright played the orchestral part on a second piano. Miss Nora Gaffney played Tschetzky's very difficult "Study for the Left Hand Alone," on the theme of the "Sextette from Tuscany" with all the technical and artistic perfection we always expect from her work.

Then followed a ladies' chorus, "Beauteous Horn," by German. Miss Gertrude Hargadon gave the final piano solo, Wienawski's "Valse Op. 3," playing with very clear and dainty touch and fingering. Miss Mandel Campion closed the vocal part of the programme with the "Waltz Song from Romeo and Juliet." Miss Campion sang very brilliantly, and is deserving of great credit for the advance in her work shown in the last few years.

The whole evening was one of the best programmes ever presented by the Academy of Music.

Nuptial Notes

STEWART-JEFFERSON.

Wednesday afternoon a happy event took place in the Paris Presbyterian church when Rev. R. G. MacBeth united in marriage, Miss Violet Jefferson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Jefferson, to Mr. Gordon Grant Stewart of Fraser Mills, B.C., son of Mrs. William Stewart, William St., Paris. The bride wore an ivory duchess satin dress with Honiton lace and pearl trimmings and her mother's wedding veil and grandmother's orange blossoms. The bridesmaid, Miss Margaret Shepherd looked sweetly pretty in white nylon over yellow silk and yellow hat. Miss Lillian Jefferson in cream silk with shadow lace trimmings was maid of honor. The groom was supported by Mr. Georges Inksater and Mr. Bertram Tennant. After the ceremony a buffet luncheon was served at the home of the bride's parents, the young couple leaving later for their new home in Fraser Mills, B.C., the bride's travelling costume being a tailored suit of navy blue serge and large hat.

GARDEN PARTY

On behalf of All Saints Church, Mr. Pleasant, a garden party was held last evening on the grounds of Mr. A. T. Briggs of John Bishop & Sons, Mr. W. F. Cocksbutt, M. P., presided, and there was a good attendance, considering the weather. Booths and a fishing pond did good business. The edibles were of a most dainty nature and supplied in great profusion. Miss Hurley of Brantford sang splendidly. Miss S. Lloyd-Jones gave a good recitation. Misses D. Reville and Lloyd-Jones gave some attractive dancing. Mr. Briggs sang and was heartily encored. He responded, assisted by his three daughters. The song was Red, White and Blue, and each little girl wore one of those colors. Rev. Mr. Saunders also made a speech. Quite a sum for their new home in Fraser Mills, was realized.

Four heaping tablespoons of corn starch to one quart of milk. A little over an ounce of gelatine to a quart of liquid.

GREAT WAS "CHUBBY" COOSE AS A PINCH HITTER YESTERDAY

He Smashed Out a Single in the Ninth, With Two Out, Which Won the Game For Brantford—A Fine Battle at London.

LONDON, June 20.—Well it was tough for Manager Deneau to lose that ball game yesterday at Tecumseh Park to the Brantford Red Sox by the score of 2 to 1 after the game was practically won by London with the score 1 to 0, and with two men out and no one on the paths. Such is baseball and the luck was against Deneau, who tried to make his string of victories bigger and had picked a soft spot to make it with. He nearly got away with it, but his own wildness is accountable for the loss. He walked two men in the ninth, when up walked Mr. "Pinch Hitter" Coose and delivered the necessary bingle to tie the score in the ninth, and while he was scampering around the paths, Clickenger had to uncork a wild heave to third base which did not meet anything until it hit the grand stand, allowing Slemm to score run No. 2, which later was found to be plenty to win by.

Only Two Hits Till Then. Manager Deneau was pitching the best ball game seen at the local grounds this season, as the "Red Legs" had only connected with his offerings for two hits and these were just over the infield! Manager Captain Wagner's selection, Clermont, pitched a swell game also and kept the Tecumseh's hits well scattered. Coose's grounder was hit "where they ain't" between Dunlop and Myers right to Clickenger on the bound, but his hurry-up peg to catch Slemm going to third "spilled the beans."

A Chance to Tie It. In the ninth Dunlop came across with a smashing single into right field and the hopes of the locals tying the score ran high. Reidy sacrificed Dunlop to second and was standing up at third when Myers went out at first, and with Deneau up in a pinch everything looked rosy, but for only one moment, as the bi. Tecumseh leader struck out, taking the count with three and two on him.

London's only run came in the second when Dunlop was safe on a fielder's choice, which forced Stewart out as second base. "Denny" Hett, dropping a "Denny's fly," Dunlop stole second and scored when Reidy connected with the ball for a hard single over the infield. Another chance to score came in the fourth when Stewart was walked and sacrificed to second by Dunlop, who dared to bunt with two strikes against him. Reidy banged another hit to left field, and Stewart could have scored but for a moment's hesitation on his part at third when the ball hit Burrill on the knee, but he quickly recovered the ball and threw to the plate, catching Stewart in time to avert a run being scored. The score:

Table with columns: A.B.R.H.O.A. for Brantford and London players like Durham, Wagner, Burrill, etc.

Howick Wins Pitchers' Battle From Schaeffer.

BERLIN, June 20.—By defeating Berlin here yesterday afternoon St. Thomas won the third consecutive game from the Dutchmen by a one run margin, the Saints having the big end of a 2 to 1 score. It was a pitchers' battle in which Harry Howick, of the visitors, bested Schaeffer slightly. The former allowed four hits, two of which were secured in Berlin's first period, netted the only run scored. Six hits were gathered off Schaeffer's delivery, only one of which figured in the run getting, both teams fielding in sensational style. Dinsmore's work in right field was the feature.

Two of the hits off Howick were bunched in the first period, and netted Berlin's single tally. Schaeffer was effective in the pinches, only allowing six hits. A pass and Sweeney's muff of a thrown ball allowed Craven to score in the first. In the fifth Kopp walked, stole second and scored on Kustus' single.

Ottawa and St. Thomas Coming. The Red Sox will be home the first three days of next week when the fast Ottawa team will be the attraction at the ball park. On Thursday and Friday they play in St. Thomas. The Saints will be returning to Brantford with the Sox for a series of four games, June 28th and 30th, and games morning and afternoon of Dominion Day. The team will then take a trip east.

The Crowd Cheered. A joyous yell from the faithful fans rent the air in front of The Courier office late yesterday afternoon when the boy who chalks up the scores on the score board marked the figure "2" for Brantford and an "0" for London in the ninth. The crowd on Dal-housie street were in an exceedingly happy mood.

A hit in the pinch is worth a whole ball game. Ask Chubby Coose.

Sporting Comment

It takes a real team to win a game with two men out in the ninth. Cassavay, the new infielder, will likely break into the game to-day at London.

When Amby Kane comes back he will have to read the percentage table upside down to find Brantford.

Don't overlook the fact that young Lamond is working pretty regularly and is surely doing great work.

This fellow pitcher, Gero, whom Brantford is securing, is reported to be as good a pitcher as there is in the Canadian League.

Hett, the new Red Sox right fielder doesn't look good enough to keep. He is an ordinary ball player, and the club has been suffering too much with ordinary stuff. Hett came here on his own hook and asked for a trial.

Mr. Deneau must be some pitcher. Canadian League Doings—Walter Teed released by Hamilton; London wants to get Matt Hynes back; Jo Keenan is still manager at Berlin; St. Thomas has a lead of 8 1/2 games on Brantford.

That boy, Slemm, seems to officiate pretty regularly in the Red Sox rallies. He scored the winning run yesterday, running from first to third like a man with his coat tails on fire, and drawing a bad throw to third to catch him. Then he scored.

Manager Kane, in a letter to President Nelson, says he will have no difficulty in getting ball players as he wants them. They are as thick as bees in New England, but Amby did not say what quality they were. It is presumed however that he can pick out a couple of good ones.

Whether it's the absence of Manager Kane, or the likelihood that some jobs will be lost, which has started the Sox to win, is puzzling numerous of the fans, particularly those who like a manager who always puts the players on the back and thus increases the size of their chest. Kane isn't this sort of a manager, and we don't see any in the league of that calibre. The Brantford club has lost games through the breaks of the luck largely, and ineffective pitching. It was never through weak management, or a leadership that was anything but aggressive. Records have been broken by the Red Sox this week. They have won three games in a row.

That man Hett must have a billiken with him at all times. At his first game in Hamilton last Tuesday, on the way to the grounds he noticed a funeral passing. He was heard to remark: "There goes a funeral, boys; we win to-day," and sure enough they did. On Wednesday he noticed another funeral passing. "Another funeral, boys; another ball game," and it was. He must have seen two funerals yesterday. The second was Rube Deneau's.

Just to show that a ball game is never over until the last man is out, Brantford-Red Sox exemplified the trick of winning the game with two out at London and nobody on bases. It really was a game finish, and did the Red Sox credit. That one game yesterday should regain more of their lost prestige than anything else could do. Had the fans around the bulletin boards known that Chubby Coose was up in the pinch with three and two on him, they would pretty nearly have banked on Coose making good. Coose has always shown the faculty of being game, and is no more subject to rattles than the Joe Brant monument in Victoria Park. While Chubby gets credit for the bingle which won the game, it must not be forgotten that Mr. Clermont was in there pitching a fine brand of ball. He pitched just as good as Deneau, and should have had a shut-out. It was certainly a nice ball game to win. Another play which looked pretty good in a close game was Burrill's throw from left field which cut off a run at the plate.

SPORTING MAXIMS RETOLD. The one acceptable cure for bad rules seems to be more bad rules. The theory of two wrongs making right is recited in practice. The first requirement in the application of speed is direction.

Sympathizing with victims is silly and hypocritical patronage; tell them you are tickled beat them and they will feel better. Cleveland gained slightly on the Athletics yesterday. The latter lost and the Naps beat Walter Johnson in Washington by 4 to 0. It was the Cleveland team that put an end to Johnson's long string of consecutive victories this spring.

"The Mystery of Agatha Webb"

By KATHARINE GREEN

Copyright, 1900, by Katharine Green anxiously seeking. You know this is new work for me, and I have to advance warily. Did any of you gentlemen, when you came into this room, detect the faintest odor of any kind of perfume?"

"Perfume?" echoed the Abel with a glance about the musty apartment. "Rats, rather."

Sweetwater shook his head with a discouraged air, but suddenly brightened, and stepping quickly across the floor, paused at one of the windows—it was that one in which the shade had been drawn down.

Peering at this shade he gave a grunt. "You must excuse me for a minute," said he. "I have not found what I wanted in this room and now must look outside for it. Will some one bring the lantern?"

"I will," volunteered Knapp, with grim good humor. Indeed, the situation was almost ludicrous to him.

"Bring it round the house, then, to the ground under this window," ordered Sweetwater without giving any sign that he had noticed or even recognized the other's air of condescension. "And, gentlemen, please don't follow. It's footsteps I am after, and the fewer we make about the house ourselves the easier it will be for me to establish the clew I am after."

Mr. Fenton stared. What had got into the fellow?

CHAPTER XVII.
THE MONEY FUND.

The lantern gone the room resumed its former appearance. Abel, who had been much struck by Sweetwater's mysterious maneuvers, drew near Dr. Talbot and whispered in his ear: "We might have done without that fellow from Boston."

"Perhaps, and perhaps not. Sweetwater has not yet proved his case; let us wait till he explains himself." Then turning to the constable he showed him an old-fashioned miniature which he had found lying on James' breast when he made his first examination. It was set with pearls and backed with gold and was worth many meals, for the lack of which its devoted owner had perished.

"Agatha Webb's portrait," exclaimed Talbot. "Or rather Agatha Gilchrist's. For I presume this was painted when she and James were certainly a beauty," commented Fenton, as he bent over the miniature in the moonlight. "I do not wonder she queened it over the whole county."

"He must have worn it where I found it for the last 40 years," mused the doctor. "And yet men say that love is a fleeting passion. Well, after all, upon the proof of devotion, I find it impossible to believe James Zabel accountable for her death. Sweetwater's instinct was truer than Knapp's."

"Or ours," muttered Fenton.

"Gentlemen, interposed Abel, pointing to his appearance in the dark outline of the shade before alluded to. "Do you see that hole? It was the sight of that prick in the shade which sent Sweetwater outside looking for footprints. See! Now his eye is in it!" (As the bright spot became suddenly visible, a bright gasp of examination, and the next thing we will hear is that he's not the only person who's been peering into this room through that hole."

"He was so far right that the first words of Sweetwater on his re-entrance were: 'It's all O. E. sirs. I have found my missing clew. James Zabel was not the only person who came up here from the Webb cottage last night.' And turning to Knapp, who was losing some of his supercilious manner, he asked, with significant emphasis: "If, of the full amount stolen from Agatha Webb, you found $20 in the possession of one man and $20 in the pocket of another, upon which of the two would you fix as the probable murderer of this good woman?"

"Upon him who held the lion's share, of course."

"Very good. Then it is not in this cottage you will find the person most wanted. You must look—But there, first let me give you a glimpse of the money. Is there any one here ready to accompany me in search of it? I shall have to take him a quarter of a mile farther up hill, the money? You know where it is?" asked Dr. Talbot and Mr. Fenton in one breath.

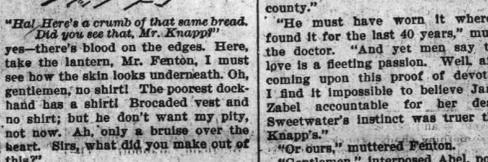

"Gentlemen, I can put my hand on it in ten minutes."

At this unexpected and somewhat startling statement Knapp looked at Dr. Talbot and Dr. Talbot looked at the constable, but only the latter spoke. "That is saying a good deal. But no matter. I am willing to credit the assertion. Lead on, Sweetwater. I'll go with you."

Sweetwater seemed to grow an inch at least. "And Dr. Talbot?" he suggested.

"But the coroner's duty held him to this house of death, and he decided not to accompany them. Knapp and Abel, however, yielded to the curiosity which had been aroused by these extraordinary promises, and soon these four started on their small expedition up the hill.

THE SECRET OF GOOD HEALTH

Keep the Blood Rich and Pure with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

The condition of the blood makes all the difference between health and sickness. Impure blood and strong healthy nerves and muscles never go together. If the blood is thin every part of the body becomes weak. The stomach fails in strength and the appetite becomes poor. The body does not obtain enough nourishment from the food, and soon the nerves begin to complain and the person becomes irritable, despondent, worn out and nervous. For a time there may be no actual sickness, only a run-down, weak condition, but there is no defence against disease and from such a condition spring disorders such as anaemia, rheumatism, indigestion, neuralgia, and even paralysis itself. People with impure, thin blood should take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. Every dose helps to make new, rich blood, and new blood means content and strength. They stop the progress of disease and red cheeks, good appetite, new strength, declare the general improvement in the health. Here is an example. Miss Ellen Maude McQuodale, Harrison, Ont., says: "I feel it my duty to add my voice to the many now recommending Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. For years I was a sufferer with backaches, rheumatism and nervousness. I was so bad at times that I was confined to my bed, I felt sleepy and heavy after meals, and had flashes of light before my eyes, and a difficulty in collecting my thoughts. After using several remedies without benefit I began using Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and used ten or twelve boxes in all. They gave me the best health I have enjoyed for years, and I have not since had the least return of the trouble."

You can get these Pills from any dealer in medicine or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

JEWISH FIGHTERS IN THE PRIZE RING

Interesting Article About the Boxers - Some Clever Ones.

(By Ray C. Pearson.)
The Jewish race has been prominent in pugilism since the glove came into existence during the regime of the famous John L. Sullivan, a little more than three decades ago, yet a careful perusal of the dope of to-day shows that there are fewer classy fighters of this race in the game now than at any time in the last thirty years.

In seeking solution for the paucity of Jewish fighters one is confronted by a bunch of arguments, none of which satisfactorily answers the question. The most logical explanation, I would seem, is the retrogression of the sport, due to a number of reasons, principally that which has had to do with making boxing unlawful in many sections of the country. But that explanation applies to fighters of all races as well as to the Jew, so it really explains nothing.

What the Jewish race has contributed to boxing in the past has been plenty. Where a few years ago Joe Choynski shone as one of the greatest heavyweights in the world, there is to-day not a Jewish heavyweight in the game. It is true that big Jewish fighters always have been a rarity in the sport, but Choynski was an exception, and his record shows that he possessed class akin to that of the greatest fighters of his time.

Undoubtedly the greatest Jewish fighter that ever donned the spangles was that marvel of the ring, Abe Attel. For years Attel ruled the featherweight division, meeting and defeating the boys of all other nationalities--and that, too, by such a wide margin that no doubt was left as to his superiority. Attel not only trounced the fighters who could notch the same weight as himself, but he was so good that he had to do more than that. They were forced to go out of the featherweight class to find opponents in order to make boxing a profitable business. As a result he stacked up against lightweights, and in these battles he held his own, showing what a remarkable fighter he really was.

Attel still considers himself a member of the boxing fraternity, although he cannot be placed in the position of contender for championship honors. Attel was the eighth wonder of the world, for no greater performer ever graced any class.

Those who follow the sport closely concede the truth of all that can be said of Attel. After being a world's title holder for years he finally succumbed to the prowess of Johnny Kilbane, the Cleveland boy who at present wears the championship crown. No credit should be taken away from Kilbane for his triumph over Attel, but at the same time those who know "Abe" will tell you that the little Jew was "through" as a championship fighter nearly three years before the "big blow" came that deposited him as title holder.

As showing what a really great fighter Attel was it is necessary to explain some of the ring happenings of Abe in the last couple of years that he held the title. Attel in that time never dodged any opponent that sought battle, and although he wasn't the Abe of old by a long way, none of them was able to put him away. One of his toughest fights was that against a youngster named Joe Coster of Brooklyn. Coster was a "hard nut" for any of them to crack at that time, and after ten rounds of hard milling the popular verdict belonged to the Brooklynite.

There was really only one thing that Attel possessed that permitted him to stay the limit of ten rounds against Coster, and that was ring generalship. Round after round he

KIDNEY TROUBLE IS HEREDITARY

But Dodd's Kidney Pills Always Cure It.

Jresden Man, Who Inherited Trouble Finds Speedy Relief and Permanent Cure in Dodd's Kidney Pills.
DRESDEN, Ont., June 16 (Special).--Whether kidney disease is hereditary or not is a matter of opinion. Dr. Samuel Birckett, a well known resident of this place is convinced that he inherited his from his parents. He now that Dodd's Kidney Pills cured it.

"I inherited my Kidney Disease from my parents," Mr. Birckett states. "I was treated by a doctor, and tried various medicines, but it was not until about eighteen months ago, when I started to use Dodd's Kidney Pills, that I got any permanent relief. "Since then I have not felt any effect of my old trouble, and I feel that anybody troubled with kidney disease will be benefited by the use of Dodd's Kidney Pills if they follow directions closely."

"I hope that others may be helped by Dodd's Kidney Pills. I am well-known here, and anybody who wishes more particulars of my cure can have them by writing me and enclosing stamps for reply."

stacked that generalship against hard punching and rough boring in tactics, and, although outpointed, Abe never was in danger of being knocked out. In his fights that followed it was necessary for Attel to play his generalship as his top card. That was the only thing he had left, and he played it so well that he hung on to his title for nearly two years, when Kilbane came along to dethrone him.

The Jewish fighters have been more prominent by far in the lighter classes than in the heavier divisions. Aside from Attel, probably the best was "Kid" Herman, the Chicago lightweight. Herman who is prospering in the floral business in Seattle, Wash., made great headway toward the championship, but his one great chance was a failure. Herman did not possess the class of Attel, but he was a rough and ready sort of battler, with a fair amount of cleverness. His record shows many victories, but he just fell short of being a champion. That he was not of championship caliber was shown when he worked his way up to a battle for the title with Joe Gans. It took that wonderful negro fighter just eight rounds to end the bout with a knockout.

One of the most remarkable fights that Herman ever engaged in was staged in a Chicago ring. His opponent was another Jewish fighter by the name of "Kid" Abel. Abel at that time had been a great success and indications pointed to a rosy future for him. His battle with Herman was staged as a contest for the championship of the Chicago Ghetto, and for a six round tilt it was a battle worth going miles to see.

When the final gong rang both boys were on their feet, but the damage that had been done in that short period was enough to stop any ordinary fighters. Herman left the ring with a broken jaw, while Abel was nursing a broken wrist. In addition to considerable other facial damage which both incurred. The broken jaw was received in the second round while the wrist was fractured in the third session.

Abel never really got beyond being a Chicago six round fighter, and proved an in and out, never fighting consistently. Monte Attel, a youngster brother of Abe, made great strides early as a boxer but never got far. Monte did not possess the head work that made his brother famous.

"Kid" Goodman of Boston a few years ago was just about as tough a battler as ever entered a ring, but like Herman he was lacking in the class to make him a champion.

When Harry Lewis, whose correct name is Harry Besterman, fought in the lightweight ranks it was predicted that he had a great chance to become champion. Lewis was a knockout puncher of the first water, and his record shows several good mills. But he soon outgrew the lightweight rank and now is milling with the middleweights across the big pond, but as a middle he lacks the "stuff" he showed as a lightweight.

There are only two Jewish fighters of the present time who possess class, and these are Charlie White, the Chicago lightweight, and Leach Cross of New York. There are those who believe that Charlie White will before long become champion, and those of his race are pulling for him. For if the Jewish race is to be kept in the front rank of pugilism it is up to White. But Cross also is formidable and to be reckoned with.

The Giants are tramping on the heels of the Philistines now. New York won yesterday, and the Philadelphia's were losing again. The McGraw team has suffered its slump and recovered from it, while Dooin's men appear to have hit a down grade.

THE AILMENTS OF WOMEN.
The girls and women who suffer with what they think as "Female Trouble" would look to their kidneys; they'll soon find the source of their ill-health. The kidneys are closely allied with the female organs, and if the vitality of the kidneys is interfered with, great suffering occurs. There is no better medicine than Dr. Hamilton's Pills--they stimulate and strengthen the kidneys, assist other organs to do Nature's work, cleanse the system and thereby maintain general health. Great benefit and certain cure is guaranteed for all women who use Dr. Hamilton's Pills.

PAINTS KING'S HEAD ON BODY OF FATHER

Alfonso's Aversion to Wearing Gloves Leads to Laughable Incident.

MADRID, June 19.--Alfonso of Spain has a peculiar aversion to gloves and he refuses to wear them, even on great state occasions. On the beginning of the strict etiquette of the Court of Spain was shocked, but the young king's independence was taken as a matter of course.

Alfonso has also a keen and quick eye, and he relates this story of an incident in the Pyrenees. Passing through a little village the royal auto mobile misbehaved, and the royal traveler alighted to direct the royal chauffeurs in making repairs.

The mayor of the village struggled into a white collar and his best clothes and came forward to offer assistance. The king asked him to show him around the village, and the two men left the car in the road and walked through the town.

In the office of the mayor was a picture of Alfonso but wearing white gloves. This caused the king to approach and examine the print closely.

"Never have I worn white gloves," muttered Alfonso.

Then the mayor came forward, covered with confusion, and explained. The picture was originally of Alfonso XII, the king's father.

When son followed father to the throne the thirty mayor decapitated Alfonso XII and had the head of Al-

DOMINION DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE.

What virtue is there in heredity when it comes to abundant milk production per cow? Many a dairyman notices a cow is good, her calves may turn out to be good milkers, sometimes they do not. What is the trouble? Apart from such consideration as feed, care and health look for one moment at the possible value of the sire.

It has been noted many a time that cows bred to a particular bull have dropped good milking progeny; that bull came from good milking ancestry. There is the virtue of heredity worth thousands of dollars to our dairying industry. The melancholy reflection is that scores of these good milkers can be traced to sires that have been sold for long before their real value had become known.

Every dairyman who is doing anything at testing his individual cows and all progressive dairymen appreciate the far-reaching benefits of such study, knows that it would be worth at least 1,000 pounds of milk extra per cow to secure the right bull. All members of cow testing associations should co-operate in the purchase of good pure bred sires, changing them round after two years in one section, and prove thereby the immense value of heredity in their own herds.

The Shoe With an Un-Warpable Sole

The sole is the strength of the shoe. It must hold together the Upper, Toe-cap Counter and Heel. It must hold the Shoe in shape as well as protect your feet from the road. To do this the sole should first of all be able to hold its own shape.

If it is made of soft, lifeless, hemlock tanned leather, as most soles now-a-days are, it cannot do this. In the Foot-rite Shoe the sole leather is thoroughly SEASONED before being cut up. Seasoned leather, like seasoned lumber, is un-warpable--it holds its shape.

Until the invention of Foot-rite Shoes this feature was not given the attention it merited, except by Custom boot makers. Foot-rite Shoes lead the way in this and 19 other distinctive points. See our Windows.

TRAIN STOPS TO LET BABE SLEEP

Queen 'Mina, Chasing After Spouse, Has to Take Along Juliana, Who is Coddled.

THE HAGUE, Holland, June 20.—Little Princess Juliana of Holland, some day (unless the stark news along the hoped-for little brother) will be Queen of Holland and those Dutch colonies so rich in the Far East, was four years old

April 30.
All Holland paid her honor and the orange color out of compliment to her family (the House of Orange) was everywhere.
Juliana was in Germany for her birthday, having gone there with the queen, who went to join her husband, Prince Henry. He had been doing a cure which he seems to have somewhat prolonged, so Queen Wilhelmina thought it would be as well to go and look after him and take their little daughter with her, to remind her husband that home and home ties are best of all.
Travelling with such a treasure as Juliana, who is not only a daughter, but a royal heiress, has its trials, for it was not to be thought of that Juliana should have a bad night while travelling, so when her early bedtime came the royal train was run on to a siding on the way and every one waited till the little princess began to peep with the birds in the early morning before the journey was resumed.

She is not a pretty child but is extremely healthy and plump, very intelligent and very affectionate.
There has been much complaint that neither the queen nor the royal consort do anything to assist public enterprises like the present Dutch Women's exhibition, being wholly absorbed in their own life and in looking after Princess Juliana.

THORPE SEEMS DESTINED TO BE GREAT PLAYER

Fast is Learning Art of Fielding and Barring Under McGraw's Tuition.

CHICAGO, Ill., June 20.—Jim Thorpe, the greatest all-round athlete who has ever lived, visited Chicago with the New York Giants this week and showed enough in his brief appearance on the field to convince populace and critics alike he has the makings of a real high class baseball player.

For several months doubts have been circulated about the ability of this Indian athlete to make good with the Giants. In fact, reports were sent out from the Giants' training camp at Marlin, Texas, that McGraw might not keep him the season out. This is not the true state of affairs. The New York manager is firm in his belief that the wonderful Indian athlete is going to develop into a real baseball player. He hasn't the slightest intention of letting him go.

After his experience with Chief Meyers and Rube Marquard, and with what Thorpe has already shown, he is certain he would make a grave mistake to release Thorpe.
Glen Warner, the Carlisle coach, who had much to do in making Thorpe a famous athlete, said Jim was the most observing performer he had ever seen. This is what's going to help Thorpe in baseball. He catches on to things so quickly and he has the ability to pick up good points so readily, there's no reason now to doubt that he's developing into a ball player.

Grasps Fine Points
When Thorpe was at Carlisle and starring in football, track athletics, tennis, basketball, lacrosse, swimming, diving, rowing and other miscellaneous sports too numerous to mention—and at which he surpassed all others—he kept his eyes continually open. For instance, Carlisle might be meeting another college track team in a dual meet. A shotputter of exceptional ability would dig his toes into the ground in a way that gave him unusual drive to the last effort. Thorpe would be watching him out of the corner of his eye. Then when he was alone he'd try it himself. If he found it improved his style and distance, he'd adopt it to his own game.

If a pole vaulter did something new Thorpe would be out trying it the next day. If a halfback turned a trick on the gridiron that brought out a single gain Jim would use it the next practice period. In the end Thorpe gained a singular perfection in all sports, partly through his keen observance and more largely because of his ability to improve upon various stunts because of remarkable strength and natural adaptability.

When Thorpe joined the Giants at Marlin he was a bad ball player. This was the fact. But the reason was because he hadn't had the opportunity of observing good ball playing, such as is found in the majors. For example, he didn't know how to start after a fly ball. Although a wonderful sprinter and a quick starter on the cinders he didn't seem to understand the knack of starting forward after a short fly in the proper manner or backwards after a long one.

Shows Great Improvement
He could hit a straight fast ball but couldn't touch a curve. Constant practice and the right kind of coaching have made him a fair fielder now—although of course he is also getting so he can hit a curve ball and then. In fact at Chicago, while hitting for Mathewson this is his modesty, diffidence and a single. He also came in and got a short fly as well as anybody in the one inning he appeared.

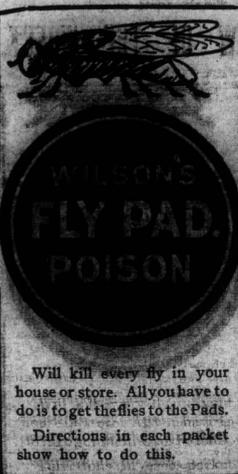

Thorpe is trying all the time and observing what the others do. McGraw made an exceptionally wise move when he had Jim room with Chief Meyers while on the road. Chief is a steady Indian, ambitious, saving and reliable in every particular. He is buying a ranch in California and is making money fast. Meyers coaches Thorpe on everything, and the result is magical.

Some believe Thorpe is a crab or a grouch. He is hard to interview and doesn't care to pose for pictures on the field. The real reason for this is his modesty, diffidence and—yes—bashfulness. He is pestered all the time by strangers who rush in and ask how he liked to return his Olympic trophies to Sweden. Others glorify him in his face. He doesn't like it, so shuns strangers. But with the Giants and friends he's a regular fellow, genial, jovial and likeable.

You can rest assured Thorpe will be in the majors when many others have departed to the bushes.

PROVED BEYOND DOUBT.

The disappointed victims of poor, Catarrh remedies should read the statement of J. R. Smith, of Lake Stream, N. B., in Catarrhozone he found an absolute cure and says: "Last winter my little girl of eight caught cold which lodged in her ears in the form of catarrh. She became sick and deaf and nothing helped. By inhaling Catarrhozone she got relief and gradually the discharge went away. She was cured perfectly of Catarrh. Personally I can recommend Catarrhozone for coughs and throat irritation; it's a wonderful medicine." Sold everywhere, 5c. and $1.00.

Will kill every fly in your house or store. All you have to do is to get the flies to the Pads. Directions in each packet show how to do this.

A Waltz King.

M. Poincare enjoys the title of being the Waltz King of Paris. The Society of Dramatic Authors, of which he is counsel, gave a ball some years ago, and organized a waltzing competition in which Poincare took part. He is an admirable waltzer, and was considered to have won the competition and to be entitled to have the distinction of "Waltz King" conferred upon him. Poincare was presented with a laurel wreath, but he would rather not have won the competition, for when it came to an end all the ladies wanted to dance with him. He danced a hundred waltzes that night, and became so tired that he left the ballroom, as he was almost unable to move his legs.

A Clear Brain and healthy body are essential for success. Business men, teachers, students, housewives, and other workers, say Hood's Sarsaparilla gives them appetite and strength, and makes their work seem easy. It overcomes that tired feeling.

VIEW OF THE WRECK ON NEW HAVEN ROAD AT STAMFORD, CONN.

The above picture shows the recent wreck on the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad at Stamford, Conn., when five persons were killed and a score seriously injured. The terrific force with which the two trains came together can be seen by the way the engine has almost completely telescoped one of the coaches. This makes the fourteenth serious wreck in the last two years on this railroad, causing the loss of thirty lives and serious injury to more than two hundred and fifty persons.

GENEROSITY.

How a Clever Business Man Dodged the Subscription Fund.

Four or five ladies bustled into a private office the other day. "What can I do for you, ladies?" asked the manager pleasantly.

"Why," began one of the visitors, "we are taking up a subscription, and we knew you wouldn't like it if we didn't give you an opportunity to subscribe."

The manager bowed graciously and asked: "And the object? Of course it is a worthy one or you would not be interested in it."

"Yes, sir," replied the spokeswoman; "we think it a very worthy object. It is to build a home for aged and indigent widows."

"Excellent! Excellent! I shall take pleasure in making you out a check."

"Oh, how lovely of you!" exclaimed the spokeswoman when she received the bit paper and read the amount—$100. "Oh, we didn't expect to get that much from you. We are ever so much obliged."

"So good of him!" and similar exclamations were heard as the check was passed around for the admiration of the party.

"But," said the lady who handled the check last, "you haven't signed it."

"That is because I do not wish my name connected in any way with the gift," he said smilingly.—Life.

Neighbors Amities.

There had been serious difficulties between Mrs. Blobs and Mrs. Dobbs, who were neighbors, owing to the former's trespassing upon the latter's flower beds, while the fox terrier of Dobbs' had, in retaliation, cut short the "span of life" of Mrs. Blobs' favorite hantam.

Words were strong and heated "over the garden wall," accompanied by smacking of hands and furious threats, till at last, losing all control of herself, Mrs. Blobs, who had been doing the week's washing, "let fly."

What happened was next told in the police court, Blobs answering to the summons of Dobbs, whose face was "partially closed for repairs."

"And what have you to say as to this assault, Mrs. Blobs?" asked the magistrate.

"Please, yer washin', I was doin' the washin', an' simply hit her over the face with a pillowcase."

"What a pillowcase inflict that damage? Two black eyes and a fractured nose?" gasped the magistrate.

"Well—yer washin', if I must say, there was half a brick inside it somebody left there."—London Opinion.

His Idea of a Job.

The Democratic members of the house of representatives have been besieged by a horde of office seekers willing to serve their country.

"It is refreshing," said one representative, discussing the office question, "to hear of an aspirant for public office who frankly admits his ambition, yet declines to seek a position in which he will have nothing to do but draw his salary."

"Two wayside pilgrims were talking over things when one of them asked: "Dick, you ain't a banker?" after no government place, are you?"

"I don't mind sayin' I'd take one other, but I don't want no job that's all fat. I'm willin' to earn my salary."

"And what sort of a job would be about your size?"

"Well, I'd like to fill fountain pens for some assistant secretary of the treasury."—Judge.

No Free Shine.

Albert Groves, who lives somewhere out beyond stop empty-six in the summer time, but who moves back to Belding street when the leaves begin to fall, relates that he had an English guest at his country place last year. The guest was something of a nitty dresser. Mr. Groves showed him to his room that night.

"Shall I leave my boots outside the door?" inquired the Englishman as he was retiring.

"Sure, if you want to," replied Groves heartily. "The servants are honest and nobody'll touch 'em."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Switzerland shares with Scotland the distinction of being the best educated country in the world.

OWNERS OF LONDON.

Some English Peers Own Great Tracts of Metropolis.

A speaker in the House of Commons said the other day that Canada was owned by a score or so of men, whom he named. It is true that a handful of men have set themselves, as it were, at the very gateway of Canadian prosperity, and are in a position to take a "rake-off" from almost everyone who contributes to that prosperity.

The very rain makes Sir William Mackenzie rich; the grain cannot grow nor the apples ripen on the trees without paying some tribute to him and to the other men who are the masters of the country's transportation. But if it can be said that a handful of men own Canada, it can be said that a smaller handful own the city of London (Eng.), and an article on this subject appears in a recent issue of The Pall Mall Magazine, from the pen of T. H. Manners Howe.

At the time of Lord George's budget, which proposed a re-valuation of the land of England, a good deal was heard of the landlords of the country, but the matter was discussed as a rule, in a bitter, controversial spirit. Mr. Howe sets forth a few astonishing facts without commenting upon their political significance.

The men who are said to own London are Duke of Westminster, Lord Portman, Lord Howard de Walden, the Duke of Bedford, the Earl of Cadogan, the Marquis of Northampton, the Duke of Norfolk, and Lord Curzon. Since London extends over nearly half a million acres of ground, while the great landlords among them do not own probably a couple of thousand acres, it is plain that after all they own a very small proportion of the land of London. Yet think of one man owning 300 acres of London real estate! The Viscount Portman's London holdings are between 200 and 300 acres in extent.

Some 2,000 houses stand upon his property, which comprises much of the richest part of the West End. The Baker Street made famous by the Sherlock Holmes stories, belongs to Lord Portman, as well as such well-known places as Portman Square, Manchester Square and Gloucester Place.

Even with this principality Lord Portman is not the richest landlord in London. This honor must go to the Duke of Westminster. He has two estates in London, the Upper Grosvenor Estate and the Belgrave Estate. The Westminster fortune was established in the first place by Hugh Lupus, the Norman Earl of Chester, and since then has been consolidated by many wealthy marriages. One of these occurred a couple of hundred years ago, when a Grosvenor married a Miss Davies, whose father bequeathed her a great tract of land that was then in the country, but to-day is a populous district of London. The name is perpetuated in Davies street, which runs off Oxford street and the Marble Arch is a boundary of the Upper Grosvenor Estate.

Victoria Station is built on land owned by the Duke of Westminster, and the total value of his London holdings is estimated at a hundred million dollars, though this is at the best mere guesswork. That the Duke of Westminster owns more valuable real estate than any other man in the world cannot be doubted.

The Portland estate, now owned by Lord Howard de Walden, whose mother was a Bentinck—the family name of the Portlands—adjoins the Portman territory, and was originally acquired when the land was of little value. To-day it produces rentals of about $2,500,000 annually. The founder of the Portland fortune was a Dutchman who came over with William of Orange, and as the King's confidential friend and factotum was soon in a position to add to his possessions.

The Duke of Bedford owns only about a hundred acres of London real estate, but in addition he owns Covent Garden, from which market tolls alone brings him $50,000 a year. He is the landlord of the British Museum. Besides many fashionable residences, the duke's property contains multitudes of boarding and lodging houses, which bring in high rentals. Some of his land is worth $125,000 an acre.

It is no use lamenting one's mistakes; nothing is to be done that way, and they are not all such pure loss as they seem at the time; the wisdom that comes from them is to be had in no other way, and very often they have roused one's best faculties.—Sir E. Burne Jones.

Doing one's best at each moment is all there is of life.—Lillian Whiting.

Generous in Mourning.

Down in Georgia, a negro who had his life insured, died and left the money to his widow. She immediately bought herself a very elaborate mourning outfit.

Showing her purchase to a friend, she was very particular going into detail as to price and all incidental particulars. Her friend was very much impressed and remarked:

"Them sho is fine clothes, but be 'fo' heaven, what is you goin' to do wid all dis black underwear?"

The bereaved one sighed, "Chile, when I mourns, I mourns."

It is ourselves alone that make our days lucky or unlucky.—Voltaire.

Coming and Going

THE smooth, clean, economical concrete road is coming—as certainly as the railroad, the steamship and the telegraph came.

And the muddy, sticky, deep-rutted dirt and macadam road is going—as surely as the stage-coach, the sailing ship and the spinning-wheel have gone.

It's simply a question of which communities will take advantage of the better, modern way of building roads now—enjoying its benefits from now on—and which ones will continue to "get along" in the poor old way until forced by competition to avail themselves of science's latest contribution to public convenience.

Concrete Roads

are not experiments. There is no "chance" taken with their adoption. They have been quietly proving their value for twenty years. Concrete roads built twenty years ago, when concrete construction was nothing like so far advanced as it is to-day, are still giving absolutely satisfactory service.

Concrete roads have proven themselves best—under all sorts of conditions, from the standpoint of both service and economy. Their first cost is near that of good macadam, their service is greatly superior, and their final cost—the only one to consider in comparing roads—is a great deal less.

These are strong statements. They might be stronger and then not over-state the truth. Concrete roads "back them up" with facts—facts that prove concrete to be the best and cheapest material for road construction—either for city streets or country highways.

Many Canadian counties and cities are already using concrete pavements. Many others are preparing to do so as fast as they can.

They will be enjoying the many advantages that good roads bring, while others who stand by the "poor old way" with its mud and ruts and expense and repairs are waiting—for what?

Every citizen should have the information on concrete roads which we will send free upon request.

HUBERT BURCH BRAVE RES

But Thomas Forsyth Treacherous Hero For the Last Time

It was announced this morning that no inquest would be held into the death of Thomas Forsyth.

A sad case of drowning occurred yesterday afternoon about 6 o'clock, when a bright young life swept away in the person of Thomas Forsyth, who was drowned in Grand river below the T. H. & B. bridge.

The unfortunate young man, who was in the employ of Charles Cars, the fish merchant, and in the company of Mr. Carson and two other employees, Messrs. Frank and Burch, were cleaning rigs and winding horses in the river near the end of Eagle Avenue.

Forsyth got on a horse's back, started the animal into the river. Mr. Carson called out to him: "you can't swim, be careful."

Forsyth came back to the shore and started the animal wading in the river the second time, and Mr. Carson again warned him not to do any chances if he could not swim.

The deceased evidently paid no attention to the warnings, and proceeded to drive the horse further into the river. All at once the horse stepped into a hole and fell overboard, throwing the young man off his back to the river. He struggled to cry and cried for help, but no one responded to the call, and jumped the river and caught hold of Forsyth, who by this time was in the stream. Burch pulled him within feet of the shore when he grabbed Burch by the throat with a drov-

PRICELESS GOLD PLATE IN TORONTO

All For Big State Bank in London—Brought From Paris.

(Canadian Press Despatch)

LONDON, June 21.—Four tons priceless gold and silver plate, clock and glassware, the property of a French nation, arrived in London, night in readiness for the state banquet at which the French President is to entertain the King and Queen at the French embassy on Wednesday evening next, during his state visit to England.

No fewer than 115 cases were required to contain this valuable property, and these were packed in 100 patent sling wagons, in which travelled from Paris. A number of French and English detectives accompanied the wagons, and at Charing Cross, when the cases were loaded for removal to the embassy, a large staff of station police, as well as officers from Scotland Yard and Bow street, were on duty.

By special arrangement the cases were passed by the customs, checked, the initials of the repairer "R.F." marked in white chalk on each of the wagons, being a sufficient passport.

A sealed padlock was found to be missing from one of the cases when it was being unloaded, and the case appeared as if it had been tampered with. Anxiety was allayed, however, by the contents of the box being once checked and found to tally with the register of the contents. The padlock was not found, despite a vigorous search. Among the cases were several containing the finest of the finest vintages from presidential cellars.

Engine Chipped.

Engine No. 2741 which brought C. T. R. train here from Tilsonburg this morning got stalled at the Market street station. Before leaving Tilsonburg the eccentric rod on the engine broke but the engineer was so get as far as the Western station when the engine stopped dead on centre. The engineer consequently could not start the engine and had wait there until the yard engine came from the Market street yard to rescue, and hauled the train to Market street station.
