HOW HE PROPOSES TO CURB LIBERTY

Moral Fad.

meg Connecticut-No Fish Must Swim, No Bird Must Fly, No Cock Must Crow on the Lord's D y. The Man from Lyndoch Is After the Salvation Army Too-His Obnoxious Bill in Full,

R. JOHN CHARLTON, the "Liberal" member for North Norfolk in the House of Commons, has distinguished himself once more. Mr. Charlton is great on morals among the people. He is the father of the act which makes seduction under certain forms a penitentiary offence. He had hard work fighting the measure through Parliament but he stuck to it and succeeded. With this measure The World has no fault to find with the "Liberal" member for North Norfolk in the House of Com-

The World has no fault to find with the Lyndoch moralist.

Mr. Charlton is one of the men who is attempting to "Americanize" Canada and hand the country over to the Yankees body and bones. He never can find a good word to say of our common country, and he sits on the front row of the Opposition benches at Ottawa and snarls and growls at everything Canadian. He has large interests in the United States, and The World cannot understand why he continues to live in this country, seeing that he has so little use for its institutions or its prosperity. The country and his party could easily spare him, his Yankee twang and his so-called regard for the welfare of the people's morals. But by the same token The World would politely inform Mr. Charlton that were he to attempt to introduce such legislaton in the country to which he would sell us as he has in this our native land he would mighty soon get the borse-pond.

The latest fad of this moral crank to make is a moral people eclipses anything that The World has yet seen, and certainly eclipses any measure that was ever presented to a popular legislative chamber. It is bill to say of our common country, and he sits on the front row of the Opposition native land he would mighty soon get the borse-pond.

The latest fad of this moral crank to make it is a moral people eclipses anything that it is moral people eclipses anything that it is people eclipses any measure that was ever presented to a popular legislative chamber. It is bill no. 110 and is entitled "An act to secure the better observance of the Lord's Day, commonly called Sunday." Nothing that was ever contained in the Blue Laws of Connecticut can equal it, Here is the bill in full:

BOUNCING THE GLOBE.

1. Whoever on the Lord's Day shall than the household offices of daily necessity, or other works of necessity or charity, shall be deemed to be guilty of a misdemeanor.

2. Whoever on the Lord's Day sells, or publicly shows forth or exposes, or offers for sale or purchases any goods, chattels or other personal property, or saly real estate whatsoever, or does any work or business of his ordinary calling, work of necessity and charity only excepted, shall be deemed to be guilty of a misdemeanor. Irish Comments on Balfour's Bill.

Dublin, March 25.—The Express praises DUBLIN, March 25.—The Express praises the ingenuity displayed in the Land Purchase Bill, but it says the proposals relative to the congested districts do not supply a solution of that feature of the land question. What will be done, it asks, with the people who refuse to buy land or to emigrate?

The Freeman's Journal says Balfour's speech shows he has not grasped a solution of the land problem. Although he has been coched by Goschen he has failed to follow the intricacies of Goschen's ideas. The entire object of the bill, The Journal declares appears, to be to inflate the values of the land.

Farm Pupils.

In view of the hubbub now made over the matter of farm pupils in Canada it is exceedingly fortunate that Mr. Patteson's protest against the practices of the English firms engaged in sending young men to Canada was published so long ago as it was. It is over three years since the article, contributed by Mr. Patteson to The Canadian Live Stock Journal, was reprinted in the columns of The World, and copies of that issue were mailed to all the principal newspapers in Great Britain. Still the trade continued to flourish and its promoters to fatten. The truth is that, provided no premium can be most of the state of the payment by the construction of the bridge is not at all the principal newspapers in the bridge is not at all necessary and would recomend that the principal newspapers in the truth is that, provided no premium can be not entered by the construction of the bridge is not at all necessary and would recomend that the principal newspapers in the bridge is not at all necessary and would recomend the principal newspapers in the ruth is that, provided no premium can be not entered by the city of the large in the columns of the bridge is not at all necessary and would recomend the principal newspapers in the columns are principal to the continued to flourish and its promoters to fatten. The truth is that, provided no premium is charged, there is little h arm done. Still the trade continued to flourish and its promoters to fatten. The truth is that, provided no premiums charged, there is little harm done. The youth is either worth his board for his work or he is worth more or less. If less, no premium can make it a good job for the sort of youth to be at. If more, he soon discovers it and strikes for wages. There are worse things for any lad to find himself engaged at than farm, which is the provided and the subject of the employed in this trade than in any other. It depends on the employed. If he is so weat a vessel as to be turned into a slave by the farmer, the English farm pupil in Canada must be built differently from those of his race with whom city people are familiar. That sort of workman stands confessed now the things of more than his board, and most probably not worth that. A vast amount of sentil.

The only practical effect would be to compel those who are now effect would be to compell those who are now separate school supporters to pay two rates, for were they compelled to support the public schools they would just the same support the separate schools. He denied the inferiority for the separate schools in fitting people or all walks of life, and while he did not claim superiority for the pupils of such schools, he said their claim for existence did not rest upon that. It was with them a matter of conscience, and a belief that their school children should be day by day grounded in the truths of their religious belief. Mr. Stars quoted liberally from the statistics to show the spirit in which the Protestants of the province of Quebec are dealt with in school matters, claiming it to be more generous matters.

Fraser quoted liberally from the statistics to show the spirit in which the Protestants of the province of Quebec are dealt with in school matters, claiming it to be more generous than is the legislation regarding Roman Catholic separate schools in Ontario. Mr. Fraser rather carried the war into Africa by asking why there is not more religion taught in the public schools, seeing that it would only require unity among the Protestants, as the Catholic do not stand in the way. He next took up the allegation that there is a thing either in Ontario, Quebec, or the Dominion of Canada. He reviewed various historical Canadian events in support of this theory, and accused Mr. Meredith of riding the Protestant horse, the speaker introducing a few apt wittidisms that created a great deal of laughter on the Government side and not a few smiles among the Opposition. From this he proceeded to argue the general principle of the justice of separate schools without, however, bringing out any new points on this line, but amplifying and putting in mellifluous language the stock arguments. Incidentally, he hinted at the Justice of allowing the taxes of incorporated companies to go to the support of separate conducted by Rev. J. Grant of Toronto.

The International League is now an established fact. Bay, City-Saginaw were reluctant about posting their guarantee but had their money on hand all the same. Representative Reynolds stated that it was with considerable hesitation and difficulty they had entered the league and they understood that a guarantee from them would not be required. However, they were finally convinced that it would not be money wasted and handed over $1000 to Secretary White. The Messrs Ryan posted their guarantee without any hesitation.

representatives worked with an executive energy creditable to those gentlemen.

The Bay City - Saginaw delegation were four in number, united and full of enthusiasm. These places are only sixteen miles apart and keen rivals in everything, from a match at marbles to a horse race; from competition in milling, etc., to making straw hats. But on baseball they are united. Mr. W. A. Pettapiece, the president of the club, belongs to Bay City and holds an important municipal offic there. Messrs. King and Reynolds are prominent citizens of Saginaw and members of the Baseball Board. Half of the games will be played in one and half in the other city. Saginaw has one of the best grounds in the country while Bay City's will be much improved this season. These places have great reputations in diamond affairs. It was Bay City that discovered the talents of the renowned John G. Clarkson. Saginaw was twice champion of the Northwestern League and last year

The Street Market. The Street Market.

The arrivals of wheat continue light. Barley and peas show a slight advance, the deliveries not being equal to the requirements.

Wheat—200 bushels selling at 87c for white, 81c for spring and 65c for goose. No red winter offered but would bring 84c.

Barley—800 bushels marketed, advanced to 39c to 435cc. to 431/4c. Peas—None offering, but wanted at 54c to 551/4c. Oats—300 busheis sold at 311/4c to 321/4c. Dressed Hogs—One load sold at $5.87/4 per cwt. Hay and Straw—The receipts of hay have been lessened considerably the past three or four days and the quantity now coming in is comparatively small. Prices have risen somewhat in sonsequence, selling to-day at $11 to $13 for choice timothy and $6 to $8 for clover. There is an average delivery of straw, with fairly active demand, and prices are unchanged at $6 to $7. W. A. Campbell. George H. May CAMPBELL & MAY, had the effect of adding a firmer tone to produce of all kinds. The best butter brought 23c to 25c in pound rolls and choice tub sold as high as 18c and 19c per pound. Eggs were tirm at 14c to 15c, but are expected to droll to 18c, per dozen by Saturday. Foultry is not enquired for much but continues dear, turkeys selling at fancy prices. 18c per pound in some instances. There are few geese coming in; chickens are worth from 75c to $1 per poir. Potatoes were easier to-day at 5c to 60c Other vegetables were a shave higher. Produce and Provisions.

DEAD STOCK IN REAL ESTATE—
Boomed to death in the outskirts.
The successful merchant avoids locking up capital in dead stock, and would not touch goods at any price that glut the market. touch goods at any price that gut the market.

An immediate increase of half a million to our population would be insufficient to make practical use of the large tracts of lots recently blocked out in the outskirts of the city, hence a forced but sluggish market, for the next ten or twenty years, with capital locked up in waste fields where lately there were fruitful farms and profitable market gardens. The moonshine will soon be knocked out of this crazy boom, and solid business will take its place, when a buyer for this class of outside property will be an interesting curiosity.

BREAKFAST.

"By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of well-selected Cocoa, Mr. Epps has provided our breakfast tables with a delicately flavored beverage which may save us many heavy doctors' bills. It is by the judicious use of such articles of diet that a constitution may be gradually built up until strong enough to resists every tendency to disease. Hundreds of subtle maladies are floating around us ready to attack wherever there is a weak point. We may escape many a fatal shaft by keeping ourselves well fortified with pure blood and a properly nourished frame."
