No Wednesday half holiday next week. Stores open all day.

The brick work of the new Carnegie Library was finished on Tuesday.

When you need talcum powder buy "Nyal's Red Rose" at TAYLOR'S, 25c.

The Port Huron Banner Race Meet will be held at the Driving Park in that city on July 8, 9, 10 and 11.

CHILDREN'S dress and rompers, 10 doz. more to clear at 25c.—A. BROWN & CO.

SVELVA PANKHURST will be known in history as the person who wouldn't open her mouth while in jail and wouldn't shut it while at large.

OXFORDS for summer wear—men's, women's and children's. The right thing at a right price. See our stock.—P. DODDS & SON.

FANCY dress silks in shades of pink and Hello, clearing at 32 cents.—SWIFTS'.

THE Provincial Department of Education has decreed that a uniform salary of $1800 shall be paid to the principals of Model schools throughout Ontario.

THE Children's Aid Society have for adoption two fine bright boys one 10 months old and one 4 years old. Apply to the agent, JOHN WILKINSON, Town Hall, Sarnia.

THE middle and upper school exams are in progress at the High School this week, with 17 candidates writing for the former and 12 for the latter. Mr. W. Clyde, Petrolea, and Mr. W. H. Shrapnell are the presiding examiners.

DON'T be a knocker. Hide your little hammer. What is to hinder you from speaking well of your own town on all occasions? It is just as easy to tell your visitors that our town is composed of as good people as inhabit the earth. You will break none of the ten commandments in saying this.

ALL the new shapes in collars for Dominion Day.—SWIFTS'.

A RECENT change in the Division Courts Act provides that in any place where fees and emoluments are under $500, the municipality must pay $2 for every sitting of the Division Court, to both Clerk and Bailiff, and in addition to this, the county must not only pay for their books as heretofore, but also for the necessary forms required.

SAMMY was not prone to over-exertion in the class room; therefore his mother was both surprised and delighted when he came home one noon with the announcement: "I got one hundred this morning." "That's lovely, Sammy!" exclaimed his proud mother. "What was it in?" "Fifty in reading and fifty in 'rithmetic'" was Sammy's prompt reply.

BALANCE of millinery at half price and less.—A. BROWN & CO.

SPECIAL 2-piece suits in sizes 35 to 40, ready for Dominion Day.—SWIFTS'.

THE W. D. Cameron buildings were sold by Auctioneer Elliot on Saturday. The one on the corner was purchased by Dr. Kelly; the metal covered one was knocked down to John Dobbin; R. Costine bought the barn and lean-to, and R. Auld the stable. They will be moved shortly to make room for the new postoffice.

BOYS who smoke cigarettes are like wormy apples. They drop long before the harvest time. They rarely make failures in after life because they don't have any after life. The boy who begins smoking before his fifteenth year never reaches the life of the world. When the other boys are taking hold of the world's work he is concerned with the sexton and the undertaker.

SHORT ends of curtain materials to clear this week at bargain prices.—SWIFTS'.

MR. CORE, the Ontario Government Inspector of Mutual Insurance Companies, was in town last Friday inspecting the books of the Lambton Farmers Mutual Fire Insurance Co. Mr. Cork called at the Guide-Advocate office and informed us that he found the Lambton Company in a very prosperous state and the books of the Secretary, Mr. W. G. Willoughby, exceedingly neat, correct, and satisfactory in every way.

GREAT display of Dominion Day needs in our gents' furnishing department.—SWIFTS'.

SOME towns have contracted the boosting habit to such an extent that the drawbacks of the locality are heralded as attractions. For instance, The Leamington Post speaks of its mosquito crop as "not only the finest but the earliest in several years," and the Amherstburg Echo boasts that its home-made dandelion wine is "second only to the product of the grape on Pelee." Hard on the grape.

TABLE cloth seconds almost perfect, in sizes 2 by 2½, 2 by 2¾, 2 by 3. The price is your way.—SWIFTS'.

THE price of hogs is down this week. LONG silk gloves, double tips.—SWIFTS'. TUESDAY next is Dominion Day—and a statutory holiday.

DIXIE CANNEL COAL, just the kind for summer use, $3.50 a ton.—GEO. CHAMBERS.

LOW SHOES—A new stock for July 1st, now on hand. Some new ideas.—P. DODDS & SON.

THE steeple of the Presbyterian church is being painted and a new weather vane will be placed thereon.

MISS GOVENLOCK, graduate in Domestic Science, will address the Institute and friends on Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock, June 30th, in Trinity church. Miss Govenlock has had considerable experience in teaching Domestic Science. The meeting will be held in the school room of the church. All ladies are cordially invited to attend this meeting. It is free to all.—SEC.

It is to be regretted that Messrs C. B. Matthews & Son, have decided to leave Watford and move the mill. They are now negotiating with some other towns and when arrangements are completed will take out the machinery, pull down the building and remove it. Citizens generally will be sorry to lose the Messrs Matthews and regret that they find it necessary to go elsewhere.

W. H. PORTER, of the Lambton Department of Agriculture, was in Toronto last week attending a meeting of representatives of the various Ontario Fruit Growers' Associations who are meeting there with a view to forming a central association for the purpose of disposing of the fruit grown by the members of the independent societies. Such an organization would be an invaluable aid to the fruit growers of Ontario in helping them to secure the highest prices for their product.

THE telephone is a good thing for the farmer but sometimes a drawback to the printer. For instance, when the Sutorville social was postponed on Friday the phone was brought into use to notify the district and the talent that the date had been changed, and so well was the news spread that not a single person turned up at the place where the social was to be held. In the old days before the phone was in common use, it would have been necessary to go to the printer and have him rush out bills announcing the postponement and the committee put to expense and trouble in distributing them.

THOSE one piece dresses are cheaper than you can make them.—SWIFTS'.

At the next annual communication of the Grand Lodge of Masons to be held in Ottawa on July 16 and 17, a number of important matters will come up for consideration. One of the amendments proposes to make a lodge of instruction compulsory once a year in each Masonic district, and that at these lodges of instruction, the deputy grand masters shall be elected instead of being elected by the delegates from the Masonic districts in attendance at grand lodge as at present. It is proposed that these lodges of instruction shall be held at the direction of the district deputy grand master, who shall fix the date. In case it is the master of a lodge who is elected a D. D. G. M., he ipso facto vacates the chair.

"THE maiden trip of the Great Ship 'SEANDBEE' from Cleveland to Buffalo, which took place on June 19th, was an event of historical importance, as she is by far the largest and most costly passenger steamer on inland waters of the world. She marks the last word in marine architecture and magnificence of interior appointments, and it is not likely that there will be built in the future anything of her type exceeding her proportions. Her actual dimensions are, 500 feet long, 88 feet 6 inches wide, 510 staterooms accommodating 1500 people. She can carry 6000 passengers and has capacity for 1500 tons of freight on her main deck. Her hull is constructed entirely of steel and she is equipped with every modern appliance to ensure absolute safety. The marvelous growth in recent years of both pleasure and commercial travel on the Great Lakes is largely due to the splendid steamers provided by the lake lines and foremost among these, is the C. & B. Line. The addition of this gigantic ship to their present fine fleet running daily between Cleveland and Buffalo, will undoubtedly attract a vast number of travelers enroute either east or west. All railroad tickets reading between Cleveland and Buffalo are good on these steamers, which leave at 8:00 o'clock every evening, and the rail journey may be broken at either city to view the beauties of the "Seandee" and enjoy the luxury and comfort of the delightful lake trip."

Masonic Installation

Tuesday last being St. John's Day, the newly elected officers of Havelock Lodge, No. 238, A. F. & A. M., were duly installed. The ceremony was performed by Rt. Wor. Bro. D. D. Brodie, of Forest, D. D. G. M. for St. Clair District. A number of visitors were present, among them being J. E. Jervis, Strathroy, and Adam Kent, Jno. Scouler and C. W. Stuart, of Forest. The officers installed are as follows:—

J. P. M.—H. K. Laird
W. M.—W. L. Millar
S. W.—P. J. Dodds
J. W.—R. McCormick
Chaplain—Rev. S. P. Irwin
Treasurer—E. D. Swift
S. S.—R. James
J. S.—D. Auld
S. D.—F. Birchard
J. D.—P. Kingston
Tyler—Josh Saunders

After the installation the members sat down to a dainty lunch and a pleasant time was spent in speech and story until the Junior Warden's toast "Happy to meet, sorry to part," was given.

Church Union

A practical demonstration of church union between the Watford Methodist and Congregational churches will be given for the next two Sundays. The pastor of the Congregational church, Rev. R. Stevenson, is taking a few weeks holiday and for the next two weeks Rev. H. E. Curry will be pastor of both churches. Both congregations will meet in the Methodist Church next Sabbath morning at the usual hour, 11 o'clock, for the installation of a new pastor in the evening at 7 o'clock. Mr. Curry expects to take a few holidays later on and Rev. Stevenson will then supply both churches. As ministerial supply is so difficult to obtain in these days it must be gratifying to each of the official boards concerned to be able to make this Christlike arrangement, and it is hoped that both congregations will manifest their appreciation of it by all being present at all the services.

Judgment in Reeveship Case

BY RIDDELL, J.

Rex ex rel Fitzgerald v. Stapleford.—W. D. McPherson, K. C., for relator moved for order declaring that respondent has not been duly elected and has unjustly usurped and still does usurp the office of Reeve of the village of Watford in the county of Lambton under pretence of an election held on the 6th of January, 1913, at Watford, and for an order setting aside and declaring invalid and void the said election.

Judgment: There are four grounds of attack, two for paying scrutineers, one for an alleged corrupt payment, and one under section 80 of the municipal act of 1905. While I may be permitted to say that I regret the result of the legislation, 5 Edward VII., c. 22, s. 8, ss. 4. I think it clears this act of the implication that it is a corrupt practice. The second ground is covered by what I have said on the first. In neither case is there any evidence of any payment by reason of the scrutineer having voted. In regard to the charge of paying Mrs. Chapman, while the case is full of suspicion, there is nothing to conclusively prove the improper object. The verdict then on this charge will be "not guilty, but don't do it again." As to the remaining charge, there is no pretence that respondent was seeking private gain, and all he did seems to me just what a public-spirited citizen and municipal councillor should do if the law permits. Motion dismissed but under the circumstances of suspicion without costs.

BROOKE

James Hair had a bee Wednesday to help raise his barn and move other out-buildings.

Don't forget the last and best social of the season at Bethesda on Friday evening, June 27th. Supper with strawberries and cream, etc., from 6 to 8:30 p.m. A concert will be given consisting of music by the Watford Band, vocal music by Rev. and Mrs. Kennedy, Miss McLure, Mr. and Miss Pentland and others and several readings by Miss E. Fleck, of Sarnia. Admission 25c. and 15c.

Word was received here Sunday that George W. Watson, son of Mr. David Watson, 12th line, had been killed in a railway wreck at Cereal, Sask. Deceased went to work for the C.P.R. a little over a year ago as a fireman, and was killed while discharging his duties. No particulars have been received about the wreck. The remains are being brought here for interment and the funeral will likely take place to-day (Friday). Deceased was 21 years and 8 months old.

The lawn social held on Monday evening on the lawn of Mr. Richard Williamson, 12th line, Sutorville, under the auspices of Christ Church Guild, was a huge success. People came for miles, many from Petrolia and Watford, and of the immense crowd that congregated on the spacious grounds, no one returned dissatisfied with the evening's amusement. An excellent lunch with strawberries and cream testified that the ladies of Sutorville are no mere novices in the baking line. After great attention had been given to the requirements of the inner man, Col. Kenward, of Watford, took the chair, in the absence of Mr. J. E. Armstrong, and called off one of the best programs that has ever been given at an open air garden party; the talent consisting of the Law family, Copleston, numerous speakers, and the Watford Concert Band, which rendered many new pieces. Mr. Richard Brook, of Watford, entertained the audience with that old song of his that has made him famous in Middlesex and Lambton, "Going, Going, Gone," and sold a beautiful autograph quilt, worked by the ladies of Christ Church. A large booth was set on the grounds where ice cream and all sorts of confections could be procured. The ladies of Christ Church are to be congratulated on having such a large crowd, splendid supper, and excellent proceeds, which exceeded $225.00. Many thanks are also due Mr. and Mrs. Williamson, who, not only being content with giving their lawn for the occasion, attended personally to the welfare and full enjoyment of the crowd. And when the time comes round again for Christ Church to have another garden party, where is the one in that immense crowd that will refuse to go?

WARWICK.

Hunters and other parties frequenting the bush on the fourth line should read the notice to trespassers on page 4.

Mrs. Fred Everett and Master Edison and Miss Jona Everett, of Woodstock, spent a few days at the home of Mrs. Geo. Bryson, London Road.

Mrs. Jean Campbell, who is now living with her brothers at the Kingston home, near Watford, spent the week end in town, with her daughter, Mrs. Ella Crowe.—Forest Free Press.

Annie Margaret, the 18 months' old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Campbell, second line north, passed away on Wednesday morning, after an illness extending over several months. The funeral will be held from the family residence, lot 22, con. 2, at 9:30 a.m. this (Friday) morning to Bethel cemetery. Service in the church.

A barn raising of the old fashioned kind with all the modern improvements was the one on Tuesday, on the second line, when John Caughlin's new 72x36 structure was put together in quick time. The foundation of the barn is built of concrete beneath the ground and bricked above, with brick approaches, and when completed will be one of the finest in the county. There was a record crowd present at the raising, visitors being present from Sarnia, Strathroy, Forest, London and Hamilton, and from the very south of Brooke to Bosanquet came representatives. The raising was under the auspices of the Licensed Vintners Association, and two of their members, T. Roche of the Roche House, and Jos. McManus of the Taylor House, were selected as captains. When all was ready The Old Pioneer gave the starting order, and away they went, and in short order the main plates and rafters were all in position, and McManus' side declared victory amid the applause of the onlookers. And then came that all-important part—the supper—and such a display and variety has seldom been seen at a gathering in these parts. The table, 62 feet long, was soon filled with hungry men, and Mrs. Caughlin and her staff of lady assistants were kept very busy, as it was no easy job to appease the hunger of the 203 men and 80 women who had to be provided for. "Will the provisions hold out?" was whispered around the big crowd, and when some of the very hungry ones got started it looked as if there might be a shortage. But all were fed to the full, and after a call had been sent to the highways and byways to "Come, eat and be filled," enough provisions remained to feed another one hundred people. All present had a pleasant time and were loud in their praise of the bounteous spread provided for the occasion.

CHOP STUFF.

Oil Springs' gas well No. 2 has now reached a depth of 900 feet.

The Uttoxeter Orangemen will hold a strawberry social on July 4th.

W. J. Colter, of Petrolea, has been appointed on the Sarnia police force.

Mr. William Sedwick has purchased a house and lot on Queen St., Sarnia.

Fred Brooks, mail courier, Oil Springs, will use an automobile for his delivery.

Petrolea merchants have organized a branch of the Retail Merchants' Association of Ontario.

John Emerson has sold his farm in the 12th con., Bosanquet, to James Ross, of Forest, for $7,000.

Parkhill band boys contemplate getting white pants and white shoes to wear with their navy blue coats and caps.

A Strathroy woman, past middle life, was unable to get carpenters to build a barn so she bravely tackled the job herself.

Mr. R. F. Scott, who has had charge of the Bell Telephone Co's central office, Forest, for the past twenty-two years, is giving it up on the 1st of July.

Walker McKellar, Bosanquet, who had his foot badly cut with an axe at J. Sitter's barn raising, is able to walk around without the aid of a crutch now.

A. E. Thrower and son, of Adelaide recently disposed of a thirteen months oldilly Clydesdale colt to John Dunson, of that township, for the sum of $250.

SAVED FROM AN OPERATION

How Mrs. Reed of Peoria, Ill., Escaped The Surgeon's Knife.

Peoria, Ill.—"I wish to let every one know what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. Forty years ago I suffered. The doctor said I had a tumor and the only remedy was the surgeon's knife. My mother bought me Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and today I am a well and healthy woman. For months I suffered from inflammation, and your Sanative Wash relieved me. I am glad to tell anyone what your medicines have done for me. You can use my testimonial in any way you wish, and I will be glad to answer letters."—Mrs. CHRISTINA REED, 105 Mound St., Peoria, Ill.

Mrs. Lynch Also Avoided Operation.

Jessup, Pa.—"After the birth of my fourth child, I had severe organic inflammation. I would have such terrible pains that it did not seem as though I could stand it. This kept up for three long months, until two doctors decided that an operation was needed. "Then one of my friends recommended Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and after taking it for two months I was a well woman."—Mrs. JOSEPH A. LYNCH, Jessup, Pa.

Women who suffer from female ills should try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, one of the most successful remedies the world has ever known, before submitting to a surgical operation.

Expert Judges at Fairs

A frequent cause of complaint on the part of exhibitors at fall fairs arises from the lack of uniformity in the placing of awards. One year a judge will set a standard of excellence that differs radically from the ideal looked for by the judges who appear on the same grounds the next year. This is unsatisfactory, not only to the exhibitors immediately concerned, but also to producers in the neighborhood of the fair, for they are given no uniform type to follow in their live stock or crop operations. To overcome this lack of uniformity in judging in Ontario, Mr. J. Lockie Wilson, superintendent of agricultural societies, has arranged a short course early in July where they will receive special instructions from experts, compare ideas and arrive at a uniform standard for the various classes that will appear before them in the show rings and on the show benches of the province. About two hundred of the judges who work in the eastern part of Ontario will go to Ottawa, and two hundred who operate in the western end of the province will go to Guelph, each lot for a week's course. This is a commendable new movement that should result in better judging and ultimately in better fairs.

NOTE AND COMMENT.

Forty per cent. of the children attending the Protestant schools in Montreal are Hebrews. In some schools, whole classes have not a single professed Christian in them.

Increasing leisure today has produced an enormous growth of luxurious living. The evil is not in the multiplication of pleasures, but in the ever-increasing expenditures in things which add nothing to the sum of human enjoyment. The sensation of luxury which values all things by their cost is making society more cumbersome, costly and ugly. The whole tendency of it is to vulgarize life.

A municipality—be it city, town, village or township—is not merely an area of populated land. It is an organization of citizens banded together to accomplish certain objects uniting their forces for the common good. A municipality can just worry along in a narrow rut, attempting nothing beyond what the law compels, achieving nothing beyond what the barest necessity dictates. Another municipality attempts things beyond the ordinary, brings extra comforts and enjoyments to its citizens, does things that mark it as progressive and up-to-date, and that make for it a name among its fellows.

During the early part of the present year the scarcity of help in Canada induced the Government to relax its regulations to permit the entry into Canada of railroad construction laborers, general laborers and others coming to assured employment without requiring them to be in possession of $25, as is the general law. This relaxation applied to persons from the British Isles and Northern continental Europe. Owing to the present temporary money stringency, and the possible decline of building operations, instructions have now been issued to the officers of the department of immigration that immigrants arriving on and after July 1st must have in their possession $25 each as required by law. Farm laborers and female domestics, for which there is a great demand in all the provinces, are not required to have on arrival any specific amount of money.

Catarrh Cannot be Cured with LOCAL APPLICATIONS, as they cannot reach the seat of the disease. Catarrh is a blood or constitutional disease, and in order to cure it you must take internal remedies. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, and acts directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces. Hall's Catarrh Cure is not a quack medicine. It was prescribed by one of the best physicians in this country for years and is a regular prescription. It is composed of the best tonics known, combined with the best blood purifiers, acting directly on the mucous surfaces. The perfect combination of the two ingredients is what produces such wonderful results in curing catarrh. Send for testimonials, free.

SUCCESS WITH HOGS.

A Swineherd's Method of Raising Thrifty Chester Whites.

My plan in taking care of my Chester White hogs is to keep my brood sows in just as thrifty a condition as possible at all times, writes F. Little in Orange Judd Farmer. In fact, I strive to do this with all classes of swine. I sort the hogs as to size and age and keep them in small pasture lots. I let them run out all the time as I am a great believer in hogs having plenty of exercise. They must have this to do well. I also plan to feed them a variety of stuff and to feed regularly, believing that their stomachs need attention just as well as those of human beings.

My breeding sows are kept in a yard by themselves. I do not shut them up until farrowing time approaches. Sometimes I keep them in a pen a day or two beforehand, but I very frequently permit them to run out with the other sows. I am convinced that the sow should be shut up by herself and fed alone some time before and some days after farrowing. After the pigs come the sow should not be fed very much for a few days else the pigs will scour and some of them may die. After two or three days the sow should have her feed the same as before farrowing. Provide plenty of room for exercise at all times for the sow as well as the pigs.

When the pigs are a month or so old they will eat a little corn and a little swill. After the pigs are eight weeks old I wean them. The sow will then not be giving much milk, and the pigs will do better if shut off by themselves and properly fed. Give these weanling pigs a warm place to sleep in, plenty of water at all times, good feed, and you will be surprised to see how fast they grow. Started in this way they will weigh fifty pounds at two months old and at three months they will weigh from seventy to ninety pounds. At four months old I have had pigs weigh 125 pounds and at five months 200 pounds. This fall one of my seven month pigs weighed 270 pounds and was good enough to take the blue ribbon in a class of forty-four at the Illinois state fair.

A Missouri farmer gives in a recent issue of Breeder's Gazette an account of his Chester White sow. Her first four litters totaled forty-four pigs, eleven in each litter, and all were raised. Her fifth litter had eight, all of which were raised. Her sixth litter had fourteen; eleven raised. Her seventh litter had sixteen; nine raised. Her eighth litter, last March, had sixteen; all chilled. Her ninth litter had seven; six raised. She has recently farrowed fourteen pigs, eleven of which are living. She never was bred but once for a litter and has farrowed only one dead pig. The Chester White sow shown is an excellent specimen of this fine breed of hogs.

I keep my herd boars by themselves and feed them well. I want to say further concerning feeding my sows that a 250 pound sow will take care of twelve quarts of good swill three times a day and three ears of corn.

I try to provide swine pasture as fully as I can. I have red clover and timothy. Clover, of course, is the very best feed we can get in this country. I use a standard dip and either dip or spray my hogs every sixty days.

Worms in children, if they be not attended to, cause convulsions, and often death. Mother Graves' Worm Expeller will protect the children from these distressing afflictions.

Large Doors—Easy Firing

Look at these roomy Double Feed Doors. You can use a big shovel—there is no danger of hitting the sides and spilling coal all over the floor. These doors will admit a big chunk of wood too.

Not Yet

A gentleman once saw a boy peeling the bark from one of his choice trees with a hatchet. He tried to catch the boy, but the latter was too quick for him, so the gentleman changed his tactics. "Come here, my son," he said, in a soft flute-like voice, with countertenor friendliness, "come here to me a minute. I want to tell you something." "Not yet," replied the lad; "little boys like me don't need to know everything."

Why He Was Not Promoted

He watched the clock. He was always grumbling. He was always behindhand. He had no iron in his blood. He was willing but unfitted. He didn't believe in himself. He asked too many questions. He was stung by a bad book. His stock excuse was "I forgot." He wasn't ready for the next step. He did not put his heart in his work. He learned nothing from his blunders. He felt that he was above his position. He chose his friends among his inferiors. He was content to be a second rate man. He ruined his ability by half doing things. He never dared to act on his own judgment. He did not think it worth while to learn how. He tried to make bluff take the place of ability.

NURSING EWES NEED A LIBERAL RATION

The importance of supplying nursing ewes a liberal ration is not as fully appreciated by sheepmen as it ought to be, writes a correspondent in Iowa Homestead. Most flock owners make a great mistake in not giving more attention to the feeding of their ewes during the nursing period. As soon as a ewe drops her lamb a heavy draft on her system begins that necessarily must be restored through a larger consumption of nutritious food. If this food is not supplied regularly to replace that which has been utilized for producing milk for the young the time must come when the supply will become reduced, not only in quality, but quantity as well.

The future of the lamb crop is largely determined by the start each individual is given. No better evidences of this can be given than instances in the flock where the ewes are poor milk producers and their progeny fall from the start to secure sufficient nourishment to supply the needs of their bodies. In every flock there are a few ewes

For some time the Arizona experiment station has been using the Tunis sheep, originally from the desert of north Africa. This heat hardy stock has been crossed with improved breeds in order to combine Tunisian constitution with better wool and mutton producing qualities. The types aimed at have begun to appear and seem to possess certain advantages for southern Arizona, including tolerance of hot weather, resistance to the sheep botfly, good ranging qualities and excellent reproductive powers, combined with better conformation and larger yield of mutton. It is expected that an improved farm animal for the region will finally result from this work. The Tunis ram shown is eight years old and is still alert and vigorous after long service at the station farm.

that are inferior milk producers, and unless they are carefully looked after and well fed they will fail to properly nurse their offspring during the nursing period. Ewes that are poor milk producers can be made, through good care, to nurse their progeny sufficiently to promote rapid development until the lambs are old enough to take supplementary nourishment.

There are also ewes in many flocks that are good milk producers for a few weeks after dropping their lambs, but gradually reduce their milk supply until the amount is much too small for the daily needs of their offspring. This condition of affairs in the flock materially influences the quality and uniformity of the lamb crop and reduces the profits in sheep husbandry.

It is well to begin grain feeding the ewes lightly at first, as soon as they recover normal conditions, and gradually increase the ration as the lambs grow older and the ewes become accustomed to the supplementary ration. Corn is not a good feed for milking ewes, as it tends strongly toward heating the system. A ration compounded from oats, peas, bran and oil meal makes a very excellent ration for milking ewes. This ration is very high in protein and extremely low in carbohydrates and tends toward inducing a heavy flow of a high quality milk. Begin feeding very lightly on this ration at first, and as the ewes become accustomed to the feed gradually increase the amount to what the ewes will readily consume. If the pasture is very succulent it is an excellent practice to feed a little clover hay in the rack in the sheep barn during the spring months to counteract the laxative effect of the early grass.

Open Shed Feeding of Steers.

As a result of seven years of experimenting at the Pennsylvania station the conclusion was reached that an open shed boarded up close on three sides and kept well bedded at all times is more efficient for fattening steers than the basement of a barn. During the winter of 1909-10 the cattle fed in an open shed made more rapid gains, attained a higher finish, sold for 15 cents more a hundred pounds and returned 11.6 cents more for each bushel of corn consumed than similar steers fed in barns. They also required less labor in feeding, and more straw was used in bedding. Results of previous work show that cattle which are fed in groups of ten or twelve each, with ample room at manger and troughs, make more satisfactory gains than similar cattle tied in stanchions. In shed feeding the opening should be to the south, and sides and roof should be tight, permitting no drafts.—Country Gentleman.

Scours in Lambs.

Garret in the ewe is claimed to be the cause of white scours in the lamb. This is prevented by milking from the udder daily the milk not required by the lamb. To cure scouring in lambs give eight to ten drops of tincture of opium in a little milk. If the lambs bleat about and appears dull instead of playful, one may suspect constipation, which often kills these delicate creatures. To relieve it inject into the rectum a tablespoonful of warm, soapy water in which is a very little olive oil.

Native Meeting Places in Sumatra.

Every district of importance in the towns of Sumatra possesses a balel, or native meeting place, which the Dutch regard visits periodically in order to discuss with his subordinates the affairs of the district. These Sumatran equivalents of a county council hall are very quaint and are decorated with beautiful inlaid work at the ends and a tapering roof of fine palm, ornamented with bright brass-work, which glitters in the sun, setting it off most picturesquely against a background of tall coconut trees and a forest of rich tropical plants. A space is left between the ground and flooring, the reason of which is obvious, for in the tropics during the rainy season the inhabitants are often visited with floods, so in order to safeguard themselves in such an emergency most of the buildings are erected on stilts.—Wide World Magazine.

A "View" in New York.

I heard some one decanting about her view. She said one thing she'd always hated in New York was not having a view and now she had one. She took me up to see it. "Well, where is it?" said I, looking out of the window. "Why, there and there!" said she. "Don't you see how I see over that roof to the next one and down in the street to the mail box and overhead to that bit of sky?" I said, oh, yes, and how nice it was that she had it. It's really pathetic when somebody thinks that what she showed me was a view!—Jane Stone in New York Press.

WHETHER for a silo, a mill-house, or a million bushel grain elevator, concrete is the most economical building material in use today. Concrete never requires repairs, and the saving in repair-expense alone makes the greater economy of using concrete more apparent every day. The cost of other building materials is constantly increasing. The cost of concrete is being reduced.

Canada Cement

which Canadian farmers use, with their own sand, stone and gravel to make concrete, is the only ingredient you have to buy. We have, by reason of our large output and scientific methods, been able to bring the price of "Canada" Cement so low that it is within the reach of everyone.

An increase in demand results in a greater economy of production, and when conditions have warranted it, we have, from time to time, shared this saving with the consumer by reducing the price of Canada Cement. This demand will continue to increase—as fast as farmers learn of concrete's superiority over other materials.

When you buy cement, see that you get "Canada" Cement; by so doing you will assure the complete success of all your concrete work. Send a post card for our book "What the Farmer Can do With Concrete." It is free.

DOMINION DAY

Birthdays are uncomfortable facts for ladies when they arrive at the age of 46, but Canada is an exceptional young genius and references to her age are regarded as complimentary. At all events her age is not to be concealed and her birthday on Tuesday next will be a matter for universal congratulation.

Naturally as we grow older, we become more important. Our dowery counts for much in establishing our rank. Our common sense and good faith will do more. Our ability to stand up for ourselves will be necessary for many a generation to come. As our millions increase and prosper we shall be less and less able to refrain from the responsibilities which will be laid upon us in common with the rest of humanity.

Domination Day is a high spot on the path of Canada's destiny from which to look before and after. Looking backward, the accomplished facts of gratitude and hopefulness. What lies before us is not so easily seen, but the prospect is less crowded than it was to the eyes of Canadians 46 years ago.

Most important of all must ever be the gradual realization of the ideas cherished by our leaders and founders, English and French, the ideals of equal opportunity to all in this democratic Dominion, of racial and religious harmony, of loyalty to all that is great and good in the history and institutions of the old land and our own, of Christian living and social justice ultimately universal from east to west and north to south in the expanse of our splendid heritage.

On this 46th anniversary Canadians are more than ever glad to say with Tennyson:—
Hands all around!
God the traitor's hope confound!
To the great name of England, drink,
My friends,
And all her glorious Empire, round and round.

Another Watford Boy Makes Good in the West

The Calgary News-Telegram of the 13th inst., contains a two-column caricature of Mr. D. G. Brison, formerly of Watford. The picture shows him seated on a carpenter's square, and beneath is the following sketch:—

"One of Calgary's busiest and most enterprising young men is D. G. Brison, of the firm of D. G. Brison & Co., builders and contractors. Mr. Brison was born in Watford, Ontario, and on reaching man's estate he entered the scholastic profession and later came to Calgary in the interests of the Manufacturers' Life Assurance company. Subsequently he accepted a position as principal of the high and public schools of Banff, and still later occupied a similar position under the Calgary school board.

"In 1911 he became actively engaged in the real estate brokerage business with G. S. Whitaker & Co., and shortly afterward established on an independent basis as D. G. Brison & Co. His industry and conservatism soon brought him an enviable clientele, and he is admitted to be one of the best authorities on city realty values. The artist has depicted him as "On the Square," and happily typified his business principles. Foreseeing that the demand for dwelling houses, suitable for middle class people, would be greater than the supply, he entered into partnership with W. H. Green, an expert builder formerly employed by the government at Banff. The houses erected by the firm are evidently meeting a long felt want, as four bungalows finished last week were sold within two days.

East Lambton Women's Institute Annual Meeting at Watford

The annual meeting of the East Lambton Women's Institute was held at Watford, on Thursday, June 19th, the president, Mrs. Courtright, of Inwood, in the chair. All the branches were represented except Aberarder and Shetland, and there was an attendance of about 100.

Minutes of last annual meetings held at Aberarder and Alvinston were read and adopted. The president's report was most encouraging, and included a statement giving date of organization of each branch, original and present membership. One new branch, Brooke, was formed during the year. The secretary-treasurer's report showed the standing of each branch as follows:—

Aberarder—Receipts $55.23, expenditure $16.37, balance $38.86.
Alvinston—Receipts $79.72, expenditure $36.79, balance $42.93.
Arkona—Receipts $324.37, expenditure $118.68, balance $205.69.
Aughrim—Receipts $32.50, expenditure $21.37, balance $11.13.

"Father grows younger every day." And his new photograph hits him to a "T".

The old portrait taken twenty years ago, made him look so serious and old-fashioned—not a bit like he really is.

We wouldn't part with it of course. But it is splendid to have a picture of him as we know him—just as he looks to-day.

And father says that he's glad he gave in and had it made—that having your picture taken is far from an unpleasant experience nowadays.

Considerable time was given to the Question Drawer, after which election of officers took place resulting as follows:—
Pres.—Mrs. J. G. Dawes, Theford.
V. Pres., South—Mrs. A. B. Connor, Alvinston.
V. Pres., North—Mrs. J. A. Lawrie, Theford.

Sec.-Treas.—Miss S. Pettipiece, Forest. The District having arranged to furnish and maintain a cot in the Queen Mary Hospital, Toronto, for tubercular children, a committee composed of the secretaries of the various branches, with Miss Rawlings, Forest, as convener, was appointed. The District Directors at the branch annual meetings were formally elected. They are:—Aberarder, Mrs. D. Johnston; Alvinston, Mrs. R. Clarke; Arkona, Mrs. (Dr.) Copeland; Aughrim, Mrs. E. F. Augustine; Brooke, Mrs. M. J. Campbell; Florence, Mrs. McCrary; Forest, Mrs. (Dr.) Walters; Inwood, Mrs. J. H. Morrison; Shetland, Mrs. Powell; Theford, Mrs. J. A. Lawrie; Warwick, Mrs. D. Fallon; Watford, Mrs. John Humphries; Wyoming, Mrs. John Forbes.

A resolution brought in by the committee, Mrs. Campbell and Mrs. D. Whyte, was passed conveying appreciation of the kindness of the officers of the church for again opening their church to the Institute; to the Watford ladies and others for their willing assistance, and to the retiring president for her very efficient services during the past two years. Reports of the work of the different branches during the year were then given. Arkona, which has the largest receipts, has again this year solicited contributions to continue the upkeep of the cemetery and the committee has met with generous responses. A number of other branches have raised funds through special objects, increasing their receipts considerably thereby.

After adjournment a bountiful lunch was served by the Watford branch.

Rose—Reid

On Monday evening, June 16th, at the home of the bride's parents, Queen St., Petrolia, Miss Pearl Rose, daughter of Mr. Thos. Rose, was married to Mr. John Reid, of Toronto. The bride, who was unattended, was given away by her father, and Miss Pearl Saunders, of Watford, played the wedding march. Rev. H. D. Moyer officiating. The bride was kitted with a shower by the young Ladies' Bible Class of the Methodist Church, of which she is an esteemed member. They left for Sarnia and Detroit, and upon their return will take up their residence in Toronto, where Mr. Reid has a lucrative position. There was a large crowd at the station to see them off to the accompaniment of showers of rice and confetti. Those present were: Mr. Martin

Toronto, June 24.—Receipts for today at the Union stockyards were 114 loads, with 116 calves, 951 hogs and 1,179 sheep and lambs. Prices were a little firmer today than at the close of last week's market for good to choice medium weight cattle. Heavier cattle were not so ready a sale. Choice butcher cows were firm. A few heavy cattle sold for export at $7. A very few extra choice butchers sold at the same figure. The general run of good to medium butchers sold firmer and more freely at $6.40 to $6.80. Common grass-fed cattle were about steady at last week's easier prices. Choice fat cows sold as high as $6.25 to $6.25, and common cows from $3.50 to $4.50. Good to choice stockers were firm at $5.50 up to $6.30.

Sheep and lambs were steady to firm. Calves firm. Hogs 35c lower than last week at $9.15, f. o. b., and $9.50, fed and watered.

McNair—Paul

A pretty June wedding took place at high noon Saturday at the home of Mr. Thomas Paul, Plympton, when his eldest daughter, Jean Ethelyn, became the bride of Mr. Chas. McNair, instructor of rules, C. T. R., Toronto.

The bride entered the parlor on her father's arm to the strains of Lohengrin's wedding march played by Miss Margaret Park, her cousin, and was tastefully gowned in white charmuse with veil and orange blossoms, carrying a bouquet of orchids.

Her sister, Miss Mabel Paul, performed the bridesmaid duties, and wore shell pink charmuse, with sweet pea bouquet. Dr. D. Callum, of Toronto, supported the groom, the nuptial knot being tied by Rev. John McNair, D.D., Petrolia, in the presence of fifty guests.

After congratulations and a dainty luncheon, the happy couple motored to Sarnia, taking passage on the Huronic for Duluth. A handsome pearl ring was the groom's gift to the bride, and to her sister an amethyst pendant. The bride's going away gown and hat were of dark blue. Friends were present from Flint, Mich., London, Sarnia, Wyoming and other points. The bride graduated from Victoria Hospital about a year ago.

Karr—Holbrook
A quiet wedding was celebrated at Forest on Wednesday evening, the 18th inst., when Miss Annie May Holbrook became the bride of Mr. Robinson Karr, both of the sixth sideroad, Warwick. The ceremony was performed by Rev. S. L. Smith at his residence, Gore street, at 9 o'clock, only a few relatives being present. The bride, one of the popular young ladies of the above township, was given away by her father, Mr. William Holbrook. She looked very beautiful in a rich cream chiffon and lace dress, with hat and feathers to match. The happy young couple will be at home to their friends on and after the first day of July.

The elevator on the M. C. R., Alvinston, belonging to J. S. Elliot, of Ruthertown, was struck by lightning Thursday evening and burned to the ground. The elevator was leased by J. G. McKillop, and it contained 5,000 bushels of beans, 1,000 bushels of wheat and 1,200 bushels of oats and a large quantity of wool. Mr. McKillop's loss is about $10,000. There was a small insurance.

DO YOU USE PILLS?

If in Doubt About the Right Pills to Use Read the Following Letter Carefully:

"I am one of those persons whose system requires aid," writes Mr. Young Gleedhill, from Picton, "but it is so easily affected by reason of the great sensitiveness of the bowels that ordinary drastic pills inflict great injury to the delicate coating, and excite such persistent activity as to be with difficulty checked.

"I wish in the highest terms to express the great value of Dr. Hamilton's Pills in cases like mine, and I am sure also for elderly people and the very weak there is no pill like them. "Speaking of my own experience with Dr. Hamilton's Pills, I can say they have proved the most stimulating pills for the liver I have found. I have proved their tonic action upon digestion, and the same results have been secured by friends upon whom I have urged their use. The manufacturers are to be congratulated upon possessing so valuable a prescription, and the public should know that so valuable a remedy has been placed at their command."

"No other pill for constipation, for liver, kidney, or stomach trouble, compares with Dr. Hamilton's Pills; they are mild and sure always to restore health. Refuse substitutes. Sold by all dealers, 25c per box, or The Carterhorne Co., Kingston Ont.

Red Forbes

The Story of His Latest "Grouch"

By CLARISSA MACKIE

Red Forbes sat on the porch of his ranch house and peered through a pair of fieldglasses across the level grassy plain into the distance, where were two moving specks.

"It's her and him," said Red Forbes enigmatically. He tilted his chair down upon its four legs, replaced the glass in the accustomed case on the wall of the house and lurched toward his saddled horse.

"I'll get him today," he muttered as he bent to tighten a girth before mounting. "No man can take my girl away from me without making trouble for himself and her too." And still muttering, he dashed away in the direction of the two specks, which were growing smaller and smaller.

Red Forbes was quite capable of making trouble for any number of people in the short grass country. Indeed, his reputation as a creator of disturbances was county wide, and he was accordingly shunned.

Forbes' latest grouch was directed against Jimmy Pike of the Three Link outfit. Jimmy had assiduously courted the pretty schoolteacher, and even now had just returned from her Ohio home, whence he had brought her as a bride.

Red Forbes had been watching out for them for a week. Now he had spotted them. He had not formed any plan of revenge, but there would be no harm in riding them down recklessly and glowering at them from under his hat. It would make things uncomfortable until he could formulate a plan.

Jimmy Pike knew Short Grass from one end of the county to the other and from corner to corner. He was aware of the weaknesses of Red Forbes. Moreover, he was weary of the perpetual stir-up caused by the red hair-

"MAYBE YOU'LL LET ME HAVE A DANCE," said one of the fancied grievance. In fact, there had not been a peaceful courtship and marriage in the region since Forbes' appearance there six years before.

Therefore Jimmy Pike, who was naturally a peace loving citizen, made up his mind that Red Forbes should find an affinity that would be lasting. He returned from his wedding with every preparation made for the rapid cure of Red Forbes.

On this particular day he and his bride had gone near enough to the Forbes ranch to be recognized. Then they headed for home, and by the time the red headed one had galloped himself into a state of profuse perspiration Jimmy and Mrs. Jimmy had disappeared.

There was nothing for Forbes to do save to ride on over to the town and see if there might not be a letter for him. He hoped for various reasons that there would not be anything.

There was a letter, and it proved to be an invitation to a dance in the schoolhouse the following night. "Ladies, Refreshments and Gents—Musie," it said in one corner.

Forbes grinned fensively. This would suit his purpose admirably. He would publicly denounce Jimmy Pike as a rustler and demand satisfaction for alienation of affections. Forbes strengthened this resolve with several drinks and then went to Fiederman's clothing store and purchased a pale blue satin necktie.

"The schoolhouse was well filled when Red Forbes arrived. Ben Dickson was playing a racketsy plan in one corner, and several couples were dancing.

Forbes glanced fiercely around, nodding moodily in response to the pleasant greetings that met him on all sides. He felt a bit puzzled and more resentful. Here was a great gang of fellows he had known for years, and many of them had their wives with them.

Jimmy Pike and his bride were standing temptingly near. When he caught Jimmy's eye that calloused young cattleman nodded pleasantly and beckoned him over.

"I haven't heard you congratulating me on marrying the nicest girl in the hull world," grinned Jimmy.

"Huh!" Red Forbes grew redder and redder until his presence seemed to cast a roseate sunset glow upon the company. The azure necktie was like a glimpse of blue sky in the sunset.

Mrs. Jimmy shook hands with Red Forbes and tried not to wince when he crushed her fingers.

"Maybe you'll let me have a dance with the bride," growled Red Forbes hoarsely.

"Of course it's up to Mrs. Pike," acquiesced Jimmy cheerfully. "With pleasure," agreed Mrs. Jimmy, with a reproachful glance at her husband.

Then the racketsy piano swung into a waltz tune, and Red Forbes swore softly. He was a wretched waltzer, and he knew it. Square dances were his salvation. Now he trampled all over the little feet of Mrs. Jimmy Pike and scowled villainously whenever he met a pleasant smile among the company.

This wasn't having his revenge upon Jimmy Pike. They were certainly getting the laugh upon him. As he shuffled around in dizzying, aimless circles he pondered whether he would shoot up the dance or let them go home in peace and pick out a quiet moment when he should hit Jimmy Pike alone on the plain, shoot him dead and then marry the widow.

This latter plan appealed to him, and as he danced he came to think of the newly made bride as "the widow" and called her so in his mind.

After the dance was over and as he leaned against the wall, a wallflower indeed, there was a flurry of arrival at the door.

Lanson Culver, boss of the Three Link outfit, came in with another man and two women. One of the women was Mrs. Culver. One could recognize her sharp features through the thick veil she wore, but the other woman could not be identified. She, too, was thickly veiled in pale blue chiffon. She was plump and gave evidence of prettiness. There was a loop of gold colored hair visible.

"We can't stay but a minute," said Culver genially as he introduced his friend as "Mr. Jackson, a friend from Tucson."

Mr. Jackson immediately approached the prettiest woman present, who was none other than Mrs. Jimmy Pike, and invited her to dance.

Fiercely jealous, Red Forbes glanced around for new fields to conquer. The strange woman, still veiled, was talking to Jimmy Pike in a vivacious manner. Mrs. Culver, also veiled and cloaked, was dancing with her husband.

Red Forbes marched up to Jimmy Pike and his companion. His long body stiffened and then bent like a bladed jackknife in the accepted short grass fashion.

He was asking her to dance in the very face of Jimmy Pike. That was an open insult to Pike.

To his delight, she accepted at once, and slipping her hand upon his arm, turned away from Jimmy Pike.

It was a square dance, and Ben Dickson was calling the numbers in punctuated yells.

Red Forbes was in his element. He balanced to corners with upward flings of his long legs and ungainly jerks of his elbows. He swung his partner off her very solidly placed feet time and again, but she did not murmur. He joined in all hands around with hilarious merriment, and his spirit of mirth seemed to be infectious. Everybody was very jolly.

"All sashay!" yelled Ben Dickson. "Gracious, but it's warm here!" cried his partner breathlessly as they stood still for a moment.

"We'd all be mighty more comfortable if you'd tip off that there veil," insinuated Red Forbes delicately.

"Would you?" demanded the veiled partner coolly, and thereupon she put up her hands and unfastened the pale blue veil that matched Forbes' necktie. A momentary hush fell upon the room. Everybody stopped dancing, but Red did not notice it. He was absorbed in the conquest he had made. If, his other attempts at gallantry had been unsuccessful here was some one who appreciated him at last. Now, he didn't care about revenge upon Jimmy Pike or any of the others.

"A girl with golden hair for mine," he muttered in her ear as she removed the veil.

"Tin yours, all right," said his new affinity rather grimly.

She was. It was none other than the young wife he had deserted six years ago. True, her prettiness was now bolstered up by those arts that may be obtained for a price in the stores with colored water bottles in the windows, but she was his, and he was hers.

Mrs. Red Forbes stood there with one plump hand on her husband's arm and a look of reposition on her face.

"Well, Red, here we are again," she said meaningly. "There's plenty to do between now and tomorrow if we're all going to pack back to Tucson. Mr. Jackson there, my lawyer, will tell you the three children are waiting for you to come back and take care of 'em. I'm tired of keeping boarders."

Red Forbes went gladly. It was nice to get away from quizzical glances and reproachful ones, for he had tried to court many of the fair ones there—and he was married, after all. It was rather a pleasant change to find a sprightly lady with golden hair who really appeared to want him. So Red Forbes went gladly, triumphantly after a fashion, and Short Grass knew him no more and was thankful.

THE PRESIDENT'S SECRETARY.

He Must Be a Diplomat, and His Position Is Not an Easy One.

The duties of a secretary to a president of the United States are not considered at all secondary in importance to those of a cabinet officer. He is the man who first meets the thousands of visitors to the president. He must know just whom the president desires to see or should see without bothering the president. These visitors come from all parts of the United States on all sorts of missions, some important, but mostly of a very trivial character, and they come bringing all sorts of letters of introduction from all sorts of people.

Were the president to see all these folks he would not have time for anything else, and the secretary must winnow the wheat from the chaff and send the chaff away actually delighted because they haven't seen the president. The president's secretary is a buffer between his chief and the United States senators and members of the house of representatives with myriad axes to grind. He must be a diplomat with the most famous diplomats of the world when they call at the White House to take up the time of the president. Indeed, it has been often said in Washington that the president's secretary must be as much of a diplomat as any member of the diplomatic corps if he is to be of substantial value to his chief.

Again, the secretary must have relations with the hundreds of correspondents who represent the great newspapers of the country. Public opinion is molded by these correspondents, and they are keenly affirmative in their characteristics. In their ambition to serve their newspapers they always know exactly when they visit the White House. Frequently matters are not exactly ripe, and it is one duty of the president's secretary to parry the incisive and probing questions of these alert correspondents. This must be done smilingly and in good form.

Then, too, invariably the president's secretary accompanies his chief on trips through the country. Hundreds of details come up on these tours of which the president is not expected to know, but it is the absolute duty of his secretary to be familiar with them.—New York Sun.

There is nothing repulsive in Miller's Worm Powders, and they are as pleasant to take as sugar, so that few children will refuse them. In some cases they cause vomiting through their action in an unsond stomach, but this is only a manifestation of their cleansing power, no indication that they are hurtful. They can be thoroughly depended upon to clear all worms from the system.

The farmers and fishermen in the vicinity of Port Alma have petitioned the government to stop the operations of the Glenwood Oil and Gas Co., an American concern, which is drilling for gas in the waters of Lake Erie. Their plea is that the salt and sulphur discharged from the wells will ruin the fishing industry.

Nearly four solid pages of the Saskatchewan Phoenix are taken up with an advertisement of "sale of lands for taxes" in that city. In other words, there are about 3,000 lots in that city for sale because the present owners cannot afford to pay the taxes, or don't think it worth while doing so.

A THOROUGH PILL.—To clear the stomach and bowels of impurities and irritants is necessary when their action is irregular. The pills that will do this work thoroughly are Paralee's Vegetable Pills, which are mild in action but mighty in results. They purge painlessly and effectively, and work a permanent cure. They can be used without fear by the most delicately constituted, as there are no painful effects preceding their gentle operation.

THE HOT WATER BAG.

How to Mend Holes in This Very Useful Article.

It is best not to entirely fill a rubber hot water bottle. When partly full rest it on something and press the top down until the water rises in the neck, then screw on the top. This drives out the air and keeps the water hot longer. A hot water bag will last much longer if at first it is well greased inside with olive oil or vaseline.

To mend a rubber bag first inflate with air and then fasten the cork securely. Now take a rubber band, melt it over a flame and apply while plastic to the torn place. A small hole may be covered in this manner. If you have a small piece of thin sheet rubber heat this also and paste over the gum while it is still hot. Adhesive plaster will also mend it neatly. There is also a rivet which is used for mending purposes. It has a flat head on one side, and the stem is threaded to secure a bur on the opposite side.

To mend rubber goods which are not subject to extreme heat melt gum tissue in chloroform. Apply one piece and when that hardens place a second and then a third layer, allowing each to dry thoroughly before applying the other. This makes a thin patch which is durable.

Do not throw the worn hot water bag away, but cut it in round or oval pieces and use as mats to put under your flowerpots.

In the absence of a hot water bottle or bag a common flannel bag, made in a convenient size, with a drawingstring, will serve in ordinary ailments such as toothache, earache and other minor pains. Fill with hot sand or salt. It is safer than a cheap rubber bottle, just as efficacious and much handier to use. Keep a half dozen on hand.

A hot plate wrapped in paper and a soft towel will retain heat until the proper articles can be secured. Old magazines heated in the oven make a good substitute for a hot water bottle. They hold the heat nearly as long and can be used under the back, where a hot water bottle would not lie well.

STREET SUITS.

Whims and Freshness Reserved For Day Dress.

There seems to be an unwritten law in dressmakingdom that, no matter what eccentric and fresh effect may be the whim of fashion, it shall be expressed solely in costumes to be worn by day. The only unusual or fresh note in the walking suit illustrated is to be found in the combination checked skirt with plain coat. This combination is one of the smartest features in the spring styles. The skirt is a two piece affair, slit at the sides to give freedom to the wearer when walking. The coat worn with this black or white checked skirt is of black serge in cut-away effect. A tiny white cloth vest bound with black braid gives a sporty, mannish touch to this Frenchy little costume.

VOGUE OF THE SEPARATE COAT.

CHILDREN'S STYLES.

Ribbed Effects Are Smart This Season For the Wee Folk.

Just now nursery shears and needles are producing a new season of their own with the help of the pretty light serges, poplins and delaines of the seasons.

The new materials are, in fact, as soft as the petals of any blossom and lend themselves successfully to the draping of the charming little frocks which have been designed for early spring. Silk and cotton poplin are coming much to the fore for indoor wear, and pretty little frocks in this material are fashioned with square yokes embroidered with French knots or small porcelain beads, the half sleeves being finished with undersleeves of embroidered lawn, while the neck is completed with a deep Robespierre collar of the same.

Among the new shades is a soft "poussin" blue, which is seen to advantage in ribbed cotton shantung and in the new striped hopsacks of light weight, which are just as fashionable for children as for their elders.

There are, besides, a becoming shade of yellow, which is known as "teal," and a darker shade, redder in tone than the whilom popular khaki. Green is a favorite color with children this season, and practically every shade is to be seen from a "midsummer leaf" tint to the palest chartreuse or duck's egg tone.

One feature is very striking in the new spring and early summer fabrics for little children. Ribbed effects are very pronounced, and there is nothing which represents a greater change than the coarse diagonal serges, ribbed cotton and silk shantung, corduroy suitings and bengaline and ottoman silks, which are used just now for frocks, coats, pelisses and overalls for children. The rompers seen in the illustration are the newest things in these very practical play clothes. The yoke and sleeves cut in one make the garment a simple one for the home seamstress.

Practical Flower Holder.

A simple and practical flower holder is made of green rubberized silk, the shade of natural leaves, and is outlined with a green wire. When worn it effectually prevents the penetration of any moisture to the gown. The wire edge permits of shaping the holder to the bouquet proper, and the latter is then attached to the corsage or wherever else desired.

To Make Plants Grow.

Plants will grow more quickly if a few drops of ammonia are added once a week. The water should be lukewarm, not colder than the atmosphere, when you water your plants.

BROOKE COUNCIL.

Inwood, 21st June, 1913. Council met pursuant to adjournment. Members all present. Minutes of previous meeting read, and on motion of Mr. Annett, seconded by Mr. Sutton, were approved.

Report on the proposed Hayter Tile Drain read. Estimated cost $458.00. Annett, McCabe, that report be adopted and Clerk instructed to prepare a by-law for submission at next meeting, to authorize the work and the borrowing by debenture of the funds required.—Carried.

Report of engineer for repairs of 6-7 drain across lots, 4, 5 and 6, was then read. Estimated cost $373.00.

Sutton, Annett, that report be received and by-law prepared for submission at next meeting to authorize work.—Carried.

Letter read received from Messrs Cowan & Towers acknowledging receipt of costs of suit on Smith-Patterson Drain, and asking on behalf of Messrs Totten and Watt that action be taken to repair 6-7 Con. Drain.

Annett, Sutton, that on request of the Municipal Telephone Board, the sum of $1000 be advanced them.—Carried.

By-law introduced and read, to authorize the construction of the Wallis-Bolton Tile Drain, and to borrow $555 for same.

By-law to authorize the needed repairs to the Burford-McVicar Drain was also introduced. Estimated cost $494.

Sutton, Annett, that the foregoing by-laws be provisionally adopted, printed in pamphlet form and a copy served on each party assessed, with notice that a Court of Revision would be held on same, in Code's Hall, in the Village of Alvington, on Saturday the 26th day of July, 1913, Mr. McCabe to be Commissioner and to serve by-laws.—Carried.

Mr. John Rundle claimed pay for damage done him by the contractor for the repairs to the Bourne Drain, who cut down the trees alongside of it to give room for the arm of the dredge to work. No action.

McVicar, Sutton, that the Council of the Municipality of the Township of Brooke, request the Hydro-Electric Power Commission for Ontario to give the Municipality of Brooke an estimate of the price to be charged to the said Municipality for 100 horse power of electric energy from the nearest trunk line, to be supplied at the most convenient point, ready to be distributed by the said Municipality.—Carried.

Johnston, McCabe, that the Johnston Drain report read at last meeting of Council be accepted, and Clerk instructed to prepare a by-law for submission at next meeting, authorizing the work and the borrowing by debenture of the required funds.—Carried.

Annett, Johnston, that as the repair work on the Bourne Drain was completed some months ago, that the Commissioner appointed over same, be requested to report on it at next meeting of Council.—Carried.

Sutton, Annett, that Council do now adjourn to meet in the Village of Alvington, on Saturday the 26th day of July, 1913.—Carried.

W. G. WILLOUGHBY, Clerk.

—Mr. John Kesson, a prominent Enniskillen farmer, met with an accident at the garden party in St. John's church, 6th June, on Monday night, which will confine him to the house for some time. Mr. Kesson was standing on a chair adjusting a lamp when he slipped and fell, breaking an arm. Dr. Fairbank, who was present, assisted him into his automobile and drove to Oil Springs where the arm was dressed.

THE DANGER OF ANAEMIA

Consumption May Follow Unless Its Ravages are Checked

There is danger to every girl and every woman who falls a victim to anaemia—that is, bloodlessness. They become listless, feel too weak, too wretched and too hopeless to take prompt steps to stop the trouble. Too often, through neglect, they drift into a worse condition, forgetting that anaemia frequently leads on to consumption. If you are anaemic in the least degree you should lose no time in beginning treatment, to increase and enrich the blood supply. To do this there is no other medicine so good as Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Every dose helps make rich, red blood, which drives out disease and brings again the bloom of health to pale and sallow cheeks. There are thousands of women and growing girls in Canada who owe their present good health to the timely use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Among those who have been restored to health by this great medicine is Miss Rose Neville, Mount Forest, Ont., who says: "Dr. Williams' Pink Pills performed almost a miracle in my case. I was a victim of anaemia, in what my friends considered a dangerous form. I was very pale, always felt tired out, suffered from severe headaches, and had no appetite. I was taking doctor's medicine for a long time—in fact I tried two doctors—but instead of improving I seemed to be growing worse. My parents were at a loss to know what to do for me and thought I would not recover. Then a friend advised Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and I had only taken them a few weeks when I began to feel better. This greatly encouraged me and I continued taking the Pills for some time longer, and found my health again as good as ever it had been. In fact I am stronger than ever I was before. I have advised the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to other girls who have found the results equally beneficial."

Sold by all medicine dealers or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

E. L. Farmers Institute

Minutes of East Lambton Farmers Institute meeting held in Watford on June 19th, 1913.

Bullock, Jas. McLean, Jr., Geo. Graham, Neil A. McLean, Jas. Smith, John Hunter, Donald McDonald, Paul Kingston.

A. Wright—D. Falloon, that the following points of meeting be selected for 1913-14:—Alvington, Inwood, Shetland, 12th Line Brooke, (regular), Thedford, Arkona, Forest, Uttoxeter, Camlachie, Wyoming and Warwick (supplementary).

D. Falloon—Mr. Forbes, that the delegates to annual meeting be entertained to supper by the Institute.—Carried.

Deep regret was expressed at the withdrawal of Mr. E. F. Augustine from the office of Sec.—Treas., and a motion by Mr. Forbes was unanimously carried voicing the sincere appreciation of the institute for his good work while in office.

A vote of thanks and appreciation was also tendered the retiring President, Mr. Forbes.

Worth Going to See

The sports held in Sarnia on the 1st of July should be, from the appearance and cost of the program, the best outdoor sports that Sarnia ever had. They include the Curtis Aeroplanes, five-mile professional foot race with entries of Longboat, Shrub, Quehl, Meadows and others, all the fast motor cycle riders, and a five mile race between the aeroplane and the winner of the motor cycle race, and two baseball games, one in the forenoon and one in the afternoon, also other local events.

The sports are managed by Mr. Alby Robinson, the well-known promoter of clean sport. Arrangements are being made to have G. T. R. train No. 8, leaving Sarnia at 10.50 p.m., stop at Watford that day.

Enniskillen Man Dies

On Friday, June 6th, after a short illness, Mr. W. H. Saunders died at his residence, west half lot 24, con. 12, Enniskillen, where he and his family have resided for the past 6 years.

The deceased was well and favorably known, having been a resident of Marthaville for 15 years prior to his moving to farm. He was a Methodist in religion and a Conservative in politics. He was the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Saunders, and was born in Brooke Township in 1851. In 1878 he married Sarah Jane, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry

Plympton Farmer Drops Dead

Forest, June 24.—William Evans, aged 76, one of the best known farmers of Plympton Township, dropped dead today as he was walking down the road with his son William, to visit an adjoining farm. He was suddenly stricken with an attack of heart failure, and falling over in the roadway was dead before any help could be called. Besides his wife he leaves three sons and two daughters; Norman, of Owen Sound; David and William, of Plympton; Mrs. John Watson, of Ravenswood; and Miss Nellie, at home.

When the Presbyterian ministers visited the Prison Farm on Saturday, there was singing on the program. The prisoners waiting to use the old favorite "Gates Ajar" but the Warden wouldn't hear of it and closed with "Abide With Me."—Guelph Mercury.
