ITALIANS FLOOD LARGE TRACT OF COUNTRY TO KEEP VENICE FROM INVADERS' HANDS

Flood Gates of Rivers Piave and Sile Opened

Menace There Was That Enemy Might Approach Venice Through Lagoon or Bembard City—Now There is Twelve Mile Barrier of Water

Italian Headquarters in Northern Italy, Nov. 15.—(By the Associated Press)—The flood gates of the Piave and Sile rivers, northeast of Venice, have been opened by Italian engineers.

This action probably means an attempt to drown out the Austro-German forces which crossed the Lower Piave several days ago at Grottole, about sixteen miles northeast of Venice. The flooding of the triangle formed by the two rivers and the Adriatic also probably would make ineffective any German attempt to debouch in force against the right flanks of the Italian army along the Piave. South of San Dona Di Piave, the Sile and Piave rivers are very close together, and near here flood gates were constructed to hold the rivers in check so as to protect the Venetian lagoon. On both sides of this triangle the land is at or below sea level.

Italian Headquarters in Northern Italy, Nov. 15.—(By the Associated Press)—The flood gates of the Piave and Sile, or old Piave, rivers have been opened by Italian military engineers, and the enemy is now faced with a barrier of water.

The flood was loosed at the point where the enemy succeeded in crossing the Piave near Grottole, four miles from the coast, and the whole region where the inundation is now under water. The inundated territory forms a huge triangle about twelve miles on each side, with the apex at Dona di Piave. The enemy had been driven back, but still held on within this triangle until the dykes from both rivers released the water over the low lying plain.

The chief menace at that point was that the enemy might be able to approach Venice through the lagoon or bombard the city from his position between the rivers. The inundation interposes a barrier of water twelve miles across and several feet deep.

Reports which have reached headquarters on other points on the front also are favorable.

Venice Nearly Deserted.

Venice, Nov. 15.—(By the Associated Press)—Venice is now almost empty, the population having been reduced from the usual 160,000 to 20,000. Despite the proximity of the enemy lines at the mouth of the Piave river and the unsuccessful efforts the Austro-Germans have made to take the long triangle between the mouths of Piave and Sile rivers, the remnant of the population is calm.

The city may not be defended in case of an attack, in order to spare the monuments and art treasures.

The mayor of Venice, who is a descendant of the Doges and a chamberlain to the Queen of Italy, announced today that he would remain at his post. The outward appearance of the city is very desolate.

THE ITALY FROM GERMAN HORRORS.

Rome, Nov. 15.—Pope Benedict has asked the governments of the Central Empire to instruct their military authorities operating west of the Isonzo to follow the rules of international law in respecting the lives and property of civilians and in the protection of women and children. The pope also ordered the churches, bishops' palaces, and presbyteries.

The pontiff has also ordered the papal nuncio at Munich and Vienna, if necessary, to appeal personally and directly to Kaiser William and Emperor Charles to obtain the fulfillment of his wishes.

erman Statement. Berlin, Nov. 16.—The town of Cismone, in the northern Italian front, has been captured, the war office announced. Near the Adriatic, on the western bank of the Isonzo, Hungarian troops advanced and captured 1,000 Italians.

TOWN PRINCE AND BUELCW IN ACCORD. Copenhagen, Nov. 16.—The German crown prince recently had a long conference with Prince Von Buelow, the German imperial ambassador, at the prince's hotel. Prince Von Buelow is believed to be in accord with the German government regarding Germany's political and military objectives, while Chancellor Von Bethmann is the exponent of a policy to reach the Crown Prince is opposed.

Heavy Fire On The Canadian Front

London, Nov. 16.—(Via Reuter's Ottawa Agency)—Telegraphing from British headquarters in France, Reuter's correspondent last night said:—An extremely violent artillery battle rages in the Paschendaele area. The enemy has been shelling for the past two days with the utmost intensity upon advanced lines of the Canadians but if the Germans have been shelling heavily, ours has been heavier. Wounded soldiers speak of our artillery work with the greatest admiration, and say whenever they have been threatened in an infantry attack our barrage has settled down like a curtain, so sweeping that no infantry could live. Moreover under this volume of our counter-battery work the German gun positions are growing more and more difficult to maintain. It is doubtful if a more fierce and more continued artillery duel has ever been seen on this front.

There were no victims.

ANOTHER TRACK NEAR THE NEW ELEVATOR

The latest proposal of the I. C. R., in connection with the new elevator at Reed's Point, is the placing of another track and the location of a switch stand directly in the middle of the part of the street now occupied by the street.

The new line is to branch off nearer the elevator, to which it will run, and the plans call for a switch stand on the northern side of the track, directly in the way of all traffic coming along Prince William and Britain streets and to and from Water street and the Digby boat wharf. It has been pointed out that the switch stand could be placed on the other side of the tracks almost as easily and in a position where it would not interfere with traffic.

As it is, traffic from the wharves and Water street to Prince William street and vice versa will have to cross four lines of track and it is being urged that the railway should be required to pave all this area with granite blocks.

WOMEN ORGANIZING FOR ELECTION DAY

That the women of the community who are entitled to vote under the new franchise act are taking the responsibility seriously is shown by the fact that one group already is organizing with the intention of doing their best to bring out every available woman's vote in support of the union candidates.

The situation still is the subject of animated conversation and already plans are being formed by the leaders of the various parties to turn this interest to practical effect and to complete organizations in the interest of their candidates.

The further the matter is discussed the stronger is the confidence of their constituents in the success of their cause in this constituency.

This is another of the new Paramount series of successes. The new specialty acts start tomorrow afternoon. They are as follows:—Lamb's Manikins, or Tiny Stars From Toyland. Here we have the whole stage set as a miniature theatre with dolls and manikins playing all the parts. Even the "audience" and orchestra are dolls. It can be imagined what a novelty this act will be for old and young, especially the kiddies. The next act will be the Conroy Sisters, professionally known as "Those Personality Girls." They sing prettily, dance a little and dress in ultra-fashionable style. Burt & Jones announce themselves as purveyors of refined varieties and their work at other Keith houses upholds this announcement to the fullest.

MUNICIPAL COAL COSTS $3.50 AT SKOWHEGAN

"We have had very good success in buying coal direct from the mines through a municipal fund," writes Clyde H. Smith, chairman of the board of selectmen of Skowhegan, Me., to James C. Hamlen, of Portland, state fuel administrator.

Stating in his letter that he thought, in view of the present fuel campaign, the fuel administrator would be interested in the Skowhegan plan, Mr. Smith states that the town of Skowhegan appropriated $25,000 as a town coal fund, and that one contract calling for 1,200 tons of coal, already had been filled. The coal was bought at $7.90 per ton freight on board, and sold to the consumers at a Red Cross and the navy. 11-17

RHEUMATISM

Remarkable Home Cure Given by One Who Had It—He Wants Every Sufferer to Benefit.

Send No Money—Just Your Address.

Years of awful suffering and misery have taught this man, Mark H. Jackson of Syracuse, New York, how terrible an enemy to human happiness rheumatism is, and have given him sympathy with all unfortunates who are within its grasp. He wants every rheumatic victim to know how he was cured. Read what he says:

"In the spring of 1898 I was attacked by Muscular and Inflammatory Rheumatism. I suffered as only those who have known it for over three years. I tried remedy after remedy, and doctor after doctor, but such relief as I received was only temporary. Finally, I found a remedy that cured me completely, and it has never returned. I have given it to a number who were terribly afflicted and even bedridden with Rheumatism, and it effected a cure in every case. I want every sufferer from any form of rheumatic trouble to try this marvelous healing power. Don't send a cent; simply mail your name and address and I will send it free to try. After you have used it and it has proven itself to be that long-looked-for means of curing your Rheumatism, you may send the price of it, one dollar, but understand, I do not want your money unless you are perfectly satisfied to send it. Isn't that fair? Why suffer any longer when positive relief is thus offered you free of cost? Write today.

UNDER WHICH BANNER?

The situation in Canada as it presents itself today is clearly set out by the Toronto Globe as follows:

"The man who carries Sir Wilfrid's standard is pledged, if he is honest, to the withholding from the Canadian army of the reinforcements provided by the military service act. The defeat of the government would mean that some months would be spent in giving another trial to the voluntary system, which broke down nearly two years ago. If it failed again more precious time would be consumed by a referendum which would muster against compulsory service an almost solid Quebec and every man in other provinces seeking to evade his duty or objecting to further sacrifices for the cause. In the meantime the Canadian infantry divisions would be fleeing away. This is the most critical hour for the Allies since the Battle of the Marne. Is it an hour in which Canadians should listen to counsels of delay?"

"The country is now in the process of calling up for military service a hundred thousand men by a system which takes only those who can be spared without loss to any essential producing interest. These reinforcements would insure for a period which may decide the issue of the war the maintenance of Canada's present strength at the front. To withhold them at this crucial time in order to experiment again with another recruiting campaign, which every soldier and civilian who went through the heart-breaking experience of the last one believes would be an absolute failure, leaves would be an absolute failure, would be a desertion of their duty. Canadians cannot for the honor of their country, for what history will say, falter now. They ought to stand together at least long enough to insure that the military service act shall not be destroyed. Let its supporters take pattern and warning from the actions of its enemies in Quebec. The Nationalists have abandoned their design of opposing every Liberal candidate in the province. Sir Wilfrid Laurier's manifesto has converted Bourassa, who sounds the bugle call to his followers to join with the Rouges in the assault on the government. Liberals who denounced the Nationalist propaganda in 1911 must be disquieted by having Bourassa as a political bed-fellow in 1917. His enmity six years ago was a tribute to the Laurier government. Does not his enmity today count in the union government's favor? He frankly declares against any further military effort by this country. This is not Sir Wilfrid Laurier's view, but Bourassa, though unable to conceal his hatred for his former chief, professes the Laurier policy to the government, because he believes the suspension of the military service act would do something to stay Canada's hand."

There are to be straight contests in Charlotte and York-Sunbury. Liberal-Unionists will support the Conservative candidate. Those who want the military service act kept on the statute book cannot do otherwise. Mr. Todd and Mr. Brown are pledged to a policy which would render the act of no avail in the greatest crisis in our history.

Now that Bourassa is hand-in-glove with the Liberals in Quebec, is he a Liberal? Or have the Liberals become Nationalists? The St. John orators who assert that Liberal unionists are no longer Liberals may be able to answer this question.

Liberals who support the union candidates should attend tonight's meeting at the Seamen's Institute and declare themselves. The union government is only for the period of the war.

The Austro-Germans have not been able to gain any further notable success in Italy in the last few days and there is hope that they may now be held in check.

The women of St. John and Albert who have graves in France or Flanders, or sons in the overseas battalions, will not vote to abandon them.

Lord Northcliffe thinks England might learn much from the United States and something from Canada in the matter of dealing with war problems.

The Italians are opening the floodgates of the Piave and Sile rivers to protect their right flank. That is a very effective kind of defence.

The Kaiser says God must help the submarine. The German duty must be of the character as the Germans themselves—a savage.

The Victory Loan will help to win the war. You can help to take up the Victory Loan. It is a safe and profitable investment.

German Socialists are eager to join Russian Socialists in a demand for an immediate armistice and a speedy peace.

If Kerensky does not yet control the situation in Russia he appears to be making good progress.

The collapse of the submarine campaign is regarded as the most important news of the day.

The Liberal-Unionists will line up tonight for the union candidates.

We will soon be able to eat olcomargarne, but it will not be cheap.

Australia has a lesson for Canada. The former country voted down conscription, with the result that it is today unable to keep its divisions at the front up to strength. If the union government in Canada is not supported the Canadian soldiers at the front will not be reinforced.

Are the Liberals of St. John and Albert to permit partisan feeling to make them a party to the abandonment of the heroes of Ypres and Vimy and Passchendaele?

Let tonight's meeting of Liberal-Unionists give the answer.

CONCERNING NAMES. Fifteen hundred men, most of them aliens, employed at the Trail Smelter in British Columbia, refuse to present themselves at the tribunals under the Military Service Act. They have also refused to subscribe to the Victory Loan. The Trades and Labor Council of Montreal has refused to invest any of its funds in the Victory Loan.

It is not necessary to observe that the aliens in British Columbia and the members of the Montreal organization referred to will vote against union government; for it will be opposed by every disloyal element in the country. Those Liberals who oppose the government will be uniting themselves with this element to achieve a partisan victory.

At a meeting of Laurier Liberals in St. John last night it is said the speakers asserted that all who supported the union government ceased to be Liberals. If by supporting the union government Mr. Elkin becomes a Conservative, then by the same rule the St. John Liberals who oppose union government would become Nationalists, and followers of Bourassa, with whom they are now making common cause. Are they willing to accept the new title?

Major Hume Cronyn, K. C., is the union government candidate in London, Ont., and is supported by the Ontario Women Citizens' Association. In a recent address delivered before that association Major Cronyn said it was a wrench to part with his former Liberal friends but he stood for union government and conscription. Sir Wilfrid Laurier had said: "We are for the war and against conscription, as in Australia." Major Cronyn's answer was: "We are for the war and for national service, as in Great Britain. We are for the war and for conscription, as in New Zealand. We are for the war and for the selective draft, as in the United States." He did not believe conscription would disrupt Canada, but he asked in conclusion: "What shall it profit Canada if she keep her Dominion and lose her own soul?"

A woman of a south Berkshire town made application for a Liberty bond. "Well, every time he sees a mail box he feels in his pockets," Philadelphia Ledger.

"Subster is a perfect husband," "I never heard he was so wonderful." "Well, every time he sees a mail box he feels in his pockets."—Philadelphia Ledger.

"My time," said the magnate, "is worth $100 a minute." "Well," answered his friend, casually, "let's go out this afternoon, and play $10,000 or $15,000 worth of golf."—Boston Transcript.

A little girl had been allowed by her mother to visit the minister's family and stay for dinner. After the preacher had finished asking a blessing, the child said, "That isn't the way my papa asks a blessing." "And how does your papa ask a blessing?" inquired the minister. "Why, he just says, 'Good Heavens, what a meal!'"

HUMANS LIVE LIKE DOGS. A cablegram which has just reached the American Committee for Armenia and Syrian Relief through the State Department at Washington tells of increasing destitution in the Near East as winter comes on. The message is sent by the well known correspondent, William T. Ellis, and countersigned by the American Consul at Tiflis, the Russian Caucasus. It reads as follows:

"What I saw today in Urumia could be translated for ten hours in Madison Square (New York) every newspaper in America would ring with the story of the most abject spectacle to be seen even in a world at war, and millions for relief would follow straightaway. Refugees from mountain villages, driven away from their ripening crops, are living unroofed on stones, in indescribable rags, starving, filthy, many sick and dying. Human beings are become as Oriental street dogs, with whom they compete for refuse. The work already done by Americans for Armenians, Syrians, and all refugees is a national triumph, but still the vastness of continuing need is overwhelming."

Others Return. Among the St. John men to return to the city yesterday were Private J. H. Lodge, of 90 Middle street, West Side; Private Harry Allingham, West Side, a South African veteran, member of the P. P. C. L. I., also Private James Tracey, who went overseas as a member of a construction corps.

FOR LIBERALS TO CONSIDER. Why is Australia taking a second vote on conscription? Because the voluntary system has at last broken down in that Commonwealth as it has in Canada. So serious is the situation that the government, which realizes that the honor of Australia is at stake, has staked its own existence on the issue. If conscription is not made the law of the land; if the people vote to abandon their sons in the trenches, the government will resign.

U-BOAT CAPTAINS FEAR THEIR CREWS

Officers Heavily Armed, While Sailors Are Searched for Weapons to Avert Mutiny

London, Oct. 20.—(Correspondence of The Associated Press)—Captains of the German submarines are compelled constantly to carry their revolvers and to disarm the members of their crews to prevent mutiny and voluntary surrender to their enemies, according to an Amsterdam correspondent of The Daily Express. He quotes a man who claims to know the conditions of the German submarine service as saying:

"For the last two months the U-boats have been put to sea under very peculiar conditions. The commander and his second are heavily armed. The men, on the other hand, are searched for weapons before every embarkation. From some of the vessels all the rifles and other small arm ammunition have been removed. In some cases rifles are on board, but they are kept securely locked in their racks, and the keys are in the commander's pocket."

"The reason for all these drastic precautions is to be found in the realization of the German command that the key response in the commander's pocket."

"I will give you the psychological experience of the German submarine sailor. After his course of special training for the work he makes his first trip. His vessel has one or two narrow escapes from disaster, but returns safely to her base. The sailor goes ashore for his short leave, spends his pay, and enjoys himself. Then he makes a second trip and again returns after escaping death by inches."

"Gradually it dawns on him that luck of this kind cannot hold out forever and that eventually his fate is certain. From the moment that this realization forces itself upon him his duty becomes a veritable nightmare. He starts on each new cruise with the conviction that it will be his last. In the language of the English soldier, he is perpetually 'going over the top' and his period of service is much more lengthy and nerve-racking than that of the land fighter."

"The effect on his mind is easy to be understood. He begins to cast about for some means of escape from this branch of the service, but he quickly realizes that his only chance of escape lies in that of capture and internment, either by an enemy or neutral power. It is this longing for capture which sends him to sea helpless and unarmed, while his officers bristle with the means of enforcing obedience and discipline."

"Every U-boat commander now has to face an added danger—that of his own men, who may seize the first opportunity of taking control of his vessel and delivering it to the enemy in exchange for their own lives."

Annual Meeting of Women's Canadian Club Hears Reports of Valuable Work Accomplished

The Women's Canadian Club, at its annual meeting held at the Stone church school house on Wednesday afternoon, re-elected all its officers for the ensuing year. It was thought advisable, owing to serious work arising out of the war, in which they were engaged, that the officers remain the same for the coming year. Those re-elected were: President, Mrs. G. A. Kuhring; 1st vice-president, Mrs. H. A. Powell; 2nd vice-president, Mrs. L. P. D. Tilly; 3rd vice-president, Mrs. George McAvity; recording secretary, Miss Ethel Jarvis; corresponding secretary, Mrs. A. E. Melrose; literary secretary, Mrs. H. Lawrence. Mrs. Richard O'Brien was elected convener of the prisoners of war department and Mrs. F. C. Beattie corresponding secretary. Mrs. J. R. Vincent was elected convener of the committee on correspondence with the N. B. soldiers overseas. The new executive is composed of Mrs. Geo. F. Smith, Mrs. J. A. McAvity, Mrs. R. T. Hayes, Mrs. J. F. Robertson, Miss Grace Leavitt, Mrs. J. H. Thomson, Mrs. J. H. Doody, Mrs. H. S. Bridges, Mrs. Geo. Kimball and Mrs. Wm. Shaw. After the reading of the minutes of the previous meeting a resolution of condolence was passed conveying to Mrs. G. W. Gamong the regret of the club on the death of her husband, the late Lieutenant-Governor Gamong.

Mrs. Kuhring, who presided, told of the great opportunity afforded women to assist the nation in the matter of food control. Reports were presented by Mrs. A. R. Melrose, Mrs. Richard O'Brien, Mrs. F. C. Beattie, Mrs. Bushy and Mrs. Doody. The treasurer's report showed that the sum of $48.08 had passed through her hands during the year.

A feature of the meeting was the sending of special greetings to the new lieutenant-governor, Hon. Dr. Pugsley. Mrs. Pugsley, who was present, was invited to a seat on the platform and was made a patroness of the club. Mrs. B. T. Hayes, wife of the mayor, and Mrs. E. Atherton Smith, were also invited to the platform. It was regretted that Lady Tilly, who has rendered valuable service to the club, was unable to be present.

WHAT PROHIBITION DOES.

To the Editor of The Times-Star: Sir—In view of facts like the following, attested by the governors of the various states, it is difficult to understand why any one could doubt the immense value of a prohibitory law even fairly well enforced.

Governor Hatfield of West Virginia says: "Rentals and other necessary items of expense are being paid promptly by hundreds of men who formerly drank and gambled away their earnings while wives and children went hungry."

Governor Brewer of Mississippi says: "The effect of the law has been to reduce crime and to cause money which formerly went for whiskey to be spent in the purchase of necessities and some of the luxuries."

Governor Cruce of Oklahoma says that prohibition has reduced crime and given better clothing and more wholesome food to thousands of women and children of the state. From every standpoint it pays.

Governor Craig of North Carolina says: "Prohibition has been of immense benefit to North Carolina. Real estate has greatly increased in value and every line of business has prospered."

Governor Haines of Maine says: "There has never been a time since 1838 when there has been any doubt that the people were in favor of what is popularly known as the Maine law."

Governor Carlson of Colorado says: "Two thousand and fifty savings accounts were opened in the Denver Savings Bank in January, 1916. Denver jobbers and wholesalers show amazing gains in sales to merchants in smaller towns and cities."

Governor Capper of Kansas says: "Prohibition has been one of the greatest blessings ever bestowed on this state. Our people have lived under prohibition for years and would not think for one moment of going back to the saloons."

Governor Rye of Tennessee says: "It has abolished the most degrading of social centres and is giving children a chance to be better bred, better born, and better learned."

Governor Hanna of North Dakota says: "After twenty-five years' trial, prohibition is here to stay for all time. It has been such a success that I am satisfied that if the people were to vote on it today, seventy-five per cent of them would be in favor of prohibition."

It might be added that reports of the results of prohibitory laws in Canada are satisfactory beyond all expectation.

PLAN FOR SOCIALIST GOVERNMENT IN RUSSIA COLLAPSED

Bolsheviki Would Not Agree to Be Excluded — Proclamations By Keresky

London, Nov. 16.—An attempt to negotiate for the creation of a socialist government in Russia and the postponement of a railway strike there are described in an Exchange Telegraph Company despatch from Petrograd dated Tuesday. The Socialist leaders offered the Bolsheviki a basis of agreement, including cessation of military operations and, if the terms were accepted, guarantee that Keresky's army would be the only one entering Petrograd and would not fire a single shot.

The negotiations for the armistice collapsed because, although the Bolsheviki agreed to the terms, the Socialists insisted that the Bolsheviki be excluded from the proposed government.

Premier Keresky, the despatch adds, has issued proclamations declaring his adherence to the revolution and guaranteeing the clearing out of the Bolsheviki as well as to the transference of power to democratic organizations—the preliminary parliament and the committee for safeguarding the country and the revolution.

The railway union has sent a delegation to M. Keresky, proposing that he

PLAN BETTER PHYSICAL EDUCATION IN SCHOOLS

Boston, Nov. 16.—A bill looking toward the extension of physical education in the public schools has been prepared for presentation to the next legislature by a commission appointed by Governor McCall several months ago to investigate. Under its provisions the state board of education would appoint a director of physical education with two assistants who would have general supervision. Physical education would include directed play, games, athletics, camping and instruction in personal hygiene and sanitation in the camp, home and the community.

WAR GROUP FIRMER AS MARKET OPENS

New York, Nov. 16.—Wall Street—Trading was extremely dull and narrow at the opening of today's stock market, changes in the better known issues being limited to small fractions, mostly upward. The war group soon developed firmer tendencies, Marine preferred, Central Leather and Texas Company going a point each. Steels and kindred equipments were less active, and rails showed irregularity. A block of 270,000 of Liberty 4s sold at a new minimum, the 3 1/2s changing at 97.74 to 98.68.

IRISH AFFAIRS ARE DISCUSSED IN LORDS

Marquis of Lansdowne's apprehensions but Lord Curzon says conditions have improved—Reaction Against Sinn Fein

London, Nov. 16.—In the House of Lords last night the Marquis of Lansdowne and others expressed apprehension over the situation in Ireland. The Earl of Curzon, government leader, in reply, referred to the premier's recent declaration of policy for Ireland. He contended that the declaration had been effective, that a change had come over the scene in Ireland, and that the government is pursuing the premier's policy with firmness and without provocation. He denied that the Sinn Fein was a dangerous factor, and its importance should not be over-estimated. Eighty per cent of the Sinn Feiners, he said, were opposed to armed rebellion.

The Sinn Fein, Earl Curzon added, had alienated the soberer elements of the population, and it was a good sign that the Catholic church had repudiated the Sinn Feiners. Strong reaction was growing in Ireland against the Sinn Fein and it would be a great mistake to check it, and thus play into the hands of the extremists. Violent Sinn Fein speeches wer a safety valve to the pent-up emotions. Mr. Duke, secretary for Ireland, the speaker continued, recently refused to call up the military on the occasion of an apprehended rising which flared out. That was a feather in Secretary Duke's cap, and a great blow to the Sinn Fein. It would be most unwise for the government to risk jeopardizing the opportunity they now had for a thorough convention and offering a solution to the Irish problem.

“The Eye, Ear and Nose” of a Suit

Doctors who specialize in their practice become expert in their particular specialty, and men and women seek them when they are afflicted with the malady to which the doctor has devoted his study and experience.

Thirty tailors contribute to the making of each individual suit; and each tailor is a specialist, having become expert in the making of his specialty.

One man makes collars. Another makes pockets. A third makes linings. A fourth fits the lining. A fifth shapes the shoulders. A sixth sews in sleeves—so on.

And thus the thirty specialists produce a Semi-ready Coat, and the Chief Examiner pronounces it good before there is sewn in the pocket the "Shield that Shields."

THE BUSIEST BLOCK

Union Street Between Waterloo and Brussels Holds Record

A census of the vehicular traffic of some of the city streets has demonstrated that the busiest block in the city is that in Union street between Waterloo and Brussels street. Through this narrow street, which carries double street car tracks, more than 5,000 vehicles pass daily.

Mill street, near the station, shows almost as many vehicles, but the street is wider and there is more room for them. Various plans have been suggested from time to time to relieve the congestion on this portion of Union street, but nothing has been done, and each year the traffic has been growing heavier. The development of St. John, and the industrial development at the eastern end of the city have added to the number of teams and cars which must pass through this narrow thoroughfare. At present its most pressing need is a decent pavement.

WEDDING OF INTEREST TO MANY IN ST. JOHN

The following account of the engagement of Royden McEllen Harding and Mrs. of the late Fred J. Harding and Mrs. Harding of this city, appears in a recent issue of the South West American:

"Mr. and Mrs. Frank Handlin, 428 Fifteenth street, announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their only daughter, Rosemary, to Royden McEllen Harding of St. John, New Brunswick. The wedding will be an event of late November. In deference to the spirit of the times, there will be no ostentation, the wedding will be very simply celebrated at the home of the bride's parents.

"Miss Handlin has an individual charm of manner, a fine soft voice and a certain air of distinction acquired by extensive travel abroad and in the United States. She attended Notre Dame de Sacre Coeur in Ottawa, Canada, received her education, and later spent a year at the McDermid school in Montreal. It was while Miss Handlin was attending this school that she met her fiance and the romance, which will have its happy termination in this autumn wedding, was begun.

"Mr. Harding is a son of Mrs. Ida McEllen Harding of St. John, New Brunswick. He is the junior member of the brokerage construction firm with offices in Sao Paulo, Brazil and Montreal. Mr. Harding is in charge of the office at Sao Paulo, where he will take his bride.

"The many friends of the bride-to-be in the younger set are very much regretting that her marriage will take her so far from Fort Smith."

DENNIS MCGAFFIGAN HAS PASSED AWAY

Man of Searing Character by Whom Much Good Had Been Accomplished

Many expressions of regret were heard at the city today when it became known that Dennis McGaffigan had passed away at his home in Summer street. Much as his loss will be felt by a host of friends in this city, his death will be even more keenly regretted by the people of Carleton county, where he resided in Florenceville, from 1883 until the spring of 1916, when he came to America. To all he proved to be one of the highest, noblest and best types of friends, a man of sterling character, whose main object in life seemed to be to render succor to others and diffuse charity where it would do the most good by all who were fortunate enough to come within the scope of his acquaintance. He was known as a gentleman of honor, loved and respected.

Mr. McGaffigan was born in Churchtown in the County of Donegal, Ireland, in 1842, and some years later came to America. He was a veteran of the American Civil war and a member of the Grand Army of the Republic. He was wounded in Virginia in 1861.

As an instance of his qualities, the following is related.—While convalescing, he was asked by the colonel of his regiment if he would act as his private secretary. He accepted and took over his duties. While engaged in his official capacity, an appeal was made by one of the men for a furlough, as his wife was seriously ill. Owing to conditions prevailing at the time, the colonel refused to grant the request. The appeal touched the heart of Mr. McGaffigan, and he arranged for a furlough of eight days' duration for the private, with the consideration that he would take his place in the ranks upon his return. When the eighth day came around the private returned, and, needless to say, his grateful wife, Mr. McGaffigan would have been court-martialed.

Mr. McGaffigan is survived by two daughters, Catherine and Mary, both at home, and one brother, J. J. McGaffigan was a staunch Liberal. He was conceded to be one of the best hand-writers in the province, and his penmanship was commented on by many.

WANT REICHSSTAG CALLED TO DISCUSS LENINE PEACE OFFER

London, Nov. 16.—The Independent Socialist group in the German Reichstag has requested the president to convoke an immediate session of the Reichstag to discuss the peace offer of Nikolai Lenin, leader of the Russian Bolsheviks. The Amsterdam correspondent of the Central News so comments on the appeal, issued by the group, that the Reichstag take up consideration of the new state of affairs as regards Courland, Lithuania and Poland.

No word of a peace offer by the Bolsheviks to Germany has reached Canada, but it is understood that the programme of the Bolsheviks has issued an appeal urging the greatest activity in holding meetings to proclaim solidarity with their Russian colleagues in a demand for immediate armistice and a speedy peace. This will be made a special note at meetings held in accordance with the resolution adopted at the party's convention at Wursburg to demonstrate for peace without annexations and indemnities.

Inspection of Munitions

A Thoughtful Article That Is Timely and Worthy of Careful Perusal in These Days of Win-the-War.

By James Forrest in American Machinist, Nov. 1.

SYNOPSIS—A most important part of any repetition job is to have an intelligent and well-versed force of inspectors in action at the beginning of the output to decide on what shall pass. This is especially true on munition work, where there is a necessity for prompt and accurate decisions as to what can go and what cannot go.

At the present time, when so many firms are taking up new contracts for the supply of ammunition and other war supplies, few words on the inspection side of the question may not be amiss.

There have been lots of thousands of shells, not to mention other supplies of war, held back and consigned to the scrap heap, which, it was discovered on later investigation, could have been repaired at very slight cost and delay. There have been thousands of others that were scrapped for some defect which seemed highly important at the time, but which afterward turned out to be imaginary.

Those firms which had foresight and storage room and a knowledge of governmental methods were wise enough to have these "scrapped" shells well oiled or greased, and put away where they could be found when the standard changed again.

A great number of the delays in delivery, and consequent misunderstanding and ill feeling, were caused by the incompetence of the inspectors that foreign governments themselves furnished. At the start of manufacture a great many of these men did not know what constituted a reasonably accurate shell with a reasonably good finish, and they were not in a position to educate the men who had been chosen by the contracting firm to prepare the shells for final inspection by the foreign representatives.

When a few shells had been produced which seemed to meet their requirements, oftentimes they would make a sudden change in these requirements without consideration of the fact that there were hundreds of partly completed shells on the way and that tools and gages had been made and were settling down to standardization. In many cases the change had to be made to meet some minor technicality that did not affect the finished shell in the slightest degree, but no amount of argument or presentation of the facts by intelligent men produced any effect, and all that could be done was to swallow the pill and begin all over again.

When this condition occurred once or twice on each operation and a dozen times on some, it gives an idea of how much could have been saved in time, money and heart-breaking work that goes against the grain of all mechanics accustomed to know exactly what they are working for and to drive straight ahead for it.

The failure of all the straight-laced, cut-and-dried inspection methods of incompetent men is well shown in the acceptance of the same shells which they consigned to the melting furnace a year ago, but which a far-seeing organization preserved till a more suspicious occasion. These same men have now acquired some knowledge of the difference between what constitutes a shell that will fulfill its ultimate purpose and one with limits running in thousands of an inch and a superficial like a gear-tooth caliper.

In any scheme of operations, and especially on rapid repetition work like munitions, it is absolutely necessary to have a corps of inspectors who know exactly what is wanted and who can decide unhesitatingly at any stage in the sequence of operations whether the product comes within the allowable limits of dimensions and finish or is irrevocably scrap. If incompetence and trifling with established standards come into play at the head of the inspection staff, their effect is transmitted all the way down the line, until there is nothing but chaos, and those responsible for production do not know what to produce.

In any scheme of production on a large scale where the personal equation of the inspector is likely to come into play, and especially on such a requirement as a certain degree of finish that cannot be covered by the use of gages, there is bound to be great confusion at any time a change of inspectors takes place. There should always be a fully trained man who has been intelligently taught the pros and cons of the inspection of the particular product by a competent instructor, ready to take the place of any inspector whom it becomes necessary to transfer or eliminate.

The best way to transfer this information to the various inspectors who are being detailed to follow a sample of the product at each step on the way to completion, which has had the O.K. stamped on it, put in the chief inspector's office as a standard to be referred to in all cases of dispute and also as a reference for the new inspectors when they first take up their duties. There ought also to be sample shells that show those distinctive but vital defects in the metal not easily noticed, but which recur from time to time and are pitfalls for the uneducated inspector.

A thorough knowledge by the inspector of the cheapest method of repairing a shell with certain defects is also a great help toward quick handling, for by noting on the shell the method of repairing, the inspector can save a great deal of delay consequent on reinspection and time spent in deciding all over again what has to be done to overcome the defects.

A great deal of confusion at the opening of the shell contracts was caused on account of the government inspectors coming to a strange country, where there were different methods of manufacture from those they had been accustomed to, with a very vague idea of the requirements of their own government. They had their standards to make after they arrived and after manufacture had begun.

The secret of establishing harmony in a scheme of operations tending to a finished product is to present at the earliest possible moment two series of samples for the consideration of the final authority, and after acceptance have one set returned to be placed on sample by the firm furnishing the product, there to stand for the easily accessible standards of exactly what will meet the requirements of those with the final authority of acceptance or rejection.

Should the foreign representative desire to make any change at any stage of the operation through advice from the battlefield or by reason of other tests, these changes can be referred to in terms of the corresponding sample and made accordingly. A new set of samples is made incorporating the changes, and the superseded ones are also preserved, as it is almost always found necessary to refer to them in the progress of the job. In this way, there is no confusion, nothing is upset, and the firm has a concrete basis for argument toward compensation for departure from contract, which it would not otherwise have.

Nothing could have had more appearance of the ridiculous than what took place when foreign shell contracts first opened up in the United States. Hundreds of firms the whole country over, some of the largest in the world, undertook to make something that would please the representatives of foreign countries, when these representatives themselves did not know what they wanted. The procedure was, in a general way, to go on and on, making something in large quantities, then by a long process of stops and starts and weeding out here and putting in there, finally to alight on something approaching their desires.

The product might run along on this basis for a day or two, or maybe a week or two, when suddenly without any warning there would be consideration on the officials' faces and the word would go round that the Russian, French, British (or whatever nationality was concerned) inspector was on his high horse and was rejecting everything presented to him.

Then there would be a changed standard again for a while, in spite of the fact that the shells presented at the wholesale rejection were better than any ever presented before, or at least as good. This would all happen because the inspector in the meantime had received fresh instructions from his government or perhaps had discovered something that he ought to have known and guarded against in the first place.

As one example of shortsightedness and the sacrifice of essentials to meaningless trifles, the requirement on the length of the straight part of the bore of a certain shell illustrates the point well. On the bore A, in the cut there was 0.6 mm allowance between maximum and minimum gages, and the method of trying the depth of the straight part of the bore B was to drop the plug gage down until it was stopped by the taper of the bore, then measure

Alsation Girls Forced To Work For Army

Washington, Nov. 15.—Confirmation has been given by the German government itself to the often-denied reports current for the last year that young girls of Alsace-Lorraine have been carried away from their homes and forced to labor for the German army.

From Switzerland there came a cable report of the reply made by the German under secretary for war to a complaint of an Alsation deputy in the Reichstag against mistreatment of those young girls. This government's reply took the form of an official communication, which in substance stated that the army administration had taken measures to assure the girls requisitioned in Alsace-Lorraine and actively employed in work at the front the benefits of moral and religious supervision.

Only 8 1/2 per cent of the girls were less than seventeen years old, the deputy was assured, and scarcely one-half of them had been subjected to force to the work at the front.

The German government, the reply set forth, wishing to meet the desires of the Alsation population had issued an order that young girls less than seventeen years, who had been enrolled by force, would be liberated at once.

compound that gives the best results on the various qualities of forgings.

If these points enumerated are carefully considered and the inspectors educated toward a degree of standardization and agreement by the above methods, things will tend to resolve into clearness and smoothness at an early stage of the contract.

The foregoing applies to all repetition work on whatever scale, and with more significance the more complex the article manufactured.

In order to secure a maximum production of munitions from Canada there should be a standard of inspection uniform throughout the entire country. All shell manufacturers will agree that uniformity of inspection and co-operation between the inspectors and producers are essential to secure the best results.

Great Necessity Sale of Men's Winter Suits and Overcoats

AT HENDERSON'S 104 KING STREET

NOTE—My story is this. I stocked up very heavy to cover the tremendous advance in all kinds of men's wear. But there was one factor that I did not figure on, that was the military act to conscript men for overseas service. There's no denying the fact that this act has hit the Men's Suit and Overcoat trade this season very hard. Therefore, I am caught this season with more stock on hand than my capital warrants me in carrying any longer.

I think it's better to look conditions in the face and meet them than to postpone them until it's too late. Therefore it's over the top and a big clean-up sale for me to get my house in order to meet the new conditions.

Why this highly nourishing Food is so Inexpensive

THE most economical food is that which gives most body-building nutriment for every cent you pay. Foods refined by costly processes are really the most expensive because they lose so much of their essential dark parts containing the body-building protein and saline elements.

Dr. Jackson's

is an inexpensive food because it is so rich in these precious body-building elements. It is actually a better tissue builder than meat. It costs no more than wheat or oats used alone, yet it is so much more nourishing! Besides, it prevents indigestion and relieves constipation without the use of costly drugs, or we return your money.

Roman Meal is composed of entire berries of wheat and rye with flaxseed and bran. The flaxseed is rendered absolutely tasteless and odorless by electricity.

It is the dark parts of grains that contain the body-building elements and health preservers. The white parts are mostly starches which cannot possibly build up tissue. Any food that is deficient in body nutriment is dear at any price, especially if it gets you into trouble. When the bowel muscles do not act, due to impoverished food, which is also lacking in waste, you have constipation. Roman Meal is a fully balanced ration, highly nutritious, and having the correct amount of waste. It incites the digestive tract to full natural action and positively relieves constipation. Ask your doctor.

Roman Meal makes the most delicious porridge when you follow directions and do not stir it while cooking. Never stir it except while mixing meal and water or you positively spoil the porridge. Stirring while cooking destroys the granular form and restores the taste of flax which Dr. Jackson removed by electricity.

Roman Meal also makes splendid bread, pancakes, muffins, cakes, etc.—all kinds of delicious baked products. Ask your doctor.

NORTHCLIFF'S LETTER TO THE PREMIER STRONG

Declines Post in Cabinet As Air Minister

SOME CRITICISM

Warning That Unless There is Swift Improvement in Methods in England United States Will Take Over Management of Great Part of War

London, Nov. 16—Lord Northcliffe's letter to Premier Lloyd George declining a proffered cabinet position follows:

"Dear Prime Minister:— I have given anxious consideration to your repeated invitations that I should take charge of the new air ministry. The reason which impelled me to decline that great honor and responsibility are in no way concerned with the office which is rightly to be set up. They are roughly as follows:

"Returning after five months spent in the fertile atmosphere of the United States and Canada, I find that while these two countries are proceeding with their war preparations with a fervor and enthusiasm little understood on this side of the Atlantic; while the United States instantly put into operation conscription over which we wobbled for two years and is making short work of it; while Canada has adopted a broad-gauge system of conscription as the disfranchisement of conscientious objectors and the denaturalization of all enemy aliens naturalized within the last fifteen years; while we, for our part, are asking immense sacrifices from these peoples, there still are in office here those who daily with such urgent questions as that of unity of war control, eradication of scission, mobilization of the whole man and woman power of the country and the introduction of compulsory food rations.

"I had personal experience while in America of the obstruction and delay in certain departments in London, which, for example, postponed sending Lord Reading's vital and most successful mission. I find the censorship still being misused and that men in various positions of authority who should have been punished have been retained and in some cases elevated. The spirit of the men and women of Great Britain is clearly and women of Great Britain is clearly and in my belief, the most efficient army in the world, led by one of the greatest generals, and I am well aware of the fine achievements of many others of our soldiers, sailors and statesmen, but I feel in the present circumstances I can do better work if I maintain my independence and am not gagged by a loyalty that I do not feel towards the whole of your administration.

"I take this opportunity of thanking you and the war cabinet for the handsome message of praise sent to me as representing the 500 officials of the British war mission to the United States, many of them volunteers and exiles, their achievements and those of their 10,000 assistants deserve to be better known by their countrymen. The fact that their work is not known is due to the absurd secrecy about the war which still is prevalent. Everything these officials are doing is known to our American friends, and, of course, to the Germans.

"I trust I make no breach of confidence in saying that some of the documents which have passed through my hands as head of the mission are such as, if published, would greatly increase our prestige in the United States and hearten our people at home.

"May I also take this opportunity of giving warning about our relations with that great people from whom I come. We have had the tragedy of Russia, due partly to lack of allied propaganda to counteract that of the Germans. We have had the tragedy of Italy, largely due to that same enemy propaganda. We have had the tragedy of Serbia, Roumania, and Montenegro. There is one tragedy which I am sure we shall not have and that is the tragedy of the United States.

"But from countless conversations with leading Americans I know that unless there is swift improvement in our methods here the United States will rightly take into its own hands the entire management of a great part of the war. It will not sacrifice its blood and treasure to the incompetent handling of affairs of Europe.

"In saying all this, which is very much on my mind, believe me, I have none yourself and that I am greatly honored by your suggestion.

Yours sincerely,
"NORTHCLIFFE."

G. N. W. MUST CARRY OUT AWARD

Ottawa, Nov. 16—The Morning Citizen says: "Hon. T. W. Crothers has served a mandatory notice on the Great Northwestern Telegraph Company that it must carry out to the full the award of the medal of honor which it accepted some weeks ago, thus terminating the operators' strike.

"A part of the agreement was that all the strikers had to be taken back, but complaints have been made that this has not been done in the case of many of the female machine operators. The union has taken up the matter with the minister, whose orders have gone forth to the company."

Cables $10,000 to Italy's Prime Minister—Next Week's Opera Bills.

New York, Nov. 16—Enrico Caruso this week cabled $10,000 to Prime Minister Orlando of Italy, to be used for relief of his country's refugees, said to number a million now, from the invaded territory of Northern Italy. The Metropolitan tenor has made large contributions to the war. Aside from recent appearances for charity in South America, it is said that Caruso's tax on his earnings in New York, both from opera and talking machine records, will be more than $50,000 this year.

Greater Love Hath No Man Than This

Half hidden in the files of the London Gazette, where it is set forth with all the pomp and circumstance of official language, is a story of self-sacrifice that stands out prominently, even in this age of deeds of superlative courage and super-chivalry.

The record is contained in the announcement of the award of the Albert Medal of the First Class to Lance-Corporal Charles Henry Anderson, late of the 144th Battalion of the London Regiment, who lost his life in France in November last. The official narrative is as follows:—On November 28, 1916, Lance-Corporal Anderson was in a hut in France, with eleven other men, when, accidentally, the safety pin was withdrawn from a bomb. In the semi-darkness he shouted a warning to the men, rushed to the door, and endeavored to open it so as to throw the bomb into a field.

Failing to do this, when he judged that the five seconds during which the fuse was timed to burn had elapsed, he held the bomb as close to his body as possible with both hands in order to screen the other men in the hut. Anderson mortally wounded by the explosion, and five men were injured. The remaining five occupied until hurt Anderson sacrificed his life to save his comrades.

When history opens the purple testament of bleeding war every man and woman who has played a part will bear a record.

Your name may not be writ among those of the immortals—

But for honour's sake—for the sake of men like Anderson—see to it that it is writ on the Scroll with those who at least placed their money at the service of their country.

Shall it be said that Canada spares not her sons from the sacrifice of death, yet withholds her dollars needed to give them victory?

WOMAN KILLED BY AEROPLANE

In Rising From Field the Machine Crashed Into Crowd at Georgetown—Victim Hit by Propeller

Georgetown, Nov. 16—Tragedy followed the landing of a flight cadet of the Royal Flying Corps at this point. Mrs. William Cleaves, aged 65, wife of a well-to-do farmer, being killed as a result of being struck by the propeller of the machine when the cadet made an attempt to rise into the air again. The cadet, who declined to give his name even to the coroner, made a landing in a large field just outside the town in a search for gasoline, and while he was supplying his needs a large crowd of citizens gathered, upwards of a hundred being in the field. When the aviator attempted to resume his flight he guided the machine along the ground, but as the field was not large enough to enable him to get up sufficient speed to take to the air, he turned it about and started back down the field. In doing this the aeroplane ran directly into the crowd, several people, mostly children, being knocked down, and Mrs. Cleaves being struck by the propeller. Her body was almost cut in two. The machine was so badly damaged that the cadet could not continue his flight.

A coroner's inquest was held tonight, at which a jury was impanelled, an adjournment being arranged for a week. As the cadet would not give his name, the summons to attend was made out in the number of his machine. Mrs. Cleaves was the second wife of William Cleaves, who owns the farm adjoining the field where the tragedy occurred. A Mrs. John R. Williams, of Indian Road, Toronto, is a daughter of Mrs. Cleaves.

Canada and The World Food Shortage

Recent developments in Europe, official correspondence and the latest crop estimates make it plain that the world food situation today is serious beyond anything that we could see a few months ago. Unless we are willing to make some sacrifice in our eating and rigorously to guard against waste of foodstuffs, we may find the conclusive victory of our armies endangered.

Reports of the crops of France and Italy show that we shall be called upon to strain every effort and to conserve every ounce of food to make up the shortage of our Allies. Temporary disaster has overtaken the Italian army and it will be necessary to support them to the utmost by rushing food shipments. We must also ensure the women and children of France against terrible suffering and make certain that the Allied cause will not be weakened by shortage of essential food supplies.

The situation is grave today and the time has come when the people of Canada must realize that the Allies are depending on the continent of North America to a far greater extent than ever before. It is within the power of all of us effectively to support the efforts of our armies. The Canadian farmer has done his part by harvesting a splendid crop. Plans have been made for increasing production next year. But until the next harvest, the only means of increasing the exportable surplus of food is for the consumer to do his duty. The fighting efficiency of the Allied forces will be impaired unless Canada awakens to the seriousness of the food problem. There rests upon us a tremendous responsibility—perhaps for the very issue of the war.

Food Controller.

STRAY BULLET KILLS BABY AT MOTHER'S SIDE

Jersey City, Nov. 16—Dorothy Ackerman, two years old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Ackerman, of 148 Madeline avenue, Clifton, N. J., was killed instantly by a stray bullet fired by a policeman a third of a mile away at an escaping burglar suspect. The child stood in Lakeview avenue. Her mother, near by, did not hear the shot and was bewildered when the child fell dead. She collapsed.

Patrolman Henry Prall, unaware that his bullet had hit the child, returned to the police station with two of the three men he had chased. He needed medical attention when news of the death reached him. He was detained at police headquarters. Prall and a constable went to the store of William J. Fox, a grocer, when Fox, who had been robbed recently, reported three suspicious characters in the neighborhood. He arrested two of the three men he found hiding behind a tree and fired five shots at the third, who escaped. A pistol, a blackjack, and some burglar tools were found along the route over which the third man fled.

Michael Ward of Paterson, one of the men arrested, hung himself with his necktie in the Clifton jail. He was cut

DEPORTATIONS BEGIN AGAIN

Greeks as well as Armenians and Syrians are suffering frightfully from Turkish persecution, and alike are helped by the American Committee. From the latest despatches received, deportations of all Greeks in the Turkish Empire are being renewed with increased severity. "Callite and her compatriots are in consternation at orders to move inland," is the way one writer in Beirut, Syria, managed to convey this information past the censor.

Confirmation has recently come from the Greek government of a systematic extermination of these people, under the guise of deportations. Daily thousands are being sent from Constantinople and the sea coast into the interior of Asia Minor, where silence covers their ultimate fate.

According to the Paris Temps, which receives reliable information via Athens and the Balkan agency, "More than one hundred thousand Greeks have been killed or died of hunger since the middle of August last. Meanwhile the Turks continue mercilessly their work of the wholesale assassination of an entire race, in obedience to the orders of their German counsellors."

"The property of the unfortunate is confiscated, their furniture sold at auction and the wives and children distributed among the German officers and the Mohammedan aristocracy. In Constantinople more than three thousand Greek children have been sold as slaves. The position of the Greeks in the villages (districts) in the interior of Asia Minor is far sadder, as the Bashibozouk (irregulars) are slaughtering them cruelly. All the Greek villages in the region of Smyrna, Aidin, Manissa, and Aivaly were burned after being plundered."

Mrs. Sarah Brooks, who is said to have seen Napoleon at Plymouth en route for St. Helena, died near Billerica, Essex, recently in her 100th year.

RICKEY WITHDRAWS OFFER FOR HENDRICKS

Omner McGill of the Indianapolis Club Said To Have Blocked the Deal

Louisville, Ky., Nov. 12.—After opening preliminary negotiations with Jack Hendricks, manager of the pennant-winning Indianapolis club, of the American Association, to succeed Miller Huggins as manager of the St. Louis Nationals next season, Branch Rickey, president of the St. Louis Club, suddenly withdrew his offer here today.

This development came as one of the surprises of the annual meeting of the National Association of Minor Leagues. James C. McGill, president of the Indianapolis club, was credited with having blocked the deal because of his demands to be reimbursed for his loss of players in return for Hendricks' contract, which does not expire until two years.

600 AUTOMOBILE PLANTS TO WORK FOR GOVERNMENT
Washington, Nov. 16.—Active co-operation of the automobile industry with the government was begun this week with the first meeting of the Automobile industries committee and officials of the different departments of the army and navy at the War Industries Board.
W. Copland, chairman of the committee, pledged the men, material and equipment of 600 automobile plants and 80 parts and accessory makers to war requirements.
So much of the vast production facilities of the automobile industry as may be needed by the government will be voted to war work. What percentage will be required is yet to be worked out. Large numbers of automobile manufacturers here in response to the call for services in co-operation with the committee want to produce munitions in addition to their regular lines of automobile.

BASEBALL
Red Sox Must Pay.
Albany, N. Y., Nov. 15.—Under a court of appeals decision today the Boston American League Club will have to pay to the Baseball Players' Fraternity $1,480, the difference between the salary called for in the Red Sox contract of Pitcher Kury M. (Casey) Hageman in 1912 and what he actually received that season playing with the Jersey City team of the International League. Hageman was transferred to the Jersey City team against his will, and an unsuccessful attempt subsequently was made to transfer him to the Denver team of the Western League.

CHAPLAINS WOUNDED IN CANADIAN DRIVE
London, Nov. 15.—Father Lowry, Canon Deasum, Capt. Bullock, chaplains, were all slight casualties in the recent push, but are carrying on. Gen. Currie, writing to Col. Almond, in regard to Passetchele, says he has heard nothing but words of highest praise of the chaplains' work in this push.
Major Fallis, who has just returned from Canada, has collected $50,000 for development of chaplains' work. Rev. Capt. J. E. Ward, wounded, while on chaplain service in the Imperials, has sailed for Canada.

PLAN FOR REDUCING DELIVERY AND OFFICE EXPENSES
For the duration of the war many business establishments in the United States and the upper provinces are allowing an extra discount of 5 per cent on cash purchases where the goods are carried home by the customer.
The reason for the adoption of this plan is the desire on the part of employers to release as many men as possible for military service by reducing their staff of teamsters and chauffeurs, but the point that interests the buyer is that he can save that much on his purchases, whilst aiding the employers to release men for the front.

Some merchants in other cities instruct purchasers to save their sales checks and present them for refund within sixty days from date of purchase, while other business houses deduct the cash discount at once.

CABINET TO RISK ITS LIFE ON THE ISSUE
London, Nov. 16.—A cable from Melbourne to the Times says that Premier Hughes' reinforcements scheme has been well received, the cabinet's final decision to risk its life upon the issue having imported the necessary dramatic note of personal sacrifice.
The anti-conscriptionists are preparing a strenuous opposition. The women's vote is the most unstable factor.

CONTEST IN YORK AND CHARLOTTE

Nelson W. Brown and W. F. Todd the Respective Laurier Candidates—Nova Scotia Nominations

St. Stephen, N. B., Nov. 15—(Special)—A Liberal convention was held here this afternoon, at which W. F. Todd was chosen as standard bearer of the Liberal party for this county. He expressed himself as a "win-the-war" candidate, and a staunch follower of Sir Wilfrid Laurier.

N. W. Brown Renominated. Fredericton, N. B., Nov. 15—(Special)—The Liberals of York-Sunbury this afternoon nominated Nelson W. Brown, of Southampton, as a candidate supporting Sir Wilfrid Laurier. Robert W. McLellan, of Fredericton, was also placed in nomination, but by agreement between the two nominees, withdrew. The nomination of Mr. Brown followed the adoption of a resolution moved by himself and seconded by Ald. C. W. Burnett, of Fredericton, which condemned the old Borden government on its conduct of the war, termed the attempt to organize a so-called union government nefarious, and called upon the Liberals of York-Sunbury to oppose conscription as contrary to the principle of responsible government unless first submitted to the will of the people. This was moved in amendment to a resolution of J. B. Dickson, seconded by P. J. Hughes, that the convention place in nomination an independent win-the-war Liberal favorable to the Military Service act as now in force. The amendment was carried by a large majority.

N. S. Nominations. Halifax, N. S., Nov. 15—In Lunenburg Dr. D. Stewart was nominated as a union candidate, the Liberal-Conservative association disbanding for the duration of the union government.

In Kentville the adjourned meeting of the Kings county Liberal convention was informed by A. E. McShon, who had been nominated, that he wanted two days more in which to decide. Truro, Nov. 15—G. H. Vernon was today nominated as standard-bearer at a Colchester county Liberal convention. Yarmouth, Nov. 15—A split in the Yarmouth-Clare Liberal organization was disclosed today when one faction nominated E. K. Spinney as a unionist and later a number of Acadian delegates nominated J. W. Comeau as a Laurier Liberal.

Pictou, Nov. 15—After E. M. MacDonald, who represented this constituency in the last parliament had declined the nomination the Liberal organization today at its convention offered it to H. H. McKay, who accepted it.

Halifax, Nov. 15—E. N. Rhodes, ex-M. P., was nominated as a Union candidate for Cumberland at a convention in Amherst.

"One Meatless Meal a Day" is a good food slogan for war time, or any time—better make it two meatless meals a day—it would mean health and strength for the nation. But be sure and get the right substitute for meat in a digestible form. Shredded Wheat Biscuit is the ideal substitute for meat. It is 100 per cent. whole wheat prepared in a digestible form. Two or three of these little loaves of baked whole wheat make a nourishing, satisfying meal at a cost of only a few cents. Delicious with milk or cream or fruits of any kind. Made in Canada.

Laurier Liberals Plan Organization

Definite formation of a general executive, it was decided, would be deferred until a general convention next week when it is proposed to have the whole constituency of St. John and Albert represented.

Between 150 and 175 people responded last night to the call to supporters of the Laurier Liberal ticket to meet. The gathering was for organization purposes. J. Fred Belyea occupied the chair, and both the Liberal candidates were present and addressed the meeting. Arrangements were made for the holding of ward and parish meetings for organization purposes, and for the night following these meetings a general meeting is to be called by W. E. Scully. At the opening of the meeting last night the proceedings of the convention Wednesday night were reviewed. Following this Dr. William P. Broderick was called upon to speak, and he told briefly his reasons for supporting Laurier's manifesto. He was followed by his colleague in the field, Dr. A. F. Emery, who spoke in a similar strain. William M. Ryan acted as secretary and also spoke briefly upon organization.

MAJOR C. H. McLEAN

Major C. H. McLean, of St. John, who has been overseas more than two years, was welcomed back to the city yesterday afternoon. Major McLean, who is a brother of General H. H. McLean, has been granted a two months' furlough and expects to return to his regiment at the end of that time.

Major McLean went overseas with the 9th C. M. R. as company commander of B squadron. When this regiment was transferred into the 4th, Major McLean went with them. He has been through nearly all the big engagements of his battalion, and although badly wounded in the knee, has been most fortunate in receiving no permanent injury.

Major McLean was of the firm opinion, like many officers and men who return from the front, that the war will be eventually won in the air.

He was of the opinion that if the Italian reverses had not come just now and if Russia had kept going as she had commenced, the war would have been over within a year. However, things now pointed to a longer period of actual war in which there was much fighting ahead.
